Religious Emphasis Week Begins Sunday

"Reason and Revelation" will be the theme of Religious Emphasis Week, beginning Sunday.

Campus-wide meetings will be held Monday at 10 a. m., Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday nights at 7:30. All these meetings are in the Union Ballroom.

Classes will not be dismissed for the speech Monday morning. Other meetings are planned in dormitories and student centers.

Main speaker for the week is Dr. John W. Klotz, chairman of natural science division at Concordia Teachers College, River Forest, Ill. He specializes in genetics, the study of inherited characteristics.

The principal speaker plans to develop a theme of scriptural approach vs. the scientific approach to truth. Following is an excerpt from a letter to the president of the Student Religious Council:

"Scientists are trying to find the truth; Christians are convinced they have the truth in Scripture. The two are using different avenues of approach to the same goal. There may be conflicts and differences of opinion, but there must be mutual respect. Suspicions, name-calling and distrust are out of order. The scientist must recognize that he cannot solve man's eternal problems; the Christian must acknowledge modern science as one of God's greatest blessings to us."

Six other speakers include: the Rev. Wayne Cook, chaplain, Lubbock Methodist Hospital; Cliff Harris, director of the Baptist Student Union at Texas A&M; E. V. Middleton, civil engineer; Lubbock; Miles Pierce, Alpine ranch owner, and his wife, Mrs. Jacqueline Pierce; Dr. Paul C. Witt, head of the chemistry department at Abilene Christian College. These speakers will visit class rooms and buzz groups on the campus.

Religious Emphasis activities end March 9.

Noted Scientists, Engineer to Speak

Dr. John Klotz, Religious Emphasis Week's principal speaker, is theologian, professor, biologist, lecturer, and author.

The 38-year-old Pennsylvania graduated summa cum laude from Concordia College Institute in 1937. Dr. Klotz received his B. D. degree from Concordia Seminary in 1941. In the meantime, he obtained his M.S. in biology from Pittsburg University.

Now professor of biology at Concordia Teachers College, Dr. Klotz previously served pastorates in three states and was on the faculties of two other colleges.

The speaker is particularly interested in the relation of science to theology and he has lectured quite extensively on the topic. Dr. Klotz has participated in Religious Emphasis Weeks at Alabama Polytechnical Institute and at Western Michigan State College.

As an author, Dr. Klotz has written for several magazines on the topic of science and theology. He also has published two books.

Team speaker Dr. Paul C. Witt is head of the department of natural science at Abilene Christian College, where he has been a teacher since 1922.

A native Texan, Dr. Witt received his B.A. at ACC, his M.A. at Texas University, and his Ph.D. at the University of Colorado.

Dr. Witt is listed in Who's Who in American Science and Who's Who in Education. He is author of five booklets concerning religion and is editor of a religious magazine for the blind.

Also a team speaker, E. V. Middleton is a partner in Kerr and Middleton, paving contracting firm of Lubbock.

After receiving his B.S. from Tech, Middleton earned his M.S.E. at the University of Michigan.

Middleton is active in church and community affairs and recently completed a world tour. He is a member of the American Society of Civil Engineers and a member of the Professional Engineers of Texas.

Lettermen To Pick Spring Game Queen

Five candidates have been named for Round-up Queen of the Red and White intra-squad game to be played tomorrow afternoon, according to Harry Scaling, president of the Double T Assn.

Competing are: Lucinda Birtciel, senior; Karen Gail Campbell, junior; Mary Lou Church, sophomore; Sandra Sue Hendrix, freshman; and Janna Dean Murray, junior.

The queen will be crowned in a half-time ceremony by Scaling. Before game time a parade with about 100 girls riding in decorated cars will begin from Fenner-Tubbs, 10th and I, and proceed to the stadium.

Escorts for the candidates are: Ken Vakey, Bo Midkiff, Dan Law, Don Williams and Barton Massey.

CAMPUS MAILMAN HONORED

'Hodge-Podge' Emcee Picked

Dudley Johns, Tech's well-known campus mailman, will be master of ceremonies at the Old Southern Hodge Podge sponsored by the sophomore class Saturday night.

Dudley, as he is commonly called around the campus, will officiate at the ceremonies which will be held during the dance in the Rec Hall from 8 to 12 p. m.

Known to most Tech students for his friendly "hello" and his remarkable ability to remember names, Dudley's title as master of ceremonies won't be the first honor bestowed upon him by Tech students. The 1956 La Ventana was dedicated to him because of "his everglowing beam of personality."

Besides delivering mail to dorms and faculty members, Dudley can usually be found performing some deed for students, such as scraping the ice off car windows during a recent cold spell.

A mailman at Tech since 1952, Dudley will be in charge of proceedings as the "Beau" and "Belle" of the dance are crowned.

Elections held through Wednesday noon eliminated 13 candidates for "Belle" and 7 candidates for "Beau" down to the top five in each of these. Voting will continue until 9:30 p. m. Saturday to determine the top winners. Each vote costs one cent and one may vote as many times as he wishes.

The top five candidates, as announced Wednesday, are "Belle," Mary Katherine Birklebach, Toni Bannister, Marilyn Adrian, Nita Hedleston and Wanda Murray. Top five candidates for "Beau" are: Billy Bob Park, Butch Lawrence, Borden Worsham, David Steinman and Roy J. Milhoan.

Voting may be done at a stand in the Union lobby. Tickets are $1 stag or drag. Tickets may also be purchased at the door Saturday night. All classifications, not just sophomores, are eligible both to attend the dance and to vote.

Costumes are not required but members of the dance committee encourage the wearing of them. Prizes will be awarded the most outstanding Old South costumes.

Committee heads are: Wanda Murray, decorations; Hollis Swafford, elections; Butch Lawrence, Neil McMullen, refreshments; Toni Bannister, publicity; Kay Alexander, tickets; Marilyn Adrian and Cora Jean McMurtry, coronation.

FRESHMEN ON PANEL FOR AREA FHA MEET

Two Tech freshmen are to participate in the annual Area 1 convention of Future Homemakers of America in Amarillo tomorrow.

Kathy White, past state-recording secretary from Lubbock and Jean Schepers, former state first vice president from McGregor, will be members of a panel scheduled to discuss "What FHA Has Meant to Me."

Highlighting the conference will be addresses by the Rev. Jack A. Gray Jr., associate pastor of Lubbock's First Methodist Church, and by the area FHA president, a 202-voice choir concert, a talent show, and installation of new officers.

Coeds Expand Devotional Program To All Three Women's Dormitories

All-dorm devotionals have now been set up in all three women's dormitories as the result of a small Bible study group which began last year in Drane Hall.

Last year's meetings were held on a limited basis in different rooms in Drane with a few girls attending. This year's meetings in Drane expanded into an all-dorm function. A similar plan was started in Horn.

Marihelen Jones, who helped to start the Bible groups in Drane last year, decided to start another such group on her win in Horn this fall. It was only a small group and many of the girls expressed a desire to expand into an all-dorm group.

Interest Expressed
Miss Jones presented the idea to Marianna Wilson, a legislator in Horn, who presented the idea at a legislators' meeting during the fall semester. The legislators expressed an interest in the devotionals and it was decided that such a meeting would be tried during the spring semester.

Miss Jones was appointed head of the devotional committee and the first meeting was on a Thursday night in the game room. It was a success as shown by attendance of from 50 to 75 girls at each meeting since.

Include All Denominations
The devotional is now every Thursday night in Horn at 10:15 and lasts 10 minutes. The program is given by girls who have volunteered their services and devotionals are planned to include all denominations.

The program usually features songs and inspirational stories. Last Thursday's program featured a chalk talk by Dottie Sue Horchem, who sketched a scene of crosses as Glenda Keith read the words to "The Old Rugged Cross." (See DEVOTIONALS, Page 4)

Union To Lend Records

A lending library for records, open from 10 a. m. to 3 p. m. every Monday and Tuesday in the Union lobby, is making good music available to all Tech students.

Albums include classical, standard and mood music, as well as stage and screen production sound tracks, and may be checked out for one week. A rental cost of ten cents, plus five cents a day for each day overdue and any damages caused by the renter will be charged.

Lineups Given For Intra-Squad Game

Starting lineups for tomorrow's intra-squad football game have been announced by the opposing Tech coaches.

The game, which will climax the Red Raiders' spring training program, is scheduled for a 2:30 p.m. kickoff. Tech students will be admitted on their activity books, otherwise the charge is 50 cents and $1.

Floyd Dellinger of La Vega, all-American from Victoria Junior College, will quarterback the Red team, and Tech's sole letterman at that spot, John Riddle of Artesia, N. M., will call signals for the Whites.

Tech Leaders Back

Tech's leading ground gainers from last year will be on opposing teams with Charlie Dixon of McCamey fullbacking the Reds and Doug Duncan of Wellington holding the position down for the Whites.

Three freshmen will be starters in tomorrow's clash. Borge's Jerry Selfridge, who stayed out of football to play Picador basketball until mid-term, has won a first team position in the White lineup. The Reds will have two fresh gridders of last fall, tackle Bobby Cline of Belton and guard Gene Lay of San Angelo Lakeview.

Other Starters Listed

Remainder of the Red starters announced by Coaches Beattie Feathers, Red Phillips, and Joe Moss are ends Gerald Seaman of Fort Worth and Bobby Stafford of Roaring Springs, tackle Charlie Moore of Lubbock, guard Tim Stone of Kilgore, center Jack Henry of Floydada, halfbacks Milton Vaughn of Littlefield and Jimmie Knox of Graham.

Other White starters picked by Coaches Bud Sherron, Tom Hamm, and Junior Arterburn, are end Pat Hartsfield of Lubbock, tackle Jim Henderson of Lubbock, tackle Billy Woodin of Roaring Springs, guards Phit Williams of Lubbock and Floyd Hood of Wellington, center Ray Gressett of Artesia, N.M., halfbacks Hubert Schulz of Three Rivers and Carlos Lerma of Kingsville.

ANNUAL ALMOST READY

Tech students may receive the 1957 La Ventana around May 10 if all deadlines are met by the annual staff.

Barbara Pearce, editor, says work is "coming along good" and 350 of the 520 pages are completed.

FASTER, FASTER!

Pick up your paper every morning and what do you read? "CRISIS IN HIGHER EDUCATION." That's what you read. "ENROLLMENT—SPIRALLING UPWARD—DESPERATE NEED FOR MORE CLASSROOMS, MORE TEACHERS." BUT classrooms, alas, do not spring up like mushrooms, nor teachers like mayflies. So what must we do while we build more classrooms, train more teachers? We must get better use out of the classrooms and teachers we now have. That's what we must do.

This column, normally a vehicle of good-humored foolery, of joy that wrinkled care derides, of laughter holding both his sides, will today forsake levity to examine the crisis in higher education. My sponsors, the makers of Philip Morris Cigarettes, as Bonnie a bunch of tycoons as you will see in a month of Sundays, have given cheerful consent to this departure. Oh, splendid chaps they are, the makers of Philip Morris! Oh, darlings they are, fond of home, mother, porridge, the Constitution, and country fiddling! Twinkly and engaging they are, jaunty and sociable, roguish and winsome, as full of joy, as packed with pleasure, as brimming with natural goodness, as loaded with felicity as the cigarettes they bring you in two convenient sizes—regular in the handy snap-open pack, and new long-size in a crushproof flip-top box—both available at moderate cost from your favorite tobacconist. Light one now. Light either end. No filter cigarette can make that statement.

Let us then, with the gracious connivance of the makers of Philip Morris—Oh, splendid chaps! Oh, gracious connivers!—take up the terribly vexing question of how we can turn out more graduates with campus facilities as they now exist.

The answer can be given in one word: speedup! Speed up the educational process. Streamline courses. Eliminate frills. Sharpen. Shorten. Quicken.

Following is a list of courses with suggested methods to speed up each one.

PHYSICS—Eliminate slow neutrons.

PSYCH LAB—Tilt the mazes downhill. The white mice will run much faster.

ENGINEERING—Make slide rules half as long.

MUSIC—Change all tempo to allegro. (A collateral benefit to be gained from this suggestion is that once you speed up waltz time, campus proms will all be over by 10 p.m. With students going home so early, romance will languish and marriage counselors can be transferred to the buildings and grounds department. Also, housing now used for married students can be returned to the school of animal husbandry.)

ALGEBRA—If "x" always equals 24, much time-consuming computation can be eliminated.

LANGUAGES—Teach all language courses in English.

DENTISTRY—Skip baby teeth. They fall out anyhow.

POETRY—Amalgamate the classics. Like this:

*Hail to thee, blithe spirit
Shout if you must this old gray head
You ain't nothin' but a hound dog
Smiling the boy fell dead.*

You see how simple it is? Perhaps you have some speedup ideas of your own. If so, I'll thank you to keep them to yourselves.

© Max Schulman, 1957

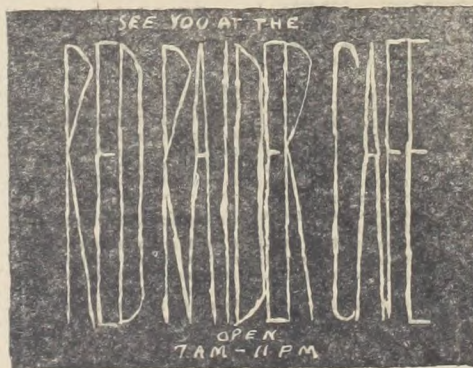

The makers of Philip Morris have no interest in any speedup. We age our fine tobacco slow and easy. And that's the way it smokes—slow and easy—a natural smoke.

Chance Vought offers the graduate engineer a wide range of opportunity

CHUCK BIXLER knows how variety helps the young engineer find a career field that suits him best. In Chance Vought's missile and fighter activities, he discovered every specialty he'd considered in school. He found others he hadn't known existed. Vought measured him for all these fields, and together they selected a perfect fit: structures and preliminary design work, where Chuck has advanced to lead engineer in about five years time. The same variety can be found at Vought by graduates from every field of academic training. Electrical, civil, mechanical and aeronautical engineers alike find a rich selection of avenues for growth. Moreover, they find the guidance they need to make a wise choice. Chuck, for example, was selected for Chance Vought's nine-month program of job rotation. After working in six different groups he gained a backlog of experience that has since proved invaluable. Frank counseling, a versatile, growing company — everything that helped Chuck can help you. As a starter, ask our campus representative to point out the specialties you're qualified to enter. (You'll be surprised at the length of the list.) Your Placement Office can arrange your appointment. Or you may write for immediate information to Mr. C. A. Besio, Supervisor, Engineering Personnel Dept. Our representative will be in your Placement Office Tuesday and Wednesday, March 5 and 6, to describe firsthand Chance Vought's program for young engineers. Reserve time for your own interview by making your appointment today.

Raiders Nip West Texas Buffs; Picadors Finish Victorious Season

By BILLY ELLIS

Texas Tech, leading by as much as eleven points at one stage, had to rally to hold back the fighting West Texas State Buffaloes last night in Municipal Coliseum, taking a 63-59 win before some 4,000 fans.

The Buffs' rally had closed the gap to two points, 61-59, and left it to Raider forward Sterling Gibson to clinch the victory with a pair of free throws with 17 seconds remaining. The charity tosses were Gibson's only points of the evening, but came at a very critical moment.

Tech had jumped into the lead early in the game, riding the shooting of Harry Scaling, who made the most of free throw opportunities, to a 17-11 lead after seven minutes of play. West Texas rallied at this point, and took their first lead, 23-21, on a pair of free throws by center Johnny George midway of the first half.

It was nip-and-tuck the rest of the first half, with Bobby Wilson's free throws keeping Tech in the lead, although the sharpshooting Rookie Rogers gave WT three other leads before the half ended. Wade Wolfe, who came in for "Podd" Hill when the latter received an injury to the mouth, tipped in a shot to give Tech a three-point lead at halftime, 37-34.

The visitors pulled up to a one-point deficit as the second half began, but Tech began to hit and seven minutes deep in the second half had built up a 51-40 lead.

The Buffs pulled up to 51-49 count before Tech could score again, and only three straight field goals by Wilson gave Tech a little breathing room as the game drew near its conclusion.

Wilson's spurt gave Tech a nine-point lead, but West Texas continued to shave the Raider margin, and when Tech called time out with a minute to play, the Big Red had an apparently safe lead of 61-55.

Jim Farren cashed in on a couple of charity tosses to make the count 61-57 with 51 seconds to play, and Rogers hit a jump shot with 34 seconds left to bring the visitors within two points, but the Buffs' hopes faded when a foul was called on Farren at the 17-second mark, making Gibson the man-of-the-hour.

Devotionals

Miss Jones said that plans call for the use of worship scenes such as inspirational pictures and lighting to make the devotionals more effective.

Also serving on a devotional committee are five girls representing five different denominations: Kay Alexander, Miss Horchem, Joan Roberts, Marilyn Miller and Patti Doyle.

Closer Friendship Results

"The devotionals seem to bring about closer friendship among the girls", the chairman said. She added that the success of the devotionals in Horn and Drane is further seen by the fact that only two weeks after the meetings started in Horn, Knapp instituted a program of all-dorm devotionals which are now being attended every Tuesday night.

Now in each dorm a regular meeting is held each week with a growing number of girls in attendance. All this is a result of a small group of girls in Drane Hall who met for nightly devotionals last year.

Gene Gibson's Picadors closed out their schedule last night by racking up the West Texas Calves, 83-63. The win, third over the Calves this year, made the Tech Frosh's season record 11-1.

West Texas was never in the game, falling behind by 10 points, 14-4 at the start of the game, and trailing at the end of the half by a score of 47-24. Fouls hurt the visiting West Texans, as they lost two of their starters early in the second half.

The Picadors built up such a commanding lead that Coach Gibson inserted his reserves, who played most of the final 20 minutes. WT was able to trim the reserves, pulling up on the shooting of Junior Fitts, who garnered high point honors with 21.

Leading the Picadors scoring was Gene Arrington with 20 points, backed up capably by Dale McKeehan's 16, Pat Noakes' 14, and Bob Echols' 11.

This ended the year for the Tech freshmen, although the varsity has one more game, against New Mexico A&M here Monday.
