

Texas Tech's Greatest Summer Session Looms Today

Director

Burden of directing the Texas Tech summer school recreational program has been assigned Dean James G. Allen, dean of men, who came to Tech in the fall of 1937 to relieve Dean James M. Gordon, head of the arts and sciences department, of double duty.

Engineering Grads Receive Positions

Four graduating civil engineers at Texas Tech have accepted positions with the State Highway department. J. H. Murdough, head professor of the division, announced today. The other three June graduates in this department, also offered jobs by E. J. Amey, administrative assistant to the state highway department are as follows: C. C. Armstrong Jr. of Anson, district 7, San Angelo; R. G. Schlinkman of Dumas, district 1, Paris; Garth Fuquay of Mt. Vernon, district 8, Abilene; and W. A. Burks of Fort Worth, district 12, Houston.

Tech Professors Direct Y Session

Three Texas Tech faculty members will direct a morning session at the Hazen Conference of Student Guidance and Counseling at Estes Park, Colorado, August 11-18. Dr. A. J. Bahm, professor of philosophy and sociology, Dean James Marcus Gordon, and Miss Allene Atkinson, secretary of the Tech Y organizations, will lead discussion on "The Student and Personal Morality," following a request from the planning committee of the Rocky Mountain area conference.

Problems of intellectual honesty, cheating, lying, stealing, business relations and sexual morality as they apply to personal decisions will be discussed from the standpoint of the counselor and the student, Dr. Bahm said. Representatives from other Texas colleges who will attend are Rev. Humphrey Lee, president of Southern Methodist university, Dean Paul J. Schwab, Trinity university, and Dean A. C. Zumbrennen of Southern Methodist university.

draft board in the early months of the war, and later a member of the district draft board for the northern judicial district of Texas at Fort Worth. The committee will support the act introduced by U. S. Senator Morris Sheppard of Texas to amend the National Defense act by providing for a National Industrial Defense corps. Purpose of this act would be to provide for a defense of the home front in time of war and prior thereto, to prevent interference with the government's program in preparing defense, and to give adequate protection to all industries of every nature now or hereafter declared to be essential for national defense.

President Jones Named On Texas Defense Group

Board To Investigate Activities of Fifth Column in This State

Governor W. Lee O'Daniel's newly appointed 10-man committee on national defense will include President Clifford B. Jones, it has been announced from the governor's office.

The committee, composed of heads of state departments and educational institutions, urges cooperation of loyal, patriotic citizens in preventing subversive activities, and is designed to enable a compilation of information on fifth column activities in Texas. Data gathered by the group will be submitted to the governor for his decision and action.

"Information will be held inviolate except in that it will be placed in the proper official hands," President Jones said. He added that, "it is a matter of pride that Texas under Governor O'Daniel has taken the lead in the present movement which is of far greater importance than is perhaps generally understood."

Jones was a member of the Texas State council for defense after the world war, was chairman of the Dickens county

Our President Welcomes You

Texas Technological college is glad to welcome again to its campus students during the Summer Session. To all of you, we extend cordial greetings. We have looked forward to the pleasure and privilege of having you with us. Much effort and care have been used in trying to arrange curricula and schedules in order to meet your requirements.

The college has sought also to provide for you a wide variety of entertainment. We hope that you will take advantage of these recreational and social features of the Summer School. Our wish for you is a pleasant and profitable summer with us in this delightful climate.

CLIFFORD B. JONES, President

He Directs Summer School

It is a distinct personal pleasure to me to extend a very cordial welcome to all persons enrolled in the 1940 Summer Session.

I believe that you will find that we have the widest and best offerings this summer that we have ever had. This statement may seem easy to be made, but it is made after definite thought.

I know you will want to check with the dean of the division in which you are studying or the department head, and I sincerely hope you will find what you want and need.

Let me urge you not to make your recreation schedule too full. Take time out for some recreation and play. Our recreation program is the fullest this summer than it has ever been, and we should like to hope that it is the best.

Call on any member of our summer school group for any help that he can give you. We should all like to be of the utmost service to our summer school people.

You will find Lubbock merchants friendly. This statement is not made in behalf of the merchants, but in your behalf.

Check with the women of the Physical Education department with reference to the program they have set up, for you and for your children. There is a program for children age five to nine, and nine to fifteen; likewise a program for adults, both men and women. You have opportunities in golf, swimming, archery, bowling, riding, tennis, and boating and fishing. Also, you will lose if you do not enjoy Lubbock's beautiful parks. "COME AND PLAY."

That this Summer Session may mean the most possible to each of you is our sincere wish. J. M. GORDON, Director, Summer Session

Big Fields Seen For Golf Meets

Crowds surpassing even last summer's series were anticipated last night by Blair Cunningham, proprietor of Cunningham's recreation center at 1619 College Avenue, for weekly junior golf tournaments, now in their fourth week of competition.

Fields of 35-40 participants were characteristic of last summer's play over the old 18-hole-course, and with the advent of summer school this year, Cunningham has enlarged the layout as well as the tournament route.

Contestants for the $5, $2, and $1 prizes now play over a 36-hole circuit every Sunday beginning at 2 p.m. Course rules prohibit repetition of winners. The Cunningham recreational center also includes Texas' most expensively-constructed archery range and Tab-L golf course.

New York Tour Program Cited By Instructor

Plans for Tech's sixth annual educational tour sponsored by Miss Ruth Pirtle, head of the department of speech, were announced from that office today.

The tour to New York City and Toronto, Canada, will begin July 18, and continue through August 8. The trip is open to persons not enrolled in the college, as well as students.

Included in this annual tour will be, besides the trip itself, meals, six exceptionally fine sight-seeing trips, a special trip to Coney Island, a yacht cruise around Manhattan, tours to radio city music halls, an NBC studio tour, trip to Mount Vernon, one to West Point, Annapolis, and Atlantic City. Special excursions are also planned to Niagara Falls and Toronto.

Those persons making the trip will be given a week in New York City where they will visit the World's Fair. Two days in Philadelphia, three days in Washington, D. C., and special excursions to art galleries and museums also are planned.

Five stage plays will be seen by the company, names of which are not yet available for release, and visits to special attractions in the large cities en route are scheduled.

Fee for the summer tour has been set at $160, which will include all expenses reasonable to be expected, Miss Pirtle said.

Profs Study For Higher Degrees

Five instructors in the Division of Agriculture are planning to work on their Ph. D. degrees this summer.

J. D. Strickland, assistant professor of animal husbandry, is studying at Kansas State college. Strickland graduated from Tech in 1934.

Assistant professor of dairy manufactures, M. G. Pederson, will attend Michigan State college. He received his B. S. degree from Tech in 1932 and his M. S. at Kansas State college.

Henry Clay, assistant professor of agricultural engineering, will teach the first six weeks of summer school, but plans to study at Michigan State college the last six weeks.

M. B. Harrison, assistant professor of agricultural economics and farm management, will study at Iowa State college.

Instructor in agronomy, Earl T. Duke, will work on a M. A. degree at Texas A&M.

In Spain they say "Si, si" etc., but COLLEGIATELY YOURS says a big "Hi" to all the faithful who plan to battle heat and vacation yearnings in order to soak in some education during summer school sessions. In addition to the above foes, you will have to contend (until the editor's patience gives out) with this column, written amidst West Texas heat and dedicated to libel, gossip, slander, and other forms of evil.

A sad situation! There's a prominent senior at Tech NOW who is secretly engaged to a junior girl. She sports a nice, big sedan, and up until the engagement was very open in her efforts to win the senior lad. Now, two months after they promised each other, she is so-o-o-o-o flattered by the attention of a sophomore flash. Her partner--to-be has had time to discover that his TRUE love is a demure little freshman. Each hates to hurt the other's feelings by admitting how things stand. To these two disillusioned love-birds we dedicate this bit of verse:

The freshman child
So quaint and meek
Lost her love to the sophomore shiek.
But the sophomore boy
His head in a whirl
Made desperate love to the junior girl.
The junior lass
In her big sedan
Made open love to the senior man.
And this senior man
So slick and wild
Secretly loved the freshman child.

Recently your columnist dropped a penny in the slot of one of these machines that not only weighs you, but tells your fortune. A little card dropped out, which read, "You have a good sense of humor, coupled with a deep and serious nature." A few days later, another card informed us, "Your sunny attitude toward life is a constant inspiration to your friends," and yesterday when we weighed a third card declared, "You are a tireless worker and a deep thinker." We had always suspected these things, but it's nice to have them confirmed from an unbiased source.

Shots in the dark: Bill Wood's girl friend recently informed him that "he was subtle in such an obvious manner."—Gov. O'Daniel posed with fighter Lew Jenkins of Sweetwater; Bomber and Biscuit.

"We are expecting the greatest summer school that Tech has ever had," W. P. Clement, registrar, said yesterday. "There is no way of estimating, at present, the total number of students who will enroll, but the number is expected to exceed that of last year," he added.

Regular registration will be conducted today from 8 to 12 o'clock and 1:30 to 5 o'clock. The method to be followed in registration is, first, secure a permit for registration, second, have housing approved, men in the Dean of Men's office and women in the Dean of Women's office, third, get registrar's approval, fourth, pay fees at business office, fifth, get number designating hour for completing your registration, sixth, report to the Library at the hour designated by the number on your card.

Students who were not enrolled the fall or spring semester of this year must have a physical examination, and file card in the registrar's office not later than Saturday, June 8. Examinations are made in Room 10 of the Library from 9 to 11 o'clock and 2 to 5 o'clock each day.

There are eight visiting teachers on the summer school staff. They are: Miss Grace Baker Hill, special instructor in Hand Weaving; Supervisor WPA weaving project, Lubbock; W. B. Irvin, lecturer in education, Superintendent of Lubbock City schools; Walter S. Knox, special teacher in Physical Education, professor of Physical Education, University of Hawaii; Clyde Mobley, Home Economics education, State Supervision of Home Economics, State Department of Education, Baton Rouge, La.

L. H. Moore, lecturer in Education, Texas State College for Women, Denton; Miss Paula Myler, instructor in physical education for women; teacher of physical education, Amarillo High school; Charles M. Rogers, lecturer in education, Superintendent, City schools, Amarillo; Miss Erma Harriet Wines, instructor in foods and nutrition, County Home Demonstration agent in Jim Wells county, Texas.

Tech Press Buys New Equipment

Announcement of the purchase of a standing press was made today by Wilmot Eaton, superintendent of Tech Press.

The press will be used in the binding operations on the general catalogue printed for the college by Tech Press. The machine generates a pressure of around 20 tons and is operated by hand power. It gives a more uniform pressure to catalogues, and has been purchased with the view of use in the bindery department of Tech Press in connection with future work.

Value of the press is around $200, and is the latest addition to the machinery of Tech Press.

We Thank The Avalanche . . .

ONE man in Lubbock who seems to realize the importance of promoting Texas Tech is Charley Guy, Editor of the Avalanche and Journal.

In a recent series of articles by Opal McMahon, former Tech student and a member of his staff, Mr. Guy saw fit to point out many of the needs of a great college, sadly handicapped by lack of funds.

It is extremely gratifying to see that the interests of an institution which provides Lubbock's greatest single payroll is being given much needed publicity.

Students in Texas Technological college have been estimated to contribute as much as two million dollars annually in the city of Lubbock, and the emphasis placed in Mr. Guy's recent editions on Tech's need for additional funds is a constructive effort on the part of a man who is interested in seeing that payroll remain in this city.

Every student and official of Texas Tech owes to Mr. Guy a debt of gratitude for his honest and constructive criticism of the weaknesses of Tech, and his attempt in the columns of his paper to remedy such failings.

School houses a few generations ago were all painted red because that kind of paint was the most economical, which is more than can be said for the kind of red paint used by collegians in painting the Avenue on week-end nights.

"I think 'Snoop and Scoop' are just sweet enough to eat," remarked a local coed the other night. "Only," she added, "I don't like pork."

IN THE Amusement World

By A. C. LAMBERT

COMES the ever-climbing mercury and you'll be looking for something to do. With a little thought and research, the field of entertainment and amusement will reveal itself and you may find that summer school is not so bad after all. If you are a school teacher, long pent up in a stuffy school room, you may discover a passable figure if you hie yourself to the local water holes for a dip or two. Try tripping yourself at one of the Friday night dances. Get young again and have fun. If the more strenuous exercises don't appeal to you, there's always a seat at the movies to pass the time away. There are eight movie emporiums in Lubbock with two or more being built. It should not take long to discover something to your taste on the local silver screen. And if you really feel juvenile, try College avenue with its many hash joints and its nickel-in-the-slot dancing.

MOVIE programs for the week-end break the ice for you with big doings downtown. The Palace comes through with Zanuck's extravaganza, "Lillian Russell." Starring Alice Faye as the lush beauty of the "Gay Nineties" who rode a gold-plated bicycle and wore a ten thousand dollar corset, "Lillian Russell" hits some sort of high in casting. There's lanky Henry Fonda, smiling-voiced Don Ameche, and rotund Edward Arnold in the supporting cast. Fonda and Ameche appear as two of Lillian's multiple husbands and Arnold is seen again as fabulously rich, but oft-spurned Diamond Jim Brady. You'll probably find "Lillian Russell" good summer fun. It starts Sunday at the Palace for a four-day run.

FOR something lighter try the Broadway where Edward G. Robinson will be cavorting Sunday as a mobster in a monastery in "Brother Orchid." It's something really new for Robinson who has been tied up in gangster roles so long that he can't be convincing as a good fellow, even as the gang-buster Steve Wilson of radio's "Big Town" sketch.

IF IT'S something hilarious you're craving, the Tech throws "Midnight" at us. Claudette Colbert and Don Ameche romp, run, and complicate things in general as a fake noble woman and a Parisian taxi-driver posing as her Duke. It has lots of spice and zest with grand comedy by Colbert ably supported by handsome Mr. Ameche.

WE'RE beginning to believe that, after all, Motion Pictures are your best entertainment.

ALL right, so you don't like motion pictures. The swimming pool is open in Mackenzie Park. Buffalo Springs is swell for picnics. There'll be baseball under the lights all summer. There's always miniature golf. If you're lucky enough to have a car, South Plains nights are perfect for just driving. If after all that, plus the regular recreational program offered by the college, you can't find anything to do, take your philosophy, your education, or mathematics, and stay home and get wrinkles under your eyes!

Freshman Aggies Will Receive Sears Awards

"The Division of Agriculture expects to award this summer perhaps by July 15, 20 Sears Roebuck and Company scholarships of $100 each to freshmen students entering the agricultural division next year," Dean Leidigh said Tuesday.

The scholarships are awarded on the basis of the necessity for assistance to attend college, high scholarship, and evidence of leadership in high school and promise of future leadership and scholarship.

Dean Leidigh said, "Last year we made 20 such awards from a group of 76 applicants. Twenty-eight applications have been received to date, and I feel sure there will be 100 applicants by time for final selection."

In addition to the Sears Roebuck and Company freshmen scholarships, a $200 scholarship will be awarded to a sophomore student. There is a scholarship amounting to $600 which will be awarded to a post-graduate student.

Professor From Hawaii Is Guest Instructor

Dr. W. S. Knox, instructor in women's physical education in the University of Hawaii, will be visiting instructor on the campus the first six weeks this summer.

Dr. Knox, who has taught in Texas Christian university and North Texas State Teachers college at Denton, will teach two graduate courses in physical education. One is entitled Trends in Physical Education, and the other Physical Examinations.

DEEP RIVER PLANTATION SINGERS

The Deep River Plantation Singers who will appear on the Tech recreational program Thursday, July 13, promise an entertaining program of musical excellence ranging in selections from the best known works of the famous negro composers to the more humorous songs and chants characteristic of their race. The singers are trained musicians, possessing the power and finish acquired only by long professional experience, yet singing with that abandon and spontaneity of the negro people.

Selections from the best known stage productions are included in their repertoire, such as selections from "Show Boat," "Green Pastures," "Halleluah," "Emperor Jones," and others. Other universities and colleges have enthusiastically received and endorsed the performances of The Deep River Plantation Singers, proclaiming them a great hit.

Mulholland . . .

Acclaimed by some "the king of presetidigitateurs," John Mulholland will appear on the Tech recreational program the night of June 27. Mulholland has invested more than $20,000 in his costumes, masks, and equipment; he has probably the greatest magic library in the world; he has had more command performances before royalty than any other American magician; he has appeared in 42 countries and has written many books. Indeed, John Mulholland is without an equal throughout the world, a scholar, an artist and a superb entertainer. Mulholland's performance is characterized by an easy, friendly conversational manner that makes him a great favorite with all audiences. Alexander Woolcott says of Mulholland that "Pharaoh would have rejoiced in so good a tricker."

Annual Band School Will Open Today

Expressing his belief that Tech's largest and finest band school will be the one held this summer, Professor D. O. Wiley, Director of the Seventh Annual Summer Band school, announced today that a varied program is planned for those attending the session at Tech this summer.

A faculty of fourteen special instructors will provide a wide range of courses in the field of music, and course have already been scheduled for the entire six weeks session, June 6 to July 13.

Courses offered in the band school are designed to cover not only the field of public school music, but are arranged to provide for studies of special interest to persons interested in orchestral music.

Guest conductors who are scheduled to appear here during the summer include many nationally known musicians, Dr. A. A. Harding, director of the University of Illinois bands heading the list of famous conductors. R. A. Dhossche, instructor at San Antonio High school; Colonel Earl D. Irons, director of the N.T.A.C. band, a composer of marches; Milburn E. Carey, director of the Phillips university band of Enid, Oklahoma; and Harold I. Woolridge, clarinet solo in the Chicago Symphony Orchestra and Chicago Civic Opera company are among the teachers who will teach here this summer.

Professor Wiley has announced that beginning Wednesday, June 12, the summer concert band will begin its annual series of concerts. These programs are to be held weekly on Wednesday nights throughout the summer, as a portion of the recreational activities of the summer school.

Sidwell Directs Geology Survey

Annual geology field trip will be conducted by Dr. R. G. Sidwell June 6 through July 15, this year, at Lake Nogal near Capitan, New Mexico.

Dr. Sidwell said the trip will be conducted in the usual manner, studying the principles of stratigraphy, structural geology and methods of geological surveys.

Eleven students are planning to take the trip. They are Ernest D. Brown, Travis La Roe, Lee Perry, Woodrow Powers, Rayborn Lamb, Willard McSpaden, Ed Morrison, Edward Poizner, Frank Sharp, Don Wallace and Everett Jones.

PEDERSON TO MICHIGAN
Professor Mart G. Pederson, department of dairy manufactures will take advanced work in the University of Michigan this summer.

CAA Civilian Pilot Training Course To Be Continued

Future Fliers Will Be Given Intense Work On Ground And In Flying

Continuation of the Civil Aeronautics Authority's civilian pilot training course during the summer was announced today by Robert P. Vail, instructor in mechanical engineering, and director of the Tech branch of the CAA school here.

The course is open to all regularly enrolled students not less than 18 years of age, and not more than 25 years, Vail said. The age limit is based on the age as of October 1, 1940.

Students must be able to pass physical examinations which will be given by Dr. Fred W. Standefer, flight surgeon for the college division. Enrollment date will be around June 15, but date for physical examinations have not been set, according to Dr. Standefer.

James Hollis Cross, physics instructor, will assist Vail in the ground school instruction, and contract for flight operations has been awarded to William Clent Breedlove and M. F. Dagley of Lubbock. They will be assisted by Art Chase and Harry Peise, pilots.

The summer course is a part of the United States government's emergency defense program. Forty-five students will

Holdens Conduct Tour Through Tamale Land

The Mexico City field trip for 1940 will be conducted June 4 through July 12 by Dr. and Mrs. W. C. Holden. The trip is listed under two courses dealing with Mexican archaeology and history.

The courses consist of lecture reading, travel, inspection of ruins, museums, art galleries, palaces, and monuments. Official excursions will be made to Teotihuacan and the Pyramids of the Sun and the Moon and the Court of Quetzalcoatl, Puebla and Cholula, Popocatepetl and Ixtalacihauhtl, snow covered volcanoes, Kochimilco, Cuernavaca and Taxco Cathedral, Toluca, Teneyuca and the Pyramid of the Snakes. To be seen within Mexico City, Chapultepec Castle, the National Palace and the Shrine of the Virgin of Guadalupe.

While in Mexico City the group will stay at the Monte Carlo hotel, "which serves food after the European fashion."

Each student was required to take typhoid serum and a rain-coat.

train in 72 hours of ground school work and from 35 to 50 hours of flight training.

Enrollment was limited in the flight training course this spring to 40 students.

D. O. Wiley, Director of the Seventh Annual Band school and "Skipper" of the Texas Tech Matador band has made an international reputation in school band work over a period of 19 years. He has played in nearly every important city in the United States and in many European cities with his bands.

Plans For Henly Memorial Made

Plans are being made by the present staff of THE TOREADOR for the establishment of a memorial fund for the late Reeves Henly, editor of the paper in 1938-39 term.

Henly was drowned in an attempt to rescue a companion while swimming in the Gulf of Mexico Wednesday, May 8, 1940.

No definite arrangement as to the award, or to its establishment as a permanent or annual gift has been made, but a committee of staff members has already been appointed to work out details of the arrangement.

Tech Alumni Elect Prexy

Raymond Lee Johns, Lamesa, was elected president of the Texas Tech Alumni association at a meeting June 1.

Other officers elected were: Rob O'Hair, Coleman, first vice-president; Jimmy Ellis, Levelland, second vice-president; and Arch L. King, Lubbock, was re-elected three year director.

President of The Dallas branch of Texas Power & Light co., John W. Carpenter was principal speaker. He spoke on the "part he had played in making Texas Tech."

Dean Gordon Reveals Summer School Advantages

Advantages of the summer session school at Texas Tech college were revealed today by Dean James Marcus Gordon, director of the summer session.

Emphasizing the time element in graduation, Dean Gordon pointed out that by attending summer school the student who wishes to finish in less than the regular four years will find an opportunity to do so, or at least to lighten the load of courses during the long session of school.

Both the undergraduate and graduate student are provided with a summer curriculum designed in the first instance to aid the student in graduating, and in the latter to help him in advanced studies. Courses this year have been given the greatest consideration to enable the summer school committee to form a program which will offer the greatest number of summer school classes possible.

Work in this short semester, according to Dean Gordon, has been aimed to serve three main groups: the students who wish to reduce customary four years of college to three; those who, because of some irregularity or unnecessary delays or failures, find their courses irregular and need to straighten their schedule during the summer months; and teachers who desire to complete requirements for certificates or degrees.

Special attention has been given this summer in providing a recreational program which will be pleasing to students enrolled at Tech.
