

Scholarship Bank

College funding available

Students and future students in need of supplemental funding for college were urged today to write to The Scholarship Bank for a free financial aid planning calendar and information on private scholarship sources.

According to the director of this national, non-profit foundation, an estimated half-billion dollars is available to high school and college students, many of whom may not know that they are eligible. Funds are contributed by corporations, trade, civic and non-profit groups and are normally awarded on such basis as academic standing, college major, geographic preferences, areas of special interest and even on the student's willingness to consider a special research project. Parental factors such as union, employer or past military experience are also considered by some donors.

The Scholarship Bank works with financial aid counseling offices throughout the U.S. to assist in distribution of the information on the approximately 3,500 scholarship sources. Each scholarship has a value of a least $1,000 and many are renewable yearly. Graduate level grants with values of up to $25,000 are also available. All students receive from 20 to 65 different aid sources for which they are potentially eligible. For the 1988-89 school year, a number of new aid sources are available to students majoring in law, business, health, engineering, computer sciences and the humanities. Three national organizations are funding older women returning to school.

High school, college and future students should send now for their free planning calendar and information on the scholarships by sending a stamped, self addressed envelope (business size) to The Scholarship Bank, 13944 E. Amar Rd., La Puente, Ca. 91748. For faster service, call toll free 1-800-332-4432 outside Calif. and 1-800-523-6831 in California.

Sheets on WTSU honor roll

Ann Sheets, daughter of Claude and Jonell Sheets of Spearman, made the President's Honor Roll at West Texas State University both in the fall and spring semesters. She has a 4.0 grade point average. She was recognized for her academic excellence as Cross Residence Hall's academic student for 1988. Sheets is a sophomore at WTSU majoring in bio-engineering.

At the Jaycee's Bar-B-Que, during Hansford Round-up, 750 people turned out at Swimming Pool Park for the Bar-B-Que. The Jaycee's also catered Bar-B-Que for the old Timers Reunion and residents of Hansford Manor. Of the proceeds, $1,000 will go toward scholarships to benefit Spearman youth.

National beef checkoff seen positive by group

National beef checkoff referendum results, announced May 27 by the U.S. Department of Agriculture, were seen as extremely positive by industry, education and research groups involved in the effort.

Nationally, 78.97 percent of the eligible cattle producers, dairy farmers and importers voted to continue funding the U.S. beef research and promotion. Of the 256,505 total ballots cast, 202,408 were affirmative votes, while the remaining 54,097 voters registered negative votes, or 21.03 percent rejected the referendum.

In Texas, 37,945 people voted in the referendum. Affirmative votes were cast by 32,269 persons, or 85 percent. Voting "no" were 5,676 persons, or 12 percent.

Dr. Ernest E. Davis, economist in livestock marketing with the Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service, said it is very critical that this funding be available to cattlemen not only for advertising and promotion but "also for future research and continuing development of genetically-designed cattle to meet consumer and packer carcass and meat demands."

Davis said approval of the referendum will allow funds spent on that research to come from cattlemen rather than private funding.

"This means that cattlemen may own the genetics, instead of a private company," Davis said.

Passage of the referendum will permit long-range information planning that will benefit all segments of the beef industry, said Dr. John R. Beverly, beef cattle project group supervisor for the Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service.

"Broader promotion and information projects can now be planned in this post-referendum period. Besides product development research and promotion, more comprehensive marketing research and educational efforts can be generated that should have a positive impact on all phases of the beef industry," Beverly said.

According to Anne Anderson, executive director of the Texas Beef Industry Council, Austin, strategies to be used to influence consumers will include reaching them through education of physicians, dietitians, nutritionists and children -- the consumers of the future.

"The Beef Industry Council will strive to reposition beef as a food that is fashionable, light, healthy, wholesome, versatile, nutritious and good tasting by working with food editors of magazines as well as the broadcast media," Anderson said.

The referendum provides the accountability needed so producers are aware that funding decisions have been made by producers, Anderson said.

The beef checkoff program, which began Oct. 1 of 1986 as a result of the 1985 Farm Bill's Beef Promotion and Research Act, required that $1 from every head of cattle sold or imported in the U.S. be put aside for beef promotion and marketing efforts. The program is controlled by a 113-member board of 108 producers and five importers.

Hansford County Activity Center

Activity Center has membership drive

The Hansford County Activities Center is in the process of holding their 1988 Membership Drive. This year's Membership Drive goal is $40 thousand.

Everyone working on the Sustaining Membership Drive needs to make all their contacts by June 13 and be ready to turn in all donations. The time and place of this meeting will be announced later.

The drive will be continued for an additional week if need be. The past two weeks have been unusually busy and the additional time will be given in order to let everyone make all their contacts and pick up the donations. Later in the year a Harvest Ball fund raiser will be organized.

The Hansford County Activity Center formerly the Hansford County YMCA was started in 1979. The kids programs it offers are soccer, football, basketball, swim team, baseball, T-ball, and coach pitch. Possibly next fall wrestling could be added to the programs. Exercise classes for both men and women along with a weight training program are offered for adults.

The cost for a family membership is $125, an adult membership is $60 and a student membership is $30. An additional fee is needed for aerobics of $10 per month for members and $25 per month for non-members.

The current board of directors for the Hansford County Activity Center are Norlan Winegarner, president; Kelly Fuller, Vice president; Lynn Archer, Secretary and David Boyd, treasurer.

Other board members include

Last Tuesday night several baseball games were played. The games were programs for Spearman youth sponsored by the Hansford County Activity Center.

Don Hawkins, Joe Archer, Cindy Blackman, Barbara Townsen, Mary Schumann, Craig Schumann, Buddy Witherspoon, and Don Ledgewood, program director.

Latta inducted to freshman honor society

Julie Latta, a Tarleton State University sophomore from Spearman, was one of 66 students inducted this spring into the Phi Eta Sigma national freshman honor society.

Students inducted into the society must have been enrolled full time at the university and have earned at least a 3.5 grade point ratio as freshmen. Only eight percent of college freshmen throughout the nation achieve this distinction.

Julie is an Elementary Education major at the university and the daughter of Tom and Linda Latta of Spearman.

Following induction ceremonies, the election of officers for the 1988-89 year was conducted. Julie Latta was elected treasurer of the group.

Baker on PSU honor roll

Beckee Baker, Spearman, was inadvertently left off the list of students named to the President's Honor Roll for the spring semester at Panhandle State University. She was among the 69 PSU students named to the list by Dr. Larry Boyd, PSU president.

The President's Honor Roll contains the names of those students who have earned a perfect 4.0 grade point average. To qualify for listing, a student must carry at least 12 hours of university courses, receive a straight A average and have no I's.

The winner of the float division at the Hansford Round Up Parade, last Saturday, was "Old Drive in Theatre". The float was entered by Xi Zeta. The second place float was "Those were the Days-Past-Present-Future" entered by the 4-H Club. The third place float was Rho Rho's "Those Were the Days of the Wild Wild West." The prizes in the float division were $100, $75, and $50 respectively.

appraisal review board

Taxpayers given protest June 28

Taxpayers in the Hansford County Appraisal District will have an opportunity June 28 to protest values proposed for their property for local taxes. The district's appraisal review board (ARB) will begin hearing taxpayer protests on June 28.

After the ARB concludes its hearings and approves final property values, local governments will use these values to assess property taxes to property owners for 1988.

The ARB is a group of citizens who live in the appraisal district and are appointed by the district's directors. Their responsibilities are outlined by the Texas Constitution, which requires that property be appraised equally and uniformly and that exemptions and productive valuation are properly granted.

Property owners appear before the ARB and may protest any of these seven specific actions of the appraisal office:

- the appraised or agricultural value of the property;
- unequal appraisal of the taxpayer's property compared to other property in the district;
- inclusion of the property on the

- appraisal records;
- denial of a partial exemption, such as a homestead exemption;
- denial of agricultural-use, open-space or timber productivity valuation;
- identification of the taxing unit or units in which property is located;
- determination that the taxpayer is the owner of the property; and
- any other action of the appraisal office that adversely affects them.

Alice Paddy, chief appraiser for the district, outlined the steps for a property owner to file a protest. First, the property owner must file a written "notice of protest" with the ARB. This must be filed by June 30 or within 30 days after the taxpayer receives a notice of appraised value from the chief appraiser, whichever is later.

However, if the ARB sends a property owner a notice of any other kind of change in the appraisal records, the property owner has only 10 days to file a protest.

Official forms for a notice of protest are available at the appraisal district office. "A letter from the taxpayer is also acceptable," Paddy said, "as long as it identifies the property owner and the property which is the subject of the protest and indicates dissatisfaction with some decision or action of the appraisal office."

Each protesting taxpayer may offer evidence or argument either in person or by filing an affidavit with the ARB. Taxpayers should be aware that the ARB has no authority over tax rates or taxing unit spending and will not hear protests of those matters.

The ARB will schedule hearings as property owners file protests and will inform them of the time, date and place of their individual hearings at least 15 days before the schedule appearance date. Paddy said that protest hearings will be held for one day and that the ARB expects to approve the final appraisal roll on July 8. State law requires the ARB to review and approve the appraisal records by July 20.

The State Property Tax Board has issued a pamphlet called "Taxpayers' Rights, Remedies, Responsibilities," available at the Hansford County Appraisal District office, which explains how to prepare and present an appeal to the ARB. For a copy, contact the appraisal district staff at 709 West Seventh, Spearman, Texas. 659-5575 or 733-5139.

The best defense against accidents is to always be a defensive driver, obey the speed limits, and wear your safety belts. Major Cawthon stated, "We, as members of the Texas Department of Public Safety want each and everyone of you to enjoy your vacations. Therefore, we urge you to always stay alert, always being mindful of the other driver, take frequent rest stops on long trips, and obey all traffic rules and regulations."

The Troopers of the Texas Department of Public Safety want the summer of '88 to be the safest yet for the Texas motorist. Please drive friendly and have a good vacation!!!

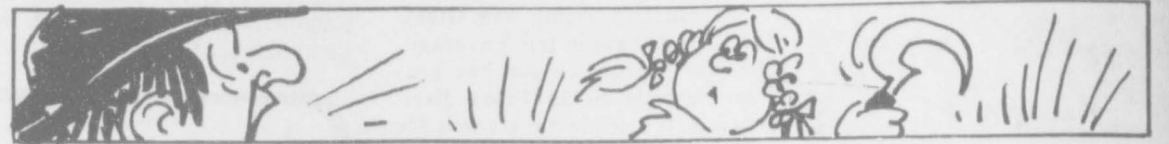

According to recent American Heart Association estimates, in U.S. adults aged 18-74, 33 percent of white males, 38 percent of black males, 25 percent of white females and 39 percent of black females have high blood pressure.

Vacation spots abundant in Texas

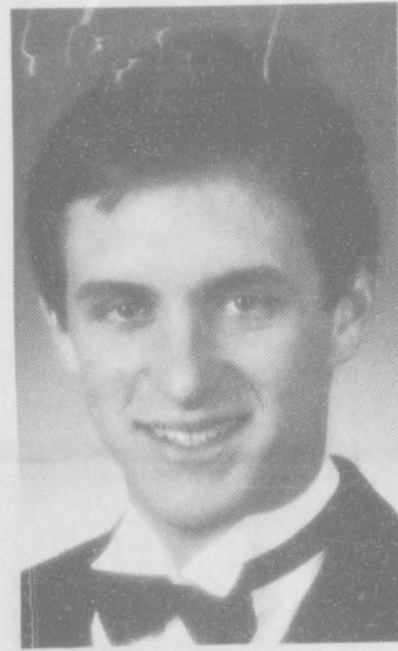

Vacation time means fun time. With the warm weather and the green foliage in abundance, the citizens of the State of Texas will be enjoying their vacations at the many different areas that this great state has to offer. With the additional people on our streets and highways, there are additional precautions that need to be taken also.

Before leaving on long trips, we need to take a little time to check over our vehicles. Vacations are no time for a breakdown. So, checking simple items such as tires, cooling system, battery, belts and hoses can prevent unwanted and unnecessary breakdowns. But, nothing can spoil a vacation anymore than having an accident. Major Vernon Cawthon, Regional Commander of the Texas Department of Public Safety stated, "The number of vehicles on Texas highways is increasing each year and unfortunately, traffic accidents are increasing also."

He and his son, Edward, were in the Canadian River Breaks, and some distance from his pick-up, when he, in an unusual circumstance, twisted his knee out of joint. Before they could reach the pick-up, he fell and injured it more seriously.

His sons are wondering if it is just a coincidence that he timed his incapacity just before all the harvest work!

Having good reason for unexpected optimism is Tommy Russell. He has been in St. Anthony's Hospital expecting to have heart surgery, and was relieved to learn it was not required.

He has returned home and expects to return to work in the near future.

Specialist cautions of hot, humid weather

Hot, humid weather which typifies Texas summers can be dangerous to your health, particularly if you work outdoors.

Outdoor workers often suffer from such physical disorders as heatstroke, heat exhaustion, heat cramps and fainting, said Thomas D. Valco, safety specialist with the Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service.

Such disorders occur most often when workers do not take time to adjust to the heat, Valco said. Summer hot spells, the first few days of work for new workers, and the first day back on the job after a vacation or illness are likely to be times when workers suffer the most from heat-related problems.

The combination of high temperatures and high relative humidity can be especially dangerous, said the safety specialist.

For example, a temperature of 100 degrees F. and a relative humidity of 50 percent have the same effect on the body as if the temperature reached 120 degrees. The human body cools itself by the evaporation of perspiration but high relative humidity retards evaporation of perspiration from the skin, Valco said.

To avoid potential health problems during the hot summer weather, he offered these suggestions for farmers and ranchers and others who work outdoors:

--Rest periodically in a cool place; rest is most beneficial when breaks are short but frequent.

--Drink fluids every 15 to 20 minutes. Water intake must equal perspiration loss, so drink more than enough to satisfy thirst. Rely on meals to replace salt.

--Wear loose garments of thin cotton fabric to enhance air circulation near the skin and to allow body heat to escape.

--Slow down work speed or distribute the workload evenly over the course of the day.

--If possible, postpone non-essential work for cooler periods.

--Transfer workers to help from other jobs or obtain extra helpers. Younger and more physically fit workers might take over.

--Where possible, shield workers from equipment heat sources, use exhaust fans near heat sources, and provide open windows and cooling fans for maximum air flow around individuals.

--Provide maximum opportunities for outside workers to work in well ventilated, shaded areas.

NEWSPAPERS No. 1

No Comparison In All-Around Use For Service

Newspapers are increasing their overwhelming leadership in media . . . because they have the best formula for service. Failure to recognize the effectiveness of newspaper advertising has destroyed many a business.

THE FACTS:

- 1) 8 out of 10 adults read a newspaper on an average weekday
- 2) Newspaper readership increases with income
- 3) Newspapers are read page-by-page
- 4) Newspaper ads are rated by the public as the "most helpful and most trustworthy"
- 5) People "look forward" to newspaper ads more than they do all others combined
- 6) Newspapers outperform broadcast media 2-to-1 in influencing sales
- 7) Most leading retailers carry their main messages in the newspaper
- 8) Newspapers are alone in delivering massive coverage and having something important to say to-and-about all income groups, all education groups, all occupational groups and all age groups.

. . . and each of these facts has been documented over-and-over by an endless variety of surveys.
