

RESULTS ROLL IN—Student Senator Richard Andrews watches Freshman Council election returns tick over the computer Friday night. Tech freshmen went to the polls Friday to select 35 delegates for the class governing body. Also casting ballots were upperclassmen in the school of Business Administration who selected one senator. (See related story, col. 3).

Johnson bids cutback of forces in Europe

LBJ urges joint Soviet-U.S. effort

NEW YORK (AP)—President Johnson bid publicly Friday for a mutual U.S.-Soviet cutback in forces in Europe as a step toward permanent peace on that continent.

In a speech to the National Conference of Editorial Writers, the President said a "gradual and balanced revision of force levels on both sides" could gradually bring about conditions conducive to "a true European reconciliation."

The speech, in the Carnegie Building, followed a six-month U.S. government review of European policy.

JOHNSON THEN went to United Nations Headquarters—walking part of the way—for a brief surprise talk with U Thant, the U.N. secretary-general. He was accompanied by Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Arthur J. Goldberg, U.S. ambassador to the United Nations.

Later, in his second address of the day, to a Democratic party rally in Newark, N.J., the President accused the Republicans of trying to win votes in the November elections "by scaring people."

"They have no constructive programs," he assured his partisan audience.

IN HIS MAJOR speech, to the editorial writers, Johnson also announced seven smaller more immediate "new steps"—in addition to the armed forces cutbacks—to promote ties with Communist East Europe. They are:

1. Lopping "hundreds of non-strategic items" off the list of U.S. goods barred from shipment to the Soviet bloc.

2. Allowing the U.S. Export-Import Bank to guarantee commercial credits to Poland, Hungary, Bulgaria and Czechoslovakia. Romania and Yugoslavia were the only Red countries previously eligible for this trade-boosting benefit.

3. CONSIDERATION of easing Poland's debts to the United States by spending some Polish funds owed America on mutually beneficial projects.

4. A readiness for Export-Import Bank financing of U.S. exports for the new Soviet-Italian Fiat auto plant.

5. Negotiating an agreement with Moscow for U.S.-Soviet commercial air flights, which "will facilitate tourism in both directions."

6. Further lifting of restrictions against travel by Americans to Communist lands.

7. THE RECENTLY begun U.S.-Soviet exchange of cloud photographs taken from weather satellites.

Presidential aides in Washington portrayed the speech, his first focusing on Europe since an Atlantic Alliance address a half year ago, as one of a series dealing with various areas of the globe. Johnson has previously given major speeches on Asia, Latin America and Africa.

White House officials said Johnson personally took part in at least 10 meetings in the broad European policy study. His public declaration carried added significance at this time because:

—U.S.-SOVIET RELATIONS appear to be thawing some after the freeze following big-scale U.S. involvement in Viet Nam. Secretary of State Rusk and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko held wide-ranging talks at the United Nations last month.

Academic suspension is revised

Attending summer school will not reinstate all suspended students, according to the new provisions of the academic suspension and retention law.

Dr. W. M. Pearce, vice president for academic affairs, clarified the change after a thorough study was made by the Council of Deans. President Murray approved the decision.

THE PORTION of the suspension system revised concerns the omission of the section on being reinstated in the fall term by attending the summer session. Under the new provision, if a first offense student, at the end of the spring semester, finds himself ineligible to enter the fall semester for academic reasons, he should secure conditions for admission from his academic dean.

Formerly a first offense student could be reinstated in the fall semester following academic suspension by attending the full summer session and earning at least eight semester hours of credit during that period.

IN HIS RELEASE, Pearce said, "Changes were made because of difficulties in implementing the old program," and that, "the standards for re-admission did not consider any quality points." He said it must now be stipulated by the different deans as to the grade point averages required for reinstatement of each individual student.

Pearce said students have nine months in which to work before this new change will affect them. He added that even though the change is not drastic, the student must realize its existence and its effect.

The new reinstatement conditions can be found in the new 1966-67 general catalog, on pages 33 and 34.

Battalion editors fired after rift

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP)—The publications board of the Texas A&M University campus newspaper, "The Battalion," fired Tommy DeFrank of Arlington as student editor today and replaced him with Winston Green Jr. of Tyler.

Publications director Jim Lindsey said the action was taken to "pave the way for a better atmosphere" for the paper.

DISMISSED ALONG with DeFrank were managing editor Dani Presswood of Fort Worth and sports editor Gerald Garcia of Beeville. Green was to recommend their replacements.

Lindsey said continued policy disagreement could result in further harm to the paper. A&M president Earl Rudder said Lindsey and the seven-member publications board had full support of the administration in making the move.

THE TROUBLE CAME out in the open last week when Lindsey cancelled a story by DeFrank about a proposed political forum on campus. Lindsey also criticized the paper for printing an anonymous letter.

Lindsey, who said the DeFrank story was unfair and the letter in error, was named "editor-in-chief" of the paper last week, a designation rescinded Friday.

Common thirst affords coed chilling experience

A common thirst led to a chilling experience for Terry Graham Thursday night. What started out as a casual trip to a dorm Coke machine developed into a one-sided arm wrestle with the machine which lasted almost an hour.

"It's kind of cold in here," laughed Miss Graham as she knelt beside the mechanical monster. Her arm was wedged up to the elbow in its mouth.

Miss Graham, a Houston freshman, had been trying to free a coke. She got her hand up to the Cokes when she found that her elbow was caught.

DURING THE 55 minutes her arm was trapped, Miss Graham did a great job of keeping her sense of humor. She had lost all feeling in her hand and part of her arm because it was so cold, but the only thing she was really worried about was her boyfriend's reaction when he heard about it.

"When he finds out, he'll want to take a slow boat to China," she moaned.

Mrs. Emily Burden, dorm mother, called a campus policeman but he was unable to free her. Attempts to locate the Coke man proved to be equally unsuccessful.

FINALLY the fire department was called, and under the supervision of Captain Lee Turner, the firemen managed to loosen the hinges on the dispenser and free her.

Then the Coke man arrived and gave her that Coke she had been so determined to get.

Raiders meet Froggies for West Texas Title

By GEORGE CHAFFEE
Sports Editor

Texas Tech and TCU, each backed into the same corner, renew acquaintances in Amon Carter Stadium in Fort Worth at 7:30 p.m. today.

The Raiders have lost their first two Southwest Conference games, taking a 31-21 beating from Texas and a 35-14 loss from Texas A&M.

The Horned Frogs have lost their first three games and are still smarting from a 21-0 dunking at the hands of Arkansas a week ago.

SECONDARY to the importance of the Conference battle will be the fight for the championship of West Texas, decided each year by the two schools. A saddle, emblem of the title, is presented each year.

The Raiders kept the saddle in Lubbock a year ago with a hair-raising 28-24 in which three touchdowns were scored in the last two minutes.

After the smoke had cleared from last year's Conference race, Tech and TCU shared second place behind undefeated Arkansas. Both teams went on to post-season bowl games—the Raiders to the Gator Bowl and the Froggies to the Sun Bowl.

THE RAIDERS ARE possessors of the longest injury list of tonight's foes with eight starters out of action.

Deadline today for ID retakes

A photographer will be in the Library til 11:30 this morning to make retakes of students with defective ID's.

ID's will be distributed today in the library from 9 a.m. to 11 a.m.

RETAKES ARE FREE for camera errors, typographical errors, and such subject errors as closed eyes or blurred features.

There is a charge of $1.25 for students who have changed hair style or color or are merely dissatisfied with their appearance on the ID. The fee also applies to women who have married since ID's were made. After two weeks, the fee goes up to $2.

New ID's will be delivered to the cashier's office about one week after the retake is made.

ROLLIN HERALD, of Herald Photo, said that he has to retake 2.5%—3.5% of the ID photographs every year. This year, after the distribution of approximately 15,000 ID's, the proportion of retakes is running about 3%.

Herald said that the most common problem this year is with students' hair. The girls are changing colors and the boys are changing back and forth between conventional cuts and Beate cuts.

Freshmen choose 35 delegates

The Freshman Council will represent the freshman class in the Student Senate, supervise freshman cheerleader elections and promote class unity and spirit.

AMPHIBIAN CUISINE—Red Raider quarterback John Scovell seems displeased with his TCU frog leg during a send-off pep rally Thursday night. The Raiders tangle with the "Froggies" from TCU in Fort Worth tonight. At stake in the contest is the West Texas Championship saddle which Tech presently holds.

DEAR REB:

Art student keeps getting the brush-off.

DEAR REB:
I'm a regular Renoir on the canvas, but on campus I just don't seem to make the scene. There was one campus cutie that used to admire my paintings, but now she's too busy admiring some guy's new Dodge Dart. She says riding in this guy's Dart is like art; every time they go out, they draw a crowd. What can I do? I just have to see this girl again. It's not that I'm in love with her, I haven't finished her portrait yet.

COLOR ME BLUE

DEAR COLOR ME BLUE:
Make your next sitting at your Dodge Dealer's. After you find out how easy it is to own a Dart, you'll be out painting the town. And don't worry about finishing the portrait. With Dart, you'll find you have many models to choose from. Get the picture?

*Sincerely,
Reb*

Here's the picture that's worth a thousand ah's. '67 Dodge Dart GT. Dart gives you more show and go than ever before, and it still has that nice low price. Plus a long list of standard equipment. Like padded instrument panel, padded sun visors, outside rearview mirror, carpeting and so much more.

-In Clement Hall- SW Bell manager says investigation may drag

Southwestern Bell Telephone Co.'s investigation of reportedly "free" calls placed on a fourth floor Clement Hall pay phone may drag on for some time.

Lynn Morrison, manager of the Lubbock office, said Thursday, "We'll need to get more information on it before we can say anything. Then everything will come back down the pipe on what we can do."

HE WOULD NOT divulge cash amount of the reportedly numerous long distance calls made via the phone while it was "on the blink" from approximately the end of June until about three weeks ago.

Sources living in Clement during the summer sessions said the phone returned all money deposited in it for long distance calls. Calls to as far away as Viet Nam were placed during the summer, the sources said.

THE DISORDER CAME to Southwestern Bell's attention when the regular collection was made and the amount of money came up short of the usual amount, Morrison said.

The manager said earlier that the amount of shortage was "a fairly considerable sum."

Perilous Intersection

It is impossible to cross the intersection of Broadway and College on foot without meeting traffic from one direction or the other.

Motorists and pedestrians play a game of cat and mouse as to who has the right-of-way. It is equally impossible for a driver to make a turn without encountering pedestrians in the crosswalk. The traffic signal pattern is such that only cars traveling straight through the intersection do so without yielding to foot traffic.

A suggested solution is the employment of a four-way stop signal such as is used in Baltimore and other progressive cities which have learned to handle large pedestrian and automobile traffic.

With such a signal, traffic is stopped from all directions and the pedestrian is given complete freedom of the intersection. He is allowed to cross diagonally, north, south, east or west during the "walk" interval. Then one-by-one each direction of traffic is allowed to go straight or turn left or right without hindrance from pedestrians or other autos.

Such a system could be a considerable improvement on the City of Lubbock's "look and leap" policy.

Museum to host clown program

Lubbock's own version of the "Greatest Show on Earth" will launch this year's junior membership program today in Tech's West Texas Museum.

Appearing in "The Wonderful World of Clowns" will be Go-Ee, known to fellow Lubbockites as George M. Atwood. Go-Ee, replete in clown makeup, will put on a show of highjinks following a short lecture by Atwood on the history of clowns and clowning.

APPROXIMATELY 300 school-age children are expected for shows at 10 a.m. and 2 p.m. in the exhibition hall of the museum. Paper streamers, balloons, pictures of famous clowns and circus posters will festoon the hall and second-floor rotunda.

A veteran of circus life, Atwood has traveled with Ringling Bros., Barnum & Bailey. He has appeared in parades and at countless private parties and shows.

SOMETHING of a sawdust philosopher, Atwood laments today's dearth of clowns and funnymen.

"People can't laugh at themselves anymore," he said. "They're so involved with things like the war and the space race. If I can make a person laugh or smile for just a second, he'll forget his troubles and I'll forget part of mine, too."

Also set for presentation in the museum's 1966-67 junior membership program are "A Child's View of Russia," Dec. 3; "Footprints on the Moon," Feb. 18; and "Let's Play with Puppets," Apr. 8.

Officials ponder insects

Bill Parsley, Vice President for Development, and Dr. Gerald Thomas, Dean of Agriculture, are in El Dorado today to discuss mosquito eradication.

They are meeting with an official from the state headquarters of the Agriculture Stabilization Committee; James Powell, a rancher and president of the El Dorado Knitting Mill; Howard Derrick, Paducah rancher; and State Representative W. S. Heatly of Paducah.

The committee is touring Powell's and Derrick's pilot plots for brush control and mosquito eradication that are on their ranches.

STAR TOURS TECH—Actress Dina Merrill and her mother, vacationing in the Southwestern United States, toured the Texas Tech museum recently, as well as Lubbock and surrounding areas.

Tech art students attend summer workshop in Taos

The village of Taos, nestled against the foothills of the Sangre de Cristo Mountains in northern New Mexico, long a mecca for artists, was the site of the 1966 Art Education Workshop of Texas Tech.

In 1898 two world-famous artists, Bert Phillips and Ernest Blumenschein, stopped in Taos to make wagon repairs and exclaimed their impression of the rustic atmosphere to the world.

The "Land of Manana" offers artists a retreat from the bustle of modern life in an atmosphere of inspirational scenery. This was the setting for the Texas Tech Art Education Workshop of June 6-24, 1966.

The program, attended by students from Tech as well as other colleges in Texas and New Mexico, consisted of instruction in water color and oil painting for teachers, Dr. Bill Lockhart, head of the Applied Arts department, said.

The students used Fort Burgwin as their headquarters and were free to seek their inspiration from the surrounding countryside. Students received three hours credit for the course.

Famous artists Emil Bistram and Doel Reed, were on hand to give critiques of the student's work.

The director of the workshop, Dr. Kincaid, said Taos, with its 20 galleries, is a foremost art center and the workshop ties Tech's name in with the world of art.

The great variety of scenery and the flavor of art that exists provides an excellent inspirational opportunity for students, Dr. Marlow, associate professor of Applied Arts, added. The flavor of art is so evident even the public trash cans are painted with colorful caricatures.

Because of the success of this summer's workshop and the fine interest in next year's program, plans are currently favoring two, three-week sessions next summer in Taos, Lockhart said.

Local officer attends BSU state convention

Ernie Cowger, Tech Baptist Student Union president, will attend the BSU state convention in Fort Worth Oct. 14-16.

The convention will feature several speakers who will discuss the theme "Learn of Me."

Among the speakers are Rev. William O'Brien, music director at the Baptist Theological Seminary of Indonesia, Dr. G. K. Schweitzer, professor of chemistry at the University of Tennessee, and James Jeffrey, executive director of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes.

Cowger will be one of three students in Texas participating in a panel discussion as a special feature of the convention.

Tech BSU members who sign up at the BSU Center by today will leave at noon, Oct. 14 by bus for Fort Worth. Cost for the trip is $16 plus meals.

Folk Ballet to open Wednesday

The American Folk Ballet kicks off the Tech Artists Course Series for 1966-67 in Lubbock Municipal Auditorium Wednesday at 8:15 p.m. at Deep Creek," a musical drama set in American pioneer time.

Free tickets will be available Monday for Tech students upon presentation of I.D. cards at the Tech Union box office.

the freshman game Thursday night, Star Gazer asked if there was such a thing as a right or left end on offense.

White Hope takes the plunge this week picking Baylor Bears to upset the Roaring Razorbacks of Arkansas. The Old Man from the Hills puts his colossal .533 percentage on the line and gives the Sooners of Oklahoma the nod to break their eight-game losing streak with the Longhorns of Texas.

With such close games in store for the predictions crew, averages should look quite different following this weekend's football action.

Red Raiders clash with Frogs

In last week's farce in Fort Worth, the Christians uncovered a new quarterback which headaches for the shuffled

Raider secondary. Sophomore Rick Bridges put on a fantastic aerial display for the home-folks while running the Razorback secondary crazy.

Bridges played the entire second half and the Frogs ran 57 plays to 15 for Arkansas. The small quarterback completed 8 of 14 passes and ran for 39 yards.

The '66 Frogs are reported quicker, but smaller than last year's squad. On defense, the secondary is the strong point for the Christians. TCU plays a one-four defense and drops to a four-three in passing situations.

According to Wilson, the Frogs are still inspired despite their losses and he rates them as "the toughest losing team in the nation."

TCU is expected to start ends Joe Sherrell and Sonny Campbell, tackles Charles Young and Adon Sitra, guards Gene Mayes and Butch Gilliam and center Bobby Nelson.

In the backfield will be quarterback P. D. Shabay, halfback Steve Landon, wingback David Smith and fullback Kenny Post.

Starting for the Raiders will be ends Larry Gilbert and Terry Scarbrough, tackles Trent Jordan and Phil Tucker, guards Don King and Ronnie Pack and center Jackie Booe.

Quarterbacking the Raiders will be John Scovell. Behind him will be Mike Leinert at left halfback, Jerry Lovelace at right halfback and Kenny Baker at fullback.

The Raiders should receive a large amount of backing in Fort Worth since all 4,000 student tickets issued the Tech Athletic office have been sold.
