AUSTIN (AP)—Texas' crucial water problem moved to a top position today for quick legislative attention.

Atom-Powered Sub Begins Its First Test Run

GROTON, Conn. (AP)—The atomic submarine Nautilus said by the Navy to be moving under "nuclear propulsion," pulled away from her dock at 11:01 a. m. today to start her builders' trial.

"This is the first time that any sort of a vehicle has moved by atomic power," said a Navy officer shortly before the trials began.

Leaving the dock at the Electric Boat Division of General Dynamics Corp., where she was launched a year ago, the Nautilus moved slowly to the middle of the Thames River before heading downstream for the trial area in Long Island Sound.

The Navy could not have ordered a more ideal day for the historic event. Under an almost cloudless sky, the slight breeze faintly rippled the blue sun-glinted waters of the Thames.

Although the event was perhaps as significant as the sailing of Robert Fulton's Clermont from New York Aug. 17, 1807, no civilian spectators were on hand to see the Nautilus off.

There were a few observers, however, on docks in New London, a half mile away across the river.

A Navy tug with a party of newsmen hovered at a discreet distance from the 300-foot Nautilus.

Atomic Energy Commission and Navy designers already knew, from tests with a land-based prototype power plant, that the Nautilus' nuclear engine would work.

In addition, they cautiously tried out the Nautilus' plant several days ago while the boat remained tied to the pier.

Orders called for the Nautilus to head downstream slowly toward Long Island Sound, where probably for days she will go through her surface trials. Later the critical diving tests will come.

Unofficial estimates of the total cost of the Nautilus range as high as $50 millions.

Colder Weather Seen; Parhandle Due Snow, Sleet

Temperatures are expected to drop in Big Spring from a high today of 65 to a low tonight of 28 according to the U. S. Weather Bureau in Midland. This rapid drop in temperatures is apparently due to the norther which is expected to hit the Panhandle area tonight.

Occasional rain is predicted to accompany the cold snap throughout the night. Tuesday is expected to be clear and continued cold with a high temperature of from 40 to 45 degrees.

The leading edge of a norther expected to bring subfreezing weather with snow and sleet to the Panhandle and upper South Plains passed into Texas before noon Monday. A vast fog shrouded great sections of the state.

The cold front is expected to bring showers over much of the state as it moves across Texas Monday and Tuesday. Considerably colder weather is expected throughout the area.

At Amarillo, the mercury dropped from 35 degrees at 7:30 a. m. to a freezing 32 two hours later as the norther moved in. At Dalhart, in the upper Panhandle, temperatures dropped to 33 and a drizzle, expected to change to sleet or snow, was falling.

A band of fog 300 miles wide still lay across Texas late Monday after moving in during the night.

Before dawn, fog stretched northwest-southeast from the up-blocked the lawmakers' own pay raise and a salary boost for the governor and five other state officials.

Lindsey said the objection was raised under joint rules of the House and Senate last session which had not yet been readopted this session. He ruled the objection was therefore invalid.

Then the House struck out the pay raise for the governor and other constitutional officers on motion of Rep. Jo Winfree of Houston. That sends the measure back to the Senate.

Also introduced was Sen. George Moffett's proposal to set up a new 100-million-dollar veterans' land fund to finance loans for small farm buying.

Nearly 100 bills were ready for introduction in the House, and 41 went into the Senate's mill.

Included in the Senate bills were several providing for tighter marriage and divorce laws, child support measures, and a number on insurance. One proposed amendment would abolish trial by jury in lunacy cases as suggested by Gov. Shivers, another abolish the constitutional ban on state funds for advertising Texas.

Bills filed for the House included proposals for tightening insurance regulation, providing heavier penalties for narcotics violations, outlawing common law marriages, allowing down divorces, and providing better protection for minors whose parents are divorced.

Proposed amendments ready for introduction in the House, and 41 went into the Senate's mill.

Orders called for the Nautilus to head downstream slowly toward Long Island Sound, where probably for days she will go through her surface trials. Later the critical diving tests will come.

Receives Surprise Portrait

Raymond L. Tollett, who usually knows what's going on at a meeting of the Cosden board of directors, was caught by surprise Monday. He is shown receiving a three-dimensional portrait presented by Thomas McGowan, executive director of the Southwest edition of the Wall Street Journal. It is the work of two Finnish artists who employ an unique process.

Presentation Of Portrait Is Cosden Board Meet Surprise

Cosden Petroleum Corporation's monthly board meeting, convened here in an unusual mid-year session, developed a surprise Monday morning.

Raymond L. Tollett, Cosden president, was presented with a three-dimensional portrait by Frank P. McGowan, executive director of the Southwest edition of the Wall Street Journal. Tollett was caught completely by surprise.

Presentation at the board meeting was coincidental, said McGowan. Journal executives had intended that it be given to Tollett prior to Christmas but he fell ill at that time. Monday was the first opportunity that McGowan had to come to Big Spring.

After two hours in session, directors spent an hour touring the refinery to inspect the various processing and manufacture units of the plant.

Here for the meeting were Thomas I. Sheridan, Leo M. O'Neill and Herbert W. Grindal of New York, Nelson Phillips Jr., Dallas, Tollett and Marvin Miller, A. V. Karcher, other member of the board was ill. They were honored at a special luncheon at the Settles at noon. The board normally meets here in July for the annual stockholders meeting. Other sessions are held in New York.

The portrait presented to Tollett is hand carved on Klobb wood. It is the work of two Finnish artists, K. Rissanen and T. Aikylä, who developed their hobby during the Russo-Finnish war in 1939 with Gen. Mannerheim as their first subject.

From a photograph enlarged to the desired size, contours are first sketched and then carved into the wood, using only the regular Finnish trench knife called the Puko.

Webb To Graduate Class On Tuesday

George Champion, the senior vice president of the Chase National Bank in New York, will be speaker for the graduation of Cadet Class 55-G at Webb AFB tomorrow.

Champion's son, Lt. George Champion Jr., is a member of the class.

The graduation ceremonies are to start at 3 p. m. in the academic auditorium, following a wing review on the base ramp. An informal reception will follow at 3:30 p. m. in the officers' club.

Land Promoter Silent In Probe

AUSTIN (AP)—Land promoter L. V. Ruffin of Brady has invoked constitutional immunity against testifying before Senate investigators about alleged irregularities in the state veterans land program, Chairman Dorsey Hardeman of San Angelo said today.

Hardeman said Ruffin was called by subpoena before the committee in closed session today.

"I informed him of his constitutional rights not to testify if he thought it would incriminate him," Hardeman said. "He invoked the right and was excused."

Ruffin had been named by state Auditor C. H. Carver as making an "apparent" profit of more than $310,000 in less than a year in four land sales to the state under the veterans program.

Ruffin later asserted the figure was wrong, declaring he had "never seen that kind of money."

The Senate investigating committee had three other witnesses under subpoena for today. They included Zavala County Atty. Curtis Jackson; H. L. Richey, South Texas appraiser who resigned from the veterans land program last week; and Paul Little of Crystal City, who figured in a number of veterans land deals under various names.

The committee took its investigation behind closed doors last week for fear public questioning of witnesses possibly could jeopardize grand jury investigations and prosecutions.

Outgo	63,504	62,408
Deficit	4,504	2,408
Yearend Debt	274,300	276,000

By FRANK O'BRIEN
WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower recommended today a slightly trimmed budget he said is designed to guard the nation "against attack from within" while advancing human welfare and economic growth.

The Chief Executive's spending blueprint, outlined in a 27,000-word message and a bulky volume of supporting figures, proposed a 13-month outgo of $62,408,000,000.

It contemplates a deficit of about 2½ billion dollars—a little more than half that estimated for the current fiscal year, the fifth successive year of deficits.

Estimated expenditures were down a little over a billion dollars from that anticipated for the current year. The President predicted that income in the new fiscal year, starting July 1, would be a billion dollars over this year—reflecting optimism over the future of the national economy.

Eisenhower told Congress—where some members of the dominant Democratic party have pondered aloud if his defense plans are adequate—that "never in our peacetime history have we been as well prepared to defend ourselves as we are now."

But, he said, to protect an "insecure peace" he has assigned to national security programs 40½ billion dollars—65 per cent of the nation's spending in the next fiscal year. That is virtually no change from this year's security outlays, but is six billions less than last year's.

Eisenhower said he has re-examined, and found mostly good except for "some changes in timing" the military "new look" adopted last year. The new budget thus continues primary reliance on airpower to fend off attack and carry smashing retaliation to any aggressors.

President Lays Emphasis On Radar Fence

In addition, Eisenhower laid new emphasis upon a thickening arc of radar eyes across the north of the continent to give early warnings of any sneak attack. The Air Force got a record one-half of the spending money assigned to the armed services, with two-thirds of its money earmarked for procurement of up-to-date jet aircraft.

"In my judgment, the military force and programs upon which this budget is based are accurately adjusted to the national needs," Eisenhower said in his budget message, sent to Capitol Hill.

One recommendation bound to be controversial was the proposed foreign aid program. In the new fiscal year the President proposed spending of $4,700,000,000, most of it money voted by Congress in previous years. That figure is about 400 million over anticipated spending this year.

And he asked for new funds totaling $3,530,000,000, as compared with the $2,781,000,000 voted last year.

There was no geographical breakdown, but Eisenhower said the proposed spending would be split up this way in broad categories: $3,075,000,000 for direct military assistance to help U. S. allies build up their armed forces; 600 millions for "direct forces support" to such countries as the Indo-chinese states, Formosa and Korea, whose military budgets this country helps to meet; and $1,025,000,000 for nonmilitary foreign aid, most of it presumably for Asia.

On the nonmilitary side, the new Eisenhower budget stressed a "policy of partnership" in development of communications and resources between the federal government and the states, local governments and private interests.

Eisenhower called for cost-sharing programs throughout the civilian part of his budget, including references to roads, aviation, shipbuilding and natural resources.

He announced appointment of a special commission to study soaring veterans' benefit costs, which, he said, need "constructive reconsideration."

Budget Based On Higher-Income Forecast

Eisenhower told Congress the nation has come through a transition from wartime to peacetime economy which was "difficult for some" but "not serious on the whole," and that "our present growing prosperity has solid foundation."

Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey told newsmen the fiscal year 1956 budget is based on Treasury predictions that during the calendar year 1955 personal income will rise by 4 per cent and corporation profits by 7 per cent.

Humphrey said he does not envision any tax cutting proposals this year, but that he hopes by next year "to be talking about tax reductions and a balanced budget, or a nearly balanced budget."

Eisenhower said future spending cuts will be more difficult, but he declared tax reduction "remains a firm goal of this administration," adding: "A growing prosperity will result in increasing revenues and should make possible both a balanced budget and lower tax rates in the near future. I hope that tax reductions will be justified next year."

If that happens, the President said, he will recommend tax cuts aimed to "spread the relief fairly among all taxpayers, to relieve individual tax burdens and to increase incentive for effort and investment."

Meanwhile, because "we cannot afford to have any further loss of revenue this year through reductions in taxes," he again asked Congress to extend the present 52 per cent corporation income tax rate, as well as present rates of a group of excise taxes, all scheduled to drop on April 1. His budget estimates were based on an assumption this would be done.

The new forecasts for the current fiscal year showed a general squeeze-down since September 1954, when fiscal 1955 estimates were last revised. The government then forecast receipts totaling 59½ billion, spending of 64 billion and a deficit of 4½ billion.

U. S. Rushes Planes To Aid Costa Ricans

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica (AP)—U. S. Air Force pilots rushed four fighter planes to Costa Rica today to help the embattled government challenge rebel control of the air.

The planes—World War II Mustangs sold by the U. S. government to Costa Rica reportedly for $1 apiece—were due here this morning. Costa Rican pilots will man the craft against the rebels, who reportedly have an air force of one fighter and two trainers.

The Organization of American States, which has urged the United States to bolster this nation's armed forces in the six-day uprising, received an urgent appeal from Costa Rica's government last night for "further and more effective help."

Costa Rica has accused her northern neighbor Nicaragua of stirring up the revolt. Nicaragua has denied the charge, but an OAS investigating team—without naming Nicaragua specifically—has reported that a substantial amount of the rebel war material was introduced over Costa Rica's northern border.

Until the transfer of the U. S. planes—the Figueres government's makeshift air force has consisted chiefly of slow civilian transports which were hastily armed with machine guns after the rebel outbreak.

Meanwhile, fighting erupted again yesterday on the only active front, at Santa Rosa plantation in northwest Costa Rica near the Nicaraguan border. The continued activity in the area appeared to indicate a decisive battle might be shaping up.

A general staff communique said government troops, unofficially estimated at 1,000 men, held fast in a clash yesterday afternoon although the rebel forces were aided by one plane.

Loyalist forces on Saturday had claimed victory in a major skirmish at Santa Rosa. Informants said the outbreak yesterday came north of the plantation center when government troops moved out from positions captured in the engagement the day before.

Reports from the front said President Jose Figueres had toing toing for shelter yesterday when the rebels bombed the outskirts of Liberia, about 20 miles southeast of Santa Rosa. A communique said the bombardment killed two soldiers and Oscar Cordero, correspondent for a San Jose newspaper.

Cooperation Agreed On Planning Bypass Route

The city, county and highway department agreed this morning to cooperate in the planning of the U. S. 80 bypass of Big Spring.

The agreement covers preliminary surveys; design of the super highway, including provisions for drainage; and the acquisition of right-of-way.

At the request of city and county commissioners, J. C. (Jake) Roberts, district highway engineer, said preliminary survey work will be started promptly. An effort will be made to establish the "master center line" of the six-mile bypass as soon as possible, so that a start can be made on the acquisition of right-of-way ahead of any possible improvements in the area the route will take.

Construction of the bypass along North Twelfth Street appears to be the most feasible as far as the route is concerned, Roberts said.

The highway engineer pointed out that a number of problems which will involve the county, city and the State Highway Department must be solved in planning the bypass.

These include drainage, the matter of four grade separations (or overpasses) at points where the bypass will cross the T&P Railway (two places), U. S. Highway 87 and State Highway 350. A system of interchanges at the two places the bypass will join with the present U. S. Highway 80 also was mentioned as a problem to be worked out.

As far as drainage is concerned, the "legality" of diverting water from one point to another will have to be taken into consideration, the highway engineer said.

The Big Spring City Commission called the joint meeting of city, county and highway officials to consider the possibility of incorporating in highway plans a diversion channel or other drainage facility across the northern edge of the city. Roberts said the State Highway Department will cooperate on the problem. He suggested a later meeting, to include local and state engineering representatives of the Bureau of Public Roads and possibly the T&P Railway Company, for discussions on the problem.

Both city and county commissioners this morning approved resolutions accepting the State

Part-Time Evangelist Held In Wounding Of Deputy Sheriff

WAXAHACHIE, Tex. (AP) — Bloodhounds found a part-time lay evangelist covering under a church pew last night after he shot down a deputy sheriff.

Six-foot, raw-boned J. P. Townsend, boastful and threatening a few hours earlier when he shot it out with three officers, crawled meekly from under the pew and surrendered.

His capture abruptly ended a big manhunt through the woody bottoms of Waxahachie Creek. More than 50 officers, armed with high-powered rifles and shotguns and angry over the shooting of a fellow officer, had scoured the darkened brushland.

Deputy Sheriff Robert Rogers, shot in the hip when he and two other peace officers approached Townsend to question him about a traffic complaint, was not seriously hurt.

"Hell, I'll just kill all three of you S.O.B.'s," Deputy Sheriff Robert White quoted the 33-year-old Townsend as saying when the officers walked up to his house at nearby Sardis, Tex.

The deputy said Townsend then opened fire with a .410 shotgun, felled Rogers, fired two more blasts through the door of the patrol car, and fled into his house. The officers returned the fire. Their gunshots ripped through the screen door and thudded into the door frame but missed Townsend.

White and City Marshal Perry Adams, of nearby Midlothian, Tex., ducked behind their car while firing at Townsend. They were not hit.

While the big manhunt was being organized, Townsend crawled about 100 yards to the nearby church, throwing away his shotgun on the way.

A highway patrolman said Townsend became a part-time lay evangelist after his release several years ago from the Texas Penitentiary, where he had served an assault and robbery sentence.

The three officers had gone to Townsend's home after receiving a complaint from a motorist that the towhee-haired man had side-swiped his car and sped away.

Sheriff Burl White said they arrived to find that Townsend had been drinking and "just couldn't be reasoned with."

The sheriff said he will file assault to murder charges today.

11 Die Violently During Weekend

Violence claimed at least 11 lives in Texas over the weekend.

In spite of rain-slick highways and fog, only seven persons died in traffic.

Two persons committed suicide, another was shot and a tot choked on a balloon.

Willie Wade, 43, was found shot to death at his Dallas home Sunday. A man and woman were arrested.

Charles Jones, 75, was killed by an ambulance at a Fort Worth intersection Saturday.

John Hamilton, 12, of Wichita Falls was killed Saturday in a head-on car crash near Grapevine.

Carolyn Staples, 17 months, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Staples of Palestine, choked Friday night on a balloon.

Mrs. Fernando Bautista, 61, San Antonio, and Airman Gene Farrell Gilliam, 20, of Gary Air Force Base were killed Saturday in a head-on collision west of Luling.

Cpl. G. L. French, 23, a soldier at Camp Wolters, was killed Saturday when a car overturned west of Weatherford.

Marion Harwell, 79, was found shot to death in his home at Quannah Sunday. Justice J. C. Carson ruled suicide.

Special C119 Engine Inspections Ordered

GREENVILLE, S. C. (AP) — The 18th Air Force yesterday ordered special inspections of the engines of its 92 Flying Boxcar planes participating in training exercise Snowbird in Alaska.

Headquarters of the 18th at Donaldson Air Force Base here said in a statement that the special periodic engine inspections will be "continued as long as necessary or until investigations being conducted in connection with the four Alaskan airlift C119 incidents reveal the cause for failures of the C119 engines."

Making It Simple

SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—For officers investigating a $33 robbery yesterday it was relatively simple to walk across a parking lot and arrest the culprit in his hiding place between two steel pillars along the wall of a building.

Seems the bandit had forgotten about the two inches of fresh snow on the ground, in which his footprints were clearly outlined.

Mutual Sympathy

AMARILLO, Tex. (AP) — Kenneth Wiley, cab driver, told police he picked up a passenger at a bus station and moments later his fare pulled a gun, demanding money.

Wiley gave him $3.

"Is this all you have?" the gunman asked.

Wiley said it was.

The man handed the money back, saying, "Here, you take it. You need it worse than I do."

Wiley said he figured the man must need money or he wouldn't be staging a holdup. Wiley said he put $2 in his pocket and gave the passenger a dollar.

Ending Federal Competition With Business Gets Stress

By STERLING F. GREEN

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower sent to Congress today a high-spending budget which places heavy stress on pulling the government out of competition with business.

Eisenhower's estimate that the Treasury will take in 60 billion dollars in the year starting next July 1 is a bet on full economic recovery from 1954's slackoff.

The planned outlays — $62,400,000,000 — remain high enough, officials said, to keep a strong prop under the private economy. They are only $1,100,000,000 below this year's spending.

And while the administration again falls short of its goal of a balanced budget, this time by an estimated $2,400,000,000, it will have accomplished a first objective — a half-billion dollar surplus in its cash accounts.

The conventional budget does not count the billion salted away in social security and other trust funds, though these help determine whether the government pours more money out of its coffers in a given year than it takes in — whether, in other words, its operations are inflationary or otherwise.

In fiscal 1956, federal spending at least will be non-inflationary, in fact, virtually a neutral force in the economy. The cash statement indicates $38 million dollars more intake than outgo.

The President reiterated his decision to fight any tax cuts this year, not excepting the two reductions fixed by law for April 1 — the lowering of some excise rates and a drop from 52 to 47 per cent in the corporation rate.

But he said taxes are too high, that tax reduction is a "firm goal of this administration," and that a combination of government economy which is so necessary for the future," he said.

Repeatedly he struck another note which businessmen are certain to applaud: He wants government to get out of the way of private enterprise.

"We are moving ahead in taking the government out of business wherever this can properly be done," he said.

More Questions On Peress Due

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of the Army Stevens and Army Counselor John G. Adams likely will be asked to give the Senate Investigations subcommittee more information on the Irving Peress case, Sen. McClellan (D-Ark) said last night.

McClellan, who succeeds Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) as subcommittee chairman, said in an NBC radio-TV interview he does not think the Army has provided all the facts.

Peress, a New York City dentist, was promoted to major and honorably discharged early last year at a time when McCarthy was demanding he be court-martialed for refusing to answer questions about communism.

McCarthy said Saturday night he had written Stevens charging the Army with practicing a "deliberate deception" on the subcommittee and the American people.

Early this month, the Army issued a 10,000-word chronology of the case and listed Adams and Lt. Gen. Walter L. Weible, a deputy chief of staff, as making the final decision to give Peress an honorable discharge.

In his letter to Stevens, McCarthy said neither Weible nor Adams was included in a list of 30 officers the Army last spring named for the subcommittee as those "taking an active part in the personnel actions" concerning Peress.

The Army said Stevens had not yet answered McCarthy's letter.

McClellan said he believes the case "has been poorly handled."

Legion Raps Vet Land 'Mistakes'

AUSTIN (AP)—"Past administrative errors" in the veteran's land program were sharply criticized yesterday by American Legion post commanders.

In their winter session, 104 local Legion leaders heard Earl Rudder, new land commissioner and head of the veteran's program, urge continuance of the GI farm purchase plan, promise tighter rules.

Rudder was named land commissioner when Bascom Giles stepped aside Jan. 1 in the midst of investigation of the 100-million-dollar state loan program. Under it, veterans may buy small farms at low interest and on long term loans backed by the state.

Charges have been made that some promoters bought large blocks of land on money furnished by the state for re-sale to veterans, at big profits to the promoters.

The Legion leaders adopted a resolution critical of this procedure and calling for tougher rules to control opportunities to commit fraud or otherwise defeat the purposes of the veteran's benefit program.

They recommended that the state Veterans Land Board make no more purchases from persons who have only an option to buy land and who plan to pay for it with money received from the state.

Farm Cooperative Gains Reported

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department said today membership in farmer cooperatives in this country has climbed to a record of 7 1/2 million, or nearly double that of 10 years ago.

The number of cooperatives was reported at 10,114. They were said to have transacted business valued at 9 1/2 billion dollars during the 1952-53 fiscal year, the last full year for which complete information is available.

Increased Funds Sought For VA

WASHINGTON (AP) — Appropriations totaling $4,452,370,000 for the Veterans Administration (VA) were proposed today by President Eisenhower, who estimated the agency would spend $4,487,703,141 in the year starting July 1.

The President estimated net expenditures on all veterans' programs would be about $4,600,000,000, or 200 million dollars more than this year. The proposed spending includes some money voted by Congress on previous years.

The VA this year has appropriations of $3,799,632,800. In 1953-54 it got $4,198,737,264.

The President said in his budget message that costs of VA programs "are now rising—reversing the decline from the peak in 1947 as World War II veterans completed their readjustment to civilian life."

Primary factors in the increase, he said, are the increase in the veterans' population to some 21 million, the fact that three million World War I veterans are reaching 65 and qualifying for pensions in large numbers, and increases in benefits both in scope and liberality.

Nations Of World Attempt To Shift Farm Production

WASHINGTON (AP) — A big world farm production last year has created surpluses that are leading some countries to try controlling production and changing patterns of agricultural output, the Agriculture Department said today.

In a report on the world agricultural situation, the department said production during the 1954-55 crop year appears to be almost as large as the record output of the previous year.

The volume of crops produced was 2 per cent smaller, due largely to smaller production in North America and Asia. Output of livestock products increased almost enough to offset reductions in crops.

"A few countries have adopted programs for reducing acreages of crops for which there are large carryovers," the report said, "while others are shifting from these commodities to others which may have more favorable market outlets."

The report said there had been noticeable shifts from food grains to cotton, tobacco and livestock feed. Further shifts of this nature were forecast.

Irrigation School Set For Lamesa

LAMESA — Three irrigation specialists will conduct an irrigation school for Dawson County farmers scheduled for Feb. 3 in the district courtroom here.

Robert Thurman, irrigation specialist from the A&M Extension Service in Lubbock, will instruct the school in the most advantageous methods of irrigating farm land and the latest practices developed in the extension service.

Dr. A. Cramer, associate county agriculture agent of the A&M service, will discuss findings in hybrid grain sorghums and how an increase in production can be brought about.

M. K. (Duke) Thornton, agricultural chemist of the extension service, will explain fertilization and its relation to irrigation farms.

Lee Roy Colgan, Dawson County agent, in announcing the meeting, said the public was invited.

Four Children Die Screaming In Blaze

TIMMINS, Ont. (AP) — Four screaming children were burned to death here early today when fire destroyed a four-room frame house.

The dead were Omer Carriere, 6 months; Jean, 1 1/2 years, Maurice, 3, and Charon, 4. They were the children of Jean-Paul Carriere, 28, and his wife, Rita, 22, both of whom escaped.

One child, Denis, 2, was saved by his uncle, Louis Carriere, 19. The children's father said he believed a small coal stove in the kitchen exploded while the family was sleeping.

Fabulous Brink's Robbery Still Unsolved After 5 Years' Work

By JOHN B. KNOX
BOSTON (U-P)—Among Greater Boston's two million residents, only five men (or was it maybe seven or eight?) knew something nightmarish was going to happen on the night of Jan. 17, just five years ago.

Shadows were heavy around the bare concrete garage and office building in Boston's North End from which, daily, the Brink's, Inc., armored money express trucks went on their missions between banks and businesses.

People familiar with the area knew nothing of a strong room in that concrete building, nor of five Brink's employees with pistols near their hands that night while they counted money in millions.

Fulbright Urges Continued Talks On Freeing Of Fliers

By JACK BELL
WASHINGTON (U-P)—Sen. Fulbright (D-Ark.) urged today that the United States continue diplomatic negotiations for the release of 11 imprisoned American airmen without laying down any advance ultimatum to Red China.

Fulbright, a member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said in an interview he does not believe the American people should expect any "miracle" as a result of the visit to Peiping of Dag Hammarskjöld, United Nations secretary general.

Fulbright said he thinks it will take time to solve the problem and there will be "no quick answer."

"We ought to negotiate with the Chinese Communists and keep in communication with them; rather than lay down the line that we will ignore them," he said.

"After all, these Chinese Communists are human beings, regard-

Trial Of Kansas City Star Set To Open Today

KANSAS CITY (U-P)—The trial of the Kansas City Star and its advertising director on charges of violating the Sherman Antitrust Act opens today in Federal District Court.

The trial is expected to last several months.

A federal grand jury returned a two-count indictment against the newspaper, its advertising director Roy A. Roberts and its advertising director Emil Sees two years ago.

Charges against Roberts were dismissed last Friday by Federal Judge Richard M. Duncan on a motion by government attorneys.

The government charges the Star and its advertising director "have engaged in an attempt to monopolize" and are "monopolizing" interstate trade and commerce in the dissemination of news and advertising.

The indictment said the newspaper's alleged practices deprived advertisers of the opportunity to advertise in the Star while using other advertising media, deprived advertisers of the opportunity of freely selecting other media, compelled advertisers to pay for advertising they did not want and compelled subscribers to purchase papers they did not want.

It said the effect of the alleged violations was to exclude competing newspapers from Kansas City, Mo.

In a statement Friday, Roberts said:

"When the indictment was returned I stated then and I repeat now that the Star's business practices have been, and are now, in accord with both law and good morals. Our policy has always been to run a clean paper and give the greatest possible service at the lowest price to readers and advertisers and to further the advancement of the community."

Conviction carries a maximum penalty of $5,000 fine for the corporation on each count and $5,000 fine and a one-year jail sentence on each count for the individual.

Party Too Gay For New Union Official

WHEELING, W. Va., (U-P)—At a union business meeting Saturday night, John Hogle was installed as treasurer of District 136, International Assn. of Machinists.

When he arrived home early yesterday, he discovered that $1,230 in union funds had been stolen from his briefcase.

Hogle told police he had placed the money in a pouch and deposited the pouch in his briefcase. The pouch apparently was taken from the briefcase during a party following the business meeting.

structed the scene, a light truck and an automobile drove up outside. When the last visible pedestrian vanished around a corner, men got out—the number was never definitely established. With visored caps and pea jackets, they might have been Brink's guards. But why did they wear gloves and rubbers on this mild, dry night? Why did each carry, under arm, a little white bundle—like a rolled-up laundry bag? And why were their faces grotesque—like those of clowns?

A key unlocked an outside door. Walking with sureness which hinted familiarity, they passed through five more locked doors in the labyrinth-like interior. Nor did any guard hear them. For the five men busy with money and money bags less of how misguided they may be. It is possible that we can make some kind of mutual adjustment with them that we could accept and we ought to find out."

He said, however, he would be opposed to any full-dress conference, with Red China as a participant, which might be used by the Communists as a propaganda sounding board.

Sen. Sparkman (D-Ala.), new chairman of the Foreign Relations Far Eastern subcommittee, said that although he has no official information, he fears that the Chinese Communists may have listed U. N. recognition for them as the price for release of the Americans.

Sen. Wiley (R-Wis.), top Republican on the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said in a week-end speech at Harrisburg, Pa., he would oppose any "hasty, ill-considered, impulsive action... such as a military blockade."

He seemed as friendly as ever, and asked for a picture. I talked around it and never did say yes or no. I like him a lot. Do you think he is getting interested again?

Beth
 Apparently he does like you—but as a friend only. If it went deeper, the distance across town could not have kept him away. But remember that all romances start with friendship, so don't scorn any interest he does have.

I, too, would have been leery of giving him a picture. It is easy to understand why a regular date might want a picture, but not the boy who is not even interested enough to telephone occasionally.

Still, "out of sight, out of mind"—and "picture in sight, girl in mind." There's a chance that the sparks may be rekindled if you want to fan them.

Mail him a note of the briefest kind. Say something like this: "You asked for my picture. Still interested? Okay, then I'll swap one of mine for one of yours."

If he's interested you'll hear from him; if not, your problem will have solved itself. He may claim he has no picture but he still wants yours.

Don't give in until you get his picture. This system protects you from becoming just another entrant in his rogues gallery—if he has one. Some boys collect girls' pictures instead of match covers.

State Brucellosis Program Is Urged

FORT WORTH (U-P)—Texas is losing several million dollars in cattle each year because it has no program to wipe out undulant fever, or brucellosis, a member of the State Brucellosis Committee said yesterday.

Dr. Dan Anderson of Fort Worth said the only states without such a program are Texas and Kansas.

"Individual cattlemen protect their herds, but there is no statewide program to control the disease," he said.

Anderson spoke today to the Texas Veterinary Medical Assn.

Brucellosis, also known as bangs disease, can be transmitted to humans through unpasteurized milk or contaminated raw meat.

Six Escape Injuries In Crossing Accident

ADDISON, Tex. (U-P)—A switch engine hit a car carrying six persons broadside last night but everybody in the car reportedly escaped injury.

The auto was knocked 13 paces down the tracks, trainmen told deputy Sheriff Pat McEntee. The driver was Andrew Wattley, 48, of Denton. With him were Edward Redmon, 40, Lewisville; Jeanette Bollise, 29, and her son, 2, Elnora Tutson, 49, and Lorine McKinny, 18, all of Addison near Dallas.

A trainman said he tried to flag down the car.

UNCLE RAY'S CORNER

The birthday of Benjamin Franklin falls on the seventeenth of January, and I shall take up several questions today about this remarkable man.

Q. Americans make a holiday of the birthday of George Washington—why do they pay so little attention to the birth of Franklin?

A. That is a hard question to answer. Washington was a great man, but it is doubtful that he was greater than Franklin. Some scholars suggest that Franklin was the greatest figure of colonial times.

Q. In what fields was Franklin distinguished?

A. He was one of the leading writers and editors in the American colonies. He was an inventor, a scientist, a diplomat and a statesman. He served on the committee which composed the Declaration of Independence.

Q. What was the greatest thing about Franklin?

A. In my opinion his greatest

quality was his kindness of heart, linked to his keen brain. Always he tried to be helpful toward mankind.

Q. What was the most important thing Franklin did for science?

A. He obtained proof that lightning is electrical. Others before him had suggested this, but Franklin proved it past all doubt. He was 46 years old at the time of his famous kite experiment.

Q. Was the kite experiment dangerous?

A. Yes. Franklin and his well-grown son (who helped in the test) were fortunate to escape death by electric shock.

Q. What was the most important service Franklin rendered in the struggle of the American colonies for independence?

A. As a diplomat in Paris, he persuaded the French government to join forces with the American revolutionists.

Wayne Replaces Mitchum In Film

HOLLYWOOD (U-P)—Film actor John Wayne has cut short his New York honeymoon to replace Robert Mitchum, who was dropped last week from the starring role in the 2½-million-dollar picture "Blood Alley."

A Warner Brothers spokesman said that Mitchum was dismissed for "action detrimental to the making of the film."

"There are no hard feelings—we didn't see eye to eye," Mitchum said.

It was reported last week from San Rafael, Calif., the film's location site, that Mitchum had pushed a company transportation manager, George Coleman, into San Francisco Bay. However, Mitchum and Coleman both denied it happened.

Wayne, who reports to the location of the film today, married his third wife, Peruvian beauty Pilar Pallete, last Nov. 1 in Hawaii.

What the Regulation of Gas Supply Means to 25,000,000 American Families

THE FIVE THOUSAND producers of natural gas—large and small—believe that the free competitive system which has increased your gas supplies and kept rates low is the best for consumers, for the industry, and the economy.

They believe the proposal to abandon competition and clamp bureaucratic controls on gas production will hurt consumers, damage the industry, and benefit no one.

Here are some answers to questions you as a consumer may have on this vital issue.

What Is This Regulation?
 Sixteen years after a 1938 law was passed, a new interpretation of some of its words now forces the Federal Power Commission to do what it has eleven times refused to do—try to fix the price that an interstate pipeline pays the 5000 competing producers who find the gas and get it from the ground.

Will This Regulation Reduce Our Gas Bills?
 Hardly. Only about 10% of the average gas bill goes to the producer who finds the gas and sells it. The other 90% pays for constructing, maintaining and operating the long-distance pipelines and local distribution systems—already regulated.

How Will Regulation Affect Supply?
 It will reduce the supply. Most natural gas is produced by "wildcatters" and other independents. They are used to keep competition and big risks. But put them under Federal controls—with permits, endless forms, licenses, hearings and suits—and the work of exploration is sure to suffer. Three new pipeline projects to bring gas to more consumers have been suspended since regulation took effect.

Hasn't Gas Always Been Regulated?
 Gas distribution, yes. It makes sense to have only one pipeline bring gas to a community—and one gas company distributes it in the community. Both do a good, efficient job for you, and as monopolies they are naturally regulated.

But there's no monopoly in finding gas. Far from it. Gas production is risky and keenly competitive. There are five thousand large and small producers looking for gas—and finding it in only one out of every nine exploratory wells they drill. They compete vigorously to sell their gas. A single pipeline may buy from 200 or more producers.

Is Gas Different from Coal or Oil—or Grain?
 It isn't. And if there's price-fixing for natural gas at the well so can there be next for coal at the mine or oil at the well—or lumber in the forest, or grain on the farm.

How Did The Consumer Fare Before This Regulation?
 Here's the record. In the past 16 years natural gas production has increased 200% and the price the consumer paid for gas has risen only 1/11th as much as the general cost of living.

Do Only A Few Big Companies Produce Gas?
 No. The largest 37 companies produce less than half the nation's gas. No single company produces more than 5%. The small producers do more exploratory drilling than do all the big companies combined. And none of the producers has any monopoly, any exclusive franchise, or any protection.

What Is The Natural Gas and Oil Resources Committee?

It is made up of companies and individuals concerned with natural gas. It includes a great many large and small gas and oil producers. All believe there is no more reason for OPA-like price-fixing on gas than on steel, coal, autos, meat, or shoes, which could be next. All believe that free competition is better for all of us than a price-controlled economy, which has historically led to stagnation, scarcity and rationing.

What Can I Do?
 You can reason out the issues, reach your own conclusions, and make those conclusions known to your friends and neighbors.

Under free competition without federal regulation—

- Natural gas became plentiful—output rose two hundred per cent in the past sixteen years.
- Natural gas stayed reasonable—and gas prices to the consumer rose only one-eleventh as much as living costs in the past sixteen years.
- Natural gas has helped create thousands of jobs in industry and now supplies one-fourth of the nation's energy resources.

NOW cumbersome federal controls threaten all this progress.

Extension Of GI Bill Important To Servicemen And To Colleges

Presidential Press Secretary James Hagerly has given Congress the high sign for extending GI educational benefits to all men in uniform at the close of January 31.

"Korea conflict" would be considered officially at an end January 31. That announcement automatically cancelled all future GI educational benefits after that date, so the legislation now being readied was necessary.

Gasoline Tax Proposal Stirs Up Hornet's Nest Of Opposition

Governor Shivers' proposal to hike the tax on gasoline from the present 4 cents a gallon to 6 cents, and that on cigarettes from the current 4 cents a pack to 5 cents seems to have hit more raw and bleeding nerves than any other single proposal in his address to the Legislature.

Under the existing law, a man now accumulates 1.5 days of schooling for each day in service up to 36 months. The presidential directive not only barred men going into service after January 31 from its benefits, but would stop the accumulation of these benefits for all men already in service before that time.

The Writer Repeats: There's A Need For Men In Winter Resorts

One of the occupational hazards of columnist is that the depressing conviction of the columnist that his deathless prose goes right in one paper and out the other, with the reader — God bless him! — not remembering from one day to another who wrote what, which and where.

With a single 24-hour period, I have been congratulated on writing columns produced by Fred Othman, Dorothy Dix and Walter Lippman, a parlay impossible to beat but confusing even at tropical Park.

However, semi-occasionally a columnist writes a piece that strikes a bell in the public mind, and invariably it turns out to be the column voted by the author as most unlikely to succeed.

There must be snow over a fairly wide area since Christmas, as I have been getting a steady stream of inquiries from my old Pen Pals, all ambitious to tap the Florida Fort Knox.

Much Work Is Done On Budget Before President's Message To Congressmen

WASHINGTON (AP)—This is an A-B-C on the budget which President Eisenhower sends to Congress today.

When the committees are satisfied that they have the estimates reduced to the bone, they send the estimates along with their recommendations to the House and Senate.

And on the floor of both houses money may be added or taken away. If the House and Senate vote different amounts, as they generally do, committees from both houses are set up to iron out their differences and then both houses vote on the compromised figure.

Poorly-Paid Professor Ought To Have Right To His Opinion

Come war or peace, come depressions or inflations, the first problem that faces the head of any family is food, shelter and shoes for the baby, and that applies to professors as to everybody else.

When one realizes that any man who can get the job of teaching in any of these universities must put in at least six or seven years of preparation after leaving high school — to get the lowest of these jobs — the pay is distressingly inferior. Not only that, but a teacher in a university must continue his studies all his life.

So, as things go today, considering taxes and the high cost of living, professors are very poorly paid, and unless they get jobs as consultants or write text books, they have a hard time of it and grow dissatisfied. They must sometimes wonder why it is that Jack McGluck who never got over a C in his life is able to buy his wife a mink coat, while he, Professor McGo-andso, who got As in the same courses, was ambitious enough to reach for a Ph.D. and is now one of the most distinguished men in his field in all the world, still is wearing a Tux that he was able to buy 10 years ago.

There are corruptive possibilities in the genteel proverty of our learned men. If they behave themselves, do not quarrel, never become controversial, it is easier to get grants from foundations, consultants jobs from the government or corporations. But why should a searcher for the truth not be a controversial person?

A recent report shows that these are the salaries in the leading colleges: Columbia—full professors, $9,000 to $15,000; associate professors, $6,000 to $7,500; assistant professors, $4,000 to $5,500; instructors, $3,600 to $3,900.

Charles A. Beard, when he was a professor at Columbia, got into a controversy with President William Howard Taft because he wrote a book, "An Economic Interpretation of the Constitution of the United States." Beard was the most controversial professor at the university at that time. . . . but the rumors were that President Nicholas Murray Butler was going to throw him out. We students were preparing to strike any time that happened.

 "I believe that we are captains of our fate much more than the average woman will admit. A lot of people are quite willing to take credit for the good things but they like to plead innocent of any bad luck which comes their way.
 "To me charm is more a matter of what is in the head than on it. I was in an automobile accident a few years ago and my face was so badly scarred it required a tremendous amount of plastic surgery. I had twenty-two operations in all. This gave me time for a lot of serious thought and I came out of it with a new sense of values.
 "Glamour, I've decided, comes from within. It's a combination of confidence and technique. You can know what to do with yourself but if you don't have confidence behind the knowledge, then your efforts will fall flat.

 "But," Veda continued, "in my book you can't even be attractive if you're not fresh and clean looking. I'm a great one for scrubbing with a brush — nails, scalp, face, back, feet, teeth, everything. There is hardly a spot on my body I don't scrub."
 I asked Veda about her complexion care.
 "I have a slight skin problem," she admitted. I scrub my face with soap and water which is very drying but I can't use creams of any kind. I have solved this somewhat by using an oatmeal paste, rubbed briskly into the skin, following the first soap and water cleansing. This paste when rubbed into the skin stimulates circulation and gets the oil glands working. This has a softening effect, cleanses the pores and takes away that dry, drawn feeling.
 "I use this cleansing method everynight when I am working." As we parted, I admired Veda's slim hips.
 "Swimming has done that for me," she admitted.
 "In your own pool?" I asked.
 "Yes, but when I'm in New York I swim regularly at the YWCA," Veda laughed, "so even if you don't have a pool, there's no excuse for not exercising."

Has Distinction

The only Women's Army Corps officer on duty in Arkansas also became the first WAC officer to retire from the Army at Camp Chaffee, Ark., according to a release received here from Headquarters 5th Armored Division at the Army base. She is Maj. Wilma H. Key, who recently returned to civilian life after 12 years service. She and her husband, E. L. Key are making their home in Big Spring. He is Red Cross field director in this area. A story on Mrs. Key's collection, which she brought to the States from Germany, appeared in Sunday's Herald.

Writers Workshop To Give HCJC Scholarship

The Writers Workshop, meeting Sunday afternoon in the home of Mrs. T. C. Thomas, voted to buy a scholarship in Howard County Junior College. This will be awarded as a prize in a creative writing contest, open to high school or college students.
 Details of the contest are to be worked out by a committee, with Capt. Walter Williams as chairman, assisted by Lt. Walter Stewart.
 Officers for the coming year were elected as follows: Bruce Frazier, president; Mrs. Walter Stewart, vice president; Capt. Williams, treasurer, and Mrs. B. L. LeFever, secretary.
 Mrs. Mildred Rose reported that she had received a request from John Wagner of the Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association for permission to print and distribute cop-

Reception Honors Commander

Approximately 600 persons greeted the new commander of Webb Air Force Base and his wife, Col. and Mrs. Charles M. Young, Saturday evening at formal reception at the Officers' Club.
 In the receiving line with Col. and Mrs. Young were Col. and Mrs. Cleon Freeman and Major John A. Thomas Jr.
 Mrs. Young was gowning in a pale blue tulle floor length dress and Mrs. Freeman's formal was white.
 The reception was followed by a dance for which the Skyliners furnished the music.
 The hors d'oeuvres table was adorned with a silver candelabra entwined with flowers matching apricot colored candies.
 Breakfast was served at midnight.
 Time for the regular Sunday night family buffet dinner at the Officers' Club has been changed to 5:30 to 8 p.m.
 Bingo will continue each Wednesday at 8:30 p.m.

BUDGET

federal government would wind up the next fiscal year on June 30, 1955, with a national debt of 276 billion dollars.

That would be a net debt increase for the year of about 1 1/2 billion over the debt total of 274 1/2 billion which Eisenhower forecast for June 30, the end of this fiscal year. But he said, because of low tax receipts in the first half of next fiscal year, the government would have to borrow about eight billion dollars, mostly temporarily, and this would leave "no alternative" but to ask Congress to boost the debt ceiling.

Necchi, Elna Sew Machines Fully Automatic

The out-swingest sewing machines in Big Spring can be found at Gilliland Sewing Machine Exchange, 120 E. 2nd, asserts owner and manager A. F. Gilliland. The exchange is where the famous Necchi and Elna sewing machines can be purchased, as well as the economy priced Good Housekeeper models. These new stocks are supplemented by a number of used sewing machines of all makes—treadle as well as electrical types. The Necchi and Elna partner, the Elna, are two of the most popular sewing machines in the nation, Gilliland points out. Both are fully automatic and perform a multiplicity of tasks. A number of purchases are made here of the Good Housekeeper models too, largely because of the good quality at bargain prices. Some of these models go for as low as $69.

Smith Converts Tractors To Use Butane For Fuel

With spring plowing just ahead, now would be the right time to convert farm tractors to the use of butane. The S. M. Smith Butane Company, located on the Lamesa Highway at the northern tip of Big Spring, is equipped to convert all types and makes of tractors without undue delay. The use of butane is highly recommended by farmers who have tried it, not only because it is safer, but for the reason that it offers greater economy and insures longer life of the tractor's motor. Motor oil used in butane engines can be used upwards to two and three times as long as that used in engines where other types of fuel is burned. Over all operating expenses will be cut to a minimum through the use of butane, the user will find. Smith's is also the headquarters in this area for all types of butane and propane home fuel systems, which have grown in popularity in rural areas by leaps and bounds in recent years. Any size butane tanks desired can be installed by employees of the Smith concern and users have but to contact the concern to have the supply of fuel replenished regularly. Wedgwood and Tappan ranges are among appliances stocked by the Smith concern. All, of course, can be converted readily and speedily to the use of butane. Smith's shop is completely equipped and stocked to handle all types of repair work on butane and propane equipment, as well as install new equipment. Business telephone number of the S. M. Smith Butane Company is 4-5981.

Campbell Gives Homes Finish Of Brick Or Stone

An old home or business structure can be given a bright, new and modern look by Charles Campbell, Big Spring contractor who specializes in the installation of mural and brick stone. Campbell has been installing the modern materials on both residential and commercial buildings here for several years and the many buildings he has modernized stand as examples of his work and permanence and beauty of the facings.

Wooten Transfer Gives Fast Service

Facilities at the Wooten Transfer and Storage concern, located at 505 E. 2nd, enable local patrons to ship their furniture or other effects anywhere in the United States and Canada. So said owner Harvey P. Wooten. Furniture and other expensive possessions get extra care when handled by Wooten's company, and all merchandise is fully insured throughout the time it is in the hands of the company. Long distance moves are handled by the Rocky Ford Van Lines, who are noted for their successful moving ventures. Local moves are made by Wooten and his trained staff of experienced men. They are expert at packing and crating for long distance and local moves. All local moves are made in Wooten's own trucks, and he has three different vehicles for all sizes of jobs. And besides the efficient and economical moving, the service is extra fast, Wooten said. No undue waiting or long delays inconvenience our customers, he added. Due to the excellent facilities, no job is too large or too small for the company. Any size moving, any time of the day or night is welcome, Wooten said. Customers may get free estimates by calling 4-7741 days and 4-6232 at night. "And we have plenty of storage space in our State Bonded warehouse too," the owner pointed out. The big warehouse is heavily insured to protect the merchandise which is stored in it. "Whether you are moving across the street, across the country, or want to store something, call on us for fast, efficient and careful handling of your moving problems," Wooten urged. In conjunction with his transfer business, Wooten also handles poultry and eggs. He purchases his poultry and eggs from local farmers for resale at 505 E. 2nd. Although he supplies many hotels, cafes, and other commercial establishments, plenty of carefully prepared poultry is usually available for retail sale. Employees dress and process poultry for deep freeze storage, too, Wooten explained. Thoroughly experienced in the art, Wooten prepares many Big Spring chickens for Sunday dinners. Drop down by 505 E. 2nd and get acquainted with the folks at Wooten Transfer and Storage today, Wooten invited.

Folsom Returns Amid Pageantry

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — Towering James E. (Big Jim) Folsom, whom critics "buried" as a political dead duck four years ago, came back to the Capitol for a second term as Alabama governor today, just as he said he would. His inauguration, surpassing anything Alabama has ever witnessed for pomp and pageantry, was scheduled to follow a four-hour parade of 122 bands, 74 floats and an estimated 10,000 marchers. Folsom, 46, prohibited by law from seeking re-election to succeed himself after his first term, was eligible to run again in 1954. He won the Democratic nomination over six opponents without a runoff, then easily defeated his Republican opponent in the November general election. The happy-go-lucky attitude that gained him a nationwide reputation as "Kissing Jim" has faded into the past, and in its place is a stern, businesslike, serious man. With an apparent voting majority in the new Legislature, the incoming governor is expected to call a series of three immediate special sessions to put his program over. It will cost upwards of 23 million dollars a year in additional tax revenue.

Brick and mural stone are especially adaptable to stucco buildings, to which they can be applied with very little advance preparation. The materials have the appearance of actual brick or Austin stone, depending upon the type chosen, and they have the capacity to remain beautiful through the years. Some persons think the stone facings become even more beautiful as they age. By applying the brick or stone facing blocks, Campbell can make even the shabbiest structure look like new. Installing the stone facings takes much less time than the real article, and as Campbell explains, it is also much cheaper. Some jobs can be done in a day's time, cutting on the labor cost considerably. Campbell asserts that his stone facings are just as good as the individual brick or stones. The facings are durable and can be cut to any specification. The nice thing about mural or brick stone is that either can be installed on any type building. But Campbell says that homeowners with stucco houses are more fortunate than others if they desire the remodeling project. With a stucco house, he explains, all that is necessary is the installing of the stone. With a wood house, a stucco operation is necessary before installation. Stucco house owners can eliminate a labor step and save money. Not only are houses revamped, but stores are also remodeled. Quite a few merchants desire the brick fronts. Campbell points out, because the finished product looks as good as brick and defies detection. Several establishments in the business district have been remodeled by Campbell recently. Most of Campbell's business is in residential areas, however, and people generally prefer the mural stone to the brick stone. Campbell does not limit his work to the installation of stone facings. He also contracts concrete jobs and stucco work, having highly skilled workers in each field.

One would think that the minimum of attachments would result in a complicated machine, but Gilliland explained that most housewives find that the Necchi and Elna models are simple to operate after a short briefing. All of the new and used machines can be viewed at Gilliland Sewing Machine Exchange, 120 E. 2nd, and patrons are invited to visit the shop to see the proof of claims made by Necchi dealers. The Alteration Shop, operated in conjunction with the sewing machine exchange, is the home of many articles which can be purchased by those not having time to sew them themselves. One such item is monogrammed pillow cases. The Alteration Shop is the domain of Mrs. Gilliland, and she reportedly produces some beautiful designs. Gilliland's firm services all makes and models of machines, and parts are stocked for all. The repair shop has every piece of equipment necessary for the best in service.

TCU Leads SW Cage Play, In All Phases Of Game

Purple Is Only Unbeaten Quint

By JOE BENHAM
The Associated Press

Number of victories, season record, conference record, individual scoring records—you name it and Texas Christian leads in it as the third week of championship basketball play begins in the Southwest Conference.

The Frogs' 77-73 victory over Southern Methodist Saturday and Arkansas' helpful 73-63 victory over Baylor left TCU at the top in every major department except total points. SMU still leads there, 1,196 to 1,032 for runnerup TCU.

TCU leads in season play both percentage-wise and in number of victories, standing 11-3 for the year. Within the conference, the Frogs are the only perfect-record squad with three victories in as many tries.

In individual columns, Frog center Dick O'Neal holds the edge all the way. The 6-foot-7 sophomore carries a season average just a whisker under 27 points per game, with 377 in 14 contests.

In championship circles, O'Neal sets the pace again with a 37-point average in the Frogs' three conference games.

SMU is second in most everything, with a 9-6 record for the year and 3-1 conference record. Mustang center Jim Krebs trails no one but O'Neal with 32 points for the year and 84 in conference action.

TCU risks its leadership twice this week in conference play, facing Rice Tuesday at Houston and Texas A&M Saturday at College Station.

Other championship games match A&M and Baylor Tuesday and Rice and Baylor Friday. Both games are at Waco. Texas A&M plays Louisiana State in an out-of-circuit game Thursday at College Station.

Longhorns Oppose Leaders Friday

Counted out in their first game, when they suffered a 12-point defeat at home at the hands of the Snyder Tigers, the Big Spring Steers have come back to strong contention in the District 1-AAA basketball race.

The Steers, after that bad start, won their next three games and are now tied for second place—one game back of the pace-setting Plainview Bulldogs—with the Lamesa Tornados.

The Longhorns, showing improvement in every start, can tie the Bulldogs for the lead when they host Plainview Friday night.

Big Spring also sees action here Saturday night, at which time they tangle with Levelland, which started off in great fashion but slowed to a walk last weekend.

Big Spring has outscored Plainview by 38 points in four games but the Bulldogs have much the better defensive record. The Bulldogs have yielded an average of 40.7 points a game, compared to an even 60 for Big Spring.

Lamesa will be at home to Levelland this morning and the Broncs owner offered it to any service club without charge.

Martin is planning to show the picture to service club presidents and committees named to work in the season ticket drive on Thursday night, 7:30 p.m., at the Settles Hotel.

Persons or concerns desiring a baseball box for Longhorn League games here during the coming season had best apply for them as soon as possible, Pepper Martin, owner of the Big Spring Broncs, said this morning.

The response of people who owned boxes last year for 1955 renewals has been good, Martin stated. The boxes are being reduced in price, from $100 and $60 to $80 and $50.

Individuals who held leases on boxes last year have only until Jan. 31 to exercise their options for 1955 boxes, Martin stated.

The baseball film, "World Series of 1954," arrived at Martin's office this morning and the Broncs owner offered it to any service club without charge.

Martin is planning to show the picture to service club presidents and committees named to work in the season ticket drive on Thursday night, 7:30 p.m., at the Settles Hotel.

Joe Schmidt of the Detroit Lions is the brother of John Schmidt who played pro football with Pittsburgh.

Seven-Up Retains Lead In Circuit

Seven-Up Bottling Company retained its one-game edge over Dibrell's Sporting Goods as both teams won 2-1 decisions in Women's Bowling League play last week.

Seven-Up vanquished Pinkie's Liquor while Dibrell's edged past Jax Beer.

Seven-Up paced team scoring with 619-1804. Pinkie's had second high single game, 606; while Dibrell's boast the second best aggregate, 1700.

Jessie Pearl Watson of Seven-Up scored a 214-185-535 to sweep all scoring honors while Frances Glenn, Dibrell's, registered the second best aggregate, 474.

49ers' Tittle And Wilson Shine In Win Over East

LOS ANGELES (AP)—When the time comes for discussions of contracts and salaries, a couple of San Francisco 49ers, quarterback Y. A. Tittle and end Billy Wilson, have Sunday's pro bowl game as a mighty good talking point.

So does Coach Buck Shaw, lately of the 49ers, who told newsmen after the game he has conferred with Los Angeles Rams President Dan Reeves who seeks a head coach.

The two players were outstanding as the West surged back to beat the East 26-19 in the game matching all-star squads of the National Football League's two divisions, before 43,972 fans who braved the rain.

The 6-foot-3 Wilson, a 190-pounder, was unanimously chosen by sports editors at the game as its most valuable player. He scored the first West touchdown after his club trailed 19-3 and gained 157 yards as he snagged 11 passes.

Talent helps, but luck is no deterrent, either.

Take the headlong charge of the Plainview Bulldogs toward their second District 1-AAA basketball championship in a row, as an example.

Had not the Bulldogs had Lady Luck smiling over their shoulders in U. of J. Jan. 8 game with Vernon at home, the Bulldogs would have yielded the spotlight to Lamesa and Levelland.

Consider the manner in which Plainview won:

With 15 seconds to go in the contest, Vernon led by 49-44. A Vernon player committed a foul and the offended party made both free tosses for Plainview.

Vernon took the ball out of bounds. The Lion who threw the ball in unloosed a wild throw toward the Vernon goal in the general direction of Jerry Pearson, a Vernon player. Pearson was unable to field the ball and it went out of bounds.

Plainview retrieved the ball in and it was thrown to Stewart Webb, who promptly threw it at his basket. The ball went through without touching the rim, three seconds before the final buzzer sounded.

That was the third time this season Webb has hit from near mid-court, incidentally.

Pat Stasey, the former Big Spring baseball operative who will run the diamond show at Hobbs this year, has hopes of obtaining Donx Stevens and Robert Ashby, who were Sweetwater's two best hurriers last season. Ashby is an outfielder.

Much interest is being whipped up in baseball in the city of Hobbs, they say.

The four New Mexico clubs will probably outdraw the four Texas entries in the Longhorn race this year.

For the information of those wondering why Jerry Graves didn't get mentioned for the Wigwam Wisemen of America's All-America scholastic football team, only seniors are nominated for the mythical eleven.

Graves is a junior. He should be the best center in the state next football season.

Prior to the Los Angeles Open, in which he placed 12th and earned $600, Big Spring's Billy Maxwell won pro-amateur tournaments at San Fernando and Arrendale in California, which means his prize money has already topped $1,000 on the coast.

So reveals Spec Gammon of the Odessa paper, who has a pipeline to the coast.

Lowell (Red) Dawson, who resigned in mid-season as head football coach at Pittsburgh University, is now an executive in a gasoline distribution business in Ocala, Fla.

Midland had a chance to book Waco for a 1955 football date but passed up the opportunity.

They tell this story about the gambler who died.

His funeral was attended by many of his colleagues. In eulogy, the speaker declared:

"Jake is not dead. He merely sleeps."

At this point, a voice from the rear spoke out:

"I got 20 bucks says he's dead."

Auburn Is Last Of Undeclared Team To Fall

By ED CORRIGAN
The Associated Press

Midyear examinations will slow down the action on the college basketball front this week and a good thing it is.

The coaches probably will take that long to figure out just where they stand in this crazy-quiet season.

One thing is certain—no team will be fighting to preserve an unblemished record. The undefeated list has been whittled down to a nice round number, zero, with the demise of Auburn.

Alabama turned the trick Saturday, 99-78. It wasn't particularly unexpected. 'Bama had been rated the team most likely to give Kentucky a fight for the Southeastern Conference title. Auburn had won seven in a row.

Actually, most of the conference defeat nine days ago, still is the No. 1 club in the country and the loss to Georgia Tech, which snapped a 32-game winning streak, has not bothered the Wildcats.

Here is how the major loops stand:

Big Ten—Illinois and Minnesota are tied for the lead with Indiana in the cellar. The Illini turned back Ohio State 86-78 Saturday.

Pacific Coast—Southern California, the defending champion, looks to be heading for a fall. The Trojans dropped two games to UCLA over the weekend. That left UCLA and Stanford tied for the Southern Division lead with 3-1 marks.

Big Seven—Missouri, the pre-season favorite, leads with a 3-0 mark.

Atlantic Coast—Only two games will be played in the next two weeks in the league. North Carolina, currently in the lead, plays North Carolina State, No. 2 team in the country, in one of them tomorrow. This should be where North Carolina starts dropping back.

Southeastern Conference—Texas Christian, true to expectations, is undefeated in conference play, and, in fact, is the only school with a good overall mark, 11-3.

Southeastern Conference—Kentucky, of all things, is in seventh place with a 1-1 record while Vanderbilt and Alabama are at the top with 3-0.

Ivy League—Cornell is the leader, but several other teams could easily win it.

Southern Conference—West Virginia is out front with a 4-0 mark, but the league champion is determined by the conference tournament next March.

Border Cage Teams Rest This Week

PHOENIX (AP)—Texas Tech and Arizona, leading Border Conference basketball, rest this week after disposing of strong challengers.

One non-conference game, Hardin-Simmons at Midwestern, is on tap tomorrow.

Cleveland Has High Hopes For Newcomer Herb Score

By JOE REICHLER
NEW YORK (AP)—If George Weiss of the Yankees is interested and Commissioner Ford Frick agreeable, General Manager Hank Greenberg of the Cleveland Indians is willing to wager that Herb Score will strike out more American League batters this coming season than Bob Turley.

That's quite risky, even for a betting man which Greenberg is not. Especially since Turley led the American League in strikeouts last year with Baltimore while the 21-year-old Score was toiling in the minors. For that matter, Score isn't even on the Cleveland roster yet. But he will report to the Indians' Tucson, Ariz., training camp next March and Manager Al Lopez promised to give him plenty of work against the New York Giants during the exhibitions before adding his name to the roster.

Score will be one of 15 newcomers in the Indian's camp which includes eight pitchers, three infielders, three outfielders and one catcher. Score probably will hold the spotlight but outfielder Rocco Colavito, who smashed 38 homers and drove in 118 runs at Indianapolis, catcher Hank Fulles, who batted .332 and hit 17 homers with the same club and first baseman Joe Altobelli, a fancy fielding .287 hitter, another Indianapolis gradu-

Middlecoff Grabs Crosby Open Top Cash With 209

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (AP)—The wandering golfers abandoned the picturesque Monterey Peninsula country today, some pleased, many disappointed and doubtless the happiest guy of all was Cary Middlecoff.

The 34-year-old 1949 National Open champion captured the big share of the $15,000 purse offered by singer Bing Crosby for the 14th annual pro-amateur golfing clambake.

The race for the $2,500 prize offered the low-scoring professional, wasn't even close when the payroll came yesterday.

It was Middlecoff by four large strokes — a one-under-par 71 for his final burst, and a 209 for a 54-hole total fashioned from a pair of 69's in the first two rounds.

The nearest to the one-time dentist of Memphis, now from Klamath Falls, N.Y., was another ex-U.S. Open titleholder, Julius Boros, with 70-71-72-213, and a comparative newcomer, Paul McGuire of Wichita, Kan., with 69-75-70-213 — and $1,250 to each.

Middlecoff set forth over Pebble Beach's mushy 6,701 yards, par 35-36-72 course — later to dry out a bit from the previous day's rain — with a bare one-stroke lead over the field.

Middlecoff added $1,000 to his week's income at Crosby's expense when he and handsome hotel executive Ed Crowley of Los Angeles marched into the second spot of the pro-amateur side attraction. The team had a final 68 for 138.

The pro-am winner featured the old maestro of pro golf, Byron Nelson, of Rosamore, Tex., and his amateur partner, Ed Lowrey of San Francisco.

Today the pro troupe heads for Southern California. A select team will play a Canadian team in the International Hopkin in a trophy matches at La Jolla Tuesday and Wednesday. The remainder will get ready for the $15,000 San Diego Open at Mission Valley Country Club starting Thursday.

STANTON BISON HOST O'DONNELL IN 4-A GAME TUESDAY EVENING

STANTON, (SC)—Larry Wartes' Stanton Buffaloes returned from a basketball tournament at Seagraves last weekend, where they captured third place.

The Buffs topped Morton, 72-29, in a first round game; lost to Meadow, 54-47; and then shed Seagraves, 63-47, in the contest for third place.

Tahoka won the tournament by nudging Meadow, 39-38.

The Buffaloes host O'Donnell in a District 4-A engagement here Tuesday night. The girls' game starts at 8:30 p.m., the boys' contest at 7:30 o'clock.

Probable starters for Stanton are Burley Polk, Mike Baulch, Jimmy Henson, Reggie Myrick and Corky Blocker.

Polk is leading the team in scoring with a 169-point aggregate. He has averaged 17.5 points a game.

The Buffs have won six of 12 games.

American League Schedule Has Fewer Night Contests

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN
CHICAGO, (AP)—A decrease in number of night games and an upswing in necessary plane travel to make dates now that Kansas City is a new member are features of the 1955 American League baseball schedule released today.

The schedule calls for 208 night engagements, seven fewer than were programmed in 1954 and 10 under the record of 218 played in 1953. Although 218 were scheduled last year, 213 were actually played in inclement weather forcing out two games.

The American League game schedule is far off the pace of a record 290 charted in 1953 by the National.

Leading the "owls" is Kansas City with 49 games scheduled under the lights, three more than the old Athletics slated in Philadelphia last season.

The other clubs' schedules call for 39 at Washington (compared to 45 last season), Baltimore 34 (38), Cleveland 30 (30), Chicago 21 (21), New York 18 (16), and Boston 14 (14), Detroit 14 (14).

With the shift of Baltimore into the Eastern Division and the move of the A's from Philadelphia to Kansas City, American League President Will Harridge estimated that between 9,000 and 10,000 miles of travel will be added for the eight clubs over the previous average.

To meet schedule complications, teams will be required to make about 20 plane trips. Cleveland, Baltimore and Detroit flew last year, but more for convenience than for necessity to make dates. Among those reluctant to fly are the New York Yankees whose has been arranged for travel on schedule has been arranged for travel entirely by rail.

The 1955 campaign will open April 11 with Baltimore at Washington for the traditional tossing out of the ball by President Eisenhower or his representative. There is a full schedule the next day with Detroit at Kansas City, Chicago at Cleveland, Boston at Baltimore and Washington at New York.

The Sept. 25 closing date has Kansas City at Chicago, Cleveland at Detroit, Baltimore at Washington and New York at Boston.

Beaumont Woes Still Unsolved

HOUSTON (AP)—The Texas League is going ahead with plans for the season on the assumption Beaumont will solve its money problems and stay in.

League directors, meeting yesterday:

Adopted a 161-game schedule, which included Beaumont. The schedule opens April 6 and closes Sept. 5.

Awarded the all-star game July 22 to Beaumont.

Voted to legalize again the "hidden ball" play, outlawed by the league since before World War II, although it has been legal all the time under national baseball rules and in most leagues.

Authorized league President Dick Butler to ask major league teams to refrain from recalling in late season players from clubs in contention for the Texas League title.

Directors pledged 100 per cent cooperation with Beaumont owner Allen Russell in solving his financial problems.

Russell says he can solve his money problems if the city will buy the club's 6,300-seat stadium for $165,000 and lease it back to the ball club for $12,000 a year.

Butler said directors talked over possible action in case the bond issue fails.

"We decided that the problem is in Allen's hands and that is where we left it," Butler said.

The schedule opens with Oklahoma City at San Antonio, Tulsa at Houston, Fort Worth at Beaumont and Dallas at Shreveport.

Ellington Rejects McMurry Offer

DALLAS (AP)—Bill Ellington, football coach at Garland High School, has turned down an offer of a 5-year contract as athletic director and head coach at McMurry College, the Dallas News said today.

The News reported Ellington, 1943 graduate of the Abilene school, talked with McMurry officials Thursday and decided against taking the job.

The post will become vacant March 1 with the resignation of Wilford Moore, who said he plans to enter business.

Golfers Seek Improvements

Muny golf enthusiasts have been asked to gather at the Muny clubhouse at 5 p.m. Sunday to discuss ways and means of improving the city-owned course.

Johnny Burns, a spokesman for the group, said a committee would probably be named to meet with the city commission and discuss the problem.

Potentially, the course is one of the best in West Texas but its fairways have too many rocks.

Dawson Cotton, Grain Harvested

LAMESA — The twenty-million-dollar cotton and grain harvest in Dawson County is reaching the final stages.

In tabulating ginning figures, Lee Roy Colgan, Dawson County agent, said that cotton baled in this county in 1954 was 86 thousand bales. The total figure includes the O'Donnell Gin which is not counted in the official census. However, Colgan said the gin was in this county and there was no reason for their output to be excluded. Final figures of the year will be slightly over the 86 thousand mark as scattered cotton continues to dribble in to gins from over the area.

Grain sorghums sold in this county, exclusive of that portion of grain and silage reserved for use on farms and ranches, will reach the $3 million mark. An average of 750 pounds per acre was harvested from 210 thousand acres.

According to Dayton Carrell, manager of the local Texas Employment Commission office, the quality of cotton harvested in Dawson County the past year could be attributed to numerous factors. He said the better than average color and staple of the cotton brought good prices as a result of early maturity. The cotton crop was two weeks in advance of the normal maturity, causing a higher percentage of bolls to open fully and a higher grade of cotton.

Welch Farmers Study Cooperative Buying Problem

LAMESA — The second in a series of meetings held by Dawson County farmers in the Welch area is slated at the Welch School Monday at 7 p.m.

The farmers are forming a non-profit organization to increase buying power for farm needs. In a meeting last week, the group heard William Orson, manager of the Tarzan Market Association, discuss the advantages of cooperative buying and the saving incurred on such commodities as insecticides, fertilizer and other farming needs.

Temporary officers and directors were named at the meeting. Alvin Riley, chairman, Mason Napper, vice-chairman, Ted Turner, secretary; N. W. Wecker, treasurer and Whit Coor, Dewey Drennan and William Meakes, board of directors.

TEARS AND SMILES

Former Red Prisoner Reunited With Family

NEW YORK (AP)—John H. Noble, 31, recently released by the Russians after 9½ years in prison, was reunited with his parents today amid tears and smiles.

Noble, former Detroit resident, went from Idlewild Airport—where his plane landed earlier today—to the Columbia Broadcasting System newsroom where his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Noble, awaited him.

The parents, Charles and Hildegarda, alternately cried and laughed as they hugged him.

Noble, a dark-haired man of medium height, explained that his father returned to his native Germany in 1938 to be treated for a gall bladder ailment. The son accompanied him.

"We were interned locally by the Germans on Sept. 3, 1939," Noble said. "When the United States entered the war, we had to register every third day with the police in Dresden."

After the Russians captured the city in 1945, he said, he and his father were arrested. The father was released in 1952.

Noble said no charges were placed against them but apparently they were held because they had American food in their home and received American soldiers there.

At the airport Noble said again today that he believes Stalin's son Lt. Gen. Vasily Stalin is in Lubrianka Prison in Moscow.

Noble and another Soviet prisoner, Pvt. William C. Marchuk, of Norristown, Pa., were released early this month. The Russians never explained why they decided to let them go.

Martial Law Ends For Phenix Citizens

PHENIX CITY, Ala. (AP)—Enforcement of law and order in Phenix City was in the hands of local civilian officials today for the first time since July 22.

The last Alabama National Guardsmen on duty here pulled out a few hours before outgoing Gov. Gordon Persons' order of limited martial rule expired at midnight.

In 25 weeks of occupation, National Guardsmen confiscated incriminating racket records and smashed thousands of dollars worth of gambling equipment. Their investigators reopened criminal cases which now ousted local law enforcement officials had ignored or forgotten.

The full-scale cleanup was touched off by the slaying of racket-fighting Atty. Gen. nominee Albert Patterson June 18.

Tech Wins Judging Contest At Denver

DENVER (AP)—Auction sales started today as judging of thousands of animals continued at the National Western Stock Show.

First place in the carload of senior Hereford bull calves went to J. S. Bridwell of Wichita Falls.

A five-man team representing Texas Tech placed first yesterday in the intercollegiate livestock judging contest Texas Tech posted 4,128 points to nose out Arizona University by two points.

The air in a cube shaped room, 30 feet on a side, weighs a ton.
