

'Priority' list asked by Schmidt

Consulting architect Howard Schmidt met with the Tech Union Board Friday afternoon, telling them "everything's in your favor" and that the first step toward Union expansion is to prepare a written "priority program."

He referred to a list of facilities needed in an expanded Union, arranged in order of their importance. Schmidt advised that the Board plan in terms of 10 years from now and a projected enrollment of 38,000.

"You'll have to think big so that we can make the best use of the available land," he said. "We can start our preliminary work as soon as we receive your written program. It's quite possible that we'll have to go vertical."

Chairman James G. Allen said the board would work on the assumption that Union facilities would "not have to be augmented again." The Union has already expanded three times.

The intent to sell revenue bonds for Union expansion will be included in a request to the Federal Housing and Urban Development agency which will primarily concern funds for Phase II of the Wiggins Complex. Application deadline is Jan. 19.

"The sooner we get off the ground the better," Schmidt said, referring to rising bond interest rates. "This project will take a lot of work which we can assume will go on continually beginning today. We'll just have to chop it off where the money runs out."

He also asked the Board for a narrative of how each room will be used, so that the architects will be able to better plan the expansion.

Schmidt suggested that some of the available funds be used for renovation of the present facilities. He said he would bring this out in the Campus Planning Committee with the possibility of some improvements being made before actual construction begins.

Planning will take approximately a year, with a 12 to 18 month construction period, he said. This means that an expanded Union could be ready by the fall of 1968.

Schmidt also suggested that board members visit other campuses' Union facilities to determine where they had made mistakes and to avoid making the same mistakes in their expansion plans.

Fish Council to 'walk' for needy

The Freshman Council will sponsor a "walk-a-thon" Sunday in an effort to raise funds for the Goodfellows of Lubbock.

The Goodfellows are an anonymous group of businessmen who buy gifts for the needy and distribute them at Christmas.

Money will be obtained by asking motorists stopping at red lights for contributions. The walkers will cover strategic points of major traffic around town.

The "walk-a-thon" will originate in the Administration Building parking lot at 1 p.m. and last about four hours.

Aliens must report address by Jan. 31

All aliens in the United States, with the exception of non-citizens in diplomatic positions, must report their addresses to the government before Jan. 31.

Forms for making the reports will be available to aliens at all post offices and offices of the Immigration and Naturalization Service. The cards must be filled out and returned to the same office.

FAILURE TO comply with the reporting requirements of the 1952 Immigration and Nationality Act will lead to penalties set up by federal law.

Aliens who are not in the United States during January must report their addresses within 10 days after their return.

A HOLIDAY VIEW?—This will be the scene for thousands of motorists on the highways this Christmas. Circle K placed cars such as this one on the Ad Building parking lot and at the circles on the Dallas and Houston highways to remind Techs and all motorists to drive safely during the upcoming holiday season.

U.S. planes avoid Hanoi; Washington denies charges

SAIGON, South Vietnam (AP)—U.S. Fighter-bomber pilots steered clear of the Hanoi area Thursday and hit at North Vietnamese targets elsewhere as bad weather closed in on the Communist capital, spokesmen said Friday. Ground action in the South was light.

Controversy persisted despite official denials in Washington and Saigon that bombs fell in Hanoi during attacks Tuesday and Wednesday against a truck park and railroad yards on its outskirts.

IN ITS LATEST accusation, Peking charged that U.S. planes dive-bombed its embassy in Hanoi, causing "serious damage," and also damaged the nearby office of the New China News Agency. There was no mention of casualties in the broadcast report.

Communist propagandists ignored the implication that stray shells and missiles of anti-aircraft crews were responsible for any damage or casualties within the city, immune by Pentagon orders through months of air warfare.

The U.S. military statement said:

"A complete review of pilot reports and photographs of the 13-14 December air strikes on the Van Dien truck depot and the Yen Vien railroad classification yard showed that all ordnance expended by U.S. strike aircraft was in the military target areas. None fell in the city of Hanoi. On December 14th, pilots reported seeing a surface-to-air missile hit a North Vietnamese junk."

FOLLOWING MOSCOW'S lead, there were denunciations in such nations as Czechoslovakia, Poland, Romania, Yugoslavia, Mongolia and North Korea of what Ho Chi Minh's regime calls "the escalation of America's criminal war of aggression."

Typical was a charge by the Romanian government, in a statement issued in Bucharest, that the United States has created a grave danger to world peace by staging "fresh barbarous bomb raids" on Hanoi. The Russians, in announcing Thursday a boost in military spending, had declared a new war threatened because of "U.S. criminal aggression in Viet Nam."

THE U.S. COMMAND said a radar site 11 miles southeast of the port of Haiphong and cargo barges 15 miles farther southeast were among targets of American fliers assigned to 58 multiplane missions over the Communist north.

Other attacks were staged in the area of Dien Bien Phu, 180 miles west of cloud-shrouded Hanoi, and in the southern panhandle. Pilots said they destroyed or damaged 11 barges and junks, three bridges, 10 storage areas and an ammunition dump.

O'Neil Ford will design new building

Prominent San Antonio architect O'Neil Ford, designer of entire university and college campuses whose work is also known in Europe and South America, has been named architect for Tech's proposed new architecture building.

Vice President for Business Affairs M. L. Pennington said Friday the decision to retain Ford was approved by the Tech Board of Directors following their Wednesday meeting here.

FORD, WHOSE firm designed all 20 buildings on the Trinity University campus in San Antonio and who is doing the entire Skidmore College campus in Saratoga, N.Y., said he was "most grateful and enormously pleased" at his selection.

He is a Fellow in the American Institute of Architects and was recently named a Fellow in Architecture at the University of Virginia. His firm has won many AIA design awards, and Ford has served on the National AIA Honor Awards Jury.

He has served as visiting critic at many major architecture schools in this country, and has been a Preceptor in Architecture at Rice University.

Of Tech's proposed new architecture facility, Ford said "I honestly think, by its nature, that it ought to have a definite connotation that it is a place of creativity."

FORD'S EXPERIENCE with educational institutions also includes design of the library at Southern Methodist University, the medical library of the University of Texas, Phillips University at Enid, Okla., and Marymount College in Tarrytown, N.Y.

His firm has done much work for Texas Instruments including the Richardson plant, and plants in England, France, Italy, Switzerland and Argentina.

Nolan E. Barrick, head of Tech's department of architecture and allied arts, said he was "delighted" at Ford's selection to design the new building.

Council invokes economic sanction against Rhodesia

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—For the first time in the history of the United Nations the Security Council on Friday night invoked mandatory economic sanctions, including an oil embargo, in an attempt to crush the rebel white minority regime in Rhodesia.

But the council failed to provide for use of force to compel obedience to the oil embargo, thus raising the question of its effectiveness.

By a vote of 11 to 0 with four abstentions the 15-nation council approved an amended British resolution calling for sanctions against the major exports of Rhodesia, a country of four million blacks ruled by a government made up of leaders from its 250,000 whites.

The Soviet Union, France, Bulgaria and Mali abstained.

THE COUNCIL rejected African demands for a strict oil embargo enforced by Britain and aimed at South Africa and Portugal, the chief suppliers of oil to the central African country. The demands were contained in an amendment which failed to get the required nine votes.

The Africans had to be content with an amendment inserted at their request in the British resolution asking all U.N. member countries to prohibit use in their territories of facilities for land or air transport of oil to Rhodesia.

This made no mention of use of force by Britain or by the United Nations—a course the council would conceivably consider in the future—when the effect of Friday night's resolution becomes known.

BOTH SOUTH AFRICA and Portugal have said they will not heed the council resolution. This has convinced most Africans that nothing but force can topple the 13-month-old regime in Salisbury headed by Prime Minister Smith.

What the Africans wanted was an amendment inviting Britain to "prevent by all means the transport to Southern Rhodesia of oil or oil products."

In the British view this could require a naval blockade of all southern Africa and involve a confrontation with South Africa, whose trade with England is vital to the strength of her economy.

NEVERTHELESS, the resolution approved by the council represented an historic step by the council which acted under provision of Chapter 7 of the U.N. Charter dealing with threats to the peace.

The League of Nations invoked sanctions against Italy on behalf of Ethiopia in 1935. They failed mainly because of the refusal of many members

MUN deadline for applications set at Monday

Applications for Model United Nations delegations have been extended until Monday. Students who wish to represent a country should apply in the Tech Union Program Office by then.

The MUN, scheduled March 24, will discuss one topic this year—the admission of Red China.

Seven political experts will give delegates a view into Red China's political turmoil, military strength and her relationship to neighbors and other Communist countries.

PRIOR TO THE session, four speakers will provide delegates with background for the MUN.

They will include Dr. Ralph Bunche, undersecretary of the United Nations; Dr. William Van Cleave, Stanford Research Institute; and Dr. H. M. McDonald, government professor at Texas A. & M. University.

Dr. Robert Lawrence, assistant professor of government and co-sponsor of the MUN, said the speakers before the general sessions begin will give delegates background so they will be able to vote according to the views of the country they represent.

to carry them out. Another factor was failure to include oil. On the final day of the debate Lord Caradon, the British delegate, put into its resolution a clause providing for an embargo on shipment of all motor vehicles and commercial aircraft to Rhodesia.

Other exports singled out under the resolution were asbestos, iron ore, chrome, pig iron, sugar, tobacco, copper, meat and meat products, hides, skins and leather.

The British resolution as submitted originally asked also for an embargo on arms and other military equipment, including planes and vehicles.

Mrs. JFK files petition to stop publication

NEW YORK (AP)—Mrs. John F. Kennedy appealed to a Manhattan judge Friday to forbid publication of a controversial book about the assassination of her husband.

Mrs. Kennedy's petition said publication of the book, "Death of a President" by William Manchester, would violate her privacy and destroy her contractual rights.

SHE HAS FURTHER complained that the book exploits "her emotional state during an interview" with Manchester in 1964 giving her recollection of the assassination in Dallas, Nov. 22, 1963.

In the petition filed with Manhattan Supreme Court Justice Saul S. Streit, Mrs. Kennedy claimed publication without her approval would be a breach of an agreement between her and the author.

Judge Streit signed a show-cause order directing Manchester and two publishers to appear on Dec. 27 and explain why he should not issue an injunction against publication.

THE PUBLISHERS are Look magazine, which is reported to have paid $665,000 for the right to serialize portions of the book starting with its Jan. 10 issue, and Harper & Row, a publishing firm which plans to bring out the full hard-cover version in April.

Mrs. Kennedy said in an affidavit supporting her petition that in return for her help in preparing his manuscript, Manchester agreed not to publish until he obtained "my express consent and approval as to the mode, time and text of any publication."

She said she had not given her consent and in a second supporting affidavit her brother-in-law, Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., swore that he had not cleared the manuscript either.

Said Mrs. Kennedy in her 10-page affidavit:

"AFTER THE death of President Kennedy our family became concerned about the spate of sensational and highly commercialized writings which we knew would appear concerning that event.

"In an attempt to make available to the public at least one work of accuracy and good taste which would be presented in a dignified manner, the family decided to assist defendant Manchester, a recognized author, in the preparation of an account of the cir-

Wrecked autos encourage safe holiday driving

Fifty thousand persons died in the United States as the result of auto accidents last year.

Thousands escaped death, but were left permanently crippled.

HOW MANY TEXAS Tech students will become statistics written in blood?

Two battered cars which once played roles in accident statistics were placed on the campus today to remind Techs of these tragic statistics.

Circle K members placed these cars in the southeast and southwest corners of the Administration Building parking lot. Automobiles are also located at the circles on route to Dallas and Houston on the outskirts of town.

THE LUBBOCK AND Central Wrecking Yards supplied the automobiles for the Circle K "Drive Safely" project.

"Twas the night before Christmas when all through the house not a creature was stirring . . ." is the motto for this campaign. Circle K members have placed posters encouraging highway safety in every building and dormitory and at the campus entrances.

stances and events surrounding the death of President Kennedy."

She said a guarantee that she would have veto rights over the finished product was part of an agreement entered into between Manchester and Sen. Kennedy.

Mrs. Kennedy asserted that both publishers had "refused to recognize my rights."

SHE SAID SHE understood that Cowles Communications, Inc., publishers of Look, had contracted to pay Manchester the $665,000 for the rights to extracts totaling no more than 80,000 words. She added that she understood Manchester had further granted Michael Joseph, Ltd., of London, the right to publish the book in England.

Mrs. Kennedy asserted that publication of the manuscript as it stands "will result in precisely the sensationalism and commercialism which we, Robert F. Kennedy and I—sought so strenuously to avoid."

Such publication, she declared, "is in total disregard of my rights, if it goes forward, will utterly destroy them."

SEN. KENNEDY said in his affidavit he understood Manchester and the publishers thought the agreement had been superseded by a telegram he sent Harper & Row on July 28. He denied that such was the case.

The senator said he sent the telegram after "I was told by Harper's representative that Manchester was becoming ill from an obsession with the thought that the book might never be published."

Sen. Kennedy quoted his telegram as saying that he had not read the manuscript but "I know of the late president's respect for Mr. Manchester as an historian and reporter."

HE SAID THE telegram went on to say:

"However, if Mr. Manchester's account is published in segments or excerpts, I would expect that incidents would not be taken out of context or summarized in any way which might distort the facts of, or the events relating to, President Kennedy's death." Neither Sen. Kennedy nor the President's widow appeared in court.

College Awards Board begins search for deserving students

The College Awards Board will soon initiate its annual search for hard working, behind-the-scenes students who would otherwise not be recognized.

Dean James Allen, chairman, said the purpose of the committee was to "select those students who have done special and distinguished service to the College and to the student body of such a distinction as to deserve special recognition."

A REPRESENTATIVE of each of the five Schools and an appointed member of the Student Senate will select four more students for the Awards Board at the first meeting. The selection will be from two nominees submitted to the Board by the deans of the Schools of Arts and Sciences, Home Economics, Engineering and Business Administration.

The School of Agriculture will be represented by Frank Busby of the Student Senate. FACULTY MEMBERS are Dr. Samuel Curl, Agriculture; Mrs. Ernestine Killehenstein, Business Administration; Dr. John Anderson, Arts and Sciences; Dr. Florence Petzel, Home Economics and Dr. Willie E. Phillips, Engineering. Dr. Curl said the completed committee will send out questionnaires to all deans, department heads and organization presidents to find names and all possible information about the individuals who have been recommended.

Curl also said that there is no set number of students who can be recognized but that the number is small enough so the individual can feel that it is a distinct honor.

Santa Claus dodges wire

WASHINGTON (AP)—Santa Claus beware: When you and your reindeer leave the North Pole on Christmas Eve, you still may have to dodge thousands of pieces of copper wire whizzing through space.

The Air Force disclosed today that some of the 480 million copper wire "whiskers" it shot into space three years ago in a communications experiment will remain in a near-polar orbit about 2,000 miles above the North Pole for another two years.

The report in the technical journal Science added that "several hundred million" of the pieces of wire, each only three-fourths of an inch long, started falling gently back to earth last year.

Christmas concert is Sunday

Saint-Saens' "Carnival of Animals," illuminated by special dances and the whimsical verse of Ogden Nash, will be a major attraction at Texas Tech's sixth annual Children's Christmas Concert Sunday.

Paul Ellsworth, who will conduct the Tech Symphony Orchestra, explained the "Carnival of Animals" as a satire on composers, conductors, and pianists written in the late nineteenth century. Dancers will appear as wild donkeys, elephants, kangaroos, fish, cuckoos, and other animals used to carry out the satirical theme of the piece.

Charles Roe will narrate the verses, and members of Tech's Dance Theater will portray the animal characters under the direction of choreographer Suzanne Aker.

SOLO PIANISTS will be high school students Joan Dawson of Springlake and Ann Hearne of Lubbock, winners of the Christmas Concert competition held by Tech's music department.

Opening numbers will include a Kabalevski Overture, selections from "The Wasp," Williams, and "Petrouchka," Stravinsky. Following the "Carnival of Animals," Mr. Ellsworth will choose a child from the audience to conduct the orchestra. Santa Claus will then appear and throw candy to the children. The closing number will be Leroy Anderson's "A Christmas Festival."

THE CONCERT, presented each year for the entertainment of Lubbock and area youngsters, will be open to the public. The music is scheduled to begin at 3 p.m. in Lubbock Municipal Auditorium, and there is no admission charge.

Alpha Phi Omega delegates appointed as ambassadors

W. D. "Dub" Rogers, Mayor of Lubbock, will bestow the positions of ambassadors extraordinary on the 27 Tech Chapter delegates to the Alpha Phi Omega National Convention in Minneapolis, Minnesota, Dec. 27-31.

In a 10 a.m. ceremony on Wednesday, Rogers and the City Council will present certificates of ambassadorship to the Beta Sigma Chapter delegates and authorize them to present to Perry

NEWS for ENGINEERING GRADUATES 1966

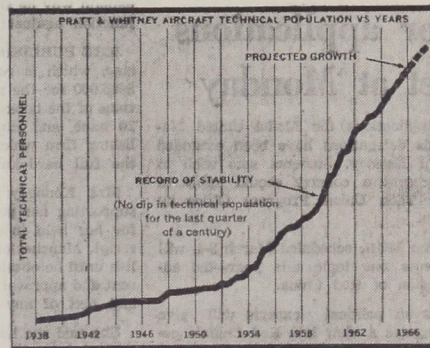

Continued expansion of our military and commercial business provides openings for virtually every technical talent.

As you contemplate one of the most important decisions of your life, we suggest you consider career opportunities at Pratt & Whitney Aircraft. Like most everyone else, we offer all of the usual "fringe" benefits, including our Corporation-financed Graduate Education Program. But, far more important to you and your future, is the wide-open opportunity for professional growth with a company that enjoys an enviable record of stability in the dynamic atmosphere of aerospace technology.

And make no mistake about it . . . you'll get a solid feeling of satisfaction from your contribution to our nation's economic growth and to its national defense as well.

Your degree can be a B.S., M.S., or Ph.D. in: MECHANICAL, AERONAUTICAL, CHEMICAL, CIVIL (structures oriented), ELECTRICAL, MARINE, and METALLURGICAL ENGINEERING • ENGINEERING MECHANICS, APPLIED MATHEMATICS, CERAMICS, PHYSICS and ENGINEERING PHYSICS.

For further information concerning a career with Pratt & Whitney Aircraft, consult your college placement officer—or write Mr. William L. Stoner, Engineering Department, Pratt & Whitney Aircraft, East Hartford, Connecticut 06108.

Take a look at the above chart; then a good long look at Pratt & Whitney Aircraft—where technical careers offer exciting growth, continuing challenge, and lasting stability—where engineers and scientists are recognized as the major reason for the Company's continued success.

TV special marks church anniversary

To commemorate the 900th anniversary of Westminster Abbey, KTX-TV, Channel 5 is presenting a one-hour documentary special at 9 p.m. Thursday. "Westminster Abbey" will round off a year's celebration of this historic event, as well as the Battle of Hastings, fought in 1066.

Last December 28, Queen Elizabeth inaugurated the anniversary celebration to run for a full year. Nine hundred years earlier on Christmas Day, 1065, the vast monastery on the banks of the Thames had been completed and awaited consecration by Edward the Confessor, King of England. But Edward, who had watched the massive church take shape from his own riverside palace, lay ill, and within eleven days was dead.

He was the first of many monarchs, politicians, poets and clerics to be entombed in the Abbey, which has also seen the time of William the Conqueror, who defeated the English at Hastings only a few months after Edward died.

Twenty-five years after the bombing of Pearl Harbor, the voice of President Roosevelt rises from the holocaust denouncing "a date which will live in infamy." The bombings and the battles, the great voices and the great crises of the past 25 years will be recaptured on "The Lion and the Eagle" at 9 p.m. Monday.

Through the films emerge history's voices: Churchill announcing the end of the war in Europe; Joseph McCarthy on his "hanging expedition;" defeated candidate Adlai Stevenson asking, "Who did I think I was, running against George Washington?"

Guest on "U.S.A. Poetry," 9 p.m. Tuesday, is Louis Zukofsky. Although never widely known as a poet, his work as well as his writings on poetry have served as an example and exerted an influence over an entire generation of American poets.

ON "U.S.A. Art as a Religion," 9:30 p.m. Tuesday, Tom Wolfe, a writer for the old "New York Herald Tribune," likens the "culture boom" in the United States to religion whereby its participants accomplish through it either a religious denial of the world, or a legitimization of worldly pursuits. This "religion of art" he feels, is practiced by the educated classes—the college-educated

Pantex, Tech research farm, is site of numerous projects

By BETTY GRAY
Staff Writer

Research, public service, and support of the resident instructional programs at Tech are the primary functions of Pantex, Tech's 14,000 acre research farm near Amarillo.

More than 30 research projects are now underway at the farm involving agronomy, soils, water, entomology, range management, and livestock. Both faculty members and graduate assistants are active in the research program which often extends into the classroom.

The most important research at Pantex is in the field of beef cattle.

An editorial

A WINning proposal

Almost lost in a maze of physical expansion, proposed tuition raises, ICASALS and countless other activities at Tech this fall has been another program which could be of great importance to the university—the Western Information Network.

Relatively unpublicized WIN will link 18 junior and senior colleges in West Texas together via a closed circuit television network, pioneering what could be one of the biggest breakthroughs in higher education in several years.

This proposal is the first of its kind in the nation, and if successful could lead to a statewide network and possibly even national participation. Its possibilities are unlimited.

For instance, WIN would make cooperative research projects possible, allowing specialists at different institutions to work together on major research projects. It would allow recognized specialists at one school to teach classes at another so that their talents and knowledge would be more widely used.

Also, it would help soothe the severe shortage of qualified professors at many junior colleges which are having difficulties recruiting faculty members because of a national professorial shortage.

And most important, it would improve communications among institutions of higher learning, enabling each to seek advice from and better coordinate programs with other campuses.

WIN is not as yet completely off the ground, but progress is being made, stemming from a mid-September conference on the Tech campus of those schools involved. Their objective is a practical and a revolutionary one, one which it can be hoped will meet with complete success.

'TIS THE SEASON TO BE JOLLY

I know how busy you are—studying, going to class, helping old grads find their dentures after Homecoming—but, hark, the Yuletide is almost upon us and it's time we turned our thoughts to Christmas shopping.

We'll start with the hardest gift problem of all: what to give the man who has everything. Well sir, here are some things I'll bet he doesn't have: 1) A dentist's chair. 2) A Mach number. 3) A street map of Perth, Australia. 4) Fifty pounds of chicken fat. 5) A pack of Personna Super Stainless Steel Blades.

"What?" you exclaim, your eyebrows leaping in wild incredulity. "The man who has everything doesn't have Personna Super Stainless Steel Blades? What arrant nonsense!" you scoff, making a coarse gesture.

But I insist. The man who has everything doesn't have Personna because everyone in the dorm is always borrowing them. And small wonder! Wouldn't you be there with an empty razor and a supplicating side if you heard somebody had super-blades that were super-sharp and super-durable; that scrape not, neither do they nick; that shave you easily and breezily, quickly and slickly, scratchlessly and matchlessly; that come both in Double-Edge style and Injector style? Of course you would!

So here is our first gift suggestion. If you know a man who shaves with Personna, give him a safe.

Next let us take up the thorny problem of buying gifts when you have no money. Well sir, there are many wonderful gifts which cost hardly anything. A bottle of good clear water, for example, is always welcome. A nice smooth rock makes a charming paperweight. In fact, one Christmas back in my own college days, these are exactly the gifts I gave a beautiful coed named Norma Glebe. I took a rock, a bottle of water, a bit of ribbon, and attached a card with this tender sentiment:

*Here's some water
And here's a rock.
I love you, daughter,
Around the clock.*

Norma was so moved, she seized the rock, smashed the bottle, and plunged the jagged edge into my sternum.

Personna Super Stainless Steel Blades, Double-Edge or Injector, and from Personna's partner in shaving luxury, Burma-Shave, regular or menthol.

Raiders meet Jayhawks tonight

By GEORGE CHAFFEE
Sports Editor

"When things went bad for me a friend said, 'Cheer up. Things could get worse.' I cheered up and sure enough, things did get worse."

The above quote is a little old, but with the loss of Vernon Paul, it well describes the plight of Tech's Red Raiders as they meet Kansas State tonight.

THE 6-7 POST man underwent an appendectomy yesterday which will put him out for several weeks if not the season. Ironically, this was the proverbial "straw that broke the camel's back" since Paul had mononucleosis earlier in the season, then battered his face so that he looked like a prize fighter in several collisions on the court.

The Raiders, already hit by every conceivable hardship in a coach's nightmare, have now lost one of their two "tall men," just at the time they regained another mono victim — 6-7 Benny Wiggins.

WIGGINS PLAYED for five minutes against New Mexico and was used sparingly against Oklahoma.

Kansas State Coach Fred (Tex) Winter has led the Wildcats from an opening loss to Minnesota to four straight victories over Oregon, Baylor, Florida State and Indiana.

As far as the series with Texas Tech has been concerned, the former Lubbock resident hasn't shown much appreciation, coaching the Wildcats to wins over the Raiders in all three of their former meetings.

RINGLEADER of the Wildcats' recent surge has been Dennis Berkholz, a 6-1 guard. Berkholz upped his season scoring mark to 15.6 points per game by firing for 27 in K-State's 82-69 conquest of Indiana.

However, defense has played the greatest part in the Wildcats' success and the main reason is a 6-10, 230-pound center named Roy Smith.

"ROY IS THE KEY to our defense," admits Winter. "Right now he is playing at 75 per cent efficiency. In another two weeks he should be at full-strength."

Coach Gene Gibson will start Dave Olsen in Paul's place for the 8 p.m. tilt at Municipal Coliseum.

Relay team runs second

The Texas Tech sprint relay team captured second place in the Jaycee-Federation Invitational Track Meet held Thursday in Houston.

The Raiders finished behind Texas Southern University, which had a winning time of 40.2 seconds, Tech was timed in at 41.3.

North Texas State finished third in the relay.

Running on the Tech team were Gary Golden, Stephenville sophomore; Richard Hardy, Dallas senior; James Jones, Austin senior; and Don Parrish, Daingerfield senior.

Tech also had a mile relay team entered in the meet but results of the race were not available by press time.

Mississippi favored in Bluebonnet Bowl

(AP)—Mississippi, the nation's third best defensive team, ruled a one touchdown favorite over Texas in Saturday's eighth Bluebonnet Bowl between two veterans of post season classics.

PREDICTIONS of no rain boosted hopes of bowl officials for the first sellout in the seven year history of the Houston classic.

The forecast also calls for a temperature of about 58 degrees at the 2:15 p.m. EST kickoff.

The Rice Stadium capacity is 70,000, but bleachers could be added for 2,000 if necessary.

THE GAME will be nationally televised (ABC) with the Houston area blacked out.

The game matches two of the strongest finishing college teams in the country. Mississippi (8-2) won its last six games. The Rebels lost only to nationally ranked Alabama and Georgia.

Texas (6-4) won four of its last five games.

MISSISSIPPI coach Johnny Vaught said he is not concerned about his team being a 6½ point favorite.

"I like for our team to know it is supposed to win," he said and laughingly added, "If they don't, I'll tell them it's not my fault."

THE REBELS gave up an average 74.1 yards rushing per game this season and shut out five opponents. Vaught indicated his team could have trouble stopping Texas' fancy sophomores, quarterback Bill Bradley and tailback Chris Gilbert.

Bradley suffered an early season knee injury and played several games with a limp. Longhorn coach Darrell Royal has indicated Bradley will be stronger but whether he can sprint out effectively against the powerful Rebel defense could be the key to Texas' chances.

GILBERT rushed for 1,080 yards on 206 carries this season which is about 300 more than all Mississippi's opponents made on the ground in 10 games.

Robinson traded to Cincinnati; Jim O'Toole goes to Chicago

(AP)—Yes sir, F. Robinson will be playing the outfield for the Cincinnati Reds next season.

It won't be big Frank, however. Instead it will be little Floyd Robinson, obtained from the Chicago White Sox in one of four deals completed shortly before the intermajor league baseball trading deadline Thursday night.

THE REDS also acquired right-hander Roland Sheldon and southpaw Dick Stigman from Boston to complete a trade that sent right-hander Hank Fischer to the Red Sox last season. Sheldon and Stigman have been assigned to Cincinnati's Buffalo farm club in the International League.

The Los Angeles Dodgers obtained right-handed reliever Bob Lee from the California Angels for lefty Nick Willhite.

AND THE Baltimore Orioles whose trade with Cincinnati for Frank Robinson last winter was a pivotal forerunner of their pennant and World Series triumphs and irked Cincinnati fans, sent right-handed relief pitcher Dick Hall to Philadelphia for cash or a player to be named by next May 15.

Texas Tech's Coach J T season, finished in a sixth place tie in the Southwest Conference, with a 2-5 mark. Before the season one national magazine, noting King's conference "Coach of the Year" honors in 1965, when the Raiders were 8-2, and, considering Tech's graduation losses, asserted that a 2-8 mark should qualify him for a repeat award.

ALTHOUGH disappointing to King, the 4-6 record impressed followers who saw the Raiders suffer an un-matched wave of injuries costing the services of more than three-fourths of the starters for from one game to a full season.

FOLLOWING the 1964 season King coached the Raiders in the Sun Bowl against Georgia.

Texas Tech, 4-6 for the 1966

King would have been on the staff last year except for a date conflict with the Gator Bowl contest matching the Red Raiders and Georgia Tech. He still had an all-star engagement, however, in the January Hula Bowl at Honolulu.

Still, the Raiders were able to finish with a flourish, knocking off nationally-ranked Arkansas 21-16.
