

Horticulture Festival Begins Saturday

COED 'ROYALTY' REIGNS THIS WEEKEND

Kay Keltner, center, reigns as queen over the Fall Horticulture Festival. Assisting her as 'princesses' are Patty Ayes, Marty Keager, Dolores Bollig and Diane Fischer.

"Time, Space and Eternity" will be reflected by colorful flower arrangements this weekend at Tech's fourth annual Fall Horticulture Festival in the new Agricultural Plant Sciences Bldg.

The admission-free festival, which is open to the public, will display over 1,000 specimens of flowers. The event will open with the dedication of the new building at 3 p.m. Saturday and will continue through 10 p.m. Saturday and 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. Sunday.

In keeping with the theme, flower arrangements will represent the past, present and future, and various symbols of space. For example, a view of tomorrow will feature a two-color line-mass arrangement.

Kay Keltner, Crane, has been selected as the 1961 Horticulture Queen. Kay will be on hand to help present the festival awards.

Horticulture princesses who will serve as hostesses at the festival are Patty Ayes, Corpus Christi; Marty Keagy, Dallas; Dolores Bollig, Borger; and Diane Fischer, San Benito.

The queen and princesses, all horticulture students, were selected by their respective classes to vie for the queen's title. Final selection was made by the horticulture club.

Entries to the show will be received from 8 to 11 p.m. Saturday and judging begins at 12:30 p.m. There will be two sweepstakes winners, one in horticulture and one in arrangements. Sweepstakes will be calculated on the basis of the greatest number of blue ribbons awarded to a single exhibitor.

One or more specimens of a listed variety will constitute a class. Horticulture exhibits must be grown by the exhibitor on his property. Flowers in arrangements must be garden-grown unless otherwise specified, but not necessarily by the exhibitor. Anyone may enter free of charge.

At Awards Banquet

Club Honors Coeds In Home Economics

Jane Huffman was named Sophomore of the Year in Home Economics at the annual Home Economics Club awards banquet Tuesday.

The Home Economist of the Year, Carolyn Vines, was presented a plaque. She was selected last spring by the Home Economics Club.

Scholarships were awarded to 14 Home Economics majors. Also recognized were majors who have received scholarships outside the School of Home Economics.

Miss Vines will compete for State Home Economist of the Year at the annual meeting of the Texas Home Economics College Clubs in Denton, Oct. 26-28.

Dr. Willa Vaughn Tinsley, Home Economics dean, presented the 1961-62 scholarship grants. Among those receiving scholarships was Be Shiao from Formosa.

Miss Shiao is a foreign fellowship student sponsored by the Home Economics Club and Phi Upsilon Omicron, honorary home economics fraternity.

Others receiving scholarships were Friscilla Ann Gibson, the Borden Award; Sunny Jean Curington, Helen Fay Foster and Susan Brady Jungle, Sears-Roebuck Scholarships; Judith Ann Cowger, Olivia June Dvoracek and Sylvia La Rue Elliott, the Melba Mae Maxey Scholarships.

Others were Janice Kay Holloway, Carol Jean Purl and Margaret Jean Smith, the Ethel Foster Scholarships; Lela Jo Glimp, the Johnnie Michie Scholarship; and Shelly Carol White, the Lubbock City Panhellenic Scholarship. Dorothy Kathleen Brennan received an anonymous scholarship.

Tech Aims At Honors With 'Maid Of Cotton'

Tech is aiming for the recognition of having a campus coed named national Maid of Cotton according to Wayne Underwood, Student Council vice president.

The national Maid of Cotton will present the SWC sportsmanship trophy during half-time ceremonies at the Cotton Bowl on New Year's Day. "Tech, who now has possession of the trophy, has the opportunity of winning it again and having a Tech coed, if she should win the national contest, making the trophy presentation," Underwood said.

A national winner is selected from local Maid of Cotton contest winners throughout the United States. Tech entries will compete in the South Plains area contest.

If a Tech coed does win the local contest, she will represent 22 cotton-producing counties in the South Plains, will receive a $1,000 wardrobe, an all-expense-paid trip to Memphis, Tenn., to compete in the national contest and will take part in the Cotton Bowl parade in Dallas preceding the New Year's Day Cotton Bowl game.

Winner of the national contest will represent the cotton industry throughout the United States and will make expense-paid tours of many of the world's important cities. She will be entertained by the President of the United States and receive Paris originals for her wardrobe.

Each organization wishing to sponsor an entry in the local contest must enter her by Nov. 7. Entry blanks are available at the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce. The sponsoring organizations will be duly publicized with no expense to them.

Preliminary judging for the local winner will be Nov. 20 and the finals will be Nov. 21, in the Municipal Auditorium. Judges will be flown to Lubbock from all parts of the United States for the contest.

South Plains cotton growers will pay expenses for the trip to the national contest in Memphis which will take place the latter part of December.

Underwood, who is secretary for the Tech SWC Sportsmanship Committee, pointed out that a Tech coed winner would have the honor of representing the college, the South Plains and her sponsoring organization both nationally and internationally. He stressed that she should, therefore possess the qualities of "intelligence, beauty, outstanding leadership abilities and poise."

Soviets Want 'All Weapons Necessary'

MOSCOW (AP)—Premier Khrushchev declared Wednesday the Soviet Union means to have all the necessary nuclear and missile weapons of every range to crush anyone "challenging us to war."

But he said his "main challenge" to the capitalist world is the 20-year program he laid before the applauding 22nd Soviet party congress and "it can be fulfilled only in the conditions of peace."

Khrushchev, who Tuesday spoke of exploding a 50-megaton bomb, 2,500 times the size of the first atom bomb at Hiroshima, promised as he has before to "disband our army and sink our atomic bombs and missiles in the ocean."

But this promise was on the condition there is an agreement on general and complete disarmament under strict international control. Western disarmament negotiators never have been able to get a satisfactory agreement on controls with the USSR.

Khrushchev, in a six-hour speech—his second such in two days—outlined a 20-year program which he said would give the Soviet people the highest production and living standards on earth.

A Phi O's Sponsor Pep Rally At Conference Circle Friday

"Beat the Bears" will be the theme of the pep rally at 7:30 p.m. Friday at the Southwest Conference Circle.

Sponsor of the rally is Alpha Phi Omega. A skit will be presented by the Kappa Alpha Theta pledges and the highlight of the event will be a speech by Dean James G. Allen.

Tech Union Poll Seeks Student Opinion Concerning Dance Instruction Classes

Students interested in learning to swing their partners around the dance floor to the beat of a fox trot or the lilt of a waltz should fill out a form at the concession stand in Tech Union.

A poll is being taken to find out if there is enough interest at Tech to set up dancing instruction classes. If enough students are interested, two professional dance instructors will conduct each class. The instructors are Bill and Sherry McGee, both Tech students.

A limited enrollment for each class will be ensued so that each student may receive personal attention. Five different dances, to be selected by the classes, will be taught one night a week for five weeks.

A fee of $12.50 per person or $20 per couple will be charged.

ARMY ROTC SWEETHEARTS—Chosen to serve as sweethearts for the Army ROTC this year are (kneeling) Joy Crain, Tyrian Rifles; Mary Jo Garrett, first battle group; Lois Kullenberg, second battle group; Betty Mosher, brigade; Barbara Halley, third battle group; and Sharon Vinyard, band; (standing) Becky Madole, company A; Suanna Reed, company B; Virginia Seinsheimer, company C; Sandra Sandee, company D; Rande Kendall, company E; Lynn Smith, company F; Lana Walker, company G; and Barbara White, company H. English Fraternity Requests Contributions For Harbinger

Student contributions for the winter issue of the "Harbinger" are due Nov. 22.

Original poetry, short stories, scholarly essays and informal essays are invited, according to Dwain Fuller, president of Sigma Tau Delta.

Contributions to the magazine, published by the honorary English fraternity, should be typed or written in ink on one side of the page only. There is no word limit. Compositions should be sent to the English office, C&O Bldg., Rm. 125, or mailed to the English department in care of the "Harbinger."

Sigma Tau Delta members are especially urged to make contributions, although the contest is open to any student of Texas Tech.

Career Cues

"Hitch your wagon to a 'growth' industry—and grow with it!"

Douglas Leigh, President
Douglas Leigh, Inc.

"A growth industry is a new industry that is on the way up — moving quickly, expanding fast. When you join a company in one of the growth fields you have something extra working for you . . . you grow up with it. To find out which industry is right for you, try this: Ask someone in a good investment office to give you a list of the industries he considers 'growth industries'. Data Processing, plastics, and electronics are a few examples. Then pick the one you have a leaning toward, and get the names of the most progressive companies in that field.

One thing I'd like to point out from my own career is . . . a growth industry may also be an old business that's on the verge of new development. Shortly after leaving college I found this situation in the Outdoor Advertising field. What my associates and I did was to employ color, action and motion to dramatically personify the product, brand or services being advertised. In doing so, we developed the modern type 'Spectaculars' that talked, blew smoke rings, soap bubbles, etc. . . . signs that changed the face of Broadway and the famous Times Square area.

This is just one example. The really important thing to remember is this: When you set your sights on a career, aim for an industry that is going to grow, so you can grow with it. It's the difference between a rocket that blasts off, and one that just sits there. Good luck!"

Plan your pleasure ahead, too.

Straight Matter

by Nolan Porterfield

Looks like this nation's concession stand is doing a booming business again... we've just handed the Russians a juicy plum in a broad-daylight, over-the-counter transaction involving that slightly shopworn piece of world merchandise known as the U.N. Unfortunately, the deal may wind up on the wrong side of our profit and loss statement.

In order to get the Reds to agree to continue the secretary-generalship—an arrangement which should never have been debated—the U.S. has made what Chief Delegate Adlai Stevenson admits are "enormous concessions." Nature of the concessions: agreement to Russian demands for a cabinet system to "support" the secretary-general. An as-yet undetermined number of Reds, Westerners and neutrals will comprise the cabinet, and each will hold the power of absolute veto. In short, we've steadfastly refused three-man directorate at the top, only to settle for a multi-person "cabinet" one step below, with all the drawbacks and none of the advantages of the former system (if such an arrangement has any advantages).

We've managed to save the secretary-general concept, but what good is it to us? Even Hammarskjold would have had serious trouble trying to operate through a big, veto-laden cabinet of wrangling diplomats... and anyone who thinks an obscure delegate from a tiny "unaligned" nation can control such a group has bortsch in his belly! Burma's U Thant, picked to succeed Hammarskjold, may be highly capable, but he'll never be able to operate the U.N. effectively, now that we've generously handed the Russians another bargain in the cold war market. This is one transaction that should have been rung up "No Sale." Instead, we can once again hang up the "Sold Out" sign.

MISCELLANEOUS MUSINGS ON GLOBAL AFFAIRS, or, What In The World Is Going On: saddest thing about Sam Rayburn's illness is the treatment given him by the press, radio and TV. Almost without exception, they're running schmaltzy eulogies as though he was already dead... while the Soviets have been consistently plagued with failure to master communal farming, although pushing ahead in business and industry, experts are predicting that Russia is becoming rich enough to make collective agriculture work by raising prices paid to farmers of state-owned land. Nothing like good old capitalist subsidies... with a record number of cases on its docket this session, the Supreme Court is now convening at 10 a.m. Mondays through Thursdays instead of at noon. Maybe Hoffa will try to organize a union for "overworked" jurors... the U.S. took quite a beating from the world's "nonaligned" nations in their Belgrade meeting last month, and the Administration made lots of noise about reappraising our foreign aid policy, with an eye to dropping countries which did not support us or which flirted with the Commies. Yugoslavia's Tito was one of our biggest detractors at Belgrade and even made a speech supporting Soviet policy in East Germany, yet we're still selling him $343,000 jets for $10,000 and helping train his air force... with more than 35 Denver cops under arrest for assorted burglaries, Denverites are reviving an old Chicago gag. Students Speak

by BRONSON HAVARD
 Editorial Assistant

"Prohibit freshmen cars" or "build new parking lots" were among the different solutions offered by Techsians, who daily struggle for a place to park their cars.

The Sounding Board today moves into the controversial debate with the question, "How would you solve the parking problem on the Texas Tech campus?"

Students, finding it more difficult to park each year as the number of cars being driven onto the campus reaches several thousand, point out the parking problem as one of the major problems confronting Tech.

Individuals, organizations and various interested agencies are beginning to speak out unhesitatingly on the issue.

The question, "What parking areas seem to present the biggest problem?" was also asked during the survey which took place in the various campus parking areas.

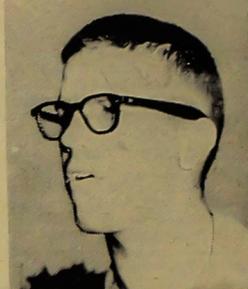

Wolfram Wisheenus, a part time student studying physics, commented, "As yet I have had little or no trouble parking." He said that he either comes early or during class time.

"I have griped about it a great deal," commented John Bashore, a senior government major. He added, "It might be an asset to cut down on the visitors and faculty parking lots. I have seen many cases when they were not full."

Another solution he offered was "to allow parking on Dorm lots." He also stated, "I think they should be more strict concerning parking between the yellow stripes."

Allen Garverick, a senior geology major, commented, "There is only one way to solve it—build more parking areas." He cited the Administration parking area as being the most difficult place to park a car.

Another senior, Doris Barnett, an elementary education major, answered, "I don't think there is any solution unless you have freshmen and sophomores not have cars on the campus." She concluded, "There is just not enough parking places for everybody."

A junior, Leo Waltz, who is majoring in industrial engineering, said, "Frankly, I don't know. I suggest that freshmen cars be banned." He also believed the Administration parking area presented the biggest problem.

Joe Chak Yan, a graduate chemistry student, said he solved the problem "by walking." Although he has a car, Yan said he seldom drove on the campus. When he does, he said he comes "early."

"Well, the first thing is the Dorm parking lots are not crowded so have some people park there." Lonny Watson, a freshman history major, commented, "Visitors can park off campus, if they did the visitors and staff parking lots can be decreased," he added.

"I think they can mark off special places for little cars to park," Virginia Oliver, a senior elementary education major, answered. "Then they can have more room for big cars," she explained. She said that parking was better than last year because of the stripes.

Ken Langford, a freshman psychology major, said, "The only way I can think of is to build more parking lots and allow the use of the stadium."

Most people agreed that the Administration and Library parking areas were the most difficult to find a parking place.

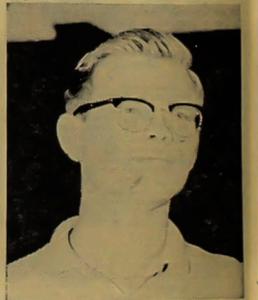

"I think the parking strips should be slanted at an angle,"

TRIXIE STOUT

Trixie Stout, a sophomore psychology major, said, "It will make it a lot easier and will leave more space," she concluded.

Scott Johnston, a graduate chemistry student, commented, "I would build some more parking lots over by the New Men's Dorms." He said the parking problem is about the same everywhere but it depends "on when you come."

"If possible they should build additional facilities for off campus students behind the C&O Bldg." Bobby Switzer, a senior finance major, offered as a solution.

Toreador Mail Call...

Dear Editor,

There is not a man or woman on this campus who would not, if called, come to arms and fight and possibly die for our country.

For the first time in the history of our country, we are fighting the war and are still allowed to sit in our classrooms. This reminds me of a squad of soldiers trying to take a hill running backwards and getting shot in the back and not caring. The average person who lives in this country does not care enough to fight back. Daily, we are being shot in the back!

The average Tech student thinks in terms of, "Will I (or my boy friend) receive a call to the service?"

We are already in the service, but for the first time it is the men, women and children. Everyone is fighting for their life, but we cannot look deep enough to see that right now in Lubbock, Tex., we are in WAR.

It is a known fact that some of the students at Texas Tech are Communist sympathizers.

The Communist world is not interested in today—tomorrow is their big day. Think for a moment. What have you personally done to aid in the fight to live in a free country?

What can be done to fight this battle? Right now we are doing nothing. There is hope. Every Thursday night at 8 p.m. at Carroll Thompson Junior High School, Dr. Kay at Lubbock Christian College is speaker at a meeting sponsored by the Business and Professional Women. Every student who is willing to live in a free country and breath free air should be at these meetings. Dr. Kay is a qualified speaker who knows what he is talking about.

Every instructor should schedule his quizzes and heavy homework with this meeting in mind.

The first stage in our winning this war is to become interested. You have now completed this in part by reading this letter. It is up to you to make a choice for yourself.

Sincerely,
 Jack House

Civic Lubbock, Inc., Wednesday received a telegram announcing that "A Short Happy Life," due for presentation next Tuesday at the Auditorium, had folded in Los Angeles and would go no farther. I had looked forward to seeing Rod Steiger as Hemingway. He's given a great deal of vigor to all the movie roles in which I've seen him appear. I'm sure he was perfect for the part.

Somewhat on the brighter side . . . Tuesday's presentation of the Ringling Bros. Barnum and Bailey Circus was the first sell-out for any Coliseum event. Two performances Wednesday marked the end of a three-day run termed very successful.

Tomorrow at 4 p.m. the Union will rock. The Velvetens will be on hand for a jam session. Let's make it the best attended ever.

The Dick Clark Caravan of Stars will make one appearance at the Municipal Coliseum at 8 p.m. Nov. 2. This group comes from Las Vegas and stars Paul Anka.

Sunday, the Twilight Music Hour's "Festival of Renaissance Music" went smoothly, professionally and enjoyably. All performers—especially the Tech Madrigal Singers—deserve "bravo's" for their efforts. It was an hour of enchantment.

Miss Evelyn McGarrity, Tech voice instructress, will present a program at 8:15 p.m. Oct. 27 in the Music Bldg. Tech piano instructor, Charles Lawrie, will be company.

Lawrie has also been chosen to accompany distinguished operatic soprano Margaret Tynes when she makes a benefit appearance at the Municipal Auditorium Oct. 30.

Reminders . . . Lubbock Symphony directed by William A. Herrod opens the season Oct. 23 with guest Blanche Thebom, mezzo-soprano. Nov. 5, the Tech Symphony Orchestra, Choir and Tech Singers open the Fine Arts Festival with a 3:30 p.m. concert at the Municipal Auditorium. Nov. 6 is opening night for "An Italian Straw Hat," the speech department's first production for 1961-62. Nov. 7, Basil Rathbone appears at the Municipal Auditorium with "Reading from the Classics."

Something that's sure to be fun is this weekend's movie at the Union, "The Golden Age of Comedy," showing in the ballroom at 2:30 Sunday and 4 and 7 p.m. Monday. It consists of sequences from academy award-winning movies produced between 1923 and 1928. Such well-remembered greats as Will Rogers, Ben Turpin, Carol Lombard, Laurel & Hardy and the Keystone Cops will be seen.

The Union's next Hideaway Hop—the candle-light and checkered-tablecloth bit—will be Oct. 26 at 7 p.m. Let's make it a crowded one.

Union Schedules Vance Packard; Author Speaks In Auditorium

Vance Packard, originally scheduled to appear at the Union Ballroom, will instead speak at the Municipal Auditorium at 7 p.m. Wednesday.

Social critic extraordinary, Packard has made household words of such terms as "status seekers" and "waste makers" and will speak here on "The Changing Character of American People." Since publication of "The Hidden Persuaders" in 1957, his works have sold millions of copies, have occupied the top positions on best-seller lists and have been translated into nine languages.

Packard's latest book, "The Waste Makers" decries America's over-commercialization with the philosophy of "consumerism."

His appearance in Lubbock is scheduled by the Tech Union Special Events Committee.

Houston Industrialist Offers One-Way Trip To Socialists

Anyone tired of the American way of life? Here's how to leave. The Americans for America Committee has been given the authority by Robert E. Nesmith, Houston industrial contractor, to help make arrangements for socialists and communists to be shipped to the socialistic or communistic country of their choice.

Nesmith, in a letter to the Houston Chronicle, denounced Americans who enjoy the benefits and protection of the United States, while actively advocating communism or socialism.

"If any of these persons thinks he would like it better somewhere else, I will pay his one-way passage to the country of his choice, provided he agrees to give up his American citizenship and never return."

Nesmith feels that if a person does not believe in free enterprise and the American way of life, he should go to a country that practices socialism and stop trying to subvert our American heritage.

As shocking as it may seem, Nesmith's offer was accepted by Charles Hugh Dillon of Houston.

Dillon made a sworn statement confessing to being a socialist, and said, "I despise the American way of life, and for many years, I have wanted to leave the United States, renounce my American citizenship and never return to the United States."

Beranhardt Daugbjerg, Danish consul for Houston, said:

"A man who does not have love for his native country would not be a good citizen in his adopted country. I doubt very much if the people of Denmark will appreciate or accept Dillon."

Daugbjerg added, "If Dillon gets tired of Denmark, I'll be glad to pay his expenses to Russia."

Girl Watcher's Guide

Presented by Pall Mall Famous Cigarettes

Three views of an average, healthy girl

LESSON 1 - How to recognize a girl

It is not surprising, in these days of constantly changing fashion standards, that girls are often mistaken for men.

Certain popular items of apparel, such as slacks, baggy sweaters and boxy suits, contribute to this unfortunate situation. Therefore, we suggest that new students of girl watching start with the fundamentals (see above diagram). As you can see, girls are easiest to identify from the side. However, even the beginner will soon achieve proficiency from front and rear as well.

Advanced students can usually tell a girl from a man at five hundred paces, even when both are wearing asbestos firefighting suits. (You might try offering the subject a Pall Mall, but you won't prove anything. It's an extremely popular brand with both sexes.)

Picadors Try For First Win Today

Coach Berl Huffman's Picadors, defeated by Arkansas in their first game last week, invade Abilene today with the idea of making the Hardin - Simmons Buttons their first victory of the brief season. The first-year men carried the battle to Arkansas' potent Shoats last Friday before losing by a narrow 14-7 margin. Huffman's lads led the Shoats in almost every statistical department, but the Picadors' first game mistakes decided the scoring margin.

Now that the Picadors have a game under their belt and Huffman knows a little more about self. But all in all I was pretty well pleased."

The Picadors will be pitted against the Hardin-Simmons "B" team. Since freshmen are eligible for varsity competition in the Border Conference, the Buttons are the varsity B group and will probably run varsity offense tonight.

On passing Huffman said, "They are darn good at coming up with the guy that can throw the ball, so I'm looking for a lot of passing. And I also expect to see them using a lot of split ends and flankers, more along the varsity line since many of them are upperclassmen."

Since the Arkansas game, the Picadors have had little workouts.

"We really haven't had much workout at all this week. Tuesday we went through signal drill, trying to get our plays down pat. We haven't had contact drills at all, and we probably won't before the game," Huffman added.

Starters for the Button contest are ends Bill McLelland and Charlie Gladson, tackles Buddy Putty and Billy Belew, guards Larry Carlisle and Bill Washerlesky and center C. C. Willis.

In the backfield will be quarterback Bob Black, halfbacks Max Gatlin and Donny Anderson and fullback Butch Thompson.

The Picadors leave today at 1 p.m. for the contest.

Dear Tech Freshman Class:

As you are aware the freshman football team of Hardin-Simmons University will play the freshman team of Texas Tech on Thursday, October 19, here in Abilene.

We would like to take this opportunity to invite your class to our school. We believe that this is a rare opportunity for both schools.

We have just formed our class and elected class officers. We are looking forward to a great year. I am sure you are expecting the same.

We, the freshman class of Hardin-Simmons University, would be honored to have you as our guests at the game. Lots of luck to you in the coming year.

Sincerely yours,
Charles Merritt
President of freshman class

Radio Station KSEL, 950 kilocycles, will carry an account of the game at 7:30 p.m. To be broadcast live from Abilene, the pre-game color will begin at 7:20.

"who's who," the frosh coach has high hopes for a favoring score. Even with the loss to Arkansas, Huffman was pleased with the game.

"It's hard for me to say that I was pleased when we lost, but I was," he said. "Arkansas is a darn good outfit, and our 225 yards rushing against them was pretty good. We should have scored when we didn't. We made mistakes, and I made a good share of them my-

Injured Bears Favored

Raiders Host Baylor

Texas Tech's Red Raiders, who certain the Baylor Bears in Jones Jolted the Texas Christian Horned Stadium.

Frogs 10-0 last week, will try to Texas Tech's chances against stumble another conference op- Baylor would have been consider-ponent Saturday when they en- ed negligible a week ago. But last week the Red Raiders, defeated by Mississippi State 6-0, Texas 42-14 and Texas A&M 38-7, reversed form and set back highly-regarded TCU to give a twinkle of hope to Tech fans.

The Raiders looked sharp against the Horned Frogs last week, but four injuries to Baylor starters probably give Tech brighter hope than any other factor. Going into the game, the Bears probably will be one touchdown favorites.

Guard Robert Burk and half-back Tommy Minter will not see action against Texas Tech, and Bear Backs Ronnie Goodwin and Ronnie Bull will see only spot duty.

Burk has a hairline fracture of a foot bone and Minter is still feeling the effects of a leg injury. Goodwin sprained an ankle in the Arkansas game Saturday, and Bull re-injured his back.

Even without the ailing performers, Baylor still has considerably more speed than Tech. The Red Raiders nearly matched the power of Texas and Texas A&M, but couldn't come near coping with the speed of either eleven and lost by lopsided margins.

The spotlight may be monopolized by the passing of the two teams, but it will be some performance indeed if the aerial game surpasses the show expected from the two runners who were 1-2 in the Southwest Conference last year—Texas Tech's Coolidge Hunt and Baylor's Ronnie Bull.

With Bull seeing only limited service in the game, however, the Bears may be forced to resort to their passing attack.

But in sophomore Doug Cannon the Red Raiders can counter with a passer who is second by only one completion in the Southwest Conference standings.

Baylor has a pair of aerialists itself that rate more than passing interest. Their combined total of completions easily surpass that of Cannon and his partner, Johnny Lovelace. "Big Bad John," a good running threat, also completed all three of his passes against TCU.

The Bears have tradition on their side Saturday. Not in 15 years have the Red Raiders come out of a game with Baylor victorious. The last Tech win came in 1946 when the Raiders won 13-6.

Thanks to an 11-game surge that began with a 32-7 lashing of Texas Tech in 1947, the Bears now own a 14-4 bulge in the series between the two schools—a series that goes back to 1929. There has been one tie.

Homecoming Features 'Fantasyland'

Shades of cartoonland will encompass the campus Nov. 3 and 4 with "Techsians in Fantasyland" as the theme for Homecoming '61.

Deadline for entries in the Homecoming Queen contest has been extended until noon today. Organizations or individuals nominating candidates must take these nominations to the Ex-Students' Assn. Office, Rm. 101 in the Ad Bldg.

The first balloting in the contest will be Oct. 25 and ten finalists will be selected.

All persons or organizations participating in the Homecoming Parade in any way must be represented at a 5 p.m. meeting in the Union Workroom Tuesday, according to John Ward, chairman.

A limit of $250 construction costs has been placed on floats this year. Organizations interested in entering floats may obtain a copy of the rules and regulations in the Ex-Students' Assn. Office.

Each organization must submit a description of its float to that office by 5 p.m. Nov. 1, and all parade entries of any type must be approved by the parade chairman.

All floats must be in place by 9 a.m. Nov. 4 or they will be disqualified. Classes will be dismissed at 9 that morning.

Floats and decorations for the Homecoming Dance and residence halls will follow the overall theme — "Techsians in Fantasyland." These will feature characters from Disneyland, nursery rhymes and cartoon strips.

Freshman class unity will be symbolized at the Freshman Spirit

Convocation at 7:30 in Tech Union Nov. 2. The Freshman Spirit Lantern will be lit and left on display in the Union until it is used to light the Homecoming Bonfire the next night.

Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson will arrive at Lubbock Municipal Airport between 4 and 5 p.m. Nov. 3. He will be greeted by Lubbock officials, the Ex-Students' Assn., the student body and student organizations.

Johnson will arrive on campus around 5:45 and will address members of the Century Club at a dinner in Tech Union from 6 to 8 p.m. He will crown the Homecoming Queen that night.

Members of Alpha Phi Omega, men's service organization, will distribute luminaries around Memorial Circle, the Pavilions and in front of the Science Bldg. before the Pep Rally Nov. 3. Luminaries—Tech's traditional Spanish candles placed in bags of sand—are donated by Piggy-Wiggly Super Markets.

The Homecoming Pep Rally and Bonfire—coordinated by Saddle Tramps—will begin at 7:45. A speaker and skit will be featured.

The five queen finalists must meet on the steps of the Science Bldg. for rehearsals at 7:30 p.m. Nov. 2 and at 7:30 (during the Pep Rally) the following evening. They will be required to be in the parade from 9:30 to 12:30 Saturday and in the southwest ramp of Jones Stadium at 1:30 that afternoon.

"All candidates must be willing to sacrifice all other obligations to meet at these times," says Joyce Hervey, coronation chairman. "Escorts will be chosen for the appropriate occasions."

Coronation services will be from 8:20 to 9:30 Friday night in front of the Science Bldg. An 80 foot promenade ramp will extend into the parking lot from the front of the building. It will be covered by a red carpet furnished by the City of Lubbock. Hemphill-Wells will furnish the backdrops.

The Tech Band and Orchestra, under the direction of Dean Killion and Paul Ellsworth, will provide music and an honor guard for the queen.

When Vice President Johnson crowns the queen, the howitzer used at football games will be fired by members of the Tyrian Rifles, followed by an aerial firework display. Both the howitzer and fireworks will be fired from the center of Memorial Circle.

The Homecoming Parade begins at 10 a.m. Nov. 4. It will form on Main St., turn down Texas Ave to Broadway, and proceed down Broadway to the campus, where all floats will be parked on the Ad Bldg. parking lot.

Plaques will be presented to both first and second place winners in all three float divisions—sorority, fraternity and independent. The Thomas Trophy will be awarded the sweepstakes winner. IFC will award $100 and $50 to the first and second place winners in the fraternity division.

The Tech-Rice grid game in Jones Stadium will highlight afternoon activities. It is not yet certain as to whether or not Johnson will be in town for the parade and game.

The Homecoming Dance—sponsored by Tech Union—will be in the Municipal Coliseum from 8 to 12 that evening. Ralph Flanagan will furnish the music and the dance is open to both exes and students. Admission is $1.50 for couples or individuals, and tickets will go on sale Oct. 26 in the Union.
