Seven Win Mat Titles Monday

Social League Grapplers Show Ability At First Intramural Show

Social league grapplers opened intramural wrestling activity Monday night with a surprising display of mat versatility as champions emerged victorious in seven divisions. Although several big fellows looked on, there was no competition in the heavyweight classification and the Independent loop winner in this weight will automatically become college intramural champ.

Most of the old tricks and a number of new tricks to both intercollegiate and professional followers of the mat game, were displayed in Monday night's Double T gym show before a small crowd. Tonight's Independent loop competition is expected to be a continuation of the same type of grappling. With a nine minute limit tagged on the bouts the participants speeded their action and none of the tilts went the limit. Under the direction of Art Gamble, Tech wrestling coach, the matches were staged according to intercollegiate wrestling regulations.

Three Get Byes

Three wrestlers advanced to Thursday night's finals with no competition - Chandler Mathis, Kemas, flyweight; Warren Nobles, Centaur, bantamweight; and Reagan Howell, Kemas, featherweight. In the middleweight class, Rog-walt, Kemas, pinned Vernon Rose, Wrangler, after 3:34 minutes. (See GRAPPLERS, Page 4)

Twenty-five scouts of Eagle rank attended, and elected John L. Gillispie, sophomore from Morse, and Powell McCreary, junior from Rusk, as a committee for investigating possibilities of obtaining a sponsor, and choosing a constitutional drafting committee at the next meeting, says Gillispie.

Anti-Lynching Bill

THE anti-lynching bill, that pipe dream of certain northern congressmen, appears doomed to defeat. For over 35 years Congress has tried in vain to make lynching a federal offense. Each time it has failed. In 1922 the Dyer bill, after passing the House, was killed in the Senate by a filibuster. In 1938 it seems that another filibuster will kill a similar bill.

Las fall the American Institute of Public Opinion conducted the following inquiry:

"Should Congress pass a law which would make lynching a crime?"

Naturally, 72 out of every 100 persons were found to be in favor of such a measure. However, the question asked was misleading. Complying with the proposed law, the question fairly stated, should be:

Should Congress pass a law which would subject local officers to federal prosecution for failing to prevent lynchings, and force counties to pay $2,000 to $10,000 damages to heirs of victims?"

Lynching, under the proposed law, is no greater crime than ever before. The only crime created is failure of local officials in preventing mob lynchings. Often times these officials are entirely helpless under such circumstances. A few county officers can seldom successfully oppose a frenzied and violently agitated mob. Lynchers rarely think of the effects their actions will have. Mobs are crazed. They are intoxicated with the burning desire to avenge some outrageous wrong. Under the proposed law, sheriffs would hesitate to handle bad prisoners without first calling for a National Guard escort, not through fear of mobs or of the prisoners themselves, but through fear of the harm that would befall them should they fail to protect the criminals with their lives. Such a practice would prove very costly to any state.

State rights also appear in this issue. Counties in the South both elect and pay their local officers, yet under the proposed law, these officers would be responsible to the national government. This would be a clear invasion of the police powers of the states. The national government would be intervening in enforcement of criminal law when the violation was purely intrastate in character. The situation is well summarized in the words of Senator Tom Connally of Texas.

"I am against lynching; it is murder. But I am also opposed to lynching the constitution of the United States."

That is what the proposed bill amounts to.

Many Northerners still believe that people below the Mason-Dixon line carry guns, ride about at night, whipping and intimidating negroes, and lynch the colored ones on the slightest pretext. May the northern statesmen who support the Anti-lynching bill spend more of their time studying ways and means of eliminating their own gangsters and racketeers instead of generously trying to "civilize those Southerners."

Today's Thoughts

Every man, however obscure, however far removed from the general recognition, is one of a group of men impressive for good, and impressive for evil, and it is in the nature of things that he can not really improve himself without in some degree improving other men.—Charles Dickens

I think to have known one good, old man—one man, who, through the chances and mischances of a long life, has carried his heart in his hand, like a palm-branch, waving all discords into peace—helps our faith in God, in ourselves, and in each other than many sermons.—G. W. Curtis

Tragedy of Fools

MANY incorrigible sentimentalists thrill at the thought of the "cream" of American youth fighting for the life of Spanish democracy in the "Abraham Lincoln" Division for the Spanish "Loyalists." These enthusiastic young soldiers reportedly have the noble ideals of the Lafayette Esquadrielle and the spirit of the French Foreign Legion.

What a clever snare this publicity is for unthinking, hyper-romantic young fools! True it is, that in the face of it, this advertisement makes the blood of any adventurous spirit long to do battle for this "just" cause. But the terrible contradiction involved in this noble sentiment makes every life of an American youth lost on Spanish battlefields a horrible tragedy. Supposedly, young men are devoting their lives to the ideals of George Washington and Abraham Lincoln. Little do they realize that the first president of our country, in his farewell address to the Continental Army came out in the strongest terms of his splendid vocabulary against any action of an American that would entangle this nation in foreign affairs. These soldiers are certainly carrying out the principles of George Washington by allowing themselves to be the tools of the most intensive propaganda to drag this nation into war since the "keep the world safe for democracy" campaign!

Venerable Abraham Lincoln would also be "proud" to know that his name was being used to preserve a government allied with a nation whose very existence is hostile to the democracy which he loved so well and that soldiers, bearing his banner, are giving their lives for religious intolerance. Their death on the battlefield is not only the tragedy of death but also the tragedy of folly.

The Student Poet

ARTY AMBITIONS Ah me, I've thought at times Of being another Poe— Even though I don't possess A masterful mind of woe. So did I want to be a dancer Of sparkling laughter gay. But I'm always disappointed In the same old way. I lack a certain something Of what I can't define, But I know I have a talent That someday will shine. Upon a group of people Who never thought of me Being a glamorous actress That Clark Gable pays to see!

EDUCATION If I were educated And all that bally rot, I wouldn't pop my gum Or be a drunken sot. Nor would I lay strip poker Nor even smoke a cig Nor think I looked nice In a terrible gaudy rig. Now do you sense my weakness? Pray say—"No what?" Cause I'm really educated Believe it or not!

ON STUDYING To write a theme Is my delight. To study French— Oh, what a night! I must stay in And, gee, get tight. Now, Teach, do you Think that's quite right?

TREMENDOUS CONFLICT The snow is melting, What a sad surprise! It will be gone By nearly sunrise. Hear the dancing Of the melted drops? Tink-tink-tink— Oh, never, never stop! 'Tis such lovely rhythm For one to hear— But I adore snow, Oh, dear, oh dear!

And this I hate—not men, nor flag nor race, But only War with its wild, grinning face. God strike it till its eyes be blind as night, And all its members tremble with affright! Oh, let it hear in its death agony The wail of mothers for their best-loved ones, And on its head Descend the venomous curses of its sons Who followed her, deluded, where its guns Had dyed the daisies red. All these I hate—war and its panoply. The lie that hides its ghastly mockery, That makes its glories out of women's tears, The toil of peasants through the burdened years, The legacy of long disease that preys On bone and body in the after-days. God's curses pour, Until it shrivel with its votaries And die away in its own fiery seas. That nevermore Its dreadful call of murder may be heard; A thing accursed in every deed and word From blood-drenched shore to shore! —"The Hymn of Hate," by Joseph Dana Miller.

Boxing, Wrestling Finals Thursday End 'Mural Mat Card

Independent Earpulling Session Tonight At Gym Concludes Prelim Tilts

Social, Independent Boxers And Wrestlers Meet Tomorrow Night In Double Feature Money Battles; Card Boasts Good Scrappers

CONCLUDING one of the most most interesting, successful, and far from peaceful intramural campaigns ever waged, boxers and wrestlers of both independent and social circuits toe the canvas tomorrow night to determine the victors in Lewis "Doc" Spears' mural mat wars.

Final bouts in bonobending and facefanning will be unreeled under the supervision of Art Gamble and Milton Coffey, instructors in wrestling and boxing respectively. The setos are slated for the Matador gymnasium at 8 o'clock.

Rules Hold

The same inter-collegiate rules that have applied in both sports during the preliminary matches will continue in the finals. "Aggressiveness, except in case of a pin," will be the deciding factor in the wrestling encounters, according to Coach Gamble, sole judge in the events. Boxing bouts will go three rounds to the judges' decision unless halted by Referee Coffey or Jones.

As an incentive to the boys who trade licks just for the fun of it, Director Spears has announced that miniature silver gloves will be awarded as trophies to leather pushers in each weight who are victorious in tomorrow's final.

Independents Grunt Tonight

Tonight at 8 o'clock in the gym, independent necktweisters vie for the right to yank the ears of their social brethren in the terminating jousts tomorrow. The social wrestling preliminaries were staged Monday night.

Wrestlers will weigh in from 4 until 6 o'clock this afternoon, said Coach Gamble.

Pairings for tonight's grunt and groin card are:

- Flyweight: no entrants.
Bantamweight: Malcolm Smith, Los Ratos.
Featherweight: Frank Scott, Los Ratos.
Lightweight: J. P. Kilgore, Main Street.
Welterweight: Wallas Fields, Los Ratos, vs. Sam Drake, Dorm Fish; Harold Stewart, Main Street, vs. John Chambers, North Plains.
Middleweight: Clifton Babb, Dorm Fish, vs. Randolph Brantley, North Plains; Harold O. Neal, Main Street, vs. Goughly, Los Ratos.
Lightweight: E. G. Ralls, Dorm Fish, vs. C. C. Armstrong, Main Street; Carr, Los Ratos, bye.
Heavyweight: Jack Jordan, Dorm Fish, vs. Ox Wilson, Los Ratos; Frank Green, Main Street, bye.

Huffman Issues Call For Track Aspirants Today

Formal invitation to all varsity track aspirants to "come out" this afternoon at 4 o'clock has been extended by Coach Berl Huffman.

Several thinly clad have been practicing as the weather permitted since September. Anyone interested in trying out for varsity competition is welcome, Huffman announced. Only two weeks remain for preparation before the team makes its first bid for honors in the Fort Worth Fat Stock Show Meet, March 18-19. Squads from the entire Southwest will be represented in this rapidly growing event.

Following this the Scarlet colors will be carried to Austin for the Texas Relays, to Des Moines, Iowa, for the Drake Relays, and to Tempe, Arizona, for the Border Conference Meet in May.

Tech Cagers End Season In Third Slot; Aggies Win

(Special To The Toreador) TUCSON, Ariz., March 7.—Figures released by the Border conference Press association today revealed that Coach Berl Huffman's Red and White Matador cagers of Texas Technological college, Lubbock, stood third in conference ratings at the end of the loop's hardwood season, February 26.

The Border conference championship again went to the New Mexico Aggies who wound up their season with 14 wins and no defeats. The University of Arizona captured second honors with 5 losses out of a 14-game card, and Texas Tech came third, splitting their games 7-7.

Frank "Butch" Sachse, Matador forward who was ineligible until the beginning of Tech's road trip and who played in less games than any of the first eight conference scoring leaders, ended the season in second position, paced only by Manuel Saenz, University of Arizona forward. Sachse scored 85 points in 12 games, while Saenz chalked up an even 100 in 18 starts.

Results, as released by the conference press association, for the entire season follow:

J. W. JACKSON (See story in column 6)

Tribute To W. A. Jackson Is Placed In Gymnasium

Resolutions in memory of Dr. W. A. Jackson received recently from members of the Border conference Intercollegiate Athletic Conference has been framed and placed in the trophy room of the Athletic department.

The tribute records appreciation of the service rendered by Dr. Jackson to his associates in the organization, and the member institutions thereof. It is signed by six representatives of Border conference colleges, and extends sympathy to his family, relatives and friends.

It will have a permanent place among the plaques and pictures of other persons who like Dr. Jackson have played a part in promoting athletics in Texas Tech.

In Texas and other states, before games start, a ban on drinking in the stands is broadcast over a radio system, and then policemen, stationed among the spectators, enforce the ban.

Allen's Arena Is Selected As Site For AAU Battles

Amateur boxing will return to Lubbock, March 18, in the form of a tournament to select eight delegates who will represent this district at the A. A. U. tournament in Dallas late this month. Fans will be interested to know that the same rugged competition that marked the Golden Gloves tournament will be present.

Milton Coffey, Texas Tech boxing coach, will again be the director of the Lubbock District amateur Athletic Union sponsored bouts to be staged at Sled Allen's auditorium.

Featuring only one night of battles each fighter will be required to win only two fights. There will be four fighters in each division and some outstanding scrappers from other cities will be invited to make up for the shortage in bantamweight, flyweight and heavyweight divisions. According to Coffey, Treat Fatcher, who won a decision over Babe Ritchie in the Golden Gloves finals, may be here for a return bout with Ritchie.

Boxers or those interested in sending a team are invited to mail their entries, either to Coffey at Texas Tech or the sports department of the Avalanche-Journal.

It is hoped that enough entries to fill a 24 bout card will sign up as soon as possible in order that the plans may progress.

Bob Humphries, president of the Southwestern A. A. U., has designated Lubbock as a district center. This is a step toward the front for boxing enthusiasts of this section.

This district's winners will be guests of local and Southwestern A. A. U. organizations at the Dallas tournament and will then receive free trips to Boston, Mass., for the national A. A. U. tournament.

Golf Squad Begins Practice; Toreador Meet Plans Advance

CANDIDATES for this year's golf team began practicing at the country club last Monday, according to J. W. Jackson, Tech golf coach. Playing at the country club is to accustom the boys to grass greens since all this season's matches will be played on grass.

The first matches of the 1938 Toreador golf tournament will be played Saturday, March 8, at Meadowbrook golf course. Qualifying rounds will begin March 20 and continue until March 25. This will be the first unofficial matches for the Tech team who, are eligible to compete in the tournament.

There will be plenty of flights to take care of those shooting over a hundred so all the players who think they aren't good enough should come on out," says Jackson. "The average golfer shoots over a hundred."

Entrance fee for the tournament will be $1 and will entitle the entrant to use of the course anytime during the three weeks, beginning with the qualifying rounds and lasting until the final match has been completed. Each flight will consist of sixteen men.

This year's team will be fortified with three lettersmen from previous squads. The lettersmen are Lindsey Telford, winner of the Border conference championship last year, Manson Allen, 1936 letterman who was forced out of competition last year by an operation but ready for this spring's competition, and Jack Carlson, last year's number one man and runner-up in the 1937 Border conference meet.

Among the squadmen for this spring's golfers will be Don Doherty, winner of the 1937 Toreador tournament, Davis Keithley, Bill McGowan, Rufus Ryan, and James McKnight.

A silver cup bearing the inscription "Winner of the 1938 Toreador golf championship" will be offered as the leading prize in this year's Toreador meet. Prizes will be offered to medalist, winner of each flight, runner-up in each flight, and consolation winner in each flight.

Tech Stars Leave For NMMI Jousts

Eighteen Texas Tech leather tossers and bone benders will board a bus tomorrow morning for Roswell, New Mexico, and the Invitation Boxing and Wrestling tournament sponsored by New Mexico Military Institute.

Art Gamble, wrestling coach, and Killer Coffey, boxing "professor", will accompany the group to the meet which is scheduled for Friday and Saturday. This is not the first time that Tech's colors have been entered in the Roswell tournament, an annual affair.

Possibly the Raider's greatest hope for a championship belt is seen in the dynamite jabs of Pete Nachlinger's right. He will be an entrant in the lightweight division. Other favorite boxers on the traveling list will probably include Rudy Russell, in the flyweight slot, Odell Justus or Buck Gregory in the welterweight tussles, and Tommy Coats in the featherweight group.

The first 18 holes will be medalist play in order to place the men in their respective flights.

By REEVES HENLY Toreador Sports Editor

FOR THE moment we are all most prone to discard our column heading, "Under the Double T," and adopt that used by erstwhile Toreador Editor Jim Lindsey—"Glancin' Around the Matador Arena." That is what our scribbling job almost resolved itself into over the weekend, for Tech's current sport card is so heterogeneous that it is difficult to devote oneself to a single sport. Thus it is that we shall attempt to give a panoramic sketch of the situation.

Tops Card

Most important to the average spectator in point of time is the intramural boxing and wrestling program under way tonight and tomorrow night at Double T gym. Independent wrestling tonight... Finals in both sports tomorrow... In the past two weeks the bouts have drawn the largest crowds ever to attend 'mural athletic events... Clowning and serious fighting have sport-lighted the scraps which have sent two fighters to the hospital... Neither muraler, however, was seriously hurt to squared-circle enthusiasts, the two closing fight bills are unconditionally recommended.

Sweat

A second glance, cast a little beyond the gymnasium—more than 50 gridiron hopefuls sweating off effects of between-seasons indulgence... For once, more men apparently trying to be guards than backfield stars... Plain Joe College who wants to be a football hero, working alongside newcomers McNeese, Marek, et al, and old-timers like Davis and Murphy... A real oldster, Chester Hensell, back in the fold trying out at pivot post from whence, it is rumored, Captain Guziek will move to fullback. We agree with Coaches Cawthon and Smith that the college student should come out to the practice field and watch the men that play Tech's ball games go through their paces.

Hurdles

Huffman's cinder crackers shove against their starting blocks... Veteran Marsh Farmer ambles over hurdles so that he will be ready to show the home folks once more at the Fat Stock show meet this month... Footballers Tarbox, Holmes and Barnett trying to get accustomed to the no-heel shoes... "Burly" Berl shaking his head and wondering who is going to (See DOUBLE T, page 4)

Entertainments Crowd Campus Social Calendar

Season Of Little Event Finds Tables Turned On Tech Campus

LENT is supposed to be a season of little entertainment. Contrary to custom, however, the Tech calendar is crowded with events from now until the Easter holidays begin April 13.

Most important of the mid-week events was the annual formal dance given by Wrangler fraternity Tuesday from 9 to 12 o'clock at the Lubbock hotel.

Following an eleven-year old tradition, decorations were in commemoration of George Washington. A large crest in the ceiling flashed red, blue and white lights over the room. Blue silhouettes of Martha and George Washington were used with flags to decorate walls.

Neal Bradley's orchestra played for dancing.

List Special Guest

Special guests were: Drs. Sam G. Dunn, W. A. Petty, and Fred W. Standefer, Messrs. W. H. Carpenter, Haskell Taylor, and E. R. Heineman, and Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Godeke.

Hosts present were: Fleming Austin, Richard Godeke, Jack Sharpe, David Fisher, Robert Dowell, J. C. Lentz, Arphice Spikes, James Ellis, Bill Caldwell, Jim Copeland, Ed Morrison, George Gable, Vernon Rose, Hunter Levrett, George Ed O'Neal, Porter Parris, Bill Treadway, Bill Coffman, Charles Bourland, and T. H. Bunch.

They escorted: Johnnie McCracken, Suzanne Dyer, Julia Stiles, Doris Jobe, Sylvia Smith, Jo Marie Carmack, Frances Gunn, Mary Alice Carnes, Joyce Craven, Margaret Jane Higgins, Jean McDavid, Maurine Winfrey, Tommy Jane Runkle, Mary Price, Gerry Gambin, Mary Ross Edwards, Blandina Neathery, Jane Higgins, Betty Dale West, and Many Nell Wingo.

Press Stagette

Winsome co-eds turn the tables on Tech eds Friday night at the annual stagette sport dance given by the press club. Girls will call for dates, escort them to the dance, and furnish all the gum, cigarettes, and after-dance snacks. Girls will also make up the stage line and tag.

Members and guests of the press club will dance from 9 to 12 o'clock Friday at the boys' dormitory. The dining room will feature newspapers, and typical journalistic decorations.

Special guests include Messrs. and Mesdames J. G. Allen, Cecil Horne, Culver Hill, and Calvin Hazelwood; Mesdames Bennie M. Buford and Elizabeth Young.

The freshman class entertains with a dance the same night at the gym. Geraldine Crow, Albany, will reign as queen for the annual occasion. She will be attended by Lucille Winter, Winnie Jo Hooser, Evelyn Patty, Gertrude Claiborne, Nancy Anderson, and Marjorie Burrow, defeated candidates in the recent election.

Las Vivarachas Entertain

Las Vivarachas club presents pledges at the organization's annual formal dance Saturday night from 9 to 12 o'clock.

The lenten days from now until Easter are crowded with varied entertainments that range from the home economics club style show to the YWA older girls' conference. D. F. D's wind up the formal season with their annual presentation dance the latter part of the month. Soci, newest boys' club on the campus schedules a dance for March 25. Other dances include the plant club industry, the aggie club dance, the men's dormitory dance, and the much-awaited Junior Prom.

Grapplers

Charles Heard, Kemas, defeated Wendell Parks, Centaur, welterweight, with a fall in 2 1/2 minutes but lost chances for a social championship when he failed to fight Billy Schumpert, Silver Key welterweight. Schumpert had earlier taken a fall over Bill Caldwell, Wrangler, in less than 5 minutes and walked away with the social loop honors.

Herschel Maxey, Centaur, won early on the card when he successfully pinned George Gable, Wrangler light-heavy. However, the Centaur necktweater dropped from the race in the final match by falling before Johnny Hatchett, Kemas entry, who took the social title without further competition.

In the last match of the evening Bob Newell, Centaur, defeated Bill Lyle, Kemas, in a 4-minute fall.
