John Tower says U. S. objective is buffer for Reds

By JIM JONES
Asst. Managing Editor

Sen. John Tower (R-Tex.) said Friday night the United States' objective in Asia is to surround China with economically sound and politically progressive nations.

TOWER, SPEAKING BEFORE the Young Republican State Convention, told the 1,200 delegates that these countries, such as South Korea, Taiwan, Thailand and eventually South Vietnam, would provide the greatest buffer possible to Asian communism.

"It is very harmful for a few Americans to decry our efforts in Vietnam," said Tower. "As long as Hanoi believes that there is great opposition in the United States to our efforts, the fighting will drag on longer."

Tower blasted Democrats who do not back President Lyndon Johnson's Vietnam policy.

"THE REPUBLICAN PARTY showed profound responsibility in ending partisanship when America began fighting in Vietnam."

Tower said there are no major Republicans opposed to the war or to the bombing of Hanoi.

He urged Republicans on the grass-roots level to be even more vocal in support of the U.S. effort to show that "our's is the majority opinion in America."

Tower told the convention that 1968 would present Republicans with a tremendous opportunity to elect the president of the United States and a Republican House of Representatives.

He urged the YRs to eye every state office in 1968 and stress the youth of the GOP. He warned, however, that all Republicans, both YRs and senior party members, must put aside all differences and petty disagreements when the time comes to campaign for office.

"POLITICAL ACHIEVEMENT is measured through victory and victory is achieved through unity," Tower told the delegates.

Tower told the University Daily after his speech that Sen. Robert Kennedy's (D-N.Y.) proposal to stop the bombing of North Vietnam would "be tragic because it would cost American lives."

In response to a question about the Vietnam policies of Gov. Mark Hatfield and Sen. Charles Percy, both Republicans, Tower said, "They keep pretty quiet about their views."

Tower said the proposed tax credit legislation for college students had a good chance for passage in the 90th Congress.

THE PROPOSAL would provide an income tax credit of up to $325 on the first $1,500 spent on tuition, fees, books and supplies, available to anyone paying these expenses for a student at an institution of higher learning.

The bill is currently under consideration of the Senate Finance Committee. Tower said the theory of some senators who say the measure will defeat its purpose by causing higher college expenses is "a lot of bunk."

The YR convention continues through today with U.S. Rep. George Bush as guest of honor.

Writing institute

Approximately 75 people had registered for the Technical Writing Institute as of 3 p.m. Friday. According to registration personnel, persons attending included business groups, organizations, faculty instructors and students.

The Institute, sponsored by the Tech English department, continues until noon today.

The Institute, the first for Texas Tech, will study subjects ranging from "Preparation of Company Reports" to "Scientific Journalism."

3-judge panel rules 'sufficient evidence'

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP)—Clay L. Shaw, a wealthy retired business executive, was ordered Friday to stand trial on a charge of conspiring to murder President John F. Kennedy. The ruling followed a four-day preliminary hearing requested by Dist. Atty. Jim Garrison.

A three-judge Criminal District Court panel ruled unanimously that Garrison had presented sufficient evidence to warrant a trial for Shaw.

The highlight of the hearing was Perry R. Russo's testimony that he had heard Shaw, Lee Harvey Oswald and David W. Ferrie plotting in September 1963 to assassinate Kennedy.

The Warren Commission report, which said Oswald had acted alone in the assassination of Kennedy, was not admitted as evidence after Judge Bernard Bagert said it was "fraught and hearsay."

Shaw, rugged and erect at 54, sat smoking impassively when the decision was announced. His lined face was haggard.

Judge Bagert said Garrison had presented sufficient evidence "to justify bringing into play further steps of the Criminal Court."

SHAW REMAINS FREE ON $10,000 bond. Garrison arrested him on murder conspiracy charges March 1. A decorated World War II Army major, Shaw retired in October 1955 as managing director of the International Trade Mart here.

Friday's decision came exactly one month after the first disclosure that Garrison was probing the Kennedy assassination. The pipe-smoking prosecutor said he had launched the investigation last October.

Shaw called Garrison's charge "fantastic" and denied having had any part in a conspiracy. U.S. Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark said the FBI had cleared Shaw of any link to the Kennedy assassination.

"I DID NOT KNOW HARVEY LEE Oswald (sic) nor to the best of my knowledge do I know anyone who knew him," Shaw said March 2. "I am completely innocent of any such charges."

Defense attorney William Wegmann asked the judges Friday to take their time in issuing a ruling in the final arguments.

"The reasonable doubt doesn't go to the state, it goes to the defendant," said Wegmann.

"I SAY THE ONLY WORTHY thing of Russo's testimony is that he knew David Ferrie and feared his intelligence . . . this man Shaw is entitled to have the stigma removed from him.

"What they've put in, what they've got at this hearing, it might warrant future investigation by competent authorities," he continued, "but it doesn't warrant holding this man."

"THE STATE HAS SIX YEARS TO prove this case. With a stroke of the pen we can be back in here.

"What's been presented is interesting. It's provoking."

"It is not proof."

IN REBUTTAL, Asst. Atty. James Alcock said only: "The State of Louisiana has put forth before the court enough evidence to tip the scales, enough evidence to hold this man."

GARRISON'S STAR WITNESS was Russo, 25, an insurance salesman from Baton Rouge. He told the court that he was present in Ferrie's New Orleans apartment in mid-September, 1963, and heard Oswald, Shaw and Ferrie plotting to assassinate the president.

Russo said the plan involved "triangulation of crossfire," diversionary shooting, a possible flight to Mexico and Cuba, and the sacrificing of one man as a scapegoat to permit the others to escape.

Henderson to help get band funds

Skitch Henderson, formerly of the Tonight Show, will conduct the Tech State Band Saturday in a benefit appearance.

Henderson will be appearing with the stage band at 8:15 p.m. at Municipal Auditorium to help raise funds to finance the band's trip to Salt Lake City, Utah.

THE BEARDED MUSICIAN, BEST known through his appearances on the Tonight Show, is the music director of the National Broadcasting Company.

Henderson was born in Birmingham, England, but spent most of his boyhood in Minnesota, Kansas and Oklahoma. He is a graduate of Southern California at Los Angeles.

THE CONDUCTOR - COMPOSER began his musical career with the communications network and as a guest conductor of orchestras in 1953. He made his Carnegie Hall debut conducting the New York Philharmonic in Marc Blitzstein's "Airborne" Symphony.

Proceeds from his appearance with the stage band will send the band to the finals of the Inter-Mountain Collegiate Jazz competition April 6. The Tech band was chosen for the finals on the basis of elimination from tapes. It is the only band in the finals representing Texas.

Tech students will be admitted to the jazz concert Saturday for $1, general admission will be $2.

AWS election protest begun, is withdrawn

A petition to contest the recent election of unopposed AWS executives was circulated and then withdrawn at West Hall Friday.

THE PETITION SAID, "Being that AWS is a mandatory organization, but does not adequately represent the women students of this campus, as shown by the recent uncontested election, we the undersigned demand that this election be declared invalid."

Milan Baneroft circulated the petition, and it was signed by 37 students before it was withdrawn.

Miss Baneroft said she decided the petition was invalid after talking to an AWS representative.

MISS BANEROFT SAID SHE started the petition after hearing complaints about AWS at Wednesday's Gripe Night. "I thought the executive ran unopposed because women students didn't have the right to nominate candidates from the floor," she said. "However, if women will just go to the open AWS meetings, such situations as this will not arise. As it was, nobody nominated candidates from the floor, so the unopposed election was a result of student apathy."

"If I am going to circulate a petition, I want it to be meaningful, and not just a petition for the sake of a petition."

Petitions of a similar nature were reportedly being circulated in other dormitories, but information could not be confirmed late Friday night.

GUERRILLAS—Inspecting officials from the Fourth U.S. Army were impressed with Tech's Counter-guerrilla force and said the Reserve Officer Training Corps "looked very good." The counter-guerrilla force staged a repelling demonstration on a fire tower near Mackenzie Park Thursday. They assimilated the blowing up of a bridge and also demonstrated hand-to-hand combat. Results of the inspection, conducted by Col. Cooper, Maj. Alford, and Maj. Lundy of Ft. Sam Houston in San Antonio, will not be available for approximately six weeks.

Cheer candidates to meet Monday

All prospective Tech cheerleader candidates are required to meet Monday at 5:30 p.m. in the Tech Union Coronado Room.

The purpose of the meeting is to announce election rules. Candidates are required to bring their grade slips and pay the $1 filing fee.

The screening board for cheerleaders will meet April 1 at 1 p.m.

University Theater production

'House' satirizes man's trials

By BARBRA WORLEY
Fine Arts Editor

From the concubine who insists on being "a proper sort of courtesan" to the conniving servant about to be discovered but gleefully planning to "go on with the games when surrounded by flames," the comedy of "The Haunted House" plays a delightfully satirical trick on man's self-induced troubles in the University Theater's third production of the year.

A special performance of the play has been scheduled for 8:15 p.m. Sunday in addition to the matinee to provide for the previous ticket sell-out.

A SPRINKLING HERE AND THERE throughout the play of a few contemporary phrases such as "let's get a buzz on," the much-discussed orgy scene and a special musical score written by Sylvia Ashby and Sylvia Hazlerig are more than enough to give the audience an almost uncomfortably familiar feeling of identification with what is taking place on stage.

And then, simply because "that's the way it is in comedy," the problems are solved, all is forgiven and the production ends in a happily-ever-after production scene straight out of a 1930's musical starring Alice Faye and Don Ameche.

Durward Jacobs' presentation of Tranio, the devilish servant who not only causes most of the problems but fiendishly attempts to solve them by completely confusing everyone else, is expertly done and provokes sheer pain in the mind of anyone who has ever been "taken in" by someone and then left holding the responsibility.

BUT HIGHLIGHT PERFORMANCES ARE rather the rule than the exception in this production. Billy Huddleston as the father and Mike Cook as the son round out the central characters, each carrying off their adde-pated and innocently drunken, respectively, characterizations with excellent timing and experience.

There are also noteworthy performances by University Theater veterans who, in "The Haunted House," simply prove their merits all over again.

Among these are Ramona Peebles, Charles Kerr, Biff Painter—in a matured performance here that is the best we have seen him—and G. W. Bailey, whose performance as the "swishy" servant Phaniscus makes one wonder how he could ever have been such a convincing Prospero, Noah or Richard III.

THE SONGS ARE CLEVERLY DONE, with few exception, Walter Marlin's musical direction the same, and the satire carried across in every element of the play from the overall atmosphere to the ICASALS symbols on Philematium's bathtub.

Dr. Clifford Ashby and his cast are to be commended for an excellent production of the play, one which should be seen most importantly because of its refreshing ability to teach us a lesson and let us have a good time while we are learning.

Faculty receives 'prizes'

Two faculty members in the architecture and allied arts department have received purchase prizes in the 18th annual exhibition of the Texas Watercolor Society.

Instructor Lynwood Krencek received $150 for his painting "Under Westside," which was purchased by the First National Bank of San Antonio. Krencek's "The Wooden Wedding and Other Stories" was also shown.

"Nesselrode Dream," a painting by Paul Hanna, an assistant professor in the department, won a purchase prize of $150 offered by the Pace Food Co. of San Antonio.

The paintings will be exhibited at the Witte Museum in San Antonio beginning Sunday through April 9. The exhibit will go on tour in Texas and Oklahoma following the Witte showing.

The "purchase prize" amount is the same as the price set on the work by the artist.

Students featured

Talent '67 comes to Tech

Two acts featuring Tech students were taped for the second Campus Talent '67 television special Friday in the Municipal Auditorium.

The production, a project of Southwestern Bell Telephone Co., has been taping acts at many Texas colleges and universities and will feature some of the best talent Texas has.

THE FIRST act was the Tech stage band playing the jazz number, "The Three Cornered Cat."

Barbara Jeffress, a sophomore from Amarillo, played the harp accompanied by a string group consisting of Betty Whitlock, first violin; Barbara Pandolfi, second violin; Eugene Gott, viola; Robert Adcock, cello; and Boyce Wyrick, bass.

THE PROGRAM is neither a talent contest nor amateur show. It is a representative selection of outstanding student performers in a variety of talent forms.

A virtual "television studio on wheels" does the video taping for the show.

THREE STUDENTS from the University of Georgia are paid to do the camera work and receive college credit in their major, radio and television production.

SIMILAR statewide productions take place in Oklahoma, Kansas, Missouri, and Colorado. But the idea originated with Southwestern Bell in Texas.

Though no date has been set, the program will probably be aired in May.

Students show art

Advanced students in the department of architecture and allied arts will show some of their work in an exhibit at the Municipal Garden and Arts Center.

This is the second year for the exhibit, which was created by the invitation of the center and the Lubbock Art Assn. to the students at Tech to display their work.

The exhibit has been expanded and will include sculptures, pottery, and print making along with the paintings.

There will be about 130 pieces of work on display when the exhibit opens Sunday at 3 p.m.

The exhibit will run until the 31st of March.

Accounting given check

The Texas Tech accounting department received a $1,000 check from Price Waterhouse Foundation of New York this week.

The check was presented to department head Dr. Reginald Rushing by R. C. Mann, manager of the Fort Worth office of Price, Waterhouse and Company.

Dr. Rushing said the grant will be used to provide financial assistance to faculty members and graduate students for research projects in development of new accounting courses and to improve existing course material.

FINE ARTS

West Texas Museum's Women's Council, Fine Arts Committee, is conducting a survey of art originals of Lubbock or other Contemporary Artists or old masters. The art can be oil or watercolor paintings, sculptures or graphics or art in any form.

An editorial

Consider 12-points

One of the prime targets of many universities throughout the country this year has been the grading system and its accompanying pressures and inequalities. Several have gone to variations of the pass-fail system to help on the first count; others have adopted plus and minus signs to make the system more equitable.

Anyone who has ever took a C in a course with a 79.4 average and watched the same letter go to someone else with a 69.5 realizes the inequalities inherent in an A-B-C-D-F system. Professors having to rule on borderline cases suspend their sense of fair play, but in order to remain "objective" under the present system they must do so. As it is now, the 69.5 is just as entitled to the C as the 79.4.

A 12-point grading system would go a long way toward remedying the situation. This would mean 12 grade points for an A plus, 11 for an A, 10 for A minus, 9 for a B plus, etc. The system would be far from ideal, but it would at least be a little more fair.

If need be, the totals could then be divided by three to return to the four-point standard. Such a calculation would be no extra work for the computer, and it would be no additional work for a prof to record a 12 than it would a four.

As far as we can tell, the main argument for the present straight letter-grade system is that it's always been that way. We ask the Council of Deans to consider the 12-point system or a similar alternative with the hope of eliminating one of the greatest inadequacies of the gpa, and with the idea that the old way isn't necessarily the best way.

Early treatment is advised

Dr. Burris F. Husman, a special education must combine some of their activities University of Maryland professor, told the physical education workshop for mentally retarded and handicapped children Thursday that, eventually, parents will begin bringing their deficient children to the proper clinics soon after birth rather than waiting until they are in junior high.

DR. LOUIS Bowers, who works with these children, said that educators are experimenting in the methods used to aid the children.

SENATE discusses election

The upcoming student body and cheerleader elections were discussed at Thursday's meeting of the election committee of the Tech Student Senate.

COMMITTEE chairman Gwen Connelley said the screening board for cheerleader tryouts has been selected. The board consists of a member from Rice University, Texas University, West Texas State, Tech, and a representative from the S.M.U. cheerleading school.

The screening board will be held in Jones Stadium April 1.

THE ELECTIONS committee also discussed the ballots to be used in the cheerleader, Student Senate, and executive elections. The committee will use the same I.B.M. ballots for the executive and cheerleader elections, and different ballots for the senate elections.

This year the committee hopes to use one ballot for the senatorial candidates in the School of Arts and Sciences.

Murray will outline plan

Tech President Grover E. Murray will speak to the International Club Sunday, outlining how Tech can become more international.

The open meeting will be at 3:45 p.m. in the Student Union Ballroom.

Following the speech, Dr. Murray will conduct a question-answer session to give students an opportunity to discuss their individual problems and questions.

Raiders run in Odessa meet

At least one coach won't blame the officiating if his team fails to win the West Texas Relays at Odessa today. That's Tech's Vernon Hilliard, named referee of the meet.

HILLIARD, however, maintains that the Raiders will need more going for them than officiating.

"We'll be stronger in this meet than we were last week at the Border Olympics," the Raider trackmaster claims,

"But we're still not up to our top performances yet."

THE RAIDERS are one of eight schools competing in the college class, the others being ACC, Texas, Baylor, SMU, TCU, Houston and East Texas. Rice and Texas A&M will be busy at a triangular with LSU.

The absence of the Aggies and their all-American Randy Matson will give Tech the edge in the shot put and discus where Ed Mooney stands a good chance to be a double winner. Mooney, a linebacker during the fall, was a double winner in the meet last year.

WHILE MOONEY will be the best bet for points, Hilliard is also counting heavily on his relay teams. Gary Golden, also a footballer, will return to the team now that he is a papa for the second time. Golden missed the Border Olympics last week so he could keep the vigil for the stork.

Last week with quarter-mileer Wayne Nelson subbing for Golden the spring group gained another 42.0 clocking (faster according to several unofficial watches).

COMMENTING on his sprint relay men Hilliard said, "They're still not up to their full potential, but I think they'll turn in some good times. However, SMU and ACC are very strong in this event and the race should be a close one. I expect the team that finishes last won't be more than a couple of steps behind the first place school."

THE RAIDERS could pick up some points in the pole vault, where Sam Holt has gone 14-0, but that event will most probably be dominated by Texas' Mark King who set a meet record with a 15-8 vault at Laredo. King, incidentally, set the mark without benefit of a warm-up.

By event, Hilliard will enter: 100—Golden of Stephenville, Don Parrish of Daingerfield, Richard Hardy of Dallas Three-mile — Terry Diveley of Midland High hurdles—Dennis Lilley of Lubbock, Foster Miller of Llano

440 relay—Golden, Hardy, Parrish, James Jones of Austin, alt. Wayne Nelson of Houston

University distance medley—Tim Garrison of Lubbock, Bobby Nelson of Quanah, Diveley, Rich Kay of Orinda, Calif.

Spring medley — Garrison, Carroll, Lilley, Bobby Nelson 880 relay—Wayne Nelson, Hardy, Parrish, Jones Mile relay—Jones, Parrish, Wayne-Nelson, Hardy Shot put—Mooney, Walkill, N.Y.

Discus — Mooney, Randy Hicks of Seminole Javelin —James McCasland of Tucumcari, N.M., Hicks, Russell Durham of Comanche Pole Vault—Sam Hart of Tatum, N.M., Tommy Lane of Dallas

Broad jump — Garrison Carroll High jump—Mike McWhorter of Abilene, Miller

WHAT IS IT UMP?—It's a close play at second, but not close enough for the University of Texas at El Paso Miner base runner to be called safe during the Raiders 2-0 loss Friday. Tech dropped two of the three game series to the Miners.

Miners down Raiders again

By GARY TILLORY
Sports Writer

Left-hander Lynn Hunt threw a one-hitter here yesterday as the University of Texas at El Paso Miners took the final game of a three game series with Tech, 2-0.

The only hit to mar Hunt's performance was a sixth inning single by left fielder Jerry Kolander.

HUNT didn't allow a man to reach second base. He gave up no runs, one hit, struck out seven and walked one in picking up his second victory in three outings.

Phil Stephenson went six innings for the Raiders, giving up two runs on three hits, walking one and striking out two.

SIDEARM junk baller Pat Abbott relieved Stephenson in the seventh. He gave up no runs on no hits and struck out one. Stephenson received the loss.

The first Miner score came in the top of the second inning when center fielder Larry McFarland reached first on an error. On the error

THE ONLY other run of McFarland went to third and scored when first baseman John Miller singled to third base when the center fielder missed a fly ball. McFarland then scored on a sacrifice by Miller.

The Miners threatened to score again in the seventh when Miner pitcher Hunt, supposedly, doubled to right field. However, he was called out for not touching first base.

THE LOSS gives the Raiders a 3-7 record while UTEP is 6-1-2.

The next home game for the Raiders will be March 25 against Baylor.
