Redemption Of The Thief Is Related

Larger Crowd At Ritz For Second Of Holy Week Services

Larger than that of the first day, but still numbering only a few more than 50 was the group at the Ritz theatre Tuesday to attend the second of a series of pre-Easter week-day services being conducted on a community-wide basis by Big Spring's ministers.

Those present heard Dr. J. O. Haymes, pastor of the First Methodist church, speak briefly on Christ's utterance on the Cross, "This day shall thou be with me in Paradise." They were the words spoken to the thief condemned to be crucified along with Jesus and represent, the minister said, the whole essence of redemption.

"This might be termed Christ's life in miniature," said Dr. Haymes, "in that it sums up the whole of His mission, that of saving the world. The whole Bible was written for the one word—redemption—and here is redemption."

Dr. Haymes' message was based on St. Luke's version of the crucifixion, which told of the saving of one of two thieves, while the other rejected Christ. "The Cross has opposite effects on men today, just as it did then," he said. "But it is proved here that acceptance of Christ means salvation. It means that sudden conversion can be and is effective, and it means that there is hope for all, no matter how late in life they repent."

He concluded his message with reference to the renting of the temple veil, as darkness encompassed the world at Christ's death. "It means," the minister said, "that God is no longer kept in seclusion in the Holy of Holies, but that He and the throne of Grace are accessible to us all."

Sponsors of the Holy week services are hopeful that crowds will continue to grow. Services start promptly at 12:15 p. m. and close at 12:35 and will follow this schedule through Saturday. Major L. W. Canning, Salvation Army commander here, will be Wednesday's speaker.

Import Control May Be Next In Defense Plans

WASHINGTON, April 8 (AP)—Highly placed officials said today creation of a system of import control might constitute the next step in the government's rapidly expanding economic defense program.

Under this system a government control agency would be authorized to determine what foreign merchandise should be admitted to the United States and what should be excluded.

However, the plan was regarded as so drastic, since it might exclude such items as Japanese silk, that the officials were unwilling to predict when, if at all, it might be instituted. So far, they explained, it is merely in the discussion stage.

"Economic defense"—a name officials give to any sort of economic action expected to help the United States and the British allies and to impede the war effort of the axis powers—is growing so fast that many advisers are reported to have urged President Roosevelt to set up a special unit to coordinate the numerous activities.

Principal evidences of the program to date have been the "freezing" of $4,500,000,000 worth of assets held in this country by 13 European nations which have come under the domination of either the axis powers or Russia; institution of suits to break up alleged German influence in patent monopolies on articles vital to the national defense, particularly magnesium and optical instruments; setting up of export controls which restrict the shipment of scrap iron, aviation gasoline and hundreds of other items; and export-import bank loans to Argentina and other Latin American countries to facilitate their cooperation with both the United States and Great Britain.

In Picture Contest—

Older Children Pose For Cameraman

First day for taking pictures of the over-one-year-olds and under three-year-olds for the Personality Child of 1941 contest brought out 11 youngsters Monday to the Kelsey Studio. The Herald and Kelsey studio are sponsoring the contest.

These youngsters, learning how to talk and proud of such words as "momma," "daddy," and "baby," kept the on-lookers entertained all afternoon with their undecipherable chattering.

Most were brown haired or blonde but one little youngster, Julius Glickman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Glickman, who is just one year old was a problem. On the registration card after the Nazis Send U. S. Another Protest

WASHINGTON, April 8, (AP)—Secretary Hull said today Germany had sent a new note reinforcing its protests over the seizure of German merchant ships and crews in the United States.

Hull declined to give the nature of the new communication except to say that it was connected with the seizure of the ships which were taken into custody on grounds of sabotage.

From other sources, however, it was learned that the new note supplied supporting data on German claims that the United States had violated international law and a treaty of friendship and commerce between the two countries.

At the same time, the note was to have told the secretary of state that his note rejecting previous Nazi protests had failed to make clear the legal basis for prosecution of German crew members.

Hull last week flatly rejected both German and Italian protests over the seizure of 30 axis vessels and members of their crews. He declared then that no civilized nation could tolerate widespread sabotage of foreign vessels in its ports.

Hull said today the Italian government had not yet sent notice of compliance with the American request for the immediate withdrawal of the Italian naval attacks in Washington, Admiral Roberto Luis, who was accused by president Roosevelt or ordering at least part of the sabotage by Italian crews.

Williams Gets Approval Of Senate Group

Confirmation of Reuben Williams, former Big Spring resident, as state highway commissioner, was recommended Monday evening by the senate committee on governor's nominations.

Approval also was given by the committee to E. D. Battle, Longview, as state auditor to succeed Tom C. King, Dallas, whose appointment was rejected, and Edwin Lacy, Longview, as member of the public safety commission. Governor O'Daniel today withdrew Battle's nomination however.

Favorable action by the committee on the Williams appointment was considered an important development. Last week when the senate rejected his nomination as state life insurance commissioner, Gov. O'Daniel immediately nominated him for the highway commissioner's post.

Williams lived with his family here for a number of years, getting his grade and high school education in Big Spring. After his college training at the University of Missouri and in the law school of the University of Texas, he returned here for a time to assist his father, the late A. Williams, in the conduct of the latter's business.

Later, he joined a law firm at Fort Worth and subsequently was named confidential secretary to Gov. O'Daniel.

Commission To Study New Water Prices

City commissioners, meeting Tuesday evening for the first session of the new fiscal year, face a busy meeting.

Although commissioners will study the final financial statement for the fiscal year just ended, it was considered probable that one of the more important matters to be pondered would be the revision of the basic water rate schedule.

The matter of working out a reduction in water rates has been under study by city officials for some time, but there were reasons to believe that some definite action might be taken at the Tuesday evening session.

House Refuses To Reconsider Money Bill

O'Daniel Withdraws Name Of B. D. Battle As State Auditor

AUSTIN, April 8, (AP)—House proponents failed again today in an attempt to reconsider action sidetracking Governor W. Lee O'Daniel's proposed $26,820,000 appropriation for social security financing and a move to bring a similar measure before the house precipitated by the senate.

Meanwhile, the senate passed, with amendments, the house approved drivers' license bill by a vote of 27 to 2, and learned the governor had withdrawn the name of B. D. Battle, his appointee as state auditor and efficiency expert.

The governor said he would ask the attorney general for an opinion on Battle's Texas citizenship, questioned recently in the senate.

A vote of 78 to 60 fell short of the necessary two-thirds required for rules suspension in order to reconsider recent action tabling the governor's appropriation proposal.

Then Rep. Paul Donald of Bowie popped a surprise by moving that the house as a committee of the whole take from the appropriation committee for hearing a bill allocating $24,320,000 for security payments.

Motions to postpone consideration of the Donald motion until April 22 and to kill the postponing proposal touched off spirited speech making.

Rep. G. C. Morris of Greenville sought to delay on grounds the house should give the senate time to act on a $25,500,000 omnibus tax bill sent it by the house and to see "whether the governor will approve it or veto it."

More money for social security costs as proposed in the governor's bill and the $24,320,000 allocation under-run of its last budget allotment, perhaps by more than $1,000.

Grover Dunham, mayor, and T. J. A. Robinson, re-elected last week, were due to be sworn in as commissioners for two-year terms. The commission also was due to order in two blocks of paving.

Assembly Of God Convention Set Here April 22

Outstanding officials of the Assembly of God denomination will participate in the annual West Texas district convention opening here for three days on April 22, the Rev. Homer Sheats, pastor of the local church, said today.

Among them will be the Rev. E. S. Williams, general superintendent for the denomination.

In addition, there will be three recently returned missionaries on the program in Mrs. Mollie Baird and Mr. and Mrs. Homer T. Goodwin. Mrs. Baird is just back from India and is due to speak on the morning of April 23. Mr. and Mrs. Goodwin are on furlough from their post at Gold Coast, Africa.

The party, which is to attract several hundred representatives of churches throughout West Texas, is scheduled to open the evening of April 22 with a fellowship meeting at the First Methodist church.

Other sessions will be held at the municipal auditorium with three services planned daily.

Forsan Reelects I. O. Shaw Trustee

FORSAN, April 8.—I. O. Shaw, incumbent, was re-elected here Saturday as a member of the board of trustees for the Forsan common school districts.

Others receiving votes were Jack Lamb, 17, and Jim Craig, 2. J. D. Gilmore, Otis Chalk, received 49 votes for county trustee from precinct No. 2.

County officials said Tuesday that returns from trustee elections were coming in slowly and that only two or three boxes had been reported. Canvases of returns is scheduled for Thursday.

US Embassy In Rome Guarded

ROME, April 8 (AP)—A strong cordon of troops, reinforcing the pickets of the past few days, guarded the United States embassy today, while large crowds demonstrated enthusiasm for the war with Yugoslavia under Premier Mussolini's balcony.

Twice, the throngs brought II Duce to his balcony, but the demonstration broke up without reaching the embassy and the adjoining consulate, which were surrounded by double ranks of gray-clad, steel-helmeted soldiers and police cars.

The precautions presumably were taken because of press denunciations of the United States for aiding Italy's enemies and for sequestering Italian ships.

Aerial Defense Of Midland To Begin Next Week

Searchlights stabbing the night west of here may become a common sight for the next week or so as the command and members of the provisional anti-aircraft battalion, 33rd coast artillery brigade, campaign for the "defense of Midland."

Currently more than 500 officers and men are encamped at Midland as officers complete arrangements for launching maneuvers in the Midland area. Monday two bombers, one from the 97th observation squadron at Fort Benning, Ga., and Lt. S. B. Gimble, Jr., 22nd observation squadron at Brooks Field, Texas, arrived at the army airport west of Midland.

Maj. W. H. Papenfoth, commanding the battalion, said that details had been worked out for location of 23 of the 80,000,000 candlepower searchlights manned by the unit, and that telephone communications to the locations would be worked out Tuesday. Electric power lines also will be run to the sites although the lights carry their own generators.

Apparently, plans of the maneuvers call for "attacking" aircraft to seek to score on the army airport and vital points at Midland. Object of the searchlight battalion will be to pick up the raiding craft in their beams.

Crashed Naval Plane Sighted

NORFOLK, Va., April 8 (AP)—A wrecked naval bomber was sighted off Cape Charles, Va., today by searchers for a big naval patrol craft which has been missing since yesterday with ten men aboard.

Naval authorities here said that it was the missing ship. Hope that the plane and its men were safe was felt for a time on the basis of reports from navy and coast guard sources in Washington and New York that a ship resembling the missing craft was seen operating safely in New Jersey waters. Later the Atlantic City coast guard station identified this plane as one of those searching for the bomber.

The Cape Charles wreckage was sighted from a navy plane. Coast guard headquarters here said that one of their lifeboats, equipped with two-way radio, had reached the scene of the wreckage and had reported that no sign of life was visible in the area. The boat was from the Metomkin inlet station.

A coast guard plane flew over the scene and radioed that a yellow life jacket was floating near the wreckage.

Messages received from the searchers did not say whether they had seen any survivors of the two officers and eight enlisted men aboard the bomber when she took off from here for the naval air station at Quonset, Point, L. I.

The wreckage was sighted about two miles east of Great Machipongo inlet, off Hog Island, Cape Charles, Va.

Rabbit Drive Set At Vealmoor Friday

A second rabbit drive for this area has been scheduled for Friday at Vealmoor, it was announced Tuesday.

Plans call for launching the drive at 9 a. m. and for a free barbecue luncheon at noon. As many who can were urged to come and bring their shotguns. Congregation place will be the Vealmoor community. Most of the hunting will be over pasture country.

Allis-Chalmers Runs; Steel Strike Averted

Associated Press The Allis-Chalmers factory at Milwaukee swung back into production of vitally needed military and naval orders today, while the United States Steel corporation's gigantic plants functioned normally after the CIO withdrew an order which would have stopped work at midnight.

Some 400,000 soft coal miners remained idle, however, as a result of a snag in negotiating over a new labor contract.

To make up for time lost during a 76-day strike, the Allis-Chalmers plant went on a 24-hour-a-day basis so the $45,000,000 worth of defense orders could be expedited.

The threatened walkout at 69 plants of U. S. Steel was averted by an agreement between CIO steel workers and the management to continue, until April 15, currently deadlocked negotiations for a new contract. Union demands include wage increases, union shop and dues check-off.

An AFL machinists strike in the San Francisco area called yesterday to enforce wage demands, closed about 50 plants and projects involving an estimated $7,000,000 in national defense contracts. That total, estimated by Max Lowe, secretary of the California Metal Trades association, included a $2,500,000 naval supply depot being built at Oakland, Calif.

Other strikes for higher wages were in progress at the Lukens Steel company, Coatsville, Pa., Phelps-Dodge Copper Corp., Ellensburg, N. J., and the Harris-Seybold Potter company, Cleveland machinery factory.

DETROIT, April 8 (AP)—Philp Murray, president of the CIO, came here unheralded today and went into immediate conference with representatives of the Ford Motor company, whose giant River Rouge plant has been closed by a United Automobile Workers-CIO strike for nearly a week.

Whether his arrival on the strike scene presaged an imminent settlement of the strike that has affected approximately 200,000 workers, directly and indirectly, was not disclosed.

It was the first time in the company's 38 year history that its representatives had met with a union official to discuss its labor policies or problems.

RAF Bombs Kiel Docks

LONDON, April 8 (AP)—British bombers raided Kiel for five hours last night, raining "hundreds of tons of very powerful bombs" on its submarine building yards and docks, the air ministry announced today.

Attacks on the ports of Bremerhaven and Emden last night and daylight raids on objectives in Denmark and the low countries also were reported.

Spotting their targets in bright moonlight, German bombers spanned the British Isles last night, blasting many scattered points in England, Scotland and northern Ireland.

The moonlight also aided the RAF night fighters over the home land, and five Nazi raiders were reported shot down.

Nine persons were killed in northern Ireland's first sustained air raid of the war. Britain's northern Irish allies had experienced sporadic raids before, but last night the Luftwaffe struck at an unidentified town at midnight and unloaded bombs for more than an hour.

(Northern Ireland, whose capital is Belfast, is separate from Ireland, capital Dublin, which is pursuing a policy of neutrality in the war.)

Mahon Asks Speed-Up Of Defense Work

Pointed demands for action instead of investigations regarding the slow-up of the national defense program drew applause in congress recently when made by Congressman George Mahon, representative of the 19th Texas district.

Mahon was speaking in behalf of the $4,000,000,000 additional defense fund, which he favored, and declared that the time was now here when action was imperative.

Said he: "I think the appropriation is in the public interest and I am for it, and I am for such taxes as may be necessary to raise all or part of that sum. However, I share the view of the overwhelming majority of the members of this congress when I say that I want this money spent right and without waste or graft, and spent promptly for the defense of this country."

"I believe the American people are tired of having their pleas for action in regard to the slow-up of the national defense answered with the statement that the situation is being investigated. The patience of the people is about exhausted. What the people of this nation want is action—and action right now."

"I say that this hold-up of our national defense is nothing short of an outrage against the public welfare of our nation. I hope the mediation board will act, and I hope the president will act and act with increasing firmness and promptitude. As for myself, I am ready for the congress to supplement investigation with action—and action now—for the defense of our country."

"In my opinion, the overwhelming majority of the laboring people, in both the organized and unorganized groups, share the views which I have expressed."

Dr. Frank Boyle's Father Succumbs

Dr. Frank E. Boyle of Big Spring, now serving in the Army medical corps at Fort Bliss, visited in Big Spring over the weekend enroute from Dallas, where he attended the funeral of his father, back to Fort Bliss.

James Frank Boyle, the local man's father, died in Dallas last Wednesday and was buried Friday.

Dr. Boyle was one of the examining physicians for selective service inductees before being called to active service with the army about a month ago. He was commissioned a first lieutenant.

E. P. Price of Lubbock, consulting engineer, is now drawing up detailed specifications of the lines and preparing to stake out the project.

Nazis Admit Resistance Is Stubborn

Athens Sources Say German Bodies Piled High In Battlefields

By the Associated Press German armored columns were reported today to have broken through Yugoslav defenses to reach Skopje, at the head of the Vardar river valley—key route to Greece.

The Greeks themselves said they were holding firmly against the Nazi juggernaut.

Associated Press A violent battle between German and Greek troops in the hills around Nevrokopi, in northeastern Greece, was reported today to have turned in favor of the Greeks—and even Hitler's high command acknowledged "tough resistance" in the twin Balkan offensives.

The Nazi high command asserted, however, that both campaigns were "progressing effectively."

Belgrade, the capital of Yugoslavia, was fire-bombed a fifth time by the German Luftwaffe.

Athens dispatches said the Greeks were holding fast at Rupeel Pass against German armored columns attempting to smash their way to the vital Struma river valley.

German paratroopers were reported to have failed in an attempt to drop behind the Greek lines and cut communications, with 150 chuteists captured and others killed.

Greek front line dispatches told of ravines littered with German slain, smashed tanks and armored cars.

In one valley, it was said, the Greeks let the Germans advance without opposition and then cut loose with heavy artillery and machine-gun fire from the forest and pillboxes hidden on the hillsides.

The Greeks, however, apparently suffered a serious blow in the reported withdrawal of Yugoslav troops from the Balkan "hot corner" zone, exposing the Greek left flank; while on the right flank, Nazi Panzer columns knifed 50 miles south to the Aegean Sea between Greece and Turkey.

The sudden departure of the Yugoslav troops in southern Yugoslavia near the Greek and Bulgarian frontiers—was not explained.

A Greek general staff communiqué said briefly: "Yugoslav troops fighting in southern Serbia withdrew, uncovering the left flank of our troops, who were heroically fighting on the border line."

"Despite this, our soldiers continue to fight with great self sacrifice, defending the fatherland inch by inch."

Military observers said a general Yugoslav withdrawal from the sector would permit the Germans to plunge down the broad Vardar river valley, key route to Greece.

The official Turkish radio declared the Germans had lost heavily in their initial onslaughts against the Balkan allies. The radio said that if the Yugoslavs and Greeks established contact in Albania, Italy would be unable to save 10 per cent of her troops there.

An official Yugoslav report said Yugoslav troops had secured Secutari, Albania, and were driving southward in an apparent See NAZIS ADMIT, Page 8 Col. 3

36th Draws Praise From Brass Hats

CAMP BOWIE, Brownwood, April 8. (AP)—Two battle-tired old soldiers looked noncommittally at the legion of soldiers passing in review and pronounced their benediction on the famed thirty-sixth division.

It happened yesterday at the army day review of the thirty-sixth on its vast parade ground here, and one benediction was as unemotional as a soldier could make it, the other poetic as you expect of a Frenchman.

One was Brevet Lieut. Gen. John A. Hulen, the stocky, white-haired man who fought with, reorganized and commanded the division for many years ending in 1935.

He said: "The thirty-sixth division is the finest in the U. S. why shouldn't it be? Those boys are fine stock, they have been absorbed into a division which has been continuously trained since 1920. And most of all they have the spirit and comradeship which makes the difference between a good and a fine army."

The other man was Chaplain Marius Chastaignon, whose rank as Lieutenant colonel makes him chief of all the division's chaplains. He once served with the French army before the great war, came to America and became a citizen and joined the thirty-sixth when the U. S. plunged into the struggle.

He is the one man in the division who served on the division staff in 1917 and now.

His sentiments on the review: "The thirty-sixth division of 1941 carries on the glorious traditions of the battle-scarred thirty-sixth of 1918—Texas men stand ready."

He expressed concern that the "terrible situation we are facing" has not soaked into the thoughts and emotions of ordinary Americans. By rough estimate there were no more than six or seven thousand persons watching the thrilling review. That, to General Hulen, was not a good thing because four or five times that many could have watched and didn't. It meant, he suggested, that Texans and Americans are taking the world of 1941 too casually.

Selective Service Appeals Rules Are Made More Liberal

Howard county selective service board has received notice from state headquarters that selective service rules regarding appeals are being liberalized.

"Congress recognized the fact that local boards are not infallible in their classification of men," the notice said, "and has provided that individual rights be protected. Time limit for presidential appeals has been extended from five to 10 days. Formerly, presidential appeals were made only on the issue of dependency. Now, the state director can forward to the president any sort of appeal from the regular appeals board decisions.

Local boards are urged to explain fully to each draftee his appeal rights under the law.

Playing With Fire? Well, hardly, for these young men are learning to work with it as they put into practice instructions in welding as afforded in the national defense class sponsored by the Big Spring Independent school district in cooperation with the vocational education unit of the state department of education and the federal government. Left, two NYA enrollees meticulously practice on patch work while (right) several gather around while one uses the acetylene torch to cut cut sheet steel for the work. There are three classes offered, those for NYA lads, those out-of-school youths, and for experienced men taking a "refresher" course. (Ferry Photos)

Welding Course At High School Meet Two Purposes

They call it national defense—but these welding classes going on at the high school constitute a double-edged educational program.

First of all it is for national defense, and that's how come the Big Spring Independent school district set it up in cooperation with the state education department division of vocational education and the federal government.

Those who profit by the training conceivably—and some certainly—would constitute a back log in the defense industry labor supply. Welding is pretty important in a number of industries linked vitally with defense operations.

Too, the program has the added advantage of practical education—the time-tested process of learning by doing. In this is the real strength for the youths who are participating in the classes.

Right now more than 170 individuals are being touched by the program. Of this number, by far the largest group is those composed of men with welding or machine experience, or those taking the work as a "refresher" course. Ninety-six men are in this group, and 55 more are on the waiting list.

Next is the National Youth Administration group with 46 lads enrolled. Virtually every boy in the NYA center here is taking the course, half of them coming for a morning session from 6 a. m. to noon, and the others from noon on.

In addition to these there are 30 out-of-school youths in another section, and 15 more young men are on the waiting list.

What goes on in these classes is just what one would expect. There are lecture periods for the theory of welding, followed by shop sessions when the theory is translated into practice.

In the elementary courses, youths are told how to light a torch, how to regulate it, how to roll their rope (welding rods), how to keep uniform heat over the surface to be welded, etc. Then they actually regulate it, select the rod with correct carbide content to fuse with the metal to be worked upon, and then practice welding.

Maybe it looks good, but a thudding lick with a sledge may break it loose on one side, or both, or in zig-zag pattern, revealing faulty workmanship beneath what looked to be a good job.

Right now most of it is acetylene welding equipment, which includes six sets or 12 torches off two generators. Equipment is being added for electrical welding so that those who finish the course will have experience in modern welding methods with modern equipment.

Instructors are E. R. Bumpass for the NYA, L. M. Gary for out-of-school youth, J. A. Magee, Roy Lamerter, and W. W. Hageman for the supplementary or refresher group.

Nor is the work restricted to welding, for Gene Gardner is carrying on a program for Mexican boys in Americanization work which includes wood work, leather work of all types, certain crafts, ornamental metal work, etc. R. R. (Dick) Hooper is instructing a radio course at the NYA center.

Farm Leader Asks Repeal Of Chain Store Tax

AUSTIN, April 8.—The state affairs committee of the Texas senate is considering a proposal to repeal the chain store tax, which has already been reported favorably by the house committee on revenue and taxation.

The proposal is in the form of an amendment to the omnibus bill, which has already passed the lower house.

One of the principal witnesses heard was J. H. West of Bishop, secretary-treasurer of the Texas Farm Bureau Federation, who credited the chains with having lowered the cost of distribution, and reduced the spread between what the producer gets and what the consumer pays.

West, recalling that the Texas Farm Bureau Federation and the American Farm Bureau Federation are both on record as against punitive and discriminatory taxes of this kind, testified that the chains had frequently come to the rescue of Texas farmers in special drives to sell surpluses.

Colorado Youth Healthy WALSBERG, Colo.—Out of 76 draftees and volunteers in Huerfano county only one has been rejected for physical disability. Also only one appeal of a ruling of the local board has been made in the country.

British Sea Losses Hit 1941 Peak

LONDON, April 8. (AP)—Failure of overseas ships to turn up sent British allied and neutral shipping losses for two of the past five weeks to approximately 150,000 tons each—heaviest toll of 1941 in the battle of the Atlantic—authoritative sources declared today.

The average weekly loss of shipping during March was placed by the admiralty at 86,000 tons.

Amended losses for the week ended March 2 listed 30 ships totaling 150,700 tons—the biggest loss of any week this year. For the week ended March 16 amended losses were given as 27 ships of 146,000 tons.

Losses declined during the week ended March 23 to 17 ships aggregating 59,141 tons, the admiralty report said, and went up again following week to 20 ships of 77,575 tons.

In announcing the latest losses an authoritative source declared the battle of the Atlantic "may well decide the result of the war."

This source said the battle "must continue over a period of months with considerable sacrifice and endurance by merchant seamen and the royal navy" and added "we must not underestimate this immensely difficult problem."

Draftees Offered Jobs In Air Corps

According to notice received by the Howard county selective service board and Sgt. Troy Gibson, army recruiting officer, opportunity is being opened to men serving one-year selective service period, or in line for induction to such service to join the army air corps.

Positions are open for both flying cadets and ground crew services in the air corps, due to the expanded program which calls for training of 30,000 flying cadets and 110,000 other air corps members each year.

Men qualifying for air corps positions for three-year enlistments will immediately be relieved of selective service obligations.

Hogan Fits Next U. S. Golf Titlists Description

AUGUSTA, Ga., April 8 (AP)—He can't tell you the next U. S. open golf champion—but Fred Corcoran, tournament manager of the Professional Golfers' Association will give you odds it'll be a pro about 28 years old; perhaps 27.

Who are the best bets at Fort Worth, come next June 5? Well, says Corcoran, little Ben Hogan, 25-year-old Hershey, Pa., professional, is as good as any. He's the year's leading money-winner, and finished fourth in the Augusta Masters. Sam Snead of Hot Springs, Va., is 29; Jimmy Demaret of Noroton, Conn., former Masters' winner, is 30; and Nelson is now 29. Another comer is Clayton Hearner, 25, of Linville, N. C.

Twenty-seven has been the lucky number five times in the last two decades. And the average age of winners over the 20-year period has been a fraction over 28.

Johnny Farrell, back in 1928, was the first of the five 27's to win the open. The next year it was amateur Bobby Jones, winning his second open. In 1935 Sam Parks came home ahead; in 1938 it was Ralph Guldahl for the second time in a row, and 1939, Byron Nelson.

"The winners are older now than they used to be," said Corcoran. "That is, you don't see any Sarason winning at the age of 20, or Jones at the age of 21.

"But at that, the average age was only a half-year younger in the 'twenties than in the 'thirties. Willie MacFarlane was 25 when he won in 1925, and Tommy Armour was 22 when he became open champion in 1927.

"There's been only seven years difference in ages in the last ten years, compared to a span of 15 in the 'twenties. Johnny Goodman was the youngest. He was 25 when he won the open in 1933. Olin Dutra was the oldest—32—in 1934.

"Guldahl was 26 when he won the championship the first time in 1937; Lawson Little was 30 last year."

NYA Downs Herald, ABC Edges Lions In Opening Round Of Softball Loops

Major Clubs Postpone This Week's Games

This week's major league games have been postponed because of unpreparedness of some of the teams in the circuit, Malcolm Bridges, director of the organization announced Tuesday morning.

The schedule will remain as it is with all games missed to be made up next week when teams will double up on their engagements.

Minor league softballers came out of their wraps Monday night and when the lights at city park were finally turned off NYA's B team had shelled a Herald crew to the tune of 21 to 15 and the American Business club had edged out the Lions club, 21 to 20.

Herald's nine looked up-and-coming for the first three innings and had the tussle closed then would have walked away with the honors—but, time and wind told and the NYA lads closed out the season without being seriously threatened.

In the curtain dropper, ABC and the Lions turned in a thrill-packed show. Just to get both clubs in the right mood, the Lions' heavy-hitters sent the ball whizzing around the ears of ABC Pitcher Durward Carmel, racking up ten runs in the first inning. From there on out the struggle developed into a nip-and-tuck affair with the ABCers knocking in the winning run in the final stanza.

First-baseman Malcolm Bridges, ABC, chalked up five runs to take the scoring lead for the night. N. Stanley, Lions hurler, came through with four runs for his side of the ledger.

Summary—NYA vs Herald—batteries—Tyree, McComb, Glenn, Reagan, Powell, Barrett; two base hits—Vaughn (Herald), Allen and Fleming (NYA); three base hits—Dunlap and Tames (Herald); home runs—Costan and Pickle (Herald).

Bombers Engage Lamesa Loboes Here Wednesday

After demolishing a fairly potent crew of Texon Oilers last Sunday with a 9 to 1 count, Big Spring's Bombers clear the Robert Field decks for action Wednesday for another warmup game—this time with Sam Sealing's Lamesa Loboes. If pre-season dope can be trusted, the Bombers are holding a slight edge over the Lamesans, but where Lamesa is concerned information is so much water over the dam.

Lamesa is honed up for a first-class record in the West Texas-New Mexico league and is taking steps toward a powerhouse club. As yet, the Lobo roster is untried but Sealing is reported to have met with a fair measure of luck in rounding up a fast-moving club.

In regard to the Big Springers—say that Prexy Tink Riviere and Manager Jodie Tate are pleased to be putting it lightly, Sunday's affray with the Oilers brought out that the Bombers had a number one pitching staff and infield. Bomber outfielders are still something of an unknown quantity—but because they failed to show much in their first engagement—they didn't have any call to do so, since the Oilers had difficulty lining out the ball through an airtight infield.

Wednesday's performance will give the Big Spring club its second workout since it started on its pre-season rounds. Currently, the Bombers have seven more tilts to get under their belts before the loop starts rolling.

Lamesa is coming out of its corner for the first time in 1941. Last year, Tate handled the show at Lamesa and did so in such a like-like manner that some of the more ardent Lamesa fans are looking forward to seeing his scalp hanging on the Lobo lodge pole.

Lamesa's followers will be out for blood, the Loboes will be up to make a good showing, and the Big Springers will attempt to maintain their one-game record, therefore, Wednesday's performance is slated to be up to mid-season standards so far as fire is concerned.

WT Golf Tilts Begin May 15 In S'water

The 17th annual West Texas Golf tournament will get underway at Sweetwater on Thursday, May 15th, with as many flights of 32 each as entries justify. H. M. Rogers, general chairman announced today.

Because of its central location, this year's tournament is expected to draw a large list of entries and prizes will be awarded to medalist, to the winners and runners-up in each flight, and to the winners in each consolation flight, Rogers said.

The Sweetwater course is considered a very sporty course since it crosses the 22-mile shoreline of Lake Sweetwater several times. It is an 18-hole course with grass greens. All cards must be in the hands of the pairing committee by 5:30 p. m. Thursday evening.

The stag dinner is scheduled for 7:30 p. m. Thursday and the long-driving contest will be held at 5:30 p. m. Friday, Rogers explained.

Law of 1671 enforced—MELBOURNE, Australia.—Patrick Hartney was tried under a 1671 act of the time of Charles II. It was charged that he did "publicly expose to sale goods, to wit, cream, upon the Lord's day." He was found guilty and the court ordered him to forfeit the cream and pay the costs of the trial.

First Tarpon Of Season Hits Gaff At Port Aransas

Associated Press
News from Port Aransas that the first tarpon of 1941 has been brought to gaff lured the minds of many Texans away from the war Tuesday.

The first tarpon of the year signals the opening of the Gulf coast's game fishing season.

To a great many anglers tarpon are merely incidental thousands of sportsmen had rather sit on the docks and catch something they can eat. But the tarpon—grim, courageous, and wise in the ways of getting rid of a hook, once on the line—is symbolic.

Contrary to what a great many persons think, it doesn't cost so much to catch a tarpon.

"If they are 'in'—that is, if the annual run has started and the silver kings are feeding close to the entrances of harbors—you can get a boat and a good guide for half a day and not spend much more than a good pair of theatre tickets would cost.

Once you have tangled with a tarpon, chances are you won't care whether you ever buy another theatre ticket.

You get hold of the tarpon, and he gets hold of you. There follows a tussle which comes very close to being hard work. The tarpon strikes savagely at the muller you offer. He strikes in good faith; he believes it is something to eat.

When he finds the joker hanging into his cartilaginous jaw it infuriates him. Ask any man who has bought a gold brick how it feels to be fooled. The tarpon takes out, screaming through the water in the general direction of Yucatan. En route he leaps, may-be a dozen times, flinging his body five or six feet out of the water and shaking his head angrily in an effort to fling the hook.

Most of the time he succeeds. A very small percentage of the tarpon that are hooked are ever brought to gaff, except by those who really know how. Veteran salt water anglers know how to control a tarpon, as far as he can be controlled, but even they lose a great many.

That's what keeps the tarpon fisherman coming back for more.

Louis Opposed By Ex Grocery Boy Tonight

ST. LOUIS, April 8 (AP)—Everything else having failed, a former grocery boy has been drafted to oppose heavyweight champion Joe Louis tonight.

Tony Musto, a Chicago Italian as short and stubby as a crew haircut, is championship target No. 16 in the parade of fistic talent that has included fat men, skinny men, clowns and even an orthodox pugilist or two in Louis' stop-a-month tour of the country.

Musto, who graduated from delivery boy to steel pudger before turning fighter, will be one of the few persons among the 30,000 expected to jam the arena who thinks he will subdue Louis.

Few bets are available that the scrap will go beyond five rounds—and that curfew is forecast with Musto flat on his back.

Despite the anticipated outcome, Mike Jacobs, New York promoter and shepherd of the Louis interest, thumbed through $38,000 in advance sales and predicted the total receipts would be $55,000.

The only thing that distinguishes this stop on the Louis tour is that the champion encounters a foe who fights naturally from a crouch. Except for Tony Galento and Al McCoy, who adopted the underling style for a night, Louis has tangled only with upright young men. Arturo Godoy, the South American dancer, and rugged Red Burman unsuccessfully offered techniques approximating that of Musto.

And Musto has had both of these on the floor in his 39 previous bouts.

Another disadvantage which isn't expected to disturb Louis in the least is the challenger's short stature. Standing upright, Musto measures 5 feet 7 inches which is six inches less than Louis. Folded into his fighting pose, the Italian scratches his nose on the champion's belt.

Both the gladiators ended a 48-hour hibernation at noon today for the weighing-in ceremonies. Despite his fire-plug blue prints Musto probably will weigh within five pounds of Louis, 198 to 203.

Best For All Concerned—

Rickey Defends Card's Farm Chain

NEW ORLEANS, April 8 (AP)—Branch Rickey, daddy of the much criticized baseball farm chain, defended his offspring today with facts, figures and a declaration that "the best way for a young ball player to get to the big leagues is to join the St. Louis Cardinal system."

Here visiting the New Orleans Southern association link in the chain, the St. Louis general manager er said the Cards "put more players in the majors last year than all other 15 big league clubs combined."

"About 60 men now in the big leagues came from our farms," he said, "besides all our own men. I doubt if any other chain has a dozen men on other clubs."

He sat in the stands, keeping up a fire of comment on the individual characteristics of the New Orleans players. When a hearer expressed surprise that he should know rookies on his minor league teams so well, the outspoken Cardinal boss replied:

"It's my business to know them. When one of them has something I want to know it. And he'll go to the top."

"We not only can get a boy to the majors quickly but we have five big minor league clubs—Sacramento, Rochester and Columbus, O., in Class AA and New Orleans and Houston in Class A1. Those offer opportunities along the way."

"The chains saved the minors, and thereby saved baseball. We carried them through the depression. And when we go into a league we don't look for the best team, but for the strategic one—the one that carries the league."

"We help the players, give the fans better baseball, and help the minor leagues, and people point the finger of scorn at us."

S'West Baseball Clubs In Nip-And-Tuck Battle

By Associated Press
Coach Bill Falk of the University of Texas Longhorns commented yesterday on the well-balanced field battling for the Southwest conference baseball championship, this stop on the Louis tour is that the champion encounters a foe who fights naturally from a crouch.

The Longhorns lost their first conference tilt of the season to Brooks Atchison and the Southern Methodist university Mustangs to make the race a wide-open affair.

Texas still leads with four victories and one defeat but the S-M U. pitched three teams right back into the big middle of things.

S. M. U. has lost two, Baylor two and Texas A. and M. one.

"It's the best-balanced race in years," Falk said, declaring his team was not as strong as usual and all the others were better.

"What we need is high school baseball on an organized basis to feed us some prospects," asserted Falk, the ex-big leaguer who took the place of ailing Billy Ditch as coach of the Longhorns.

"We get too few boys who know anything about baseball. If they would operate baseball in the high schools—abandoned by many schools during the depression and not resumed—you would see these college teams start going places."

Atchison shaded Mel Deutch's first defeat at the hands of a college team since going to Texas. This is his last season and he is due to go to a major league club when he finishes.

The next conference game is tomorrow when Texas Christian university plays Rice at Fort Worth.

Rural Workers Urged To Sign Up With TSES

Rural and small-town workers are urged to register with the nearest Texas state employment service office or with a traveling representative of the service to assure a complete listing of those persons available for labor in defense industries.

O. R. Rodden, manager of the Big Spring TSES office, calls attention of rural workers to the fact that there are part-time offices in smaller communities of this area where traveling representatives make regular calls.

These include Lamasa, where a TSES man is in the courthouse each Wednesday from 8 until 10:30 a. m. Borden and Glasscock county residents may call at the Big Spring office.

Farm workers are urged to register, as well as those in commercial and industrial lines. Registration with the employment service office puts the worker in line for any job for which he is qualified which may open up.

With more defense industries coming to Texas in the future, it is expected that heavy demands for labor will be made.

Legislature Approves Act To Validate Knott School District

Validating of the Knott independent county-line school district has been accomplished in a bill which became law when Governor W. Lee O'Daniel sent it to the secretary of state without his signature.

Judge H. R. Debenport, who wrote the bill, said he had been advised of its enactment. It is written as a general law and is retroactive to validate all aspects of the district operation.

The measure, briefly, empowers county trustees of counties in which lies a portion of a given county-line independent school district to alter boundaries of the district to include territory from a contiguous common school district lying within the counties affected.

This covers the situation which existed between Garner and Ackery county-line districts, and the Soash common school district lying in the hollow of a horseshoe formed by the two other districts.

The difficulty arose when the north half of the Soash district voted to consolidate with Ackery and the south half with Knott. Later an injunction was filed, but subsequently dismissed. Still, validity of the district was questioned.

The bill, however, settles this point and provides that tax levies previously made by the district are legal, that trustees be qualified to function for the district with full power until successors be chosen, that bond status be unaffected. Immediate result is to give Garner more than 100 square miles of territory, solving a troublesome transportation problem. Also, a few hundred of delinquent tax payments held up in other counties pending validation has been turned over to Knott.

County trustees of Dawson, Martin, Borden and Howard county participated in the division of the Soash district because Ackery lies in Dawson, Martin and Borden, and Knott and Soash in Howard and Martin counties.

John G. Winant, Ambassador To England, Visited, Transacted Business In Big Spring

By RAY DAVIDSON
John G. Winant, the United States' new ambassador to Great Britain, would be as much at home here as he would in London where he's now serving, for in former years he visited here frequently in looking after all interests in the Howard-Glasscock pool.

Perhaps the Big Spring resident best acquainted with the New Hampshire politician is R. T. Piner, active vice president of the First National bank, who had considerable business dealings with Winant and his partner, Arthur J. Coyle.

Coyle and Winant in the 1920's formed the Coyle-Concord Oil company and operated in the Mexia field during its development.

Then, in March, 1927, when limits of the Howard-Glasscock pool began to shape up, Coyle came to Big Spring to buy leases.

He contacted Piner, who showed him several tracts of land from the Dora Roberts ranch.

He agreed to purchase several leases, and in a few days wired money to Big Spring in payment.

Piner recalls this as a rather unusual procedure, since it was usually necessary only to mail a draft to the lease buyers' bank.

During the next three or four years, during which Coyle and Winant operated in the field, both visited Big Spring several times. Winant visited in the Piner home on several occasions.

This all came after Winant's service as republican governor of New Hampshire, so he was familiarly known as "Governor." He showed an interest in Texas politics, and once asked Piner if there were any republicans in Texas.

"Why, sure, Governor," replied the banker. "There are a few—mostly cottonpickers." Winant caught the inference to negroes, and was considerably amused.

Piner describes Winant much as current news dispatches and magazine articles picture him—homespun, sharp-witted, a bit awkward, liberal in politics, and modest.

On one occasion, while both Piner and Winant were in Fort Worth for an oil proration hearing, Winant asked the local banker to ride out to Big Spring with him.

"What kind of a car do you have?" the Big Spring man asked.

The New Englander grinned shyly: "A Rolls."

"A Rolls-Royce," admitted the unassuming Winant.

"Oh, I'll just return in my Ford," said Piner. "You might have a breakdown and find spare parts hard to secure." After Winant had laughed heartily, Piner explained his real reason for being unable to make the trip with the New Hampshire man.

The business partnership between Coyle and Winant probably had its beginning in the World war. At that time Coyle was a captain in the air corps and commander of the first American aerial squadron to fight in France. Members of the squadron included Winant, the famed Eddie Rickenbacker, and Bill Irvin, who was lost at sea in a plane in the 1920's.

Coyle now lives in San Antonio.

FSA Lends More Money Than Usual

The Big Spring office of Farm Security administration is doing a heavy volume of business this year, according to Dr. D. Kindrick, rural supervisor.

Loans are both more numerous and larger than in previous years. Already more than 90 standard loans have been made for 1941, and the staff is working on 21 more.

Loans are averaging near $1,000 each, 57 loans having amounted to $49,586 in up to April 1.

These standard loans cover purchase of equipment and stock, operating expenses, payments of old debts and virtually all other costs of farm operation for the year.

Prior to April 1, 1941 loans had been made to 15 new and 15 old borrowers in Howard county for a total of $28,432, to 17 new and 6 old borrowers in Martin county for $21,898.96, and to three old borrowers in Glasscock county for $2,573.

Safety Week To Be Observed Here April 28-May 3

Safety Week is to be observed in Big Spring April 28 to May 3, the Big Spring Safety council voted at its regular monthly meeting Monday evening.

Tentative plans call for a number of observances, including participation by Boy Scouts under the supervision of Stanley A. Mate, field executive, a parade on April 30, special window displays, special announcement at various organizations and institutions including churches.

For the parade, efforts will be made to enlist a bicycle brigade, said Roy Reeder, council president, along with the high school band and floats by various organizations.

The entire week, he said, would be devoted to building a safety consciousness among people of this area, whether it be traffic or home and work safety.

Mrs. Theodora M. Jones, 600 North Taylor Street, Amarillo, says: "I was bothered with stomach trouble for five years. Gas would form and my stomach would be bloated and there was gas pressure around my heart. I lived on nothing but goat's milk. I was very emic. My feet and legs would swell.

"After taking Hoyt's my stomach is improved, gas and bloating disappeared. I can eat and have a good appetite. My limbs quit swelling. I have regained my strength and my nerves are quiet."

Hoyt's Compound is recommended and sold by the Collins Bros. Drug Store and by all druggists in this section. (Adv.)

Flashes Of Life-

Milwaukee—Love may be blind, but Judge Harvey L. Neelen believes a 15-minute courtship is no excuse for running through a traffic light.

When Richard Lawrence, 33, a Detroit truck driver, appeared before Judge Neelen on a charge of passing a red light he explained that he and Dorothy Gerber, 19, Hammond, Ind., met, fell in love and became engaged—all within 15 minutes after he gave her a "lift" in his truck.

"I didn't see the light at all," Lawrence said.

"I don't approve of your rapid courtship," said the judge. "Five dollars and costs."

Oscar's four pals brought $4.65. Oscar, with his weakness of wood, was sold down the river for 35 cents.

Axis Forces Occupy Derna

ROME, April 8 (AP)—An official announcement said today that Italian and German troops had occupied the Libyan port of Derna.

Derna is approximately 175 miles east of Benghazi, from which the British withdrew last week. A deep water port, it had been held by British forces since Jan. 30.

The town is of strategic importance because it possesses large fresh water supplies vital to desert fighting.

The combined German-Italian drive to recover eastern Libya began approximately two weeks ago with the seizure of El Agheila, some 120 miles south of Benghazi. The British announced the withdrawal of their outpost detail from the city March 26. Benghazi later fell.

At least parts of three German divisions have been reported helping the Italians.

Local Man Starts Fund For Aid Of Yugoslavia

Yugoslavia, latest of the small countries to be invaded, has won the sympathy and support of at least one local man who came forward Monday with a $10 contribution for relief purposes in that country.

In addition, he gave a like amount to the Greek Relief fund.

He preferred to remain anonymous, but said: "Any of us ought to be willing to give almost anything we have to those people. If I was younger and without a family, I expect I would go and try to help them."

A native of the Balkan area, he was primarily interested in the Yugoslavia. He wanted to give $10 to them. Informed that so far as The Herald knew there was no national fund for the Yugoslavia, he insisted on giving anyway.

"Well," he declared, "let's start a fund. Why not?"

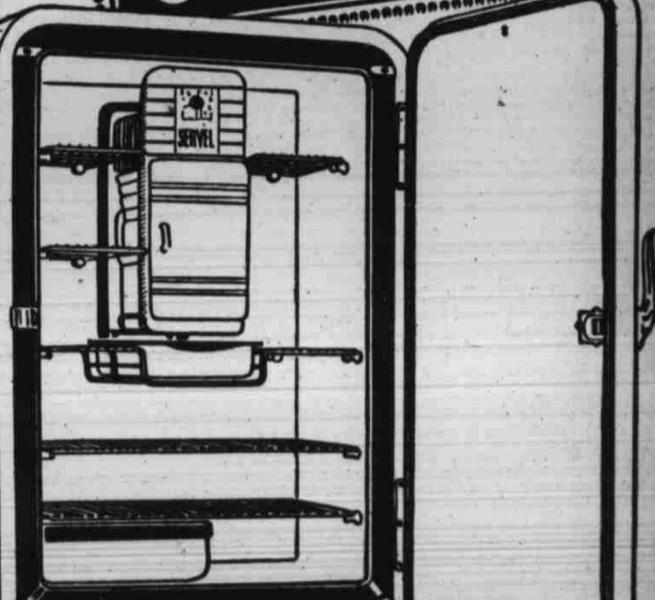

So anyone else who feels the same way can make donations through The Herald, with assurance that every penny given will go to the proper organizations at the proper time. Already $50 has been sent to the National Greek Relief fund, and almost that much is ready to go.

Work Of Mothers Important In Future Development Of Nation

Big Spring is singularly honored by the presence of hundreds of mothers in the city for the 20th annual convention of the sixth district of the Texas Parents Congress.

The conference here is significant in a number of respects, but particularly because the preponderance of those participating are mothers whose interest in their children is evidenced by their participation in the various P-T-A units of this area.

Under which we could live as we are accustomed and as free souls have the right to live. Because mothers are the central stabilizing factor in the first institution ordained by God, they have an opportunity equalled by none in contributing a great service to the nation and the world.

Hollywood Sights And Sounds—

'Do-It-Alls' Get Plaudits Of Present Day

By ROBBIN COONS HOLLYWOOD — It's discouraging that's what it is. A plain, old-fashioned genius hardly gets a nod any more. Nobody grants him even one awe-struck "colossal." Nobody points him out on the street, practically nobody asks for his autograph.

Welles, they say, contributed so much to so many departments of "Citizen Kane" that his fingers itched when he saw the janitor get his broom to sweep out the stage.

John Ford are others who invariably get a finger in the script pie. Gregory Ratoff not only writes but acts and directs as well. Ben Hecht, usually content to write, joined the three-way genius ranks (writer-producer-director) with "Angels Over Broadway."

Also And Kintner—

U. S. A. CAN AID BRITISH SHIPPING FOUR WAYS

By ALSOP AND KINTNER WASHINGTON, April 8 — If the signs do not deceive, the crucial shipping situation will first be treated with palliative measures, and conveying will only be ordered as a last resort.

There are rumors, for instance, of small, quickly improvised aircraft carriers, to carry long range pursuit. These will patrol the air above the convoys and pick off the big Focke-Wulf bombers the Germans are using to spot convoys for their submarine "wolf packs."

Small anti-submarine craft have already been released, and the chances are pretty good that a compromise number of destroyers—say twenty or thereabouts—will also be handed over.

Man About Manhattan—

Orson Welles Is As Likeable As A Hard Slap In The Face

By GEORGE TUCKER NEW YORK—I read in the late edition of a New York newspaper last evening that young Mr. Orson Welles certainly had a "flair" for the unusual in his theatrical adventures.

Very few people take Mr. Welles casually. You either admire him or detest him. When his Marlon broadcast hoodwinked a lot of people several years ago, he made a passel of enemies. He made enemies in Hollywood and on Broadway and on the air, for he is all things to all forms of artistic expression, including acting, orating, writing, directing, criticizing, and soothsaying.

Life's Darkest Moment

His last hand in New York is to be seen in the stage dramatization of the novel "Native Son." As usual, there is a wide and sometimes violent difference of opinion as to the merits of this play. Most of the critics gave it strong approval. One makes the unqualified statement that Welles is a "genius."

Temperance Worker Scores 'Booze And Tobacco Trusts'

How long are Americans going to stand for the onslaught of the character destroyers, the booze and tobacco trusts?

The tobacco trust spent more than fifty million dollars to get the girls to smoke. But they put it over.

The booze trust first invaded the drug stores. Then the restaurants. Then the department stores. When can one trade nowadays and not put money into the pockets of the booze ring?

Their next move seems to be to corrupt the Boy Scouts. Are Americans going to let them put this over too? The time has come for all loyal Boy Scouts everywhere to stage a sit-down strike and sit down at home until the matter is definitely settled that no drinker or booze merchant can belong to the Boy Scouts or act on any of their committees.

Some of the lodges which used to expel a member for drinking now buy booze by the case and keep it on tap in the back room. And the better members are dropping out by the thousands. Oh, that the Boy Scouts might see the handwriting on the wall. If booze gets a toe-hold on the Boy Scouts the best parents will turn thumbs down on the organization and it will fade out. The original intention of the Boy Scouts was to band together clean boys who will not drink, smoke, or swear. Knock these props out and down they go, as surely as a tent falls when the poles break.—By E. A. Blakeley. (Submitted by and published at the request of the W. C. T. U.)

Game Dept. Under Fire

AUSTIN, April 8 (AP)—Allegations the state game department had wasted public funds resounded in the ears of a senate committee today as the legislature, with the house back in harness, neared the three-quarter mark of the regular session.

After the quietest Monday in several weeks, both branches prepared for accelerated action. The house took yesterday off to participate in Army Day activities at Camp Bowie.

The waste charges were hurled as the upper chamber's finance body began consideration of the departmental appropriations bill. The group was expected to complete the job Wednesday.

Publication of magazines in the game, fish and oyster commission, was assailed by Sen. R. C. Lanning of Jacksboro, who declared the practice should be stopped.

"If there ever was a department throwing away the people's money, this is it," Sen. Karl Lovelsay of Meridian asserted.

Objections raised on the department's visual education program were protested by Sen. Clem Fain of Livingston, who declared wildlife pictures in the program had drawn large crowds in his district.

disc did not add to the brightness of the room, but instead seemed dimmed by the heavy paneling and the smell of mustiness that still lingered there.

Yet they were apparently a very bright and gay company. Mrs. Marbury was frankly overjoyed at Gina's interest in the place, and although Eve suspected the girl might lose interest just as quickly, she knew that for the first time Gina's enthusiasm for restoring an old house had been aroused. Julie was calm with the thought that the whole expedition would be over by the next day.

Julie had, however, surprised the lawyer and Jim Drolgaard, with their heads together, standing just inside the long windows on the second floor. Mr. Howe had said softly, but with an urgent note in his voice:

"You spoke to the pilot — you are sure he understood you?"

"Of course he understood me," Drolgaard replied impatiently. "I told him just what you said."

"That's all right then."

They had turned from the window, and, although she could not understand why, it seemed to Julie that the lawyer was upset to find her standing so close to them.

But it might have been the light — of course. Darkness was just beginning to shroud the place in an eerie gloom, and the one dim oil lamp in the circular hall below threw odd shadows on the wall.

Looking at Mr. Howe as he sat at the table, appreciatively sipping the wine that Mrs. Jackson had brought from the cellar, she thought how foolish her imagination had been.

Naturally, the lawyer wanted the pilot to know exactly when to come for them; after all, he was responsible for Mrs. Marbury and her niece, in a way. At least Theodore Marbury would probably make it difficult for him, if anything unpleasant happened.

She felt better, after that.

US Navy Dept. To Form Liaison With British

WASHINGTON, April 8 (AP)—Secretary Knox announced today that James Forrestal, under-secretary of the navy was leaving for England for a visit of about two weeks "to establish a close liaison between the Navy Department and the British Admiralty on matters arising under the lend-lease program."

Knox said that the department was handling purchases of material in this country for the British navy under the lend-lease program and also would undertake repairs to British war vessels.

Efforts are being made as rapidly as possible to establish a suitable uniformity in naval equipment," he said in a statement, adding that the purpose was to expedite purchases and repairs.

Forrestal is the latest of a growing number of government officials and other representatives of the administration to undertake personal missions to England.

The Greeks reported their defense positions were being bolstered by a steady stream of British imperial forces—including veterans from Gen. Sir Archibald P. Wavell's army of the Nile—but admitted the loss of two forts under the smashing impact of German Panzer forces.

Defenders of the two forts held out to the last man, the Greek high command said, and it gave this description of other Nazi assaults on Greek fortifications:

"On the high Nevrokopi plateau, the enemy managed to penetrate forts, but after fighting in subterranean galleries the attackers were defeated. The forts remained in our hands.

"Many tanks were destroyed by (Greek) gunfire.

"An officer at the head of one of our detachments entrusted with the destruction of a bridge to the north of Nevrokopi, waited until enemy tanks were crossing it before firing the charge and destroyed all the tanks."

Elsewhere, the Greeks reported their troops counter-attacked the German invaders with bayonets and, in violent hand-to-hand fighting, left German dead in heaps.

Nazi tank-led attacks seeking to smash through one of the Struma valley's narrowest defiles were reported to have been beaten back.

In Berlin, a Nazi spokesman lauded the British, declaring Germany would "have to issue a formal invitation to the British to fight" in the Balkans; but other reports said the British were already taking an active part in the land fighting in Greece.

Greek-British strategy was based on defense of the Struma river, 50 miles east of Salonika and 150 miles west of the Turkish frontier.

In the Yugoslav theatre, the Germans asserted their warplanes had left in ruins the town of Sarajevo, where the assassination of the Austria Archduke Franz Ferdinand touched off the 1914-18 World War.

Women Are Safest Pedestrians

Safety Council Head Declares

HOUSTON, April 8 (AP)—Besides being safer drivers than men, women also are "the safest, most careful and thoughtful" pedestrians, Leslie J. Sorenson, vice-president of the National Safety Council, asserted today.

Sorenson addressed the opening session of the Texas Safety conference.

The pedestrian problem is one of the most serious confronting leaders of the safety traffic drive, he said. More than 15,000 persons were killed and approximately 290,000 injured last year while "walking along the public thoroughfares of this country," he declared.

"The female walker x x x contributes only 22 per cent to the total pedestrian fatalities and 90.000 to the injured list."

A balanced program of education, engineering and enforcement is needed to reduce the toll, he asserted.

Carl J. Rutland, Dallas, president of the Texas Safety association, said in his annual report that 1,767 persons were killed in Texas accidents last year, an increase of 177 over 1939.

Wool Market

BOSTON, April 8 (AP)—(USD)—Medium grades of bright fleeces were receiving a very moderate demand in Boston today. Sales consisted mostly of country packed lots of early shorn Ohio and similar fleeces wools at around 45 cents, in the grease, delivered to users for mixed lots of three-eighths and quarter blood grades. Offerings were small because of the slow progress in shearing. An occasional sale was being closed on early shorn bulk fine territory wools available for immediate shipment at $1 to $1.02, scoured basis, delivered for average to good French combing lengths.

County's Farm Families Make 115 Mattresses

A total of 115 mattresses have been completed thus far in the 1941 program of mattress making for farm families from surplus cotton, Lora Farnsworth, county home demonstration agent, said Tuesday.

Additional applications for mattresses that have received approval total 411. Miss Farnsworth will receive applications for mattresses until April 30, although she expects that a shortage of materials will probably allow approval of but few more.

Centers for making of the mattresses are now operating at Gay Hill and Coahoma. Another will be opened at Moore as soon as the long steel needles used in mattress-making are available.

Before the war started, all such needles were secured from England. Now that imports are restricted, the extension service has been forced to make arrangements with an American manufacturer for the needles, so the supply is limited.

A center for making cotton comforts under the same program will probably be opened at Gay Hill next week, Miss Farnsworth said. Those eligible for comforts include all those who received mattresses, either in this year's program or last, at the rate of one comfort to each mattress.

Fellowship Will Be Emphasized At University Meet

Fellowships to enable women to do distinguished scholarly work will be emphasized along with war relief and home defense at the biennial convention of the American Association of University Women to be held in Cincinnati, O., May 5 to 10.

For 52 years, the organization has been offering fellowships to enable women scholars of unusual promise to make original contributions to human knowledge. Emergency demands have been met by A. A. U. W. in the past year without any lessening of interest in this major educational effort.

"Both fellowships and war relief are facets of the same task," said Dr. Kathryn McHale, general director of A. A. U. W. "We hope to give substantial aid to university women in other countries who have suffered from the devastation of war. And we must accept, too, the obligation to prepare more of our own gifted young scholars to carry forward the scientific, artistic, and literary work which is being so sadly curtailed in other countries."

Women whose brilliant accomplishments have been made possible by fellowships will be featured on the convention program. Two new fellowships will be announced as available for the first time. The fellowship endowment, for which a million dollar goal has been announced, is certain to pass the $600,000 mark.

Officers Seek Fortune Tellers

DALLAS, April 8. (AP)—Dallas officers sought three fortune tellers today after an elderly Ellis county farmer reported they had gotten his life's savings of $7,600 with a promise of doubling his money.

Deputy Sheriff Jess White of Ellis county said it came about when the trio set up a mind-reading establishment in Waxahatchie.

White said the farmer, whose name he declined to reveal, was induced to draw his savings from the bank and put it in a money belt, that they placed the contents and assured the farmer the money would be doubled in five days providing he did not look at the contents.

Yesterday when the five days were up the farmer opened the belt and found it contained only paper, the deputy said. The fortune tellers were nowhere to be found.

Chestnut Tree's Gone, So's Village Smithy

WARSAW, N. Y.—Longfellow's time-honored phrase, "Under the spreading chestnut tree the village smithy stands," has lost its potency in this western New York village.

Theodore Prentice, who has been taking care of the shoe stands of old Dobbin hereabouts for 35 years, declared there is not a single chestnut tree in Wyoming county and few horses are being brought to the village blacksmith shop anyway.

Like many other blacksmiths, Prentice finally decided to give up his trade. He sadly admitted that trucks and other mechanized equipment have displaced the horse.
