Union Show To Exhibit Skill, Music

Thirteen acts will appear tonight at 7 in the Tech Union ballroom as part of a talent show sponsored by the Music and Exhibits committee of the Union.

TICKETS COST 25 cents and can be bought in the Union during the day or at the door, according to Karen Frack, show chairman.

Cary Hobbs, show emcee, will be assisted by Kay Adkins and Shirley Stephens who will introduce acts with cards.

ACTS INCLUDE Tafford Blessing, Indian hoop dancer; Pat Cassidy, accordion player; Ann Corrigan, night club singer; Tom Cunningham and Jerry Bicknell, acrobatic team and Bill Lester with his rock-and-roll band.

Others are Doranna Scott, singer with combo; Tech piano duo Margot Rodriguez and Josephine Malacara; Fi-Gam combo with Gary Bean, vocalist; Johnnie Wade, fire-twirler; Joyce Tallman, jazz tap dancer; Bob Hancock, singer and Tumie Turl, western singer with guitar.

JUDGES ARE Ronald Schultz, assistant professor of speech; Miss Jane Perry, physical education instructor; Dick Richards Lubbock business man who participates in musical activities; Wayne Gibbens, student producer of 1957 Varsity Show and Don Bowman, KDUB disc jockey.

The winner will appear on KDUB-TV tomorrow night and receive a plaque. He will also be sent as Tech's representative to the try-outs at Texas A&M talent show.

TWO POSITIONS OPEN ON STAFF

Applications are now being accepted for the positions of Varsity Show Director and Producer, according to Jim Thompson, Varsity Show committee member. They should be turned in to the Tech Union Program office.

The Varsity Show is staged in the spring as part of Texas Tech's annual Spring Festival.

OF TECH SPEECH MEET

First Round Ends Monday

Approximately 110 Texas Tech students from 11 organizations competed Monday in the first round of the Tech Intramural Program.

MONDAY'S MEET, the first in a series of four or five sponsored by the Tech Speech Department, was held in various buildings across campus. The other meets will be scattered through the fall and spring semester.

Participating organizations are competing for eight divisional trophies and a sweepstakes plaque which will go to the overall winner.

Twins Fool Everyone

People who view double at the Cotton Bowl on New Year's Day, should not be surprised.

PEGGY MILLER, Texas Tech senior, and her twin sister, Pat Miller, TCU senior, will be reigning over the annual festivities.

Pat will be the Cotton Bowl Queen by the fact that TCU won the SWC this year.

PEGGY WILL be one of the Cotton Bowl Princesses, representing Tech.

Peggy and Pat were both cheerleaders in high school at Wichita Falls. After graduation, Peggy came to Tech and Pat went to TCU.

EVEN THOUGH they gave up dressing alike in the eighth grade, they are still mistaken for one another. In 1956, when TCU played Tech here, many fans thought that a Tech girl had become a cheerleader for TCU. But it was Pat instead.

The girls have won many honors at their respective schools.

basis, not against each other individually. Ratings of superior (11 points), excellent (eight points), good (five points) and fair (two points) were given to each contestant, along with written criticisms.

The contest was split into two divisions. Division A included radio speaking, Bible reading, poetry reading, and extemporaneous speaking.

IN DIVISION B, students competed in original oratory, after-dinner speaking, declamation and dramatic interpretation.

Techsans Freeze; Then Win 77-41

by BILL DEAN

Texas Tech's Red Raiders have a split personality.

TWO DIFFERENT teams combined in the Lubbock Municipal Coliseum last night to lash the Eastern New Mexico Hounds 77-41 before 5,200 somewhat befuddled fans.

The Raiders, wearing white jerseys and colder than your Thanksgiving turkey, stumbled around and came up with a 29-22 first half lead. The same team, this time wearing red jerseys came back to blast the New Mexicans out of the Coliseum with a booming 50 points in the second half.

PODD HILL, enjoying one of his finest nights, led the Raiders with 27 points followed by Charley Lynch with 10 and Gerald Myers with 8.

Jerry Vest was high for Eastern New Mexico with 14 and Jim Robinson was next with 10.

The first half was a strange mixture of wild passes, cold shooting and numerous fouls. The Raiders took an early lead and built it up, but after ten minutes of the half began to lose it. Finally tied by the Hounds, the Raiders, on the strength of Hill's brilliant shooting, managed to scramble to a 29-22 lead at halftime.

Noakes got the Raiders off to a good start, hitting on two free throws at 19:35 and Tech slowly increased this to a 14-7 advantage on Lynch's two free shots at 11:19.

But the Hounds, led by Coffman, fought back and finally tied the score 18-18 at 6:14. Then Hill went to work and accounted for the next 11 Raider points on four field goals and three free shots while Tech's defense tightened up a bit, allowing New Mexico only four points and a halftime score of 29-22.

The second half, with the jersey change, was a different story as the Raiders came back red hot and piled up a tremendous lead. WITH THE score 33-27 at 16:02 the Raiders went to work and scored 26 consecutive points while the faltering Hounds were held scoreless.

Led by Hill Tech simply could do no wrong while the New Mexicans missed shot after shot and lost rebound after rebound.

AT 6:24 Hound Jimmy Robinson hit two free throws to break the drought. After 8:06 Robinson began substituting freely and the subs continued the terrific barrage.

Saturday night the Raiders journey to Iowa City to meet the University of Iowa in another inter-sectional tilt. BOX SCORE, Page 8 . . .

Adolescent Art Show This Week

Children of two countries — Germany and the United States — are becoming better acquainted as a result of exchanges of self-portraits and letters.

THE EXCHANGE is between students of Kinderschule, a German language school for Lubbock children, and Mittelschule VI, a high school girls' public school in Hanover.

The exhibition of 37 self-portraits by students of both schools is being displayed at the Tech Union throughout Sunday.

KINDERSCHULE students have received letters written in German from the Hanover students. Although their first replies will be in English, they will write letters in simple German during the spring term.

"Children, no matter to what country or race they belong, can learn to know one another through their drawings and letters, said Theodor W. Alexander, Texas Tech assistant professor of German and director of Kinderschule.

THIRTY LUBBOCK children are enrolled in Kinderschule which meets from 4:15-5:05 p.m. on Thursdays. They are from eight to twelve years old and in the third through seventh grades. Spoken German is emphasized and songs, skits, models, games, film strips and pictures are utilized in the classes.

INTEREST PAYS OFF — If this pretty coed will appear at the Texas Tech Kinderschule at 4:15 p.m. Thursday in Ad 325 she will receive a special book award. She is shown admiring the Kinderschule exhibit in the Tech Union.

Thirty fall pledges and eight newly initiated members of Gamma Phi Beta, social sorority, were presented under a crescent moon at their Celestial Cotillion Ball Saturday night in the Tech Union ballroom.

BOB SEWELL, KDUB disc jockey announced the girls' names as they were escorted by their fathers or dates.

A ball made from hooks filled with angel hair and blinking lights hung from the center of the room. Streamers went from it to points all over the ballroom.

New initiates are Kay Cole, Goodland; Kay Hoelscher, Anton; Mary Jane Campbell, Rule; Mayme McDaniel; Odessa; Wilma Scott, Tahoka; Gloria Crouch, Wall; Gail Cooper, Dimmitt and Nan Keenum, Cleburne.

FALL PLEDGES are Carolyn Abel, Athens; Jan Anders, and Jeannine Whitehead, Amarillo; Rebecca Bennett, Paducah; Diana Blake, Brenda Dunn, La Rue Elliott, Nancy Green, Jo Anne Hudspeth and Vivian Lowe, Lubbock; JoBetsy Campbell, Fort Worth; Sandra Bybee, Kathy Unruh, Barbara Carlise and Shirley Wyatt, Houston; Susie Crutchfield, Weslaco.

Others are Jana Black, Crowley; Jenanna Young, Spur; Roxene Bingham, Littlefield; Julia Steed, Pat Hart and Delores Hunt, Dallas; Carolyn Vines, Albany; Elaine Higginbotham, Silver; Dianne Dodson, Austin; Betty Bug, Laredo; Deborah Howell and Lynne McDonald, San Antonio and Barbara Parsons and Shirley Turner, Abilene.

TICKET ANYONE? Asks Dee Smith as she demonstrates the only type of tickets which will be accepted at the Toys for Tots dance in the Union Friday night. Miss Smith, a freshman, elementary education major from Austin holds a sample of the toys and dolls to be brought by couples wishing to gain admittance to the dance.

Tech Union Plans Dance For Toys for Tots Drive

Tech Union will take part in the Toys for Tots Drive Friday by sponsoring a dance charging a toy per couple for admission.

LARKE HARRINGTON, Program Director of the Union noted that this is the first time such an event has been staged at the Union and that "we planned it hoping something new would make the drive successful."

The Kingsmen Combo will furnish dance music from 8:30 to 11:30 p.m. in the Union Ballroom Friday evening.

TOYS WILL BE collected at the door and later turned over to the Marines. Miss Herrington also said that toys of any type would be accepted and that any broken ones would be made usable.

Dorms Trade Dinner Guests

Exchange dinners between boys and girls dorms are being carried on as a part of the year's social functions.

Knapp leads the list with two dinners, one with Gordon and one with Bledsoe. Weeks and Gordon also had an exchange dinner according to Mrs. Mays, Weeks' counselor. Approximately fifty Gordon boys attended and she termed the exchange "more than satisfactory."

Drane and Horn have not begun the exchange dinners. "Horn will begin the dinners shortly after the second semester," Mrs. Kohner, counselor for Horn announced.

Women Dormitories Begin Christmas Festivities

Parties, parties, parties are in store for the five girls dormitories in the coming weeks before Christmas.

Horn Hall began its festivities Sunday with a faculty tea. Each girl invited a faculty member and acted as hostess for the afternoon.

The Christmas tree will be decorated Tuesday night and the girls are invited to help put the tree in order. Sunday, Dec. 14th, eight guests are invited to the dormitory to judge the door decorations and Christmas decorations. "Names of the guests have not been announced" according to Mrs. Kohner, counsellor of Horn.

The featured Christmas party of the year for Horn will be Dec. 18 at 10 p.m. Refreshments will be served and inner-dorm entertainment will complete the Christmas season for the year.

Weeks Hall is beginning their Christmas spirit tonight with the decorating of a Christmas tree.

Rights of decorating this tree are given to senior girls.

The Weeks Christmas Party will be Dec. 16. Entertainment for this affair will include Marilyn Morris giving a reading titled "The Littlest Gentleman" and the men's quartette from the Tech Choir will sing. On the following night the girls will go caroling around the campus.

Beginning this year, Weeks Hall is sponsoring a Christmas project, that of helping the Lubbock Negro Day Nursery. Girls are contributing clothes, dolls, and presents for this nursery.

In the lobby of Knapp Hall this Christmas season a doll house is constructed under giant Christmas tree. According to Miss Stovall, counsellor of Knapp, each room will contribute one doll or either dress a doll for the tree, then to be given to needy children of Lubbock.

Instead of dorm parties, Knapp will have wing parties this year. At this time door decorations will be judged and a first prize given to the best all-around door.

Knapp Hall is having a Winter Tea January 11, 1959. Invitations will be sent to re-announce this tea after the holidays.

Being no exception, Drane Hall is having a fair share of parties the next few weeks.

The Drane Hall Choir, composed entirely of freshman girls under the direction of Judy Harper, will be featured Sunday, Dec. 14. Time of the open house is from 3 until 5:30 p.m. and all sororities, fraternities, organizations, dormitories, or any one interested, are invited to attend.

Dec. 17, the annual Drane Christmas party will be in the dorm lounge. The dorm Christmas present this year was a new record player and several new albums.

Something new that Drane legislators and their roommates are trying this Christmas is the "pixie" idea. Each girl is given a pixie which she gives small presents, cleans her room, or just generally helps her, without knowing who she is. Dec. 15, the "Pixies" will be introduced to each other at a legislator party.

Phi Mu pledges will present a skit the night of the Doak all-dorm party, Dec. 17.

The "Eesquires" will perform and join in singing Christmas songs.

As Drane, Doak Hall will have an open house Dec. 14 from 2 to 5 p.m. for visitors to see door decorations.

A birthday party will honor all December birthdays Dec. 9. Girls with birthdays on that day will be honored.

Tree decorations are to be completed this week and toys, clothes, and presents will be presented the needy children of Lubbock.

When a woman says she wishes she were young again, she adds "and know what I know now," referring presumably to her culinary skill.

If the combined weight of two women is 423 pounds, and one of them is three pounds under the other, the former speaks of the latter as a fat old bag.

Thought, active thought, keeps a person thin. Supposing these women, so busy dieting for their figures, just thought a little more.

All-Campus Christmas Watch Is Scheduled

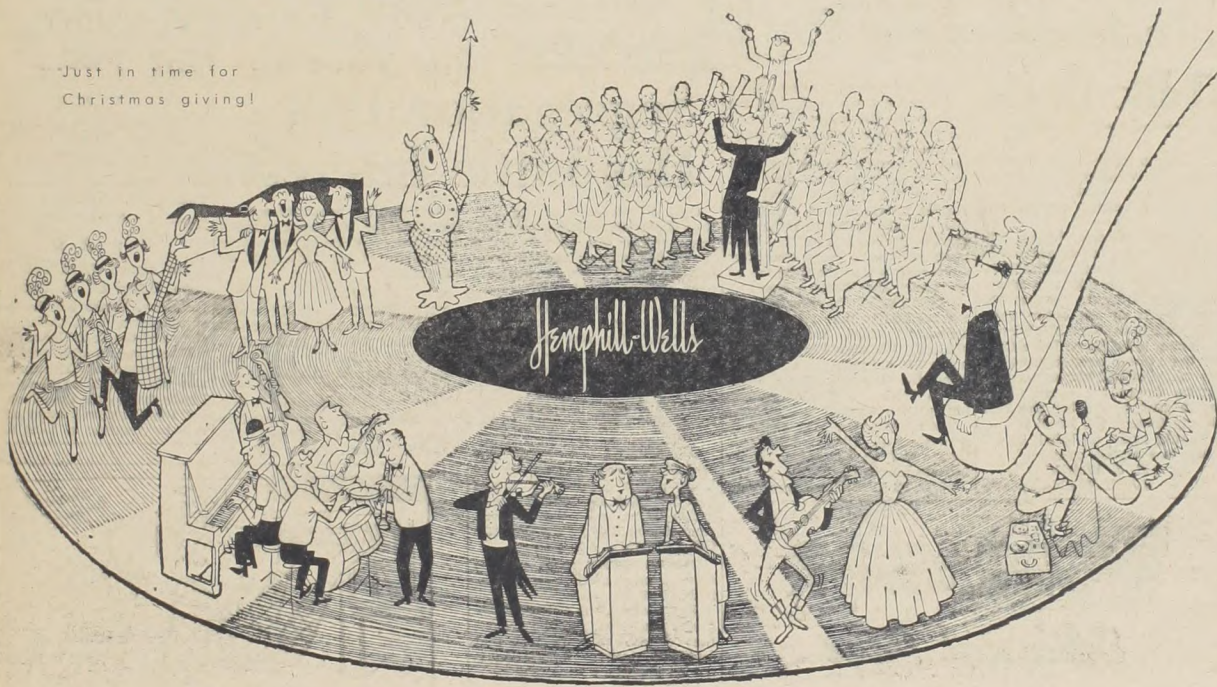

Children from Guadalupe School in Lubbock will present a program at tonight's meeting of Capa y Espada, Tech Spanish club. Pinatas will follow the skit.

Delta Sigma Pi, Spanish honorary society, will also meet in Ad 217.

Techsans' Actions Are Commendable

TECH STUDENTS quite often get to show their true nature by showing how they react under various circumstances.

The most frequent opportunities they have are at athletic events where there is always a lot of action, and where a spirited mood is expected.

The good part about it is that while still showing good spirit Techsans have been able to keep down the unfavorable actions as Tech has encountered elsewhere.

The latest chance Techsans had to show that they were a sensible group, not prone to making a jack-ass out of themselves, was at the La Ventana Beauty Contest.

Things looked kind of doubtful before the contest began as the first three rows were filled with nothing but boys, but once the contest started things went off smoothly, and it took less time than expected to complete the contest.

Throughout the contest, (even the bathing suit competition), the girls were allowed to walk across the stage, present themselves in an artistic form, and to depart without having to be affected by hoots, hollers and catcalls which so often occur at such events.

The crowd of Techsans did not overlook the fact that the girls deserved recognition for their effort. When the right time came, good solid rounds of applause were heard throughout the auditorium.

You Tech students who were present are to be commended on your swell behavior at the Beauty Contest, and your actions set a good precedent for such future contests.

Tech Student Relates Experiences During War

by RON CALHOUN

In 1944 the Russians overran Latvia, nipping at the heels of a fleeing and defeated Nazi Army. In 1944 Audris Zidermanis, his mother, two younger brothers and two sisters retreated from the dreaded onslaught of Communism.

BY TRAIN, they arrived in Germany to witness the bombardment of Berlin, to face the end of the most devastating conflict known to mankind and the unknown aftermath of that war.

Today, Audris Zidermanis is a student at Texas Tech majoring in physical education and is an American citizen.

THE STORY of his flight from Communism and his fight for survival probably cannot be properly imagined by either the writer of this story or the reader for the simple reason, in Zidermanis' own words, "you have never had to experience war" and "it was the real thing."

Zidermanis, better known as "Andy" to his friends at Tech, was born in Riga, the capital city of Latvia, in 1939. It was in this year also that the Germans and the Russians concluded their treacherous non-aggression pact whereby the tiny independent republic was opened to Russian domination.

THE SOVIETS moved in to reorganize the government and promptly deported 35,000 of the Latvian intelligentsia to the slave camps of Siberia.

In 1941 the Germans declared war on Russia, and from that time until 1944, Latvia was in the hands of the Nazi occupation army.

THE LATVIAN Army sided with the Germans in fighting the Russians on the eastern front and Andy's father served in that army. He has not heard from his father since 1946 and still does not know whether he is dead or alive.

When the Russian army re-invaded Latvia in 1944, the Zidermanis family, minus the father, arrived in Berlin by train. The bombardment was so heavy that after a one night's stay the train moved on toward the Western front.

"THE TRAIN didn't make it far and we had to take refuge in an abandoned school house outside of Berlin. We stayed in the school house for a couple of weeks and when the war was finally over, the Allied Army started gathering up the refugees."

Then began the long years in a series of Displaced Person's Camps and the Zidermanis family became known as "DPs."

"WE STAYED approximately seven years in the DP camps, moving from one to another," Andy said. He still cannot remember how many camps the family lived in but he does know "moving about every two months or six months can get awfully tiresome."

"Usually the whole family lived in rooms about the size of a Tech dorm room, which were in recon-verted German Army barracks. The conditions were very bad at first, but they gradually improved over the years."

IT WAS AT this point that Andy made a classic remark. "You know, I can't understand why they complain about the dorm food here. Most of the meals in the camps were only a thin soup and when you were lucky there would be a few potatoes," Andy drank his first whole milk and ate his first piece of white bread in the States.

CHANGING THE subject, Zidermanis told of the ruins he had seen in Germany. "There were miles and miles of ruins. Wrecked trucks, jeeps and tanks were everywhere. I can still remember playing in the old tanks but mostly I remember working for 15 cents a day cleaning bricks which would be used for rebuilding."

"I remember wearing wooden shoes and when we would get leather shoes we would keep them patched by using the rubber from the tires of the wrecked jeeps. There was still a lot of live ammunition and booby-traps around and some of the boys were hurt by ZIDERMANIS, page 5 . . .

Techsans Talk Back

Editor,

It is impossible to thank each person individually who contributed to the success of the LA VENTANA beauty contest last Friday.

I would, however, if you will permit the space somewhere in the editorial columns of the TOREADOR, like to take this means and opportunity to express the appreciation of the entire yearbook staff to the Tech Men's Press Club- soon to be Sigma Delta Chi), for their fine presentation and to the many individuals and organizations across the campus who had a part in making the 1959 Beauty Contest the finest yet.

Thanks again, on behalf of the staff, to everyone concerned.

Segregation Poll Has Little Interest

Only 10 per cent of the full-time University of Bridgeport students turned out to vote on a recent poll asking, "Should integrated colleges accept students from segregated schools?"

About 250 voted. Thirty-four answered "yes," while fourteen said "no." The rest were indifferent.

THE POLL, which was conducted as an experiment by an educational psychology class, was the result of two editorials in the "Scribe."

The editorial had asked the school's president to proclaim the University of Bridgeport would lead the way in fighting segregation by not accepting students from schools defying the Supreme Court Order.

THERE WERE four possible answers on the ballot — yes, no, indifferent and other.

From results, the class and professor conducting the poll decided that college students feel that segregation versus integration is not an important issue.

He said: "We feel the poll question could have been more specific in relation to Supreme Court defiance and we also believe that an issue as prominent as segregation is not one that is considered trivial by college students in general and certainly not here."

AT MALE Notre Dame, co-education got a boost from Dr. George A. Constant, Victoria, Texas. He condemned "The barracks-room approach to higher education which results when 5,000 young men are hurled together without the leavening influence of women."

He added, "We Catholics are far behind in this regard (co-education). The 'barracks-room' system has no beneficial aspects that I can see, and serves to break down the self-pride and standards of conduct of men involved" he concluded.

ACP

UNIVERSITY of Pittsburg Chancellor Litchfield observed after a recent Russian tour that in the Soviet Union the hard-working and superior student is regarded as a "hero."

To often on U.S. campuses, and more particularly in secondary schools, he may be referred to as a "grind," the chancellor said.

The Four Freshmen, one of the top vocal groups in the country, will be in the Lubbock Municipal Auditorium at 8 p.m. Thursday. Tickets went on sale Monday at 9 a.m. and can be purchased in the Tech Union.

As Capitol Record vocalists, the Freshmen have recorded such hit albums as "Voices in Love" (their latest), "The Four Freshmen and Five Trombones," and "Voices in Latin."

Besides being highly talented as singers, each member of the group can play as many as two instruments equally well. They are likewise well versed in the art of humor and the audience is in store for a night of laughter and entertainment.

Sponsoring the show is the Tech Union, an organization that has brought another top talent show to Tech students for only a nominal admission fee.

The Red Raider-Missouri basketball game will be nationally televised Dec. 20 in the Coliseum. That's the day school is dismissed for the Christmas holidays. The game begins at 2 p.m.

Much concern is currently being expressed over the possibility that many of the students will leave early and not attend the game.

A near-empty student section will not look good to the TV viewers.

in America could become responsible for DPs in seeing that they would have jobs and a place to live on arrival.

BUT FIRST, the DPs would have to qualify and take extensive medical examinations. Andy and his family passed all the requirements and after what seemed to them an eternity, they were on their way to the USA and Dallas, Texas.

"On the train to Texas, the first thing we looked for were cowboys. You can imagine the disappointment when we finally saw some men on horses, but no guns."

AFTER GETTING established in Dallas, Andy recalls how afraid and shy he was. "I couldn't speak English and they couldn't speak Latvian. It took a lot of patient instruction to teach me English and I still don't know how I ever made it. It seems funny now, but it sure wasn't then."

Zidermanis went to high school at Crozier Tech in Dallas and graduated last year. He excelled in basketball and track and still keeps himself in tip-top physical shape. His ambition is to be a coach.

"UNTIL THE eighth grade, I didn't do so well in school. In this year the studies began to go easier for me and I started making some fairly decent grades." He has a 2.00 grade point average in college.

One of Andy's fondest memories is the day he became an American citizen. "It was on December 7, 1957 and I shall never forget that day or the judge who gave me my citizenship papers."

ZIDERMANIS still keeps up with his native Latvian tongue but says he is rapidly forgetting German which he used to speak and write fluently. He speaks English without a trace of an accent.

When asked what his people's hopes were for re-gaining their status as a republic, he replied, "That's about all there is — hope."

Charles Knight Will Speak To AIEE Tonight

Charles W. Knight Jr., public relations director for the Lone Star Life Insurance Co., will speak to the Tech chapter of the American Institute of Industrial Engineers tonight at 7:30 in the Engineering Auditorium.

Mr. Knight is flying here from Dallas for the speaking engagement. He will talk on "Personal Insurance Programming."

FOR FOUR FRESHMEN —

Tickets Going Fast

Modern sounds of the Four Freshmen will be heard in Lubbock's Municipal Auditorium at 8 p.m. Thursday by Texas Tech students, faculty and Lubbock townspeople.

CONCERT TICKETS are going fast and Larke Harrington, Tech Union program director, for $1.50.

suggests that students buy their tickets now.

Tickets for the concert are on sale in the Union lobby for Tech personnel. Prices are 50 cents and 50 student with I.D. card and 50 cents for faculty members. Non-Tech personnel may buy tickets for $1.50.

Selections for the program come from a long list of favorites by the Freshmen such as, "In This Whole Wide World," "Graduation Day," "Charmaine," "Blue World," "Street of Dreams," "Please Remember," "How Can I Tell Her," "Stormy Weather," "Angel Eyes" and many more.

Doak Wins Tournament

Doak Hall won the Women's Intramural Bowling Tournament with a total score of 1,644 pins. The winning team consisted of Fran Boyd, Nancy Freer, Madeline Burke and Tommie Thompson.

SECOND PLACE went to Knapp No. 1 with a score of 1,599 and third place was captured by Alpha Chi Omega No. 2 with 1,486.

Twenty-two teams were entered in the second annual tournament held at the Lubbock Bowling Club Saturday.

Harriett Kittrell chalked up the highest game score with a total of 181 pins. Darleen Heipkamp, Knapp, was second with 179 and Margie Curry, Drane, had the third highest game with 170.

HIGH SERIES bowler of the day was Madeline Burke of the Doak Hall team with a total score of 481 on three games.

Team trophy was donated by the Lubbock Bowling Club and individual trophies were given by the Tech Campus Bookstore.

Travelers Plan Party

A "Cosmopolitan Christmas" is the theme of the World Travelers Christmas party at 7:30 tonight in the Faculty Lounge of the Tech Union.

STUDENTS will decorate a tree, sing carols, dance and eat Christmas goodies. The party will give Tech students an opportunity to talk with foreign students about Christmas in their countries.

A talkative person's main problem is to find listeners, but the turnover is terrific.

Reds Still Cling To Free City Proposal

BERLIN (AP)—The East German Communists, stunned by their crushing defeat in the West Berlin elections, have refused to let go of the Soviet free city proposal.

PREMIER OTTO Grotewohl Monday feebly echoed Moscow's assertion that Sunday's municipal elections had nothing to do with the Soviet bid to turn West Berlin into a neutral demilitarized city.

Prior to the elections—in which the Reds again failed to seat a single candidate in the 133-seat City Parliament—the Communists urged West Berliners to support the Soviet proposal with their votes.

GROTEWOHL, 64 and ailing, told his Parliament that U.S., British and French troops legally were obligated to get out of West Berlin. But he showed little conviction that the Allies would comply.

TALENT SHOW PERFORMERS — Pictured above are Doranna Scott, Wichita Falls freshman, and Tafford Blessing, Ft. Worth senior, dressed in their Talent Show attire. They are but two of the many performers who will present 13 acts in the Tech Union Talent Show at 7 p.m. tonight in the Tech Union Ballroom.

Commission Grabs Vote Documents

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — The U.S. Civil Rights Commission Monday gained access to some voting records from Macon County, focus for charges of discrimination against would-be Negro voters.

BUT THEN it promptly ran into defiance from another official of the same county who refused to turn over his files or to answer questions about the alleged barring of Negroes from registration lists.

These developments came after several Negroes from Tuskegee, including several highly educated ones from Tuskegee Institute, told the new federal group that they were systematically prevented from registering solely because of their race. Tuskegee is the seat of Macon County.

ALABAMA ATTY. Gen. John Patterson objected vigorously but vainly when some voting lists from Macon County were brought into the hearing room.

Voter records in five other counties have been impounded by Alabama officials to keep them from the commission.

GRADY ROGERS, a voter registration official from near Tuskegee, refused to answer questions about voter registration procedure in Macon County.

Patterson, who is Alabama's next governor, argued against allowing Rogers to testify.

He contended that as a member of the board of registrars under Alabama law, he is a judicial official whose actions and decisions cannot be questioned.

DEAN ROBERT C. Storey of the Southern Methodist University Law School, vice chairman of the commission, ordered Rogers to take the stand and said he could refuse to answer questions as they were submitted.

The registrar did just that. He declined to discuss any phase of registration procedure on the grounds that he is a judicial officer and that the questions might be incriminating.

Outlook

By BILL DEAN

By BILL DEAN

SMU's 65-55 win over Iowa Saturday night in Dallas once again points up the strength in this year's conference. At the same time Rice slammed Wisconsin 78-37, TCU trimmed Oklahoma City 66-58, A&M stopped Houston 57-45 and Arkansas bumped OU 61-52.

Two conference teams — Texas and Baylor — fell. The Steers lost to Trinity 83-74 in Austin and Baylor took a 71-60 trimming from Auburn.

In the review of the Southwest Conference in this week's issue of Sports Illustrated, which is their annual Basketball Edition, it is pointed out that in the next few years SWC teams are no longer going to be pushovers, but powers to be reckoned with.

This year the conference boasts at least four outstanding teams, and possibly a couple more. It looks like another wild scramble for the title, if it is possible to equal last year's madhouse.

Three Raiders, quarterback Jerry Bell, halfback Floyd Dellinger and tackle Phil Williams, have been selected to participate in the Copper Bowl game at Phoenix, Ariz., Dec. 20.

The game will match senior all-stars from the Southwest, coached by Arizona State mentor Frank Kush, and a team of national all-stars, guided by Frankie Broyles of Arkansas.

It is sponsored by the National Organization of the March of Dimes and is the first contest of what is hoped will be an annual event.

Saturday night the Red Raiders will journey to Iowa City to test the University of Iowa and will have to overcome a terrific jinx to remain unbeaten.

Iowa has not lost a non-conference game at home since 1942. It will be our initial game against a Big Ten opponent and will be televised over an eight-state regional network, not including the Southwest.

The weekend of Dec. 19-20 will be a big one here. In addition to the National Game of the Week telecast of the Raider-Missouri battle, the Southwest Conference Relays will be held in the new 75 x 42 pool in the Tech Gym.

Also, in case you might have forgotten, school is dismissed for Christmas on Dec. 20 at noon.

Tech faculty and students can now join in adult badminton group now playing on Tuesday's from 7-9 p.m., at J. T. Hutchinson Junior High School Gym.

The program is sponsored by the Lubbock City Recreation Department which is supplying facilities and birds. Players must bring their own racquets and gym shoes. The gym is located on 32nd St., just off Canton Ave.

'Mural Basketball Hits Full Stride

By JOHN LEWIS

Intramural basketball rolls into full swing, beginning with 12 games tonight.

Independent League action will begin at 7 p.m. at the men's gym with the Church of Christ vs. Gunners and the Generals vs. the Dwarfs. At 8 p.m., the Court Jesters meet Alpha Delta Sigma with Delta Sigma Pi testing the Slim Jims.

THE FRATERNITY League will get underway with the Phi Deltas against the SAE's at the O. L. Slaton Gym and ATO meeting the Pikes at the Carrol Thompson Gym at 7:15 p.m.

At 8:30 p.m., Sigma Chi will play the Kappa Sigs at O. L. Slaton while the Fijis test Sigma Nu at Carrol Thompson. The O. L. Slaton Gym is located at 32nd and Ave. Q and the Carrol Thompson gym is located at 14th and Ave. T.

All dormitories which are planning on having A or B teams should contact Edsel Buchanan at the Intramural Office before Thursday.

DORMITORY League play will begin tomorrow night with Dorm 8 vs. Dorm 7, Sneed Hall vs. Bledsoe Hall, Dorm 6 vs. Gordon Hall and Dorm 5 vs. West Hall at the men's gym. Play will begin at 7 p.m.

Cincinnati Tops First Poll!

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Cincinnati Bearcats, runners-up in the final Associated Press college basketball poll last season, captured first place Monday in the initial balloting of the 1958-1959 campaign by a solid margin over closely-bunched Kentucky, Kansas State and West Virginia.

Cincinnati piled up 38 first place votes and 834 points from among the participating 102 sports writers and broadcasters. Led by All-America Oscar Robertson's 86 points, the Bearcats easily won their first two games—93-64 over Indiana State and 88-67 over NYU.

KENTUCKY, the 1958 NCAA champ, collected 20 "firsts" and 695 points to finish second on the basis of 10 points for a first place vote, nine for second, etc. The Wildcats also are 2-0 with victories over Florida State and Temple.

Kansas State was third followed by West Virginia. The Mountaineers, who finished on top in the final AP poll last year, grabbed 17 first place votes in this week's balloting to only 10 for Kansas State. But Kansas State showed more strength in the second, third and fourth spots to garner 641 points to WVU's 634.

The Mountaineers ran through their first three opponents—Furman, VMI and Penn State. Kansas State beat Purdue 96-83 and then squeezed past Indiana 82-79 Saturday night.

North Carolina State, tabbed as the team to beat in the Atlantic Coast Conference, wound up in the No. 5 position. The Wolfpack, with victories over Penn State, Maryland and Wake Forest, had 363 points and five "firsts."

ROUNDING out the top 10 were Tennessee, Kansas, Mississippi State, St. Louis and Northwestern.

Tennessee, 3-0, was just a shade behind North Carolina State with 335 points. Kansas, winning without Globetrotter Wilt Chamberlain, had no trouble disposing of Rice 65-49 and Canisius 75-54.

Mississippi State, a new Southeastern Conference power, trounced Southeastern Louisiana, Union and Northwestern in its first three. St. Louis and Northwestern each won its first two.

Track Squad in Sugar Bowl

Part of the Red Raider track team will journey to New Orleans for the Sugar Bowl Invitational track meet on Dec. 28.

"THE BOYS will have interrupted Christmas vacations this year," said Coach Don Sparks. "but we're all glad that Tech will be represented."

Tech will enter their mile relay team of Tommy Davis, a junior from Granbury; Doyle Herring, Canyon City junior; Curtis Hart, sophomore from Andrews and Donnie Foster, a Farmington sophomore. "We'll also take possibly the best high and low hurdles," Sparks related.

RICHARD MURPHY, a sophomore from Odessa, had a 14.9 in the highs last year and 23 flat in the lows. The other hurdler, Tommy Patterson, is a Waco junior. "He should be the big point getter for the Raiders this season." Best times last season were 14.6 in highs, and 22.9 in the lows.

The Raiders will meet in Fort Worth on Christmas Day for the jaunt to the New Orleans Sugar Bowl.

Freshmen Take 82-50 Victory

by JOHN LEWIS

An improved Picador team downed the freshmen from Eastern New Mexico by the lop-sided score of 82-50 for their second straight victory of the season in the Coliseum last night.

DURING the first half, the Tech freshmen took charge of the court and the Eastern New Mexico frosh couldn't seem to get started until Coach Gene Gibson of the Picadors began flooding the floor with substitutions.

The first period ended with the Tech freshmen ahead by the score of 42-17. They were never in trouble during the period and assumed complete command of the floor.

JAY GURLEY, of Tahoka, led the offense for ENMU during the first half with nine points. Mack Percival led the Picadors with eight points.

Del Ray Mounts came in during the first half and sparked the Picadors with his sharp passing and good defensive play.

IN THE second half Coach Gibson started off with his first five and kept them in until the lead was increased to 68-30.

Mack Percival was the leading scorer for the Picadors with 13 points. Billy Wilbanks had 11, Vance Moxom had nine, while Del Ray Mounts, Bill Spitzer and Dean Horton each had eight. Roger Hennig and Dwayne Key each had seven points. Jay Durlley led the Eastern New Mexico frosh with eleven points.

'Schools for Tomorrow' Is Theme of Meeting

Approximately 160 people will visit the Tech campus Wednesday and Thursday to study "Schools for Tomorrow" at the third annual School Facilities Conference in the Tech Union.

THE GROUP attending will be made up by school administrators, architects, board members, school contractors and equipment people from West Texas and eastern New Mexico.

Their main purpose in attending is to discuss common problems, said Dr. Morris Wallace, head of the Tech education department.

"We are fortunate in securing for the Conference Walter D. Cocking of New York, editor of the 'School Executive,'" Wallace related.

COCKING will serve as consultant and major resource person, and will deliver the keynote address at 8:45 p.m. Wednesday.

He will speak on "Better Facilities for Tomorrow's Schools." He will also present the closing address at 2 p.m. Thursday on "A Look Ahead."

ANOTHER feature of the conference will be "The Andrews Story." This is a progress report on planning a new high school.

Registration for the conference will begin at 8 p.m. Tuesday at the Plainsman Hotel. Late registration will be Wednesday in the Tech Union.

Dr. E.N. Jones, Tech president, will welcome the conference participants at 8:30 p.m.
