Texas Tech bounded into a first-place tie in the Border Conference race last night by defeating Texas Western 117-90 to set a new scoring record for the Raiders.

Jim Reed and Du-Wayne Blackshear paced the Raiders with 24 points each.

Jaurez Trip Ousts Eight

Eight Tech students, four boys and four girls, have been suspended indefinitely from the college following a week-end trip to Jaurez, Old Mexico.

The disciplinary action was confirmed today by President E. N. Jones from Austin. He explained that names of the students were not released "as a protection to the students and their parents."

Rumors were running wild on the campus today, and it is reported that petitions in behalf of the students were being circulated.

Briefly, the story, pieced together from unofficial sources, is like this: The students left Lubbock about 9 p.m. Feb. 20 for the border city, returning about 1:30 p.m. Feb. 21. The matter came to the attention of dormitory supervisors where the girls reside, and was reported to deans.

Investigation Of Vandalism Continues

"HE WAS A GOOD SIZED MAN," said one member of a group that spent Sunday afternoon cleaning up the work of Saturday night vandals who smeared paint over a large part of Tech's Will Rogers statue. "Wish he didn't have wrinkles in his elbow," another chimed in. Clockwise, from lower left, are Sisrow M. Miller, custodial foreman at large; and students Ed Drake, Edwin Robertson, Kenneth Wright, Wayne Gibbins, Jim Berry, Steve Grigory and Gerald Garrett.

Lubbock police were today continuing an investigation into what President E. N. Jones called "the worst case of vandalism I've encountered in my career as an educator."

The incident occurred Saturday night when entry was made into the Administration Building by a person or persons who splashed a light pink rubber base paint throughout the structure's second and third floors. The vandals then covered a portion of the Will Rogers statue with the sticky paint.

Damage was estimated between $2,500 and $3,000.

More than 100 volunteers from Tech dormitories and fraternities answered a call for help issued by Student Body President Glen Cary, who was notified of the damage soon after it was discovered.

By late afternoon, most of the paint had been cleaned off.

"I sincerely appreciate the spontaneous cooperation of the student body in helping remove the paint," Cary said yesterday. "The spirit the students demonstrated in this time of crisis reflects great credit on themselves and the student body of Texas Tech."

Dean of Student Life James G. Allen said "all evidence found so far in the case indicates the damage was not done by Tech students or students from rival colleges."

No particular area in the building seemed to be a target for damage, according to officials.

Charles F. Libby, supervising custodian, said approximately two-thirds of the door signs will have to be replaced, and Robert L. Mason, building maintenance director, said corridors and stairways throughout the building will

Panel Opens RE Week Here

"These next few nights of panel discussion will take man, who has separated his life into many compartments, and piece him back together again," said the Rev. Tom Anderson.

On this note Rev. Anderson started Religious Emphasis Week panel discussion last night in the Student Union Ballroom. The programs, held from 7:30 to 9 p.m. each night this week will end Thursday.

Following the topic, "A Thinking Being," Roy Bass, Lubbock lawyer and Baptist layman said, "Each of us at different times think in different ways."

Modern Dancers Form New Club

Orchosis has come to Tech. Designed "to develop grace and poise and teach the experiencing of natural movements of the body," a new Contemporary Creative Dance Club to be known as "Orchosis '56" was inaugurated here last night.

Led by Miss Jean Shankle and sponsored by the Department of Health and Physical Education for Women, the organization is open to any student, man or woman, wishing to cultivate natural rhythmic body movement.

"Modern Dancing requires muscular demand next to football," said Miss Shankle, a physical education instructor. "There is nothing 'sissy' about it; it is very strenuous."

It is not necessary to have had modern dance previous to joining the club, the teacher added.

"The objective is to experiment to develop one's own movements and feelings such as anger and sadness in order to express ideas," she asserted. "It is the true dance form — an expression by movement of the emotional factors within the dancer."

He listed what he called three process of thought; following other people's way of thinking; leading other people's way of thinking; and independent thought in which the individual is true to himself.

"As we think so we are" states Mrs. Norvel Young, wife of the minister of the Broadway Church of Christ in Lubbock. Mrs. Young edits a daily devotional magazine, Power For Today.

Mrs. Young and Rev. Bill Slaughter will conduct the closing session Thursday evening.

Rev. Slaughter is pastor of Shepherd King Lutheran Church in Lubbock, and the pastor of the National Lutheran Council at Tech.

After each panel discussion a question and answer period will be allowed. Dorms will conduct discussion sessions at 9:30 p.m. nightly.

Student Religious Council is sponsoring Religious Emphasis Week.

'SAGEBRUSH SHUFFLE' IN UNION FRIDAY

"Sagebrush Shuffle," a dance with a western theme, will begin at 8:30 p.m. Friday in the Tech Union Ballroom, according to Bob Richards, Friday Night Dance Committee chairman.

WILL DISCUSS STUDENT RESPONSIBILITIES . . .

Techsans To Attend TISA Meet

Discussion of student problems and student responsibilities will highlight the annual convention of the Texas Intercollegiate Student Association March 1-4. The Association will convene in Abilene on the Abilene Christian College campus.

Tech's representatives are Don Dilley, Huda Hassen, Charlene Williamson, Edwina Schovajsa and Glen Cary. Miss Jacqueline Sterner, assistant dean of women, will accompany the group.

"Get Student Government in the Hands of the Students and not the Administration" will lead the topics discussed at the meeting. Representatives also will discuss the student's responsibility toward his school and its student government. This topic will highlight desegregation, responsibilities to a certain group and the courage of standing by your convictions.

Delegates also will discuss relations between school and the different departments. TISA attitude toward developing White House views on higher education and the role of the federal government on also will be considered. According to Cary, Tech Student Council president, TISA is becoming more important to the individual campuses as more problems are discussed with the association. He thinks the TISA is a very good place to exchange ideas. One problem they have helped is how to make more students participate in student elections, he said.

'Infernal Machine' Play Dates Changed

A change in playing dates for the forthcoming Speech department production of Jean Cocteau's "The Infernal Machine" has been announced by director Ronald Schultz. The production will be held in the Speech Auditorium March 15-17 and 19-21.

Cast members are Dr. Cecelia Thompson, playing Jocasta; Jake Sitters, Oedipus; Ronald Witherington, Tiresias; Bee Chinn, the Sphinx; Fritz Stanley, Anubis; Jerry Adams, Creon; Dell Gibson, shepherd; Carlton Holloway, messenger; Frank White, young soldier; Jim Snodgrass, old soldier; Jimmy Snell, captain; John Healy, little boy; Cindy Bowser, the Theban Matron, and Dale Karpe, the Ghost of Laius.

The production crew, headed by Karpe as assistant director, is composed of Charles Erwin, stage manager; scenery, Erwin, Keith Elliott, J. H. Wilkerson, Albert Bayer; lights, Wayne Lambert, John McIver, Pat Solomon, Bonnie Sullivan; props, Janet Reaves, Cecil Trainer; costumes, Linda Leach, Helen Short, Cindy Bowser, Shirley Price, Marlys Harris, Virginia Peacock, Janice Frazer, Carol Knowlton, Jean Whitley, Nancy Henson, Osceola Segullia; make-up, Miss Reaves and Trainer; publicity, Betty Lovelace; house, Benni Dunn and Wanda Jo Williams.

Speaking at the convention will be National Student Association President Stanley Glass from the University of Illinois and Cedric Foster, commentator for the Mutual Broadcasting System.

Tow-Away Policy Effective Thursday

A new tow-away policy for cars parked in violation to existing campus regulations goes into effect Thursday. Techsans were reminded today by a representative of the traffic committee.

Any impounded vehicle may be recovered by contacting the Traffic Office between 1 and 5 p.m. The office is in Aggie Pavilion. A recovery fee of $3, plus 50 cents storage for each additional day the car is impounded, will be charged.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS by Dick Bibler

"I KNOW SOMEONE FLUNKING IN EVERY ONE OF MY COURSES --- ME."

'Ninety-Nine Per Cent Are Good ...'

Will has a shiny dome. And that's not all. His teeth have been wire-brushed until they fairly glisten in this West Texas sun and sand.

Responsible for this renovation of Tech's only piece of statuary is a corps of volunteer workers from men's dorms. Armed with mops, buckets, wire brushes, rubber sponges, detergent and other assorted cleaning gear, the levi-clad Techsians answered a frantic call for help issued Sunday morning by Student Body President Glen Cary.

A sticky, pinkish rubber-base paint had been smeared on the doors and walls throughout the second and third floors of the Administration building Saturday night, and a similar paint had been used to coat Tech's bronze statue of Will Rogers and his famous horse, Soapsuds. The mess had to be cleaned up.

The answer to Cary's call was heartening, illustrating a point that Sisrow M Miller, custodial foreman at large, pointed out Sunday afternoon:

"Less than one per cent of the students here at Tech, I believe, are really bad."

The trouble is, it doesn't take more than one per cent to cast discredit on the entire student body.

We like to think that Techsians aren't guilty of Saturday night's contemptible bit of waste and destruction — destruction that will cost Texas Tech, and in turn the citizens of Texas, $2,500 to $3,000. But should it be found that students of this college were involved in this fiasco, we want to see them prosecuted to the fullest extent of the law.

While condemning the guilty, we commend the 99 plus per cent of loyal Techsians who are innocent, and who, like us, are appalled at this gross insult to Tech. Especially, we applaud the men who gave up Sunday activities to repair what others had so thoughtlessly destroyed.

—Alton Slagle.

BSO Retreat Starts Friday At Cloudcroft

Plans went into high gear this week for the third annual Board of Student Organizations sponsored leadership retreat, to be held at Cloudcroft, N. M., Friday through Sunday.

Planning committee members have been busy all week arranging everything from reservations to mid-way coffee breaks for the leadership outing. Through this afternoon, 66 organizations had signed to send a representative to the retreat. Purpose of the weekend is to provide a workshop in which student leaders can exchange ideas and experiences on problems confronting their groups.

The retreat committee includes Richard Ridgway, chairman; Jack Beckner, publicity; Boone Brackett and Jack Pruitt, recreation; Virginia Carr, program; Shirley Chapman, secretary; Sylvia Dietering and Diane Thomas, arrangements; and John Hutchins, treasurer.

Student advisors for the committee are Glen Cary, student body president, and Ronnie Clark, president of BSO. Faculty advisors include Dean of Student Life James G. Allen, Dean of Men Lewis N. Jones, William D. Scott, director of Tech Union, and Miss Jacqueline A. Sterner, assistant dean of women.

Cosmopolitan Club Open House Tonight

Open House will be held from 8 to 10 tonight at the home of Dr. and Mrs. William E. Hall, 2501 19th. Designed to better acquaint foreign and American students at Tech, the come and go affair is being sponsored by the Tech Cosmopolitan Club, official organization for foreign students.

"I want to urge all Tech students and faculty to come by and get better acquainted with their classmates from other countries," said Dr. Hall today. "This is a switch," the journalism department head added. "Ordinarily we would be playing host to them, but this time they want to demonstrate their own brand of hospitality."

Current Cosmopolitan Club membership includes 18 foreign students and three foreign-born Americans.

Rally Will Precede Game Tomorrow

A 30-minute pep rally, designed to honor coaches and players — particularly graduating seniors Jim Reed, Gene Carpenter, and DuWayne Blackshear, will be held at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday in Tech gym.

The rally has been set for the game with New Mexico A&M since it will be the final regularly scheduled game of the season for the Raiders. It will also mark the final game for the Techsians in the old gymnasium.

Included on the program will be the introduction of players and coaches for both teams by athletic director DeWitt Weaver.

Tennis Team Sets Schedule

By BILLY ELLIS

Texas Tech's tennis team, with four lettermen back from the 1955 season, is shaping up for the 1956 season, which could be the best one in many seasons, from the prospective viewpoint.

Lettermen, all sophomores who lettered last year as freshmen are: David Kent of Amarillo, Billy Edd Gowan of Wichita Falls, and Dick Spiers, of Kermit. Two first-year candidates who show a lot of promise are Johnny Kniffen, from Clyde, Texas, and Scott Cantine, from Amarillo.

The team launches its schedule March 14, against Abilene Christian, there. The schedule includes four Southwest Conference teams, last year's Rocky Mountain Champions, Colorado College, and Tech will also host the Border Conference meet here May 11 and 12.

Fencers Take Honors Sat.

Tech fencers won all places in the individual competition practice meet Saturday afternoon with Abilene Christian College and Lubbock independent swordsmen. The meet was held at O. L. Slaton Junior High.

Winning in the junior epee were Gene Brown, first, Gene Miles, second and Frank French, third.

In novice foil Kenneth Gullett, Gene Miles, and Bill Worrell were first, second and third, in that order.

The individual practice meets are qualifying meets for the division finals, and Tech men have qualified in six out of nine individual meets. The team has qualified in three out of three. At the present Tech is defending champion of Texas, Arkansas, New Mexico, and Arizona.

Tournaments scheduled for the fencing team include March 3 in Dallas, March 17 at TCU, March 19, NCAA at Annapolis, Ill., April 7 at TSCW and April 27 the division finals at Fort Worth.

Captain and coach for the team is Kenneth Gullett who has taken the place of Jack Cornell, olympic fencing candidate for 1956. Other members of the team include Gene Brown and Frank Griffin, both freshmen lettermen, Bill Worrell and Kenneth Gullett, both one year lettermen, Gene Miles, squad man and Frank French playing for his first year on the team.

Team victories for this year have been over Dallas, Abilene and Fort Worth. In the Dallas Invitational Tournament, Gene Brown was the high point individual. Last October the team brought home a trophy from Chihuahua, Mexico.
