Conservation Commission Measure Killed

Home Town Talk

How much folks who are supposed to know their business sometimes do not know about the geography of the southwest, is shown by a prize bonhead that appeared in a page advertisement of the Gulf Refining company in the August issue of the Saturday Evening Post in which the Boardway of America was mapped from El Paso to Jacksonville, Fla., via San Antonio and New Orleans.

The page lay-out, picturing some of the attractions to be found by motorists traveling from the West Texas border city to the South Atlantic coast, includes a map of the Boardway of America, which in reality leads from San Diego to New York City via El Paso, Big Spring, Dallas, Memphis and north-eastward.

This dog and doll parade Tuesday at 2 p. m. is going to be worth watching. What is dearer to a little boy than his dog or to his little sister than her best doll?

A surprising feature was noted today in connection with the contest. Several girls wanted to enter dogs instead of dolls. They could do that but all the prizes for dogs will be things for boys, the girls' things being offered for dolls.

The parade will start at Fourth and Main, where the judging will take place. There will then be a free performance at the Ritz theater. It is going to be a big day for the kids.

Children 12 years of age or younger are eligible. But three blocks will be covered by the parade, so it will not be too strenuous for the younger children.

Local merchants are showing unusual interest in the stunt. A number of prizes will be offered.

City Manager E. V. Spence, in his first public address since taking the position here, certainly kept on the right track at the Plaza club today.

Most anybody will tell you that any town needs more parks. But few of us find out just what kind of factories we have and then make it a point to eradicate them. We welcome any new factory, but forget 'em after they get here and leave 'em to rot.

The city manager said he embarrassed one man when he first came to town by asking him where he could buy Big Springs-made goods. Spence has had considerable personal experience in the manufacture of building materials. He knows where the speakeas when he preaches local support of local industries.

Minister and Wife 'Pounded' Wednesday

Mr. and Mrs. James L. Standridge were surprised a few nights ago by members of the Church of Christ, of which Mr. Standridge is minister, by an old-time "pounding."

They returned home from church services Wednesday evening to find the hallway filled with canned goods, fresh vegetables placed there by members and friends.

MR. AND MRS. LOTZ LEAVE

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Lotz left Thursday for a 10-day business and pleasure trip to Webb City and other points in Oklahoma. They will return here to open music classes for the coming term.

Abilene Champ Loses Initial Tennis Match

Wichita Falls Contingent Shows Strength In First Clashes

Upsets aptly featured the first morning's play in the annual West Texas tennis tournament held on the high school courts. Only two of the seeded players advanced to the third round of play—McCarthy and McPhail of Wichita Falls.

The feature clash of the morning was the match between McPhail and M. M. Ballard, Abilene city champion, which had to be carried to an extra set. The gentleman from Wichita Falls was finally successful in downing the seeded No. 2 player, 3-6, 6-4.

McPhail's victory was directly the result of his hard volleying in which he completely outdid his opponent. Ballard suffered an injured head when he collided with an open gate during the match.

Upper House Takes Up Bill By Wagstaff

Woodward Sponsors Measure In Senate; Much Argument Held

AUSTIN, Aug. 7 (AP)—The house voted 77 to 52 as a committee of the whole to delete the "measuring clause" from a bill creating a new conservation commission to administer laws affecting oil and gas production. It then voted 87 to 35 to report the bill unfavorably. The senate then refused to engross it, definitely killing it.

The senate now is expected to begin considering the Wagstaff-Woodward bill, strengthening conservation laws passed by the house several days ago. Much argument was engaged in before the vote in the house regarding the appointive nature for members of the proposed commission.

N. Aug. 7 (AP)—The senate disapproved two amendments to the bill creating an oil conservation commission before voting against engrossing it.

The amendments provided for abolition of the first, game and cyster commission and the state forestry department, giving their work to the new commission. Numerous other amendments were pending.

Form Board Studies Germany's Offer To Buy 600,000 Bales

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7 (AP)—The farm board waived other business today to study the German offer to buy 600,000 bales of its stabilization cotton.

Loss in the proposed sale would total many millions. Southern senators have protested the sale. Traders contend passage of the unsold surplus is depressing the market.

Chairman Stone opposed the suggestion to buy an equal amount of this year's crop if the sale is made. Exact terms of the German offer had not been announced. Protests of the proposed sale had been made by the New Orleans and Hayre, France, exchanges. The Hayre exchange claimed the sale to Germany would be unfair to France.

State Truck Load Statute Held Invalid

AUSTIN, Aug. 7 (AP)—A three-judge federal court today granted a temporary injunction to McLaughlin and Company, a trucking concern, preventing the highway commission and its high patrol officers in certain counties from enforcing a new law limiting the number of bales of cotton carried per truck. The company claims the law is unconstitutional, because it discriminates against uncompresses cotton.

Snyder Man Near Death

Companion Says, Shot Was Accidental; Were Riding In Car

SNYDER, Aug. 7.—Physicians today held no hope for the recovery of J. L. Belton, 32, tourist camp operator at Colorado, who is in the sanitarium here under treatment for a gunshot wound in the head.

No charge has been filed against Zemyr Vaught, in custody here in connection with the affair. District Attorney George Mahon of Colorado filed a murder charge would be filed in event of Belton's death.

Vaught operates a hamburger stand at Colorado. Vaught told officers Belton was accidentally shot as the two scuffled in an automobile for possession of a .22 calibre pistol. The shooting occurred Tuesday night on the Snyder-Coronado road. Belton and Vaught had driven here, and on the way back quarreled over a trivial matter, Vaught said.

He said Belton fired the gun, that he reached for it and in the scuffle it went discharged.

Belton has been unconscious since the shooting. There was little change in his condition today, and doctors said he had no chance to live.

Vaught hailed passersby who found Belton lying unconscious on the front seat of the car. The two men were brought here.

Vaught made his statement to Warren Dodson, county attorney. He has retained R. H. Ratliff of Colorado as his counsel.

Second Mule Race Brews In Erath City

STEPHENSVILLE, Aug. 7 (AP)—Another mule race between Carl Hardin, president pro tem of the Texas senate, and Mayor Henry Clark of this city is brewing. Mayor Clark, riding on a 30-year-old mule, moved the senator's younger mount out by a few feet in a race staged here at an American Legion celebration July 4. Senator Hardin says that the loss was due to the fact that his mule was bridled with curb bits and that he did not have a quirt. He has challenged Mayor Clark to another race to be staged at the Erath county fair this fall. Mayor Clark has accepted.

City Thanked By Leader Of Omnibus Collegians

A letter thanking the people of Big Spring for their "generous hospitality" in welcoming the Omnibus Collegians has been received by the local chamber of commerce, according to C. T. Watson, manager. The collegians were entertained here July 27 at the outdoor meeting of the Chamber of Commerce which featured a address by Congressman R. E. Thomson of El Paso. They were later feted at a cigarette street dance between Third and Fourth streets by the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

A letter from H. W. Bushy, executive manager of the Omnibus Collegians, follows:

"Dear Mr. Watson:

"At our first opportunity we are writing our thanks for the generous hospitality of the people of Big Spring.

"Breaking camp each morning and setting camp every day does not allow much time for correspondence, so I am taking advantage of time along the roadside while the boys are changing a tire to write you of our appreciation for the welcome to your city.

"We hope to include Big Spring in our itinerary for subsequent tours.

Parker Cramer Lands In Iceland

REYKJAVIK, Iceland, Aug. 7 (AP)—Parker D. Cramer, American flier who is mapping an Atlantic air mail route, landed here today from Angkamsk, Greenland. He said he left Detroit nine days ago and had been flying by easy stages. He had met with good weather all the way except at Hudson's Bay, he said. He predicted that in view of the snow fields the arctic route would become a great tourist attraction when the line is established.

Responsibility For Troubles In Oil Industry Placed Upon Texas By Acting Secretary of Interior

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7 (AP)—Acting Secretary Dixon of the interior laid the entire responsibility for continued demoralization of the oil industry upon Texas. He said the state's "selfish and irresponsible interests operating the 'East Texas pool'."

In reply to a flood of telegrams from governors, senators and other leaders for some federal action, Dixon issued a statement asserting that it and all other great producing states have placed such a load on the oil output and only Texas "failure to cooperate with the industry at large" now prevents the price of oil from again reaching a dollar a barrel.

No Intervention

As for Oklahoma, where Governor Murray under martial law has closed down all flash wells, the interior executive said the federal government would not interfere. The department has an important interest in the Oklahoma oil situation through its supervision of fluid leases, but these are beyond the control of state authorities.

"The real origin of the Oklahoma oil difficulties lies in Texas—

West Texas Odd Fellows Choose Stanton As Next Meeting Place; Colorado Woman Is New Leader

ABILENE, Aug. 7 (AP)—West Texas Odd Fellows and Rebekah lodges in closing sessions of their annual convention here yesterday named officers for next year, and selected Stanton as the 1932 meeting place.

Mrs. Melba Delaney of Colorado was named president to succeed A. H. Balch of Abilene, and with the remainder of the new corps was installed just before the noon recess with Mr. Balch in charge of the service.

Other officers are Mrs. Marjorie Archibald, Abilene, first vice president; L. M. Hubbard, Sweetwater, second vice president; Mrs. Etta Hazelwood, Sweetwater, secretary; J. R. Bryant, Blackwater, treasurer; J. R. Henderson, Coahoma, chaplain.

The brief afternoon session featured reports of committees for the next year's convention.

Sweetwater took honors in competitive degree work held last night the L.O.O.F. and Rebekah staffs from there winning by 2 point each. Result of the competition was announced at noon.

The contests followed a dinner for members and their families,

Flying Dancer! Brady Instructor, Seeking Location Here, Comes By Air; Soon To Receive License.

Miss Elizabeth Ballou was in a hurry to get to Big Spring, so she jumped into her Sparrow biplane with her instructor, Lawrence Hughes, and arrived here from Brady in just about an hour. Yesterday morning she was sitting comfortably in the Chamber of Commerce offices chatting with officials.

Miss Ballou intends to make her home in this city if she can establish satisfactory connections. Professionally she is a dancing instructor and has taught successful classes in Brady for the past three years. Physically she is an attractive blonde, ideal size, blue eyes, and smartly dressed.

Explaining why she wished to make her home here a letter from Carl A. Blaisig, manager of the Brady Chamber of Commerce said, "The real reason why Miss Ballou is contemplating to make her home in Big Spring is because it would afford her a better opportunity to keep in close connection with aviation. She owns a plane and has almost enough hours in the air for her commercial license."

And speaking of licenses, Miss Ballou is competent enough as a pilot to be the possessor of a private flying certificate.

Miss Ballou modestly told of the trip to Big Spring and said, concerning the accompanying instructor, "I don't know whether I came with him, or whether he came with me."

At the interview with the reporter terminated Miss Ballou said, "You must come out to the port end side with us." Seeing that she evidently was sincere the terra firma-minded reporter hastily took his leave declining the invitation.

Extension of Progressive Texans' Industrial Development Campaign Throughout South Sterling's Plea

AUSTIN, Aug. 7 (UP)—The industrial development campaign of Progressive Texans, Inc., should be extended into a south-wide program, Gov. Ross Sterling said today. The governor said industrial expansion "will provide a wider market for surplus agricultural products and probably achieve far more to solve the current economic problems than legislative enactments to curtail production."

Progressive Texans, Inc. was organized recently by the West Texas, East Texas and South Texas Chambers of Commerce. The organization is sponsoring a five-year plan for Texas industrial development.

Progressive Texans can go far in helping to solve our problem of surplus, Gov. Sterling said. "Going a step further, such a program taking in the entire state where marketing, distribution and curtailment may be studied as a common problem, would, no doubt, have corrective results which cannot be hoped for by the most of laws. The failure of solving the wheat, cotton and other crop surplus production problems by government purchase has been demonstrated very forcibly during the Hoover administration."

Much Gossip Starts After Busy Day For Los Angeles Courts

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 7 (UP)—Newspaper reporters and photographers rested from an unparalleled day in the courts, and Hollywood Boulevard gossip had a month's supply of talk today.

Among the parade of headlines into the county buildings and into print and their grievances: Max Murray, who said two days ago he could never go back to Prince David Milovan, because he had the love of his life, announced a reconciliation had been effected, including the besting—apparently including the besting—mutual, Miss Murray said, but true love, and David and I love each other very much. Bert Roach, his capacity for punishment softened over a long period of taking razzed pie on the chin, could not take any more the same way, he testified, ending in part by a bronze telephone bulb, and a him, he said, by Mrs. Gladys Roach. He was awarded a divorce. Elise Di Vito, actress, and Danahel Hammer, author of "The Maltese Falcon," for $36,700, damages, alleging he beat her. Rosemary Sherwin and Billy Grant, actress and director, announced they were seeking a license. Edward Ward filed suit for divorce against Elyonne Davrill, French actress. Immigration officials acted to deport Janina Smolinsky, one time "Miss Poland" and dancer in the Follies Bergeres. Miss Smolinsky has overstayed the leave, under which she came here to make pictures.

Wood County Has First Indication Of Oil Production

QUITMAN, Texas, Aug. 7 (UP)—Deep Rock Oil Company reported today it had struck oil in its first well in Wood county, its first indication of a producing area. The Deep Rock 1st No. 1 Maule Smith is in the southeast corner of a 30-acre tract in the L. Johnson survey.

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, Aug. 7 (UP)—Moody Seagraves Producing Company reported today it had abandoned its No. 4 O'Connor, in the Refugio field, after it made salt water at a depth of 6,435 feet. Coast Drilling Company reported its No. 1 Lambert a dry hole at 6,532 feet.

SAN ANGELO, Texas, Aug. 7 (UP)—Two producers rating 1,795 barrels daily and two dry holes were reported today in five West Texas counties. The producers were McGinnis & Donnell-Texas Company's No. 1 T. A. Jean, Fisher county, 1,725 barrels daily, and Par Moran et al's No. 1 Sweet, Ward county, 2 barrels. Five locations were staked in four counties.

VALUATIONS DOWN VERNON, Texas, Aug. 7 (UP)—Wiltberger county's taxable values for 1931 have dropped to the lowest level since 1925, totaling $22,231,027. The principal loss has been due to decrease in oil production as a result of low crude prices and production. The commissioners' court recently ordered a blanket cut of five per cent in valuations, lowering the 1931 total about $1,200,000. This year's total is more than $1,000,000 below the valuation figures for 1925.

Quality of Valley Citrus Fruits Higher This Year

SAN BENITO, Texas, Aug. 7 (UP)—The Lower Rio Grande Valley will have the finest quality citrus fruit this fall and winter that it has ever shipped out, in the opinion of F. C. Whittlesy, field manager for the Texas Citrus Fruit Growers Exchange.

Whittlesy expressed this opinion after a thorough investigation of the citrus orchards of the Valley. He said that all records for annual shipment probably will be broken by the shipments during the coming season.

A crop of from 8,000 to 12,000 cars has been produced, as compared to a little over 5,000 cars during the 1929-30 season. Whittlesy did not make any carload predictions. He said, however, that the field in the lower part of the Valley, Cameron county and surrounding sections, will not be much larger than that last year. The big increase is in the upper section of the Valley, from Mercedes west and north, where a number of large tracts are coming into bearing for the first time and where the trees are loaded to capacity.

Most of the large plantings in the lower part of the Valley have been made during the past three years and will not bear this fall.

Whittlesy said the market conditions are not normal but that smaller crops in California and Florida will help Valley growers. Florida expects a crop of 30,000 carloads as compared to 72,000 carloads last year.

Another unusual feature of the citrus season this year is that oranges will show a larger percentage than usual as compared to grapefruit. About 33 per cent of the crop this fall will be oranges, Whittlesy said.

Mexican State Of Coahuila To Have Telephone In Year

EAGLE PASS, Texas, Aug. 7 (UP)—Eagle Pass will have telephone connections with all of the major cities of Coahuila within one year from July 31, 1931, a report from Mexico City states. The dispatch announces the closing of a contract between the secretary of communications and public works of Mexico and Gabriel Resendiz to establish and operate a telephone service between the towns of Salinas, Aquila, La Rosita, Palau, Miquila, Altamira, Navas, Morelos, Zaracua, San Carlos, Villa Frantera, Munclova, Piedras Negras, and Villa Acuna.

The telephone system will establish connections with Eagle Pass and Piedras Negras for international communication.

Resendiz has obligated himself to establish telephone communication between Salinas and Piedras Negras within the space of six months from July 31, and in the following six months to complete the system between Altamira and Piedras Negras at present is connected with Salinas, Aquila, and Rosita, and some of the intervening towns by telegraph line but has no telephone connection. Price Investigation To Be Fifteenth Conducted By Lower Legislative House

ARLINGTON, Texas, Aug. 7 (AP)—The house of representatives of the state of Texas again will sit as a court of inquiry to scrutinize the official actions of one of its administrative officers. It will mark the fourth time since 1917 the house has acted as a grand jury to determine the truth or falsity of charges preferred against an elective official.

Records in the state library show the house has sat as a court of inquiry in approximately 15 instances. As in the present investigation, a majority of the proceedings involved officers of the judicial department of the government, and in particular district judges. In this instance the actions of J. B. Price of Bastrop as judge of the 21st district court will be placed in the spotlight by the house's prosecutors.

If the house believes the charges against Price are true, articles of impeachment will be voted and the senate will sit as a court of judgment to determine his guilt. If convicted by the senate, Price automatically will be removed from office and will be forever barred from holding another position in the gift of the people.

Ferguson Only

The senate has convicted only one state official out of the 15 investigated by the house. The conviction was in the case of former Governor James E. Ferguson, convicted in 1917 and removed from office. In several instances, however, officials under fire have resigned and in other instances the charges have not been sustained by the evidence and the house declined to "indict" and send the case to the senate for trial.

The acts of J. B. Robinson, commissioner of the general land office, were investigated a few years ago by the house but no articles of impeachment were preferred and the aged land commissioner was exonerated. The lengthy investigation, however, is generally given as the main cause of his death a short time later.

In 1930 the house conducted an investigation of S. H. Terrell, state comptroller for several years. Terrell was charged with misuse of state funds. In the middle of the house inquiry, Terrell submitted his resignation and the investigation ended abruptly. The attorney general recently filed suit to collect Terrell's bonds.

Price, charged with approving exorbitant claims of the sheriffs of the counties in his district for fees and mileage, will be defended by a battery of veteran lawyers, including Judge H. L. Baltz, chairman of the board of regents of the University of Texas. Paul D. Page, Sr., former state senator will be among the array of defense legal talent.

Petsch, Graves

The house has named Reps. A. P. C. Petsch of Fredericksburg and Harry N. Graves of Georgetown as its prosecutors. Graves is especially noted for his bull-like determination in the trial of cases, having gained some measure of fame while serving as district attorney in Williamson county. Graves is commonly regarded as a relentless prosecutor and the number of convictions he obtained while district attorney has remained a mark for his successors to shoot at.

Petsch, who has been a member of the legislature for several years and who bears the scars of many battles on the floor of the house, also is a veteran lawyer.

The charges against Price included 13 counts and covered 15 pages of legal size paper. The record in the case is expected to be voluminous and the arguments lengthy.

The course of the investigation has not been determined. Should the house decide to complete its investigation of Price during the present special session it would consume a considerable amount of time and seriously endanger chances of enacting laws to strengthen the state's conservation statutes. Leaders said great turmoil would result should the house decide to go ahead with legislation and the investigation at the same time since each would interfere with the other.

It was expected the house would postpone investigation of Price until after passage of conservation laws was assured. The session can be extended without a call from the governor if the house deems it advisable to continue beyond the constitutional limit of 30 days placed on special sessions. The present session will close officially Aug. 12. No legislation can be acted upon after that date, even should the house continue in a session.

Mexican Pickers Leaving Border

LAREDO, Texas, Aug. 7 (AP)—Truckloads of Mexican cotton pickers, men, women and children, are leaving Laredo and surrounding country daily now in addition to those going by train to the Corpus Christi section. The pay is 75 cents per 100 pounds.

All the cotton pickers are residents of this territory, and among them are many who annually engage in union transplanting work in November of each year and in harvesting of onions and other vegetables beginning the latter part of March of each year.

Bottle Cast Into Gulf Found; Reward Paid By 'Caster'

BEAUMONT, Texas, Aug. 7 (AP)—A bottle cast upon the sea has been returned to Andrew Moreal, banker of Opelousas, Louisiana, bearing him a net outlay of $1, with prospects of more expenditures in the future.

In June 1930 while a passenger on the SS Shawnee on its West Indies cruise from Port Beaumont, Moreal set adrift several corked bottles containing messages bearing his name and address with rewards promised for return of the bottles to him. The bottles were thrown from the deck of the Shawnee while it was in the waters of the Bay of Campeche, off Mexico.

Recently one of the bottles was found on the Texas coast at Matagorda Island by Mrs. George Stourds of Port O'Connor.

Moreal now fears that another one which he offered $50, will be found.

HOW'S YOUR HEALTH?

CHILDREN'S SUN BATHS
Until very recently the tendency of our civilization has been away from the sun.

Lately, however, different scientific studies have focused attention on diseases due to a lack of sunlight, and in consequence the tanned skin has come into health style again.

In this connection our children are much sinned against. Their growing bodies need the stimulus of exposure to sunlight and to air. We are, however, inclined to over-dress them and to keep them up in sunless houses and sunless schools.

True, there has been a wholesome reaction to this state of affairs, but most of it has been confined to the tots. As soon as the child reaches the august age of six or seven he sheds his sun suit and reaches for the shady places.

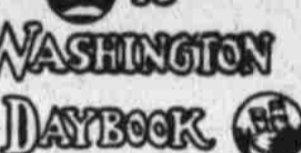

Also, the popular idea appears to be that the only place for sun bathing is at the water's edge. But there is no good reason why a sun bath can not be taken in the back yard, on the roof (if and when it is safe for the children) or at anywhere one will not be out of place.

Also sun baths are good the entire year. While not ordinarily practical, though not impossible, to expose the bare body to the sun in winter weather, it can conveniently be done in springtime and during fall.

Sun baths for children have also been recommended as an aid in the prevention of tuberculosis.

A large percentage of children become infected with the tubercle bacillus before their fourteenth year, and in many instances these inadequately curbed invasions by the tubercle bacillus lead to the active disease of adulthood.

For these reasons the value of proper hygiene, in which exposure to sunlight and air plays a large part, becomes apparent.

WASHINGTON—There's been a lot said about those groups in the United States senate who have been yet for insuring.

If it were possible to compile a list of what names have been applied to them, doubtless it would make both interesting and remarkable reading.

There have been many. Fess of Ohio once called them "the French viewpoint" that claim is nothing less than the truth.

The French are openly skeptical of app-prevention measures. As long as war is a possibility, France is determined to be in better condition to meet it than any possible competitor.

And as for the fact that their prevailing view of how any disarmament scheme can make very much headway.

EVIDENCE seems to be accumulating that the period of long delayed banking by the public is approaching an end and that exhausted supplies of clothing, household goods and other commodities soon will have to be replenished.

Trade reviews of last week found signs of more cheerfulness in reports from leading cities. With a growth of confidence in fall here, chandise business and with present purchases in many lines standard, but in contrast to decreased many.

When they do not like the way factoring operations, seasonal dullness is to be understood, yet there were found signs of strength and activity that were absent at the same time a year ago.

Increased banking activity, it is rather generally agreed, would tend to clear the business from being with a new vigor. Without approaching a return to normal demand for goods we still stimulate production and of course, employ more men.

EXIT

by Harold Bell Wright

SYNOPSIS: Ironically, the gold mine and Colorado Bill had been seeking is discovered in the desert.

For a moment he was silent and they could see that he was thinking hard thoughts and calling on his latent physical strength that was left to him.

"You remember that night we set up your dreammaking form, Ann?"

"I could never forget that, dear, Ann," he said.

"I said I would get the money I needed if I had to steal it."

"I know, Pierre, dear, but you must not do that."

"I stopped her with an uppercut gesture—the gesture of the soda fountain boy."

"Ann choked back a sob and Old Tony turned his face away."

"I was passing the bank. I saw the machine go. He left the door open. I followed him. He had a lot of money. I hit him with Martin's cane and took the money. You saw me, Father Tony. When I was running away, I didn't mean to kill the cashier. The night of all that money made me crazy, I guess."

"Pierre, Pierre," cried Ann. "Stop, stop, stop, dear Pierre. You must not do that."

Pierre checked her by struggling to his knees. Speechless with amazement, they helped him to a chair. And then as if he were acting in a play, he continued to pour out his fantastic confession, his soul's gainful strength as he proceeded as if rallying the last of his physical powers for the climax of his act.

"I decided that night that I must be rich. I had learned the truth that money is everything and the art is nothing. I saw that I had been a fool to wish to be an actor; to go to hell for money—that is the thing. I thought that with this bank money to start with, I could make millions. I came out under the pretense of finding Bruce. I told Bruce what I had done. He tried to make me go back to Orchard Hill and give myself up. We got lost in the desert; there was not water enough for two. Bruce died. Bruce gave his life to save me. Ann—greater love hath no man than this." His voice faltered, the deepest eyes there looking into Ann's face, Pierre, Pierre, the actor, was visualizing the character which for love of her he must create.

Acting this new role, he said in a stronger, clearer voice: "There is something I must tell you, Ann."

"Not now, dear. Wait until you are stronger."

feet, signifying with a gesture that the actor had indeed made his exit. The debutante and Jimmie Harrison stood with bowed heads.

Old Antonio Latour said reverently, "Bravo, bravo, my little Pierre!"

Curious! And tomorrow there's a final scene shift from this tragedy of despair and disillusionment.

BUILD FISH HATCHERY JASPER, Aug. 7, 1931—Work on the Jasper state fish hatchery which has been in progress since last November, is near completion and it is expected that by August 15 the waters of Indian creek will be turned into the 33 ponds of the hatchery. Five or six varieties of fish will be placed in the ponds. One pond already has a supply of approximately 400 fish.

Three log cabins have been completed for C. D. Harper, superintendent; R. P. Winn, assistant, and another assistant to be named. The hatchery is located eight miles west of Jasper.

WHY TAKE PILLS?

There's no need to drug yourself with laxatives when constipation can be overcome by eating a delicious cereal. Mr. F. C. Aminsen, Kennehole, Washington, writes:

"I suffered with chronic constipation for many years and was compelled to use pills every night, but since I got your Kellogg's All-Bran it works. I would not be without it. I was so desirous of taking pills every night. Now it is so different. Kellogg's All-Bran works so naturally and is pleasant to take."

Just eat two tablespoons of Kellogg's All-Bran daily. Relief is guaranteed. It is the natural, safe way.

Delicious with milk or cream, fruits or honey added. Kellogg's All-Bran also furnishes iron for the blood. In the red and green packages at your grocer's. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

ONE-COLOR LUNCHEON BECOMES FOOD FASHION

PARIS (INS)—Fashions in food are imitating those in clothes and the smartest hostesses now are showing ingenious color schemes on their tables, providing appetizing dishes which blend artistically.

The all-green luncheon is perhaps the most popular for the moment. It is accompanied by green beer.

Lobster and tomatoes also make a comparatively easy to prepare an attractive red meal. The sauces are colored to match.

This fashion is likely to provide forthcoming comment by doctors and dietitians and discussions on the various effects of color on the digestive tract.

Serve Plenty of Salads To Keep A Cool Kitchen

By JOSEPHINE B. GIBSON

Chilled, colorful salads in deep cups of lettuce are the coolest and most appetizing foods with which one can tempt flagging appetites on sultry mid-summer days.

Salads are ideal for the main dish at luncheons and parties, and the more substantial ones are excellent for dinner too. A well-made vegetable or summer potato salad, and a platter of cold meat, with such relishes as tomato ketchup, chili sauce, or prepared mustard, make a dinner that will be received enthusiastically by every member of the family. And it's not necessary to heat up the kitchen to prepare such a meal, either!

The following salads are easy to make and they will taste unusually good at this season of the year:

Tomato Stuffed with Brazilian Bean Salad: Cut a thin slice from the top of 6 firm tomatoes. Remove seeds, sprinkle with salt, and invert to drain. To 1 cup oven baked kidney beans add 2 tablespoons Indian relish and 2 tablespoons Spanish Queen olives, chopped. Moisten with mayonnaise salad dressing and stuff in hollowed out tomatoes. Place a narrow strip of tomato crosswise over the top as a garnish and serve on a nest of crisp lettuce.

Stuffed Egg Salad: Hard cook 6 eggs. Remove the yolks, and pass two of them through a food chopper together with 3 thin slices of cold boiled ham. Then press the other four yolks through a sieve, and set them aside. To the ham and egg yolks add 1-4 cup stuffed Spanish olives, chopped, and moisten with 1-2 teaspoon prepared mustard. Fill the whites of the eggs with this mixture, and place the two halves together. Place an egg in a nest of crisp lettuce and cover with Russian dressing, made from equal parts of chili sauce and mayonnaise salad dressing. Sprinkle with the egg yolks that were put through a sieve, and garnish with slices of stuffed Spanish olives.

Summer Potato Salad: Dice 5 cold cooked potatoes, add 1 diced cucumber, 3 tomatoes, diced, and 2 tablespoons minced onion. Add 1 teaspoon salt, and moisten with 1-2 cup mayonnaise salad dressing to which has been added 1 teaspoon prepared mustard. This is excellent for a summer supper or a picnic salad, just as it is, or with the addition of three frankfurters that have been cooked in salted water, peeled and sliced. Garnish with slices of sweet gherkins.

Frozen Fruit Salad: Dice 1 orange and 2 slices of pineapple, and add 1 sliced banana and 1-4 cup whole Maraschino cherries. Mix the fruit well and moisten with 1-2 cup mayonnaise. Then fold in 1 cup whipped cream that has been sweetened with 2 tablespoons granulated sugar. Place the salad in the pans of a mechanical refrigerator and freeze for four to five hours. If a mechanical refrigerator is not used, pack the salad into small empty baking powder cans and seal them with an inch wide strip of cloth dipped in melted paraffin or lard. Then pack the cans in ice and salt for three hours. Serve the salad sliced in nests of crisp lettuce, and garnish with a spoonful of mayonnaise salad dressing and a Maraschino cherry.

Pineapple and Peanut Butter Sandwich Salad: Spread a slice of chilled canned pineapple with Peanut butter and cover with a second slice of the chilled pineapple to form a sandwich of the pineapple slices with a peanut butter filling. Cut into quarters and arrange the four wedge-shaped pieces in a bed of chilled lettuce, making a pinwheel. Place a spoonful of mayonnaise salad dressing in the center. Add a Maraschino cherry, or make a tiny ball of peanut butter and place it in the center.

Country Club Salad: Mix 1 cup cold cooked veal, and 1 cup cold cooked ham, diced small. Then add 2 cups diced celery. Moisten with mayonnaise salad dressing one-half hour before serving. Chill and serve in beds of crisp lettuce, garnished with slices of stuffed Spanish olives. This is an excellent picnic salad.

Old-Time Dances Popular In Santone

SAN ANTONIO, Aug. 7. (AP)—The old-time dances have scored a triumph in San Antonio.

Several weeks ago a movement was launched by ministers of the city to secure a ban on dancing at the city recreation parks. After a lengthy controversy, an ordinance banning the dances was framed under instructions from Mayor C. M. Chambers.

Then Miss Mary Wilson, supervisor of playgrounds, started a class in old-time square dances at one of the parks. When a protest was filed with the mayor, he declared: "So far as I am concerned, old-fashioned square dancing is not dancing."

"When I voted for the ordinance I understood it meant modern dancing. Square dancing was not included and I will not do anything to stop it."

Main Street Bowlers Shatter West Texas Record To Capture Tournament From Colorado Five

Breaking records and establishing new marks, Big Spring Main Street Bowling club won high honors in a tournament held in Colorado Thursday night. Four teams representing Sweetwater, Colorado, and two from Big Spring were present. Colorado was runner-up.

Main Street swept through her initial engagement with a 22-pin advantage and was pitted against Colorado after the latter had succeeded in administering a round drubbing to the Big Spring recreation club five. Colorado's victory was the result of a fruitful period of strikes in which some unsteady shots were executed. The total of 2,660 pins for the match was the highest ever scored by a Colorado team.

In the play-off between Main Street and Colorado the latter stepped into a substantial lead as the quietest of bowlers tumbled the pins right and left for a 71-point advantage. The second game of the final match saw Colorado continue her apparent victorious march and chalk up an additional 22-pin advantage to run their margin to 93 pins on the two games.

With only one more to be played and trailing by nearly 100 pins things appeared dark for Main Street, especially since Hepper, number one man was suffering from a sore thumb. However he used only one finger in finishing the pins and emerged with high point honors with 246 pins. J. Lee took an even 200 with four straight splits, some sort of a record. The Main Street total of 984 pins for the one game is the highest ever scored in a West Texas tournament. Taylor of Colorado was high for a single match with 573 pins.

Friday night the Crawford Cleaners tangle with Main Street and the Main Street will engage Big Spring Recreation Saturday night.

State's Attorney Works On Contest Over Boundary Line

SAN ANGELO, Texas, Aug. 7. (AP)—Conferees with a number of San Angelo attorneys who represent some of the 210 defendants in the state's suit against H. B. White and others were held here recently by George T. Wilson, assistant attorney general in charge of land litigation.

The state seeks establishment of boundary lines in block 194, O&GF Railway company survey in the Yates pool, heretofore recognized by the land commissioners, and Mr. Wilson hopes to get together the evidence in time for the case to be called to trial in district court at Austin in October. The suit against Whiteside and others covers questions of boundary lines raised in the Smith-Turner case. The supreme court has set the Smith-Turner case for rehearing in October, and the attorney general plans to file a written argument or brief in that case if the supreme court will permit, seeking to exclude the Turner vacancy and to establish the lines of the various surveys according to the theory of the land commissioner in approving the Dadd survey.

Second Motor Tourists See Average Crops

Northwestern Section Of County Visited By Motorcade

Comparing crop conditions with those noted on a previous tour of the farming sections of the county, a second motorcade sponsored by the chamber of commerce was held Thursday. The second automobile caravan made a trek through the northwestern section of the county, while the first one carried them through the southwestern part.

In general it might be said that crop conditions noted on the previous tour were better due to a much larger amount of rain. But, excluding spots blown out by high wind and sand, the northwestern part of the county is showing more yield in proportion to rain received. Some farmers of that section are emphatic in saying that the crops around their respective places are better than usual, while others tell questioners that crops are average. Conditions, they all admit, could be worse.

The big need in the section toured Thursday is rain for young feed. Older feed stuffs are well rooted and heading. But the younger feed is beginning to twist, becoming scrawny and gnarled. However it would make good feed if a down-pour is had soon, authorities on crop conditions told a Herald representative. Many places are blown out in spots, but in only one location did the motorcade sight a large stretch of land effected by wind and sand.

Leaving the chamber of commerce offices at 730 a. m. from the Settles Hotel the tourists took to the Lamesa road, known as highway 9 and drove north to John Miller's farm, noting a variety of conditions manifested along side the road. Here they turned west and proceeded to the Moore school house, turning again north for two miles. Conditions were better than average and cotton especially seemed in good shape. Going west again for a short distance the body made its first halt at L. H. Thomas' farm. He led the men in their cars through his field where a good patch of roasting ears was surrounded by knee high cotton bearing twenty and twenty five squares to the stalk. Feed appeared to be in fine condition.

From Thomas' farm the motorcade departed from the Thomas farm the motorcade advanced north into highway 9 and proceeded to Highway school house. After reaching that objective the body moved west to Martin's farm and north to Sam Little's place. Turning west here the motorcade came to an unscheduled halt to view a patch of fish and sweet potatoes growing beautifully in a corn and cotton patch. After a very short pause the trip was resumed, going west to Frank Hodnett's place for the second scheduled stop.

Hodnett led the men through his exceedingly large orchard which this year bore no fruit due to a late freeze. However, it is one of the largest fruit bearing groves in the county, motorcaders declared. Mr. Hodnett then took the visitors through his field where he explained that a peculiar sort of smoot was damaging his feed to a slight extent. Then he led the way to a large watermelon and cantaloupe patch which he had an innovation in watermelon. It was a long row of twine crisscrossed at random, with a tin lid dangling in the middle. This, Hodnett declared, would prevent birds from destroying the crop. He showed the body a fine brood of baby chicks, frying steed chickens, small turkeys, guinea fow, and other fowl, and passing the Denton farm the motorcade reached East Knott and was joined by Jim Black and Mr. Lytle who had become lost from the body in distributing frozen confections to the children alongside the road.

After a short visit with business men in that section the travelers pulled out for West Knott, where they came to another halt. Frozen deserts were again distributed by Black and Lytle to every person sighted.

Here the caravan was joined by John Pugh who led the string of cars to his place southwest of the Knott community. It was at this point where the motorcaders were

Largest Field In History Entered For Regional Tennis Tourney On Big Spring Courts Opening Friday

What local tennis heads declare to be the largest field ever entered in one tournament in the state under the supervision of an independent club will play on the high school courts starting Friday in the West Texas Tennis tourney. The premier net attraction of western Texas evidently will turn out to be the premier independent affair of the whole state if the large entry list is to be held as an indication of strength.

Wednesday evening forty-three men had paid entrance fees and were prepared to take part in the meet when it opens tomorrow on the cement courts at 1000 Johnson at 8:30 a. m. One of the entrants notified the officials in charge that he intended bringing three players to accompany him on the trip. The number is more than apt to swell

Alfred Says He Will Seek Lower Rates

AUSTIN, Aug. 6 (NS)—Texas looked forward to bright prospects for lower utility rates today as a result of the latest crusade of Jimmie Alfred, young attorney general of Texas.

Alfred announced his intention of seeking lower rates in the courts if necessary in reply to a communication from Grady Shipp, secretary of the chamber of commerce of Plainview, who asked whether that city could not make arrangements to set up its own gas distribution system.

Shipp explained that citizens of Plainview were not satisfied with their gas rates. In reply, Alfred affirmed him that "practically the same problem" confronts practically every city in the state, adding he had reached the conclusion that there should be "a general reduction of rates throughout the entire state, in line with reduced prices and values of other commodities and services. It seems to me this is true of all public utility services. He declared utility companies had shown no disposition to pass along savings to the consuming public, and were charging rates based upon property values established during a period of inflation and great prosperity.

"It seems unfair and unjust for them to demand and collect rates which will yield what they term a fair return upon such fictitious values. The public utilities are going to have to get down on a level with all other businesses and industries. The land owners and farmers took their loss long ago, and are still taking it. The oil companies, railroads, banks, and manufacturers have taken theirs. Those who own the stock of and control the great utilities are not entitled to any great consideration.

"In view of my convictions in the matter, I have been making a study of the whole utility situation. When this is completed, I have determined to take appropriate action to prevent discrimination between cities and towns of Texas and to effect a general scaling down of utility charges.

"My study has revealed that most of the utilities in Texas are controlled outside the state. In some instances the organizations are very complex. If any of these are being operated in violation of our anti-trust laws it is my purpose to prosecute them vigorously. The task is a great one and requires concerted action on the part of all state and local officials. If those officials will pool their resources to reduce rates, it can be accomplished."

Quiet Reigns In Oklahoma Crude Fields

Stingling Wires Texas Laws Prevent Shut Down Order Here

OKLAHOMA CITY, Aug. 6 (AP)—Quiet spread over most of Oklahoma's oil fields today as national guardmen moved to close a few wells still producing against the order of Governor W. H. Murray.

All wells in the greater Seminole area were closed yesterday and last night except those pumping water, and strippers.

Sixteen wells in the Chandler area 66 in the Tatum pool Carter county, remained to be closed. No opposition was found in the Seminole area, many operators meeting Colonel Cleo Murray and Adjutant General Charles F. Barrett to declare their willingness to comply with the governor's order.

Reports from Tulsa indicated no movement among producers to raise the price of crude to a dollar a barrel, as demanded by the governor in his first threat of a shut down.

A court at Guthrie yesterday upheld state prohibition laws, challenged by the Champlin Refining Company of Enid.

It was rumored certain pipe line companies plan to seek relief from the shut down order in court. Refiners were left with little crude.

Governor Ross Sterling of Texas wired that Texas laws prevent a similar shut down in the neighboring state, which had been suggested by Murray.

Harry Sinclair, in Tulsa, issued a scathing answer to Murray's criticism of Sinclair interests.

Rotation Of Crops Favored In Confab On Lint Industry

AUSTIN, Texas, Aug. 6 (INS)—Having approved the principle of cotton acreage reduction by law, and recommended it to all cotton producing states, delegates to Governor Ross Sterling's cotton conference were on their way home today, to report the proceedings of the two-day meeting.

Resolutions to this effect were adopted at the closing session, along with others endorsing the aims of Progressive Texans and recommending a south-wide program of the same nature to contribute toward the building up of the south; recommending the activities of organizations sponsoring more uses for cotton; endorsing the principle of cooperative marketing; and expressing disapproval of the proposed 15 per cent increase in freight rates, particularly as applicable to agricultural products.

"The present deplorable condition of the cotton industry," the resolution stated, "is simply one part of the general depression. It is therefore, the belief of this conference that the situation cannot be completely remedied by any one nation, or by any measure that pertains to the cotton industry alone. It is, however, the belief of this convention that the present crisis is so grave that any help that legislation can give ought to be given at once."

Your committee heartily approves of the Olsen bill (providing for a closer relation of cotton with other crops) and recommends that we endorse this bill as the only means immediately available, and further recommends that all cotton growing states be called upon to pass similar bills. We further recommend that southern states call upon the president to take whatever steps are necessary to have careful study given to the question of the general effect of the tariff barriers and our war debts on the cotton industry.

"In view of the fact that the records show that the United States export of cotton have been steadily declining and that census figures show the south with 22 per cent of the population of the U. S. produces only 8 per cent of the value added by manufacturers in the United States, it is evident that there is, therefore need for the south to produce more manufactured products for the home market. It is, therefore recommended that this meeting endorse the program of industrial development sponsored by Progressive Texans in Texas, and recommend that the entire south unite in a movement for industrial development."

Voluntary Move May Be Agreed Upon

Plan Believed Better Than Statutory Regulation By Association

TYLER, Aug. 6 (AP)—East Texas oil operators were meeting here today to discuss a voluntary shut down as a better method of raising crude oil prices than legislation.

The field last week averaged nearly 600,000 barrels daily. Previous attempts to curb production failed for lack of unanimous cooperation.

Oklahoma operators started a voluntary shut down before the governor closed the wells with troops. The Oklahoma men suggested similar action here.

Judge Charles Brachfield, president of the East Texas Lease, Royalty and Producers Association, called the meeting.

TYLER, Texas, Aug. 6 (AP)—Independent oil operators will meet in the chamber of commerce building here Thursday afternoon to discuss a proposed shutdown of East Texas wells as a means of forcing higher prices for crude oil.

The shutdown move will be similar to the one now in force in the Oklahoma City field, with the possible elimination of armed troops guarding the wells.

The operators also will consider a plan for establishment of a crude marketing agency.

The meeting was called at Longview yesterday by W. E. McKinney, Tyler operator, for Judge Charles F. Brachfield, Henderson, president of the East Texas Lease, Royalty and Producers Association.

DALLAS, Aug. 6 (AP)—Construction of a pipeline affording an outlet from the East Texas field by the Tidal Oil Company was reported as a possibility here today.

Comparison of June Business With 1930 More Favorable Than For May, Federal Reserve Report Discloses

DALLAS, Texas, Aug. 1 (UP)—Cautiousness of policy among business men and improvement of buying in some areas of the Eleventh Federal Reserve District were noted in the monthly business review of the Federal Reserve bank of Dallas announced today.

The recession in most reporting lines of wholesale trade was greater than the seasonal average, the report says, "and sales continued considerably lower than in the corresponding month a year ago; yet the comparison was slightly more favorable than was shown in May Reports. Indicate that merchants are adhering to the cautious policy of making replacements as consumer demand arises, with the result that new orders are in small quantity and represent mostly fill-in merchandise. Collections were seasonally slow but an improvement was noticeable in some areas."

The combined daily average of net demand and time deposits of member banks was shown to have declined to $775,035,000 during June, which was $21,840,000 less than the May average and $72,011,000 below the average for June, 1930.

Federal reserve bank loans to member banks reflected a net increase of approximately $50,000 between June 15 and July 15.

Liquidation
"While some liquidation was obtained from banks in the wheat growing territory," says the report, "it was more than offset by the demand from banks in other agricultural sections. The commercial loans of reserve city banks for the first time since last fall showed a slight increase between June 10 and July 8 and these advances added materially to their inventories during the same period. In some centers, there was an easing of rates on commercial and commodity loans."

The report pointed out as a significant feature of the department of agriculture's July 1 report the large prospective production of food and feed crops in the states attached to the Eleventh Federal Reserve district due both to larger acreage and heavy per acre yields.

While the prevailing low prices for agricultural products mean low returns for the surplus, above normal requirements, the large supplies will be a material aid in holding down the cost of production during the coming year.

"The area of cotton in cultivation on July 1, according to the department of agriculture, is considerably less than a year ago, the reduction ranging from 8 per cent in Texas to 17 per cent in Oklahoma and Arizona. Late reports indicate that the crop, although still somewhat late, is in fair to good condition in most sections of the district."

Less Construction
The report points out "a noticeable recession in construction activity during the past month. The valuation of building permits issued at principal cities during June was 23 per cent lower than in either the previous month or the corresponding month last year. The production and shipments of cement from Texas mills were somewhat larger than in May and production was considerably larger than in June, 1930. Shipments, however, showed a slight decline from a year ago."

Insolventcies recorded in the Eleventh district during June were reported as more favorable than in either the previous month or the same month last year, there being 61 commercial failures during the month, as against 70 in May and 61 in June a year ago. The insolvencies of firms defaulting during June totaled $1,322,700, while in June, 1930, the corresponding figure was $8,854,860.

The total output of crude oil in the district increased to 21,212,000 barrels during June, as compared to 21,112,000 barrels in the preceding month and 28,389,420 barrels in June, 1930. While the Central Texas was accountable for a gain of 140,850 barrels, all other major areas in the district showed perceptible reductions.

Typhoid Fever Appears Over Howard County

Typhoid fever continues to appear over the county according to Dr. T. M. Collins, county health officer, an under suspicion that have come from the excreta of an infected person. This is not a pleasant thought yet we cannot dispute the truth of the statement. Ordinarily the typhoid bacillus does not grow and multiply outside the human body, but there is one exception. Milk furnishes a good medium for its growth and milk should therefore be given more careful attention than perhaps any other food.

There is a method of preventing typhoid fever which Dr. Collins is encouraging and that is by becoming "immunized" through anti-typhoid inoculation or "vaccination." Immunity obtained in this way lasts about two years and at the end of that time the inoculation should be repeated. The use of anti-typhoid vaccine proved of great value in the time of the World War but it is not nearly so useful in this time of peace. Every person should be immunized where practicable, and especially those between the ages of 12 and 45 years. It is well to keep in mind, however, that artificial immunization is not intended to take the place of sanitary measures around the home. The toilet should be repaired and the well or cistern cleaned and made safe.

A well with a pump and protected by a concrete cover is not likely to need cleaning or disinfection. Should disinfection be considered advisable, it can be accomplished economically, efficiently, and safely by means of chloride of lime. A 12 ounce can of the chemical may be bought at the drug store and emptied into enough water to make a thin paste. When the paste has been reduced to a uniform texture and all lumps smoothed out, dilute four times as much in water and pour this solution into the well and mix as thoroughly as possible. After three or four hours, pump the water out until no chemical odor or taste remains. Then install a pump for permanent use and cover the well according to the methods recommended by the state department of health. Underground cisterns also should be protected with concrete covers and pumps.

Cisterns may also be disinfected with chloride of lime in the same manner as wells while the cistern is full of water. If the cistern is empty, make a paste of 1.3 of a 12-ounce can of chloride of lime and dilute in 10 gallons of water, wash down the sides of the cistern with the solution, then rinse with clean water.

Cistern water will be cleaner and more satisfactory if the first washings from the house roof are bypassed and wasted. This may be done by putting a branch pipe in the inlet pipe. The inlet pipe should make a tight connection with the cistern to prevent dust and insects entering. It is advisable also to place a screen in the inlet pipe to exclude insects, leaves, etc. A drain pipe or faucet leading from the bottom of an over-ground cistern will allow rusty, dirty water and sediment to be drawn off, as it accumulates.

Sterling City News-Record Unique Weekly W. F. Kellis' Subscribers Number Half of Residents of Sterling County And the Rest Wear It Out By Borrowing

Sterling county is noted for many unique possessions but—anything could be more unique than anything else—its most unique possession would be W. F. Kellis, editor of the popular News-Record. W. F. Kellis belongs to Sterling County just as much as Sterling County belongs to him; you could not separate the two. Everyone knows him and calls him "Uncle Bill."

The story of The News-Record begins in Big Spring. The printing press was formerly that which printed the Big Spring Panograph in the 90's.

How it changed to go to Sterling City, said Mr. Kellis, was because he happened to have the money to buy it and another fellow happened to have the experience to run it so they joined forces. That was in 1890. At the end of four weeks, however, the money was gone and so was the experience. The other fellow skipped out and left Mr. Kellis with the printing press on his hands. In order to get anything out of his investment he had to learn how to operate the thing.

Today the News-Record has a fine new gasoline-driven press but it uses still the old type cases and occasionally the old job press for small printing jobs.

Handled Two Jobs
Mr. Kellis was a lawyer when he bought out the newspaper equipment. He set up all night many a week in order to get the hand of the mechanical side of printing. Once he had that mastered, he could practice law and put out a weekly at the same time. After his son, Pat, graduated from Texas University Law School, he returned to Sterling City, and between law cases helps his father, especially with the mechanical end.

Instead of a printer's devil the News-Record employs an "angel." She is a little girl about 15, named Edith Southley. Having no parents and two-younger sisters dependent on her, she asked for the job after her brother died. She had learned a good deal about it from him. For the last three years she has assisted the type and read the proof and made herself useful generally.

The paper was originally named the Record. About that time Mr. Kellis met up with his first competitor. This man was running a paper called the News, as the organ of the Populists, a very radical group. They did not support him properly so one day he moved over to Mr. Kellis' shop, put his printing press in the back room and in a few days started the News-Record with profits and expenses shared jointly. That lasted until the Populist editor got tired and moved on. Mr. Kellis sold the equipment and continued the name.

Got Rid of 5 Competitors
Five competitors have ended up, says Mr. Kellis, by putting their equipment in his back room and pulling out. He sells what they leave and continues his way serenely.

Convention Plans Made

W. F. KELLIS

ORIGINAL COURTHOUSE
Subscriptions bother Mr. Kellis a little but there is little he can do about them except to write an occasional editorial whenever some feminine member of his family feels impelled to put a patch on his trousers. He reminds his reader of the patch and then maybe somebody who has been getting the paper for about five years free will come in and pay up his back subscriptions.

Although not everyone in Sterling County buys the paper, everyone reads it. They wear out their Mr. Kellis' papers reading them. Behind Every Progressive Move The News-Record has been behind every progressive movement in Sterling County, said Mr. Kellis, from the building of the present courthouse to the paving of roads in Sterling county. It fought for the railroad through the county and then fought almost as hard to get a tabernacle built.

A. J. Blackmon, Caught In Arkansas, Jumps Near Sweetwater As Train Makes 50 Miles An Hour; May Die

A. J. Blackmon, 50, former proprietor of a hotel on West Third street, wanted here on a charge of arson, was in a critical condition in a local hospital last night suffering from injuries received Friday night when he leaped through window of the Sunbeam Special two miles east of Sweetwater. He was brought here late yesterday from a Sweetwater hospital.

Blackmon was being brought here from Hope, Arkansas, by Andrew Merrick, deputy sheriff. Merrick turned to see Blackmon in the act of leaping from the train, which was moving at a rate of 50 miles per hour. Four Dead As Desert Takes Toll

NOGALES, SONORA, Mexico, July 31 (UP)—Four unmasked graves in the blistering wastes and huge men who raged insanely in a Sonoran hospital provided a real and tragic answer to Thomas A. Edison's famous question as to what a group of assorted travelers would do if marooned in a desert with limited supplies of food and water.

Edison's question was imaginary. His tragedy was real. In this group there were seven, including a 15-year-old mother and her 3-year-old baby. Others of the party were men.

The party set out from Nogales, Mexico, in a desert stage July 29. Five days ago, the stage broke down, 200 miles from any town.

Edison's question was directed to a man in his imaginary party. Who, he asked, should be given the water, who given the chance to struggle back to civilization, who left to die?

This party of seven answered the question by all setting out together, tramping lightly across the sands with only a small amount of water. The weak succumbed and fell by the wayside to die. The others struggled on.

The tragedy was discovered by Augustin Pinto, of Mexicali, who was journeying from Lower California to the city of Sonora.

He came first upon the broken down stage, then found the body of the girl mother, Eugenia M. De Ojeda, with her tiny baby clutched to her breast. He buried them in shallow graves scooped out of the sand.

Traveling on, he found next the body of Jesus Orantes and still farther on the body of Jesus Ramirez, Ramon. He buried both.

Still farther on he came upon the three survivors, Vicente Gutierrez, driver of the stage, his son, Vicente, Jr., and Juan Ojeda, husband of the 16 year old girl who had succumbed to thirst and hunger under the burning desert sun. All three men were temporarily insane. Pinto brought them to a hospital here where they fought today to win back the sanity which they had lost in the desert.

$45 Is Bread Bill, Average Family In U.S. Each Year

How much does the average American family spend in a year for bakery goods? The head of a large baking goods company set out to find some information on food budgets, and announced recently that approximately $50 a year is spent by the average family for baked goods.

Of this amount about $45 is for bread and rolls. For every dollar spent for food, seven cents buys bread. A wide tendency toward greater consumption of bread is reported in the survey.

Twenty billion dollars is estimated to be the annual food bill of the nation. In 1914 the United States spent only one-third of that sum for food. A larger population, increased prices, better food and greater variety are given as reasons for the increase in the amount of money spent each year for food.

Health Nurse Stresses Oral Hygiene Program

Oral Hygiene is being stressed this year by the Howard County Health Association. Mrs. M. R. Showalter, public health nurse, has written to all the leading toothpaste manufacturers asking them to contribute a tin of toothpaste to the oral hygiene program.

First, second and third-graders in the county schools are being given regular tooth brush drills. 1618 children were given tooth brushes and paste last year.

This year 2800 samples have already been sent in by Colgate, which was the most generous. Ipana, Kolynos and Eorhans also sent samples.

Colgate has organized a Colgate health club for children. To be eligible all children have to do is to brush their teeth every morning and night for 6 weeks without missing a check each brushing on a card furnished by the company and signed by parent and dentist.

A membership pin is then sent to the child as a sign of membership. Mrs. Showalter is hoping to enlist the aid of other local organizations to furnish children with toothbrushes this year.

Red Bluff Dam Cost $7,000,000

SAN ANGELO, Texas, July 31 (UP)—The latest estimate on building the Red Bluff dam for irrigation of the Pecos River Valley places the cost at $7,000,000, about $5,000,000 more than the cost the farmers estimated in the district for this dam and its canal.

The farmers who are to repay the government for the building of the dam thought cost would not be more than $2,000,000. R. E. Thomson, congressman from El Paso, said recently he would look into the matter of costs when he reached Washington this fall. The $7,000,000 estimate is made by the reclamation service.

Ex-Ranger, Former Glasscock Rancher Visits Big Spring

W. Weir, who served with the Texas Rangers out of Brownwood in 1873 and 1874 and then settled on a ranch in Glasscock county, visited the old settlers' reunion here recently.

He now ranches at Monument, New Mexico where he has 10,000 acres. Although 77 years old he still has the keen eye, the unflinching step and the erect carriage of a soldier.

The first time he visited Big Spring it was under martial law, said Mr. Weir. "Why" he was asked. "Why" he said, somebody was being killed most every night," he replied.

Mr. Weir was present when McCulloch county was organized. He helped organize Glasscock county and later performed the same service in Lea county, New Mexico. Visiting Hobbs, New Mexico, two years ago was like stepping on a frontier railroad camp or wild west town, he said. Mr. Weir said that he got a great deal of fun out of it, but that it was not everybody like it. He said that his friends when they find out that he is in Big Spring they are sure to find him on his ranch," he said.

Mr. Weir is authority for the statement that the Tonkawa Indians, who were usually peaceable but became very hostile and justly huffed around buffalo hunters' camps, were often called "chamballe."

Traylor For President Is Texan's Plea

Chicago Banker's Boom Started At Former Home, Hillboro

HILLBORO, Aug. 1 (UP)—Home folks in this Texas town where Melvin A. Traylor, internationally known financier now president of the First National Bank of Chicago, began his career, planned to hold a meeting today to launch a Democratic Traylor-for-President movement.

Traylor came here in 1868, when he was 20, from Breeding, Ky., his birthplace. He worked in a grocery store and studied law at night. After being admitted to the bar in 1901, he was elected Hillboro city clerk, then served as assistant county attorney of Hill county.

He began his banking career in 1905 as cashier of the Bank of Malone, Texas. By rapid strides he advanced to positions of authority in banks in Ballinger and in 1911 went to St. Louis to become vice-president of the Stockyards National Bank of Chicago in 1914 as vice president of the Livestock Exchange National Bank. In 1916 he was elected president of that bank, now the Stockyards National Bank. He was elected president of the First Trust and Savings Bank (now the First Union Trust and Savings Bank) and vice president of the First National Bank of Chicago in 1918, serving until elected president of the First National in January, 1925.

For several years, he was chairman of the economic policy commission of the American Bankers Association and was elected president of the association in 1926. Traylor was one of two American members of the organization committee of the Bank of International Settlements, making two trips to Europe in connection with that work.

Amendment To Fix Ratio Between Crude and Refined Oil Products Prices Defeated In Lower House

AUSTIN, Aug. 4 (AP)—The House today dismissed an amendment to the Wagstaff oil conservation bill that would have authorized the commission to set the ratio between crude and refined products prices. A vote on the bill was expected late today. The senate was in recess.

The Wagstaff bill deals with "physical waste" only, and would set up the conservation commission favored by the governor. Its wording is declared by many to be more explicit than that of existing laws, but its actual provision little different.

Some representatives of major companies define "actual physical waste" to include exaporation from excessive storage brought on by over-production, and thus base their plea that any statute adopted for betterment of the industry should include a provision to prevent production above actual market demand plus reasonable reserves.

This contention is not concurred in by the governor.

AUSTIN, Aug. 4.—One branch of the legislature yesterday disposed of the question of market demand as a factor in the conservation of oil and gas.

The house, by an overwhelming majority, voted down an amendment by Representative Walter Beck of Fort Worth to the Wagstaff administration-sectioned bill, which would have required the railroad commission to restrict production to market demand.

The senate state affairs committee concluded its hearings on the bill and immediately went into executive session.

The bill the administration favors, by Senator Walter C. Woodward of Coleman, was voted favorably, 13 to 1 and the committee refused to substitute it for the conservation bill offered by Senator Sam Small of Wellington.

The Woodward bill would empower a new commission on conservation, which would be authorized under a companion bill already approved by the committee to supervise production, storage and transportation of oil to prevent physical waste.

Small's proposal. The Small bill, backed by the Texas oil industry, would have permitted the commission to consider current consumption in arriving at decisions as to what orders reducing or adjusting production it might make.

A considerable portion of the legislative oil fight has centered about the market demand provision. Governor R. S. Sterling sent a message to the legislature today in which he indicated he would veto any bill that limited production to market demand.

Numerous viewpoints about what was wrong with the oil industry and how it could be remedied were presented to the senate committee. Several witnesses argued the state should not consider economic waste, but should deal only with physical waste.

Howley Raps Tax Plan. Representative A. M. Howley of Denney attacked in the house Governor Sterling's plan to levy an occupation tax of two cents per barrel on oil, claiming the major companies would be able to make up the tax in some other line while the independent producers would be forced to dip up the tax since he couldn't pass it on.

The Wagstaff bill was termed by the member "the cheapest form of economic quackery," it passed without a dissenting vote. Another claimed the major oil companies and not the state would determine what the tax demand was to be and that the provision would give the major oil club to beat the independent operator to death.

Surplus Large But Millions Go Unclothed

Says Governor Sterling, Pointing To Flow of World's Gold

AUSTIN, Aug. 4 (AP)—Governor Sterling opened the south-wide cotton conference here this morning, declaring that gigantic stocks of cotton remain unclothed while millions of people go poorly clothed.

He denied existence of a surplus, saying that distribution is faulty. He said millions of Chinese and Indians, hungry and naked, lack gold to buy cotton, since America and France hold three-fourths of the world's supply of gold.

The governor said he doubted somewhat whether legislation is possible that would aid farmers or oil men.

Oklahoma, New Mexico, Tennessee, Louisiana and Arkansas were represented.

Preliminary recommendations yesterday asked the federal farm board to keep its cotton off the market until next year and approved statutory acreage reduction.

FLORENCE, S. C., Aug. 4 (AP)—Senators Smith, South Carolina, and Harris, Georgia, have urged Hoover to act against selling farm board cotton to Germany.

Harris told Hoover the sale would hurt the market for the new crop in selling that stabilization cotton be withheld. Smith warned other senators, including the Texas senators, asking for support.

Milwaukee English Instructor Ending Visit Here With Family

Once there was a time when you could spot a A.M.—especially a matter of arts from a northern school, a mile off; it wore large specs, long skirts and had a thin droopy face, pale from living too much indoors.

Now, girls who go to Columbia and get their A.M. degrees look so much like high school graduates with their bobbed curly hair, house dresses to their knees, and one of mother's kitchen aprons on, that it's hard to spot one in a small city, rare as they are.

Big Spring, however, has its Columbia master of arts. Her name is Eloise Wilson and she is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Wilson, of 1608 Main street.

She has had her A.M. several years; so she must have received it at the age when other girls were proudly waving A.B.'s.

In the winter time Miss Wilson teaches in a Milwaukee, Wisconsin high school and in the summer comes to Texas to help her mother clean house and teach her young-est brother the nonchalant use of "Teg Pardon," in both of which she is as efficient as she is in pread-ing over an English class room. She is really not a product of Texas education. She obtained her A.B. at Oklahoma University. Texas is still a "foreign" land to her, not as homelike even as Milwaukee or New York. A six weeks stay sometimes drags.

"Leave Me Or I'll Leave You," Said Dusky Wife; Shots Punctuate Quarrel, Husband Faces Charges

Vessie Mae Williams, negro, tried to get her husband, Fred, to leave her. He wouldn't do it. She threatened to leave him.

Fred told her he would shoot her if she left him. Monday morning they had a brief quarrel. Vessie Mae emerged with a 32-caliber bullet in her right shoulder. She swore out a complaint of assault with intent to murder and Fred was being held by county officials.

The woman was not dangerously hurt. She appeared at the sheriff's office three hours after the shooting, during which three bullets were fired, two going wild.

Williams fled from the scene and was arrested in a shack west of the old railroad shops. Sheriff Slaughter and Deputy Merrick entered from different doors simultaneously and the man made no attempt to escape.

The negroes have been married five years, said the woman.

Construction of City Hall Building To Begin In Sixty to Seventy Days

Actual construction of the new city hall, auditorium and central fire station may not be started for 60 or 70 days, according to E. V. Spence, city manager, who assumed duties for the first time in Big Spring Saturday.

"Perhaps the average citizen will be puzzled to learn that it will take that long," said Spence, "but he does not realize what an enormous project it is."

Preliminary plans were presented to the city commission Friday and were to again be viewed Monday evening. Six weeks will be necessary to complete all plans and specifications, said Mr. Spence.

Following the reception of the complete plans and specifications the city will have to advertise for bids, possibly for a period of one month before a contract can be let. Work will then be started. Removal of dirt from the site is now under way.

AUSTIN, Aug. 3 (AP)—The State Highway Commission closed a three-day meeting here today by awarding contracts for road and bridge construction aggregating $3,359,744. The total of the contracts for the three days was $4,993,982 and called for improvement of 590 highway miles in addition to several bridges.

Contracts awarded today included 48 miles of concrete paving, 103.5 miles of grading and drainage structures, 33.3 miles of other hard surface paving and four bridges.

A total of 156.3 miles of concrete paving was placed under contract at the meeting, in addition to 310 miles of grading and drainage structures, 50 miles of surfacing other than concrete, 45 miles of maintenance, 23 bridges and four railroad grade crossing eliminations.

The three-day meeting combined the July-August sessions. The program inaugurated was the largest since May of 1929. The commission will be in session Monday to make aid allotments to counties.

Highway officials expressed satisfaction at the bids, which reflected the lower prices in building materials and showed keen competition among contractors. Bidding for work was close and heavy, 23 bidders being received on one project and 25 on another.

Contracts awarded today: Wheeler County, 16.3 miles of concrete paving on Highway 75, from the Gray County line to Shamrock. Interstate Construction Company, Lubbock, $260,713.

Potter County, 6.4 miles grading and drainage and concrete paving from Amarillo Creek to Canadian River on Highway 5, Earl W. Baker & Co., Oklahoma City, Okla., $294,458.

Sterling County, 19.7 miles triple asphalt paving on caliche base from Sterling city to Glascock County line on Highway 9, Dorris Construction Company, Austin, $112,456.

Injunction Prevents Sale Of Property

Order Issued In Favor of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Settles Tuesday

Hearing on the injunction suit filed against the Milano Furniture company by Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Settles was started this afternoon to determine whether the temporary restraining order would be made permanent.

Following a hearing in chambers, Monday afternoon before Judge Fritz R. Smith of the 32nd district court a temporary injunction restraining the sheriff from conducting a public sale, advertised for 10 a. m. to 4 p. m. Tuesday of Howard county property of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Settles was ordered issued.

The sale was advertised following issuance of a judgment in Tarrant county in favor of the Milano Furniture company for approximately $78,000.

The court had not set the time for a hearing on the petition for a permanent injunction.

The plaintiff's petition for injunction, filed Monday by Thomas and McDonald, their attorneys, based the plea for an order preventing the scheduled sale, principally, upon the following allegations:

1. That among the pieces of property listed for sale is a tract described as follows: south 200 acres off the east one-half of section 160, block 28, W&N.W. survey, Howard county, and that this property is and was at the time of the levy of the execution the homestead of the plaintiffs.

2. That defendants have no legal right to proceed against said property in a forced sale and that the property has never been placed as security for the debt owed defendants and that the defendants have no legal right to sell the plaintiff's homestead.

3. Defendants knew or had reason to know before the execution was levied that the property was the homestead of the plaintiffs.

4. That this state, the nation and the entire world are suffering from what is termed a depression and that the money markets in Texas and the nation is depressed and money cannot be obtained so fast as that the plaintiff has made every effort to obtain money to satisfy this judgment and pay these defendants but that at the present time they have been unable to do so in whole; that the property posted for sale is reasonably worth $1,000,000 less an outstanding indebtedness of $185,000 leaving the equity belonging to the plaintiff reasonably worth $815,000 and that their interest in said property is now posted for sale to satisfy a judgment of $75,000.

5. That such proceedings would be inequitable and unjust and that if given 20 days plaintiffs believe they will be able to raise the money and satisfy the judgment in its entirety without the sale of their property in the property posted for sale.

6. That if the property were sold on August 4 as advertised it would not sell for the amount of the judgment held by the defendants because of the depressed condition of the money market.

7. At the time of institution of the proceedings resulting in the judgment in favor of defendants no objection or citations were ever served on the plaintiffs except they had no legal notice as to the existence of such a suit and were not aware of the proceedings until too late to intervene and protect their interest; that citations which were the basis upon which the judgment was rendered were served upon the agent of the plaintiffs and they did not have notice as is required by reason of the present and have a hearing in court; that the time for appeal has passed and time intervening before the proposed sale is not sufficient to allow institution of proceedings designed to prevent the sale of the property; that the agent of the plaintiffs had no legal right to accept service of citation and that such agency as exists between the parties is a limited one and does not extend the right to accept service of citation for the plaintiffs.

8. That, premises considered, neither the plaintiff nor the defendant has an adequate remedy at law.

BEAUMONT, Texas, August 3 (AP)—Perhaps farmers of Southeast Texas and Southwest Louisiana are not actually sitting up at night nursing their cotton, but many of them are doing everything possible in the way of preparation for a dash to Beaumont with the first bale of the 1931 crop.

Two prizes, $150 and $100 in cash, have been offered by the Beaumont Chamber of Commerce for the first Texas bale and the first Louisiana bale of this year's cotton to be delivered. The bales must weigh between 500 and 600 pounds and must be accompanied by a planter's certificate showing that it is 1931 cotton.

The first bale, whether from Texas or Louisiana, will bring the grower the $150 prize, and the second prize will go to the first from the other state.

First prize last season went to E. E. Metzger of Childers, Nacogdoches county, who drove all night in order to come in ahead of competitors. The first bale is expected within the next week.

Enforcement - - Not Repeal

At the French elections held on May 13, Paul Doumer was chosen president of the republic. Paul Doumer is an ultra dry. He turns down even the wine glass. In order to not stampede the famished electors, this fact was kept under a bushel during the campaign.

Herriot, the former president, was also a dry.

The old Tiger, Clemenceau, was also a dry, even refusing the wine, but Clemenceau was so powerful that the people overlooked that fact.

At different times, the French government has subsidized the anti-alcoholic movement. The French League Against Alcoholism occupies two whole floors of a large office building on the Boulevard St. Germain.

It is dawning on the Gallic mind that intoxicants are no good for man or beast. Intoxicating liquors were disloyal to France in the time of war. They are also disloyal in the time of peace.

Sooner or later, as civilization progresses, booze has got to go—even from sunny France.

THOSE SEVEN MEN FROM PRESTON

Ninety-nine years ago, occurred the first annual meeting of the famous temperance society established in Preston, England. So next year, the dries of that section propose to celebrate the hundredth anniversary of that event. The project is being sponsored chiefly by the Good Templars, for at the same time, the sixty-fourth anniversary of the founding of the International Order of Good Templars will be celebrated. Dries from the four corners of creation are expected to be present. Even it is announced that our own Henry Ford has "expressed his desire" to attend.

The first annual meeting of the Preston Temperance Society was held in the theater on March 22, 1832. At this meeting, it was reported that 748 persons had signed the "register," for the modern pledge cards had not yet made their appearance.

This initial annual meeting was held in 1832, yet it was the outcome of various dry activities in Preston, Bradford and Blackburn during the year or more preceding. The society was formed on the basis of abstinence from ardent spirits and "great moderation" in the use of other liquors.

But the people who really "got drunk" knew quite well that they could get drunk on beer or wine as well as on ardent spirits. At this annual meeting, Rev. John Broadbent proposed the adoption of a total abstinence pledge, but he was outvoted.

The total abstainers were not to be suppressed. On May 13, 1832, two months after the annual meeting, something was started. This date, the famous series of meetings began in the Preston "cockpit" and into these meetings was carried the issue of total abstinence or moderation. Later in the year, Joseph Livesey and John King had drafted and signed a total abstinence pledge. On September 1, the Stone and Blackburn signed the Livesey-King total pledge and the movement for the total abstinence policy was inaugurated. On the following year, the Preston Society adopted the total pledge and, gradually, the demand for "moderation" ceased to exist, except for the purpose of interfering with general movement against the liquor traffic. "Moderation" has become a smoke screen behind which the traffic seeks to defend itself.

LIQUOR AND RACKETEERING

"The assertion has been made that the principal source of game power is the profit derived from the illegal liquor traffic, and that the elimination, by some means, of this source of revenue would put an end to criminal, gangs and racketeering. In the recent income-tax prosecutions against a number of these organized gangsters it has been determined that, on average, not over 20 per cent of their revenue came from the liquor traffic, and it has been indicated that the removal of general conditions, the removal of illicit liquor traffic as a source of revenue would not end gangsterism and racketeering."

Plants Facing Shut Down As Wells Close; Order May Affect Gasoline Dealers

Guardsmen Advance From Oklahoma City To Greater Seminole Area; 6500 Persons Thrown Out of Work

OKLAHOMA CITY, Aug. 5 (AP).—Refiners here, facing a shut down today because of Governor Murray's closing of Oklahoma wells, were deluged today by telegrams from East Texas offering crude at 10 to 15 cents per barrel on loading racks there.

The freight rate is 34 to 36 cents a barrel, thus making it possible to get Texas crude here for about 50 cents per barrel.

Refiners said the shut down might affect filling stations. Their gasoline stocks were low. Higher gasoline prices were predicted.

Murray in the shut down order issued yesterday named the supreme executive power of the state as his authority. National guardsmen invaded the giant Oklahoma City field without appreciable opposition and headed toward new objectives.

The governor's order was to close all of the state's 3,100 wells that have daily production of 25 barrels or more.

Reports indicated more than 6,500 persons would be left jobless by closing of the wells. The order, coming at the end of several days of impatient waiting by independent operators suffering from low crude prices, decreed that each well remain closed until purchasers agreed to pay a minimum of $1 per barrel of the wells. Fifty cents was the top price yesterday. At Oklahoma City the shut down of nearly 800 wells was completed in less than four hours after the troops moved in. Stripped wells and gaspans turned off for drilling wells were exempted.

"Caused Low Prices" He asserted their combined operations caused low prices of crude to increase their profits while they were running smaller independent firms without such complete industrial facilities.
