Abolishment Of Some Posts, Creation Of Others Considered In Resolution To Come Before Convention

NEW BRAUNFELS, Oct. 7 (AP)—Abolishment of some county offices and creation of others for efficiency's sake drew the consideration of a committee of the County Judges and Commissioners' association today.

The proposal included an appeal to the Texas legislature to act on a reorganization of the political subdivisions' government and will be voted on in a resolution at the conclusion of the association's annual three-day convalescence tomorrow.

The second day's program opened with an address by Julian Montgomery, state highway engineer, followed by a discussion of "Relief in Texas" by Adam R. Johnson, state relief director.

Governor-nominate W. Lee O'Daniel's address, slated later in the day, high-lighted the program.

Galveston, Waco, Mineral Wells, Fort Worth and San Antonio were among cities bidding for next year's convention.

Former Attorney General Claude Follard, a banquet speaker yesterday, informed the 600 delegates the railroads are fighting for existence.

NEW BRAUNFELS, Oct. 7 (AP) Claude Teer, chairman of the state board of control, today charged waste of public money, and informed 700 members of the State Texas County Judges and Commissioners association state employment salaries approximated only 10 per cent of total expenditures.

"More than $188,000,000 of a 1937 income of $134,000,000 was returned to the people in the form of education, highways and other services through 135 boards, commissions and agencies which the public has demanded," Teer said.

The board chairman said the average salary paid state employees was about $70 a month.

ing for existence. He said the carriers paid more than $9,800,000 in taxes last year besides purchasing $23,674,000 worth of supplies in Texas.

Superintendent of Education L. A. Woods lamented shortage of funds curtailed the school year in some rural areas to seven months and expressed the opinion if public education failed the democratic American civilization was doomed.

The convention awaited an address later in the day by O'Daniel, expecting to learn his attitude on proposals that the state old age pension administration be abolished and county commissioners courts take over its work.

The officials were eager to learn what he thought of the plan, which would be in the interest of economy, one of his major planks when he made the race for governor last summer.

United States Senator Tom Connally will speak tonight at a banquet.

The 600 attending members of the association heard warnings yesterday that MPA activities in Texas were threatened with extinction for lack of legislative action and that democracy might fall before dictatorship unless public schools were adequately financed.

HIT WITH EDUQUET, HITLER PUTS BAN ON ALL FLOWERS

BERLIN, Oct. 7 (AP)—Adolf Hitler was slightly injured in the face today when an over-enthusiastic Sudetenlander tossed a bouquet of flowers at the fuhrer, making a triumphant tour of the fourth zone of occupation.

Dispatches from the Sudetenland reporting the incident did not say just where it occurred.

As a result of the mishap the fuhrer issued a general order that Nazi party leaders henceforth will be held personally responsible for seeing to it that flowers are taken away from all persons along his line of march.

Even small bouquets in the hands of spectators must be seized.

The population also was admonished strongly by broadcast to refrain from saying it with flowers. Afternoon papers published warnings against flower throwing.

AUSTIN, Oct. 7 (AP)—Liquor revenues for September totaled $72,935 of which $325,196 was prorated to the old age assistance fund and $103,877 to the available school fund, Liquor Administrator Bert Ford said today.

activities, including regulation of the nation's commodity and livestock markets. These at present are divided among several bureaus.

All research also will be centered in one bureau. Its functions will include development of new industrial uses for farm products.

Another Plea For Peace In Labor Heard

AFL Convention Urged To Take Action Toward Reunion

HOUSTON, Oct. 7 (AP)—Daniel Tobin, head of the powerful teamsters union in the American Federation of Labor, appealed to the A.F. of L. annual convention today to make peace with the C.I.O.

Power In Unity

"We should not leave this convention," Tobin roared, "until we make further efforts to come together with the contending parties in the labor movement."

"If we had 10,000,000 workers—and with their families we would have the support of 25,000,000—we could tell the administration, whether it be democratic or republican what the American workers are entitled to and what they want."

Tobin obtained the floor for his dramatic, sonorous speech after Joseph A. Padway, A. F. of L. general counsel, had denounced the national labor relations board, described one of its members as a "recruiting agent for the C. I. O." and urged the act be amended to meet federation objections.

"Padway's condemnation was right," Tobin said, "but whatever boards you have will not settle the question."

"For the sake of cementing this federation together, as labor men our first consideration should be the multitudes engaged in these battles."

"If you leave this convention without giving your executive council specific instructions (to move for peace) the responsibility is on you and not on the council."

Denouncing the principles and policies of board decisions considered adverse to A. F. of L. craft unions, Padway charged board member Edwin S. Smith was partial to the industrial unionism advocated by the rival C. I. O.

There are two Smiths on the three-man labor board and both are under fire from the A. F. of L. Federation officials already have declared their opposition to President Roosevelt's reappointment of board member Donald Wakefield Smith.

The federation, Padway asserted, was still strong for the basic principles of the Wagner act which provides for labor's right of self-organization and collective bargaining with employers.

The drive for convention support of projected amendments to the Wagner law started after A. F. of L. leaders won unanimous approval yesterday for continuing the one-cent per member a month special assessment to finance an expanded organizing drive.

The levy was put into effect at the 1937 convention and helped to provide part of the $1,174,014 the A. F. of L. spent in the past year strengthening unions and seeking new members in the campaign to oust the rivalry of the C. I. O.

Bank Deposits And Loans Show Gain From Year Ago

Continued firmness in Big Spring's business was indicated in a comparison of bank figures made available Friday when statements of condition of the two local institutions were issued in accordance with a call from the comptroller of the currency. Latest figures reported condition of the banks at the close of business on September 28.

Deposits were up more than $100,000 from the corresponding date last year. No bank call was issued at the end of September 1937, but the institutions here released figures for comparative purposes.

Up even more sharply were total loans and discounts, a gain of close to a half-million dollars being shown over a year ago. Cash on hand was down approximately $85,000, while total resources show an increase of more than $175,000.

Last official bank call was at the loss of business June 30. At that time, loans and discounts were $1,419,955.45, some $600,000 under the September 28 total. Deposits also were higher, by about $165,000, for a total of $1,584,955.45. Cash on hand aggregated $1,862,186.41, about $200,000 more than the latest figure. Total resources at the end of June were $4,603,147.67, about $247,000 higher than at the end of September.

Figures for the two local banks individually, as of September 28:

Domination By Germany To Be Complete

Reich Would Be Only Purchaser Of Agricultural Products

BERLIN, Oct. 7 (AP)—Nazi circles predicted confidently today that remnants of Czechoslovakia soon would have close economic bonds with Germany.

The ties would be so firm, they said, that even the transfer of Czechoslovak populations on a large scale from the "wrong" side of the new borders to the "right side" might prove unnecessary.

Industrial Areas Lost

They pointed out Czechoslovakia had lost most of its industrial areas.

BERLIN, Oct. 7 (AP)—Government circles said today Adolf Hitler may make an "important pronouncement" on French-German relations Sunday at Saarbruecken, in the Saar valley.

It was said if Field Marshal Hermann Wilhelm Goering gives him a favorable report on the status of negotiations with France, Hitler would use the occasion to express friendship with France in some way.

to Germany and Poland and would become a predominantly agrarian country.

Germany is the only nation which could buy farm products of the new little state, they said.

Some Nazis expected either Rudolf Beran or former Premier Milan Hodza—both members of the Czechoslovak agrarian republic party, Slovaks and acceptable to Germany—to become Czechoslovakia's next president in succession to Eduard Benes, who resigned Wednesday.

With a pro-German president, the Nazis said, the way would be clear for a close relationship between the two nations.

These optimistic views developed from progress of an international commission now working hard to determine the remaining of postwar Germany territory of Czechoslovakia to be occupied by German soldiers before Sunday.

This area, with four zones great of Germany outright, under a four-power Munich accord of a week, would give Germany 5,000 square miles.

Nazi sources believed Czechoslovakia would have no choice but to form what in due time would become a customs unit with Germany.

Germany will do everything possible to encourage such a development, it was said.

Syrovy Urges People To Accept Their Fate

PRAGUE, Oct. 7 (AP)—Premier General Jan Syrový appealed to his army today not to commit any act that might bring on intervention more cruel than the loss of autonomy for what is left of Czechoslovakia.

"There is nothing to be done," he told the troops, "but to reconcile ourselves to our fate."

The government has decided to be loyal to the Munich agreement so as to be sure to save territory which remains. So forget your debates and useless quarrels.

To Keep Closer Check On Spy Activities

NEW PROTECTIVE PLANS TO BE SET UP, FD REVEALS

HYDE PARK, N. Y., Oct. 7 (AP) President Roosevelt today disclosed the administration was planning to tighten its defenses against activities of foreign spies.

The president, in response to press conference questions, said he was seeking to determine what new machinery might be set up to frustrate efforts by foreign agents to obtain the military and naval secrets of this country.

He mentioned in this connection that it might be possible to effect a closer coordination of the activities of the military and naval intelligence services, the Federal Bureau of Investigation and similar agencies.

Asked whether foreign agents had increased their activities in this country, Mr. Roosevelt said he believed there was no marked increase at present, although there had been during the last 10 years.

(Four persons are scheduled to go to trial in New York October 14 on charges of being implicated in a far-reaching espionage plot.)

Railroads Hit At Federal Tax Burden

Increased Expense Used As Argument Against Wage Hike

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7 (AP)—Railroad management contended today that increased costs resulting from two new federal laws provided a sound basis for cutting rail wages 15 per cent.

Ernest E. Norris, president of the Southern Railway, said the railroad retirement tax and unemployment tax under the social security act had added a heavy payroll burden on carriers.

Answering questions of James M. Landis, of the board, Norris said he regarded both tax laws as "a social movement for the benefit of the employees" and equal to wage increase.

Charles Donnelly, president of the Northern Pacific railway, said present conditions made it "impossible for a railroad company to expand or improve its property."

The Northern Pacific, he testified, needs to expand its equipment purchases and this could be done with savings from the proposed wage reduction.

Donnelly referred also to his road's private pension and group insurance programs for employees and to these circumstances.

"Under all these circumstances I have not thought it was an improper or unreasonable request to ask our employees to do something for us, and to assent to the reduction we are asking here."

Donnelly said the Northern Pacific net operating income the first eight months of this year "had fallen $7,678,000 short of covering fixed charges."

"Instead of being over-capitalized as charged, the Northern Pacific is substantially under-capitalized," he said, adding that properties were worth $145,000,000 more than "the par value of outstanding stocks and bonds."

TELEPHONE COMPANY OFFICIAL EXPIRES

DALLAS, Oct. 7 (AP)—John Sidney Burns, 54, tax supervisor of the Southwestern Bell Telephone company, died of a heart attack early today at San Antonio.

In 1909 he came to Dallas as plant inspector for the Southwestern Telegraph and Telephone company, later becoming material auditor, and special agent for the plant department. On February 1, 1925, he was appointed tax agent.

Agriculture Dept. Is Altered To Stress Search For New Markets

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7 (AP)—Officials said today the agriculture department would put greater emphasis on finding new domestic markets for surplus farm products when the reorganization ordered by Secretary Wallace has been completed.

Wallace last night ordered drastic changes in the organization of the department and shifts of many of the top-ranking officials into new posts.

The changes, effective Oct. 16, will consolidate in one bureau all the department's marketing activities, including regulation of the nation's commodity and livestock markets. These at present are divided among several bureaus.

All research also will be centered in one bureau. Its functions will include development of new industrial uses for farm products.

All planning for department activities, heretofore divided among a dozen or more semi-independent agencies, will be done by the bureau of agricultural economics.

AUSTIN, Oct. 7 (AP) Pat Neff, president of Baylor University and former governor, today headed the Texas Watershed association.

administration, will be in charge of the bureau.

It will develop crop control programs—an activity now carried on by the AAA—and will form policies and plans for soil erosion control, rehabilitation of farm families on relief, forestry control, price stabilization and land use.

Officials said that the reorganization did not mean there would be any basic changes in present methods of meeting the problems of farm prices and surpluses under the crop control law enacted by the last congress.

Ben Carpenter Joins Farm Loan Assn. Resigns State Natl. Bank Position After 25 Years

Resignation of Ben Carpenter as cashier of the State National bank in Big Spring to accept appointment as secretary-treasurer of the Midland National Farm Loan association was announced here Friday by bank officials.

Carpenter, who has been with the banking institution for 25 years, will be stationed at Stanton on his new position. He will be in charge of the recently grouped Midland National Farm Loan association and the Stanton association. Both are institutions "affiliated" to the local association in charge of Ira Dwyer as secretary-treasurer.

Director of the State National bank accepted Carpenter's resignation with regrets. It will be effective as of October 15. No successor has been named for his place.

Almost since he was a boy, Carpenter has been associated with the bank. He got his start doing janitor service as a youth and later worked into the banking department and up through a series of promotions to cashier.

Son of a widely known pioneer couple, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Carpenter, Ben Carpenter is well known in this territory. He is moving his family to Stanton where they will make their home.

The loan association handles agricultural loans through the Federal Land bank.

TWO AUTO FACTORIES CLOSED BY STRIKE

DETROIT, Oct. 7 (AP)—A United Automobile Workers' demonstration for a 32-hour week closed two large factories here today and left approximately 12,000 men idle.

The main plant of the Plymouth Motor Corp. remained closed this morning when approximately 3,000 employees stood outside the gates and refused to enter, declaring they would not work more than 32 hours weekly.

A short time later the Mack automobile plant of the Briggs Manufacturing Co., which employs 9,000 men making bodies for the Plymouth plant, also closed, awaiting resumption of Plymouth operations.

ITALY WIDENS JEW ATTACK

ROME, Oct. 7 (AP)—Italy struck at "world Hebrewism" as the "inspiration of anti-fascism" today by forbidding intermarriage of Jews and Italians and restricting Jewish economic activity.

The fascist grand council laid down the anti-Semitic regulations in a series of orders for "defense of the Italian race" which evidently were imbued with the spirit of empire.

Many of the new restrictions were directed against Jews, but the policy was drafted on broad lines to affect "African, Semitic and other races" than Italian.

The grand council declared it necessary for "race consciousness" to be urgent "since the conquest of empire" and called for "quantitative and qualitative betterment" of the Italian race.

It made two concessions to Jews in line with Premier Mussolini's promise of moderation in his speech at Trieste Sept. 18, exempting them from the new laws.

Lecturer Shows How To Keep Beans Green

Cooking Problems To Be Solved At Herald School

Even so small a problem as how to keep green beans green after they are cooked, will be discussed by Mrs. Arreva D. French when she comes here to conduct the Happy Kitchen Cooking School on Oct. 17, 18 and 19.

In case you're curious about the method of making beans stay green, here's the suggestion of Mrs. French: "Cut the beans into 3 or 4 strips lengthwise instead of snapping them across as usual; then cook them uncovered in rapidly boiling water 10 to 12 minutes, and the beans will rival the original product in color."

Mrs. French is one of the best known lecturers on home economy in the South, and is coming to Big Spring through the desire of this newspaper to bring the best service available to the women of this community.

Admission will be free to all of the lectures, and everyone has a cordial invitation to attend. Numerous attractive free features have been arranged in connection with the school. Valuable samples and souvenirs will be distributed each day.

Dealing as she does with every phase of home economy, Mrs. French lays special stress on the short cuts to efficiency and economy that make work in the kitchen more fun and less drudgery. She begins at the very beginning of the subject of foods, and carries her audience step by step through the best methods of arriving at the ultimate goal of a "happy kitchen."

In her talk on marketing she shows clearly how to make the selections in foods that will yield the greatest value for the least money. In the discussion and demonstration of recipes she emphasizes the importance and each of making simple dishes more attractive and more delicious.

The lectures will be held at the municipal auditorium each day from 2 to 4 o'clock, beginning promptly so that every possible minute may be used to the best advantage of the audience.

ALL'S WELL THAT ENDS THAT WAY

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 7 (AP)—"Buy me the Blarney stone," Manfred Mayberg called his friend John Bodger, visiting in Ireland, when he heard of Douglas Corrigan's "wrong way" hop.

Back came a reply from Bodger: "I've bought the whole quarry." "Ha, ha," chuckled Mayberg, to himself. "Some joke." So he called Bodger again:

"Ship me ten tons of it." "Today, ten tons of Blarney stone—the real thing, from the quarry where in 1446 they broke 'off the chunks that went into Blarney castle—lay in the hold of a ship at Los Angeles harbor.

"It'll be doggone," was all Mayberg could say when he heard the stone really was on the way. But since then, orders from jewelry firms have been coming in and San Franciscans even want to build a Blarney castle on Treasure Island. So now he thinks:

"Maybe this won't be such a lot of Blarney, after all."

FDR May Make New Effort To Restore Labor Peace

HYDE PARK, N. Y., Oct. 7 (AP)—President Roosevelt may make a new effort to bring about peace between the American Federation of Labor and the Committee for Industrial Organization.

Following the chief executive's recent "labor peace" message to President William Green of the A. F. of L., two callers at the summer White House reported late yesterday they had urged Mr. Roosevelt to appoint a non-partisan, fact-finding commission to investigate labor conditions.

The callers were Heywood Brown, the columnist, and Morris Watson, both spokesmen for the American Newspaper Guild, a C.I.O. affiliate.

Brown said Mr. Roosevelt took the recommendation under consideration.

Besides surveying the organized labor situation, Brown told reporters, a special commission could look into the problems of unorganized workers and seek to ascertain where the interests of farmers parallel those of labor.

A series of boxing matches and guitar music and singing concluded the evening's entertainment.

Red Rolfe and Tim Sullivan congratulated Crosetti as he crossed the plate. (AP Telegram).

PSAA Outfits Ready To Go

Westbrook And Forsan Heavily Favored To Gain Victories

No serious injuries were reported in any of the camps as six teams of the PSAA six-man grid conference prepared for their weekend encounters.

Johnny Bailey, Garner guard, who was hurt several weeks ago, appeared to be in fair shape and was expected to see action against Sterling City. The Garner-Sterling clash is scheduled to be played in Sterling.

At Garden City where Forsan and the Bearcats are slated to meet the Buffs were pronounced in good shape and were heavy favorites to gain their third victory of the year.

Westbrook and Courtney are all set to battle at Courtney. R. G. Crouch's hopes to repeat an early victory over the Lions are built around the flying feet of Oglesby and Board, rangy backs.

The congregation of Loraine, Midland, Spangenberg, and Lamesa have been invited and a large gathering is expected. A cordial invitation is also extended to those who have no church affiliations.

Adam Richetti Dies For His Part In K.C. Massacre

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Oct. 7 (AP)—Adam Richetti, last survivor of a desperate trio which terrorized the Midwest a few years ago, was executed in Missouri's lethal gas chamber early today for his part in the 1933 Kansas City Union Station massacre of four officers and their prisoners.

Death of the sadistic, saw-toothed pal of Pretty Boy Floyd blasted the last hope of officials for a first hand account of the sensational mass murder.

Richetti murmured only seven words as authorities strapped him into the chair: "What have I done to deserve this?"

Blindfolded, he walked calmly into the tank, his sixth victim. He gulped several times as officials released the gas, uttered one sharp gasp as deadly fumes filled the chamber, and struggled momentarily. He was pronounced dead four minutes after the gas was released.

Smiths In Reunion At Salt Lake City

SALT LAKE CITY, Oct. 7 (AP)—The Smiths—maybe you've heard of them—held their family reunion here today.

Six hundred descendants of Asael and Mary Duty Smith, most of them Mormons, met just before the opening of the general conference of the Latter Day Saints church.

There were Smiths from California and Smiths from New York, Smiths from Arizona and Smiths from Colorado—all descended from the grandparents of the Mormon prophet, Joseph Smith.

Edith A. Smith, historian who keeps elaborate genealogical records on what she says is the world's largest family organization, exhibited 40 huge volumes listing more than 50,000 Smith descendants, some 5,000 of them living.

Old Trail Drivers To Hear Connally

SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 7 (AP)—Old trail drivers brought out their fiddle ideas to see who could put the most rhythm into a "breakdown" like they danced to when Texas was a vast cattle domain.

It's the old fiddlers contest and will be followed by a grand ball. The association will also hear speeches from Sen. Tom Connally, T. C. Richardson of Dallas, Tad Moses and Amos G. Carter of Fort Worth, George B. Black, president of the Texas Ex-Rangers association, and H. F. McGill, former president of the Texas Southwestern Cattle Raisers association.

Officers will also be elected today.

NOT SO FLAT

DES MOINES, Oct. 7 (AP)—One of a passing group of youths yelled "Hey there flatfoot" to Patrolman Martin Brightman.

Brightman promptly ordered the jibing youth to remove his shoe. The youth's foot was level from toe to heel when he placed it on the sidewalk.

Then the patrolman removed his own shoe and displayed a curved arch.

The youth's face reddened as his companions turned to him and cried "Hey there flatfoot."

JUST IN TIME

FRANKFORT, Ind., Oct. 7 (AP)—Hop McBride heard an aviator overhead cut his motor and swoop low toward him. He looked up.

The flyer leaned from the cockpit and yelled "fire!"

McBride looked around, saw neighbor Robert Van Nuy's roof ablaze.

Firemen saved the house.

Temple To Try Aerial Game

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 7 (AP)—Texas Christian's undefeated Horned Frogs, seeking their third straight victory, collide with Temple's Owls in an intercollegiate football game tonight that may develop into a battle of forward passes.

The Texans, with Davey O'Brien replacing Sammy Baugh in the passing role, are famed for their "aerial circus." Temple, with Mike Lukac catching John Berrier's tosses, last week showed it is also adept at the overhead route. By completing 14 of 18 passes against Pitt for a gain of 158 yards.

A crowd of more than 30,000 is expected. Officials predicted a dry field despite an all-day rain yesterday. The gridiron was protected by canvas.

HERE' ONE WAY TO KEEP SCORE

ROCKER, Mont., Oct. 7 (AP)—Workers on the railroads and in a timber framing plant in this suburb of Butte get their world series results by direct wire—the clothesline of Mrs. F. D. Markell.

Reserving one end of the line for the Chicago Cubs and the other for the New York Yankees, Mrs. Markell hangs up a sock, or strip of bright calico, to indicate a run, and the several hundred workmen know at a glance which team is ahead.

There are about 100 geysers and 300 non-eruptive hot springs in Yellowstone National park.

THE SPORTS PARADE

by Hank Hart

It should be San Angelo over the longhorn tonight by a two touchdown margin. Bill Davenport is going to be hard to stop and the Bovine backs may find it very difficult to get through or around the Bobcat line.

Elsewhere in the district Dewey Mayhew is going to add a new chapter to his diary and chapters, you know, can't all be of triumph. One must take the bitter with the sweet and this time it's liable to be mighty bitter. Sweetwater 20, Abilene 6.

Out in the broken field skipping in the light fantastic over the state:

Plainville should floor Borger; Amarillo will probably get around Capitol Hill of Oklahoma City; Ranger is slightly favored to edge Brownwood and who are we to disagree; Cisco should bounce Mineral Wells; Longview over hurdle Highland Park; Corsicana clips Hillsboro and Temple should nudge Bryan.

Going a little deeper it looks like:

SMU comfortably over Marquette in tonight's Chicago battle.

TCU should sidestep Temple at Philadelphia in this evening's nocturnal engagement but there's room for an upset.

Out on the coast we're riding with the Texas Aggies over Santa Clara, confident that Dick Todd can score enough touchdowns to overshadow either Bruce Pelgrin, Ray McCarthy or Tommy Gilbert.

Olle Cordill should lead Rice's reawakened Longhorns over Louisiana State and don't say we didn't tell you. Ernie Lain can come along if he so wants.

Texas is just riding north to Dallas for the trip. Oklahoma will be there, too.

The conference go at Fayetteville pits Baylor against Arkansas and it's too early in the season for the Bears to start cracking up.

Why sic a backfield like Goldberg, Stebbins, Cassano and Chickerno on little Duquesne? Pitt's Jock Sutherland should know better.

Cornell's Whit Baker and Brud Holland should have it all over Dick Harlow's Harvard Crimson Tide.

Penn. back on the high road, gives defeat No. 2 to Yale, with some valuable aid on the part of Herby Rainwater and Joe Glenn, the highly touted soph.

Watch Bob MacLeod and the Dar-mouth White Indians make merry at the expense of Princeton's once proud Tigers.

Up at Columbus USC should fall, blocked out by a not-so-good Ohio State eleven.

Minnesota over Purdue, enough said.

And to top them all watch Sid Luckman and the Columbia Lions claw the United States Military Academy Cadets.

Out of Homer Garrison's department of public safety office at Austin comes another appeal to football fans to drive safely to and from games. There is little need for fast or reckless driving and the department is clamping down in an effort to rid the highways of all such dangers.

RUPPERT WOULD LIKE A SWEEP

NEW YORK, Oct. 7 (AP)—The man who built and won the "Yankee menace," Col. Jacob Ruppert, gets his biggest world series kick from the work of "those young fellows," Henrich and Gordon, as the New York American leaguers close in on their third straight world championship.

Confined to his bed by illness, Ruppert, is following the series and the little world series by radio. He says he is "interested in the little one, too." The colonel owns both the principals, the Kansas City Blues and the Newark Bears. "I'm glad to see the Yankees in with the Cubs."

"It makes for keener interest when a team like the Cubs comes through. Instead of the old local rivalry we have a new international angle that's pulling in capacity crowds. And of course we can still see more records."

By records the colonel means another four-game sweep.

Golf and football were forbidden in Scotland in 1471 because they distracted people from practicing archery.

Many Think Yanks To Sweep Series

By GAYE TALBOT EN ROUTE TO NEW YORK, Oct. 7 (AP)—Except for the fashionable huzzahs that will be sounded about Sunday night in the Yankee Stadium, that glittering gathering place of baseball's socialites, up in the Bronx, the 1938 world series appears to be all wrapped up.

The Yankees are too good. Too good for the Chicago Cubs, and possibly too good for the future of baseball. As the two clubs head into New York to resume the unequal contest on Saturday with the Yankees already twice victorious, there isn't much to wonder about except whether Colonel Jake Ruppert's super team will make it four straight.

The general belief on this rail-way carriage is that they will. When Frank Crossett and Joe DiMaggio rapped those late inning home runs to beat Dizzy Dean, 6 to 3, yesterday, the most obstinate backers of the Cubs gave up.

If the Yanks had done it sooner it wouldn't have been quite so bad. But they messed along and let Dizzy look like the biggest hero since Sergeant York for seven and two-thirds innings. Then they reached out and slapped him down. It seemed like something went out of baseball when Dean shuffled off the field in the ninth, with a final quick glance at the left field wall that had wrecked his hopes.

What chance the Cubs had of outgaming or outlugging the world champions in the series went into the trash with Dizzy. If he had won his great effort by the score of 3 to 2 as it looked like he would going into the eighth, then the series might have developed into a dog fight. But no club, barring a miracle, can spot this Yankee team two games.

Crossett Factor For those who are impressed by figures, yesterday's was the 20th victory scored by the Yankees in their 23 world series games since 1927. No club ever before so dominated the game. Their weakest member, Frankie Crossett, highlighted the opening game with his fielding and yesterday the little shortstop with the piping voice hit the homer that virtually settled the series. Maybe that is significant.

It is a happy job pitching for the Yankees, Vernon "Lefty" Gomez yesterday became the first pitcher ever to win his sixth straight world series victory without having suffered a loss, and El Gouly was enjoying a nice warm shower at the time.

Lefty, who had been maced right merrily by the Cubs as they ran up their 3 to 2 lead in the early innings, had retired for a pinch-hitter just before Crossett's biggy, shipped Dizzy's "fast ball" into the catcher in the eighth. In fact, it was the pinch-hitter, Myril Hoag, who rode in on the big punch, so that made Lefty the winning pitcher.

Plenty of Success Dean's "fast ball" is enclosed in quotations because it is very slow compared to the specimens that Dizzy used to rear back and fire across the plate in other days when he strode the mound like a Colossus and stared in astonishment when somebody knuckled out back at him. It is the best fast ball he has now. Nobody will ever know how he held the Yankees to three hits, one of them an outright piece of luck, for seven innings.

After the game Manager Joe McCarthy patted himself over the heart and said: "That fellow Dean has one of these 'Harting' sacks in the dressing room. 'Diz, you gave me everything you had—and with a sore arm.' For all their jubilation at the victory, the Yanks came out of it with a genuine admiration for Dean.

DiMaggio's mighty blow in the ninth with Henrich on base seemed an afterthought, for the game already was won and lost. The tall Italian caught the first pitch, a slow "nothing ball," and practically knocked it out of sight. He said later that he believed it was the hardest ball he had hit all year. By that time the crowd of 42,000 loyal Cub routers was beyond all pain.

Pearson Ready For tomorrow's engagement, the Yankees haven't any one to call upon except Monte Pearson, who recently pitched a no-hitter and who stopped the Giants in the third world series game a year ago. He has worked out hard the last two days and apparently has recovered from the illness that threatened to keep him out of the classic. The Cubs, having gambled and lost on Dean yesterday, must pin their scant hopes on young Clay Bryant, a fast-baller like Bill Lee, whom the Yankees pelted in the first game.

Incidentally, the success of the Yanks against Lee was due largely to the fact that their coach, Earl Combs, stood on the third base line and tipped off the batter what was coming on every pitch, a member of the Chicago club revealed today. Combs, it seems, could tell by the way Lee would up what he had in mind and he would give a quick whistle or something to warn the batter. If those Yanks don't have one thing, it's something else.

Diz Dean Loses But Wins In Series Game

Great One Earns The Respect Of All By Sticking To Task

CHICAGO, Oct. 7 (AP)—The Yankees won the ball game, but long after the score lists buried and forgotten in the record books they will be talking about the guy who lost, but won—Dizzy Dean.

In the lengthening shadows yesterday afternoon at Wrigley field, 'Ol Diz trudged off the mound and slowly disappeared into the Cub dugout. It was the ninth inning and the score was 6 to 3 in favor of New York. In the box score, Dizzy was the losing pitcher. But to Manager Gabby Hartnett of the Cubs and thousands of fans he was the winner of respect; they'll hold for him many years after he finally hangs up his glove.

Frankie Crossett, whose fielding was largely responsible for the Yank victory Wednesday, tried for the range three times before hitting the homer which proved enough for a New York victory.

The reaction of the hundreds of baseball writers to Dean's defeat was tribute to the big-hearted hurler with the sore and tired arm. As special buses carried the writers to hotels and trains, scores of arguments developed over whether Dean's losing was a "better story" than if he had won. Almost all agreed that had Diz won they would have had the opportunity of writing one of the greatest sports stories of the age.

Joe DiMaggio, who went hitless in the first game, had two hits in four trips yesterday and his second safety still may be bouncing. "DiMag" really teed off on his ninth inning homer which also scored Tom Henrich, the ball clearing the left field wall by at least 90 feet. It was then that Jerome Herman Dean bowed out—a beaten pitcher but still a winner to thousands in the hushed stands. And as he dragged his lanky frame into the dressing room he tossed his glove to a bench and said: "Boys, I just threw myself out, I guess."

Last night Masonic Home topped the Steers, state semi-finalists the past two seasons, 6 to 0. It was one of three games played last night to inaugurate a crucial weekend in which conference battles are carried in a dozen districts.

Sam Houston, one of the state's 22 undefeated, untied teams, downed Jeff Davis, 14-6, in a Houston district championship game.

The big battle of that sector comes tonight when Conroe plays Austin (Houston) at Conroe. Both have perfect records for the season.

Gainesville, another unbeaten, untied team rated one of the state's strongest clubs, smashed Denton, 48-0, in an inter-district game.

There are 45 games on the state's schedule this afternoon and tonight with six tomorrow night.

Proceeds of the game, which starts at 8 p. m. (CST) will go to St. Vincent's orphanage of Chicago.

AGGIES, MUSTANGS AND FROGS LIKED BY SOUTHWEST SCRIBE

By FELIX R. McKNIGHT Associated Press Sports Writer For off home base, the heartiest bunch of delegates ever to carry the gospel of the wide-open Southwest Conference to foreign soil will be out this weekend loaded for bear.

In the East, Middle-West and Far West the Southwest will have its representatives, and indications are the batting average won't be bad. Only one conference game is billed, Baylor stepping into Arkansas' new stadium over in the Ozarks.

One of the traveling eleven looms as the day's biggest "sleeper," the Texas Aggies.

Out at San Francisco, where the citizens gulped as Santa Clara, twice Sugar Bowl champions, salted away Stanford, 22-0, last Saturday, they are laying a 2-1 that the Aggies will be buried in the same spot. Texans, however, are noted for bargain hunting and it wouldn't shock them if they would pick up pin money at that figure. The Aggies, which barely loosed their touchdown maker, Dick Todd, in a 20-0 rout of Tulsa last week, will take the Crowell cyclone free reins in the Santa Clara game.

Two Touchdown Win Too much brains and brawn in the Texas Christian line should lay Pop Warner's Temple Owls low at Philadelphia Friday night. If Davey O'Brien has his passing arm functioning and Connie Sparks' feet could be the Philly soil, it could be the Christians by at least two touchdowns. The Oklahoma team that beat Rice is a good one—good enough to beat Texas. If they have another of those days.

Baylor, with its stout line and Bullet Bill Patterson, gets the edge over Arkansas. The Razorbacks weren't too impressive against Texas Christian, but did show the old aerial scare was still there for anyone who meddled, scoring twice on passes. However, Baylor's pass defense has always been good and Arkansas failed to stop O'Brien's throws last week. Patterson can leave—possibly for a seven point victory.

BOBCATS ARE FAVORED OVER BOVINES IN FIRST CONFERENCE CLASH TONIGHT

Teams Collide In Stadium At 8:15

Local Regulars Are Ailing; Angelo Won Last Year, 14-6

By HANK HART Two once proud grid craft, manned by inexperienced sailors and apparently drifting, collide at Steer stadium this evening at 8:15. But one will be headed toward port when the storm clouds fade and that one is favored to be San Angelo's Bobcats.

The dauntless warriors of Harry Taylor's come north to do battle with Big Spring's Bovines in the first conference go of the season for the two teams, an engagement overshadowed by the Abilene-Sweetwater clash billed for the Abilene field this afternoon.

Neither of the squadrons that takes the field tonight are expected to become a serious obstacle for Larry Priddy's or Dewey Mayhew's outfit to hurdle but the fusile should pack 'em in because of the historic background of the rivalry.

The Longhorns have been able to score but one victory over the Concho Kittens, that a 13-6 victory back in 1934 when Ole Cordill and Bob Flowers were talking this sector's high school gridiron, but the deadlocks have been too numerous to mention and the Angelenos have always had difficulty in winning.

Confident of scoring their first victory of the year are the Cats. They were downed by North Side, Fort Worth, two weeks ago, 6-0, and succeeded in holding the Thomas Jefferson team out of San Antonio to a scoreless deadlock last weekend. Their inability to fully has caused Mentor Taylor to labor hard and long this week with his

Big Spring Yearlings Defeated In First Grid Go By Sweetwater, 26-6

Junior Moore Scores Lone Touchdown

SWEETWATER, Oct. 7 (AP)—Johnny Daniel's Yearlings of Big Spring were trampled, 26-6, by the John Reagan Colts of this city in the Howard county team's first grid game of the season here Thursday night. The Colts had previously defeated Brownwood Juniors, 6-0.

The Sweetwater crew tallied twice in the first frame on a series of power plays and used experience and weight to roll over the visitors.

The Yearling passing attack proved ineffective but their ground game, sparked by Junior Moore, resulted in a touchdown in the second quarter. Moore went over for the only score.

The Yearlings completed one pass and had one intercepted.

Billy Parker, the "iron man" center, and Peppy Blount went outstanding on defense for the Big Springers.

Score by quarters: Sweetwater 13 6 7 0-26 Big Spring 0 6 0 0-6 haven't met any real air minded teams. Big Spring can get air-minded and has three pilots to guide the way.

Apparently nothing is going to be made through the Kitten line with a couple of 200-pounders in McClure and Dupree rocking along at the tackle berths and some fair-sized lads at the other stations.

A mass of Angelo fans, headed by the pep squad and band, is coming along to supply the verbal and moral support and to see what they hope is a repetition of a 14-6 win chalked up on the same field last fall.

Reserve seat duets may be obtained through the day at the school tax office at the courthouse.

Yank Jockeys Riding Cubs

Letting Bruins Have It Due To Treatment Of Chas. Grimm

By EDDIE BRIEZE NEW YORK, Oct. 7 (AP)—The Yankee jockey department, ably headed by Prof. Art Fletcher, is riding the hide off the Cubs for not giving Grimm a series cut.

The Smiths no longer have it. The name of Williams leads all the others on Southwest conference square lists. Some eastern writers are hinting Jimmy Foxx ducked the last game of the season to guard against losing the batting championship. Say it ain't so, Jimmy.

They say Bill Terry is trying to trade Hank Leiber for Vince DiMaggio. Three cheers for Spokane of the Western International league which drew 208,400 fans to its 1938 home games for an all time Class B high. Colonel Ruppert used his Newark and Kansas City clubs he hoped both would win the "little world series."

As soon as the series is over, Rip Collins will go on a six weeks' vaudeville tour with Pepper Martin's Mudcats at $500 per week. There will be more football accounts than you can count in Atlanta tomorrow when Notre Dame plays Georgia Tech. The gunshow men want to see if whether if they read about those goings on at South Bend last week is really so.

Early anti-gambling laws in England were designed less to discourage gambling than to encourage archery.

PONIES SET FOR CHICO

CHICAGO, Oct. 7 (AP)—Southern Methodist's undefeated Mustangs and their famed razzle dazzle attack will attempt to make it three in a row for the season tonight when they meet Marquette university at Soldier field.

With the exception of Center Ray Pope and Halfback Ray Malouf, who are sophomores, the Mustangs will trot out a veteran team. Six sophomores will be in the Marquette starting lineup.

Proceeds of the game, which starts at 8 p. m. (CST) will go to St. Vincent's orphanage of Chicago.

BREUER, HALEY WORK IN LITTLE WORLD SERIES

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 7 (AP)—The man who put the Kansas City Blues in the little world series tonight faces the job of keeping them there. He is Marvin Breuer, right-handed hurler who won three games from St. Paul in the American Association playoff finals. Tonight he takes the mound against the Newark Bears in the sixth game of the little world series.

If he wins, the series will be tied up at three all. If he loses, it's all over.

Opposing Breuer will be Jack Haley, victor over the Blues in the third game of the series at Newark, 7 to 1.

Without casting the slightest reflection upon the motives which inspired the policy, we must consider whether in the world as it is, we do not do more harm than good by trying to combine the two diametrically opposed foreign policies of isolation and collective security.

THE AMERICAN PART IN THE EUROPEAN CRISIS: There is much to be learned for the future of American policy by studying the experience of the last three months.

Mr. Welles' story begins with the critical day of Saturday, September 21, when it appeared that the Godesberg negotiations had broken down.

But though Mr. Welles did not mention this whole phase of administration activity, here is no doubt that there was such a phase and that during those 70 momentous days the administration was intervening in the crisis, and was attempting to influence the outcome.

In so far as an American observer in Europe could judge at the time, the administration's policy in those days was designed to remind Hitler and his allies that they must not count upon American isolation in the event of war.

In fact, they suggested a little more than that. They suggested that American sentiment against aggression and anti-dictatorship was so strong that our neutrality would probably not be disinterested, and that in one way or another we should probably find ourselves drawn into the coalition against Germany.

It is, of course, hard to say how much effect the diplomatic activity actually had. But it seems probable that it contributed not a little to stiffening the Czech and the French resistance at the end of August, when it might still have been possible to make a more moderate settlement by negotiation.

Until we know what the foreign diplomats in Washington were telling their governments in Europe, we cannot know for certain what influence the administration had on events. But we do know this much at least: that the public effect was to create a popular expectation in Europe that American help could be counted upon, and then, in the real climax of the crisis, before Hitler committed himself at Nuremberg, to dash that expectation.

The fundamental question raised by this experience is whether it actually is a contribution to the peace and order of the world for the United States to practice this kind of intervention in European affairs.

Before we start talking about a "new world order," we shall do well, it seems to me, to make up our minds clearly what we are prepared to contribute to the construction and to the maintenance of such a world order.

Today And Tomorrow

THE AMERICAN PART IN THE EUROPEAN CRISIS: There is much to be learned for the future of American policy by studying the experience of the last three months.

But it would seem that the under secretary of state, Mr. Sumner Welles, who spoke on the radio Monday evening, was speaking before it was expedient for him to speak fully or to speak freely about the recent foreign policy of the administration.

OH, DID I DO SOMETHING WRONG AGAIN? ONE THOUSAND AND TWENTY SEVEN—ONE THOUSAND AND TWENTY EIGHT—ONE THOUSAND AND TWENTY NINE—

THE MAN WHO MADE IT A RULE TO COUNT TEN IN ORDER TO CONTROL HIS TEMPER

Man About Manhattan by GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—It was one of those ineffectual little dramas that pop up and fade on Broadway in a breath—a pathetic in script, meager in staging, peopled by actors who deserved better luck.

Suddenly one of the ushers yelled: "Put the curtain down, there's a customer in the house."

Ernest Hemingway wrote his play, "The Fifth Column," under circumstances so trying that one wonders how he escaped a lasting case of the jitters.

The man who gets a big kick out of hating the Italians wrote this drama in besieged Madrid, and he says: "Each day we were shelled by the guns beyond Leganes and behind the folds of Barabitas hill, and while I was writing the play the boys of Florida, where we lived and worked, were struck by more than 38 high explosive shells.

THE DEMOS SEE VICTORY IN PENNSYLVANIA: The top members of the Pennsylvania democratic ticket had a political talk today with President Roosevelt, and reported they had told him the party would win by 200,000 in that state in the November elections.

Both girls admired Kit-Smyth's home. It was roomy, a bit overfurnished, but comfortable in a mannish way.

The Scotch woman who presided over the domestic was a dour and unattractive but entertaining young lady, until Kathleen removed her hat, then she beamed.

"You'll have plenty of attention from the Gregorlys," Kit-Smyth told Kathleen, as the woman retired from the room.

"Fanny his getting too old to work," Old Angus brought him over from Scotland and when the boss died we found his will had taken care of Baimy from that time on.

Kathleen's eyes were wide with hope. Baimy had not only been her grandfather's miner, he'd been her friend. Now she could learn all she wanted to learn.

Both girls thought Kit-Smyth laughed unnecessarily loud and long. "The old man can't take long. They can do what they want to do up their own but they haven't a mine like ours and that's what counts in the long run."

According to Kit-Smyth, answering a call from The Golden Girl, the Gregorlys had consented to renting their house.

"You can move in, immediately," he assured them.

He sent for a house-boy, a young Ute Indian and this "Joy-wide-eyes" looked at Kathleen and swore silent allegiance to her.

Approaching her grandfather's home, Kathleen felt a strange interest. When there had been a discussion of family background, it had always, heretofore, revolved around her mother's family.

Hollywood DON'T MARRY THE MAN

Chapter 10 OLD BALMY Kit-Smyth's hand was on Baimy's arm. Other muckers had rushed to the old man's side, but only Kathleen smiled.

In the yellow circle of light she could see the man's face, his expression of patient hope, the glow of joy gradually fading, a look of bewilderment taking its place.

"Queer," he muttered "I could have sworn it was Old Angus standing there. It's the way he always stood, the stubborn men, heels flat to the ground so no one could move him."

Suddenly the face was illumined. "Disappoint," he echoed. "Ah, no! It seems dreams come true in their own fashion."

Kit-Smyth, who had listened impatiently, took Kathleen's arm. "Now I'll show you—"

36 BARKER LIKES HOGS, MUSTANGS AND CHRISTIANS

By HERBERT W. BARKER
 NEW YORK, Oct. 7 (AP)—This football corner resumes the weekly guessing contest, ignoring an uncanny hunch that a flock of favorites are about to get their ears beaten off.

Army-Columbia: They've been calling this Army outfit a "myatery team" but there's no mystery about why Columbia handed Yale a neat shelling last week. His name's Sid Luckman, Columbia.

Minnesota-Purdue: There's plenty of speed in this Purdue team but the Minnesotas have a way of slowing down the opposition along about the third or fourth period.

Arkansas-Baylor: The normal

Broncs Picked Over Farmers

way to pick a Southwest Conference winner is to decide first which team looks best and then take the other one. So, Arkansas.

Santa Clara-Texas A. & M.: The way Santa Clara Broncos pushed Stanford around was nothing short of scandalous. The Aggies look good but not good enough. Santa Clara.

Louisiana State-Rice: The Tiger and the Owl. This would be a cinch if it were a question of zoology. The coin, going into action for the first time, says LSU.

Texas-Oklahoma: Oklahoma seems to have too much defensive class for Texas and rates the call. Temple-Texas Christian: More trouble for Temple. T.C.U.

Marquette-Southern Methodist: The Mustangs from S.M.U. gallop on.

A hop, step and jump over the chalklines otherwise: Texas Tech over Oklahoma City.

DANIEL BAKER LOSE, 7-6, TO KANGAROOS

BROWNWOOD, Oct. 7 (AP)—The Austin college Kangaroos were off to a flying start today in the Texas conference football championship race.

Last night Austin college nosed out Daniel Baker, 7-6, here when Doc Floyd booted the ball through the uprights after Cotton Bill had raced 85 yards for a touchdown.

Austin college scored in the first quarter of the game, the initial 11 in the conference race for both elevens. The hillbilly counter was in the second period with Gene Hopper rapping tackle from the one-yard line as the climax of a 35-yard drive featuring Snodgrass and Hopper. Watson's kick was wide.

Each team advanced to the one-yard line later but neither could get across for another touchdown.

More Teachers Here Participating This Year In Retirement Plan

Teachers in the Big Spring public school system are taking advantage of the teachers retirement act to a much greater degree than last year, the September report showed Friday.

During the 12 months period after teachers first became eligible under an act provided for by constitutional amendment, there has been a gain of 21 per cent in teacher participation.

One year ago, when teachers received their first checks, only 37 of an eligible 90 elected to have the five per cent monthly deduction made. This amounted to $28.35 monthly. However, there was a 90-day period of grace in which teachers had opportunity to avail themselves of the plan and several of the younger pedagogues reconsidered.

First report this year showed that there were 62 paying their five per cent to the fund, or a total of $372.70. This term there are 100 eligible to participate.

Under the plan, teachers pay five per cent of their monthly salaries into the fund. This is matched by the state. When the teacher reaches the age of 60 and has been in the profession for 20 years, he or she may retire and receive an annuity payment based on a life expectancy of 10 years.

However, the teacher may retire from the program at any time and have his or her contributions refunded plus 3 1/2 per cent interest.

Lives Lost

The forward part of the ship and the front of the pilot house was stayed in. The masts were carried away by the explosion and the ladder to the pilot house also went.

"The captain reached out of his cabin within a few seconds but by this time the entire ship was in flames. He gave orders to abandon ship.

"We could not send an SOS as the masts crumbled. The radio and I slid down some pieces of canvas to the deck and made our way to a life boat.

"It was not until after all had boarded the two lifeboats that we discovered two members of the crew were missing. No one knows what happened to them. They were working in the forecastle when the explosion occurred."

Jews who had served the country honorably in war and had earned the possibility of sanctuary for Jews in Ethiopia.

The mixed marriage ban forbade union of Italians and "African, Semitic and other races," and marriage of civilian and military employees of the state to "foreign women of whatever race."

Other Italian officials refused to have the interior ministry's permission before a foreign marriage.

Work Progressing On City Water, Sewer Projects

City water and sewer projects were showing satisfactory progress Friday.

The extension of a large sewer line from the Gregg and First street intersection to the state hospital site was in its final stages with the line already installed well beyond the city limits.

B. J. McDaniel, city superintendent, estimated that the completion of the project would require another week or more.

Workmen on the elevated tank project immediately north of the high school football stadium on the northern slopes of town Friday had finished foundation work for the 200,000 gallon structure which will tower more than 100 feet. Steel on the job, already fabricated, will be shipped from Chicago to Big Spring a week from today.

Quarter-Million In Texas Wants Jobs

AUSTIN, Oct. 7 (AP)—Planning board and other state officials, counting noses today, discovered more than 251,000 Texas residents want jobs.

The situation, they said was becoming more acute daily because of an influx of unemployed from other states.

They called upon city advertising commissions, boards of development and manufacturers to inform other commonwealths Texas has far more workers than its present or immediately prospective industries can absorb.

Byron Mitchell, director of the Texas employment service, a division of the Unemployment Compensation Commission, said job applicants had increased by 10,000 in the past 90 days.

retail and support those in front to work for reconstruction."

Hostile forces, meanwhile, were closing in on all sides to give this ancient and beautiful capital more and more the aspect of a besieged city.

The number of fugitives is increasing. A week ago 300 daily got temporary care at the Prague Deutsches Haus. The figure has jumped to 800.

All afternoon newspapers have dwindled to a single sheet to conserve paper. The municipality decided to keep open trenches dug in parks and about public buildings.

An army postoffice was established despite partial demobilization. The provincial Bohemian government met without its Sudeten German delegates. Mail from abroad virtually has been suspended.

There were panicky scenes as the circle of German occupation approached Prague. Jews, seeking to flee, feared being caught in Sudeten zones.

Jewish leaders here said most of the comparatively few Jews in Sudetenland said to number 29,000—had fled before the German troops.

Leaders feared results of concentrating too many Jews in shrunken Czechoslovakia, although Franz Friedmann, Jewish party representative on the Prague city council, said, "There are 34,000 Jews in a population of over 1,000,000 (in Prague), but there is reason to fear that (Jewish problems) may result if this number is considerably increased."

Criticism, resentment and anger followed receipt of news that an international commission in Berlin had added a fifth zone to the four districts of a four-power conference in Munich had granted Germany.

"We were sold out once," Czechoslovaks cried. "We are now being sold out again. Our hands are being tied. We appeal to the world to aid us against trickery at Berlin."
