Is Nearer Reality

AUSTIN, May 2 (AP)—Group hospitalization in Texas on a broad scale moved nearer reality today.

The senate last night approved, with one amendment, a house bill authorizing organization of non-profit corporations for group service. Senator W. C. Graves of Dallas said the corporations could provide first class service for as little as 50 cents a month per subscriber.

A provision which exempted the groups from taxation, was removed. House concurrence in the amendment was necessary before bill could go to the governor.

TENANT FARMER CAN MOVE NOW AND TAKE HIS GARDEN ALONG

DALLAS — The Farm Security Administration has developed portable farm assets—even gardens, hen coops and fences—to help tenant farmers fulfill FSA loan requirements.

C. M. Evans, regional FSA director, explains that such loans are made only to those farmers with at least one source of cash income besides cotton.

Owner-tenant cooperation often cannot provide the necessary improvements, so the FSA worked out the portable farm idea. Now the tenant who'd like to raise chickens, for instance, in order to be eligible for a loan need not be afraid of leaving his coop behind when he moves. The average cost of a portable home for 100 hens is less than $100. It can be dismantled and re-established with little trouble.

Rules Appropriation Bill Unconstitutional

AUSTIN, May 2 (AP)—Attorney General Gerald C. Mann ruled unconstitutional today a bill which would appropriate $1,000,000 from the state highway fund to construct a state office building.

The opinion had been requested by Rep. E. H. Thornton, Jr., chairman of the house appropriations committee.

The bill was held violative of the constitutional inhibition against borrowing or diverting money from any special fund in the treasury.

"Moneys now in the state highway fund are the unexpended proceeds of taxes levied and collected for the prescribed purpose of building and maintaining highways," the opinion said.

It added, however, the fund, having been created by statute, was not immune from legislative alteration, and the legislature might allocate future taxes to any valid public purpose.

Many government offices occupy rented quarters because public buildings have been outgrown. The number of stock sheep in the North Atlantic states dropped from a peak of 9,627,000 in 1927 to 879,000 in 1938.

Friends Rally To Support Of Man Wanted In Texas

SCHUYKILL KAVEN, Pa., May 2 (AP)—Friends and neighbors who know Robert Dreher as a good citizen and father rallied to his support today in a fight to prevent his return to a Texas prison from which he escaped 17 years ago.

Released from a Norristown, Pa., jail after serving 90 days for overloading his truck, the 40-year-old Dreher came home last night declaring it would "kill" him if he had to go back to Huntsville prison to complete a robbery sentence.

Residents of this little mining town, meanwhile, prepared to go to Harrisburg Thursday when a hearing will be held on the request of Governor W. Lee O'Daniel of Texas that Dreher be turned over to that state.

They hope their testimony as to the model life Dreher has been living since his escape from the Texas prison in 1923 will persuade Pennsylvania authorities not to send him back.

The law caught up with him when he was taken into custody for overloading his truck and a routine checkup with federal authorities disclosed he was a fugitive. He was turned loose yesterday upon expiration of his jail sentence because no extradition papers had arrived.

Rules Appropriation Bill Unconstitutional

AUSTIN, May 2 (AP)—Attorney General Gerald C. Mann ruled unconstitutional today a bill which would appropriate $1,000,000 from the state highway fund to construct a state office building.

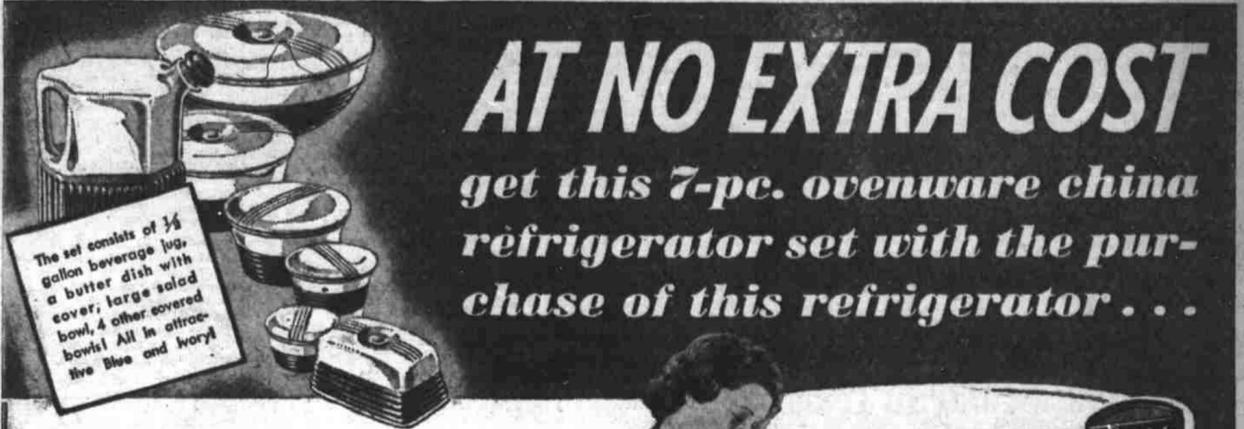

The opinion had been requested by Rep. E. H. Thornton, Jr., chairman of the house appropriations committee.

The bill was held violative of the constitutional inhibition against borrowing or diverting money from any special fund in the treasury.

"Moneys now in the state highway fund are the unexpended proceeds of taxes levied and collected for the prescribed purpose of building and maintaining highways," the opinion said.

It added, however, the fund, having been created by statute, was not immune from legislative alteration, and the legislature might allocate future taxes to any valid public purpose.

A local boy glad to see Jack Roper get his recent chance at the world's heavyweight boxing title at Los Angeles is Bob Stinnett, the former Californian, now working here. Bob, who did an excellent job of training Big Spring's last crop of Golden Gloves scrappers, claims, contrary to all jibes taken at the Hollywood prop boy, that the match was of championship calibre, supplied a fair test for the negro boy, was not merely an exhibition.

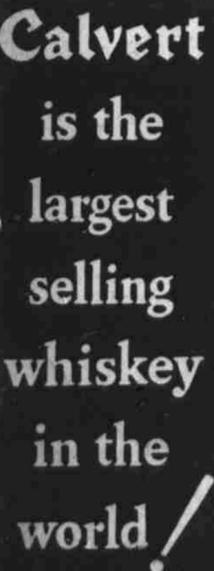

Bob is well qualified to have his say about the relative merits of the two boys since he met and defeated Roper decisively back in 1932. "The veteran had but one weapon with which to fight," Stinnett told us recently. "If he could have been able to tag Louis with that short left hand several times, the fight might have been just as short but would have gone the other way."

Stinnett had heard about the southpaw swing lopp before he crawled into the ring with Jack, won by knowing exactly what to do under the circumstances. He had been coached before the fray by a lad who had previously lost to Roper.

Since Roper has but one way to win his fights the average good boxer can beat him any time. He has come out on the short end of the rendered decisions many times but has won his share of the bouts simply by tossing the leather at the opportune time. But to have told the man or Stinnett or any one else six years ago that he would get his chance at the title would have been considered a joke.

Stinnett was far better qualified for the title shot. He won more fights, was younger (by six years) and was a far, far better boxer. But he didn't keep at the game consistently, finally became a sparring partner for Max Baer before quitting the game entirely.

Stinnett got his start in the game back in Galvestone, Texas, deserting a promising baseball career for the sport he loved the better. While in independent baseball, incidentally, Bob earned such a fine reputation that he had several scouts look him over. He deserted the game entirely, however, when the

Tysko Limits Barons To 7 Bingles

Locals Return Here Wednesday Night To Meet Clovis

ABILENE, May 2 (AP)—Bill Brown, back in uniform after a vacation of four days, was bested in a pitchers' duel by Johnny Tysko here Monday afternoon as the Big Spring Barons lost their third straight game to Fincher Withers' Apaches, 1-0.

Brown was never better but his mates failed to give him the required support and he went down. The Apaches tallied their only run in the third frame when Tysko reached first on Capps' error, Ray Schueeler singled and Benny Frankler followed with a one base blow.

The Big Springer gave up but six hits while the Barons were raking the offerings of Tysko for seven, including two each by Curdell Lloyd and Van Marshall. The visitors missed their best chance to score in the ninth when, with one out, Pat Stacey, singled, and the Clovis Pioneer, in a night game. They will be at home four days, meeting Amarillo in two games after the Clovis series before moving to Amarillo Sunday.

Capps, who had hit safely in six straight games, was finally stopped, going to bat four times without a lick.

The Barons close out their series with the Abilenans today and return home Wednesday to meet the Clovis Pioneer in a night game. They will be at home four days, meeting Amarillo in two games after the Clovis series before moving to Amarillo Sunday.

Manager Tony Rego of the Barons informed The Daily Herald Monday morning that a left handed outfielder had been procured from the New York Yankees and would arrive in Big Spring later in the week.

HOLLYWOOD TO DEDICATE NEW PARK TODAY

HOLLYWOOD, May 2 (AP)—Hollywood, which has something of a reputation for doing things in a big way, will dedicate its new baseball park today in ceremonies patterned along the lines of a premier for a film "gigantic."

The fact that the Seattle Rainiers and the Hollywood Stars of the Pacific Coast league will play a ball game is expected to be incidental.

For the management promises such motion picture luminaries as Robert Taylor, Bing Crosby, Al Jolson, Lupe Velez, June Collyer, Gary Cooper and others, and opening ceremonies which will present Gail Patrick as a pitcher, Martha Raye as a catcher and Jack Benny as a batter.

ly after the fight. Larry White, his manager, said he feared a bone had been injured in the fierce slug-ging. X-ray pictures were to be taken today.

Metz' Story Is One Of Man Who Came Back To Success In Face Of Odds

CHICAGO, May 2 (AP)—Handsome Dick Metz has brought home the bacon—$5,586 of it—and one of the greatest, most courageous comeback stories in the history of golf.

Three years ago the Millroad Farm club professional was in a hospital, an automobile accident in Florida presumably having spelled finish forever to his fairways career. Yet this winter season he was top money winner, capturing three rich events, and right now is a probable choice for the Ryder Cup squad which will oppose Great Britain's professional stars.

Forsan, Ackerly Gridders Clash

Six-Man Game To Begin 5 P. M. Wednesday

FORSAN, May 2—Brady Nix's Forsan high school Buffaloes will call a halt to their spring football drills by meeting the Ackerly Eagles in a spring football game here Wednesday afternoon at 5 o'clock.

The Bisons have been working out under Nix for the past month. The Ackerly team, coached by A. J. Baggett, played the standard game last year but decided to change to "six-man" this spring. Baggett brings a strong team to Forsan and the Buffs will be the decided underdogs in the fracas.

Nix had indicated he will start three lettermen of last year's squad along with Dennis Hughes, light-weight quarterback, Elroy Scuddry or Vard Cowley, half back, and E. L. Stewart, right end. The numeral wearers eligible to see action are Tommy McDonald, fullback, Garrett Tension, left end, and Floyd Thieme, center.

Others expected to get into the clash are James Craig, Earl McAlvin, Warren Qualls and James Gardner, backs; and Floyd Griffith, Robert Farbro, Paul White, Laurence Stanton and Harold Patterson, linemen.

Baggett boasts a lineup that includes Allen White, speedy back who led the Eagles to victories over Coahoma and the Big Spring yearlings last year.

Admission to the game will be 10 cents.

Net Champ In State Meet

By The Associated Press

Only one of last year's tennis champions returns for the state interscholastic league meet at Austin Friday and Saturday.

Jamie Ruth Deakard of Meadow is the lone titlist to be on hand, but it will be in the girls singles this time. Last year she was a member of the doubles championship team.

Tennis contestants at the state meet will be:

Boys singles—Hugh Stennis, Pampa; Charles Brownfield, Stamford; Bill Grubba, Dallas Tech; Billy Owens, Tyler; Glenn Hewitt, Lamar (Houston); John Hickman, Jefferson (San Antonio); Walter Driver, Austin (El Paso); Frank Whaley, Corpus Christi.

Girls singles—Ouida Laubhan and Mary Trenfield, Follett; Marian and Ruth Ryder, Baird; Alice Lou Miller and Ada Ruth King, Wichita Falls; Lamp and Murphy, Athens; Kathleen Prewitt and Ella Lee Neal, Jasper; Kathleen Bell and Betty Sue Mathis, Carrizo Springs; Ruth Berry and Velma Lee Mikala, Edna; Segulia and M. Segulia, Tornillo.

46 CARS ENTERED AT INDIANAPOLIS

INDIANAPOLIS, May 2 (AP)—Forty-six cars, thirteen more than will be permitted to start the race, are entered officially today for the Memorial Day 500-mile Indianapolis motor speedway race with the possibility other entry blanks still may be in the mail.

Entry lists closed yesterday. Some of the cars entered won't even get here if everything runs true to form and others will be eliminated in qualifying trials to reduce the starting field to the 33 allowed.

Four former winners of the Indianapolis classics are listed among the drivers who already have mounts. They are Floyd Roberts of Van Nuys, Calif., last year's victor; Louis Meyer of Huntington Park, Calif., winner in 1929, 1933 and 1936; Kelly Pettillo of Los Angeles, the 1935 winner, and Wilbur Shaw of Indianapolis, who won in 1937.

APPEARS HERE

Andy Valruppe, one of the country's leading bowlers, will stage two exhibitions at the Casadena Alleys here Friday, Floyd Bonnar, manager, has announced.

Among Valruppe's feats with the bowling ball include 42 perfect games, the world's record exhibition average of 378 for six games, an average of 253 for 75 games, a nine game series of 256, and a seven game match with an average of 360.

Bang-Tails In Final Derby Test Today

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 2 (AP)—The derby atmosphere was as pleasant as the mint juleps along Fourth street; the field was about completed for the 65th running of the Kentucky classic Saturday. And still, Herbert M. Woolf, owner of Technican, the "people's chere" from the West, wanted just a little something more today.

"Now," said the big clothing and movie theatre man from Kansas City, "if the rain-makers just decide to hold a convention here Saturday, we should have a pretty fair chance."

Woolf, who sent Lawrie out to win the $50,000 pot of gold a year ago, has come back this season with a very nice-race-horse in the form of Inso, which sired the 1935 conqueror. He figures his hope is the best horse in the field of a dozen or so expected to go to the post, but, with typical business acumen, he would like to be sure of it. And, playing them close to the vest, he believes that weather, lots of it—and plenty damp—will turn the trick against the only one he fears, William Woodward's Johnstown.

Technican, W. E. Boeing's Porter's Mile and seven other derby eligibles get their final competitive "prep" chance today in the second running of the derby by trial. The outcome of this mile gallop figures to cut all but the top two or three finishers from Saturday's starting field.

Woolf expressed his hope for rain "insurance" today as racing lovers turned out to watch the arrival of Johnstown, Joe W. Brown's T. M. Dorsett and the Earle Sande-trained Heather Broom, which worked the full mile and a quarter in 2:06 at Keeneland yesterday.

With all contending eligibles on hand, word was received today that Buddy Haas will be aboard T. M. Dorsett Saturday, but even Buddy had a lot of respect for Johnstown. "That big fellow," Haas told the boys, "is the fastest thing I've seen in a long, long time, and anybody who thinks he can't run a mile and a quarter and like it, is crazy."

The Henderson Oilers kept their loop lead by smashing 17 hits off three Marshall twirlers for a 4-0 victory.

Two unearned runs gave the Brookview Cannibals a 2 to 1 win over Palestine.

Kilgore bobbles helped Texarkana to a 5 to 2 victory.

The track and field events at East Side conducted over a two-day period, Friday and Saturday, consisted of approximately the same events as the A. B. C. program with the addition of bar chinning. This meet drew about 30 participants.

The softball diamond at the city park has been put in readiness for the Major City opening tonight. Collin's Drug Co. meets Anderson's Music Co. in the opener at 7:45, and Lone Star Chevrolet will play McGeehee Super Service at 9:15. This latter game, scheduled to be played Thursday night, has been moved up to allow certain players to fill other engagements already made.

Leaders in the Senior Recreation softball league won their games easily yesterday afternoon. The Mexican Tigers defeated A. B. C. on the latters' diamond, 28 to 6, while the Roosters won from South Side on the South Side field, 14 to 5.

The Japanese carpenter, in planning a board, pulls the instrument toward him instead of pushing it away from him.

Committee To Form League Is Named

Brown Leads Discussions On Proper Functions

Advancing their plans toward a city league was the major accomplishment at the weekly meeting of the Big Spring Tennis association Monday evening at the city hall as ten members paid their entry fees into the organization.

The association, which last week named to the presidency Harold Harvey and elevated Avery Falkner to the post of secretary-treasurer, also elected H. F. Malone vice-president in charge of courts, Harry Jordan vice-president in charge of tournaments and Mrs. Alvin Hamm vice-president in charge of leagues.

The officers will serve as a committee in setting up the machinery for the city league.

Harvey introduced C. D. Brown, past president of the Ft. Worth Tennis association, who led discussions on the proper functions of such an organization.

Other members in attendance were Dorman Kinard, Jack Penrose, Alvin Hamm and Hank Hart. Guests were Lawrence Robinson, Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Harrison, Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Campbell, Good Graves, Sam Atkins and C. L. Hery.

JAX BEATEN BY TYLER, 9 TO 6

By The Associated Press

Tyler fans got full value and then some for the cash they paid last night to see the Trojans battle the Jacksonville Jax in an East Texas league game.

They were treated to an uncheduled game of fistcuffs between their manager, Bobby Goff, and second baseman O'Brien of the Jax. That must have set the Trojans up, because they scored eight times in the seventh inning—just after the fist encounter—and defeated the Jax 9 to 6.

The Henderson Oilers kept their loop lead by smashing 17 hits off three Marshall twirlers for a 4-0 victory.

Two unearned runs gave the Brookview Cannibals a 2 to 1 win over Palestine.

Bees Drub Giants To Take NL Lead

Stengel Counts On Veterans To Produce

By BILL BONI

Associated Press Staff

If you'll take a quick look at the National league standings today, you'll find them headed by the Boston Bees. You are urged to look quickly merely because, this early in the race, one or two games can have such a far-reaching effect on the lineup. No disrespect is intended either for the Bees or their ability to survive in this rarefied atmosphere.

There's little percentage in being disrespectful toward the Bees at their present rate of locomotion. Bill Terry's New York Giants "wasn't that the strongest club I've ever had"—tried it, and where did it get them? Right into the doghouse—or, to be specific, from sixth place into seventh.

From four right-handers, three of them 23 years old and the other a mere boy of 25, Casey Stengel has coaxed the loop's best pitching. From an infield that has a 1938 outfielder at third base and a rookie up from Kansas City at shortstop, he has got air-tight fielding and 16 double plays in 11 games. From an outfield that features Al Simmons, 35-year-old fugitive from the American league, and Johnny Cooney, a 37-year-old ball hawk, he has drawn just enough speed and batting punch to produce four straight victories on an average total of nine hits per game.

They did it again yesterday, with Bill Poedel making his first start in a winning role and Tony Cuccinello coming up with a three-run homer that clinched the 7-2 defeat of the Giants. Poedel retired 18 men in order, had a no-hitter until two were out in the seventh, and wasn't scored on until the ninth.

This performance by Poedel and the Bees stood out on a forethought, but important big league program. In the other two games the Pirates snapped their eight-game losing streak with a 2-1 triumph over the Reds, and the Dodgers tied for fourth place by edging out the Phillies, 12-12, in a typical Ebbets field scramble.

Rain washed out the Indians-Tigers duel, only one scheduled for the American league.

Two unearned runs gave the Brookview Cannibals a 2 to 1 win over Palestine.

Kilgore bobbles helped Texarkana to a 5 to 2 victory.

Thugs Wanted By FBI Taken By Rookie

WHEELING, W. Va., May 2 (AP) — A 23-year-old rookie patrolman who has been on the police force as an extra man for three months received full credit from Police Chief Alonzo Hixenbaugh today for capture of three men and a blonde woman FBI agents said were wanted for 100 separate crimes.

On his way home from work, Officer Elmer Ziehr yesterday recognized the quartet's automobile as the one used in a $100 filling station holdup at Washington, Pa. He nabbed the driver then led a raid on a hotel room where the other three were apprehended. A U. S. navy machine gun was found in the room.

Police Captain Albert Custer said the woman, whom he identified as Dolores Castle, 28, alias Billy Love of Tulsa, Okla., grabbed at Ziehr's pistol when seized and declared "if I could have got hold of that gun, there would have been a couple of dead country cops around here."

Custer said the others were William Montgomery, 40, alias John W. Fox of Pittsburgh; Dave Rogers, 30, alias James Borne, of Detroit; and Eugene Booth, 21, alias James Mulane, of Bloomfield, N. J.

A U. S. commissioner held the four under bonds of $50,000 each after FBI agents said they were wanted for a series of crimes that included 11 bank and post office robberies in Texas and Missouri. In Huntington, W. Va., Walter McLaughlin, Federal Bureau of Investigation agent, said, the four originally were arrested in El Paso, Texas, Jan. 13, 1936, and admitted transferring stolen cars from Amarillo to El Paso and from San Antonio to Oklahoma City. They were removed to Kansas City where they were indicted for the Avilla, Mo., bank burglary, then taken to Neosho, Mo., whence they escaped April 26.

Radio Poll Shows Texans Oppose War

FORT WORTH, May 2 (AP) — Most Texans will fight if invasion of the United States is threatened, but they don't want war, Elliott Roosevelt said his radio poll revealed.

The president's son reported on his semi-weekly broadcast last night: "The vast majority of opinions were that actual invasion of the United States was the only prerequisite the government should consider before declaration of war against a foreign power. A minority said that we should go to keep the whole of the western hemisphere inviolate."

LET'S KEEP ALIVE FREEDOM OF SPEECH

We are told by press dispatches that loud laughter greeted William Kuntz, public relations director of the German-American Bund, Sunday when he told a thousand members of his unit opening a camp at New Jersey that "we all know about the peace move of our friend Roosevelt."

Then followed this astonishing tirade: "It is an insult to the men (Hitler and Mussolini) to whom it was sent. And you know the answer he got. It was sent to the greatest talker and thinker that Europe has ever produced (Hitler). If he (Roosevelt) has any character left, he had better look for the first hole and crawl into it."

On the face of it, this is a bit of biting-the-hand that feeds you, a fine example of hysteria that has pervaded the states from across the ocean. It is, suffice it, contrary to our way of evaluation and places a new definition of "insult" upon those who would serve humanity by keeping peace.

But deeper than that, it is a glorious example of freedom that only we in the United States can and do enjoy. Where else but in this nation could a man openly promoting a unit opposed to the principles and concepts of the country in which he lives, stand up and make such an assertion without fear of the incarceration in a concentration camp?

It is a remarkable tribute to the United States that a man may say what he thinks or likes, even though we of a more patriotic turn may hold his utterance to smack of ingratitude and border on treason.

Sigred Arne, Associated Press writer, remarks that at a recent hearing of the house military affairs committee Kurt Keel, Berlin staff correspondent, was accorded the privilege of sitting in on the committee's session and reporting direct to his country his unensored version of the meeting.

Where else but in the United States could this happen? Picture U. S. correspondents sitting in on similar meetings in totalitarian states. Or, better than that, try to picture them getting their dispatches out of these states without government censors boring for unfavorable passages.

Certainly this is one of the big blessings of a democracy, one that the dictators have failed to supply; and for a very good reason, too. The plain, unvarnished, truth is that they simply cannot survive the light of free discussion and its ultimate result—truth.

Out of the abuses of an ungrateful "American" should come a lesson to us. Regardless of how some misuse it, let us eternally keep alive the ideal of free speech in the United States. If we do, even though a legion of bundsmen lift their voices, we can go far toward preserving the democracy which under God—is the right way for free souls to dwell.

Bassett Starts His Motor With A Camels' Hair

By The AP Feature Service
Mel Bassett, lumber mill electrician at Kelso, Washington, used 191 hours of his spare time to build what he calls the world's smallest motor. It cost one cent, weighs .01195 gram, makes 3,500 revolutions a minute, and develops 54 ten-billionths of a horsepower. It's about the size of a pin-head and Bassett uses a single camel's hair to start it. He says building small motors is a swell cure for nervousness.

LOP-SIDED GULF STREAM MAY BENEFIT THE WEATHER MAN

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
 Associated Press Science Editor
WOODS HOLE, Mass.—The Gulf Stream is tipping sideways. Its surface is lower, that is, on one side than on the other. The slope is downward from the direction of Bermuda toward the coast of the United States. This situation is nothing new, but scientists have only recently discovered it. An odd scientific fact, it is to be put immediately to rest.

whether the volume of the Gulf Stream changes much. That is useful, because, if the stream varies, then it affects weather and the variations can be used for long-range prediction. A Norwegian oceanographer, Bjerknes, figured that an ocean river, like the Gulf Stream, in the northern hemisphere, would, when the current increased in strength, fall on its left side and rise on the right. Tide gauges on the Atlantic seaboard and at Bermuda, says C. O. D.

HITLER'S SPEECH

The last half hour of Chancellor Hitler's speech, in which he replied to the president, was of much less importance than the middle portion, in which he indicated his response to the new policy of Mr. Chamberlain. The response is contained in the passages where the chancellor explained the destruction of Czechoslovakia, revealed his demands on Poland, and declared that the German-Polish treaty of non-aggression is no longer in effect.

The questions raised by the president belong to the realm of debate and were answered by words. But the situation created by the British organization of a European coalition belongs to the realm of action, and Hitler made it as clear as he ever does, in addresses of this sort, that he is preparing to act.

He explained that the first stage of his action against Czechoslovakia was based on the right of the Sudeten Germans to union with the Germans of the Reich. This was his justification of the dismemberment agreed to at Munich in September. The second stage of his action was based, he then explained, on the fact that Czechoslovakia was an armed ally of Germany's potential enemies. This was his justification for the destruction of the Czech state. He then went on to say that he had recently made demands on Poland for the return of a corridor across the Polish Corridor to connect East Prussia with the rest of Germany.

These demands are intrinsically more just than the demand of last year for the annexation of the Sudeten areas of Bohemia and Moravia. Danzig is and always has been a German city; the taking of Danzig is generally recognized by impartial students as one of the clear injustices of the Treaty of Versailles. Moreover, the Polish Corridor, though desirable in order to facilitate Poland's access to salt water, cuts off one part of Germany from the rest. Hitler's demand for a road across the Corridor from Germany into East Prussia has, therefore, a strong moral foundation. As a matter of fact, all this was recognized in the president's message, where Danzig, which is a free city under the League of Nations, was conspicuously omitted from the list of 11 states for which Mr. Roosevelt asked pledges.

Thus, as respects Poland, the chancellor has now placed himself in an even stronger position than that which he took last year toward the Czechs. He has made demands which are intrinsically more just and more negotiable than his demands on the Czechs. But he has made his reasonable demands on the Poles immediately following his destruction of the Czech national state, and the Poles, fearing that if they yield anything as did the Czechs when they accepted the Runemtan mission, they will be totally destroyed, as were the Czechs, have mobilized and have made a military alliance with Great Britain and France. Thus they have given Hitler the same reason for their own annihilation as a national state which he invoked for the annihilation of the Czech national state. That is to say, they have joined a military alliance.

The most significant passage in Hitler's address came when, after depicting what had happened to the Czechs because they had mobilized and had made a military alliance, he offered to negotiate a new treaty of guarantee with Poland. That offer was in substance a demand not only for Danzig and the highway across the Corridor but for an abandonment of the Franco-British alliance and its replacement by a kind of German alliance.

This, then, would seem to forecast the next act in the European crisis. It is to consist, we may surmise, of a campaign to break up Mr. Chamberlain's alliances by pushing Poland into the system of the axis. Whether this means war or no war, it is impossible to say. The answer would seem to depend on whether the Poles can find a basis for negotiating about Danzig and the Corridor without rendering themselves defenseless by abandoning their alliances, and, as a corollary, on whether Hitler's demands are only for Danzig and the Corridor, or whether they now include

TWO AGAINST LOVE

by Frances Hanna
 Chapter Four
 Two Different Broods
 Talbot's sister Gretchen leaned over the wheel, spoke anxiously. "I'm so sorry, Miss Russell. I told Tally he should have written you about us coming. We'll try not to be any bother."

Jocelyn observed that the girl was small and frail, pretty in a sort of helpless, feminine way; yet she also noted that her hair was unbecomingly crimped with a gas iron, and that her dress was obviously home-made. Gretchen read the impersonal disapproval in Jocelyn's face and was embarrassed and self-conscious as she compared her clothes and hair to the other girls. An unwanted sense of inferiority began to rankle her.

"I'm Betsy's mother," she offered, sure that this was one accomplishment the other girl could not be superior about. "She's five years old. My . . . my husband, Andre Landau, was killed in an airplane crash three years ago."

"How dreadful," Jocelyn murmured, glancing at Betsy.
 "Can I come to your party?" Betsy asked, her round eyes imploring.

"Don't pay a mite of attention to her," Mrs. Mack beamed. "This long trip has her as fitful as the cat. What she needs is a bath and some sleep. Don't you worry none about us, Miss Russell. We'll manage."

"Don't worry sleep!" Betsy wailed, screwing up her face. "Want ice cream. Want to go to the party!"
 "Mother, can't you keep her quiet?" Gretchen complained.

Tally ordered: "Quiet, Betsy! I'll get you some ice cream after while. Shut the car door, Mamma, while I back it up."
 "But where's Gramp?" Gretchen cried. "He was here a minute ago and now he's gone!"

A wicked grin turned up one corner of Tally's mouth. "Oh, he's wandered off somewhere. Probably to have a reunion with the ocean. He'll find us all right." He slid behind the wheel and started the car. "See you later, Miss Russell."
 Jocelyn swallowed hard. "You and your family will have dinner with us, of course. We dine at seven."

As Tally nobly backed the car and trailer toward the rear of the mansion Jocelyn discovered that she'd had bitten her lower lip. This young Mack person evidently thought himself her equal just because her sentimental grandmother had left his family half of this estate. Oh, why had her grandmother done such a thing? Hadn't she known that no house is large enough for two families? And especially two different kinds and breeds of families! The disaster the Russells had so long anticipated, and finally decided would not occur, had at last descended with a vengeance.

Walking across the clipped green of the lawn Jocelyn decided that Tally was an arrogant, insolent farmer who certainly did not know his place. Of course he was rather good-looking in a brawny way, if one went in for stalwart be-men with cleft chins and eagles' beaks. Well, she'd have to tell her guests, she decided grimly. She only hoped she could relate the story amusingly.

Yet, upon reaching the nearest table she perceived there would be no relating necessary, for Tally Mack was the center of an amused group who listened to his shrill, cackling voice with avid ears. Someone had put a glass into his hand; another had set a platter of hors d'oeuvres within reach; and between eating and drinking he appeared to be having the time of his life. Spying Jocelyn, he called out:

"There, folks, what was I tellin' you? She's the spittin' image of her Grandmama Josie! I'll bet she's got a red-headed temper, too! Tella a man black as white and makes him say 'tis, so's to get along with her! Come a mite near, Josie, I want a real good look at you."

Jocelyn, crimson with displeasure, approached. "Lordamighty!" he said softly. "She's even got that there widow's peak in the middle of her forehead just like her grandmama. Makes me think o' the dissolution of the Anglo-Polish alliance."

It is obvious that Hitler is not interested in a general world settlement such as the president has had in mind, and that he is preoccupied with the immediate problem of breaking up the coalition which Great Britain has organized. The vital point of that coalition in its present form is Poland, and the Polish question is, therefore, the central issue in Europe at this moment.

Wheat Prices In Sharp Increase

CHICAGO, May 2 (AP)—The value of the American farmer's wheat today was 10 per cent higher than a week ago, the sharpest rise in the grain market in almost a year.

The sudden upturn, coming opportunely a few weeks prior to the start of 1939 harvesting, answered grain traders' prayers for a solution to the knotty problem of disposing of millions of bushels of wheat stored under government loans.

Within a week blackboard quotations on the Chicago board of trade have been chalked up seven cents to the highest level since early last summer, when the market was on its way down from the nine-year top established in 1927.

Although the price bulge has been at the expense of producers whose gain may have deteriorated because of dry weather, it has put values 7 to 15 cents above the five-year lows reached earlier in the season.

The rise in wheat prices has accompanied a material increase in commercial marketings. Wheat which has been under government loans is being redeemed by farmers, traders said, and is going into trade channels. The government lent $47,225,255 on 51,843,224 bushels of wheat at an average price of about 60 cents per bushel to the farmer. Yesterday cash wheat here was quoted at 79 1-2 cents for No. 2 hard, or 2 1-2 over the Chicago loan basis. The September wheat price of 78 cents is about a cent higher than the quotation for the corresponding delivery last July when the loan basis was announced.

Indicative of how much the revival in wheat pit activity has meant to traders and merchants, the turnover in grain futures here last week totaled 129,838,000 bushels, practically double that of the previous week.

World rayon production increased from 33,000,000 pounds in 1920 to 1,900,000,000 pounds (equivalent roughly to 4,500,000 bales of cotton) in 1938.

The hospital, first of its kind in the Holy Land, soon will be dedicated atop Jerusalem's Mt. Scopus by organizations of American Jewish women and physicians. Most of the money for construction came from the United States.

ROLLING ALONG WITH OLD MAN RIVER his 350-foot packet boat, "Golden Eagle," is shown as she chugged down the Mississippi at 16 knots (15 1/2 miles) per hour in a series of speed tests. In a run from St. Louis to Cape Girardeau, Mo., the boat made more than 44 runs at 16 knots. She was built by the "Della King" and "Della Queen" which operate in California.

NATURALIZED at 91 in Chicago was James Guigley, Civil War veteran. He had been waiting for 70 years before obtaining his papers.

Wyandotte county Kansas' officers, called into the search, first were inclined to accept a suicide theory. They said prints in dust on the bridge railing indicated a man had placed both his hands and a heel there, then jumped.

An acquaintance whose name was not divulged reported he saw Schneider driving in the south residential district—miles from the bridge—at 11 a. m. Schneider's car was parked on the bridge at 9 a. m. witnesses said. His floating hat was discovered at 10 a. m. Officers were called at 11:30 a. m.

Robert Duncan, president of a Kansas City, Kas., lumber company, reported he saw a man about 5 feet, 6 inches tall standing beside the car parked on the span about 10:10 a. m. Schneider is 5 feet, 11.

College Entrance Exams Offered To Rural Schools Again After being discontinued for a year, college entrance examinations will be offered to students of rural schools again this spring.

Dates for the examinations were set for May 17-19, and any student planning to take the examinations were urged to make their wishes known to the county superintendent's office as soon as possible.

Arab Phillips at Moore will be among those who will offer examinations. The fees this year are reduced, with each four examinations costing only 50 cents. It is possible, therefore, for a student to take examinations on 16 subjects for $2.

FIGHTING BREAKS OUT AT SCENE OF SEAMEN'S STRIKE

EVERETT, Mass., May 2 (AP)—Serious rioting which caused Police Chief George O. Kenney to request all cities and towns in the state to send men and equipment immediately, broke out this afternoon in the week-old seamen's strike.

The request for aid came directly after 25 men had been arrested and Kenney had dictated another request to Boston police for aid. The first outbreak, Kenney reported, occurred near strike headquarters during which a truck was stoned.

Trade extension committee of the chamber of commerce was to hold a meeting Tuesday afternoon to complete arrangements for the next good will dinner to be held at Center Point on the evening of May 10.

The personnel of committees and staff of presiding officers were to be revised at the session inasmuch as some of those previously named will be out of town at the time the dinner is held.

Following the meeting, a campaign will be staged to secure registration for the dinner affair. The last dinner held at Knott on April 23 drew 250 men from Big Spring and the Knott community.

'KINGS OF KINGS' STILL PRAYS FOR KINGDOM BATH, Engi 4, May 2 (AP)—A frail, little black man fasted and prayed today that the African empire he once ruled as "King of Kings" be restored him.

It was the third anniversary of the flight from Adin Ababa of the conquering lion of the tribe of Judah, Haile Selassie I, emperor of Ethiopia.

After Italian military might crushed his poorly-equipped warriors, the one proud "Black Napoleon" came to England and began a diplomatic campaign to win back his kingdom through the League of Nations. This hope faded a year ago when the League Council freed its members to recognize the Italian conquest.

Needs Only Signature AUSTIN, May 2 (AP)—Vacancy trials will be held in counties where the land is located if Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel signs a bill finally passed today.

The assets, with a debit or overdraft, completed legislative action on a house approved measure.

Bankhead Would Adjourn June 15

WASHINGTON, May 2 (AP)—Senator Bankhead (D-Ala.) proposed today that congress set June 15 as its adjournment deadline.

He submitted a resolution to make meetings of the house and senate on that date the last of the session.

The resolution would empower tax and foreign affairs committees of both houses to continue hearings during the congressional recess on tax, social security and neutrality legislation.

Bankhead told the Senate he was not attempting to usurp the power of the congressional leadership or to criticize their activities.

"But why should we stay here until the late summer?" he asked. "If we do merely will be waiting for the committees to finish their work."

Receives Plaque For Farm Service

DALLAS, May 2 (AP)—For his "distinguished service to Texas agriculture," Victor H. Schoeffel-mayer, agricultural editor of the Dallas News, received a plaque from the Dallas County Agricultural club last night.

Joe E. Cooper, president, presented the club's first annual award to Schoeffel-mayer at a testimonial banquet.

Several state agricultural leaders joined the club in praising the editor.

SEEKS TO RENEW NEGOTIATIONS

ST. LOUIS, May 2 (AP)—Representatives of the CIO in Washington attempted today to bring about resumption of negotiations between the federal barge lines and the general council of riverworkers, which is conducting a strike of 3,500 boatmen and dock workers.

Felix Siren, chairman of the council, said the efforts were being made by Lee Pressman, general counsel of the CIO, and Ralph Emerson, legislative representative of the CIO maritime unions.

The general council of riverworkers represents both the CIO inland boatmen's union and the AFL international longshoremen's association.

The strike, called last week after the barge lines had rejected union demands for higher wages and a closed shop, has tied up the company's operations on the Mississippi and its tributaries.

DETERMINES CENTER

PASADENA, Calif., May 2 (AP)—The California Institute of Technology seismological laboratory determined today that the severe earthquake recorded at many points in the United States this morning centered in the Gulf of Lower California.

The institute recorded the quake starting at 7:19:23 a. m. (CST). It fixed the distance as 200 miles south of Yuma, Ariz.

The first bicycle, with a rotary crank was built in 1868 by Pierre Michon, who rode the machine from Annonin, Conn., to New Haven.

Dusty Adams' Program Of Western Songs Proving Popular Over KBST

Dusty Adams, with his songs of the West, will be presented from the KBST studios every weekday afternoon at 4:45 o'clock and on Saturday of this week at 5:15 p. m.

Judging from the many letters and cards that Dusty has received during the past week, it seems the radio audience of KBST holds this congenial gentleman in high regard. By writing to Dusty Adams in care of KBST, you may hear him play and sing your favorites. The chamber of commerce program, heard in the past from 5 to 5:30 every Thursday afternoon, will be aired from 5:15 to 5:45 effective this Thursday. A long run production of KBST, the chamber of commerce program of variety entertainment is under the direction of Jimmie Green and Edith Gay.

Jimmy Scribner, creator of "The Johnson Family," heard over KBST at 3:15 p. m. every weekday, is busier than all 22 characters he impersonates five times weekly over the Mutual network. The grand opening of his barbecue bistro, dedicated to world's fair patronage and devotedly titled "Chicazola" is Sunday, May 7.

Tyrone Power's life story will be dramatized over the Mutual network on Sunday, May 14, from 4 to 4:30 p. m. on Josef Cherniavsky's "My Lucky Break" program. Tyrone's cousin, Bill Martin, will play the role of the screen idol.

Radio Harris quizzes Laurence States.

Olivier, star of "Wuthering Heights" when the English thespian pays a visit to the Mutual network on Thursday, May 4, from 5:30 to 5:45 p. m.

The Florida law prohibiting women from marrying their son-in-laws, the Kansas statute against exhibiting "wild men" in circuses, the Iowa ordinance that bans fishing from the back of an animal will be dramatized on the Mutual network's series "There's a Law Against It" on Wednesday, May 3, from 8 to 8:30 p. m.

VETERAN LABOR LAWYER DIES

NEW YORK, May 2 (AP)—Frank P. Walsh, 75, chairman of the New York state power authority and widely known labor lawyer, collapsed and died from a heart attack just outside the supreme court building today.

Previous to his appointment to the power authority, in May, 1931, Walsh had served as a member of the New York commission on revision of public utility laws under appointment of Franklin D. Roosevelt, then governor.

Captain John Smith, who founded the colony of Virginia at Jamestown in 1607 is believed to have introduced coffee in the United States.

Louis Lochner Honored With Pulitzer Prize

NEW YORK, May 2 (AP)—The Pulitzer award for distinguished service as a foreign correspondent went to Louis P. Lochner, chief of the Associated Press Berlin bureau, on a day crowded with swift-moving events of Germany's May Day.

Two speeches by Adolph Hitler and other speeches by Field Marshal Goering and propaganda minister Goebbels were part of his schedule on the day he received the citation.

"I regard the prize as a solemn obligation always to interpret the news, and especially the German situation, to the American public impartially and fairly," Lochner said last night in a broadcast by Pulitzer prize winners.

Lochner, dean of AP European correspondents, has been chief of the Berlin bureau for eleven years. Few men have written more foreign news or more front page news than he in recent years.

Lochner is 52 years old. He was secretary of Henry Ford's peace ship which sailed for Europe Dec. 4, 1915, for an attempt to end the world war.

Lochner's extremely wide acquaintance with Germans as an AP reporter for years before Hitler came to power has kept all doors open to him. He knew Germans of all ranks from the Kaiser down, many of these friends became Nazis. Lochner today has retained the confidence of people who have changed politically and socially and he can check a story through well-informed persons of different views.

Few foreigners gain the perfect command of another language which Lochner has in German. He speaks readily in public and Germans have said he can make a better talk in German than most of them because, as a foreigner, he is meticulous in his care to speak correctly.

Given Lavish Praise

AUSTIN, May 2 (AP)—The Cowboy band of Hardin-Simmons university, Abilene, received lavish official praise today "from the house of representatives."

The house unanimously adopted a resolution by Rep. J. Bryan Brabury of Abilene congratulating those in charge of the Texas press trip to the east this month for selecting the Hardin-Simmons band to go along.

The resolution called the unit "the most colorful band in America" and said it would bring "much publicity, advertising and favorable comment to Texas."

GAME IS CANCELLED

The baseball exhibition between the Mineola Black Panthers and a local colored team, scheduled to be played in Baron park today, was cancelled when it was learned that the Mineola team could not arrive in time for the game. A car bearing some of the Mineola players was wrecked near Odessa.

Unique Sale Is Underway

Taking charge in a well planned effort to "show the boss up," J. C. Penney company workers today announced their greatest bargain festival of the year in a sale which will last the remainder of this week and will be known as "Employees Days." The sale is the result of a "get together" by correspondence of employees of all Penney stores throughout the nation, one of the most unique events of its kind in the history of the Penney system in that all stores are holding the sale simultaneously.

"They've practically put me out of the picture here at the store," C. W. Norman, manager, remarked this morning in referring to the work of his employees. "Every department head has bought and marked merchandise to their liking and even this early in the week, their event appears to be way out in front of any previous Penney sale."

Employees of the Big Spring store and their departments include Vernon Sellers, assistant manager (who works in whatever department the customer might stop) handles the store's advertising, card writing and assists at window trimming; Mrs. Maud Jackson, women's accessories; Mrs. W. G. McDonald, hosiery department; J. R. Ledbetter, men's department; Miss Jettie

TESTIMONY IN MORALS CASE IS HEARD

MIAMI, Fla., May 2 (AP)—John Howard Dingwall is to take the witness stand today to defend himself against a federal charge he brought five girl magazine subscription solicitors from New York state to Florida for immoral purposes.

The government concluded its case yesterday after calling witnesses under pseudonyms to testify against him.

Lloyd C. Hooks, assistant U. S. attorney, assigned fictitious names, explaining they were to protect witnesses from "derogatory publicity."

Dingwall, the girls and a sixth woman, Miss Caroline Carter, made the tour to Florida in a trailer, with Miss Carter the chaperon. All gave addresses in New York or nearby states. A direct verdict cleared Miss Carter of a charge of conspiring to violate the Mann act.

Under names of "Maty Hampton," "Gertrude Roberts," "Lucille Phillips" and "Francis Jennings," witnesses told of a progress of the tour. The testimony included tales of orgies, nude bathing parties and drinking bouts.

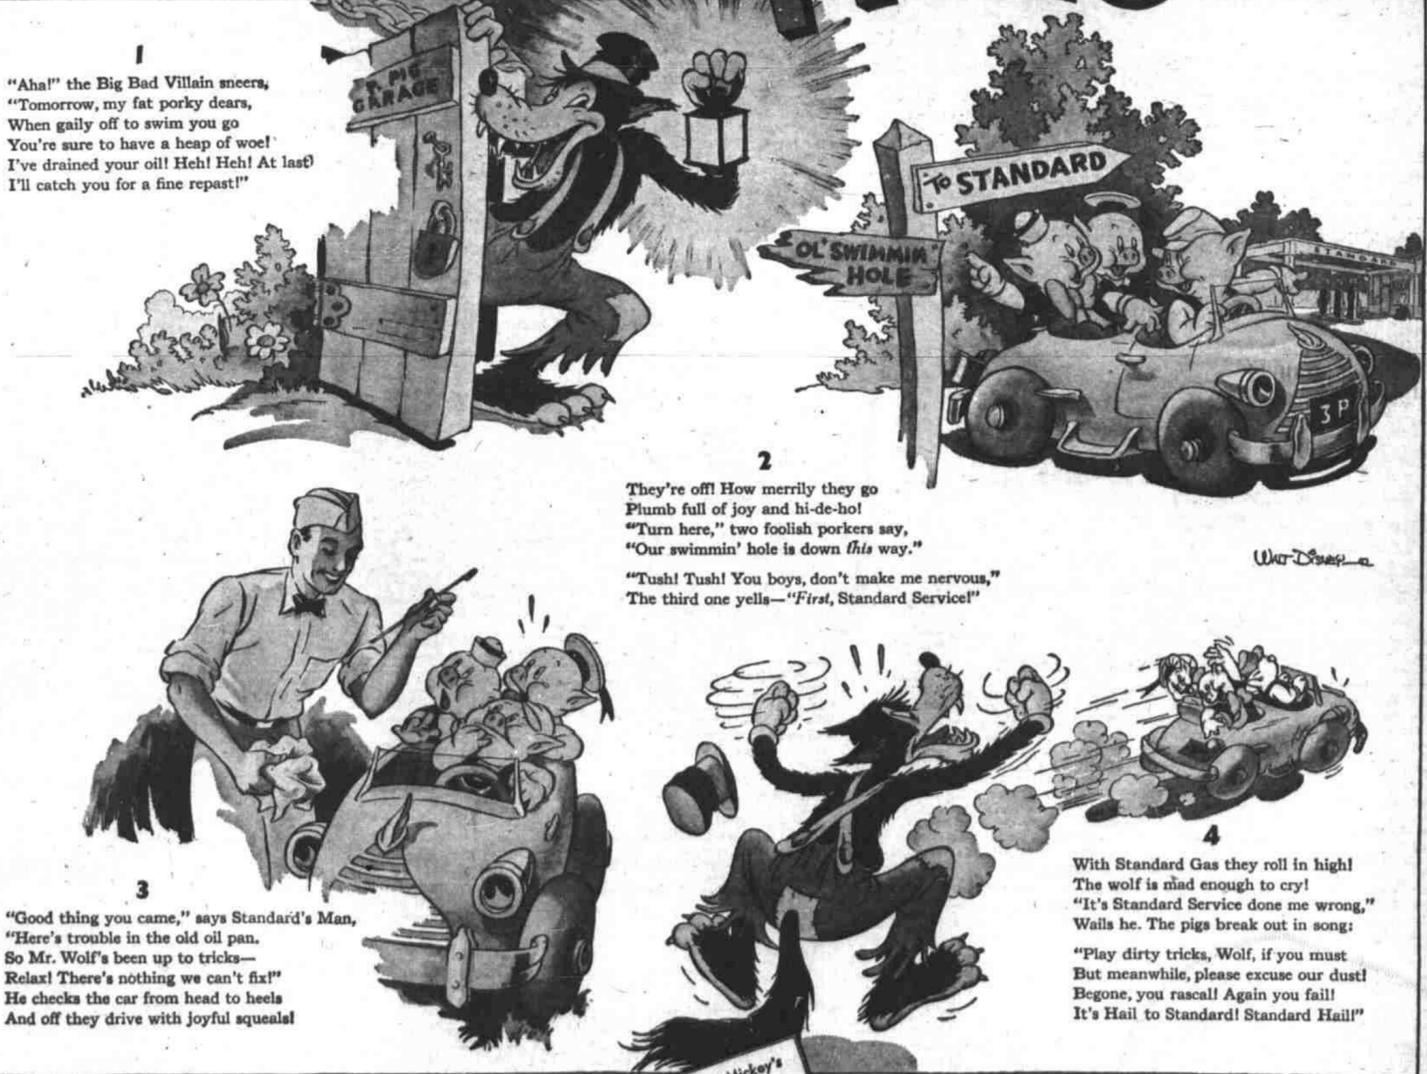

S. A. Dehann, Midland county agent, was here Tuesday for a brief visit.

Bell, office manager; Mrs. G. W. Eason, alteration department; Norris Curtis, shoe department; Miss Mary Burns, piece goods, and Mrs. Oddie-Raney, ladies' ready-to-wear.

Walt Disney's TRAVEL TYKES

LITTLE PEOPLE

"Aha!" the Big Bad Villain sneers, "Tomorrow, my fat porky dears, When gaily off to swim you go You're sure to have a heap of wool! I've drained your oil! Heh! Heh! At last! I'll catch you for a fine repast!"

They're off! How merrily they go Plumb full of joy and hi-de-ho! "Turn here," two foolish porkers say, "Our swimmin' hole is down this way." "Tush! Tush! You boys, don't make me nervous," The third one yells—"First, Standard Service!"

"Good thing you came," says Standard's Man, "Here's trouble in the old oil pan. So Mr. Wolf's been up to tricks—Relax! There's nothing we can't fix!" He checks the car from head to heels And off they drive with joyful squeals!

With Standard Gas they roll in high! The wolf is mad enough to cry! "It's Standard Service done me wrong," Wails he. The pigs break out in song: "Play dirty tricks, Wolf, if you must But meanwhile, please excuse our dust! Begone, you rascal! Again you fail! It's Hail to Standard! Standard Hail!"
