

Engineering Exes Schedule Annual Reunion Banquets

Engineer-exes over the nation will have their annual reunion banquets today and next Saturday, announced Mrs. Doris Cowling, secretary of the Alumni association. The largest celebration will be in Atlanta, Ga., where exes from the Southern states will gather, she said.

D. M. McElroy, executive secretary of the Alumni and Ex-Student association, will attend the Atlanta meeting. Also attending will be O. B. Ratliff and Charles Woodruff, members of Tech's Board of Directors. McElroy, who left Thursday for Longview to visit the exes there, arrived in Atlanta yesterday for today's meeting, which will be in the Henry Grady hotel. A breakfast, luncheon and banquet are planned for the group, Mrs. Cowling said.

Lubbock, Houston, Dallas and Arlington also plan reunions. The Arlington group will include Fort Worth exes. Former Techsians will meet as far away as New York City for a reunion. Lubbock's quiet, which includes present students, is scheduled for Saturday night at the Hilton hotel.

Students To Make First Trip Easter To German Towns

The German dramatic art group of Leiderschanz, German language club, will go to New Braunfels and Fredericksburg, German American settlements during the Easter vacation. This is the first trip of this kind under the sponsorship of the foreign language department.

"The students will observe the language and customs of the small German town and as a good will feature they will present 'Der Morder,' a one act play in two scenes by Curt Gotz," stated Theodore W. Alexander, foreign language instructor. This play was presented last semester in the Lubbock High school auditorium by students in the dramatic group.

The group, chartered by Mr. and Mrs. Alexander, will leave Friday morning, March 26, and return to the campus Monday, March 29. Mrs. Alexander is also an instructor in the foreign language department.

The cast:

Isabella (the heroine), Beryl Nowlin; Konrad (Isabella's husband), James Block; Der Apotheker (local pharmacist), Thomas Brown; Heinrich (the butler), Jerrold Wilson; Herr Kurt von Strom (hunting) guest, Ralph Elbaum; Feterie (housemaid), Nancy Lee Wilson; Erster Genarm (policeman), Melvin Howe; Zweiter Genarm (policeman), Robert Hays.

Students on the committee are stage manager, Brown; costumes, make-up and sound effects, Hays; scenery, John S. McKaughan; publicity, Hahn and Brown; property, Howe. The stage manager is Hahn and the assistant director is Block. The play is under the direction of Alexander.

Work Starts Soon On Two Buildings

Construction of a plant industry building and a garage and lumber building will begin within 10 days and will be completed within 180 days, according to W. T. Gaston, business manager.

Contract amounting to $61,588 for both structures was awarded to Ralph H. Edler, Lubbock building contractor, Gaston said.

Plant industry building will be west of the dairy manufactures building and the garage will be north of building and grounds carpenter shop, said Gaston.

Electronic Equipment Received By College

Electronic equipment to be used for instructional purposes in the different laboratories, was received Tuesday, announced S. T. Cummings, purchasing agent.

This equipment was donated to Tech by the Federal Works agency and came from Kelly field, Cummings said.

MARRIAGE COURSE SUPPLIES ANSWERS

What Do Tech Students Desire In Their Mate?

By JAMES K. WESTER
Toreador Staff Writer

Should age, religious and economic differences matter to the potential bride and groom? When you start wondering if the girl or boy is the right one, how can you be sure?

Surveys in the "marriage" course at Tech reveal interest in these and many other questions. When asked, "What questions would you most likely put to a marriage counselor?", 60 per cent of the group expressed an interest in such questions as: Does family background matter? What about physical adjustment in marriage? How far should one go in petting? What about religious and financial differences? What is the ideal length for courtship? Are working wives good or bad for marriage? How can happiness be achieved for married couples?

Other Questions Asked

Of the 56 enrolled in the class, eight are men and 48 women, one of them married. The male minority was more interested in the

All-College Dance Policy Set For Council Established Fund

Policy and procedure for functioning of the Student Council All-college dance fund has been set forth in recent meetings of the budget sub-committee of the council and the Social Activities committee of the college.

The fund is constituted of 10 per cent of the net profit from each all-college dance. It was set up by the Student Council in its last meeting last year as a result of the failure of Sophomore Hodge Podge and the Junior Prom to meet expenses. The council paid the deficit of the two activities, and the all-college dance fund to be drawn from when indebtedness occurs in future all-college dances.

This year, the proceeds to the fund and the withdrawals due to deficits have balanced, according to Clint Formby, head of the budget sub-committee. All organizations sponsoring an all-college dance are required to submit a form of procedure pertaining to the amount of publicity, money to be spent, number of people working on the dance, tentative plans, etc., to the Student Council.

Upon completion of the activity, a financial statement must be submitted to the budget sub-committee and to Dean Langford, head of the Social Activities committee.

Final allocation of funds at the end of the school year has not been determined.

Students Still From Same Places Comparison Of Enrollment Shows

Texas towns with the largest number of ex-Techsian residents continue to be locations well-represented in the student enrollment. A comparison of the two was made by a Toreador reporter using records of the Registrar's office and results of a population survey made recently under the direction of D. M. McElroy, secretary of the Alumni and Ex-Student's association.

Exes can be found in 463 towns of the state while students were enrolled from some 509 Texas towns last semester. Lubbock, the old homeground, is first on both lists with 1,784 exes and 1,778 students.

Fort Worth, second in student representation last semester, had 109 enrolled, while Dallas was third with 107. Amarillo with 100 was fourth, followed by Lamesa with 88 and Pampa with 84. Dallas with 195 has the second largest group of exes, Houston with 159, is third; Midland 112, fourth; and Amarillo 107, fifth.

Students were enrolled from six foreign countries and 25 other states last semester, while exes can be found in 43 other states and 25 foreign countries. New Mexico, Oklahoma and California lead the states in student and ex-Techsian representation. Mexico with four students and three exes is first on the list of foreign countries. Students were enrolled last semester from Africa, Costa Rica, Peru, Puerto Rico, and Turkey and now two are enrolled from China.

Spanish Banquet Friday Features Mexican Counsel

"Everyone interested in Spanish is invited to attend the joint banquet of Sigma Delta Pi, national honorary Spanish society, and Capa Y Espada, Spanish club, 6:30 Friday in the cafeteria," stated A. B. Strehli, assistant professor in the foreign language department. Tickets are $1 each and may be obtained from members of the two clubs and faculty members of the foreign language department.

Eugenio V. Pesqueira, Mexican consul at Amarillo will speak. He will address the group in Spanish and illustrate his remarks by motion pictures.

Members of the program and arrangements committee are Sue Walker, chairman, Julia Vicente, Margaret Bruce, Lavena Powell, Guillermo Perea and Allen Burns. The ticket sales committee is headed by Alma Sturges and her assistants are Guida Miller and Julia Vicente. Stanley Dendy and Jack Wilson are in charge of posters.

"Mexican food will be served and tickets for the affair must be obtained before Wednesday, Mar. 10," Strehli said.

Gantz To Speak At Vesper Service

"Does Christ Live Here?" is the topic for Vesper services tomorrow afternoon in the Rec hall, announced Dr. A. W. Young, head of plant industry department.

Dr. H. G. Gantz, pastor of the First Christian church, is to have charge of the service. Bob Harvey, senior student of Lubbock, will resign and Ella Fay Groves, freshman student also of Lubbock, will be the pianist for the afternoon, according to Young.

CALLAN GOES TO EL PASO

Variety Of Jobs Offers Good Pay To Working Men

By DEANIE GRIFFIN
Toreador Staff Writer

The average working student earns 36 per cent more this year than he earned last year says a "good news" report from the Dean of Men's office. Salaries of all men students working per month total $40,569.75 compared to the 1946 total of $26,139.66. Their average salary per month is $66.40 at $78 per month which is a higher monthly salary but a lower hourly wage. The 1946 Techsian averaged a monthly $54.00 at $1.01 per hour.

Men students employed, according to the Dean of Men's records totals 673, with Engineers holding 270 jobs. The Arts and Science division ranks next with 177 employed students. There were 4,557 men students enrolled last semester, of which 14.77 per cent were officially employed. Tech students regularly employed by the college number 135.

Jobs Vary

Employment ranges from the lofty architect to the much disliked bill deliverer. There are 16 accountants, two psychometrists, one high school principal, seven bell boys and one research statistician. Three undertaker's helpers prevail among the students, while eight Techsians sale insurance.

Boy's dormitories employ 34 boys who serve as waiters, counsellors and switchboard operators. Ninety-one students are employed as graduate assistants, laboratory assistants, mail carriers, student assistants, student instructors and P.E. department work. There were five ministers, one landscaper, seven firemen and eight farmers. There is even a provincial collegiate magazine collector.

Meat, Mattress Packers

Techsians deliver papers, inspect milk, pack meat and mattresses and dust crops. Six students are athletic directors at boys clubs, three serve as plumbers and 39 perform general labor. Other odd jobs include ambulance drivers, gift wrappers, juke box checkers, pin setters and leather carvers.

Clerks and salesmen hold a total of 152 jobs. Rhythm has a fascination for 13 Tech students employed in music stores and libraries, as instrument repairmen, as disc jockeys and as checkers. Fifty-five Techsians are employed in cafes as managers, cashiers, bakers, cooks, dish washers, and waiters.

'Un-Texan' Bonus Talked By TWVA

Possibility of participation in a statewide meeting to consider veterans bonus for Texas vets of World War II was discussed at a called meeting of TWVA executive committee yesterday.

Recent controversy regarding the state bonus has centered around a statement by Gov. Beauford H. Jester when he termed it "un-Texan" to ask for a bonus.

"If TWVA should decide to participate in the meeting which will be held in Austin this month, a campus wide poll of veterans' opinions will be taken to determine a definite stand by Tech veterans," Gene Nowlin, TWVA commander, said.

Definite plans and announcements concerning the bonus issue on the Tech campus will be made in the near future, Nowlin said.

Country Square Dances Begin Monday Morning In Tech Gym

Jimmy Clossin, nationally known cowboy square dance instructor from El Paso, returns to Tech campus Monday to direct the country square dance school to be held March 8-12 in the gym. The school, sponsored by the Women's Recreational association, the Major-Minor club, and the women's physical education department, is open to anyone interested in the square dance.

Clossin, who completes his eighth consecutive year of square dance instruction here, will conduct classes daily, Monday through Friday. A 9-10 a.m. class will be devoted to all dancers; a 7-8:15 p.m. class is set aside for beginners; and a class for advanced dancers will be from 8:30 to 9:45 p.m.

Tickets are now on sale at the women's physical education office in the gym, and will also be obtainable at the door Monday. Each ticket entitles dancers to attend 10 lessons, including one day class and one night class each of the five days.

Advance ticket sales indicate the largest crowd ever to attend a Texas Tech country dance school, so don your boots, jeans, long dresses, if you like, and join the crowd for a grand time of dancing to the "calls" of Jimmy Clossin.

Everyone An Aggie 1927 Possibility

Back in the early days of 21 years ago, any student who wished could plant a crop on one acre of college farm land and sell the harvest to pay college expenses.

The first official catalog explains the plan, pointing out that many students could earn a major portion of his college expenses with vegetable crops. A student didn't have to be an experienced farmer to take advantage of the offer, since agriculture division staff member would give advice and assistance on the crop, the catalog stated.

No one seems to remember when the "acre projects" were discontinued, but they would hardly be practical now since the college has almost three students for each of its more than 2000 campus acres.

Centaurus Initiate Eleven Fall Semester Pledges

Eleven fall semester pledges were initiated into Centaur club Sunday evening at the Lubbock Hotel, stated Aubrey Ferguson, president of the club.

Those initiated are: Bob Brandon, Jack Waldrup, Cooper Haslin, Gordon Spencer, Hardy Scott, Don Morris, Bill Bean, Darrell Jones, Malcolm Stokes, Dub Kuykendall, and Sandy Hodge.

AWSNominates Officers Monday

Election By Women Set March 15; President Gets Trip To New York

Nominations for officers of the Association of Women Students for the next year will be made at a special convocation at 5 o'clock, Monday, March 8 in Aggie auditorium, according to Jackie Lewis, president. Elections will be held following Monday, March 15.

The girl who is elected president will be sent as a delegate to the regional AWS meeting in Ithaca, New York, April 10-12.

A committee will submit nominations for president, vice-president, secretary and treasurer. Also there will be nominations from the floor. Any girl is eligible to hold these offices who has a 1.5 grade point average for all college work and who was in school last fall.

On March 15, ballot boxes for the election of these officers will be placed in Women's Dorm II, Dorm III East, Dorm III West, the Home Ec Building, and the Ad building.

Social activities of AWS during the year include a party for all freshmen and transfer girls in the fall and a football reception honoring the team and coaches. Special duties are to publish the magazine, "Tech Tips" for all new students, to keep a record of activity points for all girls, and to assist in all college drives.

Bob Click Elected To Senior Office

Bob Click, senior engineering student from Henderson, was unanimously elected vice president of the senior class at a meeting Wednesday. Click was unopposed for the office after his nomination at a previous meeting.

Invitations for graduating seniors will vary in price from 12 to 65 cents. Click stated in a report, and will be sold by both the Tech and Varsity bookstores. Seniors will place their orders this year directly with the bookstores for the first time, since former practice has been for the students to order their invitations as a group.

An invitation committee has been working on a design for several months and the final sketch is now at the engraving plant in Houston. The master engraving for this invitation will be used for all Tech invitations in the future, Click reported.

EE's Commence Work On Exhibit

Students in the electrical engineering department have started work on the exhibits for the 16th annual Tech Engineers' show, April 23-24, announced Vernon Wade, senior from Ackerly. Wade is in charge of the exhibits from the electrical engineering department.

Demonstration of a radio compass, type used in Army and Navy aircraft during the war, will be among the new exhibits, along with the operation of the Link trainer, used in training pilots in blind flying. Another new exhibit will be the demonstration of the development of the phonograph, from the oldest type cylindrical phonograph invented by Edison, through the conventional disc type record player, to the newest type wire and tape recorder. Explanation of the principles of each will be given.

Many exhibits displayed in the past have proved so popular that they will be shown again, reported Wade. Among these are the radio-controlled car, which has been entirely rebuilt; an amateur radio transmitter, which will be used to send messages to any point in the world; and a demonstration of the method used to reproduce sound in motion pictures.

Variety Of Talks To Be Presented At Seed Meeting

Annual meeting of the certified seed growers will be held in the Aggie Memorial auditorium at 9 a.m. today stated Dr. A. W. Young, head of the department of plant industry.

The meeting, principally for the Panhandle and South Plains regions, is designed to promote better seed growing and to bring the growers up-to-date on the latest improvements in that field.

Several outstanding speakers will address the group from 9 a.m. to 12:15 p.m. The meeting will again be resumed at 1:30 p.m. with the showing of two motion pictures from the Du Pont company. A "round table discussion" at 3 p.m. will feature the afternoon meeting. This discussion will give the growers a chance to ask any questions they might have. A demonstration of the Gustafson Slurry seed treating machine, which is considered by most authorities to be the most effective treating machine now in production, will conclude the program.

Prizes Announced For Best Essay On 'Let's Revolt'

"Let's Revolt!" Students, if you think Tech is no good, write about it and get paid for complaining.

This is an invitation to all students from the Freshman Honor Society for Women, sponsor of an essay contest which offers $30 in prizes.

First prize will be $15 for the best essay of 500 words or less on the subject, "Let's Revolt!" Second and third prizes will be $10 and $5 respectively.

Date of the contest is March 8-22. All entries must be typewritten on 8 1/2" paper, and double spaced. Mail entries to Freshman Honor Society for Women, General Delivery, Texas Tech.

Three members of the faculty will serve as judges, and prizes given will be based on originality and thought. The winning essay will be published in The Toreador.

Four Bid On Post In Student Council

Four candidates for business administration representative to the Student Council have submitted petitions to Loy Catherine Barnett, council secretary.

The election will be held Wednesday at booths in the Administration building. Candidates who have submitted petitions are: W. O. (Dub) Boswell, junior; Newell Reed, junior; Steve Payne, sophomore; and Hubert Burgess, senior.

Two nominees for freshman class officers have been declared ineligible by the registrar's office. They are Judy Pierce, nominee for class secretary, and Don D. Williams, nominee for vice-president.

Orr And Roberts Elected To Honor Society Posts

La Verne Orr was elected to replace Mary Ellen Maloney as secretary, and Sue Ann Roberts was chosen as representative to the Tech Chapter of Commerce, at a meeting of Freshman Honor society Tuesday afternoon. Dr. Doyle D. Jackson, guest speaker and education professor, discussed "The American Woman's Place in National Affairs."

Tentative plans for a box supper and an essay contest were other topics of business discussed.

Traditional Senior Gift To Tech To Be Carried On By '48 Class

Soon the class of '48 will begin negotiations for its class present, following the tradition set up at Tech with its first graduating class in 1929. It is a general practice for the seniors to hold a Senior Carnival to obtain fund for the gift. Senior Carnival this year is scheduled for April 3.

Senior classes have presented 18 tokens to the college. The class of '33 voted against such action due to lack of funds, no accurate record can be found for classes of '37 or '45. The graduates of '27, made up of transfers, did not present a gift to the school.

This year's seniors will add to the list of both regular semester and summer school graduates.

- 1929--Oil painting of Dr. Paul W. Horn, first Tech president, deceased.
1930--Double T bench back of Ad building.
1931--$305.25 donated to Alumni association.
1932--Plaque of Dr. Paul W. Horn.
1934--Concrete bench at entrance of campus with "Texas Tech College," on it.
1935--Oil painting of Dr. Bradford Knapp, second Tech president, deceased.
1936--Victory bells--Ad building east tower.
1937--Summer school--Museum cases.
1938--Double T electric sign in center of campus.
1938--Summer school--Plaque of Dr. Bradford Knapp, $184.22 left to student union building.
1939--Lampis erected around the circle in front of Ad building and a section of cement walk placed within the circle.
1940--Lights on boulevard.
1940--Summer school--Continued sidewalk to library.
1941--Chimes installed in west tower of Ad building.

- 1942--Stamps and bonds, value $700.
1943--Stamps and bonds, value, $747.75.
1943--Summer school--Two $25 bonds.
1944--Name plate for picture of president emeritus Clifford E. Jones.

1947--Score board in gym.

Four Tech Women Fencers To Enter Foil Tournament

Four women fencers representing Tech will enter their first outside competition against the Dallas women's team there today. They will participate in team and individual competitions at the beginners' foil tournament, according to Keith Wells, coach.

Joan Golding, Lubbock, and Eula Starkey, Muleshoe, will fence in the individual tournament. Virginia Kennedy, College Station, and Patti Jo Musson, Lubbock, will enter team competition as they placed first and second respectively in an intramural prep foil meet here.

Russian fort in California in the early 19th century, an American falls in love with a beautiful woman who is fleeing from Russia where her father has been imprisoned by the Czar. Her husband has been sent to the fort as a convict. The husband tries to escape, forcing his wife to use the American as a foil, by threatening to harm her father. In his attempt, he is killed. The girl is free to marry the American and start a new life in America. Beginning today at the State, through Monday.

Singapore, as the name would suggest, is a story which takes place in Singapore just before the war. Matt Gordon (Fred MacMurray) and Linda Graham (Ava Gardner) are about to be married in a church when the Jap attack starts. Linda is seriously wounded. Matt, thinking her dead, leaves. Five years later he returns to get some pearls he had left concealed in the hotel room. He finds Linda, the victim of amnesia and married to Michael Van Leyden (Roland Culver). Matt finds other people, too, among them two underworld characters who are after his pearls. In an effort to get the gems, they kidnap Linda and Matt traces her to their hideout. A fight ensues during which Linda gets a blow on the head. Matt leaves to catch his plane to the States before she regains consciousness. When Linda regains her senses she remembers everything that went on before the bombing raid and rushed to the airport to catch Matt. Showing at the Tower today through Tuesday.

A mad search for gold high in the Mexican mountains serves as the plot in Humphrey Bogart's newest drama, Treasure of Sierra Madre. It is the story of three Americans, all stranded in Tampico, who set out to strike it rich. They meet in a flophouse, pool their lottery winnings, and head for the hills. After the gold dust begins piling up, greed and distrust creeps in until there is gunplay. Finally Bogart goes it alone with all the treasure, but the trip back to civilization turns into a nightmare of trouble. Beginning at the previous Saturday night, through Wednesday at the Lindsey. Speaking of Circles, we wonder if the campus police plan to give tickets when Texas Tech trucks go the wrong way around Memorial circle (as has been happening most every day). If such tickets are given, will the drivers pay the fines or does the college have a fund to meet such "situations"?

S.O.S.

"Dear Circle: With my last breath, I want to cry out against the injustice of starvation. Take from me and the rest of the girls in Dorm II--it's no fun. We can certainly sympathize with starving Europeans, because we are practically in the same boat.

This may be the land of the longhorn, but steers never stray into Tech dormitory kitchens. One unwary cow is used to tantalize hundreds who smell the aroma of frying steak and run down to supper to find burnt shoe leather. (Usually we subsist on cheese and beans instead of meat.)

Here is a typical lunch (not dinner, we don't even have that meal): vegetable soup, cheese sandwich (small size), creamed cabbage (small portion), Waldorf salad (a diminutive one). These responsible for meals, knowing that their "customers" hunger pangs will not be satisfied with this unfilling meal, slap a blob of whipped cream on everything they can afford to. This inflated froth kills the appetite but doesn't satisfy hunger.

How the economy of this is reasoned out, is beyond lots of people. Whipping cream is ninety cents a quart. Milk is twenty-three cents. Maybe it goes this way. Only four glasses of milk can be squeezed from a quart, while a lot of teaspoonful of pumped up cream come from a quart.

The food we get isn't bad; it's just that we don't get enough to even exist. The present $50 room and board fee must be supplemented by daily expenses on the avenue in order for us to have enough strength to make those against-the-wind hikes from one building to the next county.

Another thing, we dormitory-dwellers are expected to be the model of ladyhood when appearing for meals. No comfortable house shoes, no shorts or slacks and no exposed blossoming pin curls can appear in the dining room. We must be our own attractive feminine best. That's fine; we want to grow up to be ladies, but how is a girl supposed to look dainty when drinking from those trucker-coffee mugs which don't even have handles. No delicate female can drink from one without grabbing the thing with a firm two-fisted grip. Please rush me a double thick chocolate malt and a great big hamburger. This literary trail has used up all of the energy I

MODERATE PROPOSAL It has become traditional for men's social clubs to test the courage, energy and perseverance of their future members in a long period, during which pledges are given projects and assignments to complete. Frequently worthwhile accomplishments have been the result, and such things as removal of surplus paint from the Double-T bench are appreciated by the entire student body. Here is a proposal that could be put into practical application, and if contacted, the proper college officials would probably give their consent.

A herculean task that would really test the mettle of college men would be sodding of a baseball diamond for spring intramural games. It wouldn't be an impossible project if the clubs divided the space equally and all worked together. Another season, the benevolent men might consent to sodding a sister field for their sister clubs.

Without a doubt, pledges would work with more efficiency if members were sodding, beset them, and more hands would make more grass.

The Circle will tactfully attempt to find out the true feelings of those who would do the work and their opinions will be printed in a future column. It might be added that this would be a start to a green campus which would be enjoyed by not only members of social clubs, but by Tech as a whole.

LET'S REVOLT

Now Techsians can get paid for complaining! Freshman Honor society for Women is sponsoring a contest open to all students. Students who have an unbearable block on their shoulder can take it right off and write about it in 500 words or less without pulling any punches. Money prizes will be awarded to three winners, and criticisms can come straight from the heart. The "Let's Revolt" article may be on any subject having to do with Tech, its administration, campus buildings, publications and right on down the line. Details and rules are included in a news story in this issue.

WILL YOU?

One of the Circle's readers has requested a dissertation on "What Is Tech's Sorrow?" In order to answer the question correctly, the opinions of other readers are respectfully requested -- in writing, please.

REALLY?

"Love makes a man think almost as much of a girl as he thinks of himself." Love makes a girl think more of a man than she thinks of herself. Love makes a man and a girl think of nothing but each other, but if it makes them think at all then surely it accomplishes something.

Classified Ad section: Burl Hubbard, faculty co-sponsor of the Varsity show, issues this challenge to all students interested in helping with this year's show. He says it would run something like this: Help Wanted! Qualifications, none. Pay, lots of work, slander and criticism. Burl advises students to leave their steadies at home but if their dates must accompany them, "bring 'em along and we can put them to moving furniture."

Photo Funny: Joe France was probably proud of his sports shot of a basketball game on display at the KAM photo show currently held in the Rec hall, but there was one thing technically wrong with the picture--the ball didn't show. Judges of the contest commented that even though they couldn't see the basketball, "the picture was snapped at the right time and the photographer who took that picture was really on the ball." To which Jane Watson, instructor in photography, replied, "We've been wondering where the ball was."

"Boosty" Morris has learned by this time that the white liquid shine boys put on boots is not hand lotion. It seems that he practically ruined a pair of boots the other night when he vigorously applied Jergens to a pair of boots, while attempting to saddle soap them.

Francis Bearden wonders if students realize how important it is that they exercise care in the use of furniture in the Rec hall. Francis says that "four new rugs have been received this week, practically completing furnishings for the hall, but I doubt if we will be able to replace any of the furniture now in use."

Incidentally, Bearden attempted to break-up a dice game in front of the Rec hall this week, only to find hell-bent "hell week" pledges gayly scrubbing the sidewalk with toothbrushes!

Radio request programs received competition the past week when serenading of girls Dorm III was a nightly occasion. Numbers requested from the girls ranged from "The Old Rugged Cross" to "Show (you) the Way to Go Home."

A staff statistician reports in the Whitworth college Whistle that "there are only three clean saddle oxfords on the campus and two approximately clean."

A vacation is something you need by the time you finish paying for one.

From Where You Sit

Conversationally

Dear Editor:

It's absolutely strange what one might hear when he attempts to overhear someone's conversation to another, but it can be funny, so why not listen, especially when the party doesn't care? Not to mention any names, criticisms, re-deals, etc., but merely in passing, I would like to relate my experience.

"Say, Mac, let's go across the street to eat," Mac replies, "What time is it, Joe?" "Seven-thirty a.m.," was the answer. "Thought you went down to the chow hall for breakfast Joe?" Joe replied, "Yeah, I did, but I guess since it was 7:15 it was too late to cook." Mac asked, "What do you mean, Joe?" "Well, it seems that during the more wintry months hardly anyone went down to eat breakfast, so there wasn't much use in putting much food on the line. But now it seems most everyone goes down there toward the last, the food has run out. So you get only one piece of bacon and those who come last do without any. Simply this. You just ain't got no business down there, if it seems as though every one plans to eat."

Mac, rubbing his eyes, "Just a minute, Joe, and I will go with you. I can't afford to take a chance waiting for dinner. Who knows, I may have a quiz in government at 11 o'clock and come in late."

Mac and Joe, walking across the street talking to each other: "We are getting $65 a month for absolutely nothing. Hummm, if I had a full stomach, I could laugh it off." "Well, anyway it sorta makes one feel refreshed to get a little off his chest." "But I can grant you one thing, Joe, I will be down to breakfast early tomorrow and see if I can't get two pieces of bacon before they run out." Joe, answering, said, "Me too, Mac, because I just can't make a half day on shredded wheat, a doughnut, and a cup of coffee."

Dear Sir: Today I noticed with great interest the editorial concerning the mascot for the football team and the contest relating to it. For years I too have disliked the change from the Matadors to the Red Raiders, but have hesitated saying anything about it. Dub Rushing is to be congratulated for having at last brought the question to the fore.

Some people have been desiring to reduce the stature of the band by adding majorettes. Here is a case where young ladies could well be used effectively. It seems to me that a good addition to the pageantry of a football game would be a male student dressed in true Matador fashion and in the school's colors, flanked by two comrades dressed as Picadors in the same colors.

I shall be awaiting the outcome of this contest with interest. Sincerely yours, J. Hollie Cross.

Cause for American Pride

This beautifully offered to our acceptance that we may help with the greatest exactitude all our engagements, foreign and domestic, to the utmost of our abilities wherever and in whatsoever we see they are pledged; for a public as a private life, I am persuaded that honesty will be found to be the best policy. That we may avoid correcting ourselves with the Politics of any Nation, further than shall be found necessary to regulate our own trade, in order that our commerce may be placed upon a stable footing, our merchants, know their rights--and the government the ground on which those rights are to be supported. That every citizen would take pride in the respect for American, and act as if he felt the importance of the position that we occupy in the world. We shall be absorbed, if all annihilated, if we shall our selves (further than our own interests may require) and in the banner of any, had a what cause. And moreover, we

WASHINGTON'S FAREWELL ADDRESS Here, in our First President's own handwriting, is part of the far-sighted speech he delivered to the American people 152 years ago. The spirit of the doctrine still applies. It calls for a firm unity among our people... emphasizing, above all, the need for "every citizen to take pride in the name of an American." The original is now aboard the "Freedom Train"--a traveling exhibit of the most significant documents in our history.

NAIB Tournament Advances Into Second Night's Play

SPORTS

STAFF SLANTS

"Give us good weather and a chance (in the Southwestern Fat Stock Show and Exposition at Ft. Worth March 19-20)" according to Track Coach Maxey McKnight is all that he desires for his charges during the next few days. Inclement weather has hindered progress of the team and as yet nothing definite can be said as to Tech's potential strength this season.

McKnight has lined his sprinters on a wet track and has clocked Charley Reynolds, Border conference 100-yard dash champion, in 10 seconds flat under these conditions. This is a very good time for the 100-yard distance this early in the season and indications are that Reynolds will successfully defend his crown and in so doing may lead Tech to the circuit title.

Arizona university has acquired a play-off (for this year at least) between the Border and Southwest conference champions for the right to represent the sixth district in the National Collegiate Athletic Association Basketball tournament in Kansas City March 19 and 20. The Wildcats will engage the Southwest conference champs, Baylor university, in a two out of three game series to be played in the Southern Methodist field house in Dallas March 12 and 13 and again March 15 if necessary.

The runner-ups in both of these circuits are also participating in post season play-offs and tournaments. Texas university, Southwest conference runner-up, will play in the National Invitation tournament in New York and Texas Tech, which topped second place in the Border loop, is one of four teams in the eliminations at Ft. Worth for the Texas representative in the National Association of Intercollegiate Basketball in Kansas City.

Tech students were not able to attend the Raider-Buffalo game Monday night en masse, but one alumnus was certainly in there supporting his old alma mater. That person was Garland Head, present basketball coach at Spearman high school and former Tech cage letterman. Head was fortunate enough to obtain a seat in the middle of the West Texas cheering section and during the contest appeared to be shouting louder than the combined Buffalo rosters. He was reported to have had enough faith in his former school to take Tech and give seven points to any and all comers. The 67-49 Tech victory was indeed sweet to Head as he has been on Raider squads that had been on the other end of one-sided scores like that tussle turned out to be. Raider Coach Polk Robison probably felt pretty good too.

Wayland college from Plainview was finally knocked from its pedestal in the Texas Junior college cage circles. Blinn Junior college of Brenham upset the number-one seeded Plainview quintet 54-49 in the state tournament which was held at Texas A & M this week. This was Wayland's first defeat by a junior college team in 24 contests.

March 12 has become an important date to fight fans in Plainview and the entire South Plains region. That is the date that the pride and joy of the lower Panhandle region, LaVerne Roach, tackles Marcel Cerdan, European middle weight champion and leading contender for the world 160-pound title. Cerdan finally arrived in New York by air Saturday from Paris, France after a week's delay because of bad weather.

Techians are anticipating Roach's probable appearance at Lubbock in June and all indications at present are that this fight will materialize. Many Tech students are hoping that they will also be able to see former Techman Bill Henderson make his debut in the professional ranks as a preliminary bout the night of the Roach fight. Maybe in a year or two Henderson will be packing the fight faithfuls into some Lubbock arena to witness him in a leading professional engagement.

MICC Announces Schedule Change; Six Games Played

After three nights of play the Men's Inter-Club council basketball schedule has brought seven men's social clubs into action in the Tech gym with College Club losing to the Los Cams, 23-22, and the Wranglers trouncing the Socii quintet, 34-15, in the first night's competition; the Kemas bowing to the Centaurs, 41-27, and the Silver Keys edging out the Los Cams, 22-20, Tuesday night. College club played the Wranglers, and Socii ran up against the Kemas club Thursday night.

Because the Texas Tech Country Dance school will be using the Tech gym the second week of this month, the MICC will play some of its games on Sundays. Sunday games will start at 2:30 p. m., while weekday games begin at 7:30 p. m.

The revised schedule reads:

Date	1st game	2nd game
March 7 (S)	6 v. 7	1 v. 3
March 14 (S)	3 v. 6	2 v. 5
March 15	2 v. 4	3 v. 7

Four Teams Vieing For National Bid

By AUBREY SHOUBE
Toreador Sports Writer

The Texas Tech cagers, are representing the Border conference in the second night's play of the Texas division of the National Association Intercollegiate Basketball tournament tonight in the Will Rogers Memorial coliseum in Fort Worth. The first round unraveled last night with the results received too late for this edition.

Four teams, representing three Texas conferences and one independent team selected by the Texas district NAIB committee are vieing for the Texas representative position in the 32 team national tournament in Kansas City, March 8-13.

Tech represents the Border conference; Abilene Christian college was selected to represent the Texas conference, Texas Wesleyan was the independent team elected and one of three teams was selected to represent the Lone Star conference, since that league's play ended in a three-way tie.

11 Players Make Trip
Approval for Tech's participation in the NAIB tournament was voted Monday by the Tech athletic council. A squad of 11 players, accompanied by Coach Polk Robison, left the campus at 1 p. m. Thursday after a student pep rally at 12:45 in the Tech gym. Players who made the trip included Jay Kerr, Wayne Bowles, Gene Gibson, Whistle Banks, Don Grove, C. W. Duke, Ardis Barton, Wimpy Hill, Jiggs Jackson, Gilbert McAlister and Winston Churchill.

If the Raiders win a berth in the NAIB tournament in Kansas City they will remain away from the Hub City about 10 days, but if they should lose in Ft. Worth they will return to Lubbock Sunday.

This season the Raiders capped 10 Border conference tilts while losing six. In outside competition Tech won five and lost five, with victories over Hardin-Simmons twice, McMurry, Texas Christian and Hardin college. Losses have been to Texas, Rice, Texas Christian twice and North Texas State.

A.C.C. Undefeated
The Abilene Christian college Wildcats, undefeated Texas conference basketball champions, have been drilling since their conference championship became apparent for the NAIB play-offs. It will be the first time in the history of ACC that the Wildcats have been invited to the tournament.

East Texas, North Texas and Sam Houston State share the Lone Star conference basketball championship. North Texas and East Texas finished in a tie for the title Monday night. Sam Houston clinched a portion of the title Tuesday night by walloping Trinity.

Miller Held Draw

Gus Miller, coach of the West Texas State Buffs and chairman of the Texas district of the NAIB, went to Fort Worth Wednesday to hold the draw and make other arrangements for the important meet. Each of the schools which was extended invitations to the tournament was asked to have representatives at the Wednesday afternoon drawing.

The first two teams in the drawing met in the 7:30 p. m. game; the other two clubs clashed at 9 p. m. "If they let Texas qualify two teams again this year," Miller said, "we'll send the two Friday night winners to Kansas City, and there will be no Saturday night play. But if Texas is given only one berth in the national tournament on March 8-13, then we'll have to determine Texas' collegiate champion and Kansas City trip winner with another game on Saturday night. Plans are to have Friday night's losers meet for third place Saturday night," he stated.

Gnat-Eagle Tilt Ends '48 Season
The West Hall Eagles will tangle with the Gnat, Snead Hall's undefeated champions, in a tilt to determine the season's Dorm league championship at 6:30 p. m. Monday.

The Eagles copped the West hall championship in a best two out of three series in which the Red Bandanas took the first by a meager two points, and the Eagles snatched a victory in the last two, 37-30 and 44-37 respectively.

Frank James carried away individual scoring honors for the Eagles with six field goals and four free tosses for a total of 16 points. Not far behind in the department was Eagle Glenn Chapman, and Street of the Bandanas, each scoring 13 tallies.

One male student in a coed school recently said that coeds may make all the trouble in college, but it's the coeds who make college worth all the trouble.

Tech Tennis Squad Possesses Valuable Netman In Glenn Ivy

By "COTTON" FANNING
Toreador Sports Writer

Twelve years ago Glenn Ivy watched his nephew play tennis in a district tournament and decided there that that was the game for him.

Two years later in 1938 he won second place in a Junior County meet at Sweetwater, his home. In 1940, at the age of 15, with four years of experience behind him, he breezed to an easy victory over all contestants in the junior division of the district tourney, also held in Sweetwater.

Later in the summer the up-and-coming young netter copped top honors in the Cactus meet in San Angelo. In 1941 the tennis terror with the top-spin serve snatched the title in the Junior Tri-State meet at Amarillo, and returned to San Angelo to dominate the activities in the Cactus meet for the second time.

In 1942, the blonde-haired boy was a six-footer and a worthy foe in any net-fest; he clapped a damper on all comers in the regional senior tournament at Abilene, and defeated four men in the state meet at Austin before he went down in third place. He then returned to San Angelo to place his name among the very few who have ever won the Cactus meet three years in succession.

The fall semester of 1942 found Ivy enrolling in the arts and sciences division of Texas Tech. In the spring of 1943 his college career and his tennis activities were interrupted by a greeting from his "friends and neighbors" the draft board.

He went into the Army Signal Corps and was shipped to Shanghai, China, in October of 1945. Here he added more feathers to his already well-plumed bonnet by winning the third position in an All-Services tournament in which some of the top amateurs of the country competed, and by defeating the Shanghai professional champion.

After 15 months in Shanghai and the interior of China, he was sent back to the states for a discharge in January, 1946.

In the summer of that same year he stepped back into the Texas tennis picture by winning the Lubbock city championship in a hard-fought match with the 1945 champion, Houston Boyd. He also stepped back into the Texas Tech arts and sciences division to continue his efforts to acquire a degree in foreign languages.

In 1946 he held down the number one position in the college tennis circuit. He is now a senior in the arts and sciences division of Texas Tech.

Hour Fee Placed On Tennis Courts

A charge of 15 cents per hour will be levied on all Tech students who use the tennis courts behind West hall beginning Monday, Charles Hudson, student representative to the Athletic council, stated Wednesday. Townspeople who wish to use the court will pay 25 cents per hour.

Students will be allowed to play one hour, at the end of which time they will be required to relinquish the court to those who are waiting, Hudson said.

Aspirants to the varsity team will manage the courts, and the money will be used to defray expenses of upkeep and management. The new system is expected to help relieve congestion of the courts and also enable them to be kept in better condition.

Two of the courts will be reserved for varsity use two to three hours a day, the exact hours not having been arranged.

TECH GOLF CROWN ASPIRANT

Tech's golf crown aspirants in Border conference competition made plans to begin practice March 11 and 12, at a meeting Monday afternoon, according to Morley Jennings, golf coach and director of athletics.

There is still a shortage in material from which to build a team, and those who are interested in trying out should contact Coach Jennings as soon as possible.

Former Techsan, Volney Hill, Dies

Charles Volney (Satch) Hill, 44, former Texas Tech athletic star and widely known in coaching circles over the state, died in Seminoles Tuesday from a heart attack. He had entered the hospital earlier in the day.

Hill, one of the outstanding athletes in Tech's history, played full-back with the Matadors in 1925-26. Following his graduation, he coached at Chillicothe, Burk Burnett, and other schools, turning out many successful ball teams.

Basketball Coach Polk Robison attended Hill's funeral services Thursday in Meadow, where Hill was high school principal.

Robison was assistant coach to Hill for several years at Burk Burnett.

Robison joined the basketball squad Friday in Fort Worth where the Raiders are playing in the National Association of Intercollegiate Basketball divisional tournament. Clark Schooley, athletic publicity director, accompanied the team to Fort Worth.

ELWIN ELLISON receives decorations from Marvyn Hunter, Navy recruiting officer.

C. Elwin Ellison, Tech Student Honored At Naval Reserve Session

C. Elwin Ellison, sophomore business student, was presented the Distinguished Flying Cross, Air Medal and Three Gold Stars in lieu of the second, third and fourth Air Medals at the meeting of the Naval Reserve Wednesday night in the Engineers' auditorium.

Presentation of the awards to the 22 year old Lubbock veteran was made by Lt. Marvyn Hunter, Lubbock Naval reserve recruiting officer. The temporary citations stated in part that the awards were made "for a series of meritorious acts while participating in aerial flight" from Dec. 23, 1943 to May 9, 1944.

The ex-Navy aircrewman served as a radioman-gunner on a land based, dive bomber for 14 months in the South Pacific, participating in at least 25 combat missions. Ellison accumulated a total of 900 flight hours. Entering the Navy Sept. 22, 1942, Ellison received Naval training in California, Idaho, Tennessee and Florida. His overseas duties took him to the campaigns at Munda, Rabaul and Bougainville. He was discharged Sept. 22, 1946.

Ellison entered Tech in the Spring of 1947 and is a member of the Socii club.

Arabian Company Interviews Grads For Aggie Jobs

A. J. Edwards, director of the Saudi Arabian agricultural project returned to Tech Tuesday to interview senior aggie students for jobs with his company. Miss Wendell Killin, secretary of the aggie department, announced.

Students interested in securing positions with the company must have experience in irrigation farming or a degree from an agricultural college. Miss Killin said Edwards had already signed some Texas A&M graduates in a recent tour of Texas schools and that he expressed hope of securing several Tech students.

Former Tech student, Joe Smith, a January 1947 graduate, has been associated with the project in Arabia for over a year.

Edwards is a graduate of Texas A&M where he studied under W. L. Stangel, present dean of agriculture at Tech. He expects to leave for Washington, D.C., within the next ten days and then return to Arabia via New York, Miss Killin said.

A conscience is that which makes a man tell his wife something that he thinks she is going to find out anyway.

England's first poet laureate was Ben Johnson, so honored in 1617.

Tournament Is Set For WICC Softball

Tentative dates have been set by WICC for the girls softball tournament to be held April 28 through May 1.

This is the second year that a softball trophy will be presented to the winning team. The first trophy was presented by WICC last year to Sans Souci.

There will be a meeting next Tuesday afternoon at five o'clock for the captains of each of the five teams. They will approve the present rules and make any necessary changes.

What is a Greeting Card?

A greeting card is a distinctive method of communication. It's a warm handshake across many miles, an interpreter of sentiment, an outlet for human emotions, a messenger of love, and sympathy, thoughtfulness and understanding. Speaking a universal language that all mankind understands, no road is too long, no journey too arduous, for the greeting card, which often says important things we want to say, better than we can ourselves.

—From the writings of Lorraine Sherwood.

We carry a complete display of Greeting Cards for all occasions—friendly—correct—time saving.
