A SPECTACULAR CATCH BY HARDWICK--Although Michael Hardwick slipped down while racing to catch a Galin Latham catch, he managed to catch the football Friday night while lying flat on his back on the field. Although the Mules lost to Friona 34-13, they had an outstanding second half of play. Next week, the Mules will host Littlefield, to close out the 89 football season. (Journal Photo)

Chieftains Go By Break '89 Losing Streak

It was a dismal night for football for the Muleshoe Mules, The following MAC members especially the first half of the game, where they trailed winless Friona Chieftains 0-20.

> However, in the second half. the Mules came alive, and scored 13 points to 14 points for the Chieftains.

It was a game that broke a year long losing streak for the Chieftains, who went home as 13-34

In the first quarter, the Mules failed to move the ball against the Chieftains on their first possession, so punted it away. As Friona took over, they started a steady march downfield, grinding out three and four yards at a time, before being tripped up by a clipping penalty and passes that failed to connect.

After the Mules regained possession of the ball, they moved the ball, but with just 2:40 left in a scoreless first quarter, the Mules were intercepted by a

The Chieftains took advantage of the turnover, and with 11:02 showing on the clock, made it in from 11 yards out for the Chieftain's first TD for the evening. Making the scoring play was Andre Duran, while Scott Houston booted in the extra point.

Again the Mules failed to move the ball against the Friona team, and at 9:09 of the second quarter,

This time, Rocha sped 26 yards, outracing the pursuing Mules with 7:16 left before the half, and Mike Scott booted in the extra point.

The Mules were still having trouble trying to move the ball, so again punted to Friona at 5:56 before the half.

After five plays, Friona added another six points on a seven yard TD by Duran. The PAT failed as Scott received a bad Friona recovered a Mule fumble with :17 left in the half, after moving within scoring range. Although the Chieftains recovered the fumble, it was too late for them to take advantage of the Mule mistake.

At halftime, the score stood at 0-20 for Friona.

Coming back in the third, A. J. Liles stopped a Friona drive by intercepting a pass at 10:46 of the third. The Mules ran into passing trouble, as receiver Michael Hardwick started being tripleteamed and couldn't get to the

Dorothy Green has been concerned with the medical care in Muleshoe in one form or another

It was in 1938 that she and her were again forced to punt. late husband, Dr. L. T. Green, moved to Muleshoe from Little Rock, Ark., and he became the doctor for Bailey County.

Muleshoe did not have a hospital, so in 1939 the Greens began building what is now known as West Plains Medical Center. Construction of the hospital was completed in 1940.

"The hospital was build out of necessity. We built it out of our own pocket because we found that was the only way we could have a private practice," Mrs. Green said.

"L. T. had to put his patients in either the Littlefield hospital or the Clovis hospital before the Muleshoe hospital was built, and he would spend most of his day making rounds in Littlefield and Clovis.'

Mrs. Green has called a place "home" that most people do not even like to visit. The Greens lived in the hospital in the 1940s. but living in the hospital made a private life difficult.

"At that time, L. T. was the only doctor in the county so he was busy," she said. "We'd be asleep, and someone would come Cont. Page 6, Col. 4

Farm Bureau Asks 'Check' On Hightower

The Texas Farm Bureau Tuesday asked for a thorough investigation of alleged misuse of producer funds by the Texas Commissioner of agriculture and his top officials following publication of a copyrighted news story in the Oct. 31 Dallas Morning News concerning those charges.

"We urge a thorough investigation by the U.S. Department of Agriculture of state-federal activities between the USDA and the Texas Department of Agriculture," Texas Farm Bureau President S. M. True said Oct. 31 in a letter to Agriculture Secretary Clayton K. Yeutter.

"The findings of such investigation should be made public as soon as possible," True said.

"There is a suggestion that this matter is politically-motivated, and we believe that a full report on all federal activities with TDA is the only way to resolve this concern.

"We further believe that if the allegations prove correct that producer funds have been misused, this matter should be pursued to the fullest extent possible."

The Dallas Morning News story states that Agriculture Commissioner Jim Hightower and his top deputy have billed thousands of dollars in travel and meals to a state-federal crop inspection program, including many credit card charges that appear to be questionable, according to USDA records.

The inspection service, whose traveling inspections are supervised by the Texas Department of Agriculture and the U.S. Department of Agriculture, is supported by fees collected from producers.

The News reproduced credit cards, showing charges made in restaurants in such places as San Francisco and Venice, California. The newspaper said that a hotel bill at the Democratic convention in Atlanta last summer was charged to the inspection service.

Pros & Cons

On The Constitutional Amendments To Be Voted On November 7, 1989

The 71st Legislature in the Regular Session passed 20 joint resolutions proposing 21 constitutional amendments. All of these proposed amendments will appear on the November 7 election ballot.

PROPOSITION 1-HJR 102 (1)

To limit the salary of the Lieutenant Governor and the Speaker of the House of Representatives to not more than one-half of the Governor's salary and to limit the salary of a member of the Legislature to not more than onefourth of the Governor's salary.

Legislators are long over-due for a salary increase from the $600 a month they are currently making. This salary level ranks them 36th

Against

Amendment is deceptive; "to limit the salary" actually triples their pay and removes forever taxpayers ability to control their pay scale. Future raises would be tied to the Governor's salary and therefore, the legislators would get a pay raise simply by raising the Governor's salary.

PROPOSITION 2—SJR 5

Authorize the issuance of an additional $500 million of Texas water development bonds for water supply, water quality, and flood control purposes.

The state must continue to protect and preserve its important water resources through such a comprehensive approach.

The use of bonds is debt and violates Texas' pay as you go constitutional mandate. Water promoters already have from previous elections $1.38 billion in state bond money approved but unused.

PROPOSITION 3—HJR 51

Authorizing the legislature to provide for the recovery and further development of the state's economy, with goals of increasing job opportunities and other benefits for Texas residents, through state financing of the development and production of Texas products and businesses.

In today's economy, it is difficult for the agriculture industry and for small businesses to survive. The state dollars would serve to boost these industries and to improve the economy.

Against

The state should not finance "risky" businesses who cannot obtain financing through regular sources. Voters rejected an almost identical proposal in 1987, because voters object to increasing state debt to subsidize private business.

PROPOSITION 4—HJR 13

To authorize the legislature to exempt property of nonprofit veterans organizations from ad valorem taxation.

☐ For

Historically, charitable organizations have not been subject to taxes. This amendment would make clear a previous law and ease the burden making sure charitable organizations maintain their tax-exempt status.

By including charitable organizations on property tax rolls, it increases revenues for cities. Charitable groups, including the veterans, already receive enough benefits.

PROPOSITION 5-SJR 11

Promoting economic growth, job creation, and fair tax treatment for Texans who export goods to other states and nations by restoring and allowing, on a local option basis, an ad valorem tax exemption for certain personal property that is in Texas only temporarily for the purpose of assembling, storing, manufacturing, processing, or fabricating.

The "freeport" exemption would encourage companies to bring their business to Texas, creating more jobs and bolstering economic develop in the state. Proponents say this will boost free enterprise in Such an exemption may result in lost revenues to municipal governments.

PROPOSITION 6-HJR 4

Authorizing the members of a hospital district governing board to serve four-year terms.

Allowing for extended terms gives greater flexibility in order to meet local needs. Extended, staggered terms allows elections to coincide with county elections, saving tax dollars.

Against Two year terms make board members more accountable to the public and opponents feel it limits government.

PROPOSITION 7—HJR 40

To require that a member of the Legislature, the Secretary of State, and an elected or appointed officer, before assuming office sign a written oath stating that the member, the Secretary of State, or the officer did not engage in bribery to obtain the office.

O For

The written statement, which would eliminate the part of the present oral oath relating to bribery, would have greater significance. The new oath would be shorter and more similar to those used by other

Against

The oral sworn statement against bribery has been used for more than a century. There is no need to fix what is not broken. Why waste tax dollars on another method, when the current one is satisfactory and more cost effective.

PROPOSITION 8-SJR 24

Authorizing the issuance of general obligation bonds for projects relating to facilities of corrections institutions, and mental health and mental retardation institutions and for the expansion of statewide law enforcement facilities.

Measure provides an additional $400 million to construct and equip badly needed new facilities for correction institutions and mental retardation institutions.

Against

The use of bonds is debt and violates Texas' pay as you go constitutional mandate. Total repayment on these bonds over 20 years equals $809.7 million.

PROPOSITION 9-HJR 101

Authorizing the legislature to organize and combine various state agencies that perform criminal justice functions.

Measure attempts to streamline the administration of the state criminal justice system, eliminating duplication of efforts by departments and opening communication in the system.

The plan eliminates the separation of powers among the three branches of government needed to provide checks and balances especially crucial in the criminal justice area to protect the accused.

PROPOSITION 10-SJR 4

Authorizing the Legislature to require or permit courts to inform juries about the effect of good conduct time and eligibility for parole or mandatory supervision on the period of incarceration served by a defendant convicted of a criminal offense.

Allows the jurors to know how much of a prison sentence the defendant would actually be sequired to serve

Such knowledge would add confusion to the process and cause jurors to impose longer prison sentences. PROPOSITION 11-HJR 102 (2)

To set the amount of per diem received by a member of the Legislature at the amount allowed for federal income tax purposes as a deduction for living expenses incurred by a state Legislator in connection with official

Increasing the per diem from $30 a day to $81 is justified since costs for room and board during the 140 day session has increased

Against Future per diem increases would be automatic and the citizens would no longer have a vote to control the amount of per diem paid to the Legislators.

PROPOSITION 12—SJR 53

To provide for using the permanent school fund and its income to guarantee bonds issued by the state for the purpose of aiding school districts.

☐ For

School districts would be able to save money with this program, as it makes use of less expensive bond money.

Against

The program would allow the state to evade the constitutional requirement for voter approval of all state debt created through general obligation bonds.

PROPOSITION 13—HJR 19

Providing a bill of rights for crime victims.

Q For

By recognizing their rights, crime victims would be guaranteed a more active role in the judicial process. For too long, victims of crime have not been given free access to the judicial process, even to the extent of being barred from the courtroom. Seeing a criminal brought to justice is a very small repayment for the injuries suffered by the victim of crime.

Against

Victims should be given every courtesy, but their rights should not be allowed to undermine the principle of the accused being innocent until proven guilty. Too, a criminal defendant might feel harassed having the victim in court during proceedings.

Requiring a District Attorney serving in Fort Bend County to be elected and serve a term in the manner provided by general law for Criminal District Attorneys.

PROPOSITION 14—SJR 71

Passage would ease the transition as Fort Bend County divides the office of Criminal District Attorney into two new offices of District Attorney and County Attorney.

Against

Voters statewide do not need to resolve the whims of local officials in one out of 254 counties. The proposal is an attempt to avoid a gubernatorial appointment, the normal procedure, for the new office of District Attorney.

PROPOSITION 15—HJR 32 Authorizing the Legislature to permit and regulate raffles conducted by certain nonprofit organizations for charitable purposes.

Hundreds of legitimate charitable groups, unaware of the present illegality, use raffles now to raise funds.

Raffles only open the door still wider to legalized gambling. A previous exception for bingo has been abused by commercial operators, gaining little for charities. Opponents feel this amendment goes against traditional family values.

PROPOSITION 16—SJR 34

Granting to the people the right to decide whether to create and maintain hospital districts to protect the public well-being in a manner independent of the legislature.

Local option elections to create such entities better reflect the will of the citizenry.

The proposal would cause a proliferation of hospital districts, with taxing authority, to be established in haste.

PROPOSITION 17—HJR 33

Authorizing the state to provide scholarships, grants, loans, and other financial assistance to local fire departments and other public fire-fighting organizations to purchase fire-fighting equipment, to aid in providing necessary equipment and facilities to comply with federal and state law, and to educate and train their members.

State assistance would benefit smaller communities which cannot afford to provide adequate services.

State money should not be used to finance a local concern when other financing alternatives already exist PROPOSITION 18—SJR 44

To eliminate certain time limitations relating to the issuance of Texas agricultural water conservation bonds.

Passage would provide for the implementation of the $200 million Agricultural Water Conservation Bond Program authorized in 1985. The nine-week "window" now available for issuance of the bonds is Against The time limits built into bond programs are there to insure their proper usage and to prevent unnecessary state debt. The time limit should not be disregarded. $200 million is also far more money than the program is ever likely to use.

PROPSOSTION 19—SJR 59

To authorize local governments to invest their funds as provided by law.

Passage would allow local governments to earn a better rate of return

 Against This proposed amendment would open the door to investment in risky money-market mutual funds by local governments not accustomed to evaluating such investments. PROPOSITION 20—SJR 16 To abolish the office of County Surveyor in Cass, Ector, Garza, Smith, Passage would abolish unneeded positions and save tax dollars.

O Against

Maintaining the surveyor job assures public access to the county threats.

At 3:15 of the third, the Mules again took possession of the ball at their own 20 yard line, and ran into passing and penalty trouble. They were forced to punt the ball away after several plays.

At 2:18 of the third, Friona again took possession of the ball, and with failed to gain much, turning the ball back to the Mules.

With just :15 left in the third, Chieftain Shannon Cochran intercepted a Mule pass, returning it 13 yards to the end zone. The PAT two-pcint conversion attempt was no good, and time ran out with the Mules still scoreless.

Early in the fourth quarter, the Mules were still being plagued by penalty trouble, but continued to hold onto the ball.

At 9:20 of the last quarter, the Mules scored when Herbert Olivarez made it into the end zone. Charlie Reyna booted in the extra point.

As the Mule defense tightened up some more, Friona watched in dismay as Michael Hardwick latched onto a 40 yard pass good for a Mule TD. The PAT was blocked.

After failing to move the ball, the Mules fumbled on a punt return, and started marching downfield but were stopped with just 2:17 left in the game.

Chieftain Curtis Brady intercepted a Mule pass, and at 2:17 of the fourth turned it into another Chieftain TD.

As the clock ran out, the Mules recovered a Chieftain fumble, but too late to capitalize on it.

Sophomore quarterback Galin Latham, who saw brief action just before halftime, played most of the second half, and gave a very good performance at the QB slot. The Mules had nine first downs to 18 for Friona, and had 69 rushing yards to 302 for the Chieftains.

Nine of 30 Mule passes were completed for 173 yards, while Friona had no passing yards.

The Mules were intercepted four times, while Friona was intercepted twice.

Next Friday night, the Mules end up the season, hosting the Littlefield Wildcats at Benny Douglass stadium. Gametime is 7:30 p.m.

In 1972, she joined the hospital auxiliary and has been active ever since. She served as president of the organization for seven years. She said the auxiliary's purpose when it was begun in 1968 was to provide services to the hospital. However, the hospital also needed money, and the purpose of the group grew into fund raising. Fund raising seemed to be the greatest need, she added.

The group's main fund-raiser is the Christmas Card project.

"The idea came to us when postage started going up, and we asked people to figure out how much they spent on Christmas cards and postage for mailing local cards," she said.

"Instead of mailing those cards, we asked them to give the money to the project.

"We have done some wonderful projects with the money in past years. Since the closing of the hospital, we sponsor the project in the name of the nursing home."

Mrs. Green has been active in another area at the hospital. She has served on the hospital board for the past several years, and during this time she has seen it close and open again.

"It was such an awful day when the hospital closed; it was very traumatic," she said. "I had invested so much time and money into the hospital; it was

Ms. Cleta Williams Muleshoe Journal Box 449 Muleshoe, Texas 79347

Dear Ms. Williams:

Mr. Ray Day, store manager at Serv-All Thriftway in Muleshoe has provided me with the newspaper article you recently wrote about my visit to the Rotary Club in your city.

I want to take this opportunity to thank you for the lengthy and complimentary article that you so graciously provided for the readers in Muleshoe and I might add for all of my store managers. It seems the article was copied and sent to each of them by my secretary.

You referred to me as enthusiastic. It is easy to be enthusiastic when you believe so strongly in something. I enjoy using examples, because to me, the true experiences have a bigger impact on people and makes it easier for them to relate to situations.

Thank you again for the nice article.

Sincerely,

LETTER TO THE EDITOR:

The referendum election on November 7 could dramatically affect our local Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 8570 here in Muleshoe.

A "yes" vote will assure that we can continue to support groups in our community such as Little League Baseball, T-Ball, Girl Scouts, Boy Scouts, Meals and the second of the second on Wheels, and other projects that our post supports.

A "yes" vote will mean that our veterans' organizations will be treated equally when it comes to paying property taxes.

A "yes" vote means you support veterans. Voting "yes" is a good decision; in fact, our State Comptroller, Bob Bullock, supports passage of Proposition #4.

He thinks veterans will actually be able to contribute more to their local communities if the proposition passes.

I urge you to vote "yes" on Proposition #4 on November 7.

This problem also occurs in the spring when the wheat is grazed out and summer forage crops are not yet ready for grazing. This is the reason why many High Plains farmers do not include livestock in their opera-

Dr. A.G. Matches, Thornton Professor in Texas Tech University's Department of Agronomy, Horticulture and Entomology, has been working several years to identify and evaluate wheatgrasses which can be utilized for grazing during these two critical periods.

One of these is Jose Tall Wheatgrass. It is a cool-season bunch grass released by the Soil Conservation Service in 1965. A native of Eurasia, the wheatgrass grows well across the Southern High Plains and is often grown in conjunction with the non-bloating legume, Sainfoin.

Livestock producers should plan now to incorporate the wheatgrass into their grazing program next year, says Matches. Utilizing the cool-season wheatgrass in conjunction with warm-season summer grasses can maximize the period of fresh, high quality forage production in a grazing system, depending upon the amount of rainfall and/or irrigation the grass receives. "The real advantage to Jose Tall Wheatgrass is that it is an early grower," states Matches. The wheatgrass growth is greatest in the cooler spring and fall temperatures. Growth declines during the hotter part of the summer.

"Research observations indicate that the fall growth of wheatgrass may be accumulated for winter grazing. The fall growth usually remains green until early winter," Matches adds.

With careful attention to the management of Jose Tall Wheatgrass, producers can get both good plant production and animal gain, Matches says.

In a Texas Tech University experiment, sheep and cattle that grazed during the spring on irrigated Jose Tall Wheatgrass averaged gains of more than 1,000 pounds per acre in the Muleshoe and Hereford areas. Matches says the wheatgrass is fairly tolerant of grazing and is 'very adequate' nutritionally, particularly its fall vegetative growth. Although the wheatgrass is not as high quality as wheat, "it's a lot cheaper than buying feed," he adds.

Matches notes that Jose Tall Wheatgrass may be seeded in

A major problem encountered the spring or fall. However, he points out that fall wheatgrass seeding is likely to have less weed problems than spring seeding. "Spring seeding can provide fall grazing if the weeds are controlled," he says.

> Matches suggests grazing established Jose Tall Wheatgrass from about the first two weeks in April to the first two weeks in July, then switching to summer, warm-season native grasses or haygrazer. Livestock producers should return to Jose Tall Wheatgrass in the fall when the summer grasses are gone and the winter wheat is not yet ready to be grazed, he says. The wheatgrass may usually be grazed during September, October and November, or until it is grazed out. "We have had some wheatgrass green until January 28," Matches added.

Livestock producers using Jose Tall Wheatgrass for forage should use proper management in the spring to reduce excessive growth. "Waist-high grass won't produce much animal gain. Don't let the growth get away or you will get lots of stems which are less palatable to livestock. You want to manage the grass to have regrowth," he says.

Grazing Jose Tall Wheatgrass in the fall can allow wheat plants to achieve taller growth before they are grazed by livestock. "Research shows advantages to letting wheat get six to eight inches tall before grazing it. But usually I haven't seen many farmers wait that long," he adds.

In the fall, the wheatgrass produces more leafy vegetative growth which is more tasty to livestock than the stems produced during the spring. However, the livestock carrying capacity is lessened since the overall plant production is less than spring growth.

Peter Karnezos, graduate research assistant in the Agronomy Horticulture and Entomology Department, reminds producers that Jose Tall Wheatgrass requires water earlier in the spring than crops such as corn, grain sorghum and cotton. For fall greenup, the wheatgrass needs water in August and September.

"You can water the wheatgrass and get it started, then switch to the summer crops when they need the water. The wheatgrass and the crops won't compete for the irrigation water" Karnezos says.

U.S. Senator Recommends New Prosecutor

U.S. Sen. Phil Gramm has recommended to the President that Marvin Collins serve a second term as the federal government's chief prosecutor in West and North Texas.

Collins, 46, has been the U.S. attorney for the 100-county Northern Judicial District of Texas since taking office in mid-1985.

"Marvin has done tremendous work as U.S. attorney," Gramm said. "From leading the Bank Fraud Task Force to cracking down on drug distributors, he has been exactly the kind of tough, innovative prosecutor that I'd hoped for when I asked him to take this job."

"At both the state and federal levels, Marvin has carved out a record as a supurb prosecutor and I am particularly pleased that he has agreed to continue the critically important criminal justice work that he began by becoming the U.S. attorney four years ago."

Collins supervises 49 assistant U.S. attorneys--14 more than when he began--and 69 support staffers in offices located at Amarillo, Lubbock, Fort Worth and Dallas.

becoming U.S. Before attorney, Collins served as judge of Criminal District Court No. 1 in Fort Worth and as chief of both the civil division and the appellate section in the Tarrant County district attorney's office. He also served as legal advisor to the county government.

Collins is a criminal law specialist and holds a certification in criminal law from the Texas Board of Legal Specializaabout 300 citizens dedicated a Texas Historical Commission marker at the site of the former Texas Agricultural Experiment Station west of Spur.

The Gramm recommendation marks the first step in a process that requires formal nominations of Collins by President Bush and confirmation of that nomination by the U.S. Senate.

The work and the scientists who conducted it from December 1909 until the facility was closed Feb. 1, 1986, were known around the world and continue to benefit agricultural efforts around the globe, an array of local and state leaders said.

The facility was one of seven TAES substations authorized by the Texas Legislature in 1909 to work on regional agricultural problems as a part of Texas A&M University.

Leaders recalled it was on Oct. 15, 1909, that the S.M. Swenson and Sons Land and Cattle Co. gave the state 200 acres of land and $2,500 cash to put one of the centers at or near the company's proposed site for the city of Spur.

Among the throng at the marker dedication were descendants of several former superintendents and researchers, area farmers, ranchers and business leaders who supported the efforts and county and state officials.

Alvis Bilberry, Experiment master of ceremonies. station farm forman for 40 years, recalled some humorous moof the station's seven superintendents. James Arnold, superintendent from 1970 until the closing, said the marker being dedicated "represents a tremendous amount of important Committee, and Curt Parsons. research during more than superintendent of Spur Inthree-quarters of a century."

Dr. Tim Shaunty, assistant School District. deputy chancellor for agriculture at Texas A&M, said the university wanted the people to know the pride it has in the station and its accomplishments. Closing the station wasn't an easy decision and doesn't reflect on the work done there he said.

He saluted pioneering achievements in soil and water conservation, especially the "syrup pan" terracing, of R.E. Dickson. superintendent from 1914-1957 "If he were here today, he'd be called an ecologist," Shaunty said. "Because of work done at Spur, people at Dallas and Houston are getting more Water."

Paul Marion, superintendent from 1957-1973, was "Mr. Beef" in Texas, Shaunty said. He praised Marion's leadership in beef cattle nutrition, "everything from trench silos to night blindness in cattle," as the leading edge of current practices.

Arnold, said Shaunty, had the toughest job, following three pioneer giants in agricultural research "at a time resources" were being withdrawn." Arnold did the job well, Shaunty said.

The station's first three superintendents were F. Hensel, 1909-January 1910; J. K. Fitzgerald, February-April 1910, and L.S. York, April 1910-May 1914.

Texas Tech Makes Plans For Parents

Texas Tech University's annual Family Weekend Nov. 10-11 will offer students' families the opportunity to meet administrators and faculty and to experience student life on the West Texas campus of the state's fifth largest public university.

Families of Texas Tech's 25,000 students will be guests at a series of awards ceremonies. tours and banquets with the weekend highlighted by a Saturday afternoon football matchup between Texas Tech and Texas Christian University (TCU).

"This event is always fun for the families and the students. The parents of freshmen especially enjoy seeing how their children have adjusted to college life," said Dudley Faver, executive director of the Texas. Tech Dads and Moms Association, sponsor of the annual weekend.

The event begins on Friday, Nov. 10, with a recognition banquet on campus at 7 p.m. During the banquet, an annual award will be presented to the outstanding faculty member and the Big Daddy and Magnificent Mom awards will go to outstanding association members.

The official Family Day, Saturday, Nov. 11, will include parents awards presented by the Farm-City Week, Nov. 16-23, is observed annually during the Thanksgiving season to foster a better understanding of the interdependence between rural and urban residents.

Dr. Zerle Carpenter, director of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, said to create a better understanding between the state's rural and urban dwellers, the Extension Service, Texas Farm Bureau, Kiwanis Clubs and many other organizations will join in Farm-City Week observances throughout Texas.

Carpenter said during the observance, participating clubs and groups will organize and conduct programs that will deal with rural-urban relationships as a statewide issue.

"Many groups will focus on activities creating more awareness of the importance of agriculture," he said.

Carpenter said the Texas observance will involve the entire month of November for special programs relating to improvement of rural-urban relationships and issues.

He said the special November observance will include educational presentations to civic and service clubs, exhibits, tours and other activities.

"This state and national effort to bring about a better understanding of rural and urban issues is critical to all Americans. Texas can have a tremendous impact on improving rural-urban relationships," Carpenter said.

Nationally, more than 15,000 communities are involved in Farm-City programs.

"While many people may not think about where their food comes from, the income of 23 million Americans, or one in every five jobs, depends on reliable, efficient farms and ranches," Carpenter said.

Warren Newberry of the Texas Farm Bureau said other Texas organizations cooperating in the effort are the Southwestern Peanut Growers Association, Farm Credit Banks of Texas, the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association, Texas Farmers Home Administration, Plains Cotton Growers and Texas Cattle Feeders.

Women's Service Organization during a ceremony before the Texas Tech/TCU kickoff at 2 p.m. Awards will go to the parents with the most children currently enrolled at Texas Tech and to the parents who traveled the greatest distance to attend the weekend event.

Before the game, parents can become acquainted with administrators, faculty and student organization representatives during a come-and-go brunch from 10 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. on campus.

Faver said the family weekend grew out of a 1950s annual picnic where members of the Women's Service Organization hosted their fathers and then accompanied them to the football game. After a few years, Dads Day expanded to include fathers of all Texas Tech students. In 1982, the event evolved to include the entire family in a full weekend of activities.

Some things are so dependable, we can't help taking them for granted.

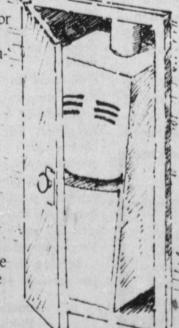

It's easy to take your natural gas furnace for granted. It sits quietly in a dark room and year after dependable year, keeps your family warm and cozy through the toughest West Texas winters.

Comfort

Natural gas heat from your furnace is warmer than heat from a heat pump. Your furnace gets your home cozy warm in a hurry, and keeps it that way.

Very Low Maintenance

After its annual pre-season check-up, your natural gas furnace should require very little attention the rest of the winter. What peace of mind that is!

Low Cost

Over the life of your furnace, you'll save thousands of dollars compared to the cost of electric heating in West Texas, it just doesn't make sense to heat with anything but natural gas.

Dependability

From a chilly morning to the coldest days, you'll have plenty of natural gas from Energas to take care of your family. Just set your thermostat and have a great winter!

Dependable natural gas. It's still West Texas' best energy value.

Local Business Employees Dress Up For The Festive Holiday - Halloween

Halloween season should be a fun time. To decorate your business, or home, or body, does take a little time, effort, and sometimes money, but with planning, your decorations may be used over each year.

The business people who dressed "Halloween style" on October 31st, had a good time, but their professionalism was no less. When I walked into a business that had participated in the Halloween season with decorations and their employees had dressed "Halloween fashion," I didn't feel they were any less professional than the business next door that didn't participate. There was a feeling of gaiety and warmth, and it made you feel good. If I had been a customer, I would have felt more like browsing around, which would have ended with a

To Head Off School Crisis

State Comptroller Bob Bullock Friday proposed an emergency school plan to head off a looming crisis in Texas classrooms.

"Unless there's a plan in place by May 1 that meets the Texas Supreme Court's recent order, I'm forbidden to send any more state money to Texas schools," Bulock said.

He said he wouldn't defy the court's order, and urged the Legislature and Governor not to wait until next spring to consider a plan that meets constitutional test of the court. "I'm suggesting a $600 million guaranteed yield plan--including more teacher pay--coupled with $200 million in bond money for school construction that is realistic and can meet the requirements and deadline the court set," Bullock said.

Bullock's plan, which is similar to one he suggested to lawmakers more than a year ago, makes up the difference between what a district needs and what it can raise by guaranteeing state money if the district meets a tax rate test.

"Texas will face an educational doomsday next May 1, if our schools don't have the money to stay open and operate. Time is short and we've got to focus on the immediate crisis and devise an equitable state aid formula.

"Solving the crisis will cost the average Texan less than $35 the first year. That figures out to less than a dime a day from each Texan to help our schools," he said.

A temporary increase in existing taxes may be the only way to pay for the first year cost of the plan, Bullock said. Some new taxes -- like an income tax which others propose -- and money raising schemes -- like a lottery -- can't be put into place in time to produce the money needed.

"We cannot abandon the children in our schools while we debate the perfect system of education or the ultimate financing method. We must fix a broken system. We have studied the problem long enough to know the immediate solution."

The Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture is going to sponsor a series of mini-workshops on office etiquette. This will be geared for all employees and employers of all businesses in our area.

An excellent beginning for such workshops is "Search for Excellence" by Nathan/Tyler. Exposure to this film should help develop the right attitude toward job and employer.

The next step is "Telephone Technique" by Strawberry Communications, Western Bell and National Telephone Cooperative Association. There is a right and wrong way to answer and converse on the telephone. It may make the difference in 'that one big deal' how your business phone is used.

And, we can't forget about "Customer Relations" by Strawberry Communications, Western Bell, and National Telephone Cooperative Association. This is what good office etiquette is all about: how the employees' and employers' attitude and disposition is toward the customer. These characteristics depend on how the customers respond to your business, good or bad. Make yours a pleasant, "I'm pleased you're here attitude, but not a 'mushy' one.

Each workshop session will be presented twice so employers can rotate employees and all can attend. Time will be 3-5 p.m. Dates are not set yet. This and other details will depend on interest. The charge will be $5 a business per workshop. This is to cover expenses.

Progress is on the march. There is a great boom in building. Cures are being found for maladies that have killed mankind for centuries. Industry is doing magnificent things. But what sort of progress is being made in human relations—this term that includes respect for the person and property of others and good will among men.

There is one agency striving for progress in this field. This agency is the church. At the birth of Jesus Christ, the following prophesy and promise was given to mankind by a host of angels: "Glory to God in the Highest Heaven! Peace upon earth among men of goodwill! Luke 2:14.
