Defense Food Production Is Planned Here

Agricultural Groups Map Campaign To Increase Production

About 200 representatives of various agricultural agencies were on hand Friday for a "Food for Freedom" rally in the Settles hotel.

The meeting, consisting principally of county USDA defense board members of this district, was for the purpose of studying food and feed needs of the United States in the defense program, and means of supplying these needs.

Greater food production was approached from two angles at the morning session. Production for commercial use and production for home use.

After Paul Haines, extension service speaker, briefly outlined agriculture's vital part in national defense, J. B. Hall, district AAA fieldman, listed the food production goals fixed for Texas and the various counties for 1942.

He pointed out that marked increases are being asked in garden crops, eggs, poultry, milk, beef, pork, mutton and field crops to supply civilian, army, and lease-lend needs.

G. W. Barnes, extension service beef husbandman, read papers outlining in detail the present supply and estimated needs for dairy products, poultry, livestock, vegetables, fats, oils and fruits.

Hazel Phipps, extension service women's work specialist, spoke on production of food for home use to relieve other foods for government uses.

Fred Rennels, state AAA assistant administrative officer, presided for the morning session. G. M. Morris, San Angelo, of the soil conservation service, took the chair to preside for the afternoon session.

First on program was a detailed discussion of farm plan sheets for 1942, on which farmers will be asked to pledge their increased food production. Then representatives of various farm agencies were to present outlines of their part in the national defense program.

These were to include: Rennels, representing AAA; Ruth Thompson, district agent, for the extension service; J. Louis Thompson, farm credit administrator; Earl Wiley, Farm Security administration; Morris, for soil conservation service, and others.

Flight Board May Return

Sgt. Troy Gibson, U.S. army recruiting officer, said Friday that he planned to ask for the flight examining board to return here around Nov. 7 to examine 10 other applicants for aviation cadet.

The sergeant was particularly anxious that other young men, regardless of whether they have college training, contact him so they may be included in the group to be examined.

If 10 approved men, who do not have college training, are available, it is planned to start a refresher course here by Nov. 13 so that they may be eligible to take the next aviation cadet examinations in February.

Among those to appear before the examining flight board, said Sgt. Gibson, are Lawrence Robinson, Lee A. Putnam, Murray, Patterson, W. H. Crenshaw, John F. Priddy, Stanton, J. B. Settles, Samuel G. Ratliff, Garden City, Preston Lovelace, Tom Houston, Stanton, and E. G. Christensen.

NEW YORK, Oct. 31 (AP)—A five-day old strike at the Robbins drydock, involving 5,500 workers and repair work on 34 British and American ships, was settled today.

Wichita Flood Hits Peak; 1,000 Persons Homeless

Rising flood waters of Holiday creek today spread farther over residential areas in the southeastern edge of Wichita Falls where 1,000 persons already had been driven from their homes.

However, it was reported that the overflow had reached its peak shortly afternoon and no further damage was feared. The water was expected to recede soon.

Lake Wichita, which feeds the normally small stream, was dropping slowly from a record high of 59 inches over its spillway.

Although clouds carried a threat of further rain, the forecast for West Texas was clear for tonight and tomorrow.

The Red Cross was providing food and shelter for 750 persons. Although the inundated areas were principally in the poorer districts, the water filled basements and rose over the floors of some of the city's finest homes.

U. S. highway 31 was closed inside the Wichita Falls city limits to all except truck traffic. U. S. 287 was a lake several inches deep for several blocks inside the city. Shops of the district highway department headquarters were under 2 feet of water which lapped at the floor level of the office building.

Rescue crews worked in 40-degree temperature last night. Two inches of snow fell in the Panhandle while rains again drenched much of the rest of the state during the night.

Skies were still overcast at Borges after a two-inch snow ended at 8 p. m. The snow at Fampa totaled 1.70 inches and the temperature rose from a low of 30 degrees.

A 25-mile northerly wind sent the mercury to 56 at Corpus Christi where a half inch rain fell. A low of 50 was forecast tonight with fair weather tomorrow.

Other reports: Abilene, 4 inch rain with low of 39 degrees, colder with frost; exposed places tonight; Naacogoches, 9.04 inches rain; Sherman, 45 inches rain; Paris, 2.71 inches; Corsicana, 45 inch.

When the plane struck, there was one big explosion followed by a series of smaller ones. Flaming gasoline gushed out.

Before Howe could reach it, several hundred yards from his house, it was engulfed in flames. Farmers, provincial police from the St. Thomas and offices from the Royal Canadian Air Force school at nearby Fingal, who arrived quickly, were powerless to aid.

The 17 passengers and crew members aboard the plane were listed by the line in New York as: Robert Flowers, Hastings, N. Y.; Edward Bigda, 24, Bridgeport, Conn.; A. L. Lewis, Walpole, Mass.; E. L. Benz, Ann Arbor, Mich.; Thomas A. Fraser, Detroit; V. R. Consett, Detroit; G. S. Van Norman, Detroit.

F. R. Root, Ypsilanti, Mich.; Frank A. Fisher, Detroit; E. M. Scott, Detroit; Frank Snyder, Buffalo, N. Y.; George E. Russell, Niagara Falls, N. Y.; James George, Buffalo, N. Y.; D. E. Stowe, Three Rivers, Mich.; E. J. Watt, Royal Oak, Mich.; Joseph Bacon, Detroit; John Kay, La Porte, Ind.

Capt. David I. Cooper, pilot, 34, Plandome, N. Y.; First Officer R. L. Owens, 30, New York City; stewardess, Mary E. Blackley, 27, New York City.

AB Club Sees Money Film

A program on "Know Your Money" presented through sound picture and a talk by Leo J. Williams with the United States Secret Service was given for the American Business club at luncheon Friday at the Settles hotel.

The picture, shown by William Bradshaw, also a member of the secret service, gave pointers on how to detect counterfeit money and what to do when such money is discovered. The picture and personal appearance here of the two men is a part of an educational campaign by the government to prevent the passage of false money.

Assigned then to the submarine base at New London, Conn., Edwards received instruction in submarine operation and upon completion of that course he was attached to the U.S.S. Bonita, an underway craft.

In 1922 Edwards returned to the naval academy for duty with the United States Olympic squad. Later he was assigned to the submarine Barracuda, and after that duty he received post graduate instruction in the navy's school of the line at Annapolis.

Then from June, 1935, to May 1938, Edwards served on the U.S.S. Detroit, a cruiser, and during the two years 1938-1940 he was on duty at the Norfolk navy yard. He assumed command of the Reuben James April 6, 1940.

The fact that the scant information first available on the sinking was not quickly amplified indicated that the convoy which the Reuben James was escorting was still at sea west of Iceland and with radio silenced in order to avoid giving away ships' positions to sea raiders.

Naval officials said they had no information as to when further details might be available, but it was recalled that in the case of the torpedoing of the Kearny several days elapsed before the information came in that the Kearny had suffered a loss of 11 lives.

In that case the crippled Kearny itself was trying to reach a friendly port. The same procedure might not apply today since presumably ships from which information might come in about the Reuben James were undamaged and capable of coping with future attacks.

Twenty Killed In Crash Of Big Airliner

American Airlines Craft Wrecks In Canada; None Escape

ST. THOMAS, Ont., Oct. 31 (AP)—All 20 occupants of an American Airlines transport were killed last night when the big plane plowed into the earth 14 miles west of here and burst into such flames that no attempt at rescue could be made.

The 17 passengers and three members of the crew of the 21-passenger Douglas airliner were all from the United States, bound through a drizzling rain on the Buffalo-Detroit leg, of a regular flight from New York to Chicago.

There was no immediate explanation for the disaster, the second within a day to befall an American air transport and the worst air disaster in Canadian history. It was the first crash of an American Airlines plane since February, 1936.

With 20 dead here and 14 killed early yesterday morning in the crash of a Northwest Airlines plane near Moorhead, Minn., the day was the most disastrous in loss of life of any in the history of American commercial aviation.

Visibility was poor when the plane, on its course, crashed at about 10:30 p. m., E.S.T., on the farm of Thompson Howe at Lawrence Station.

It was due at Detroit at 10:17 p. m. on the run from Buffalo, one leg of a flight which began at La Guardia field, New York, with Chicago as its final destination.

When the plane struck, there was one big explosion followed by a series of smaller ones. Flaming gasoline gushed out.

Before Howe could reach it, several hundred yards from his house, it was engulfed in flames. Farmers, provincial police from the St. Thomas and offices from the Royal Canadian Air Force school at nearby Fingal, who arrived quickly, were powerless to aid.

Although the Reuben James was 21 years old, she had been kept in continuous service since entering the fleet in 1920. She was one of a few destroyers to see such service. Most of those built in the World War period having been decommissioned in the late 20's or early 30's and brought back into the fleet only in the last two or three years.

GREYS EXECUTED

BERLIN, Oct. 31 (AP)—Thirteen Greeks have been executed by hanging at Salonika following the slaying of two German soldiers, authorized Germans said today. They said they had not yet received any details about the case.

Winters, El Paso Speakers Victors

Contestants from Winters and El Paso placed first and second respectively in the four-district eliminations for the My Home Town contest of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce convention.

Winners will be at the WTCC convention in Midland on Tuesday. Grover Cunningham, Jr., representing Big Spring, made a creditable showing in the eliminations, those who accompanied him from here said. They expressed the belief had been given more time in polishing his talk, he would have been among the top contenders.

With 700 workers, the plant is comparatively small in the New Jersey industrial picture, but its products are essential for Marine Bombers, Brewster Dive-Bombers, Aircoas, Fighters and other aircraft. It holds $5,000,000 in defense contracts.

Employment At High Level

Employment opportunities here were best since the opening of the Texas State Employment Service office here.

It was indicated from a report by O. R. Rodden, local manager, Friday.

Rodden said that daily there were more requests for stenographers, bookkeepers, and clerical workers than the office could possibly supply. Business operators and professional men were feverently searching for help in some instances.

The long felt need for cafe help—cooks, kitchen workers, waitresses, etc.—is still as acute as ever, said Rodden.

Added to this condition is the general labor outlook. Only rains delayed the start of a major road project in Borden county and for which requests for hands have been put on the local TSES office. Similarly, a road repair job to the west was blocked temporarily because of weather and by next week laborers for this job probably will be sought as soon as materials are available for water, gas and electric lines to the site, work will be started on the FSA migratory center near Lamesa. This will require many carpenters and helpers.

Pioneer Rancher Of West Texas Expires

He came here in 1883 from Knox county, Ky., and got a job as a salt-gatherer on a lake northwest of here. Later he moved to Monahan and went into ranching. In 1888 he took 200 head of horses to Oklahoma and he lost so heavily that he returned here to take employment in the T.E.P. shops.

Ambrugey was a pioneer Masonic leader in West Texas.

Weather Forecast

WEST TEXAS—Considerable cloudiness this afternoon with occasional snow in the Panhandle. Clear and cold tonight with frost in the vicinity of El Paso. Fair and warmer Saturday.

EAST TEXAS—Fairly cloudy, colder, frost in exposed places in northwest portion tonight; Saturday fair to partly cloudy, rising temperatures in west and north portions. Fresh to strong northerly winds on the coast diminishing tonight.

EXTENDED forecast for West Texas, 8:30 o'clock Friday night to 8:30 o'clock Wednesday night: Generally fair with sunny days and clear cool nights over weekend. Possibility of precipitation near end of period. Temperature below normal at beginning of period with gradual warming Saturday and Sunday.

FATE OF 120 CREW MEMBERS UNKNOWN

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31 (AP)—The navy announced today the loss of its first warship in the European war, the U.S. Destroyer Reuben James, victim of a torpedoing last night west of Iceland.

First reports brought no word of possible loss of life. The ship ordinarily carried 6 officers and 114 men.

Unlike the Destroyer Kearny, which survived a torpedo blow amidship Oct. 17, but lost 11 men, with 10 others being wounded, the older Reuben James went to the bottom. The navy said she was conveying in the North Atlantic.

The Reuben James was the third American warship fired at, the second to be hit and the first to be sunk in the last two months. President Roosevelt ordered the navy last month to "shoot on sight" any axis warcraft encountered.

Whether the Reuben James or any accompanying ships were able to break any damage was undisclosed. Secretary of the Navy Knox said this week that the navy probably would not disclose any submarine sinkings by the fleet, following the British policy of disturbing axis morale by such secrecy.

Whether it was a submarine, a surface vessel or a torpedo-carrying airplane which brought the Reuben James to its doom was not disclosed immediately.

The Reuben James was described at the navy as an O-type flush deck destroyer said to be similar to the type traded to Great Britain.

20-YEAR-OLD SHIP THIRD AXIS TARGET

The navy described this vessel as 314 feet long with a beam of 30 feet. Her displacement was 1190 tons.

Commissioned September 24, 1920, the vessel was built by the New York Shipbuilding company and carried four 4-inch naval rifles.

First U. S. warship to be targeted of a torpedo in the North Atlantic was the destroyer Greer, one of the old type ships, 50 of which were traded to Britain a year ago.

Two torpedoes were fired at the Greer on September 4 by a German submarine. Both went wild.

Two weeks ago today, October 17, the destroyer Kearny, engaged in a night battle against a German submarine wolfpack, which had attacked a convoy southwest of Iceland, was hit amidship by a torpedo and 11 American seamen were killed and 10 wounded.

The Kearny, a much larger vessel than the Reuben James, had a displacement of 1,690 tons and carried a crew of about 190 officers and men.

She was of much sturdier construction than the Reuben James having been completed and put into service only last year.

Unlike older types the Kearny had a hull protected by the latest armor and divided into watertight compartments. It was this sort of construction, the navy department said only two days ago, which enabled the Kearny to remain afloat after suffering an explosion sufficient to have wrecked any destroyer previously so badly damaged.

SAN SABA MAN WAS COMMANDING CRAFT

The Reuben James' commanding officer, Lieutenant Commander Edwards, was described by the navy department as a native of San Saba, Tex. He was 35 years old and the navy said his permanent home was listed as San Saba.

Appointed to the naval academy from Texas in 1922, Edwards was graduated in 1926 and later joined the U.S. Florida, a battleship. He served aboard that vessel until February, 1928.

Edwards was then assigned to duty at the naval academy with the Olympic squad. He was captain of the wrestling team on the 1928 Olympic squad. An all-around athlete, he had served on the academy's wrestling, boxing and football teams.

In September, 1928, Edwards was assigned to the U.S.S. Reno. Until December, 1930, he served on that cruiser and subsequently on various destroyers.

Assigned then to the submarine base at New London, Conn., Edwards received instruction in submarine operation and upon completion of that course he was attached to the U.S.S. Bonita, an underway craft.

In 1922 Edwards returned to the naval academy for duty with the United States Olympic squad. Later he was assigned to the submarine Barracuda, and after that duty he received post graduate instruction in the navy's school of the line at Annapolis.

Then from June, 1935, to May 1938, Edwards served on the U.S.S. Detroit, a cruiser, and during the two years 1938-1940 he was on duty at the Norfolk navy yard. He assumed command of the Reuben James April 6, 1940.

The fact that the scant information first available on the sinking was not quickly amplified indicated that the convoy which the Reuben James was escorting was still at sea west of Iceland and with radio silenced in order to avoid giving away ships' positions to sea raiders.

Naval officials said they had no information as to when further details might be available, but it was recalled that in the case of the torpedoing of the Kearny several days elapsed before the information came in that the Kearny had suffered a loss of 11 lives.

In that case the crippled Kearny itself was trying to reach a friendly port. The same procedure might not apply today since presumably ships from which information might come in about the Reuben James were undamaged and capable of coping with future attacks.

FD Sees No Change In U. S. Policy

Navy Already Knows Its Duty, President Tells Newspapers

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31 (AP)—President Roosevelt said today he saw no possibility of severing diplomatic relations with Germany and thought there had been no change in American policy as a result of the loss of the American destroyer Reuben James, and other recent attacks on other American vessels.

The Reuben James was torpedoed and sunk last night west of Iceland. Mr. Roosevelt had no details to add to those already announced by the navy.

It was in response to a press conference question that Mr. Roosevelt said he did not think there would be any change in policy by reason of attacks on American ships. The Reuben James, he said, was simply carrying on a duty assigned to her. The navy said she was on convoy operations in the North Atlantic when torpedoed.

Replying to another question, Mr. Roosevelt said he had not thought of the possibility of cutting off diplomatic ties with Germany which for several years have been strained severely.

Reporters pressed the chief executive for information whether American warships had sunk any German submarines, but Mr. Roosevelt said he would not tell even if there had been such sinkings.

He made it clear that the reason for withholding information on sinkings, if there have been any, was for the effect on the morale of crews of other naval vessels.

"Is it the policy to announce when our ships are sunk and not when those attacking them have been sunk?" a reporter inquired.

Mr. Roosevelt recalled that his questioner was around in World War days, and that the sinking of German ships was not announced then although casualties to American vessels were.

The reply was: "Oh yes, for a long time, and that's the point."

C Of C Will Study Meat Processing Possibilities Here

Industrial committee of the chamber of commerce Friday morning voted to explore the possibility of a meat processing plant here.

From the meeting came the naming of a sub-committee to confer with Marvin Sewell, A. H. Bugg and A. L. Cooper, and E. Knappe, operators of small local plants, with the view of studying the problem. On the sub-committee were R. V. Middleton, T. J. A. Robinson, R. R. McEwen, J. H. Greene, and T. E. Currie.

The committee also discussed, though informally, Turkey Day, set for Nov. 25, when merchants and professional men will release turkeys simultaneously in the business district.

To Meet New German Onslaught — Workers Hold Moscow Line

By The Associated Press

Soviet workers fought alongside red army troops in a bloody series of battles around Tula, 100 miles south of Moscow, as the Germans stepped up the fury of their 30-day drive on the soviet capital from two directions.

On the southern (Ukraine) front, Adolf Hitler's high command asserted that the Russians were in full flight under the assault of German and Rumanian troops smashing into the Crimean peninsula.

Apparently heading for Russia's big Black Sea naval base of Sevastopol, 100 miles across the Crimea, German flame-throwers, tanks and troops supported by strong aerial attacks were reported to have broken through the Crimea's bottleneck gateway two days ago.

Soviet dispatches gave no hint of a precipitate retreat, declaring that red army troops and marines were counterattacking fiercely, aided by planes of the Russian Black Sea fleet.

Crimean men capable of bearing arms were being mustered to stem the Nazi onslaught.

The Crimea is strategically important both as controlling the northern waters of the Black Sea and as providing a short-cut route to the Caucasus oil fields across the narrow Kerch Strait.

On the Moscow front, the Germans were hammering violently at Soviet Gen. Gregory Zhukov's red army defenders from the Tula sector in the south and the Volokolamsk region, 65 miles northwest of the capital.

EXTENDED forecast for West Texas, 8:30 o'clock Friday night to 8:30 o'clock Wednesday night: Generally fair with sunny days and clear cool nights over weekend. Possibility of precipitation near end of period. Temperature below normal at beginning of period with gradual warming Saturday and Sunday.

Army Reopens Air Associates Plant

BENDIX, N. J., Oct. 31 (AP)—The army seized the plant of Air Associates, Inc., today and won cheers from both factions in a bitter labor fight with an announcement that it would rehire men without regard for the past.

President Roosevelt issued last night an executive order directing that the army take over and operate the plant, saying the dispute threatened to halt production of vital defense material. Secretary of War Stimson set the troops in motion.

More than 2,000 soldiers with steel helmets, rolled bayonets and machine guns formed a line around the plant, who took charge of the plant.

"This plant is an important plant to national defense," he told the crowd. "We propose to open the plant and we will need workers to do so. We are going to set up an employment agency just as soon as we can complete the necessary inventory. I am asking you in the name of the president of the United States as good citizens to support me."

He then expressed hope there would be jobs for all and said they would be rehired regardless of past difficulties. The tension broke and cheers resounded.

Loren J. Houser, eastern regional director of the CIO's United Automobile Workers of America, aviation division, said the men were ready for work and full cooperation with the army. Robert E. Fowler, company public relations director, said he and President F. Leroy Hill would report to see whether they would be rehired.

With 700 workers, the plant is comparatively small in the New Jersey industrial picture, but its products are essential for Marine Bombers, Brewster Dive-Bombers, Aircoas, Fighters and other aircraft. It holds $5,000,000 in defense contracts.

At the nearby Hasbrouck railroad station, CIO strikers formed one side of a driveway and non-strikers massed on the other. A line of troops with fixed bayonets, gas bombs and a machine gun eyed both groups.

Big Springers' Stock Rises As Engagement With Plainview Nears

Yearlings Add 4th Win; Tag Pups, 26-0

Hugh Cochran Leads Scouting With Three Touchdown Jaunts

Big Spring's Yearlings rumped through a rain-splattered afternoon at Colorado City Thursday to trounce the Colorado City Junior gridsters, 26 to 0, and hang up their fourth victory in as many starts during the season.

The Yearlings wasted no time about getting strung out against Colorado City. On the opening play of the season, Hugh Cochran, halfback, ran 50 yards for a touchdown. From there on out, Cochran set the pace for the day's activity, adding two more tallies to the score.

Remainder of the time a brilliantly charging Big Spring line cleared the path for goalward drives. Coach Good Graves said Big Spring's line topped any previous performance this year.

Big Spring's starting lineup—Wood, center; Rush and Byers, guards; Anderson and Christian, tackles; Dean and Baker, ends; Cochran and Sisson, halfbacks; Claude Mallock, quarterback.

It's due to be a battle this afternoon when Plainview's Bulldogs open up a line on the Big Spring Steers' home grounds. Plainview arrived in Big Spring Thursday night, full of righteous fight and primed to let all who would see that all this talk about district 1-AA not being one of the toughest in the state was all wrong.

Due to the effect possible weather conditions might have on the crowd, it was agreed yesterday morning to put the Plainview-Big Spring fracas on in the afternoon instead of at night as originally planned. Game is billed to get underway at 3 o'clock.

Plainview's roster shows only two players left out because of injuries. Malone, regular quarterback, sustained a foot injury last week and may play only a small share of the game. His place is filled by John Mason, member of

Fritzie Zivic Hits Fistic Gravy-Train

NEW YORK, Oct. 31 (AP)—For a guy who did his stuff for coffee and cakes for nine years—and who may be on the way back to that league right this minute—Fritzie Zivic is certainly doing great with the Batts caviar during his stay on Bush boulevard's big corner.

Until he came along to chase Henry Armstrong out of the picture a year ago, the gam man of the five flying Zivics of Pittsburgh never had collected more than $2,000 for a fight. Then he and the great Henney played a return engagement before a Madison Square Garden record crowd of 23,000 fans, who chipped in to a pot of $75,000.

And at 10 p. m. (EST) tonight, fearless Fritzie comes back to the Garden against Ray Robinson, Harlem's hammering beanpole, in a 10-rounder that Promoter Mike Jacobs says flatly has all the earmarks of a sellout for the big Eighth avenue punch parlor.

This means some 20,000 customers will turn out and the boys will cut up a touch of more than $55,000.

No even if Fritzie loses, he can't say he's going back to the bushes with peanuts.

Until late yesterday, the gambling gentlemen were telling you that Zivic was 5 to 5 to get a good country going-over by the skinny socker who has rattled 20 of the 25 straight candidates willing to stand up and let him bang at them. However, overnight the 4th street commissioners have sharpened up, as we say in the Jacobs Beach set, and this morning Robinson was a mere 10 to 11 in the betting.

This writer, who during the past nine months has watched Fritzie lose alternately as hot as a fat man in August and as chilled as boarding house coffee, tabs Robinson the winner this time, although the Brown Belter from 13th street is making his first start as a weller and will have to spot poundage.

Texas Rolls Into Dallas Heavily Favored For Win

By The Associated Press

Mighty Texas rolls into Dallas with everything on its side to make it six victories in a row.

But despite the fact that the Longhorns are prohibitive favorites to batter S.M.U. out of the way, this game remains tops in the conference race.

The main reason is that Texas hasn't been able to beat S.M.U. since it started the upsurge culminated this year with probably its mightiest team in history.

Then, too, S.M.U., although once upon a time a power, is indicating the Longhorns are going to find the afternoon a ramble.

Only a fine Fordham team has been able to tame the Mustangs and that in the closing minutes.

But statistically, Texas is supreme. In winning five games the Longhorns have run up 196 points to 27. S.M.U., on the other hand, in winning three and losing one, has scored 118 points to 23.

Texas has galloped and passed to 1915 yards and given up 727; S.M.U. has gained 1194 to 580.

Along betting row in Dallas came the report that you couldn't even get a price quoted and except for a few small wagers Texas money was going begging.

While Texas is playing S.M.U., the conference co-champion of 1940—Texas A. and M.—will be in Little Rock playing a rejuvenated Arkansas team that has lost three out of five games but still has an offense difficult to throttle.

This should develop into an aerial battle because the Aggies top the conference in passing and Arkansas is known as a team that pitches the ball from any place.

Texas Christian and Baylor will be battling for mathematical survival in the race in a game at Waco.

Rice gets a breathing space with downed Centenary, which has yet to win a game in six starts.

Howard Payne Specializes In Darkhorses

BROWNWOOD, Oct. 31 (AP)—One of the greatest records in the nation's college football is a monument to the unknowns.

Should a "name" high school star report for football at Howard Payne, the shock might put Coach McAdoo Keston in bed for a week.

He takes the boys from the small schools—after other colleges have drained the publicized talent—and makes them into unbeaten teams because:

Keston works on the theory you can't force a boy to do anything but must fit him to football and not football to the boy.

Tackling dummies and bucking boards are not necessary. Observation is the greatest teacher.

A boy must be built up gradually to prevent a potential star from losing confidence by a heart-breaking miscue in a tough game.

And the record of Howard Payne college over a period covering more than 20 years bears out Keston's philosophy.

In that time the Yellow Jackets have won 132 games, lost 48 and tied 20, capturing their conference championship ten times and tying for it twice.

Keston is Mr. Football at Howard Payne. He has been a player and coach for nearly 20 years, serving his alma mater first as assistant and the last seven years as head mentor.

Howard Payne started playing football for keeps in 1921 as a member of the old Texas Intercollegiate Athletic association. The Yellow Jackets won the title their first year and repeated in 1924. In those seasons, the TIAA included such present Southwest conference teams as Texas Christian and Rice.

In 1923 Howard Payne defeated Texas A. and M.—the same Aggie team that beat mighty Centre college of Bo McMillin's era in a post-season game.

In 1926 Howard Payne became a member of the Texas conference, finishing second the first two seasons but winning the championship the next eight.

In their 16 seasons of play in the Texas conference, the Jackets have won 70 conference games and lost only nine.

Clear, snappy weather boded good for Big Spring's non-conference bout with Plainview here this afternoon. With what may turn out to be a more efficient passing game and a more potent running attack in their bag, the Big Springers had taken a slight turn for the better as game time neared. As the pre-game dope figured up, the engagement appeared to develop into one of those now-they're-winning—now-they're-not affairs, with the final decision purely a toss-up.

Big Spring lists only one outright absence from the starting lineup. Billy Shaw is not on the books to take part in the non-conference affair and Felix Campbell, although out in uniform and apparently rounding into good shape after fracturing a thumb, may give up an end starting berth to James Tidwell.

Coach Jerome Vannoy and Assistant Coach Finis Vaughn declared Thursday night that there was nothing wrong with the Bulldogs' spirit. Throughout the week they have shown a red-hot competitive attitude and seemed to be primed for heat.

Plainview's attack is slated to run mainly from a short punt formation and with a balanced line. Mixed in with this is a possible club maneuvering.

Both clubs weigh in about even—approximately 160-162 pounds.

Texas Rolls Into Dallas Heavily Favored For Win

By The Associated Press
Southern Methodist starts defense of its share of the Southwest Conference football championship tomorrow—and look who's coming!

Mighty Texas rolls into Dallas with everything on its side to make it six victories in a row.

But despite the fact that the Longhorns are prohibitive favorites to batter S.M.U. out of the way, this game remains tops in the conference race.

The main reason is that Texas hasn't been able to beat S.M.U. since it started the upsurge culminated this year with probably its mightiest team in history.

Then, too, S.M.U., although once upon a time a power, is indicating the Longhorns are going to find the afternoon a ramble.

Only a fine Fordham team has been able to tame the Mustangs and that in the closing minutes.

But statistically, Texas is supreme. In winning five games the Longhorns have run up 196 points to 27. S.M.U., on the other hand, in winning three and losing one, has scored 118 points to 23.

Texas has galloped and passed to 1915 yards and given up 727; S.M.U. has gained 1194 to 580.

Along betting row in Dallas came the report that you couldn't even get a price quoted and except for a few small wagers Texas money was going begging.

Barker Says Its The Irish And Gophers

Texas Takes Nod Over Southern Methodist Eleven

By HERB BARKER
NEW YORK, Oct. 31 (AP) Minnesota, still breathing heavily after last week's march over Michigan, takes another leading fling in a nation's-best football show tomorrow. It's a gamble either way when the Gophers meet Northwestern but, hesitatingly, the vote goes to Minnesota.

Pitt-Ohio State: It will be a happy day when this season ends for the Panthers, Ohio State.

Wisconsin-Syracuse: You figure this one. The coin spins and says... Wisconsin.

Detroit-Manhattan: No real line on these two. A sheer guess, Detroit.

Georgia Tech-Duke: Tech usually is troublesome for the Blue Devils but there's no possible selection but Duke.

Princeton-Harvard: First of the Big Three games, and the choice is Harvard—but the Crimson better find some way to manufacture some points to go along with a stalwart defense.

Alabama - Kentucky: Sticking with Alabama until further notice.

Georgia-Auburn: Could be very close, Georgia.

Louisiana State-Tennessee: Ouch! Using the trial by error system probably. Tennessee.

U. L. A-California: This gets worse and worse. Ready to duck, California.

Oregon-Washington State: Another of the same only more so, Oregon.

Washington-Montana: Like Washington.

Oregon State-Idaho: Ditto Oregon State.

Boston College-Temple: Could be trouble for the Owls but this ballot goes to Temple.

Duquesne-Villanova: Taking Duquesne.

Tale-Brown: Close enough, Brown.

Colgate-Holy Cross: The Raiders have been big disappointments, Holy Cross.

West Virginia-Washington and Lee: Close, West Virginia.

Marshall-Wake Forest: Not easy, Wake Forest.

New York University - Penn State: Must take State.

Kansas State-Nebraska: Like Nebraska.

Oklahoma-Kansas: Ditto Oklahoma.

Baylor-Texas Christian: Christian, uncertainly.

George Washington - Clemson: Taking Clemson.

North Carolina-North Carolina State: And North Carolina.

Skipping over the chalklines otherwise: Bucknell over Western Maryland; Lafayette over Gettysburg; Rutgers over Maryland; Oklahoma A. and M. over Creighton; Tulsa over Wichita; Iowa State over South Dakota; Drake; Rice over Centenary; South Carolina over Citadel; Mississippi State over Southwestern (Tenn.); Virginia Military over Davidson; Richmond over Hampden Sydney; Virginia over Virginia Tech; Colorado over Utah; Denver over Colorado State; Brigham Young over Utah State; Colorado College over Wyoming.

Army-Notre Dame: Earl Blaik has developed a fine Army team whether or not it has been done with mirrors. Both teams are unbeaten and untied and this is an objective game for both. A hesitant ballot for Notre Dame.

Tulane-Vanderbilt: The Green Wave of Tulane defies analysis this season, but it seems to have the stuff to whip unbeaten Vanderbilt if it can click. Strictly out of the hat, Tulane.

Stanford-Santa Clara: Fairly even, but Stanford seems to have much the greater scoring power and gets the nod.

Penn-Navy: Both unbeaten although Navy was held to a scoreless draw by Harvard. This looks close but we'll take Penn.

Southern Methodist-Texas: S. M. U. is well-rested but it looks like it will take more than rest to check the Longhorns, Texas.

Fordham-Purdue: Stringing along with Fordham's Rama.

Big Spring lists only one outright absence from the starting lineup. Bufs' Collins Gets Tough Test In Game With Cowboys

Sports

The Big Spring Daily Herald

PAGE TWO Big Spring, Texas, Friday, October 31.

Lookin 'em Over

WITH JACK DOUGLAS

This Friday calls forth another shot at the national fall pasture—calling 'em and then hoping.

Two engagements in district 3-AA seem to be cut and dried affairs—three others depend on a lucky grab out of the bag.

Sweetwater's Mustangs visit Lamesa's Tornados in a tussle that is scheduled to be the Ponies' game from the opening gun. Of course, there is a possibility that Lamesa may do what Abilene did last week for three-eighths of their struggle with Sweetwater—play the Mustangs off the field. That's just a possibility, though, and a mighty long one.

As for the other sure-shot, it's a non-conference bout between district 3-AA's baby, Colorado City, and Lorraine. Colorado City should take this one without even missing its hair.

That's the end of the safe guesses. Now, Plainview is embroiled in Big Spring in a non-loop match, Abilene tries to get a win at Odessa, and San Angelo risks its winning streak at Odessa.

Figuring in all things—visibly improved morale on the Steer squad, the fact that they are out to make a crack showing before the home fans, and they are just about even-strengthen in regard to poundage—it looks like this one belongs to Big Spring.

Plainview plays in a tough district, is used to hard football and is said to be full of the old scrap—those things may be the Steers' undoing. But, remember the Big Springers are nursing bruised feelings several counts and it is a different club from the one that went down in defeat before Lamesa.

Abilene's Eagles are on the books to take their fill with Midland's Bulldogs. They'll likely do that very thing but it's due to be a scrap. Midland has yet to mark up a win this season—this time is as good as any to make up that deficiency.

For the feature district 3-AA contest, the San Angelo-Odessa fracas is slated to be one of the top games of the season. It's a peculiar setup—Lamesa beat Odessa earlier in the season and San Angelo took Lamesa to the cleaners last week, yet pre-game reckonings are just about evenly divided. Basing the guess on the showing San Angelo has made thus far, it looks as though the lads from down Concho way will hang Odessa's scalp on the teepee pole.

Plainview's advance guard announced last night that "Coach" McSwain would arrive in Big Spring during the middle of the day. He is slated to land in time to fulfill his role of the Bulldogs' amateur strategist.

McSwain, one of Plainview's hottest fans, is the one who last week, following Abilene's shelling at Sweetwater's hands, wired Eagle Coach Vernon Hilliard—"Coach" Joshua Vernon Hilliard, director of exercises, Abilene, Texas—Please advise when you're going to turn them loose!

Hilliard went to considerable personal expense for the pleasure of telling McSwain off by phone.

Charlie Wheelchel, ace hurler for the Big Spring Bombers during the '41 session of the West Texas-New Mexico league, writes that he is currently working in the shipyards at Loma, California.

"Been pitching Sunday ball in the winter league here. Al Zigelman is my catcher so it's just like old times," Charlie says.

He came close to pitching another no-hitter last week but Mel Steiner, Clovis baseballer, got a hit in the eighth inning to ruin the chance. In case fans need their memories jogged a bit, it was Charlie who pitched the 11-inning no-hitter against Pampa this past summer.

Charlie writes that he got a letter from Pete Zmitrovich, Bomber third baseman, a few days ago. Seems the Mad Russian thinks 5 a. m. is a mighty unreasonable hour to get up. Pete's doing a turn in the army right now.

Mexico City's Altitude Hits Golf Ranks

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 31 (AP)—Mexico City's 6,000-foot altitude appeared to be getting in its work on lowland golfers who began match play today for the Mexican amateur championship.

The mile-and-a-half altitude showed up yesterday in the scores of most of the 16 United States players, who turned in second rounds considerably above their first nine.

Of the first six, four had par 35's on the first half of the qualifying round, but only one of the 22 qualifiers was able to make par on the second nine, after they had begun to tire in the rarefied air.

The top six had an average of 83.3 strokes for the first nine holes, but their average was 89 over the second nine, which has a par of 36.

Buddy Ward, U. S. amateur champion, blamed his 74, three over par, on the altitude. However, Johnny Dawson of Los Angeles, with two 36-hole rounds, and Ed White of Houston, with two 39's, did not appear to be affected, and Bobby Riegel of Houston improved, with a first round of 41 and a second of 37.

Ward is paired with Pat Walker of Mexico City for this morning's match. Other pairings include: Johnny Dawson of Los Angeles with Dick Skipey of Mexico City; Ed White of Houston, Mexican champion in 1938, with A. Cortina of Mexico City; Wilford Warble of Racine, Wis., with Bob Hillier of Tampico; Bobby Riegel of Houston with Fred Perry of Los Angeles; and Spec Stewart of Roswell, N. M., with Ralph Elguera of Mexico City.

West Grid Tilts To Be Aired Sat.

Radio descriptions of three Southwest conference football games, featuring six of the seven conference teams, will be broadcast by the Humble company on Saturday.

The clash between mighty Texas and the Southern Methodist Mustangs will be featured on a Humble broadcast beginning at 2:30 p. m. over KPRC, Houston; WOAI, San Antonio; WFAP, WRAF, Dallas-Fort Worth; and KNOW, Austin. Kern Tips will describe the contest play-by-play, with Hal Thompson handling color.

Another program will describe the game between the Baylor Bears and Texas Christian's Horned Frogs at Waco. This broadcast will have Ves Box as play-by-play announcer, with Dave Russell on color. The broadcast will begin at 2:30 p. m. over WACO, Waco; KTEM, Temple; KFJZ, Fort Worth; WRR, Dallas; KRLH, Midland, KBST, Big Spring; KGKL, San Angelo; KERC, Abilene; KABC, San Antonio; and KTRH, Houston.

The third conference game of the day will be brought back to Texas listeners from Little Rock, Ark. It will have Cy Leiland as play-by-play announcer, with Tee Casper on color. The broadcast will begin at 1:30 p. m. over KGKO, Fort Worth; KCTE, Houston; KTSB, San Antonio; KRIB, Corpus Christi; KGRV, Weslaco; and KFDK, Beaumont.

Accident Circumstances Identical For Drivers

LINCOLN, Neb., Oct. 31 (AP)—Police investigating a minor automobile accident here had this to report:

Both drivers were 31 years old. Both had been driving 21 years. Both were doing about 20 m.p.h. at the time of the impact.

Both saw each other about 30 feet before the crash.

Both drive the same make and model car.

Graves Joins US Air Corps; Leaves Sunday

Good Graves, Big Spring high school junior football coach, wrote Hiale to a short but brilliant career as mentor yesterday when his Yearlings again bowled over Colorado City, 26 to 0.

Graves gives up his position here today and goes into the army air corps as a flying cadet. He is to leave Big Spring Sunday for Ryan Field, Hemet, California, where he will go through training leading to a lieutenant's commission in the air service.

Filling the place left vacant when Carl Coleman, 1940 Yearling coach resigned last school season, Graves brought to Big Spring a playing career that included competition on the local team during 1931-32-33. He attended and took his degree from Howard Payne college, Brownwood. He played varsity football at Howard Payne for three years.

Friday morning, no definite move had been made toward replacing Graves.

West Coast Lad Is Primed For Yardage Crown

SEATTLE, Oct. 31 (AP)—If he continues at his present pace, Halfback Marv "Tommygun" Tommervik of Pacific Lutheran college may be the first gragger in modern football to amass 2,000 yards in a season.

In five games so far, the chunky 171-pounder has completed 40 passes for 798 yards and has run the ball 86 times for 469 yards for a total of 1,267 yards. This average 247 yards per game, and Tommervik has three games left.

With another night included like last Saturday evening against Western Washington college, when he gathered 204 yards, he may hit 2,000.

Highest yardage recorded by the American Football Statistical Bureau since it started in 1927 was 1,847 yards by Davey O'Brien, of Texas Christian, in 1933.

Home Economics And Defense Group Meet

COLORADO CITY, Oct. 31. (Sp1) Five committees were named by Mrs. J. D. Williams when the Mitchell county home economics and nutrition-for-defense group met at her home Wednesday night.

The committees are: Welfare—Mrs. W. H. Tinney, Mrs. F. C. Shillingburg, and Vera Crippen; publicity—Mrs. J. Ralph Lee, Beth Gullidge, and Mrs. Jack Alexander; whole grain and gardening—Mrs. H. M. Sanders, Mrs. Williams, Margaret Trulock, and Mrs. T. P. Barry; school—Frances Epps, Eunice Locker, Pearl Ganns of Lorraine, Marie Jones of Westbrook, Mrs. Fred Cray; public relations—Mrs. S. H. Millwee, Mrs. Baron Smith, and Mrs. G. A. Horton.

Decision to continue its study of the food stamp plan was made by the group. Plans were made to continue food demonstrations with surplus commodities at the welfare office during distribution time the first week in each month.

The nutrition group will continue meeting the second Wednesday night in each month, and members will work with the nutrition committee of the various women's clubs of the county.

Big Spring Hospital Notes

Mrs. A. C. Messer, Coahoma, was admitted to the hospital Thursday. Mrs. Messer had major surgery Friday and is reported in a satisfactory condition.

Eugene Stephen, Stanton, was admitted to the hospital several days ago and will receive medical treatment before an operation to be performed in a few days.

Hayden Griffith who was admitted to the hospital several days ago for tonsillectomy, was discharged today, much improved.

Mrs. Joe McClain, who was admitted to the hospital for major surgery some time ago, was discharged Thursday.

Pictures Of Mission Buildings In Africa Shown To Ruth Class

Pictures of the missionaries home, chapel and school erected in Nigeria, Africa, were shown for the Ruth class members Thursday when the group met at the church for covered-dish luncheon and program.

The kodak pictures showed the structures made possible by the W. M. U. of Texas in memory of Miss Lucille Reagan, missionary. The class also had a part in the funds collected with both active and associate members contributing.

Class Given Party In Havins Home

The Daughters of the Ruth class of the East 4th St. Baptist church were entertained Thursday night in the home of Mrs. Raymond Havins with a Halloween party. Mrs. Leslie Roberts was co-hostess.

Each guest was led by a ghost through the rooms of horror. Halloween games were played and refreshments were served from the witches black magic pot.

Favors were small black witches. Attending were Mollie Chapman, Doris Nell Gilliam, Adeline Covington, Martha Beck, Ethelene Rainey, Dorothy Burson, Lawrence Ray and Joy Dale Havins, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Roberts and Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Havins.

Junior Department Entertained By Three Hostesses In Forsan

FORSAN, Oct. 31. (Sp1) — The Junior department of the Baptist church was entertained Tuesday night by Mrs. E. N. Baker, Mrs. Glenn Smith and Mrs. J. B. Hicks at the church.

A program was opened with the group singing "God Bless America." Officers were elected for each class and holiday parties planned.

Refreshments were served to Kenneth and Bobby Baker, Chas. and Bobby Wash, Donald Gressett, Carl Smith, Phillip and Frank Russell, Jimmie Smith, J. B. Hicks, Jr., Bob Creelman, Jerry Green, Dannah McRae, Joanne Lewis, Flo Marie Thoma, Jan Livingston, Doylee Gilmore, Gwen-dolyn Oglesby, Cleo Mae Camp, Thelma and Wanda Creelman, Dorothy Jean Gressett, Betty Jo Moore, Phyllis Williamson, Wanda Jo Goble.

Young People Have Party In Scout Hut

Due to inclement weather, the hay ride to have been held for the young people at the East 4th St. church was postponed and a party held in the Scout hut Thursday night. La Home Dixon was in charge.

Games were played and refreshments served to 25 persons.

Easy Aces Club Given Party In Rinehart Home

Basket favors with funny faces on them and holding candy set the theme for the Easy Aces Bridge club party held Thursday in the home of Mrs. Jack Rinehart.

The tables were covered in orange and black covers and prizes wrapped in owl, funny face and spook wrappings. Orange menus contained the food for the afternoon and each dish was named in a Halloween name. Refreshments were completed with "devil's brew" which was coffee.

The next meeting is to be in the home of Mrs. Joe Black in Odessa and will be a luncheon. Guests were Mrs. Horace Garrett, who won high score, and Mrs. Jim Bob Pool. Mrs. Tommy Jordan, Jr., won club high score and Mrs. Vernon Stepp binged.

Nat'l Bowling Carnival Gets Underway Sat.

CHICAGO, Oct. 31.—Play begins Saturday in the second contest of the record-breaking $50,000 Red Crown Open Play Bowling carnival, the coast-to-coast tennis event which promises to establish new records this season for individual participation in a major sports event.

Entries in the first carnival contest, which opened Oct. 4 and closed Oct. 12, indicate that this season will draw more participants than the 1940-1941 carnival, which attracted 640,000 bowlers, the sponsors recalled.

Bowlers who rolled in the first contest are eligible to compete in the second contest which opens tomorrow, as are bowlers—men, women and youngsters—who missed play in the opening contest. Similar prizes will be awarded in the second contest, that is, 2,500 awards, including cash and merchandise prizes.

To enter the carnival, the bowler rolls open play games (not league play) until the score of three consecutive games falls within one of the following ability brackets: "Beginners," who score between 240 and 345; "rookies," 360 and 405; "juniors," 420 and 465; "regulars," 480 and 525; "experts," 540 and 585, and "Stars," 600 and over.

The contest opening tomorrow runs for nine days, over two weekends. Subsequent contests will start Dec. 8, Jan. 3, Feb. 7 and March 7. Bowlers can submit entries for all the contests and as many entries for each contest as they please, the sponsors explained.

At the conclusion of the six 9-day contests of the carnival six grand prizes of $250, one for each ability bracket, will be awarded.

Celebration Defies Hurricane

PORT ARTHUR.—A hurricane couldn't deter Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Glidden from observing their 55th wedding anniversary. This is an occasion we can celebrate only once in a life-time, Glidden said. Several relatives made their way through heavy weather from distant points to a party at the Glidden home.

Idaho Buys Hugo Snow Plow

BOISE, Idaho.—State Highway Director Sam E. Johnson has announced a new rotary snow plow, largest ever to be used in the state. It will be stationed all winter to keep the highway open from Ashton to West Yellowstone.

Ammonia is vital to the making of military explosives.

Guests Met By Ghosts At 'Spooky' Party

Guests were met at the door by a spooky ghost and escorted through Blue Beard's den when Mrs. Monroe Gafford's class of the East 4th St. Baptist church entertained in the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Nowlin Thursday night.

Viewing three "murdered" wives of Blue Beard, was the start of Halloween games. Mrs. James Leslie was in charge of the games. G. C. McMillan and Kathryn Graham won the candy guessing game.

The house was decorated with pumpkins and fall flowers. Refreshments were served and others present were David Nowlin, Charles Burton, Lex James, Jr., Willie Mae Mason, Mrs. McCullough, Vernon Smith, Willie Jo Nations, Ethel McMurray, Thelma McMurray.

Weldon, Byron and Violet Horton, R. E. McMillan, Arlene and Delmar Horton, Loretta Rush, Pattie McDonald, Helen Hendricks, La Vern Franklin, Mr. and Mrs. Gafford and Gwen.

Youngsters And Adults Entertained With Halloween Parties

A combination party for youngsters and adults was held Thursday night in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Hill and Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Hill on the Gall road. The Lavin Simpson adult union of the East 4th St. Baptist church was entertained in the Reuben Hill home. Black cats, witches, and electrical shocking devices were part of the fun.

Attending were Mrs. A. W. Page, Mrs. L. A. Coffee, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Sandridge, Mr. and Mrs. Emile Rainey, the Rev. and Mrs. R. Elmer Dunham.

Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Hill entertained the youngsters in their home and also honored their daughter, Tommy Ann, on her birthday anniversary.

Attending were Gailya Lilley, Carolyn Hill, Betty Sue Leonard, Dixie Lee, La Nelle, Harley and Tommie Dunham, and Mr. and Mrs. Hill and the honoree.

Annual Masked Halloween Dance Brings Out Variety Of Costumes

Downtown Stroller

Comes a card from Mrs. R. L. PERKINS, JR., of Ranger who is vacationing with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. SAM GOLDMAN, in the east. Writing from Baltimore, Md., she writes that they have been to Annapolis and are having a swell trip...

In the way of advance entertainment, there's the November 8th Beta Sigma Phi dance to be held at the Settles hotel. The sorority is to have a floor show, tables in cabaret style around the dance floor and lots of things to do. Might just that down on your calendar. It's a benefit dance by the way...

Visitors in town, Mr. and Mrs. HALL WILLIAMSON of Dallas, are on their way home after a trip through New Mexico, Arizona and other points. Mrs. WILLIAMSON tells about some of the trails they drove over in the mountains that weren't "hairpin turns but bobby pin turns"...

She's getting to be a pretty good cook so SELMA FARRIS says. She has an apartment now and is doing pretty good with the culinary arts. Sometimes she forgets such vital things as putting vanilla in the pudding, she says, but otherwise, she's gaining weight on her own food. That's a pretty good recommendation...

And by the way, lest we forget, a happy Halloween to you folks. But remember, don't do anything drastic. Vandal is a nasty word you know, let's keep the thing mild...

De Luxe Club Has Dinner-Bridge At Settles Hotel

Yellow chrysanthemums centered the dinner table when Mr. and Mrs. Ike McGann entertained Thursday at the Settles hotel for the De Luxe club.

Mr. and Mrs. George Wilke were guests. Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Pharr won high score. Mrs. McGann and John Griffin binged.

Patriotic colored baskets were favors. Others playing were Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Whitney, Mr. and Mrs. Otis Graft, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Velvin, Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Allen, Mr. and Mrs. John Griffin Paul Dourat, Elizabeth Northington, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Staples.

Mr. and Mrs. Stales will be next hosts.

Sarah Katherine Wooten Takes Part In Contest

DALLAS, Oct. 31. (Sp1)—Sarah Katherine Wooten, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Wooten, took an active part in the song contest, one of the oldest traditions of the Hockaday School in Dallas which was held in the Highland Park Town Hall Tuesday night, October 28, as a member of the third form. Four hundred guests attended.

Army Wants Feather Pillows
FRESNO, Calif.—Every turkey, duck, chicken and goose in this vicinity has been called upon by Uncle Sam to shed its last feather in the national defense. They are wanted to make pillows for the soldiers.

Prize Winners, Others Wear Unique Garbs

Mistaken identity was a common occurrence Thursday night at the annual Country Club Halloween costume dance at the club house. Costumes of all sorts, types, and descriptions were worn by the guests.

Prizes went to Mrs. Tommy Jordan, Jr., for the prettiest costume. She dressed as a Spanish lady with a shawl, mantilla and black evening dress. G. C. Dunham confused everybody present with his costume as a girl. He wore slacks, a turban and high heeled shoes. To keep the picture straight, he danced with girls in the Paul Jones that preceded the unmasking.

Mr. and Mrs. Zollie Boykin of Odessa were also prize winners. Boykin was dressed as a scarecrow with an old hat, straw and maize stuffing, and his face painted to represent the scarecrow doll. Mrs. Boykin was Raggedy Ann, with a red wig and full skirt and pantaloons for her costume.

Many others caused comment including Jim Kelly's costume as Harpo Marx with bushy hair and a horn and following the Harpo tradition of chasing the girls.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Le Fevre came as an old fashioned lady and a red-haired rube. Mrs. Le Fevre wore a long dress, and a sun bonnet. Le Fevre wore a red wig and hayseed clothes.

A downright professional looking clown was the costume worn by Pat Kenney, who looked as if he might have strayed from the circus. With the aid of a little tape, Earl Essell was a slant-eyed Chinese.

Tommy Jordan was a "typical, tropical, tramp," with old clothes, cap, and red bandana and cane. Mrs. Sam Stamps of Stanton was a gypsy with drop earrings, made of curtain rings, and a fan made of a deck of playing cards.

R. L. Beale was popular with the crowd since he came as the hot tamale man and actually brought a hot tamale wagon filled with the edibles. He wore Mexican hat and white shirt.

Mrs. Bert Read represented "out of the night" with a black costume trimmed with silver tinsel and a cone-shaped hat trailing a black veil.

Mary Martha Class Has Social In Pittard Home

The Mary Martha Class of Wesley Memorial Methodist church was entertained with a social in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Pittard Thursday night.

Mrs. O. V. Whelstone, Mrs. Pauline Pierce and Mrs. Walter Cudiff were co-hostesses.

Guests came masked and Halloween games were played. Favors were whistles.

The Rev. J. O. English gave the devotional and Mrs. English the prayer. The next party is to be in the home of Mrs. Joe Hamby with Mrs. Ted Brown, Mrs. M. O. Hamby and Mrs. Clarence Whittington as co-hostesses.

Others present were Mr. and Mrs. J. I. Low, Mr. and Mrs. Whelstone, Mrs. Brown, Mrs. Joe Hamby, Mrs. M. O. Hamby, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Habers.

PERTAINING TO PEOPLE

Myrtle Kloven of Washington state, who has been here visiting with Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Kloven, has returned home.

Mrs. E. F. Springmann spent Thursday in Dallas on a shopping trip. She returned home Thursday night.

Mrs. J. B. Schultz left Thursday for Kingsville to visit with her sister for ten days.

THE WAR TODAY: French Will Show Resistance In Silent Period

The Druids thought that Halloween was the vigil of Saman, lord of death. On this Halloween, just before the ink fingers of the black-out close over their tragedy and despair, Frenchmen are being summoned to five minutes of silent reproach of the new lords of death for the mass killing of un-convicted hostages.

port will likewise be hampered by the censorship and by difficulties of general observation, for both communications and travel within the country are stringently restricted.

No one knows very much about the French can doubt, however that within the homes of France and even in the open, especially in such places as Bordeaux, Nantes, Marseille and Lille, there will be a general reply to the call from the radio.

It is no accident that today, final instructions on the silence period are being broadcast from the London radio.

The Germans themselves, at least cognizant of the fact that the mass hostage killings had no other effect than cementing French resistance and arousing the abhorrence of the outside world, have found excuses to call a halt to the executions.

Second Cattle Dipping Set For Saturday

Second dipping of cattle on the I. B. Cauble ranch to demonstrate parasite control will be held Saturday afternoon, beginning at 1:30 o'clock.

Several weeks ago a large number of fine Herefords on the ranch were run through a dip of wettable sulphur and cube powder in a demonstration conducted by George W. Barnes, A. and M. extension service animal husbandry specialist. The second dipping is necessary to complete the process.

The non-poisonous mixture is used to destroy cattle-lice, including the newly-found northern short-nose ox lice, ox-warble and ear ticks.

BOTH Cunningham & Philips Stores Are AIR-CONDITIONED

The Newspaper Is A Great Market-Place
It Is An Agent For Those Who Would Buy, A Salesman For Those Who Would Sell

Keep an eye on the store operated by Mr. Edward Stewart. He knows which side his bread is buttered on and he's a pretty good business man. He knows that he can't get customers into his store just because the store is there. So he tells the people in town about his store through the ads in the newspaper. There's usually several good buys mentioned in his ads and they're designed to attract interest—and hold it. He'll tell you himself that a great percentage of his sales are directly attributable to newspaper advertising. And because other stores in town also advertise in the newspaper, the family who's contemplating a purchase can "shop around" without ever leaving their door. They simply read their newspaper.

The newspaper provides a great service to those on both ends of the "demand and supply" line. Its Classified Ads answer the need for an inexpensive, EFFECTIVE way to get a message across to a great number of people at the same time. Yes, the newspaper is truly a great market-place!

Cotton Markets Quotas Should Be Kept

December 13 has been fixed as the date for the annual farmer referendum on the question of fixing cotton marketing quotas.

The marketing quota system has proven successful. Under this plan, each farmer is assigned a certain acreage to devote to cotton.

Washington Daybook-- Roll Call Vote Most Dramatic Moment In Congress' Drama

By JACK STINNETT WASHINGTON -- To me the moments of real drama in Congress come when one of the members, and particularly the House of Representatives, votes on some momentous bill.

But down below the roll call goes on until "Zimmerman" -- "Aye" -- "Aye" is reached. Then a pause (sometimes a breathless one when the vote is close) and finally the vote is announced: "Ayes, 209, nays 133."

The recent vote on the change in the Neutrality Act to permit the arming of merchant vessels is an example. The "scientific samplers" of House opinion had been predicting for weeks that the measure would pass by a substantial majority.

Two days of debate were over. Rep. Clifford Wood of Virginia was in the chair, but as the vote came up, moved out to let Speaker Sam Rayburn take the reins.

Even before the bell rings throughout the House side of the Capitol and in the House Office buildings, summoning all members to get on the floor for a vote, the swinging doors into the cloakroom and corridor start fanning up a steady breeze as the Congressmen flock in.

The galleries are already full for lobbyists, tourists and the curious can smell a vote, even if there has been no advance warning. The place is a babble of voices.

Suddenly the Speaker raps for order, his gavel falling slowly and monotonously. The men in the press gallery reach for the printing pads that say "House Roll Call" and carry the names of each of the members on single lines that can be checked right and left for the ayes and nays.

Speaker Rayburn says: "The question is on the passage of the bill." The sound of voices is hardly more than a whisper. The clerk steps up to the microphone and starts calling the roll: "Allen, of Illinois" -- "No" -- "No" repeats the clerk. "Allen, of Louisiana" -- "Aye" -- "Aye, Anderson, H. Carl" -- "No" -- "No, Anderson of California" -- "No" -- "No" -- and so it goes.

Often a murmur rises after some vote is cast unexpectedly. Such was the case when Rep. Hamilton Fish (died-in-the-wool republican opponent of the administration and one of the leaders of the so-called isolationist band) voted for the merchant ship arming measure.

Halloween MISTAKEN IDENTITY

Hollywood Sights and Sounds-- Not All Those Things You Hear On Betty Field Are True

By ROBBIN COONS HOLLYWOOD -- Betty Field tackled a clubhouse sandwich, double-decker and dripping with mayonnaise, and chatted amiably with the white.

An hour or so later, the sandwich was gone, Miss Field's "glamorous make-up" and white evening gown (for still pictures) were unfurled and unmayonnaised, and not once had I been conscious of the gargantuan eating problem involved.

The matter is cited, not because Field fans should be agog over what their Betty chose for lunch, but because it illustrates the Field approach: to a new role or to a sandwich, her approach is quiet, competent and sure.

Outwardly, that is, if she cringed before that three-story challenge to her "glamour," she didn't show it. If she died a thousand deaths when testing for the role of Cassie in "Kings Row," all she showed was a performance that Director Sam Wood enthusiastically approved.

Betty Field, our leading candidate for tomorrow's Bette Davis niche, has been considered a strange one by Hollywood these two years she's been here. She was never a good mixer on her sets, and she was so wrapped up in her work that she never, never went anywhere -- so ran the reports.

When she took a little house in Hermit's Glen, the picture was complete -- and a strange picture it was for a young thing of 22, with star billing in the movies, and attractive if not exactly pretty, Miss Field, moreover, insisted on a contract giving her six months in New York each year -- she's there now -- whence came the report that she was one of these art-above-all artists who did movies for the money but found her "soul" on Broadway.

Men About Manhattan--

White Way Really Gets White At 4 O'clock A. M.

By GEORGE TUCKER NEW YORK--There is, also, nothing very clinical about Broadway, but along about 4 o'clock in the morning it does become -- for an hour or so at least -- a street that is filled with Men in White.

They aren't ambly, myopic or police doctors. The men in front of Lindy's is in white, and he has a hose, a bucket, and a mop. For nearly half an hour he hoses the sidewalk, scrubbing it to the curb. Then he dries it. If he didn't, those unthinking actors who swarm in there and out of there between midnight and daybreak would track the place up. Their footprints would make Lindy's look like Grauman's Chinese theater in L. A., where everybody leaves footprints in concrete.

Then there's Schrafft's at Broadway and 43rd. About four a. m. the big trucks drive up and out pile more men in white. They are if she didn't; that she also likes the stage, though she doesn't believe stage work will necessarily improve her pictures, the techniques being different.

She will tell you, if you ask, that she has been on occasion to the Mocambo and to Ciro's -- where, last time she went with Jimmy Stewart, several people addressed her as "Miss Lane." This is a thing that would never happen to Lana Turner, say, or Betty Grable, so you'd have to catalogue Betty as merely a casual nightclubber.

Boston-born, Betty early aspired to the stage but never thought of movies because she wasn't "pretty." She was haunting a stage door in Newark, N. J., and Florence Reed, then doing "The Shanghai Gesture," gave her a bit. Dramatic school and a trip to London in "She Loves Me Not" accelerated her career.

Back on Broadway, she did five character bits in "Page Miss Glory" and then came her string of roles in "Three Men on a Horse," "Boy Meets Girl," "Room Service," "What a Life," "The Primrose Path."

The movies cast her first in "What a Life," ordinarily enough to type her forever as schoolgirl. George and Bell Spewack, however, told Lewis Milestone about her when he was casting one "Of Mice and Men," which role returned her to Paramount as a star.

She's a local climate-booster, was delighted with her Hermit's Glen house because the real estate, describing its charms, mentioned a barbecue but forgot the swimming pool. Betty had thought only the filthy-rich had swimming pools.

Woman Freed In Slaying

By BERRYVILLE, Va., Oct. 31 (AP) Miss Marie Pierce, 26, socialite farmwife, was freed today of a charge of slaying Louis Townsend Moreland, 51, a married farmer-neighbor.

A predominantly farmer jury in Clarke county circuit court acquitted the blonde divorcee, late yesterday, returning its verdict 35 minutes after receiving the case.

Miss Pierce, accompanied by her father, Walworth Pierce, Boston importer, and Mrs. Allerton Tompkins of New York, a friend from her school days, shook hands with and thanked each juror.

The prosecution charged Miss Pierce shot Moreland in the "heat of passion" and had asked a conviction for manslaughter.

Counsel for defense emphasized the defendant's testimony that she shot in self defense and asserted the issue was "a woman's right to protect herself within the confines of her home."

The galleries are already full for lobbyists, tourists and the curious can smell a vote, even if there has been no advance warning. The place is a babble of voices.

Orphan Home Stock Feed Supply Low

A committee has been named to head up a campaign for getting feed stuffs for the Buckner's Orphan Home, Baptist-supported institution.

Word that there has been an almost complete failure of feed crops depended upon to supply the home's livestock and that the generous supply of pigs might have to be sold because of lack of feed stirred action here.

The Rev. R. Elmer Dunham, general chairman, convoked a meeting of the group for Tuesday at 7:30 p. m. in the East Fourth church when plans for a concerted drive to collect gifts of feed stuffs will be outlined.

The committee includes George Melear, Vernon Logan, K. B. Beckett, Alvin Simpson of Bethel, W. B. Puckett of Bethel, J. T. Gross, Mr. Jones of Knott, Ralph White, the Rev. H. W. Pitts of Cosboma, Denver Yates, W. F. Forrest, W. R. Puckett, the Rev. E. E. Mason, Stewart Thomas, J. W. Wooten, the Rev. Blair Morris of Prairieview, S. L. Hull, Walter Robinson of Salem.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By HUGH FULLEBY, JR.

NEW YORK, Oct. 31 (Herald Special News Service)—Warning to fans: If you're going to the Fordham-Purdue game tomorrow, stick around until the end. . . . In the four games each, the Rams have scored 20 last-quarter points and the Hollermakers 21. . . . Harvard's footballers apparently think so little of Princeton that they staged a rebellion against Dick Harlow's no-scrimmage program and insisted on having some mid-week action. . . . Baseball rumor No. 5421 is that Dick Bartell is a cinch to be the Giants' manager next season. . . . For the season's futility record we offer the gal bowlers at Billings, Mont., who rolled 30 frames without getting a single pin. . . . Capt. Bill Baumer, who teaches history and does athletic publicity at West Point, authored two books that came out this week—"Not All Warriors" and "He's in the Army Now." . . . Whittinsville, the host that won the Marlene Dietrich trophy at Fascoag (R. L.) park for having the most perfect legs, has been offered a screen test.

Guest guessers—
Tapping the football toughies by proxy we present:
Paul Zimmerman, Los Angeles Times: "Stanford over Santa Clara. Shaughnessy has the 'T' rolling again."
Bob Hooy, Ohio State Journal: "Minnesota over Northwestern. I'll string along with the champion. They can only let you down once and so often they repeat."
Scop Lattimer, Greenville (S.C.) News: "Duke over Georgia Tech. With Steve Lach, Duke has a latch or lock on this game."
Don Pierce, Topeka (Kas.) Journal: "Missouri over Michigan State. The Bengals entertain bowl aspirations and have gained momentum in bouncing Nebraska."

Here And There

Anybody that had braved the wind, the rain and the cold Thursday about 1:30 o'clock to see the American Airlines ship stop for fuel would have seen a galaxy of movie stars enroute to Los Angeles from New York. Aboard were Charlie Ruggles and Charlie Butterworth, Richard Arlen, Jean Parker, Henry Morgan, Betty Grable and Rita Hayworth.

A card from New York City from Mrs. O. H. McAllister advises that Mr. and Mrs. Leander McAllister, DeAlva and she are attending the A. T. A. convention there. She writes it is colder there and they have seen lots of pretty scenery but still they'll take the wide open spaces of good old West Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. Cloyd Hamblis of Caruthersville, Mo., visited with his aunt, Mrs. Lucille Walker, and Mr. Walker here Thursday night. They were enroute home after a visit on the west coast.

Frost Awaited To Prove Results Of Sea Island Cotton Experiment

Repps Gular is waiting for the first frost to prove the results of his Sea Island cotton experiment on his Howard county farm.

Fifteen acres of the long staple cotton planted there is apparently doing well, but the bolls haven't opened yet. Gular thinks a frost may be necessary to pop them open.

When the cotton is open, Gular will determine what to do with the cotton. If he elects to gin it, it will be necessary to take it to Pecos or some other point where there is a gin capable of handling the long staple cotton. A roller gin is used, rather than the saw type used for ordinary cotton. This gin pulls the lint cleanly away from the seed, leaving no short fiber on the seed to necessitate delinting.

Sea Island cotton produces a staple about an inch and a half long and bringing 40 or 50 cents per pound.

The total number of deaths from air bombings in England in 1940 was 23,061.

Dunham Observes 2nd Anniversary In Local Church

Sunday is to mark the observance of the second anniversary of the Rev. R. Elmer Dunham as pastor of the East Fourth Baptist church and special services at the church and the North Nolan Mission, sponsored by the church's Brotherhood, will be in order.

The Rev. Dunham came here in August of 1939 from Santa Anna and after three months as district missionary was called by the East Fourth Baptist church as pastor. During his tenure as minister, a total of 208 members have been added, 208 of them by baptism.

Other progress includes the addition of a nursery room to the church, the completion of a Boy Scout hut, and the provision of a building for the mission. All of these, valued at perhaps $4,000, are left free.

Sunday the church also will attack the task of subscribing a $10,000 budget for the year, and will raise the last $50 of a $231.70 as a birthday mission's offering. Between the parent church and the mission, it is anticipated that well over 600 will be in Sunday school.

O'Daniel Seeks Vote On Neutrality Act

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31 (UP) — Senator O'Daniel (D-Tex.) said today he would ask unanimous senate consent later in the afternoon for an immediate vote on the question of amending the neutrality act to lift restrictions on American shipping.

Circus Battles Nasty Weather

The lure of the events under the "big top" was put to a supreme test Thursday when the Russell Bros. circus hit town with rain and cold for their travelling companions.

However, a goodly crowd at the afternoon matinee, composed of many school children saw the always fascinating trapeze artists, the lumbering elephants and fell in love with "Buddy" the trained seal.

Continued rain and cold cut down the night attendance and forced some to leave before the performance was over. Those that stuck it out as the rain fell on and around them were rewarded with excellent performances of the circus folk.

As far as the animal acts, Buddy, the seal, stole the show with his musical program, his own claps of appreciation at the crowd, and his almost human bark of amusement.

The trapeze artists with their swigs through the air, one done blindfolded, the tight wire walkers, and the elephant acts proved the circus hasn't changed with the years. But it's still a crowd pleaser and a favorite form of entertainment.

1-B Men To Receive New Examination

Young men classified with the Howard county Selective Service Board as 1-B are due to receive instructions from the board to report for another examination.

Bruce Franier, chief clerk of the draft board, said that the re-examination of 1-B's was in accordance with selective service regulations which require that those placed in this class be "examined periodically."

Those in 1-B, he explained, are young men with respectable physical defects which might either be corrected by registrant with medical aid or which might be taken care of by nature over a period of time.

Conceivably there are those who might be reclassified by reason of a re-examination, he said.

U.S. Ambassador To Mexico Resigns

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31 (UP) — President Roosevelt has accepted the resignation of Josephus Daniels, ambassador to Mexico.

The chief executive, in announcing this to a press conference today, said that of all the people who had been at foreign posts in Latin America in the last 1-2 years, he thought Daniels had done more to encourage and live up to the good neighbor policy than any.

Law Asks Wage Hike For Armed Services

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31 (UP) — Legislation providing broad adjustments in pay for all persons in the armed services, at an estimated additional cost of $74,353,878 annually, was introduced today by a senate military affairs subcommittee.

The bulky measure, which would raise pay for enlisted men and officers of the army, navy and marines, was offered by Senator Johnson (D-Colo.), chairman of the subcommittee, after extensive study by an interdepartmental committee representing the armed services, the coast guard, coast and geodetic survey and public health service.
