OLD MAN COYOTE WARNS PETER

DERHAPS you think that when Old Man Coyote just missed catching Peter Rabbit because Peter managed to reach the old bramble-tangle first he lost his temper. That shows that you don't know Old Man Coyote. If Reddy Fox had been in his place very likely Reddy would have lost his temper and finally gone off in a great rage. Old Man Coyote did nothing of the kind. No, sir, he did nothing of the kind. He just spat out the little tuft of white hair which he had pulled out of the middle of Peter's tail, so near to catching Peter had he been, and then peered in through the bramble and grinned at Peter. If he was disappointed, and of course he was, he didn't show it. And as for being angry, there wasn't the least trace of a temper.

"Do You Know, Peter, That It's Bad Business to Meddle in the Affairs of Other Folks?" Continued Old Man Coyote.

"Almost got you, Peter, that time," said he, breathing very hard, for he had had a long run. "It's lucky for you you've kept your legs oiled up and haven't let them get rusty."

He grinned again, and Peter, panting for breath in the bramble-tangle, felt almost like grinning back in spite of the fact that he had been so terribly frightened and that he had lost that little bunch of hair right out of the middle of his nose too big tail.

"Do you know, Peter, that it's bad business to meddle with the affairs of other folks?" continued Old Man Coyote. "Now tonight you meddled. You warned Honker the Goose through Paddy the Beaver, and so cheated me out of a good dinner. People who meddle generally get into trouble. You came pretty near furnishing me with that dinner you cheated me out of, Peter; pretty near. One jump more and I'd have had you. You wouldn't have made me as good a dinner as one of those geese, but you would have done very well."

Old Man Coyote licked his chops and Peter had a little shivery, crawly feeling all over.

"And now I am going to give you fair warning, Peter," went on Old Man Coyote, still grinning, "that unless you get me a goose, a fat one, mind you, to make up for the one you cheated me out of you'll never get back to the dear Old Brier Patch. You see I'm giving you fair warning I must have a goose or I will have you. Now don't you wish you hadn't meddled?"

"No," replied Peter bravely enough, though inside his heart sank as he thought of how far away the dear, safe Old Brier Patch was. "I'm glad I did it. If that was meddling it was a good kind of meddling, and I'm glad I had the chance and wasn't afraid to. Of course I am sorry if you are hungry, but if you would learn to eat grass and clover and bark and berries as I do, you never would need to go hungry. But I'm glad, ever so glad, that I saved those geese and I'd do it again if I had the chance. Perhaps it was bad business for me, but it was good business for them, and I'm glad I meddled."

"All right, Peter," replied Old Man Coyote as he turned to trot away. Remember what I said and get me a fat goose if you want to get back to the dear Old Brier Patch," and with a parting grin he disappeared.

"It's a queer world," sighed Peter. "It's certainly a queer world when helping others gets you into trouble yourself. But I'm glad I did it. I am so."

Texas Daily Oil Output Is Radically Decreased

Austin, Texas, October 1.—The daily average production of petroleum in Texas during August totaled 1,141,650 barrels, compared to 1,044,430 barrels in July and 821,775 in August, 1930, according to the monthly report of the Bureau of Business Research of The University of Texas. Permits were granted for 514 new wells, compared to 532 in July and 605 in August, 1930. A total of 414 wells were completed in August, compared to 562 in July and 432 in August of last year. Producers totaled 421 oil wells and seven gas wells, compared to 448 oil wells and thirteen gas wells in July and 220 oil wells and 39 gas wells in August of last year.

"The shut-down of production by martial law in East Texas went into effect the morning of August 17," the report said. "It has been estimated that up to September 3, this shut-down had kept 11,000,000 barrels or more off the market, either unproduced or stored. According to figures of the American Petroleum Institute, the average daily production of crude petroleum for the United States fell from 2,608,250 barrels in the week ending August 22 to 1,751,530 barrels in the week ending August 29, a decrease of about one-third. Analysis of production data by fields show that practically the entire reduction was due to the shut-down in East Texas, as losses and gains in other fields of the country approximately off-set each other. The East Texas wells were permitted to reopen September 5. In the period of the shut-down, however a number of completions and a large number of locations had been made in East Texas; for instance during the last week of August, a total of 98 locations and 56 completions were reported. The latter part of August witnessed activity in other oil producing fields of the State. Included in these were the two completions in the Saxet field, near Corpus Christi, the extension of the Darst Creek field and activities in the Big Lake pool in Reagan County, and Crane as well as in Pecos and Ward counties in West Texas."

The home demonstration agent of Floyd County, Texas, supervised the work of fourteen women's clubs which canned four thousand quarts of vegetables during the present season.

The chamber of commerce at Spur, Texas, maintains a fully equipped canning kitchen for the free use of the public for canning the surplus food products produced this season.

Lathe Tile Irrigation Makes Good Gardens

Crowell, Oct. 1.—Gardens in West Texas are another case of where there is a will there is a way, according to report of the home agent of Foard county, Miss Dosca Hale, who states that the 4-H pantry demonstrators who are using the lathe tile irrigation method are getting plenty of vegetables to eat and to can. Mrs. Tom Cooper, pantry demonstrator for the Vivian Home Demonstration Club, has some tomatoes under irrigation and some that are not. The irrigated vines are waist high and full of fruit and the peas that are irrigated have been bearing since early summer and are still blooming freely. Those not irrigated, both tomatoes and peas, are dried up.

A four year old Jersey cow owned by a farmer of Meadow, Texas, was recently designated a gold medal animal by the American Jersey Cattle Club, which is the highest distinction that can be given for production. The cow, Masterman's Pearl S, produced thirteen thousand pounds of milk and six hundred and seventy-five pounds of fat under test in one year.

Watch Your Milk Supply

A recent investigation of loose milk supplies in one of our most densely populated areas, has emphasized the importance of buying, if possible, only bottled milk—and, at any rate, of buying only milk distributed by a reputable organization. The investigation produced the fact that of 87 samples of so-called "dipped milk" purchased over a widespread area, 90 per cent was contaminated.

Many families are unable to purchase bottled milk, which customarily costs about four cent more a quart than loose or "dipped" milk. It is these families that should exert the greatest care in determining where their milk comes from, and the reliability of the organization behind it. Pure milk is one of the finest and most necessary of foods—impure milk may be a menace to health.

In a recent open letter to the housewives of his state, the New York Commissioner of Public Health said that "the present decrease in per capita consumption of milk and milk products... due to curtailed income, is viewed with grave concern by health authorities... Milk is the most nearly complete food—Milk should form an important part of the diet for every individual, and particularly for growing children..." The Commissioner stated that a pint of milk a day for each adult and a quart for each child, either as a beverage or in foods, is "a desirable investment for a balanced, healthful diet."

All of the state highways in Hale County, Texas, are now paved with concrete, a total of sixty-seven miles radiating in four directions from Plainview.

GET THE HABIT—TRAY Merritt

National Sunday School Lesson

By DR. J. E. NUNN

OCTOBER 4, 1931

Topic:—The Macedonian Lesson:—Acts 16:6-15; 17:1-9. And they went thru Phrygia and Galatia, forbidding the Holy Spirit to speak the word in Asia; and when they were come to Mysia, they assayed to go into Bithynia; and the Spirit suffered them not; passing by Mysia, they came to Troas.

an ideal selection. His Jewish mother and grandmother, Eunice and Lois (2 Tim. 1:5) had brought the boy up with care, giving him a priceless knowledge of the Bible and forming his character so that he was honored not only in Lystra but in Iconium. Timothy now starts on with the great traveler, and his companion Silas. He is to be with Paul much of the time through the years to come, and to help him in many ways. Paul speaks of him as his "beloved son" in the letters which he sent him during his last days.

Led By The Spirit

So the two missionaries, thus happily reinforced by Timothy, proceeded westward through the cities of Phrygia and southern Galatia, everywhere leaving with the churches the decrees of the Jerusalem council, and greatly strengthening the faith of the churches, so that they increased in number every day—a splendid growth testifying to the presence of the Holy Spirit with them in their labors. But the presence of the Spirit directed them in an unexpected way.

The City of Troas (Troy) v. 8

"They came down to Troas." They turned westward to the Aegean Sea, and to the seaport—Troas. Troas was Troy, the city which Homer by his Iliad made one of the most famous cities in the world. Homer's Troas, however, and eight other ancient ruined cities one on top of the other, is situated a little way from the Troas which Paul visited. "Troas was a great port of the Roman Empire. Its sheltered situation behind the island of Tenedos on the edge of the province of Asia and therefore nearer the real center of the empire than Rome itself, led Julius Caesar to contemplate the wisdom of moving his capital thither. Constantine balanced the claims of Troas and Byzantium as the eastern seat of the Roman Empire, and it was only by a turn of the hand that Byzantium won.

The Man of Macedonia Acts 16:9

"And a vision appeared to Paul in the night." Paul was a man of visions. His intimate fellowship with the Holy Spirit bore fruit in significant dreams and in more open physical manifestation which throughout this career directed his course and comforted and strengthened him in times of peril.

"There was a man of Macedonia standing." He would be recognized as from Macedonia by his costume, which Paul had seen on the streets of Toas. Luke, who probably was from Philippi in Macedonia, joined Paul's party at Troas. Luke, who probably was from Philippi in Macedonia, joined Paul's party at Troas, and it may have been conversations with him that were divinely enforced by this vision. "Saying, come over into Macedonia, and help us." Macedonia was just across the Aegean Sea from Troas. It was the country north of Greece, made famous by its world-conquering ruler, Alexander the Great, nearly four centuries before this time.

Paul's Prompt Obedience. vs. 10.

"And when he had seen the vision, straightway we sought to go forth into Macedonia." This is the first of the "we" passages in the Acts, signifying by the pronoun that Luke had added himself to the little missionary band. Note the promptness with which the vision was obeyed. "I think I see

Billy Herman

Billy Herman, sensational second baseman of the Louisville Colonels, was purchased recently by Manager Hornsby for the Chicago Cubs, the price being rumored to be $50,000. He was to have reported at the end of the season, but Hornsby had called him in and put him at work on the second bag. Herman has been called the best in the American association.

One-twentieth acre of irrigated strawberries produced an income of $175 this past spring for J. L. Jordan of Bailey county who peddled them in Muleshoe. Last year this patch returned $165.

Paul leaping from his couch, in the burning certainty that God had spoken, and sending Luke post-haste down to the harbor to see when the next ship was likely to set sail. The vision must be carried out in action. We must interpret our bright gleams in instant duty."—Rev. George H. Morrison. "Concluding that God had called us to preach the gospel unto them." The word translated "concluding" implies careful consideration on the part of the little group of four.

The Voyage to Europe. v. 11

"Setting sail therefore from Troas, we made a straight course to Samothrace." Samothrace is an island in the archipelago off the coast of Thrace and opposite the mouth of the Hebrus. It has an area of about thirty square miles, and had in it a mountain five thousand feet high.

"And the day following to Neapolis." "Neapolis" means "New City," the same as "Newton" and "Naples." Neapolis, the modern Kavalla, is the seaport of Philippi, ten miles to the east-southeast of it.

"And from thence to Philippi." This city was named after its builder, King Philip of Macedonia, the father of Alexander the Great. Near it were famous gold mines which yielded that monarch thirty million dollars a year. Almost exactly a century before Paul's arrival one of the world's most important battles was fought on the plain west of the city, the battle between Octavius and Antony on the one side and Brutus and Cassius on the other, the former being victors, so that Octavius finally became the Emperor Augustus. "Which is a city of Macedonia." The country north of Greece, at that time a Roman province. Under Philip and Alexander, Macedonia was mistress of the world.

The First European Convert

"And a certain woman named Lyda." Some think she was so called because she came from Lyda, the little country on the western coast of Asia Minor whose capital was Sardis and which also contained Thyatira and Philadelphia; but Lyda was a common name for women. "A seller of purple." "Of the city of Thyatira." One of the seven cities to which the Holy Spirit addressed letters in Revelation. "Whose heart the Lord opened to give heed unto the things which were spoken by Paul." He was the principal speaker here as always. "Did you ever see a robin nest in June, full of the little half-clothed, gray birds, which seem to call mouth and pin-feathers? Why ever the old robin of your nest with a worm on its back, or other food, the open mouth all the world top of the nest with noisy peep. Lyda's open heart was full of hunger like that for the riches of spiritual food which Paul was so capable of bestowing."—Rev. Louis Albert Banks, D. D.

Lydia's Hospitality. vs. 15.

"Come into my house and abide there." "St. Luke's story of Lyda is the place where every woman's life should be at its best—in her home. Lyda's hospitality is perhaps the highest type of Christian womanhood. Her home ought to be the highest place of honor; the seat of her throne. What she does for her society will be in her home, and in the after-time. Every woman ought to cultivate the title of lady in its old acceptation—'breadwinner'—to her own folk first, and then to strangers."—R. W. Barbour. "When Lyda became a Christian, she was true to her nature and true to the training of her life. She had always been busy, she would remain so. But now the kingdom of the kingdom would come first."—Margaret E. Sangster.

"The open heart reveals her captivity; the open house her generosity."

Lynx Defeat Borger Bulldogs; Score 24-7

Friday the twenty-fifth, the fighting Lynx staged a come back from their Miami defeat the preceding Friday by defeating the powerful Borger Bulldogs 24-7, and the winning of which proved net in the shadow of their goal post and held the Bulldogs for downs. The home boys then started a punting game that got the ball out of dangerous territory. Then the quarter ended with the score of 0-0. Early in the second quarter Tindle, Lynx right end caught a long pass from Vernon and scored. The Lynx failed to score the extra point. Later in the second quarter Owen, Lynx quarter scored through the Borger line, again the Lynx failed on try for extra point. In the third quarter the Lynx full, Gamble, behind a fighting line, scored two touchdowns. Both tries for point were missed. In the fourth quarter a series of penalties against the Lynx, a good passing game on the part of the Borger boys ending in a successful pass to Terry, and a short line plunge rewarded the Bulldogs with a touchdown. The try for point from placement was good. Shortly after this the game ended, Lynx 24; Borger 7. All of the Lynx showed up good, as did most of the Bulldogs, but the outstanding star of the game was Terry, Borger safety man.

GUESS WHO?

The world is made up of all kinds of people, but we have in our school a Napoleon, whose name will stand out above all others in the years to come. His children's children will read the noble history of their great grandfather, which will be recorded in all books reserved for the lives of nobles and braves of the twentieth century, such as Whiz Bang or College Humor.

This gentleman is an outstanding character in Spearman High School. He is a leader in the school activities, a good sport, and one who is loved by all, especially the girls. He is a real "Prince Charming" and heart-breaker.

He is little but loud, has a smiling but not handsome face. He has a clinging attitude, the kind that clings to everything. He appears to be very studious when Prof. is around, otherwise Oh!

Our school is indeed proud of the honor of having with us such an outstanding person to share with us the joy and pleasure of school life.

Mrs. Snider asked Prof. for some money the other day. Prof. said: "Do you want an old five or a new one?"

Mrs. Snider: "A new one of course."

Prof: "Well here it is and I have four dollars to the good."

LYNX LORE

Extra! It is rumored that a distinguished member of the Junior class is going on a diet, at least he remained in a car while refreshments were being served.

What are we going to do to save our Senior Papa? The other morning he was seen escorting the Math teacher to school. Is that against school regulations, I ask you?

Monday there were three young boys who walked to town. They should give ample information so look them up for the reason of the night exercises.

It appears that Gertrude is very popular. Especially at the Junior party given, it seems, to Senior girls.

We are all proud of the Senior dignity. Ask Beatrice.

Is it not true that Joyce is just a little Madden?

It is rather interesting to know that some of the boys and girls have the old school spirit, as Evelyn and Merle had an engagement with two popular high school boys.

HOME ECONOMICS CLUB

Last Thursday afternoon from 3:15 to 4:00 all Home Economics girls met to organize a Home Ec Club. There were seven old members and twenty-six new members making thirty three in all. The following officers were elected:

President, Vivian Close; Vice President, Bernice Vernon; Secretary and Treasurer, Lometa Buchner; Reporter, Gertrude Howerton. The president appointed a program committee to plan the program for the year. They are: Eula Owen, Mable Easley and Chloe Howerton.

Orene McClellan, who received her degree in Home Ec. from Texas Tech. was elected honorary member of the club.

Our next meeting will be on Thursday night, October 1. At this meeting we will initiate all the new members.

CHAPEL NOTES

Friday morning, September 24, the entire student body convened in the auditorium for chapel. After the announcements we were entertained by some of our school talent. There was a reading by little Miss McKay and one by Charles Patten Archer. The Choral Club rendered three selections. Coach Billy Jarvis gave a talk on the Borger-Spearman game and Prof. Snider gave a speech on the works of the student body. This was enjoyed by the entire school and the visitors also.

Monday morning the high school met in the study hall and was entertained by Rev. Bogue. This was greatly enjoyed by all and added to our school more interest.

A Dalhart man recently offered to trade a house and lot for wheat at thirty-five cents per bushel.

WHEN WILL GOOD TIMES RETURN? IS A QUESTION THAT CONFRONTS WORLD

R. L. SNIDER, Supt.

The leading economist tells us that business has turned the corner, and the worst is over. Statements like this is what we like to hear and is a pleasing topic, but until a new code of habits have been established, I do not see how we are to make much progress. We must learn to take up the slack, learn how to use our leisure time, quit throwing our dimes to the wind, and once more come to the realization that it is the leakage that counts.

We need more boys and girls who play the game of building, building up health, energy and capital for their work. Boys and girls who are familiar with history recall that men like Washington, Lee, Lincoln, and Franklin fall under the type I have mentioned above. In other words I believe we have been over stimulated the past ten years, too great a stimulus for the amount of ready money we can call our own has a tendency to play no small part in the present day depression. Hence I contend a new code of habits must at this time of the game will be a wonderful help. Learn to budget our time, how to apply our leisure moments. The good books, the sunsets, the forests, the birds and the forest that Emerson, Lowell, Longfellow and a host of other great men have sung about, seem to have lost some of their appeal. We have too many people in the United States traveling 60 miles per hour to hurry up and get in front of a drug store to sit there for three hours—this is what I mean when I stated that our leisure hours should be taken care of in a different way.

In conclusion may I impress you that I do not blame Tom and Mary so much as I do their "Santa Claus." Can it not be truly said, "We like sheep have all gone a stray."

MRS. TROWER OPENS SCHOOL MUSIC STUDIO

Mrs. Trower is now teaching music in our school. We are exceedingly glad of this. She has two classes and about eleven pupils.

Mrs. Trower is an experienced musician and we feel assured that she will be a great help to those who are now working under her. She is also organizing a rhythm orchestra which will be of benefit to the school.

All those interested in the music see Mrs. Trower in the music studio, where she gives lessons. The work is interesting and educational and Mrs. Trower is a capable teacher.

SENIOR ACTIVITIES

Owen Pendergraft of the class of '21 has joined our ranks the past week. This makes six post graduates attending S. H. S.

Eula Owen was absent two days last week on account of illness, but is back in school again now.

Word comes from the hospital in Amarillo that Mac Richards, one of our Senior girls, is recovering rapidly from her operation last week.

The Senior class is exceedingly proud of the Seniors who played football Friday, as well as the rest of the team. Carl Owen and D. C. Gamble made three of the four touchdowns made Friday in the Borger game. Carl making one and D. C. two.

JUNIOR CLASS NEWS

The Juniors are very glad to have one of our sick members back with us again, Harry Haines. He has just returned from the hospital at Shattuck. Another Junior who has been in the hospital at Shattuck is Vivian Close. She will return Wednesday. We will be very glad to have them back with us again.

The Juniors had a party at Bob Archer's ranch last Wednesday night. We played several games, after which sandwiches, cookies, and lemonade were served.

The Juniors are all studying hard so that they will be ready for the six-weeks exams.

SOPHOMORE

The Sophomores would be good pupils for the debating club as we have been debating about a week whether or not we should have a party or a picnic. It is true that a picnic would be nice, but we had so many last year, we think that it would be more suitable to have a party.

We are very glad to have Katherine Sealey to enroll in our class.

Tom Walker and Jean Lyon of course are the best ones in English II, but they do not set close together. Figure that out for yourself.

The Sophomore class has a few wonderful tennis players. They say they are not afraid to go up against any Junior team.

We wonder why Vera Beth McGettigan likes to play tennis so well every afternoon after school. (For more information see Fred Holt.)

SEVENTH GRADE B

All of the pupils of the seventh B division are very glad that B division has started and all doing their best. Our teachers are Mr. Finley, Mrs. Sheets, Mrs. Gandy, Mr. Gunn and Miss Pearson.

The girls of the seventh grade are all trying out for basketball. We haven't decided who will be on the first team, but will know in about a week.

Helen McLeod, Lois Bowling, Juanita Hall, Aleene Hall, Lois Foster, and Ina Mackie played the eighth grade Monday at noon. The score was six to two in favor of the seventh grade.

Seventh B boys played the eighth grade in football the 16th and 17th. The first boys in the game were Ralph Bennet, fullback, Richard Sollers, halfback, Oscar Reimer, quarterback, Alvin Edge, halfback, A. J. Curtis, Irvin Wilson, left end, Leo Elmore, left tackle, Clovis Uptergrove, right end, J. W. Burgis, right tackle, line men were James White, C. D. Haynes, Rodney Hammond. The game ended 0 to 0.

THIRD GRADE A

We are still working hard and progressing nicely with our studies.

We have selected for our room mother Mrs. C. W. Smith.

Mrs. R. C. Birdwell visited our room Monday afternoon. We are always happy to have visitors, and extend to our parents a cordial invitation to visit us at any time.

Several of our pupils are bringing pot plants and pictures, and we are going to make our room just as attractive as possible.

THIRD GRADE A

The past week has been a busy

On the day of the 18th we met the eights and played them again. The same boys played again. The score was 13 to 0 in favor of the 7th. We are glad to have Mr. Finley for a teacher and a football coach.

Miss Pearson said she would give a party to the grade that won the most games this season. We are playing very hard to get that party.

SIXTH GRADE B

Very little of importance has happened to us this week. C. D. Haines came to school yesterday with his neck all bandaged up. Mrs. Sheets thinks it was caused from turning around so much. Football is progressing nicely, but Miss Pearson has announced that we must make passing grades in order to play on the team. That means we must study.

We had a letter Monday from our room mother, Mrs. Converse. She said she was coming to see us soon.

We have been learning "America" and some of us like the poem so well that we study on it every day at recess over in Miss Norman's room. For English we are learning "kinds of sentences," and "Nouns." We have been having a list of thirteen words to learn to spell. When we miss one we have to remain in and write the whole list over twenty times. Some of us miss the same words over every day. We believe thirteen is an unlucky number, and we do wish Miss Pearson would either erase one or add another.

FIFTH GRADE A

If you do not know the Fifth A won the Billy Goat. We are indebted to Mr. Smith for it and we are going to take good care of it until it graduates from Spearman High. He makes a good Lynx mascot.

Billy Philyaw was absent two days last week on account of illness.

Our room mother, Mrs. Archer visited us last Thursday.

We are making an African sand table. You should see our wild animals.

We have twenty five pupils in our room. Our class officers are: President, Martha Delon Kirk; Secretary, R. L. McClellan; Reporter, Billy Philyaw; Football captain, R. E. Sanders. Class colors are blue and gold.

FOURTH GRADE B

Florence Harbison went to Amarillo Sunday to visit her father who is in the Northwest hospital there.

Ernest Rosenbaum went to the Amarillo fair Tuesday.

Most of the Fourth B attended the football game Friday.

THIRD GRADE B

We are still working hard and progressing nicely with our studies.

We have selected for our room mother Mrs. C. W. Smith.

Mrs. R. C. Birdwell visited our room Monday afternoon. We are always happy to have visitors, and extend to our parents a cordial invitation to visit us at any time.

Several of our pupils are bringing pot plants and pictures, and we are going to make our room just as attractive as possible.

THIRD GRADE A

The past week has been a busy

one for the children in our room. We have been reviewing the forty five combinations and those persons who could say them in a minute were: Verna Gail Allen, Dorothy Vickery, Janelle Womble, Virginia White, Betty Jean Morton, Jihhy Tice, Roy Reed, Ledru Jacobs and Benjamin Baker. These boys and girls have studied hard and their names were put on the board in colored chalk.

Our room mothers, Mrs. Jesse Womble and Mrs. Vernon have both visited us.

We are sorry to report that Estelle Baley is absent on account of sickness.

SECOND GRADE A

We are very glad to have two new pupils enroll in our class today. They are little Joyce Dulaney and Joan Dixon. We now have 37 in our room and all doing excellently. For our special project now we are making health posters. We will be glad to have the parents visit our room any time, also to come to our P. T. A meetings.

SECOND GRADE B

Three of our pupils have withdrawn since the beginning of school. They are: Henry, Wyman Thomas, and Leon Smith. Leon has moved to Gruver and will attend school there. We are sorry to lose these pupils.

We have our new second grade readers now, and we are very proud of them. They contain many animal stories. We have already made many of the animals that we intend to study about. We have also made a circus.

The second grade hopes to have all the parents to join the P. T. A. Mrs. Ging, our room mother is going to help us put on a membership campaign and each one is going to help her.

We are sorry that George Walker is sick this week and cannot attend school, but we hope he will be back soon.

FIRST GRADE A

We are sorry to report our regular teacher, Mrs. Tuttle, is still sick. For this reason we haven't yet organized our room. We are working very hard and best of all we are enjoying every minute of our work.

Mrs. Morton and Mrs. Campbell

PRINCIPAL'S PARAGRAPH

The cleanup campaign being staged in Spearman week is indeed a worthy and timely project. The Lion's Club, Chamber of Commerce and City Commission are to be commended for promoting such an undertaking. However, activity along this membership of any organization or group of organizations. A citizen should feel it his personal duty to see that his premises are clean and sanitary. It alone should compel us all "sweep before our own door."

Students in the grades and the high school alike should assist in this cleanup campaign assuming responsibility individually and collectively for the condition of their home room corridors and playgrounds, as well as the yards and premises at home. Boys and girls can do much to promote cleanliness and tidiness in the home, the school, the community, and thereby materially to the health of our help to reduce our insurance cost to say nothing of stimulating pride and fostering an interest in municipal welfare.

Let the students of the Spearman schools go on record as being this worthy undertaking hundred per cent.

FIRST GRADE B

We are always glad to have parents visit our room and see us working.

Mrs. Goodwin visited our room last Friday.

Charles Broching entered school Monday morning.

Mrs. Birdwell visited our room Monday afternoon.

We are all working hard and learn our lessons every day. We are so anxious to learn to read.

Read backward: Didn't you if girls be would you, this read would you know we.

Morse School Shows Much Evidence of Progressiveness

WORKING FOR 4TH CLASSIFICATION DEPARTMENT

FOR CREDITS IN DEPARTMENT SUBJECTS; 10 STUDENTS

Morse School has been open one month and there is evidence of progress and development. The school is asking for a year classification with the Department of Education. The high school is working credit in the following: English I and II, Math, and II, History 1, Science, Biology, Bookkeeping, English III. The maximum enrollment for the school is 110 with a regular attendance of 106 students for the month of September. This is an increase over last year. The school is one of the most outstanding in the county. The science equipment, the furniture, and the science completed and the science is the best that can be had.

During the vacation period the equipment was cleaned and painted. The work was done by T. C. Tompkins, school janitor. Work book cases were made. Rooms that needed them. The school spirit of the children is optimistic, and much evidence of a successful year.

Morse High School has teachers this year, namely, E. B. Speer, Principal W. A. B. and Miss Lorna Stock, English. The enrollment of the high school is as follows: Mike Balentine, Dennis Clyde Miller, J. C. Beck, Woodrow Forester, C. Kelly, Wayne Kelly, Gregory, Jack Noe, Branch, Saphomore, Frederick, O. Roy Stevenson, Womble, LeRoy Sheets, Beck, Hazel Gay, Helen Knox, Sibyl Parks, Thomas Edwards, Willis, Louis Lanners, Deryl Bruce Womble, Louise Noe, Emily Ryan.

Work Demonstrated in Chapel Exercises

Mr. Cabe, sponsor for the Scouts, entertained the high school Monday during chapel period by fringing some of the things Scout learns to do. The first part of the program lined the history and aims of the Scouts. He followed this by showing different types of rope and fire making. In the first demonstration that followed he assisted by John Lanners and Giblin.

program was one of the many steps in the organization of a regular Boy Scout troop. If a number of younger people become interested Mr. Cabe plans to organize a group of Scouts. This will give the boys some training for Boy Scout work.

The Mustangs Defeat Plemons Fighting Indians

Mustangs journeyed to Plemons last Friday afternoon and defeated the Plemons Indians in the hottest football game of the season. The teams were well matched as to weight and it seemed neither had a decided advantage. The first quarter of the game was scoreless, but the Mustangs checked a punt to score in the second quarter. During the third quarter the Indians scored a touchdown and played for the extra point making the game six and six. The rest of the game was fought and Morse was penalized for roughness. The last minutes of the game was near Plemons goal line with Morse never left tackle just as the whistle blew for the game. Morse was the second victory for Mustangs this season as they won over Stinnett by a score of 6 to 6 the previous Friday. The schedule of the Mustangs is complete to date.

Club Formed By County Agent Wendt

Frank Wendt, county agent for Sanford county, visited Morse during the chapel program for the purpose of organizing a 4-H club. He explained the purpose of the club and the means of the 4-H's. A number of students interested in the project.

Wendt and Allen Womble and Carter were in Morse attending to business Monday afternoon.

PANHANDLE LUMBER HAS NEW MANAGER

R. C. PIRTLE HAS TAKEN UP DUTIES IN MORSE; WIDE EXPERIENCE

R. C. Pirtle, who has been engaged in the lumber business for the past 10 years and who is well known over the plains section, was recently made manager of the Panhandle Lumber Company of Morse. The Panhandle Lumber Company of this city bought out the White House Lumber company several weeks ago.

Previous to Pirtle's coming to Morse, he was at Channing for 5 years, where he was manager of Foxworth-Galbraith Lumber Co. He was also at one time connected with Panhandle Lumber Company at Pampa.

Pirtle said that he had come to Morse to render the best service that he knew how and to take part in the rebuilding of that city.

Morse Community Band Forms Organization

The Morse band organized last Tuesday evening under the leadership of Ralph Forester. Although there was not full attendance at the first meeting, it is expected that the membership will increase very appreciably in a few weeks.

Mr. Forester requests that it be announced that everyone in the community who has an instrument is invited to join the organization.

Meetings will be held each Tuesday evening at 8:00 o'clock in the Morse school auditorium.

Miss Lonie Hunt spent the week end at her home in Canyon.

The following people attended the Tri-State Fair at Amarillo the past week: J. D. Amend, Scott Amend, J. M. and Clyde Miller, Mary Sue Roberts, Esther Jordan, Willa Deane Pike, Russell Boney, J. A. Balentine and family.

Mrs. W. H. Parks, Mrs. Marable and Mrs. W. R. Parks spent Tuesday at the home of Mrs. R. E. Marable.

MORSE CHURCHES

Sunday school at the school auditorium every Sunday morning at 10 o'clock.

Missionary Baptist, Third Sunday.

Primitive Baptist, Fourth Sunday night and Sunday.

Methodist, second Sunday.

Benefit Morse Athletic Organization Box Supper Friday October 2nd.

Friday night, October 2, an old fashioned box supper will be held at the Morse school house. Everybody within traveling distance has been invited. Roy McNutt, manager of the affair promises the biggest box suppers that has ever been held in this community. Sixty-five dollars worth of prize will be given away. The prizes range from automobile tires to silverware.

The first prize of the evening will be a set of Rogers silver teaspoons, which will go to the owner of the prettiest box. This gift is offered by the Morse Pharmacy. Other prizes vary in value from two to ten dollars, and are offered by the following firms in Morse: Womble, Hardware Co., Huff's Service Station, Mays Ice House, Beck's Luconett, Utley's Service Station, Panhandle Lumber Co., R. L. McClellan Grain Co., Waples-Pitter Grocery, Co., J. A. Roberts, Oil Co., Dixon Truck line, Morse Barber Shop, L. C. Edwards Oil Agency, Spearman Equity Exchange, Morse Motor Co., and Morse Pharmacy.

All the ladies are to bring boxes of good things to eat and the gentlemen are to bring dollars. Boxes will go to the highest bidder.

The proceeds from the supper will be equally divided between Morse Baseball Club and the Morse School Athletic Club.

Mrs. H. N. Kelly and family went to the Hansford garden project Sunday.

Tab Womble, Woodrow Forester, Robin Giblin and Frederick Forester attended the show at Berger Sunday.

Miss Lorna Stock spent the week-end at Plemons and Canyon visiting friends and relatives.

Bub Durham, who was seriously injured during the summer, is improving. He was able to go to the football game at Plemons Friday.

Maxine Durham and Jimmie Rose Roberts attended the Fair at Amarillo Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Womble and family and Mary Coffee attended the show at Berger Sunday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Womble and family and Lonnie Hunt attended the Tri-State Fair Saturday.

Miss Lonie Hunt began a music class at Morse Monday. Two lessons a week will be given at 50 cents a lesson. Patrons interested may see her for further information.

Miss Hazel Gay was in Spearman last week end.

Roy Stevenson, who is attending Morse High School, returned to his home near Stinnett during the week end.

Miss Mary Coffee, Miss Docie Pearl Duty, Anson Butler and Horace Tompkins attended the show at Berger Saturday night.

KIMBALL KLIPPINGS

Every farmer in this community is wishing for rain in the near future. No wheat means no biscuits.

School is progressing nicely. At present we have an enrollment of fourteen pupils, ranging from the first to the sixth grade inclusive. Too, we have some new materials with which to work and we feel that we are going to enjoy our work more this year.

Miss Ellen Francis is taking Sophomore work at Kimball.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Cline of Hitchland spent Sunday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Cline.

Miss Maxine Allen was a guest of Miss Opal Thomas Saturday night.

The dance given at Mr. Hudson's Saturday night was enjoyed by all present.

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Thomas and daughter Opal, and Mr. and Mrs. Shorty Chesser and family visited Mr. and Mrs. John Renner Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Francis and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Tatum visited in the home of Mr. George Stewart Saturday.

BLODGETT ITEMS

J. W. Dellinger of Gotebo, Oklahoma, visited his sister, Mrs.

returned home with him Friday morning for a visit with he and her sister in Sulphur, Oklahoma.

School is progressing nicely with Miss Ada Marie Easley as teacher. Sixteen pupils have enrolled, one junior high pupil, Ralph Blodgett, and one high school pupil, Mary Percy.

New roll curtains have been installed at the school building, through the courtesy of contributors in Spearman, which all in this community appreciate very much.

Mrs. H. A. Percy and Glen Percy returned with her daughter Mrs. E. K. Graham, Tuesday morning to Ft. Collins, Colorado, for a short visit.

A small cyclone hit the Clyde Harbour residence Sunday afternoon, turning over several times a good sized building in the yard. The storm did considerable damage to the barn and place east of the Harbour home. A small amount of rain followed but not enough to get begin falling in wheat.

CO-ORDINATION NEED BEST SERVE PUBLIC DECLARES BLEDSOE

SANTA FE OFFICIAL GIVES VIEWS ON TRANSPORTATION IN ADDRESS AT NIAGRA

Niagra Falls, Sept. 30.—Co-ordination of all transportation facilities and services in such manner that each facility will be so employed as to best serve the public needs, and that railroads be authorized to engage in motor, highway, water and air transportation on equal terms with others, was suggested here today in an address by T. S. Bledsoe, chairman of the executive committee and general counsel of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railway company at the annual meeting of the Savings Bank Association of the State of New York.

Mr. Bledsoe also suggested substitution for the recapture provisions of Sec 15a of the Interstate Commerce Act of a requirement that each carrier earning in any year in excess of 6 per cent on its property investment place one-half of such excess in a reserve fund to be established and maintained by such carrier for paying interest on bonds, other fixed charges, and dividends on common stock, as may be necessary, in any year in which net railway operating income is less than 6 per cent on its property investment.

Other suggestions made by the Santa Fe executive were that, in order to maintain adequate railroad service and establish equality of treatment of all shippers, passengers, and transportation agencies, there should be:

An adjustment in railroad rates to enable the carriers in prosperous years to pay operating expenses, taxes, fixed charges, reasonable dividends, and accumulate a reasonable reserve for lean years, so as not to be compelled to seek rate increases during periods of depression.

Reasonable, just and constructive regulation of the rates, practices, accounting, responsibility and service of all operators of motor trucks operating on the highways profit and the imposition of a fair charge for use of the highways by such busses and trucks.

Regulation of intercoastal and inland waterways traffic by the Interstate Commerce Commission, with non-discriminatory rates, practices and service requirement.

Removal of all restrictions on railroads competing for intercoastal traffic through the Panama Canal.

Discontinuance of competition by the United States with railroads and the subsidizing, directly or indirectly, of other form of transportation.

Principal Problems

"The principal problems of the railroads at this time is to secure sufficient revenue to pay operating expenses, taxes, fixed charges, and enough in addition to restore railroad credit," Mr. Bledsoe declared. "Involved in this question, is the decline in volume of traffic, the general rate level, unregulated and subsidized waterways competition, practically unregulated and partially subsidized highway competition, and competition of Government-owned and operated Federal barge lines.

"The only method of securing revenue is through an increase in freight rates. The railroads have, therefore, presented to the Interstate Commerce Commission an application for an emergency increase in freight rates of 15 per cent, which, if granted, will, it is hoped, afford sufficient revenue to enable them during the present emergency to safely operate their properties, adequately serve the public, partially improve their seriously impaired credit, secure the necessary capital for further improvement of rail facilities and effect further economies in operation.

"The evidence presented and exhibits filed during the hearings proved the urgent need for a substantial increase in rail revenue. In fact, such need was not denied. Some shippers, however, urge that because of the depression this is an inopportune time to increase freight rates, that are proposed to increase would work a hardship on many shippers, and that such increase, if granted, would divert a large volume of traffic to competing transportation agencies, so that there would be little, if any, gain in revenue therefrom. Some shippers favored an increase. Many failed to appear, indicating that they did not object.

"The carriers believe that, although an increase, if granted, may result in some additional diversion of traffic there will be a substantial gain in revenue."

About Inland Waterways

Regarding inland waterways transportation Mr. Bledsoe said: "The Government has expended 468 million dollars in improving and maintaining for navigation purposes the Mississippi-Ohio river system and is spending annually many additional millions for further improvement and maintenance thereof. Similar expenditures are being made on many other streams.

"There is no regulation of rates, practices, service, accounting or responsibility of operators on inland waterways.

"Shippers have the right to route their traffic to destination when shipped by rail. Such right is denied them when shipping by water.

"A railroad is not required to shorthaul itself in favor of another railroad, but can be compelled to do so by the Interstate Commerce Commission in favor of water carriers.

"Operators on inland waterways may and do charge one shipper for port-to-port service and another shipper another rate for the same service.

"Joint rail and water rates are fixed by the Interstate Commerce Commission, usually at 80 per cent of the all-rail rate, although distances from point of origin to destination will average about 50 per cent greater by water than by rail. The effect of this differential is to divert rail traffic to waterways.

"Inland waterways transportation is neither continuous nor dependable. It is frequently delayed by flood, droughts and fog, and suspended in the north for several months each year by freezing of streams.

"The cost of improving and maintaining inland waterways for navigation purposes is a part of water transportation costs. If such cost be considered, the total cost of inland waterways transportation is greater than that of rail transportation.

"The Inland Waterways Corporation is Government-owned and operated. Its capital is approximately 24 million dollars, supplied by the United States without cost.

"It operates the Federal Barge Lines on the Mississippi and Warrior rivers, but makes no contribution to the cost of improving and maintaining such rivers.

"Its property and income are exempt from property and income taxes.

"Notwithstanding these facts, it has in every year since its inception incurred an operating deficit. It is a competitor of the railroads for traffic and has the active support and prestige of the Government, particularly the War Department behind it."

The majority of tomato growers in Sabine county made a net profit of $40 or more per acre last year in spite of very low prices and a 50 per cent cut in yield due to dry weather, the county agent says.

PEACH DESSERTS

PEACHES served "au naturel" and cut up peaches with powdered sugar and cream are delicious for dessert but best they wear out their welcome before the peach season is half over try some of these peach desserts for dinner now and then.

Peach Snow.

For peach snow, beat a cupful of cream until it is stiff and add half a cupful of sugar and two egg whites, beaten stiff. Cut up a quart of peaches in a glass dish and pour the cream mixture over them. The peaches and the cream should both be chilled through before mixing. Serve them as soon as they are mixed.

Peach Custard.

Cover the bottom of a baking dish with peeled, split, and sweetened peaches, hollow-side up. Heat a quart of milk and thicken it with two tablespoonfuls of cornstarch rubbed smooth with a little cold milk. Flavor to taste, add four tablespoonfuls of sugar, a pinch of salt, two eggs well beaten, and a teaspoonful of butter. Cook until smooth and thick, stirring constantly, then pour over the peaches, cover with meringue, and bake until puffed and brown. Serve either hot or cold.

Peach Foam.

Press three or four ripe peaches through a colander, making one cupful pulp and juice together. Stir one envelope gelatin with one-half cupful of sugar and dissolve in one cupful of boiling water. Add peach pulp juice flavored with one tablespoonful lemon juice or almond extract and pinch of salt. Set in cool place, and when beginning to jelly, add the well-beaten whites of two eggs, and beat all together until very thick so it will not separate. Pour into molds and set in cool place until firm. Serve with custard sauce.

Declares Alfalfa Beats Other Crops

Wheeler, Oct. 1.—Because two acres of alfalfa furnished four months of grazing for 23 hogs, three months grazing for three calves an one ton of hay in two cuttings, George Hefney, Wheeler county farmer living at Center, intends to sow 10 more acres to this crop in 1932. He sowed 10 acres in 1930 and 10 acres this year. "It pays better than any other crop," he says. The first 13 hogs sold weighed an average of 174 pounds and sold for $139. Mr. Hefney is an alfalfa cooperator working with Jake Tarter, county agent, and has threshed a seed crop to help furnish seed to other farmers wanting to sow alfalfa this year.

Amarillo has the largest highway underpass in Texas. It is seven hundred and seventy feet long, connects two main portions of the city and carries the traffic of eight state highways. Three hundred carloads of steel and concrete were consumed in its construction, and it cost a quarter of a million dollars.

The Old Gardener Says:

IN MANY parts of the country the torch lily or red-hot poker, catalogued both as Tritoma and Kniphofia, can be wintered in the open ground with a light protection in the way of leaves or pine boughs in New England and other northern states, however, it is very often killed, for which reason it is best to take up the plants when cold weather comes, storing them in boxes of dry sand or coal ashes in a cold-frame or a pit. If this plan were generally adopted, these brilliant flowers would be seen much more often in northern gardens. They are to be prized for their habit of blooming in the autumn, although some of the newer kind will flower almost continuously from midsummer.

True Members of Church are those who have Come Out from World

personal edification of her members in holiness and for the religious benefit of the world. Outward circumstances need not hinder the Church. No opposition of materialistic philosophy, or scientific habits of mind, or critical study of the scriptures, or a pleasure seeking world or an avaricious society can withstand the power of a consecrated church. When faithful ones pray and receive the Holy Ghost, the massed lines of antagonism and difficulty give way. Paganism, fire, prison, atheism have been unable to halt the march of the Anointed—the Church. Foes of the present are not more powerful than those who have been conquered. The Christian Church has less reason to halt now than ever before. A shout of confidence, out of the present day Christians would demolish sturdier walls than ever surrounded any Jericho. A vision of the rod of the Almighty pointing over the seas of interferences is sufficient to open a new path into a greater Canaan. The Promised Land is just ahead and when reached another comes into view until at last the glory of the Kingdom of God is seen spreading over the whole earth. Pentecost ought to be repeated in the life of the church then "many will be added to the church as shall be saved." Pentecost is normal Christianity. The militant church is largely sub-normal and anaemic. The Church like a human being is a prey to many ailments. When she became below par—the danger was not so much anti-Christianity but sub-Christianity. The church ought to get a greater vision of the world's need. She ought to ask for a cross and not comfort; service and not vacation. Complacency is the curse and drawback to the progress of the militant church. Indifference is the parasite that will sap all the spiritual energy of the church member. Member, are you indifferent, complacent, trying and treading a path of least resistance? If you are, you are headed toward the shoals of defeat and wreck. Before you mix that new batch of brew, take a trip to the Lyric Theatre and see Laurel and Hardy in "Pardon Us," their first feature length comedy. They depict all the reasons why violation of the 18th Amendment doesn't pay. But then if you can make as much of a joke of it as they do go ahead. Somebody is bound to get a laugh.

4-H Club Girl Does Canning For Family

Crockett, Oct. 1.—Not every girl can point with pride to more than 1200 containers of food which she has herself prepared for the use of her family, but Opal Mann of the Pierson Chapel community in Houston county has that distinction. She is a 4-H club girl who has only canned 1210 containers of food, but part of it she canned on halves with neighbors in order to secure a greater variety of fruit than her father's farm afforded. Mr. Mann is building pantry shelves so that his daughter may properly store these canned products, arranged by classes so that serving meals will be an easier task. Thirty-five men were provided with work at Ranger, Texas, recently when a rock crushing plant resumed operation after a several months idleness.

Magda let Lieutenant Meyer call for her at her new abode and take her out.

Magda let Lieutenant Meyer call for her at her new abode and take her out. The soldiers who crowded near the piano during the recital had noticed that one hand bore a disfiguring mark like an arrow. Magda went at once to Colonel Emmerich and demanded an opportunity to run down this dangerous man. At first he was reluctant, warning that it would take her into a front line where hardship was rife. She persisted, and at last he permitted her to go. She set out for this privation-ridden area with a comparatively easy mind. At least this mission would keep her out of General Mannlicher's reach for a time. She managed to trace the fugitive behind the Serbian front, working ostensibly as a minor Red Cross official. It was not easy work. Biting cold weather gnawed at her bones. Accommodations were scanty. Peril was the only thing present in abundance. Army officers instructed to assist her had slight patience for her undertakings. They seemed to feel that she had been purposely sent out to interfere with their field operations—perhaps to spy. There was little of the debonair indulgence here that they would show to a woman back in Vienna. Yet as the days dragged into weeks Magda held grimly to her task, detesting the disdain of the high-born officers. She drew close to the fugitive's trail when she found that he had succeeded in joining a Red Cross unit—only to discover that this had been transferred to a distant sector. Thither she went with all speed, though the journey in an open motor car over tortuous and shell-pitted roads was almost unbearably trying. She set her mind indomitably to the purpose of running this man to earth. The war itself seemed to have faded into oblivion beside the intense private conflict that she was determined to carry on with this man. She was bound she would triumph over him, if only to see that sardonic, self-possessed smile fade into crestfallen disfigurement. At last as she reached the hospital base where he was supposed to be stationed, she encountered something tangible—nothing less than a message from Rittau himself. It was handed to her by a cloddish peasant, and proved to be a scrawly scrap of paper on which were scrawled the words: "Gnadies Fraulein—I hear that you are very intently seeking my company. I am indeed flattered. But won't you please go back to Vienna? The front is really no place for a woman—especially one as charmingly fragile as yourself. As the saying goes, this is a man's war.—R." The affront of it! Magda's cheeks burned. Still the same cocksure, patronizing attitude. Probably he hadn't even bothered to alter his handwriting. Charmingly fragile, indeed! She would show him that she had neither charm nor fragility. When she questioned the peasant she found that, none too brilliant ordinarily, his dim-wit faculties had been stupefied by the war. The most she could gather was his vague impression that the writer of the message had gone off somewhere toward the front as a stretcher bearer. She tried a dressing station, plunging into the nettled resentment of hospital officials already harassed by a tide of wounded from a recent attack. They could not appreciate this interest in one man, when so many others anxiously demanded their attention. They finally managed to recall that such a man had been sent out with a stretcher detail—and

WHO ARE THESE CHURCH FOLKS

The valuable citizens of this community—without exception—are church members. The conspicuous successes of our present world are members. Leaders in thought and education are church members. People whose personalities and accomplishments offer the character from which long and strong friendships are made, are church members. Surely there is food for thought in an attachment so universal! * * * The modern church promotes the idea that the business of living is the business of religion. Its contention that material, spiritual and moral success in life is the result of practical piety is borne out by the lives of its members. * * *

Align yourself with those who early discovered that religion is a practical and happy way of living.

Happy Hour Club Organized

A group of women of the community south of Spearman met at the home of Mrs. Archa Morse, Wednesday afternoon, September 23, and formed the Happy Hour Club. Activities of the club will include sewing, quilting, canning and other forms of home improvement. Mrs. R. C. Bennett was elected president of the club, Mrs. Clyde Harbour vice-president, and Mrs. Cecil Crawford secretary and reporter.

The members nearly completed one quilt at their first meeting and they also enjoyed a croquet tournament.

Refreshments of ice cream and cake were served to the following members: Mesdames. Johnie Close, Clarence Clark, F. H. Bannister, R. C. Bennett, Clyde Harbour, H. M. Sheddock, Louis Buchner, Gus Newcomb, Bert Keith, Cecil Crawford and the hostess.

The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. F. K. Bannister.

Birthday Party

A lovely surprise party in honor of Mrs. J. R. Berringer was enjoyed at her home Saturday evening at 8 o'clock. Mrs. Berringer's little daughter Bernice, assisted by her friend Dixie Ruth Buchner planned the party for her mother, and the little ladies proved themselves very worthy hostesses in every way.

Games and readings were enjoyed till a late hour, when delicious refreshments consisting of sandwiches, cake and hot cocoa were served to the following: Mesdames. Roy Dixon, Sophie Martin, J. C. Roberts, L. M. Buchner, Fannie Snyder, Claude Tackitt, G. W. Van Meter, J. F. Kellerby, C. A. Robertson, Fred Linn; Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Berringer; Lenie Linn, Jimmie Linn, Eugene Buchner, Joan and J. R. Dixon; Dail Kellerby, Dixie Ruth Buchner, and Bernice and Joe Billy Berringer.

Postpone Federated Missionary Meeting.

The meeting of the Federated Missionary Society, which was announced for Wednesday, September thirtieth was postponed until Thursday, October fifteenth. At this time the Christian Ladies will have charge of the program and entertainment.

W. M. S. Will Attend Perryton Zone Meeting

The Ladies of the Methodist Missionary Society will attend the Zone meeting at Perryton next Tuesday, October sixth. This will be an all day meeting with luncheon at noon. Papers, "Development of the Spiritual Life in the Missionary Society," and "How to make a study class interesting," will be given by Mesdames H. A. Nichols and Sid Clark. Special music will be given by Canadian and Higgins. The program is very interesting so let's send a big delegation to the meeting. The Methodist Missionary society will meet next Wednesday at 3 o'clock with Mrs. Finis Maize.

First Christian Church

September has been a very fine month in our work. Attendance is running above that of last year and a very fine hopeful spirit prevails and marks the work.

The minister was at Dumas last Sunday where a new church is being launched. Fine results are in sight there.

The regular services, Bible School and Christian Endeavor services and preaching at eleven and eight will be held next Sunday. This is the last Sunday before our National Convention, which meets at Wichita, Kansas. The minister and some others are planning to go Monday for the convention. Come out every one and let us have a great day Sunday.

The minister will also preach Sunday, October 11th at both services.

Jasper Bogue, Minister.
Clyde D. Riggs, S. S. Supt.

Methodist Church

Sunday school at 10 o'clock. Preaching at 11 a. m. Epworth League at 7:15 p. m. Preaching at 8 p. m. W. M. S. Wednesday, 3 p. m. Choir Practice Wednesday night at 8 o'clock.

The church is moving along pretty well. Good attendance most of the time. Some are very irregular while others are regular. We get the most good out of attending regularly. Everyone should be in the Sunday school—a class for each age—from the nursery department to home department. If you are not in any Sunday school we extend you a warm invitation to attend ours. The adult class and the young people's class have a contest on that will last until November. Men and women, boys and girls now is a good time to line up and make the different classes go.

The League is still doing fine work. The leaguers have been very loyal all this year, hence the best league for years. They have elected new officers for another year and are planning big things—join them if you want to be in a live organization.

The second Sunday in October, being the 11th, Rev. Ed R. Wallace, presiding elder of the Perryton district, will preach at the morning hour and hold the fourth and last quarterly conference of this conference year. His subject for the preaching hour will be: "Like Ships." We hope that you will be there and let's give him a good hearing. Between now and the above date we hope to have all the benevolences in hand—we can if each will cooperate. The pastor is depending on you—he believes in you.

H. A. Nichols, Pastor.

NEW PUPILS

We have as a new pupil in the Senior class Owen Pendergraft. Owen is an ex-senior and is taking a post-graduate course. Also in the Sophomore class we have Katherine Sealy from Long Beach, California.

Helen Jenkins of the 7th A and Guy Morris of the 6th B are in school after an operation for appendicitis.

CAT'S EYE

The Cat's Eye met J. Quincy Adams at the Texas-Louisiana Power Company Wednesday. No, this J. Quincy Adams hasn't ever been president. This Adams is here from Ft. Worth with his wife, visiting in the home of his daughter, Mrs. O. G. Collins. Mr. Adams told the Cat's Eye confidentially, that after forty-one years of married life he and his wife decided to take their honeymoon. He said that when they were married they both had jobs and couldn't afford to quit, to take a honeymoon, so they decided to delay the trip. He stated that "Now after forty-one years it is most convenient for us to take our honeymoon, visiting a few weeks with each of our five children that are living in different parts of Texas and New Mexico." The Cat's Eye believes Mr. and Mrs. Adams' plan for a honeymoon, represents much forethought and "Horse Sense."

Four kids, from the South part of town, left this week for Hot Springs, New Mexico. They were not exactly kids in age, but in actions. Dave Hester, Watt Huffstutter and wives were the four I have reference to. Who knows, maybe they are spending their honeymoon like Mr. and Mrs. J. Quincy Adams, mentioned above.

AIR-VIEWS

George M. Whitson came forward last week with an article that we thought was most interesting. Mr. Whitson had a lot on his chest and he got a lot off, via about three columns of news print. It was so lengthy that lack of space would not permit us to print it all. We're giving you the rest of it this week. It will be worth your while to read it. Here we pick up the last paragraph and continue with Mr. Whitson's discussion so that you might not lose connection:

If we will only stop to think in our mad rush to repair lost fortunes, there are very few men in Hansford County today who will not agree that we have been robbed of more money out of our 1931 wheat crop alone, than it would take to build a magnificent place of public worship for every church in Spearman and in Hansford County, a Legion hall or a community building in every community center in Hansford County. Let's cut out this argument about whether it was the Farm Board or the Chicago wheat pit gamblers that robbed us of our money. Don't you know that for us to divide among ourselves over the question of who got our money is exactly what those fellows want us to do? Isn't it enough to know that our money is gone, our debts are unpaid and our homes made desolate? Can't we understand that with Andy Mellon and John J. Raskob at the helm, they are marshalling their forces today, and unless the masses are united to reclaim our Natural resources our doom is sealed long before the National conventions meet next June? While our enemies plot and plan together why can't we, in our own homes and public assemblies here in Hansford County during the weeks and months that intervene between now and next June, decide these momentous questions for ourselves. And having resolved to stand unitedly for home and country, let's correctly solve the problem, "Am I my brother's keeper" and then go out to help our neighbors Shanks and Thompson and give old Tack to understand that he must get right, else we will substitute the name of Lindbergh for Erasmus Tack as Vice President and thus the ticket will read Candidates of Conservationist or Conservative Party of U. S. A. Alfalfa Bill Murray for President; Charles A. Lindbergh for Vice President.

Seriously now. Under present conditions we must not only return to primitive methods of making our own living on the farm, but we must kindle anew the fires of patriotism that burned in the breasts of our forefathers else under our present political system, our rural population will be forced to give up their homes to live as tenants on the farms or will be crowded into the larger cities to join the ranks of the unemployed—doomed thereafter to live the lives of slaves, innocent victims who never invested a dollar in stock or futures of any description, yet doomed because of the system. Better enlist now as soldiers in time of peace, than have your sons drafted in time of war and your daughters made the white slaves of an autocracy.

February, 1860, New York City Abraham Lincoln delivered his famous Cooper Union Address. Among many other things he said, "A house divided against itself cannot stand. I believe the Government cannot endure permanently half slave and half free. I do not expect the Union to be dissolved—I do not expect the house to fall—but I do expect it will cease to be divided. It will become all one thing or all the other." In the light of history how prophetic, as applied to present day conditions, how true.

The latest example of what it means to tolerate lawlessness, not alone among the poor and needy, but among the holders of wealth throughout the land, is Russia. Ruled by a Czar, she at last threw off her chains of despotism and has swung to that other violent extreme of communism. It will take her another half century to restore God and the Christian religion in the hearts of her people.

The Czar that rules America today is predatory wealth—just as autocratic in its demands as ever was the Czar of Russia. We would not that you fly to the opposite extreme of Communism, but between these two violent extremes there has been and is being established in this beloved country a government "of the people, for the people and by the people."

If we would avoid the citizenship—a call to citizenship in the minds and hearts of this people, as expressed in the Saviour of men in the Rule," and in that command, "Love one another even as I have loved you." GEO. M. W.
