Snow Flurries In Panhandle; Amarillo Reports 6-Degree Reading

Winter renewed its attack on the West Texas area Thursday, and steadily falling temperatures in Big Spring indicated that even lower temperatures would be touched by Friday. The mercury had slid from a top of 57 Wednesday to a low of 22 degrees at 1 p. m. today. The forecast was for continued cold tonight and Friday.

The severe cold wave, forcing its way southward, brought snow flurries and near zero weather to the Panhandle. The temperature was down to six above at Amarillo.

The new blast of winter failed to spread as rapidly over North Texas as last night as weather bureau observers expected, due to a low pressure area over Central and South Texas.

A low barometer reading of 29.64 was taken at Del Rio this morning. The weather bureau said the low pressure area, centered over the Rio Grande valley.

Virtually all South Texas was overcast today and mist and rain were dampening the northern part in advance of the cold wave.

North Texas temperatures for the most part were relatively high this morning but had little chance of remaining long above freezing. Reports from a temperature decline from 40 degrees last night to 20 above zero this morning. Snow flurries whitened the plains.

Clear At El Paso
Abilene's minimum 32 and it was raining there. The moisture glazed the streets as it froze.

El Paso was the only point reporting clear weather. The mercury there was 34.

At Wichita Falls it was 24 and cloudy. Dallas, with mist turning into light, steady rain, had a minimum of 45 but it was gradually getting colder.

Moderate temperatures prevailed to the south and east, Palestine not going below 70 and Austin's low being 58. It was cloudy at both places.

Battles Rage Anew In Spain

Air And Ground Fighting; Neutrality Efforts At Standstill

By the Associated Press
Air and ground battles broke with new violence on the Madrid and Malaga fronts of warring Spain today. Neutrality efforts stood stockstill. But Italy and Germany will attack Great Britain shortly, it was learned, that foreign financial aid and propaganda must be eliminated from Spain along with foreign volunteers.

The league of nations council met at Geneva to discuss both the need of Germany for raw materials and Spanish government protests against alleged Italo-German violation of its sovereignty.

Fascist and socialist airplanes fought a machine gun battle over Madrid. Fascist insurgents struck back at the socialist government forces for an almost successful attack on the "Hill of Angels" south of Madrid.

Insurgent planes bombed southern Malaga, on the sea, laying the groundwork for assault by storm. Socialist defenders of Malaga and reinforced insurgent armies resumed a battle close to nearby Marbella.

From Valencia, the Spanish government announced the Spanish gold reserve was under guard in Spain. There have been reports the bullion had been shipped abroad.

Extension Of Trade Treaty Policy Asked

FD Sees Program As Promoting Peace And Economic Recovery
WASHINGTON, Jan. 21 (AP)—President Roosevelt urged congress today to continue the administration reciprocal trade treaty program as a means of promoting "durable peace" and a "balanced economic recovery."

His appeal was made in a letter to Chairman Doughton of the house ways and means committee, before which Secretary Hull appeared in support of passage of a measure extending the trade policy three years.

Mr. Roosevelt said the nation's "vigorous initiative in the field of liberalization of commercial policies had been an important factor in arresting the world trend toward national economic isolation, which seemed almost irresistible three years ago."

Emergency Still Exists
Asserting the task was by no means finished, Mr. Roosevelt said "emergency conditions" still exist in international trade relations and excessive barriers continue to operate against American trade.

"Their reduction," he wrote, "constitutes to be an essential requirement of a full and balanced economic recovery for our country."

"In the period which lies immediately ahead, our ability to act swiftly and effectively in the field of commercial policy will be indispensable, if the present favorable and promising trend toward a normalization and expansion of international trade, upon a friendly and constructive basis of fair-dealing and equal treatment, is to go forward."

Hull told the committee the resolution extending the president's power to make reciprocal agreements provided an opportunity for "vital accomplishment."

Borne To Hospital On Dog Sled

Miner Taken From Mountain Cabin In Time For Appendicitis Operation

OKANOGAN, Wash., Jan. 21 (AP)—Valiant dog teams defeated the "Cascade mountains" deep snows to save Fred White, 35-year-old miner, from an appendicitis operation in the wilds and placed him today between the sheets of a hospital bed.

White arrived at a hospital here last night for an appendectomy today. Hospital attendants said the operation was delayed because he suffered "some shock" from a 60-mile journey by dog team, bobbed, automobile and ambulance from the Asurite mine, 8,000 feet up in the mountains.

Suspect Held For Slaying Of Policeman

Ex-Convict Nabbed Short Distance From Where Officer Was Killed

MONROE, Mich., Jan. 21 (AP)—Alcide (Frenchy) Benoit, 24, pleaded innocent in municipal court today on a charge of shooting to death State Policeman Richards F. Hammond. He was held for trial in circuit court.

Chewing gum laconically, Benoit came to court handcuffed to a state trooper. He waived examination and Municipal Judge John F. Faucher at once ordered him held for trial. Benoit told how he killed Hammond and then handcuffed the officers' body to a rural mailbox.

Confession
County Prosecutor Francis Ready announced the confession of the 24-year-old black-haired gunman shortly after Benoit's desperate game of hide-and-seek over sleet-covered country areas with officers of three states and the federal government ended in Monroe—a short distance from the spot where he abducted Trooper Hammond at midnight Tuesday.

Hammond and Trooper Sam Sineci halted a stolen car occupied by Benoit and John H. Smith, 29, alias Delbert, and decided to take the pair to headquarters for questioning in connection with the abduction of Fred Williams, a Detroit used car salesman, who was left tied to a tree at Toledo early Tuesday night.

"I got into the patrol car with the officer (Hammond)," Benoit orally confessed to Prosecutor Ready. State Police Captain Lawrence A. Lyon and Sheriff Joseph J. Bailey, Sineci and Smith followed in the seized automobile.

Struck Him With Pistol
Benoit said he struck Hammond with a pistol and forced the officer to follow the convict's instructions. Five miles southeast of Erie, Mich., after the car with the officers and suspect was ditched, "I made Hammond stop," Benoit was quoted as confessing. Then I got out and put one of the handcuffs on his wrists. When I tried to get him out of the car he put up a fight and we rolled over on the ground. I could see he was getting the best of me. Then I fired during the scuffle and he got limp. I cuffed his hands around the post (of the mailbox).

Identified By Mother
Officers started to take the still breathing woman to a hospital but she died from her injuries and several hours' exposure in the bitter cold.

She was identified by her mother, Mrs. Hazel Sclarini, 41. A sister, Melba, 21, informed Police Inspectors Lou Jewell and Thomas Duffy that Mrs. Botelho had been separated two years from her husband, George Botelho. The couple had a four-year-old daughter, Shirley.

Mrs. Sclarini informed the officers that Mrs. Botelho had been keeping company with a man whose name she did not know. She said her daughter left home with the man at 9 o'clock last night.

Inspector Jewell said he believed Mrs. Botelho, a comely brunette, had been attacked and beaten in an automobile and then carried to the creek and thrown into the water.

NORTHERN EUROPE SUFFERS FROM COLD

LONDON, Jan. 21 (AP)—Moderating weather promised Northern Europe relief today from wind, blizzards which caused at least 45 deaths and scattered wrecked shipping along its coast.

Damage on land and sea was widespread. Craft in Atlantic waters and along the Scandinavian coast bore the brunt of the stormy seas and gale-driven snows.

Rescuers searched for bodies from the wrecked Finnish steamer Savonmaa which foundered near Kristiansand, Norway, with a loss of 20 lives, and for the bodies of the captain and 24 members of the crew of the German naval experimental ship Welle which went down with all hands off the coast of the German state of Holstein.

DALLAS, Jan. 21 (AP)—A negro maid found W. S. Bellamy, principal of the Winnie grade school and one of the most prominent educators in the state, dead in his bed at Irving today, a bullet wound in his head. Justice Chaney Miller of Irving rendered a verdict of suicide.

Secy. Perkins Meets Faction Leaders To Put End To Strike

Occupation Of Auto Plants Now The Chief Barrier

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21 (AP)—Secretary Perkins called Governor Murphy of Michigan and leaders of striking automobile workers to her office today. She conferred at length yesterday with the high command of the General Motors Corporation.

John L. Lewis, head of the Committee for Industrial Organization, and Homer Martin, president of the United Automobile Workers were summoned for 2 p. m. Murphy was asked to attend.

Miss Perkins, seeking peace in the wide-spread automobile labor conflict, said occupation of Fisher

DETROIT, Jan. 21 (AP)—The Chrysler corporation posted notices in its De Soto, Dodge, Chrysler and Plymouth plants here today that operations would be suspended tonight until Monday because of a shortage of glass. The shutdown was estimated to affect 50,000 workers.

Body plants in Flint, Mich., by sit-down strikers was the "principal barrier" to resumption of negotiations between the General Motors Corporation and the United Automobile Workers.

Flint Alliance
Before resuming her efforts to bring corporation officials and the union together, Miss Perkins told reporters on the main reasons for the failure of Governor Murphy's proposed negotiations in Detroit to materialize had been swept aside. That reason, she said, was the "Flint Alliance episode."

William S. Knudsen, General Motors vice president, notified the Flint Alliance—composed of non-union employees—Saturday night that he would confer with them Tuesday.

The United Automobile Workers immediately accused General Motors of "bad faith" and the negotiations scheduled for Monday did not take place.

The union then refused to evacuate the Flint plants.

135,000 IDLE
DETROIT, Jan. 21 (AP)—The eyes of the automotive world fastened on Washington today as conferences seeking a solution of the United Automobile Workers' strike in General Motors plants were resumed.

Homer Martin, president of the union, and John Brophy, director of the Committee for Industrial Organization, left on a night train for the national capital at the bidding of John L. Lewis, head of the C.I.O., which is supporting the strike.

Gov. Frank Murphy, of Michigan, and high executives of General Motors from its Detroit and New York offices also were in Washington, where they conferred together with Secretary of Labor Perkins.

The number of idle employees of the corporation rose to 135,000 with additional plant closings.

Would Eliminate Dueling Proviso In Oath Of Office

AUSTIN, Jan. 21 (AP)—Four house members proposed a constitutional amendment today to eliminate the dueling section of the 60-year old oath of office.

Under the section, all officers must swear they have been neither a principal nor a second in a duel with deadly weapons.

A movement two years ago to eliminate the provision failed in the house. A two-thirds vote of both houses is required to submit constitutional amendments.

The resolution was signed by George F. Howard and R. Emmett Morse of Houston, Augustine C. Lay of Brownsville and Harold M. Hankamer of El Paso.

RAIN DIDN'T HURT

FD Feeling Fine After Wet Inauguration Day

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21 (AP)—President Roosevelt told aides today he never felt better in his life, despite several dreachings he received at his second inauguration.

Stephen T. Early, a secretary, said the president changed his clothes after he had delivered his inaugural address and had driven in an open car to the White House, and again after he had stood up, protected from a slanting rainfall watching the parade.

Early disclosed this morning he had called Mr. Roosevelt on the telephone last night at 9:30 o'clock after the rest of the family had gone to the inaugural concert, and learned the president was alone in his study working on stamps. Stamp collecting is one of his hobbies.

Streams Rise To Marks Near All-Time High

Levee System On Mississippi Due To Get Its First Real Test

By the Associated Press
Heavy rains increased sharply today the river menace to widespread east and central west areas, driving some streams to crests which threatened to equal record floods of 1913.

Property loss and human misery mounted with the rising waters. In Cincinnati alone police estimated damage in excess of $1,000,000.

Thousands abandoned Ohio valley homes and sought refuge on higher lands. Hundreds banded together to maintain dikes and levees, while others formed emergency crews to transfer merchandise from periled areas.

Miles Of Land Covered
The floods covered miles of land in Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Ohio, Maryland, Kentucky, Indiana, Illinois, Tennessee, Missouri and Arkansas. Yellow waters crept up city streets and flooded basements in scores of communities.

Riding high on an accumulation of heavy rains, the Ohio river descended on Portsmouth, Ohio, and caused City Manager Frank Sheehan to warn all residents, except those in hilltop districts, to prepare to leave homes and business houses. The city has a population of more than 40,000.

The river rose two-tenths of a foot an hour at Cincinnati toward a crest the weather bureau said might equal that of the 1913 inundation, which cost southwestern Ohio millions of dollars.

At Memphis, Tenn., United States engineers strengthened forces for a battle with what may be the highest known flood stages in the history of the Mississippi river.

Test For Levee System
The engineers expressed confidence the gigantic levee system, erected by the government after the 1927 flood disaster in the valley, would hold against the onrushing waters in its first "acid test."

The big stream went nearly a foot above technical 34-foot flood level at Memphis. The levee system is built to withstand a stage of from 45 to 50 feet in the Memphis gauge.

Meteorologists feel the eventual crest will be well within the limitation. But all concerned agreed a fight was in store.

The village of New Richmond, 30 miles east of Cincinnati, sent a call for aid and boats and crews were dispatched to evacuate families surrounded by water. Fifteen hundred families already had left their homes in northern Kentucky cities.

Indicative of the sweep of the flood was a report that 1,500 of the 2,000 houses in New Richmond were flooded. Water swirled five feet deep in the streets.

Residents Driven Out
Almost the entire population of Aurora, Ind., worked to remove stocks from stores. Fire sirens brought them from their beds at night.

MORE FARM CHECKS

Additional Money Received By Howard Growers

Fifty-three additional benefit payment checks for participation in the federal soil building and conservation program today brought $5,679.77 to Howard county farmers.

The block of checks brought the total number of payments to $50 on the 1936 program and the total amount received to $125,095.57.

Approximately 30 application blanks were received on farms in the county, leaving only about 11 applicants to be approved out of the 816 total. County Agent O. P. Griffin said uncompleted applications would be mailed out soon in an effort to finish this phase of the work.

Governors In Washington Tell Of Improvement In All Quarters

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21 (AP)—Unanimous reports of improvement in industry and agriculture came today from governors here for the inauguration, along with predictions the upward trend would continue.

A survey of the state executives brought word of re-opened mills, higher farm prices, greater auto registrations, and better monetary conditions.

The only unfavorable phase consisted of calls for further aid in the drought-stricken areas of the prairie states.

Typical of the comments was that of Gov. George H. Earle, Pennsylvania democrat:

"We in Pennsylvania measure the results of the last four years in terms of booming industrial production, a revived retail trade, and a much larger farm income."

No Decision Yet On Coach At Texas U.

Member Of Board Reports 'Deadlock' In Conference With Bible

AUSTIN, Jan. 21 (AP)—A member of the board of regents of the University of Texas reported today, a conference between the officials and Dana K. Bible over the head football coaching position at the school was deadlocked.

Major J. H. Parton of Houston made the announcement without elaboration after: Bible, now coach at the University of Nebraska, had conferred with the athletic committee of the regents, the athletic council and Dr. H. Y. Benedict, president of the school.

Lack One Man
Major Parton said further without explanation that all regents except Dr. K. H. Aynesworth of Waco were in agreement among themselves and Aynesworth was expected to arrive in Austin about 4:30 p. m.

Observers thought it possible the "deadlock" was over some detail of salary or the length of a contract between Bible and the university.

"Dr. Aynesworth is en route to Austin and we expect him to join in our deliberations about 4:30 p. m. or 5 o'clock," Parton said. "We have been making every effort to confer with him."

"All other members of the board of regents have agreed but do not feel at liberty to proceed until we have the approval of Dr. Aynesworth."

"The conference is deadlocked."

Around And About
The Sports
Circuit
By Tom Beasley

DISTRICT THREE football committees are all stirred up over reports that Roy Henderson of the Intercollegiate League will recommend to the state committee that Stephenville be given a place in this district, boosting the membership to ten teams. Carmen Brandon, assistant football coach here, said he couldn't see where anything would be gained by adding Stephenville to this district, already overcrowded. However, he is in favor of keeping Ranger, Cisco and Eastland in the sector. "Those weaker teams help balance the district," Carmen explained.

J. W. HOWARD, Steer basketball, is still on the injury list and will not make the Barnhart trip tomorrow. A bad ankle has given Howard considerable trouble.

STEPHENVILLE is approximately 215 miles from Big Spring, too far to do any good, financially, in football.

WHY NOT place Stephenville in the district with Mineral Wells and the Fort Worth teams, a distance of only 60 miles?

TO DATE, Sammy Baugh has received six watches, two rings, a watch, and numerous small gifts, according to Willard Riddle of the TCU News Service. One of the watches came from San Francisco without any indication of who the donor might be. The watch is engraved with his name and the score of the TCU-Santa Clara game. Also, Sam is developing into a professional goer-outer to banquets. He has attended 27 dinners since the Frogs returned from the Pacific coast and has at least six others scheduled.

BIG SPRING, San Angelo, Sweetwater, Abilene and other schools in this football district will protest to Henderson by telegram and letter, the transfer of Stephenville to District 3 Class A. George Gentry talked with Ross Covey of Sweetwater and Dudley of Abilene this morning and they agreed on the protest, but Henderson is expected to turn a deaf ear.

THERE ARE two more cage games this week in the Southwest conference. Rice Institute, the pace-setter for the circuit, meets Baylor at Waco Friday. The flying Owls invade College Station Saturday night for a battle with the Texas Aggies. Mid-semester examinations will keep the remain-

BIBLE MEETS WITH TEXAS U. REGENTS

STATEMENT PROMISED
ON PARLEY

AUSTIN, Jan. 21 (AP)—Dana X. Bible and regents of the University of Texas resumed a conference today over the vacant position of football coach at the school.

Participants were smiling and apparently in high good humor as they disappeared into the office of President H. Y. Benedict, leading some to believe an agreement finally had been reached. Bible, head coach at the University of Nebraska, came to Austin at the invitation of the regents to discuss his possible employment as successor to Jack Chevigny, resigned coach of the Longhorns.

A statement on the situation which had been promised for 11 a. m. did not materialize at that hour, and at 12:30 p. m. Luther Stark of Orange, chairman of the board of regents and a member of the regents athletic committee, emerged from the conference to say he would "like to

BROWNS TOPPED TRIBE IN DIAMOND DEAL, SAYS TRAYNOR

Trading Gives Browns Much Needed Strength

INDIANAPOLIS, Jan. 21 (AP)—Harold (Pie) Traynor, the Pittsburgh Pirates manager, thinks the St. Louis Browns came away out top in the recent player swap with the Cleveland Indians.

The Browns traded, Johnny Soto, Ivay Andrews and Lynn Lary to the Indians' Oral Hildebrand, Joe Vosmik and Billy Knickerbocker.

"Those boys at St. Louis knew what they were doing," Traynor said while a guest of the Indiana house of representatives.

Vosmik? "He wasn't so hot last year but you can look for a big season in 1937; the records show he has a great year every other season," the Pirates' chief said.

Hildebrand? "Everyone thinks Hildebrand is a potential 20-game winner; maybe the change in the atmosphere will do him good."

Knickerbocker? "A swell ball player," Traynor said Knickerbocker's mediocre season last year probably could be traced to an appendicitis operation.

Soto, Andrews and Lary? "Good ball players, but the Indians came out second best."

Smith And Wood Ineligible For Barnhart Meet; 9 Players To Make Trip

Nine players, Coach Carmen Brandon announced this morning, will be taken to the Barnhart invitation basketball tournament this week-end.

The Browns traded, Johnny Soto, Ivay Andrews and Lynn Lary to the Indians' Oral Hildebrand, Joe Vosmik and Billy Knickerbocker.

"Those boys at St. Louis knew what they were doing," Traynor said while a guest of the Indiana house of representatives.

Vosmik? "He wasn't so hot last year but you can look for a big season in 1937; the records show he has a great year every other season," the Pirates' chief said.

COMMITTEE TO MEET ON FRIDAY

It became apparent today that football District 3 of the state intercollegiate league, already the largest sector in the set-up with nine teams, will be increased to 10 teams for the 1937 race. George Gentry, local high school principal, received word late yesterday from Chester Kenley of San Angelo who had been advised by Roy Henderson of the intercollegiate league that he would recommend to the state committee that Stephenville be put in District 3.

Henderson said the state committee would meet Friday night.

Although Gentry refused to comment on Henderson's statement, Kenley was openly opposed to the move, and it is known that the majority of schools in this district are not in favor of having Stephenville in the circuit.

Stephenville is not centrally located and they feel that Stephenville high school teams will always be overshadowed by John Tarleton college.

L. E. Dudley of Abilene, District 3 chairman, is not in favor of making any changes, at least not any increasing the size of the district. There has been some talk of asking Ranger, Cisco and Eastland, the "weak teams," to withdraw from Class A. The teams now in this district are San Angelo, Big Spring, Sweetwater, Abilene, Eastland, Ranger, Cisco, Breckenridge and Brownwood.

Stephenville is placed in this district each team will be allowed only one "warm-up" game because of the intercollegiate league's 10-game limitation.

Neglectful Paul

DALLAS, Jan. 21 (AP)—One-half of the talkative Dean Brothers—Duffy and Paul—has been dropped down just when the noise should be loudest.

Paul (Duffy) Dean, gangling St. Louis Cardinal pitcher, not much at "this publicity business," neglected to tell sports writer friends until today that a son was born to his attractive wife Tuesday night.

Hospital attendants reported the future mound hero and his mother were "doing splendidly."

Paul, voluntarily retired last year after an ailing arm kept him from pitching, planned to confide with Branch Rickey, Cardinal boss, how today over his 1937 salary terms. Rickey was here to address a luncheon club.

Faded Letters Give Insight Into Rickard

PHOENIX, Ariz., Jan. 21 (AP)—The late Tex Rickard, who braved the dangers of Alaska to find gold and later became the dauntless promoter of prize fights, the world didn't want his "me" to know he had gone to the Yukon.

That intimate fact and numerous others are revealed in letters written 40 years ago by Rickard from Juneau, Alaska, to his boyhood chum, E. S. Matlock, now of Phoenix.

They are written in an almost illegible scrawl and the spelling is poor.

When 27 years old Rickard left his job as town marshal of Henrietta, Texas, to follow the Alaskan gold rush.

A letter written Dec. 9, 1895, from Juneau told how he acquired his nickname, "Tex."

"Dear old friend:

"We had a jolly good trip. This country is like old times. Everybody has money."

"By the way, I have got a nick name. The people on the boat call me Tex and everybody in Juneau calls me that and it will stay with me as long as I stay here."

His next letter to Matlock is dated Feb. 22, 1896, shortly before he left for the Yukon.

"I am going to leave here on the 15th of April," he wrote. "I am going to the Yukon. Don't tell me I would not go and I don't want her to know it until I get ready to go."

"Well, I guess you boys will soon commence to play ball. Don't let Wichita Falls beat you all. I want you to beat them every fall this year and do better the same."

Matlock said today Jack Dempsey, who rose to fame during the height of Rickard's promotional genius, had asked for one of the yellowed, crumbling letters as a keepsake but Matlock declined to part with them.

HARRY KIPKE IS OFF THE 'SPOT'

By EDDIE BRIETZ

New York, Jan. 21 (AP)—Harry Kipke is temporarily off the spot at Michigan but the fight's not over. . . . By a strange and sudden reversal of public opinion, the wolves are now howling at Fielding Yost. . . . In the middle of this hushaloo to replace Kipke, H. G. Salinger, sports columnist of the Detroit News, wrote: "Kipke may have been head coach in public theory but never in fact. Yost remained in supreme command. He selected Kipke's assistants and ruled the style of play." . . . Immediately sentiment changed.

Kipke was signed for another year and alumni screamed at Yost to keep hands off. . . . Don't let anybody tell you that Vines-Perry series is just an act. . . . They both like to win too well. . . . The golfing wanderers are complaining that Ralph Guldahl is playing much too slowly. . . . Clark Griffith, Senators' chief, has declared war on Catcher Shanty Hogan. Hogan will either report to spring training weighing less than 225 pounds or pay his own training expenses until he gets to 225.

George Halas of the Chicago Nello Football, the 215-pound Santa Clara quarterback. . . . You might as well have the full name: It's Robert William Andrew Feller. . . . And boy, that's plenty in the right spot.

Until Harold "Bud" Foster became a star athlete and subsequently Winslow's basketball coach, his greatest claim to fame was that he was about the biggest baby ever born in Kansas. . . . He weighed 13 3/4 pounds, and if you don't believe it, run down to Newton, Kas., some day and ask the natives. . . . Sam Parks, one of the nicest guys you ever missed a putt, has taken some unmerciful criticism since he won the 1935 National Open. . . . But the worst crack of all came the other day from a coast scribe who accused Sam of getting married so that he'd have somebody to watch him play in the tournaments.

FIELD TRIALS

GOLIAD, Tex., Jan. 21 (AP)—The first cast of the bird dogs today was for the subscription derby stake, with the open all-age to follow at a purse of $500, as the sixth annual field trials of the Lone Star Bird Dog Association began.

Fred F. Doyle, president of the association, said there would be stakes for every type and age of dog. A. P. (Bud) Foster was serving as field marshal and Kenneth Huber was in charge of the field trial committee. Judges were Harry C. Shuttles of Springfield, Ill., and P. L. Denison of Temple.

The trials close Sunday with staker for the junior puppy, senior puppy, members' all age and the shoring dog will be held.

Hobbs Team Expects To Trim Dukes

Cotton Clover Has Formidable Club Ready For Baker's Independents

By HANK HART

Cotton Clover secretly expects to take the Big Spring Dukes into camp when the local quintet takes the floor against the Amerasia Oilers in the Hobbs, N. M., gym tonight in a game that will open the home season for the Sunshine State basketballers.

For several weeks Cotton has bemoaned the chances of his Oilers, despite the fact that they defeated a picked quintet from Seminole, Texas, in their first game of the season, and have been practicing nightly for the invasion of the West Texans.

Clover has recruited the outstanding material of that section of the country for his team and has a rabby crew. He has concentrated his efforts on building a defense that will stop Tommy Hutto and his teammates and for that reason "Mileaway" Baker's charges are expecting plenty of trouble.

The locals' attack may be dastling. Tommy Hutto has earned quite a reputation as a "trouble shooter" and has become well known around that part of the country. For that reason "Mileaway" may build his offense around Smith who, if given the ball, can do some fancy tricks.

Baker will start his first string, using Hutto and Smith as the forwards, "Skeets" West in the jumping slot, and Horace Wallin and Cheddy Hall in the backcourts.

West has been ill this week but Baker has capable replacements in Dave Hopper and Jake Morgan.

The Duke manager may arrange for a series of games with the strong Wilson Rovers. J. L. Burkhardt, manager of the Dawson county team, has contacted Baker and the local mentor may send his Big County loop quint against the independent five next week in the local gym.

He also received an invitation to take his team to the Sul Ross invitation tournament the first of next week.

Irish Trace Baseball To Game Of Rounders

By DILLON GRAHAM

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21 (AP)—Although the Irish say they originated baseball, the game isn't played in Ireland now.

The Irish trace baseball to their own game of rounders. This is similar to baseball, except that the ball is hit with the hands instead of a bat.

Hurling is the national game in Ireland. The Irish say hockey is just an effeminate form of hurling.

Hurling, a fast game, requiring physical strength and stamina as well as speed, is played the year round, with men and boys participating in every little village. There are district and national championships and the best team enters in the international competition. The all-Ireland championship attracts 50,000 fans to Dublin. And two-bit American will buy a good seat.

Although rugby and soccer football are played, Gaelic football is favored. There are 15 men on a side and the ball must be batted, not thrown. "There some golf, quite a bit of tennis and a little boxing."

Water sports are popular along the seacoast of Brazil, while soccer football is played generally inland.

Bicycling and bicycle races have many enthusiasts in France, Germany, Belgium and the Netherlands. Soccer football is the chief sport in France.

Soccer is the outstanding sport in Italy and Peru.

Equestrian sports are liked in Mexico. Basketball, American football and swimming also are popular. Bullfights sometimes draw crowds of 30,000.

Ice hockey is played by thousands in Canada.

Baseball has made great advances in Japan, where virtually every school and college has a team. The best teams in the 32 provinces meet in the summer in an elimination series for the Japanese championship.

Soccer, rugby football and cricket are popular in England.

In Finland the youngsters enjoy running.

Dizzy Makes Himself Tournament Favorite

SARASOTA, Fla., Jan. 21 (AP)—Dizzy Dean avowed today he would "show them guys what golfing is"—meaning the other 32 baseball stars who sought the National baseball players golf championship.

With becoming modesty Dizzy said that next to himself he thought Lloyd Brown had the best chance to win the tournament opening today. He backed his belief by paying $50 for the Cleveland pitcher's chance in the play-off pool.

Wesley Ferrell, Boston Red Sox hurler, is defending the Powell Crockett trophy. Eighteen holes will be played daily, with the finals on Sunday.

The players, from both major and minor leagues, include two brother combinations, Wes and Rick Ferrell, of the Boston Red Sox, and Paul and Lloyd Warner of Pittsburgh.

CHERRY MAY BE ASSISTANT TEXAS COACH

Stark Favors Paying For Big-Time Mentor

By FELIX R. MCKNIGHT

DALLAS, Jan. 21 (AP)—Repeat on a previous forecast: Look for Blair Cherry of Amarillo as Dana X. Bible's right hand man at the University of Texas. . . . The Golden Standard coach recently remarked he would take the Texas assistant's post only under Bible.

Luther Stark, chairman of the Texas regents, favors paying the university president $25,000 annually and the athletic head $15,000. . . . Lloyd Gregory, Houston Post, columnist: "The opportunity to employ a man of Bible's character seldom comes to any school. . . . It is true University of Texas will have to pay well for his services. . . . Bible is well worth whatever it takes to get him. . . . He wants no dealings with boys who come to college merely to play football. . . . He believes football always should be secondary class work."

Out of the mass of letters received by Fort Worth's Star-Telegram in a contest to determine what Sammy Baugh should do with himself, comes this note from Venus, Texas. . . . "Go back to Mesquite county, Sammy, and enter politics. . . . West Texas is a big country and needs its big boys." Few remember that Baugh is some shaves as a box fighter. . . . He once fought on the same card with Jack Dempsey at Abilene.

Eighteen-year-old, 234-pound Babe Ritchie, Lubbock high school football star, is the sensation of the Golden Gloves amateur fight tourney. . . . He humiliated two Texas Tech footballers in the West Texas elimination bout, flooring both Jesse Brown and Red Ramsey, and Red Ramsey, a Little All-American end. . . . Ritchie stands six feet four inches and ring veterans say he shows promise.

Tiny "Slick" Thompson, 115-pound, five foot, five inch forward on Fort Worth's Polytechnic high school team, is one of the sharpest goal shooters in schoolboy circles. . . . He roped 14 points in his last appearance against W. K. Stripling high. . . . Shoots most of his points one-handed and back over his head.

Burly Joe Routt, Texas A. and M.'s All-America guard who once was his county wrestling champion and who quit boxing at 24, is a contender because of absence of competition, withdrew from the Golden Gloves tourney because of a badly swollen hand. . . . Bone specialists advised him against fighting. . . . He has one more year of football. . . . Bill Harris, Hardin-Simmons' veteran end, has signed a pro contract with the New York Giants and Pete Tyler, his backfield teammate, will try it with the Chicago Cards. . . . Herschel (Hufel) Stockton, bulky McMurtry tackle, gets a tryout with the Cards also. . . . Strong Central Texas teams have entered the Temple Telegram's annual high school cage tourney Saturday. . . .

Eleven Teams Enter Junior Tourney Here

Pairings To Be Made This Afternoon, Play Starts Tomorrow

DALLAS, Jan. 21 (AP)—Eleven teams, possibly more, will play here Friday and Saturday in the high school invitation basketball tournament for junior teams. Coach Ben Daniel said this morning.

The 11 quints definitely entered are: Midland, Sylvestor, Colorado, Sweetwater, Coahoma, Forrest, Moore, Garner, Elbow, and the Big Spring Bronchos and Calves. . . . School authorities indicated they might send a team here, Daniel said.

Pairings will be made late today and play will start Friday afternoon, continuing through Saturday. Tournament officials will be Jack and Phil Smith, Daniel stated.

PERRY BEATS VINES IN PRO 'RUBBER' MATCH

BUFFALO, N. Y., Jan. 21 (AP)—The inability of Ellsworth Vines to make his booming service click left him trailing Fred Perry today by one match after their seventh meeting.

Vines lost to the British player, 4-6, 8-6, 2-6 before 3,167 cash customers in Broadway auditorium last night.

Perry, who lost three straight to Vines in Boston, forced the Californian into numerous errors and several wild streaks.

Bruce Barnes, veteran Texas pro, defeated George Lott, 6-1, 7-5, and in the doubles Vines and Barnes defeated Perry and Lott 6-4, 6-3.

OLD RULES BEST FOR COACH BEE

NEW YORK, Jan. 21 (AP)—Clair Bee, Long Island university basketball coach, is one man who does not hold the newest is always the best.

He goes back to the first official rules for the basis of the system which has carried his court teams to victory in all but 12 of their 121 games since he came to the New York institution in 1931.

His current five bonated 43 straight victories until beaten by Stanford's zone defense, and has won 49 of its last 50 games.

While not opposing the zone defense which features set blocks, fast breaks and following the ball rather than the man, Bee's team stresses a man-for-man defense as an argument for his style or play. He refers to the first official rules, published in 1894 and edited by Dr. James Naismith, originator of the game at Springfield college, which counsel:

"When the opponents have the ball, stick to your man like glue."

Bee pointed out Stanford beat the Blackbirds because the Indians had the height to make the zone defense work.

MOORE TEAMS IN COURTNEY MEET

MOORE, Jan. 21 (SPL)—Moore senior boys' and girls' basketball teams will play in the Courtney tournament Friday and Saturday.

The boys' team will open with Lomax and the girls will meet the winner of the Brown-Courtney game.

New asphalt tennis courts have been constructed on the high school campus here.

Miss Louise Douglass, from West Texas State Teachers college, is tennis coach and has issued a call for the start of practice this week.

CHICAGO OFFERS RICH OPEN MEET

CHICAGO, Jan. 21 (AP)—Chicago will brighten the summer campaign of the boys who play golf for a living with an open tournament that may offer as much as $10,000 in prize money.

The event, 72 holes of medal play, will be staged in June by the Chicago district golf association, probably the week following the national open title battle at the Oakland Hills country club near Detroit. The open will be played June 10-12, and the C. D. G. A. board of directors, which approved the plan last night, figures to catch the championship field on the first bounce.

Details, the site, date and the amount of money to be used as a lure, will be settled Jan. 28 at a meeting of representatives of the association's 87 member clubs. Firing probably will start June 17, with four days of action at 18 holes each. However, the start may be delayed until June 18, with two 18-hole days and a final assignment of 36 holes.

COWBOYS UNDEFEATED

ABILENE, Jan. 21 (AP)—The Hardin-Simmons Cowboy cagers remained undefeated today after defeating St. Mary's Rattlers 59 to 41 last night for their ninth consecutive win.

Andy O'Riotti, St. Mary's forward, scored 25 points, good for individual honors, to keep the Rattlers in the game.

SOVIET EDITOR IS REMOVED FROM JOB

MOSCOW, Jan. 20 (AP)—Nikolai Bucharin, long-time editor of the Soviet government newspaper, Izvestia, was removed from office today.

Officials declined to confirm or deny reports further action had been taken.

This move, however, was believed linked with forthcoming trials of Karl Radek, prominent Soviet commentator, and others in connection with alleged counter-revolutionary activities.

It came as a surprise because Bucharin previously had been cleared by the government prosecutor and had resumed his newspaper post.

Officials declined to confirm or deny reports further action had been taken.

PILOT'S WIDOW HITS REPORT ON CRASH

DALLAS, Jan. 20 (AP)—Mrs. Donald Walbridge, widow of the pilot of a Braniff Airways plane which crashed here Dec. 23, killing six employees of the line, challenged today the bureau of air commerce's report blaming the accident "probably" on Walbridge's inexperience in handling that particular type of ship under the existing conditions. "Everyone knows the cause of that crash is still a mystery," Mrs. Walbridge said. "The bureau of air commerce drew its ridiculous conclusions because it knew those who could refute the statements were dead—and dead men have no answer."

"My husband was a pilot of long standing and with a perfect record. There is no earthly reason to believe he was inexperienced in handling the twin-motored plane either functioning perfectly or in crippled condition as that plane seemed to be."

"I want to take issue with those investigators because I believe the honest thing to do would be to admit they could not ascertain the reason for the accident."

U. S. Prison Chief Resigns

Sanford Bates To Become Director Of Boys Club Of America

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21 (AP)—Attorney General Cummings announced today the resignation of Sanford Bates, director of the federal bureau of prisons, effective February 1.

Bates, widely known criminalist who has directed the federal prison bureau since 1930, will become executive director of the Boys' Club of America, Inc.

The attorney general made public a letter to Bates from President Roosevelt, which said that "in common with all who are familiar with your work in the department of justice, I sincerely regret the administration is to be deprived of the fine public service you have rendered with such marked distinction."

"The type of work you are about to undertake is of vital importance and presents a congenial task for which, in every way, you are abundantly qualified," the letter added.

Likewise expressing regret at the resignation Cummings wrote that "the federal prison system, of which we are all so justly proud, has, under your competent guidance, reached a high degree of efficiency; and those who follow you in its management will best honor you by striving to maintain the standards you have set."

DEPARTMENT STORE SALES IN TEXAS UP

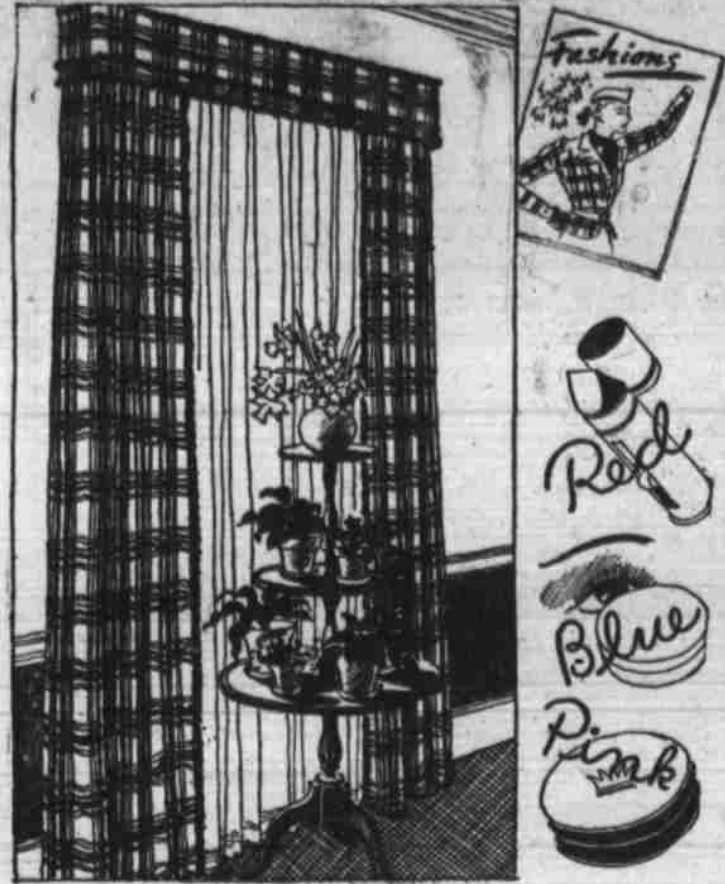

AUSTIN, Jan. 21—Department store sales, as measured in dollars, in Texas during December were substantially above those of the corresponding month the year before and the increase over November was considerably greater than the average seasonal rise, the University of Texas bureau of business research has announced.

Reports to the bureau from 83 establishments show an increase in sales over December, 1936, of 17.7 per cent and over November of 64 per cent. The average increase from November to December during the past 10 years has been 49 per cent. For the entire year 1936 there was an increase of 18 per cent over the preceding year.

Greater than average gains both over December, 1935, and the entire year 1935 were registered by Beaumont, Dallas, San Antonio, and Fort Worth.

The ratio of credit sales to net sales increased and collections on outstanding accounts improved, the bureau's statement said.

Personal Makeup Tones Are Used To Put Personality In The Home

COSMETIC-COLORED DRAPES Beauty-parlor tints and dress fabrics are the latest in interior decorations designed to mirror your character and personality.

By MARY DAVIS GILLIES (Prepared By McCall's Magazine for The Herald)

Does your living room subtly express your personality? Is the color scheme becoming to you? And, what's more—are the walls properly matched to your face powder tints?

It's only a few short years ago that we learned the art of modern make-up and how to harmonize it with our clothes. And now our homes must be in harmony, too. Dresses, complexion and houses have no secrets from each other.

Your personal face powder—the latest wall colors have gradations. Borders are bands of deeper tones. Lipstick reds and eye-shadow blues and greens are delightful accents for flesh-hued walls.

Decorators and dress designers have become very generous friends. Dressmakers are gaily using hints for evening dresses and upholstery fringe for curtains. Borders are bands of deeper tones. Lipstick reds and eye-shadow blues and greens are delightful accents for flesh-hued walls.

Decorators and dress designers have become very generous friends. Dressmakers are gaily using hints for evening dresses and upholstery fringe for curtains. Borders are bands of deeper tones. Lipstick reds and eye-shadow blues and greens are delightful accents for flesh-hued walls.

The search is world-wide. You can have draperies of Scotch plaid with green cotton fringe over curtains of handkerchief linen—the plaid might even be the family tartan. Or you can be Tyrolean with a lively pleasant cotton print at your kitchen windows.

—If the family is a little giddy, you can dress up your windows like musical comedy soldiers, with tassels up and down the draperies and feather cockades on the valance boards.

Excess Grapefruit Crop Results In Marketing Problem

McALLEN, Jan. 21 (AP)—Disposal of the nation's huge grapefruit crop—estimated at 10,000,000 boxes in excess of "normal production"—was described today as a grave problem to citrus growing regions.

The solution undertaken was a national selling campaign by the National Association of Food Chains through its 37,000 affiliated stores.

The grapefruit crop this season, currently going to market from groves in the Lower Rio Grande valley, Florida, California and Arizona, was reported to be approximately 29,000,000 boxes.

"The No. 1 surplus problem of the country," the department of agriculture was quoted as saying, "is how to market this excessive crop."

John A. Logan, executive vice president of the National Association of Food Chains, said more than $1,000,000 would be spent by the food chain companies on newspaper advertising alone during the seven-week period ending February 25 and another $1,000,000 would be spent for store display materials to encourage buyers to consume grapefruit.

Final dance arranged by the present entertainment committee composed of Mrs. J. Y. Robb, E. L. LeFever and Elmo Wasson of the Country Club will be held at 9:30 o'clock this evening in the Country Club house.

Music will be furnished by Johnnie Hyatt and his swing band.

Hitler Plans New Decrees

Will Make Changes For A Completely Federalized State

BERLIN, Jan. 21 (AP)—The forthcoming session of the reichstag has been called, it was learned today, to hear two cabinet decrees initiating the change of Germany into a fully federalized state.

A high official of Chancellor Hitler's official family said the Reichstag would be used as a platform from which to announce the despatch before the session.

The laws, he said, were merely preliminary to a comprehensive rearrangement of Germany which will be announced four years hence.

At that time—coinciding roughly with the end of the four year plan to make Germany economically self-sufficient—the old state lines will disappear completely and the country will be reorganized by "gaus" or districts based on similarity of customs, dialect, origin, etc.

After the comprehensive unification of Germany, the Nazi spokesman said, Air Minister Hermann Goering, der fuhrer's chief aide, will automatically become reichschancellor or minister-president.

(Reports have been current for some months Hitler was planning to turn over the political direction of the Reich to Goering, retaining only his position as fuhrer, or "leader" of the German people.)

GUARDED IN HOSPITAL Narcotics Suspect Ill Of Pneumonia At Angelo

SAN ANGELO, Jan. 21 (AP)—Johanne Walker, indicted in Dallas by a federal grand jury this week on narcotic charges, remained under special guard in a hospital here this morning. He is reported suffering pneumonia.

Local officers located Walker in the hospital yesterday and assigned a guard to his room on instructions from U. S. Marshal Red Wright of Fort Worth. The San Angelan was one of 14 arrested in a drive in which authorities said $150,000 worth of narcotics were seized.

Walker has also been indicted in federal court on charges of assault on two federal officers near Fort Worth.

GUN WOUND FATAL TO DAIRY EMPLOYEE

CORNICANA, Jan. 21 (AP)—Tom F. Bruce, 58, was found dead at an early hour today at a local dairy where he was employed. A .22 calibre rifle was found nearby. A bullet had struck him in the head.

Edwards was shot to death by two filling station bandits he tried to question Saturday night.

WOMEN NAB CONVICT

Fugitive Held When He Appears At Home

ANGLETON, Jan. 21 (AP)—Three women were credited today with capturing an escaped convict.

Shortly after Mrs. G. P. Munson told a prison guard yesterday she had not seen Lowell Hawkins, who escaped earlier in the day, the fugitive appeared at her back door. She grabbed a gun and leveled it at Hawkins. Her daughter Laura obtained another gun and her sister-in-law, Mrs. G. P. Munson, Jr., went for the guard.

"Please don't shoot," begged the convict, "I won't hurt you. I have a wife and three children at home."

BATTERS' IDEAL

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 20 (AP)—Russell Bauers, Pirate pitching prodigy to be farmed to Montreal, can claim one National league championship as a result of his 1936 efforts. He led the league in earned-run average, .346, and in strikeouts, 100, on your head. On the record, he is charged with 33.75 runs per nine-inning game. The catch: This represents just 1-3 of an inning as his season's work in the National.

Beach Dress Takes Place Of Culottes

Women's Desire To Be Dressed Up On Beach Brings Full Skirt

MIAMI, Fla., Jan. 21 (UP)—Bold lusty colors, full of the virility bred in the bright light of the Florida beaches, splash freely over the 1937 version of smart swim and sand ensembles which are putting in an appearance here.

Pomegranate red, lemon yellow, Gulf Stream green, in kaleidoscopic rhythms, pass in review in the new swim costumes which are startlingly modest this season. Modesty, however, has less to do with the new trend, according to stylists, than the eternal feminine desire to be "dressed-up," even on the beaches.

Fashion history is being made by the beach dresses which skirt just above the knees, the long beach coats, and the plus-fours, which are bidding for fashion favor once held securely by the culottes.

Blue and green, deeply toned, are "keeping company" with each other in novel combination in the new dressmaker suits which were seen this week at the Roney Plaza Casino Sun club, testing ground for what is "new under the sun." One of these was fashioned of the new sharkskin linen, which takes to the water with considerable dash.

All the new suits do not run the great length, however. Some are brief to a point of severity. No extra trappings have been added to the ones designed exclusively for the water, these are form-fitting and sleek with a will.

Marching side by side with the babyish bloomers, affected by some bathers, are beach clothes of a military turn. A guardsman's coat of tangerine-red sharkskin was worn over a suit of white wool which boasted silk braid across the front, like that of a cadet. Completing the costume, which caused a stir when it was introduced at the Roney Plaza, was a cap in tangerine-red set at a rakish angle.

Demim, long a member of the work-a-day world, has become one of fashion's favorite materials. Demim was used in a knobby beach dress that fancied row upon row of shoemaker stitching in rose madder wool.

And as for scarfs for the beach, they fairly rocket in the breeze. In a melee of colors, silk and wool scarfs perform manifold duties. They become turbans, halters, shirts, practically everything except a bona fide scarf.

Clasping these scarfs into place is new beach jewelry which is fast becoming an indispensable part of the beach costume. Clips in the form of fish, sailor's knots, anchors and polyps hold the scarfs in place, with bracelets in matching design often completing the picture.

When the Florida resort goes down to the sea in shoes, she does it smartly with woven string sandals, braided wood clogs, and cork and canvas slip-ons.

Miss Farnsworth Is Speaker At Elbow HD Club Meeting

Discussions of essentials of an attractive, comfortable and healthful bed room, and filling of offices were featured at the meeting of the Elbow Home Demonstration Club Tuesday at the school when Miss Lora Farnsworth, demonstration agent, was principal speaker.

"There are four essentials which should be present in every bed room if it is to fulfill its purpose. First it should be spotlessly clean, for cleanliness is a safeguard to health as well as to beauty," said Miss Farnsworth.

In demonstrating her talk, the agent emphasized the importance of sleep and listed fresh air as a second important necessity, thirdly, the value of sunshine, that should focus on the room during part of the day and lastly, a restful atmosphere.

Following the demonstration Mrs. Jack McKinnon spoke on the arrangement of bed room furniture and stressed the importance of grouping related pieces.

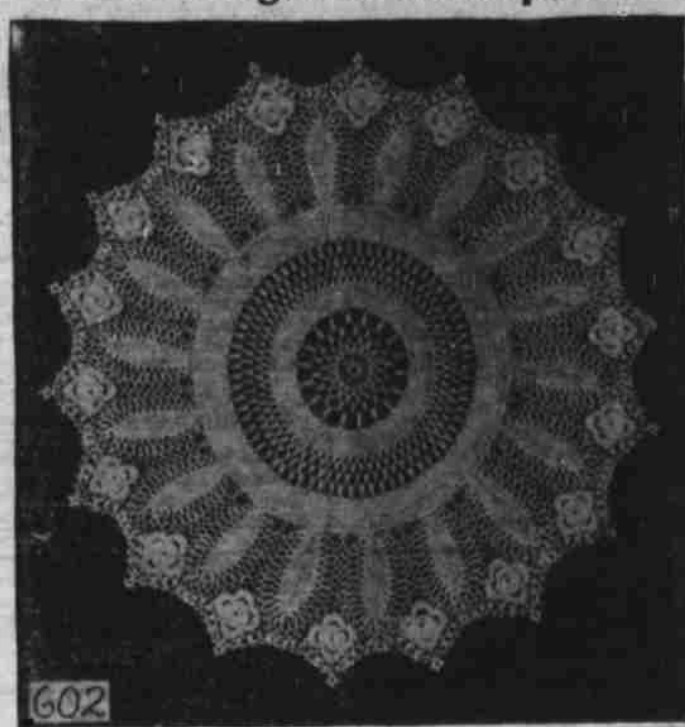

During the business session Mrs. Cliff Cotter was elected to succeed Mrs. Ross Hill, who resigned, as choral chairman, and Miss Hazel Senter was appointed assistant.

Present were Miss Senter, Mrs. H. L. Cotter, Mrs. Williamson, Mrs. Jack McKinnon, Mrs. Noel Burnett, Mrs. Nora Gregory, Mrs.

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES

This Old Treatment Often Brings Happy Relief
Many suffer from nagging backache, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys. The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. Most people pass about 3 pints a day or about 3 pounds of waste.
Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning shows there may be something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.
An excess of acids or poisons in your blood, when due to functional kidney disorders, may be the cause of racing heartbeats, rheumatic pains, lumbago, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up at night, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headache and dizziness.
Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, and successfully relieve your backache in 3 days. They give happy relief and will help the 15 million of kidney troubles that our population waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

New Design For Centerpiece

By PEGGY ROBERTS

Aren't you just a little bit tired of the usual sort of centerpiece, either flit with a floral decoration, or several motifs with a conventional border? Then, here's a pleasant change. For, this 18-inch centerpiece has a very new appearance, that sure to add immensely to whatever table it adorns. At the same time, it's a convenient piece to carry around and work on at odd moments, for the leaves and roses are made separately from the center, so you can always have a little bit with you.

The pattern envelope contains complete, easy-to-understand illustrated directions, with diagrams to aid you; also what crochet hook and what material and how much you will need.

Reading And Writing

By John Selby

Publishers are not always sober-minded, and sometimes their odd books are genuinely funny. The "Almanac For New Yorkers" is.

This paper-backed pamphlet of 128 pages has amused me for days, and promises to continue the feat through the year. It is a by-product of the New York "writers project," now industriously compiling a New York guide book. It is designed for New Yorkers, but is probably even more effective with persons out of town, because it is capable of giving them the genuine flavor of the town, a flavor which most of those condemned to the New York galleries have too much with them every day.

Each week has a double page, usually introduced by some such doggerel as this:

Chloe, tripping as you go
"On the light and short-vamp toe,
"Try to get this through your bean:
"Stop on red; go on green."

The entries under each of the days include events scheduled to occur, and events which have occurred, some serious and some delightfully cock-eyed. This for Sunday, January 17:

"Point to remember: Ocelots should be sprayed with a reliable moulting detergent before being hibernated. . . . Hockey at Madison Square Garden. . . . A meeting of citizens was held this day in 1770 on the Commons to protest outrages on the part of British soldiery, and was attended by 3,000 people. . . . In 1873 three large craft in the Hudson rammed one another simultaneously at high speed, knocked down a pier, halted river traffic, and yet suffered not a single hull-scratch among them.

This youthful little book does not exhaust the oddities. Diana Hawthorne has made a guidebook for fortune tellers which qualifies easily. It will tell you how to read a teacup, the rudiments of astrology, the points of numerology, the message of the cards. And should you have self-improvement in mind, William Henry Phylle's "18,000 Words Often Mispronounced" has been issued in a new edition by Fred A. Sweet and Maud D. Williams, all for you. There are a few omissions, and a good many additions, so that the title now is "20,000 Words Often Mispronounced."

"Almanac For New Yorkers," by the Federal Writers' Project (Simon & Schuster); "The Complete Fortune Teller," by Diana Hawthorne (Hillman-Curl); "20,000 Words Often Mispronounced," by William Henry Phylle (Putnam).

STANTON, Jan. 21.—With object of expressing views on the agricultural program and asked to plan a program for the coming year, a group of 25 farmers, or approximately 4 per cent of those in Martin county, attended meetings recently.

From data gathered in this it was discovered that practically all are increasing their cultivated lands and plan to do so for number of years. County Agent Geo. Bond said. This inference farmers believe, is due more to use of the tractor than any other cause.

Some kind of program is needed to save the soil, they feel, those attending the meetings strong in voicing the opinion whatever program is formulated should be compulsory for all farmers.

Following the meetings of farmers, cotton committee members assembled and reviewed the virtual papers presented.

Recommendations were made to the committee to the state for a program in 1938 and on following largely those given individual farm plans. A suggestion was made that such crops as sudan, summer legumes, and crops are favored as soil conserving crops. A higher rate of interest on terracing and contour building practices in this county expressed satisfaction.

The present method of handling county program, that is, through the extension service of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station.

Recommendation was made the committee that there should be some sort of compulsory program.

Statement

make a bet there won't be any thing before 4 o'clock." In addition to Stark, H. H. Weinert, a member of the board, also left the conference room for a few minutes but returned without commenting.

AUSTIN, Jan. 21 (AP)—A protracted secret consultation between Dana M. Bible, Nebraska football coach, and University of Texas officials, led many to believe today the veteran mentor would be the Longhorn coach next year.

On the other hand, there were those who believed the drawn-out conference which started yesterday had struck a snag which might result in declaring all negotiations off.

H. H. Weinert of Seguin, chairman of the board of regents' athletic committee, promised a statement today.

Should the university fail to employ Bible, J. C. Dooley, chairman of the athletic council, said that body would renew its search for a suitable candidate to recommend to the board.

A suggested bone of contention was President H. Y. Benedict's known objection to a coach's salary higher than his own of $8,000 or the highest-paid professor's of $5,000 a year. Bible was reported to have asked $15,000 with an ample amount for assistants plus a contract of from five to 10 years. The board recently approved paying a high salary to a coach.

Bible's teams have won 147 games, tied 16 and lost 42. At Texas A. & M. college, where he coached from 1917 to 1925, inclusively, his eleven won five Southwest conference championships. His Nebraska teams won six out of eight Big Six conference titles.

The University of Nebraska was reported to be making no effort to retain him by topping Texas' offer. Bible had said he was well satisfied with his position as director of the Cornhuskers' athletic activities.

One development was a conference between Bible and Ted Twomey, first assistant to Jack Chevigny, retired, which gave rise to speculation as to whether Twomey might be retained as line coach. Twomey's contract expired Dec. 31. He was, until last week, an applicant for the head coaching job, but withdrew.

A rumor was that Blair Cherry, coach of the Amarillo state high school champions, would be employed as freshman coach. Cherry also applied for the coaching position and was thought by some to be an alternate to Bible in the council's recommendations to the board.

BEAUPRE GIVEN SOUND DRUBBING

NEW YORK, Jan. 21 (AP)—The fight experts were agreed today that Gunnar Barlund is ready for the big time.

The Finn, who hasn't lost a fight since coming to the United States several months ago, completed his apprenticeship in the "promising youngster" class of heavyweight hopefuls by soundly whipping Tom Beaupre, the Texas knockout specialist, over the 10 round route at the Hippodrome last night.

Despite the K. O. reputation Beaupre brought from Texas, Barlund had a surprisingly easy time. The Texan landed only one real hard blow, a jarring right which shook Barlund momentarily in the seventh.

Barlund, scaling 196 to his opponent's 193, was the aggressor throughout. In the fourth and ninth rounds he had Beaupre groggy and smeared with blood, and from the first on, the Texan's nose was dripping red.

Three of the ranking heavyweights, Champion Jim Braddock, Joe Louis and Bob Pastor, who meets Louis on the 29th, were in the crowd of 4,500.

DETROIT, Jan. 21 (AP)—Jack Medica, Ralph Flanagan and Peter Fick captured the largest number of places on the 1936 all-American aquatic team of the Amateur Athletic Union, announced today by George W. Graves, Michigan A. A. U. president and chairman of the special committee which directed the selection of the honor team.

Medica, of the Washington A. C. at Seattle, was named by the 23 swimming coaches and officials participating for five places on the team and received the highest number of votes. He was picked for the 220, 440, 500 and 1,500, and on the 880-yard relay team.

APPLING DUE SALARY BOOST

CHICAGO, Jan. 21 (AP)—Luke Appling, the major league batting champion in 1936, has a salary increase coming. Owner J. Louis Comiskey of the Chicago White Sox, agrees, but they are having a little game getting together on the size of the boost.

Appling, who played shortstop and topped both major leagues in hitting with a .388 average, has asked $20,000 for 1937. He received about $12,000 last year. Comiskey thinks a contract calling for about $15,000 and a bonus clause which might raise the figure to $17,500, is about right.

MILWAUKEE, Jan. 21 (AP)—Coach Bill Chandler of the Marquette basketball team has another "melting pot" cage team this winter. The forwards, Paul Sokody and Glenn Adams, are Hungarian and British; the center, George Hesik, is Bohemian; the guards, Erwin Graf and Dave Quabius, are German and Norwegian.

found their goal-shooting range last night as they turned back the Daniel Baker Hill Billies 27 to 22. "Red" Rutledge, Ram guard, sparked the Wesleyan attack with brilliant floor work. Piggy of T. W. C. was high scorer with 11 points.

Can You Afford To Experiment?

With general business peeking out from around the corners in an optimistic attitude, why take a chance with fly-by-night schemes of selling merchandise when a medium of proven merit is at your command?

The Big Spring Herald, we are glad to say, enters the homes that furnish the bulk of the buying power in the Big Spring Trade Area. No medium of any other kind carries with it the prestige, the influence, and the confidence which your message must convey as does your message in the columns of the Daily Herald. Its appearance regularly, carrying a message to your prospective buyers will be read by many. Time-tried and tested in the acid bath of results, there is no other medium by which one can present messages as cheaply, as effectively, and with as much certainty of results as when presented in the Big Spring Daily Herald.

Don't waste precious time and spend money experimenting when this service is at your command.

"RESULTS FOR LESS"

SCIENTISTS PHOTOGRAPH THE DEATH RAY —BUT THEY'RE STILL WAY BEHIND FICTION

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
(Associated Press Science Editor)
NEW YORK, Jan. 21.—The "big rays" of science, basis for fiction's "death" and "gravitation" defying rays, are beginning to become visible for the first time in photography.

Fiction is far ahead of fact. The longest visible ray of science is 25 centimeters, just under one foot. It is also the newest.

This ray was photographed at the radiation laboratory of the University of California, directed by Dr. Ernest O. Lawrence. It is a brilliant lavender beam. Its shape, in the air, is almost a perfect baseball bat.

Comes Out of Box
It is made of deuterons. These are particles whose existence was unknown until four years ago. They are the secret of heavy water. They are the nucleus or nuclei, of heavy hydrogen, the hydrogen of double normal weight, which when combined with oxygen makes heavy water.

This lavender ray emerges from a platinum window, in a metal box, lying between the poles of an 80-ton magnet. The ray is driven out of the window by energy equal to five and a half million volts of electricity. The great magnet and box are a "cyclotron," where the particles are whirled around until they emerge as a visible ray.

This ray will disintegrate atoms. But it will not disintegrate with any visible speed a particle of matter big enough to see. It is dangerous to man, could even cause death, but not at a touch. Its effect would appear like a burn.

Rays with far greater energy have been photographed lately at the California Institute of Technology. But they are atomic in size. They cannot yet even be seen in the air, although they exist there.

These rays are single tracks, in a cloud chamber, cosmic ray meter, developed under direction of Dr. Robert A. Millikan. The tracks are atomic particles. Cosmic rays set them off by hitting, and exploding single atoms.

In these still atomic-size rays lie the huge energies depicted by fiction, provided there is anywhere a reservoir for such rays. The part of the atom from which the particles come is held together by a force about one million times as strong as gravitation. The force has been measured, but its nature is a mystery, except that it seems to be electrical.

The rays in Dr. Millikan's metal boxes bounce and swirl like July Fourth fireworks. They are like baseballs bounced off invisible barns. By studying the tracks of millions of baseballs, anyone would form some idea of the size, shape and structural material of the barn. Instead of baseballs to study, Dr. Millikan's staff sees the bounding of several different kinds of particles off or out of the invisible "barn" nucleus of an atom.

Claims Breakup Of Burglary Ring

FORT WORTH, Jan. 21 (AP)—A. E. Kerr, special agent for the Frio line, claimed today exposure of a box car burglary gang which had operated in Texas, Kansas, Missouri and Illinois since last July. Kerr said six men and a woman, arrested at Houston January 1, were held at Conroe, Liberty and Richmond in connection with the theft of 68 cases of cigarettes in the four states. He said burglaries occurred at Conroe, Liberty, Gladewater, Longview and Richmond in Texas, Pittsburgh, Kan., Sedalia and Joplin, Mo., and in Illinois. The agent quoted the 34-year-old reputed leader of the gang, who was held at Liberty, as relating a

Speculate On FDR's Plans

Lawmakers Wonder What He Will Ask In Social Legislation

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21 (AP)—President Roosevelt's inaugural address left congress wondering today how much social legislation will be attempted this session and where it will lead in the differences between the administration and the supreme court.

Leaders of both major parties hailed his speech as a noteworthy statement of ideals. All sides construed his stand as a notice of "no compromise" and aggressive action.

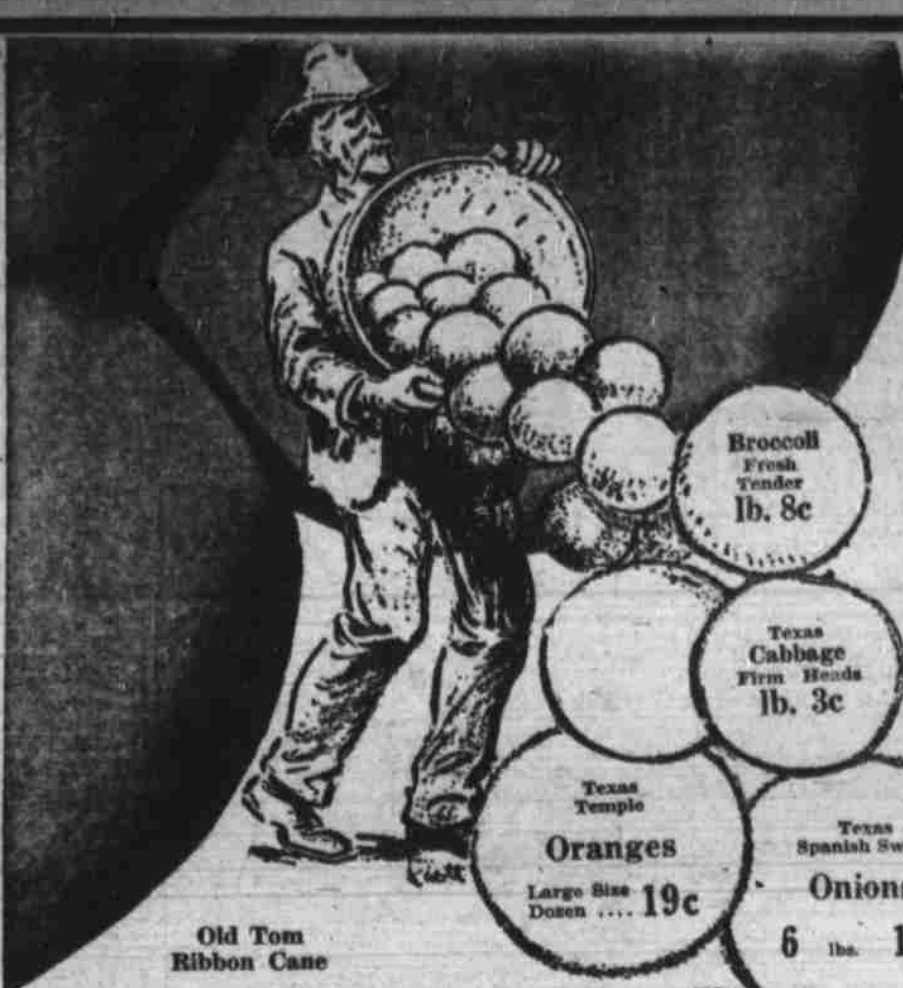

Key democrats expected to be called to the White House soon for conferences on such specific problems as wage and hour standards, crop control, alum clearance, farm tenancy and possibly a broad program for other economic readjustments.

Intentions were to go ahead as in the first administration, in the face of supreme court rulings if need be. The justice department and several non-governmental sources in touch with the White House were rushing studies of business regulation.

Concrete suggestions on social security and other national problems may develop in a "little congress" of governors and other officials from all states which opened today.

Fitting in federal legislation on social security and wages and hours with state programs is one of the aims of the administration. Whether an issue over interpretation of the constitution would reach a head before new business and farm legislation is enacted was among the many questions discussed in capitol offices.

PERMANENT SOCIAL POLICIES

Couched though in general terms as it was, President

Roosevelt's inaugural address of Wednesday nonetheless points in a measure the direction to be charted by his second administration. The address, coupled with his first message to congress, indicates strongly that the next four years will be a period devoted more than ever to the policies and procedures that we have come to call "social security."

The chief executive made that plain Wednesday as he hammered home the need for removal of those "cancers of injustice" that cause want in the midst of plenty. New materials of social justice must be used, he said, "to erect on the old foundations a more enduring structure for the use of future generations."

The president made it clear that the lifting of the general economic and social level of all the people will be one of his administration's chief concerns.

This is a general aim, one with which few could possibly find fault. Specifically, it has been indicated that the president will lend his influence to such things as:

Legislation to supplement state laws fixing maximum hours and minimum wages and ratification of the child labor amendment to the constitution; cooperation by the courts in attaining economic objectives by giving more liberal interpretations to constitutional phraseology; continuance of cash benefits to farmers cooperating in production control through soil conservation, with new provisions for crop insurance and aid to farm tenants; the creation of two new cabinet posts—social welfare and public works—in the reorganization of government machinery.

All of these programs are of great significance. They mean that movements will be undertaken to better the condition of the working man and to erase injustice to working children; that efforts will be made to put the agricultural aid program on a permanent, workable and productive basis and to relieve the plight of the farm tenant; that more attention will be paid to the question of long-time relief and welfare, with permanent administrative methods

a probable outcome.

The first Roosevelt administration was historic in the movements it produced in a time of emergency. Who can say that the second Roosevelt administration will not be as historic in formulating permanent governmental policies calculated to bring a new and happier standard of living to all classes of people?

Man About Manhattan

By George Tucker

NEW YORK — There is one traffic-wise pretty on Broadway, a blond comedienne who refuses to be held up by endless avalanches of backs and limousines. When the lights go red, and she is in haste, she assumes a quick, painful limp and gazes mutely at the big, good-natured traffic cop.

It breaks your heart to see that gal hobble, and it breaks the policeman's heart, too. Anytime she tries it the odds are five to one that traffic will be halted with one prodigious blast of that whistle he totes, and that personally he will escort this gamely-hobbling, grateful little miss across the avenue.

His reward, once the street has been crossed, is a great big thank-you smile, which sends him back to his duties like an over-grown boy scout who has done his good deed for the day.

As for the actress—once around the corner—she resumes her normal brisk gait, which is that of a tennis champion and a born athlete. Incidentally, she could handicap that cop from here to there and beat him at 100 yards.

One of the things about being a rambling reporter in this town is that you never know what is going on. I took in the tennis matches at the Garden the other day, but had to leave before they were over, and it was not until next morning that I dived into the morning papers for results.

And such results: "Vines and Barnes won in two sets," said the Herald-Tribune. However, the New York Times insisted that Perry and Bell had defeated Vines and Barnes, 6-4, 6-4.

Oh, well, you can always get it in Spalding's Tennis annual.

White crews aren't often permitted to land at Amoy, China, an "outport" which is considered very unhealthy after dark. . . . Sometimes, when you go ashore there, you don't come back.

Goeta Ljunberg, the Swedish soprano, made her debut at the Palace in Stockholm when she was just eight. . . . She remembers that the most important person there was the late Queen Victoria.

Like most theatrical folk, Betzi Beaton likes to collect things, and her taste runs to "No Parking" signs. . . . Don Ross saves radio time sheets, and Patricia Bowman likes to retain her old ballet slippers. . . . Angna Enters, the dancing mime, has a choice collection of old Spanish coins.

Speaking of being kicked upstairs—Theresa Helburn recalls the young actor the Theatre Guild dismissed, after he had appeared in several of their plays, in favor of a young man who made earnest and frequent application at the Guild casting office.

Governor Earle seen as Roosevelt's successor.

Wallace and Senator Clark also are mentioned.

Third term for Roosevelt considered possible.

Vandenberg looms as republican party leader.

Next?

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—The picture of President Roosevelt standing there with hand upraised naturally prompted some inside speculation among the assembled democratic clannism from far and near about who would be occupying that same spot four years hence.

The democratic politicians' best bet guess seemed to be Governor George Earle of Pennsylvania. Several other names were mentioned, but none as frequently as his. The "less advanced" were that he comes from a big pivotal eastern state, that he could be counted on to carry on the liberal Roosevelt tradition, that he is in the favor of National Chairman Farley.

Two others mentioned were Agriculture Secretary Wallace and Senator Bennett Clark of Missouri. The politicians do not care particularly for Wallace, but some feared he might be Mr. Roosevelt's choice. Clark has some active backing already started in the midwest, but his standing with "the organization" is short of altitudinous. No one made any bets against the possibility of a third term draft of Mr. Roosevelt.

Lone Star

Not many republicans came to the inauguration, except the congressional republicans who could not avoid it. No gathering of the republicans was needed, however, to disclose the fact that Senator Vandenberg is the only choice the leaders can visualize from this distance. There is some talk of Alf Landon coming to the senate from Kansas next year to take hold, but it is rather indefinite.

Very quietly and naturally, Vandenberg is being pushed forward as the policy leader of the party in congress. While the dominant leaders in and out of congress are being more or less passive, it is Vandenberg who is beginning to determine the party's position by his stand on the issues of the day.

His republican colleagues seem to feel the party should start armen this time to build up a man or men.

Dashes

When picking seamen got their first appointment with Commerce Assistant Secretary Monroe Johnson, they walked in and opened the conversation with a little sea-going language. They thumbed and thatted the dashed-dashed Copeland law, and a few other odds and ends.

Secretary Johnson is a colonel who took a post-graduate course in picturesque English in the trenches. He jumped up and shouted, "Gentlemen, no one wears if this officer except me. If you continue to do so, you will get thrown out dash dash (how) and dash dash-dash (where)."

Even the sailors shuddered. The conference thereafter was as formal as a session of the U. S. supreme court.

Economy

Speaker Rahnhead did not appear the expected yes-committee to handle the president's government reorganization program. He chose a couple of economy fighters as hard-boiled as top sergeants to head it. Buchanan of Texas as chairman and Cochrane of Missouri as No. 2 man. They are for Roosevelt and for efficiency, but primarily they want more economy than the president requested.

The choice seems to have been Rahnhead's own private idea. He is personally a strong economy man, except on farm tenancy, and a few other Alabama things. The selections mean more trouble for the president's plan.

Stuck

You may depend on Agriculture Secretary Wallace to tear down the capitol, stone by stone, unless the sugar processing tax is repealed by congress. Those were words he spoke the other day in favor of re-imposition of the tax were the result of weeks of inner troubles. What led up to the outburst was the refusal of the processors to allow the farmers a large share in spite of the pressure put on them by AAA (in a purely advisory capacity, of course).

Wallace intimated he would scrap the whole quota idea unless congress authorizes the tax. This is strong talk, as the Cuban agreement provides an automatic tariff of two cents at the expiration of the quotas. It would mean one of two things: (1) The situation would revert to its 1933 status, with the protected domestic industry in a position to expand and kill the Cuban trade, or else (2) the administration would change the Cuban treaty so the tariff would not go all the way back to two cents. Even the phrase "tariff protection" gives Low Tariff Wallace the creeps, and the second alternative would threaten the domestic industry with extinction.

In other words, Mr. Wallace is up to his ears in the sugar, and it is not dry sugar either. He must get the processing tax authority to save himself, and he probably will.

Wings For Sally

by BAILEY WOLFE

THE MOTORCYCLE CLUE

In the early afternoon, Philip Page rang the bell for Sally. He scarcely looked at her when she came in and began to dictate as soon as she found the place in her table. Sally watched him out of the corner of her eye while her fingers flew nimbly over the page, taking down his words. He looked tired and she knew his mind was entirely on the letter he was giving her. When she had finished, she rose to go. Still he said nothing.

"In case you should want to get in touch with me after office hours—want me to work, I mean—I shall be at home from now on."

Sally phoned Philip about the motorcycle clue. He did not scoff nor seem excited.

"I'm leaving today—leaving Mary's house," Sally said.

"I'm sorry for that," frowned Philip. "Anything happened?"

"No, I—I simply feel that I'd better be at home."

"From your point of view you're probably right," said Philip. "For Mary it's pretty bad. She told me how much it has meant to her to have you stay. And I suppose you've got something out of it, too."

Sally went out, hoping that he would call her back and tell her what progress he was making in the McDonald case. She could have wept at the change in Philip. It was as if he had decided to shut her out—shut her out of his work.

Mary's house and packed her things. She stood and looked about the big room when she had finished. It had never really been hers. Now that she had taken away her things, it looked anything but dismantled. Sally went downstairs where Denison was waiting by the car. Neither Mary nor her father was at home.

"Goodbye, Denison," Sally said. "Tell Miss Morris I couldn't wait to see her before I left."

"Goodbye, Miss Warren," said Denison. "You'll be missed here, I'm sure."

"Thank you, Denison," Sally said. "I found that she had few explanations to make for leaving the McDonald house. Her own family thought it natural enough that she should come home, since her father was engaged in defending the man whom Mr. Morris was prosecuting."

"The case against McDonald looks serious," said her father, over his after-dinner pipe. "There is reliable testimony that a fire was laid, ready to be touched off in the basement of the theater the day McDonald went there first. An employee found the oil-soaked stuff the first time, and carried it out."

"But why should a man who had a grudge against Mr. Morris want to sacrifice the innocent people who were simply going to the theater?" demanded Sally.

"Sometimes in anger people go to great lengths," said her father. "The rage they feel against one person may grow into hatred of everyone more fortunate than themselves."

"That doesn't sound like McDonald," defended Sally stoutly. "What about the man who lured McDonald to the theater?"

"Sounds like a cock-and-bull story," said Mr. Warren. "There seems to be no such man as McDonald describes."

"But if there were," Sally insisted. "If he could be found..."

"If he could be found, McDonald probably would be acquitted," said Mr. Warren. "But the man didn't work at the filling station where McDonald says he was employed. About the only clue we had to work on, Philip and I, was the fact that this man came to McDonald's house on a motorcycle. Apparently it wasn't his own machine, for we've checked on every one in town."

Philip fails to report Sally's find back to the night before, and the lonely road to Hillcrest. Giles Benton was at Hillcrest. If his accomplice was the man with the motorcycle, then Bob Davies and Sally had passed him on the road. There was a chance in a thousand that the cyclist in distress was the missing man in the McDonald case. But no chance was too slight to investigate.

Without telling her father what she was about, Sally went to the telephone and called Philip. He did not scoff at her story, nor did he seem excited by it.

"I'll be over to Hillcrest and see what I can find out tonight," he said briefly. "I'll let you know if anything comes of the trip."

Sally sat by the telephone for a few minutes after Philip had hung up. He had been so curt, so brief. He had not suggested that Sally go with him to Hillcrest to help identify the man.

For a long time Sally sat on the side porch, waiting to hear any news that Philip might have when he came back from Hillcrest. Some of her brother Ray's friends came in and she played bridge with them until almost midnight.

When they had gone, she sauntered down the garden path and looked over toward the Page house. It was dark—no, there was a single light burning in an upstairs room. She could see the gleam through the thick branches of the old minner tree that grew on that side of the house. Philip had returned from Hillcrest, but he had not remembered to telephone her the news. Sally went in to bed feeling lonely and desolate.

The next morning Philip was absent from the office until noon, but worked furiously all afternoon. He was still there when Sally left the office, but he had said nothing about the McDonald case. It was from her father that Sally learned the result of the Hillcrest trip.

Philip had been able to discover that a man on a motorcycle had visited Giles Benton and talked to him. But what had become of the cyclist was a different matter. No one knew where he had come from or where he had gone.

The days passed and the morning of McDonald's trial came. May McDonald, making a slow recovery from the operation she had undergone, lay in the hot little house in Milltown, while her husband fought to prove his innocence of the charge of arson.

YOUNG CORBETT BACK TO WARS AT 160-POUNDER

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 20 (UP)—Raffell Giordano—Young Corbett III to boxing fans—is hitting the comeback trail, hoping to capture the middleweight title.

Young Corbett held the welterweight title in one of the shortest reigns in the history of boxing. Now, after trying his hand at managing, seconding, promoting and training, Corbett, at the age of 31, is back in the ring—because it offers the best possibility of all for making money.

He has his first test in this comeback campaign here on Feb. 22 against an opponent as yet unnamed.

Works Out Daily
"I've tried everything else," Corbett said today after a brisk workout at a local gymnasium. "And I didn't seem to make much of a go. Perhaps I can do better with fighting? So why not fight? I tried insurance, managing fighters and promoting fights."

How about his age? Didn't Corbett think he was a bit too old to resume another ring career? "No," he replied. "I'm just a kid."

The action was taken following a conference for the past ten days between representatives of the management and employees.

MISSOURI FUGITIVE TAKEN IN OKLAHOMA

MUSKOGEE, Okla., Jan. 20 (AP)—Officers from Missouri were expected here today to take custody of Claude McGee, 25, condemned slayer, whose unsettling arrest here in a routine police raid climaxed a sensational manhunt for the last two months.

McGee, sentenced to hang for murder of W. T. Carlton of Grays Point, Mo., May 8, 1935, in a hold-up attempt, had been sought since his escape with four companions two months ago from the county jail at Benton, Mo. He often was reported sighted in Missouri and Illinois.

Police Chief Ed Corbin said McGee and a companion, who gave the name of Tom Rial, 32, and said he was with McGee in the Benton escape, were surprised by two officers who entered a room the two had engaged at a rooming house. They offered no resistance.

Floods
Midnight. Burning through a levee, White River waters took over the village of Hazelton, Ind. Its 500 residents stood on hills and surveyed the wreckage.
Flood water swept over the Kentucky lowlands, in some places reaching the 1933 mark, driving hundreds from their homes and demolishing a Louisville and Nashville train at Slaughter. The national guard was mustered in Frankfort to assist evacuation of areas flooded by the Kentucky river.
The Red Cross reported 2,000 refugees in the flood area of Kennett, Mo. Rescuers searched for many families believed marooned by the St. Francis river flood waters. Seventy-five families were rescued by motorboat crews yesterday. High waters made 250 persons homeless at Dexter, Mo., and 200 at Corns, Ark.
The Cumberland, far above flood stage, threatened waterfront buildings at Nashville, Tenn., and routed many households. Backwater from the Mississippi inundated western Tennessee lowlands. Illinois and North Carolina were other states plagued with flood waters.
Authorities moved to prevent looting of abandoned property in flood areas.

Favor Vote On Charity Tax
City Representatives Advocate Constitutional Amendment

City Manager E. V. Spence, back from a meeting of Texas municipal representatives and delegates to the county judges and commissioners association meeting in Austin, said that city envoys had approved the O'Neal resolution to the senate calling for an election for a constitutional amendment to bolster charity funds.

The resolution would call for a vote on a proposal to levy a tax for charity not to exceed 10 cents on the $100. This tax would be in effect for one year unless revoked.

Mayor C. K. Quinn of San Antonio explained the action to the judges and commissioners who debated it at length before referring it to a committee of five which will meet with a similar committee of city representatives. Spence was included by Quinn on the municipal committee. The proposal growing out of the parley will be submitted to the commissioners and judges in February at Dallas.

While in Austin Spence conferred with the state board of water engineers. While they admitted the water supply question for Big Spring was far from settled, they offered encouragement for further research in an effort to locate more "sinks." The method of approach may be in tracing the elevation of the triassic and by use of delicate electrical instruments.

Rheba In Squabble With Aimee's Lawyer

LOS ANGELES, Calif., Jan. 21 (AP)—Willelmo Andrews, attorney for Aimee Simple McPherson, said today he would ask a court order to make Rheba Crawford complete her deposition.

The former "Angel of Broadway" stormed out of his office yesterday while Andrews was taking a deposition in her $1,000,000 slander suit against the Angelus Temple evangelist.

As she went, she slapped Harry F. Comber, former Clemente police chief and now employed by Andrews as an investigator and bodyguard.

"I spoke to her real nice," reported Comber, "and she socked me."

"I don't know why I did it," Miss Crawford said later, "unless it was because of all those untrue things they were hinting at. It's the first time I ever lost my temper."

The break came as Andrews was questioning her about city politics and asked, "Didn't you say, 'the underworld and gamblers would be glad to pay'?"

Miss Crawford jumped to her feet. "I'm not going to stay here and be insulted. Besides, didn't you tell me you had all the Catholic judges in Los Angeles under your control?"

"I never said anything like that," retorted Andrews. "You're telling a lie."

BABE IS BORN AFTER DEATH OF MOTHER

FORT WORTH, Jan. 21 (AP)—Three minutes after the mother's death a girl weighing four pounds and thirteen ounces was born in City-County hospital at 10:48 a. m. today.

The mother, Mrs. Mary Ellen, 38, became ill at 4 a. m. and her husband, Sellers Hines, attended her throughout the morning. She later became unconscious and he called an ambulance. She died shortly afterward in the hospital of a brain hemorrhage.

Physicians performed a Caesarian section operation to deliver the child.

The couple, with their 14-month-old boy, had been living in a tourist camp for a month.

Hines said he and his wife were transients.

WOULD REQUIRE OATH FROM LEGISLATORS ON SOURCES OF INCOME

AUSTIN, Jan. 21 (AP)—The house of representatives overwhelmingly adopted a resolution today calling on its members to declare under oath what, if any, remuneration they receive from corporations.

The resolution stated it was "widely rumored throughout the state that some legislators are receiving retainers and salaries from certain special interests."

The resolution was by J. Bryan Bradbury of Abilene. A bill to require registration of lobbyists was introduced by 30 representatives headed by A. E. Amos of Fort Worth.

War Ministry In Lisbon Is Bombed

LISBON, Portugal, Jan. 21 (AP)—The ministry of war was bombed today in a renewal of terrorism which started last night, causing heavy damage to government buildings in the Portuguese capital.

Police began an immediate roundup of communist agitators who they declared, were responsible for the explosions.

Guards were thrown around the German and Italian legations while other lines of police guarded government offices and public utilities.

After three bombings yesterday, the terrorism was started again shortly after midnight. One bomb exploded near tanks of an oil refinery inside the city.

Another slightly damaged the tower of the National broadcasting station at Barcarena, on the outskirts. A third was reported near Moscaide, 15 miles from Lisbon near ammunition depots.

AUSTIN, Jan. 21 (AP)—Governor Allred plans to deliver his second message to the legislature early next week.

NEED FORESEEN FOR Higher Oil Output

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21 (AP)—The bureau of mines forecast today a daily average production of 3,968,600 barrels of crude oil would be required to meet demand during February.

This is 70,200 barrels higher than the January estimate, but about 70,000 barrels below present actual production.

The bureau reported the daily average production was about 12,000,000 barrels during December, with stocks of domestic crude declining at the rate of close to 30,000 barrels daily, indicating a daily demand of about 3,150,000 barrels.

The bureau estimated the current rate of production at 3,140,000 barrels daily.

LAWMAKERS AWAIT COMMITTEE CHOICES

AUSTIN, Jan. 21 (AP)—The legislature adjourned today until Monday to give Robert W. Calvert, house speaker, time to complete committee selections.

The house was powerless to progress on legislation until its committees had been chosen. The only one named so far was that on privileges, suffrage and election, Calvert gave it preference so it might start consideration of a contest on the Cleburne district seat.

The senate heard brief but sharp argument on the highly controversial proposal to ratify the federal child labor amendment. It adopted a motion by T. J. Holbrook of Galveston to re-refer the resolution from the labor committee to the committee on constitutional amendments.

"I have had no communication from Gov. Marland," Allred said, "but I will be very happy to meet with him any time. Since he has suggested the meeting I think further suggestions on what should be done should come from him."

In his first message to the legislature, Governor Allred recommended increases in levies on natural resources, including oil.

BISHOP GALLAGHER'S DEATH IS MOURNED

DETROIT, Jan. 21 (AP)—Lately and clergy—Father Charles E. Coughlin prominent among them—mourned today the death of the most Rev. Michael J. Gallagher, bishop of the Catholic diocese of Detroit.

Lost to Father Coughlin, himself more familiar to the public than his church superior, was a counselor and outspoken defender of his right to free speech.

Bishop Gallagher, 70, diocesan head since 1918, died suddenly last night from complications following a streptococcus infection, and Father Coughlin, at his Royal Oak, Mich., home, said:

"I have lost the best friend outside of my family."

The nation knew Bishop Gallagher best for his defense of Father Coughlin during the heat of the recent political campaign while the priest berated the Roosevelt administration.

Farley said the bandits forced him to work on his automobile after it stopped several times en route here.

The Austin man said he was on his way to work when the men stopped him and asked for directions to San Antonio. Farley said he told the men they were on the wrong street.

"No, we're not," one of the bandits said as he pulled a gun on him.

"You're going to take us there," Officers found Farley at a filling station on the Austin road after he telephoned them. He furnished a description of the robbers and the missing automobile.
