

Staggering stats tell story of Tech

By GAYNELL DOEHNE
Staff Writer

Happiness to a student is a bank account that is not overdrawn, but happiness to Tech's administrators is seeing a biology professor receive the two reptile thermometers he ordered.

Seeing that Tech, a college with an estimated value of more than $70 million for 1967-1968, runs smoothly involves everything from electricity consumption to equipment inventory.

Last year's utilities alone presented staggering statistics. The amount of electricity used was sufficient to provide a year's lighting for 337 miles of thoroughfare system similar to that on University Avenue between 19th and 34th streets.

THE AMOUNT of natural gas consumed by Tech in a year would inflate more than 4,000 World War II Navy blimps, and the amount of water used could float 17 ships the size of the USS Enterprise, the world's largest.

Traffic-Security was at work last year towing away 746 vehicles at a cost of more than $3,000 to Techsians. Twelve out of 263 thefts were solved.

The 7,309 on-campus parking spaces also were competed for by 18,092 persons who were issued parking permits.

PURCHASE ORDERS for necessities were written up for more than $3 million worth of merchandise. Ten cat skulls, a post-mortem on two rats, a pigeon brain, an $8,000 order for china, an amino acid analyzer and food for the campus police dog were only a few of the needs. The equipment inventory showed a wide range from a 60-cent war surplus chair to a video tape recorder valued at more than $47,000.

A most meaningful comparison between masonry material and dorm food was made in the report issued by M.L. Pennington, vice president for business affairs. The report showed that the pounds of food eaten this year will equal more than 50 per cent of the weight of all the masonry material used in the construction of Wall, Gates, Hulien and Clement halls.

MORE THAN 4 million meals will be served this year.

Statistics from the campus mail service last year confirmed a suspicion held by many parents. Incoming mail was six times greater than outgoing mail.

To Lubbock each additional 1,000 Tech students are equivalent to a new $1.5 million industry. By 1977 Tech's enrollment will reach an estimated 31,000, and as Tech grows more statistics are added to the yearly histories kept on this expanding institution.

Any establishment that installs more than 31,000 light bulbs in a year could hardly go unnoticed.

ROSE PRINCESS — Marty McClure, a junior Home Economics major from Denison, has been named Delta Sigma Pi Rose Princess for December.

Cards sent to soldiers

Men students in Tech's residence halls sent word Monday to American GI's in Vietnam that "America breathes a little easier, sleeps a little sounder and Americans walk a little taller because of you."

The message comprising a combined Christmas card and thank you note was airmailed to 18,000 soldiers overseas, said Michael McMahan of Dallas, supervisor of the 1967 project.

Each of the cards is signed, by either the Men's Residence Council or the name of the dormitory which is sending the card. Seven residence halls participated this year, the third year that the cards have been mailed.

Greeks, dorms enter teams in first rodeo

The first annual All-School Rodeo will be held Friday at Auflil's Sports Arena on the Tahoka highway.

The events, including bareback and bull riding, calf roping, ribbon roping, and steer wrestling, have attracted approximately 109 entries. Four girls have entered the goat tying and barrel racing competition.

Fraternities and men's dorms listed in the special event contest are Block and Bride, Kappa Sigma, Alpha Phi Omega, Sigma Chi, Phi, Sneed Hall, Bledsoe Hall, Gaston Hall, and Murdough Hall.

The special event will be a gold rush in which a steer is turned loose with a money sack tied around his neck. The first three-man team to catch it will receive the money and a trophy.

A CALF DRESSING contest is the special event for sororities and women's dorms. To win, a team of three girls must put a shirt and trousers on a calf in the shortest length of time. Entered in this contest are Sigma Kappa, Alpha Delta Pi, Zeta Tau Alpha, Kappa Alpha Theta, Delta Delta Delta, Kappa Kappa Gamma, Clement Hall, Wall Hall, and Chitwood Hall. The performance will begin at 7:30 p.m.

Awards for the rodeo winners will be presented at the annual Cowboy Christmas Ball in the Union Ballroom Dec. 16.

Books for Vietnam

The Union Hospitality Committee is currently sponsoring a paperback book drive for distribution to the armed forces in Vietnam. The committee hopes to collect 1000 books which will be of interest to college-aged men.

Books such as classics and Nobel Prize winners are especially needed. So, while you are home for the Christmas vacation, clean out your book shelves and bring the books back with you.

A barrel has been placed by the stairs in the Union for the books. These books will make a great post-Christmas gift for our armed forces.

Yarborough to Come
There has been a lot of talk lately on campus about Glen Yarborough's future trip to Tech. (I've found that especially the girls seem interested!) Well, it's true...Glen is coming Feb. 9. Tickets go on sale in the Program Office of the Union Jan. 3. Tickets are reserved and student tickets cost $1.25. Soviet Bloc Topic
The 1968 World Affairs Conference is scheduled for March 7-9 this year. Topic for the Conference will be "The Soviet Bloc: Evolution in World Affairs." There are two main features of the Conference.

First, delegates will hear world renowned authorities in Soviet Bloc Affairs in general sessions. Second, delegates will have the choice of participating in four seminars.

These seminars will be led by distinguished professors from major American Universities and by persons with years of experience in Eastern European Affairs.

Delegates will attend from major colleges of the Midwest and Southwest. Those students from Tech who are interested in attending may register soon after the second semester begins. Registration fee is $5 for Tech students.

Also Note
The movie this week is "The War Lord." It will be shown Friday at 8 p.m. and Sunday at 3 and 7 p.m. in the Coronado Room of the Union.

WRC thanks firms for contributions

Carol of Lights is produced each year by the Women's Residence Council with the help of Lubbock firms who contribute funds to finance the project.

Dairy Products, Bray's Ladies Sportswear, Brown's Varsity Shop, Dozier's Trophy and Shoe Shop.

Contributing $1,755 to this year's program were: Avalanche-Journal Publishing Company, Avalon Studio, Bell

Gamma Theta elects officers

Gamma Theta Upsilon, geography honorary, met Saturday and elected officers.

Leonard Melcher was elected president; Lindsey Baker, vice president; Jane Barrett, secretary-treasurer.

The future of the study of geography on the campus and in Texas was discussed. The possible establishment of a geography department at Tech was also discussed.

DR. FRANK C. GOODWIN, Womack's, Quality Steam Laundry, Bray's Cleaners and Furnishers, White Pig Drive In, Tie Rack, Varsity Food Mart, Clyde Plemons Texas Service Station, Costume Studio.

Borden's, Matador Barber Shop, Book and Stationery Center, Shop Right Foods, Inc.

Tech Vice President for Development Bill J. Parsley said, "We're deeply indebted for this fine support, because without it there would be no Carol of Lights."

'Streetcar' desires 'early tacky' effect

By MARGARET EASTMAN
Fine Arts Editor

$15. However, it does not include springs or a headboard, so the properties crew is making them.

Miss Crowe said the headboard will be made from steel tubing and copper wire "to make it ornate and junky." To create the illusion of springs, the crew is using a frame with eight inch high boards.

Either a statuette of May West or a couple doll will be used to maintain the shabby environment.

"Streetcar" is a one-set show. Doriss Horton, scenery crew head, said there are 50 people working on the apartment setting. The background will include two scrim walls which at times reveal a street behind the two-room apartment. In front of the apartment there will be another street.

THE CREW is making a spiral staircase, which will be beside the apartment, on which most of the play's action will take place. "It's going quite well," Miss Horton said. "The most difficult thing we're doing is the welding on the staircase. We're all learning how to use cutting torches."

Because the set will include two rooms—a kitchen and bedroom — it will be relatively small. Therefore, a three-quarter bed will be used to represent a full bed in order to give the appearance of space.

The lighting crew, under the direction of lighting assistant Cheri Brownlee and crew head Mary Anne Engram, is planning mood lighting. For example, in the first scene two sisters meet after many years of separation. The lighting should create a mood of uncertainty.

THE BED for the production was picked up on Avenue H for

Flea sale to be held

Tech art department students will hold their semi-annual "Flea Market Sale" in the Briercroft Center Mall Sunday noon to 6 p.m.

A special auction will be staged at 2 p.m. with work by Tech faculty members going on the block. All proceeds from the faculty auction will go into a scholarship fund established for art students last year. Twenty per cent of the proceeds from student sales also will go into the fund.

Sale items include paintings, pottery, prints, handicrafts, sculpture, jewelry and water-colors.

'STREETCAR NAMED DESIRE' — Cathy Smith, Suzy Ricker and Cathy Coates work on the set for the University Theater's upcoming production, "A Streetcar Named Desire." The Tennessee Williams drama will be the theater's second production this year. (Staff photo by Kyle Morse).

Band to play concert

The Christmas Band Concert will be presented at 8:15 p.m. Monday in Tech Union Ballroom, said Concert Band Director Dean Killion in announcing a change date for the annual holiday program, originally scheduled earlier.

The new date, by avoiding heavy weekend schedules, is expected to make it possible for more persons to attend, Killion noted.

Selections by the concert band will include "Valdres," "Colas Breugnon," "Carol of the Drum," "Twelve Days of Christmas" and "English Dances."

GENE KENNEY will direct the Tech Singers in a group of Alfred Burt carols, and Handel's "Glory of the Lord" and "Hallelujah Chorus."

The Women's Chorus, directed by graduate student Charlie Helmer, will sing "At the Sweet Birth of Our Lord," "The Kings Follow the Star" and a series of Slovak Christmas carols.

Varsity bands, under direction of Anthony Brittin, Richard

E. Tolley and Joel Leach, will offer arrangements of "Green-sleeves" and "Jingle Bells," Pietro A. Yon's "Jesu Bambino," and Leroy Anderson's "Christmas Festival."

Why drama? 'It's groovy'

Fifty pages of lines to learn ... three flats and two platforms to build ... nine costumes to make ... two hours to put on make-up. ...

Why? Many people just don't understand why anyone would want to major in drama. Claude Perilli, one of those theater types, says, "It's groovy."

Perilli had seen only one play, "No Time for Sergeants," when he entered Tech. "This friend of mine had to go see it. I went with him, because we wanted to party afterwards," he recalls.

Perilli, whose hometown is El Paso, attended Texas Western as a government major for one year. He switched to journalism when he came to Tech. Then he found himself in a drama course:

"I HAD TO GO to school last summer to catch up on some hours I lost. I was going to take a radio-TV course, and I guess I gave them the wrong number, because I ended up in introduction to theater. When I saw the title of the course, I said, 'Hey, man, maybe they'll show movies.'"

Perilli took the course, and started coming to the theater in the afternoons because, "I didn't have anything else to do." During the second summer session, Perilli worked with the high school drama workshop. I thought it was groovy, so I stayed in the drama department."

Since then Perilli has been the stage manager for "Man and Superman" and acted in "The Lark." He is currently rehearsing the role of Mitch in the University Theater's upcoming production, "Streetcar Named Desire."

PERILLI IS ONE of many drama "converts." Dr. Clifford Ashby, speech professor, says, "Nine-tenths of our majors in drama are those who had to take a theater course and stayed. Our majors come to us from all over."

Ashby thinks the theater is "a home for people with multi-faceted talent." Larry Randolph, assistant professor of speech, says, "In drama, you can find outlets for talent in any field, as well as creative and emotional outlets. Everything you know is involved in your work."

Red Raiders down Centenary Gentlemen 83-79

By RODNEY B. KEMP
Assistant Sports Editor

A steal by Jerry Haggard with five seconds left saved a ballgame for the Texas Tech Red Raiders as they extended their win streak to two games Thursday night by downing a scrappy Centenary College team, 83-79.

The Raiders, seemingly having it on ice with 50 seconds left, almost saw it slip through their hands as a Bob Lang jump shot was followed by a tip-in by Andy Fullerton to make it 81-79.

A few seconds later the Gentlemen stole the ball but the bid to tie it up was foiled by Haggard's clutch play. Haggard fed Vernon Paul for the games final tally.

Centenary repeatedly stole the ball out of their man for man defense and had numerous snowbird lay-ups as a result. Tech admittedly had a shaking game and were "real fortunate to pull this one out," said junior Joe Dobbs.

JIM NELSON again led the Tech attack with 18 points on a variety of driving lay-ups and accurate jumpers.

Paul with 16 and Haggard with 11 followed the San Antonio senior in the Raider point production list.

Coach Gene Gibson named Nelson's fine performance as the only bright spot of the evening other than the road victory.

The Raiders, seemingly riding on the momentum of their first victory of the year over Oklahoma, scored their highest first half point total in taking a 39-35 lead into the intermission dressing room.

Nelson, also leaving off where he did in his 19 point performance against the Sooners, paced Tech in the first half with nine points. Second to this was Paul's eight.

sixth, over Centenary's 24 total.

Benny Wiggins' two-pointer with six minutes to go gave Tech their greatest first half lead of nine points. Centenary quickly closed this to three before it moved into the four point Texas Tech halftime advantage.

The second half was a real nip and tuck affair with the Gents taking the lead with 15:40 to go at 48-46 for only the second time in the game. Tech quickly regained the advantage and held throughout the remainder of the game.

However, Centenary again threatened with 10 minutes showing on the Haynes Gymnasium clock when Ward connected on a free throw to make it 58-58. Ward, after his slow first half start, finished with the game's high of 24.

BOB LANG, the Centenary 6'7" sophomore, was second for the Gentlemen in scoring with 19.

The Red Raiders hit a good 48 per cent from the floor and an improved 82 per cent from the charity strip.

Tech also showed a 46-36 advantage off the boards led by Wayne Schneider's eight and Paul's seven.

Today's Sports

Farr voted top rookie; fulfills two of his goals

NEW YORK (AP)—When Mel Farr, the All-America halfback from UCLA, reported to the Detroit Lions training camp this summer he had four goals.

"I wanted to make the Lions as a starter," said Farr. "I wanted to make Rookie of the Year, I wanted to gain 1,000 yards and I wanted to make all-pro."

FARR NOW has hit two goals. He has been voted Offensive Rookie of the Year in the National Football League by the overwhelming vote of an Associated Press panel of sportswriters and sportscasters, three from each league city. He has been a starter since the beginning of the season.

Farr isn't far short of his 1,000-yard rushing goal. With Sunday's game against Minnesota to go, he has gained 791 yards. That leaves him 209 yards short of his ambition. He didn't make the all-league team which had Leroy Kelly of Cleveland and Gale Sayers of Chicago running backs.

THE PANEL cast 34 votes for Farr. His closest challenger was end Dave Williams of the St. Louis Cardinals, who received five votes. Dan Abramowitz, the New Orleans Saints' fine receiver, was named on three ballots.

Running back Randy Minniewar of the New York Giants and all-around man John Love of Washington each got one. Two panelists did not vote and two others for quarterback Jim Hart of St. Louis, who was not eligible because he appeared in one game last year.

FARR, A 6-FOOT-2, 210-pounder, not only was the Lions' best running back with an average of 4.3 yards a carry but also the top receiver with 38 catches for 305 yards. He has accounted for about one-third of Detroit's total yardage.

Farr was the No. 7 pick in the first combined NFL-AFL draft last year and, of course, the Lions' top selection.

HAGGARD HELD the Gentlemen's ace scorer, Larry Ward, who came into the game averaging 19.2, to three points in the first 18 minutes but picked up three personal fouls in doing so. After Haggard departed with two minutes left, Ward then began to find the range and finished with Centenary's first half high point total of nine.

It was a run and shoot first half with the two teams putting the ball up a total of 75 times. The Raiders hit for 42 per cent and the Gentlemen for 38.9.

Tech had a slight edge in rebounds with 27, led by Paul's
