

Elections will proceed

Bill Beuck, president of the Student Association, told the University Daily Monday that the Student Senate will proceed with cheerleader elections according to the decision of the Cheerleader Screening Board.

The screening board was ruled unconstitutional last week by the Tech Supreme Court with three justices voting against the board, one abstaining and three withdrawing from the case.

"I feel there was enough wrong in procedure, conduct and legality of court proceedings that there is doubt to credibility of the court's decision," said Beuck.

He also said, "The Student Association, by precedent, will proceed with the decision of the Cheerleader Screening Board and the names of their selections will appear on the ballot."

THE SIX GIRLS SELECTED are Gay Alexander, Rene Brook, Kay Hayden, Barbie Johnson, Mary Jean Legg and Sandy Sutherland.

THE DATE FOR THE CHEERLEADER elections is April 28.

Beuck also said there would be a Senate investigation of legal procedures and questions posed about the conduct of various justices.

Chief Justice Lonnie Dillard and Associate Justices Wayne Packard and David Beckman withdrew from the fiery case because they felt the court should not be hearing the case.

ASSOCIATE JUSTICE MELANIE Leopard abstained in the case because she was "uncertain in her mind as to whether the board was unconstitutional."

Associate Justices Robert Mansker, Pat Taylor and Mac Johnson voted in favor of Randy Hilton, complainant in the case, thus ruling the board unconstitutional.

Beuck said he had received no directives from the court, only their opinion that the board was unconstitutional.

Bus fare is reduced

Tech's intra-campus buses will reduce fare to a nickel today.

ERNIE PRENOVOST, MANAGER of the Lubbock Transit Co., said the "trial on campus bus service has proven considerably short of carrying a sufficient number of passengers" and a lower price would be tried.

Traffic Security Chief Bill Daniels said the service might be dropped if response is not good on the nickel fare.

Prenovost said a more than 100 per cent increase in the present rate would be needed in order to maintain the service. And the lower price he hoped would provide incentive to ride.

JAY CARTER, STUDENT SENATE sponsor of a bill calling for the service, said the lower fare was suggested by the Traffic Security Committee, the Student Senate, and riders of the buses.

Carter said if the nickel fare is accepted favorably the fare might be included in the student service fee this fall and the transportation would be provided without charge.

'Doc', 'Festus' are Tech rodeo guests

More than 250 cowboys and cowgirls from 13 colleges and universities will compete in the Tech Collegiate Rodeo which begins Wednesday.

Television stars Milburn Stone and Ken Curtis, better known as "Doc" and "Festus" of "Gunsmoke," will be on hand for the four-day event.

Five Techsians are competing for the title of Rodeo Queen. The winner will be crowned Wednesday night in Lubbock Municipal Coliseum.

Richard Speck moved

PEORIA, Ill. (AP)—An armed conveyance of police returned Richard Speck to Chicago Monday where he will remain for the duration of the legal proceedings planned to have him from the electric chair.

MORTAR BOARD TAPS—Mortar Board member Rosey Ashton of Tulsa, Okla., taps Mary Ann Gaines of Odessa for membership in the scholastic honorary for upperclasswomen. Twenty-five other Techsians were tapped Monday.

Committee refuses Barlow nomination

Members of the Women's Day Committee in a meeting Monday defined the eligibility of organizations to nominate for Woman of the Year after refusing nomination of Beverly Barlow from the Tech Union.

THE UNION NOMINATION was refused because of the fact that only nominations from all-women organizations were acceptable.

Janie Kinney, appearing before the committee as a representative from the Union, said that the Union Program Council had nominated a candidate thinking that she would be eligible because nominees in the past had been accepted.

Mrs. Dorothy Pijan, program director of the Union, said that candidates nominated from the Union in the past had also been nominated by women's organizations.

MARY DOLAWAY, A MEMBER of the Women's Day Committee, said that the policy was taken from the report of last year's committee as being the rule and that invitations to nominate were sent out on that basis.

Miss Kinney argued that "to be truly democratic," any organization which has women in it should be allowed to nominate, citing the fact that last fall 160 girls and 44 boys took part in the Union program.

The matter was brought up too late to change the plans for Women's Day, Miss Dolaway said, and added that if it had been brought up sooner, provision could have been made for the extra candidates it would mean.

SHE ALSO SAID THAT the committee felt that Miss Kinney had a valid argument and that the matter would be incorporated in the report for next year's committee.

Dorms fill as women sign forms

When the Office of Room and Board Reservations opened at 8 a.m. Monday, 383 girls stood in two lines waiting to get rooms in Weeks and Stangel Halls.

BY 9:30 A.M., THE 143 vacancies in Weeks were filled, and 37 women signed waiting lists. By 9:45 a.m. the 150 vacancies in Stangel were filled, and 53 women were put on the waiting list.

"Those whose names are on waiting lists will be assigned to rooms in their chosen dorms when and if a vacancy occurs. Otherwise, they will be assigned to rooms wherever we have space," said Bill Haynes, assistant coordinator.

WEEKS HALL HAS 378 rooms and Stangel Hall has 521 rooms. The present residents signed for their rooms April 10.

Today, women will sign contracts for Coleman and Chitwood dormitories. There are 572 available rooms in each building. Charges for the new dormitories will be $990 per nine-month period for rooms occupied by two students.

The dormitories will be air-conditioned and there will be a circular staircase.

WEDNESDAY, WOMEN WILL sign for West and Doak Halls. There are 157 vacancies in West and 117 in Doak.

Thursday, contracts may be signed for Hulen and Clement Halls. There are 151 vacancies in Hulen and 218 in Clement.

No further contracts for women's halls may be signed until May 8.

HAYNES SAID CONTRACTS for summer school will be signed the second week in May. He said Wall and Gates Halls will be open for women students and Murchough Hall for men. The cost will be $145 for six weeks. Students desiring to live alone will be charged $11.25 extra.

Deadline today for staff posts

Today is the deadline for applications for staff positions on The University Daily and La Ventana and for photographers and advertising salesmen.

APPLICATIONS ARE AVAILABLE in room 102 of the Journalism Building.

Students must have a 2.0 grade point average for the previous semester to be eligible.

Name-change board will be senate topic

The student senate will discuss six bills, the cheerleader screening board and the name change at its meeting tonight.

Gary Rose, senate president, said there will be reports from all committees as well as a report from the student name-change committee.

The following bills will be introduced:

- The Senate Responsibility Act—This bill concerns the number of absences a senator may have before he is removed from the senate.

- The Freshman Council Allocation Act—Concerning the allocation of money to the Freshman Council.

- An act calling for the head cheerleader to be a paid officer.

- The Emergency Information Act—Calling for the Traffic Security Office to keep a file of emergency information on students.

- The Act for the Study on Governmental Consolidation—Calling for a study commission to be established to coordinate several student organizations.

- The Summer Night Classes Act. The meeting will begin at 7 p.m. in the Biology Auditorium.

Court rejects appeal

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court rejected Monday an effort by Louisiana school boards to delay the integration of all public schools in six Southern states by next fall.

FOLLOWING THE MEETING, Blanchard told the University Daily his three-pronged bill was "beginning to get a little breath in it," on the basis of several conversations earlier in the day, including talks with supporters of the other proposed schools.

No mention was made as to the next date for a State Affairs Committee meeting which would hear the medical school bills. The committee meets on Monday and Wednesday afternoons unless the Senate is in session, which is expected to happen frequently as the session draws to a close. Eleven more potential meetings dates remain before the legislature adjourns May 29.

Blanchard said he would try to kick the bill out "when the proper time comes."

SEN. JIM BATES OF Edinburg, in an earlier interview with the University Daily, said he did not believe any medical schools would be authorized this session. He said the Tech school appeared to be "caught in the middle of a disagreement between (Lt. Gov. Preston) Smith and (Gov. John) Connally."

Blanchard's bill would establish a medical school in Lubbock contingent upon authorization of a hospital district and construction of a teaching hospital. Should the bill be passed this session, Tech's school would not begin operation until 1972 or later.

The three-hour committee meeting was prolonged by an hour of testimony concerning construction of a bridge over the Houston ship channel. The bill was finally sent to a subcommittee.

THE COMMITTEE, ON the tie-breaking vote of Chairman Dorsey Hardeman of San Angelo, sent two bills dealing with Constitutional revision to subcommittee, a move which is expected to kill Constitutional revision for this session.

Action on med bill delayed

By DAVID SNYDER
Editor

AUSTIN—The Senate State Affairs Committee Monday afternoon again delayed action on bills which would authorize new medical schools in Texas.

INCLUDED WAS A BILL sponsored by Sen. H. J. (Doc) Blanchard of Lubbock authorizing medical schools in Lubbock and Houston, and a dental school in Dallas.

The other two bills would establish

Committee outlines plans

A special committee appointed last week by Board Chairman Roy Furr to recommend a new name for Texas Tech met here Monday to outline procedures for making certain all interested parties are heard.

BOARD MEMBER C. A. CASH of Amarillo heads the committee and chaired the session which was attended by Tech Student Association President William F. Beuck, Dr. William Oden, chairman of the Faculty Advisory Committee at Tech, and C. H. Cummings, Lubbock president of the Texas Tech Ex-Students Association.

Cash said the committee which also includes board member, Harold Hinn of Plainview and Dallas, would meet again in early May at which time committee members would submit three name suggestions each on behalf of the groups represented.

The committee represents the broad general areas of the Tech Student Body, the faculty, alumni and the Tech Board.

'Lebanese Ann Landers' makes Lubbock stopover

Edvick Shayboub, the "Ann Landers of Lebanon," arrived Monday for a five-day stay in Lubbock. Mrs. Shayboub, a prominent author and broadcaster in her country, is on her first visit to the United States, sponsored by the American Women in Rodeo and Television.

MRS. SHAYBOUB BROADCASTS a woman's show daily in Lebanon. She said she received letters constantly from women asking advice about love, marriage, and the like.

"I believe in mature marriages. Too many times the boy or girl is too young, and the girl should marry a boy only when he is self-supporting. Never live off your parents."

Mrs. Shayboub has written two books of poetry, several realistic children's books describing Lebanese life, and a book on Lebanese handicrafts. She has also translated a number of books by American authors into Arabic.

MRS. SHAYBOUB HAS VISITED New York, Indianapolis, Minneapolis, Seattle, San Francisco, Los Angeles, and the Grand Canyon. While in Los Angeles last week, she taped two shows for Art Linkletter's "House Party," which can be seen on Channel 13 Wednesday and Thursday at 2:30 p.m.

a medical school in Austin and a medical school in Houston, both under the University of Texas system.

Earlier in the day, bills passed by the House last week establishing a dental school in Dallas and a medical school in Houston were referred to the Senate State Affairs Committee. The move was described as "potentially killing" to the bills due to the backlog of bills on the committee's agenda and the fact that Blanchard is a member of the committee.

"INTERESTED PARTIES SHOULD contact their committee representative," Cash said "to make certain their views are known."

"We want to make sure that everyone interested in this most vital question has his say."

"The committee," Cash said, "very much wants to have the benefit of the thinking of all interested persons."

HE SAID THE COMMITTEE was hopeful that it can have three name suggestions, in order of preference," to submit to the Tech Board at its next meeting.

"Depending upon action of the board," Cash explained, "a firm recommendation for a new name probably can be submitted to the State Legislature in time for action during this session."

The chairman said that he understood that each committee member would contact his particular group for suggestions in whatever manner was deemed best.

Upon leaving Lubbock Friday, Mrs. Shayboub will go to Houston and then back to Washington, D.C. She will attend the 16th annual convention in Atlanta, Georgia, of the AWRT (American Women in Radio and Television) May 3-7.

Mrs. Shayboub taped a conversation in Arabic with Khalid Hamdan, junior finance major, and John Malouf, a civil engineering and math major, both of whom are from Lebanon. The conversation included mention of Tech and the ICASALS program. Mrs. Shayboub plans to broadcast the tape to her listeners in Beirut when she returns.

WIDOWED AT A YOUNG AGE, Mrs. Shayboub has been broadcasting for over 17 years. Her 23 year old daughter, Sana received her B.A. in psychology last year at the American University of Beirut. Her son, Sarmad, is a third year architectural student.

Mrs. Shayboub, a petite brunette who speaks impeccable English, said she learned it from the American University of Beirut.

"The University is 100 years old this year, and that means we have six generations of educated Lebanese women, and most of them speak much better English than I do."

STRANGE CONVERSATION—Khalid Hamdan and John Malouf, both Tech students from Lebanon, join Mrs. Edvick Shayboub in a conversation in Arabic.

Mrs. Shayboub, a prominent authoress and broadcaster in Lebanon, taped the conversation to play for her listeners back home.

Beef cattle production to be topic of Livestock Industry Conference

Beef cattle production in the Southwest will be the main topic of the twenty-third annual Livestock Industry Conference which will begin today.

Dr. Dale W. Zinn, head of the animal husbandry department, will preside over the morning program.

Dr. Keith E. Gregory, director of the United States Meat Animal Research Center, Clay Center, Nebraska, will be the feature speaker. Dr. Gregory will speak on "The Effect of Hybrid Vigor on Traits of Economic Value."

Presiding over the afternoon session will be Dr. J. Wayland Bennett, associate dean of the School of Agriculture.

Dr. Zinn said one of the main functions of the conference is to sum up the knowledge presently available for the production of beef cattle and to draw this information, from men who are well versed in the field.

Dr. Zinn said there will be published reports available to all attending the conference. He said the report will include what has been done in this work by the animal husbandry department of Tech during the past year.

The Block and Bridle Club will prepare and serve the barbecue lunch for the approximately 250 who are expected to attend the conference.

The conference will begin today at 8 a.m. in the Tech Union Ballroom.

JAMES DRURY

STEVE CARLSON

Drury, Carlson

TV stars will visit Tech campus today

James Drury, star of "The Virginian" television series, and Steve Carlson, another television actor, will be on campus this afternoon to promote their new picture, Universal's "The Young Warriors."

They will be in the Student Union Piano Lounge at 4 p.m. to visit with students and faculty and answer questions about television dramatics.

BEFORE the question and answer period, the two actors will tour the West Texas Museum.

Drury, New York-born and veteran of such features as "The Blackboard Jungle," "Bernadine," and Walt Disney's "Elfago Baca," plays the part of Sgt. Cooley in "The Young Warriors".

Carlson, with two full-length movies and various television programs to his credit, started his acting career during college at the University of Wyoming where he participated in many dramatic productions.

While acting in a television commercial in Colorado Springs, Colo., the 22-year-old actor met Don Klure, assistant director for MGM. With Klure's encouragement Carlson went to Hollywood and three days after his arrival, got his first part, in the "Mr. Novak" series.

MISSISSIPPI-BORN Carlson takes the starring role of Pvt. Hacker, a young draftee thrust into the tide of war, in "The Young Warriors" which will open in Lubbock this week.

The two actors were welcomed to Lubbock by Jan Glenn, Miss Lubbock, and Mayor W.D. Rogers who presented them with a key to the city and made them honorary Texans.

They were then taken to their hotel by police escort where they went through the rounds of television tapings, interviews, and appearances at the Lions Club luncheon, and the Tech campus.

All White Day, not Red Day, as coeds hold Women's Day

Texas Tech will honor all coeds on Women's Day, April 25, when Tech coeds will follow a tradition started in 1932 by wearing white to classes.

Tech's dean of women, coordinator of women's residence halls, and assistant dean of women will be replaced temporarily from their positions on Women's Day, by respectively, Genelyn Cannon, Sandy Harris, and Nancy Taylor.

MISS IRENE PARSONS, assistant administrator for personnel in Veterans Administration, will speak at Women's Day Banquet in the Tech Union Ballroom at 6 p.m.

A tour of the campus and a luncheon in Knapp Hall at noon will honor the speaker, who holds the highest position ever held by a woman in Veterans Administration, and the highest personnel position in government held by a woman.

An informal team from 1:30 to 4 p.m. in the dean of women's office will give all Tech coeds the opportunity to drop by and chat with Miss Parsons.

Time grows shorter

With the appointment of a five-man committee to make recommendations for a new name for Texas Tech last Wednesday, the Board of Directors again brought the name change issue to light.

The committee, chaired by C. A. Cash of Amarillo, met yesterday, and made plans for submission to the Board of a list of three suggested names in the order of preference.

Cash encouraged "interested parties" to contact their representative on the committee, who, for the students, is Bill Bueck, president of the Tech Student Association, to make their desires known. The committee is set to meet again in the early part of May to compile the list of three names for the next Board meeting.

This deadline gives the Tech student body two weeks to make up its mind on a new name for their university. Many students, however, are not familiar with the history or the issues involved in the name change, since it has been two years since the legislature last met and the possibility of a new name was imminent.

The University Daily will try to remedy the situation with an educational campaign, so that students will be equipped to voice their opinion on a new name, by a knowledge of the background and issues.

Hopefully, the committee will eliminate much of the sound and fury of the last name change attempt and give all the groups involved a voice in the choice of a new name. The time is growing short for the students to make their choice, and consideration of the issue should begin now.

'Drys' given extension for petition alterations

Dist. Judge James A. Ellis gave "dry" forces a 10-day extension Monday on the filing deadline of a petition contesting the outcome of the mid-January liquor election in precinct two.

"DRYS" WERE originally given until Monday to make specific revisions in a petition calling for the election to be thrown-out. The "dry's" original petition was rejected in 137th District Court last month on the grounds the charges were too general.

Attorney Madison Sowder, representing the "drys," said the extension was sought to allow more time for the listing of specific names and places. Sowder said that the prime target of his petition is the absentee box, which went wet by 86 per cent. He also said the resident qualifications of voters in the election would also be contested, as well as several smaller isolated incidents.

Sowder said the "dry" forces would present their revised petition in court on April 27.

Red Raider greenmen travel to Arkansas

The Texas Tech golfers, still suffering from nightmares of their last two conference outings, travel to the hills of Arkansas today where they will meet the second place Razorbacks in a conference match.

The Raiders, who stand 1-2-1 in the conference wobble column, have led their last two opponents going into the final hole only to see the lights go out falling victim to birdie putts.

THE PUTTS left the Raiders with 3-3 split with Texas and 3½-2½ loss to Baylor and a 11-14 point total for the conference race.

The Razorbacks, who finished one-half point behind the champion Baylor Bears last year, figured to be conference contenders this season behind their newly appointed coach Danny Mason.

AND THE Porkers are living up to the expectation. They stand in second place in the conference standings with a 14½-9½ point total. Texas A&M leads the pack with a 17-1 mark. A pair of sophomores, Sammy Brown of Morrilton, Ark., and Tommy Howard of Pryor, Okla., are the prime reason for the Hogs success on the links this season.

"SAMMY AND Tommy have played exceptionally good golf for sophomores," said Mason. "Howard is a steady player—perhaps not really outstanding in any one phase of the game, but he is like a bull dog under pressure. He doesn't know when to give up—and can win the close matches.

"Brown plays a strong aggressive game of golf. He has a little tendency to let up when he gets ahead—typical of a sophomore."

MASON WILL team Brown and Howard with veterans David McCauley and Mike McCutcheon.

Coach Gene (Butch) Mitchell will play Robert McKinney, Jimmy Wilcoxson, Ronnie White and Jim Arnold in today's match with Arkansas.

THE RAIDERS next outing will be against Southern Methodist here Friday.

Everything exciting in scrimmage

There was a 59-yard field goal, a punt that traveled 80 yards in the air, a couple of long runs and a hard hitting defense—that's all that happened during Tech's second Red-White scrimmage game of the spring training season.

Jerry Don Sanders, who holds the freshman field goal record with a 57 yarder, was the force behind the toe that sent the pigskin flying all over Jones Stadium Saturday, at least for the kicks that counted.

Kenny Vinyard, who holds the varsity field goal record, bounced the ball off the goal post upright from 58 yards away.

Offense and defense began to show a little luster in the second spring game.

Back-to-back long runs were the highlight so the offensive show. Tony Butler grabbed a nine-yard pass, in the third quarter, then proceeded to outrun the entire secondary for a touchdown.

On the very next play from scrimmage, Mike Leinert twisted and swiveled his for a 60-yard gain, that resulted in a touchdown on the next play.

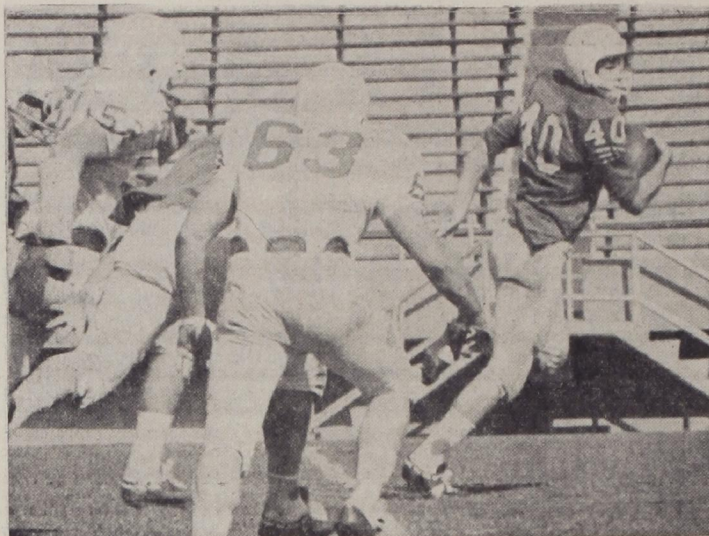

The defense was "the most pleasing part of the whole scrimmage," according to Coach JT King.

"They were really mixing it up out there and were hitting some mighty hard blows," he said.

Tech signs
Larry Wood

Larry Wood, a 6-5, 200 pound all-state tournament choice from Houston Memorial, has been announced as Tech's seventh basketball signee by Coach Gene Gibson. Wood averaged 17 points and 11 rebounds a game his senior year.

AND AWAY HE GOES—Mike Leinert (40) breaks away from the pack for a 60-yard scamper during the Red-White scrimmage game Saturday afternoon. The run resulted in a touchdown on the following play, but it wasn't enough as the Reds dropped the game to the Whites, 34-27.

Frosh outshine varsity at ACC triangular meet

The freshman performances at the Abilene Christian College Triangular Track Meet Saturday stole the limelight away from the varsity boys.

In the three-way-meet, with Tech, ACC, and Baylor competing freshman set new records and out did many of the varsity tracksters.

TECH'S konnie Mercer was a prime example of this fact. Mercer captured the shot put and discus in the freshman university division, with both performances surpassing the varsity performances.

Mercer's shot of 56-1½ beat Ed Mooney's effort of 54-10.

After beating Mooney in the shot Mercer came back to throw the discus 168-4, once again bettering Mooney's effort of 165-6. Mooney did take first place both in the discus and shot in the varsity division but in each case the freshman beat his best efforts.

Baylor varsity tracksters felt the ax from their freshman in many of the running events. Freshman Clyde Peach blazed to a wind-aided 9.4 time in the 100-yard dash, and then came back to hand in a 21.5 time in the 220-yard dash.

BESIDES MERCER, freshman Milton McCrum was the only double freshman winner in the meet for Tech. He took the mile in 4:23.6 and then turned in a 2:03.2 for the 880-yard dash.

"ACC varsity" had had very little trouble in winning their own meet. The Wildcats picked-up 80 points to give them first, Baylor was second with 47 points, and Tech third with 44.

TECH made a clean sweep in the javelin placing one-two-three. Russell Durham took first with a 208-8½ throw, Randy Hicks was second with 203-0 and Jim McCastland, third with a 198-11½.

Tech's 440-yard relay turned in a 41.3 time, but ACC won the event with a 41.1. The time equalled Tech's best effort this year.

BAYLOR'S Stan Berry took the high jump with a leap of 6-8, Jim Flowers of Tech was second at 6-6 and teammate Foster Miller was third with a leap of 6-4.

Magazine poll picks
Baltimore, Pittsburg

NEW YORK—The Baltimore Orioles will be runaway pennant winners in the American League race and the Pittsburgh Pirates are heavy favorites in the National League, according to an exclusive poll of more than 500 major-leaguers appearing in the current issue of SPORT Magazine.

Picked to fill out the first division behind the Orioles in the American League are the Minnesota Twins, Detroit Tigers, Chicago White Sox and Cleveland Indians, followed in order by the California Angels, Kansas City Athletics, New York Yankees, Boston Red Sox and Washington Senators.

IN THE National League, the "contenders" behind the Pirates, according to the player poll, will be the San Francisco Giants, Atlanta Braves, Philadelphia Phillies and Cincinnati Reds. The 1966 pennant-winning Los Angeles Dodgers, without retired Sandy Koufax and traded Maury Wills, are expected to drop to sixth in the standings, trailed by the St. Louis Cardinals, Houston Astros, New York Mets and Chicago Cubs.

Texas Tech nets Aggies

Tech gave a whitewashing to Texas A&M Saturday as the Raiders defeated the Aggies 6-0 in Southwest Conference tennis action.

The win gave Tech an 8-2 match play record for the year. The Raiders stand 7-3 in conference play.

Mike Beene defeated Pete Faust 6-4, 6-4 in the No. 1 singles match then teamed with Murphy Yates to give the Raiders a 6-3, 6-4 victory in doubles competition.

In other Tech wins, Rudy Guitierrez beat Marcus Beleck 6-4, 6-2; Mike Farrish defeated Philadelphie Phillies and Cincinnati Reds. The 1966 pennant-winning Los Angeles Dodgers, without retired Sandy Koufax and traded Maury Wills, are expected to drop to sixth in the standings, trailed by the St. Louis Cardinals,

The Raiders will next take on Southern Methodist University in Dallas Friday. They will play Texas Christian in Fort Worth on Saturday.
