HANSFORD COUNTY RAINFALL MEASURES 3 INCHES

NORTH WEST PART OF COUNTY HAS FOUR INCHES

Rainfall in inches: Spearman 3.0, Panhandle Plain 3.4, ending a period of 34 hours at 8 a. m. Wednesday morning Thursday.

Various reports from communities in Hansford County indicate an average rainfall above two and a half inches. The official report from Gruver gave that territory more than four inches of rain the past 24 hours, ending Thursday. Telephone circuits were broken by Morse, but report from Gruver indicated the same amount of rain at Morse as recorded at Gruver. Rainfall recorded by Fred Brandt, U. S. Weather recorder, measured 2.40 inches at 8 a. m. Thursday morning. This added to the .85 inch rainfall recorded last week is the greatest amount of moisture recorded in Spearman since last June when 10 inches fell during the month.

For the time being, Spearman is very nearly isolated. The approach to the small bridge on the other side of the Canadian river has been washed away, and the road closed. Several sections of the pavement on the road are suspended in mid-air, making it impossible for traffic to use the highway beyond Borner.

West of Spearman, C. J. Todd at the electrified irrigation farm reports the water above the bridge on Horse creek, and several areas of land above the West bank of the creek, flooded. This makes travel North and West of Spearman virtually impossible.

Ditches and bar pits both in the city, and on nearby roads are overflowing.

The Amarillo papers report rain general over the North Panhandle country.

Panhandle Press Meet Being Held at Amarillo

Amarillo, May 3, 1933—Newspaper men and women of the Panhandle will probe deeply into the present day newspaper problems here when the twenty-sixth annual convention of the Panhandle Press Association is held May 5, and 6. Topics to be discussed this year are more timely than they have ever been.

While many frills and furbelows of former conventions have been omitted, ample amusement has been provided. Among the entertainment features are the annual banquet tendered by Col. O. Thompson, a banquet and dance at the newly erected Amarillo Country Club, an old-time western barbecue by the Globe-News Publishing Company and an inspection of the new Panhandle-Plains Historical Society Museum at Canyon, Texas.

Sam P. Harben, secretary of the Texas Press Association, has announced definitely that he will attend the regional meeting. Lowery Martin, publisher of the Corsicana Daily Sun and president of the state organization is also expected to be present. Others prominent in newspaper circles who will be in attendance are Ralph Shuffer, of Odessa, president of the West Texas Press Association, and J. J. Taylor, "State Press" of the Dallas Morning News.

Mayor's Proclamation

WHEREAS The West Texas Chamber of Commerce for fifteen years has been a potent factor in the development of West Texas, and has fostered a program that has been of great benefit and value to this city; and

WHEREAS The program in which it is now engaged is of direct benefit to this city, provided we avail ourselves of its services and cooperate with the other splendid cities of West Texas under its banner in the promotion of common welfare of this section of Texas; and

WHEREAS The Fifteenth Annual Convention of the West Texas Chamber will be held in Big Springs on May 11, 12, and 13, and this city has been asked through our local civic organizations, our public officials, and the West Texas Chamber of Commerce director and committee to participate in the convention program;

THEREFORE by virtue of the authority vested in me as Mayor, I urge that as many of our citizens attend the convention in Big Springs as possible. I also urge that while in attendance at Big Springs they attend all the convention proceedings with a view to bring back to our city the many benefits of the program. It occurs to me that now is the time for West Texas to reassert its confidence in itself, and to strengthen the loyalty and enthusiasm that we have in our city, and for West Texas, and that this convention offers a splendid opportunity for all West Texans to do that very thing.

International Sunday School Lesson

By DR. J. E. MUMF

General Topic:

Jesus Faces The Cross.

Scripture Lesson:

Mark 10:32-45.

32. And they were on the way up to Jerusalem; and Jesus was going before them; and they were amazed; and began to tell them the things that were to happen unto him.
33. Saying, Behold, we go up to Jerusalem; and the Son of man shall be delivered unto the chief priest and the scribes; and they shall condemn him unto death, and shall deliver him unto the Gentiles.
34. And they shall mock him, and shall spit upon him, and shall scourge him, and shall kill him; and after three days he shall rise again.
35. And there come near unto him James and John, the sons of Zebedee, saying unto him, Teacher, we would that thou shouldst do for us whatsoever we shall ask of thee.
36. And he said unto them, What would ye that I should do for you?
37. And they said unto him, Grant unto us that we may sit, one on thy right hand, and one on thy left hand, in thy glory.
38. But Jesus said unto them, Ye know not what ye ask. Are ye able to drink the cup that I drink? or to be baptized with the baptism that I am baptized with?

39. And they said unto him, We are able. And Jesus said unto them, the cup that I drink ye shall drink; and with the baptism that I am baptized withal shall ye be baptized.

40. But to sit on my right hand or on my left hand is not mine to give; but it is for them for whom it hath been prepared.

41. And when the ten heard it, they began to be moved with indignation concerning James and John.

42. And Jesus called them to him, and said unto them, Ye know that they who are accounted to rule over the Gentiles lord it over them; and their great ones exercise authority over them.

43. But it is not so among you; but whosoever would become the great among you, shall be your minister.

44. And whatsoever would be first among you, shall be the servant of all.

45. For the Son of man also came not to be ministered unto, but to minister, and to give his life a ransom for many.

IF I WERE A LION

WHAT I WOULD WANT MY LIONS CLUB TO DO FOR OUR COMMUNITY.

By Vera Beth McClellan

EDITORS NOTE—This is the third essay printed from those receiving honors, and honorable mention in the recent Lions essay contest. Others will follow.

There are many projects that the Lions Club could undertake successfully. Perhaps the most helpful project would be to start a public library.

The library building should have at least two rooms, one room to serve as a book room and the other as a reading room. The reading room could be furnished with inexpensive furniture, and could be made into a pleasant and restful place.

A librarian who is interested in books and people should be placed in charge of the library. As many people discard their magazines and papers and would gladly donate them to the library, there would be no need to subscribe for them. Other people have books that are useless to them, or that they have read and will not use again, and they would much rather give them to the library than destroy them. Only the best books and magazines should be placed in the library. Books could be checked out for one week or two weeks, magazines checked out for one day, and papers should be left in the library reading room. The library would prove a help to everyone, and the people would be encouraged to read only the best literature.

The Lions Club could also undertake the job of trying to improve the streets of our city. The streets should be smoothed, because not only are the bumpy, rough streets hard on person's nerves and temper, but are also hard on their depression "tin lizzies" and "Chevies". People should be encouraged to help to keep the streets free of rubbish. Clean, smooth streets would do much to boost our community to strangers. The Lions Club could sponsor a monthly clean-up drive, in which vacant lots and alleys should be cleaned up, as well as streets and yards.

The Lions Club could sponsor an Amateur Garden Club every summer. Boys and girls between the ages of eight and eighteen would be allowed to join the club. The club could meet every two weeks to discuss their plans and difficulties, and they might have a picnic or party every month. The Lions Club could offer prizes for the best flowers and vegetables raised, for the most perfect or largest flower and vegetable or for the neatest and best garden.

Word Received Here Of Death of Former C. of C. Secretary

Word was received in Spearman Tuesday of this week that J. W. Ratekin, former Secretary of the Spearman Chamber of Commerce had taken his own life.

Information was rather meager coming to Burl Brockus from his mother, who assumed that the details were known in Spearman. Mrs. Brockus merely stated in the letter that she assumed Burl knew of his death which occurred in New Mexico some three weeks ago.

Friends of Mr. Ratekin assume that his ill health and lack of employment preyed upon his mind.

Many business men of Spearman who were closely associated with Mr. Ratekin while he was Secretary here, were shocked to hear the sad news.

Mr. Ratekin made an enviable record in Spearman, and his many friends grieve with the family in their recent loss.

Coming Next Week

A deal of interest in a proposal to divide the state of Texas, has been manifested in this section of the state. Newspapers in the North and South Plains country have been conducting voting campaigns to learn the opinions of their respective readers. In Spearman we have a High School teacher, Miss Maize, who is conducting a state-wide survey, as a part of her college work. More than ten thousand questionnaires have been sent out all over the state. Replies from prominent leaders are being received, and a number of these replies will be carried in next week's paper.

DON'T NAME IT

Report on Hansford Champion Garden

English peas up, onions doing fine, spinach mixed with weeds, cant tell to-date which is onions and which is spinach—okra not up, beans popping out here and there. Condition of earth—excellent—feel sure the prize garden has a mixture of New Mexico, Arizona and African soil.

Report of Weather

Last Friday—My reputation of being an honest man, and my character of a gentleman and a scholar, forbids me making the comments that come to my mind.

Saturday—Weather much better a very pleasant day to clean the house or water the garden.

Sunday—A fine morning, but a rather brisk wind blew up by the time the ladies had their houses cleaned—making it appropriate to clean house again Monday.

Monday—Just another day.

Tuesday—Fair and warmer.

Wednesday—Splattering rain greeted early risers. Those that did not rise so early only viewed the clouds.

Thursday—Report reserved for next weeks paper—if it rains as much as it ought to, will carry a big Banner story in next weeks Reporter—don't fail to tell your friends to subscribe for the Reporter and keep posted on the weather.

P. P. S. S.—the above comments were manufactured early Wednesday morning—since that time we can add that the late risers had a chance to see it rain—for further report on this weeks rain see write-up in this issue of the paper.

Mode Maize is the only conservative weather prophet in the Panhandle. Last July Mr. Maize prophesied a general rain in the county on or before May 9. A few days ago he changed the date to include May 15. Your'e good Mr. Maize, fact is you are darn near perfect.

With Profound Apologies To Will Merritt

Nothing could have happened more appropriate than for this writer to have heard a certain more or less prominent lady of this city berating Will Merritt for charging three dollars more for Co-ed dresses than was charged at a nearby city. Will may have his faults, but he was certainly not responsible for the fact that the editor, manager, printer, devil of the Spearman Reporter thought a figure six (6) would work just as well up-side down, as it would the way the factory meant it to work. Thus, last week the Reporter carried the tidings to the world that Mr. Merritt would gladly sell a co-ed dress for $9.75. It was all a terrible mistake, and hereafter the sixes in this newspaper office will be used ride side up, so that the price will read $6.75 instead of $9.75. There is only one way the friends of this paper can square the skipper of this publication with Will Merritt, and that is for you to rush down to the Merritt store and purchase a co-ed dress. Mind you, you will only have to pay $6.75 for these dresses, the same price you would pay in Chicago, London or any other city in the world.

How About Broom Corn?

The editor of this publication has been pulling for a big cotton crop in Hansford county, and for a few days the farmers planted thousands of acres on the streets in Spearman. Now we learn from several different sources that we were all wet on cotton especially since the farmers are not taking to the idea, and we respectfully submit the proposal that every farmer in Hansford county plant twenty acres of broom corn. In this last suggestion we are backed up by W. S. McNabb, who says land in Hansford will raise a plenty of broom corn—and Macought know. He declares that he has seen broom corn sell from $40.00 to $400.00 per ton, and he is of the opinion that broom corn will carry the farmers thru as a crop of wheat. What do you think? Would you

Coming Next Week

In the mixed-up jumble of new laws being enacted by our state legislature, the average citizen does not understand it. What is the I.A.W. Next week the Reporter will publish an understandable interpretation of the new mortgage law, written by an attorney who can reduce the legal terms to plain old English.

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC—Any erroneous reflection upon the reputation or standing of any individual, firm or corporation that may appear in the columns of the Spearman Reporter will be corrected when called to the attention of the management.

We confess to a good deal of trouble in figuring out just what direction the ship of state is headed these days. We have a great deal of confidence in the pilot, who has demonstrated that he understands the art of navigation, but we would like a little more information about the port towards which we are steering.

Like almost everybody else, we are thoroughly in accord with the effort to remedy the outstanding evils of our economic life. We applaud Mr. Roosevelt's vigorous attack upon the problems which confronted him when he took office. We agree that the banking situation was thoroughly bad and that it sure needs complete overhauling and much tighter control, in the interest of depositors. We admit that the government expenses needed repairing and are cheered by the news that the new Administration has cut a thousand million dollars off the budget. We would be the last to quarrel with any intelligent effort to relieve farmers of their distress, to lighten the load upon mortgage debtors, to put men back to work in industry, to keep the railroads running and the insurance companies out of bankruptcy.

We are somewhat concerned, however, as to the means proposed to bring about these things. We do not see how it is going to be possible for the Federal government, for example to go into vast schemes of reclamation, to make huge grants of funds for doles to the out of work, to spend money on great programs of public works, without increasing, instead of lightening, the burden upon the taxpayers. We do not think the Administration contemplates anything so foolish as to use the revived credit of the Government, brought about by the balancing of the budget, as a means plunging the nation still deeper into debt. But we hardly see how the big enterprise which we read about in the dispatches from Washington can be undertaken without doing just that.

We have always regarded it as the sound American principle that Government should content itself with the protection of the weak and incompetent against exploitation by the strong and unscrupulous, and not undertake to guarantee to any man or interest anything more than a square deal. We do not think the United States has reached the stage where only a paternalistic Federal power can save us from the consequences of our own folly, but we cannot escape reading that implication into some of the projects now under consideration in Washington.

Can the present state legislature expect to be re-elected for another term on the basis of the accomplishments to-date? This true that it is rather premature to speculate on the outcome of an election that is so far in the distance. However, the readers of this publication will remember that this writer followed up the last election with the statement that he would not forget. The writer urged the readers to keep in touch with the political situation at Austin, and constantly prod their respective state officials that they were sent to Austin as the servants of the voters—it now appears that this was rather good advice.

It is not the purpose of this writer to censor the work being done by our Representative, B. L. Rogers, and Senator, Clint C. Small, but viewing the state legislature as a whole, the most charitable thing one can say is they don't seem to know what it is all about. The learned gentlemen have been legislating or attempting to legislate on oil and gas, and the duties the Railroad Commission should perform. Oil has dropped to about 10c per barrel, the lowest in history, with one possible exception, and this is in the face of national inflation, and upward trend of prices. At the last minute, the state legislature has passed temporary mortgage relief measures, just in time to stop Sheriff's sales on the first Tuesday of each month, and mind you, after considerable legal action had been taken, in many individual cases. Now we understand there is a rather hazy moratorium bill that has been passed, the provisions of which place the burden of the proof on the farmer, or the individual who owns the mortgaged property, to prove that a forced sale at the time being will entail unnecessary loss.

So far as this publication has learned, the present legislature has not made any emphatic progress in the matter of the economical program they were elected to effect. Beginning by refusing to cut their own salary, they have progressed to date by threatening to reduce the pay of District Judges, all sixty or seventy of them. The Rangers were to be cut in salary, but so far as we can learn the big boys are still drawing their war time salaries. In the face of all this apparent refusal to lower the state expenditures, we understand that the administration wants to add two or three more large salaries and expense accounts to the highway commission, and take over the railroad commission work, so, perhaps, another commission be appointed to handle each detail of the work.

The most colossal blunder of the entire administration program appears to be in the office. Daily papers tell us that the splendid work of distributing the relief funds in the state is to be taken out of the hands of the four regional Chamber of Commerce organizations of the state and turned over to a paid organization out of Austin, with the state legislature appropriating funds for this paid organization to function. And this move in the face of the fact that the state of Texas has established a national record in the matter of economical distribution of funds to the unemployed.

This morning's (Tuesday) paper tells us the legislature has passed a beer bill, or rather a measure that will allow either one or several votes on beer. It is rather hazy, but it seems that the political sub-divisions of the state can stage an election on July 1 to see whether the respective unit of the state will be dry or wet. Then on August 26, the entire state will hold an election, and if the state constitution is amended so that three point two will be legal, the respective units that are wet will begin to swing down their beer—those that are dry will have to take an automobile trip or ship their kegs in as pot-tery. If our interpretation of this brilliant legislation is correct there is practical assurance, in the minds of the law makers that the constitutional amendment will carry at the August 26 election.

While our state legislature is spending their time on race track and beer legislation, a school situation exists that has the entire country in a quandary. A deficit in the school funds now exist, with a much larger one apparent, and the possibility of the state apportionment per scholastic being cut to below $8.00 per student. It is generally an accepted fact that the schools of the state cannot operate on the same standard as in the past with the state appropriation cut in half—Thousands of parents school officials and the coming generation are interested in finding out what the legislature is doing to do with this problem, than they are to swing three or four bet on races under pari-mutual regulations, or regulate gas, railroad commissions, insurance, or what not.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH

"Adam and Fallen Man" will be the subject of the Lesson sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, Sunday May 7. The Golden Text is from Hosea 14: "O Israel, return unto the Lord thy God; for thou hast fastened by thine iniquity. Among the passages to be read from the bible will be the following from Roman 8: "There is, therefore, now no condemnation to them which are in Christ Jesus, who walk not after the flesh, but after the spirit. For the law of the spirit of life in Christ Jesus hath made me free from the law of sin and death." The lesson-sermon will also include from the Christian Science textbook by Mary Baker Eddy, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," one of which will be as follows: (p. 534): "Paul says in his epistle to the Romans: The carnal mind is enmity against God; for it is not indeed can be. So then they are subject to the law of God, neither in the flesh cannot please God. But ye are not in the flesh, but in the spirit, if so be that the spirit of God dwell in you. "There will be greater mental opposition to the spiritual, scientific meaning of the Scriptures than there has ever been since the Christian era began. The serpent, material sense, will bite the heel of the woman, — will struggle to destroy the spiritual idea of love; and the woman, this idea, will bruise the head of lust. The spiritual idea has given the understanding a foothold in Christian Science."

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

Captained From Page One

come that he should be received up, he steadfastly set his face to go to Jerusalem—Luke, 9:51. Time: March A. D. 30, in the last month of Christ's earthly life. Place: Perea, the region on the east of Jordan, Jericho, on the way to Jerusalem. Introduction Who so finds his greatness in services will make the larger contribution to the common good the greater he becomes; forget himself, he will find a realm which, to his surprise, he will remember; losing his life, he will find it. Here is a new tude, a new form of self expression, which itself is greater. Andrew Sled.

Jesus' 'Cup' and 'Baptism' vs. 31 and 39.

There is a double meaning to Jesus' prophecy that they are to be his cup and baptism. Be-

Jesus Foretells His Death. vs.

Behold, we go up to Jerusalem and the Son of man. Christ orite designation of himself, fying the divine assumption of complete humanity. It is used here with especial fitness, because it was as representative man that Christ died on the cross, making an atonement for the sins of mankind. Shall be delivered unto the chief priests and scribes.—The members of the Sanhedrin the chief priests (former high priests) scribes (men learned in the sacred law), and elders (heads of the great Jewish clans). The high priest was the seventy-first member, and president. And they shall condemn him to death, and shall deliver him unto the Gentiles: The Roman rulers of Palestine; for, though the Sanhedrin could condemn to death, the Romans kept the actual execution of the condemned within their power.

The Disciples' Worldly Ambition. vs. 35-37

It is one of the sorriest experiences of Jesus' career that now, when the shadow of the cross begins to fall across his path, he had to see them disputing about honor and rewards. When he had expressed regret over the young ruler's unwillingness to give up riches for the kingdom's sake, Peter had boastfully answered: We have left all and followed thee; what shall we have? (Matt. 19:27.) Jesus had assured them that their reward was to be a magnificent one (Mark 10:29, 30), but how little they understood the nature of the coin in which it should be paid. And now James and John come, with their mother, begging the honor seats by Jesus's throne. One may suppose that the disciples ignored the seriousness of the impending crisis and dangers of victory; especially in the face of Jesus' to them—cryptic word "shall rise again," recorded at the close of the preceding paragraph (ver. 34). "Ambition for heavenly greatness is a virtue; for any other, a sin" (Granel). Reason for The Ambition of James and John. There were reasons why James and John thought they should be given the places of highest honor. If, as is probable, Salome was Mary's sister, they were closely related to Jesus; they were of the trio of his favorites; they were among the very first to be called. Were they afraid that Peter would
