

U. S. Policy Change Depends On Peking

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg said Monday any change in U.S. policy toward Communist China depends on whether Peking is prepared to end its "self-imposed isolation."

He told a news conference U.S. policy toward Communist China is under review, but that there has been no change in the U.S. position opposing its representation in the United Nations. He expressed belief that, if a vote were taken now, Peking would get fewer votes than it did at the last sessions of the General Assembly.

In November the assembly split 47 to 47 with 20 abstentions on the issue of admitting the Chinese Communists and expelling the Chinese Nationalists. This fell short of the required two-thirds majority.

Asked about reports that the United States was considering a proposal under which Communist China and Nationalist China could be seated in the United Nations, the chief U.S. delegate replied this is unacceptable to either government.

He called attention to recent rebuffs he said Red China had experienced in many parts of the world, including Indonesia and Africa, and added:

"If I were to make a conjecture, I would say right at the moment there are fewer votes for admission of Red China to the United Nations than there were at the last assembly. But votes alone should not be the determining factor."

"The real question is whether Red China is ready to take the path of living peacefully with other states, not interfering in their affairs, and pursuing a common commitment with other states to the rule of law, which must prevail if we are to have peace."

Mock Murder Trial Begins Wednesday

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The following story is written in conjunction with the mock trial staged by the Pre-Law Society which will begin Wednesday night).

Attorneys today will continue to prepare their cases for the murder trial of Cadet Col. Bob Vacker.

Vacker is charged with the murder of Student Senate President Roland Anderson and Max Blakney, his executive advisor.

Anderson and Blakney were executed in a military coup d'etat Wednesday afternoon by an Air Force ROTC firing squad on the lawn of Memorial Circle. Vacker was in command of the ten-man detachment.

A seven-man, five-woman jury was selected yesterday in preparation for the trial.

Picked for jury duty were Patty Perkins, Becky Wilson, Jeanie Mathews, Cecil Green, Ernie Cowger, Bob Fillpot, Laurie Woods, Suzy Crane, Mac Johnson, Gary Rose, Frank Eikenberg and George Strickland.

Chris Hickey, presiding judge, set the trial date for 6:30 p.m. Wednesday in the Union Ballroom. Hickey said charges of murder with malice and aforethought were brought against Vacker. A secondary charge of high treason against the state will be filed.

The prosecution for the case will be headed by Elata Ely and Frank McLaughlin. The defense will be conducted by Jack Leebrock and Lyn McClellan.

CSO Defeats IFC Chaperon Proposal

By DAVID SNYDER
Assistant Managing Editor

The Committee on Student Organizations Friday night defeated by a 5-4 vote a proposal presented by the Interfraternity Council asking that chaperons not be required for the acceptable use of fraternity lodges by members and their dates.

The committee vote ended in a 4-4 tie, with chairman James G. Allen, dean of student life, casting the deciding vote.

"We are asking the college to give more than it can expect in return. The college is more important than any of its factors," Dean Allen said in casting his negative vote.

Two weeks earlier the committee had passed an amendment by a 6-1 vote extending the hours fraternity lodges can be used from 11 p.m. weekdays, 12 a.m. Friday and 1 a.m. Saturday to 2 a.m. every night.

Friday night's decision was preceded by extensive discussion during the last five meetings, beginning Dec. 14 when the IFC presented their proposals to the CSO.

The IFC proposal concerning chaperons was presented as follows:

"Women shall be allowed in lodges during all hours which women students are regularly allowed to leave the women's residence halls. The presence of women in lodges during these hours is allowed only when there are at least two women in the lodge, and the two women must be students at Texas Technological College."

A significant factor in the proposal's defeat was a statement signed by the president and an alumni representative of each of Tech's 13 sororities which endorsed the policy of the National Panhellenic Council and added:

"Such a relaxation in the rules would be a detriment to the standards of the Texas Tech campus as well as the image of the National Fraternity system."

Susan Waits, student member of the CSO, told the committee she believed some sorority presidents might be reluctant to express their true feelings concerning the proposed change because of fear of damaging relationships with their alumni.

Committee member Florence Phillips, dean of women, said she did not believe Tech sororities would be in favor of the proposal.

Fraternity representatives said the plan would not be acceptable unless Panhellenic and IFC could approve it jointly.

Friday night a statement endorsing the proposed amendment on chaperons, signed by 19 women students who are members of the Association of Women Students General Council, but who signed the statements as individuals, was presented to the CSO.

"This rule in no way lowers the standards Tech implies by the rules it prescribes. . . . Students should be encouraged to accept self responsibility," the statement said.

Larry Strickland, president of IFC who attended the CSO meetings, said that seven sororities had considered the chaperon amendment in their chapter meetings the previous Monday night. Six sororities voted to support the amendment while the other did not take a stand, he said.

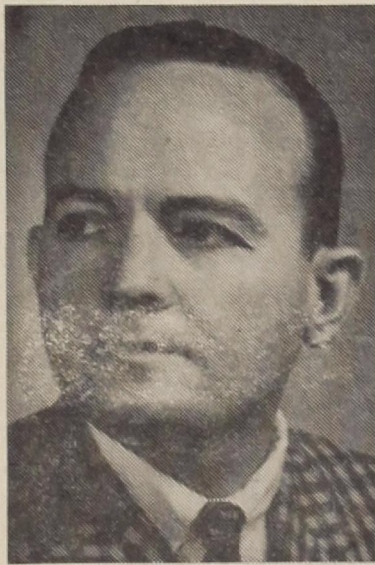

Sororities are currently experimenting with a plan allowing sorority lodges to be used for informal mixed entertainment with alumni or faculty chaperons present. Dean Phillips said she believed "chaperonage of some degree is essential as a part of the college's responsibility in women's program, whether it be in sorority lodges or fraternity lodges."

The term "informal entertainment" means that these events do not have to be entered on the college social calendar.

The committee wrote to other universities and to national fraternities concerning the amendment, but felt that no opinions were received from situations comparable to Tech's.

In the letters from national fraternities read by fraternity advisor Thomas Stover, Alpha Tau Omega and Kappa Sigma favored a relaxing of the chaperon rule, while six fraternities represented and answer session from 1:30-5 p.m.

The affair, sponsored by Delta Sigma Pi, business fraternity, is designed to acquaint Tech students with the operation of businesses in preparation for planning careers and choosing majors.

Delegates from 12 companies, representing interests in all of Tech's schools, will be present.

Bob Cash, general manager of Litton Industries, will speak at the luncheon.

Company representatives include J. L. Morris, Corporate Budget Corporation from Humble; James K. Abernathy, employee relations manager for Texas Power and Light; J. E. Arcenean, college relations administrator for Texas Instruments Co.; Ronald Kimball, Douglas Aircraft; J. A. Simmons, recruiting and college relations officer for U.S. Civil Service; and C. B. Hawson, branch manager for International Business Machines.

Other groups represented are Corps of Engineers, Proctor and Gamble Distributing Co., Carnation Co., General Motors Corp., Litton Industries and Continental Oil Co.

Throughout the afternoon the representatives will answer questions about their companies in the Tech Union Ballroom. The conference is open to the public, and the informal information period will last from 1:30-5 p.m.

Merle Stalcup, Delta Sigma Pi member said, "By having the Careers Conference we want to show students what businesses are like that they might want to go into, and we want to give them the opportunity to talk to businessmen. We hope to help students decide their majors and give them an informal view of what a career in their major would be like."

The information booth of the Tech Union is selling tickets to the luncheon for $1.25. The deadline is Wednesday morning.

ON THE SPOT—Interrogator Jim Moore, member of the Pre-Law Society, questions Cadet Col. Bob Vacker in preparation for Wednesday night's mock trial scheduled for 6:30 p.m. in the Union Ballroom. Vacker has been charged with murder.

'500' Entries Due April 15

April 15 is the deadline for entries in the 9th annual Little Five Hundred bicycle race, publicity chairman Ray Stephens said Monday.

Stephens pointed out that less than two weeks of class remain before the deadline, due to spring vacation. An entry fee $5 must be sent to Johnny Walker at the Lubbock YMCA.

Phi Psi's Win First In Quiz Bowl Event

Phi Kappa Psi squeezed into a five-point lead and then waited out the timer to take top honors in the Quiz Bowl Saturday, with Phi Gamma Delta coming in second and Pi Beta Phi winning the elimination match for third place.

Two additional entries and one withdrawal brought the total number of participants in the contest to ten teams of sorority and fraternity members.

The action started at 9:05 a.m. in the Union Cafeteria with a match between Alpha Phi, one of the new entries, and Delta Delta Delta, which had originally drawn a bye for the first round.

Stanley Farrar served as moderator for the contest, sponsored by the Union Ideas and Issues Committee.

The Quiz Bowl, patterned after the General Electric College Quiz of television popularity, is designed to give campus organizations a chance to prove not only their general knowledge but their stamina in quick-paced question and answer sessions.

Commenting on the Quiz Bowl as adapted for campus participation at the local level, Farrar said only a few changes had been made from the television show's format. "The questions were simplified somewhat," he said, "because we had a hard time getting just what we wanted."

The questions were of the same general type as those used on the GE Bowl, however, encompassing as many different facets of knowledge and general information as possible, Farrar said.

Fine Arts Reminders

Frank Simpson of the History Department will speak at Wednesday's Noon Forum on "Another Tired American." Simpson's talk is presented by the Union Ideas and Issues Committee and will be in the Blue Room. Those wishing to buy a lunch must sign up before 5 p.m. today in the Program Office.

John Schlesinger's Academy Award-nominee film "Darling" returns Wednesday to the Continental Fine Arts Cinema for a week's run. The film stars Julie Christie, Laurence Harvey and Dirk Bogarde.

Student Center Continues Religious Emphasis Week

The Christian Student Center Religious Emphasis Week continues today with a vesper service at 6:30 p.m. in the Student Center. Ron Lowe will conduct a special program, "Worship in Music," Wednesday night which will be Tech night with an entertainment program beginning with a spaghetti supper at 6 p.m. in the Fellowship Hall.

Dr. Huston Smith, professor of philosophy at Massachusetts Institute of Technology, will speak on the nature of man Thursday at 7:15 p.m. in the Tech Union Ballroom. Dr. Smith, author of "The Religions of Man," is one of the speakers being brought to Lubbock by the University Speakers service at Tech.

Christian-Islamic views of God and Christ will be discussed by Dr. Morris Wallace and Dr. M.A. K. Lodhi, Tech faculty members. They will discuss the similarities and differences of their respective faiths Friday at 7:30 p.m. in the Student Center.

The Religious Emphasis Week began with a Sunday morning program. Dr. Wallace, elder of the church, discussed belief in the Holy Spirit. Sunday night, traditional chants and choruses of the Mass were sung and played in modern musical style. Charles Watkins discussed the history of the Mass and Lowe discussed the music aspects of the Mass.

Monday morning a prayer breakfast was accompanied by a devotional given by Watkins. Rev.

Houston Hodges, chairman of the Biblical literature department at Tech, spoke on the God-is-dead theologians Monday night in the Christian Student Center.

Saturday night a showing of "Becket," with Richard Burton and Peter O'Toole will conclude the Religious Emphasis Week. The movie starts at 7:30 p.m. in Fellowship Hall.

Rodeo Group To Hear Talks

Bill Feddersen, El Reno, Okla., and Guy Weeks, Abilene, will speak to Texas Tech's Rodeo Association today at 7:30 p.m. on riding events and how these events will be judged for the ABC rodeo this weekend.

Feddersen is the vice president of the Rodeo Cowboys Association. In 1965 he was 12th in the nation in saddle bronc riding. He is presently seventh in saddle bronc riding and is 13th for all-around cowboy. He is an instructor of a judging school for the rodeo riding events.

Weeks was 1963 runner-up for all-around cowboy and saddle bronc riding champion. In 1964 he was 10th for all-around cowboy.

Both are entered in the Lubbock ABC rodeo, March 30-April 2.

KSEL Will Give Time To Circle K

A local radio station, KSEL, has donated its air time from 6 p.m. to midnight tonight to Tech's Circle K service club.

Only Circle K members will be heard on this station tonight. About 25 members will be giving the news, making public service announcements, and introducing records. The regular engineers will handle the mechanical part of the broadcast.

The Circle K, a junior branch of the Kiwanis Club, approached station owner Bill McAllister with the idea a month ago. They wanted to sell advertisements, pay McAllister's overhead, and use the remaining money for their treasury. McAllister decided that he would donate the time as his contribution to the club.

The money from the advertisements will be used by the club for projects such as buying Christmas gifts for the children of Buckner's Orphans Home.

This practice of raising money through a radio station is the first to be done by a Tech organization. Previously it has been done by various civic clubs in the nation. In Lubbock it was done by the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Organizations Start Marketing Survey

Two Tech organizations started a marketing survey Monday to determine buying habits of Tech students.

Six hundred students and fifty faculty members will fill out questionnaires. They will be contacted by phone by members of Gamma Alpha Chi, advertising fraternity for women, and Alpha Delta Sigma, advertising fraternity for men.

The results of the survey will update market information about the Tech student body. The last survey was taken five years ago and since that time the student body has grown and has more money to spend.

The market data will be given to student publications for use in the sale of advertising to downtown merchants to acquaint them with the extent of the student market.

Gamma Alpha Chi-Alpha Delta Sigma sponsor Dr. B. I. Ross said the questionnaire will determine what Tech students are buying, the frequency of purchase, what items they buy in Lubbock and what items they buy at home.

The three-page questionnaire was drawn up by Pat Houston, department of marketing, and has been pre-tested to take less than 20 minutes to complete.

Annual Meet Set At Tech

High schools and colleges from over the state will bring delegations to Texas Tech Friday and Saturday for the annual meeting of the Texas Association of German Students (TAGS) hosted by Tech's department of foreign languages.

More than 800 students are expected to participate in the program of German plays, music, novelty presentations and social events which will get underway following a banquet at 6 p.m. Friday in the Tech Union Ballroom.

Saturday's plays, also presented in German, will be open to the public at no charge.

Chaperon Proposal Defeated

at Tech were against the rule change and three did not comment on it.

Lewis Jones, dean of men, attended the meeting Friday night and told the committee he "didn't believe the proposed change would cause a greater percentage of problems than there had been in the past," although he said more problems might be called to his office's attention.

He said he believed current fraternity men would accept the responsibility of the change because they worked to get it, but questioned whether fraternity men in future years would accept the responsibility involved.

Dean Phillips said she could not anticipate what effect the change might have in the future.

Dean Allen described the problem involved—that of inadequate entertainment—as one which involved the entire university, not just fraternities. This point, along with the need for allocation of responsibility, was brought out as the main justifications of the proposed change.

"Overall, the students at Texas Tech have handled their individual responsibilities excellently," he told the committee.

The rule which remains applicable to fraternity lodges, as stated in the Code of Student Affairs, reads:

"Chaperons will be present when women are present. Chaperons may include faculty members, parents of members, and other persons approved by the Dean of Women."

Strickland said he did not know if IFC would present a new proposal to the CSO since IFC had not met since Wednesday.

Voting for the no-chaperon proposal were students Susan Waits, Ernie Cowger and Chris Hickey, and assistant professor of agronomy John Hunter.

Dean Phillips, associate professor of government Martin Kyre, professor of biology Elsie Bode-mann and assistant professor of home and family life Floy Glenn Sides voted against the proposal, in addition to Dean Allen.

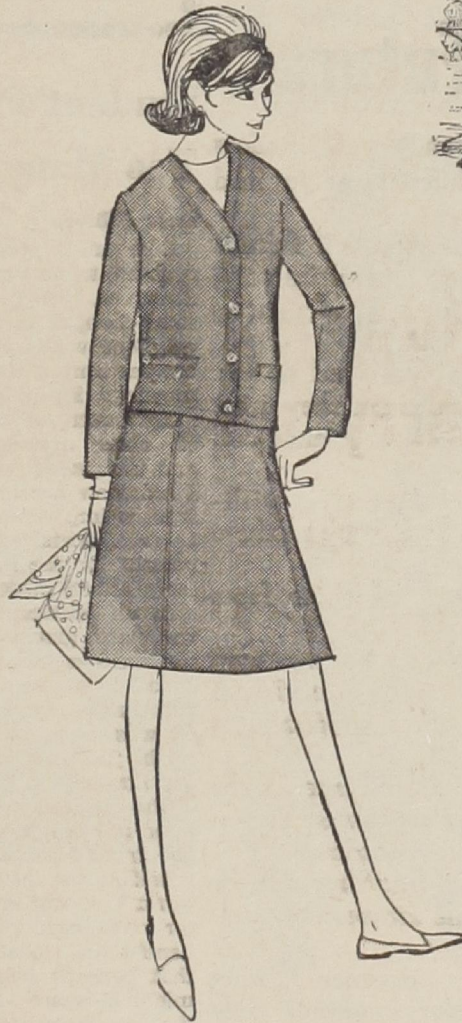

All voted for the hour extension amendment except Dean Phillips and Mrs. Sides, who was absent from that meeting.

Cindermen Waltz To Second Meet Victory

Texas Tech's cindermen, happily, played the part of ungracious hosts moving swiftly past Arlington State and McMurry at the Tech track Saturday afternoon.

The thinclads racked up ten first places while giant Ed Mooney made it his fourth straight victory in the shot put and discus. His footage of 161-2 in the discus and 54-9½ in the shot easily outdistanced second place in both events.

It was the second win of the year for Coach Vernon Hilliard and his tracksters. The Reds in a reverse from last year's meet scored 92 points to runnerup Arlington's 42. McMurry held down the third spot with 35 points.

The foursome of Clark Willingham, Don Parrish, Tom Hutton, and Richard Hardy out relayed ASC by four yards in the 440 in a total measure of 41.7 seconds. The mile relay fell to the team of Bobby Nelson, Bobby Kitchens, Parrish, and Hardy in 3.22.1 after McMurry leading deep in the second lap, dropped the baton and finished last.

Bobby Nelson, the Lubbock Christian College transfer, made his mark in the 880 yard run at a 1.55.1 clocking. Nelson had to hold it to the wire as McMurry's Jimmie Rodgers pressed the last hundred yards for a time of 1:55.5.

A photo finish in the 220 left teammates Hardy and Willingham holding a first with 21.9 and second with 22.0 respectively.

The 100 yard dash was as close as Tech's Parrish finished at 9.9 a step ahead of McMurry's Sonny Hicks at 10 flat.

The Raiders pulled in two more blue ribbons with a 14.8 performance by Art Carroll in the 120 high hurdles and a high jump of 6-3 by Foster Miller.

Tonight's Clay-Chuvalo Bout Lacks Interest

TORONTO (AP)—Cassius Clay will emerge from the swirling controversy about his military status long enough to defend his world heavyweight title against Canada's George Chuvalo tonight in a bout widely ridiculed as a mismatch.

Although the Ontario Athletic Commission, in concert with the World Boxing Association, does not recognize Clay as champ, Chuvalo would be generally heralded as the title holder if he should score an upset.

The odds against a Chuvalo victory are 7-1 or even higher, with a little action and even less interest. The sturdy Toronto bully boy has lost two of his last three bouts. His career record is an undistinguished 34-11-2 compared to Clay's perfect 22-0.

Chuvalo came into the picture as a desperation sub when Ernie Terrell, the WBA's champ, pulled out because of various complications, including a change in contract guarantees.

The Clay-Terrell bout was refused by New York, chased out of Chicago and finally settled in Toronto after brief flirtations with Maine, the Dakotas and various Canadian points.

There will be no big money in this contest which probably will attract about 10,000 to Maple Leaf Gardens, where the ring will be erected over the home ice of the Toronto Maple Leafs. A gate of about $150,000 is likely. The closed-circuit television chain, originally set for about 200 theaters, has shrunk to about 40.

The bout will be carried on radio only by the Canadian Broadcasting Co.

Outdoor Advertising Hearings Scheduled

AUSTIN (AP)—A federal hearing will be held Tuesday on what standards should be set up for the control of outdoor advertising and junkyards along interstate and federal-aid primary highways.

Paul E. Warren of the Bureau of Public Roads, hearing examiner, said Monday that 50 to 60 signed up to testify or file statements.

Texas is one of six states that will have a hearing Tuesday. Hearings will be held in all 50 states and Puerto Rico before the secretary of commerce sets the standards.

The act provides for control of outdoor advertising, such as billboards, within 660 feet of the edge of the highway. Junkyard control is provided within 1,000 feet. Federal funds are provided for scenic protection and development of roadsides.

Among the "guideline" limitations are maximum measurements of 30 feet in length and 15 feet in height for signboards within 150 feet of the highway, and a maximum of six signs per mile.

Johnson Greets Prime Minister

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson greeted India's Prime Minister Indira Gandhi on Monday and expressed the desire that India and Pakistan seek improvement in their relations.

Welcoming the Indian leader on the south lawn of the White House, the President said that "the United States values deeply the friendship of both India and Pakistan."

His statement appeared aimed at a meeting halfway around the world between Pakistan's President Ayub Khan and the visiting Chinese Communist chief of state, Liu Shaoshi as well as at the Indian government leader.

Mrs. Gandhi, arriving for a two-day official visit, told Johnson that "India and the United States cannot and should not take each other for granted or allow their relations to drift."

She said the two countries together could make the world a better place in which to live.

The President outlined a five-point list of "very practical questions" he expects to discuss with the 48-year-old widow, who heads the world's most populous democracy.

Mrs. Gandhi and the President met in his oval office for an hour and a half then their advisers were called in.

"It was a delightful and very fruitful meeting," Johnson told newsmen.
