

Registration total hits 8,346

Lines grow as process nears end

UMBRELLA FOR TWO—These two unidentified Tech beauties flashed Student Publications photographer Johnny Shipman quick smiles before they scampered off into the rain during Wednesday afternoon's brief shower. Like most Techsians, the coeds seemed happy to see Lubbock's first sign of moisture in 36 days.

Lines grew longer and patience thinner as spring semester registration continued in its third day Wednesday.

At 3 p.m. total registration had risen to 8,346 with more than 16,000 expected to enroll before noon Saturday.

Wednesday afternoon registration was interrupted briefly by rain showers and wind gusts, accompanied by a quick drop in temperature.

General consensus of those upperclassmen who have completed registration is that the minor changes made in procedure this semester have quickened the process, and have perhaps resulted in smoother operation.

Many students indicated that because fewer cards must be filled out this semester actual registration time has been less than in previous semesters.

This may not be the opinion of those sophomore and freshman students, however, who are beginning registration proceedings this morning. Many instructors indicate that several sections of their courses have already been filled to capacity.

Senior Liz Gerbetz, working in the Union ballroom, speculated that today will probably be bad because so many students have waited until the last day to pay their fees and have packet validation completed. Assuming this trend continues, the main delay in registration should be in the Ballroom during the remaining hours of the enrollment period.

Student ID representatives indicated that validation of student identification cards is not slowing the registration process.

Because the laminated cards are to be used permanently, a change in student classification must be noted on each card.

It also serves as proof that a student is enrolled during the spring semester.

Undergraduate registration will continue until noon today. Graduate students will continue to register until noon Saturday.

Rockefeller accuses politicians of trying to divide Republicans

WASHINGTON AP — New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller said Wednesday that politicians who claim he covets the 1968 Republican presidential nomination often are seeking to divide the GOP.

"I would not now or at any time be a candidate," Rockefeller insisted once again.

And of politicians, both Republicans and Democrats, who question his repeated disavowals, Rockefeller said:

"THOSE WHO DO this often do it with the idea of fractionating the Republican party."

Rockefeller did not name them.

But the governor accused such persons of adopting a strategy designed to undermine popular support for Michigan Gov. George Romney.

HE SAID THAT is true of Democrats who see Romney as a potential threat to President Johnson, and of Republicans who would like to get the nomination themselves.

Rockefeller ascribed the same motives to people who talk of wanting Romney support. "I know a lot of people who would like to create that impression," he told newsmen.

Rockefeller said Romney needs a period of study and analysis as he makes the move from state government to the arena of national politics. And he said it is unfair to assail during that period Romney's silence on national and international issues.

ROCKEFELLER, talking politics in the hallway of a Senate office building, coupled his defense of Romney with a statement that the Michigan governor and New York Sen. Jacob K. Javits are the kind of men who could form a winning ticket for the GOP in 1968.

But at the same time, he said an attempt to forecast the GOP ticket is only after-dinner speculation.

Petition asks for change in coeds' rules

A petition for changes in the rules governing the women's residence halls was circulated last week by Scott McNutt, junior.

The petition cites four areas for rule changes. First on the list is a request for the abolition of room checks and all-dorm checks.

SECOND IS A request for an appeals body for girls who feel that they have not been dealt with justly by the dormitory advisory council.

Third, the petitioners request that membership in the Association of Women Students be made voluntary and that its control over dress and ODA's (obvious display of affection) be lessened.

Last on the list is a protest against compulsory residence in campus dormitories for women students.

The petition, which was started just before finals and has about 100 signatures, will be sent to the Committee for the Revision of the Code of Student Affairs this week.

10 arrested in Rio Valley labor strike

RIO GRANDE CITY, Tex. (AP) — Sheriff's deputies arrested 10 persons Wednesday, including five Catholic priests from San Antonio, in the latest episode in the protracted farm labor strike in the Lower Rio Grande Valley.

Starr County Chief Deputy Sheriff Raul Pena said the group was arrested for shouting at workers in a lettuce field at the La Casita Farm.

LA CASITA HAS been one of the main targets of the strikers, who are seeking higher wages and bargaining rights with growers.

Justice of the Peace B. S. Lopez charged all 10 with disturbing the peace, then released them on their own recognizance. He said bond in such cases usually is $100.

The strikers have been urging workers to leave the fields, such as those at La Casita, and join the walkout.

Strike leaders said they wanted to get arrested on charges of violating a state law which prohibits mass picketing. They said they then would test the constitutionality of the law.

Mass picketing in the area began Friday.

'Around the world' exhibit opens Sunday at Museum

A display of national costumes from Korea, China, Scotland, South America, India and Greece will open Sunday at West Texas Museum.

Titled "Our Neighbors Around the World," the exhibit includes an Athenian Festival costume owned by Yiota Dallis whose father was the first foreign student to graduate from Tech in 1932.

THE ATHENIAN festival costume loaned by Miss Dallis is a turquoise silk skirt with a white chiffon blouse, red velvet jacket and Greek cap with tassel.

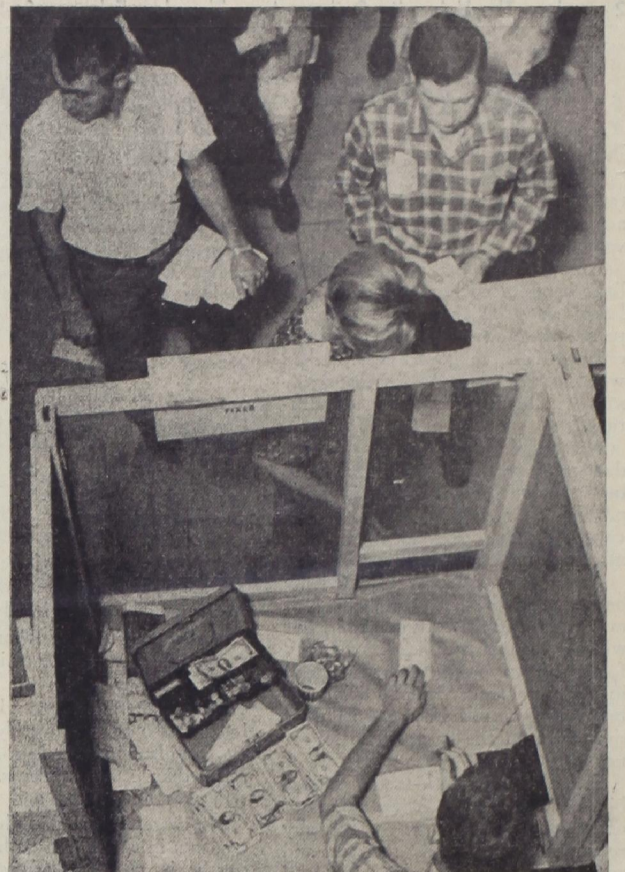

Costumes are from the Museum's own ethnological collection and private collections. The exhibit will show until mid-March.

Members of Tech's International Club have been invited to a reception from 2-5 p.m. Feb. 12 by members of the Women's Council of the West Texas Museum Association.

A quilt cover of Chinese embroidery on pongee (raw silk) is loaned to the exhibit by Mrs. P. K. Koh, and a Chinese child's broadened silk suit comes from the collection of Mrs. W. K. Wong.

AN AUTHENTIC Scotch Highlander costume with tartan of the Anderson clan is on loan from Mrs. Fred Norwood, and a glengarry, the traditional Scottish cap, is from the collection of Mrs. William D. Pasewark.

Quechua Indian festival costumes from South America, including a man's hat which belonged to the mayor of a village, come from Mrs. Tom Holden.

GOT CHANGE FOR A SEVEN DOLLAR BILL? — The money piles up as Tech students pay the cost of an education during the third day of registration. With one day of registration left, enrollment figures are expected to soar.

Schirra noticed Apollo flaws over a year ago paper says

CHICAGO (AP)—Expression of concern more than a year ago over flaws in the Apollo spacecraft was attributed to Navy Capt. Walter M. Schirra Jr. in a copyright story Wednesday by Chicago's American story.

Three astronauts perished last week in an Apollo fire.

SCHIRRA IS THE command pilot of the Apollo 1 backup crew. This crew presumably will take the places of those killed, when the mission is re-organized.

Peter Reich, aviation editor of the American, quoted a scientist he did not identify as relating that Schirra said he doubted he could have flown his missions in the Mercury and Gemini spacecraft if they had encountered as many fowlups as the Apollo craft.

Schirra's comments were reported to have been made as he climbed out of a mockup of the Apollo more than a year ago in the North American Aviation Inc., plant at Downey, Calif.

A SPOKESMAN FOR North American said Wednesday, "We know nothing about this, it's the first we've heard of it."

The unnamed scientist said the astronauts liked the Apollo in general but at that time some disenchantment had set in.

SCHIRRA, THE story said, referred to confusion that he encountered among the technical and scientific personnel working on the Apollo spacecraft.

"While much of this was paperwork confusion," the scientist was quoted, "a substantial part of it had to do with hardware."

Belding set to speak at Ad Week

Don Belding, former chairman of the national advertising firm of Foote, Cone and Belding and a director of the Eversharp Corporation, will be a key participant in Texas Tech's annual Advertising Recognition Week Feb. 12-18.

Belding will speak at the Silver Medal Awards Dinner Thursday night at the Villa Inn. The dinner will climax the Week's activities sponsored by the Lubbock Ad Club, Alpha Delta Sigma (men's national advertising fraternity), American Women in Radio and Television, and Gamma Alpha Chi (women's national advertising fraternity).

DISTINGUISHED SPEAKER and recognized advertising consultant, Belding will speak on the Week's theme "The Truth in Advertising." At the dinner, awards from the Lubbock Ad Club and Alpha Delta Sigma will be presented to outstanding members of the two organizations.

IN THE PAST Belding has served as chairman of the Small Business Advisory Commission for the U. S. Department of Commerce, civilian aide to the Secretary of the Army for Southern California, director of American Heritage Foundation and president of the Advertising Association of the West.

Advertising Recognition Week will bring several personalities involved with national advertising campaigns. Others will speak to the advertising clubs, fraternities and general public will be from NBC, commercial agencies and clothing design firms.

13 Tech students file for city ambassador

Thirteen Tech students have filed applications to represent Lubbock in this year's community ambassador program the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce said Wednesday.

Applicants will be screened Feb. 14-16 by a Chamber sponsoring committee, and the winner will tour Israel for the summer. Feb. 21 is the final selection date.

APPLICANTS FROM Tech are: Lynn Hamilton, Madeline Lemon, Robert Whitehill, Richard Knox, John Robertson, David Beesinger, Elaine Cannon.

Gwen Connelly, Dinah Doyle, Janie Kinney, Bill Turner, Charles Duncan, Bill Williams.

Also filing an application was Sheila Pinson of Christian College, Columbia, Mo.

Biology department gets two-year grant

Texas Tech's Biology Department has been awarded a National Science Foundation grant of $19,500 for a two-year research project, Department Head Earl D. Camp announced today.

Biology Professor Dr. John S. Mecham will direct research on formation of species entitled "Systematic and Evolutionary Relationships Within the Rana Pipiens Complex."

The grant will become effective Feb. 15.

Toppled tower materials sent to manufacturer

Samples of material from the Jones Stadium light towers toppled in the recent sandstorm were sent last week to Myer Machine Works of Red Wing, Minn., for testing.

The Minnesota company manufactured the 12 towers which were installed seven years ago at the cost of $10,000 each.

THE 159-FOOT towers were bolted at the bottom to stadium supports or anchors imbedded in several feet of cement and also secured to the top of the stadium. The towers were supposedly built to stand in winds of up to 100 miles per hour. Winds in the Jan. 8 sandstorm were clocked at a maximum of 68 m.p.h. at Lubbock Municipal Airport.

When Myer completes the laboratory checking of strengths of the materials used, representatives of the company will come to the Tech campus to view the towers in their location and to determine costs of replacement. The amount the company will pay will depend upon the findings of the cause of the destruction and the decision between company and Tech officials.

RAY DOWNING, director of building maintenance said the towers will have to be replaced as there is no satisfactory way to repair them or the foundation support.

COSTUME EXHIBIT—Rolf J. Wigand (right), freshman foreign student from West Germany and Bob Burns, junior, examine the Athenian festival costume loaned to the West Texas Museum by Yiota Dallis, whose father was the first foreign student to graduate from Tech. This costume and others from around the world will be on display Sunday through mid-March.

No more loyalty oath

No more loyalty oath represents a savings of students' time and taxpayers' money, and elimination of a practice which had no practical value.

No one denies that such oaths have little or no effect upon students' political views. If they are directed at persons who advocate the violent overthrow of the government, then what sort of logic proves these persons will readily confess their intentions?

Neither do they remind the student of his patriotic duties. One needs but to go through the registration process and note that students could care less about the oath, and that most don't even bother to read it.

No longer will some 18,000 little orange cards have to be printed at taxpayers' expense each semester, nor will the registrar's office have to pay for the time it takes to put the cards in individual student files. Hiring notary publics to rubber stamp their signatures on the oaths is no longer necessary.

In addition, a Tech-made addition binding students to "those standards of conduct which are universally recognized in good society and among honorable men and women" is out. Just what this masterpiece of vagueness meant and what it was for was never known, and only its deletion could have cleared up the vagueness.

The oath still is destined to show up in federal court, since it still applies to faculty and staff members. Other states have declared similar oaths unconstitutional, and the chances of this occurring in Texas are good. Objections to such a ruling will undoubtedly be loud, but it is preposterous to say that Texas higher education will suffer or degenerate because of it.

Good action

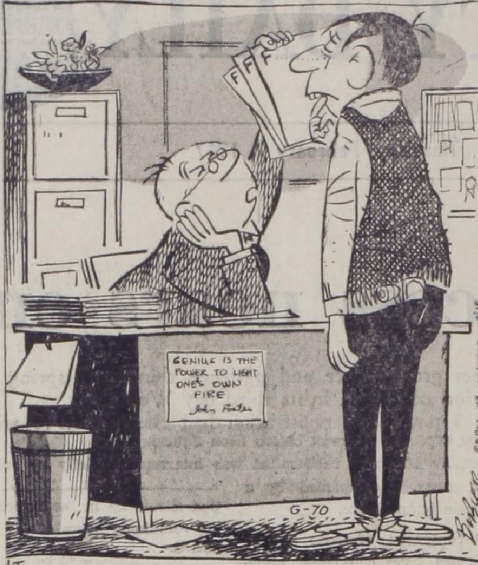

What was probably the most inefficient part of registration—standing in line for scholarships and loans at the cashier's office in the Ad Building—has been remedied, much to the delight of all involved.

Students often previously spent more time in the scholarship and loan line than they did in the entire rest of the registration procedure, waiting for two clerks to verify and hand out scholarship and loan checks to more than 1,000 students. The system was antiquated and ridiculous.

No more. Scholarship checks await students in the Union ballroom, loan checks in the loan advisor's office. Only presentation of identification is necessary and about two hours of waiting time are eliminated. Good action, administration.

But please, couldn't it spread to the rest of the system?

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

I THOUGHT PERHAPS YOU DIDN'T KNOW — THERE ARE FOUR OTHER POSSIBLE GRADES.

Seeks letters

On behalf of the University of California, Santa Barbara, we ask your help in informing the American public about the present problems facing higher education in the state of California. We especially ask every student sympathetic with our dilemma to communicate his feelings to the Governor of California at Sacramento.

THIS WILL make him cognizant of the fact that citizens, not only of California but of the United States, perceive the possible grave ramifications of political encroachment on the autonomy of the University. Such autonomy is a necessity for an academic community.

If you desire information on the situation here, please write me. Higher education in California is in a threatened position. Help spread the word.

Questions women's policies

Is Tech running a university or a nursery for women ranging from the age 18 or up? I am the victim of a weekend campus. It seems that I committed an unpardonable crime.

ON DECEMBER 20 I signed out for the Christmas holidays to go home. I took all my belongings to the home of a very respectable family here in Lubbock where I was to meet my ride home. Much later in the evening, I learned that my friend wouldn't be able to leave until the following morning.

I was invited to spend the night at their home since it was nearly time for the dorm to close. I, of course, informed my parents of the situation, feeling that they were the only other party to who I was responsible, besides myself since I had already signed out.

I REALIZE that there are girls who do sign out for home early and then go places where they shouldn't. However, aren't their moral lives their responsibilities? The Women's Advisory Council isn't going to turn a wayward girl into an angel by campusing her. If a girl is set in her ways, good or bad, then it is pretty doubtful that a council of girls judging her actions will have any effect.

Punishing a guilty person by campusing her will only make her rebel more. On the other hand, punishing an innocent person will probably lead to one less Tech student, sooner or later.

WOMEN AREN'T allowed to live off-campus here at Tech. They must pay to live in dorms where they are punished for enjoying liberties they would otherwise have living under their own management.

People go to college to work towards a future profession. The life one chooses to accompany this profession will depend on the person alone. If her life isn't one of reputable standards, then she is only punishing herself.

THE ADVISORY Council deals with girls old enough to make what they wish out of their lives. Shouldn't it stick to merely giving advice and letting one follow her conscience?

It's trade-in time for tired old myths.

Like the one about business. Especially big business. That it is beyond the rugged individualist's wildest daydream to enter this holy of holies because he'll lose something that's very sacred — like his independence.

Sure, it can happen. If a guy or gal wants to hide, or just get by, or not accept responsibility, or challenges.

We're not omniscient enough or stupid enough to speak for all business, but at a company like Western Electric, bright ideas are not only welcome, they are encouraged. And no door is shut. Create a little stir, go ahead, upset an old applecart (we replace shibboleths at a terrific pace — we have to as manufacturing and supply unit of the Bell System — in order to provide your Bell telephone company with equipment it needs to serve you.)

There's an excitement in business. True, we're in it to make a profit, but working to find new and better ways to make things that help people communicate is very rewarding and satisfying. Did you ever hear these wry words of Oliver Wendell Holmes? "Never trust a generality — not even this one."

That's how we feel about the generality that claims you'll just become a little cog in a company like Western Electric. You might, of course, but if you consider yourself an individual now, odds are 10 to 1 that you'll keep your individuality. And cherish it. And watch it grow. Even at big, big Western Electric.

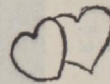

You know, that's the only way we'd want you to feel. If you feel like coming in with us.

Special programs set for KTXT TV viewing

Two special programs are set for viewing on KTXT-TV, Channel 5, Tech's educational television station.

AN ENTHUSIASTIC audience of 9,000 was on hand in the Pittsburgh Civic Arena in 1964 when conductor William Steinberg and the Pittsburgh Symphony returned from an 11-week tour of the Near East and Europe for the U.S. State Department.

National Educational Television (N.E.T.) was also there to record their concert of Beethoven's "Symphony No. 7 in A Major," and Weber's "Euryanthe Overture."

The event can be seen today at 9 p.m. A musical drama of 12th century France, "The Play of Daniel," is scheduled on "N.E.T. Playhouse" at 9 p.m. Friday.

THE NEW YORK Pro Musica, under the direction of the late Noah Greenberg, performs this medieval drama Greenberg, who died last life of the prophet Daniel. The long-forgotten work was revived by Greenberg in 1958, and performed in the medieval setting of The Cloisters in New York.

Last year N.E.T. asked that the musical be produced especially for its television audience. It proved so popular that N.E.T. is presenting it again this year in tribute to Greenberg, who died last

Annual Union retreat is set Saturday, Sunday at Happy

Annual Retreat for members of all committees of the Tech Union is set for Saturday and Sunday at the Methodist Church Camp Grounds near Happy, Tex.

BRUCE ANDERSON, currently working toward a doctorate degree in group process and dynamics at the University of Illinois, will lead the conclave.

Buses will load in front of the Union and leave at 9 a.m.

The retreat fee of $5.00 pays for ground fees, transportation, five meals, insurance and lodging. Each person is responsible for furnishing his own bedding.

THE RETREAT has several objectives:

- Help unionites learn about themselves as independent, free-thinking individuals;
- Help them in their relationships with one another;

- Help them in their relationship with the group—learning what a group is, how a group works and the individual's part in the group.

MRS. DOROTHY PIJAN, union program director, and Mr. Dallas Biggers, assistant union director, are sponsors for the trip.

Since only 80 can go, committee members and chairmen are urged to sign up as soon as possible.

Speck's trial is not moved

CHICAGO (AP) — Judge Herbert C. Paschen of Circuit Court denied today a motion to move Richard F. Speck's trial from Peoria.

The judge also announced that he had tentatively set Feb. 13 for Speck's trial on charges of murdering eight student nurses in their living quarters on Chicago's South Side July 14, 1966.

Judge Paschen earlier had transferred the trial from Chicago to Peoria, in central Illinois. He did so on the motion of Gerald Getty, public defender who represents the 25-year-old defendant.

Getty had argued that the statements of public officials about the case, which had been carried in Chicago newspapers and broadcasts, made it impossible for Speck to receive a fair trial in Chicago.

ENGINEERING, SCIENCE, MATH MAJORS:

Ever stop to think that 9/10 of your talents may lie underneath the surface?

Could be.

Now that you have your technical background, you may be sublimating one of the most valuable assets in business today—a kinetic personality.

Combine these career assets with an alert, common-sense approach to solving business problems and you could be the kind of person IBM's Data Processing Division is looking for.

We're talking about IBM's new field of Computer Applications—the creative application of computers in solving problems of almost any kind. And the kind of man or woman it takes to "make it" in the field. Perhaps you. Just what is Computer Applications?

It's a mix of your engineering, scientific or math education with your ability to solve business problems and advise business management. A mix that can give you unusual opportunities for personal growth, advancement and financial rewards.

Best of all, IBM will train you thoroughly for your new career. At full pay. Sound interesting? It is.

Hawks taken off market

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The St. Louis Hawks, put on the sale counter 27 days ago, are no longer on the market and will remain in St. Louis, owner Ben Kerner announced Wednesday.

"I'm tickled to death," exclaimed center Zelmo Beaty, reached in New York where the Hawks were defeated by the Knicks in a National Basketball Association game Tuesday night.

Michael J. Aubuchon, attorney who negotiated for Kerner after the team was put up for sale Jan. 4, submitted all bids to the club's sole owner Tuesday night.

BEFORE NOON Wednesday, Kerner announced his decision.

Repeated urging by NBA Commissioner J. Walter Kennedy and others motivated his decision, Kerner said. But it was reported none of the syndicates interested in the Hawks wanted to pay the $3.5 million estimated price.

Most prominent among groups identified in negotiations were those headed by boxing referee Harry Kessler of St. Louis and Cleveland broker Larry Schmelzer, part owner of the Columbus Checkers of the International Hockey League, who was among bidders last year for the Boston Celtics.

Reflected Glory wins Bahamas

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Reflected Glory came from nowhere to nip the 8-5 favorite Bold Hour at the wire in the $34,850 Bahamas Stakes at Hialeah Wednesday and give Jorge Velasquez his third win of the day.

Cool Reception, last year's 2-year-old Canadian champion, finished third and Native Guile got up for fourth in the field of 16 Derby-age colts.

REFLECTED GLORY crossed the finish line in 1:23 for the seven furloughs, one second slower than the stakes record set by Bold Ruler in 1957 and equaled by Sir Gaylord in 1962.

Reflected Glory won by a neck and it was two length back to Cool Reception.

AFTER THE FIRST four came Gentleman James, Reason to Hail, Ask the Fare, Fort Drum, Flying Tackle, Great White Way, Banana Joe Biller, Farbizon, Racing Room.

Byington, 6-7 Fort Worth Paschal product, brought down 25 rebounds in the Picadors 64-61 victory last week and will bring a 13.0 average into the Midwestern JV game here at 5:45 p.m. Saturday.

Byington has 64 rebounds in five games. Next are 6-5 Roger France of Boonville, Ind., with 63 in six for a 10.5 average, and 6-11 Wayne Nash of Nash is the most accurate in field goal shooting, with a 69.3 percentage figure (34 of 49). Among the regulars, Sherrod has the best eye from the free throw line, sinking 20 of 28 for a 71.4 percentage.

Coached by Gerald Coppedge and Dub Malaise, the Picadors are 6-0. So far they have defeated Lubbock Christian College 71-66, South Plains 84-73 and 86-79, Hardin-Simmons 83-71, McMurry 75-67, and Wayland 64-61.

Midwestern, 8-6 for the season, and the Picadors will precede the varsity contest with Southern Methodist, scheduled for 8 p.m. General admission tickets, at $1.50 and 75 cents, are available for the double-header.

DEAR REB:

Composer wants to know the score on '67 compacts

DEAR REB:
I'm a well-known composer, and I need a new car. The trouble is, I'm just too Bizet to pick one out. And what's more, many of the new cars I see are Offenbach in the garage for repairs. But I do have a good friend who is pleased with his new '67 Dodge Dart. He was given an excellent deal and Berlioz any money on it. My Bach is to the wall. Can you help me?
LUDWIG

DEAR LUDWIG:
My advice is that you let yourself Ravel in the enjoyment of driving the sporty, all-new Dart for '67. You'll find its Liszt price is a lot lower than you'd expect. And even though it's longer outside and bigger inside this year, Dart's still an easy car to Handel.

Sincerely, Reb

Here's the swinging, man-sized compact for '67 that's got three B's of its own: Bold, Brassy and Beautiful. Dart has been completely restyled this year, inside and out. It's longer, roomier, more powerful. But still at that snug compact price. Drop in at your nearest Dodge Dealer's and try it out for yourself.
