

Allocation Forms Available

Allocation request forms for student organizations needing money for the matriculation fee are available in the Student Council Office.

Organizations interested in filing a request should pick up a form and return it to the Council not later than 5 p.m. tomorrow.

ONLY THOSE organizations that can give evidence of a definite need will receive allocations. Each group should include its activities, income and purpose on the request form.

MATRICULATION fee also pays for student I. D. cards, contributes seven-tenths to athletics with the remainder divided among the band, choir, Student Council and Treador.

"The Student Council hopes these allocations will help various working organizations make ends meet," said Dan Howard, Council business manager.

Signals Crossed

The Regional Panhellenic Workshop at Texas Tech will take place March 14 — not next Tuesday as was previously announced in last issue of The Foreador. Representatives from eight colleges are planning to attend.

Willson Talks Feature New Religious Theme

by MARIJAYNE DYKES

"Living in Four Dimensions" will be the theme of the thirteenth series of Willson Lectures scheduled to begin Monday in the Union ballroom.

Lectures both Monday and Tuesday will begin at 9 a.m.

DR. K. MORGAN EDWARDS, First Methodist Church, Pasadena, California, will deliver the lectures which are designed to provide a discussion on science and religion. A question and answer period will follow each lecture.

The speaker received the A.B. Degree from Lebanon Valley College, the B.D. Cum Laude from Drew Theological Seminary, and the D.D. Degree from the University of Southern California. He also holds the L.H.D. Degree.

"HORIZONTAL PUSH" and "Vertical Reach" are the topics of his lectures to be given Monday and Tuesday mornings. He will also deliver lectures at 10 a.m. Wednesday and Thursday. "Depth Reception" and "Breadth Expression" will be the themes of these lectures.

The Willson Lectures were endowed by the J. M. Willson family of Floydada in 1946. A fund was set up to be used in bringing a prominent religious speaker an-

Frosh Council Names Three More Committees

Fish are starting the year off with a bang by setting up freshman council committees.

One committee is the special projects committee which will sponsor activities of the council. The publicity and social committees were also set up.

CAROL WHEELER is serving as head of the special project committee assisted by Melinda Harrison.

Others are Mary Kay Swafford, Paula Wilkerson, Myrl Raines, Mike Armstrong, Don Loving, Gail Pfleger, Don Sledge and Lee Creson.

PUBLICITY will be headed by Dennis McCarty assisted by Joe Stephens, Betty Sue Meinecke and Donald Weldon.

Joan Carvey, will direct the social events with Carolyn Abbott and Johnny Webb as co-chairman.

OTHERS ARE Elaine Bowron, Mary Ann Weaver, James Taylor, Bob O'Neal and Serge Chernay. Other committee members will be appointed later.

L-V MEETING

La Ventana organization representatives are urged to meet with the La Ventana staff in Journalism 206 at 6:30 p.m. today.

Cotton Maid Picked

Skinner Wins Honor

"Floating on cloud nine" is the state which Yvonne Skinner has been in since she was named South Plains Maid of Cotton at ceremonies Tuesday night in the Lubbock Municipal Auditorium.

THE NEW MAID of Cotton was crowned by Nan Kelly, 1958 Maid following a two-hour final judging program attended by more than 1,800 persons.

Yvonne, Texas Tech senior music education major, sings in the Tech choir, Madrigal Singers and serves as song leader of Alpha Chi Omega, social sorority. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Skinner, 1718 48th St.

ANNETTE ROSE, 20, was selected first alternate to the maid. The attractive home economics major is the daughter of Mrs. and Mrs. Bob Rose, 2812 25th St.

A Terry County girl, Sally Rutledge, 20 daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Rutledge of Meadow, was named second alternate.

TWO OTHER Tech students placing among the top five contestants were Carolyn Symes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Symes, 3119 26th St. and Marilyn Warren, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Warren, 3405 45th St.

THE NEW MAID of Cotton paced nervously backstage awaiting the judges' decision. She was "absolutely certain" that, first, she wouldn't make the top eight. Then, she wouldn't be in the top five and, finally, that she couldn't

52 Teams Compete In Speech Festival

The 25th annual Texas Tech Forensic Festival, an invitational, intercollegiate speech tournament, starts tomorrow morning with 17 colleges — 52 teams — represented.

CONTESTS are scheduled in debate, poetry reading, extemporaneous speaking and after dinner speaking, with approximately 130 students entered in the events, announced James E. Brennan, speech instructor.

A banquet for visitors will be tomorrow night in the Tech Union Ballroom at 6:30. President E. N. Jones will welcome the group. Banquet will include after dinner speaking contest finals.

FIRST AND SECOND debate teams and first place winners in individual contests will receive trophies. Certificates will be given to top-ranking panel members in discussion.

Tech has 21 entries in the meet — five debate teams, seven entries in discussion, two in extemporaneous speaking and two in poetry reading.

DISCUSSION GROUPS will have three rounds tomorrow, at 11 a.m., 1 and 5 p.m. They will discuss the National Intercollegiate topic, "How can the United States improve relations with Latin America."

Debates will begin at 3 p.m. tomorrow with 52 teams starting. Each team will debate at least five rounds. Preliminaries will narrow competition to eight teams in the run-off for top honors.

FINALS begin at 1 Saturday afternoon in the speech auditorium. Debate subject is "Resolved: The further development of nuclear weapons should be prohibited by an international agreement."

Tech students are invited to debates and other contests. Brennan stated the events should prove very interesting, "for many of the contestants have won top national honors."

COLLEGES represented will be Hutchinson College, Hutchinson, Kan.; Garden City College, Garden City, Kan.; Southwestern State College, Weatherford, Okla.; Kansas State, Manhattan, Kansas; University of New Mexico, Albuquerque and Panhandle A&M, Goodwell Okla.

Lubbock Christian College, Abilene Christian College, Texas Christian University, Frank Philip's College, Southwest Texas State Teacher's College, University of Houston, West Texas State College, Hardin-Simmons University, Wayland College and Midwestern University.

New Lots Aid Drivers

The largest paved campus parking lot is now open for off-campus students. Located west of the journalism building it adds 414 spaces to the parking area.

ENTRANCE to the lot is through the new "Engineer's Lane" from 6th Street.

With the lot's opening, campus police will be more strict with illegal parking. Parkings prohibited under the trees south of the greenhouse, west of the Science Building in unpaved areas and between the speech and agriculture buildings.

"THIS NEW lot is convenient for students using West Engineering, Journalism, Science, East Engineering or Library buildings," stated Mr. E. B. McKnight, chief security officer.

Publicists Hold Clinic

A publicity clinic, sponsored by the Lubbock chapter of Theta Sigma Phi, will be conducted this week to inform journalists and club workers the correct ways to handle publicity.

The clinic will begin Saturday at 1:30 p.m. in the Museum auditorium.

Highlight of the meet will be a skit presented by Tech's Theta Sigma Phi chapter. It will be a satire of a typical women's club meeting illustrating mistakes made by club reporters and demonstrating ways a reporter should gain news.

Members of Theta Sigma Phi who will participate in the skit are Carol Thompson, Carol Stone, Carolyn Mimms, Mary Alice Atchison, and Nita Heddeleston.

Reporters will hear suggestions and ideas from persons active in the newspaper, radio and television field. Hank McKee, night city editor of the Avalanche-Journal will discuss news writing. Jerry Sanders, manager of radio station KCBD will explain the use of radio and television in broadcasting club news.

The registration fee is $2.00 per person. Mrs. Otice Green, 909 Great Plains Life Building, is in charge of registration.

Charm School Opens

A Charm School sponsored by the Home Economics Club and Phi Upsilon Omicron begins Monday. The course will feature Mrs. Bess Rothman, formerly of John Powers Modeling School. CLASSES will be 10-12 and 6-8 p.m. each day. An advanced class is set for 4-6 p.m. each day for those who were enrolled in the school last year.

Class days including Monday are Nov. 3, 17, 24 and Dec. 2. Ten hours of instruction will offer help in make-up, hair styling, voice modulation and many other aids. Cost of the course will be $15.

THOSE INTERESTED should sign up with Karen Noteware or in the Home Economics building before 9 a.m. Monday.

Meetings will be in room 165 in the H. E. Building.

This will be Mrs. Rothman's third year to teach the course at Tech. She will teach the same course she taught the Powers models.

Bits From Birdie

Merium Jackson

You may think that things were rough, When Noah no land could mark. But Birdie says, "It's not so bad, At least he had an ark!"

NO, BIRDIE is not predicting a flood in the near future. It's just that he happened to be in the basement of the Journalism Bldg. recently and was nearly washed down the drain. Our feathered friend's close call came because of a temporary cut off of electrical power and the failure of the pumps in the basement to start. However, Bill Whitted, journalism instructor and Joe Spears, cameraman came in just in time to find Birdie floating in several inches of water. Luckily, they were able to save him and most everything else in the room from a watery fate.

HOWEVER, the basement of the J. Bldg. seems to be the only place where water has been a menace recently. For the sun shown brilliantly during the Dad's Day week-end, and even turned a few cheeks red at the Tech-Baylor game. It also brought out the new flowers on the campus and as one Mom was heard to say of the campus, "A Christmas tree couldn't be more colorful!"

This sunshine seems to have put wanderlust in Techsians feet, however. For example, the bird's eye caught Tri-Delts stuffing sweat-shirts and winter clothes into bags and studying road maps. The Delta Delta Delta's will be leaving Saturday at noon for their first retreat of the year to be held at Ceta Canyon.

KAPPA ALPHA Theta's are also "going north" soon. Theta's plan to hold their retreat at the Episcopal Camp in Amarillo this weekend.

Alpha Chi Omegas entertained their parents last weekend with a coffee at their lodge followed by a luncheon at the Chicken Shack.

My feathered pet also tells me that Jack Sheridan, Fine Arts editor of the "Lubbock Avalanche-Journal" will be the guest of Mortar Board, this Thursday evening. Mortar Board, an honorary group for Tech senior girls, will begin to make plans for future projects such as the annual Dames Ball.

Birdie's tongue got a bit twisted as he told me of these next items. It seems that Le Cerele Francais, the French Club and the Cosmopolitan Club, an organization of foreign students, will meet jointly tonight at 7:30 p.m. in the Faculty Club. Decoration, and entertainment will carry out a theme of "A Night in a French Nightclub." Club members and guests are invited.

FROM FRENCH to figures went Birdie's attention. The figures will be discussed at the Tech Accounting Society's regular semi-monthly meeting tonight at 8 p.m. in the Tech Union workroom. "Legal Responsibilities of Accountants" will be the theme of Haskell G. Taylor's speech to the group.

Sounds as though Birdie has had a busy week, doesn't it?

Groups Plan French Night

Le Cerele francais and the Cosmopolitan Club will present "An Evening in a French Nightclub," Tuesday, Oct. 28, at 7 p.m. in the faculty lounge.

Le Cerele and Cosmopolitan Club members and their dates or friends may attend. A French atmosphere will prevail throughout the entire evening with students receiving francs in exchange for American money, making orders from French menus to French speaking waiters.

Jr. Panhellenic Elects Chiefs

Betty Brown was elected chairman of Junior Panhellenic Wednesday afternoon.

Named to assist her are Jody Ruhl, vice chairman; Elaine Evans, secretary; Betty Puig, treasurer; and Dee Dee Williams, reporter.

Hit Studies Now For Eligibility

GRADES are an important factor to every student who attends college, but they are particularly important to those students who have the ability and desire to participate in extracurricular activities.

Now in progress is Men's Rush week which will terminate at 6:15 p.m. Oct. 31. To be eligible to complete a pledgship and become a member of a social fraternity for this semester, a one point grade average overall and for the semester is required, plus a minimum hour load of nine hours.

Those students who may not receive pledge bids are those who have not completed one full semester, fall or spring at Tech, who are on scholastic or disciplinary probation and who fail to qualify for initiation in two successive or consecutive pledge periods.

However, beginning with the Spring Semester, to be eligible to pledge a social fraternity, a man must have made a one point grade average the previous semester. This does not include hold-over pledges who did not make a one point their first semester of pledgship. This regulation was passed by the Interfraternity Council.

Other than social fraternal activities, any undergraduate student not on scholastic or disciplinary probation, who is regularly registered for 12 or more semester credit-hours, is eligible to become a candidate for or to hold student office, or may represent the College in any extracurricular activity, provided he has a grade average of at least one point overall and the preceding semester.

The requirement for eligibility for participation in extracurricular activities is basic for all college activities with exception of those for intercollegiate athletics, which are set by the athletic conference of which Tech is a member.

Other eligibility requirements as determined by student organizations and agencies operate within the framework of the eligibility requirement as set forth above.

As one can readily see, not just anyone can become active in student affairs or organizations without first proving himself to be mentally adept. For those, especially Freshmen, who are ambitious along extracurricular lines, it is now time to get onto those grades.

From Other Colleges

Univ. of Arizona Backs Bright 'Fish'

The Interfraternity Council at the University of Arizona has proposed the establishment of a freshman scholarship honorary on their campus.

A SPOKESMAN for the IFC scholarship committee said, "We feel that not enough recognition is given to those who do well in school during the first year, and that too much attention is given to the large percentage that drop or flunk out in their freshman year."

"We have decided, with the backing of the Dean of Men's Office, to honor those men who deserve recognition for their outstanding scholarship record."

THE FRATERNITY will eventually become a chapter of Phi Eta Sigma, the largest honorary of this type in the nation. There are 88 chapters of this fraternity throughout the country.

A first semester grade average of 1.5 or better to gain recognition and invitation by the committee is necessary.

The new closed circuit television system installed on the campus of Central Washington College of Education will be used only for observations and demonstrations in education methods classes, according to Robert Slingland, closed circuit TV co-ordinator.

When the body got out of bed yesterday morning before sunrise, it immediately got back in. The covers were still warm, and it was "ohh" so comfortable, but soon the time came to get up for good.

Warm feet hit cold floor—net result—shiver, shiver. It took about thirty minutes to warm up. At least the sun comes out in the daytime.

It won't be long until Old Man Winter will be here with his mean old weather, and when he gets here it will really be bad. It will be "shiver, shiver" every morning.

People around campus are already discussing the merits of the different seasons, but about all it boils down to is the preference of either hot or cold weather. Anyone who likes the latter is crazy, unless of course, it matches his personality.

The Maid of Cotton contest was a dilly Tuesday night, even though it didn't turn out in accordance with a previous forecast. I was prejudiced on the whole matter, however, since my brother became engaged to one of the contestants shortly after it was over.

All of the girls were lovely, as was the background setting. The Tech girls who were entered made a good showing in that one of them was the winner, and of the top eight semifinalists, five were Techsians.

The Willson Lectures, an annual affair on the Tech campus each year, begin Monday and will continue through Thursday. If you have an open period at 9 a.m. Monday and Tuesday or 10 a.m. Wednesday or Thursday, you would do well to attend on of the lectures.

The topics of discussion this year seem to be more scientific than religious, but perhaps they will create more interest. The topics are "Horizontal Push," "The Vertical Reach," "Depth Reception" and "Breadth Expansion."

Student Religious Council, campus sponsor of this occasion, puts forth a great effort each year to get a top notch speaker, and this can be assured this year. The speaker is Dr. K. Morgan Edwards, First Methodist Church, Pasadena, Calif.

There are eight 21-inch viewing sets—two to a room—in four campus classrooms. The instructor in each of these rooms is able to the televised classroom before and after the class period.

TWO OF THE three cameras, semi-professional vidicons, are mobile and have 7-inch view-finders, focused by cameramen. The third camera is a still unit which uses a wide angle focus on the entire classroom. College students serve as cameramen.

The distribution system on the campus has been routed through conduit and abandoned steam lines. Trenches one foot deep were also dug where there were no existing underground methods.

Science gives us the strength to exist, and continually points out the way to a better life.

ART, AND the related fields of democracy and human understanding, gives us the reason for existing. Any organization of people must combine the two to enjoy the fullest measure of success possible.

When Tech was founded in 1925, Science and Engineering held almost complete sway in campus life. The annual Engineers Show was and is representative of the year's gain in science at Tech.

IN THE years since 1925, however, Tech has been developing a larger interest in Art. As a result of this development, the First Annual Texas Tech Fine Arts Festival will be held Nov. 2-8 of this year.

The music, speech, English, applied arts, foreign languages and physical education department will sponsor the festival.

INCLUDED WILL be two performances of Tech's modern dance group; performances by the Tech orchestra, choir and the Tech singers; a foreign film; performances of the speech department's version of Anouilh's "Antigone;" displays and exhibits.

This represents a large part of Tech's artistic endeavors for the year, and persons working for the festival are to be commended for a fine job.

THE FESTIVAL is a fine idea, and, with a little work and luck, it may come to be as representative of Art at Tech as the Engineers Show is of Tech's endeavors in the field of Science.

The Raider football team has been having a little hard luck—temporary, we hope. After the TCU game, it looked like the only way to go was up, but the Baylor game proved that that was a faulty line of reasoning.

SINCE EVERYONE knows that Tech has the best team in the state, including six-man football, it must be bad luck. Look to the future and hope, Techsian, there's bound to be a brighter day tomorrow.

Chronic Hot Check Writers Face Possible Suspension

Hot checks can land Tech students in hot water.

Irresponsibility in cashing checks and carelessness in observing warning notices when a check has been returned may result in suspension from school, or in the case of a second offense, restriction of checking privileges on campus.

CHECKS may be cashed on campus at the College Book Store, Room Reservations Office (for room and board only), Tech Union and the Business Manager's Office (for fees only).

When a check is returned, it is routed through the Room Reservations Office to the place where the check was cashed. The student is then given a first notice in the form of a phone call or letter.

If the student does not appear to claim the hot check within a week, a second notice is issued. If this notice is not answered the check is turned over to the Dean of Men's Office.

IN THE EVENT that it is ascertained that the student received the notices but made no effort to claim the check, he is dropped from the rolls of the college.

Under a regulation effective for the first time this year, a student issuing a second hot check on campus will be asked to come to the Dean of Men's Office where his ID card will be marked with the words "No Checks" and his card signed by the Dean of Men.

If this happens the student will not be allowed to cash checks at any of the designated places on campus until the beginning of the next semester when he receives a new ID card.

In matters concerning hot checks the College will take action only when the student is clearly at fault, and urges students not to be forgetful of the regulations governing hot checks.

Naval Officer Speaks at Tech

Lt. Comdr. Donald L. Fuller of the Naval Officers' Information Team will be at Texas Tech Thursday and Friday in the Reserve Armory Building.

Applications, screening tests and flight aptitude tests will be given to interested seniors.

Fuller, from the Office of Naval Officers' Procurement Albuquerque, New Mexico, will head the information team and urges students to confer with him about commissions.

Conference hours are set from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. for the two day period.

Tech Museum Opens Planetarium Display

The Texas Tech Museum is presenting a series of Planetarium demonstrations on the first and third Sundays of each month until Christmas.

STEVE EBNER, senior engineering major, will give the demonstrations which are open to the public. Private demonstrations may be made by appointment if there are at least 15 people in the group.

Observers will sit in a darkened room where stars will be projected on the dome by a Planetarium machine. It is possible to show the stars as they were centuries ago or as they will be in the future. However, the demonstration will be concerned with the stars as they are now.

THE DEMONSTRATION will point out various constellations, major stars and planets with an electric arrow and tell something about them.

WANT THE BEST IN RESEARCH AIDS?

Curiosity isn't enough these days. To make major advances the engineer needs support equipment that's designed for discovery. He has it at Vought. A 3,800-mph wind tunnel, giant computers, environmental test labs, mock-up shops — all help him fathom the forces hidden in speed and space.

Be sure to ask our representative about Vought research facilities.

Tech Delegates To Be Chosen First Pre-med Day Has Tour, Banquet

Applications for representatives to the fourth Student Conference on National Affairs at Texas A & M College in December are now being accepted in the Office of the Dean of Student Life.

The purposes of this conference are to conduct a series of informative and stimulating discussions on "Sources of Tension - National and International" and to provide an appreciation of the complexities of the United States foreign policy. A committee will interview all applicants and select two students to represent Texas Tech.

Some 150 student leaders from 64 colleges and universities in the United States, Mexico and Canada will participate in the conference.

If a woman is born with a homely face, Nature should compensate with gorgeous hair, lovely eyes, straight legs, dainty feet and a beautiful figure. But no, the homely girl is lucky to get a healthy digestion and teeth with a good bite.

Pre-med Day will be Saturday under the joint sponsorship of the Pre-med Club and Alpha Epsilon Delta, honorary medical fraternity. Approximately 100 area high school students are scheduled to attend.

Highlights include speeches by professional men, various displays, a Methodist Hospital tour, and a banquet at 6:30 p.m. in the Tech Union Ballroom.

STUDENTS will register at 9 a.m., immediately before a convocation in the Ballroom. President E. N. Jones and Donnell Echols, Student Council president, will welcome the group. Dr. Joe Dennis, chemistry department, and Dr. Warren G. Harding, registrar at Galveston Medical School, will address the prospective doctors.

Saturday afternoon, speeches will be given by Dr. John Vanatta, Southwestern Medical School, Dallas, and Dr. Charles Hall, Lubbock dentist. A preceptor - senior medical student - from Galveston, will speak on "The Life of a Medical Student."

BANQUET features Dr. John Selby, Lubbock surgeon, who will speak on "My Profession, and Is It Worth It."

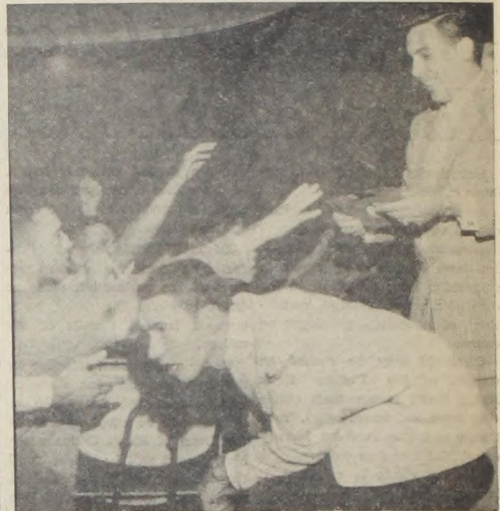

Displays will include organic distillation, qualitative unknown, an insect collection, dissection of a cat and exhibits from histology and embryology classes.

DAVID STEINMAN is over all chairman with Karen Williams and Aretta Jennings as assistants. Claude Betty is in charge of displays and James Coggins is publicity chairman.

New Column Coming Soon

There is going to be a new addition to the Toreador family, Cupid's Capers, a column devoted to the love life of the Tech student. It will contain news of pinnings, engagements, and weddings of interest to the Tech student.

All organizations are asked to please turn in items pertaining to these activities to the Toreador in room 206 of the Journalism Building between 1 and 4 p.m. Monday, Wednesday, and Friday.

FLYING SAUCERS, moving between 45 and 78 rpms, were just part of the fun of the first Dee Jay Record Hop at the Union Tuesday night.

Annual Editors Plea For L-V 'Playmate'

Attention admirers of Tech fe-nounces for the first time a Texas male anatomy! La Ventana an-Tech Playmate contest.

This is open to all men's organizations and men's dorms. Each one is asked to select and nominate a candidate for the coveted title of "Miss Texas Tech Playmate." Your candidate's picture, preferably a full-length shot in a bathing suit, should be submitted to the Publications Office in the Journalism Building, room 101, by Nov. 21. Also, essential in this campaign are the young lady's vital statistics.

The Raiders took it on the chin Saturday. After that beautiful quick kick off the toe of Baylor's Larry Hickman the Tech crew was through. They failed to show any offensive threat until it was far too late. Baylor simply got the upper hand and never let down.

With an open date this week the Raiders will have time to erase some of the mistakes of past games. Tulane, who stopped Navy last week, will be a tough foe. The Raiders will have to be at their best to top them.

While attending the Southwest Journalism Forum at Southern Methodist University recently, I had a chance to interview one of the most popular baseball players of our time — Mickey Mantle. To say it was a great thrill would be putting it mildly.

We asked Mickey what he thought about manager Casey Stengel. He said Casey was a good manager but felt his ball players had made him great.

"Casey was just another manager before he came to the Yanks," the star slugger said.

"The Yankees," Mantle said in answer to a question, "would sell any player on their roster if they thought they could get enough money for them — that includes me."

We asked Mickey what he had received from baseball besides money.

"Well," he said, "about all I can say is it kept me out of the mines."

Mantle seemed to think the Yankees were a better club with Yogi Berra behind the plate.

"Elston Howard is a better catcher and hitter than Berra, but he doesn't boost our morale like Yogi," Mantle said.

The Yankee star doesn't think he will ever break Babe Ruth's home run record. He said he had a good chance a few years ago, but not now.

Tech Shifts Lineup

The Raiders revised their line-up this week.

Changes, caused by losses and some shaking up of the squad took place as the Tech crew hit the practice field to prepare for Tulane.

The biggest blow was the loss of Jerry Don Stockton, who dropped out of school to help with the crop harvest at Tuscola. Stockton's father has been in poor health for quite a while and Jerry was needed at home.

Sophomore guard Kelly Gilbert of Oklahoma City dropped out of college and went home.

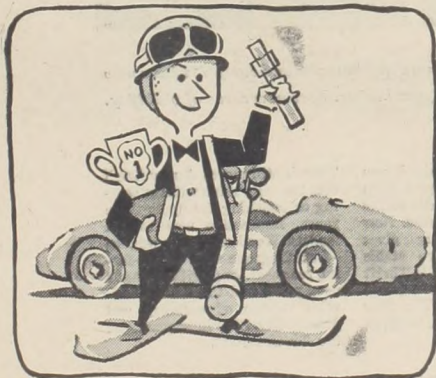

Three lineup changes were made to help ease the Stockton loss. Gerald Seemann, starting end, was moved to the second team left guard slot to replace Stockton. Bob Witucki, who has been at fullback this year, was shifted to Seemann's left end position.

Big Red's 'B' Eleven Faces ACC 'B' Team

Texas Tech's B team makes its only appearance of the season against the Abilene Christian B team at Abilene tonight.

Red Raider upperclassmen who have missed one or more varsity contests are eligible to play, as Southwest Conference gridders are allowed only 10 games. No freshmen may play.

The game originally matched Tech freshmen against the B team of ACC but was changed to permit the Picadors to meet the University of Arkansas freshmen in Little Rock Nov. 13.

Only 24 Raiders will be available for the ACC game.

Tech's probably starters will be Mike Seay of Andrews and Tommy Turner of Garland, ends; Mike Nichols of Lefors and Robert Meyer of San Antonio, tackles; H. Bradford of Lefors and Dale Robinson of Stamford, guards; Dick Stafford of Temple, center; Gerald Hodges of Dallas, quarterback; Jimmy Williams of Sudan and Mickie Barron of Childress, halfbacks; and Floyd Cole of McCamey, fullback.

College Football Tulane Back Honored

Richie Petitbon of Tulane and Dick Thornton of Northwestern turned in such outstanding performances last Saturday that they were selected as co-backs of the week Wednesday.

FOOTBALL EXPERTS from all over the nation participated in the weekly Associated Press poll and rated the feats of two as equal.

Petitbon, the Green Wave's quarterback, earned his laurels for directing Tulane to a 14-6 upset victory over Navy.

And Thornton, Northwestern quarterback who was rated only an edge better than teammate Ron Burton, was a major factor in Northwestern's surprising 55-24 slaughter of favored Michigan.

IN ADDITION to Burton, the honorable mention list included Joe Caldwell of Army; Billy Cannon of Louisiana State; Fred Braselton of Georgia Tech; Zeke Smith of Auburn; Bob Storey of William and Mary; Don Long of UCLA; Ivan Tonic of Pitt; Louis Buddy Humphrey of Baylor; Rene Ramirez of Texas; Charles Miltstead of Texas Aggies and Pat Bailey of Rice.

Bill Patton, sophomore California fullback, has handled the ball only 56 times in games this fall. BUT HE has been scoring almost at the rate of a point per play, and his 50 points are good enough to lead the nation's major college football scorers.

Rutgers' senior tailback Bill Austin, ranks second in the scoring department with 48 points. National Collegiate Athletic Bureau Statistics revealed Wednesday.

Bob White of Ohio State scoring four times against Indiana last Saturday, advanced to a three-way tie for third place with Northwestern's Ron Burton and Army's Pete Dawkins. Each has 42 points.

Cage Prospects End First Week Drills

The Red Raider basketball team rounded out its first week of practice yesterday, with most of the week's workouts consisting of fundamentals and limbering up.

With the first six practices behind him, Assistant Coach Gene Gibson commented that the boys were all a little sore and had not yet had time to get their muscles working in smooth basketball motion. However, Gibson added that the boys looked as well as could be expected at this early date.

All of the starters from last season's team are returning this year, and should get a boost from incoming sophomores. According to Coach Gibson, sophomore prospects are led by 6' 10" Harold Hudgens, Ballinger. The 19-year-old lad carries 195 pounds on his frame and is expected to give center Pat Noakes a tussle for the starting post position. Noakes is a 6' 9" junior.

Gibson declined to comment on the year's win-loss prospects, saying that it is too early to tell anything yet. He did indicate that the boys' attitude are good and that they are working hard to be in top shape for the opening game of the season with West Texas State on Dec. 1.

Sophomore Hudgens will be accompanied by two other classmates who will be making their bid for starting berths. They are Carlyle Smith of Grand Prairie 6' 1," and 6' 2" Steve Lee of Cotton Center. Both the boys earned freshman letters at Tech last season.

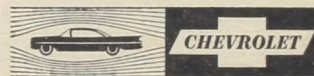

The cage workouts are being held at 4:00 p.m. daily and according to Coach Gibson, the practice sessions are open to the public.
