

Ich bin Amerikaner Offizier: local man 's German duty

On November 2, 1983, Major Cecil Biggers left Gray Army Airfield in Central Texas to participate in manuevers in Northern Germany. Major Biggers, a local attorney, is in the U.S. Army Reserve and is assigned to the 413th Civil Affairs Company in Lubbock, Texas where he is part of a Civil Military Co-operation Team (CIMIC.) The team's mission is to assist in liason between the German Territorial Forces and U.S. Forces in Europe, in the areas of Displaced Persons, Refugees, and Escapees, and Host Nation Support (requisition of supplies from allied governments.) What follows is Major Biggers description of his tour to Germany.

"I left Ft. Hood, Texas for Germany in a stretch DC-8 charter jet along with approximately 300 other soldiers. Our destination was unknown at the time of our departure, but we arrived ten hours later at a trail and brisk morning and

Each of us reservists has been involved in a crash language program designed to allow us to function without interpreters, and we were given the opportunity to test our language proficiency. We found that the German civilians were for the most part friendly and helpful. When we entered a restaurant and attempted to place our orders in German the orders were taken correctly and with satisfaction that we were attempting to use their language. We discovered that most Germans under the age of fifty speak English. French, or both. The younger German students are required to take English and French from the time they are in elementary school.

The exercise allowed us to travel extensively in the Belgian border area, in the Rhine-Ruhr valley, and areas near the East German Border in civilian clothes and with a civilian rental car (Ford Escourt). We learned that on twisting mountain roads an American driving a Ford Escourt can travel at about 30 mph while the native German in a Mercedes or BMW will travel the same road at 70 mph. Our experiences on the autobahns were equally revealing of our driving ability. Once we got over the fear of dying, it was possible to travel at 80 mph within four feet of the car ahead's bumper and to take "ausfahrts" (exit ramps) with aplomb. Even at 80 mph we were often passed by the higher-performance Mercedes and BMW's (There is no speed limit on the autobahn system other than the nerve you were born with)

Being at heart a plain country lawyer, I was impressed by the civilized nature of the German truck stops on the autobahn. My first visit to the WC (water closet) revealed many marvels. As I left a urinal I was startled to note that if flushed by itself. I then went to a wash basin and was disturbed to find no knobs to turn the water on, on a chance I place my hands under the faucet, the water ran, I removed my hands and the water stopped. Most civilized. Then in need of a towel, I approached one of those blow dryer devices, this didn't have an on/off switch either. Being now more erudite in the ways of the world, I placed my hands under the dryer, it turned on, when my hands dryed and I removed them, it

Since we were working in the countryside, we ate at many small German restaurants. The food was consistently superb. I became enamoured of a dish entitled "Jaegerschnitzel" which loosely translated was a 1" thick pork steak, topped with a "secret hunter's sauce" made with mushrooms, assorted vegetables, blood?, and secret spices, served with french fries. The beverage of most meals was either beer or wine, usually from a local brewery or

I was impressed by the German officer and enlisted men that I met. They were highly professional and motivated, and had no doubt about the "enemy" they could soon face. As a man, they wanted the new U.S. missiles to counter those of the Soviets and the Warsaw Pact.

I was impressed by the German reserve system, which has units (VKK's) formed in each German "County," and these units train in their own county, and have the mission of defending that county during the time of war.

After working with the German Army, I could not help wondering how we ever managed to defeat them in WWII.

I also had the opportunity to watch members of the English Army training and, yes, they really do talk like the late night movies. They also displayed professionalism and a high espirit de corps.

The German civilians that I talked with did not mention any opposition to U.S. missiles in Germany, seeming to believe that they were necessary to offset those of the Russians. They did indicate, as would many of us, that they wished they were not necessary on both sides. I did see a couple of German "Green" party types, they look, act and talk very similiarly to our disaffected youth of the 1960's.

I was able to photograph and visit a few old churches in Germany. I expecially like the 'new'' Lutheran Church in the city of Gemund. "New" is in quotes because it was built in

'83 events thrilled Spearman sports fans

The year 1983 was chock full of exciting events and accomplishments for Spearman sports fans.

Sports highlights of the year, to be published in two parts, include: IANUARY-FEBRUARY-MARCH

The local YMCA boxing team placed well in matches at Stinnett and in Hugoton, Kans.

Hansford County boys winning bouts in Stinnett included Brian Beck, Chad Riggins, Kris Kelp, Mark Eakin, Danny Lopez and Will Black.

Winning at Hugoton were Kelly Coorabs, Tino Garcia, Edward Mayfield and Tony Herndon.

A young, generally inexperienced Lynx basketball team provided Lynx fans with plenty of exciting action during the after New Year's wind down of the season.

The Lynx got the New Year off to a rousing start by beating cross-country rival Gruver 86-50. Next the Spearman cagers topped Darrouzett, 50-40 in the first round of the Canadian tourney before falling to Follett 53-46 in the second round and to Shamrock in a 56-53 thriller battle for third place.

Rebounding, the Lynx knocked off district rival Canadian, 58-28, but could not maintain the momentum and lost a 65-57 decision to Dalhart.

The Lynx came within a hairsbreadth of upsetting Perryton and handing the Rangers their first defeat in district play. Rallying, the Lynx came to within a single basket of Perryton, when with two second left, officials ruled a tie ball situation and called for a jump. The Lynx tipped the ball to Ross Donahue and Donahue leaped and fired a long, 18-footer. Donahue's jumper dropped through, but an official ruled time had expired a split fraction before the shot, and a thoroughly shaken Ranger team had survived, 45-43.

The Lynx final game was also a thriller, but again they came up just short of victory, falling to Dalhart 67-64 in the season finale.

Senior Darren Goodheart and sophomore Ross Donahue were named to the All-District team.

Meanwhile, the Lynxettes were waging a three-way battle royal for the district championship and two playoff berths.

They opened play in the New Year by routing the Gruver Lady Greyhounds 65-24, and handled Darrouzett an even more devastating 65-12 loss in the first round of the Canadian tourney. The Lynxettes kept rolling, topping Childress 57-49. But with one of their key starters out with injuries and another at half speed, the Lynxettes could not outlast the host team and lost the tourney championship to the Canadian girls, 53-48.

Still hampered by injuries, the Lynxettes lost two district games in a row, 33-26 to Dalhart, and a 57-53 cliffhanger to Canadian. These losses were what eventually kept them out of the playoffs.

By time for the River Road game, the Lynxettes were near full strength and full speed for the first time in some time and it showed as they downed the Lady Wildcats 52-43.

With every game a "must game" for the Lynxettes in their uphill battle to get back into contention for a playoff spot, the Lynxettes and their arch-rival Perryton Rangerettes hooked up in what many Spearman fans swear is one of the best basketball games ever played.

Battling for the second place playoff berth, the Lynxettes and Rangerettes matched each other shot for shot, and at the end of regulation play, the score was tied, 46-all.

The first overtime ended on a similar note, 50-50, setting up a second overtime. By the end of this overtime, four Lynxettes had fouled out, but the Spearman girls remaining to form the lineup scrapped to a 57-57 draw, setting up a third overtime.

Down by 2 points in the third overtime, the Lynxettes tried to even up the foul out situation, sending Kellie Crawford driving in the middle, trying to draw a fifth foul against Perryton's star 6-1 post, senior Stacey Blassingame. Kellie went high and scored 2 points over Blassingame's guard to make it

Sheriff reports quiet Christmas-New Year

Despite icy road conditions that made driving county roads hazardous during much of the period, there were no road fatalities and no major accidents in Hansford County rural areas over the Christmas-New Year's holiday period according to Sheriff R.L. McFarlin.

Terming it one of the "safety, quietest" year-end holiday periods he can remember, Sheriff McFarlin said there were only two vehicle accidents--both minor--investigated by his department over the Christmas holiday, and only one minor road accident over the long New Year's weekend.

He said that there was not even a DWI arrest made by his department over the New Year's weekend.

Sheriff McFarlin has moved up another notch with the Texas Sheriff's Association. As a result of the resignation of Sheriff John Gibson of Whichita Falls as president of the sheriff's association to go into private business. Sheriff McFarlin has been moved up from third to second vice president of the statewide organization.

61-61. She also forced the foul out on Blassingame.

Kelli started to toe the line for the Lynxettes with the game riding on her free throw, bur the Rangerettes called time out, hoping the time out would give Kelli more time to fret and to pressure her into missing the free throw.

But the junior Lynxette was equal to the occasion. Releasing a perfect shot, she sank her fourth free throw in five attempts and the Lynxettes had out marathoned the Ranger-

The Lynxettes stayed alive, one more time, as they blistered the Dalhart Wolverines, 56-41. Canadian had cinched first place, but the Lynxette win lifted them into a second place tie with Perryton on the last regual rseason game, and forced a playoff between the Lynxettes and Rangerettes for the second playoff berth.

The string finally ran out for the Lynxettes on Canadian's neutral court, as the Rangerettes triumphed to end the Lynxettes' season 56-41.

Susan Davis and Lea Ann Gibner, the Lynxettes' two senior guards, ball handling wizards, deadly outside shots, playmakers and ball stealing aces, were named to the All-District team. Seniors Cindy Young and Janet Reed, the Lynxettes one-two inside punch, were named district Honorable Mention.

After New Year's, the junior varsity teams found the going rough the seventh grade boys did too, but closed the season on a winning note topping River Road 35-19. the The seventh grade girls were not quite as fortunate, dropping a two point decision to River Road. The eighth grade boys finished strong, beating Stratford, falling to Dalhart, then turning it around, they bopped Perryton 41-22, and ended play with a 37-34 nod over River Road.

Already in the midst of a tremendous year, the Spearman eighth grade girls rolled on undefeated after the year-end break, beating Stratford 35-15., Dalhart 31-22, and topping River Road for a 12-2 season record and a 7-0 district mark for the conference championship.

On March 14, YMCA Boxing Club held its awards supper. Jackets, caps and boxing glove hat pins were presented to the boxers by Coach Eugene Yarbrough. Calendar posters, caps and hat pins were presented by Yarbrough to assistant coaches Butch Lasater and Bobby Archer. Caps and pins were also given to Ricky Riggins for refering matches and for assisting in the corner with the boys, and to Monte Black and Randy Coombs for helping coach during the matches when the boxers were at Hugoton an dborger at the same time.

The boxers presented thank you cards to coaches Butch Lasater and Bobby Archer and presented Coach Yarbrough a pair of boots and thank you card and Mrs. Yarbrough a necklace and card for help during the year.

Special awards were presented by Coach Yarbrough. Most Improved Boxers awards went to Cass Lasater and Dee Mayfield.

Sportsmanship award was presented to Tony Herndon, and Fighting Heart award went to Edward Mayfield. A special award was presented in memory of "a dear friend and supporter" of the boxing club, the late Jr. Lusby. The Jr. Lusby Memorial Award was presented to Chad Riggins for giving 110 percent in boxing. Coach Yarbrough presented a Jr. Lusby Memorial Award plaque to Ronnie Lusby.

Lea Ann Gibner a senior star of the Lynxettes during the just concluded basketball season and twice all-disctrict, was selected to play in the Golden Spread High School Girls All-Star game in conjunction with the Converse National Women's Invitational Tournament held March 17-19.

Jean Davis, basketball and track star for Spearman High School was nominated as a cover girl candidate for Texas High School Girls Coaches Association summer clinic and Allstar games.

Winter rekindles Storm of '86 memories

STORM OF '86 By J.H. Buchanan In the 1940's

We sometimes think we have severe cold spells now-adays, but according to old timers our winters on the average are getting milder. The writer can remember several bad winters, but mainly the winters of 1911-12 and 1918, but every time we go to tell about them we are interrupted by someone who starts telling about some real winters they passed through. They have proper protection. Westremained for 72 hours and ern Kansas was then having in covered wagons, were camped behind a bluff which caught out and perished. The broke the main force of the late L.S. Cator, one of the wind. The late Jos. W. Jones whose widow is still living in Spearman, had only recently married and he and his bride came out and settled near Fort Elliot, which later became Mobeetie. They were living in a dugout and had three head of horses. He had stacked quite a lot of lake hay to feed the horses. As they realized they were in for a terrible storm they brought two of the horses in the dugout with them, stacking the furniture whereever they could make room, as the dugout was small. The B.O. Cator and Tom Jenkins other horse they tied between two haystacks and covered with sacks and wagon sheets and then piled hay on it and brought it through alive. Most of the time they stayed in bed, and as Uncle Joe laughlingly said, they didn't cook much, for it was too cold for him to get up and build a fire, and his wife would not. Grandpa Ward, long since deceased, once told this writer that the Indians that fall all left the plains early and said they even then thought at times they were going to freeze and were going to where there was more protection, as it was perhaps would have, but were going to be a hard winter. No one paid much attention to what they said at the time, but later spent considerable time wondering how the Indians knew

The late M.B. Wright stated that after the storm he went up the Palo Duro to hunt wood and in the head of the canyon in a plum thicket, he came upon a herd of antelopes that had yarded there and had been unable to get out. Where they stood the snow was packed hard, but around them is was soft. They would leap into this soft snow and be helpless. He killed all he wanted of them with a club, and skinned out the saddle. When asked if this was good to eat he replied, "No, but when you were used to doing without, it was a welcome change."

Practically all the cattle in the Panhandle died during that storm, and on the north side of the drift fence they piled up in thousands.

(The L.S. Cator mentioned was the father of Mrs. Allen Pierce who lives in Spearman Jos. W. Jones was the father of Gwenfred Lackey.)

Heavy snow in Spearman was not all slippin' and sliding and hazardous for driving and walking--it was also fun for those enterprising enough to make it so. Rhonda Stumpf and snowfall to have to have fun making this jolly snowman. They are both the grandchildren of Mr. Lelan Close of Spearman.

For the S5th year, the Canadian Wildcats' annual invitational basketball tournament will kick-off the new year next week with sixteen teams...eight boys and eight giris teams... beginning a three-day schedule of twenty-four games at the CHS gymnasium.

The 1984 tournament line-up features some old stand-bys, at least one returnee back in the competition after several source absence, and one scheel competing here for the first time.

Newcomers to the Canadian Tournament will be the Vallley Patriots, for many decades a basketball power in the southern Panhandle.

DALLAS, TX.-Over 300 N. Texas taxpayers may have some extra spending money to pay this year's Christmas bills.

"Of the more than 2 million refund checks we mailed out this year, the post office has been unable to deliver 3,047," said Glenn Cagle, IRS District Director for the northernmost 143 counties of Texas. "The checks have been returned to the IRS and we are holding the refunds in the taxpayers' accounts until claimed. The refunds total $1,348,634.82 with the average check being $442.61. Amounts range all the way from $1 to $14,550."

Cagle said that the most usual reason for a refund check's failure to reach a taxpayer is that the taxpayer has moved and neglected to notify the IRS and the post office. "Even moving to a different apartment at the same street address can be the cause of the problem," he explained.

Following is a list of taxpayers in this area whose names appear on the IRS undelivered refund list. If you find that you are one of them, call the IRS at (214) 742-2440 in Dallas, or 1-800-424-1040 toll-free from elsewhere in Texas.

Those in this area are: Frank E. & Cecilia M Luera, Perryton, Tx.; Tamara K. Paris, Perryton, Tx.; David L & Bobby J Slaughter, Perryton, Tx.; and Frank T. Ward, Perryton, Tex.
