Homecoming Kicks Off

by JAMES HAMM
Crowning of the 1958 Tech Homecoming Queen, Peggy Miller, and the football title with the Arkansas Razorbacks highlight this year's Homecoming activities. MISS MILLER, a junior Arts and Sciences major from Shreveport, La., was crowned by student body president Donnell Echols at

THE HOMECOMING court was chosen in a campus-wide election Wednesday from a group of ten coeds. Besides the five above, Enna McDaniel, Kay Adkins, Annette Rose, Sylvia McAden and Mayme McDaniel also competed in the election.

Homecoming activities began

Friday night with the dedication of Southwest Conference Saddle Tramp Circle at the pep rally. Bob Dyer, saddle tramp president, was emcee.

REPRESENTATIVES from each Southwest Conference school dedicated his school's symbol in the circle. A pep rally and bonfire followed.

Saturday morning the homecoming parade starts at 10:30 in downtown Lubbock and will move up Broadway to the campus. Floats, marching bands, air Force and army ROTC units and Tech dignitaries will be featured in the parade.

TROPHIES WILL be presented to first place and sweepstakes winners for floats. Competition will be in fraternity, sorority and all-campus divisions. Game time for the Tech-Ark-sas game is 2 p.m., and the queen and her attendants will be presented during halftime.

TWO DANCES are scheduled for Saturday night. One, a student dance, will begin at 8 in the Municipal Coliseum. Norman Petty Trio will furnish music.

A dance for exes is planned for the Lubbock Hotel at 8. Tickets are $1.00, and will be sold at the door.

CANDLES WERE lighted Friday night around Memorial Circle and the east and south ovals, and burned for about two hours.

Other Friday activities included a meeting of the ex-students executive board at 10:30 in the union. A luncheon and election of officers followed the meeting.

TROPHIES WILL be awarded Saturday for the best decorated dorms.

AT 10:30

Homecoming Parade Starts Downtown

Texas Tech's 29th annual Homecoming parade will form this morning at 10:30 on Main between Ave. L and Ave. O.

THE PARADE will go down Main to Texas, turn right on Texas and then on to Broadway which it will follow to the campus.

AFTER REACHING the campus, the parade will make a turn around the circle and the floats will be parked on the Ad Building parking lot.

A representative from each float must be on the parking lot after the parade.

LUCIAN THOMAS, Thomas Jewely, will award the trophies at game halftime today. Sigma Chi has been the sweepstakes winner for the previous two consecutive years.

First and second place honors will be given to the winners of the sorority, fraternity and campus organization divisions.

A ROTC COLOR guard will lead the parade followed by Pres. E. N. Jones, Board of Directors and Peggy Miller, 1958 Homecoming Queen and her four attendants, Judy Ecklund, Pat Rainer, Gail Petersen and Donna Pearson will also ride in the parade.

Both Army and AFROTC will march followed by color guards, Angel Flight drill team will march also.

CARS DECORATED by freshman council members will be used by the freshmen cheerleaders and class officers.

Representatives from all Southwest Conference schools will be escorted in the parade.

★ ★ ★ Hope Show Here Friday

Bob Hope made a one night stand in the Municipal Auditorium Friday night to a near sell out crowd.

APPEARING WITH Hope were the Ink Spots, the Russ Gary Orchestra and the rest of his international recognized troupe.

Pete Pedersen emceed the show and also displayed his versatility on the harmonica.

ANN MASON, a Las Vegas songstress made her first Lubbock appearance on the show along with the entirely new act "The Mark III".

Hope, who has long been known for his contributions to worthy causes, benefits and shows for U. S. Military personnel all over the world, received the Murray-Green Award for 1958. He received a cash award of $5,000 along with the honor.

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ Homecoming Dance Slated for Tonight

Homecoming Dance tickets are still on sale at the Tech Union and may be bought at the door tonight. Price is $1.50 per couple.

NORMAN PETTY Trio will furnish popular and mood music for the semi-formal ball tonight from 9 until 12 in the Lubbock Municipal Coliseum. The trio consists of a piano, organ and drums.

Stands surrounding the floor will not be used for spectators this year. Chairs are to be placed on the main floor in circles and semi-circles for between dance talking and listening.

THIS arrangement will end stair climbing for a few minutes relaxation and will also give a congenial atmosphere to the occasion.

Concessions will be open in the lobby during the dance.

HOMECOMING Ball for the exes is scheduled at the Lubbock

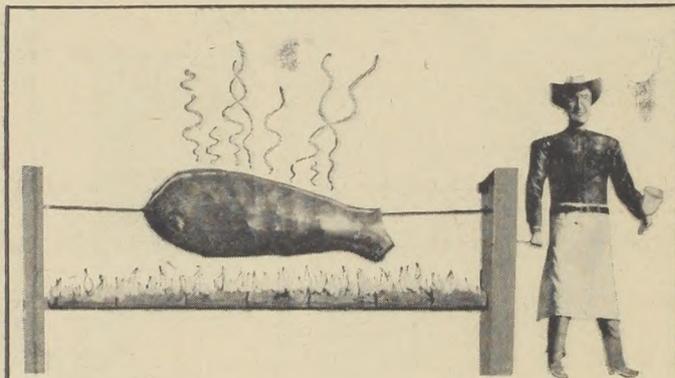

Hotel at 8 p.m. Exes are invited to the student dance at the Coliseum.

Research Needed For Range Lands

More research to develop better ways and means to increase range land productivity is called for by Dr. Gerald W. Thomas of Tech in the November issue of Soil and Water magazine.

THE TECH Dean of Agriculture says Texas now has over 100 million acres of land where domestic and game animals graze on native vegetation.

While ranchers should be vitally interested in the decline of ranch productivity, the general public is also concerned because management of this land plays a major role in watershed protection, water yield and flood prevention, he said.

Faculty Tempers Flare at Meet

Faculty tempers flared in a meeting Thursday afternoon during discussion about a Tech football player being reinstated by Pres. E. N. Jones after he had been placed on disciplinary probation by the Disciplinary Committee.

THE PLAYER was placed on probation last spring along with several other students. At this time, six other students were suspended from Tech.

The reinstatement took place about the middle of July, and since then the matter has been coming to a focal point. Thursday was the first time the lid popped off.

IT WAS BROUGHT out that any student who is on disciplinary probation is not eligible to participate in intercollegiate activities.

WHEN ASKED about possible "pressures," Jones is quoted as saying, "whatever pressures may have existed did not come from the athletic department. Beyond that I have no further comment."

DURING THE meeting many faculty members attempted, without results, to get the Disciplinary Committee and the Faculty Advisory Committee to tell them the full story. It is the policy at Tech to withhold the details of disciplinary action.

Representatives of the Committee said that Jones was sent a letter from the FAC in April which stated, "we deplore the pressure put on the president by outside forces" to modify the probation of the football player.

JONES WAS applauded in the letter for his "forthright stand to protect the integrity of this institution."

Some of the faculty were disturbed by the fact that they could not serve on committees with confidence if their work was going to be overruled by the administration.

OTHERS STATED that if it had not been a football player who received reinstatement, no question would ever have arisen.

Debaters Enter Speech Meet

Four Texas Tech debaters will attend the Intercollegiate Forensics Tournament at the University of Wichita in Kansas Friday and Saturday.

TECH WILL BE represented by an affirmative team and a negative team debating on the subject "Resolved: That the further development of nuclear weapons should be prohibited by international agreement."

Judging Team Goes to Meet

Texas Tech's senior livestock judging team, runner up at the American Royal at Kansas City, will make its final appearance Friday, Nov. 28, at the Chicago International Livestock Show.

THE SIX MAN TEAM, coached by Stanley Anderson, will compete in three livestock events: judging beef cattle, hogs, and sheep.

On the team are Bill Weatherby and Louis Heinze, Miles; Tom Mankins, Dundee; Payton Scott, Merkel; Dudley Arnett, Lubbock; and Myron Hillman, Mullin.

THE TECHSANS left Lubbock Friday for a tour that will include workouts and visits to midwestern livestock centers.

The Johnny-come-lately Arkansas Razorbacks will furnish the Johnny-come-spasmodically Red Raiders of Tech their homecoming fireworks before an estimated 20,000 fans today in Jones Stadium.

THE ODDSMAKERS have installed the Hogs as 13 point favorites even though their season record looks no better than Tech from the statistical angle.

The Ozark eleven has bounced back to win their last three games after dropping six straight. The Raiders have also won three games, but lost only five — if that's any consolation.

The Razorbacks opened with a 12-0 loss to Baylor, then lost to Tulsa 28-14, to TCU 12-7, to Texas 26-7, and to Mississippi 14-12. The Rebels of Mississippi were nationally ranked and undefeated at the time.

THIS CLOSELY played game seemed to be the turning point in the football fortunes of Arkansas Coach Frank Broyles and company for then they upset A&M 21-8, walloped a good Hardin-Simmons team 65-14 and stopped SMU 13-6 in their homecoming game at Fayetteville.

In beating the Aggies and SMU, the Hogs apparently stopped cold the two greatest passing teams in recent years of SWC play.

THE WINS virtually eliminated A&M and SMU from any visions of taking the conference title. Both had lost only one conference game at the time and both were favored to win the game handily.

Meredith completed 11 of 21 passes and ran for the only SMU touchdown of the day but the aerial artist could not gin up a winning score due to the tight pass defense by the Arkansans. The Hogs outstrung the Mustangs 274 yards to 250 yards.

THE RAIDERS played their pre-homecoming warmup game against the Tulsa Golden Hurricanes last week and suffered a disgusting 7-9 loss to a field goal late in the fourth quarter.

The disgust was induced by the fact that the Techsians led all through the game and that it was the third straight year Tulsa had beaten them by the 3-point long kick.

THE SCOUTING report on the Razorbacks emphasizes their tough defense, a great kicking game and a fast, well balanced offense.

Coach Broyles utilizes two quarterbacks about evenly throughout a game. James Monroe is the best passer and also a strong runner.

MIKE COONEY is an average passer and runner but is the team's number one kicker and can do a lot of damage with a quick kick from the left half position.

KYSER scored two touchdowns against Tech in last year's first meeting of the schools which ended in a 47-26 rout of the Raiders. Stone is filling the shoes of graduated Gerald Nesbitt, the two time All-SWC fullback, and is finding the new position to his liking.

HE IS 6-1, weighs 195 and plays left linebacker on defense. Stone also played a leading role in last year's game.

Horton and Jim Mooty, another half back, are speed demons of the team along with Kyser. Kyser and Mooty both ran back kickoffs one hundred yards in the Hardin-Simmons game for touchdowns.

HORTON is a good pass defender and is an accurate extra point kicker.

The leader in Arkansas' line play is Billy Michael who plays left tackle, stands 5-11 and weighs 210. Michael is the team captain.

THE RAIDERS' scrimmage activities of the week have centered around defending Arkansas plays. Coach Broyles uses the Georgia Tech type of attack and utilizes the belly series and short passes to make yardage.

The Raiders are still lagging in the offensive punch department as they are averaging only 140 yards in rushing and 63.8 yards per game passing.

IN TOTAL offense, halfback Floyd Dellinger leads with 269 yards. Ronnie Rice is close behind with 265 yards.

Quarterback Jerry Bell is on Coach DeWitt Weaver's doubtful starter list because of an injury in the Tulsa game. This leaves the helmetsman's job up to either John Riddle, who usually guides the alternate Tech team, or Ken Talkington from the third team.

TODAY, the Raiders will probably mix the split-T offense with their new single wing formation to move the ball. The game will mark the last home appearance for 15 Techsians.

SAE Constructs Unique Decoration

In an effort to prolong the 1958 Tech Homecoming spirit and spread it over the entire weekend, Sigma Alpha Epsilon has constructed an unique decoration on its lodge instead of entering a float in the parade.

THE DECORATION, located at the SAE lodge at Broadway and Ave. N, is in keeping with the homecoming theme, Pigskin Review.

Looking into the future — 1963 when Tech becomes a member of the Southwest Conference — the display is a giant book which continually opens and closes.

THE OUTSIDE, or cover, is green with a brown football emblazoned on it. The words, Pigskin Review, surround the football.

Red and Black goal posts take up the center of the cover, with a sash saying "Bowl Predictions" crossing beneath the crossbar of the goal posts.

THE BOOK opens to two pages, the first of which depicts Tech in the Cotton Bowl. On the second page is the make-believe SWC standings in 1960 with Tech on top with a 10-0 record.

The decoration is located on the Homecoming parade route and will be up all day Saturday and Sunday.

THE SAES are not entering their display in any formal competition against any of the Tech dormitories.

A friendly warning makes us all the more eager to take the risk.

Ability to earn and a sense of responsibility are characteristic of worthwhile men.

When you can get what you want when you want it, you don't want it.

Everybody is expected to use his hands in describing a circular staircase or indicating the location of a physical pain, but on most other occasions it would be a blessing if hands were tied and only words were used to convey information.

AT TECH

Athletics Improve

by JOHN LEWIS

Since being admitted to the Southwest Conference, the Tech Athletic program has shown signs of progress. All phases of the program have been expanded or future expansion planned.

The football program at Tech is now offering more scholarships than in the past. This year 18 athletes were signed on the first day through letters of intent as compared to three in 1957.

COACH "RED" Phillips states, "Being in the Southwest Conference gives us a bargaining point that we didn't have before."

It seems that athletes are drawn to a SWC school because of the prestige that it offers.

THE NEW STADIUM, which is scheduled for completion before the start of the 1960 season, will be a greater incentive for athletes to attend Tech.

This new campus feature will be one of the finest in the conference and provides for greater athletic offices and facilities.

THE FOOTBALL schedule will grow much more difficult each year as Tech enters the conference race. The schedule, which used to be a problem, is now full with some of the football powers in the nation on it.

Entrance into the Southwest Conference race has had a big effect on basketball at Tech. Last year, the attendance at one of the games was 10,270.

THIS WAS a new record for Tech and the chances look good for this record to be broken as the Red Raiders begin their difficult schedule against West Texas State on December 1 here in Lubbock.

The attendance last year not only set a record at Tech, but a record was set for the SWC and broken three times during the season.

THIS YEAR, the schedule will include many of the top teams in the country. Coach Polk Robinson said that last year was a "honeymoon" for the Raiders and that this year the opponents will be ready and waiting for them.

The Raiders will also have the distinction of playing Missouri on nationwide television.

COACH BUDDY Brothers of Lubbock High School, who played on the 1930 homecoming team, said he thought Tech had always been a top school, but that entrance into the Southwest Conference had just brought this to the minds of others.

The athletic program has been expanded in other ways. A new track has been constructed for participation in that event. Another example is the additional scholarships being offered in tennis, baseball, golf, track, etc.

ALL IN ALL the question of progress and advance has taken a front seat and is leading the way toward Tech being a major power in the Southwest Conference.

New Tech Gym Boasts Latest Facilities

by ROLAND LINDSEY

The new Texas Tech gymnasium is one of the nicest in the state, according to Dr. Ramon W. Kireilis, head of the physical education department.

THE NEW half-million dollar building was completed in January, 1958, and since that time has been the center of physical education and intramural activities. One of the main features of the Natatorium-Gym is the swimming pool. The pool is heated, and is of regulation inter-collegiate size, 72 by 42 feet.

Water depth in the pool varies from 3 ft. 6 ins. in the shallow part to 14 feet in the deepest part. The pool is equipped with both one and three meter boards, and is open to all students and faculty members. It is the only facility in the gym available to women, since the women's physical education classes are now being held in the old gym. The pool is also used for dual meets with other colleges, and the pool area has a seating capacity of approximately 450.

OTHER INDUCEMENTS for physical activity in the new structure include two 74 foot and one 94 foot basketball courts. The courts are used for intramural play, physical education classes, and varsity and freshman basketball practices.

The court area is also marked for badminton and various other indoor games taught in the activity classes.

Other facilities in the Natatorium are a large locker room, check out room, drying room, staff offices for the physical education and intramural directors, two classrooms, and a women's locker room which adjoins the swimming pool. According to Dr. Kireilis, students and faculty members are invited to use the equipment at any time that classes are not in progress.

THE BUILDING is open from 8 a.m. to 11 p.m. Pool hours are from 7 to 10 p.m., and a qualified American Red Cross life guard is on duty during recreation time at the pool. No charge is made for the use of the pool during these hours, and students will be admitted on their identification cards.

Weight lifting is also included in the men's activities, with eight sets of bar bells being available to the students. Also there are dumbbells and pulley weights available in the gym.

SEVERAL DUAL swim meets are planned this year to coincide with the basketball games in order to provide sports fans with a full afternoon and night of sports activities. Identification cards will also admit students to the swim meets as well as recreational swimming.

Several other activity rooms were originally planned, but were cut out because of lack of funds, according to Kireilis.

LOOKING IT OVER—An Ex-Techsan takes a good look at Tech's new gym. The gym, one of the most modern in the State, has many outstanding features. The modern swimming pool, basketball courts and other facilities make the gym a valuable asset to Tech and its students. This Techsan may be wondering how Tech got along so many years without a plant like this. (Staff Photo)

Outlook

By BILL DEAN

Welcome home exes!

Texas Tech is yours for this weekend. Of course, it is always yours, but especially these next few days.

It is the hope of all the present students that you enjoy your stay and revive all the old and fond memories that make a college life so rich.

As for tomorrow afternoon it's hard to say just how much pleasure will come our way. As you know, once again we are in the midst of a losing football season.

This has been the case the last few years when Homecoming time has rolled around.

This year's edition of the Red Raiders surprised us all by winning their first two (A&M and West Texas) of three (lost to Texas). Then they looked rather pitiful losing to TCU, Baylor and Tulane.

But they bounced back to beat Arizona and, by all rights, should have won from Tulsa last week. Arkansas is another story. The

by TRICIA McCULLOUGH
Hundreds of Texas Tech alumni have come "home" to witness the 28th annual Homecoming festivities.

THE FIRST Homecoming game was played in "Tech Stadium" in 1930. Raider coach that year was Dell Morgan. Some of the players were "Buddy" Brothers, now coach of the Lubbock Westerners; Floyd Woodriddle, now on the Board of Regents in Dallas; Milton Moffit, head coach at Snyder; Preacher Calloway, ex-Mayor of Corpus Christi; W. O. Jones, who is now farming in Paducah; George Lankford, farmer-rancher in Lubbock; Jack Durham, deceased; C. A. Dose, deceased; and Ross Ayres, who played right guard. The Matadors lost that first game to Simmons, presently known as Hardin-Simmons, by a score of 20-6.

During the next four years the victory bells rang loud and clear after the game. In 1931 the University of New Mexico fell to Tech 32-6. Baylor lost 14-2 the next year. Revenge was sweet in 1933 as Simmons was trounced 7-0 and in 1934 DePaul bowed 48-19.

ARIZONA HAS BEATEN Tech only once in 19 tries. That one time was the 1936 Homecoming game. The final score was a heart-breaking 7-6. The next three years were winners for the "Bullfighters" as they were then called. Centenary went down 12-6 in 1937. Duquesne, the No. 2 team in the nation lost 13-0, and in 1938 Gonzaga fell 7-0.

A safety and two extra points handed Tech a 22-19 loss to Marquette in 1939. The Raider's Starr completed a 40-yard pass to Bingham who dragged three tacklers with him into the end zone but the 13-8 score was only temporary.

'Murals Feature 'Athletics for All'

by RON CALHOUN

"Athletics For All" was the slogan of the program set up under the heading "Tech Intramurals" back in 1946 when George Philbrick, the present Tech tennis coach, became its first director.

From that year until the present, Tech boys who are not of varsity caliber, but who are sports minded, have been furnished with individual and team competition in events ranging from touchfootball to ping pong.

UNDER COACH PHILBRICK'S directorship, the intramural program was built and expanded. For all team sports there were three divisions — the dorms, social clubs and independent teams. In 1953, the social clubs became fraternities and the fraternity league now has 10 teams competing in all sports. The three leagues have a playoff in all team sports to determine an All-College champion.

In 1955, Philbrick turned the directorship over to Edsel Buchanan who has expanded the program even more by adding new sports and having events in both the fall and spring semesters.

As it now stands, Buchanan has team events for the three leagues including: 10 fraternity teams, 8 dorm teams and usually 8 to 10 independent teams.

ONE OF THE more outstanding independent teams has been the Roman Rushers. The Rushers were originated in 1953 and competed mainly in track and basketball. Now the Rushers are competing in other sports and this year won the independent touch football title. The team stems from no organization but has been carried on through the years by old team members.

The sports now offered by Tech Intramurals are badminton, basketball, bowling, fencing, golf, handball, table tennis, softball, touch football, track and field, and volleyball. A new sport added this year is the basketball free throw in which the highest number of baskets out of 50 attempts wins a trophy. Another sport being considered is a "tug of war" on a team basis.

A NEW INCENTIVE has been added for winners in intramural sports. For the past two years, the Tech Bookstore has been donating trophies to the champions and runner-ups to events. This innovation has put a strong competitive spirit into the program.

Participation in Tech Intramurals for the past two years looks like this: In 1956-57, the total male enrollment was 6,400 and of these 1,204 were intramural competitors. Some of the boys competed in more than one sport (in instances as many as five, six or seven events) making the total entries 1,942. In 1956-57, there were 1,218 boys entered and 2,527 entries out of a total male enrollment of 6,613.

THE RATIO of participation to enrollment was 30.34 per cent in 1956-57. This figure jumped to 38.2 per cent last year.

Tech intramurals are financed by a budget authorized by the state legislature. In 1956, the budgets covering all phases of state supported schools were turned over to the Commission on Higher Education. This commission makes recommendations on the final amounts of these budgets and has this year recommended that money for intramurals not be paid for by the tax payer.

According to Buchanan, there are three courses that Tech intramurals can take. They are to exclude intramurals completely, up the matriculation fee or charge a higher entrance fee. This conclusion will be in effect if the legislature passes the recommendation to do away with state supported intramurals.

As far as the interest in intramural sports at Tech is concerned, the last two years have seen record crowds turn out to watch most of the team sports and the competitive spirit has run high on the campus, especially in events such as last year's softball games and this year's touchfootball games.

A BRIEF HISTORY of Tech intramurals: In the 1947-48 period, 536 entries and 36 teams competed in intramural sports; in 1948-49, 1,542 entries and 77 teams; in 1949-50, 1,178 entries and 72 teams; in 1950-51, 1,907 entries and 97 teams; 1951-52, 1,994 entries and 82 teams; in 1952-53, 3,146 entries and 86 teams; 1953-54, 2,822 entries and 84 teams; in 1954-55, 2,991 entries and 93 teams; in 1955-56, 2,993 entries and 94 teams; in 1956-57, 2,107 entries and 95 teams; 1957-58, 2,527 entries and 99 teams.

... Homecomings

Tech went on another winning streak for the next three years. In 1940 Wake Forrest was handed a 12-6 bloop. The Tech team of 1941 beat Creighton University of Nebraska 13-6. At the end of the season they had racked up 226 points and only 30 points were given to opponents.

The TCU upset in 1942 gave Tech a 13-6 victory.

By 1947, after three consecutive losses, then a 13-6 win over Baylor, Jones Stadium was ready for the Homecoming game. The Raiders didn't want to dissapoint the alums, so they whipped Hardin-Simmons 14-6.

THE NEXT THREE years saw three Tech defeats. Seven was the unlucky number as they fell to Rice 14-7 in 1948, to Baylor 28-7 in 1949, and to Tulsa 39-7 in 1950. By 1951, the Raiders were fed up with losses and they proved it by the onesided score of 41-0 against Arizona. In 1952 seven was lucky for Houston as the Cougers took a 20-7 win. The following two years were winning years with Arizona again being beaten 52-27, Tulsa, 55-13. Again in 1955 "Miss Seven" smiled this time on the Raiders, and Arizona fell 27-7. Oklahoma A&M registered the only Homecoming tie, 13-13, in 1956. Last year Tulsa edged the Raiders by a scrawny 3-0.

All of these statistics bring us to the big question. Can Tech beat Arkansas? The Freshmen certainly hope so, with good reason. Should Tech come out on top today, the slime caps will disappear until next fall.

SOME OF THE EXES will remember that during the half of past games, the freshman boy's shoes were all put on the 50-yard line and at the signal they all raced to see who could retrieve his shoes first. With the increasing number of entering freshmen each year, the race was discontinued. Nobody wanted to get trampled!

... Outlook

Hogs have come on strong the last few weeks and it might be a rather bad afternoon for the Raiders tomorrow.

Anyway — welcome back — come again.

Last week I got 20 of 28 for a 71%. This leaves the total for the year at 131 of 190 for 69%.

TECH VS. ARKANSAS: The Hogs and Raiders are both improving, but Arkansas has the edge. Arkansas.

TCU VS. RICE: This one gives the Christians a Cotton Bowl bid. TCU.

SMU VS. BAYLOR. A consolation tilt that should have plenty of fireworks. SMU.
