HARVEST BULLETIN: The weather was clear in the county Tuesday, and we had no thunder storms in the area Tuesday night. The humidity is very high, however, Wednesday morning. Combining of the irrigated wheat should get underway in places today. The weather was cloudy and cold Monday, and heavy clouds were in the area until early in the morning Tues. The harvest should get in full swing this week-end.

Record number of visitors at city meeting Monday! 4th Of July Family Day

The city council played host to a large group of city visitors at their regular meeting Monday night. The pledge of allegiance was read by attorney Chunky Blackburn. Councilman Roscoe Nelson gave the invocation. The minutes of the last meeting were approved. First on the agenda was the letting of the General Liability, Workmen Compensation Comp., and Explosive coverage. The city purchased the policy presented by J. L. Brock Ins., of Spearman.

Of interest to the public was a discussion of the Dog Pound. Dr. Tom Latta discussed the dog pound problem with the council, and he stated that the facilities that we now have just aren't adequate to meet the needs of our community. The council discussed the plans for a new pound, and as soon as a location can be selected, the new pound will probably be constructed in the near future.

Earl Goodheart gave a report on the proposed use of the old football field. The city purchased the old bleachers from the school, and will leave them there, plus the light poles and lights, which the school gave to the city. Goodheart stated that a sports complex can be built at the old football field, offering the smaller kids a track to run on, kick ball, baseball and several other projects.

Robert Long Buried

Robert Milan Long, 35, of Taft, California died Thursday in Bakersville, California after being struck by a car.

Services were held at 2:00 P.M. Wednesday in the First Baptist Church with the Rev. Russell Pogue, pastor, officiating. Burial was in Hansford Cemetery by Boxwell Brothers Funeral Directors.

Mr. Long was born in Hamlin and had been a Texas resident until 1973 when he moved to California. He had been in the Air Force and was a welder. Survivors include the widow, Ruth; his father, Doras Long of Hamlin; His mother, Mrs. Bennie Beeson; his step-father, J. D. Beeson of Spearman; three daughters, Cecelia, Melissa and Dixie, all of Arizona; two sons, Randy and Jody of the home; and a sister, Mrs. Sue Devers of England.

The Spearman Jaycees and Chamber of Commerce will Co-host a Family Day on Friday, July 4, with a bicycle and tricycle parade. This parade will form at the north end of main street and end on the Court House Parking Lot. Trucks will be provided to transport the smaller children to the swimming pool park. Where the games and watermelon feed will take place.

The afternoon games will consist of Sack Races, and a tug-o-war with Coach Freimal in charge. A greased pole climb with a new pocket knife to the winner is the next thing on the agenda.

Don Bell will conduct the horseshoe pitch and the washer pitch. A penny search in a sand pile will also be held.

A FREE WATERMELON feed will be held at the park! Then the big Fireworks display at the new Lynx stadium will top off the evening beginning at dark.

Also before the fireworks start a track meet for all ages is being planned. More on this will come later in the week.

Make your plans now to attend this big Family Day 4th of July. If you would like to make a donation to help offset the cost of the expense stop by the Chamber office 211 Main, or mail your check to: Watermelon and Fireworks - Box 161 - Spearman, Texas. All donations will be accepted and appreciated. Times will be posted on all events at a later date.

Bits Of This And That

By Nita Stewart
Bill Partridge returned with his family Friday night, where he'd been on a camping trip to Colorado, high in the mountains where he had planned on doing lots of fishing, first morning he woke up, it was 26 degrees and snowing hard so he ended up going to New Mexico and back to Spearman after enjoying his two weeks vacation.
Glad you're home, Bill.

Visiting in the home of The Gilbert Salgado's are Gilbert's mother Mrs. Lola Salgado and her daughters Mary Peña and son Eric, Elodia Fuentes and daughter Jasmine, Linda Salgado, They are all from Stanton, Texas. While here they will also be visiting with Frank Salgado and family also with Frank and Gilbert's other brother.

Visiting with us Saturday afternoon for awhile was Smiling Wayne Ellsworth, Handsome Don Schell, Bill Hopper, Hollie Riley, Roberta Wright and Carla Russell. We talked about lots of things (can't print) but enjoyed all of their visits - also dropping by was Donnie Hergert from Hergerts Pontiac, GMC & Buick probably got them in wrong order but I did get them in and Mrytel and Warren Burgess from Bi-Products - Sorry to hear Mrytel's Mother is ill in Kentucky and Mrytel may be having to go to Kentucky soon.

Hope she's better by now Mrytel.
Figured out how to get your Snake out, put out a glass of A-W rootbeer and watch ole Sneaky snake come out to drink it.
Glad you all came by.

So nice having Mrs. Kenney drop in Saturday. She was telling us about the hail breaking out windows in her son James trailer, but said it didn't damage Jame's wheat. Thank the Good Lord.
Come back soon Mrs. Kenney.

Mark Hicks from Minnesota and Bobby Joe Smith from Tulsa, Oklahoma are the two new men at KBMF-FM. Both visited with Dave and myself last Monday while we were at the station making out our books. The boys enjoyed some coffee with us and got to meet some of our Customers. Hey! Gals! these youngmen are nineteen and Single and both very good looking.
Good Luck Boys in your new job at our local radio station.

REMEMBERING...

By BILL D. BROOKS

CATTELGUARDS

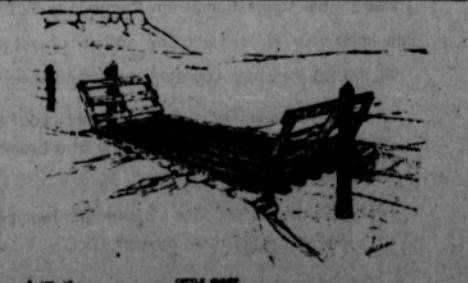

History probably doesn't record the person's name who built the first cattleguard but I suspect it was someone who didn't like to open and close gates. The cattleguard is strictly a time-saving device which has been used by cattlemen for many years. Cattleguards provide openings in fences that vehicles can pass readily through but cattle will not.

They are made in several different ways, the earliest being constructed of wooden timbers or logs. A ditch or trench was dug in the fence row and heavy timbers were placed to span across it. Railings made of timbers or logs were attached across the main supports forming a platform over which vehicles could travel. Spaces of four or five inches were left between these railings to give an open look to the platform. Upright pieces or posts were placed at each end of the structure and the fence was attached to these.

I presume, though I haven't done any research on it, the open look of cattleguards is what prevents cattle from attempting to cross over them. Apparently old bossie comes up, takes one look at that man-made contraption, looks between those rails down into that ditch and decides it is not to be tampered with. She probably goes back and spreads the word to the rest of the herd. I knew a fellow one time who trained his horse to jump over cattleguards. However (this is sad), just as the old horse was getting the hang of it he broke his leg because his timing was a little off.

Most cattleguards today are made of steel. Large pipe is commonly used as well as railroad rails. Concrete is also used in various ways.

They are built of strong materials and construction so that they will support the heavy loads of vehicles on farms and ranches. Cattleguards are of course more costly than gates but they are as handy as a pocket on a shirt (so one man described them). If you ever had to open many gates a cattleguard is always a welcomed sight.

One painful memory I have of a cattleguard comes from an accident I had with one when I was a young boy. We were visiting at a neighbor's house and were leaving to go back home. His cattleguard was built up above the level of the road with a mound of earth inclined up to it on both sides. Above it was a beam from which a sign (the name of his ranch I think) was hanging by two chains directly over the center of the road. I was in the back of the pickup and for some stupid reason was standing up. As we went over the hump of the cattleguard I was looking backward and didn't know to duck my head. I tell you that sign just about took off the top of my head. My sister claims to this day that's what is wrong with me.

Lawn Care
COLLEGE STATION—Summer months best weather in Texas, along with longer days and long sunny days. It also brings lawn problems.
Lawn problems can cause many headaches for homeowners unless they are properly diagnosed and properly treated before they become severe. Richard L. Doble, professor emeritus for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.
One sign that lawn and weed are symptoms of improper watering, fertilizing and mowing practices, says Doble, "before applying a chemical to correct lawn problems, be sure that recommended cultural practices are followed."
Though areas most often appear in late summer and show up as white, discolored turf, watering schedules should be adjusted to wet the soil to a depth of four to six inches, and only when the grass shows symptoms of drought stress. Mowing height should be raised one to 1 1/2 inches to improve crown tolerance in mid-summer.
Lack of nitrogen or iron often creates a lawn problem. Grass with a nitrogen deficiency may have a pale color and be heavily infested with weeds, explains the Texas A & M University System specialist.
A banding schedule is another symptom of nitrogen deficiency. A light application of a soluble nitrogen fertilizer will improve the lawn's appearance.
Grass leaves that have yellow and green stripes parallel to the leaf margins may be deficient in iron. An application of iron sulfate or iron chelate at six ounces per 1,000 square feet will solve this problem, says Doble.
If a St. Augustine lawn has a yellowish stain that nitrogen deficiency may be the cause. St. Augustine Doble (S.A.D.) should be suspected. Close examination of the infested with S.A.D. shows green and yellow patches on the leaves.
Open maintenance practices should be continued while S.A.D. is a problem. A St. Augustine, a new St. Augustine variety which is resistant to S.A.D., may be preferred for the infested area.
Chinch bugs and white grubs are two insects that cause lawn problems, says the specialist.
The symptoms are similar to that of drought stress and insects should be identified prior to initiating chemical treatment.
Chinch bugs are about one-third inch long with black bodies and white wings folded over the back. The hind coxae bug, sink a leg with both ends into the ground and fill the can with water. The bugs will float to the surface in three to five minutes.
White grubs are the larval stage of the May or June beetle and are about one inch long with white bodies and dark heads. They are usually found in a curled or ball-up position several inches below the ground. White grubs can destroy the entire root system of lawn grasses so that the turf can be rolled away easily.
Chinch bugs can be controlled with applications of diazinon, triphenyl phosphor and white grub with chlordane or diazinon. Brown patch disease is another problem with St. Augustine grass, adds Doble. The disease is caused by a fungus that attacks the grass blades. Brown patch can be controlled by fungicides and by watering the lawn frequently. Remembering...
By BILL D. BROOKS
FUNERAL HOME FANS
Fans were as much a part of church meetings, town hall meetings and other types of get-togethers as people were. Commonly called "funeral home fans" they were simple in design, construction, and purpose. They were made of heavy cardboard stapled or glued to a thin wooden handle and were beautifully decorated with scenes of mountains, forests or peaceful rivers. The fans were distributed primarily as advertising items, by funeral homes and other types of businesses. Quantities of the fans were donated to the various churches and meeting places while many were passed out to individuals for use in homes.
Advertisement slogans, business names and sometimes songs, poems or scripture verses were printed on the fans. One would rarely see or use a funeral home fan today because of our air conditioned public buildings and homes but they were very much a part of life only a few years ago.
I remember them most at church. Several would be scattered among the congregation, in pews and song book racks for use by the worshippers. Some would bring them from home. On hot summer days heat would build up in the building and, even with all the windows and doors opened wide, there would not be a breath of air moving. Out would come the fans and fanning would start.

Ira Jean was a remarkable faner. She had six small children and tomorrow she was to marry them all with only one fan. She would be divided over her shoulders and the baby would be sleeping in her lap. Others would be close by. She could fan for hours without stopping.
Old Miss Derrigall was the one to watch, though. She would fan in short strokes about an inch long with the fan right at her nose. Her mouth, tightly closed, worked slightly when she fanned and bit eyelids fluttered with each stroke. The fanning and eyelid movement would start out slowly and build up until it went. She never took her eyes off the preacher and if he made a particularly interesting point, the fanning and flutter would reach such an intensity that you could scarcely see the fan. After the point was made, the fanning and flutter would gradually slow down to a stop, her gaze never taken from the pulpit.

Snooty old Mrs. Fluency upset the entire community with her constant fanning. In our church, she never fanned for more than an hour and fanned only in the shade of a tree. Her fans were not good for her, she said, but good for the church. "You didn't even have an advertisement in the church for the fan," she said. "I was so fortunate." It wasn't long after there were at least thirty or forty fold-up fans in the congregation, and not long after that the funeral home fans disappeared altogether.

Wednesday afternoon the people of Spearman were hurrying along Main Street. "Why all the excitement?" one man asked. "My real estate company is on fire," Lester McLain answered. "Get the hose cart. Hurry!" Maynard McLain and Marion Close came hurrying up with the hose cart. They were ably assisted by Red McCreary and Leo Dacus. These brave men along with their friends and neighbors battled the blaze, but to no avail; and before the day was over, the town of Spearman had suffered a great disaster. Seven businesses were destroyed. Crawford Hotel that once stood proud now lay in ashes, the City Barber Shop, Arcade Theater, A. L. Hays Boot & Shoe Repair, McLain & McLain Real Estate, Hale & Raney Real Estate - all of them gone. Even the T-Bone Cafe which had served coffee to fire fighters on other fires, was destroyed. The town of Spearman had burned down. Can't happen, you say? This time, Smokey, you have completely flipped. Nothing like this will ever happen to Spearman. But wait; let's check the records. It did happen on March 10, 1922. Ask the people who were there. Willie Wilkerson Family Enjoys Family Reunion

The Willie Wilkerson family of 722 E. 2nd enjoyed a family reunion at their home this past weekend. All of their children were home and everyone had a good time visiting with one another. This was the first time in several years that the whole family had been together at one time.

Those attending were their sons: Mr. and Mrs. Roddy Woodson and Raegan of Garland, Texas; Mr. Roy Woodson of Denton, Texas; Mr. and Mrs. William Wilkerson, Mike and Melissa of Canadian, Texas; Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Wilkerson and Scotty of Amarillo, Texas; Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Wilkerson of Grandville, Michigan and her brother Dennis Secoy and his friend Scott Turner of Brian Center, Michigan; Mr. Marvin Wilkerson and April of Spearman; and their daughter Mr. and Mrs. Danny Innis and Stephanie of Canadian, Texas. Also attending was Mr. Wilkerson's brother and family Mr. and Mrs. Valice Wilkerson and Ronnie of Chase, Kansas.

If the home air conditioner isn't circulating enough cool air to make the rooms comfortable during hot, muggy days, check to be sure the air filter is clean and doesn't need replacing. Mrs. Lillian Chenoweth, family resource management specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, the Texas A&M University System, suggests,

District I 4-H's To Vie For Horsemanship Honors

AMARILLO -- About 180 4-H'ers from across the Panhandle converge here Wednesday (June 25) at the Bill Cody Arena to compete in one of the toughest events in 4-H -- the District Horse Show. When the final buzzer sounds Thursday afternoon, only 20 youths will be named to carry the District 4-H banner to the State Fr. Worth July 23-26.

According to District Extension Agent Paul Gross, the youths from the 22 county District 1 will be competing in halter, showmanship, and performance classes. Halter and showmanship classes will be judged Wednesday, and the performance classes will be judged the next day.

Harold Hudspeth of Collinsville, Okla., will serve as official judge for the 1975 contest. Gross says, Superintendent will be Gaines Frank, Potter County Extension Agent.

The quota of entries is based on the number of active 4-H members with horse projects in each county. Gross adds, The 4-H program in Texas is administered by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Local Students Named To Dean's List

WACO--Baylor University has named 674 students to its Spring 1975 Dean's List and Dean's Distinguished List.
Dr. Herbert H. Reynolds, Baylor dean of faculties and executive vice president announced the names of those Baylor students who distinguished themselves academically.
Reynolds said 257 students were named to the Dean's List and 417 to the Dean's Distinguished List, 221 earned a 4.00 or straight A average.
Baylor's grading system is on a four-point scale. Four points per hour credit are given for an A, three for a B, two for a C and one for a D.
Grade point averages are derived by dividing the total number of points earned by the number of hours taken.
To be named to the Dean's List, one must be an undergraduate or post-graduate student who has earned a grade point of 3.6 to 3.79, while taking 15 credit hours during the semester.
Those named to the Dean's Distinguished List are undergraduate or post graduate students with a grade point average of 3.00 to 4.00 for 15 semester hours.
SPEARMAN: Tracy, Susan B., senior, biology and chemistry, Charles Brillhart, P. O. Box 535, Spearman High School, 1971.

Wall Street in New York was so named because it follows the line of the palisaded wall or stockade built in 1652 across the southern end of Manhattan Island.

When a star precedes the number on some U. S. currency, it indicates that the bill is a substitute, issued to replace one that was worn or defective.

Resignation submitted to Sheriff R. L. McFarlin.

Dear R. L.,

I feel I can no longer serve the Sheriff's Department of Hansford County in an effective manner due to personal problems. In view of this, I am submitting my resignation as your deputy, effective Monday, June 30 1975.

I have enjoyed working with you and the people of Hansford County and value your friendship highly.

Sincerely,
Clint Dodd

Sheriff R. L. McFarlin stated he was reluctant to except the resignation of Deputy Clint Dodd and praised his diligent and faithful service since he became his deputy in October 1973.

Highlights of Mr. & Mrs. McLain's Trip

Mr. and Mrs. L. S. McLain left May 28th from New York with first stop - Rome. They enjoyed a trip to the Vatican and the Catacombs. In Athens, they visited the Acropolis and Mars Hill where Paul preached to the people on "The Unknown God." At night, they attended a play, "Light and Sound", which is the history of the Acropolis. The old city of Corinth suffered an earthquake in 1928 and excavating is going on now. They crossed the Mediterranean and followed the Nile to the city of Cairo, where they traveled by camel and saw the Pyramids. They enjoyed a boat ride down the Nile. The spot was pointed out where Moses was picked up by the Princess in the bulrushes. The valley was very rich and lush. Harvest was in full swing, being done as in the olden times by scythe and tied out by hand and winnowed. They visited the museums of Cairo. It was very evident this was the Sahara Desert. The Aswan Dam controls the overflow of the Nile. At Beirut, Lebanon they visited Iaa'bek, once the breadbasket of the Roman empire, B.B.C. Now people live in beautiful highrise apartments. Lebanon has been overcome by conquerors and each left inscriptions at "Dog River." The group stopped and viewed these inscriptions showing the progression of history. They returned from Beirut to Tel Aviv by way of Athens and boarded buses to Jerusalem. On the way to Bethlehem they visited Rache's Tomb, Sheppard's Field, and the field boaz, where Ruth gleaned. They visited the Church of the Nativity where Christ was born, saw King Solomon's "ools at Hebron, visited the Cave of Machpelah where Abraham, Isaac, Jacob and their wives were buried; visited the room of the Last Supper; the birthplace of John the Baptist; and went upon the Mount of Olives to view the city of Jerusalem and the Chapel of Ascension. They visited the Church of our Lord where he taught the disciples our Lord's Prayer, and the Garden of Gethsemane, visited the Church of Agony where Jesus was betrayed by Judas. On the way to Jericho they visited Bethany, the house of Mary and Martha and Lazarus' Tomb. The Book of Isaiah was found at Qumran in the form of scrolls on the banks of the Dead Sea, which is 1300 feet below sea level. In Jerusalem they visited Mt. Calvary and the Tomb of Christ. Here Communion was held and wine was served in little olive cups. They drove through out the valley Mizoudon where people will assemble in the last days for the Feast of Armageddon. Tiberias, a small city on the Sea of Galilee has many biblical sights. One was Jacob's Well. Here they met an Amalio group headed by Dr. Willard Moore and took a boat ride on the Sea of Galilee to Nazareth and visited Joseph's Workshop, Mary's Well and Mt. Precidion. The group returned, some back to New York and the remaining, headed by Rev. Bill Meyers for an extension. First they flew to Zurich, Switzerland over the Alps, which was a beautiful sight with some fifty feet of snow in the passes. They crossed Lake Lucerne by boat and ascended by cog rail to Pilatus, Kuhn, a 7000 foot summit. They changed from a four passenger gondola to a forty passenger cabin and back to their coach, enjoying a beautiful sight all the way from Lucerne to Paris by rail. They were sight seeing in Paris and saw the Eiffel Tower, the Champs Elysees, the Arch of Triumph, the Eternal Flame marking the tomb of the Unknown Soldier. They saw Paris at night which is most beautiful under light and visited the Louvre Art Gallery, which has the richest of art treasures of the world, including the original Mona Lisa. They visited Notre Dame Cathedral and heard the famous pipe organ played. This church was started in 1163 and completed in 1345. The group flew to London saw Buckingham Palace and Piccadilly Circus, watched the changing of the guards, went to the Tower of London and viewed the Queen's Jewels. They visited West Minster Abbey, Big Ben, took a one-hundred mile tour to see Stratford-on-Avon, the home of Shakespeare and Ann Hathaway, Shakespeare's wife. They also visited the Oxford University. All in all, it was a very enjoyable twenty-four days.

Board Of Directors Meet

The Kiddie World Board of Directors met Friday, June 20th in the County Judges Office. Kiddie World Staff was hired, which include the following persons: Mrs. Jimmy Miller, Mrs. Mome Black and Mrs. Larry Hettel. Kiddie World still needs applications for a cook and a custodian. Kiddie World is in need of persons who would volunteer their time, even for one day a week, to help with the children while the staff members attends the thirty-two week course in early childhood development. Kiddie World has now set July 15th as tentative opening date to give our staff time for preparation and training. The Early Childhood Development course will begin July 7th from 1:00 P.M. till 4:00 P.M. at the Center. Kiddie World is still in need of cribs, kitchen play equipment, building blocks, child-size tables and chairs, area rugs and inside and outside toys. Also needed are non-breakable dishes for the kitchen, large pots and pans, utensils, silverware and general cooking equipment. Next board Meeting will be Friday, June 27th at 9:30 in the County Judges Office.

The caftan is back in summer lounge wear. Look for comfortable crinkle cotton, ombred gauze and hand fabrics, advies Beverly Rhodes, clothing specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, the Texas A&M University System.

Spearman receives $8,364.00 from monthly city sales tax rebates!

Comptroller Bob Bullock sent checks worth $28.8 million Friday to more than 800 towns and cities in the third round of monthly city sales tax rebates. Bullock said the June payments were considerably higher than the previous two months because of big-end-of-the-quarter tax payments made by merchants following the April 30 deadline for reporting taxes they collected from the public in January, February and March.

Bullock converted the city's sales tax payments to a monthly system in April to get away from the old quarterly rebate system which had been in use since the start of the city sales tax and which formed cities to wait 60 to 90 days for their money.

"The interest alone - at six percent - on the $16 million we paid in April and the $19.9 million we paid in May was worth a quarter of a million dollars to the cities just by not having to wait until now for a quarterly payment," Bullock said.

Every city which has adopted the one per cent local tax received payments this month regardless of the size of the rebate. Payments in the first and second month of each three month cycle are not made on rebates of less than $500.

Net payment to the City of Spearman was $8,364.00.

300 payments in the amount of $243.6 million have been made.

Advance payments were initiated in August 1973 to assist veterans who, after starting to school, find themselves in financial difficulty while awaiting their first VA checks.

Coker said a veteran who plans to enter school should first make certain he has a certificate of eligibility. If he hasn't one should be obtained from the nearest VA office.

The certificate must be presented to the school of the veteran's choice. The school, if it accepts the veteran, will forward it and the enrollment certification (on the reverse side) to VA.

Coker explained that if the agency receives this information at least 30 days before registration, veterans who train half time or more may pick up their first check when they register. The first check will cover training allowances for the first two months, or one month and a portion of a month, depending upon the registration date.

Under current rates, a single veteran in school full time receives $270.00 monthly, with two dependents $366, and those with three or more dependents receive an additional $22 monthly for each dependent over two.

Half time rates are $135 monthly for a single veteran, $160 monthly for veterans with one dependent and $182 monthly for those with two dependents. Veterans with three or more dependents receive an additional $11 monthly for each dependent over two.

GI Bill enrollments have set two record highs, topping all monthly totals for the current GI Bill and exceeding all previous fiscal year totals in only nine months, Jack Coker, Veterans Administration Regional Director, announced today.

Veteran enrollments under the new Veterans Administration program reached 1.8 million high mark in March, pushing the total in the first nine months of the fiscal year to 2,158 million, Coker said. This compares to 2,128 million for all of fiscal year 1974. Enrollment among active duty servicemen also was up -- 11,000 more than the fiscal year 1974 figure -- bringing the total for veterans and servicemen to 2,370 million. College level trainees during the period numbered 1,501 million.

Coker added that the spurs followed enactment of a December 1974 law raising benefits by 22.7 percent.

Fifty-eight percent of all Vietnam veterans have used at least a portion of their eligibility. This compares to 56.5 who used World War II benefits and 43.4 using the Korean Conflict program.

"These increases in GI Bill use," Coker said, "are increases we can all take satisfaction in." He anticipates high enrollments to continue through the current school year spurred by the December raise in allowances.

Under current rates, a single veteran enrolled full time at an institution receives $270 monthly. Veterans with one dependent draw $321 monthly, with two dependents $366, and those with three or more dependents draw an additional $22 for each dependent over two.

March statistics also revealed an increase in another VA education program. The program for wives, widows and children of veterans and military service personnel attracted 62,400 trainees, an increase of 19 percent over March 1974.

Eligible educationally minded persons should contact the nearest VA office, veterans county services officer, or veterans service organization representatives.

A 16 week Child Care Development course will be offered thru Amarillo College at Kiddie World here, beginning July 7th. Classes will meet from 1-4 P.M. 5 days per week. For more information call 659-2791.

Social Security

"Applying early for your first social security card is one of the smartest things you'll ever do", Howard L. Weatherly Branch Manager of Pampa Social Security Office announced here today.

Almost everyone needs a social security number. The account number is no longer just required of workers alone. Nowadays, many schools of all types use the social security number to identify their students; banks and other financial institutions require the number for each person who has an account there. If you buy a U. S. Saving Bond, you have to give your social security number. When you apply for even part time work, you will be asked to supply it. Of course, any person who gets monthly checks from the Social Security Administration or from the State Department of Social Services must have a social security number. Some states even use a person's social security number as his driver's license number.

In the past, a person could get his number quickly. If he were under the age of 18 and applying for the first time, he could usually obtain his card within a few minutes. Now it will take from 5-7 weeks for this same type person to obtain a social security number because the number must be issued from the central accounting office in Baltimore, Maryland.

Public Law 92-603 was enacted by Congress requiring persons applying for a social security number to submit evidence to establish age, identity, and citizenship or alien status.

Now, all applicants requesting a number who are 18 or older, must furnish proof of their age and identity. If the person who is applying for a social security number is foreign born, he must also submit evidence of citizenship or alien status in conjunction with furnishing proof of his age. A person applying for his original number will be asked for his birth or baptismal record established before age five, if such a document is available. If you do not have a birth or baptismal certificate and one is not readily available, you should bring some other evidence of your age and the social security office will determine if the document is acceptable as proof of age and identity. An original social security number cannot be assigned until all evidence requirements are met.

"We realize you are in a hurry for your number," Mr. Weatherly said, "That's why we urge you to start working on it long before you must have it", he continued.

Most employers will not hire you until you can furnish your social security number. Some will hire you without it, but will not pay you until they see your card. Applications for social security cards can be obtained at most post offices, employment and social services offices. You can, of course, write or telephone your local social security office for a blank form. There is no charge for this service.

If you telephone the social security office, the account number clerk will mail you an application to fill out and return along with proof of age and identity. You can mail us your birth certificate or church baptismal record established before age five. We will return your document to you later.

"Remember, Mr. Weatherly concluded, "It takes 5-7 weeks for your first social security card to arrive, so plan ahead if you will need a number."

Dallas, Texas--The interest rate for taxpayers who are delinquent in paying Federal tax bills, or have been granted extensions of time to file, will jump to 9 percent per year beginning July 1, 1975, according to the Internal Revenue Service (IRS).

A. W. McCannless, district director of IRS operations in North Texas, said today that the higher interest rate will be charged on all overdue taxes as a result of legislation enacted on January 1, 1975. The present rate is 6 percent per year on most taxes.

The government, which now pays 6 percent per year on overpayments by taxpayers, will also pay 9 percent interest starting July 1. Interest becomes payable if the overpayment is refunded to a taxpayer more than 45 days from the due date of the tax return, or from the date the return is received by the IRS, whichever is later, McCannless said.

In addition to hiking the interest rate to 9 percent, the law provides for increasing or decreasing the rate in the future, to keep it in line with the prime interest rate commercial banks charge their largest customers.

McCannless pointed out that there has been no change in the percentage charged for the late payment penalty. The penalty

Earlier this year, Skaar was promoted to executive vice president and elected to Allied's board of directors.

Allied Supermarkets, is the 13th largest supermarket chain in the United States with more than 260 supermarkets in 25 states and annual sales exceeding $1 billion. The firm is headquartered in Livonia, Michigan and operates supermarkets under the names of Wrigley and Humpty Supermarkets and Ideal and K Mart Food Stores.

McMaster had held the additional post of president for the past two years.

Skaar returned to Allied as a group vice president in September, 1974. Prior to that he had been executive vice president of a prominent supermarket chain in Nebraska for three years. He previously had served 13 years with Allied Supermarkets, where he had been a vice president and general manager of the Wrigley Division. His earlier executive positions with Allied included sales, operations, warehousing and data processing.

Skaar and his wife now reside in Farmington Hills, Michigan.

News For Veterans

Jack Coker, Veterans Administration Regional Director, advises veterans headed for the first time this summer or fall for classrooms under the GI Bill to act promptly if they want advance payment of educational checks.

Coker noted a record 2.4 million veterans and military service personnel trained in fiscal year 1974, and the agency made 563,250 advance payments totaling $211.3 million. So far this fiscal year, 659,

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Honored on 50th Anniversary

The children of Mr. and Mrs. R. Esker Lee honored their parents on the occasion of their golden wedding anniversary.

The affair was held Sunday afternoon, June 22nd in the Fellowship Hall of the First United Methodist Church.

The registration table was laid with a white linen cloth and was accented with an arrangement of gold willow abbey roses, gold daisy poms and baby breath in a white milk glass bowl with gold base. Guests were registered in a gold guest book by Mr. and Mrs. Lee's granddaughters, Linda Robertson, Debbie Robertson and Mrs. Ken Frakes, all of Colorado Springs.

Guests were ushered through the receiving line and were greeted by Esker and Mary Lee, their children, Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Robertson and Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Lee and their grandson, Tracy Lee.

Mrs. Lee was dressed in a lovely blue formal gown accented by a phalaenopsis orchid corsage with stephanotis.

A table topped in white linen with a gold overlay held a silver coffee service, a gift on their 25th anniversary from their children. Another table, laid in gold brocade held a crystal punch bowl surrounded with greenery with a three tiered white wedding confection. Topping the cake was an arrangement of wedding bells, flowers and gold numerals. Other table appointments included sterling and crystal. Presiding at the serving tables were Mesdames: John Berry, Guy Fuller, Everett Tracy, Bruce Sheets and W. L. Russell.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee were married on June 22nd, 1925 in Cleburne, Texas. They moved to Spearman in March, 1930, where he has been involved in farming, ranching and Phillips wholesale-retail oil. He retired seven years ago from active business.

Guests present were Mrs. R. L. Cubine, Mr. and Mrs. Foy Wood, Mrs. James Perkins, Robin and Jamie and Lorie Snyder, all of Henrietta, Texas; Mr. and Mrs. Claude Parker of Clinton, Oklahoma; Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Hill and Mr. and Mrs. John Coleman, all of Wellington and Mr. and Mrs. Theo Zweig and Mrs. James Taylor of Amarillo.

Vows Exchanged In Lubbock

Plains Christian Church in Lubbock was the scene for a Saturday morning wedding which united in marriage Judy Logsdon Murrell of Gruver and Gary Bennett Lawson of Dimmitt.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Logsdon of Gruver and the groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Bennet Lawson of Hamilton. The Reverend Jimmy Hardy of Lubbock was the officiant for the service.

The bride was attended by Mrs. Susan Scale of Uvalde as her matron of honor. Ronnie Lawson, brother of the groom, served as best man. The bride's daughter, Heather, was the flower girl.

Special guests included along with the couple's parents, their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Gaston Howell of Waco; Mr. and Mrs. Roy Richerson and Mrs. J. S. Logsdon, all of Guymon, Oklahoma. Other guests included Mr. and Mrs. Howard Lerman of Dallas; Mr. Bill Logsdon, Jr., Shelly and Chad of Hitchland; Mrs. Norma Weber of Guymon; Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Randles, John, Lyn, and Becky of Lubbock.

Following a trip to Colorado the couple will be making their home in Carlsbad, New Mexico.

Drunk Driving: A Kind Of National Scandal

Long before the American Medical Association officially recognized alcoholism as a disease and hence a doctor's responsibility - before the formation of the miracle-working Alcoholics Anonymous and its incredible recovery success perhaps before there was a need for a National Safety Council, there was a much-quoted slogan: "Acohol and gasoline do not mix."

Motorists who abuse the use of alcohol have been killing themselves and others almost as long as the combustion engine has existed.

Today the National Alcoholism Council and the National Safety Council are hand-in-hand in a fight to cut down the number of drunk drivers.

The toll exacted by men and women who do not heed the admonition about mixing gas and booze is a national disgrace, horror, tragedy, disaster, whatever you wish to call it. Deeply immersed in the campaign to rid the streets and highways of drunken drivers and keep them clear is the TPCA Alcoholism Program.

Concerned with showing a way to recovery from alcoholism through abstinence, the Alcoholism Counselor may be telephoned at 659-3394. It seeks to give aid to individuals or groups, whether the problem drinking is personal or afflicting relatives and friends.

Insurance companies are in the fight to diminish active alcoholism because the practice of driving while intoxicated swells liability payments.

Recent figures show that 50 percent of all drivers' premiums for automobile insurance is used to settle claims resulting from accidents by drunk drivers. To any economy-minded reader, distressed by insurance rates, this should be of personal concern.

So serious is the problem of driving while drunk that dozens of studies have been made in an effort to educate the public and convince legislatures. The figures are appalling.

Of the 55,000 deaths nationally each year on streets and highways, more than half involved drunk drivers. Such drivers also are responsible for nearly 2,000,000 other serious injuries.

In terms of cold cash, drunk drivers cost more than $5,000,000,000 each year in losses. This averages out at about $46 for each car in the United States.

Ten per cent of all drivers, male or female, are alcoholics. Actually, one person in every 50 who are operating motor vehicles of any kind at any given moment is drunk. The reader can figure the percentage he is facing while making any trip.

The drunk drivers who are judged to be too drunk to drive and who kill innocent people constitute only 5 per cent to 7 per cent of the driving public. So few can kill so many.

Yet the habitual drunk driver does not dominate the roster of those who died while driving under the influence of alcohol. The Public Systems Research Institute of USC showed in a recent study that 78 per cent of all driver fatalities and one third of all deaths to pedestrians are due to alcoholism.

Figures show that the cost to the citizens of this country because of drunk driving exceeds the entire total American spend in any year on all doctors and dentists and is more than twice what we spend on private education. The human loss in accidents where drinking was a factor last year is equivalent roughly to deaths from 300 jet airplane crashes.

Some drunk drivers, of course, do not kill themselves or others. Yet these potential killers often continue infesting the highways.

Many problem drinkers develop skills in "pulling themselves together" when in custody so as to guard against exhibiting behavior which many courts demand as supplements to blood tests. In court, a defense lawyer often can thus make a policeman appear to be the defendant.

Repeatedly, clever lawyers obtain a reduced sentence to something like reckless driving and plead guilty. An Oregon study proved that fewer than one fourth of those even convicted of drunk driving served any time in jail. The average fine was less than $200.

When driving licenses are revoked, it is revealed by facts that 60 per cent of drivers with severe drinking problems thus punished go right on driving and drinking.

The Alcoholic and Business

Glamorization of excessive drinking, something too often done for "big laughs" in television and movies, recently was decried by the American Medical Association's committee on alcoholism and drug dependency. The AMA pleaded for a reduction in the glorified image of "the man who holds his liquor" and the extolling of false virtues given the state of semi-inebriation.

Fear was expressed that drinking habits can be motivated into becoming excessive if abusers of alcohol find identification with TV personalities who make light of so-called "social tipping." Even the innocuous term of party drinking can cover up a great deal of potential harm, the AMA asserts.

This public statement is just another indication of the deep interest the AMA has in alcoholism which the association recognized as a deep interest the AMA has in alcoholism which the association recognized as a disease in 1956.

The AMA is only one of numerous groups working closely with the TPCA Alcoholism Program from which advice and help may be obtained free by calling 659-3394.

A alcoholism as a responsibility of the medical profession recently occupied a full issue of San Jose Panorama Magazine. Many articles show the keen awareness today of doctors with alcoholics. The editors point out that the U.S. government has called alcoholism our number one neglected health problem. Yet the disease definitely is on the increase.

A alcoholism no longer is a hopeless condition if viewed as a treatable disease. Doctors often are frustrated by the fact that this disease is one of a very few which the patient often tenaciously insists he does not have. But until denial is overcome, successful treatment is impossible.

In the special edition of Panorama, Ruth Fox MD whose practice is confined to alcoholics and who has treated more than 4,000 writes she devotes two hours to the first appointment with a victim and two 45 minutes on the average to gain an admission that he has a drinking problem.

The foreword to all articles reports that success has come to doctors from their treatments and "the strong, supporting arm of Alcoholics Anonymous." Yet the stubbornness of alcoholics is shown by the fact that AA does not reach more than 5 per cent to 7 per cent.

Since alcoholism has been called a "family disease," the family doctor is in a unique position to help. He usually is the first to know of a drinking problem when the patient's job and family are intact.

Dr. Fox writes, "Treating the alcoholic alone is not successful; you must get cooperation from the wife or husband."

Where once a medical school might devote no more than one hour in four years of medical school to alcoholism, most physicians now have knowledge of the disease. They will tell you that what causes alcoholism is still unknown; it is not simply due to alcohol but to alcohol's acting on a vulnerable personality in some way. The more the alcoholic drinks, the more he needs. It is a self-perpetuating condition.

Through the efforts of the National Alcoholism Council, the National Safety Council, doctors and many more educators and many more who have become alerted to the fact that alcoholism, unless arrested by the unwillingness of the victims, progresses to death or insanity, the disease is becoming less neglected.

Dr. Fox states that when she began treating alcoholics 30 years ago, the average age of patients was 45. Today it is 30 to 31.

This is a hopeful sign. A patient of 30 is young enough to return to normal living if he learns total abstinence. Yes AA constantly finds recovery of men and women who come to them as late as their eighties.

In Panorama, Dr. Marvin A. Block points out that countless alcoholics drink for years without realizing they have a dependency on the drug. Most of them, he writes, "are not even aware that alcohol is addictive and that dependency upon it is a recognized disease."

He reports that patients, as a rule, have formed defenses (by which to resist help from doctors) by the time they reach the physician.

Dr. Block stresses one factor that the Council on Alcoholism strives to dispel: that there is a social stigma attached to both the disease and the sufferer. This often complicates rehabilitation. He points out that problem drinking is not a sign of weak character, spiritual vagrancy or moral turpitude. Correction this fallacious attitude, by victim himself and by others, is of utmost importance.

As he writes, "Treatment of the alcoholic requires patience and human understanding."

Alibates

A statement of National Park Service concerns and objectives for Alibates National Monument is now available at National Park Service Headquarters in Fritch, Texas.

According to Bill Dyer, superintendent of Alibates National Monument and Lake Meredith Recreation Area, the statement reflects the most pressing concerns and the long range objectives of the Park Service regarding the preservation and use of the monument. "We hope this statement will encourage individuals and groups to express their own views concerning the future of Alibates."

A town-hall type meeting will be held at Frank Phillips College in Borger on May 29, 1975, to discuss the future of Alibates. "The statement explains where we are and what problems we face," said Dyer. "We hope people will come to the meeting and tell us how they would like to see the problems solved."

Dyer offered to provide a copy of the statement to anyone who wanted it. "Just give us a call or write us a note, and we will be happy to send you one," he said, "or stop by our office in Fritch and pick up a copy."

According to Dyer, many of the problems facing Alibates stem from the 1965 law authorizing creation of the National Monument. "It gave the National Park Service authority to protect and preserve a sample of the quarries," he said, "but it put some strong restrictions on us, too."

The authorizing act limited the Park Service to spending no more than $5,000 for land acquisition. These funds have been spent in acquiring 92 acres of land near Bates Canyon. No more than $260,000 was authorized for development. This will not be adequate to provide needed visitor facilities.

Hello Tim Fisher, new subscriber to the paper... Tim is a sailor with the U. S. Fleet... We are proud of all of our service men.

Administration of the Monument is difficult under the present legislation. "The law authorized a monument, but did not draw its legal boundaries," The National Park Service purchased 92 acres of land adjoining Lake Meredith Recreation Area, but we administer about 200 acres in the recreation area as part of the monument. That land actually belongs to the Bureau of Reclamation -- not the National Park Service."

Protection of the flint quarries and other archeological sites is a day-to-day problem for Park Service Rangers. "We can enforce federal laws, but must call upon state or county officials to handle state laws," Dyer added that the area is unfenced and open to cattle, pot hunters, and rock collectors. "But we are going to correct part of that this year," he added.

The Park Service spokesman felt that one area in which public comment would be very helpful was in how to go about telling the story of Alibates. We are trying to explain how people survived for 10,000 years without iron or steel, and that's a lot of story to tell with just rocks," Dyer said he expected to hear many creative and diverse suggestions for developing exhibits and programs for visitors.

One problem facing Alibates is not covered in the statement, Dyer pointed out. "There are over 70 areas in the National Park System that are in the same condition as Alibates. There is not enough money to develop all of them at once and the Park Service is going to have to pick and choose among them."

Priority for development would be based on many things including need for preservation, complexity of development and public pressure for development. "The Park Service will be developing the parks that will benefit the most people."

Dyer urged individuals and group representatives to present their recommendations either in a letter or at the Borger town hall meeting on May 29. Written suggestions should be mailed to the National Park Service, P. O. Box 1438, Fritch, Tx. 79036

Bridge

You won't be able to cross this bridge when you come to it. No, this isn't an inverted philosophy, but a reality.

The bridge, on State Highway 273 across McClellan Creek in Gray County, is barricaded at its south end stopping traffic from McLean and at its north side halting cars from Lefors.

The structure was damaged May 28 by raging water of usually placid and dust McClellan Creek that churned downstream from overflowing Lake McClellan following a nighttime rainstorm. Flash flood warnings, a rare occurrence in this part of the country were issued for portions of the Panhandle during the storm.

Repair work began June 7 on the bridge and will take a few weeks to complete.

The bridge damage was discovered early the next morning when the rains were subsiding by Gordon S. Taylor of Pampa, Gray County maintenance foreman for the Texas Highway Department.

Engineers say the boiling water scattered soil away from bridge piling and forced the foundation to give way some. The impairment occurred only to supporting concrete piers under the east central portion of the bridge.

The concrete deck and metal guard rail of that portion of the bridge at first dropped about five inches. The section did not plunge much farther, but Highway Department engineers realized the bridge was not at full strength and closed it to motor vehicles.

General traffic on this portion of State 273 (more than 600 vehicles daily) is being detoured onto Farm to Market Road 291 at Alanreed, about seven miles west of McLean. Heavy loads are being routed onto State Highway 70 farther westward about 15 miles.

What will be done to the bridge that has spanned McClellan Creek for 27 years? Some additional piling will be driven into the creek bed on the outside of the east and west ends of the damaged bridge supports. That weakened portion will be jacked up. Steel beams supported by the new bridge pilings will be secured to and beneath the existing concrete cap.

Shims - tapered metal pieces used to fill in space between things - will be used to help level the deck. This will cost an estimated $10,000.

The mending work will restore the bridge to full strength. Funding for the work will most likely come from a natural disaster emergency relief account.

The chairman of the steering committee for the McClellan Creek Watershed Project, Billy B. Davis of Pampa, told a Pampa newspaper that four times since about 1950 this bridge has been completely rebuilt or has required major repairs.

"About seven years ago," Davis was quoted, "they had to go in on the south side of the bridge and drive pilings down through it and build a new base."

The structure is one of three state-maintained bridges over McClellan Creek in Gray County. The McClellan Creek Watershed Project, which would control the flow of water down the creek with a series of dams, received approval from the U. S. House of Representatives in 1968, but still lacks Senate confirmation and the signature of the President.

The storm of May 28 left a reported 2 1/2 inches of rain at Groom which is located along Interstate Highway 40 in Gray County's western neighbor, Carson County.

Donald Gandy, Carson County maintenance foreman, sent some of his men to a rest stop west of Groom about 9 p.m. on the day the storm started. The men stayed there until nearly

School Workshop

Lubbock - Interpretations and effects of new public school finance legislation passed by the Texas Legislature will highlight the annual School Business Services Workshop at Texas Tech University Thursday and Friday (June 19-20).

Jimmy Hooser, director of Governmental Relations for the Texas State Teachers Association, Austin, will discuss the new legislation at the Thursday afternoon session of the workshop, according to Dr. Berlie Fallon of the College of Education at Texas Tech, one of three conference coordinators.

Following his presentation, Hooser will participate in a panel of school business officials on the subject. George Crisy, business manager of the Seminole Independent School District (ISD), will preside over the panel. Other members include S. G. Deberry, chief consultant, School Transportation, Texas Education Agency (TEA), Austin; O. R. Watkins, tax assessor-collector, Levelland ISD; W. H. Van Horn, Jr., assistant deputy commissioner for Business, Management and Contract Services, TEA, Austin.

Fallon said approximately 60 school business officers from throughout the state, 30 area public school administrators and 100 graduate students in educational administration at Texas Tech will attend the workshop in the Coronado Room of the University Center on the Tech Campus. The workshop will begin at 9:30 a.m. Thursday and continue through noon Friday.

Registration is scheduled for 9:30 to 11 a.m. Thursday with the first general session beginning at 11 a.m. with Max Kahn, president of the Texas Association of School Business Officers (TASBO), presiding. Kahn is business manager of the Alamo Heights ISD, San Antonio. Dr. Dean Berkley, chairman of the Department of Educational Administration at the University of Indiana, will be the keynote speaker. Texas Tech Dean of the College of Education Robert Anderson, will welcome the delegates.

Harold Glascock, assistant superintendent for Business Affairs, Lubbock ISD, will preside over a Friday morning session which will feature a talk by Linus Wright, superintendent for Administration and Support Services, Houston ISD. The former Lubbock ISD business manager will discuss current school problems in big cities and what is being done to try to resolve them.

Ralph Karlsruher, Comptroller, El Paso ISD, will chair a clinic and Forum at 10:45 a.m. Friday. Panel members will include Fletcher Johnson, assistant superintendent for Business, Plainview; David Hines, business manager, Abilene ISD, and H. D. Langham, director of Budgets, Fort Worth ISD.

Glascock and Rupert Pearce of the Lubbock ISD are coordinators with Fallon of the workshop. It is sponsored by TASBO the Texas Association of School Business Officials, Texas Tech, the Lubbock ISD, the Education Service Center, Region XVII, and school equipment exhibitors.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Svejkovsky and children, Karen and Blake from Houston were guests of his Aunt, Mrs. H. M. Shedeck and other relatives. Mr. Svejkovsky works for the Space Program in Houston and while on vacation, made a point of stopping here and spending a part of his vacation with these relatives.

REMEMBERING...

BY BILL D. BROOKS

THE SWIMMIN' HOLE It could have been a river, wide place in the spring branch, pond or maybe a creek after a big shower. Each was irresistible to youngsters on hot summer days. Everyone was welcome and swim suits were not usually necessary attire.

If the swimmin' hole had water in it most of the time, it usually had some improvements that readily identified it for what it was. The improvements were mostly contributed by anonymous builders and usually included a diving board made from scraps, a rope swing, some type of slide (usually a muddy trench leading down a steep bank into the water).

The most significant thing I remember about our swimming hole happened once when the preacher's kid came for an afternoon visit. To make the story shorter than I would like to, we almost drowned trying to teach him to swim. Afterwards, safely out of the water and lying exhausted on the shore, we made a solemn oath not to tell a soul what had taken place. We knew mom wouldn't let us swim there if she thought something like that could happen. While walking home we continued talking about how we would never tell what had happened that day. We got home just as his dad came to pick him up. He ran to meet him screaming, "Daddy, Daddy, we almost drowned in their creek!"

It's a wonder more accidents didn't happen because many pranks were pulled at the swimmin' hole. A popular one was often pulled on the new kid. Everyone else would hurry and get into the water, the shallow part, and squat down low so the water came up to their chins. They would all yell for the new kid to dive in. He would usually fall for the trick and dive in, burying his head in the mud two feet below the water's surface. Lots of people had their clothes stolen or tied in a million knots while they were in for a swim.

It was fun to float around on blown-up innertubes or in an old No. 3 wash tub. Another fun thing was to wedge yourself inside an old tractor tire and roll down a steep hill, splashing into the muddy water at the bottom. If you had a swing with a long rope it was fun to swing around in circles just above the water, dragging your feet or bottom, splashing water on everyone. The big guy's favorite thing was to swing really high and turn loose to do a "cannon ball" to see if they could knock all the water out on the bank. My favorite thing was just to have a place to swim and use it as often as I could.

Schools Get 65% Of Local Expenditures

NEW YORK, May 9--How much is being spent annually in Hansford County for education? Is it more or less than in most other localities?

What proportion of local governmental expenditures go for teachers salaries, school construction, maintenance, books and the like?

As is the case in every other community, local officials are faced with the problem of providing satisfactory educational facilities and opportunities, despite the tightness of money in these inflationary times.

A Federal study, recently released, indicates that education is the largest single item in most local budgets.

In Hansford County, it shows, approximately 65 percent of all public spending is in that direction. In some communities the proportion is somewhat smaller than that and, in others, quite a bit larger.

Nationally, the average is 41 percent. It is 53 percent in the State of Texas.

The study of local government expenditures, made every five years, is based upon data compiled by the Commerce Department for its current Census of Governments. The prior one was in 1967.

Its figures for Hansford County show that the amount spent in the year for all public purposes, equivalent to $460 per local resident, included $298 for education.

This represents the actual outlay at the local level and is exclusive of Federal and state contributions.

In other counties across the country, per capita spending for education came to $234 per capita. The average throughout Texas was $214.

The current school year is marked, nationally, by a drop in enrollments and a rise in expenses, reports U. S. Commissioner of Education Terrel H. Bell.

He expects the total cost of education to reach $108 billion or $11 billion more than last year.

It has become the country's largest enterprise, he notes, in terms of the number of people involved (62 million, including 3 million teachers) and in

Appeal For Return Of Census

Letters appealing to 99 thousand Texas farmers to return completed forms for the 1974 Census of Agriculture are being mailed by the Bureau of the Census. In January, 323 thousand forms were mailed to Texas farmers and residents associated with agriculture and so far, 69 percent have been mailed back or otherwise accounted for.

Bureau officials say this is the last in the planned series of follow-up letters, as collection of census data is scheduled to be closed out June 30, in addition, telephone calls are being made to selected farmers who have not yet returned the forms in order to obtain information about their 1974 agricultural operations. Everyone who received a form should return it, even those not actively engaged in farming, such as landlords or those no longer farming. That information can be noted on the form which should be mailed back in the envelope provided.

Response to the census is mandatory by law. By the same law, all information about individual farms is confidential and can be used only for statistical purposes.

Farmers can refer to farm business records for many of the figures called for in the form. When records are not available, reasonable estimates are fully acceptable. Bureau officials say, Return of the completed forms is essential in order that published statistics on agriculture for each county and for the State will be accurate. Results of the census will affect farmers in many ways. Major agricultural suppliers and marketing organizations base their decisions on census statistics. Thus, they can affect the availability of goods and services in many farming communities. Any future allocation programs for such critical production inputs as fuel and fertilizer will bear a direct relationship to the crop acreages and animal units reported in the census.

GASOLINE PUMPS

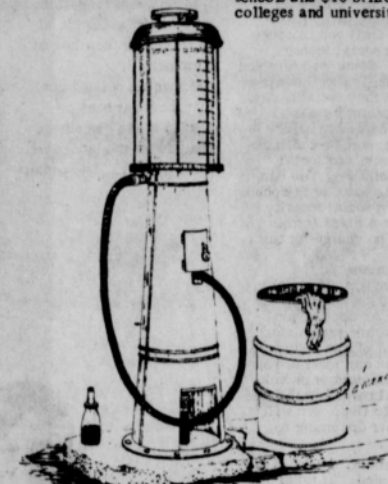

In other days it was common to see a Model "T" or "A" or some other early day vehicle pull up to a hand-operated gasoline pump like the one shown. People didn't need very much gasoline then because they didn't go as much or as far. There were few families with more than one car and gasoline powered lawn mowers, boats, tools, etc. were unheard of. The hand-operated pump gave much slower service in most cases than we would tolerate now but at that time it was all that was necessary.

The pump was situated over an underground storage tank. There was a hand crank or handle on it which was worked laboriously by the attendant to pump the "gas" from the tank up into the glass container at the top of the pump housing. The glass was marked with graduations of gallons and usually held ten or twelve when full. When a valve on the filling hose was released, gasoline drained, by gravity flow, into the customer's tank.

Most people bought just five or six gallons at a time. Filling station operators would usually pump the glass completely full, drain off the desired amount for the customer and leave the rest for a later sale. At closing time, if any remained in the glass, it could be drained back into the underground tank.

People didn't have any more time then than we do now but they didn't seem to be in our kind of hurry. If the attendant was slow at pumping the gasoline, the customer usually didn't mind. The break gave him a chance to observe the domino or checker game going on inside or to chat with the whittlers sitting around on "sodie water boxes out front."

As a youngster I especially enjoyed going to the filling station. I liked to watch as the man pumped the glass full. The gasoline churned and gushed around, bubbling and sloshing until he quit pumping. As the bubbles settled you could tell how many gallons he had pumped. The gasoline was a beautiful color especially when sunlight was kinda from view. I wondered, even behind it. As the gas was being drained into our tank, I would watch the golden liquid slowly shrink in the glass window, sometimes completely disappearing ever going to be a problem.

With wheat harvest in full swing in between wet weather, I have additional information on wheat market news. The Texas Department of Agriculture has added a morning report that is updated between 10:00 a.m. and 10:30 a.m., each morning. This morning report includes information about opening grain futures markets, export news and a recap of the previous afternoon's farm level prices. This 2 minute morning message can be obtained by calling 352-7411, which is an Amarillo number.

Also, the TDA continues to update their afternoon message between 4 and 5:00 p.m. at the same telephone number.

I have received a rather lengthy newsletter on wheat market highlights from our Extension Grain Marketing Specialist, Roland Smith. I am going to list only key phrases from this newsletter to give you an idea on some things.

Good progress has been made in spring wheat planting. The grain trade is watching farmer selling patterns and producers held virtually 100 percent of the supply - this year's needs. Flour mills have been slow to book ahead for wheat. Flour disappearance in the U. S. fell 2.4 percent during 1974. Falling wheat prices could cause increased use of the grain to livestock feed this summer. Export bookings and export clearances continue to be at a disappointing rate. International wheat council is forecasting a 7 percent increase in world wheat production in 1975-76. Rains in Russia have dampened prospects for big new grain buying. The government of Turkey refuses to issue import licenses for 18.5 million bushels of U. S. wheat. The European community has announced new higher export subsidies.

If you want a copy of this entire newsletter call or come by the Extension office.

Film Available For Showing

A new Texas Highway Department film, "Festival Time in Texas," is now available for showing by area civic clubs and schools. The film is being loaned by the Texas Highway Department Educational Film Library in Amarillo.

Texans are fun-loving people and celebrate just about everything—blackeyed peas, German sausage, "Crawdads," and the sun! "Festival Time in Texas" visits a variety of these fun-filled celebrations throughout the Lone Star State.

"Festival Time" and another Highway Department film, "The Missions of Texas," recently captured the travel industry's "Oscar" in competition with travelogues produced by government offices throughout the United States. The films were judged the best of the year at the annual Discover America Travel Organizations conference held in New Orleans.

In "Festival Time" a feminine narrator conducts a lighthearted romp through more than a dozen events where Texans congregate for fun. The film captures the exuberance of celebrating Cajuns, the belting rhythm of deep soul music, fiery Mexican fiestas and lots of down-home entertainment where guitars and fiddles are king.

"Festival Time in Texas" is a 14 1/2-minute, 8mm sound and color film that can be enjoyed by persons of all ages.

The THD Educational Film Library in Amarillo is headquartered at the Amarillo district office, 5715 Canyon Drive. In order to schedule a showing of "Festival Time in Texas" (or "The Missions of Texas") write Mrs. Mildred S. Starr at the Highway Department, P. O. Box 2708, Amarillo,

Singles Conference Planned For Labor Day

GLORIETA, N.M.-- Single adults attending the Singles Conference at Glorieta Baptist Conference Center over Labor Day weekend this year will be able to choose from 20 different special interest conferences.

The Aug. 29-Sept. 1 conference is planned especially for never married or formerly married persons 18 years of age and older. Leaders of singles classes and departments also will find helpful activities included in the conference.

Special interest conferences, called "groupings," were selected from information gathered during a Singles Planning Meeting held at the Southern Baptist Sunday School Board last February, attended by 12 single adults and advisors.

Some examples of the groupings are "Adjusting and fulfilling career goals," "Sharing a personal witness," "Looking forward to marriage," "Improving personal money management," and "Sharing church happenings with singles."

Formerly marrieds attending the conference will find several groupings directed to them. Included are "Building self-esteem," "Learning to live by myself," "Coping with traditional family orientation in church settings" and Performing the double duties of the single parent with young children."

Cost for the Singles Conference is $45 per person, based on double occupancy of a room with private bath. This includes registration, meals, room and insurance. The conference begins with the evening meal on Friday, Aug. 29, and closes after lunch on Sept. 1.

Persons wishing to register for the conferences should send $15 each (part of the $45) as soon as possible to Larry Haslam, Manager, Glorieta Baptist Conference Center, Box 8, Glorieta, N. M. 87535.

The Singles Conference is sponsored by the adult and young adult sections of the Sunday School department of the Southern Baptist Sunday School Board, Nashville, Tenn.

Outstanding Young Farmers Search Set

The search for the "Outstanding Young Farmer or Rancher" has begun for the year 1975 with a new dimension being added to this year's contest which is conducted by the Texas Farm Bureau--this, an action taken recently by the TFB Board of Directors.

Three finalists are to be selected this year and visits will be made to their farming and/or ranching operations. Filmed reports will be made on each one for showing at the 1975 TFB Convention prior to the announcing of the winner for this year.

Any Farm Bureau member family actively engaged in farming or ranching, the husband being no more than 30 years of age as of December 31, 1975 is eligible for the coveted award.

Entry forms are available at the Hansford County Farm Bureau office in Spearman (or any county FB office) and must be received by October 15.

Judging will be on the basis of progress and accomplishments in farming and/or ranching. The winning couple will have expenses paid to the state convention where they will represent Texas in the national-level judging and will receive recognition along with other state winners.

Panhandle State Sets Summer School Enrollment

The second five-week summer school enrollment at Panhandle State University will be held Monday, June 30 from 8:00 a.m. to 1:00 p.m.

All students must obtain a permit to enroll at the Registrar's Office before reporting to the Student Union Ballroom to enroll.

Classes for the second term begin Tuesday, July 1 and end Friday, August 1. July 4 will be a holiday and no classes will meet.

Incoming freshmen, transfer students, or students enrolling for the first time should have an application for admission, medical form, transcript and ACT test results on file at the registrar's office. If students plan to live in the dorm, they should get a room application on file at the business office with a $15.00 deposit.

For further information, class schedules, or admission forms, write to the Office of the Registrar, Panhandle State University, Goodwell, Oklahoma.

Summer is already on hand and everyone is busy. Hopefully each one of us can take at least a few days of vacation from the routine. If we can't physically leave, in case you wonder about the possibility of some kind of vacation here is your answer.

Health (heart disease, cancer, etc. from worry) to take time to enjoy life, nature, people, etc. and to provide a change of pace, a break from the routine. People who vacation also do a better job upon return. Whether mother or business people those people who take a vacation have been found to do a better job upon return. Whereas the vacation slipper makes more errors and is more irritable, vacations also give others a chance to do for you whether it's a secretary or a neighbor caring for a pet. To maintain closeness among family members, particularly husband and wife is another very important benefit of a vacation. Parents need a chance to know each other to prepare for what the children leave home. The final benefit of a vacation is to prepare for leisure time to come.

FARM AND RANCH NEWS

By Joe Van Zandt

It is good to be back in Hamilton County after spending three weeks at Texas A&M where I took a course in economic Entomology. The course was very interesting and I learned a lot about insects, Integrated Pest Management is the current philosophy. Generally we are going to have to depend more on natural control and less on chemical control of insects and use chemicals to supplement natural control of insects. Many kinds of insects are building up resistance to various chemical controls. Unless we slow down on the use of chemicals, the time may come when it is practically impossible to control insects with pesticides. Natural control means that we must use and allow beneficial insects to maintain a good level in the crop. For beneficial insects to be present, a low level of insects must be present to serve as a food source for the beneficials. Corn leaf aphids are a good example of a food source for beneficials to live on so the beneficials can keep the greenbugs under control. In some instances if you spray for greenbugs or corn leaf aphids, you kill off your beneficials and then the spider mite population explodes. Mites are becoming a serious problem because they are resistant and difficult to control.

I have copies of a new summary on "Insect and Mite Pests of Corn" available in my office. This is a new publication written by Dr. Bill Clymer, Area Extension Entomologist and
