

VICE PRESIDENT LYNDON JOHNSON
... to crown Tech Homecoming Queen

Johnson Kicks Off Weekend Activities

By DON JONES
Toreador Staff Writer

• Texas Tech Homecoming activities will move into full swing Friday when the vice president of the United States arrives on campus to take part in the annual festivities.

The visit of Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson to Lubbock and the campus will be the first time that a person of his official stature has been in the city.

The Johnson visit here is sponsored by the Tech Ex-Students' Assn.

At the airport, Johnson will be given the red carpet welcome and will be greeted by Congressman George Mahon and Chas. A. Guy, editor and publisher of the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal. Also on hand to greet the dignitary will be Mayor David Casey, C. I. Wall, president of the Tech board of directors, and James.

Johnson will arrive on the Tech campus at 6 p.m. to address the Century Club in the Tech Union Ballroom. A capacity crowd of 330 will hear the dinner speech.

Clint Formby, president of the Tech Ex-Students' Assn., will give the welcome at the dinner. The Vice President will be introduced by Guy.

Other members at the head table during the speech will include Floyd Reed, chairman of the Century Club; Clarence Whiteside, Tech Choir Director Gene Kenney; James; J. C. Chambers, first vice president of the Exes Assn.; Congressman Mahon; Mayor Casey; Chairman Wall; and three vice presidents of the college.

Following his address to the Century Club, Johnson will crown the 1961 Homecoming Queen at 8:30 in front of the Science Bldg. In case of bad weather, the coronation will take place in the Municipal Coliseum.

James, who is making arrangements for the trip, said it is not yet known whether or not the Johnson group will stay overnight and attend the Homecoming game between Tech and Rice University Saturday afternoon.

James also announced that it was not yet certain whether or not the Vice President's wife will accompany him on the trip.

Before being elected Vice President of the United States, Johnson served as Senate Majority Leader of the United States and was considered the second most powerful man in the U.S. government.

Johnson was first elected to Congress in 1937 in a special congressional election. He served in the lower house of Congress until 1948 when he was elected to the U.S. Senate from Texas.

Johnson was re-elected to the Senate in 1954 and in 1960 he was elected to both the Senate and the vice presidency. He resigned his seat in the Senate just before being inaugurated Vice President in January.

This will be Johnson's second trip to Lubbock within the past year. President Kennedy and Johnson, then nominees for the offices of President and Vice President of the United States, were greeted at Municipal Airport in Sept., 1960, by over 50,000 South Plainsmen.

The nominees addressed the crowd at the airport but did not come into town.

Homecoming Nears; Tech Picks Finalists

By TRAVIS PETERSON
Toreador Copy Editor

With 1700 votes cast in balloting Wednesday, Techsians elected the five finalists in the 1961 Homecoming Queen contest. The winner will not be revealed until coronation ceremonies Friday night.

Finalists are Jackie Howard, Linda Loc'itt, Beth O'Quinn, Nancy Therrell and Kay Woody.

Each finalist is required to be at the following places at the designated times:

Pictures for the Homecoming edition of the Toreador will be made in Rm. 101 of the Journalism Bldg. at 2 p.m. today. Finalists should wear dress clothes.

Coronation rehearsals will be in front of the Science Bldg. at 6:30 p.m. today and at 7:30 p.m. Friday. Finalists, escorts and trumpeters must be present.

They are required to be at the Science Bldg. for coronation ceremonies from 8:20 to 9:30.

Finalists must be in place by 9:30 p.m. at Main St. and Texas Ave. for the Homecoming Parade Saturday, and must be in the southwest ramp of Jones Stadium ten minutes before half-time.

Freshman class unity will be demonstrated at the Freshman Class Convocation in Tech Union Ballroom at 7:30 tonight. The Rev. Ralph Macy, pastor of St. Paul's Episcopal Church, will speak, and the Freshman Spirit Lantern will be lighted. It will be displayed in the Union until it is used to light the Homecoming Bonfire Friday night.

Members of Alpha Phi Omega, men's service organization, will distribute luminarios around Memorial Circle, the Pavilions and in front of the Science Bldg. before the Pep Rally Friday. Luminarios—Tech's traditional Spanish candles placed in bags of sand—are donated by Piggly-Wiggly Super Markets.

The Homecoming Pep Rally and Bonfire—coordinated by Saddle Tramps—will begin at 7:45. A speaker and skit will be featured.

Coronation services will be from 8:30 to 9:30 Friday night in front of the Science Bldg. An 80 foot promenade ramp will extend into the parking lot from the front of the building. It will be covered by a red carpet furnished by the City of Lubbock. Hemphill-Wells will furnish the backdrops.

When Vice President Johnson crowns the queen, the howitzer used at football games will be fired by members of the Tyrian Rifles, followed by an aerial firework display. Both the howitzer and fireworks will be fired from the center of Memorial Circle.

Tech's graduating classes from 1945-61 will have a reunion beginning at 9 p.m. in Tech Union. The classes of 1925-45 will have a reunion and dance beginning at 9:30 in Caprock Hotel.

Floats and decorations for the Homecoming Dance and residence halls will follow the overall theme—"Techsian in Fantasyland." These will feature characters from Disneyland, nursery rhymes and cartoon strips.

The Homecoming Parade begins at 10 a.m. Saturday. It will form on Main St., turn down Texas Ave. to Broadway, and proceed down Broadway to the campus, where all floats will be parked on the Ad Bldg. parking lot.

All floats must be in place by 9 a.m. or they will be disqualified. Classes will be dismissed at 9 Saturday.

Plaques will be presented to both first and second place winners in all three float divisions—sorority, fraternity and independent. The Thomas Trophy will be awarded the sweepstakes winner. IPC will award $100 and $50 to the first and second place winners in the fraternity division.

These awards will be presented at pre-game ceremonies.

The Tech-Rice grid game in Jones Stadium will highlight afternoon activities. The Tech Band will play and the Homecoming Queen and her court will be presented.

The Homecoming Dance—sponsored by Tech Union—will be in the Municipal Coliseum from 8 to 12 that evening. Ralph Flanagan will furnish the music and the dance is open to both exes and students. Admission is $1.50 for couples or individuals, and tickets will be on sale in Tech Union.

"HMMM . . . HOMECOMING IN THE RAIN?" — That's what Joyce Woody, Tech coed from Crane, wondered Wednesday afternoon as autumn rains

Union Dance Class Schedules Organizational Meeting Tonight

There will be an organizational meeting at 7 tonight of the Union-sponsored ballroom dance class. The meeting will be in the Union Ballroom Lounge.

Prices for the class have been lowered to $10 per person and $18 per couple. Students who completed the questionnaire concerning the course are asked to attend, as well as any others who are interested.

Five dances will be taught. Students have a choice of the foxtrot, waltz, tango, samba, cha-cha, rumba, jitterbug and other dances for the ten-hour course. Instructors for the course are Bill and Sherry McGee, both of whom have taught professionally.

Sneed Crowns Turkey Queen

Sneed Hall has crowned its Turkey Run Queen for this year's edition of the annual event.

Glenda Pettiet, freshman from Midland, was crowned by Carlyle Smith, president of the Student Assn. and Everett Barnes, president of Sneed Hall in a ceremony that preceded the mixer for Sneed Hall and West Hall Tuesday night.

Glenda will reign over the event Nov. 18, and award the prizes to the top three contestants. The first prize is a turkey and a kiss from the queen, the second a goose and the third prize will be an egg.

Any Tech student is eligible to enter the Turkey Run — except freshman and varsity members of the track team.

Straight Matter

by Nolan Porterfield

Sadistic Statistic: authorities estimate that 96 out of every 100 Americans will die in the first sixty days of a nuclear war with Russia. That's one way to alleviate our parking problem!

There's at least one rugged individualist left in America today . . . a man who hasn't forgotten that government in this country was instituted to serve the people and that it hasn't been doing a good job lately. And he isn't afraid to stand face-to-face with the President of the United States and tell him so, in simple straight forward English.

The man is Ted Dealy, publisher of the Dallas Morning News, who last Friday attended a White House luncheon for Texas newspapermen and told President Kennedy that the public, particularly in Texas, considers J.F.K. and his administration "weak sisters." Said Dealy to Kennedy, "We need a man on horseback to lead this nation and many people in Texas and the Southwest think that you are riding Caroline's tricycle." This, of course, caused a big ruckus. Dealy was quickly denounced by several of the publishers present, and many others are probably shocked that anyone should have the temerity to speak to the President in such a manner. But personally, I am happy that a private citizen has exerted one of his most important constitutional rights—freedom of speech—at the highest level. Perhaps if more of us followed Dealy's example, Mr. Kennedy would get up off his tricycle and lead us to a more positive position in the current war of nerves.

Is there doubt that Mr. Dealy spoke the truth when he said, "The American people are sick and tired of being bluffed, of negotiations when there is nothing to negotiate, of making concessions that should not be made"? The avowed policy of the current administration is "when in distress, talk," and time after time we have sat and negotiated while the enemy was out taking the high ground. We've talked about Africa, Laos, South Viet Nam, the U.N. . . . and each time we talked ourselves right out the window. Now we're working on Berlin. After talking it over, we've decided, after all, that we can let the East Germans check vehicles entering the Eastern Zone, and we're thinking about settling the boundary between Germany and Poland on the Oder-Niesse line, something we've vowed never to do. Where is the "young, vigorous leadership" promised by Mr. Kennedy in last year's campaign? If you have positive evidence of it, please step forward.

In fairness to Mr. Kennedy, however, all the blame for our current situation cannot be dropped in one bundle at his feet. Eisenhower deserves a big chunk, and so does Good Old Harry . . . in fact, a lot of our troubles started back in the days of F.D.R., when a great but tired and sick old man went to Teheran and Yalta and "talked" us out of the peace that followed the war he did so much to win.

But the past can't be changed, and Mr. Kennedy now has the responsibility of preparing for the future. It is a responsibility for which he asked, and one for which he is capable of handling most effectively. Will he?

DOES ANYBODY REMEMBER: jigsaw puzzles? . . . the Tucker auto? . . . when mail boxes weren't red, white and blue? . . . the Tate-Lax Medicine Show? . . . Col. Tim McCoy? . . . boogie-woogie? . . . Melody Ranch? . . . Richard Dix? . . . when there were only 3 major record companies? . . . roll-out windshields? . . . Toots and Casper? . . . Chinese checkers?

Let's Greet Him

LBJ Arrives Here Friday

Vice President Lyndon Johnson arrives in Lubbock at 4:30 p.m. Friday. He will address the Century Club and then take part in the coronation activities that night.

Numerous Tech organizations have already indicated that they will be on hand to greet Johnson when he arrives at the airport. Johnson will be given the red carpet "treatment" during his stay here.

Now, what can you do?

The Toreador feels that the student body of Texas Tech should make every effort to meet Johnson at the airport Friday. He is the highest ranking government official to visit Texas Tech.

News media from throughout the country will be here to cover Johnson's visit. It will be a good time for the student body to show the entire country that Texas Tech is a friendly school—one that welcomes visitors to its campus with open arms.

Won't you make an effort to be there Friday?

Toreador Mail Call...

Dear Students,

TECHSANS! RAIDERS! WE ARE NOT STOPPING NOW . . . SPIRIT . . . PRIDE . . . DEDICATION . . . these words are very important to us. Our school—Texas Tech—can outshine, outdo, and outtell anybody in the SWC. We've got more pride for our team and our fellow students than we boast about. We are dedicated to a cause greater than winning a game . . . we are united. We know that a student body is lacking love and loyalty if it supports a cause only under fair weather conditions. We know a team does not need us if we care only when they are winning.

That's why we are behind the Red Raiders come rain or shine, win or lose. But something distresses the people responsible for the pep rallies—and YOU know what we mean. So before we say we've got something more important to do on the night of the pep rallies, stop and think. A lot of people are working pretty hard at making the pep rally symbolic to the students of this school . . . more than that . . . a lot of good guys are sweating blood and guts because they want those three words—SPIRIT . . . PRIDE . . . DEDICATION . . . to mean something special to each and every one of us.

See YOU at the pep rallies.

For your convenience part of the yell is included in this edition of the paper. We, the cheerleaders, ask you to LEARN 'EM, LOVE 'EM, and for goshes sakes, YELL 'EM!

Performers and audience alike will miss Gene Kenney if hospitalization necessitates his absence from Sunday's concert. He and Paul Ellsworth are to conduct the Tech Choir, Singers and Symphony Orchestra in the Cherubini Mass and Haydn's Symphony No. 97, to begin Tech's 1961 Fine Arts Festival.

Dr. Gene Hemmle says there is a possibility that Kenney will appear. He entered Methodist Hospital Oct. 23 for kidney surgery.

Unquestionably the brightest highlight of the Festival is Basil Rathbone's appearance at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday. Entitled "An Evening With Basil Rathbone," his program will feature readings from Shakespeare, Browning and Housman.

Let us hope the Tejas has started a trend. A student ID card is worth a discount there. Now playing is Robert Rossen's "The Hustler" with Piper Laurie, George C. Scott and Jackie Gleason as "Minnesota Fats." This is a film which has attracted wide interest and is sure to be seen by many.

Dr. Mary Sue Carlock, assistant English professor, is the author of "A Bibliography of American Biographies, 1840-1870," an article appearing in the August issue of "Bulletin of Bibliographies and Magazine Notes." This should prove to be a valuable research tool for literary study of this period.

Nancy Miller keeps bugging me to say something about Andre Previn's piano. I confess to being behind the times. In the wake of a tremendous stereo wattage increase, my record fund is in the red. I've heard little Previn, less Monk and have even let lapse devotion to Dave Brubeck. In a week or so I'll see what can be done to remedy the situation and report results.

The Lubbock Chess Club meets at the YMCA 2 p.m. Sundays, and 7:30 p.m. Wednesdays, for local and inter-city competition.

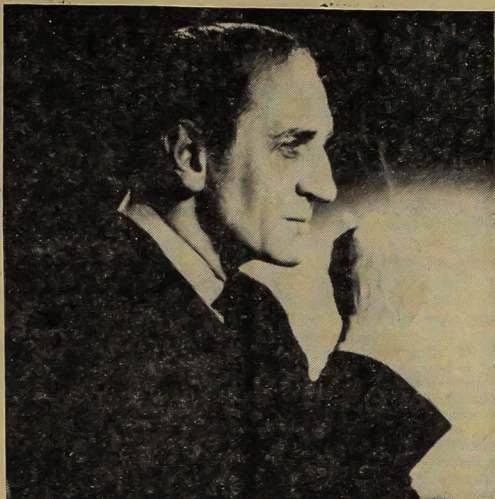

Janet Linker, of the music department, will play an organ recital at the First Presbyterian Church, 8 p.m. Tuesday. Paul Benningfield, Jerry Hoover, Carla Jean Newsom and Douglas Pummill leave Sunday to compete in auditions for the National Association of Teachers of Singers in Norman, Okla. Students of five other states will enter the contest for cash prizes and scholarships. Bon vox, Techsians!

Rice Seeks Victory To Keep Faint Hope

HOUSTON, Nov. 1 — Remote as their chances may seem after facing the wrath of Texas last Saturday, the Rice Owls still have a chance for at least a share of the SWC title.

Rice boosters hope that such a hope will "get through" to the Owl gridders to erase the disappointment at Austin so they'll be "up" for Texas Tech this Saturday and the four games that follow.

Realistically, the cold facts are that the Owls have a very steep hill to climb. Five straight SWC tests are in the offing—Texas Tech, Arkansas, Texas A&M, TCU and Baylor, in that order. Victory is a "must" in all five games, and every foe is tough, very tough.

Meanwhile, the rampaging Longhorns would have to be derailed by at least one of the four remaining rivals. Considering the fantastic success Texas has had, nobody on their slate is apt even to press them, much less upset them.

Astute veteran Rice alder Charlie Moore has scouted the Red Raiders twice, and should have little trouble convincing the Owls that Texas Tech will be a formidable foe. Any team that whips TCU and Baylor demands respect, and the Raiders figure to be quite surly after leading and outplaying SMU last Saturday, only to fall to a desperate late Mustang TD and a 2-pointer gamble that came through.

You Name It—He's Played It

Anderson Does It All

By CHARLES RICHARDS
Toreador Sports Editor

It probably didn't take much arm-twisting to persuade Texas Tech coaches to sign Stinnett's Donny Anderson to an athletic scholarship this spring, but there was at least one difficulty—which sport to recruit him in.

The 6-3, 205-lb. right halfback for the Texas Tech Picadors starred in four sports—football, basketball, track and baseball—in high school and was pursued by college scouts in regard to all four before he finally signed a football letter-of-intent with Texas Tech.

Coached by Don Light, Anderson gained his greatest fame in football, being named to the all-state, all-Southern and All-America high school squads his senior year.

He began attracting attention of college coaches as early as his sophomore year when he made more than 50 points on a mediocre Stinnett team that finished with a 5-3-2 season.

The following year more eyes began to turn his way when he made second team all-state while scoring 147 points for the Rattlers who advanced to the state quarter-finals before finally bowing before he cast his lot with the

Then came his senior year when he reaped in just about every honor available. He carried the Rattlers undefeated through the quarter-finals before finally being set back by eventual state champion Albany. By the season's end, he had accumulated 227 points.

Anderson was approached by 31 different colleges in eight states before he cast his lot with the Red Raiders.

Seven of the eight Southwest Conference schools were interested, as were all major colleges in Oklahoma, Kansas and Colorado. Other big-name schools like Alabama, Tulane and New Mexico State put in their bids also.

The big blonde-headed athlete had something to interest the basketball coaches also. He gained honorable mention on the all-state cage squad his junior year with his 21 point average.

A football injury kept him out of action almost all of his senior year, and he played in only two games. Despite missing his last year, he still received a few scholarship offers.

Stinnett made 50 points in the 1-A district track meet in 1961, and Anderson made 47 of them with four first places and a second. When the regional meet came around, Anderson forgot to slow down, and won two blue ribbons and two red ones. He represented Stinnett at the state meet in four events—high hurdles, low hurdles, high jump and shot put. He made a good showing at Austin, finishing fourth in the low hurdles and taking third in high jump.

The versatile freshman also made headlines with his baseball ability. He batted .375 as a first baseman for the Borger American Legion team between his junior and senior years, and then hit .412 while playing for a semi-pro team in Spearman this summer. He played in the league all-star game, and was offered contracts with three professional teams—the New York Yankees, the Baltimore Orioles and the Boston Red Sox.

The offers were almost too irresistible for Anderson to turn down, but he felt he would be better off by signing a football letter with Tech.

"They (baseball offers) were real appealing, but I wanted a college education," Anderson said. "I'll play baseball with Tech, though."

"I like it fine," Anderson replied when asked how he liked Texas Tech so far. "The students are friendlier here than a lot of other places. It's just all right."

The former Stinnett star has a lot of company on the freshman grid team, as far as quality goes. Included in the 47 boys on scholarship are five other all-staters—more than any other SWC school. One of the scholarship holders is Donny's brother, Larry.

"They show a lot of desire and spirit," Anderson said of his teammates. "A lot of them don't want to lose because they've never played for a team that had a losing season."

There'll be a lot of Blue and Gray mixing with a lot of Red and Black Saturday. And there could be a lot of black and blue emerging along the way—with feathers flying, perhaps—when both Tech squads tangle with Rice counterparts.

The Picadors meet the Rice Owlets in Houston, Saturday at 2 p.m., the same time of the Raider-Owl game here.

Rain, Rain, Rain

Before workouts Wednesday, a freshman griddler asked Coach Berl Huffman when the Picadors were going to leave for Houston.

"When our boat comes in," said Huffman, thinking of the rainy workout ahead.

Freud Analyzes Football

How would football have looked to the late Dr. Sigmund Freud? What the father of psychoanalysis might have said is presented in "Freud, Football and the marching Virgins," a November Reader's Digest article by Thomas Hornsby Ferril, Denver poet-editor-publisher.

"Obviously," he writes, "football is a syndrome of religious rites symbolizing the struggle to preserve the egg of life through the rigors of impending winter. The rites begin at the autumnal equinox and culminate on the first day of the New Year with great festivals identified with bowls of plenty; the festivals are associated with flowers such as roses, fruits such as oranges, farm crop such as cotton and even sun worship and appeasement of great reptiles such as alligators.

Oval Symbolizes Life

"The egg of life is symbolized by what is called 'the oval, an inflated bladder. The convention is repeated in the architectural oval-shaped design of the vast outdoor churches in which the services are held . . . literally millions attend . . . in anticipation of violent masochism and sadism about to be enacted by a highly trained priesthood of young men . . ."

"The ceremony begins with colorful processions of musicians and semi-nude virgins who move in and out of ritualized patterns. This excites the worshippers to rise from their seats, shout frenzied poetry in unison and chant ecstatic anthems."

Mr. Ferril first wrote his satire for the 101-year-old Rocky Mountain Herald, a weekly of 2,000 circulation which he and his wife publish.

Dr. Freud's only visit to the United States was to lecture at Clark University, Worcester, Mass., as part of the school's 20th anniversary celebration in September of 1909. He also visited New Haven, Boston, and Niagara Falls and saw New York's Chinatown, but nobody took him to a football game.

'Murals Advance

Tech's Intramural program has vaulted into well being in the past few years. Before the new Men's Gym was erected, Intramural Director Edsel Buchanan and his crew occupied one side of the old Barn while the female physical ed activities took up the other half.

"That created pretty crowded conditions, didn't it?" we asked Buchanan.

"Yes, but when you're raised on cornbread and beans you don't know what steak tastes like anyway."

Pikes, Gaston Meet

Pi Kappa Alpha won the Fraternity League Tug-O-War championship and will meet the dorm winners, Gaston Hall, for the All-College championship today at 5:15 p.m.

PLENTY OF POINTS

Only three teams at Texas University have scored 300 or more points in a season. They were Dave Allerdice's Longhorns of 1914 (358 points in eight games) and 1915 (335 points in nine games), and the D. X. Bible-coached team of 1941 (338 points in ten games).

ODD SEASON?

The 1929 Texas Longhorns were scored against in only two games, but finished with a 5-2-2 season. TCU and Texas A&M did the scoring and the winning, while Texas played SMU and Baylor to successive and frustrating 0-0 ties.

'58 RAIDERS ROLLED

Texas Tech's 1953 team scored 428 points to lead the nation in pointmaking.

Ticket Manager Urges Early Ticket Purchase

A plea to Lubbock residents to buy their tickets to Saturday's Rice-Tech game as early as possible has been voiced by Mrs. Mildred Graham, ticket manager.

"Since the game is an afternoon one, our time to sell tickets has been cut in half as compared with the time we've had on our night games," she pointed out. "With so many people coming in from out of town Saturday, it would be best for local fans to buy their tickets Friday and avoid the lines."

The crowd could surpass the record-setting 38,500 who saw the Texas A&M game. Capacity is 41,000.

Tickets are on sale at the Athletic Office, on 6th St., just south of Jones Stadium.

Jofre, Caldwell Ink Pact For Match

LONDON (AP)—Edgar Jofre of Brazil and John Caldwell of Ireland, agreed to terms Wednesday for a fight in Sao Paulo, Brazil, in January with the hope that the result will help clear the world bantamweight championship picture.

Jofre is recognized as world champion by the U.S. National Boxing Association and various federations in Europe. Caldwell, British bantamweight king, out-pointed Alphonse Halimi of France, in a dull 10-round bout Tuesday night. Halimi previously was recognized as champion in those parts of the world which did not regard Jofre as best.

Card Stunts Require Planning, Preparation

Each weekend that Tech has a home football game, approximately 827 students take part in the half-time card section activities sponsored by the Saddle Tramps. Tramps have sponsored this half-time addition for the past two years. The stunts involve the use of over 3,000 multi-colored flash cards and a public address system which announces and coordinates the stunts. Much preliminary preparation is involved in the organization of the card section. Stunts are first drawn to scale on a "grid chart," then transferred in like formation to individual instruction cards that are stapled under the stadium seats prior to game time. Flash cards are wrapped in groups of three, and passed to people in the card section—120—at the start of half-time activities.

Before each stunt is executed, the number of the particular stunt is announced. The student refers to the number on his instructions, selects the correct colored card, and—at a given signal—raises the card to a 45-degree angle with his chin. When the stunt is complete, the students lower the cards and consult instructions for the next stunt.

In order to make the card section as successful as possible, the Saddle Tramps offer the following suggestions:

1. When half-time begins: (a.) remove instruction card from beneath bench; (b) sit directly behind the person in front of you; (c) if there is a vacant seat near you—call it to the attention of a Saddle Tramp who will see that it is filled.
2. Listen and follow carefully the directions from the public address system.
3. Use only the colored card listed for a particular stunt.
4. When the last stunt is completed, pass the flash cards to the north aisle of the section.
5. Do not throw or damage the cards as they are expensive and difficult to replace.

Lillian Gilbreth Speaks To Engineering Group

"Some Problems in Management Today" was the subject discussed by Dr. Lillian Gilbreth, noted industrial engineer, at Texas Tech's American Institute of Industrial Engineers dinner Tuesday night at the Parkway Manor Motor Hotel.

Dr. Gilbreth emphasized the need for management in all areas of work, and that wise management is needed in our homes and daily lives as well as in industry and business.

She then elaborated on five areas where management is of particular importance. They are managing itself, home and the family, the citizen's job, volunteer jobs, such as developing hospitals and libraries and career jobs.

"These are all different areas, yet there are certain likenesses," Dr. Gilbreth said. "A foundation in human and technical aspects will help in all of them."

"There can be no foundation unless there is a philosophy of management and an appreciation of what makes a technique successful," she said.

A pioneer in the field of motion study, Dr. Gilbreth has discovered and formulated techniques to save wasted motion in all of these areas. These techniques were practiced in rearing 12 children after the death of her husband, Frank Gilbreth, as well as in helping to reorganize many factories and businesses.

Dr. Gilbreth conducted a seminar for industrial engineering students Tuesday afternoon.

Alpha Tau Omega Sponsors Tourney

The Texas Tech Chapter of Alpha Tau Omega will sponsor an Invitational Basketball Tournament December 8-9, with ten Tech fraternities and four guest chapters competing for the championship and for individual honors on the all-tournament team.

In addition to the games, there will be a dance at Fair Park Coliseum after the championship game in which a tournament queen will be chosen from Tech's sororities.

Admission will be $1 for the entire program of events with proceeds going to the Inter-Fraternity Council Scholarship Fund. Guest teams will be Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Sigma Chi and Phi Delta Theta chapters from TCU, and Kappa Alpha of East Texas State College. The series of games will begin at 1 p.m. Friday, Dec. 8, and continue the following morning at 8 and that afternoon at 1. The championship game will be at 6:30 p.m. followed by the dance, which is semi-formal and will last from 9-12 Saturday night.

All games will be played in the old Men's Gym, and an attendance trophy will be awarded to the campus organization with the best percentage of attendance.
