Committee Picks '60 L-V Heads

Marilyn Gardner and Donna Christopher were selected as co-editors for the 1960 La Ventana in a Publications Committee meeting Friday afternoon.

Next year's annual business manager will be Earl Heavrin.

MISS GARDNER is a sophomore from Dallas majoring in advertising. She is a member of Pi Beta Phi and a legislator on Drane Hall. She is co-editor of the Future Magazine in the 1959 La Ventana.

A resident of Brownfield, Miss Christopher is a sophomore journalism major and lives in Drane Hall. Like Miss Gardner, she is a Pi Beta Phi and co-editor of the Future section of this year's annual.

MISS Christopher is a member of Alpha Lambda Delta, freshman women's scholastic honorary society and has served as reporter. She is Drane Hall AWS representative and is on a Tech Union committee.

Heavrin, 21-year-old Tech student from Grand Prairie, is a junior Public Administration major. He is agriculture editor of this year's annual.

THE PUBLICATIONS Committee also said Friday they would announce the 1960 editor of the TOREADOR at a later date.

Three students — two boys and one girl — are vying for the editorship of the campus newspaper. The girl is Mary Alice Cretzinger, junior journalism major from Graham and presently Saturday copy editor.

THE TWO BOY applicants are Tommy Schmidt and Arthur Mayhew.

Schmidt is the news editor and Mayhew is the managing editor of this year's TOREADOR. Both are juniors.

Mrs. Cretzinger is AWS representative and historian for Theta Sigma Phi, national women's professional honorary journalism fraternity.

Schmidt is a member of Pi Kappa Alpha social fraternity and Sigma Delta Chi, men's professional journalism fraternity. Mayhew is a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon and also Sigma Delta Chi.

Dean, Pfluger Vie In Presidential Race

Over one hundred candidates are seeking office in the spring election.

Candidates for president of the Student Council are Bill Dean and Bill Pfluger, and running for vice president are Dub Heffington and Claude Rogers.

Contending for secretary are Linda Bunger, Mary Ann Lindley and Johnanna Zournas.

Bob Dyer and Edward Langston are running for Business Manager.

Service Set Tomorrow

TWENTY-EIGHT candidates are vying for the nine A&S representative positions. They are Judy Kay Jones, Linda Culver, Marcia Vick, Don Zimmerman, Peggy Johnston, Peggy O'Neal, Melinda (Mo) Harrison, Pete Baker, Marilyn Gardner, Eleive Blair, David Edwards, Larry Campbell, Janis Jones, Mabelle Tate, Don Nix, Suzie Duvall, Donna (Chris) Christopher, Mike Lundy, Karen (Cakay) Wright, Ken Talkington, Donald Weldon, Bill Boyd, Ruth Sewell, Betty Sue Meinecke, Elaine Bowron, Ann Fursman, Tom B. Wilson and Mayme McDaniel.

The All-College Recognition Service is scheduled to make approximately 400 recognitions Sunday in the Municipal Auditorium.

The thirteenth service begins at 2 p.m. Dean James G. Allen is the master of ceremonies.

THE PROGRAM begins with Tech's Concert Band, directed by D. O. Wiley, playing Schubert's Symphony in B minor "No. 8". The invocation will be given by Rev. Calvin W. Froehner of St. John's Methodist Church.

President E. N. Jones is the feature speaker. His introduction will be made by Dr. G. E. Giesecke, academic vice president.

Dean R. C. Goodwin will introduce the individuals being recognized for scholarship for the first time. Those being recognized for the second time will be introduced by Dean John R. Bradford.

PERSONS receiving recognition for the third time will be introduced by Dean George Heather.

President Jones will introduce the following students being recognized for scholarship for the fourth time and who will be awarded medals for this honor: Sunny K. Barrow Lee E. Huddleston, Joe Ben Hudgens, William F. Kelly, Raymond Knezek, Dennis G. Kuhler, Lawrence Merriman, Larry H. Pinson, Thomas B. Reager and Eldon J. Steelman.

Panhellenic Has Meet

Ninety representatives from ten Texas, New Mexico and Arizona Colleges to the Panhellenic Tri-State Regional Conference at Tech attended a breakfast early this morning to begin a day of meetings.

AT THE FIRST meeting this morning, Dean Florence Phillips of Tech will give a welcome, explaining the conference theme, "The Unity of Panhellenic." Discussion groups dealing with problems in rush systems and in council projects follow.

Mrs. Harry Power of Austin, a former member of the National Panhellenic Council, will give the main address at the noon luncheon in Rec Hall.

AFTERNOON discussion sessions will be on a unified Panhellenic, cooperation with the Interfraternity Council, junior and city panhellenic groups and council membership selection.

After a barbecue buffet in Rec Hall, delegates will attend the Phi Mu Alpha Interfraternity Sing Song.

COLLEGES represented are: Arizona State, New Mexico State, New Mexico University, Highlands University, Texas Western, West Texas State, North Texas State, TCU, Texas University, and Tech. Carolann Pinson, Canadian sophomore, is general chairman of the conference.

Tech's Panhellenic delegates are: Alpha Phi, Gay Douglas and Sally Swofford; Alpha Chi Omega, Cora Jo Lilly and Winn Sue Sherrill; Delta Delta Delta, Gail Petersen; Delta Gamma, Alice Ann Berry, Barbara Hawk, and Linda Jobb; Gamma Phi Beta, Mayme McDaniel and Ruth Sewell; Kappa Alpha Theta, Carolyn Porter and Sarah Pinson; Kappa Kappa Gamma Carolann Pinson and Melinda Husbands; Phi Mu, Marsha Marsh and Johnnie Wade; Sigma Kappa, Marsha Dowdy and Pat Huse; Zeta Tau Alpha, Judy Harris and Ruan Owen.

ANNUAL EVENT

Greeks Sing Tonight

The Interfraternity Sing Song, an annual spring event sponsored by Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia Fraternity, will be presented in the Lubbock Municipal Auditorium tonight at 8 p.m.

EIGHTEEN groups, eleven sororities and seven fraternities, are entered. Each group will present two selections.

This year, for the first time, awards will be given for the top three places, instead of the top two. Each first place winner will receive two trophies. The trophies are presented by the Interfraternity and Panhellenic Councils.

TEXAS TECH choir director, Gene Kenney, will be master of ceremonies. Judges for the contest are: Dr. John Anderson, Supervisor of Lubbock Public Schools Music; Bob Michner, Director of Midland Public Schools Music and Bob Clinton, Director of Snyder Public Schools Music.

Sororities and their selections are: Phi Mu, "To Phi Mu" and the Humming Chorus from "Madame Butterfly," directed by Judy Graves; Alpha Phi, "Happy Folk and "And So Goodnight," directed by Jane Patterson.

GAMMA Phi Beta, "Gamma Phi Man and "Pueri Hebraeorum," led by Mary Jane Campbell; Kappa Alpha Theta will sing, "Theta Dreams" and "When Jesus Wept," directed by Donna Pearson; Kappa Kappa Gamma, "Skip To My Lou" and "One, Two, Three Words," directed by Linda Roberts.

Other sororities and songs are Phi Beta Phi, "A Medley of Sorority Songs" and "The Birth of the Blues," led by Shirley Stephens; Sigma Kappa, "High in the Distant Sky" and "Ava Maria," directed by Dee Dorsett; Zeta Tau Alpha will sing "Lolly Toodum" and "I hear the Call of Zeta," under the directorship of Sue Dixon.

DELTA Gamma presents "Night and Day" and "Delta Gamma Dreamgirl," led by Nancy Baldwin; Alpha Chi Omega is to sing "Song of the Lyre" and selections from "Ceremony of Carols," led by Yvonne Skinner; Delta Delta Delta will present "A Gleaming White Pearl" and "Sourwood Mountain," directed by Martha Wynes.

Fraternities and their songs are Sigma Alpha Epsilon who will sing "Violets" and "Shenandoah" led by Bill Butler; Sigma Chi is to sing "Sweetheart of Sigma Chi" and "There Is Nothing Like a Dame" led by Taylor Sims; Delta Tau Delta, "A Toast to Dear Old Delta Tau" and "Ye Watchers and Ye Holy Ones," directed by Tommy Sanders.

PHI Gamma Delta will sing "Jubilate" and "Ballad of Jimmy Brown," led by James Goggan; Kappa Sigma is to sing "Sister He Kissed Her" and "Without A Song," directed by Doyle Gammill; Phi Kappa Psi, "Noble Fraternity" and "Medley of Negro Spirituals in Stereophonic," directed by Ray Moore; and Phi Delta Theta will sing "Soon Ah Will Be Done" and Phi Delta Serenade" led by Dick Scales.

Ballet, Roger Williams Perform In Auditorium

With the appearances of the National Ballet of Canada and Roger Williams, it is expected that some 6,000 people will have been entertained in the Lubbock Auditorium this month.

THE NATIONAL BALLET of Canada company will present "Les Sylphides," "Ballad" and "Offenbach in the Underworld" in their only West Texas appearance Monday night at 8 p.m. in the Lubbock Auditorium. This group of 75 is one of the largest and most successful touring ballet companies in America today. They are scheduled to appear at the State Fair Music Hall in Dallas Tuesday night.

Tickets for the performance will be on sale all day Monday in the lobby of the Auditorium at $4 and $2 with seats in the special student section available for $1.50.

ROGER WILLIAMS will take over the Auditorium stage with his "Special Easter Matinee" at 3:30 on March 29th. Appearing with Williams, who has sold more records than any other pianist in history, will be "The Quiet Men," the group that often records with him. This will mark the group's first West Texas appearance.

Tickets are $3.75, $3.25, $2.50, and $1.75. Piano students are admitted for $1.25. The box office in the lobby of the Auditorium is open daily for ticket sales from 9 to 5. For information call PO 2-4616.

A TECH FIRST — Jolene Coffee, Lubbock junior, takes a look at the remains of the first football used in competition at Texas Tech. This is just part of an exhibit in the Museum basement which features several other "Tech Firsts." Also included in the display is the first diploma issued by the college.

Museum Shows Display Of 'Texas Tech Firsts'

Lying in state, on a scarlet cloth display in The Museum, are the remains of the first football used in competition at Texas Tech.
THE FIRST diploma, issued by the college on May 13, 1927, a B. A. degree to Mrs. Mary Dale Buckner, is also in the display.
 A reprint of Senate Bill No. 103, establishing Texas Technological College, and the pen used by Gov. Pat Neff to sign the bill occupy a prominent place.
OTHER features of the exhibit include: minutes of Tech's first Board of Directors' meeting at Sweetwater, March 2, 1923; and the college by Allen Bros. American Legion Post in 1925; and Tech's first year-book, issued in 1926.

Flight Instruction Given Tech AFROTC Cadets

The AFROTC Flight Instruction Program provides advanced cadets with the chance to learn to fly and obtain a private pilot's license.
UNDER THE supervision of Capt. O. B. Ogletree, officer in charge of FIP, are 13 of the advanced cadets who are learning to fly. They are D. G. Allen, E. D. Allen, J. H. Ayres, J. W. Drummond, D. W. Farnham, R. D. Gunn, H. D. Henry, W. B. Holden, G. E. Joiner, K. D. Lockhart, T. L. Moseley, J. L. Riddle, and J. E. Willis.
 Those who qualify for the FIP receive approximately $500 worth of free flight instruction in Piper Cub aircraft at Wes-Tex Aircraft, Lubbock Municipal Airport. FIP provides 36½ hours flying time—20 hours of dual flight instruction, 15 hours solo flight, and 1½ hours final flight check.

IT'S MARCH 21 HERE'S SPRING SAND AND ALL

by CONNIE ANDERSON

So this is the first day of spring?

Nature certainly worked overtime to give us a beautiful March. Wonder where those budding flowers are? Warm, bright sunshine certainly isn't seeping through any green trees.

AT LEAST we have something in place of it—dust. Then there is the wind . . . thank goodness for that. We don't have to walk to class; we go air-express!

The spring horizon is beautiful, only trouble is—we can't see it. Latest radio news reports visibility at three miles.

SPRING shows signs of freshness, briskness, and invigorating enthusiasm. This is freshness? We can't even breath without getting a mouthful of dirt.

Let's just hope that spring's first impression isn't a lasting impression!

Frozen Poultry Experiment

Students in food and nutrition are experimenting on the freezing of mature poultry to determine their suitability for the commercial market.

The success of this project is dependent upon taste panels which will determine the quality of appearance and flavor. These are prepared dishes frozen for business. Mrs. Clara McPherson has been conducting the experiment the past week.

Techsans Talk Back

Legislator Reads About Tuition Views

Editor,
The following letter was sent to Waggoner Carr, House of Representatives (state). I thought you might be interested:
My dear Mr. Carr:

We are gravitating towards an "Aristocracy of the Moneyed-Class."

We are making money "the" essential to a higher education.

WE ARE MAKING true the prognostication of the totalitarian philosopher—Carlyle—when he said that democracy brings rise to the "Sham-Nobles" and not the truly noble.

Are the people with an abundant supply of money the most qualified, the noblest, to receive a higher education?

OR DO WE have many noble minds cursed by poverty who are trying to rise above this curse with an education that is SUPPOSEDLY there for everyone?

If we must have an American Aristocracy (and so it seems), let's make it an aristocracy of the mind, not the pocketbook. We will have a much noble society if we do!

FOR ADAM SMITH felt that a man could not make money and be moral at the same time, so are the rich truly aristocratic?

Many individual lives, yes, even the life of our country, hangs in the balance in this issue.

LET'S NOT make education prohibitive in so many instances like mine. I'm married with two children, making good grades while working eight hours a day, and without the GI BILL. Our budget is extremely close now (and we're trying to save for law school) and a tuition hike could very easily force myself and others like me to drop out of school.

Let's use the legislative minds we have to find another way out of the budget problem instead of oppressing POOR STUDENTS.

Sincerely yours,
J. J. Fletcher

Tech Athletes Draws Blast From Outsider

Editor,
It is indeed a shame that SOME of your "outstanding" athletes have to be so obnoxious and ruthless to the student body that they expect to support and respect them. I am speaking specifically of the intramural basketball game between the Chinese Bandits and the Fijis.

A TECH STUDENT, an athlete and spectator for the Bandits, proved his inconsideration and uncontrollable temper by hitting one of the spectators for the Fijis. The author has been told that the recipient of the blow is a track mentor and supposedly a fellow-athlete of the other student. I was standing beside the young coach when the blow was delivered. I know that it was unprovoked and uncalled for on the coach's part. It is indeed unfortunate that some of this "spirit" cannot be unleashed on the playing field in the fall. Perhaps Tech could be on top of the SWC!! Who knows?

THE intramurals were created for the purpose of GOOD, CLEAN, COMPETITIVE fun. Not for the creation and/or settlement of grudges and gangfights. The athletes should set the example for the other students to be proud of and to follow. Especially since they are being benefited with an education on the assumptions: 1. that they are outstanding in their respective fields; 2. their need; 3. their sense of fair play. Undoubtedly the latter was overlooked completely in the recruiting of many Tech athletes. Some definitely are not the logical receivers of such an honorable phrase.

It is by the hostility of such inconsiderate athletes as these that the show of condemnation falls on such respectable personalities as Mack Pogue, Floyd Dellinger, E. J. Holub and Glenn Amerson.

PERSONALLY, I am glad that I did not accept any scholarship, after such uncalled for outbreaks of temper and childishness. Congratulations to the "clean, respectable athletes" of Texas Tech, and to the Fijis for their efforts to keep the games as they should be. We welcome you to play us anytime.

Poor Manners Pointed Out

Editor,
I am appalled by the lack of common courtesy I have noticed lately in the library.

MANY STUDENTS ACT as though they are deeply insulted by having their books checked as they leave the library. I agree that it is a system for juveniles, but a glance at the past losses of the library shows it to be a necessity, for we have many juveniles at Tech. This system was brought into being to ease the labor budget, thereby leaving a portion of the budget available for the new lengthened schedule. This is a benefit for the student, so the least he could do would be to be courteous.

THERE HAVE been many complaints of the excessive noise in all sections of the library. The basement is a fine place to shoot the breeze with your buddy or to giggle with your girlfriend. But please shut where people are trying to study. Your misplaced whippers or snickers may disturb twenty people who are attempting to soak up a little knowledge. And lastly, dammit, if you can't chew gum with your mouth closed, spit the stuff out.

Sincerely,
J. J. F.

"A Little Bit"

James Hamm

One of the worst misconceptions that our educational system is laboring under is that institutions of learning must choose between either developing a small, select group of highly intelligent and trained persons who will control the "masses," or lowering its standards to that of the "common man."

EITHER EXTREME is in error, because both assume that a human being, except for a few isolated cases, doesn't possess a great amount of intelligence.

Actually, almost everyone has the mental capacity to reach high intellectual levels, according to present-day standards, but few have developed the ability to use a large amount of that capacity. Very few persons have put more than a small percentage of their mental powers to work.

IT WOULD SEEM, then, that the educational problem is one of developing the intellectual powers of students, rather than wholesale weeding of more poorly developed students, or glorifying mediocrity by lowering standards.

Courses, particularly at the college level, should be aimed at developing thinking by placing emphasis on individual work, study and contribution, rather than students' ability to remember small, insignificant facts for a short period of time.

INSTEAD OF trying to flunk ever greater numbers of students, instructors would do well to take an interest in developing good mental habits in their students. Tech has a few instructors who do try to help students to develop their mental powers, but they are few and far between.

More courses should be developed along the lines of a seminar, placing emphasis on student participation. Exams should be kept to a minimum, and projects should be used to a large extent in determining the progress of a student.

TO DEVELOP a system that would develop mental powers of students would take the enthusiasm and cooperation of students as well as faculty members—and a few archaic conceptions about the duties and responsibilities of education would certainly have to be done away with.

But even after cultivating every student in the above manner, there will be some that, because of more work, more ambition or special talents, will leave the other students behind, and will require more advanced methods of instruction.

THE ANSWER for them is special courses covering a greater amount of material and placing even more emphasis on individual work.

A group of students that exist under the present system would be completely done away with—the "never-do-wells." They can maintain minimum academic standards by taking subject such as cow-milking 333 or basketweaving 421, but with the type of courses mentioned above, the "party" crowd, not wishing to put in the personal work necessary, would be culled out.

STUDENT INSTRUCTION such as that outlined above has been practiced in the United States, but only at the graduate level or in "honor systems" for highly developed students.

Perhaps a case can be made for developing a "common man" or an "intellectual aristocracy" under our present system, but by developing the mental capacities of as many people as possible, a new and far superior system could be worked out.

UNDER OUR present system, perhaps there is a need for a "common man" to do the lowly tasks necessary to keep the system working, and perhaps there should be an "intellectual aristocrat" to do the thinking for this "common man".

But with the far higher intellectual provided by developing the mental powers of as many people as possible, a new system could be worked out that would keep the necessity of doing lowly tasks to a minimum, and would virtually erase the "common man", while replacing the "intellectual aristocracy" with a large group of constructive, thinking individuals.

Deadline Set Friday For Bicycle Entries

by MELINDA EISENWINE

Deadline for organizations planning to enter teams for the bicycle races is Friday, April 3, at 6 p.m. Entry blanks are available in the Student Council Office.

CONVOCAION for all team members, boys and girls, will be in Rec Hall at 5:15 p.m. the same day.

An orientation period acquainting officials with rules of the races will be Wednesday afternoon, April 1, in Rec Hall at 5:15.

TIME TRIALS are set for Saturday, April 4, at 2 p.m. which will narrow the field to 30 teams.

As this will be the first race for girls, cost of registration and length of the race will be announced at a later date. Other general rules are the same as for the boys' race.

ACCORDING TO James Babb, chairman of rules and regulations committee, the race shall be 40 laps around the Memorial Circle and Soapbuds Pavilion (the curbed area on which stands the Will Rogers Memorial).

The race, which starts at the Administration Building at 2 p.m., April 11, will be preceded by a warm-up period at 1 p.m. Practice period will be Saturday, April 4, at 2 p.m. to familiarize the riders with the race course.

THE TEAMS, four riders and two pit men, will have numbers corresponding to their starting position, which will be determined by the trial races. All changes and repairs are to be made in the team's pit.

All teams should know the meaning of the flags to be used. Flags and their meanings are: green; starting signal, clear course, resume speed; black; stop for consultation; red; stop, race is halted; yellow; slow speed and maintain position; White; contestant is starting last lap; checkered black and white; contestant is finished, return to pit. Failure to observe any of these flag signals will result in a penalty as determined by the judges committee.

RIDERS may take as many laps as they wish, changing only in the pit. Exceptions are in case of an accident, then a new rider may start from the place of accident.

The bicycle must be of a standard type, 26 inch balloon tires, single gear, one set of standard rear-wheel brakes, sprockets between a ratio of 2.5:1 and 2.6:1 and wheels either 26" x 1.75" or 26" x 2.125."

Riders may use their own discretion as to clothing.

A RIDER must not move in front of another rider unless he is more than one bike length ahead of him. Any team guilty of unsportsmanship like conduct will be penalized by the judges.

Persons entering the race will do so at their own risk and cannot make claim to the sponsors of their race or Texas Tech for any personal injury and/or property loss or damage.

Scholarship Groups Hear Rice Provost

Members of Phi Eta Sigma and Alpha Lambda Delta, freshman honorary scholastic societies, will hear Dr. Carey Cronis, Provost of Rice Institute, at a banquet tonight in the Tech Union Ballroom.

DR. CRONEIS has been chief academic administrator and professor of geology at Rice since 1954. Before coming to Rice, he was president of Beloit College for 10 years.

Previous to that he was a member of the University of Chicago faculty from 1928 to 1944 and curator of the Walker Museum there. He has also taught at the University of Kansas, University of Arkansas, Harvard and Wellesley.

AUTHOR OF TWO books on geology, he is a member of numerous professional and academic organizations and has served as editor of several publications.

The banquet will follow an invitation ceremony for Phi Eta Sigma, freshman men's scholastic fraternity, at 5 p.m. New members of Alpha Lambda Delta, freshman women's scholastic society, will be initiated in about a month.

OLD PARASOL IS MISSING

A very valuable antique parasol is reported missing by the speech department.

The parasol, necessary for the department's production of "Mad Woman of Chailot," was first discovered missing after the March 3 rehearsals for "Skit Row."

Anyone having information as to the whereabouts of the parasol is asked to contact Mayme McDaniel or anyone in the Speech Building.

Civil Engineers Tour Area Cities' Facilities

To supplement sanitary engineering courses, 30 civil engineering upperclassmen will tour community waste facilities in Odessa, Midland and Big Spring April 3-4.

THE TRIP is the second of two yearly tours conducted by the civil engineering department to allow students to observe the results of other engineers' work and see how facilities of various cities are constructed and operate.

"These tours contribute immeasurably to student understanding of the courses," Prof. C. E. Decker, civil engineering trip sponsor, says.

ON THE FIRST trip last October, students toured water department facilities of Abilene, Sweetwater and Big Spring.

The group will depart by chartered bus Friday afternoon, April 3 and return late Saturday.

TITLES VARIED

Library Gets New Books

"Doctor, Spare My Cow!"
"Handbook of Psychological Research on the Rat"

"How to Do Nothing with Nobody All Alone by Yourself"
These are only a few of the new books recently acquired by the Tech Library. Reading over a list of the titles is almost as interesting as reading a good novel. The titles are quite varied and range from the romantic to the ridiculous.

THESE NEW books include something for everyone. For the more romantic readers there are "Dr. Cupid," "Goodbye, Sweetheart," and "Not Wisely but Too Well."

Sports enthusiasts can learn about "Jiu-Jitsu" and Championship Basketball for Player, Coach, and Fan."

MUSIC LOVERS will find the scores of great works by Beethoven, Brahms and Mozart among the new books.

The mathematically minded may enjoy "Ten Place Logarithms of Numbers and Trigonometrical Functions" or "The Numerical Solution of Two-Point Boundary Problems in Ordinary Differential Equations."

FOR CHEMISTS there is "Reactions of Organic Compounds," and for biologists, "A Comparative Study of Chlorococcum Meneghini and Other Spherical, Zoospore-Producing Genera of the Chlorococcales."

And of course everyone will be interested in the "Second International Seaweed Symposium!"

FRUSTRATED decoration chairmen will be glad to know that the Library now has "How to Make Paper Flowers and Party Decorations."

Dinner Honors Top Students

Outstanding home economics students will be recognized at the annual home economics club banquet Tuesday at 6:30, by Dean Willa Vaughn Tinsley, in the Tech Union Ballroom.

SEARS ROEBUCK scholarships, the Ethel Foster Award, Malba Mae Maxey Award, Home Economics Club Award, Borden Award and the District II Home Demonstration Club Award will be presented, along with the Cagle Scholarship in Applied Arts.

There seems to have been a rash of incidents that have occurred on the athletic fields and courts lately. One of these incidents occurred during the Fijis-Chinese Bandits game for the All-College Championship. The game was won by the Fijis.

The other incident occurred during the Kappa Sig-Phi Delt softball game Wednesday. There have been conflicting stories about these mishaps and I am not here to determine who was right and who was wrong. However, it is my opinion that conduct such as this is always wrong between grown men. There should never, in my opinion, be a display of violence in any kind of athletic contest. I must say that it is sometimes hard to avoid. What I am trying to say is go somewhere else and knock each others brains out. Please don't do it in public.

Next year should be an exciting football year. This does not only apply to the varsity games, but to the freshmen footballers also.

The freshmen schedule for next year now includes a game to be played against the Air Force Academy freshmen at the Academy and also a game against the Arkansas freshmen here. From the letters of intent signed so far it appears that the scouts are gathering some real strength for the frosh squad next year.

Leon Hill, Tech basketball, played with the Ince Oilers in the AAU tournament in Denver last week end along with Gerald Myers, Chuck Key, Charles Lynch, and Wade Wolfe. They were eliminated in the first round by a last second shot from about 45 feet out by a McPherson, Kansas player.

Hill has received some offers to play basketball. Now he has to decide for the future. Myers has already taken the job at Monterey High school as assistant basketball coach. That's not a bad start by any stretch of the imagination. Key will probably go from school to his elevator.

After a close call with the Sneed Hall team and a near riot on the court the Chinese Bandits game, the Fijis captured the All-College basketball championship. Hail, Champs!

The Fijis tackled the intramural winner from West Texas State and defeated them 67-61. They will return the game at Canyon Thursday night. The West Texas State team lead at one point by 17 points, but the Fijis came through and subdued the poor foes. Congratulations boys, you deserve the title after the fights you put up.

I think Tech is one of the few schools in the country where being an athlete is a scholastic disadvantage. Here if you are an athlete it seems the teachers take special interest in you.

I am not campaigning for the school to relax as far as the athletes are concerned. However, I don't think that there is a need to be harder on them. I have witnessed instructors who have become obvious in their discrimination toward athletes.

Until this situation is corrected there will always be a degree of low morale. This can have a large bearing on the performance of the players. We don't ask for leniency toward these people, but let's give them a fighting chance.

In spite of all this, many of the athletes are honor students. The attitude of the teachers can in some cases be attributed to past performances by athletes in the classroom. If you prove yourself above this disadvantage, then you have a real accomplishment.

Hill Voted District Star

NEW YORK — Texas Christian's H. E. Kirchner was named "the most valuable player" in NCAA District 6 by the United States Basketball Writers Association.

Southern Methodist's Bobby James, who was killed tragically in a fire recently was among the stars voted top regional honors by the basketball writers.

THE NCAA DISTRICT STARS, as announced in the new issue of Look magazine are: Leon Hill, Texas Tech; Bobby James, Southern Methodist; H. E. Kirchner, Texas Christian; Tom Robitaille, Rice; Ronny Stevenson, Texas Christian.

The NCAA District 6 covers the states of Arizona, Texas and Arkansas.

IN BALLOTING for All America honors, Cincinnati's Oscar Robertson was the runaway choice of the basketball writers, corraling top-heavy support from the 600-member basketball writers association, declared Look.

Besides Robertson, other players on Look's 10-man All America squad, in which every player enjoys equal first-string stature, are: Bob Boozer, Kansas State; John Cox, Kentucky; Bob Ferry, St. Louis; Johnny Green, Michigan State; Tom Hawkins, Notre Dame; Bailey Howell, Mississippi State; Lou Pucillo, North Carolina State; Alan Seiden, St. John's; and Jerry West, West Virginia.

MURAL ROUNDUP

SAE Trips Delts

Intramural softball is in full swing with all leagues in action.

In the Fraternity League, Phi Gamma Delta plowed under the Sigma Nu team, 17-3, Alpha Tau Omega eked out a 5-4 win over the Sigma Chi's, Sigma Alpha Epsilon slaughtered the Delta Tau Delta team, 13-1, and the Phi Kappa Alpha's romped over the Phi Kappa Phi's, 14-10.

PHI DELTA Theta and Kappa Sigma have protested their game and it will be played again. The Phi Delts beat the Kappa Sigs in the first game by a score of 10-8.

So far in this league, the ATO, Kappa Sigs, Phi Delts, and SAE teams are undefeated.

Sunday at 2 p.m., the Phi Delts meet Sigma Nu, ATO plays the Kappa Sigs, the Fijis take on the Delts, and the Pikes battle Sigma Chi.

Monday at 5 p.m. SAE challenges the Phi Psi's.

IN THE DORMITORY league, only one game that was played stood up. The other games were protested. In the one, Bledsoe Hall defeated Dorm 6, 14-4.

The Dormitory League will see action again Tuesday when Dorm 5 meets Dorm 8, Dorm 6 plays Gordon Hall, and Bledsoe Hall takes on Sneed Hall. These games are scheduled for 5 p.m.

In Independent League 1, Delta Sigma Pi blasted the Cavaliers 19-0, while the Dairy Industry beat the Bums, 7-1. The T-Squares defeated the Baptist Student Union, 7-3. THIS LEAGUE sees action again Monday when the Bums play Delta Sigma Pi, T-Squares battle the Cavaliers, and the Baptist Student Union meets the Dairy Industry.

Bobby Morrow Is Top Draw At Texas Relays

AUSTIN (AP) — An invitation 100-meter race featuring Bobby Morrow and Bill Woodhouse will be a feature of the Texas Relays April 3-4.

The track meet is dedicated to the record-setting Abilene Christian sprint relay teams, which despite the loss of Morrow, will again be a dangerous quartet. Woodhouse sped to a wind-blown 9.3 recently in the 100 yard dash.

TWO YEARS ago Texas established a world record of 1:22.7 in the 880-yard relay and three members of that combination are still running for the Longhorns. Wally Wilson, Eddie Southern and Hollis Gainey will be joined on the anchor carry by sophomore Ralph Alspaugh. The time is still the best around four turns but last year Abilene Christian set a mark of 1:22.6 in a three-turn race at Modesto, Calif.

Tech Plays Double-header Today

by JOHN LEWIS

Texas Tech's season opener against Colorado was postponed yesterday because of blowing dust. If the weather permits the Raiders will open their 1959 campaign today with a doubleheader against the Buffaloes at 2 p.m.

VETERAN HURLER Houston Powell will be the probable starting pitcher against the Buffs. The Buffs are expected to start Joe Puleo, who won three and lost five during the 1958 campaign. Puleo made a showing in 10 games last year and allowed 25 earned runs. Tech's biggest asset this season is speed. The Raiders pitching and batting is rated as fair. In the past, hitting has not been one of Tech's strong points.

Tom Pritchard and Joe Reaves, both of Snyder, are expected to break into the starting lineup as they are a good double play combination.

NORM HUGGINS from Plainview, will return to the outfield after missing last season. His return, however, is offset by the loss of outfielder Bill Dean, who suffered a broken collar bone and will be out of action.

Tech's top three hitters will see action this afternoon. They are Ken Warren of Dallas, who hit .313 last year and is the first baseman, second baseman Dave Allen, Lubbock who hit .246 last year, and David Bourland from Abilene, who averaged .203 at shortstop.

Other returning lettermen expected to see action in the game today are first baseman Bruce Boyd, outfielder Gehrig Garrison, third baseman Dave Potter, shortstop Jackie Miller, and third baseman Gary Wetter.

COLORADO POSTED a 7-19 record last year and have nine lettermen returning from that team. The Buffs finished seventh in the Big Eight Conference with a 5-16 record.

Feathers plans to use at least four pitchers in doubleheader this afternoon. Powell will be backed up by James Johnson of Boling. In the second game Coach Feathers probably will start off with Charles Flanagan of Dumas and sophomore Bill Curry of Amarillo.

Golfers In Tourney

Texas Tech has two teams entered in the West Texas Relays golf tournament in Odessa, competing in the university-college class.

Play began yesterday and continues through today. There will be 18 holes of medal competition each day.

Hardin Simmons, ACC, and McMurry will compete against the Raiders. Tech was second at the Border Olympics and placed third at the Fort Worth Recreational Meet last weekend.

sa College, Amarillo College, and Frank Phillips.

Twenty-two high schools will be represented at the meet. Among those competing will be Amarillo Palo Duro, Plainview, Levelland, Midland, Hobbs, Lamesa, Pampa, Amarillo, Monterrey, Tom S. Lubbock, Abilene, Odessa, Wink, Andrews, Big Spring, Snyder, Crane, Monahans, Pecos, Borger, Brownfield, and Amarillo Tascosa.

JOHN PAUL CAIN, Chris Blocker, John Farquhar, Don Nix, and Don Kaplan make up the Tech varsity team. Cain and Kaplan were the standouts at the Fort Worth Recreational Meet with 72's while Farquhar, and Blocker shot 77's.

THE PICADORS will play in their first competition of the year and will be in the class with Odes-

Simpson Disliked Yanks

WEST PAL MBEACH, Fla. (P) — "The worst break I ever got was being traded to the Yankees."

The lugubrious moan came from Harry Suitcase Simpson, veteran of the baseball wars who is struggling to win the first base job with the Kansas City Athletics.

"The idea of any ballplayer being unhappy as a member of the world's champions!"

IT HAPPENED in 1957. Simpson was then an outfielder for the A's. He had hit .293 the previous season, driving in 105 runs. He was traded to the Yanks in a deal that brought Billy Martin to Kansas City.

"The reason I didn't want to be traded to the Yankees was because I knew I wouldn't get to play regularly," Simpson told baseball writer Joe McGuff of the Kansas City Star.

"I'm not the type of hitter who can sit on a bench for a week and then go up and hit."

SIMPSON'S FEARS were borne out. He was hitting .296 when traded. With the Yanks he dropped to .250 and, after playing in only 24 games for them last season, was traded back to Kansas City. He never was able to regain his form and wound up last year with a .255 average.

"When I went in the Yankee clubhouse that Sunday in 1957, I introduced myself to Casey Stengel," Simpson recalled. "He didn't say he was glad to have me or anything else. Instead he started talking about how he hated to lose Billy Martin. It made me feel a little funny."

"PLAYING WITH the Yankees was quite an experience. The players themselves were wonderful but I never did like it there . . . They seem to think you shouldn't make a mistake . . . I like to get a hit every time I go up but at the same time I know it just isn't possible."

Simpson said Manager Stengel's instructions bothered him.

Cincinnati Bases Hopes On Thomas and Pinson

TAMPA, Fla. (P) — Young pitchers, the home run bat of Frank Thomas and the ability of Vada Pinson are the big factors in probing Cincinnati's chances of beating last year's fourth-place finish.

THE REDS made two major deals with the Cardinals and Pirates during the winter months. The most important was the swap that brought Thomas to Cincinnati from Pittsburgh.

General Manager Gabe Paul and Manager Mayo Smith are trying to build up the Reds long ball department.

"We gave up three good men to get the home run bat we needed," said Smith of the Pittsburgh deal. "Much depends on Pinson coming through and young pitchers like Jim O'Toole. If Big Newk Don Newcombe can come back we should be tough. Of course, everybody knows our main problem is pitching."

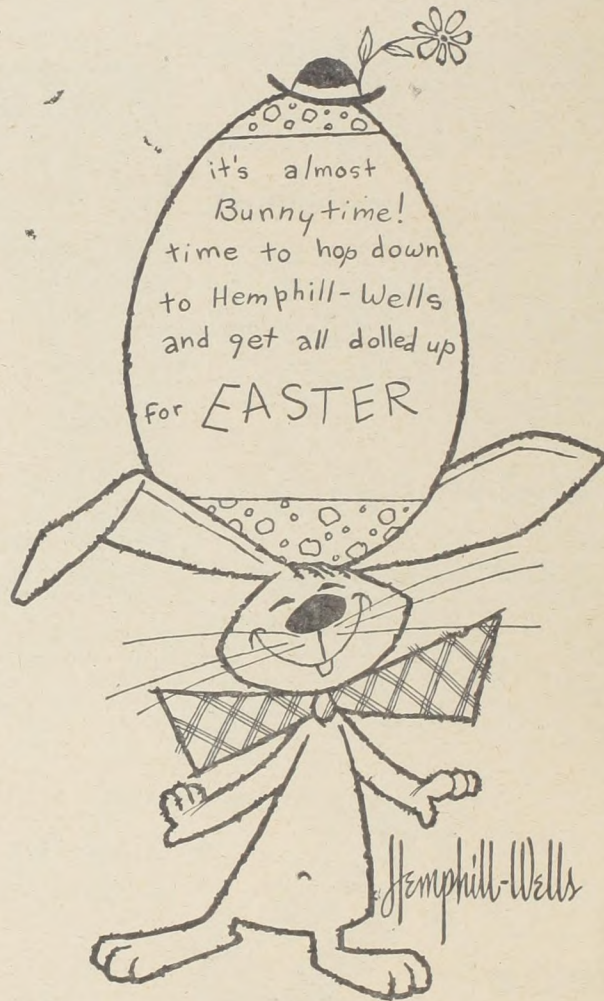

THE STARTERS at the moment are Newcombe (7-13 after an 0-6 start with Los Angeles), Bob Purkey (17-11), Joe Knuxhall (12-11) and Brooks Lawrence (8-13). O'Toole, the 20-year-old lefthander who was the outstanding player in the minors last season, comes up from Nashville with a 20-8 record for his first year in organized ball.

Smith has Cuban Orlando Pena (11-10 at Havana) and Hal Jeffcoat (6-8) for bullpen stoppers and Tom Acker (4-3) and Willard Schmidt (3-5) for the long jobs.

FRANK Robinson (.369) has been shifted from the outfield to first base. Johnny Temple (.306) on second, Roy McMillan (.229) at short and Thomas (.281) at Pittsburgh with 35 homers and 109 RBIs at third round out the infield. Eddie Kasko (.220 at St. Louis), Jim Pendleton (.312 at Columbus) and Walt Dropo (.290) are the reserves.
