

Judges to hear board suit

By ELAINE McLENDON
Campus Editor

The Tech Supreme Court in an informal hearing Tuesday granted a formal hearing for a suit challenging the constitutionality of the cheerleader screening board.

The hearing was granted to Randy Hilton, complainant in the case, who maintains that his rights as a campaign manager for a cheerleader candidate have been violated.

Robert Hoffman, defense counsel for the Student Association claimed the complainant failed to plead he was injured because he did not apply for the position of cheerleader.

HOFFMAN FURTHER stated that the complainant's pleadings were "vague and obscure."

Hilton contends that the screening board is unconstitutional until passed as an amendment to the Tech Constitution.

In his pleadings he cited Article II, Section 2, No. 3 of the Tech Constitution which reads:

"The Head Cheerleader shall be considered a voting member of the Student Senate."

Section Three of the same article lists the qualifications of members of the Student Senate as at least a 2.00 g.p.a. for both the whole of his college work and for the semester preceding his election and be enrolled for at least 12 semester hours.

HILTON MAINTAINS the qualifications are now listed in the constitution and the bylaw recently passed providing for a cheerleader screening board must be passed as an amendment.

Hilton read to the court a 1964 TOREADOR editorial which expressed the opinion that a screening board at that time was unconstitutional.

Hoffman contended that the editorial be introduced as evidence, but that it had no pertinent effect on the case since at the time of its writing, Tech had another constitution.

Hoffman based his pleadings on the opinion that Hilton had no legal interest in the case.

AT THE REQUEST of a court justice Hoffman defined "legal interest" as having to suffer legal detriment if relief is not granted.

Hilton asked the court for a hearing in a letter of March 27.

Lonnie Dillard, chief justice of the Tech Supreme Court stressed that Tuesday's meeting was a hearing to determine "grounds" only.

After a 45-minute recess, the court granted a formal hearing for the case.

The complainant and respondent were advised by the chief justice to subpoena their own witnesses if needed.

The hearing is scheduled for 5 p.m. today in room 364 of the Ad Building.

SCREENING BOARD CONTROVERSY—Robert Hoffman, attorney general for the Student Association, addresses the Supreme Court hearing Tuesday on the constitutionality of the Cheerleader Screening Board. A formal hearing is set at 5 p.m. today in room 364 of the Ad Building.

Group creates aid fund for men's legal defense

A group of Tech students and Lubbock citizens has established a legal defense fund to aid three men charged with possession of marijuana.

"Because of the very open nature of the charges, this group wants to assure that an adequate defense be maintained," the Rev. Ralph Macy said Tuesday.

MACY AND THE REV. Houston Hodges are in charge of collecting contributions for the fund.

The trio, Charles Hatley Jr. and Tech students Walter Marlin and Bill Rider, were arrested April 2 following a police raid on a party at their home, 2617 20th St.

The men have been denied a polygraph test. Attorney Mark Smith said if necessary he would call in a private firm to administer a lie detector test to his three clients.

Following an order by Justice of the Peace George H. McClesky, Smith and his clients appeared at the Department of Public Safety for the test. Officials at the department refused to allow the men to take the test without an order from Dist. Atty. Alton Griffin.

GRIFFIN, WHEN questioned about his refusal to request the test, said, "I simply did not see fit to request a polygraph test in this case and that is it."

Smith said many state officials had asked Homer Garrison, director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, to authorize the examinations. Included in this group were Gov. John Connally and Sens. A. M. Aiken of Paris, Grady Hazelwood of Amarillo and Bill Moore of Bryan, according to Smith.

The case will remain unsettled until the 137th grand jury convenes next month.

Contributions to the legal defense fund may be made to either Macy or Hodges at the Ecumenical Campus Ministries Building, 2413 13th St., or mailed to the Unitarian Universalist Church, 2104 36th St.

Snyder, Koenig to manage UD

The Student Publications Committee Tuesday named David Snyder to continue as editor of The University Daily next year.

The committee also named Freddie Koenig to the position as advertising manager for the paper.

Snyder, a junior accounting major and journalism minor from Denver City, served as copy editor and assistant managing editor before being named editor last year. He is vice president of Sigma Delta Chi, men's professional journalism fraternity; member of Phi Eta Sigma, freshman men's honorary; and Phi Kappa Phi, national scholastic honorary for upperclassmen.

HE WAS recognized this year in the All-School Recognition Service for his outstanding leadership in campus activities.

Snyder will be the third person to serve as editor for two years. James Lindsey, now publications director at Texas A&M, was editor of The Daily Toreador from 1935 until 1937. Ralph Carpenter, now assistant director of Public Information at Tech, held the position from 1960 until 1962.

KOENIG, a senior advertising major from Wilson, worked this year as sales representative for the Daily and was chairman of Alpha Delta Sigma's Advertising Week. He is a member of ADS and Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity.

Applications for next year's University Daily staff are due Tuesday in the Student Publications Office. The only qualification is a 2.0 grade average.

Site prepared for 'happening'

By LINDA HODGE
Staff Writer

Construction is "happening" all over the campus and now the cheapest building project at Tech is underway northwest of the Architecture and Computer Building.

Soon to be the scene of a HAPPENING, the "junk sculpture" is being constructed by a class of architecture majors taught by Hugh Gibbons, allied arts instructor.

A HAPPENING is defined as an In Uruguay

LBJ arrives at meet

PUNTA DEL ESTE, Uruguay (AP) — Behind a tight security screen, President Johnson flew in Tuesday for a difficult summit conference declaring "we must quicken the pace" of the Alliance for Progress.

Before plunging into the thickest of economic problems at today's first summit session, the President arranged a series of conferences with five Latin American presidents that may have given him an idea of what he faces. These were his colleagues from Argentina, Colombia, the Dominican Republic, Mexico and Venezuela.

LATIN AMERICAN nations want more U.S. economic aid under the Alliance for Progress, and they want to spend these dollars anywhere in the world, not just in the United States as they now are required to do. Faced with a balance of payments problem, Washington is unwilling to do this.

event or major occurrence, and this is what will come about at 2:39 p.m. April 22 when the class will host the first HAPPENING at Tech.

THE SCULPTURE represents the reactions of the architecture students to the environment of today's average American family. The finished sculpture will resemble a house complete with a furnished living room, dining room, bathroom and bedroom. A garage and car will also be included.

The stage will be set for the HAPPENING in which the audience can express any and all emotions toward the sculpture or anything which it depicts to them.

HAPPENINGS have been held by the worldwide "underground" of art for several years in New York, Paris, Tokyo and London. The February 17 issue of "Life" magazine carried a full report on HAPPENINGS and "the other culture and their orgiastic affairs and brutalities."

"LIFE" DESCRIBED ONE HAPPENING in Paris in May, 1965: "Axes and hammer tear into the car. The car is being sacrificed. Then a roar, and the crowd is running, pushing, laughing, dodging the roar—a motorcycle. The girl on the back of the motorcycle is nude. She clings to the driver, gasping, gasping, eyes clammed shut. The motorcycle cuts through the crowd. People fall and scramble away."

"A spotlight flashes back to the car, lying now like a beached whale in the center of the crowd—axes and hammers have been at it in the dark. Another girl, face hidden by a white paper death mask, kneels on the crushed roof, and a boy stands on the hood covering her body with spaghetti."

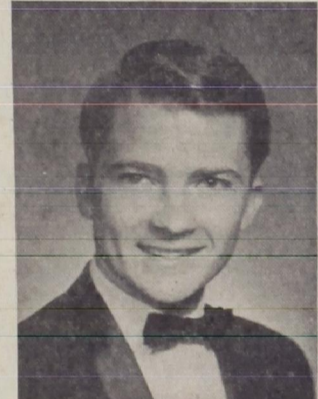

For Tech's HAPPENING there will be placards for protestors and soapboxes for songs and speeches for and against the sculpture. The architecture class is looking for reaction to their art in any form and suggests skits or demonstrations from various groups or dorms.

Present at the HAPPENING will be a combo from Dunbar High School.

Hearing on apportionment denied Texas by Court

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. Supreme Court has denied without comment a motion from the State of Texas seeking rehearing of arguments over apportionment of the Texas House of Representatives. The denial leaves the job of remapping up to the current legislature.

In Houston, Bill Wright, lawyer for the plaintiffs in the case, said he expected to seek a new hearing before a three-judge federal court in Houston and to ask them to throw out the current apportionment plan.

ASSISTANT TEXAS Atty. Gen. George Cowden said from Austin, "We will just tell the Legislature to go ahead and rewrite the bill."

Texas Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin was in Washington Tuesday on Democratic Party matters and could not be reached for comment.

Work on the new mapping has been going on anyway, despite the fact that the High Court's previous ruling did not amount to a final rejection of the current scheme. What the court said in its Feb. 20 ruling was that the plaintiffs were entitled to a rehearing on the matter before the three-judge Houston panel and that the current apportionment is lopsided.

THE COURT EXPLAINED that population per House seat varies from 54,385 to 71,301, or from 14.84 per cent over-representation to 11.64 per cent under-representation. The court suggested that Dallas and Bexar Counties might each receive an additional representative when the new mapping is drawn up.

Custodian of the job is State Rep. Gus Mutscher of Brenham, who heads the House Committee on Redistricting and has appointed himself chairman of each of its subcommittees.

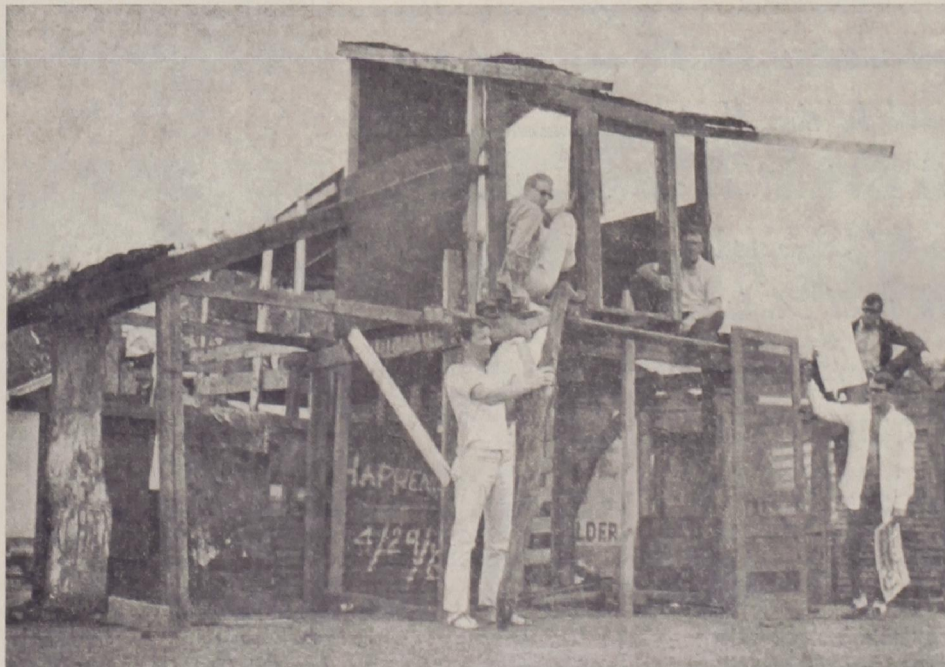

Mutscher said in Austin Tuesday, before word came of the court decision, that drafting of the House plan was not to begin until after April 20, when special area subcommittees report back to him. Under his schedule, this would ready the bill for floor action just a little over a week before adjournment.

Platforms of candidates due

All candidates for Student Association executive positions should turn in their platforms to the University Daily by 5 p.m. today.

Each candidates' platform will be published Friday, one week before executive officer elections. This is so students can become familiar with each candidates' views prior to election day.

The type-written platforms should be double-spaced and no longer than one and a half pages. They may be turned into the Student Publications Business Office, Journalism 102.

Library requests U.S. grant

The Tech Library has filed application for a federal grant from the U.S. Office of Education for books and other materials.

Librarian Ray Janeway said the amount allocated to Tech will be determined by its ranking among more than 3,000 colleges and universities.

FUNDS AVAILABLE under Title II-A of the Higher Education Act of 1965 make three types of grants available: basic, supplemental and special-purpose. Janeway said Tech should receive the basic grant of $5,000 and that the university's newest doctoral programs should provide sufficient need for the special-purpose grant.

The latter grant is awarded on a dollar-for-dollar matching basis with priority given to colleges and universities that require special assistance in setting up and strengthening joint-use library facilities.

JANEWAY SAID THAT if Tech receives the special-purpose grant, it will be used to increase source materials such as micro-films, particularly for new doctoral programs.

The federal program, now in its second year, will provide more than $24.5 million during 1967, three times as much as was available last year when 1,831 institutions received grants.

Name issue holds up marker project

Construction of the fountain and entrance marker to the Tech campus will begin as soon as the name-change issue is settled according to Howard Schmidt, consulting architect for the project.

SCHMIDT, OF Howard Schmidt and Associates, said Tuesday, "The plans are not quite finished because of the ornate detailing necessary."

"The main thing we are lacking is the official name. We are hoping that will come in this legislative session," he said.

Schmidt explained that all the funds are available but construction has been delayed in order to have the correct name in the seal to be inscribed on the granite face of the marker.

Modern photography being displayed

Photographs of subjects ranging from shattered, laminated glass to fertilizer bags in a mud puddle went on display in the library yesterday. The circulating exhibition started at the Art Institute of Chicago in the spring, 1962, and has since been exhibited in 20 museums and galleries from coast to coast before coming to Tech. The department of architecture and allied arts brought the group of pictures to Tech in cooperation with Howard Dearstyne.

DEARSTYNE has been writing articles for magazines on the subject of art in photography. His articles have appeared in such periodicals as the PSA Journal, Leica Photography, College Art Journal and many others.

"I have sought for 40 years to record, at first in black and white and then in color, certain aspects of the beauty which a sensitive eye can discover in the unheralded and undramatic things which lie around us," said Dearstyne.

Many of his photographs include subjects which at first do not appear to be subjects for a good picture. For example, there are pictures of colored pebbles on sand, oak leaves on drying pavement, and grass clippings on a slate sidewalk.

"To me, there are no hierarchies of value in subject matter. A configuration of objects in the gutter may be as potentially useful as a beautiful woman, a pitiful outcast or a gruesome episode on the battlefield."

The framed pictures in the collection are not for sale, but copies are available for $50.

Second in series

Double duty mark of student body vip

EDITOR'S NOTE: The following article, second in a series of five, is published in cooperation with the Government Committee of the Student Senate. Dick Bowen, chairman. They are intended to promote a better understanding of student government. Other articles are written by remaining executive officers and the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court. All will be published before executive officer elections April 21.

By GARY ROSE
Vice President of the Student Association

The office of vice president of the Student Association is unique in that it is a dual position. The vice president serves not only as the second-ranking member of the executive branch, but perhaps more important, he is president of the legislative branch—the Student Senate.

AS A MEMBER of the executive branch, the vice-president serves as an aide to the president of the Student Association and as a liaison between the executive and legislative branches. He serves as chief executive in the absence of the President and is designated as successor to the president.

Within the legislative branch, the duties of vice president are more clearly defined. He serves as chairman of the Senate, casts a vote in case of a tie, and makes committee appointments with the approval of the Senate. Since there are no provisions for "seniority" in the Senate at the present time, he must be aware of each senator's capabilities in selecting committee members. The vice president as president of the Senate must guide legislation through the Senate from its introduction as a bill, to committee, to debate on the floor, and if passed, to the executive. He must be able to conduct orderly sessions of the Senate and should have an adequate knowledge of the rules of parliamentary procedure.

SINCE THE IDEAS and actions of the executive and legislative branches are sometimes contradictory, the vice president may unfortunately find himself caught between loyalty to the Senate and to the executive. Hopefully, this paradox can be removed as the role of the vice president becomes more clearly defined.

Perhaps one of the most important qualifications of the vice president is time. As a paid officer of the Student Association, he must be able to spend a great deal of time in the student government office, take an active part in all aspects of student activities, and serve as a representative of the Texas Tech Student Association to other universities, the faculty, the administration, and the community.

THE ROLE OF vice president is being determined by those who serve in the position. As the second vice president to serve as president of the Senate from the executive branch while working for a spirit of cooperation between the two branches. It will be up to future vice presidents to expand this role.

Park good attraction

Almost lost in the shuffle of Saturday's Board meeting was a proposal which would establish a 150-acre research park on the Tech campus, an addition which would add greatly to the research and graduate work done at this university.

Pending legislative approval, land for the park would be divided into one and two acre plots and leased to firms, government agencies, foundations and associations to build and maintain private research facilities.

The proximity of such research facilities would be of great benefit to the campus, for it would provide an opportunity to share professional and research manpower such as Ph.D.'s in engineering, science and mathematics. By providing adjunct professorships, which recently were authorized by the Board, Tech could tap this reservoir of talent to help boost its educational excellence.

Besides attracting professional and research talent to the campus, the park would provide opportunities for the part-time employment of graduate students and for association with major research efforts.

The park wouldn't even complicate campus traffic problems, because it is situated far enough from the central campus, north of Fourth Street and west of Quaker Avenue, so that the development of the park would not disrupt traffic, nor would the completed facilities.

If the development comes off as planned, the research park would be of great benefit to Tech. The minds the park would attract would greatly increase the depth of the faculty and the reputation of the campus.

It's an idea which has worked on several other campuses, and, similarly, there is no reason Tech shouldn't use its available land, research facilities and academic environment to attract top minds to the campus.

City mayor speaks at career luncheon

Mayor W. D. Rogers addressed a luncheon beginning the Delta Sigma Pi Careers Conference Tuesday in the Tech Union Ballroom.

Roger's topic was opportunities for young men in business. Rogers concluded that to be a success, one must stick with his goal and recognize opportunities when they arise.

The conference was the third annual careers conference sponsored by Delta Sigma Pi, professional business fraternity. The luncheon was attended by 58 men, including fraternity members, about 20 Southwest area company representatives, and representatives of the Lubbock high schools' senior classes.

The company representatives remained after the luncheon to interview prospective employees, for summer and permanent jobs.

Sam Kayem, Delta Sigma Pi junior biology major, said his overall impression of the interviews was "amazement" that a biology major could be offered so many jobs in management. He said it seemed that all one needed was a college degree, and he could hold many different jobs after a brief period of training.

WILD NEW SOUND!

Ma Bell And The Computers

A far-out group of Bell Telephone Labs scientists have come up with a great new sound . . . a singing computer!

It began several years ago by singing "Daisy, Daisy." Hardly a folk-rock smash, but lately its voice has been improving. And even though you may not care for the sound, it's big in the scientific field.

Simply put, our scientists study speech and express the way we speak words by means of numbers, then make a computer process the numbers. The final result is a tape of music you could play on your tape recorder.

Giving voice to a computer may mean a lot in providing better communications services. The more we know about voices and tones of all sorts, the better we can make your telephone and other communications services.

And our curiosity may find uses for computer speech that nobody's thought of yet. That's the way it is with a lot of basic research; it can lead to some far-out ideas, that end up way-in.

At Bell Labs, and throughout the Bell System, we find it pays to be curious about everything.

Clay-Patterson fight cancelled

CARSON CITY, Nev. (AP) —The Nevada Athletic Commission, at the urging of Gov. Paul Laxalt, Tuesday rescinded its approval of a license for the heavyweight championship bout between Cassius Clay and Floyd Patterson in Las Vegas April 25.

The commission said it would not allow the fight to be held anywhere in Nevada. "MY STRONG feeling is that you cannot sanction this fight," Laxalt told the commission at an emergency meeting in the state capitol.

The governor indicated he thought the fight would be a mismatch.

IN LAS VEGAS, Clay's trainer Angelo Dundee said "We don't know anything about that. We're here and just starting" training.

Mel Grab, the Las Vegas promoter, commented, "I have nothing to say."

Clay, the champion, knocked out Patterson in the 12th round in a previous match in Las Vegas Nov. 22, 1964.

"At the time Clay indicated he carried Patterson for eight rounds," said Laxalt.

"ANY NEW fight would create suspicion throughout the world."

He said Nevada has to be careful because of its multi-million dollar gambling industry and the natural tendency of the nation to be suspicious of what is done in the state.

The Governor said the commission had made only a tentative agreement with the fight's promoters for a license, and that this could be rescinded without any legal problems.

THE CHAMPION arrived in the southern Nevada city Tuesday to begin training for the re-match.

Shortly before the license was rescinded, Patterson announced plans in New York to fly to Las Vegas Wednesday to finish his training for the fight.

ALREADY in Las Vegas, Clay told reporters shortly before the announcement:

"Tell all the fans and all the people that their idol—the living legend—they may be looking at him for the last time."

MORTAR BOARD

Mortar Board will meet at 7 p.m. in room 207 of Tech Union Thursday.

Orioles pick up where they left off

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Baltimore Orioles, world champions of 1966, scored four runs in their first time at bat in 1967, and went on to defeat the Minnesota Twins 6-3 Tuesday in an American League opener.

A two-run homer by Brooks Robinson, just inside the left field foul pole, capped the outburst before Minnesota's Jim Kaat retired a batter.

Brooks also contributed three sparkling fielding plays at third base in the first three innings, and left fielder Blefary started a double play in the first inning after reaching above the left field fence to rob Rich Rollins of a homer.

Inexperience, injuries handicap Diamondmen

By GARY TILORY Sports Writer

Plagued with inexperience and injuries, the Tech baseball team has fallen into the midst of one of its worst slumps.

With the dream of a berth in Southwest Conference baseball finally becoming a reality, the question has been raised, "Has the varsity been playing for next year?"

COACH KAL Segrist made this comment, "Yes you have to say that to an extent they are, but this isn't the real problem. I think our biggest problem would be the fact of using inexperienced players. We have been hit by injuries all year and we have had to substitute sophomores, transfers and other players to take up the slack."

"I think these boys have done a fine job but they just seem to tighten up under pressure. One good example is the first game against New Mexico University. A boy hit a home run with no one on base, but then he took a third strike in the same game with the bases loaded," said Segrist.

THE SEASON being half over, the chances for the Raiders to finish over the magical .500 mark are "slim to none."

The Raiders have 14 games to go and have a 4-13 record. They next encounter the Sul Ross Lobos, from Alpine, Tex., in a three-game series here April 21-22. Unfortunately the Raiders have never beaten the Lobos. However, Sul Ross is not having a winning season either.

THE BIGGEST thorn in the Raiders side comes from too many errors. In 17 games the Raiders have committed 51 miscues.

Also another problem is getting a hit with men on base. The Raiders have left 158 men stranded. There have been 72 left on first, 57 on second and 29 on third.

"A base hit at any time would have scored anybody on base," said Segrist, "No matter how well you play on defense you cannot win games by leaving that many men on base."

"Another example of this would be when we had the bases loaded in the 10th inning against Baylor and didn't score a run," said Segrist.

NOT DON'T are the Raiders having their problems scoring runs but also getting the base hits. In 507 times at bat they have gotten 110 hits for a .217 average. This is .50 below their team average from last year of .267.

Asked about the second half of the season and if he had any changes, Segrist said, "We are gonna make some defensive changes. We hope that some of the people that are hurt will get back and help us. We hope catcher Joe Saunders will be ready by next week."

Saunders suffered a chipped bone in his hand just before the TCU-SMU series.

"I DON'T think the boys are not trying," Segrist said, "I think they are trying too hard. We just can't seem to pull the string when we're at the plate," he said.

In the 14 games remaining the Raiders play Pan American College and Sul Ross here and ACC in Abilene and Eastern New Mexico here and in Portales, N.M.

Purses increased, horsemen off to races

NEW YORK (AP) — They were off and running at Aqueduct Tuesday and the horsemen acted like there was no tomorrow as they hastened to cash in on a $15,000 daily increase in purses — a boost earned after they had refused for five days to enter their horses.

ALTHOUGH the entry list for Tuesday's nine races didn't close until 7 a.m., EST there were 103 entries with six scratches later in the morning. The horsemen followed up with 108 entries for Wednesday.

The normal entry list for a Tuesday or a Wednesday runs between 70 and 80.

The weather was cold and windy but an Aqueduct spokesman placed the crowd of 18,000 after the first race.

"WE ARE MORE than pleased with the turnout," said a New York Racing Association spokesman.

The end to the dispute over increased purses came late Monday when some 240 members of the Horsemen's Benevolent and Protection Association approved a recommendation of its board, headed by Jack Dreyfus, New York financier and owner of the Hobeau Farm.

THE AGREEMENT calls for a yearly increase of $3.5 million purses with the NYRA furnishing the extra cash this year and the state coming through with the additional money next year by lowering its share of the wagering from 10 to 9½ per cent.

Tommy Trotter, racing secretary, immediately put into effect the increased purses, raising the minimum from $3,500 a race to $4,000.

The Student Education Association will meet Thursday in the Room of Tech Union at 7 p.m. in the Anniversary Room of Tech Union.

Linkmen split match with Horns

Texas Tech linkmen yesterday split a golf match with the University of Texas at Austin 3-3 at the Lubbock Country Club.

The tie gives the Raiders a 1-1-1 Southwest Conference record. Texas is now 1-0-1 for the young season.

The best score on the par 72 course was turned in by Texas' Chip Stewart who fired a two-under-par 70 to defeat Tech's Jim Arnold.

Raider Robert McKinney claimed the most outstanding win by beating defending SWC individual champion Mason Adkins by two strokes. McKinney shot a 74; Adkins, a 76.

In other play, Tech's Jim Wilcoxson halved a match with Rick Massengale, both shooting a 75. Raider Ronnie White defeated Buddy Hamilton.

The golf team's next match is with Baylor here Friday.

DELTA PHI EPSILON

Delta Phi Epsilon, professional foreign service fraternity, will meet Thursday at 7:30 p.m. in the Social Science Building, room 115.
