GENERAL RAIN CONTINUES

Cosden Oil Company Reported Planning Expansions

Payne Signs Confession To Bomb Murder

HOME TOWN TALK

By Beddy

WHAT effect, we ask, will all this rain have on the governor's race?

Some of the Ferguson boys observed Wednesday the heavens poured out blessings to this country just as soon as Jim's forces got organized. Just a light sprinkle, you know, fell after the Sterling meeting Tuesday night, but Wednesday, as soon as Jim's cohorts had held a session on the drill ground, so to speak, everything got all wet.

Fact is many a voter's outlook in general, including politics, may be different August 23 than would have been the case had the drought continued until then. Thousands of votes are decided one way or the other according to the prospects for making a living that the voters have. Many a man labors under the idea that whoever is in office ought to be able, by the wave of a hand, to change drought into a good season or hard times into good times. The fellow who happens to be in office when hard times, caused by far-reaching economic forces completely outside his control, set in pays the penalty.

Some meteorologist in Washington, D. C. says we ought to blame the moon for the heat waves. For want of something better we might also blame the heat for political fever we Texans are registering.

Old Man Moon must have ridden himself of his spots or whatever made hot winds blow in from the gulf, in view of the generous wetting this part of his neighboring planet has received.

The rain washed away a lot of things; debris that gathers when the weather is dry. Its a pity it could not have washed away a lot of intangible debris; for instance political refuse thrown aside following heated political campaigns of the past ten or fifteen years.

Strange things happen in Texas politics. Men change over periods of two and four years from bitter political enemies to brethren laboring in the same cause, with their collective nose pointed toward the same gray bow.

For instance, most observers agree Mrs. Ferguson will receive the bulk of the vote polled this month for Earle B. Mayfield, although the latter's campaign manager now is in the Sterling camp. Even the younger voters remember well the fireworks Earle and Jim set off not so many years ago when they sought a seat in the United States senate.

Likewise, many leading politicians and other citizens who in the famous Robertson-Ferguson gubernatorial scrap found themselves being the proverbial dead-end blue sea and, faced with the necessity of choosing one of the two, campaigned for the Fergusons, now, as ever since that particular race, are opposed to the Fergusons.

This weather gives a dyed-in-the-wool football fan a hankering to lounge around the sidelines of a training grid and watch the boys train; visions of twenty-two fighting youths, playing the Game of Gams, float through the damp atmosphere.

Football will be a welcome diversion from politics, at that. Of course, all this yapping of stump speakers, who serve more to strengthen previous opinions of voters than to make new votes for their candidates is a sort of necessity under the party system. And, we are among those who believe the party system is as necessary to free government as a

PLANS FOR DEATH OF WIFE TOLD

Attempted Shot Gun 'Accident' He Declares

STINNETT, Tex., Aug. 7 (AP)—A. D. Payne, Amarillo attorney today dictated a statement in the presence of Potter and Hutchinson county officers detailing how he planned the death of his wife, who was killed in an explosion that destroyed the family automobile June 27.

According to Mayor Ernest Thompson of Amarillo who was present with the officers during a part of the time Payne was dictating the statement, Payne said he had carried three sticks of dynamite in a sack of chicken feed in his automobile for three weeks before he found a chance to use it.

Another Scheme He acknowledged also, according to Mayor Thompson, that he had attempted to manipulate a shot gun so it would kill her and appear accidental, three months before he actually hit on the dynamite bait as the surest scheme.

He said the shotgun was placed in a closed so it would discharge when his wife opened the door and that it did actually fire, but the charge merely grazed her person. He said he planted the dynamite in an open container with water and phosphorus under the driver's seat of the family automobile and that when the water evaporated and splashed out the air got to the phosphorus and set the dynamite off.

The confession was signed, according to Mayor Thompson, before officers would let Payne's brother, S. J. Payne of Tulsa, come here today to talk to the accused man. They said they wanted his admission complete before he saw him.

Mayor Thompson said the statement was very lengthy and required several hours to prepare. He said the accused had gone into the smallest details touching on his infatuation for Mrs. V. M. Thompson, his former secretary, whose statement involving her association with Payne was responsible for his arrest and the filing of murder charges against him.

STINNETT, Tex., Aug. 7 (AP)—A. D. Payne, Amarillo attorney, held on a charge of murder in connection with the death of his wife, who was blown to pieces by a bomb or infernal machine in the family automobile, has concluded he is "the meanest man in the world."

Only a few days ago he acclaimed to Gene Howe, editor of the Amarillo News-Globe, that he had been known by his neighbors as "a model husband."

Chief-of-Police W. R. McDowell of Amarillo said today that Payne, who was admitted to a statement that he placed the explosives in the automobile that killed his wife and permanently maimed his nine-year-old son who had been named for his father.

Says He's 'Meanest Man' "It must be the meanest man in the world," McDowell quoted Payne as commenting after he had acknowledged his part in the tragedy that mystified officers for weeks.

130 HOWARD COUNTY DAIRY COWS GIVEN TUBERCULIN TEST

HUSTON OUT WITH GOP

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7 (AP)—Claudius H. Houston of Tennessee, submitted his promised resignation as Republican national chairman to the party's executive committee today and direction of the fall campaign was turned over to Senator Fess of Ohio and Robert H. Lucas of Kentucky.

Fess, a staunch administration supporter, was appointed chairman of the national committee. It had been announced Fess would be made provisional chairman, pending a fall meeting of the committee to select a permanent chairman. James Francis Burke, general counsel, said however it had been found the executive committee had full powers and Fess' selection would not have to be ratified later.

Lucas, present commissioner of internal revenue, was named executive chairman. He will carry the burden of directing the party forces in the approaching campaign and will resign his treasury post soon to devote his entire time to the new job.

Both Fess and Lucas were present at the meeting and made brief addresses. In submitting his resignation, Houston said he was conscious of his own integrity, but was putting the interest of the Republican party ahead of personal considerations so that the organization might select a leader free from the present factional opposition.

TWENTY-FIVE BELIEVED DEAD IN NOGALES FLOOD

NOGALES, Ariz., August 7 (AP)—A torrent of water that swept through Mexican and American Nogales early today left four known dead, forty missing and a scene of confusion which led police to believe at least 25 persons had lost their lives.

The bodies of three women were found on the Mexican side of the line and the body of a man was discovered near he banks bridge on the American side. None was identified.

REFINERY AT TIDEWATER IS RUMORED

Increased Capitalization Being Considered

FORT WORTH, Aug. 7 (AP)—Expansion of refining and marketing operations which will probably include the acquisition or erection of a plant on Tidewater or either the Atlantic or gulf coast is involved in an announced increase in capitalization of Cosden Oil Company, according to reports here, where the company maintains general headquarters.

Concentrated Here The reports could not be confirmed here due to the absence of J. S. Cosden, head of the company, who is not expected to return to the Fort Worth office until after stockholders meeting in the New York office on August 14. Plans contemplate increase from 300,000 to 500,000 shares. Production of the Cosden Company, until recently, has been largely concentrated in the Howard-Glenn area, where the company has a large refinery at Big Spring, without its supplying material for its aggressive marketing operations in the interior. Recently it has proved up valuable producing properties in Southwest Texas near the gulf coast and a Tidewater refinery would have this as a nucleus, at least, of its raw material supply.

Profit Taking Sends Wheat Down

CHICAGO, Aug. 7 (AP)—Grain traders today scooped their profits from the pits and wiped out an early advance, leaving prices of both wheat and corn below the high closing marks of yesterday.

Waves of buying had swelled wheat prices 4 cents a bushel and corn 2 1/4 cents early in the day but at the close wheat was 1/4 to 1 1/4 cents under Wednesday's last prices. Corn ended the day with losses of 1/4 to 2 1/8 cents.

Trading as on yesterday, was in immense volume with the public evincing an interest aroused by the startling advance of the last few days. Today's news from the dry grain belt showed little change, the scattered showers being only of regional benefit and too light generally to freshen the burning crop.

Corn was still three cents above wheat at the final hour. September wheat ended at 96 3/8 to 1/2 and September corn at 99 1/4 to 1/2 cents; December wheat at $1.01 7/8 to $1.02 1/4 and December corn at 95 3/4 to 96 cents.

OIL CONFAB SET FRIDAY

Production Problems To Be Considered At Austin

AUSTIN, Aug. 7 (AP)—Production problems of a dozen or more Texas oil fields were scheduled for consideration by the state railroad commission tomorrow at a hearing preliminary to placing into effect a statewide 90 day restriction on their output.

At a previous hearing, the commission indicated its willingness to place into effect the proration plan suggested by a committee of operators, which would restrict production to 737,000 barrels daily, or about 125,000 barrels under the present production.

At the request of operators in several fields, tomorrow's hearing was called to consider the output of these fields in their relation to the statewide plan.

Operators who have stated their objections or positions in communications to the commission include: Big Lake Oil Company and Grogg Number One, operating in the Big Lake field; Gulf Production and Moody-Seagraves, holders of gulf coast leases; E. N. Shafner, City National Bank of Wichita Falls, Madison Oil Company, and J. P. Bowler, representing Wichita Falls and vicinity; operators in the Dars' Creek and Salt Lake fields, the Chapman field near Taylor and the Texas Company.

Chairmen

Program chairmen for the next four weeks were announced as follows: August 12, the On-to-Lubbock committee; August 21, Carl Bloomfield; August 28, Nat Shick; September 4, Wendell Bedichek. A committee to nominate members for elective offices for next year, was named. It will report October 1, the election to be held October 15 for next year. Committee members are Dr. J. R. Dillard, I. D. Davenport, Nat Shick, Rev. R. L. Owen and C. W. Deats. Value of clean high school athletics to the athletes, to the entire school, as a method of unifying and intensifying school spirit of the right kind and athletics benefit to the community were reviewed by Mr. Blankenship.

HOWARD IS GIVEN NEW DRENCHING

2.03 Inches Here; Farming Districts Report Falls

Howard county continued to receive its "million-dollar" rainfall Wednesday night and Thursday morning, and indications were at noon today that further precipitation would be experienced over the county tonight. Rain bearing clouds continued to hover over the section of West Texas, after two days of alternate rainfall.

According to the rain gauge located at the experiment farm, north of Big Spring one-tenth of an inch of rain fell in Big Spring and surrounding territory this morning, bringing the total for the two days to 2.03 inches. Outlying and rural districts reported heavier rainfall than was registered here.

The heat wave, which has persisted here for weeks, was broken Wednesday when a maximum temperature of 85 was registered.

According to reports coming in from over Howard County, cloudy skies indicated more precipitation would be experienced either this afternoon or tonight.

Ranches to the south of Big Spring reported excellent rainfall. Lorin McDowell reported the McDowell ranch was covered by a ground-soaking rain, while Jos and Bernard Fisher have received reports that their ranch also was benefitted materially by the rain. Each of the large tracts are south.

Lomax and Elbow communities, located southwest of Big Spring, reported today that a beneficial rain had fallen both Wednesday and early Thursday morning.

A slow drizzle was falling in the eastern section at noon Thursday, Coahoma reporting excellent rainfall during the two days. The communities of Vincent, Morgan, R-Bar and Green Valley, located in that vicinity, all reported consistent rainfall of great benefit to crops of that section.

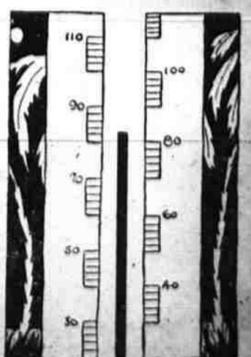

Stanton Drenched A rain that started falling before daylight this morning drenched Stanton and vicinity to the West of Big Spring. From Stanton 10 miles to the southeast between three and one-half inches of rain was reported.

Ford Criticized By Labor Leader

BOSTON, Aug. 7.—(AP)—Henry Ford was criticized by Mathew Woll, third vice president of the American Federation of Labor, for manufacturing tractors in Ireland and then importing them into this country.

"American capital," he said, "is interested abroad not to elevate the standards of the workers but to exploit the cheap labor and the assets of Europe and Asia and place our own people in competition with them."

OPINIONS OF OTHERS

Mussolini Makes News

—Detroit News.

Mussolini, "Il Duce," was recently quoted as favorable to the return of the Hapsburgs to the throne of Hungary, in the person of Archduke Otto. Thereupon a vast amount of speculation arose as to Italian intrigues in Central Europe.

Mussolini is a great news-maker—the best headline-hunter in Europe. That is not because he says what he thinks, but he has a gift for stimulating the imagination.

The idea of Italy backing a Hapsburg for anything profitable to that family is historically ludicrous. For centuries the Italians have hated the Hapsburg family, under whose sway large parts of Italy suffered and revolted.

The Treaty of Trianon, Italy is one of the signers; but so is France and so are Great Britain, Belgium and the Little Entente nations.

When he overstepped her mark. At such times he was scrupulous to avoid her, but she always heard of it. Willy, maybe, would come in, pop-eyed, to report: "Hear about Vaneering's bust last night? He crowned a feller down in Danny's—wanted to fight the M. P.'s. I tell you, he's wild when he drops off the wagon."

"I know I'm a pup," he admitted. "But every once in a while I just have to cut loose. And you know, I do hold my liquor pretty well."

"Up to a certain point, Jack. After that—well, a feller can't afford not to have full control over himself."

He laughed shortly. "Full control is right! In France a pilot who can't keep control after he's full will crash in a week. They fight drunk half the time."

"But you mustn't," she protested. "Of course, you'll crash sooner or later, if you're drunk. Anybody would."

He shrugged, his eyes, inflamed and puffed, lighting up with a blend of affection and amusement. "Regular little saint you are! Don't worry about me. We'll crash sooner or later."

"Would you care a little bit?" She forced herself to impersonality. "I'd care if anyone crashed. It's—it's so unnecessary."

Weeks slipped away, and without realizing it, the two began to take each other for granted. They excited the derision of their young friends by the decorousness of their relations; they did not know that the repression they practiced—mainly through Dagger's self-control, the automatic recollection in each moment of temptation of the moment she had slipped with Howard—was becoming as well known as he was.

As far as Vaneering was concerned, he more or less blindly dodged reflection. He was attractive, a pleasant comrade, whose presence started those disturbing little currents of emotion which had first frightened, and, finally, soothed her.

He had a vice, however, which bothered Dagger occasionally. A heavy drinker, there were times never talked sentimentally. The bond between them was deeper, as a matter of fact; their enjoyment of flying and the mute attraction of two violent and untrammelled characters.

Dagger never wearied of his company, and gradually he came to monopolize her time. If they were not at the flying fields, they were driving somewhere, invariably at heading speed, dancing or dining.

Hostesses, now, invited Vaneering through Dagger—"Oh, and you'll bring Jack, won't you?" No party was complete without them, for Dagger; he was becoming as well known as he was.

He had devoted columns to her qualifications as a pilot, and special articles were being published all over the country.

THE PEOPLE of Texas accept as a matter of course the work of the Texas Election Bureau, without stopping to think just what that service means to them.

In contrast with conditions before organization of the bureau, the results are known now within a few hours after the polls close. Not a great many years ago the returns came in slowly; often it required several days to clear up the status of closely-bunched candidates.

This newspaper is a part of the Texas Election Bureau, an organization made up primarily of the larger daily newspapers of the state. The bureau spent about $25,000 on the primary July 28. In the headquarters at Dallas more than 40 expert accountants and bookkeepers were busy for hours, compiling and totaling the returns as they came in from the bureau's correspondents in every county in Texas.

By 11:30 p. m. last Saturday the bureau had accounted for 225,000 votes. By way of contrast, only about 30,000 votes had been tabulated at that hour in the Oklahoma race of last Tuesday. Oklahoma is a more compact and closely-knit political unit than Texas, but lacking a collecting agency of the experience of the Texas Election Bureau its election returns are by contrast slow in coming in.

The Texas voter gets this service free. He can watch the returns at bulletin boards in front of newspaper offices, he can wait for delivery of his daily newspaper, or he can buy for a nickel a copy of the paper containing all the election news he desires. It is a service of the very highest type.

Bonds

TO SOME folks, who honestly adhere to such an opinion, the cry "bonds" is worse than "booger." Right at this time there is a plan for the people of the state a plan of financing highway construction that in reality meets the argument most often advanced for opposition to road bond issues.

It is the so-called Sterling plan. Opponents of the numerous county and district issues voted by various Texas counties—in an aggregate of approximately $100,000,000—have contended that the practice of taxing homes and farms to retire such bonds was not just or equitable.

It is with just such a belief that Ross Sterling and others have advanced a new plan for building Texas highways. That plan is based upon the principle, first, that the traffic and the traffic alone should pay the road bill, and secondly, that it is not equitable that land miles from a paved road should be taxed as heavily to retire road bonds as property situated next to a paved road.

The system now in use includes taxation of two types; ad valorem taxes to retire county road bonds, and a state tax on gasoline. The Sterling plan simply would eliminate the former, and retain the latter.

HOW'S your HEALTH

PSITTACOSIS Not so long ago the world was acutely agitated by a strange and, to most, unknown disease, variously designated as psittacosis, or parrot fever.

More recently the health section of the League of Nations issued an exhaustive report on the disease as it manifested itself throughout the world.

According to this report, there were during the last epidemic, at least four hundred authentic cases of psittacosis throughout the world. Thirty-five per cent of these ended fatally.

The manner in which the disease is spread has been well established and in consequence, it is worth noting that the danger of there ever being an extensive epidemic of psittacosis is very slight indeed.

In all instances studied, the disease appears to have been contracted by a close contact with sick parrots, parakeets, or with the cages in which the birds were kept. The possibility of the disease being transmitted from person to person appears to be so slight that some even insist upon its impossibility.

Psittacosis closely resembles influenza, typhoid and pneumonia. The affected person is stricken suddenly. The symptoms may be chills, headache, vomiting, diarrhea, or constipation. As the disease progresses, the picture begins to resemble that presented by pneumonia. Breathing becomes difficult, and the lungs, either one or both, show patches of consolidation.

The patient shows great weakness, pallor and serious disturbance in the kidneys and nervous system.

Hollywood Sights

By ROBBIN COONS HOLLYWOOD—Movie ironies: Lillian Gish starred in "One Romantic Night," but several local theatres have billed it as "Marie Dressler in 'One Romantic Night,' with Conrad Nagel and Lillian Gish."

Hal Skelly came west to star in "Burlesque," supported by Nancy Carroll. Skelly's film career was short lived, while Raquel Torres, Nancy rose to stardom.

Mary Pickford and Doug Fairbanks were among the first to urge Maurice Chevalier to desert Paris for Hollywood. When he did, he immediately surpassed both as a talkie attraction.

Miss Pickford also gave Charles Rogers his first big break in her "My Best Girl." Today Rogers, with more pictures annually and a tremendous flapper following, might be said to rank as a more important star.

Helping Hands Tom Mix aided George O'Brien to get a start in pictures. Now Mix and his horse Tony are big shots in the circus, but O'Brien reigns as a talkie Western star.

Fred MacKay, a young actor, enlisted a pretty Mexican usherette to play opposite him in some tests to make a picture. When he took the tests to directors they didn't notice him as much as they did the girl.

Today you don't hear much of MacKay, but everyone remembers Raquel Torres as the girl in "White Shows" and other pictures.

George Fawcett, the aged character actor, sponsored Johnny Mack Brown's entrance to pictures. Now Brown's billing always tops Fawcett's.

Triumph The most impressive screen "comeback" of recent weeks has been that scored by Wallace Beery in "The Big House," and as a result his screen future, for some months in doubt, now seems secure.

Beery, for years prominent in character roles, later was starred with Raymond Hatton in a series of feature comedies, but when the studio dissolved the team he seemed to have little left to do. At another studio, under contract, he was idle for months.

Then came the role of "Butch," and the old Hollywood story was true again: "Make one big hit and you can write your own ticket."

DAGGER by Mary Dahlberg

SYNOPSIS: Dagger Marley, 16-year-old niece of Jim Marley, Texas rancher, rescues Blaine Howard, American adventurer, from some Mexican insurgents, and falls in love with him. However, he has a wife he does not love, resists the temptation to return Dagger's affection and leaves the Marley ranch to join the Allied armies in France. Later he is reported missing and probably dead, and Dagger is heartbroken.

Dagger never wearied of his company, and gradually he came to monopolize her time. If they were not at the flying fields, they were driving somewhere, invariably at heading speed, dancing or dining.

Hostesses, now, invited Vaneering through Dagger—"Oh, and you'll bring Jack, won't you?" No party was complete without them, for Dagger; he was becoming as well known as he was.

As far as Vaneering was concerned, he more or less blindly dodged reflection. He was attractive, a pleasant comrade, whose presence started those disturbing little currents of emotion which had first frightened, and, finally, soothed her.

He had a vice, however, which bothered Dagger occasionally. A heavy drinker, there were times never talked sentimentally. The bond between them was deeper, as a matter of fact; their enjoyment of flying and the mute attraction of two violent and untrammelled characters.

Ends Piles Quick

Pile sufferers can only get quick, safe and lasting relief by removing the cause—bad circulation of the blood in the lower bowel.

Cutting and external remedies can't do this—an internal medicine must be used. HEM-ROID, the prescription of Dr. J. S. Leonard, a specialist, succeeds, because it relieves this blood congestion and strengthens the affected part.

HEM-ROID is sold by druggists everywhere, and has such a wonderful record of success right in this city that Collins Bros. says to every Pile sufferer, try HEM-ROID at my risk. It must end all Pile agony or you get your money back—adv.

PRO WINS NOCTURNAL GOLF TITLE WITH 68

KANSAS CITY, Aug. 7 (AP)—The first nocturnal golf champion is Harold "Jug" McSpaden, pro at Victory Hills, Kansas City, Kas., who early today finished a double round of the flood-lighted first nine holes at the Eastwood Hills course here in 68, two under par.

McSpaden carded 35-33 to lead a field of more than sixty, including Bob McCrary of Des Moines, trans-Mississippi champion, who shot a 71, and the best professional and amateur links talent in Kansas City.

Several hundred galleries turned out for the journey heralded as the first held at night over a standard-size layout.

Caddies armed with flashlights searched, sometimes unsuccessfully, for balls which strayed from the lighted straight and narrow, and players experienced some difficulty in judging distance and following the balls in flight when they soared above the scope of the large illuminators.

The innovation was pronounced successful, however, especially by the several who shot near par figures. Some found the artificial light confusing and scores consequently ranged into the late 80's.

Wal, Will old boy, it looks like a hard winter in a torn overcoat," we informed Bill Stevens, the Steer mentor, as he sauntered into this sanctum with Bill Olsen, smoking that antique pipe of his, hanging on his arm.

"Yep, Willie, it sure looks like snow and sleet, wind and ice, and summer underwear." Bill, evidently, had dropped by to see if we had his $300 yet for the summer or semi-summer encampment. Which we didn't. Bill and Bill were out gathering groceries for the jamboree. We offered to trade jobs with them. Having been reared in a grocery store with a cracker box as our Morris chair, we claim to know more about groceries than we do about dollars. But they wouldn't trade. Bill the pipe smoker just puffed a few more blasts in our general direction, and went out the portals.

Which brings us around again to the Fund. It fell upon the shoulders of J. E. Corley to be the sole contributor to the Steers' welfare Wednesday. Corley came by the office and snuck a dollar bill out of his fold and handed it over to the editor. Knowing in our mind that editors never have stray dollars, we immediately hooked it and dropped it in the sack. Announcement of the fund was made yesterday before the Business Men's Luncheon Club, wherewith we warned them that it is much easier to null one dollar than have a committee come around and ask for $5. Much easier. Very much. The response was great. But we haven't had any dollars yet.

For way of explanation. This department seeks three hundred berries, wagon wheels, bones, shekels, or call it what you will. The money is to be used to defray expenses of football prospects to camp for a couple of weeks. In the beginning it was assumed there were 300 football fans in Big Spring who would be glad to get out for the mere sum of $1. This included firms. Any business firm gets a clean slate for a bucket. It's the cheapest bargain ever offered the Big Spring public. And it has been turned down flat. Of course, unless the dollars come dropping in by the last of the week, the well-worn and weary committee system will have to be resorted to. When you see three men walking into your front door with a paper under the arm of one of them, start ducking. The $300 must be obtained. Or else. Fair means or foul, preferable the former, but if forced, the latter.

Miller Harris, who has been hiding under one of Cadden's red caps out in the center garden, has moved his bed and board to San Antonio. He will finish the current season there with the tribe. Harris has already joined the Indians, and, according to his Big Spring supporters has been rapping a nice line to the ranks.

Big Spring was favored this week by a short visit made by none other than Eck Curtis, the generalissimo of Ranger high school athletics. Eck, his wife and the bulldog were just completing a tour of California. Ecker, incidentally, has been attending coaching school out under the palms and orange blossoms, and has absorbed many tricks of cetera to drive into the skulls of his red jerseyed boys this fall. He seemed to be in a hurry to get back to the city of flowing gold. Not wishing to ruin his trip we didn't inform him of the rumors being circulated as to Chucksack Bird getting homeseck for the water wagon. He declared, anyway, he intends to sojourn in Abilene for a few minutes. We couldn't understand why anyone would care to hasten there, but of course that was Eck's business and not ours or the bulldog's. Curtis did not he was getting mighty anxious for the curtain to go up. He didn't predict. He is like us in that respect. Smart as a whip.

With rain having halted yesterday's tilt, and with more of the same having turned Dusty D. into a modern country club wading pool, it looks as if the second half of the City League will be over by Christmas, if the snow doesn't set in too early. Tonight the board of gods will convene and with gloved hands handle the protest of the Cadden-Tiger game. We sincerely hope either Messrs. Vega or Garcia will be among those present to present their side of the case. Of course it will be necessary for Old Folksies Blevins to be here and admit he was wrong, just like he called the Cadden officials after the game and told 'em he had found a rule.

We entertain no doubts but what Spattering Spikelet Heminger will be here with his boots on, and John Bode present because we have his check for $3 that he stands to get returned. So all in all, with the august George Gentry, I. B. Cauble, O'Brien and perhaps Tiny Reed, this evening's entertainment should prove above the ordinary run.

And it might be added here that Harry Hurt and Kendrick got Old Folksie's goat in the Banker-Barber game. They got under his skin and had him sputtering. The life of an umpire is indeed anything but other. Yea, verily, his bed of roses is mostly thorns.

The San Angelo athletic dispenser has, in a round about way, apologized to us for doubting our word. Of course we know that he should have realized long before this that when we said a thing, it was right. You just can't teach some people though. Anyway the cotton haired scribbler declares the San Angelo team which will be here Sunday is not composed of All Stars, but is merely the Snowwhite Creameries' contingent. Of course Mr. Cross says that. The representative we talked dock turkey with in relation to the baseball fray told us, and he didn't have his digits crossed, that the San Angelo All Stars would be here. When it comes to a showdown, as is has at the present moment, we take the latter's word in preference to the former's. As one brilliant composer before us has said, when the team wins it's the all-star crew. When it doesn't it's just a bunch of huns that the city commission didn't know had departed from the village.

Assuming, however, that it is just another bucket of sweet cream from the Snowwhite Creameries. We are sure the Big Spring aggregation would just as soon chastise the butter paddlers as the rest of the sheep herders combined. Spank 'em and spank 'em good and then have them howling for someone to open the corral gates. Many a team has tasted the chocolate flavored dust of Dusty D. this season. One more wouldn't hurt.

As to checks for the Fund. Just mail them to The Water Bucket care The Herald, making them payable to the Steer Training Camp Fund. Uncle Sam's mail clerks are not so overworked but what they could take on a few more letters.

EIGHTEEN RUNS IN EIGHT

Pudgy Gene Rye Gets Three Circuit Clouts

By GAYLE TALBOT, Jr.
Associated Press Sports Writer
Pudgy Gene Rye and the Waco Cubs joined hands in the eighth inning of what had been a perfectly good ball game against Beaumont last night to stage a bombardment that for sheer destruction probably will never be equalled in the Texas league.

In one rousing round the Waco nightmarers scored 18 runs to humble the Exporters, 20 to 7, and climb within a half game of the leading Wichita Falls Spudders. Rye, with three circuit drives that accounted for eight runs, was the individual hero of the onslaught that eclipsed anything seen in the modern history of the league. The stocky Cub outfielder opened the fireworks with a swat over the left field wall; his second, with two aboard, sailed over the right pailade, and his third, with the sacks loaded, followed in its wake.

Rye's record so far as history discloses, has never been equalled in organized baseball. Only one team ever before scored as many as 18 runs in an inning, the Chicago Cubs performing the feat against Detroit in 1883.

Mullett, Green and Newman were the three Shipper hurlers who suffered during the big round. Stuvengen and Piet also cracked homers, while Rischoff contributed a single and double. In all, the Cubs made 12 hits and were issued six walks during the inning.

The Prattmen's record-smashing performance served to bunch the leaders, as the Fort Worth Cats were downing Wichita Falls, 13 to 9, in the opener of their "crucial" series at Spudderville. Only one game separated the first place Spuds and the third place Cats today, with the Cubs wedged between.

Hank Thormahlen, for whom the Kittens have refused to pay the second $5,000 due on his purchase from Waco, relieved Whitworth in the second and did a fine job of relief pitching against the leaders. Four of the Spudders' runs rode in on two homers, including No. 36 for Larry Bettencourt.

Tony Kaufman, the reformed outfielder, hurled his third victory in as many starts for Houston, setting the San Antonio Indians down with four hits and licking them 7 to 1. In addition to his great pitching, the former Big Leaguer drove in five runs. His homer in the second found the bases loaded. Leslie, slugging first baseman, was credited with half of the Redskins' hits off Kaufman.

LA BARBA AND MASTRO MEET

CHICAGO, Aug. 7—(AP)—The championship trials of a pair of the best featherweights in the ring industry, Earl Mastro of Chicago and Fidel La Barba of Los Angeles, cross for the third time tonight in the Chicago Stadium's punch bowl.

They will battle ten rounds or less to a decision and the victor, if his triumph is decisive, expects to force his way to a title match with the champion of the division, Bat Battalino.

HAGEN FAILS

NEW YORK, Aug. 7—(AP)—For the first time in his long golf career, Walter Hagen will not be among those competing when the professional golfers tee off at Fresh Meadow Club, Flushing, in September in quest of the pro championship.

The five-times holder of the professional title failed to qualify yesterday, when young Horton Smith, Hagen's protege led the field over the Cherry Valley club course. Smith scored a 139 for the 36 holes but Hagen took 149, four strokes short of the mark needed to get within the honored ten, which will represent the metropolitan district. Along with Hagen, other such well known stars as Mike Brady, Long Jim Barnes, wee Bobby Cruickshank, and Willie MacFarlane failed to qualify. In addition to Smith, the qualifying group includes Johnny Farrell, Gene Sarazen, Bill Mehlhorn, Billy Burke, Pat Cressill, Jimmy Hines, John Golden, Whiffy Cox and Jack Forester.

Fresco Thompson, Philly second baseman, who has been ridden all season by fans, is certain to be traded next season.

FAVORTILDEN

SOUTHAMPTON, N. Y., Aug. 7—(AP)—With three members of the United States Davis Cup team into the quarter-final round, the wise ones were predicting today that the Meadow Club invitation tournament would be won by Big Bill Tilden with Wilmer Allison and George Lott having an outside chance.

Big Bill stole the show yesterday, when he dramatically entered the singles play and won two matches within the short space of two hours. The two victories coupled with a default placed him in the quarter-final round along with Wilmer Allison, George Lott, Francis T. Hunter, Francis Shields, Sidney Wood, Richard Murphy and Edward Jacobs.

OLD PETE' BACK

The former National League pitcher said he had been ill since last Friday and did not care to discuss new opportunities to get back into baseball.

Ben Chapman played second base for the first time in his career with the Yankees. He was taken off of the "hot corner" due to wild throwing.

BROOKLYN HAS HARD ROAD TRIP

Robins Start Western Drive With Win

By EDWARD J. NEIL,
Associated Press Sports Writer
Rolling into the West where the National League pennant is waiting to be won, the Brooklyn Robins today have a most auspicious beginning of a crucial road trip to spur them on.

Straining to establish a lead that can stand the strain of slumps and battle with chief contenders yet to come, the Robins scored a 7 to 0 conquest over Pittsburgh in the opening of the Pirate series yesterday, while the St. Louis Cardinals rose to swat the Chicago Cubs and add to the lead of the Robins, now 3 1-2 games in front of the league champions of 1929.

An extra-base hit, George Watkins' pinch hit home run in the seventh with one on, gave the Cards a 4 to 3 decision over the Cubs but four doubles, three triples and a home run by Comorosky couldn't save the Pirates from defeat.

The Washington Senators cut the lead of the Athletics to 6 1-2 games in the American league by downing Connie Mack's champions, 5 to 1. Sad Sam Jones held the A's to six hits while the Senators' "Gubbed" George Earnshaw in the pinches. The third place Yankees made hay in the sunshine, opening a lengthy home stay with a close 4 to 2 win over the Boston Red Sox in a game featured by Roy Sheridan's pitching struggle with Milt Gaston. Harry Rice did the important hitting for the Yanks.

George Uhle toyed with the Cleveland Indians as Detroit belted Willie Hudlin, Jablonowski and Bean into a 9 to 1 defeat, making it six in a row for the Tigers. Uhle hit three singles and a double, as many hits as he allowed the whole Cleveland outfit.

The mightiest hurling of the day was turned in by Coffman of the St. Louis Browns in the opening game of a doubleheader with the Chicago White Sox. Coffman shut out the Sox 5 to 0 and allowed three hits but ancient Red Faber got just as far with less effort in the second game, pitching Chicago to a 5 to 2 triumph and an even break on the day.

The Boston Braves wound up a seven game series with the Phillies with a three run spurt in the ninth for a 5 to 4 victory. The Braves won five of the seven games.

CHOCOLATE KID MEETS JACK BERG

Featherweights to Mix It At Polo Grounds

NEW YORK, Aug. 7—(AP)—Kid Chocolate, the ebony flash of the featherweights, tackles his second major rival in a brief but sensational ring career, when he meets Jackie Kid Berg, the English perpetual motion lightweight, at the polo grounds tonight.

Both fighters will have a large following and despite the fact that the Keed will be giving away seven or more pounds he will have plenty of supporters. Berg, considered the outstanding contender for Al Singer's lightweight title, is an 8 to 5 favorite. Incidentally Chocolate has a decision over Singer in the Cuban's other major fight.

The Keed is a genuine featherweight and probably will scale not more than 127 while Berg is expected to weigh in at 134 1-2. The bout it not scheduled as a titular affair as the New York boxing commission does not recognize the Junior welter-weight title—which Berg won from Mushy Callahan in London.

BEAUTY WINNERS
DALLAS, Tex., Aug. 6—(AP)—Three winners in a bathing revue held here last night in connection with Dallas' 21st semi-annual market week were announced today. They were Miss Mabel Rooks of Waco, Miss Virginia Stinson of Wichita Falls and Miss Pat Braden of Del Rio.

The peerless Pie Trayner of the Pirates sees a real rival in Wally Gelbert, Brooklyn third baseman.

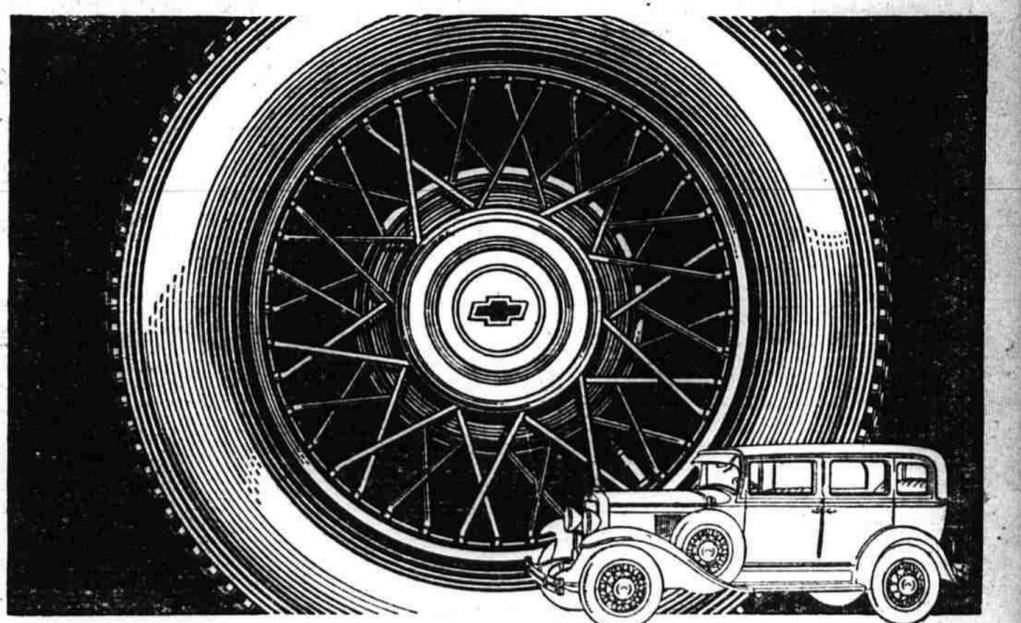

The St. Louis Browns are the only club in tether major league that have not won a pennant, and the club is playing cellar ball this year.

Charles Comiskey, president of the White Sox, is out to buy five new pitchers and get outfield strength for the 1931 season.

Dib Williams, now playing shortstop for the Athletics, played last season with Little Rock.

EVERYDAY QUESTIONS Answered By Dr. S. Parkes Cadman Questions from readers are answered daily by the Rev. Dr. S. Parkes Cadman, Radio Minister of the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America. Dr. Cadman seeks to answer inquiries that appear to be representative of the trends of thought in the many letters which he receives.

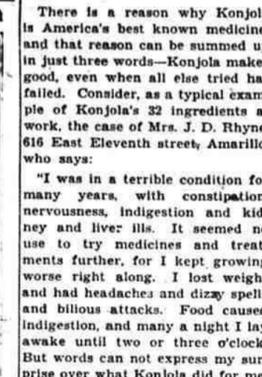

The Present and Future of Religion and the far better volume by Mr. Walter Lippman on "Preface to Morals" deepen our interest in the problems they discuss. But from the Christian viewpoint the spiritual experience of these gifted authors is fatally deficient. It does no kind of justice to the Christ of history, to the Church, to her saint-hood and her service to mankind; the living Christ who at this moment aways more hearts, solves more difficulties, answers more questions, develops more virtues, and is reflected in more manifold ways than any being who has trod the earth. In Him is the pledge and the fulfillment of God's fatherhood and man's universal brotherhood, and that pledge will not be dishonored.

statements over the radio are to be regarded as official utterances of the Federal Council? Nothing which I can say over the radio is to be regarded as expressing the judgment of anybody except myself. It would be entirely contrary to broadcasting rules, and also to Protestant principles, for any individual to speak in any authoritative manner for the Protestant churches. What I say over the radio, as well as what I say in my own pulpit, reflects simply my own views, and is not to be considered as describing the creeds or policies, either of any denomination or of the group of denominations which cooperate in the Federal Council of churches.

When I was designated radio minister of the Council it was clearly understood that freedom of utterance went with the designation. The appointment was made for the purpose of occasionally announcing to radio audiences the progress of church co-operation in the country at large. This is the chief objective of the Council and I gladly refer to it from time to time. I am convinced that the rank and file of my fellow men and women are deeply interested in so vital a subject. My position as radio minister is to disseminate information about the progress of goodwill and co-operation among all men, as well as among churches, and I endeavor to scrupulously avoid any statement as to what any denominational group should believe or do. The latter matters are entirely their own concern.

exist precariously on their financial side. The commercial East, which is snugly bounded by its comparatively narrow frontiers, is likely to forget the first-class human material of the nation as a whole. Yet how can it make progress if educational facilities are so unequally distributed and the means to attain culture cut off at the source? The colleges of your own and adjacent states richly deserve a sympathy and attention they do not now receive from prosperous citizens, who should see the entire Republic from the viewpoint of its educational necessities. A hundred million dollars invested in such institutions would bear rich fruit in the future manhood and womanhood on which we depend for our general welfare. Do not lose heart. These poor colleges have a knack of surmounting their difficulties. None the less their avoidable hindrances should be abolished.

Grateful Lady Pays Tribute To New Konjola NOW GIVING THIS NEW AND DIFFERENT MEDICINE TO HER CHILDREN - READ HER STATEMENT

MRS. J. D. RYNE There is a reason why Konjola is America's best known medicine, and that reason can be summed up in just three words—Konjola makes good, even when all else tried has failed. Consider, as a typical example of Konjola's 32 ingredients at work, the case of Mrs. J. D. Ryne, 616 East Eleventh street, Amarillo, who says:

New Orleans Girl Chosen 'Miss Universe' GALVESTON, Tex., Aug. 7.—(AP)—A blond 17 year old high school girl, Dorothy Pell Goff of New Orleans, won happily and a bit indifferently today the title "beauty queen of the universe."

In a hall swept with clamorous applause, Miss Goff was selected as the final winner of the annual International pageant of pulchritude last night and tonight $2,000 in prize money and a silver plaque will be presented to her at a testimonial dinner. She previously had been named "Miss United States of America" in the first judging event.

Already plans were on foot to place her in moving pictures or on the stage. Marlin Starr of New York, assistant director of the pageant, announced that he has become her manager and was expecting a number of offers.

The girl, brought up to the microphone as the handclapping thundered to be introduced, looked rather bewildered and said in a choked voice only that she was "the happiest girl in the world." Around New Orleans she has been an amateur radio singer.

The new Miss Universe is five and a half feet tall and weighs 122 pounds. Her hair is long and golden blond. Her bust measures 34 inches, her waist 26, hips 38, thigh 27, ankle 7 3/4. In the initial parade last night she wore an old fashioned evening gown of flesh pink net trimmed with bow knot of French blue ribbon. Her bathing costume worn later in the evening, was blue with a white belt.

The rain to the north of Stanton extended even further, between two and two and one-half inches falling in the last two days 18 to 20 miles away from Stanton.

Ackerly reported a slow drizzle this morning, with total rainfall near Soash registering approximately one and one-half inches. According to the reports coming from Ackerly the rainfall extended west to New Mexico, with a nice rainfall being reported between Ackerly and Big Spring.

A rain that started falling at 5 o'clock this morning and lasted until eight o'clock boosted the rainfall in the Foran Community to nearly three inches, it was reported. Rain fell in that section from six until ten o'clock Wednesday. The report indicated the rainfall was slight near Sterling City. Light showers were falling in that vicinity intermittently during this morning.

Dawson In Wet Belt
Dawson County reported an average of one-half, the maximum for the county. In several places, however, the rainfall totaled one and one-half inches, but in others it was light.

Inclement weather continued to prevail in that section at the present time and more precipitation is expected before the weather lifts. Feeds and cotton were greatly benefitted in that county by Wednesday and Thursday's rainfall.

A rain that varied from one and one-half inches to a maximum of three inches fell in the Luther Community.

Alken Simpson, 18 miles north-east of Big Spring, reported tanks and lakes in that section filling. The heaviest rainfall of that section fell near the Simpson place, with slightly more than three inches being reported. The rainfall was general in that section.

Passenger Ships Grounded By Rain

Weather conditions disrupted schedules of Southern Air Transport between Big Spring and El Paso Wednesday and Thursday.

The Fokker passenger plane from Fort Worth to El Paso was grounded here Wednesday night, remaining here until 11:30 o'clock this morning.

At that time it took off for Fort Worth. No service was had between this city and El Paso Wednesday or today over the Southern Air Transport line.

The regular passenger plane of the Western Air Express, between Dallas and El Paso, landed here Wednesday afternoon, remaining grounded for three hours awaiting favorable weather.

The local landing field is in excellent condition, despite heavy rain fall.

record as opposed to allowing development of undrilled fields or sinking of new wells during the proration period which might endanger the restriction plan.

Each of the fields has a particular problem. The Gulf operators claim that because of the peculiar grade of their oil and their geographical location, demand equals supply and that they should not be made to suffer loss of production merely to help another operator in a field a thousand miles away.

These operators were the most outspoken opponents of proration plan. Possible danger to the life or potential output of the deep wells in Big Lake were cited by lease holders there, who advanced the additional arguments that the University of Texas, owner, was a "partner" and that regents should be consulted before restriction, and consequent lessened revenue for the university, was put into effect.

Wells in the Wichita Falls-Ranger territory are for the most part small producers, some of as little as three barrels per day, making it extremely difficult to arrive at an equitable plan of restricting them. These wells, moreover, were said to be constantly threatened by water.

Advocates of proration declared that a grave emergency existed in the Texas industry, and that unless steps were taken to curb production the entire industry might collapse with prices carried downward to as low as ten cents a barrel. The commission always has taken the attitude, however, that it can take no action in regard to price of oil, and the proration plan, if placed into effect, would be for conservation of oil.

governor, if not more so.

If you've ever prowled around the house or senate down at Austin you could not stifle the idea, we are sure, after all is said and done that legislature is a lot of hoose, hokum and blah. But, come to think of it, after those boys, some of 'em wise and some of 'em foolish, snort over an important bill for days and days, employ all the little parliamentary tricks knokn to their trade (and it is a trade, at that); after they sit up night after night in committee meetings and hearings, listening to the dear public, and then accidentally pass a bill after numerous changes, deletions and amendments, that bill in the final analysis is the collective opinion of the duly elected representatives of the people; an opinion, of course, "changed" by political expediency, but the law, nevertheless.

Scholastic—

ly matters. Then is the time it pays to get him against a real athlete. Occasionally we have to put a boy on the sideline to teach him the team can get along without him.

"To develop men in every sense of the word, who know what clean sportsmanship means and who will practice it after they leave school is the aim of genuine scholastic athletics," he continued.

"Sportsmanship displayed by players depends largely upon the sidelines. If the spectators uphold sportsmanlike acts a boy guilty of such an act usually comes to believe he did something smart."

Athletics not only ugly school spirit and heighten the student body's morale but one of the most valuable advertisements a community may obtain is a reputation for good, clean athletics, said the speaker.

Clean Tactics
"A reputation for good sportsmanship or for unsportsmanlike tactics, such as playing ineligible men goes out over the entire state. If you men let those boys know you do not stand for anything but the best in athletics they will be much better. We hope this year to be more successful and that this club will support efforts to develop gentle, courageous young men."

Coach Stevens told the club prospects for the football team are much better than last year, that twice as many boys will be in the training camp and that "they are a good bunch of boys."

"Some of them are up at the house every day, and half the night, showing new pieces of football equipment and talking of the prospects of the season. They can hardly wait for training to begin," he said.

He told of plans to hold the training camp on the Llano river, in a place ideally situated and arranged for the purpose.

Ask Support
"I would like to urge all of you to support the team as several other towns in this district have learned to do," he said. "Our games will be fair and square. We could do some dirty playing, of course, if we wished to and perhaps could have won at least one more game last year if we had believed in employing such tactics. Every hotel we visited on trips last fall invited us back and one proprietor took the trouble to write Mr. Blankenship and tell him our squad behaved better than any team he had had in his hotel in 30 years."

The pastor of the African Methodist Episcopal church, who said his congregation had increased from six to 25 members in 12 months, told of efforts being made to build a house of worship and asked, in a becomingly respectful manner, the aid of club members.

Guests introduced were Ches Anderson, Mrs. V. R. Smitham, Mrs. Garland A. Woodward, J. S. Winslow, Mr. Blankenship and Coach Stevens.

"No need of going to see her," Payne had told him.

Mrs. Thompson was in a talkative mood and wrote down things she knew and experiences she said she had lived. MacDonald showed the statement to the district attorney, the sheriff and other officers, and a warrant for Payne's arrest was issued.

EVERYBODY LIKES TO TRADE AT COLLINS BROS.

I talked," Mrs. Thompson later told newspaper men as she gathered up her things preparatory to leaving Amarillo, "to get away from the notoriety" she said.

At first Payne mumbled something about "a frame up," and denied the woman's assertions that he had gone with her on out-of-town trips.

"He made ardent love to me and had talked of marriage," Mrs. Thompson told the newspaper men and, subsequently, the officers. She quoted Payne as answering her protests that he had a family that he "could fix that."

Payne's delivery into the hands of the law might be credited to his own request, because the latest investigation was started when he complained to Editor Howe that the mysterious blast should be investigated further. He said the officers had not been thorough enough. It was this protest that sent MacDonald on his visit to Payne. Payne mentioned the unattractive Mrs. Thompson. Mrs. Thompson told what she knew about Payne.

Payne, McDowell said, promised last night to make a written confession upon the arrival of his brother, Sidney, whose whereabouts is unknown to officers.

Payne was brought to Stinnett to avoid possibility of mob violence. A charge of murder was placed against him yesterday.
