Republicans Attack Legality Of FDR's Monetary Bill As Vote Nears In Senate

WASHINGTON, July 5 (AP)—Senate Republicans attacked the legality of the administration's monetary bill today after President Roosevelt discussed with democratic leaders strategy for recovering his devaluation powers and winning support for neutrality legislation.

The monetary powers, contended Senator Austin of Vermont, acting republican leader, "are entirely dead." It would be "contrary to law," he said, to approve legislation designed to continue them before they had expired.

No reason was given for the change. The decision meant there was no public price for newly-mined domestic silver, and the foreign silver market, for which the treasury customarily posts a price at noon daily, was unadvised of the treasury position.

Because of weekend and Fourth of July holidays, the treasury had no opportunity to buy silver between Friday night, when the senate failed to pass the monetary measure, and today when the mint offices reopened.

However, even before the senate acted on the monetary measure, the treasury could have raised a domestic price under other legislation.

Dr. Smith May Break Silence About LSU

BATON ROUGE, La., July 5 (AP)—An assertion by Dr. James Monroe Smith he was "not going to be the goat" indicated today the resigned president of Louisiana State university soon would end his reticence concerning charges he embezzled $100,000 from the institution he headed for nine years.

Unable immediately to raise $50,000 bond, Dr. Smith spent the night in the parish jail. With his wife, who was indicted as an accomplice, the genial educator was returned yesterday after a trip under guard from Canada.

After refusing to talk with Federal agents or District Attorney Dewey Sanchez, Dr. Smith suddenly asked near midnight to speak with Sanchez. Jail officials said he then declared: "I am not going to be made the goat in this thing."

Sanchez had, by that time, returned and Sheriff Newman H. Dr. Briston did not call him.

After an easy-stage journey from Brockville, Ontario, where he surrendered Sunday to authorities, Smith was brought by plane from New York to New Orleans, thence by police car to the jail here.

As he was being led to a police car he said into a microphone thrust at his face:

"I'm glad to be back. I'm sorry I went away. I was ill advised to leave."

This morning the New Orleans Times-Picayune pursuing its campaign for a complete investigation, asked "Who advised him?"

As Smith and his wife were escorted through the dense crowd that had waited hours at the New Orleans airport to shout a cheery "Hi, Doc," a reporter touched the still dignified Smith on the shoulder.

SMITHS REENTER U. S. IN POLICE CUSTODY

A United States customs officer stationed at Thousand Islands Bridge here is shown closely scrutinizing the credentials of Mrs. James Monroe Smith, wife of the former president of Louisiana State university, when she and Dr. Smith (center, looking on) reentered the U. S. in custody of Louisiana state officers. The couple was turned over to the Louisiana authorities at Brockville, Ont., and are being returned to Baton Rouge to face indictments growing out of alleged irregularities in the funds of L.S.U. Dr. Smith is under indictment charging embezzlement, his wife is charged with "harboring" and "assisting" him.

Death Claims J. F. Millaway

An illness of 18 months had ended today for Joseph Franklin Millaway, 46, long time resident of Big Spring.

He died at his home at 1107 W. 7th street at 12:10 p. m.

Coming to Big Spring 28 years ago, Millaway was associated with the Texas and Pacific Railway, had served as a hattermaker and fireman before entering business for himself. For 17 years he managed cafe businesses in Big Spring and was well known in this area. He continued active in his business until illness forced him to retire.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. J. F. Millaway; two daughters, Margaret Millaway and Mrs. Bob Gardner of Big Spring; one son, R. L. Millaway, Big Spring; one grand daughter, three sisters, Mrs. Rena Crone and Mrs. Earl Shivers of Grand Saline and Mrs. L. E. Seur of San Antonio; one half brother.

GM EMPLOYEES STRIKE TO HALT PRODUCTION

DETROIT, July 5 (AP)—A strike of tool and die, engineering and maintenance employees of the General Motors corporation, aimed at halting preparations for 1940 model production, began today with a walkout of 800 workers in Fisher Body plant No. 21 here.

Officials of the CIO United Automobile Workers said strike votes had been taken in eight other G. M. plants, but that the remainder of the 8,000 men involved might not be called out until later.

Fear Delay On Hwy. 9 Work

Acquisition of right-of-way on re-routed highway No. 9 south in time to have the five-mile project included in the state highway commission's July letting appeared to be in doubt Wednesday as city and county "hubbub" stumped.

City officials disclosed only about six property owners had not come to an agreement concerning the giving of narrow strips of land along Gregg street. Of these, only one had not been contacted and since his whereabouts was unknown, condemnation appeared to be the only out.

This would call for citation by publication and would require 10 days or more.

County commissioners court ran up against a similar obstacle in securing roadway outside the corporate limits. Still no word had been heard from C. E. Alderman in Ohio. County Judge Charles Sullivan planned to seek a preliminary answer by writ.

Inside the city limits, the signing for a 56-foot paved street for only curb and gutter cost was going at full speed. Of all the property owners on the 23 block section, only four had not signed for the improvement which will be made at cost of the small amount of concrete work.

City and county officials, however, bent every effort Wednesday to complete the job of securing right-of-way so that the highway project calling for work in excess of $100,000 could be started this autumn after hanging fire for seven years.

COFFEYVILLE, Kas., July 5 (AP)—Eleanor B. Setzler, 96, who retired two months ago from superintendency of the National Railway, died today.

Assails Foes Of Hatch Bill

WASHINGTON, July 5 (AP)—Senator Wiley (R-Wis.) accused "the so-called new dealers" today for hampering enactment of the Hatch bill against pernicious political activities because, he said, they wanted "to make the AAA a political force in the next election."

Wiley said he was prepared to produce information indicating that in June "employees of this government went forth and started to do to the AAA what was done to the WFA several years ago."

"Perhaps," he shouted to the senate, "that is why the Hatch bill is having so much trouble in the other house."

The measure, passed by the senate, was amended in house committee last week to eliminate a section which would have prevented government officials from taking an "active part" in political campaigns.

Rep. Michener (R-Mich.) said the house will be asked to ban such federal office holders as district attorneys and tax collectors from an "active part" in political management or in political campaigns.

That language, stricken from the Hatch bill by the house judiciary committee, will be offered as an amendment, Michener said.

The bill is expected to come before the house next week or shortly after.

Senator Hatch (D-N.M.), author of the bill designed to take politics out of relief and prevent coercion of relief workers and regular government employees of their superiors, expressed strong approval of Michener's plan.

President Roosevelt said a few weeks ago everyone favored the bill's objectives, but it was badly drawn. He added the house judiciary committee was attempting to redraft it.

JULY WPA PAYROLL ORDERED CUT

WASHINGTON, July 5 (AP)—Colonel F. C. Harrington, Works Projects commissioner, ordered the July WPA payroll cut today from 2,600,000 to 2,400,000 persons, to keep within limits set by congressional relief appropriations.

Harrington said the reduction was the first move to trim rolls to a monthly average of 2,547,000 by next June 30. The 1939 fiscal year average was 2,800,000 workers.

Not Definite As To Danzig

LONDON, July 5 (AP)—Richard Butler, undersecretary for foreign affairs, told the house of commons today Britain was obligated to resist aggression against Poland only in event there was a "clear threat" to Poland's independence.

Asked if Britain's policy included resistance to any possible attempt to change the status of the Free City of Danzig, Butler referred his questioner to the "terms of our pledge to Poland, which Great Britain will certainly fulfill."

(The British-French undertaking, announced last March 31 by Prime Minister Chamberlain, is to lend "all support in their power" to Poland "in event of any action which clearly threatened Polish independence and which the Polish government accordingly considered vital to resist with their national forces.")

Chamberlain shortly before had declared:

"His majesty's government will not fail to take any steps which may seem to them necessary and desirable to make their attitude absolutely clear."

Despite Chamberlain's statement some of his hearers recalled neither he nor Foreign Secretary Lord Halifax had mentioned the Danzig situation specifically in any of their recent speeches.

Other definitions of the British stand have not been consistent. Saturday a foreign office spokesman declined to say that a Nazi putsch in Danzig "would necessarily" bring British guarantees into force.

Poland, Britain and France had agreed to resist any effort to change the status of the free city, either from within or without. The statement has not been endorsed by either Chamberlain or Halifax.

The prime minister declined to give details of what issues are obstructing Soviet Russia's participation in the British-French mutual assistance front but declared Moscow's reactions were being studied jointly by Britain and France.

Italian Subsidies Probed By U. S. Government

ROME, July 5 (AP)—The United States was disclosed today to have completed an investigation here into reports the Italian government subsidized some products exported to America.

Under United States law, it is mandatory on the treasury department to impose countervailing duties on any article imported into the country which receives a bounty or subsidy from any foreign government.

No announcement of the findings was made here and officials said the information would have to come from the treasury department in Washington. The articles on which subsidies were alleged to have been granted and on which tariff duties would be increased if the charges were substantiated, however, were understood to include textiles, tomato products, silk and cheese.

Texas Holiday Toll Largest In The Nation

42 Of More Than 600 Violent Deaths Recorded In State

By the Associated Press
Checking death's progress over the independence holiday period, Texans counted 42 persons killed and scores injured—the greatest toll in the nation's states.

While thousands frolicked, 18 Texans were victims of traffic; 12 drowned, 9 were shot, and one was a victim of fireworks. Two died under train wheels.

Latest victims, grouped by cause of death, included:

Fireworks: Eldred Sowers, 14, Marlin—fugular vein severed by piece of tin blown from a can under which a firecracker was set off.

Drownings: Mrs. Paul Vaughn, 20, and her 13-year-old sister, Esther Foster—both capsized in Colorado river near Austin.

Sergeant A. C. Rounds, 38, drowned just off shore in Rockport. Rounds, his wife and four friends were in a small outboard motor boat which capsized in the rough water.

Mrs. Irene Miller, 32, Olney—Attempted to rescue two children during a holiday picnic on Trinity river near Dallas. Their father saved the children.

Automobiles: Dave Smith, 68, Dallas—feet severed from body in collision.

Jim Boyd, Burlington railroad agent at Bardwell, near Corsicana—fast train struck his automobile at a crossing.

Arlyn McCasland, 28—midget racing car he was piloting on a Fort Worth track struck another car and flipped over three times.

Elizabeth Shackelford, 18, Fort Worth—died of automobile wreck injuries.

Shootings: Raymond Landry, 13, of Orange—struck by a .22 rifle bullet while playing western-style "stick-em up" with his cousin, Earl Richardson—accidental—accidental—shooting was returned.

National Death Record Higher Than Last Year

By the Associated Press
The motor car killed 70 times as many persons as did fireworks as America observed the 163rd anniversary of its independence with a four-day celebration marred by more than 600 violent deaths.

A survey today listed only four lives lost by exploding fireworks to 277 sudden deaths in automobile accidents throughout the 48 states.

The total toll was at least 613 compared with 517 reported for the three-day celebration last year.

WATER ROARS DOWN STREAMS AFTER A NIGHT CLOUDBURST

Loss Of Life May Reach 100, Red Cross Worker Reports; Small Towns In Mountain Area Suffer Heavily

MOREHEAD, Ky., July 5 (AP)—Forty-six persons today were reported drowned in floods that followed quickly a night cloudburst and swept creeks and rivers out of their banks in the mountains of eastern Kentucky.

Thirty-eight of the dead were listed here by Postmaster W. E. Curcher.

The state board of health in Louisville said it had been informed at least eight were drowned when a wall of water rushed down the gorge of the Kentucky river at Jackson in Breathitt county. Bidges, homes, stores and school buildings were swept away, the department said.

Mrs. N. L. Wells, chairman of the Rowan County Red Cross, said the loss of life may run to 100. She also estimated there would be a thousand refugees and may require medical attention.

Bodies of 23 had been recovered.

Swept From Car
Mrs. Curt Salyers and her three small children, her mother and her brother, were drowned as they were attempting to start an automobile to flee from the onrushing water. The car was overturned and washed several hundred feet.

No students of Morehead Teachers' College, located here, were in the flood.

Curcher said the death toll is expected to be high in the rural sections of Rowan county with which it has been impossible to communicate.

Farmers, a village seven miles west of here, was completely cut off and Clearfield, a factory town of approximately 500 persons, on the opposite side of Triplett creek from Morehead, was feared to have suffered heavily.

Water on Railroad street, Morehead's main thoroughfare, varied in depth from four to ten feet at the peak of the flood.

Rescuers said between 50 and 75 persons were taken from tree tops along banks of the creek.

Reports from all sections of eastern Kentucky indicated the heavy rainfall had been general and that streams throughout the section were flooded.

Paul Norrhost, delivery truck driver for a Louisville newspaper, who was stranded here by the cloudburst which preceded the flood, estimated "at least 40 or 50 persons" were drowned.

A Dorothy Lamourish Charm Girl, Dixie Blissard, To Represent City In Casa Manana Show

Dixie Blissard, a lissome, blue-eyed brunette, will be Big Spring's representative at the summer's Casa Manana show in Fort Worth and the city's entrant in the 1939 "Texas Sweetheart" contest.

She was chosen for that honor from a field of 12 lovely young ladies who promenade before a large crowd at the municipal swimming pool Tuesday afternoon. The judge was Miss Lauretta Jefferson, dance director of the Casa Manana show, who immediately made arrangements for Miss Blissard to join the cast.

Other winners, in order, were Martha Cochran, sponsored by Margo's Shoes; Dorothy Mullens, representing the La Mode; and Jaunell Teague, Western Union's entry. To these girls went, respectively, $10, $5 and $2.50 in swim tickets at the municipal pool, and each girl in the revue was presented with a $1 ticket.

Miss Blissard's sponsor was Jack Frost Drugs.

Miss Blissard, who can qualify for a "glamor" title, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Blissard, ranch people, and attended the Big Spring high school. She is five feet, five inches tall, and weighs 125 pounds. In the index See REVUE WINNER, Pg. 4, Cl. 1

JUSTICE CRATER-MET VIOLENT DEATH, WIDOW BELIEVES; TELLS COURT HIS BODY MAY HAVE BEEN DISPOSED OF BY CREMATION

NEW YORK, July 5 (AP)—The widow of former Supreme Court Justice Joseph P. Crater asserted in supreme court today that the long-missing jurist died by "external, violent or accidental means" and that his body was "disposed of by cremation."

It was the first definite theory she has expressed as to his fate. As recently as last May 11, the widow, now Mrs. Stella M. Crater, expressed doubt as to what happened to Justice Crater after he disappeared Aug. 4, 1930.

"I don't know what happened to him," she said on that occasion. "I believe if he were alive I would have found some trace or clue."

Mrs. Crater is suing to collect double indemnity totaling $60,000 from the Mutual Life Insurance company of New York and the Fidelity Mutual Life Insurance company of New York.

Delay Action On Neutrality Act Revision

WASHINGTON, July 5 (AP)—The administration encountered another delay today in its efforts to win revision of the neutrality law when the senate foreign relations committee postponed until Saturday consideration of the house-approved Bloom bill.

Senator Harrison (D-Miss.), who served as acting chairman, said action was delayed because several foreign committee members also are on the finance committee, which will begin consideration tomorrow of proposed changes in the social security law.

Chairman Pittman (D-Ore.), who arrived just as the meeting broke up, said he was unperturbed by the delay and made it plain administration forces intended to demand a final showdown on their proposal to repeal the arms embargo of the present law.

"Certainly we shall stay here until there is a vote in the senate on neutrality," Pittman said.

President Roosevelt has insisted on neutrality revision this session.

Mr. Roosevelt said he wanted congress to pass a neutrality bill at this session as a means of preventing war. And, he added, he still was backing Hull's recommendation for deletion of an arms embargo provision from the neutrality law.

Supporters of Hull's proposal have contended the knowledge America would not refuse to sell arms to Great Britain and France would restrain totalitarian states.

The president told reporters reports to the state department bore out news dispatches from European capitals that Fascist and Nazi nations had halted the action of the house in approving a neutrality bill with a modified arms embargo clause.

The administration's first policy, the chief executive said, is to prevent war. He intimated he thought house acceptance of a partial arms embargo might bring war nearer, made it more difficult for the United States to keep out, and that it had had an undesirable effect on current conditions in Europe.

BANK BANDIT SOUGHT IN S. W. COLORADO

AXTEC, N. M., July 5 (AP)—A bandit who held up the Farmington National Bank and escaped with about $4,000 in currency Monday was sought, with a woman companion, in southwestern Colorado today.

San Juan county sheriff John D. Graves, two federal officers and Colorado sheriff's officers threw a dragnet around the Durango-Silverton region yesterday after a 13-year-old boy was taken to custody by Sheriff Fred Patterson of Silverton.

After questioning the boy, Patterson notified Graves of his belief the bandit suspect and a woman with whom he had been seen at Farmington, were somewhere in the region. The boy also had been seen with the suspect in the northwest corner New Mexico town.

Total Resources	4,665,982.79	4,665,147.87	$835.92

Evidence that Big Spring business remains on a fairly even keel as compared to mid-year of 1938 was seen in statements of condition of the local banking institutions, released Wednesday as the national comptroller of the currency issued a call for reports on business as of June 30, end of the first half of the year.

As compared with figures for June 30, last year, gains were shown in total for the two Big Spring banks, in loans, cash on hand, deposits and total resources.

Biggest change was shown in loans and discounts, which were up more than $241,000. The aggregate included some cotton producers' notes, and was taken as an indication of more capital, in the way of commercial credit, having been put to work in recent months.

Deposits climbed by almost an even $16,000, to total more than $4,156,000.

Arnovich, Fair Hitter In '38, Tops Senior Loop Batters

By The AP Feature Service

TWO YEARS AGO the pitchers recognized him as a chap who took a full cut at the ball and was dangerous. But it wasn't until this season that Morris Arnovich gave rival tossers the creeps every time he came to bat.

He hasn't been able to push his batting average over the .300 hump in his previous campaigns with the Philadelphia Phillies. But this spring he began hanging the ball all around and went into the July stretch with an average near the .400 mark.

Arnovich is a better-than-average thrower and a good outfielder, although he's none too fast. Manager Doc Prothro says he wouldn't swap him for Joe Medwick of the Cardinals. Moe is 25, comes from Superior, Wis. He's 5 feet 10 and weighs 170. He played two years with Superior, another two with Hazelton in the N.Y.P. league and came to the Phillies at the close of the 1935 season. Take a look at the pictures on the right and see the Arnovich swing that may win the batting crown:

The Sports Parade

By HANK HART

Needing primarily a left handed tosser and another gardener who can powder the lemon, the Midland Cowboys, who in the first half finished in the WT-NM league cellar, are not candidates for that position again, can, with their promised help, prove the worst trouble makers in the family.

The brains behind the Midland brawn, so we understand, are pointing toward a winner at all costs, are now in the midst of a reconstruction era that promises a bright future of the Midland fan.

Well fortified are the Waddies behind the plate with Jimmy Kerr doing trojan duty, and around the inner cordon with Bob Wooten at the initial sack, Henry Parma at second, Conley Cox at short and Sammy Hale at third.

Lynn Eyerson is well above the average in the way of outfielders. Bobby Petzold in the garden and H. Phillips in right may or may not do.

The combination of Bill Brown, Tex Nugent, Jim Vickers, Joe Piet and Tom Leonard, coupled with the newest acquisition, Willoughby, as a pitching corps shapes up well. Only fault is lack of a lefthander, which would give the Waddies the defensive balance they need.

Too much tribute cannot be paid the arbiting ability of Buster Capps, the individual who took it upon himself to toss the managers of both teams out of the Monday evening Midland-Big Spring battle. He has long been recognized as the most brilliant umpire in the circuit.

We've long admired Capps, like, particularly, the manner in which he runs his game.

When the sixth inning crisis arose in which Manager Sammy Hale of the Midland team seemingly lost his head, swung on the man in blue, Capps methodically soothed the situation, curtly ejected the Midland skipper, soon had the game underway again.

FRESHMEN TO MAKE YANKEE TRACK TEAM STRONGEST IN YEARS, SAYS AAU OFFICIAL

EMOTION OVERCOMES GEHRIG AS FANS PAY HIM TRIBUTE

By SID FEDER
NEW YORK, July 5 (AP)—The husky figure climbed slowly up the old wooden stairs back of the Yankee dugout, shoulders bent, right leg limping and throat torn by soba.

This was Lou Gehrig leaving the most dramatic moment of his life. Back of him 61,808 fans, piled on Yankee Stadium's tiered sides, cheered till the rafters shook, and out on the field a big, round-faced, flat-nosed fellow stood as tears rolled down his cheeks.

Hale, for his unusual gestures, could have been suspended from active play had Capps pressed the charges. Instead he was fined $50, made to apologize to the official.

Jack McAnally's water oddity, a species of fish with legs which the Big Spring man recently discovered in a Howard county lake, is yet to be classified.

Ray Osborne, director of investigation of the Game, Fish and Oyster commission, took one of McAnally's species back to Austin with him after a recent visit here but all efforts to identify the creature were futile.

Osborne says in recent correspondence: "x x Will you please tell Mr. Jack McAnally that we have been unable to determine what sort of species of fish or animal he has found, although I now understand that they are found in a good many places in the Panhandle. One learned gentleman is definite in his assertion that the thing is a sub-species of the water dog and the fact that it has gills even after attaining the length of 13 or 14 inches is due to the fact that they never leave the water."

of the current Yanks and those of the '27 world champions—and so had the baseball writers. But there was no one who could—or should have said it like the Bam.

Many Obstacles
All around them were players of the current club and those of the past generation of world beaters.

They had gathered these old-timers from the four corners of the country to do honor to old Lou, the iron horse, who has been put back in the roundhouse by a little germ, "Beanballs" couldn't do it, nor broken bones, nor illness through the 14-years during which he chalked up sports' most amazing endurance record of 2130 straight games in action. But this little "bug," a form of infantile paralysis, may have put a "period" on the host's playing career for keeps.

So the club, thanks to President Ed Barrow, put on the show for Lou yesterday before the biggest crowd of the year.

For Lou, a sentimental sort of fellow always, it was too much. Even before the speechmaking and presentations of gifts on the field, he was overcome in the clubhouse. "There hasn't been a day since I came up that I wasn't anxious to get in uniform and out on the field," he said. "But today I wish I was anywhere but in this stadium."

Texans Figure In Triumphs At Lincoln

By EARL MULLIGAN
LINCOLN, Neb., July 5 (AP)—The nation's track and field "freshmen" are going to make Uncle Sam's 1940 Olympic team one of the strongest in many years in the opinion of Dan Ferris, secretary-treasurer of the Amateur Athletic Union.

Ferris defined "freshmen" as those youngsters who competed in the junior championships of the A. A. U.'s 51st meet which closed with yesterday's senior program at the University of Nebraska. And while he explained he wasn't taking anything away from the senior stars, it was junior performances of Monday which fired his enthusiasm.

"Youngsters like Marsh Farmer, who won the 110 meters junior hurdles title in 14.2 seconds and Al Bizio of New York, who won the shot and discus titles, indicate there's to be plenty of 'fresh blood' in the group which will try for Olympic positions next summer," said Ferris.

Seniors Contribute
To match the four new junior meet records, the seniors came through with four new marks yesterday. Fred Wolcott made up for the loss of his 110 meters hurdles crown by winning the 200 meters hurdles in 22.9, clipping four-tenths of a second off the old mark.

A tailwind which early in the program reached a velocity of 9.7 miles an hour ruined what might have been record performances in the mile and 1500 meters. Clyde Jeffrey of San Francisco won the 100 meters dash in 10.2 seconds but the mark, which equaled Jesse Owens' world record, was not allowed. In the 110 meters hurdles, Joe Batiata of Tucson, Ariz., won the title in 14.1, equalling Olympic and American existing marks, but this also was not recognized.

Fighting off Chuck Fenske's famous "stretch kick" Blaine Rideout of the Shore Athletic club, Elberon, N. J., turned in the day's top surprise by winning the 1,500 meters race in 5 minutes 51.5 seconds. Louis Zampertini was third and the veteran Glenn Cunningham fourth.

Royer Takes Net Title To Dallas

GALVESTON, July 5 (AP)—Fred Royer of Dallas is singles champion of the Gulf coast tennis tournament for a second time.

The 1935 title holder repeated yesterday by defeating Aubrey Lockey of Houston, seeded No. 1, 6-0, 6-2. Royer then paired with Doc Barr of Houston to down Edward (Lefty) Brown of Waco and Wayne Park of Houston for the doubles title, 6-2, 6-4, 6-4.

Jayne Johnson of Wichita Falls retained her title by outlasting Doris Ames of Houston, state women's champion, 5-10, 6-1, 6-3.

Grover Cantrell and David Bryant, Jr., of Sherman took the junior doubles crown by beating Joe Adams of Waco and Malcolm Snow of Fort Worth, 6-3, 1-6, 9-7. Cantrell took the junior singles crown earlier by downing Bob Goldbeck of San Antonio.

Tourney Delayed

LOUISVILLE, Ky., July 5 (AP)—The surviving field in the 30th annual Kentucky open tennis tournament prepared to return to battle in earnest today after a rain-abridged Independence Day program that saw favorites advance with comparative ease.

Gene Mack of Los Angeles and Maria Barnett of Miami, top-seeded in the men's and women's singles, were scheduled to play their first matches.

Stasey Clouts 17th And 18th Home Runs

Walton Gets Two, Joe Marek Gains 13th Triumph

By HANK HART
MIDLAND, July 5—Masterful mound work by Art Gigli and Jodie Marek and the power hitting of Tex Walton and Pat Stasey combined to give the Big Spring Barons a sweep of their twin bill with the Midland Cowboys here Tuesday. The double triumph elevated the Regomen into undisputed possession of first place in WT - NM league standings.

Gigli, whose assignments has been limited to repair jobs lately and who needed a fine slab triumph to halt a threatened erosion of his backing, puzzled the Waddies with a neat six-hit job in the afternoon game but had to doubt a home run, and work ten complete innings to escape with a 7-4 victory.

Stasey, the compact, immobile left gardener of the LFI Yankees, as usual saved his Sunday punch until it was needed, slapping out a three run homer in the tenth to put the game on ice.

The Cowhands had been in the game all the way despite devastating blows by Walton and Gigli, even maintained a 4-3 advantage until the seventh.

The Killer was invincible after a shaky sixth round, however, and eased through. The victory was his fifth in the campaign.

Victim of the surging Baron machine was C. Willoughby, a Lamessa ex whose few mistakes were too expensive.

In the nightcap, Marek, exhibiting all his stuff, breezed through, 4-2, for his 13th triumph. The enemy got to him for eight base blows but he was superb in the clutch. Tex Walton's fourth-inning circuit clout, his tenth of the semester, put the former grizzer out front but it took a run by the Temple boy, himself, to keep him there.

Jodie, gaining a station by forcing Al Berndt at second in the fifth, sneaked across on Curdele Loyd's first base blow.

Stasey waited until the sixth to kiss one of Tom Leonard's pitches good-bye, driving the pellet high over the center field wall. It was his 18th four bagger of the season. It was the blow that provided the margin of victory.

The Barons added one for good measure in the sixth when Bobby Decker was walked and romped to the dish on Walton's line double into right field.

Ties Score
A two base blow by Jimmy Kerr and Lynn Everson's line single had given the Cowhands their first run in the fourth round. In the eighth Henry Parma's drive into left field cleared the barrier by about a foot. Stasey made a valiant but futile try for the catch, crashing head-on into the wall.

The Big Springers raked the offerings of Leonard for a total of 12 base hits but the righthander proved to be "willing to cooperate when the chips were down."

Good crowds attended both encounters. More than 1,000 were on hand for the afternoon fracas while the nocturnal debate attracted almost 1,500.

The two teams tie up in their final game of their series this evening, 8:30 o'clock. Clarence Trantnam was slated to go to the hill for the Barons while either Bill Brown or Joe Piet was to be Sammy Hale's mound choice.

J. H. Brown Is New No. One Netter

COOKE AND RIGGS TO COLLIDE

WIMBLEDON, Eng., July 4 (AP)—Elwood Cooke, cocky 24-year-old player from Portland, Ore., entered the finals of the All-England tennis championships today with a 6-3, 6-6, 6-4, 6-4 victory over Henner Henkel, German ace.

The Duchess of Kent was among the crowd of 17,000 that watched, supremely confident, Riggs dispose of Fumee in 80 minutes but Cooke had a hard fight against the stubborn Henkel.

Both youthful Americans, Riggs is 21 and Cooke 24, are making their debuts at Wimbledon. It was an even money bet tonight that Alice Marble of San Francisco and Mrs. Sarah Falfrey Fabyan of Cambridge, Mass., would advance to the women's final tomorrow.

LEADERS SNRPRISED BY MARSHALL TIGERS

By The Associated Press
Marshall's Tigers displayed their independence yesterday and handed the leading Henderson Oilers a double defeat, 4-3 and 4-3 in the East Texas league.

Texarkana's Tigers tightened their grasp on third place by winning a double bill from Jacksonville, 11-4 and 4-2.

Kilgore beat Tyler, 7-0 behind 7-hit pitching and Paul Billeut after losing the first game to the Trojans 6 to 2.

Longview took a pair of free-hitting games that produced 40 base hits from Palestine, 12-9 and 10-7.

Defeats George Tillinghast, 8-6, 6-2

George Tillinghast's reign as Big Spring's No. 1 netter was short lived. The veteran who Sunday trimmed Harry Jordan to gain the Big Spring Tennis association's top seeded slot Tuesday was dethroned by J. H. Brown, 8-6, 6-2, in an upset as surprising as was Tillinghast's triumph over Jordan.

Brown took the initial set by breaking Tillinghast's service in the 14th game. Tillinghast jumped into the lead in the second set by taking two of the first three games but Brown's game steeled thereafter and he quickly closed out the match.

Brown's victory climaxed a great drive from the ninth seeded spot. He had become eligible for the title scrap by disposing of Marvin House, Jr., Friday, 6-2, 6-3.

EMIL LEONARD STEALS SHOW BY AGAIN SUBDUING YANKS

By BILL WHITE
Associated Press Sports Writer
It seems Emil (Dutch) Leonard, the Washington Senators' "old man with the knuckle ball" was just about the biggest firecracker in baseball's whole Fourth of July package.

And what a stirring triumph his 3-2 conquest of the New York Yankees was! It came in the first game of the doubleheader the champions had dedicated to their one-time first baseman, Lou Gehrig.

With the Yankees determined to make it a Gals occasion, old Dutch stood up there and mowed the Yanks down, allowing only six hits in what certainly must rank as one of the most courageous pitching performances of the year.

And that superlative job must take precedence over some other magnificent baseball doings in a day when 249,541 holiday noise-makers watched their favorites in burgundy blue.

Such doings, for instance, as Jim Tabor's four homers for Boston's Red Sox—two of them with the bases loaded to tie the major league mark; or superb elbowing by Danny MacFadden and Milt Shoffner of the Bees in stopping the Giants twice; or Buck Newsom's shutout of the Cleveland Indians.

Third Victory
But overshadowing them all stands old Dutch, coolly winning his third game from the fearsome champions as his knuckleball has done everything but laugh in their faces.

Dutch won, 3-2, but the champs won the second game for Lou by 12-1 as Steve Sundra shelled the Senators with a six-hit job.

Tabor's home run feat was only part of the show as the second place Red Sox slammed the Athletics all over the lot in their two engagements, by 17-7 and 18-12. The White Sox swept over the St. Louis Browns, 7-3 and 7-4, while Ollie Rejmam's homer touched off the spark to Chicago's game-winning five-run drive in the ninth inning of the second game for the best hit of fireworks.

Big Buck Newsom also has cause to smile as he reviews the Fourth. His "Sunday" pitch was good enough to stop the Cleveland Indians in their tracks and the Tigers won 4-0 as Detroit's biggest crowd, 66,272 howled its approval. Rain washed out the second game.

Giants Embarrassed
The New York Giants' title drive, in the National League, went temporarily glimmering when MacFadden and Shoffner handcuffed them twice in Boston, handing the hits to a total of 11 hits and coasting in to victories by 3-1 and 10-2.

The Cincinnati Reds stayed in first place though they bowed to MacFadden of the Pirates 4-3 in the second game. The Reds combined seven hits and Lee Grissom's shutout relief hurling in the first game to win 7-4.

There is also considerable joy in Louisville today what with the Cardinals winning two in a series marked by more fireworks (verbal and otherwise) than base hits. They beat the Phillies 6-3 and 7-4 to stretch the Quakers' losing streak to unseemly proportions.

And Hank Lether had a day of it, out in Chicago. He belted three homers in the first game but the Cardinals outdid him in run producing and won 6-4. Then the Cubs lamed around and won the second, 2-2, when Gus Mancuso singled home the winning tally in the 10th

MISS 'LANE' NOTES

Funny how when you were a child, you got up at the crack of dawn on July Fourth with your allotment of firecrackers, disturbed the neighbors, set fire to your clothes, and probably held a fire-cracker too long and ended up with a burned finger. But in spite of all this, the day was too short for all the things you had to do.

STATE REGULATION BRINGS PERIOD OF STABILITY TO TEXAS OIL MEN

By HOWARD C. MARSHALL. AUSTIN, July 5 (AP)—Texas oil men are enjoying a period of stability in regulation by the state.

Recently the state railroad commission, regulatory agency, reaffirmed its planned no general alteration on the situation in the East Texas field as a result of litigation over allowances granted certain producers.

The legislature has just adjourned without seriously changing any oil laws. It re-enacted the general production and renewed the interstate oil and gas compact.

This week orders charting the course of regulation for three months were effective.

Reassurance as to East Texas policy, the outcome of the general session of the legislature and the long-time orders all strengthened confidence among operators leaders reported.

Texas oil fields, with a few exceptions because of physical conditions will be shut down four Saturdays and Sundays in each of the months of July, August and September.

Most prior shutdown orders had applied to one month only but at request of oil men a three-month order was promulgated.

It was not done without disagreement within the commission, however. The order was signed by only two commissioners, Len A. Smith, chairman, and Ernest O. Thompson, who also is chairman of the interstate oil and gas compact commission.

Concerning East Texas, the commission apparently was not in the least abashed by the fact Rowan & Nichols Oil Company of Fort Worth obtained a federal court order requiring the commission to increase allowances on several wells.

Immediately after the court decision, fears were voiced the whole East Texas plan of proration might be upset, but these subsided when the commission announced it would appeal the case.

In the largest group tragedy six West Virginians, including three children, were killed when their light sedan and a bus collided near Washington, Pa.

At Carman, Okla., a 25-year-old pilot and two high school students were killed when their plane dived from 1,000 feet after a wing covering ripped loose.

Lightning took several lives. Although the total of the four fireworks deaths was one more than the number a year ago, communities which banned explosives in a "radio-and-same" observance reported fewer injuries.

Texas led the death list with 42 followed by California with 39, Ohio with 37, New York with 35 and Michigan and Illinois with 31 each.

DISLIKE MRS. FD'S STAND ON YOUTH ORGANIZATION. NEW YORK, July 5 (AP)—The Joint Committee for the Defense of American Ideals comprising leaders of 21 of the 23 organizations which booted the American Youth Congress in a dispute over communism, accused Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt today of disloyalty to American youth.

In a telegram sent to the president's wife, the committee asked her to "join with us in a counter-offensive to safeguard American institutions," and said the congress "brazenly and overwhelmingly placed its stamp of approval on atheistic communism, whose program is to overthrow American constitutional government and substitute therefore Moscow Stalinism."

Mrs. Roosevelt was criticized for her very acceptance of the innocuous and evasive statement of the principles of American Youth Congress creed.

Mrs. Roosevelt spoke before the congress Monday night after the 23 organizations had withdrawn.

MARKETS Wall Street

WALL STREET. NEW YORK, July 5 (AP)—Cautiously-directed buying in a few industrial shares provided the stock market with a firm backbone today.

Deals broadened out a little after Monday's seventeen-year-old trading record. But many remained away from the financial district to prolong the Fourth of July holiday.

As a result, work is to start immediately on the erection of a new set of bleachers in the Baron baseball park for the "gang."

Dr. Lee Rogers, club president, in explaining the plan, said that the "gang" would be self-governing and would maintain discipline in the knot-hole bleachers.

While there is to be no fine line for restricting any lad, the knot-hole gang will be maintained primarily for the children who otherwise could not witness ball games.

By thus occupying the boys, the club hopes to use the gang as an activity that will guarantee a constructive use of their leisure time.

Before a youngster can become a member of the gang, he must satisfy certain requirements. If at any time he does not live up to his obligations, he gets a black mark on his card and "gang" members on the gate will not admit him for

Only Minor Mishaps Here On Fourth

This city Wednesday breathed a sigh of relief, for it had successfully passed July 4th without a violent death.

However, the day produced a few minor motor mishaps within the city limits and resulted in the jailing of five men.

Charges of driving while intoxicated were filed with Justice of Peace J. H. Hestley against Oliver C. Morrow, who posted $500 bond, and Roy Parker, who was taken into custody as the result of a car trailer collision at W. 3rd and Gregg streets Tuesday afternoon.

W. V. Beaver, an Oklahoman, was fined in the corporate court as the outgrowth of a car crash at Benton and E. 3rd streets, and O. O. Roberts, Lamesa, was held following a car mishap on W. 3rd street.

Another man was held for questioning on a charge of disturbance and intoxication. Four of the men were taken by police and the fifth by state highway patrolmen.

Fireworks casualties apparently were at a low ebb with none over the Fourth requiring medical attention.

In an unusual accident, James Madding, Foran, was injured when the crank of a loading winch slipped out of control and struck him in the abdomen. He was taken to the Malone & Hogan Clinic-Hospital for treatment.

SALVAGE EXPERTS PREPARE TO LIFT SUNKEN SUB

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., July 5 (AP)—With one pontoon attached to a massive chain encircling the after section of the submarine Squalus, navy salvage experts had virtually completed today attaching of a second.

The first made fast at a depth of 200 feet, 40 feet above the disabled craft which still holds 28 of her crew who perished in a faulty dive on May 23. The second pontoon will be attached at a depth of 180 feet.

A certain length of time. Funds raised in a recent minstrel show will be used to finance the work, Dr. Rogers said.

dar so strongly the educator had to pause. "Are you guilty?" the reporter asked. "Absolutely not," Smith responded.

Then under still heavier guard the Smiths were rushed here, brought through a friendly group of faculty members and students who clustered about the jail, and then fingerprinted.

Mrs. Smith was released on bond of $7,500 signed by 16 persons, mostly faculty members and school attaches, and left the jail on the arm of her son, James M. Smith, Jr., 19. The latter, with his brother-in-law, Owen W. Ware, also charged as an accomplice but free on bond, were allowed to talk at length with the Smiths.

Educational Program Presented At Club

Members of the Lions club Wednesday heard an "educational program" on their organization as the club moved into another year under a new regime under Dr. J. E. Hogan as president.

After a foundation had been laid for other discussions with an explanation of what a Lions club proposed to be, Dr. P. W. Malone recited some of the accomplishments of the local organization and listed some of the possibilities of the unit, stressing the need to complete the project for a 4-H club building and an Americanization program.

B. J. McDaniel, immediate past president of the club, outlined the items in the Lions magazine and urged more widespread use of it by club members.

Helen Blount, accompanied by her mother, Mrs. R. E. Blount, favored the club with two vocal selections. Guest for the day was Ben Cole, Dallas.

SPECTATORS INJURED AS BLEACHERS FALL

WAUKEGAN, Ill., July 5 (AP)—More than 50 persons suffered bruises or other injuries when wooden bleachers collapsed at the climax of an Independence Day pageant and fireworks show.

Approximately a thousand spectators fell to the ground in a tangled mass when the structure gave way last night. The bleachers collapsed without warning when spectators rose to sing the national anthem during a pyrotechnic display of the American flag.

CANNON EXPLOSION KILLS WOMAN

HALIFAX, England, July 5 (AP)—Explosion of a cannon used in a house party's midnight celebration of July Fourth at Queensbury, near Halifax, last night killed a woman and injured two men.

Guests at the home of Major Lawrence Foster had adjourned to the grounds to fire an old cannon. But it exploded as they waited and Mrs. Mansel Thomas, 25, of Liffcliffe, Yorkshire, was killed.

The injured were Lieut.-Col. H. L. Grylls, commander of the 56th anti-tank regiment at Halifax and G. Barrett of Ryburndale, Rippondon, Halifax. Their conditions were not serious.

Major Foster last year married an American girl and several Americans were guests at the house party celebrating Independence Day.

PREPARE FOR WINTER, THOMPSON TELLS OIL INDUSTRY

AUSTIN, July 5 (AP)—Advising the oil industry to prepare for the winter, Ernest O. Thompson, chairman of the interstate oil compact commission, today recommended operators continue a weekly withdrawal of 2,500,000 barrels reported last week.

In a statement Thompson, also a member of the Texas railroad commission, said: "It appears to me that the oil industry should prepare now for the winter."

"Crude stocks above ground on September 30 should not exceed 250,000,000 barrels. The rate of withdrawal of 2,500,000 barrels a day last week, if maintained, should achieve this result."

Wind In FDR's Sails

It may be that a recalcitrant congress will give President Roosevelt a leg up in his ambition to become the first man in our history to hold a third term in the White House.

Congress is playing fast and loose with some of the president's pet measures, notably the dollar devaluation bill, the relief measure and the neutrality act.

But that isn't saying he could be elected again. Whether he seeks another term depends on whether he believes he can get it.

Man About Manhattan

NEW YORK—We stood on one of the piers along the Hudson river waterfront, awaiting the arrival of the Mauretania, the fine new ship the British had just built and put into commission between New York and the Empire.

The pier was crowded with groups of men and women, chatting excitedly and waiting to greet friends who had made the crossing, or who were there just as interested sightseers.

Photographers and reporters with press cards in their hats took up their positions and craned their necks through pier openings, waiting for her to come up the river.

Next to the pier where the Mauretania was to berth was another pier, and snugly warped into position was the giant Normandie. Her crew, with "French Line" spelled across their sweat shirts, like the members of an athletic team, yawned in front of the pier.

Post Ambrose lighthouse, past Ellis Island and into the mouth of the river the Mauretania came. The people on the pier began to cheer and wave, although it was still too far away to recognize anyone.

Still the French Line boys paid little attention. Several of them were pitching pennies on the walk in front of the shed. The crowd grew denser. Taxi-cabs leaped up and out fumbled excited people, carrying flowers and boxes, and wearing eager expressions on their faces.

Along the elevated highway traffic sang a steady hum. Traffic is fast on the highway. Cars streaked past, blurred by mercury. Suddenly there was a screeching of brakes, and two cars crashed into one another.

Outside, the French Line boys forgot their game of penny pitching. They weren't yawning any more. They were lost in the straining mass of humanity along the pier—shouting and welcoming the vast, towering figure of their British rival.

This is what happens when a new ocean liner makes her maiden visit to New York.

THE LADY WHO CAME TO THE WORLD'S FAIR IN A TRAILER

FOUR BLIND DATES

By Edwin Rutt

Chapter 28 JINGLE BELLS Mr. Adams had hoped to avoid this condition. But, faced with it, he comforted himself magnificently.

"Gangway," he roared, bowing a frantic, red-headed female out of his path. "Gangway! Lady's faint-ed."

Never was a more palpable up-truth uttered. Far from swooning Packy had just slapped Tack's face resoundingly.

In some pain, Tacks corrected himself. "Gangway!" he bellowed again. "Lady's hysterical."

"I am not," said Packy, with cold fury, "hysterical."

Mr. Adams did not reply. He was now in the midst of the crowd, butting through it with superhuman strength.

Now and then a buoy bell tinkled as it swayed gently with the swell. A tug with a barge of freight cars slid past. A gull dropped gracefully to the water and took off again.

Next to the pier where the Mauretania was to berth was another pier, and snugly warped into position was the giant Normandie.

Post Ambrose lighthouse, past Ellis Island and into the mouth of the river the Mauretania came.

of a kind of cot or berth. The next instant Mr. Adams was beside her, banging the door shut. And before Packy could have said "Nuts" to a squirrel, the car was in motion.

Almost instantly there arose a horrible clanging sound that chilled the blood.

Write with fury Packy wheeled on the panting Tacks. "What right have you to do this?" she almost shouted at him.

"What kind of car is this? What is that terrible noise?" "You call!"

Tacks did not answer immediately. Instead he took off his dinner-jacket and folded it carefully. Then, from somewhere within the recesses of the car, he produced a white coat.

He buttoned it up to the chin, completely obscuring his black tie. "Now," he said, fishing out cigarettes, "I am prepared to take up those questions of yours in their order. You wanted to know first by what right I do this? I reply, the right of a strong, silent man to make a fight for the woman he loves."

She looked at him with bitter contempt. "Silent? You've chattered like a magpie every time I've seen you."

"You wanted to know what kind of a car this is?" Tacks continued. "This car, Miss North, is an ambulance that I rescued at the very brink of the grave."

"I know it's an ambulance now. I was—confused for a moment. I'll bet they never confuse you for long, though. But, honestly, I did save this ambulance from the scrap-heap. I bought it last night from a used-car dealer who was going to junk it. Nifty bus, eh?"

"In your warped opinion, I suppose. Why are you wearing that ridiculous coat?" "I'm an intern, aren't we all?" said Tacks airily.

By this time the ambulance was changing merrily eastward. Its driver, a shadowy figure behind the glass partition that set off his domain, invoked the law that permits vehicles of mercy to ride high, wide and handsome.

Red traffic lights were as naught to him. Blue-uniformed guardians of the peace became as the dust beneath his chariot wheel. Pedestrians, littering the course, were clanged at noisily and driven in confusion back to gutters and curbstones.

Packy was staring at Tacks. "Interne? Are you crazy?" "Far from it. You're the one who's supposed to be crazy. I've only taken ordinary precautions. In a minute or two you'll probably think to scream and attract the attention of some policeman. When you do, I'll simply lean out my door, impress him with my immaculate white coat and inform him that you're a dangerous lunatic on the way to the nut factory."

"Lunatic," snapped Packy. "Why—why, you utter oad!" "Now there's a word," Tacks said conversationally, "that I haven't heard in a long time. Thought it was obsolete."

"Maybe it is. But it describes you to a T. And let me tell you something else, Mr. Smartcoat. You're not going to get away with this as easily as you think. I'm going to speak to the driver of this thing and demand that he stop. And if you try to hinder me, I'll slap you so hard your head'll spin until Christmas." "Listen," Tacks said, with feeling. "If you can sock me harder than you did on the way out of that infernal night club, you ought to go in the ring. After we're married I'll have to show you how to pull your punches."

Packy uttered the little brother to a scream. "After we're WHAT?" "Married," said Tacks composedly.

"You absolute imbecile!" Packy's laugh was a frozen thing. "I wouldn't marry you if you were the King of England."

"Go on! You'd never be able to resist swanking around in Buckingham Palace."

"This discussion," Packy said icily, "has reached a new high for pointlessness. I'm going to speak to the driver."

"A good idea," said Tacks. "You'll find him a fine conversationalist."

Sukiyaiki Packy edged along the cot and rapped sharply on the glass behind the driver's head. The driver half-turned and slid back the partition.

"See here!" said Packy preemptorily. "I want you to stop this car at once. This—this man is detaining me against my will."

Then was a pause. "Me no spik Ingless," hissed a voice.

Packy started. Tacks, rolling at ease on the cot, lit another cigarette. "I told you he was a fool for conversation," he said. "But I should have warned you that he prefers to carry it on in the Japanese tongue. How's your Japanese this summer, Miss North?"

Packy swung on him angrily. "Who is this person?" she demanded, pointing at the driver.

"Oh, that person?" said Tacks. "Why, that's Sukiyaiki. My valet."

"Why, yes," said Tacks brightly. "I call him Sukiyaiki because I can't pronounce his real name. He"

WASHINGTON—It may surprise people to learn that New England textile mill owners are working all the government avenues they know to have the pay of southern mill workers increased.

It all settles back to competition between these two sections for supremacy in textile manufacture. What hurts one seems to help the other, and that is why each section is so eager to have wages costly in the territory of the other.

Here is a cat's eye view of the situation. The wage-hour act already has pushed minimum wages up in all sections to the 25 cents an hour minimum.

Within 20 years 280 mills have closed down in Massachusetts and Rhode Island alone. Some of them just closed and that was an end of it.

Altogether it took 86,000 jobs out of those two states alone. The jobs went South but the New England workers who held them didn't.

Fall River, Massachusetts, lost 22,000 jobs that way and New Bedford a like number, while from the Pawtucket-Blackstone Valley in Rhode Island more thousands of jobs were lost.

It is all very natural from an economic standpoint. Other factors being approximately equal, industry will tend to move into areas where labor costs are low.

A good number of mills remained in New England where skilled labor could make fine cloth better than the untrained labor of the South.

The act meant a wage boost to 25 cents an hour for thousands of southern textile workers.

Under the wage hour act, minimum wages will automatically go up to 30 cents Oct. 24 anyway.

Hollywood Sights And Sounds

HOLLYWOOD—It's known to very few in Hollywood, but Shirley Temple's first screen appearance was such a fiasco that nobody cared to release it.

The new Universal now has its own potential Shirley, and her director is, by coincidence, the same Charles Lamont who steered Temple through her first successful camera chores—the Baby Burlesks.

Lamont undertook the Baby Burlesks and broadcast a call for juvenile talent. Among the hundreds who came, each with a mama, was Shirley. The hundreds were weeded to scraps, the scores to a dozen or so of the most appealing—among them Shirley.

Two Burlesks later Lamont was stre something should be done about Shirley. He enlisted Gene Mann, an agent, to "peddle" the child among the major studios.

Lamont is director of the film—but actually Sandy's outness (her chief asset) is a big-eyed grin and enthusiastically grasping fingers.)

The script, in its closing scene, had this plaintive note: "At this point Sandy (please God!) takes a step."

The Effects Of Liquor Cannot Be Repealed

(New York Telegram) When the city of Atlanta, Georgia, was about to vote on prohibition, Henry Grady, the distinguished editor of the "Atlanta Constitution," said:

"My friends, hesitate before you vote liquor back, now that it is shut out. Don't trust it. It is powerful, aggressive and universal in its attack."

"Today it strikes a crust from the lips of a starving child, and tomorrow levies tribute from the government itself."

"It is flexible to cajole, but merciless in victory. It is the mortal enemy of peace and order. The despoiler of men, the terror of women, the cloud that shadows the face of children, the demon that has dug more graves and sent more souls unshrouded to judgment than all the pestilences that have wasted life since God sent the plagues to Egypt, and all the wars that have been fought since Joshua stood beyond Jericho."

"Oh, my countrymen, loving God and humanity, do not bring this great old city again under the domination of that power! It can profit no man by its return. It can uplift no industry, revive no interest, remedy no wrong. You know that it cannot. It comes to destroy, and it shall profit mainly by the ruin of your sons and mine."

"It comes to mislead human souls and crush human hearts under its rumbling wheels. It comes to bring his teammates, the baseball writers, the "Old Timers" Association of Denver, the stadium employees and the New York Giants, and said a few words into the loud-speaker system. Several times his voice broke and a sob escaped as he announced, "today I consider myself the luckiest man on the face of the earth."

He waved an arm at the old teammates, fellows like Ruth and Tony Lazzeri and Herb Pennock, Earl Combs, Wally Shang, Benny Bengough, Bob Shawkey, Bob Meusel, Mark Koenig, Joe Dugan, George Pipgras and the rest.

"Just look," he went on, "wouldn't you consider it a privilege to associate yourself with such fine looking men as are standing on this ball field. Or with men like Col. Jacob Ruppert, late president of the club, or Miller Huggins (manager who died in the '20s)."

Then he stumbled, his eyes blinded by tears, back to the clubhouse. There, still the same shy retiring Gehrig, he turned to a friend and asked, "did my speech sound silly? Did it?"

Champ Handicapped

HAVERFORD, Pa., July 5 (AP)—A blistered hand threatened today to give defending champion Jack Kramer of Montebello, Calif., high school as much trouble as his opponents in the national interscholastic boys tennis tournament.

Making a late start in the competition after arriving here from Denver, Colo., where he competed in another tournament, Kramer disposed of two rivals to reach the third round yesterday although handicapped by deep blisters on the palm of his racket hand.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By EDDIE BRIEZE
NEW YORK, July 5 (AP)—Jack Dempsey has received nearly 2,000 wires from all over the world since he became ill. . . . What other sports figure—Babe Ruth excepted—could tie that? . . . Don Budge who was guaranteed $75,000 for 15 months as a pro, has passed the $35,000 mark.

Lawson Little appears to be coming into his own as a medal play golfer. . . . Another famous invalid who is doing all right, thank you, is Bill Klein, the "old arbitrator". . . . Billy Gons, who fights Mello Bettina in the Garden July 13th, starts training in Joe Louis' old spot at Pompton Lakes this week. . . . Remember the $800,000 Roosevelt raceway? It's now a two-bit parking lot.

TODAY'S GUEST STAR
Shirley Povich, Washington Post: "The suspicion is that the Nats can spot the Brooklyn Dodgers' four brain concussions, a strong streak of inherent lunacy and a complete misunderstanding of right and wrong and out-daffy 'em. . . . Brooklyn baseball is safe, sane and rank reactionary compared to the 1939 performances of the never-a-dull-moment Nats."

Lou Nova is picking up a few kopecks by making personal appearances with the Beer-Nova fight films in nearby small towns. . . . He gets 25 kopecks per appearance and averages three or four a day. . . . Nat Fleischer is flying to Venezuela to referee Joey Archibald vs. Simon Chaves Sunday afternoon. . . . Nat says it's the longest trip—3,700 miles—any guy ever made to referee a fight. . . . Quite a few of the boys who bet the Nats would be leading by 15 games on July 4 spent yesterday paying off.

ONE MINUTE INTERVIEW
Byron Nelson: "I'll settle for one quarter of the $50,000 I am supposed to get for winning the national open. . . . And even then I'd be getting about $4,000 more than Ralph Guidahl got the first time he won."

SOME MARATHON
CHICAGO, July 5 (AP)—They call it softball, but this group of Chicago boys played it the hard way in an Independence Day marathon test.

The two teams—Gunga Dins and the Dixies—began the game at sunrise and intended to play to sunset, but a merciful umpire called the contest off at noon after 75 innings. The Gungas led, 77 to 67.

After reaching New York the historic car remained on exhibition for a week at the Ford exposition building at the fair. Its return trip is being made via Philadelphia, Baltimore, Washington, Pittsburgh, Louisville, St. Louis, Kansas City, Oklahoma City, Dallas, Fort Worth, El Paso, Phoenix and Los Angeles. According to plans announced by

C. B. Ostrander, manager of the Dallas branch of the Ford Motor company, the 27,000,000th car, accompanied by a state police escort, is scheduled to arrive here at 11:00 a. m. The car will be welcome by Mayor Jones who will sign the car's famous log book. After the ceremony the car will continue its trip westward via Stanton, Midland and Odessa with a night stop at Peecos.

CROWNED CROWNED
ABILENE, July 5 (AP)—Iverson Martin of Fort Worth celebrates the Fourth of July by shooting on under par golf and taking the Abilene country club's invitation championship over Russell Crowner of Stamford, 9 and 8.

ALLEN BEATS BIHL
VERNON, July 5 (AP)—Mansel Allen of Lubbock won the Vernon invitation golf tournament championship with a three-up, independent day victory over his fellow townsman, Jodie Bihl.

Isn't a bad valet, though. Mixes hair and presses my pants once in a while. But he no spik Ingles. Frustrated and annoyed, Packy sat back. "This is an outrage," she declared. "Come, Miss North," urged Tacks. "Think of the girls that have been in far worse predicaments. Think of—of—well, Florence Nightingale. Think of the girls that are always being kidnapped by Chinese bandits. Think. . . ."

"Oh, shut up," snapped Packy. "I'd just as soon be kidnapped by Chinese bandits as by a madman without any manners and some kind of s—er—beasthen who can't say two words of English."

"You wrong Sukiyaki," said Tacks. "He isn't a heathen. He's probably got an older and better religion than you have."

"Oh, do keep still," said Packy irritably. "Keep still, I said."

For a long time silence reigned. The ambulance, clear of the city now, jolted its way into Long Island. Suddenly Packy spoke. "Did you," she asked suspiciously.

"I'm getting to it. At what might term the psychological moment, I broke the test tubes and permitted the fumes of these substances to intermingling. I may say that the experiment was successful."

"I don't in the least understand. I decided to conduct a small experiment in The Heel Tap. This time I went, bringing with me a quantity of test tubes. Certain of these contained a substance known as HCL. Hydrochloric acid to you. Others held common ordinary ammonia such as you would use to squirt in your husband's eyes or to clean fish or. . . ."

"I'm not at all surprised," said Packy sarcastically. "I. . . . Tacks said proudly, "I required a new title tonight. Hereafter I am to be known as, 'The Smoke-Maker.'"

LOS ANGELES, July 5 (AP)—The morals trial of the Rev. Joseph Jeffers and his wife, Zella, resumed after a holiday recess today for Deputy District Attorney E. Ernest Roll to continue reading transcripts of conversations taken over a recording device.

Tientsin Issue Comes First, Says Britain

TOKYO, July 5 (AP)—British Ambassador Sir Robert Leslie Craige indicated today forthcoming British-Japanese talks would be limited to the Tientsin controversy. Japanese wishes notwithstanding.
At a press conference the envoy said "it is definitely understood that the conferences will be confined to local issues connected with present conditions in Tientsin" where the Japanese imposed a blockade June 14 of British and French concessions.
Japanese sentiment, apparent everywhere, demands some guarantee of "British cooperation" not only in the North China port but with Japanese "aims" throughout China.
(In London yesterday Sir John Simon, chancellor of the exchequer, said the British government had no intention of complying with demands of Japanese spokesmen that it cease supporting Chinese currency in favor of currency of the Japanese-dominated federal reserve bank.)
A Domei (Japanese news agency) dispatch from Mukden, Manchoukuo, quoted a Japanese spokesman as reiterating that a complete change of British policy regarding Chinese Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek was a prerequisite for a settlement.
Sir Robert expressed moderate optimism about possible outcome of arbitration negotiations and said "I am convinced there are no problems at hand which cannot successfully be solved if approached by both sides in a spirit of good will." He warned, however: "I believe if forceful tactics are attempted a solution will be impossible; they might, on the contrary, lead to catastrophe."
Unofficial information available in Tokyo indicated that the blockade had proved a severe handicap to Japanese trade in North China.

FREES HAND, BUT NO RING FOUND

LOUISVILLE, Ky., July 5 (AP)—Mrs. Guy O. Hawks lost her amethyst ring and told her husband she thought she had dropped it down a drain pipe.
Hawk covered his right arm with axle grease and reached into the pipe. His hand became stuck.
Two hours later, with the help of two neighbors, a plumber, five patrolmen, two crowbars and three hacksaws, Hawks was freed.
Mrs. Hawks' ring was still lost.

BEHIND THE BUILD-UPS—

History Books Show It's A Good Bet Accident Will Decide Presidency

More than a year before the presidential elections, presidential buildups are going full blast. But if you think that the buildup is the main factor in choosing a president, you will want to read the real story of the presidential situation by Morgan Beatty. In this, the first of three articles, he tells about accidents that have made presidents. Later articles will tell about the hocus-pocus of presidential build-ups and about the third-term tempest.

By MORGAN M. BEATTY
AP Feature Service Writer
WASHINGTON — Accidents make presidents!
Polls or no polls, that's the fact. Here's how:
Thirty-one men, including Franklin D. Roosevelt, have occupied the White House.
Eighteen of them reached the top by accident — immediate accidents of political expediency, war or death.
Five inherited the presidency. They never could have made the grade without the benediction of a powerful predecessor; probably wouldn't have tried.
Six built themselves up—or allowed themselves to be built up—as presidential timber over a period of years; and they squeezed in that way. But far more who had tremendous build-ups missed the boat.

Only Two Were Clinches
Only two presidents demonstrated beforehand their unquestioned capacity to lead the nation. At least you have the word of many historians that such is the fact. These were Washington and Jefferson.
This does not mean, of course, that other presidents did not develop into great leaders, nor does it mean that other men, who never became presidents, were not fit to lead. It merely means that two Americans were a cinch for the presidency before their election almost by common consent.
Since 18 presidents were historical accidents, that means the odds are 3 to 2 that some accident has occurred—or will occur before 1940—to make the next president.

The first accidental president was Andrew Jackson. Before the battle of New Orleans, in the War of 1812, Old Hickory merely had been a frontier roisterer with lots of guts. After the battle he was the nation's hero, and no reward short of the White House would satisfy his admirers.
Battleships produced other presidents, but all the later heroes were duds as presidents: "Tippecanoe" Harrison, "Old Zach" Taylor, "Unconditional Surrender" Grant—poor executives, all. After Grant, the country would take no more warriors.
The accident of death sent five men to the White House, three of them after the assassination of a president.
Of the five, only one proved himself to be a great American by any yardstick — Theodore Roosevelt, McKinley's successor. Among that same five was the historians' nomination for Mediocre President No. 1—John Tyler. The others are judged in-between—Fillmore, Johnson (who was almost impeached), Chester A. Arthur, and Calvin Coolidge.

The rest of the accidentals were men chosen willy-nilly during the heat of a fight between figures who towered above them. All but one were what you'd expect from a grab-bag — such colorless statesmen as Polk, Fillmore, Pierce, Buchanan, Hayes, Garfield, Benjamin Harrison, and Harding.
That other man-from-the-grab-bag was truly great — Abraham Lincoln. He slipped in as a dark horse when the Republicans of Indiana and Pennsylvania refused to take New York's highly touted William H. Seward because of his friendships in the Catholic church.
Adams First To Inherit
In the presidential race, Lincoln won primarily because the South was divided between two giants of the day, Stephen A. Douglas, of Illinois, and John C. Breckenridge, of Kentucky.

MCKINLEY'S ASSASSINATION at a 1901 reception moved Theodore Roosevelt into the White House. Drawing shows the assassin, Leon Czolgoz, just as he fired. Handkerchief hides gun.

How Some Men Became President

WASHINGTON was a cinch because of his record.

JACKSON was rocketed into the job as a war hero.

HARDING was picked from the bottom in a political pile-up.

The first man to inherit the presidency was the one who followed Washington — John Adams.

Without the nod from Washington, Adams never would have beaten the coming Thomas Jefferson.
Jefferson, after he became president, advanced two of his satellites—Madison and Monroe. They were on the verge of tearing the first Republican party to pieces in a scrap between themselves, when Jefferson arranged a deal whereby his two fellow Virginians would take turn about as president.
Martin Van Buren — who wouldn't even commit himself on the immediate weather—inherited Andrew Jackson's blessing. The last of the five inheritors was genial William Howard Taft. Theodore Roosevelt dedicated his nomination to the Republican convention of 1908, with:
"You'll take Taft—or me!"
They took Taft, and that rotund judge became Teddy Roosevelt's great disappointment; Teddy thought Taft should have developed into a militant liberal.
But only six of twenty famous products of the presidential buildup made the grade. All of the 26 were — or are — famous. Do you know them?

Tomorrow: The hocus-pocus of the presidential buildup and how it falls oftener than it succeeds.
