RAINFALL COVERS COUNTY

HOME TOWN TALK

By Beddy

FOR a drought to be broken in August is a very unusual thing hereabouts, says Jim McKinney of Coahoma. He said August 17, 1887 is the only date since 1881 when it has happened.

But it did happen, and as a result farmers who had gotten into the habit of sitting with their heads in their hands while the missus fixed breakfast, every morning and who surveyed dusty fields where feed and cotton showed signs of burning, had already started smiling this afternoon.

You could hardly think of a more opportune time for a good rain. Looks as if the farmers will raise plenty of roughness and a good deal of grain sorghums. Cotton, they say, was not suffering so much and today a rain will just about fix it up for a good yield.

Notice some timely comments and warnings on this page today from Fred Keating, superintendent of the government farm experiment station. Leaf worms may break out, he says.

Ferguson boys got going last night. It's going to be a grand time hereabouts from now till then. Judge Rogers and Judge Littler flattered us by mentioning our recent reproduction of a Kansas City Star editorial about the Ferguson. Now, if that is all they ever find to criticize us for, insofar as our attitude toward a candidate we oppose is concerned, we'll be satisfied. They certainly cannot accuse us of not giving Ferguson just as good a break in these news columns as Sterling. As for the editorial, we have no apology to make for reprinting it because it was of interest, we felt, to Texans to know the attitude Kansas, a Republican state as the gentleman reminds us, takes in regard to Texas politics at this particular time.

Just a matter of information, for the folks, that's all. Seems as though most everybody read it, at that.

Forsan Youth's Condition Critical

Homer Parks, 16, injured with his brother Harvey Parks, 12, Monday night near Forsan in an automobile accident, remained in a critical condition today at a local hospital.

Two Men Jailed For Tampering With Automobile

Jack Burns, Los Angeles, and Jack Baxter, Fort Worth, were assessed 30 days in jail in county court this afternoon on charges of tampering with an automobile. They entered pleas of guilty.

The youths were arrested late Tuesday night, by W. A. Bonner as they were caught tampering with two automobiles belonging to him.

At a point of a pistol he brought them to the Howard County jail and turned them over to Sheriff Jess Slaughter.

Vaccinations To Be Administered

A vaccination council for the prevention of smallpox will be held at the Federation club house on Scurey street Tuesday, August 12 from twelve to two p. m., according to Mrs. R. M. Showalter, and every one is urged to send children to be examined and vaccinated.

OIL MEN HURT
COLEMAN, Tex., Aug. 6.—(AP)—Pete Pollard, Tom Jameson and R. Brooks, well-known oil men of West and central Texas, were seriously injured today when a truck overturned with them on the Coleman-Santa Anna highway.

Brooks was cut on an arm and hand, Jameson was cut on his head and Pollard was believed to have received internal injuries.

Ferguson Forces Organize Here Amarillo Lawyer Charged With Blast Murder

WIFE'S DEATH IN BLAST DESTROYING AUTO NOW LAID TO HER HUSBAND

AMARILLO, Texas, Aug. 6 (AP)—Formal charges of murder were filed here today against A. D. Payne, Amarillo attorney, in connection with the death of his wife who was killed June 27 when an infernal machine wrecked the family automobile.

District Attorney E. W. Thomerson swore to the charges before Justice of the Peace James W. Minter. Payne was arrested last night and taken to Stinnett, county seat of Hutchinson county as a precaution against violence, feeling having been tense after news of the attorney's arrest spread.

Thomerson announced today that the accused man had made a statement last night but he refused to divulge its nature. He was inclined to minimize it.

No Violence
While there was no sign of mob violence here word came from Borger, that Sheriff W. N. Thompson of Amarillo was guarding the entrance to the Hutchinson county jail at Stinnett. Sheriff C. O. Moore of that county was assembling ammunition as a precautionary, the report said.

Payne had been arrested shortly after A. B. MacDonald, staff correspondent of the Kansas City Star and Gene Howe, editor of the Amarillo News-Globe, started an investigation of the mysterious blast that blew Mrs. Payne's body into parts and permanently maimed little A. D. Payne, Jr., 9. The investigation was started on request of Payne who complained that officers had not been thorough.

Shortly after MacDonald interviewed Payne in his office he visited Mrs. Verona Thompson, former private secretary to Payne, who made a statement involving her former employer. She said he had professed ardent love to her and revealed that he had taken her on out-of-town trips.

She told MacDonald that when she protested his attentions because he had a wife and children he told her he could "fix that."

When arrested Payne had on his person two penciled letters, stamped and addressed to the sheriff and chief of police, purported to be from safe blowers who said they had placed the explosives in the Payne automobile the night before the blast through mistake.

Mrs. Thompson today was packing her things preparatory to "going some place," she told reporters. She said she preferred to divulge her destination "only to the officers."

She said she was glad her conscience was clear but said she dreaded the notoriety incident to the case.

"I am glad I told everything I know," she said. "Word has been sent to me that I can retain my position."

While packing she was trying to reach an attorney on the telephone.

AMARILLO, Tex., Aug. 6 (AP)—Amarillos "model husband," A. D. Payne, attorney, today faced the prospect of murder charges prepared for filing against him, after two newspaper men by swift investigation uncovered evidence to explain the explosion June 27 which demolished Ed Payne's automobile, killed his wife and maimed his 10-year-old son, A. D. Payne, Jr.

Payne called last week at the office of Gene Howe, editor of the Amarillo News-Globe, and requested that the editor make a personal investigation. He said the authorities were making no progress in apprehending the slayer of his wife, and welcomed an inquiry by newspaper men.

To Kansas City
Howe immediately telegraphed the Kansas City Star and asked that A. B. MacDonald be assigned to the case. MacDonald and Howe started their investigation Monday morning and yesterday afternoon MacDonald put the evidence they had obtained before Mayor Ernest O. Thompson and E. W. Thomerson, district attorney.

Payne was arrested soon afterward and Mrs. Verona Thompson, Payne's former private secretary, was detained as a material witness.

Payne was arrested in the city of St. Louis, Mo., where he was arrested in Gulfport, Miss. (Continued on Page Eight)

C. P. ROGERS IS ELECTED PRESIDENT

Issue Is 'Fergusonism Vs Moodyism' Say Speakers

Declaring that it has come to a point in Texas history where it is "Fergusonism versus Moodyism" the cause of former governor Miriam A. Ferguson, candidate for governor was shouldered by Howard County supporters at a mass meeting held in the district courtroom of the courthouse Tuesday night.

A Mrs. Ferguson-Fer-Governor Club was organized with C. P. Rogers, local attorney, as president. A resolutions committee was appointed and will meet today to draw up resolutions.

Speakers
Rogers, John B. Littler, Sam C. Lamar and D. E. Bishop spoke at the Ferguson rally, attended by more than a hundred men and women. The speakers were cheered time after time as the "reign of Moodyism" was slashed and that of Fergusonism praised. Bobby Campbell was elected secretary.

Rogers opened the meeting and delivered the principal address. He attacked the record of Governor Dan Moody, and declared Ross S. Sterling was running for governor on the demerits of his opponent, without bringing out a single issue of his own except "honesty in government."

Rogers declared he saw fit to support Barry Miller in the first primary, but that he, like others had gone back to the Ferguson banner.

RESOLUTIONS
The following resolutions were drawn by a committee appointed by the local Mrs. Ferguson-for-Governor Club.

We, as citizens of Howard county, Texas, assembled together as supporters of Miriam A. Ferguson, as a candidate for Governor, pass the following resolutions, to-wit:

1. We stand for an honest administration of the state's affairs and heartily endorse Miriam A. Ferguson for the governorship.

2. We pledge ourselves as Democrats to support the nominee of the Democratic primaries of August 23rd, 1930, at the general election in November.

3. We condemn as against the interest of this state the placing of the hands of government in the corporate interest directly or indirectly.

4. We condemn as a deplorable precedent the use of large sums of money in an effort to obtain control of the people's state government.

Ferguson for Governor Club, of Howard County, Texas.

ner in the run-off campaign. "The last few days," he declared, "have seen the combined efforts of a few to make prejudice the outstanding point in this election. Mrs. Ferguson's opponent, Ross Sterling of Houston goes into this sterling

The British dirigible R-100 moored safely to the new mooring mast at St. Hubert airport, Montreal, after its trans-Atlantic flight from Cardington, England. The dirigible made the 3,285-mile trip in 78 hours, despite adverse weather over part of the route and damage to one of its fins.

LIBRARY IS DISCUSSED BY DUNCAN

E. F. Duncan chairman of the Lions Club committee on the county library project, was the principal speaker at the regular session of the Business Men's Luncheon club, held today.

Duncan outlined the plan for obtaining a library for Howard county, declaring Big Spring is the only city of its size in Texas without an available book for the public.

He declared the local Federation of Women's Clubs sponsored the movement and enlisted the help of the Lions Club.

He outlined the usual procedure in obtaining the library. He declared having been refused by the county commissioners, petitions carrying a majority of voters signatures could be presented and the library would become mandatory.

The library, he explained, provides free books to urban and rural districts. He declared that a recent assessment on the $100 valuation would net approximately $3,700, enough to finance the project.

PRICES OF WHEAT ON UP GRADE

CHICAGO, Aug. 6 (AP)—Bullish enthusiasm returned to the grain pits today for the first time in many weeks and prices soared, wheat gaining from 5 to 6 1/8 cents a bushel, after yesterday's close and corn values rising 6 7/8 to 7 7/8 cents.

Both the leading grains sold at better than a dollar a bushel, and at the finish corn for September delivery had widened its price lead over wheat to 4 1/2 cents.

September wheat finished at 96 3/8 to 7 8 and December at $1.02 1/2 to 7 8, while corn for September stopped at $1.01 to 3 8 and December at 97 1/4 to 1 2.

Trading nearly reached the riot stage at mid-session as corn and wheat prices leaped forward and buyers found offerings scant. The public interest in the market had doubled overnight, inspired by the procession of official and private estimates of drought damage to corn, growing hourly.

KANSAS CITY, August 6 (AP)—Grain prices skyrocketed on the Kansas City market again today as a result of the prolonged drought, boosting both wheat and corn futures to levels more than 19 cents higher for the week. In the early trade corn futures sold 5 to 5 3/8 cents higher than yesterday's close and wheat futures were up about 4 cents.

Soon after the opening of the third successive bull session, September wheat sold up to 88 5/8, and December advanced to 93 3/8. At that stage the grain since Saturday's close was 10 3/8 cents.

September corn was quoted at 94 1/4 and December corn at 91. The corn advance since the close last week was around 10 3/4 cents.

MOISTURE RECEIVED AT CRUCIAL TIME: COUNTIES ADJOINING ARE SOA EKD

Out of a dense, leaden cloud from the west a heavy downpour of rain set in here at 3:15 p. m., after 1.12 inches had fallen during the morning. Stanton reported at that hour a continuation of rainfall, with indications a very heavy fall was occurring west of there.

Rain arrived in the nick of time for Howard and adjoining counties Tuesday morning, the precipitation totaling 1.42 inches here and ranging from one-half to three inches in other parts of the county.

Every part of the county was visited by the rainfall, according to reports gathered by The Herald.

Heaviest precipitation occurred near Coahoma, where more than three inches fell.

Three inches was reported from the Aiken Simpson farm 18 miles northeast of here.

Rainfall extended continuously between Big Spring and Ackerly and northward to Lamesa, it was reported.

Farmers declared the moisture came in time to assure a good feed crop, except for some of the oldest feed, which had matured. Young feed will be greatly benefited.

Unusual
Cotton had not suffered materially from drought except in a few small areas, and some farmers felt the rain would assure a good yield.

Tuesday's rainfall was unusual, declared Jim McKinney of Coahoma, in that it occurred in August and broke a drought. Droughts have been broken in this section in August but once since 1881, he observed.

Knott was reported to have received more than an inch of moisture, with more falling around Lenora in Martin county.

Stanton reported more than a half inch.

Good rains fell over southern Howard and Sterling counties, it was learned.

Colorado reported .71 inch. More than an inch fell in southern Mitchell county.

Snyder reported rain fell there throughout the morning.

The Spade ranch 25 miles south of Colorado received a heavy rain. Midland reported 1.35 inches early today. Odessa had an inch and a half, with all of Ector county well soaked.

Ranchmen in the Midland country reported water supply had been guaranteed.

Ackerly reported about three-fourths inch.

Lamesa received an inch and a half Monday night and Tuesday morning. Heavy precipitation was reported from the section south and southwest of Lamesa.

SWEETWATER, Tex., Aug. 6.—(AP)—General rains were falling over this section of West Texas today.

LAMESA, Aug. 6.—(AP)—Mrs. N. P. Cochran, who was wounded here Monday night with five shots from a .38 special Colt when her husband mistook her for a burglar which he had seen prowling around their home earlier in the evening and was reported as improving tonight by doctors attending her. Cochran, who is employed as a telegraph operator in a railroad department details of the shooting. "About ten o'clock my wife and I heard someone trying to get in the house by cutting the window screens and I managed to scare the man off. "We went to bed and thought he wouldn't return but about 11:30 we heard him again, we thought. This time I took my gun with me and was determined to kill whoever it was if I saw him. "I left my wife in bed and never imagined she would get up. I went from our bed room directly into the living room, which adjoins, and looked around there. I didn't put the lights on because I was afraid he would shoot me. I was determined to shoot to kill because if I didn't I was sure he would kill me first. I saw something indistinct moving and tracked down. I fired five times and after the fifth shot I heard my wife call my name. "Cochran was back on the job this morning as usual after doctors stated that his wife would recover. The shooting Monday night was the sixth in Dawson county this year.

Business Goes To The MODERN Store

Stores that are modern in appearance compel people to notice them. They invite more business.

To be modern, a store building need not be new. Many shabby, old-fashioned stores can be converted into attractive, business-inviting establishments quickly and economically. An exterior facing of cast stone or light-tinted stucco, a rearrangement of window space, an attractive terrazzo floor, a new colored sidewalk—such changes will make an astonishing improvement in any old store.

Such improvements as these not only draw more customers, but they increase the value of the property, lessen the fire hazard and lower the cost of maintenance.

If you would like to know more about modernizing, write to us direct or consult your building material dealer, architect or contractor, any of whom can help you with such further information as you desire.

Atlas Cement is made at Waco—by Texas workers—of Texas materials... Along with other economical quality products, your building material dealer can quickly furnish you either Atlas portland cement (gray) or non-staining Atlas White portland cement. Ask for Atlas cements.

Barbers Defeat Bankers Crew To Take League Lead

Coming events cast their shadows before them. So sayeth the sages and the cigarette advertisements. Which means that, as much as we detest it, we will be compelled to resort to personalities in this campaign to get the Steers a training camp. Football fans, if any, haven't heard yet, maybe, that we're raising a minimum and maximum of $300 for the Steers and Bill Stevens, the high school mentor. Checks, money orders, drafts, cash on the counter, or cashiers' checks for $1 should be sent to the Herald. We'll take care of 'em.

Let's look over Tuesday afternoon's contributions. "Uncle Walt" Smith, the generalissimo of the Smith Candy Company, sauntered through the door and shoved six dollars in our face. Five of the bucks were from him, and the other from Willard Sullivan, who helped the fund along. Not long after that, Frank Boyles became permanently divorced from a dollar and Dr. W. B. Hardy added a dollar. Then Miss Vaughn Raye Stevens, a babe in arms, as it were, in fact the daughter of Bill the coach, sent her papa down this way with her dollar. The grand total of which is $9 for the afternoon.

Which isn't enough. Nine dollars wouldn't buy this hungry scribe enough chocolate eclairs to last him overnight. Of course we're overly fond of chocolate eclairs and may not be a perfect and impartial comparison. But nine dollars is nine dollars. Which still isn't enough. We have about 10 days to get the rest of the money. We would say it is the duty of every football fan in Big Spring to send in a dollar to the fund. But we won't. In our opinion there is no call to duty, no outward stimulus to sway woman or child. The thing is, however, a real football fan with any interest whatsoever in Big Spring athletics, shouldn't consider it a duty to give a dollar toward the fund. We should count it among his privileges. We are asking for a dollar from each fan. Every firm in Big Spring could and should send a dollar. If we're not badly fooled the publicity in this column is worth that much. It merely comes down to this in the end. Unless the fund is raised in this manner the old mode of having a committee knock at your portals will be resorted to. The money must be raised.

The Chamber of Commerce could stand a dollar touch. If not more. Every member of every luncheon club in Big Spring should give a dollar. The students of the high school, incidentally, shouldn't feel themselves immune. It is as much to their interest as anyone that the fund be raised. There is not a firm in Big Spring today but what can stand a $1 rap for such a movement. Yet, it seems some are rather reluctant in sending in their shekels.

So far the list of contributors reads thusly:

Vaughn Raye Stevens$1.
W. B. Hardy 1
Willard Sullivan 1
Uncle Walt Smith 5
Sam E. Brown 1
Bruce R. Nesbitt 1
George Blevins 1
The Herald 5
The Water Bucket 1

Add the total up, read it and weep. We don't know just exactly what lies before the Steers this fall. We've never seen a Big Spring team in action. We don't know yet what teams it can be expected to defeat. But this we do know. It will stand a better chance of coping some of the games with this two weeks extra training period than it will without it. The money goes back into circulation anyway. Groceries are purchased from Big Spring groceries. The groceries are tossed to some 40 or more hungry football players in camp down on the Llano or Concho or some other secpert. If it is not worth a dollar, then, of course, we wouldn't think of asking you to aid in the matter. At least not very long.

Looks as if the rain has copped another ball game. However if it is going to be anything like the one yesterday it doesn't make any difference. That was such an uninteresting game that all twelve of the fans were ready to go home at the end of the sixth inning.

The Barbers are gunning for us. Stevens thought he wasn't eligible and left town before he could be told that Couden had released him after all. A great help we proved to be.

VICK HURLS ONE HIT FRAY

Barbs Run Across 12 Tallies In Six Innings

Jess Vick, having discarded the raiment of arbiter, was back at his old trade of chunking orbits Tuesday, and celebrated the occasion by setting the Bankers down with one hit and no runs, while his teammates were clouting pitchers Schwarzenbach and Hurt for 12 hits and 12 runs.

The dragging melee was called at the end of the sixth frame on account of darkness.

The win over the custodians of the apple department broke a deadlock for first place and sent the Barbers back into the lead with a half game margin.

Vick was right, although he shuffled his lazy lob ball into the discard and resorted to the fast pellet with much gusto. Only thirteen men faced him in four frames.

Schwarzenbach, on the other hand, who started for the Bankers, proved a gentle zephyr for the Barber batsmen.

His zenith was reached in the fourth when he gave up six hits to tally five runs. He had allowed three hits ere this inning. Hurt relieved him at the start of the fifth frame. Although only three hits were registered off him in the coup-of-innings he chunked, he walked five men. Four runs were tallied in the sixth inning off the shirt-pulling toser.

The Barbers played air-light ball, giving Vick all the support the farm hand could ask for on such an auspicious occasion.

Stevens registered the only hit off Vick. It came in the fifth inning, a single.

GRAVE DIGGING TAUNT BY HARVARD SCIENTISTS

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP)—A laboratory in prehistoric burial, with earthen graves as working tools, has been established in the basement of Peabody Museum at Harvard University.

It is the newest thing in training young men for one of the most painstaking tasks, digging up safely the fragile records of men who lived thousands of years ago.

In the basement laboratory, in two boxes filled level with earth, each seven feet square, experienced anthropologists lay out typical prehistoric graves of stone age men.

In them are fossilized boxes of primitive men. About these are duplicates of the priceless utensils, some broken others intact, disposed as friendly hands once laid them. All is covered with earth.

The student anthropologist then digs them up, learning how to be careful and how to detect the positions where such relics are most likely to be found.

PADDOCK DESERTS TRACK FOR LAW

Charlie Paddock, once the "world's fastest human," has hung up his sprint spikes, at least for awhile, to study law at the University of Southern California.

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Now it's spoken of in terms of business, is a fickle thing.

"When you're in business primarily because of your athletic ability, youngsters who step in to defeat you on the cinder path soon take your place.

"When I was graduated with an arts and science degree I was too young to follow my chosen profession, so I decided to capitalize on my sprint ability."

Paddock has no qualms about rubbing elbows, collegially speaking, with those who now are busily engaged in rewriting his old records. He knows that they, too, several years hence, must see that sprinting builds no home.

As a proof he can point to the few short years that have elapsed since he was the "great Charlie Paddock"—"the human race horse." Now the only world's record he retains is for 300 meters.

Charley doesn't admit he's through with athletics, but he's walking now, with fat comes under his arm.

"I'm going to make a bid for the 1932 Olympic sprint relay teams," said the veteran of three international competitions, "but running is only a side issue now.

But for the presence of the Washington Senators in the American League, the New York Yankees might be up there fighting the Athletics for leadership. As it is, however, Babe Ruth and company are battling in third position, ten games back of the champions, and not much chance of gaining ground as long as they are scheduled to play Walter Johnson's Senators.

The Senators have beat the Yankees in 12 of their 15 meetings this season. The Yanks succeeded in breaking the jinx yesterday but not until the Senators had won their seventh straight by taking the first of a doubleheader 6 to 4. Babe Ruth hit his forty-first home run but that didn't help much when Walter Johnson's batters got busy on Fenwick and Johnson. Charlie Buffing was largely responsible for the Yanks' 7 to 1 triumph in the curtain game. He put his team out in front with a homer in the second inning and then let the opposing batsmen down with nine scattered hits and fanned the same number.

The Athletics failed to take advantage of Washington's even break, losing a 4 to 3 game to the Boston Red Sox.

Detroit put over four runs in the eighth to give Earl Whitehill his eighth consecutive victory, the Tigers defeating the Indians 5 to 4. Three of Cleveland's four runs were unearned.

The Giants and Robins furnished another one of their spectacular contests in the National League. Brooklyn finally winning 9 to 8 in ten innings. The Giants trailed 9 to 1 going into the ninth but a five-run rally sent the veteran Adolfo Luque to the showers. Bill Terry was the big gun of the Giants attack, getting five hits, including a homer, in the ninth, to go into the National League batting leadership.

The Cubs kept pace with the Robins, scoring three runs in the

If nothing else, night baseball has provided the Texas League with more brilliant pitching performances already than ordinarily would be seen in a full season of daylight play. The innovation undoubtedly has worked to the advantage of the hurlers, making up to some extent for the handicaps placed upon them in recent years.

The latest striking example of what a shaft hurler can do in the lights and shadows was given last night at Houston, when old Wilbur Cooper, recently acquired by the San Antonio Indians when the Shreveport management decided he had completed his pitching span, held the Buffs to two hits and walloped young Allyn Stout in a hurling duel, 3 to 1.

Paul Homers
Homer Pest, Buff outfielder, robbed the veteran of a shut-out when he pushed one of his southpaw blasts off the hit in the ninth. Carey Selph's single in the first was the only other blow off Cooper, whose baseball career dates back to 1912. The Indians sewed up the verdict early, bunching hits for two runs off Stout in the first inning.

While Cooper was dazzling the Buffs in their home lot, lanky Bill Harris of the Waco Cubs was turning in an almost equally fine performance against the Beaumont Exporters in their opener at Katy Park. The tall righthander gave up only three hits, scattered over as many innings, and blanked the Shippers, 8 to 0. The Cubs battered Newman hard, Bischoff and Rye featuring the assault with homers.

The victory broke a four-game losing streak for the Waco nine and boosted the Prattmen back in to second place, a game and one-half behind the leading Spudders.

Spuds Win Two
Continuing their vicious attack on opposing hurlers since their recent return to home ground, the Spuds cracked down on the luckless Dallas Steers in both ends of a daylight doubleheader, 6 to 5 and 7 to 3, to sweep the series. The Mavericks were ahead only once, when Jim Moore homered in the fourth inning of the first bout with two mates aboard. Outside of the one frame, Caldwell kept the Steers well subdued in the opener, and Les White had the better of the veteran Specs Meadows in the nightcap. Four Dallas errors, two of them by Shortstop Nick Urban, helped the elders pile up their score in the second tilt.

Dropping their second fray at Shreveport, 8 to 3, the Fort Worth Cats went into third place. While Estrade limited the Panthers to eight hits and fanned nine, the Sports whacked Buchanan hard all the way, every player except Cashion joining in the 15-hit bombardment. Krauss and Hutson each connected safely three times.

COSMIC FOG IS SUNS CORONA, OHIOAN BELIEVES

DELAWARE, O. (AP)—Cosmic fog, huge, irregular masses believed to be gas, is believed by Dr. Harlan T. Stetson, director of Perkins observatory here, to be the foundation of the suns corona.

Dr. Stetson is endeavoring to determine how cause the "fog" approaches the earth.

The sun's corona, he thinks, is the light reflected from a cloud of "fog" much as light is reflected by dust particles which then become visible.

Answered By
Dr. S. Parkes Cadman

Questions from readers are answered daily by the Rev. Dr. S. Parkes Cadman, Radio Minister of the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America. Dr. Cadman seeks to answer inquiries that appear to be representative of the trends of thought in the many letters which he receives.

Norfolk, Va. theory was translated into more than twenty languages. The circle of readers of "The Great Illusion," includes Hindus, Japanese, Chinese, as well as European and American students of public affairs. Several hundred thousand copies of the work were sold testifying to the widespread interest on the subject. The author predicted in his open-ended sentences that rivalry in armaments was sure to end in war, and went on to say that war waged under modern conditions would prove a common catastrophe. Outcome demonstrated, to quote "The London Spectator" that Mr. Angell is "one of the clearest and most logical thinkers of the day in international problems."

He will lecture in the United States this year and deserves a wide hearing.

Jamaica, L. I. I understand the late Georges Clemenceau's belief was that "death is a dreamless sleep." Will you kindly state your views on this subject?

How could a man as great as Clemenceau and with such a wide experience of life come to the end with such a hopeless philosophy?

When I read such ideas of those far greater than I, I wonder if, after all, I can be wrong, in believing that there must be another life for us beyond the grave.

I am a teacher by profession, and have a young daughter, to whom I desire to give a hopeful impression of death.

Do not be overawed by a resounding name. It is commonly known that famous men and women have "blind spots." Clemenceau is a striking example of this infirmity. His limitations stand out against his gifts, and make a depressing contrast. But since you shelter under great characters, think of Plato, St. Paul, St. Augustine, St. Francis, Dante, St. Bernard, Milton, Fenelon, Browning, Whitfield, Emerson and a whole galaxy whose names space forbids me to mention, and who were among the best and brightest of our kind. They held in reason and in faith that life is always lord of death in this world and the next.

Belief in immortality is a preferential belief. It depends on what you know and feel; on the values it gives to our present existence, and the dignity it confers even on the lowliest member of the race. It has the sanction of Christ, the supreme Authority and Exemplar of its validity. That belief says, "Love is and was my King and Lord. And will be, though as yet I sleep Within his court on earth, and sleep Encompassed by his faithful guard. And hear at times a sentinel Who moves about from place to place, And whispers to the winds of space In the deep night, that all is well." Teach your child that our holiest joys are born in the fellowship of those who have obtained the prize of Life Eternal, and that bodily death, come when or how it may, releases her soul to infinite peace and purity beyond compare. Well may Adelaide Proctor speak of it as a "bright angel" for such it is to those who by trust in the Living God have shattered the bondage of their fear.

Winnipeg, Can. How do you explain the saying that at the Resurrection "the Dead in Christ shall rise first"? Do you believe we shall recognize our loved ones in heaven?

St. Paul's statement, to which you refer, is found in the well known fifteenth chapter of the first letter to the Corinthians, which deals with the Resurrection. He uses the trumpet as a symbol of the immediate summons to the dead. The rest of his language is also figurative, and is chosen to express the solemn finality of the impending transformation. Compare St. Matthew xxiv, 31, and the first epistle to the Thessalonians, iv, 16.

Naturally, those who have accepted Christ have priority in the result of His victory over death. But he has many sheep of other folds. These He will bring to their desired place, "that there may be one fold and one shepherd."

Our recognition of loved ones in the life beyond is always taken for granted in Holy Scripture. Did not the Master say: "If I go and prepare a place for you, I will come again, and receive you unto myself; that where I am, there ye may be also?" The fellowship of souls is life's chief good. Enriched and purified by heaven's intimacies, it constitutes the essential glory of humanity both here and hereafter.

NEW YORK—An airplane built for three has been purchased by Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh as a gift for his wife. Although no plans have been announced, it was considered probable the first trip would be to the summer home of her parents at North Haven, Me., with Charles A. Lindbergh, Jr., as a passenger.

ROOSEVELT FIELD, N. Y.—An aviatix who was picked up at sea in a land plane is learning to fly in an amphibian. She is Mrs. Walter Camp, probably better known as Ruth Elder, who says she is planning no more ocean flights.

PLYMOUTH, Vt.—Back to his farm house homestead for a brief visit, Calvin Coolidge has been provided with a diversion. A miniature wind mill he built in the days before he became president and which he used to like to watch spin has been unearthed from the cellar, by Mrs. Coolidge and once again the former president sits on the piazza admiring his handiwork.

MAYS LANDING, N. J.—In his quarter of a century as owner of a candy store, John Underhill, negro, amassed $100,000 from pennies spent by school children for candy. In his will he directed that the money be turned back to the children in the form of equipment to the high school gymnasium and improvements to the town park.

primary without a single plank in his platform. His supporters are crying 'honesty in government' and that that by opposing Fergusonism. I have never before known a man or woman to base their claims for office on the demerits of their opponents. But the minds of Texas people are too broad, too great, to be swayed from the issues.

Away From Issues

Since July 26 there has been an insistent movement to direct the attention of the public away from the issues in this campaign by the cry of Fergusonism. Mrs. Ferguson answered that by enumerating the planks in the Ferguson platform. Those planks have been in there since Jim first entered the political arena, except that Mrs. Ferguson would put teeth in the prohibition law.

"The upholders of the Houston capitalist can't turn a deaf ear to that prohibition plank. They can't turn a deaf ear to the plank which will aid rural schools. They can't turn a deaf ear to the right of redemption of homestead property in two years. They want to ignore everything. Sterling has declared he opposes everything Ferguson stands for. If that is the truth, he is not fit to be governor of this state. If he is not telling the truth, then surely he is not fit.

"I see the writing on the wall. The words of Sterling's speech were dictated in Governor Moody's office. It's the same old song of Moodyism that has been sung over and over. The people have four years to compare Moodyism and what they term Fergusonism—and the majority prefer the latter.

As To Moody

"Look at that little squirt's record. Why he had so little brains as to call the legislature into session five times. He was so ignorant as to try to whip that body into moving the penitentiary to Austin where nothing but rattlesnakes, coyotes, and Moodyism ever thrived." Rogers attacked Sterling's stand like that Jim vetoed the whole darn for not advancing issues, not discussing what he proposes to do. He attacked the "slush fund" being used to "subsidize the press."

"They talk about the impeachment of Jim, he continued. 'Yet back in 1924 many were stumping for Ma. Jim had been impeached but they asked you good people to elect his wife. They knew it then. They forgot those things. They forgot about those indictments against Jim. They forgot he walked into the district attorney's office and asked for an immediate trial and was told there was insufficient evidence to convict. They forgot that Sam Houston, that great statesman, was impeached.

Why Impeached?

"What about that impeachment? Jim was impeached because Texas University officials asked for money for chairs that never existed and Jim wouldn't give them a penny. Rather than make an appropriation like that Jim vetoed the whole darn thing. They impeached Ferguson, but they didn't intimidate him. He came back as no man ever did, and they elected his wife, knowing Jim was going to sit there and advise just as he is going to do this time.

"They say Sterling should be elected because he is a business man. Striking oil isn't business. That has happened to many a darn fool in this state. Is it business to be director of a Houston business firm that has gone to the wall? I think not. Sterling has been a director in too many corporations to be governor of our great state. This is another Hogg-Clark campaign. It is a fight of the people against the corporations.

"They say Ross sold all his stock in the Humble. But did he? Wouldn't that old mother and father complex still keep working? Would Sterling turn his back on the Standard Oil Co.?

To Herald Editor

The fight is on, and I want to say here to the editor of the Big Spring Herald that we don't need the advice of a Republican editor, head of a Republican paper in a Republican state in this campaign. Such an editorial as the editor of the Big Spring Herald reproduced from the Kansas City Star has no place with us Democrats.

"But let them buy all the papers. Let them go to Kansas City. The majority of us are going back to the Jeffersonian Democracy.

"I defy the opposition to show where Ferguson has ever put his hands on a cent of money belonging to Texas. They say he grafts from the individual. If he does I would rather see that than see this paper sold to the moneyed interests.

"The bond issues—that $350,000, 000 bond issue that Sterling is spounging every day."

Just campaign by that "honesty in government" clause. Sterling would shackle your grandchildren with state highway bonds. He would take money from your rural schools. If he has merit, he and his supporters should bring it out. If he has none, then he should quit running around imitating Monkey Dan. Moodyism is becoming more disgusting every day."

Judge Litter

Judge John E. Litter followed Rogers. He declared he had voted for another candidate in the first race but had come to the support of the Fergusonism in the run-off.

"The supporters of Ross Sterling met here Monday night," he declared, "and it surprises me to read of some of the things they said. Friends of Sterling here are either misinformed or are trying to misinform and mislead voters of Howard County."

Judge Litter discussed the impeachment of Ferguson, telling of the parade of University of Texas students around the governor's mansion and declaring "the majority in the House and Senate there were ex-students of Texas."

"Criticism of Jim," he declared, "was made here last night by men that know no more about it than a bullfrog. Let's look over the past Martin Crags of Dallas, an eminent attorney, prosecuted Jim Ferguson, but in 1924 when Mrs. Ferguson was seeking this high office he took the stump for her. I. W. Stephens as late as 1926 believed in the Ferguson impeachment. Yet last week he headed a Ferguson delegation from Tarrant County.

More To Editor

"I have been reading the Big Spring Herald for years. And I think that newspapers should be honest as well as candidates. It is to the shame of Howard county and Big Spring that the Herald editor saw fit to copy an editorial from the Kansas City Star, bearing a Republican viewpoint, attacking the Fergusonism, in order to belittle a person running for governor.

"When Sterling started his campaign he had only one plank in his platform—the $350,000,000 bond issue. When he started the votes, however, he changed his platform was a back number and started vilifying Ferguson. It seems nothing he says nothing he doesn't know and he doesn't know what he wants, except to be governor.

"Sterling opposes the plank in Mrs. Ferguson's platform which would entitle you to two years to redeem your home if sold under a deed of trust. I tell you tonight I think more of one little Howard county home than that great mansion with 20 bathrooms that Sterling boasts of.

"Let's elect Mrs. Ferguson with Jim as proxy governor, rather than have a Moody-Sterling-Love governor. Let's protect these little homes, and not allow big business to throw women and children into the cold world."

Mr. Lamar

Sam C. Lamar, opened his speech with the declaration "I can't conceive of any one being for Sterling and not for Ferguson in this race." Lamar said that "if Jim had addressed millionaires instead of farmers and laborers he would have gone down as Texas' greatest governor."

Discussing the proposal to sell present penitentiary holdings and move the plant to a point near Austin, Lamar said, "I don't believe in mob violence, but if it comes to that we'll have to load our thirty-thirties and march to Austin and say 'Bud you can't cut it.'

"Well be a blowed up set of suckers when they start trading six acres of fertile land for one of the kind near Austin.

"Remember this. When you vote for Sterling you are voting for a man that would put the noses of your unborn grandchildren to the millstone in order to pay for his highway scheme.

"Jim's first act, when he was elected governor, was to visit the home for blind children and obtain for them better quarters. That is Fergusonism. Those little white school houses you see in the country are Jim's. That's Fergusonism too."

Mr. Bishop

D. E. Bishop was the final speaker. He declared the two issues in the campaign are Moodyism and the road bond issue.

"They say Sterling is running for governor for the first time. They should say the third. Ross has been governor all of the time, standing behind little Dan like a father stands behind a son. Sterling told Moody to veto the Small Land bill. He told him to veto the bollworm bill.

"The time has come for Ma to take the broom and mop and sweep this Moody filth out of the state capitol.

"If there are challenges in this county, we will meet them all."

Protection From

Land Grabbers' Is Plea Of Sterling

HOUSTON, Aug. 6—(UP)—Prior right of persons whose land includes "vacancies" to purchase these vacancies from the state is advocated in a statement given out by Ross Sterling, candidate for Governor, upon his return from the Dallas rally in his behalf, Monday.

The statement said: "When Texas entered the Union, it retained all of its public lands. These lands were surveyed into sections and sold by the state to citizens.

"From time to time here and there it was discovered that the surveyors' lines would not meet between sections, and that small strips, which were called vacancies, existed.

"Under existing law, a person ferreting out such vacancy may file thereon and the Land Commissioner is bound to sell to such applicant. Many home owners have had their boundaries disturbed.

"Such a condition is not fair. It is not square. The state should deal as honestly and fairly with its citizens as it expects its citizens to deal with it.

"If elected Governor, I will recommend to the legislature that the law be changed so that if and when a vacancy in any survey is discovered the person or the assignee of the person in whose patent the land found to be vacant was included, shall have the first right to purchase such vacant strip from the state at the price fixed by the state."

Wife's Death—

Mrs. Thompson in a signed statement said she and Payne had made numerous trips to nearby cities and that Payne was so desperately in love with her that he had planned to divorce his wife to marry her.

On June 27, Payne had left his car at home and walked to town to his office, several miles distant, accompanied by his small daughter. He told officers afterward that he left the car at home for his wife to use while shopping, in preparation for a vacation trip the family planned.

Car Blown Up

They had driven eight blocks when smoke suddenly began to fill the coupe and a few seconds later, a terrific explosion blasted the automobile to bits, tore Mrs. Payne's body to shreds and cast the boy's mutilated figure on the lawn of a house nearby.

The boy lingered near death many days but finally recovered. He was badly maimed, one arm having been almost torn from his body by the explosion.

Detectives who investigated the case found bits of small metal scattered about the scene of the explosion which they declared were fragments of a nitroglycerine or TNT bomb. They also expressed the opinion, after viewing the wreckage, that ignition wires on the car had been tampered with and that the explosive machine had been placed directly beneath the driver's seat in the car.

Payne insisted at that time that he knew of no enemy who would have made an attempt to take his own life or the lives of members of his family.

Questioned

When MacDonald began his investigation, he immediately questioned Payne as to his relations with women. Payne insisted he had "known and loved but one woman" his wife. He gave MacDonald a list of private secretaries who had worked for him during a period of several years.

He described the physical attractions of several of his secretaries and asked that MacDonald interview them. In speaking of Mrs. Thompson, he said she was "so plain and commonplace" that there would be no need of seeing her.

MacDonald went directly from Payne's office to the home of Miss Thompson. She made a written confession involving Payne in a love affair.

She stated that when she told Payne she did not care to marry a man with three children, he said he would "take care of them."

Payne had posed in Amarillo as a "model" husband and had recruited members of the 1930 high school football squad, was made by R. C. Campbell.

quested newspapers to publish interviews with his neighbors and relatives stating that he was a perfect husband, that his devotion to his wife and children was unequalled by that of any other man in Amarillo. He also made this request of MacDonald.

Letters Found

When Payne was arrested last night, two letters were found on his person, one addressed to Sheriff Bill Thompson of Amarillo and the other to Police Chief McDowell of Amarillo.

The letters were written in long-hand and were identical in language. They stated that the writer was a safe blower and that the night before Mrs. Payne was killed, a quantity of high explosive was placed by mistake in the wrong coupe. The writer said he believed the mistake by the gang of safe blowers had resulted in Mrs. Payne being killed by an explosion. The letters had been stamped and sealed.

District Attorney Thomerson said he was preparing charges of murder for filing against Payne. Feeling was high in Amarillo as news of Payne's arrest spread and officers lost no time in hurrying him away to the Gray county jail at Pampa.

"Frame Up"

As Payne was taken from Amarillo under heavy guard for the trip to Pampa he mumbled "frame-up."

The accused was faced by Mrs. Thompson before his departure from the jail and her appearance apparently confused him, as most of his answers to questions after she appeared were mumbled. He denied that he had gone on trips with the woman.

"You did, you know you did," she countered.

The plan presented to the commission today, agreed upon by the twelve operators in the field, proposed limiting the field to 89 per cent of its present total, or between 15,000 and 16,000 barrels daily.
