To start the day off Mr. and Mrs. Guy Fuller and Mr. and Mrs. Bob Fuller served a delicious luncheon to all present in the home of the Guy Fullers.

After luncheon the group went to the Home Demonstration Building for an afternoon and evening of visiting and getting re-acquainted, each class member giving a resume of their life for the past fifty years.

During the afternoon friends came by to visit and to enjoy the reunion and it was a happy occasion for all the Exes. Three of the class teachers were also present. They were Miss Ethel Deakin of Guyton and Mrs. Virgie Keys and Mrs. Zola Mae Talley, both of Perryton.

Dinner was served by the women of the Assembly of God Church and was enjoyed by all. After dinner Vondel and Edwin Paul Simmons entertained with music and song.

Following is a list of class members present, along with their husbands and/or wives: Pope Gibner and Margaret, Olivette Noland and Chief, R.P. Fuller and Elaine, Juanita Logan and A. F. ## Computer Analysis At Brock's BRIEFCASE COMPUTER-L.E. Thomas, standing and J.L. Brock, of the J.L. Brock Agency are shown with a new device installed in the agency to provide business analysis in many forms in a very short period of time.

An added service at the J.L. Brock Agency in Spearman is the Briefcase Computer. The computer will fit into a briefcase as you can see in the picture above.

Some of the functions the computer can perform include financial planning analysis; buy or lease analysis; evaluation of a business; investment property analysis; business financial ratios; calculations (including amortization schedule); asset accumulation response and present value calculations; exclusion allowance-non-qualified annuity plans, or organizations and public schools; hypothetical funding programs; mutual funds; hypothetical past performance calculator, renewable and convertible term vs. permanent insurance, split funding money allocation program, money purchase pension program evaluation and calculations; profit sharing program evaluation and calculations; evaluation of insurance policies and premiums; estimate of estate settlement costs and taxes; estate conservation analysis; evaluating alternate types of wills and trusts; and many more.

Receives Sales Tax Check

Comptroller Bob Bullock issued checks totaling $19.9 million Thursday, May 15, 1975, to Texas cities in the second round of monthly city sales tax payments. The May payments were up from the $16.1 million rebated April 15 when the monthly system replaced the old quarterly rebate system with its 60 to 90 day lag time. But, Bullock said, the big payment will come in June when city allocations are made of the quarterly returns paid by merchants since April 30. The great bulk of that money hadn't reached the Comptroller's

Data is put into the computer and a call made to the center in Atlanta, Ga. and the information desired is returned very shortly. The computer compiles most of this data in 15 seconds.

This is an invaluable aid in business planning as well as estate planning and the J.L. Brock Insurance Agency is proud to be able to offer this service to its customers.

office by the May 2 cutoff date for the May payments. The May rebates were made from money received by the Comptroller between April 4, the cutoff for April's payments, and May 2, Bullock said. Checks put in the mail Thursday went to 700 of the 809 cities which have the one per cent sales tax. The remaining small cities fell below the $500 level at which monthly payments aren't made. All rebates, regardless of size, will be issued in June, Bullock said. Spearman's share of the sales tax was $10,432.72 and Gruver received $2,034.63.

Mr. and Mrs. L. S. McLain had as their guests Thursday Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Gerber from Paradise, California and her sister, Mrs. Thelma Finson from Pampa. Mr. Gerber came to Spearman about the beginning of Spearman and he was a real estate and insurance man and at one time, a partner of the McLains before going into real estate and insurance for himself.

Applications For LVN School

Registration for the first Summer Term at Frank Phillips College has been announced for Monday, June 2, with classes being held for the first time Monday through Thursday only. Schedules are available at the Registrar's office. Recent high school graduates are encouraged to contact the college as soon as possible to begin their admission files.

The FPC schedule is offering a wide variety of college courses. Nineteen have been scheduled with additional courses available if there is sufficient demand. Over half will be offered during the evening hours to accommodate students who wish to work. Subjects have been selected which will apply to most any major field of study a student wishes to pursue.

"I expect many students to take advantage of the new four-day week and the convenience of a variety of evening classes," states Registrar Dan Minor. "By attending class Monday through Thursday for five weeks, plus finals, a student can complete six hours of college credit."

First term classes will begin Tuesday, June 2 and end Wednesday, July 9. Second term registration will be Thursday, July 11 and the session will conclude Friday, August 15. Both Freshman and Sophomore courses will be offered. A list scheduled for the summer are classes in welding technology and cosmetology for both full-time and part-time students.

Course offerings for the first term include Business 113, Beginning Shorthand and Business 163, Business English; Biology 124, Zoology and Biology 224, Anatomy and Physiology; Chemistry 114, General Inorganic; English 113, Rhetoric and Composition and English 213, survey of English Literature; Government, etc.

Lawn Mower Safety Advised

Lawn mowing can be hazardous to your health, especially if you disregard safety when using a power mower.

Every year 55,000 Americans are treated in hospital emergency rooms for injuries resulting from the use of power lawn mowers. Many victims lose fingers or toes; some accidents prove fatal.

"Most of these lawn mower accidents could have been prevented if a few safety rules had been followed," contends Wayne Keese, agricultural engineer for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, who is in charge of safety educational programs.

"The first rule in safe operation of a lawn mower is to become completely familiar with your machine. Read the owner's manual carefully. Make sure everyone who will be operating the lawn mower understands the controls and knows how to stop the engine quickly in case of an emergency," emphasized the Texas A&M University System specialist.

"Before mowing, clear the entire lawn of sticks, stones, wire and debris--anything that could be thrown by the mower blade. Then get pets and small children out of the mowing area."

Keese advises disengaging the clutch and shifting into neutral before starting the engine. "Keep your feet away from the blade when starting the engine."

"Stop the engine whenever you leave the mower, if even for a moment," cautions Keese. "Always stop the engine and disconnect the spark plug wire if you intend to check or work on the mower."

"Also stop the engine and allow it to cool before refueling. And use safety containers for gasoline," advises the engineer.

"Exercise extreme caution when mowing on slopes or wet grass, and never pull the mower toward you. Use a 'plug-in' electric mower only when the grass is dry," adds Keese.

"The bill gives adequate financial incentive to insure that underserved areas of Texas will have ready access to qualified medical care," explained Representative Head.

Currently, 17 counties in Texas have no medical doctor. Residents of those 17 counties must travel several hours to nearby cities in order to receive any medical attention.

Citing the most common hardships incurred by rural residents whose communities lack the services of a qualified doctor, Head stressed, "That means there is no one to take care of the child whose flu takes a serious turn for the worse in the middle of the night; or to set a broken limb; or even to deliver a baby who arrives a couple of weeks early."

The bill allows for medical students to receive a $100,000 monthly stipend after they sign a contract to serve in a rural area for at least four years after their graduation and residency.

In order to insure an adequate number of rural doctors in the future, the bill stipulates that at least 20% of each Texas medical school's new class must participate in the program.

Consumer Food News

Meat prices are on the move again--upward, according to Mrs. Gwendolyn Clyatt.

Retail beef prices, generally declining since last September, now will begin increasing somewhat as supplies are slightly less abundant, the consumer marketing information specialist explained.

"Pork and poultry supplies--not as plentiful as beef--will continue to increase, especially as the barbecue season nears," she predicted.

One commodity with lower prices is the egg. Mrs. Clyatt, with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, termed eggs "one of the best protein buys currently available."

In the dairy department, consumers can expect reasonable prices on liquid milk, cottage cheese and dry powdered milk.

Produce counters show a mixture of spring and summer vegetables. Soft-shell yellow squash and green beans are more plentiful, and corn-on-the-cob will double April's supply during May, Mrs. Clyatt said. Potatoes remain abundant, and new shipments of Round Reds are increasing.

In fruit sections, oranges are more plentiful than grapefruit, but both have moderate prices, the specialist noted.

"Strawberries and pineapples are featured items in some stores with quality generally very good, and watermelon prices are gradually dropping as supply increases."

Other vegetables at the most economical prices are beets, celery, cabbage, carrots, dry yellow onions, collards, mustard, turnips and greens.

YOU NAME IT!

Talked with Mr. and Mrs. Garnett, and they have just returned from Waco Robinson, where Dr. Garnett has his new vet clinic. They are doing fine in their new location, and brought back a very interesting story to the editor. Forgive us if we print it. It seems that they were having a big horse show in Waco and Dr. Garnett met a Mr. Roy Drury who was showing some of his horses. They asked if they knew Honest Bill (William J.) Miller, editor of the local scandal sheet. They did, and found out that Mr. Drury had gone through Baylor University with Dad and also was in Dad's company during World War I. In fact, Mr. Drury thought a great deal of Mr. Miller and didn't know that he had passed away. We also know of Mr. Drury, having met him at the state basketball tournaments, and he worked on the Waco papers for 52 years. He is a very fine gentleman and we want Doc Garnett to tell him hello for us! He also owns KAWA radio station in Waco. Incidentally, Doc Garnett, we missed you at the big athletic banquet in Spearman and wish you could come back to see us sometime.

Was out at school getting the Junior High graduation program from Eddy Clemmons and the local crew is really wrecking the floor in the old gym. They will be ready to start on the gym floor as soon as school is out. The seniors are all out working and I was having coffee with Chalmers and his son William, when William informed me that working for his dad so far this year was real strange; all he had done all day Monday was drink soft drinks. It seems that his father starts out in the DO and ends up on Main St. I suspect that William will probably regret this statement of fact!

I have a story for the "Believe It or Not Column" We recently made some mistakes on our summarizing all of the events that our students had accomplished this year at Junior High. First we made pictures of the District Junior High Tennis players who won in district action. We ruined one picture, really the first one we have ruined since we have been using good, fool-proof equipment. Sure enough, the one we ruined was the picture including Pam Largers, one of our Jr. High tennis stars. Then, when Pam was named the Salutatorian of the Jr. High graduating class, we missed the high score that she made, and put it much too low! Well, this wasn't bad, but when we printed the results of the Junior High band, which Pam won a "Superior" rating playing her instrument, sure enough... we left Pam and some of her group out of the band story! One of the school's officials asked me if Freddie Laggent, mother of Pam, called? Of course, I said that she called, and who wouldn't have called? But, we have and this newspaper is a public servant and we will be glad to straighten out our many mistakes. Besides, it makes it real easy: we print our Thursday paper, and we don't have to worry about the Sunday paper, because we have to re-run all of our Thursday stories and get them right. For Sunday! You can't beat a deal like that!

I had quite a struggle at noon Monday. Eugene informed me that the Women's Division of the Chamber of Commerce was having their regular dinner at noon; so I rushed madly down to the Home Demonstration Building... no one showed up, so I rushed to Martin's Steak Gardens... no one showed up. Then I went to the cafe in the shopping center, and they informed me that their dining room was not in use: I stopped by the Dairy Queen, the A & W and the Diner, and then I called Eugene. He said they were eating at the Library, and go in the side door. I tried all of the doors, and they were locked. I rushed home, and called Eugene and he said go in the back door of the library building and up the stairs. Sure enough, at 5 minutes 'til 1, I found the charming ladies in the front of the library eating a scrumptious meal. I apologized to them for being late, but informed them that in 50 years, that was the hardest I had ever tried to get a picture. They rewarded me with a beautiful picture of Elvona Davis, and the little Martin and Sheets girls receiving their awards for picking the outstanding slogan of the year (see picture in other part of paper). Also, the girls fixed me some cake and iced tea and they were so delightful. I don't think I will ever understand people who served their town like the Chamber ladies and the Baker & Taylor women. And, speaking of the Baker and Taylor women, they raised some $400.00 with their rummage sale last week-end, and I was the first customer. I bought me a fishing hat and a mowing machine! Have had a lot of fun with both of them. I took the hat fishing and didn't catch any fish, and I forgot to put gas in the lawn mower and worked on it 2 days before someone reminded me that it wasn't electric!

Why don't you...

- From time to time we and other editors are asked various things and we decided this week (with the help of some material borrowed from one of our exchanges) to answer some of those questions.
- Question: Why don't you write an editorial and tell those guys on the city commission what they can do to improve the town?
- Answer: Why don't you go down to the next commission meeting and tell them yourself?
- Q. Why don't you print more letters to the editor?
- A. Why don't you write me one? And sign it with your name, please - don't be chicken.
- Q. Why don't you run more pages in the paper?
- A. Because the outgo would exceed the income and then out I'd go.
- Q. Why don't you print in color, say red, more often?
- A. Our entire supply of red ink is used in the bookkeeping department.
- Q. Why don't you have funny papers?
- A. We think we have the funniest paper in Texas already.
- Q. Why don't you have an "Advice to the Lovelorn" column, like Dear Abby?
- A. None of our readers has any such problems.
- Q. Why don't you carry TV reviews?
- A. They can pay for their advertising.
- Q. Why don't you run a pin-up picture once in a while?
- A. Why not?
- Q. Why do you make so many grammatical mistakes?
- A. Cause we ain't never learned no better.
- Q. Why don't you run recipes?
- A. We did and left a line out. Twenty people got sick and canceled their subscriptions.
- Q. Why do you devote space to such trivialities as "Joe Smith ordered the hospital this week?"
- A. Because good old Joe has many friends who are concerned about his health, even if you're not. And some of them might send him cards which he would appreciate.
- Q. Who cares about questions like this anyway?
- A. We do.
- Q. How come there are so many misspelled words?
- A. Could you please repeat the question?

These questions and answers have not solved a lot of problems, but at least they should not have created any which is quite an accomplishment in these times.

-From The Garnett (Kans.) Review

BITS OF THIS AND THAT

I'm going to try to write my column from the hospital. I feel we have such a fine bunch of nurses and office help and, of course, what would we do without the housekeeping girls. And believe me, that young man, Doug, from the lab isn't bad at all. And Rita Pettitt was so sweet to me, she even went up to the station Thursday to get Dave to come drive me home, as she didn't think I should be trying to drive. That Rita is some gal. So is Mrs. Booth. These housekeepers are so friendly: Maria, Mickey and Francis, Richard Raso and his wife came by last Friday night. Richard had just been discharged from Perryton Hospital. He stopped by the station and heard I was here once again, so here they came--brought me a beautiful red carnation. It's really pretty! These fine people are from Gruver.

Thank you Buddy Hopper, for helping Dave at the station Friday night. He really appreciated your help. Scotty Dewitt only worked a little while Friday night as it was Bo DeArmond's birthday and he was invited to Bo's party. Just had a nice vase of white carnations with pink edges delivered from Gordon's Drug. They are real pretty, a lo.

Edna Hays dropped in Saturday afternoon to visit. Sure enjoyed seeing her. Windy Miller told us that Saturday was her last day working at Hansford Hospital. We will miss Windy here, but she'll be able to spend more time with Officer Jimmy Miller and her two children. A lo visiting here with me Saturday night was Mrs. Overton and Mrs. Fullbright. They didn't stay very long, but it was so nice having them drop in. They hadn't been gone very long when Doctor Hackley came in. He is taking over for Doctor Thomas, who went to Colorado to his daughter's graduation on. Then in came Rev. Don Wirsdorfer from our church. I always enjoy Don's visits and I hope they find their long-haired cat that was lost at the fire station Saturday. This cat would be easy to recognize as he's very big... weighs between 18 and 25 lbs. His name is Scamp. He's part Siamese and Angora. The Wirsdorfer's phone number is 3477. Juanita Pierce stopped by for a few minutes to visit. Son, Lynn, is home from college and hopes to leave in June to study overseas. Glad you are home, Lynn Pierce... for a while, anyway. Juanita's folks, the Homer McManus, have gone back to Kingsland, Texas. Many Thanks to Wayne Ellsworth out at KBMF FM for all those nice things he said about me Friday night and the nice records he played for me. Thanks, Wayne. Sunday will be Connie Trevino's last day working at the hospital, too. We sure will miss Connie, as we will the other aides that have resigned--Windy, Connie and Stella. Good Luck to you three in whatever you do. Glad to see Doctor Thomas back on the job. He was telling me about seeing a tornado on the ground. I assume while he was flying his plane. Many Thanks to Doctor Hackley for taking care of me while Doctor Thomas was gone. Don't know when I'll be out of here, but I'm sure not going to rush it this time. But then, I know Doctor Thomas won't let me out until he thinks bez.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hutchison are going to Enid, Oklahoma this week to see their Granddaughter, Nell Oldham's graduation from High School. Congratulations, Nell. Happy Be-lated Birthday to Wayne Ellsworth whose birthday was last Monday. Hope your day was the greatest! Happy and Carla Russell have as house guest, Carla's Mother, Dad, Grandma, and sister. Welcome to Spearman, folks. Hope you like it as well as we from California do. Carla's Mother and Dad are from Taft, California. Wish you'd of brought Roberts Price back with you. Maybe I'll get to meet you before you leave. Edna Hays has visitors, also. Her brother and his wife from Oklahoma arrived at 3P.M. Sunday and Edna is one happy gal. Bet they'll do lots of fishing while here. Probably around Dalhart. Happy Fishing; Have Fun, Edna. Thanks again to Bill Hopper for offering to watch the station for a while so Dave could take a breather. You Hoppers are fine, fine folks. Don't forget Spearman scrambles races last Sunday in May; which I believe is the 25th. Come on you girls, let's sign up for the beauty pageant. I know a lot of you you girls 16 years and over who could really be winners. Let's really get with it and make this one great pageant this year. If you don't have a sponsor, go ask some business people bit. So sign up, girls, as there's not much time left. Mr. and Mrs. Paul Garza gave a small dinner party Sunday, May 18 for the Spanish young folks who are graduating. A lo hear the Garza's daughter is home from college. Nice of you folks to have a party for these young folks. Nice having Billy Miller drop in Sunday evening. Always enjoy Billy's visits. But sure missed the Liacs. Come back, Billy. Hi! Sybil. Thought for The Day: To Be Forgiven I must Forgive. Hope you are feeling better, Francis, Sim. Our Heavenly Father, we pray for a forgiving spirit. Forgive the things we have left undone and the things we have not done well. In Jesus' Name, Amen. God Be With All Of You.

Borger Plans Annual Fish Fry

BORGER--The World's Largest Fish Fry will feature some of the country's top banjo pickers who will compete for a $550 banjo June 7.

The fry, which annually hosts about 5,000 people from throughout the country, decided this year that it would return a festival atmosphere to the event. The Aluminum Dome is the site once again.

John Griggs and Lou Cooley, both members of the Borger Chamber of Commerce, came up with the idea. They presented it to Fish Fry Commodore Tom Stone with the idea of putting the plan into effect in 1976.

However, the more the committee thought of it, the more it liked the idea.

So, Griggs and Mrs. Cooley set to work on the idea. They have gotten commitments from Dr. Charles Townsend, a recipient of the Grammy Award and the Wrangler Trophy of the National Cowboy Hall of Fame, and Rip Ramsey, a former musician with Bob Wills and the Texas Playboys, to judge the contest.

The committee is also trying to obtain a similar commitment from Roy Rogers, who will be in the area making a movie during the fish fry.

The pickers will compete for a $550 Ibanez Blue Grass banjo with a hard shell case. Second prize will be $75 cash. Third prize pays $50 and fourth pays $25.

Judging is based on four different areas including tuning, clarity of play, difficulty and originality with the piece. Entries must be received by June 3 with a $5 fee.

HIGHWAY DEPT. BEGINS WORK HERE

The Texas Hi-way Dept. will begin re-topping of all of the Texas hi-way property in the city. They will start at the East City limits and go to the Hutchison Co. line. Drive carefully and watch for school children and hiway dept. workers!

When You Buy... Check Your E.E.R!

850 WATTS 7 E.E.R. 6000 BTU'S

When buying air conditioning for your home . . . it's important to check the Energy Efficiency Ratio. The information needed to figure the E.E.R. is on a metal plate which is attached to every air conditioning unit. Simply divide the BTU's by the watts. The recommended E.E.R. for an air conditioner is 7.0 or more. A low efficiency unit has an E.E.R. of about 5 or 6. It will probably cost a little more to buy the more efficient air conditioner . . . but in the long run it will save you money, as it operates more efficiently. You can help keep it operating efficiently by cleaning filters and having it serviced regularly.

Cattle Business Could Be Worse?

According to a piece "lifted" from April 27th Fort Worth Star-Telegram: "If you think the cattle business isn't bad, listen to the following as told by J. W. Bill Gage.

A man took two heifer calves to an auction and no one would bid on them.

He tried to give them to several people at the auction and no one would take them.

So, he loaded the calves back in his trailer and started home. Just inside the Denton County line, he had a flat on his truck. He left the truck and trailer by the side of the road and walked a couple of miles to Gage's home to use the phone.

Gage drove him back to the truck. And, Gage says, when they got there someone had crammed five more calves into the trailer and tied another to the tailgate."

Grasshoppers cannot jump unless the temperature is at least 62 degrees Fahrenheit.

READEO Is Watching Over You

Frightening as a series of letters may be to all of us who dread bureaucrats and their alphabet soup titles, the members of the Regional Emergency Animal Disease Eradication Organization are the ones who allay fears instead of inspire them by hovering watchfully over outbreaks of livestock and poultry exotic diseases before they have a chance to spread.

According to a recent article by Rollie Henkes in "The Furrow" the READEO form a second line of defense against enemies of the badly battered livestock industry in the event of an outbreak of even foot-and-mouth disease which could almost annihilate the industry at this point.

READEO stands ready to rush to the scene of an outbreak and bottle up the disease before it can spread. The program is administered by the Emergency Programs section of Veterinary Services within the USDA.

There are five of these organizations, one for each region of the country, according to Dr. Richard Omohundro, Director of Emergency Programs and of READEO, so that in the event that an exotic disease attacks their job is to confine and eradicate--fast!

What is so unusual about READEO is the speed with which it reacts. Within 12 hours a team of 50 to 100 experts can be on the scene of an outbreak and they don't leave until the emergency is over. They nearly all have other jobs as well but when the alarm sounds, they drop whatever they are doing and rush off to do battle with disease.

Principal strategies so far have been to put an area under quarantine immediately, test animals within the area, and dispose of infected or exposed animals. Farmers are compensated for the loss of their stock.

Some 300 persons throughout the country are serving on the five READEO teams with back-up teams available in the event that more than one outbreak occurs within the same region. Serving on the teams are disease-control specialists, plus pathologists, epidemiologists, laboratory technicians, and specialists in disposing of dead animals and disinfecting premises. Still other professional personnel back up these teams.

Exotic disease which READEO tackles include the dread hoof-and-mouth disease, Rift Valley fever, typanosomiasis, exotic Newcastle disease, infectious petechial fever, African swine fever, gonderiosis, East Coast fever, African horse sickness, rinderpest, and fowl plague.

The first test of the capabilities of READEO was in February 1974 when a team answered a hog-cholera alarm. The day after a case of hog cholera was diagnosed on a Mississippi farm, more than 100 READEO experts from eight states converged on the scene. Successful in their enterprise, they closed the book on the outbreak two months later after inspecting more than 6,000 hogs. The disease never advanced beyond a 30x35 miles area.

About the same time, an outbreak of exotic Newcastle disease brought another READEO team to Texas with this team clearing up the infected area in three months. Actually, though you think the livestock industry is in bad shape (though improving somewhat) just imagine what an outbreak of foot-and-mouth disease could do to it!

Interesting it is to note that this past week, all bans in Texas had been lifted for the first time in over a year, according to the USDA. Portions of the state have been under federal quarantine for over a year but with the lifting of the quarantine for sporadic cattle scabies in our own Hansford County this past week, the entire state has been released from any quarantines.

A almost a motto of READEO is that it is one of few organizations that actually tries to put itself out of business. Remember the ABC of disease elimination might well be READEO.

Grain Sorghum Rates Important

LUBBOCK--High Plains farmers likely are going into 1975 sorghum planting with near-adequate reservoirs of soil moisture, and some may even be delayed by wet field conditions. Despite these mixed blessings they're going to have to pay special attention to cultural practices if they aim for peak yields, says an area agronomist.

"Profitable grain sorghum yields depend to a large extent on good cultural methods," says Dr. James Supak, area extension specialist at Lubbock. "Two important practices are seeding rate and row spacing."

Research over the years by Texas Agricultural Experiment Station scientists at Lubbock has shown that under dryland conditions, where only store soil moisture and a limited amount of rainfall is available, low plant populations and conventional 140-inch row spacing result in highest grain yields, the agronomist explains.

Optimum planting rates under dryland conditions range from 1 1/2 to 2 pounds per acre or about two to three seed per foot of 40-inch row, he says. Higher seeding rates may result in grain yield reduction due to increased use of early season moisture for stover production. Subsequently, late season moisture may be insufficient resulting in poor head exertion, shrunken seed and lodging.

Producers with enough water for one or two irrigations during the boot and bloom stages may increase their grain yields by increasing the planting rate to three to five pounds (4 to 6 seed per foot of row) on 40-inch rows," Supak believes.

When sufficient water for more than two irrigations is available, higher grain yields may be obtained by increasing the planting rate and reducing the row spacings.

Other studies at Lubbock, he added, have indicated that six to eight pounds of seed per acre planted on 12- and 20-inch row spacings consistently produced more grain per inch of water used than identical plant populations on conventional 40-inch row spacings. In addition to greater water-use efficiency,

Farm & Ranch News by

Joe VanZandt

According to the latest USDA Cattle-On-Feed report issued as of May 1, there were 5,589,000 cattle and calves on feed in the 7 major feeding states of Texas, Arizona, California, Colorado, Iowa, Nebraska and Kansas. This is 12,000 head above the number on feed April 1, but is 38 percent less than the 8,351,000 head on feed last year at this time.

April placements on feed for these 7 states were 1,383,000 head, which is 42,000 head more than a year ago. Marketings for the 7 states were 1,260,000 head for April compared to 1,316,000 head marketed the preceding month and 1,629,000 marketed a year ago.

In Texas there were 1,065,000 head on feed, May 1, which is 5 percent below the 1,122,000 head on feed April 1, and 49 percent below the 2,072,000 head on feed a year earlier. Texas feeders placed 234,000 head on feed during April, which is 15 percent below April 1974, and 38 percent below the previous month of March, 1975.

USDA also reports that the pasture and range feed condition on May 1 for the 48 contiguous states was 76 percent. This is 5 points below both last year and the 1964-73 average for the date. The reported condition indicated pasture and range feed was generally poor to fair.

I heard that several Hansford County residents went down to Lubbock last week to attend the FPC hearings relative to reclassifying irrigation gas priorities. It is good to know that this area was represented, and we will just have to wait and see what the outcome is.

Speaking of irrigation, our wheat is currently in a high use period. It seems that crops are running one to two weeks later than normal this year. Therefore, you may need to irrigate your wheat later than normal for maximum yields.

Wheat needs approximately 3 inches of water every ten days at the heading stage. Water use rate slows by grain filling, but adequate moisture is essential to maintain grain production potential.

Chrysanthemums can provide fall color for the home landscape after other annual plants have died. Rooted cuttings planted in late May or early June will make smaller plants that need little staking if pinched back properly.

The flower bed should be fertile and elevated for proper drainage. Fertilizer should be broadcast before planting, and a sidedressing should follow six weeks after planting. Mulching around the plants along with proper watering and pruning will produce beautiful blooms.

School will soon be out and families will be taking vacations, having company, etc. Plan now to make the most of these times. One area that often presents a problem is food for the guests. Of course with more people having a home garden the fresh vegetables are readily available. Another alternative is to freeze dishes to simply cook or heat at serving time.

A rather easy way to begin is by making two batches of a recipe at one time then eat one and freeze one. Or if your family can't eat a whole cake freeze half. Use your imagination for ways to do this.

Also it is perfectly correct to ask guests especially if they are with you a few days, to help with meal preparation, clean up, table setting, etc. Many people feel better if they are allowed to do some helping. If you have a regular place for things and keep them there it will be easier to tell others when they are helping you.

If any of you are needing any part time or even full time summer helpers with house work, baby sitting, etc. let me know. Several older teen age girls are looking for summer jobs. We still do not have our phone since moving to our new home, so you'll need to call me at the office. Dial 733-2901 (sheriff's office and ask for us) or 659-2030.

Since we're in a food track today I'd like to talk a little bit about new findings of diet as it relates to health. It all boils down to the fact that we eat too many refined foods and thus don't have the roughage our body needs. This also effects cholesterol level and weight. We can do something about this. Fresh fruits and vegetables - especially if eaten raw - are excellent sources. Buy whole wheat bread or better yet, grind your own flour! Mills are available and if your family grows wheat this could be a sort of family bi-centennial project and healthy at the same time. Or bake cracked wheat bread. There is an excellent recipe in the Bi-Centennial Cook Book. I still have several of these if you are interested. They are excellent and reasonable. I've been using them for shower gifts, too. Or add bran to your family's diet. Could be in muffins, as cereal or office and ask for us) or 659-2030.
