Spearman Wins From Gruver, Sunday Game

In game full of thrills and spills, the Spearman baseball team defeated Gruver last Sunday afternoon with a score of 12 to 10.

At the end of the seventh inning the score favored Gruver 7 to 0. At that time the Gruver players wanted to call the game, making the contest a 7 inning affair instead of the customary 9 frames. The Spearman team refused, and entered the 8th inning with the Gruver players to a statement from the Gruver players to the effect that they had just as soon beat Spearman 40 to 0 as to defeat them 7 to 0. The final tally proved this prediction was a bit previous.

The following agreement must be signed to secure this free seed.

The following seed is received from the government with the express understanding that it is to be planted at the first seasonable opportunity during the summer of 1935 on the above described land at the approximate rate of 1-2 pounds per acre and for no other purpose whatsoever. The seed will be planted in wide rows of regular strip pattern, strips not to exceed ten rows each. It will not be used in violation of any AAA regulation, pasturing, partial removal or plowing down of the cover crop will be strictly regulated to preserve for prevention of wind erosion an adequate ground cover until the next succeeding crop is established or until April 1 1936.

More Than Two And One-Half Inches Rain During Month

Rofing up out of the Southeast early Wednesday afternoon, clouds drenched Hansford county in a miniature cloudburst Wednesday night. Estimates over the county range from 1-2 inch to two inches of moisture. The official government record of F. W. Brandt at Spearman showed a rainfall of 1.30 inches.

The rainfall Wednesday night followed a sizable rain and hail that fell Tuesday afternoon in the Bioggett community extending thru Farnsworth to the north and covered a strip some 6 to 8 miles wide, extending to about 4 miles East of Spearman. Little damage was recorded as result of the hail, which fell, according to reports, as large as hen eggs. The ground was completely covered with the hail, and a nice rain fell following the storm. Reports vary as to the amount of moisture falling Tuesday, ranging from a quarter of an inch to an inch.

The rainfall of this week will do much to improve the growing condition of field grains. Many producers have had considerable trouble getting up a stand. Farmers report the first planting too deep to come up to a good stand. A second planting in many cases was planted too shallow, due to the many rains that fell the past month end.

Nearly every section of the county report row crops planted, and the present moisture will virtually insure a good stand.

Official records for Spearman during the month of June show a total moisture of more than two and a half inches.

More Than Half Of Of Compliance Papers Are Completed

More than sixty per cent of the compliance papers for the 1935 crop in Hansford County have been signed and forwarded to Amarillo or check, according to a statement from County Agent Lester Boykin.

The record of the local wheat allotment board is exceptionally good in respect to completing the 1935 papers, and it is expected that the entire work will be completed in this county before the middle of July.

All who have not signed the compliance papers are urged to come to the court house and sign them immediately.

W. C. Robinson, popular football star of the Spearman Lynx team, has joined the staff as an employee of the City Drug store. Floyd Holland, of Perryton, a nephew of Dwight Holland of Spearman will also join the staff of employees this week end. The management of the store is anxious to render excellent service to the trade and is providing sufficient help to provide excellent service to all customers.

Borger Invites North Plains To July 4th. Celebration

With aggregations coming from all over the Panhandle, the Fourth of July rodeo and celebration, under the auspices of the Borger Junior Chamber of Commerce is expected to draw one of the largest crowds in the history of Borger.

Rotarians, Kiwanis, Chamber of commerce and Junior C. of C. members are invited to a massed luncheon at 11:00 in Borger on the Fourth. Clubs from many towns have signified their intentions of having their regular weekly luncheon in Borger. There will be over 900 civic members present.

The program for the celebration consists of 24 hours of entertainment featuring a ball game complete rodeo with contestants from all over the state, dancers beginning at 4:00 the morning of the Fourth, a cowboy parade, a county fair, and our fireworks after the night performance of the rodeo.

Good orchestras will play for the dances. An arena master Milt Good, will control the rodeo.

The best contract for the Southwest has never been ridden, will be featured. Prizes to contestants are on a par with those of any rodeo in Texas.

Mayor J. R. Miller has signified his intentions of turning the city over to the guests, there is plenty of room for all. Borger is ideal for a western celebration as it is surrounded by such ranches as the 6666, the LX the Whittenberg double H, the OO, and the famous Hat brand. Borger has many residents who have helped handle thousands of cattle at one time.

There will be cowgirls on the list of contestants. At the night performance of the rodeo, a cowgirl will bulldog a Brahma steer from an auto.

Milt Good, famous in rodeo circles, will give one of the best entertainments money can arrange. Details of the rodeo may be obtained by writing the Junior Chamber of Commerce, Borger, Texas.

Probably one of the most unique occasions in the history of the Panhandle celebration will be the massed luncheon of civic clubs in Borger on the Fourth of July.

The Junior Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring a rodeo and general celebration in Borger the Fourth of July. In return for the splendid support of other civic clubs in the city, the luncheon is arranged. Rotarians, American Legion, Kiwanis, Chamber of Commerce, and Lions clubs from cities in the Panhandle are invited to have their weekly luncheon at 11 o'clock the morning of the Fourth. To date several clubs have signified their intentions of being in attendance for every minute of the 24 hour entertainment. Visitors can choose their type of entertainment. It will be in Borger on the Fourth of July.

lowship among the organizations. It could be a forerunner to clubs meeting at different times in their respective towns in this way.

The program for the celebration consists of something to suit every individual.

At 4 o'clock in the morning of the Fourth a dance will begin the round of amusement. This dance will last until sunrise. Then a breakfast will follow, county-fairs, parades and band concerts will spot the rest of the morning program. Immediately after noon the two leading baseball clubs in the BIG FIVE loop in the Panhandle, will play. Then the afternoon rodeo will start.

The rodeo will be directed by Milt Good. Good was highly recommended to the Junior Chamber of Commerce on his ability as an arena master. He was on the entertainment staff at the rodeo in Laredo last month.

After the rodeo their will be dinner and the night performance of the rodeo starts. During the rodeo a large display of fireworks will be set off. The fireworks were purchased at a large sum. The display lasts for nearly an hour. Two dances will be in progress until four the morning of the fifth.

Members of the Junior C. of C. have arranged entertainment for every minute of the 24 hour entertainment. Visitors can choose their type of entertainment. It will be in Borger on the Fourth of July.

JAYCEE ENEMY NO. 1 STILL BEING SOUGHT BY BUREAU

After investigations concerning the attempted killing of the order issued by the Junior Chamber of Commerce to wear a 10 gallon hat for their boosting of the fourth of July celebration in Borger, Lloyd McCann was designated as Jaycee enemy No. 1. All forces of the organization were sent into the field and surrounding territory to get the man regardless.

McCann is a dangerous character and refuses to come into the open and wear a hat. My men are on the lookout for him and I have spread a net over the whole of Borger. We must get him. He has flaunted his action in the face of the Jaycees and has stepped over all barriers when he refused to wear a hat. I am sure my men will get him for the ducking chair before the day is up. Monte Wolford, leader of the Jaycee bureau said today.

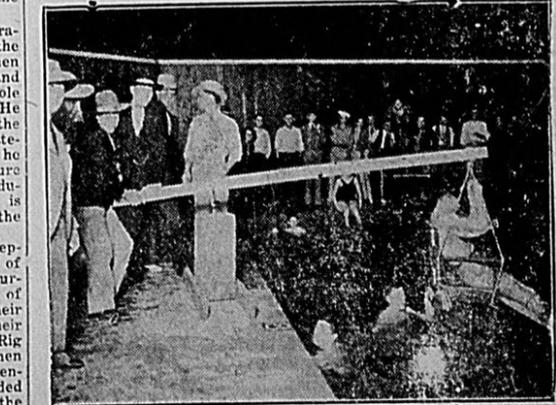

Last night McCann was reported to be in the vicinity of the city hall and Jaycee men surrounded the place for most of the night but failed to reach their goal on the tip. Thinking their quarry was hiding out in the Rig theatre a group of bureau men were dispatched there. All entrances to the city are guarded and it will be impossible for the victim to escape. Borgans will probably rest easy after tonight when they see the Jaycee enemy ducked in the pool.

Wolford said that they expect-ted to get the shirker around 7 o'clock.

McCann is the last of the wanted men in the vicinity of Borger J. C. Phillips, editor of the HERALD, H. W. Price, Huber head; J. R. Nunnally, Tulsa Rig and R. and Dr. W. Beckley Borger dentist, have been rounded up after repeated failure to wear a hat. They all held places as Jaycee

INTRODUCTION

The great doctrinal subjects in the Epistle to the Romans are finished with chapter eleven. Beginning with the twelfth chapter, the Apostle Paul starts to apply the mighty truths he has been expounding, to the daily practical life of Christian believers. The fourteenth chapter, the lesson for today, is occupied with one particular aspect of the life of a Christian in relation to his fellow believers in the Christian community at Rome. Many of these Christians had been converted to Christ out of Judaism, and some of them felt under compulsion to continue to live according to the Jewish ceremonial laws. Others had found in Christ an entirely new life, with a new law written in their hearts and a complete emancipation from the bondage of this complicated and exacting code, teaching the minute details of daily life. This question arose as to how Christians of

International Sunday School Lesson

By DR. J. E. NUNN

Sunday School lesson June 30.

General Topic:—

Liberty under Law

Scripture lesson:—

Romans 14:13-21 Cor. 8:9-12.

Let us not therefore judge one another any more. But judge ye this rather that no man put a stumbling block in his brothers way, or an occasion of falling.

14. I know and am persuaded in the Lord Jesus, that nothing is unclean of itself; save that to him who accounteth anything to be unclean, to him it is unclean.

15. For if because of meat thy brother is grieved, thou walkest no longer in love. Destroy not with thy meat him for whom Christ died.

16. Let not then your good be evil spoken of.

17. For the kingdom of God is not eating and drinking, but righteousness and peace and joy in the Holy Spirit.

18. For he that herein serveth Christ is well pleasing to God, and approved of men.

19. So let us follow after the things that make for peace, and things whereby we may edify one another.

20. Overthrow not for meat's sake the work of God. All things indeed are cue; howbeit it is evil for that man who eateth with offence.

21. It is good not to eat flesh, nor to drink wine, nor to do anything whereby thy brother stumbleth.

1 Cor. 8:9. But take heed lest by any means this liberty of your become a stumbling block to the weak.

10. For if a man see thee who has knowledge sitting at meat in the idol's temple, will not his conscience, if he is weak, be emboldened to eat things sacrificed to idols?

11. For through thy knowledge he that is weak perisheth, the brother for whose sake Christ died.

12. And thus sinning against the brethren, and wounding their conscience when it is weak, ye sin against Christ.

13. Wherefore if meat causeth my brother to stumble, I will eat no flesh for evermore, that I cause not my brother to stumble.

A Christian Rule of Conduct. Rom. 14:21.

"It is good not to eat flesh, nor to drink wine, nor to do anything whereby thy brother stumbleth." Now that buying intoxicating beverages in our country has been legalized this principle for the conduct of Christians here set down by the Apostle Paul has a greater application than it has ever had before in the lives of believers of this present generation. "What are we going to do about these things? We are going to leave everything of this class absolutely alone, publicly and privately, in the hotel, in the home, in social gatherings, in our own community, away from our community, wherever we are, we will not touch a drop of anything which has recently been brought back into our country again, because, by so doing, we who might be able to control our appetites along this line would give occasion for a weaker brother also to partake of such beverages, and he not having our strength, would unreasonably indulge himself, become addicted to drinking, and there would follow all the unspeakable, awful disasters, calamities, personal, domestic, moral, financial, that attend the life of one who is a slave to these things."

THIRTY-NINE per cent of husbands do the dishes!

That information is a census of various corners of neighborhood homes taken a large metropolitan store, and it is in no way surprising, as if it were unbelievable, that the number of husbands who do the dishes is increasing.

"But take heed lest means this liberty of comes a stumbling block weak." The true Christian obligation to God is lower in his thinking than exercise of his rights. It of duty rises above and resists social appeal, all high pressure advertising for the profit that is to put the glass to the every man man and America. It is the duty of every Christian to put the glass to the crystal clear. We must at whatever social cost. He must go a step and help his friends. HEADLIGHTS OF MARVIN JONES' A. A. A. ADDRESS

By MARVIN JONES

Living thousands of miles apart producing an infinite variety of crops in widely separated areas, the farmer has been hedged about by organized groups on every side. Had there been no legislation in behalf of these groups had there been no regulations of commerce, had there been no trade barriers and no monopolies, the farmer would have no legislative need. I subscribe to the doctrine here and now that we ought to have a tariff for all or a tariff for none. Standing on a platform of this kind we insist the farmer could have fought his own battles, protected his own interests, and carved his own niche in the affairs of our common country.

Just as the human body cannot properly function with a portion of it paralyzed our economic structure is subject to the same inexorable rules. It becomes necessary to restore the purchasing power of the farmer if our Nation was to live and prosper. We grow used to certain things and they seem commonplace. A new practice causes comment. It is interesting to hear business men criticize the farmers for adjusting their production when they themselves have been practicing the same thing for years and take it for granted.

Through depression years, industry in the main reduced its volume and largely maintained its prices. Agriculture largely maintained its volume and its prices were greatly reduced. The whole philosophy of the agricultural adjustment program is to apply business principles to agriculture.

The reduction program was an adjustment, a deck clearing proposition. We are now moving into the long range program, not to abandon it, but improve it.

We all recognize the importance of world trade. Of course other counties will have to recover before they can purchase our commodities in large quantities. Much of their trade during the period from 1925 to 29 was carried on with the money that was borrowed from us. It is not of very great value if you have to furnish the money to the man who buys your commodity, but as we get out of the mist of this thing, of course, our world trade must be increased.

When a man grows a bale of cotton or a bushel of wheat, harvesting one in the hot July sun and picking the other under a blazing September sky, and carries them to market, he has a right as an American citizen to the same market conditions as any other man, and until somebody can show us a better plan I say let us ride on this train.

THE LETTER

TO COUNTY AGENTS OF WHEAT PRODUCTION COUNTIES.

Many Wheat Production Control Associations have recently forwarded suggestions to the Agricultural Adjustment Administration as to special problems affecting their county or district which should be considered in connection with the new wheat adjustment contract. If your county has not already done so, and if special problems exist in your county which your committee feels should be given consideration in developing the new contract, the Division of Grains will appreciate getting this information for you.

The necessity of shaping a program which will meet as far as possible the various conditions of the different parts of the county should be kept in mind. Consideration will be given to the needs of areas, but the final program will necessarily have to be one which is workable for the county as a whole.

We would appreciate a prompt reply, by air mail if possible, so that the suggestion received from the association may be analyzed for consideration of the farm leaders who cooperate with us in the final draft of the program and contract.

Very truly yours, GEORGE E. FARRELL, Director, Division of Grains.

THE REPLY

Mr. George E. Farrell, Director, Division of Grains Agricultural Adj. Admin. Washington D. C.

Dear Mr. Farrell: In reply to the enclosed communication and in connection with a similar report being forwarded to your office by the Hansford County Wheat Production Control Assoc. I submit the following.

1. Some provision should be provided whereby the County Committee can include land cut out under the Old Contract that had a perfect base.

2. There are 15,000 acres in the county classed under the old contracts as one and two year land. These lands should be given a more liberal provision under the new contract. They were penalized too heavily on the old contract.

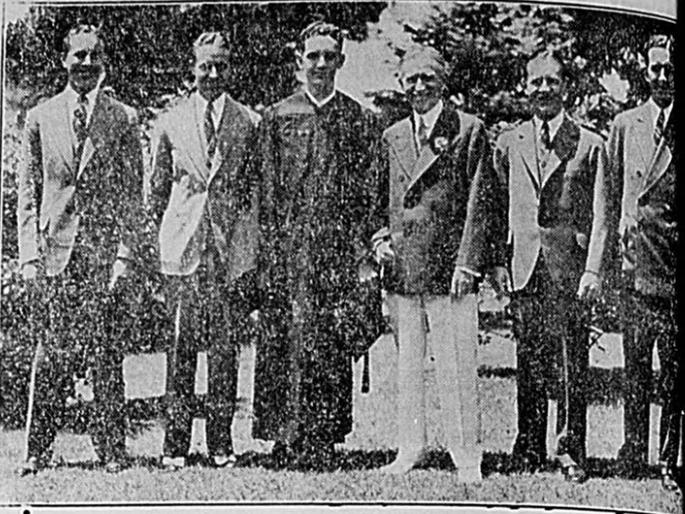

3. Unquestionably, the Bureau of Crop Estimation gave this county an allotment in acres that are too low. The base acres should be approximately 305,000 instead of 280,000.

4. The allotment committee should be given enough leeway to make individual adjustments, but not at the expense of other contract signers in the county. The base acreage is unquestionably too low.

5. Provisions should be made to eliminate a large part of expenses of the Association. The Allotment Committee should be practically the only expense, outside of office expenses.

Figures in support of the above statements can be supplied if requested.

Yours very truly, G. L. BOYKIN, County Agent Hansford County, Texas.

Canadian Rodeo News

Canadian, Texas, June 29.—It will take such adjectives as cankerous, sour, tricky and dangerous to come anywhere near describing the collection of animated high explosives which will pass for livestock at the Anvil Park rodeo July 3, 4 and 5.

For miles around the country has been gone over with a fine tooth comb to secure only the liveliest rubber necked horses, the fleetest footed bovines, and the fleetest footed, fighting, Brahma calves.

No rodeo is better than its livestock. The Anvil Park rodeo Committee, fully realizing this, has something to offer its guests which will require no apology.

Time and patience has entered into securing the cream of this territory in bucking horses. When the bronc riders come out of the chute astraddle one of the Anvil Park rodeo bucking horses they will think they are riding a bad case of delirium tremens with more action than a flea with the St. Vitus dance.

The long horned steers have been shipped in from the bad lands of Mexico. Big powerful fellows with long, sharp pointed horns which they too well know how to use, are a test for any contestant to bulldog. It is far different bulldogging the usual size rodeo steers and these critters which can stay on their feet even after the dogger has tried to pull seven turns in their swivel-jointed necks.

All contestants know that the lean, lanky Brahma calves top all other breeds for being difficult to haze into a two-footed loop when they are speeding over the ground like an antelope.

The association owns all its livestock, including the big Brahma steers used in the steer riding event.

In order to get the talent, it is necessary to hold a three day rodeo. A liberal prize list is put up, insuring good contestants in all events. The last day, July 5, is quite important, being the final in all events, where the cowboys put forth all their energy to get into the final money.

A group of Indians have been secured from the Cherokee Reservation in Oklahoma, and they will be here with their tents, tepees, and trappings. They will give a tribal dance in front of the grand stand each day just following the grand entry.

ROGERS PLAYS FAMED JURIST IN NEW FILM

Irvin S. Cobb's Popular Kentuckian Gives Star Richly Human Role

Will Rogers—in the most human and lovable role he has yet played! That is the screen fare promised at the LYRIC THEATRE, where Will begins his latest picture "JUDGE PRIEST".

According to advance reports, the star has never been so well suited as by this screen character the shrewd, kindly but strong-willed Kentucky jurist who is already famous in the stories of Irvin Cobb, perhaps Americas most noted author.

A NEW PORTRAIT

With his characterization of the Judge, Rogers is said to add a new and original figure to his all-American gallery, which includes such memorable portraits as David Harum, Mr. Skitch, Dr. Bull and the Connecticut Yankee.

This time he plays a wise old fellow who, following the Civil War, has settled down in his native Kentucky village with his Confederate cronies. The story on-ens in his court room on a lazy spring day in 1890.

VILLAGE DRAMA
One does not expect drama in a village, perhaps, but in Judge Priest, plenty of it transpires, according to advance accounts. The Judge's nephew, a novice lawyer and his sweetheart, a girl whose birth is shrouded in mystery, figure importantly in the touching and dramatic story. Always there is Judge Priest, who dilutes justice with the milk of human kindness and who helps to shoulder the troubles of the town.

John Ford directed Judge Priest, from a script prepared by Dudley Nichols and Lamar Trotti. Irvin Cobb himself was present in Hollywood during its filming.

RADIO REFORMS

We are glad to see the radio broadcasters waking up to some of the objectionable practices which thoughtful people have long recognized. One of the big radio chains has announced a new policy which, it seems to us, sets a standard which all broadcasters ought to maintain. These policies relate both to the character of programs intended for children and to the advertising features of commercial broadcasts with which most auditors are either annoyed or disgusted.

The Columbia Radio System is trying to do for radio what is being done for the movies, in cleaning up its programs intended for children by prohibiting the exaltation of criminals, the glorification of disrespect for authority and in all other ways prohibiting the broadcasting of programs which might have a bad effect upon the moral and ethical standards of the immature.

In its commercial programs the rule has been laid down that not more than ten per cent of the time on the air may be devoted to advertising talk. Surely six minutes out of an hour's program is time enough to impress upon the listeners the merits of somebody's toothpaste or motor oil. And even these abbreviated advertising talks are being more strictly censored than ever. False or unwarranted claims for any product are forbidden; no programs or advertising announcements which are unfair either to competitors or to the public are permitted. A strict rule has been laid down against appeals for funds over the air and also against all forms of lottery announcements.

All of those principles and regulations have long been the practice of all reputable newspapers. We have long thought that it was unfortunate that the newspapers did not take hold of and control radio broadcasting in the beginning. Radio has been running wild but it looks now as if, under the pressure of public opinion, it was beginning to catch up with the long established ethical standards of the press.

SECURITIES

Who is he?

Can I depend upon his word? Is he registered and licensed?

These are the questions that you should have answered to your complete satisfaction before buying stocks, bonds, oil leases, royalty or any other form of investment securities from a salesman. Particularly when the salesman is a stranger. That's the advice of Sec. of State Mann, administrator and chief enforcement officer of Texas' new Securities Act.

Designed to curb the fraudulent and crooked security dealer, agent and salesman to be registered with the State. Any citizen may determine for himself if the salesman is registered by writing for himself to the sec. of state. The record books are open to the public.

The State does not propose to guarantee or endorse any stock, bond or other security. However salesmen may be held strictly accountable for representations made in the sale of securities.

The important thing, according to Sec. Mann, is to BE SURE THE SALESMAN IS REGISTERED!

What is a security?

Under the new Texas law regulating the sale of securities, the term includes any form of stocks, bonds, mortgage certificates, any form of commercial paper, any certificate in or under a profit sharing or participation agreement, lease or royalty interest in an oil, gas or mining property. In addition there are many lesser known forms of securities.

The Texas Securities law which replaced the old Blue Sky law, on May 23, 1935, is broad in its definitions of what constitutes a security, according to Sec. Mann.

Before purchasing any form of security such as those named above, the buyer should determine, if the person doing the selling has registered with the Sec. of State. Emphasis is placed on the fact that in no case does the State guarantee or endorse any security.

But registration is not the extent of responsibility on the part of the seller. Under the law he may be held accountable for representations as to fact made in the sale of a security.

I own a piece of royalty near an oil field. I want to sell this interest, one man recently inquired of the Sec. of State. I understand that oil and gas leases and royalty interests are classified as Securities under Texas' new Securities Law. Will I have to register and get a license before I can sell this interest?

In answering this question the Sec. of State pointed out that isolated transactions are exempt under the terms of the law. But if a person is engaged in the business of buying and selling oil leases, royalty or other such interests, he must qualify as a dealer in some cases as an issuer of securities. The lease peddler must qualify.

The same principle applies to vendor's lien notes and other forms of commercial paper. However, if a person makes a practice of selling commercial paper, the transaction is not an isolated case and the person must qualify under the law. The simple rule is Single and individual transactions are exempt. Multiple transactions are not.

Washington, June 28.—The Constitution of the United States has not received so much attention in Washington as it is now getting, since the historic occasion when the Hon. Tim Campbell, one of the early Tammany Congressmen, propounded on the floor of the House the classic question:

"What's the Constitution between friends?"

From being a shadowy something in the background of the political picture, the Constitution has become the theme of almost every conversation. It promises to be the liveliest political issue that the voters of the country have had to wrangle about in forty years. Not since the Presidential election of 1896 turned, has any fundamental question stirred up such wide spread popular interest, as the question raised by the Supreme Court's decision invalidating the NRA.

Eyes On "Grass Rooters"

It is not stretching the fact to assert that a very considerable number of Senators and Representatives who have been willing and even eager to go along with the Administration are beginning to be seriously concerned over the outlook for the next election.

The promptness with which the "Grass Rooters" conference of Mid-Western Republicans seized upon the Constitutional issue and the apparent enthusiasm with which the action of that group has been received by the rank and file of the Republican party, has set the boys on Capitol Hill to wondering whether the Elephant was really as dead as they thought it was.

What they are seemingly hunting for now is ways of carrying out the basic idea of the National Government centralized in and administered from Washington, without running afoul again of the nine gentlemen of the United States Supreme Court.

There are good Constitutional lawyers in both parties and in both houses of Congress. For various reasons, chiefly concerned with their own political futures, most of these have kept their mouths shut. Now their colleagues are running to them for advice in the effort to find out what the Constitution does and does not permit them to do.

Supreme Court Record

Some of these Constitutional lawyers have been digging into the record and have put a pretty effectual stop to the early outbursts against the power of the Supreme Court.

The figures show that in the 146 years since the Constitution has been in effect the Supreme Court has passed upon 24,016 public laws passed by Congress, and has decided that only 59 of them were unconstitutional. In 27 of these cases the decision of the court was unanimous. There have been only 10 of the much criticized "five to four" decisions.

Some of the Constitutional sharks are getting a laugh by pointing out that 19 of the laws declared unconstitutional by the Supreme Court were enacted between 1920 and 1929, a period in which the Republican party was in complete control of Congress and the Executive. What is sauce for the goose, is pointed out, is equally good sauce for the gander.

Matter Of Constitution

As this is being written there appears to be no abandonment of the idea for a general policy of tightening Federal control over relations which have heretofore been left to the state to regulate. How much of this sort of thing can be done Constitutionally is the question.

There is talk of promoting interstate agreements which could be ratified by Congress; there is also talk of strengthening and extending the powers of the Federal Trade Commission, which has been functioning effectively for more than 20 years in settling trade disputes and enforcing fair business practices.

The question whether even the states have the power to regulate hours of labor and wages has come to light with the re-examination of Supreme Court decisions. Several cases are cited in which the Court held that no state had such power, and one in an act of Congress establishing minimum wages for women and children in the District of Columbia to be unconstitutional.

There are very few constitutional lawyers in or out of Congress who believe that the Wagner Labor Disputes Bill is constitutional, but under the pressure of the Labor Lobby it possibly will be passed.

Cabinet Changes Rumored

Some idea of confusion in Washington at this time is conveyed by the revival of gossip about changes in the administrative set-up. The latest rumor is that Postmaster General Farley is getting out in the fall and that Dan Roper will succeed him in the Post Office; that Frank C. Walker will follow Roper as Secretary of Commerce.

Rumors that Madame Secretary betting on Hopkins to win.

Them's Our Sentiments Spasmodically Miller

A man named Miller (a darn good name) writes a column in the Moore County News known as "Spasmodically." About half of his column the past week was devoted to a discussion of the CCC camps that are being located over the drought area of this section of the state.

HERE IT IS

Some Moore county farmers who have spent all their lives on farms still do not know much about farming.

They have the silly idea that when they need farm hands to work on their farms that they need them in the immediate vicinity of their farms, if not located right on them.

Now this is all proven another "Fool Farmer Idea" as the proper way to do it would be to locate them in Amarillo and go in there and bring them out every morning, take them back to Amarillo for dinner and bring them back for the afternoon's work and then return them to Amarillo in the evening.

Please don't anyone get the notion that this good idea originated with me, no far from it! This is the plan that it seems the big brains of the Civilian Conservation Camps have mapped out to cure the soil erosion ills of these wind blown plains of the Panhandle.

Surely the cattlemen along the breaks of the Canadian River do not want their grazing land all plowed up and planted every third row, so it must be that the plan is to transport these boys daily some 30 to 80 or more miles in different directions if it is really in the plans at all that they be used in soil erosion work.

Although Moore county is aware that it is known by the heads of the soil erosion service that Moore county is among the counties suffering the worst from wind erosion if not at the top of the list, we folks here have known that it would be a hopeless battle to try to get the camp located in the county because there are too many good sized cities with voting strength that were in the fight to pick these political plums so they could harvest the total lump sum that will be gleaned from the little $5 monthly that each of the CCC boys will be paid monthly for spending money to say nothing of the general supplies each camp will need.

Of course the fellows dishing out this patronage would be up against a pretty stiff proposition if they should try to explain to these big Chamber of Commerce birds that the idea of the CCC camps is to place them where the boys can help overcome erosion and fix the land so that it will be possible to plant and harvest crops from it instead of place the camps so that some city, even tho it has a large voting population, can harvest the boys payroll.

Yes, it would be pretty difficult to point out to the boys wielding the big stick, that by placing these boys where they can actually show results for their work would be in the long run prove far more beneficial to the central city, its Chamber of Commerce and all its people by bringing about a happy and prosperous surrounding trade territory full of people who are friendly to this central city for its unselfish attitude for the benefit of all, and these people would have far more money to spend each month than just the $5 allowance.

That by making a political football of these camps and defeating their purpose they are making them a laughing stock and a joke. If they are to be used this way the joke will be harmful to the camps themselves, the high-ups in the erosion service, and finally bounce back on the original perpetrators of what they thought was a profitable scheme, but turned out to be an expensive boomerang.

Perkins and Attorney General Cummings are about to resign are unverified. There are at least three men after the job of Secretary of War, from which, gossip has it, Mr. Dern will shortly retire. General Hugh Johnson is credited with cabinet aspirations. So is Joseph C. Kennedy, chairman of the securities exchange commission and Frank Murphy, Governor General of the Philippines.

In the meantime it can be set down as a fact that the Administration is having trouble finding good projects upon which to spend the President's four billion dollars Work Relief fund. It is rumored a personal feud is developing between Harold Ickes and Relief Administrator Harry Hopkins. Smart observers are betting on Hopkins to win.

New "Spring Tonic" for Motor Cars

YOU can't stop the seasons—but science has found a way to make them more enjoyable, particularly for motorists.

It all started through the research work of an obscure Roumanian, who was attempting to find a way to stop the kerosene lamps in the homes of his countrymen from smoking.

He found a way to dissolve from the oil some of its impurities and the germ took years ago of an obscure Roumanian, who was attempting to find a way to stop the kerosene lamps in the homes of his countrymen from smoking.

It was announced today that a new kind of summer Mobiloil made by this new process was now available to motorists.

Although the new refining process took years to perfect, it is almost automatic in operation, thanks to modern science and engineering. A gas turned into liquid under pressure of from 200 to 250 pounds per square inch plays a vital part in the process. This gas—known as propanol—a solvent which collects the valuable parts of the crude oil through a refining process. Mesdames

Business Is Steadier Re-ports Statistics Firm

The nerves of the country are getting a little steadier, and although there are difficulties ahead, there seems to be a disposition to face these difficulties with more calmness and a determination to get along with them. Business is always spotty at this season. Industrial production always drops off at this time, and this means smaller pay rolls as a whole. Standard Statistics Co. says the volume of production is now on the decline but that this is to be expected. It adds: Business is still in a high state of confusion as a result of the recent court decisions. Price cutting has broken out in several lines and concessions and lower prices are being demanded by numerous big consumers. The report points to a bigger scale than ever. Processes have been improved and labor-saving methods adopted to such an extent that the consuming public are going to be able to satisfy their wants without having to pay increased prices. Big wholesale buyers are holding off in the expectation that prices are going to be lower but no general break of price level has yet occurred. Price wars in special products are raging but these are mostly local. Merchants especially are anxious to hold the price level up, as they are afraid that if the price starts down there will be no bottom to it. If one big concern cuts prices, others have to follow unless they are willing to see sales drop off and go to their competitors. Many big business leaders have come out quite strongly in favor of continuing the NRA in some modified form so as to save the benefits which have been secured. Very few of them favor lower wages or longer hours. A survey of credit men connected with big stores shows that 57 per cent of the concerns would like to see codes continued but in some improved form. The concerns in the South showed the strongest sentiment in favor of this. Those in the East were not so favorable and those in the West were hostile to any such control of industry, wages and prices in the future.

They are not building any bridges or spending any other money—as they can see no profits. The railroads therefore are now very poor customers for steel. The auto makers have taken the place of the railroads and they are enjoying a boom. Auto sales are a third higher than the year before. The scrapping of the NRA control has added to the value of old cars. The person who buys a new car now can shop around and take the most favorable offer he can get. Under the codes this was unlawful.

Yes, business is already to go ahead, not only at the old pace but much faster. H. Buzzifer Lequette, one of the best known advertising geniuses of the U. S. A., speaking at a convention in Chicago, staked his reputation on the future. He said that the 125,000,000 people of the United States are literally starving and thirsting for products of all kind—not only the old kinds but new kinds of every sort. It is ridiculous, he declared, that we should think of this great nation as stopping still in its tracks and making no more progress. We are only just entering the Promised Land, he asserted. But he did say that people must show some pep. Emerson was a shrimp when he said that buyers would beat a path to your door if you made a mousetrap that was better than anybody else's trap. Mr. Lequette waxed eloquent as he concluded: "Products will not market themselves. They have to be SOLD. The products ought to be good to start with—but then they must be eternally and everlastingly pushed and pushed. Otherwise some other fellow, whose products are nowhere near so worth-while but which are sold with more logic and persuasion will take the place of your products." Mr. Lequette quoted Sam Slick, the Yankee clock salesman, whose knowledge of human nature and soft soap enabled him to sell clocks even to people who did not want them.

Various observers and commentators speak of the uncertainty that still lies ahead—but for the most part observers are optimistic. The financial authority of the Associated Press says: "Business appears to be embarking on uncharted seas of voluntary cooperation, with hopes of rich discovery." The U. S. Treasury now has nearly nine billion dollars in gold—which is the greatest stock of yellow metal that Uncle Sam has ever seen at one time. While this is not pleasing to other nations, it suits Uncle Sam from the ground up. He doesn't intend to let this gold be used for the purpose of money. Paper currency is better in every way. But it is a good thing to have the world know that we have plenty of gold in our vaults, to back up our paper—in case anybody should ask. France is now up against it on

GOVERNMENT BANK UNSUITED TO U. S.

Would Serve Politics Rather Than Business Needs, Says R. S. Hecht, Citing Previous Experiences.

QUOTES PRESIDENT JACKSON

Extent and Diversity of This Country Presents Different Situation From Europe and Makes Regional Banking Necessary.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—A refutation of arguments in favor of a government-owned central bank system for the United States is presented in a statement by R. S. Hecht, President of the American Bankers Association, on the basis of exhaustive studies of European central banks. He also points out the disastrous consequences of previous central bank experiments in America. "Our present regional Federal Reserve System under private ownership is infinitely better for this country than would be a government-owned and controlled central bank," Mr. Hecht says. "If history teaches us anything, it is that it is almost certain that a central bank so owned would be run to meet the varying exigencies of the government in power rather than to serve the commercial needs of the country."

Central banking has been tried twice in the United States, but was finally abolished because the credit control which the central banks exercised became objectionable and unpopular, he goes on to say.

What Andrew Jackson Said

"The continued existence of the Second Bank finally became a bitter political issue and President Jackson succeeded in abolishing it," Mr. Hecht says. "Permit me to quote from his farewell address: 'The immense capital and peculiar privileges bestowed upon it enabled it to exercise despotic sway over the other banks in every part of the country. From its superior strength it could seriously injure, if not destroy, the business of any of them which might incur its resentment. . . . If you had not conquered, the government would have passed from the hands of the many to the hands of the few; and this organized money power, from its secret conclave, would have dictated the choice of your highest officers. . . . The forms of your government might, for a time, have remained, but its living spirit would have departed from it.'"

When the Wilson Administration considered banking reform it carefully kept away from vesting central banking powers in a single institution and instead introduced the regional idea by creating twelve reserve banks located in different economic and geographical sections of the country. Mr. Hecht says, a plan that has worked exceedingly well because the separate banks are under the guidance of men chosen on account of their intimate acquaintance with the problems and needs of their respective territories. He adds:

"The great size and diversity of America tends to make a central bank undesirable. The central banks of Europe such as the Banks of England, France and Germany, cover areas not as large as some of our states. A central bank in the United States on the other hand would be called upon to administer the financial policies of an area larger than all of Europe, in which there are quite a number of central banks."

Subservient to Popular Demands

"Moreover, history has proven that any banking system entirely owned and dominated by the government usually demonstrates much greater ability in aiding expansion of credit than in putting on the brakes at the right time to prevent undue inflation by restraining and contracting credit. This is easy to understand because in times of depression everyone is urging the government to make money and credit easy and to encourage expansion."

"On the other hand, it always has been and always will be a difficult task for any government to call a halt in time of apparent prosperity because in the very nature of things the government would be very sensitive to public criticism and would hesitate to take any action which would tend to curtail business activity. It is such undue susceptibility to popular demands which makes government banking inherently weak."

"Our studies show that of all the central banks at present existing there are only four whose stock is owned by the government."

The American Bankers Association, Mr. Hecht says, is convinced that a central bank would not be in the interest of the public or the banks. Its position, he concludes, is "well understood by the President and the leaders in his Administration, for we have been absolutely frank with them in all of our discussions and have missed no opportunity for emphasizing that in our opinion no banking system will, in the long run, be sound if it is dominated entirely by the ever-changing political administrations. We should do all we can to keep our banking mechanism as far removed from partisan politics as possible."

Proven Value In the Soil Erosion Program

We are very proud to say that DEMPSTER No. 20 and No. 40 Drills have gone out already and done a nice job in the way of soil erosion prevention when the Government issued fuel to some of the farmers a short time ago for such work. In fact, when you got right down to brass tacks, it is the most economical and the most all around complete machine that the farmer could buy to go out and to do the work required by the Federal Government in this soil erosion program that they have had and on the program which we are quite confident will be along the same line.

We invite the prospective customer to ask any citizen who purchased Dempster Grain Drills in the last few years, if this is not the nearest ALL-PURPOSE machine that has ever been offered for sale in this section of the county.

SUMARIZING SOME OF THE WORK THAT YOU CAN DO WITH YOUR DEMPSTER

1. With proper attachments it is a tiller
2. It does the work of a lister.
3. Feed can be planted in wide rows and land worked in one operation.
4. It will operate as a cultivator for wide row feeds.
5. It will kill your winter grass and volunteer wheat and sow your wheat crop in one operation.
6. You can sow your wheat in wide rowed feed crop before you harvest the feed without damaging it.

We will have a car load of these machines in within a few days.

Should the occasion arise where your local dealer does not have the style and price range in USED cars that you want, and you decide to make a purchase out of town, we would like to figure with you.

Our used cars are reconditioned by expert mechanics, and carry the reputation of an Authorized Ford Dealer behind each transaction.
