Under Unit Plan County Does More Work At Less Cost

(Editor's Note: This is another in a series of articles designed to show effects of the enactment of the "Optional County Road Law," which proposition is before Howard county voters next Tuesday).

A tremendous increase in road building, and at considerably less cost, is reported from Smith county, Texas, this year, the first year it has operated under the "Optional County Road Law."

This law provides the establishment of a unified county road department, if the voters so approve, and Howard county voters will decide next Tuesday if they want to make such a step.

R. F. Power, of Tyler, county judge of Smith county, has written The Herald that his county adopted the unit road law in August, 1947, and operations under the law were started the first of this year.

As for operations under the law, Judge Power reports:

"Our county is rather large in area and we have approximately 1,400 miles of county roads to maintain. We have a central headquarters and garage located in Tyler, where all mechanical work is done and where the engineer's office is located, as well as the bookkeeping of the road and bridge department."

CENTRAL HEADQUARTERS

"Our construction crew works out of central headquarters. All bridging is under one crew and also works out of central headquarters. At present we maintain four maintenance crews, each having a small barn and yard located centrally in the four precincts of the county, to avoid the necessity of too much travel. These crews work under a foreman who takes his orders from the engineer."

"All gravel trucks operate out of central headquarters and are loaded by dragline, and I would say that we have perhaps put down more gravel in Smith county during the year 1948 than in any five years previously. As an example, we are building this year, from scratch, approximately 25 miles of asphalt roads under the 75-25 state-county road program, and we are using our men and equipment in the construction of these roads at a saving of 25 to 30 per cent in their construction. Very clearly this program could not be, under the old system. In addition to this we have improved many miles of our county lateral roads and have done more permanent bridging than has

Ask Economic Sanction Plan In Palestine

PARIS, Oct. 28. (AP)—Britain and China proposed today that the United Nations use economic sanctions to force peace in Palestine.

France, Belgium and Canada announced support and a reliable source said the United States also voted for the resolution. Russia and the Soviet Ukraine did not make known their positions.

The debate will be resumed tomorrow in the Security Council. Russia asked for a two-day postponement but Warren Austin, the American council president, ruled that adjournment today there would be no delay. The council meets again tomorrow.

Israel has rejected orders of the UN mediator of Palestine, Ralph Bunche, that her troops withdraw from positions won in the Negev Desert in a week of battle with Egypt. Egypt's complaint that Israel is violating the UN cease-fire order brought up the issue.

The British-Chinese proposal was advanced under Article 41, Chapter seven of the UN Charter which sets forth actions "not involving the use of armed force" by which the council may enforce its decisions. These include breaking economic and diplomatic relations.

Tentative Plans Set On Vealmoor Oil Celebration

Tentative plans for a special event to celebrate development of the Vealmoor oil field received approval Wednesday afternoon at a meeting of the chamber of commerce oil committee.

The event probably will include a barbecue luncheon honoring the Seaboard Oil Co., developer of the pool. Date for the observance will be set within the next few days.

In addition to approving the tentative plans for the special event, R. L. Cook, committee chairman, was authorized to name a steering committee to make plans for organization of a Howard County Oil Association. Named to the committee, which will be headed by Cook, were Rupert Ricker, Ben LeFever, Stormy Thompson, Marvin Sewell and Bob Whipkey.

Oil committee members who attended the Wednesday session were W. L. Mead, T. S. Currie, Sr., C. L. Rowe, H. W. Smith, R. T. Piner, S. T. Eason, Charles Lawrence, Joe Edwards, J. H. Greene, LeFever, Thompson, Whipkey and Cook.

STALIN SAYS WEST MAY BRING ON WAR

Thousands Expected To Visit County Fair, Opening Today

U. N. Neutrals Are Included In Accusation

Adds Allies Can Only Fail In Berlin Crisis

MOSCOW, Oct. 28. (AP)—Prime Minister Stalin accused the United States, Britain and the so-called neutral states of the United Nations security council today of supporting a policy which can lead to the "unleashing of a new war."

The Soviet leader added, however, that the present international crisis "can only end in an ignominious failure on the part of the instigators of a new war."

Stalin answered a series of questions put to him by a reporter of Pravda, the Communist Party newspaper, on the Berlin controversy.

The prime minister criticized China, Canada, Colombia, Syria, Belgium and Argentina for their actions in the Security Council at Paris during the Berlin discussions. (These six nations attempted to mediate the big power quarrel over Berlin, but Russia vetoed their proposed compromise Monday.)

"Those gentlemen are obviously lending their support to a policy of aggression—to a policy of unleashing a new war," Stalin asserted.

"The point is," Stalin went on, "that the instigators of the aggressive policy of the United States of America and Britain do not consider themselves interested in agreement and co-operation with the USSR."

"They want not agreement and co-operation but talk about agreement and co-operation, in order to thwart agreement, to throw the blame on the USSR and, by so doing, prove the impossibility of co-operation with the USSR."

"The instigators of war, who are striving to unleash a new war, fear more than anything else agreement and co-operation with the USSR, since a policy of agreement with the USSR undermines the positions of the war mongers and deprives the aggressive policy of those gentlemen of its objective."

"Precisely for this reason they disrupt agreements already reached, disavow their representatives who have reached such agreements with the USSR and transfer the question, in violation of the UN charter, to the Security Council, where they possess an assured majority and where they can 'prove' anything."

"All this is done in order to demonstrate the impossibility of co-operating with the USSR, to demonstrate the necessity of a new war and thus prepare the conditions for the unleashing of a war."

"The policy of the present leaders of the United States and Britain is a policy of aggression and the unleashing of a new war."

FAIR TIPS

Here are some tips for fair visitors:

Show hours from 9 a. m. to past 11 p. m., Thursday, Friday and Saturday. Location is at the bombardier school area.

Gate charge is nine cents per person, regardless of age.

By going a block south of the east entrance, turning a block west and then back half a block north, motorists can find ample parking space near the west entrance. No cars permitted inside grounds except on service missions. Information booth and pay telephone in center building; rest rooms in first and third buildings; concessions in second and third.

Fair officials predicted that the first attempt at a major show would prove a big success. The fair continues through Friday and Saturday at the bombardier school.

Show hours are from 9 a. m. to 11 p. m.

Judging on the pig division was largely completed by noon and most of the placings on the girls' division for handiwork, homemaking, etc. was behind the judges. By 3 p. m. general agricultural and community exhibits were to be appraised.

Sale of 4-H and FFA barrows and gilts was set for 8 p. m. in the agricultural building.

With virtually all exhibitors to have all items in place by mid-afternoon, the fair was off to a good start with colorful displays and good variety by agricultural, homemaking, institutional and commercial entries.

Scores of people worked feverishly Wednesday night to prepare for the opening of the three-day event. Under direction of A. B. Sison, the fair got an illumination rehearsal and officials pronounced it perhaps the best lighted show in this region.

Workers saved and nailed their last boards Thursday morning as fair volunteers set up ticket booths. By noon traffic was being cleared from the fair zone so that only cars engaged in loading and unloading, or on necessary business missions, would be admitted.

"We take pardonable pride in the way the fair has shaped up," said Lloyd Wooten, general superintendent. "We believe that thousands of people will support it with their attendance and will agree with us that we not only have made a splendid start toward an annual fair but have provided a bang-up good show this year."

Attractive community booths were on display by the Center Point, Coahoma, Knott, Luther, Vealmoor, R-Bar and Fairview communities. Vealmoor had one new product—oil—to add to its list.

Among the several institutional displays were those by the Howard County Free Library, The Episcopal Church, The American Legion, The Needle & Thread club, the Art Study club, and others. Mrs. R. E. Lee had a showing of her paintings. There were special displays for needlework, cakes, breads, etc., quilts and spreads; canned goods, preserves; poultry, (including an entry on the rare Northern lace); one pen of rabbits, swine, cattle, dairy cattle and sheep; cotton, grain, vegetables; and a host of sparkling commercial exhibits.

Gideons Gathering For State Parley

First of an anticipated 130 out-of-town Gideons and their wives began arriving here Thursday morning for the 11th annual convention of the Gideons International of Texas.

As the Christian businessmen from over the state began registration, host officials reminded the public that Dr. R. S. Beal, pastor of the First Baptist church in Tucson, Ariz., and a featured convention speaker, would be heard in public meetings at 8 p. m. today at the First Baptist church and at the same hour Friday in the city auditorium.

Prospects were that total registration for the convention, which is built around a series of praise, prayer and inspirational meetings will exceed 200.

Here for the occasion are R. L. Sanders, Amarillo, state president; Jack Parks, Pasadena, state vice-president; W. D. Turner, Waco, state treasurer, and Joe Evans, El Paso state chaplain.

Besides a breakfast meeting, which will be addressed at 7:30 a. m. Saturday by Dr. Beal, other highlights include the annual banquet at 7:30 p. m. Saturday in the Settles to be addressed by O. T. Goldsmith, Houston, president of Gideons International.

While in Big Spring, visiting Gideons, under change of the Dallas camp, will conduct a street meeting at 5 p. m. in the downtown area, Sunday morning, following breakfast and an inspirational period, some two score delegates will dis-

Aid Heads May Ask For Extra $1 Billion Fund

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28. (AP)—Foreign aid officials said today they expected to ask Congress for an extra $1,200,000,000 to carry the Marshall Plan through April, May and June of next year.

The $5,055,000,000 appropriation for European recovery will have been exhausted by the end of March—12 months after the program's start—a spokesman for the Economic Co-operation Administration reported privately.

Congress voted the recovery money for 15 months, or until the end of the fiscal year next June 30, but gave President Truman the power to let ECA use it up in 12 months if necessary.

At ECA it was said the President's formal approval of the 12-month schedule may be asked within the next two weeks.

As early as last August, Mr. Truman said a supplemental appropriation of $1,500,000,000 might be needed for the last three months of the program's first phase.

The ECA spokesman said the new estimate of $1,200,000,000 is as close as the need can be gauged at this minute.

In any event, the prospect of further foreign aid outlays has focused new attention on the attitude of Congress toward next year's Marshall Plan appropriation.

ECA Administrator Paul G. Hoff has said that, because of Europe's marked progress thus far, less money may be needed in the second year of what has been projected as a four-year undertaking.

Great Armies Lock In Manchuria Fight

PEIPING, Oct. 28. (AP)—Great armies of Nationalists and Communists pitched headlong today in what may be the decisive battle for control of Manchuria and North China.

The center of operations seemed to be between the Manchurian City of Chihnsien, 125 miles above the Great Wall, and Tahushan, 25 miles north of Chihnsien.

The center of operations seemed to be between the Manchurian City of Chihnsien, 125 miles above the Great Wall, and Tahushan, 25 miles north of Chihnsien.

The Communist radio announced it had "destroyed" 12 divisions of government troops in the Tahushan district "this morning."

The broadcast from the Communist's North Shensi station identified the divisions as parts of the First, Third, Sixth, 48th and 71st Government armies.

Top Germans Are Sentenced

NUERNBERG, Germany, Oct. 28. (AP)—An American court today imposed sentences ranging from three years to life imprisonment on 11 of Germany's top military commanders for atrocities in World War II.

The 11 were convicted on war crimes charges after a nine-month trial. Two fellow defendants, Field Marshal Hugo Sperrle and Adm. Otto Schmielwitz, were acquitted.

Greying, handsome Lt. Gen. Walter Warlimont, 54, found to be one of Hitler's top advisers in drafting summary executive orders against allied commandos and Soviet army political commissars, was sentenced to life imprisonment.

FOR STATE

Jester Will Seek Vote Probe Power

By The Associated Press

Governor Beauford Jester plans to ask the next legislature to give the state power to investigate charges of election fraud and irregularity. The governor announced his plan in Austin late yesterday. It was inspired by developments in the controversy between former Gov. Coke Stevenson and Rep. Lyndon Johnson over the state's Democratic nomination to the United States Senate.

Jester said Texas laws now "neither grant the governor power nor impose on him any duty to initiate any investigations of alleged fraud and irregularities."

Johnson, 10th District congressman, won the nomination by 87 votes out of nearly a million in the runoff primary election against Stevenson last August.

There were these other developments in the fight:

1. The Senate stretched its runoff investigation to take in eight counties where Johnson said the vote might have been affected by local contests, changes in returns and other factors. Johnson had asked for the investigation, charging that fraudulent returns were reported in five South Texas counties.

2. The FBI started an investigation of voting in South Texas.
3. Burning of Duval County records and ballots was disclosed in Alice. W. S. Johnston, Republican county chairman of Duval County, said he was told a janitor burned the ballots Oct. 20 through a misunderstanding as to the time they were to be destroyed.

Jester said the Johnson-Stevenson fight "points up the desirability of providing state machinery to investigate charges of election fraud."

Texas Atty. Gen. Price Daniel followed through with a statement that he will ask the legislature to empower the attorney general to prosecute county clerks for failure "to keep securely any ballot box."

He noted that this is now exclusively the duty of county and district attorneys.

Indiana Republican William E. Jenner, chairman of the Senate subcommittee on elections, whose investigators are seizing Texas voting records, yesterday telegraphed the clerks of eight counties to keep intact ballots and all other records of the runoff.

West was a member of the Ways and Means Committee.

West, former Texas Ranger, Texas district attorney, and state legislator, beat six opponents to go to Congress from the 15th District in 1933.

He won a special election choosing a successor to John Nance Garner, who had been elected vice president of the United States.

West won again in 1934 and in 1936. From that year until 1946 he was unopposed. Because of his illness he did not seek re-election this year. Lloyd M. Bentsen, Jr., of McAllen, gained the Democratic nomination to succeed him.

The West home is at Brownsville but he owned a ranch near Mission, which also is in the lower Rio Grande Valley.

West's wife is the former Temple Worley, daughter of pioneer Mangrove County settlers. He had one son, Milton H. West, Jr., who was a Navy lieutenant commander, and now is an attorney in Houston.

The 15th Texas Congressional District lies along the Rio Grande, which marks the border between the United States and Mexico. West was a strong supporter of the U.S.-Mexico water treaty which was finally ratified in November, 1945.

He was born June 30, 1888, in Gonzales County, Tex., the son of Milton Crockett West and Pauline Cocke West.

Dewey Says He Will Block Reds In Asia

By JACK BELL AP STAFF

EN ROUTE WITH DEWEY to Boston, Oct. 28. —Speedy action to block the advance of Communism in Asia was pledged today by Gov. Thomas E. Dewey.

Barnstorming his way across Massachusetts toward Boston, the GOP nominee left behind in Cleveland last night a promise that if he is elected this country will strengthen its bonds with non-Communist China.

Dewey speaks in the Boston arena tonight on an unannounced subject.

Before arrival in Boston late in the afternoon, the New York governor planned short talks at Pittsfield, Springfield, Worcester and Framingham, Mass.

Dewey's plug for quick aid to China was in line with the known feeling of some of his top advisers that the Soviets are being permitted—almost by default—to make great gains in Asia while the world's attention is centered on the Berlin blockade.

These advisers give some credence to the theory that it is a part of a Russian stall in Berlin to keep the world's eyes off Asia.

It contains no narcotics, opiates or calomel and will not make you sick, gripe, or nauseate you in the slightest degree. Ask any druggist in Texas for a package of the new Mertox. Add to a quart of water and you have an excellent tonic medicine which will save you approximately $4.00.

Final Accounting Of Large Estate Receives Approval

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 28. (AP)—The superior court has approved the 19th and final accounting of the estate of Multi-millionaire Frances O'Dea, Los Angeles philanthropist, who died 10 years ago.

The Citizens' National Trust and Savings Bank disclosed yesterday it has paid in 10 years $5,206,500 to heirs and state, county and federal governments.

More than 1,000 alleged heirs tried to get part of the estate. But after a 16-month trial, a jury decided to split it among three of O'Dea's first cousins, all in Ireland and all now dead. Their living heirs got the money.

Seven And A Half Day Rule Of Rebels Over Yosu Ends In Mortar Fire Hail

YOSU, South Korea, Oct. 27. (AP)—(Delayed)—The seven-and-a-half day rule of rebels over this city of 70,000 ended today in a hail of mortar fire.

They gave up as loyal troops moved in from land and sea. But not until a quarter of the city had been burned out. And an untold number of civilians and soldiers had been killed or wounded.

The abortive bid of Communist-led insurgents is over in the main. But there are still possibilities that many of their number will carry on guerrilla type warfare against the republic. Many of them are still in the hills. They are well armed and violently anti-American, anti-Korean Republic.

Yosu's rebels turned back two assaults and held another earlier this week but were not able to withstand the 1,800 loyalists who surged into the city yesterday by land and sea under mortar fire.

Casualties undoubtedly ranged far higher among civilians than among combatants. Yosu fell as three American advised units converged on the city and 400 troops swarmed ashore from an American built LST—landing ship tanks. The LST combat force had been driven from the beach earlier this week. With those troops were American Army Capt. Howard W. Darnow of Ashland City, Tenn., and Lt.

Raymond T. Moore of San Antonio.

Other American advisers accompanying the victorious loyalists included Col. Hurley B. Fuller, San Antonio, Capt. James Treadwell, Starkville, Miss., and Lt. Minor Kelso of Winchester, Va., and John Caldwell of Staunton, Va.

Four American correspondents entered the city about noon after having been driven back earlier from the city's outskirts by rifle fire and machine gun bullets. The fire caused six casualties among the group of loyalists with whom the newsmen were advancing. About a fourth of the city was in flames. Another great section was a dank, smoldering memento to the fires set by loyalists in an attempt to drive out the insurgents. During the week the insurgents reigned here more than 100 of Yosu's 125 policemen and some of their families were killed.

Israeli Forces Occupy Isdud

TEL AVIV, Israel, Oct. 28. (AP)—Israeli forces occupied Isdud, midway between Tel Aviv and Gaza, without opposition today after some 2,000 Egyptians pulled out of the area.

The Egyptian move southward, concentrated them on the lower part of the Isdud Majdal sector. They are believed hemmed in on a 10-mile coastal strip.

Israeli headquarters said Egyptian forces were seen Tuesday and yesterday drawing to the south of the pocket where the Israeli wedge at Hamun cuts off the route to Gaza, five miles farther south. Headquarters said late yesterday Arab villagers from Isdud came to the Jewish lines and said Arab troops had left. They asked Israeli forces to enter peacefully, the communication added.

Germans Are Invited To Aid Red Celebration

BERLIN, Oct. 28. The Soviet administration said today 14 German politicians and trade union leaders from the Russian occupation zone of Germany have been invited to attend the anniversary celebration of the Bolshevik revolution in Moscow Nov. 7.

Most of those invited are non-Communists who, however, in eastern bloc politics go along with the Soviet-sponsored, Communist-controlled Socialist Unity Party.

Observers noted that Germany's two top Communists, Wilhelm Pieck and Walter Ulbricht, were not invited. They have attended previous Moscow celebrations. This tended to discount a reported statement of Helmut Kuelz, former Russian zone politician now a refugee in Frankfurt, that the Moscow trip would develop into a conference which might radically revise Soviet occupation policies.

Germans here said Kuelz could hardly be expected to know anything about Communist plans since he has been in Western Germany for some time.

Evacuation Faster On German Children

BERLIN, Oct. 28. (AP)—German welfare authorities announced arrangements have been completed for nearly doubling the rate for evacuating children from blockaded western Berlin to 700 weekly. The evacuation is voluntary and designed to spare the children the hardships of a blockade winter in the fuel-short western sectors. They are being flown by British aircraft to Western Germany.

State Tax Abolishment Not As Beneficial As It Sounds

Probably the most controversial of all proposed state constitutional amendments appearing on the general election ballot of next Tuesday is No. 7. Even the title of the issue is lengthy:

"For or against an amendment x x x to provide that no ad valorem tax shall be levied for state general revenue purposes after January 1, 1931, and authorizing the several counties to levy additional ad valorem taxes, providing for a $3,000 residential homestead exemption and providing for tax levies in counties having tax donations."

In substance, the proposition is to abolish the state ad valorem tax (for general fund purposes), and then permit counties, if the voters so choose, to levy the same tax for their own farm-to-market roads of flood control purposes.

The state tax for general fund purposes is 30 cents, which means that counties could conceivably be assessed an additional 30-cent rate.

There is strong sentiment for this amendment, including that from the Texas Real Estate Association, and from the West Texas Chamber of Commerce. The real estate people, naturally like to see ad valorem taxes abolished, but they would stand to lose if counties assessed the same rate, because county valuations undoubtedly would be higher if the state did not have to be considered.

The WTCC contends that West Texas is paying more than its share of state ad valorem taxes. It is a fact that there are vast inequities in the state system of valuations, but it is virtually impossible to single out any county that is not guilty of inequities of its own, and abolition of state ad valorem tax for general fund purposes is not going to cure this.

It is true that the state's take on ad valorem taxes for the general revenue fund is only about three and one-half percent of the total state revenue. Any reduction in this fund, however, would affect the state school fund to that extent, and also the state's old-age pension fund.

It might be argued that state taxation would be reduced to the extent that the ad valorem levy is abolished, but we think the history of government will indicate otherwise. To put it another way, if the state's ad valorem income is lopped off then the door is opened in an inviting way for the legislators to find another source of taxation to make up the difference—maybe a sales tax, perhaps a personal income tax. So that, in the long run, there is a possibility of counties boosting their own levies (to offset the state abolition) and the state itself thinking up new sources of revenue.

The Herald, in attempting to analyze both sides of this particular issue, is of the opinion that "loopholes" exist in the tax proposal, and suggests that this amendment should be voted down.

(Seventh in a series of the state constitutional amendments. Two other editorials on the subject will appear Friday and Saturday.)

Hazardous Road Intersection Cries For Serious Attention

City officials have announced that they intend to keep pressing the state highway department for permission to install traffic lights or some other similarly effective means of traffic control on busy arteries which also serve as highway routes.

There are a few points where such remedial steps would increase safety greatly without seriously retarding convenience.

Outside of the city limits, there is at least one spot where some serious study needs to be given to better traffic control.

This is the intersection between U. S. 80 and the road leading through the El Homes district to the airport area.

Hundreds of cars use this intersection each day and when anything special is taking place (as is usually the case), the volume is kicked up drastically.

The intersection is bad enough in the daytime, being on the brow of a hill, but at night it is extremely hazardous. In the first place, those turning off the highway have to more or less feel their way into the road due to the angle and utter lack of light. Other problems are equally as tedious.

It may be that some means of illumination at the intersection plus a flashing caution light, would alleviate the situation. It's a cinch they couldn't worsen the danger.

Democracy's Worst Enemy Is Big Talking Non-Voter

NEW YORK, N. Y.—AMERICA'S PUBLIC Enemy No. 1 is going to wake up a week from today, take a look at his newspaper and start moaning:

"Good lord, look who they've elected."

He is the guy who won't have voted—the little man who wasn't there.

He is the guy who thinks he knows exactly what's wrong with his country—and won't take a few small steps to the polls to help set it right.

Come next Wednesday he'll have a lot of reasons, all bad, for why he didn't bother to do in the secrecy of a voting booth what John Hancock once dared to do in the open—at the risk of a king's anger.

THIS MAN WITH A CITIZENSHIP quota of minus zero will explain away his failure to back what he believes in by saying:

"Oh, well, what does my vote count anyway?"

The trouble with that attitude is that no man is ever in a position to be sure how much or how little his vote counts.

Take the case of the two men who perhaps did most to win the crossing of the Rhine in the second World War.

Staff Sgt. Eugene Dorland of Chicago fired two bullets—but those bullets cut the conduit holding wires leading to explosive charges placed by German engineers on the Ludendorff bridge at Remagen.

Sgt. Alexander A. Drabnik of Holland, O., leaped on the lonely fire-swept bridge and raced ahead of 10 riflemen to the other side.

Two enlisted men—but an army's grand offensive teetered on their sense of duty.

IT WOULD HAVE BEEN SIMPLE FOR Dorland to say:

"Why should I lose my neck cutting a few stands of wire?"

History would never have known it if Drabnik ducked under cover and consoled himself:

"That bridge is no place for a 34-year-old man, and the boys with me won't mind if we seat it out here. They don't want to get killed any more than I do."

But what quiet men fought to win in battle can be easily lost in peacetime needs an alarm clock.

"X" marks the fate of any Democracy where the people won't take the bother to scratch "X" on a ballot.

NLRB Makes Important Decisions About Labor

WASHINGTON, D. C.—THE GOVERNMENT—through the National Labor Relations Board (NLRB)—this week made important decisions on dealings between unions and employers.

It is legal for a striking union to use pickets in front of a struck plant. But from now on, says the NLRB:

It is illegal for a union to mass pickets in front of the doors of a struck plant to keep would-be new workers or strike-breakers from going inside to take over their jobs.

(The board did not say pickets could not gather in a mass some distance from the doors of a struck plant.)

But mass picketing in front of such a plant has been one of the strongest weapons strikers could use in keeping other people from taking over their jobs and breaking the strike.

So that NLRB decision is far-reaching in its effect on strikes in the future. But the NLRB handed down another decision. That, too, is far-reaching.

BEFORE GOING INTO THIS SECOND decision, here's a brief background:

International unions are really parent unions made up of many small unions called locals. The international may have its offices in Pittsburgh, or some other city, while its locals are scattered all over the country.

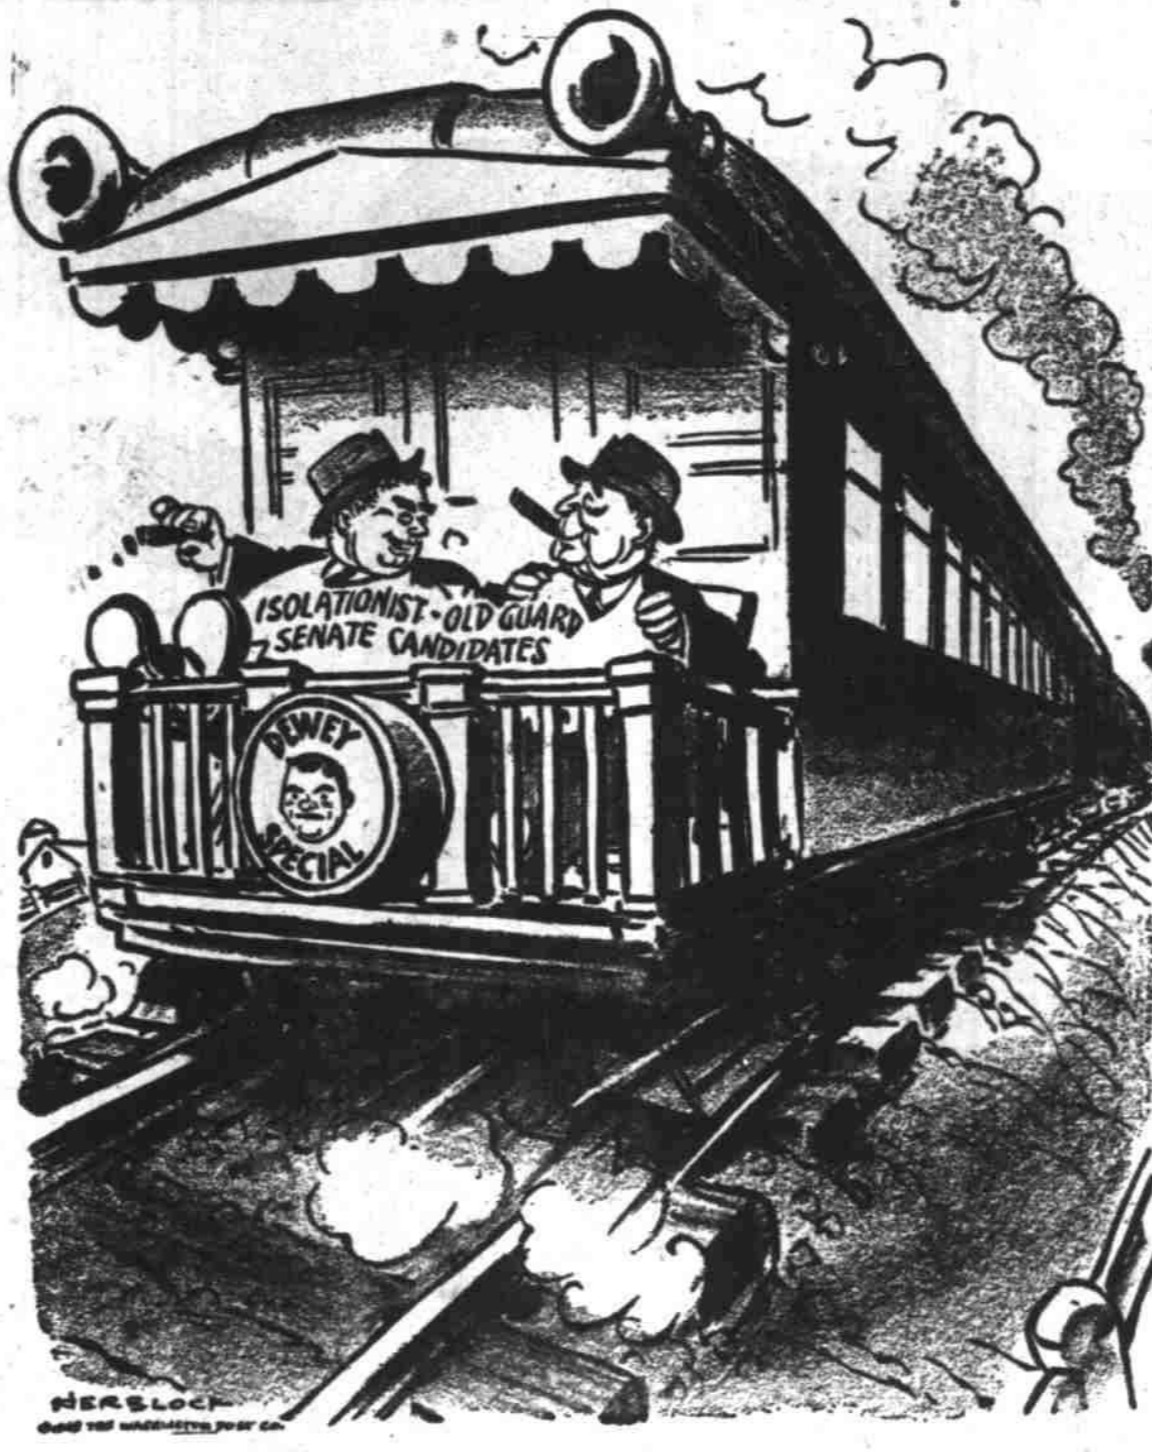

Come a question: Should an international union be held responsible for something one of its local unions does contrary to law? If so, in what way?

In a recent case the NLRB found the local union had broken the law—among other things, because of violence that had occurred—and held the international responsible, too. Why?

The NLRB said the international was responsible on three grounds:

1. Because an official of the international was present during the local's strike, when violence broke out, and, although he took no part in it, did nothing to stop it.
2. Because the international referred to the strike of its local as "our" strike.
3. Because when the case later came before the NLRB, the international and the local admitted the strike was their joint undertaking.

There's A Strong Tendency In U. S. To Cut Party Lines In Balloting

LOS ANGELES, (AP)—There's a strong tendency in almost every part of the country to cut party lines in this election and vote for the best congressmen, regardless of party.

Following up previous merry-go-round columns evaluating congressmen who deserve re-election, here is a roll-call of others worthy of being returned to the House of Representatives. Fortunately for the country the list of good congressmen is too long to be published here, but here follows a cross-section of deserving legislators, some of them in close election battles:

Jim Wadsworth, New York Republican—not too proud to go back to the House of Representatives after serving in the Senate. A farsighted battler for preparedness before Pearl Harbor and a real asset to Congress.

Sol Bloom, New York Democrat—A grand old warrior who has served his fellow men for a quarter of a century. Once in the theatrical business, Sol introduced the salome dance to this country, is addicted to loud vests, can always be found fighting on the side of the under-dog. Opposed by the Left-Wingers and Communists. Sol now faces the re-election race of his life.

Mike Monroney, Oklahoma Democrat—Recognized by both political parties as one of the finest men in Congress. He declined an invitation to be Truman's Secretary of Agriculture because he honestly believed he knew more about being a congressman than about agriculture.

Karl Stefan, Nebraska Republican—Born in Czechoslovakia, Stefan has been of great help to the State Department in getting propaganda ideas behind the iron curtain. He has had the courage to buck reactionary GOP leadership in getting more money for anti-trust prosecution.

John Blatnik, Minnesota Democrat—Came to Congress with a great war record and has been just as courageous in Congress as he was in the Army.

Hugh Mitchell, Washington Democrat—Another ex-senator who isn't too proud to serve his country in the House of Representatives. After a good, though brief, record in the Senate, he was defeated in the 1946 GOP landslide and is now running for the House.

Frank Havenner, California Democrat—Was a front-line battler for low-cost housing and did his own thinking on the Marshall Plan, despite strong opposition from the Wallacettes. Because of this, the Wallacettes put up a candidate against Havenner, but later withdrew him.

Mel Price, Illinois Democrat—one of the few ex-GI's in Congress. (Most Congressional veterans were officers.) Price enlisted in the Army as a private at the age of 38 and came out a sergeant. He has consistently battled against the real estate lobby.

Republican—One of only eight Gordon Canfield, New Jersey Republicans who had the courage to vote against the repeal of price control.

Francis Walter, Pennsylvania Democrat—Staunch foe of bureaucracy, frequently fought with Roosevelt over regulating federal agencies marched out of Congress to join the Navy during the war. Good voting record, a dangerous adversary in debates.

Helen Gahagan Douglas, California Democrat—Fought harder to defeat the real-estate lobby than almost anyone else in Congress; also an unrelenting battler for lower prices. A Brooklyn girl who made good in Hollywood, she has now made just as good in Congress.

John C. Brophy, Wisconsin Republican—Has the courage to bolt the GOP whip-crackers when he thinks he is right; worked for better housing, championed labor, uncovered scandal in sale of government ship accessories.

Chris Herter, Massachusetts Republican—Ranks alongside Sol Vandenberg as a battler for bipartisan foreign policy. Hard worker, influential leader.

Mike Kirwan, Ohio Democrat—though he never got past the third grade, he has risen to leadership in the halls of Congress.

John Vorys, Ohio Republican—Aggressive-thinking, slow-speaking, independent-voting, he is one of the respected GOP leaders.

Lansdale Sasser, Maryland Democrat—Good, solid legislator with ability and leadership; keeps a sharp eye on the military; a picture of a Maryland country gentleman.

Henry Jackson, Washington Democrat—forthright, persevering scrapper against the lobby; never runs out on a fight no matter what the odds against him.

Gerald Landa, Indiana Republican—A former coal miner, he voted for the Taft-Hartley Act and now faces the real election fight of his life. Has worked for federal aid to education and mine inspection.

This column lacks the space to include many able southern congressmen who in real fact do not come before the voters now, since their fate was decided in earlier primaries.

It also lacks space to include many other, high-rating legislators to whom credit has been paid in the past, among them are: Thurston Morton, Ky.; John Lodge and James Patterson, Conn.; Harold Hagen and Edward Devitt, Minn.; Willis Bradley, Calif.—All Republicans; and Chet Holifield, Calif.; Ray Madden, Ind.; Ed Hart, N. J.; John Carroll, Colo.; and George Miller, Calif., all Democrats.

Payne Says Public Is Tired Of Psychology

HOLLYWOOD, (AP)—What's an upbeat? It's something movie audiences want more of, claims John Payne.

"The public is tired of all the psychological stuff," expounded Payne, who is portraying his first cowboy in "El Paso."

"People like to see guts and courage and not everyone falling apart in the face of adversity. They want pictures on the upbeat instead of the down, so they can go out of the theater with a lift."

Payne said he's going to do something about it. "I have a sentimental story I'm writing and I'll produce it on my own next year." He cited his film, "Sentimental Journey," as something the public wants. Despite razzberries from the critics, it coined money.

"The public wants to laugh and cry," remarked Payne and I think I heard strains of "Hearts and Flowers" as he spoke.

More Hollywood sights and sounds: Joel McCrea (six-foot six in his boots) and Virginia Mayo (five-foot three) striding down a Warner's street. Robert Ryan with his face a lumpy mess—from makeup, not his fight scenes in "The Set Up"...

Elsa Lanchester adjusting the ribbons on her pantaloons for "Happy Times" and getting some whistles. Jane Wyman speechless with laryngitis and not just publicity stunting for her mute role in "Johnny Belinda"...

Audie Murphy and Stanley Clements staging a hot fistfight for "Bad Boy." Victor Mature having his huge frame draped with rare tapestry for "Samson and Delilah"...

McGrath Will Ask Action Against Party 'Deserters'

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Oct. 28, (AP)—Sen. J. Howard McGrath, Democratic national chairman, says he will ask for disciplinary action against national committee members who have "deserted" President Truman.

McGrath said last night he will make his recommendation to the national committee when it meets after the election.

"It will be my duty to report to the national committee the failure of certain members to support the party nominee," he said. "I shall recommend that those who have deserted the party not be recognized as members of the committee."

All Gideon Sessions Are Open To The Public

In the autumn of 1898, two weary traveling men arrived at a crowded hotel in Boscobel, Wisconsin. John H. Nicholson of Janesville, Wisconsin was asked to occupy a room with Samuel E. Hill from Beloit of the same state.

It was an unusual situation in a day that knew no housing or hostelry shortage. The self-consciousness of strangers was broken when one of the "drummers" noticed that the other was reading the Bible. Conversation revealed to the two that they had an ever greater bond than their common trade—they were Christians.

Reading the Bible together was a welcome inspiration and refreshing break from the wearing road routine. The thought came to both of them as they knelt praying that an organization of Christian traveling men could provide mutual recognition on the road and lead to many another experience such as they were having. And more important, it could be a means for united effort to win other traveling men to Christ.

On May 31, 1899, Nicholson and Hill were able to meet at Beaver Dam, Wisconsin. Here they planned a meeting to be held at the Janesville YMCA in July. William K. Knights of Wild Rose, Wisconsin, a third man who had become interested in the project met with them at the "Y" and the three organized the association.

On the suggestion of Knights, the new organization was named the "Gideons." The name was chosen, not because of the famous story of the pitchers and lanterns told in Judges, but because Gideon was a man willing to do what God wanted him to do regardless of his own ideas or of the results.

The association has since been expanded to include all business men as regular members and professional and ministers as associate members.

The Gideons chief aims are personal witnessing, soul winning and the distribution of Bibles to all who will receive them.

Since 1908, the organization has placed three million copies of the Bible in hotels, tourist courts and other public places, given ten million New Testaments with Psalms to members of the armed services, and distributed three million New Testaments with Psalms and Proverbs to youths between the ages of ten and 18.

Today members from Texas' 26 camps will convene here for their state convention. All their sessions are open—pointedly open. The greatest welcome Big Spring can give them is to join them.—ADRIAN VAUGHAN

Affairs Of The World — DeWitt MacKenzie

A Lot Of Questions Will Be Asked About Greece

By L. S. CHAKALES
For DeWitt MacKenzie
THERE ARE GOING TO BE A LOT OF questions asked when the 81st Congress gets a proposal to dip into the till for an additional $200 to $300 million for Greece.

The congressmen are going to ask why President Truman and Ambassador Grady reported opposite results in Greece within a few days of each other.

Ambassador Grady bobbed up with an announcement that the Greek army's progress against the Communist-led guerrillas was not "satisfactory."

This didn't jibe with President Truman's statement a few days previously. The President described the campaign against the Communists in Greece as a "conspicuous success."

IT NOW LOOKS AS THOUGH THE tough "Andartes" won't be cleaned out completely by next summer, as it was generally believed and hoped for by the highest American and Greek authorities in Athens.

These conflicts cannot be dismissed easily. But there is a partial explanation, which goes back to March 1947 when the Truman doctrine was pronounced.

The first American military men to appraise the Greek situation underestimated the guerrillas and overestimated the enthusiasm of Greek politicians and military leaders when the aid was announced.

The military men felt that with good luck the job might be accomplished with military aid money on hand, plus a meekly $150 million from the second Greek-Turkish Aid Bill.

These hopes didn't slump until the middle stages of the Grammos Mountain campaign in August. Following an outstanding success in clearing up Roumelii in central Greece, the operations chiefs allowed three weeks to knock out the central guerrillas concentration in Grammos.

INADEQUATELY TRAINED GREEK troops there ran headlong into fanatic resistance from well-equipped guerrillas defending amazingly well fortified positions. It took months for 60,000 Greek soldiers to root approximately 15,000 Guerrillas out of Grammos and the adjacent area.

That extra two months cost a lot of money. Now the Greek army has bumped into equally stubborn resistance in the Vitsi Mountains. This also is costing a lot of money.

As a result, funds which were supposed to last until June 30, 1949, are running very short. And the guerrillas haven't shown any signs of disintegrating.

This turn of events developed fully in September when the army moved into Vitsi. Now more money is needed. Apparently Truman made his statement from reports covering the period before those obtained by Grady.

Today And Tomorrow — Walter Lippmann

We Must Consider Effects Of Foreign Policy, Economy

(Copyright N. Y. Herald-Tribune, 1948)
After the election there will come into the foreground of discussion of foreign policy the condition of the budget and its impact on the American economy. The whole relationship between East and West will be greatly affected by the decisions which the Dewey administration and the Congress decide to take, or are compelled to take by the acts of the Soviet government.

Thus far American rearmament and foreign aid have been supported in this country by the surplus of a peacetime economy. Without controls and without rationing, but only by a high level of taxation and a considerable inflation, the American economy is providing about twenty billion dollars worth of goods and services over and above what the American people are themselves consuming.

This is just about the limit of what can be provided in a peacetime economy. American industries are, as the National City Bank's letter puts it, "in the aggregate turning out about all that the supply of labor and materials will permit."

Therefore, a substantial increase in the armaments program, additional sums for European military lend-lease, and for assistance to China, just mean a return to something like a wartime level of taxation and to the essential wartime controls over industry. Even now, with the present program and after the recent tax cut, the current budget is in fact almost certainly unbalanced.

There is a probably deficit of income as against outgo which approximates two billion dollars. Our own defense establishment will probably be asking several billions more, and foreign aid, even if there is some reduction in the Marshall plan amounts will, with military lend lease, be at least as big, probably bigger, than it is this year.

The diplomatic consequences of this condition of affairs should be considered very seriously indeed in every foreign office.

The Kremlin, first of all, will need to understand them. What the Russians need most of all to understand is that we are now at the limit of what the American economy can provide by way of arms and foreign aid under a peacetime economy. But the American economy could provide much more if it were on a war footing. Though the public and the Congress will not want to go on a war footing, they will be driven to it by an aggressive Soviet action in any part of the world or by provocation that appears to have no end.

So in deciding how they propose to deal with Dewey, the thing which Stalin and Molotov need most of all to weigh is whether they will push this country from a peace to a war economy. They do not have to fear that we shall use the atomic bomb in a preventive war; they can be confident that it will be maintained as a deterrent and as a reprisal against military aggression. But if they are the realists they like to think they are, they will fear anything which would push this country over the line between a peace and a war economy. For if that happened, there would be war. If it would be impossible for this country to accept the restraints and the sacrifice of a war economy except in time of war. A totalitarian state might remain on a war footing without waging war; a democracy like our own could not.

It is important also that other governments and peoples should understand the implications and the consequences of the situation here. If the tension becomes more and more acute during the coming year, if the likelihood of real war increases, our own preoccupation with military power will impair profoundly our interest and our faith in European recovery and reconstruction. The greater the danger of war, the harder it will be to argue that large sums should be invested in the rehabilitation of the continent, including western Germany.

What, for example, it will be said, is the sense of rebuilding the Ruhr just before the Red Army captures it? Will it not be better to expand American steel production? Nor will it be easy to contend with the argument of the American military leaders that the most profitable military investments abroad will be in those peripheral places that the American forces believe they need to think they can use.

These are, it seems to me, some of the real and controlling considerations, now obscured by Communist propaganda and Vishinsky's invective, by the ghost-written report and replies, and by the smart alec debaters who have been having a field day in Paris. When the election is over, when the budget is presented and Congress takes hold of it, the issue which will emerge is whether this country is to cross the Rubicon and enter a wartime economy.

J. E. Green Of Midland, Is Guest Speaker For Local Garden Club

J. E. Green of Midland, was the guest speaker when members of the Big Spring Garden Club met in the Episcopal Parish house for their regular monthly meeting.

Mr. Green chose as his subject, "Rose Culture." He said that roses require a neutral acid soil, stating that this soil could be made by placing one pound of sulphur per bush in the soil around the bush or by adding 1/4 pound of copper or iron sulphate. The speaker emphasized that the soil temperature for roses as well as for most other flowers should never be more than 70 degrees, adding that to help keep the temperature down, builders sand can be placed deep in the soil and a mulch such as leaves, grass clippings or burlap sacks can be placed around the

EAT PLENTY AND TAKE OFF UGLY FAT

Many people have reported amazing results with this home recipe. It's easy—no trouble at all and costs little. Just go to your drug store and get 4 ounces of liquid Barcozine. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Then take two tablespoonsful twice a day. That's all there is to it. If the very first bottle doesn't show the simple, easy way to lose belly fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves; if reducible pounds and inches of excess fat don't just seem to disappear almost like magic, from neck, chin, arms, back, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles, just return the empty bottle for your money back.

Lost 47 Pounds
"When I commenced to take Barcozine, I weighed 212 pounds. I now weigh 165. I lost 47 pounds on the first two bottles. I feel so much better after losing that weight. I think it is a wonderful medicine and I thank Barcozine."—Mrs. George Grege, Chalmers Courts 4, Apt. 1, Austin, Texas.

Lost 20 Pounds
"I lost 20 pounds taking four bottles of Barcozine and I feel fine."—H. M. Gales, 212 25th Street, Corpus Christi, Texas.

Buses And Trolleys Rolling, New York Walkout Is Broken

NEW YORK, Oct. 28. (AP)—Buses and trolleys rolled again today on seven systems carrying 3 1/2 million daily fares as left-wing leaders of a revolting union faction urged their followers to join a back-to-work movement. Company and CIO Union officials predicted normal services on the 321 privately-owned routes that had been halted Tuesday in the biggest surface transit strike in New York City's history. Union membership votes yesterday and last night brought an official end to the two-day walkout by members of the CIO Transport Workers Union.

WOMAN DIDN'T MISS HER WOODS BECAUSE TREES HID DIRTY WORK

CAMDEN, N. J., Oct. 28. (AP)—Mrs. Mary Ayars told the Camden County court she couldn't see her woods for the trees—trees that weren't there in this case. Mrs. Ayars, who lives at Berlin, N. J., appeared yesterday as chief prosecution witness against Andrew Ross, 32, charged with stealing a number of trees from a 28-acre woodland owned by Mrs. Ayars.

Texas Pipeline Company Plans New Construction

HOUSTON, Oct. 28. (AP)—The Texas Empire Pipeline Co. today announced plans for construction of crude oil lines from Patoka, Ill., to East Chicago, Ind., at a cost of $10 million. Included will be 183 miles of 18-inch pipe from Patoka to Wilmington, Ill. Completion of the projects will link Jal, N. M., with East Chicago through lines owned by Texas-Empire, Texas, Empire and Shell Pipeline Companies and Sinclair Refining Co. Normal capacity of the 18-inch line, with initial pump stations, will be 69,000 barrels per day. Installation of a booster station subsequently would increase capacity to 104,000 barrels per day. The new system will connect with a 22-inch line of Texas Pipeline Co. scheduled for completion next May between Wood River, Ill., to Patoka. A 22-inch line from Cushing, Okla., to Wood River, owned and operated on an undivided interest basis by Shell and Texas Pipeline Co.'s, is to be completed next winter.

Pipeline Corporation Proposes A Public Offering Of Stock

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28. (AP)—A proposed public offering of 265,000 shares of cumulative preferred and 265,000 shares of common stock was registered yesterday with the Securities and Exchange Commission by Transcontinental Gas Pipeline Corp. The Dallas firm also confirmed registration of 2,250,000 shares of common to present stockholders at a ratio of three shares of the new issue for one of the currently-outstanding common. Transcontinental will use the proceeds to help finance construction of a natural gas pipeline from the Texas-Louisiana area to New York City, parts of New Jersey and Eastern Pennsylvania.

LOVE RESEARCH IS ACADEMIC

CAMBRIDGE, England, Oct. 28. (AP)—Four Cambridge University anthropologists are going to spend a year in Buckhaven, Scotland, to find out how the Scots make love. Their survey of Buckhaven's social psychology, undertaken for the medical research council, will include a study of courtship habits. Their interest, it was said, will be strictly academic.

Two Are Dead In Air Crash

ST. PAUL, Minn., Oct. 28. (AP)—Three survivors of a Northwest Airlines cargo plane that crashed and burned last night, killing two other crew members, were hospitalized today at Edmonton, Alberta. NA identified the injured, all of Minneapolis, as co-pilot Harry W. Upham, 32, Radio Operator Nicholas Tangredi, 23, and Navigator Harold N. Learned, 32. Killed in the crash were Captain Ben Christian, 34, Minneapolis, and Flight Mechanic Henry Kryzak, 23, of St. Paul. Officials said they had no information as to the cause of the crash. The plane, a DC-4, cleared Wold-Chamberlain Field here Wednesday morning. It left the Edmonton air field shortly before 6 p. m. (CST) and the control tower there lost radio contact a few minutes later. Residents of the area said they saw the ship crash and burn, about 35 miles north of Edmonton. The plane was bound for Anchorage, Alaska.

Doyle Dunbar Is Back In States

Pfc. Doyle Dunbar is back in the states after nearly four months of tribulation as an overseas hospital patient. His mother, Mrs. Altie Dunbar, leaves Thursday evening for San Antonio to be with him until Sunday at the Brooke General Hospital at Fort Sam Houston. His father, V. P. Dunbar, flew to San Antonio Wednesday evening for a visit. Doyle's difficulties began with hospitalization in July. As he was being transferred from one hospital in a routine move, the ambulance wrecked, breaking both his legs, inflicting severe cuts and lacerations in several teeth. Subsequently, he weathered pneumonia, infection and finally another mix-up on hospital changes. He was placed on a train at Stuttgart with Frankfurt as destination, and somehow through a mix-up in orders, was not removed until the train was well beyond his destination. His trip home, however, was made in short order. He was flown from Stuttgart, Germany to San Antonio.

Third Party Hopes To Take Four States

American Worker Not Pay Happy

PALM SPRINGS, Calif., Oct. 28. (AP)—Are American workers to paycheck conscious? Too interested in the almighty dollar? Not at all, according to Dittman M. K. Smith, vice president of Opinion Research, Inc., Princeton, N. J. He told a labor relations conference of the Los Angeles Merchants and Manufacturers' Assn. yesterday that a national survey disclosed the paycheck ranked seventh among the worker's job interests. Ahead of it are such items as job satisfaction, interesting work, company interest in him, a chance to advance, good working conditions and congenial surroundings.

Three Pony Backs, Goliath Make Up Austin Backfield

Panther Line Boasts Size

Three pony backs and a goliath by the name of Fred Edens make up the backfield of the El Paso Austin high school football team, which plays the Big Spring Steers in a non-conference game here Friday night.

Edens weighs 208 pounds. He rams the line for the Panthers, blocks to satisfaction and boots field goals and points after touchdown. In fact, he's booted 12 PAT's this fall.

As company in the Austin secondary, he'll have Rosendo Gutierrez, who weighs 138 pounds; Bill Walsh, also 138; and Walter Baker, a 145-pound speedster.

Walsh is the team's leading scorer with 36 points. Edens has scored two touchdowns in addition to his 13 extra points.

Outside of the guards, Coach Red Harris' line is no bigger than the Steers. However, the difference is noticeable there. Royal Gorman, one of the Austin guards, pushes the scales registering to 196 pounds while his running mate, Jim Angeles, does 181 pounds.

Doug Hildebrand and Barry Weber, the two El Paso tackles, weigh 174 and 141, respectively, while the ends, Rudy Burrolo and Rene Rossa, come in at 146 and 151, respectively. Burrolo was injured several weeks ago and may see limited action Friday.

Reserves who may see lots of action for Austin are Bob Cowan, 190, a guard; Dick DeBryn, 196, tackle; Fred Villalba, 221, a tackle; and Paul Cordova, 193, tackle.

The Bovines are in fair shape for the contest but Stockton is having to spread his material quite thin.

Chop Van Pelt, the locals' candidate for an All-District post, has been moved back into the line from the backfield. Too, he's been bothered by a charley horse ever since the Brownfield game and it will handicap him, to an extent.

The same goes for Aubrey Armstrong, the diminutive Steer end, who has been a '90 minute' man for the Bovines.

It appears now that the Big Spring backfield will be composed of Jimmy Jennings, Arliss Davis, Donnie Carter and Ken Currie.

'ON THE LINE' HCJC Will Stage Dance And Carnival

Howard County Junior College students stage their carnival and dance at 7:30 p. m. today amidst a Halloween atmosphere.

The affair is to be held in the gymnasium, located "on the line" at the bombardier school area. Proceeds from the social will go toward financing the traditional sophomore-freshman prom.

HCJC student leaders suggested that visitors to the Howard County Fair might wish to take in the HCJC carnival also.

Lined up for the affair are a House of Horrors, Hollywood Follies, Seven Wonders of the World, Fortune Telling, party games, novelties, Rope, El Toro and Daris, bingo, concessions, etc. Faculty members are to help operate most of the divisions, including E. C. Dodd, president, who is to serve as a Barker, and M. J. Fields, dean, the official "bouncer".

Others assisting are J. H. Jones, Maynard Shields, B. M. Keese, Mrs. Vada Bain Hall, Harold Davis, J. A. Jolly, Fred H. Tompkins, and Margaret Cowan.

Most Southwest Teams Plagued By Injuries

The trainer is the twelfth man on Southwest Conference football teams.

He is in great demand at Texas, Arkansas, Texas A&M and Southern Methodist University. All of these were hit by injuries to key personnel.

Texas Christian, Baylor and Rice figure they can get along without the extra help this week. These teams escaped serious injuries to players.

Arkansas Tuesday counted out its keystone guard Theron Roberts and End Jim Cox. Both received pre-season injuries and Coach John Barnhill said Roberts would not play any this season. The Razorback team captain will be around for service next year.

Cox reinjured a knee Monday in his first contact work since the season started. Barnhill said he definitely be out for the year.

Texas Coach Blair Cherry shifted George McCall from right to left end to add strength to this injury riddled position.

Regular Left End Lewis Holder still favors an injured foot and reserve wingmen at this spot, Ben Procter and Ray Stone, are out of action.

Utility Back Frank Guess and Reserve Halfback Jimmy Lowrey are ailing Longhorns.

Carl Wallace, the best defensive end on the Southern Methodist eleven, pulled a muscle above the knee on his left leg in the Santa Clara game last week. He limped badly yesterday and Coach Matty Bell said it was uncertain whether he would be able to play against Texas this week.

First string Guard Browne Lewis is still unable to run because of a leg injury that has kept him sidelined three weeks.

Texas A&M's usually list reached record proportions Monday. The ailing are:

John Christensen, starting defensive halfback, out for the season with a fractured vertebrae and kidney injury.

Halfback Ralph Daniel, slight concussion. It has not yet been determined whether he will be able to play against Arkansas.

Fullback Bobby Goff, injured knee.

Guard Odell Staustenberg, bad ankle.

End Wray Whitaker, out with a head injury for a week, may get to see action.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With TOMMY HART

One hears little from the sports mawwam these days but discussions on the SMU-Texas football game, which comes off in Austin this weekend. Here are a few tips we've intercepted, which we pass along to you for what they're worth:

Blair Cherry, the Texas mentor, is so worried about the struggle he has enlisted the help of Dana X. Bible, the former TU mentor. Bible has been busy all week giving pointers on how to cope with the bewildering SMU offense.

The Mustangs are the boys who are showing more fire and spirit in their work outs this week than at any time this season. They seem to think they are the one to avenge the outcome of last year's game, when they finished in front by one point only to run into the story that the better team lost.

Cherry is more than satisfied with Paul Campbell, his new quarterback, and expects him really to come into his own against the Ponies. Doak Walker, the SMU All-American, continues to favor that bad ankle and one good lick will send him to the sidelines Saturday.

If Texas is able to turn the trick at the expense of the Ponies, the man who may be most responsible is Perry Samuels, who has come a long, long way since enrolling at the Austin school.

Samuels may be too quick for the Red and Blue.

FANNIN PLANS TO ENROLL AT SAJC IN SPRING

James Fannin, ace miller of the Big Spring high school track team last spring, has returned from Portales, N. M., to await the opening of the spring term at San Angelo junior college. James wants to go to SAJC just long enough to get enough credits to enroll in a senior college.

LEES BACK IN ACTION ONLY SHORT WHILE

B. B. Lees, the former Big Spring athlete, is in drydock again at Eastern New Mexico college, Portales.

Lees, a Greyhound back, suffered a battered lip in a game with Panhandle A&M several weeks ago and didn't suit out again until last Saturday night against St. Michael's. He was rolled under in that one and limped off the field with a bad leg.

Noe Madison, another Big Springer injured in the first game with Portales, also is having his problems. He returned to the field of play Saturday and promptly re-injured his foot again.

LOCAL PRODUCT PLAYS GREAT GAME FOR SUL ROSS

Hal Battle, who played on the great 1940 Big Spring high school team, performed brilliantly in the Sul-Ross-University of Corpus Christi game last weekend, which the Lobos won, 21-14.

According to reports, Hal made more tackles than any other man on the field. He has another season of eligibility, may work toward his master's degree before seeking a coaching career.

ODESSA SCRIBE MISSES SIGNATURE OF STATEMENT

Tom Smith, Odessa's new sports scribe, wandered way off base in a recent article, which is by no means the first time he has had his foot in his mouth.

Smith wrote in his "Pressbox Patter" earlier this week that Odessa lost $886 in the game with Big Spring because "each school was required to pay $688 for the various costs."

In any District 3AA game, the participating schools split the gate after expenses have been deducted. The turnout here was around 5,000 paying customers and expenses were no greater than ordinary.

In reality, the advance sale of tickets was much greater in Odessa than it was in Big Spring (due no doubt to the station of the two teams) and part of the income accepted there had to be returned here, to make everything come out right.

Each team made about $2,000 on the deal, after expenses had been deducted.

ALVIN DARK

Dark Is Named Frosh Standout Of 1948 Season

NEW YORK, Oct. 28. (AP)—Alvin Dark, brilliant young shortstop of the Boston Braves, was voted today the national League rookie of the year.

It was a virtual landslide for the 25-year-old native of Lake Charles, La., in a nation-wide poll conducted by the Associated Press. Dark romped in as the No. 1 freshman of 1948 with 160 out of a possible 220 votes.

Only four other players received consideration from the baseball experts. Richie Ashburn, flashy Philadelphia outfielder, was a poor second with 57 votes. Pitcher Bob Roberts and flycatcher Johnny Blatnik, teammates of Ashburn, each got one vote as did outfielder Hank Sauer of the Cincinnati Reds.

Dark gained the distinction by his fine batting, his skill in the field, his speed and his colorful all-around play. In 137 games, the former all-around athlete at Louisiana State University batted .322 to finish third among the regulars.

It was the second time in his brief career that Dark has been acclaimed as the No. 1 freshman of his league. Signed by the Braves in the summer of 1946 for a reported $40,000 bonus figure, Dark was sent to the Milwaukee club of the American Association the following year. Al played in 15 games for the Braves in '46, but that did not disqualify him for rookie honors in '48.

The 5-11, 185-pound youngster, in his first full season in professional baseball, batted .303 for the Braves, led the circuit in doubles and total base hits, and was hailed as the top AA rookie.

When Dark reported to the Braves in Bradenton, Fla., last spring, he immediately caught the eye of Manager Billy Southworth, and was informed the shortstop berth was his if he could hold it.

The responsibility proved too much for the kid at first. "His hitting fell off and his fielding suffered, as a result. Two weeks after the opening of the regular campaign, the ex-Marine found himself on the bench, with Sissy Sisti taking over the regular shortstop duties.

An injury to Sisti gave Dark another chance. Although Sisti soon recovered, Dark never again gave him another opportunity to return to the shortstop post. Alvin looked like a different ball player. Turned considerably by Eddie Stanley, his keystone partner, Dark soon began to show noticeable improvement. He regained his confidence almost overnight. His hitting improved to such an extent that before long he was pacing his teammates at bat. In the field, he stepped out there with the assurance of a veteran. An exceptionally fast man, Dark was a constant scourge to the pitchers on the basepaths.

KOLWE IN GROUP

Edict Frees Bill Serena Nine Others From Detroit

DETROIT, Oct. 28. (AP)—The Detroit Tigers were back in baseball's "doghouse" today, stripped of 10 minor league players in a ruling by Commissioner A. B. (Happy) Chandler.

Specifically, Chandler's decree makes the 10 players free agents and punishes Detroit for the manner in which the players were handled—"contrary to baseball law and procedure."

Chandler's decision affects nobody now with Detroit, but takes away from the Tigers a pitching prospect, Ossie Kolwe, who would have gone to Detroit's Lakeland, Fla., training camp next spring.

Kolwe, who played with Durham, N. C., in 1948, was assigned to the Detroit club at the end of the season.

None of the other players the Tigers are accused of mishandling with improper agreements was considered ready for big league trails. Infielder Bill Serena of Buffalo, Detroit's international league farm, Pitcher Paul Ehrlich, who played with Dallas in 1948.

Pitchers Bill MacDonald and Jerry Ahrens, (catcher Cliff Dooley and outfielder Zeke Wilemon) of the Flint club in the Class A Central League.

Infielder Jimmy Moran of Williamsport in the Eastern League. Outfielder Don Meyers and Catcher Clem Cois, of the Little Rock club in the Southern Association.

General Manager Billy Evans of the Detroit club issued a statement in which he disclaimed knowledge that the players were handled in a manner contrary to baseball law.

"The decision of Commissioner Chandler comes as a complete surprise. The Detroit club accepts it as final, but we thoroughly disagree with it," Evans said.

Most Prep Districts Concentrate On Family Scraps This Weekend

By the Associated Press

Fifty-one games bringing important conference play to every district make up a crowded schedule for this week-end in Texas schoolboy football.

Only seven of the contests on the City Conference and Class AA cards are nonconference affairs.

Only one of the state's undefeated, untied teams appears in danger of taking a tumble. That one is Henderson which goes up against a rested Marshall eleven that at full strength is tough for anybody to handle.

Sweetwater might have more than a good work-out against Abilene but should win.

The other six unbeaten, untied outfits appear destined to rumble on. Fort Arthur plays Orange, Waco meets Corsicana; Alice takes on Harlingen, Milby (Houston) plays Reagan (Houston), Amarillo meets Lubbock and Arlington Heights (Fort Worth) plays Paschal (Fort Worth).

Three important games stand out in the City Conference race. North Dallas and Adamson get together in a battle of unbeaten clubs in District 1. Arlington Heights' opponent in the feature game of District 2—Paschal—is undefeated in conference play. John Reagan carries in an unbeaten conference record into its game with Milby in District 3.

In Class AA, districts matching undefeated teams in conference play are:

District 2 — Wichita Falls vs Quanah

District 5 — Greenville vs Sherman

District 7 — Weatherford vs Breckenridge

District 9 — Waco vs Corsicana

District 10 — Corsico vs Nacogdoches

The week's schedule by districts (conference games except where indicated otherwise):

CITY CONFERENCE 1—Thursday: Adamson (Dallas)

vs North Dallas: Friday: Woodrow Wilson (Dallas) vs Crozier Tech (Dallas); Saturday: Forest (Dallas) vs Sunset (Dallas).

2—Thursday: Amon Carter-Riverside (Fort Worth) vs North Side (Fort Worth); Friday: Paschal (Fort Worth) vs Arlington Heights (Fort Worth); Saturday: Poly (Fort Worth) vs Arlington Heights (Fort Worth).

3—Thursday: Reagan (Houston) vs Milby (Houston); Friday: Jeff Davis (Houston) vs Lamar (Houston); Saturday: Sam Houston (Houston) vs Kirwin (Galveston) (nonconference); Saturday: Austin (Houston) vs San Jacinto (Houston).

4—Friday: Brackenridge (San Antonio) vs San Antonio Tech, Lanier (San Antonio) vs Edison (San Antonio) (nonconference); St. Anthony (Beaumont) at Alamo Heights (San Antonio) (nonconference); Saturday: Burbenk (San Antonio) vs Jefferson (San Antonio).

CLASS AA 1—Friday: Amarillo at Lubbock, Borger at Plainview, Pampa at Brownfield.

2—Friday: Vernon at Childress, Quatt at Wichita Falls, Electra at Graham.

3—Friday: San Angelo at Midland, Sweetwater at Abilene, Austin (El Paso) at Big Spring (nonconference).

4—Thursday: Cathedral (El Paso) at Yuleta (nonconference); Friday: Bowie (El Paso) vs El Paso High.

5—Friday: Greenville at Sherman, Paris at Busham, Okmidge, Okla., at Denton (nonconference).

6—Friday: Grand Prairie at Highland Park (Dallas), Denton at McElmore.

7—Friday: Brownwood at Cisco, Weatherford at Breckenridge.

8—Friday: Marshall at Henderson, Edson at Gladewater.

9—Friday: Cleburne at Temple, Waco at Corsicana, Hillsboro at Bonham.

10—Friday: Corsico at Nacogdoches, Palsation at Lublin, Jacksonville at Bryan.

11—Friday: Fort Neches at South Park (Galveston), Orange at Fort Arthur.

12—Friday: Galveston at Texas City, Pasadena at Baytown, Freeport at Galena Park.

13—Friday: Eubanks at Kerrville, Victoria at Lamesa, Beaumont at Corpus Christi (nonconference).

14—Friday: Edinburg at Edinburg, Alice at Harlingen, Corpus Christi College-Academy at Brownsville (nonconference).

Nevada Combine Aims For New Aerial Marks

NEW YORK, Oct. 28. (AP)—A new college football battery is threatening to erase the all-time sky-writing records set last year by Mississippi's Chaffie Conery and Barney Poole.

The present duo belongs to unbeaten, tied Nevada. The pitcher is Stan Heath, the nation's top passer and overall yard-gainer. The catcher is his end, Scott Beasley.

Latest figures compiled by the National Collegiate Athletic Bureau show that Beasley has caught 23 passes in five games for a total of 294 yards.

This, the Bureau says, makes the sure-fingered Nevada the No. 1 pass receiver in the nation.

Beasley replaced John O'Quinn of Wake Forest for the fifth change in that particular specialty in as many weeks. O'Quinn now has 20 successful catches for 254 yards to shade Tennessee's Ed Powell, who was the pass setter a couple of weeks ago.

Beasley's whip-armed partner, Heath, has 65 pass completions out of 138 attempts for a total gain of 1,313 yards.

Conery set an all-time college high with 133 pass completions out of 238 tries. Poole snagged 52 of those for 513 yards and eight touchdowns.

The best average for punt returns belongs to Jack Sims, Baylor, with 25.7 yards a try.

Other leaders include: Pass receiving: Bailey, TCU, seventh, 18 for 196 yards.

Kickoff returns: Goode, Texas A&M, seventh, 9 for 264 yards; Reynolds, TCU, eighth, 8 for 223; Miller, Reynolds, Texas Tech, 7 for 218.

or is scheduled there tonight, and the big one tomorrow night will start with an automobile parade from the university to downtown Austin and back.

The Longhorn band will then lead a torchlight parade around the campus and to the main building for a cheer session and speeches by Quarterback Paul Campbell, Co-Captains Tom Landry and Dick Harris, the coaches and university officials.

Sports Editor Wilbur Evans of the Austin American said the war cry for Texas Saturday probably should be "Remember 1940!" He referred to the psychological wrath of an underdog Texas eleven which smacked a mighty Texas A&M team that had not met defeat in 19 starts.

Second Marriage Of Tobacco Heiress Ends In A Divorce

RENO, Nev., Oct. 28. (AP)—Doris Duke, heiress to a tobacco fortune which has made her one of the world's wealthiest women, got a quick divorce yesterday from her second husband, Porfirio Rubirosa, Dominican Republic diplomat.

District Judge William McKnight gave her the decree on grounds of extreme mental cruelty, shortly after the filing of the suit.

The 35-year-old Miss Duke, who won restoration of her maiden name, returned here Oct. 24, it was disclosed. She has maintained a home here since she became a resident in 1944 to divorce her first husband, James H. R. Cromwell, whom she married in 1935.

MARRIED 1947

She and Rubirosa, 40, were married at Paris Sept. 1, 1947. No property rights were involved in the action.

"Little things kept building up and it was just one of those things that didn't work out," she told interviewers at her home after the hearing. She and Rubirosa, she added, are still "quite friendly."

Asked whether she would marry again in view of the failure of her two marriages, she answered: "I hope I do not have another failure."

"That is an unfair question and an unfair answer," interjected a guest of Miss Duke's who refused to identify himself and who directed the interview.

"Are you still the richest girl in the world?" Miss Duke was asked. "No, no, don't you think that's corny—that's something you boys have made up?" she remonstrated.

"She doesn't know her own status," spoke up the unidentified guest.

Heiress to the James B. Duke fortune, Miss Duke inherited a trust fund valued at more than $30 million at her father's death, as well as a trusteeship of the Duke endowment, established as a gift of $40 million.

Final Rites Held For W. O. Woody

STANTON, Oct. 27.—Final tributes were paid here Saturday to memory of Pvt. William Orville Woody, 28, former Stanton resident and World War II veteran who was killed overseas during the war.

Eilmore Johnson, Church of Christ minister, officiated and the ashes were interred in Evergreen cemetery with Eberley Funeral home in charge.

Pvt. Woody was born Jan. 27, 1919 and died Dec. 29, 1945 in a Japanese prison camp. He was among those captured with the fall of Corregidor.

Survivors include the parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Woody of Tahoka; a brother, R. A. Woody, Tahoka; two sisters, Mrs. D. Gwyn and Catherine Woody, San Antonio; his grandmother, Mrs. Stella Strickland, Arizona; and several aunts and uncles, including Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Woody, Stanton.

Thurmond Is On Way For Talk At Fort Worth In Campaign

TEXARKANA, Oct. 28. (AP)—Renewal of the Democratic Party as "a bulwark against centralization of power in government" was called for by States Rights Presidential Candidate J. Strom Thurmond in a speech here last night.

Today his campaign was to take him through North Texas to Fort Worth for a night speech.

Thurmond, South Carolina's governor, spoke at a rally of supporters from Arkansas, Louisiana and Texas in this Texas-Arkansas border city. His speech was broadcast.

"If America is to remain strong, it must have a two-party system," he said. "But if that system is to mean anything, we must have at least one party which upholds the sovereignty of states and local self-government."

Stops scheduled on Thurmond's route to Fort Worth today were Marine Corps.

Clarksville, Paris, Bonham, Sherman, Gainesville, and Denton.

Tomorrow he is to appear at Cleburne, Hillsboro, Waco, Temple, and Georgetown, then broadcast at 8:30 o'clock from the State House of Representatives in Austin.

As in previous addresses, the candidate centered much of his attack last night against the so-called civil rights program, on the FEPC proposal. He declared it to be a "usurpation of the rights of the business man and of his employees."

Given Seven Years On Forgery Counts

ABILENE, Oct. 28. (AP)—Edward R. Lumpkin, Jr., who pleaded guilty to charges of forgery and false entries, was sentenced in 42nd District Court here yesterday to seven years in the penitentiary.

Lumpkin pleaded guilty to 29 indictments charging forgery of endorsements on 15 checks and collection of about $38,000, and to 13 charges of making false entries in the account books of the Grisham Hunter Corp.

SHOVEL and HOE

A Garden Column by Virginia Scott. Presented by the Big Spring Garden Club.

Evergreens can be planted almost anywhere, from now until hard freezes begin. It is not so much the date of planting to be considered as the general conditions and planting methods. However, in cold sections, and where there is a lot of freezing and thawing of the ground, it is well to get the evergreens established early in the fall.

Evergreens will grow in many kinds of soil. In general, they thrive well in loose, sandy loam that has good drainage. Heavy, clay soil can be lightened with sand or peat moss. Some of the finest specimens we have ever seen are growing in deep, woody soil. Evergreens will not stand wet, soggy conditions. Nor will they grow in sub-soil left from digging treatments.

PLANTING SUGGESTIONS

If possible, plant evergreens as soon as you receive them. They can be kept a few days if you do not let the balls of dirt dry out. If you have to keep them for any length of time, they should be heeled into the soil in a well protected location until they can be planted. Keep moist.

Leave limbs tied up until after planting. Be sure to cut strings on burlap before filling holes. Tamp loose dirt firmly in planting. When hole is two thirds full, flood with water and allow to settle a few minutes, then finish filling to ground level. In many cases the burlap can be removed but, usually, it is folded back and left in the planting.

Tall evergreens, like Austrian Pine and Canadian Hemlock, are used as lawn or garden specimens, heavy backgrounds and screens. Medium height varieties, like Spiny Greek Juniper and Cannarti Juniper, are good in foundation plantings. Irish Juniper and Pyramidal Arborvitae grow into narrow pyramidal shape and are used for entrance plantings, in the foundation, and as garden accents.

The round evergreens, like Mugho Pine and Globe Arborvitae, can be used in foundation plantings under windows, beside steps of small houses, and in corners of walks and drives. The half erect plants, such as Pfitzer Juniper, are good in foundation and terrace plantings. The creeping varieties are suitable for rock gardens and in front of taller plant material.

The Junipers are very adaptable to soil and climate. They can stand cold winters and hot, dry summers. Arborvitae, as a rule, are hardy too, but need more moisture than Junipers for best results. We believe there can hardly be found better plants for general landscape use than Pfitzer and Cannarti Junipers, and Austrian Pine.

Kindness Pays Off For Barber

CAMDEN, N. J., Oct. 28. (AP)—An act of kindness 44 years ago paid off for a barber Wednesday in the form of a restaurant and the bulk of an estate valued at more than $20,000.

Filing of the will of Charles Marion, Camden cafe owner and sportsman, disclosed Tuesday he had left the restaurant and estate to "my good friend through life," Pasquale (Pat) Iarossi.

Friends said Iarossi gave Marion a home when he arrived in Camden 44 years ago from his native Chicago. Marion never forgot the generosity of his barber friend even after becoming one of southern New Jersey's most successful cafe owners.

Marion, who died at the age of 82 last week, reportedly turned down an offer of $30,000 for the restaurant in Camden. The restaurant, closed since Marion's death, was reported Tuesday.

Engineer Head To Back Dewey

CLEVELAND, Oct. 28. (AP)—Chief Alvah Johnston of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers wants to see Gov. Thomas E. Dewey in the White House.

Timing his endorsement to coincide with Dewey's visit to Cleveland last night, the white-haired union chief sat on the stage as the GOP presidential nominee spoke. And he released a statement that said:

"The constructive campaign which Gov. Dewey has waged, in which he has been mindful of the crying need for national unity, makes him the man of the fateful hour for America."

There are around 80,000 members in Johnston's union. It was not the first time Johnston approved Dewey. In 1944 he backed him against President Roosevelt. But his move contrasted with the position of A. F. Whitney, president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen.

Both Johnston and Whitney, who led a short-lived railroad strike in 1946, took a severe tongue lashing from President Truman. Whitney finally returned to the Democratic fold.

Wee Cancer Victim Will Celebrate Early Birthday

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 28. (AP)—Little Joan Fallon is going to have a birthday party on Saturday with the chocolate cake and four pink candles she requested.

Joan won't be four until Nov. 28 but physicians have told the child's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Fallon, Joan won't live that long.

The little girl was an apparently robust youngster until last July.

After she complained of a pain in her stomach, her parents took her to a doctor who told them the child has cancer. An operation was performed last August, but doctors said Joan had only three months to live.

"We hope the party will bring a little life to her," Mrs. Fallon said. "She isn't interested in anything anymore, but she keeps asking about her birthday and we hope this will bring her some happiness."

Joan's present (a secret until Saturday) will be red—her favorite color, Mrs. Fallon said.

Want To Join Our Club?

Newcomers to our town are puzzled when they hear talk of "The Barbecue Club." Want to know who can join, and what the purpose is.

Well, the answer is: any one can join who's neighborly inclined. The purpose is simply to enjoy good food, good beer and ale, good conversation—all towards getting to know one another better.

Every other Saturday, at one farm or another, the pit is dug, and the fire started. And by sundown, neighbors from miles around have come together—the women contributing cakes, pies, and coffee, the men contributing the meat for barbecuing, and the beer or ale.

From where I sit, it's this simple wholesome side of country life in America—its spirit of good-fellowship—that makes for tolerance and better understanding between neighbors.

As I say, Neighbor, any one can join up! So come along a week from this Saturday.

FLEES TAXI IN SAN ANTONIO

Immigration Officials Ponder Status Of Russian Citizen

SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 28. (AP)—Immigration officials said they might reach a decision late today on the status of Mathieu Tolstoy, Russian citizen who leaped from a taxicab while being taken to a hotel here pending study of his temporary visa.

Tolstoy was taken into custody by police he had called himself. He was held in the Bexar County jail.

"We are not satisfied with Tolstoy's statement of intentions upon entry into the United States," William A. Whalen, district director of the Bureau of Immigration and Naturalization, said last night.

"It looks like Tolstoy wants to stay in this country permanently," he said.

Tolstoy arrived on an American Airlines plane from Mexico City late Tuesday night. Mexican authorities had cleared his visa, but U. S. immigration men questioned it.

In Mexico City, the U. S. Embassy said last night it issued Tolstoy a temporary visa last January.

Tolstoy appeared before an immigration bureau review board yesterday, but no information was released about the proceedings. Officials would not grant an interview with the Russian and would not allow pictures to be made of him.

When Tolstoy arrived at the airport here, immigration officers put him in a cab with Al Garcia, airlines agent, to be taken to a hotel. When the cab stopped at a traffic light in downtown San Antonio, Tolstoy hopped out and dashed into a cafe.

Garcia told Tolstoy "I guess I'll have to call police" when he and the cab driver were unable to talk the Russian into getting back into the cab. But Tolstoy ran to a telephone and put in his own call for officers.

He said later he had become frightened when Garcia told him he would have to appear before the review board. He said he was also afraid of Garcia.

Louisiana GOP Ready To Blitz State Votes

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 28. (AP)—Louisiana Republicans, spurred by Democratic dissension, have unleashed a political blitz to capture the state's voters.

The all-out campaign is the result of GOP belief that its first chance for victory since reconstruction days is now in sight.

National Committeeman John E. Jackson of New Orleans said in an interview that the state strategy is based on four things:

"The States' Rights split in the National Democratic Party;

"Our belief that Truman will run stronger in Louisiana than the States' Righters think he will;

"The few votes Wallace will pull from the Democrats, and

"Sentiment against the long political dynasty in Louisiana."

The Republicans are throwing their weight in three races.

Against Russell Long, Democratic senatorial nominee and nephew of Gov. Earl K. Long, they have placed Clem S. Clarke, independent oil operator of Shreveport.

J. Paul Dube, sugar, rice, cattle and oil man, is contesting for the third congressional district seat against Democratic State Sen. Edwin E. Willis, plantation owner and attorney.

Their third candidate is Gov. Thomas E. Dewey. "It is not beyond the realm of possibility" that Dewey will win the state's 10 presidential electoral votes, Jackson said.

Abundant Honey Supply Reported For This Year

Although the main honey flow for the year has about stopped, southwest menu planners can depend on an abundant supply for use during the winter months ahead.

According to the Semi-Monthly Honey Report of U. S. Department of Agriculture's Production and Marketing Administration, wholesalers and retailers report rather large holdings of the 1947 crop, plus this season's satisfactory yield.

While production has increased, price has decreased, making honey a good buy for fall and winter meals.

Budget-Wise Homemakers Buy Quality Eggs And Keep Them In Refrigerator

Budget-wise homemakers, after they've bought quality eggs, make sure they keep that quality by placing them in their own refrigerator as quickly as possible and keeping them there until they're used.

They should not be left in a hot car during a prolonged shopping tour, or on the kitchen table while other groceries are being sorted and put away.

They should be stored in a clean and cold refrigerator immediately, preferably around 45 degrees in the compartment where eggs are kept, and covered to prevent their losing moisture and absorbing flavors from other foods. Only as many eggs as are needed for preparing a meal should be taken from the refrigerator.

Best guide to follow in buying good eggs is to buy those carrying a grade label, reading the information on the label or on the carton itself, says Production and Marketing Administration, U. S. Department of Agriculture. Eggs officially graded according to U. S. Standards carry information that tells the quality of grade. AA, A, B or C... size of the eggs based on weight per dozen, and the date of grading.

Size and interior quality are independent of each other, so the grade label information on officially graded eggs may read: U. S. Grade A, Extra Large... U. S. Grade A, Medium... U. S. Grade B, Large... U. S. Grade A, Large... U. S. Grade AA, Large... U. S. combination of terms that describe quality and defines weight per dozen.

Eggs not graded by an officially licensed grader, under either Federal or Federal-State programs, cannot carry the letters "U. S." before the grade designation on the label.

Some states use their own grades and grading programs, usually similar to the Federal programs. So homemakers should become familiar with their state laws when buying eggs carrying a state label.

Eggs in bulk displays, or those in cartons containing such terms as "selected" or "best" or "fresh country eggs" or "infertile white" are no assurance of quality.

Homemakers need the following facts to check on size of eggs. According to U. S. weight classes, a dozen "Extra Large" eggs must weigh at least 27 ounces without the carton, which usually weighs about two ounces. "Large" eggs must weigh at least 24 ounces; "Medium" 21; and "Small" 18. Eggs falling into these weight classes must be uniform in size, meaning no "Extra Large" shall weigh less than 2 1/4 ounces; "Large," no less than 1 1/2 ounces; "Medium," no less than 1 3/8 ounces; and "Small" no less than 1 1/8 ounces. With many pullets now rearing the laying stage, the abundance of small eggs this fall may make them a good buy.

Homemakers can check on the quality of eggs they buy by breaking out one onto a flat saucer or plate and noting these points. An egg of AA or A quality has a large proportion of firm white, standing up well around the yolk, which is round and outstanding. They are especially desirable for poaching, frying and cooking in the shell.

Lower quality eggs, B and C grades, have a smaller proportion of thick white, or no thick white at all. When broken out, the egg white spreads out thinly covering a large area. The yolk is somewhat flattened and may break easily. They are just as satisfactory as the higher grades for baking, scrambling, and for making sauces and salad dressing. In fact, they may be available at a price that makes them a very good choice for the purposes.

Food value is not affected by the differences in quality between eggs of the different grades. However, differences in quality affect the price and also determine the uses made of them.

X-RAY MICROSCOPE—Dr. Paul H. Kirkpatrick uses eyepiece to focus the X-ray microscope he developed at Stanford University, Palo Alto, Calif. The eyepiece is replaced by film in operation. Thus far, magnification has reached far more than that of the optical microscope. The new device also permits study of living subjects. This is in contrast to the electronic microscope in which objects to be studied must be placed in a vacuum after they are dead. The X-rays are focused by dime-size metallic mirrors.

Simpler Rent-Increase Petition May Be Employed By Landlords

Liberalized provisions of the law for rent adjustments were cited in a statement issued by Don Seale, area rent director, who said the local office is willing to give any rent-raise petitions prompt consideration. Said Seale:

"Of special importance in the communities of the Big Spring rental area is the short-form substantial hardship petition now authorized for use by owners of four dwelling units or fewer.

"This new form provides a streamlined approach to a possible rent increase where higher taxes and fuel prices have been experienced. A landlord saves time and trouble in using the simplified form.

"Moreover, there are 12 other grounds in the law for individual increases. Landlords are advised to consult the rent office about any one of these grounds."

In order to qualify for a hardship increase using the new short form, Seale continued, the landlord must show that his expenses for the current year have increased over a prior base period because of higher tax, fuel, utility or insurance costs and that these increases have not been offset by higher rents.

The rent director pointed out that in filing a short term petition the landlord must prove the expense figures listed by him on the form by attaching either receipted bills or signed statements from tax collectors, fuel dealers, utility companies or insurance agents.

"A landlord may use the new short hardship form if every one of six conditions apply in his case," Seale said. The six conditions are:

"(1) If you own four or less rental dwelling units;

"(2) If you want to base your petitution only on increased costs for taxes, fuel, utilities, and insurance;

"(3) If no part of the building for which you want to a rent increase is used for commercial purposes;

"(4) If the services, furnishings, furniture, and equipment provided are not substantially less than those provided on the date determining the maximum rent, except where there has been a reduction in the maximum rent by the Area Rent Office for a decrease in such items;

"(5) If you do not have any seasonal or other varying rents for the building; and

"(6) If you do not have any income from the operation of the building other than rents paid by the tenants.

"If a landlord's case does not meet all these six conditions we advise him to use the previous hardship petition form, and the rent office gives him all possible help in filling it out."

Town Wonders What To Do With Money

PERRYOPOLIS, Pa., Oct. 28. (AP)—The question of how to spend the $1 1/2 million left this community of 1,500 was still a matter for open discussion Wednesday—with a new sewer system, street lights and a swimming pool at the top of the list.

Four hundred residents gathered in town meeting Tuesday in an effort to decide how they will spend the money left Perryopolis by the late Mrs. Mary Fuller Frazier, 82-year-old widow of a Philadelphia hotel executive.

Mrs. Frazier in her will left the money to "the town of Perryopolis" where she lived as a girl. The Philadelphia woman died last August, leaving no known relatives.

Because of Mrs. Frazier's designation of Perryopolis as a "town," it was pointed out at last night's meeting that the village may have to be incorporated into a town before it can receive the money.

Residents—after learning of their windfall—formed a committee to investigate possibilities on how the money will be used. The committee's first move last night was to bring four out-of-town residents to the meeting.

These four made a number of suggestions—including a sewer system, street lights and a swimming pool.

Geological Meet Expected To Draw 400 To Midland

MIDLAND, Oct. 28.—Preliminary reports indicate there will be a registration of around 400 persons for the West Texas Geological Society's 1948 Fall Conference to be held October 29-31, inclusive.

Three trips in the Big Bend area of Texas will be conducted by the group. Green Valley and Paradise Valley will be visited on October 29, Solitario on October 30, and the Davis and Barilla mountains on October 31.

Planning for this conference has been under the general chairmanship of Ronald K. DeFord, formerly of Midland and now on the faculty of the department of geology at the University of Texas in Austin.

Leaders of the tours will be Professor S. S. Goldich, of the University of Minnesota; Clay Seward, formerly of the Texas Bureau of Economic Geology; Dr. John T. Lonsdale, director of the Texas Bureau of Economic Geology; and Professors G. K. Eifer, Jr., and Ronald K. DeFord, of the department of geology of the University of Texas.
