Friends Pay Final Tribute To Memory Of Walter Allen Gillespie Saturday, October 7

F. Groves Buried At Lieb Sunday, Oct. 8

Funeral services for R. F. Groves, one of Panhandle's oldest citizens—he was 87 years old in 1944, and came to this county in 1879 as a trail boss of the Texas Cattle Co.—were held at the high school auditorium, Stinnett, Texas, Saturday afternoon at 2:30 p.m. The deceased was a cousin of Woody Jarvis, and was well known and loved by all the pioneer families of Hansford County. The people of this area attended to pay their respects and last tribute to the memory of this pioneer.

Funeral services for F. Groves, as he was known locally, died at 3 o'clock Friday morning in St. Anthony's hospital in Amarillo.

He is survived by six sons, Richard, Tom and Paul; Ernest of Stinnett; Ernest of Okla., and Fred of Lubbock; three daughters, Mrs. Jim Dumas; Mrs. Edgar Stinnett; and Mrs. Orin Thompson Stinnett. A brother, Tom, lives at Burkburnett, and another, Gus Groves, and a sister, Mrs. Maudie Jones, at Denison.

First Of Week Market Given On Grains

Sam W. Martin of Dallas writes this editor in effect: "Dear Bill: You run a dandy paper, and give some good information that we can find with less trouble than in the Dallas News. There is one feature you can add to your paper that will be a great help to you and out of town subscribers. Please quote the price on No. 1 wheat, barley, maize and oats."

For information of Mr. Martin and other out of town subscribers, we state that due to war emergency this paper is printed on Tuesday and mailed out Thursday morning of each week. This makes the market report very unreliable. However, we will try to print the market as it is the first of each week. This week the market at first of the week is as follows:

No. 1 wheat, per bu.	$1.40
No. 1 milo maize, per cwt.	1.40

Hansford County Hero Makes Supreme Sacrifice In Invasion Battle June 17

A telegram received late Monday, Oct. 9, 1944, informed Mr. and Mrs. Burl Brockus that the war department had definite information of the death of Lieutenant Philip D. Brockus in action over France June 17, 1944.

Early in July this county was shocked and grieved when the news came that Lieut. Brockus was missing in action over St. Lo, France. His parents and hundreds of friends in this area lived in hopes that this Hansford hero had managed to bail out of his P-47 fighter plane, and was perhaps a prisoner of war, or was in the hands of French underground. The telegram from the Secretary of War, blasted this final hope that our Philip D. Brockus would come home to Spearman.

Col. Jarvis To Return To Home As Civilian

Col. Billy Jarvis, who has served near two years overseas, and has been an officer in the service of the nation for the past six years, will be released to inactive duty, and return to Hansford county as a citizen-stockman-farmer. The effective date will be on or about the 15th of October.

Col. Jarvis stated that the War Department was releasing men past 38 years of age whose occupation contributed to the war effort. Since our Col. Billy is a large rancher and wheat farmer—large from the standpoint of holdings—he is to be released. It is evidently the opinion of the War Department that Col. Jarvis can contribute more to the war by his civilian occupation than in performing his duties as a colonel in the army.

We welcome this citizen back home.

Corp. K. Lomax Wounded In Pacific Fight

Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Lomax received a letter from their son, Corp. Kenneth Lomax, early Tuesday, Oct. 10, announcing that he had had his right leg shot from under him in battle on September 26, 1944. Corp. Lomax wrote the letter on September 27th, one day after the battle wound, and he stated that his leg bones above the ankle and below the knee were badly shattered, and he did not know at that time whether he would lose the limb or not.

Corp. Lomax was stationed at Admiralty Island with the Cavalry and was classified as a "Commando." He has been in the hardest kind of fighting for most of the 19 months he has been serving overseas. The wound received Sept. 26th was the second. He was wounded in the head earlier this year when the Tarava landing was made. At that time Corp. Lomax was swimming towards the beach after his boat had been shot out from under him. He has the habit of shaking his head as he swims, and a machine bullet clipped his forehead above the right eye, cutting a deep furrow. He was knocked out, and a buddy helped him ashore. The wound was patched up and Lomax went back into battle formations within three days.

Barkley Hopes Campaign Will Close In Week

People Asked To Fill In Souvenir
 Checks Promptly

Further preparations were made this week for the campaign of the Hansford County War Fund to be conducted from Oct. 13 to Nov. 5th, Judge A. F. Barkley county chairman said.

A meeting of several interested workers was held and it was decided to wage the campaign similar to the successful one held last year for the War Fund.

A letter has been sent to each Hansford county resident and resident property owner explaining about the National War Fund and its campaign for $125,000. The money will be used on the fronts—Military, Home and United Nations.

The Texas campaign will be almost $5,000,000 and Hansford county has been assigned a quota of $3,000.

A self-addressed envelope Bruce Sheets, treasurer, will be included in the mailing, together with a souvenir check which will be filled out for whatever amount the donor may care to give.

It was decided to waive the kind of a campaign to time of individual solicitation also tires and gas.

Barkley believes that a large number of Hansford county workers will respond liberally and put over the campaign in one week.

Governor Stevenson's phrase, "Sure, I'll take a Texas share," last year, and that is slogan that is being used. Barkley believes that Hansford county will take a Texas share and over the campaign.

Also, Hansford county workers as many citizens as possible take one or more per cent share. One per cent is $30.00. There are some persons that take as much as 5 per cent understood.

Judge Ben H. Powell of Austin, state president, said that salaried people should plan to give two days of their pay to the war fund.

The United War Chest of Texas has been formed to conduct the campaign for the National War Fund of Texas. No organizations are included except those that have been approved by President Roosevelt's committee. The USO will get the bulk of the money that will be raised nationally.

Individuals may deduct up to 15 per cent of their net income for charity and the national war funds is a deductible item. Corporations may deduct up to 5 per cent.

People are urged to fill out the checks and mail them promptly, Judge Barkley said Tuesday.

Lions Hear Book Review At Noon Pro.

Miss Dorothy Green, outstanding student in English at the local high school, gave a book review of "The Flying Tigers", at the regular meeting of the Lion club held Tuesday noon. Lion John Bishop was responsible for the program, and was complimented by Boss Lion D. D. Moore and other Lions for an excellent program.

Athletic director George Odell Washington of the navy, former popular high school coach, in this city on a furlow from his station at Jacksonville, Fla., gave an interesting talk. Washington reviewed his experiences in the service.

Seaman's Mate Woodrow Gilmer also of the navy, stationed at Corpus Christi gave an interesting talk reviewing his experiences as a Sea Bee stationed in Virginia, and a Seaman stationed at his present station.

Lion Supt. Bond will have the program next week.

Worley Tells Of G. I. Bill Of Rights

L. T. PHILIP D. BROCKUS

Congress, in cooperation with the War Department, has made provision for an American flag to be presented to the family or any member of the Armed forces who has lost his life in the service of his country. If the boy died in this country and his body was returned to his home for burial it is presumed that the flag which accompanied the body was obtained by the family.

These boys, however, who died overseas were buried near the place where they died. In such cases memorial American flags, measuring five feet by nine feet six inches are available to their families.

All of us know and are proud of the high and noble service rendered made by the boys of the Texas Panhandle. Many of them have made the supreme sacrifice. The families of these brave boys are entitled to receive this memorial flag and I will be glad to help them do so. If those families who have experienced the loss of a loved one will write to me I shall be glad to see that their request is immediately cared for.

In order to establish eligibility for a flag, it is necessary for the family to forward the notice which they received from the War Department. If, however, such notice has been lost or misplaced and if you will provide me with necessary details I shall be glad to contact the War Department for you.

Worley Tells Of G. I. Bill Of Rights

For example, a former Marine, blinded by an accident and honorably discharged from the service a year ago, investigated the G. I. Bill of Rights, especially the part about education, and soon was taking a postgraduate course in prosthetics. He now has his own laboratory. Another veteran who was discharged from the service with a crushed chest and blindness is now an honor student in Law School, with many of his expenses paid by the Government. They both said, "It gives you a different outlook and a comfortable feeling to know that your Government is looking out for you."

I have available additional copies of my remarks concerning the benefits provided servicemen and their dependents and will be glad to mail them to anyone interested upon request.

Worship at Oslo Lutheran church next Sunday, Oct. 21, at 11:30 a.m. Sermon by Rev. W. J. Kallemeyn. "Your Sins Are Forgivable—Blasphemy or Absolution." 9:1-8. The Sunday School begins at 10:30 a.m. The confirmation class will meet at the church at 10:00 a.m. on Saturday, Oct. 20. H. C. Hjortholm, pastor, and Mrs. W. J. Kallemeyn, of Mrs. Reuben TeBeest, Castlewood, S. D., arrived last Thursday for a visit to their daughter and son-in-law and their sons.

Mrs. Emil Knutson and Mrs. Clara Stedje returned to Amarillo last Sunday to see Mrs. Gordon Stedje at St. Anthony Hospital where she underwent an appendectomy last Thursday. She is making a good recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. Matt Cogn called on Gus Olsen, Clarence Johnson, Clara Stedje, and Emil Knutson last Monday. Mr. and Mrs. Hjortholm called on the John O. Dahl home last Saturday afternoon and at the P. A. Dahl home last Saturday evening.

Anna and Betsy Dahl returned to their parents, Mrs. John O. Dahl and Mrs. TeBeest spent Sunday with their sister and brother-in-law and Mrs. Henry Moen. The rain which fell here on Monday night and Wednesday of last week amounted to about 1.50 inches. It came slowly and did not amount to much.

The wheat prospect here is not very bright, but it came a little better in the fall wheat pasture. The farmers who have already finished planting are now hurrying to get it done.

The wish expressed by everyone here these days is that something can be done to improve the condition of our roads. The lack of equipment is holding the work back. The roads are not fit for cars or trucks. This is especially unfortunate now since the roads are carrying much more traffic because of the many gas wells being completed here and also because most cars are old and the tires nearly worn out.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Jensen and Elvira drove to Beaver on Wednesday of last week.

Don't Name It

By 'HONEST' BILL MILLER

I reckon it's very fortunate for me that Boss Dave Warren has two other newspapers and two banks to take care of. The way I "grapevine" a lot of news stories, using imagination and missing a lot of facts, must make Mr. Warren squirm. He is a graduate of Missouri University department of Journalism, which means he has the best training offered in the nation. Furthermore, he has edited and reported for outstanding daily and weekly papers all over the nation. . . . and I know he will feel like I'm lazy not to get all the facts relative to news I'm reporting below in this column.

There is a lot of changes being made in real-estate, and sooner or later I plan to get the exact facts. However, just as a kind of teaser I can report this week that Helen Fisher has already moved into the nice new house that was built with grain bins, salvaged lumber, lots of patience and the untiring efforts of Mr. Omar Green. Helen said that she never could have fixed up her residence if she had not had Mr. Green to complete the finishing touch. The house is located right next to her mother's house, where Mrs. Buchanan can keep an eagle eye on daughter, and see that she does not work too hard. Incidentally, Helen is walking from work clear all the way home, claims she is regaining her girlish figure.

Up on my street the improvement bug has started on the North end. First off Hobs Heard has used his official position to improve the street, up to and including an outlet for his driveway. If he don't keep the good work going on up to my residence I aim to run for Commissioner come next election. In the next block Bert Keith is laying the foundation for a really splendid residence. He has a yard full of grain bins, a lot of shingles and his wife is supervising the work, which means the Keith's will have a very presentable home.

Missing Creek
CAMP RUGGLES, ARIZ., Oct. 10. —(AP)—The stream, not the fish, got away.
The State Game Department sadly reports that a mile and a quarter of the best casting stretch on Horton Creek suddenly seeped through its alluvial bed and disappeared.

BUY WAR BONDS

"See what you're teaching him?"

some of these days will have to be classified as the future. Incidentally, Russell Townsend has bought the former Paul Pittman home, and has already established himself as a regular neighbor up in the Buchanan-Hoskins neighborhood by borrowing lawn mowers and garden hose.

If you have missed Cap Richardson and Earl Riley loafing around on the streets and have noticed Dillard Kalm drinking his regular coffee at ten a.m. each day—I have an explanation. Dillard began broadcasting about the uncertainty of the future, and said in substance that he would get out lock, stock and barrel if he could locate some good new leaders that had enough money. Cap Richardson overheard the remark and asked him to name a figure. It is alleged that Dillard quoted a price of $17,500.00. As a result Cap Richardson, Earl Riley and Joe Reaves retired Dillard from the ranks of honest toil. . . . and incidentally joined that family of workers who are producing what it takes to win a war. The deal involves several sections of wheat land that was already rented and planted by Dillard, a lot of farm machinery and plenty of work for Messrs. Reaves, I'm sorry to say that I do not have the dope on Joe Reaves. I know he used to live at San Bonita, Texas, and that he is a hard working man. My guess is that Cap and Earl will have him working down in the three County area where they expect to market a hundred thousand bushels of wheat comes plenty of moisture and the 1945 wheat harvest.

Tiny Brillhart has bought the Capt. Richardson residence and moved in. I don't have the dope on this deal. Vern Osborn lives or used to live in one side of the Richardson apartment. I don't know, and do not have time to find out this week whether Vern has bought grain bins and built a new home, or whether he has borrowed a tent and is camping on a city park lot. Also I can't find out what became of Cap and Mattie Ruth Richardson, without they have moved into the back end of the laundry, Hope Vern and Cap will give me the dope next week. We can't afford to lose such fine citizens, and my readers will want to know what became of them.

O. C. Holt has moved out on the farm where he belongs, but County Agent Zack Jagers has moved into the Wright garage apartment. Zack is in the market for a twenty or thirty thousand dollar home, and will buy one when he has that much accumulated, he says. In the meantime he really does want a little more room, and would consider renting a modern home in Spearman. Which there is none for rent at this time.

Am not going to tell you why Lynn Boykin and Browning Higgs are coming to Spearman. . . . not until next week, when it will be front page feature in this paper. However, I have learned that Lynn hunted all over Spearman for a likely residence to rent or buy. The prices for the few available were so high that Lynn made deal with his father-in-law, Paul Higgs, former prominent Gruver citizen, and bought the house that Mr. and Mrs. Paul Higgs first lived in when they were married. It is a two or three room house, and Lynn has either already moved to Spearman, or plans to move here and make improvements.

WEAR CREAM 'GOGGLES' TO PREVENT LAUGH LINES BECOMING WRINKLES

ANNA KAREN: Loves laughter.

To prevent charming crinkles—if you laugh with your eyes—from becoming not-so-charming wrinkles, you'd better start coddling the skin area around those twinkling orbs.

Best care, according to a girl who practices what she preaches—laughter loving Anna Karen of radio's "Dangerously Yours" program—is to wear shining goggles of eye cream when you sink into your pillow at night.

"If you'll use compresses of cotton, wrung out in hot water, over your eyes before you put on your 'goggles,'" says Anna, "skin will be more receptive to the cream."

You can give your tired eyes a treat while skin around them is being warmed up for an application of night cream, according to Anna, if you'll dip your cotton pads not in plain water but in a warm boric acid solution. To make it, add a tablespoonful of powdered boric acid to a pint of warm water.

MEDLIN HOME DEMONSTRATION CLUB

The Medlin Home Demonstration Club met Friday, October 6th, in the home of Mrs. Lawrence Dossitt at 2:30 p.m. Meeting was opened by the president. In the absence of the secretary, Miss Barbara Davis acted as secretary.

A short business session was held. The demonstration was on Roses and Rock Gardens. Miss Tompkin made a miniature rock garden and explained to us that too much alkaline in the soil was injurious to roses.

Put sulfur and copress in the soil to make it acid and quickly neutralize it. Plant roses in the fall and where they will not get too much moisture preferably on the north or east of the house. For recreation we want to see Mrs. Dossitt's garden and all enjoyed eating fresh tomatoes. The next meeting will be Friday, October 20th, with Mrs. Jess Edwards. Mrs. Zack Jagers, County Agricultural Agent, will speak to us on post-war planning. Club members please bring their baby pictures to the Recreation Leader and their monthly report to the president. Delicious refreshments of home made orange bread, cake and coffee were served to: Mesdames Frank Davis, John Gill, Jack Gill, Jack Taylor, C. L. Williams, Miss Tompkins, two visitors, Ira Fellers, Barbara Davis, and the hostess.

THANKS

TO THE CUSTOMERS OF HANSFORD COUNTY AND SURROUNDING TRADE TERRITORY

For the splendid patronage you have given me during the time I have been owner of the Strickland Grocery and Market.

I have found it impossible to handle all the details of this splendid business and give the customers the service they are entitled to. I have therefore, sold the market and grocery, and will for the present remain at the store in charge of the meat market.

The business will be in the hands of competent grocermen, and I feel sure you will receive the same efficient service I have tried to give you in the past.

I know that I have never enjoyed a better business, or living with finer people than we have in this territory. It is simply a matter of safe guarding my health and shifting the responsibilities that has caused me to sell this business.

Again I say to the many customers.

THANKS

WHAT PRICE---One Pair of Eyes?

Those bright, sparkling eyes of childhood! Help them keep their sparkle—their clear, perfect vision. One school child in five has lost part of that sparkle because of defective vision. More than half the people over 35 have eyesight troubles. Why not conserve that precious eyesight by following these four common-sense rules?

- 1. Do all reading, studying, sewing or game-playing close to a good light source, preferably a modern reading lamp. 2. Avoid glare from bare bulbs. Don't sit facing the light. Glare strains eyes. 3. Avoid shadows. Make sure you have good light directly on your work or book. Shadowy strain eyes. 4. Have eyes examined regularly. If eyes are defective, vision can be greatly helped with proper glasses.

When the war is over we are all going to have Better Light for Better Sight. In the meantime, take care of your eyes but don't waste light.

Faces About Town: Van Wyck Brooks, the Time cover, with sculptor Jo Davidson and orator F. Kingdon. Intelligent men at the Stork Club some time ago. Men J. E. Hoover and Clyde Tompkins with Ex-Police Commissioner Edw. Mulrooney in the city. Gene Buck, who goes early, making a rare appearance in the after-theatre show. Dorothy Lamour, Jinx Falkenberg, Carole Landis and Sheridan at the roadside giving the tourists their coverture. Rite Hayworth's wearing the biggest event button in town. Frank Sinatra in a front pew at "Star Time" where the audience roared when Lou Holtz, the star, said: "What business are you young man?" June 1940 stealing the show at Verity with her twinkle-toes jitters. Doris Duke's ex-husband Cromwell, and Josie Allen holding hands under a party Room table. Russell House, co-author of "Arsenic and Old Lace," whose nickname for it is "Poison Girls Together."

Sally In Our Alley: Mae West's summation of a H'wood success: A guy who owns an 80-room house, a tennis court, a swimming pool and has no one to talk to.

Midtown Vignette: Brentano's window display was patterned around a new puff biography of Dewey. Leading Republicans planned to complain because the window dresser surrounded the Dewey book with a border of ads for "Sad Sack," the collector of cartoons of the soldier who could never do anything right. The opposite window display (in the same book store) also featured the Dewey book — completely framed with a tone of cartoons by George Price. Its title: "Anybody We Know?" It is suspected that the window dresser is either a Roosevelt rooster—or a critic.

Memos of a Midnighter: Lily Pons is sponsoring a Russian War Relief exhibition of war photos at 460 Fifth, starting Oct. 6th. It's a boy for the Jimmy Joys at the Peabody Hotel, Memphis. Sheila Barrett, back from overseas, is at the Gotham Hosp., a pneumonia victim. Gertrude Niesen has moved into a sumptuous Park Avenue layout which looks like a move set—but she has to go to the corner drugstore to phone as she can't get one. It's a boy for the Myron McCormicks (Martha Hodge). He's the lead in the show, "The Soldier's Wife." One of the swank spots catering to the Int'l Set is being surveyed by sleuths, who are using cameras. Mme. Paul Du-bonnet (Jean Nash) and a girl she suspected of flirting with her groom had it out in Springs. Jean told her off good. Ray Milland, the star, bought a house in Ragusa, Yugoslavia, for $8,000.

The Big-Time: "Our Hearts Were Young and Gay," a Paramount treat. The balladandies warbled by Burl Ives at Cafe Society Uptown. Arthur Lee Simpkins tenoring at the Latin Quarter. Gloria Blake at Havana-Madrid. Fanchon's satiric dances at the Glass Hat. The Whiteman music on the Philco-Variety show. John Osborne's arresting description of the Paris executions in Life. Allan Chase's new book, "The 5 Arrows."

New York Novelette: The amazing "Anna Lucasta," in a fantastic surprise to all connected with it, especially producer J. Wildberg. When he read the script he was so inspired by its appeal to improve good-will among all people that he phoned his lawyer and urged him to find five altruistic men "who want to lose $5,000 each for the sake of a good cause." The attorney located the five contributors. Three weeks after the show premiered each got back his $5,000 investment. Experts figure each will profit between $75,000 and $100,000.

Broadway Smalltalks: The Nat'l Catholic Community Service Club-house presented the one millionth serviceman visitor with a prize. Mayor LaGuardia, who has been tiffing with Sherman Billingsley, made the presentation. It included two complimentary dinner tickets — to the Stork Club! Prince Amarjit Kapurthala, son of the Maharajah there, died in India about two weeks ago. His Princess is at the Madison Hotel. John-Frederics, the male milliners, send shaving soap, toilet water, etc., to Paul Flato, the gem man, now in gaol. Agnes Pyne Bacon McLean, the society beauty with all that moo, knew Ronald Hudson only 5 days before their wedding last week. It's a girl for the Seth Babits at Manhattan General Hospital. It's not true that since he met FDR—he is calling himself Franklin Sinatra.

Manhattan Murals: The lower Manhattan skyline from the Brooklyn Bridge—like an oldtime vaudeville backdrop. The Coney Island carnival flavor of 50th Street between 6th and 7th Avenues, running the gamut of hawkers, fortune-tellers and turtles with your name inscribed on them. The Christmas shopping rush (for overseas mail) in sharp contrast with the Autumn weather. The oldest store on Broadway: The Rismont, next to the Capitol Theatre. An ice cream body spot. The dapper little man of 50 with prince-nez who comes into a chili joint in the W. 40s, removes his top hat and coat, and dons an apron. He's the bus boy.

The Late Watch: Ben Hecht, the playwright-novelist, got a wire from the Dies Committee's chief sleuth, R. E. Stripling. It read: "The Political Action Comm. uses your name as a member. Is that correct?" Hecht replied: "I am free, white, over 21, in my right mind and a member of Hillman's PAC, so what?"—signed Ben Hecht, Chief Investigator of Transparent Goons. Dewey may as well quit. Cagney and Bogart just joined the H'wood for Roosevelt group. Hizzoner may be overseas by the 15th, although some of us hear he may govern Italy from Washington with a star on his shoulder. Watch the betting odds change after registration. Jack Dempsey's last date before shoving off for abroad was with his ex-wife, Hannah Williams. The critics can't claim the 150 standees at "Star Time" the other night.

Sounds in the Night: At Sea Fare: "She's very himpulsive" At Cafe Pierre: "I hear she's suing him for plenty plus a 20 per cent amusement tax" At Reuben's: "She has one of those figgers with adjoining balconies" At Ruby Foo's Den: "Her baby stares are for guys to trip on" In the Latin Quarter: "Marriage is what turns 'I Love You So' into 'I told you so'"

IT'S 13,000,000 WOMEN'S PRIVILEGE TO CHANGE MINDS

A new survey by the Northwestern National Life Insurance Co. reveals that, as of today, 71.5 per cent of the women in war industry intend to keep on working when the war is over. That is more than 13 million women, a sizable source of concern for the postwar employment planners. But before the planners start worrying it ought to be pointed out, as the poll takers wisely do, that a lot of things can happen to change these 13 million women's mind in the meantime, and probably will. In fact, it is most unlikely that they'll all be out job hunting when peace returns. For one thing, the equality of pay, seniority and consideration that many feminists have been pleading for isn't here yet. And if they don't come along, a lot of women will probably chuck the whole idea of a career in business or industry. There will be the women who have done a man's work, and put up with many unfeminine discomforts, to help get the war won sooner. They have acquired new skills and a taste for independence. Their work has been praised by employers and plant managers. Naturally, they feel that they deserve consideration, regardless of sex or marital status. And they have a lot of good arguments on their side. But if they get the same old song and dance once the war is won, they may throw up their hands and say, "What's the use?"—especially if there is added pressure at home. And there is bound to be that.

Men Want Homelife
A lot of young soldiers coming home to their fiances or young brides are going to want a home and family more than they want an addition to the family income. Older women war workers will find their husbands and growing children demanding a change from the late meals and half-kept house which have been the inevitable consequence of Mother's job. If 13 million women were to continue in peacetime industry there would have to be a change in our social structure which isn't now on the horizon—new and permanent child care centers and nursery schools, heavier responsibility on our regular school system, more governmental concern with home life. Rightly or wrongly, this would be a new order that the majority of the American public isn't ready for and probably doesn't want.

Part of your gift will help the United Seamen's Service furnish badly needed rest for men who have survived sinkings of war supply ships. Part will help War Prisoners' Aid assuage the deadly monotony Americans endure in enemy prison camps.

Part of your contribution will help USO carry entertainment to the men at the battle fronts. Some will be shared with the War Relief Agencies for rehabilitating civilian war victims.

TODAY on the HOME FRONT by James Marlow

The government will help war veterans—to buy a home, farm or business—by guaranteeing part of the loans they need for a start. The Veterans' Administration (VA) does the guaranteeing.

There are two chief benefits to the program:

- 1. The interest charged the veterans can't be more than 4 per cent. The VA won't guarantee a loan with a higher interest rate. 2. For the first year the veterans will have to pay only part of the total interest.

This important point should be remembered: When they get the loan it will be as a business transaction like any other business deal.

Any veteran can get the VA's guarantee on part of the loan—provided it's a sound deal—if he has served in the armed forces between Sept. 16, 1940, and the war's end and was honorably discharged.

This is how the program works: The VA will guarantee—up to 50 per cent or up to $2,000—any approved loan obtained by a veteran from a private of government source to buy or operate a farm, home or business.

Here's an example, but remember it's only an example for the actual procedure might be somewhat different:

A veterans wants to buy or build a $4,000 home. He goes to a lending institution—like a bank or insurance company—and tells his story.

The bank finds this particular veteran a reliable person and says: "Okay. We'll let you have the $4,000. What kind of security can you give us?"

The veteran says: "You can take a first mortgage on the house." The VA is called. When it, too, is satisfied, it says:

"Okay. We'll guarantee this $4,000 loan up to $2,000. That's the highest we can go on a guarantee."

It's because of this guarantee—the bank's risk in lending $4,000 is cut in half since the government backs $2,000 of it—that the interest rates can be brought down to 4 per cent.

But the VA does more. In that first year the veteran doesn't pay the full 4 per cent interest on the full $4,000. He only pays interest on half of it, or $80. The VA pays the other half.

But this holds true only for that first year. After that the veteran has to pay the full 4 per cent interest on the total loan.

The law covering loans was passed by Congress early last summer. Since that time the VA experts have been drawing up regulations covering such loans.

Those regulations will soon be published. The problem was to try to lay down regulations which will fit in with the 48 states' varying laws on loans. And when the regulations are finished perhaps not all the states' laws will be in harmony with them. Adjustments will have to be made in these cases later.

Because the regulations have not been completed, no veteran has yet been able to obtain a loan although the law covering the loan has been on the books for months.

When the war against Germany ends, some of the troops who whipped the Nazis will be sent to fight Japan, some will be kept in Europe as an occupation army, and some will be sent home as soon as possible.

The troops still in Europe will have more time on their hands than they have now. For them the War Department has worked out a program to help them:

Prepare for civilian life either by continuing their education, interrupted by the war, or by learning some occupation to fit them for a better civilian job than the one they left.

These troops will get schooling—if they wish—from the sixth grade through second year college. Or they can choose courses in mechanical and technical subjects and practical training in trades and vocations.

But no one will be delayed in returning to the United States by taking part in the program. When a soldier receives shipping orders, he will be brought home no matter what stage of any course he's taking.

The program will work something like this: The schools will be set up in— for example—units of 1,000 men each. Then, when not engaged in their military duties, they can go to school. There will be two kinds of programs: Educational and athletic. The men can choose either, or part of both, or neither.

In the educational program they will say specifically what they wish to learn. For instance: One man might choose foreign languages. Another might want to be an automobile mechanic.

Then, from among their own number, qualified men will be chosen to teach. For example: A former experienced newspaper man would be selected to teach a class in journalism if some men wanted to learn journalism.

Textbooks have been selected from existing civilian instruction materials. The men chosen as instructors will use those textbooks after a brief training period.

Manila—After U. S. Planes Bomb Targets

Warplanes from Vice Admiral Marc A. Mitscher's task carrier force, leave Manila during a surprise visit to the Japs at Manila. Municipal buildings, built by the Filipinos in the days before the Japs invaded their homeland, stand out brilliantly in the right background. The swank Manila Hotel with its yacht harbor and gardens can be seen at right. (U. S. Navy photo from Manila.)

The material for each course has been divided into units of work, each unit requiring 20 hours of classroom work.

The men taking the courses will be given a certificate of work accomplished. This will help them toward obtaining credits when they return to high school or college in this country.

This educational program is a natural development of the United States Armed Forces Institute (USAFI). This has conducted correspondence courses and other educational services for troops on active duty but anxious to use their spare time to continue their education.

Syrniki (Cottage Cheese Patties) (Serves 6) One pound cottage cheese, 2 eggs, 3 tablespoons flour, 1 tablespoon sour cream, salt, butter or table fat, additional sour cream, sugar.

Rub drained cottage cheese through sieve. Mix with slightly beaten eggs, flour, 1 tablespoon sour cream and a little salt. Shape into round flat discs about 2 inches in diameter. Brown slowly in a little butter or table fat. Serve with sour cream and sugar.

Dried Apricot Kisel (Serves 4-6) One-half pound dried apricots, peaches or any other dried fruit, 1/2 cup sugar, 1-2 teaspoons grated lemon rind, cornstarch.

Cover dried fruit with cold water and let stand several hours. Drain, measure liquid, and add enough cold water to make 6 cups of liquid. Place liquid and fruit in saucepan and cook rapidly until fruit is tender. Mash through sieve. Add sugar and lemon rind; simmer for 10 minutes. For each 2 cups mixture allow 1 tablespoon cornstarch. For thicker consistency use more. Twelfth Season Opens For International Lutheran Hour Program

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Oct. 10 (Special)—Warning the American people not to put their trust in hopes of a postwar golden age, Dr. Walter A. Maier, of Concordia Seminary, St. Louis, Mo., declared that politicians, national and international, are pouring out Utopian promises which even God Almighty has never made.

His address opened the twelfth season of the International Lutheran Hour radio program, and was broadcast from Bolling Field before a distinguished audience of Army officers and civilians.

Dr. Maier urged that all citizens prepare now to cast an intelligent and prayer-strengthened ballot in November. Yet he insisted that the home of America does not depend solely on a partisan victory in the Presidential campaign, but in the humble, penitent return of masses in our country to God and Jesus Christ. The war now would be over, he declared, if the home front had supported the fighting fronts with the faith, prayer and devotion to God which are essential to a real victory. Instead, he pointed out, experts are revising their prophecies that our enemies would surrender by this time, and are now asserting that the struggle will go into 1945.

He indicted a growing number of religious leaders in the United States for sharing the same opposition to the Bible and Christ which characterizes enemies of the cross in Germany and Japan.

In an afternoon rally with Senator Johnson of Colorado presiding, Dr. Maier, who has been speaker since the outset, declared that the Lutheran Hour, Bringing Christ to the Nations, is the oldest paid religious program and the most widespread broadcast, commercial or sustaining in radio history.

He announced plans to extend the broadcast to Europe as soon as postwar conditions permit. The Lutheran Hour began its twelfth season over approximately 575 stations in the United States, Canada and the following countries and territories: Alaska, Argentina, Bolivia, Brazil, British Guiana, British West Indies, Chile, Columbia, Costa Rica, Cuba, Dominican Republic, Dutch Guiana, Ecuador, Haiti, Hawaii, Honduras, Mozambique, Nicaragua, Panama, Paraguay, Peru, Puerto Rico, Uruguay and Venezuela. More than 2,000,000 listeners have written to express their commendation from more than 50 foreign countries.

WITH THE FIFTH ARMY, it is Rex Sanders, Jr., of Spearman, Texas, driver in an "Custer" Division Quarter-truck company, played an important role in recent operations on the Fifth Army front in Italy.

The troops advanced and supplies were stretched, his job more important and more difficult. Often he had to make night trips on dangerous roads and go two or three days without sleep.

He had to be alert for enemy machine and strafing, artillery concentration and mines as he led his hand along the front. Mud and adverse weather conditions are routine liabilities in business, which may delay or postpone the flow of supplies, gasoline and other supplies.

When he carries his rifle with him and can use the machinegun mounted on his truck when the ration demands.

He is personally responsible for maintenance of his own vehicle in good operating order.

Sanders is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Rex Sanders, Sr., of Spearman, Texas.

ceived word that their son, Theodore Bayless, S. 2-c has been transferred from Great Lakes, Ill. Naval Training Center to Norman, Okla., where he will be in aviation ordnance school for several weeks.

Ensign R. L. McClellan, Jr., is in the hospital for malarial fever at Solomon's Branch, District of Columbia. R. L. has an attack of this fever on his arrival from the Pacific to the states, several months ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Skinner received word from their son, Second Lieutenant Robert V. Skinner. He was wounded in action in France, the wound being in the knee. Lt. Skinner has been awarded the Purple Heart Medal and is now back in action. A French surgeon attended him and did excellent surgery—he had no after effects of the wound at all. He is with Gen. Patton's Army. Lt. Skinner also sent home some German money.

Mr. and Mrs. Silva Davis has been informed that their son, Billy Joe Davis, who recently entered the service, is stationed at Camp Walters, Texas, and is taking his basic training as in Infantry rifleman. So far he is satisfied with army life.

McCLOSKEY GENERAL HOSPITAL, Temple, Texas.—Pvt. Oliver P. Wallin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Wallin, Guymon, Okla., who was with the 9th Infantry Division in Normandy, was among patients arriving at McCloskey General Hospital, Temple, Texas, in a plane convoy from Mitchell Field.

Nineteen-year-old Wallin, who went into Normandy July 20th, was wounded on August 10th by a had grenade on the Brest peninsula which knocked off his left leg and wounded his left arm.

"We were making an attack on a hedgerow. I was acting as second scout in the advance. The Germans killed the first scout with a machine pistol, and then shot me through the right arm. I got three of the Germans who shot me. Finally my helmet was shot off my head and then my rifle was shot out of my hands. This was followed by a couple of hand grenades, one of which blew off my foot. I crawled back about 75 yards to a house. They hit me again on the way back—a bullet across my back. I put a tourniquet around my injured leg. A little later the medics got me."

"In one group of prisoners we captured there were a couple of 14-year-old boys.

"We also cornered a French-speaking German in civilian clothes. He made the mistake of keeping his Germany army uniform in his house. We had come by a house occupied by a girl and had asked her if there was anyone else around, but she said she lived alone. Just then the back door slammed. (My buddy, Pvt. Lee Tallant, of Texarkana spoke French.)

"This German had come in. He locked the door between us, but we shot the lock off. He came out with a rag tied around his neck making signs that he couldn't talk. While we questioned the girl about him, he jumped through a window and ran into a nearby dugout. We made the girl tell us where he was. We went to the dugout and yelled for him to come out. He wouldn't do it, so we dropped a grenade into the dugout, ending the episode."

WITH THE FIFTH AIR FORCE, Southwest Pacific.—Staff Sgt. Joe C. Van Sant, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Van Sant of Spearman, Texas, was one of the aerial gunners who participated in the first daylight bombing raid on the Philippines. He is a member of the Fifth Air Force's crack heavy bombardment unit, the Red Raiders.

Overseas for nine months, Sgt. Van Sant has flown 20 combat missions. He received his training as an aerial gunner at the Air Force's Gunnery School at Harlingen Field, Texas, and won his wings April 13, 1943. He is also a graduate of the Airplane Mechanics School, Sheppard Field, Texas.

The sergeant is entitled to wear the Air Medal for meritorious achievement in sustained operational flights, the Good Conduct Medal and the Asiatic-Pacific Theater Ribbon with one Bronze Star signifying participation in the New Guinea campaign. He may also wear the Presidential Citation Device earned while a member of the Red Raiders. The unit received the citation for their outstanding performance in the Papuan Campaign.

Pvt. C. P. Archer has completed his preliminary training at Camp Fanning, Paris, Texas, and is at home on a furlough. C. P. is transferred to Ft. Meade, Md., and will report to his new camp for tour of duty on Oct. 21.
