Tech Raises WUS Funds

Where can you get a shoe shine and a pair of shoe laces for a dime these days? At the Tech Union!

The World University Service, an organization whose aim is to help solve university problems the world over, began its fund raising campaign yesterday with a shoe shine stand.

A mile of pennies will be donated Thursday and Friday in front of the Union. Saturday will conclude the drive with a car wash booth in front of the Library.

Pat Booth, head of the shoeshine and car wash projects, reports the shiners yesterday brought in about $5 an hour and should average about $15 a morning.

Shoeshines will be given from 8 a.m. until noon through Friday. Campus organizations are helping to promote WUS by working at the shoeshine stand.

WUS is a project designed to help college-age students in 34 countries. Each dollar is matched by the country receiving it. The money goes to pay students' expenses for health, books, lodging, and general welfare.

Sponsors of WUS are the Student Council, Alpha Phi Omega, Interfraternity Council and Women's and Men's Inter-Dormitory Councils.

Trio 'Booked' On Liquor Violation

prospective 'buyer,' and Joe Ben Hudgens and Gayland Pool, suspected 'bootleggers.' Also shown are the three bottles confiscated at the time of the trio's arrest yesterday.

Lynch Pens First Novel

Texas Tech now boasts a student author.

MARION LYNCH, junior English major from Lubbock, has made her debut in literature with "Buccaneer Bride," a historical novel set in the 17th century, when pirates roamed the seas and the Caribbean Sea was a dangerous place for a young lady from London.

When interviewed by this reporter Miss Lynch said that she had been writing off and on since high school, although "Buccaneer Bride" is her first published story.

What induced her to write the novel?

"I VE ALWAYS wanted to write a novel," said Miss Lynch, "so I suppose I wrote it just for fun."

When asked how long it took to write the story, Miss Lynch replied, "I spent three years writing it, off and on. I had to do a lot of background reading and special research."

"I DIDN'T work steadily on it," said Miss Lynch. "Sometimes I'd leave it alone for weeks, then work on it every spare minute."

Miss Lynch is currently working on another historical novel, set in 17th century in France, when Louis XIV was king.

WHEN ASKED whether she intended to make writing her career, Miss Lynch replied, "No, I do not plan to make writing a career as such."

"I do not intend to starve in a garret as many writers do," Miss Lynch added. She plans a teaching career.

Police Throw Trio Into Lubbock Jail

by PRESTON MAYNARD
Joe Ben Hudgens and Gayland Pool, widely-known Tech campus leaders, were arrested and charged with illegal possession and sale of intoxicating beverages yesterday afternoon.

TECH SECURITY Patrol apprehended the pair while they were making a delivery to David Pool in Gordon Hall. They were then taken to the Lubbock Police Department and jailed.

BUT DON'T GET EXCITED! The Pre-Law Club has once again staged its famous hoax, the mock crime.

Incidents leading to the "arrest" of the would-be "bootleggers" began at about 3:15 p.m. when Hudgens and Pool drove into the service road behind Gordon Hall.

AFTER PARKING in a no parking zone, Hudgens left the car, a blue and grey Studebaker, and entered Gordon to find David Pool, who had previously "arranged" to make certain "purchases."

Foy Addison and Tom Atchison, Tech Security Patrol officers, (by mere coincidence) happened by and stopped to tell Gayland to move the car.

When Gayland refused to move the officers began writing out a ticket. Hudgens and David Pool then returned to the car and at this point the officers began getting "suspicious."

Foundation Honors Prof.

Dr. John Dowling, foreign languages department head, will go to Spain for a year's research under a Guggenheim Fellowship.

DR. DOWLING, one of eight Texas scholars to receive 1959-60 grants from the John Simon Guggenheim Foundation, will study the life and work of Leandro Fernandez de Moratin, Spanish dramatist and literary historian of the 18th and early 19th centuries.

Dr. E. N. Jones, Tech president, commenting on the award to Dowling, said "The Foundation's fellowships are granted only to persons who have demonstrated the highest capacity for scholarly research or who have proved outstanding creative ability in fine arts."

"TEXAS TECH is proud to have one of its faculty members so honored," Dr. Jones concluded.

Engineer - Science Show Scheduled

PROVIDING A BALANCE for last semester's fine arts festival will be the Engineer-Science Show, set for Friday and Saturday.

Where the Fine Arts Festival represented artistic side of Tech life, the Engineer-Science Show will cover the scientific side.

The show, known last year as the Engineers' Show, presents the talents and creations of one of Tech's largest schools, engineering, as well as certain departments in Arts and Sciences, and the ROTC groups.

Held at the same time that the regional inter-scholastic league meet is held, the show has always helped Tech public relations, helping to draw good high school students to Tech.

Exhibits are aimed at persons who, at best, are average in knowledge of science or engineering fields. Many projects will appeal to visitors through their novel character.

Among these are a disappearing ball, a light which burns without any connecting wires, a strength tester, a kiss-o-meter, a rain-operated window and an electrically controlled bus. Displays of a more practical nature will be industrial plants, presented in a non-technical manner, and displays of electrical lab equipment.

Keeping up with the air age, a Snark intercontinental missile will be displayed. This missile is capable of carrying a nuclear warhead at close to sonic speeds. A B-52 bomber ejection seat and survival gear will also be displayed.

Making the show more interesting to those working in it is the fact that awards will be given for the best displays. Consisting of a faculty member, engineer, businessman and a Tech coed and male student, the names of judge panel members will be kept secret.

Headed by Bob Dyer, general manager, the staff in charge of coordinating the show has done a great job. Other staff members are Gene Mitchell, business manager; Rex Vardeman, assistant business manager; Delia Close, publicity; Butch Lawrence, advertisement; Roy Day, lighting, and Gerald Seemann, traffic.

Putting on a show of the size of Tech's Engineer-Science Show takes hard work, talent and interest. Everyone connected with the show is to be commended for doing a good job.

JUST SOME GAB Square Pegs In Round Holes

J. S.G.

I must have been dreaming, for surely this could not have happened in reality.

STANDING IN the center of everything, I looked out on a broad, open pathway, bordered by hideously dark Shapes, Buildings and Devices—all bent on preventing my passage. Nearby, a lighted Hand indicated my road. Immediately, one large, formless Shape—if that's what it was—blocked my path and indicated another way in which there was no light. The Hand, almost as swiftly, brushed it aside and ushered me to a large building, which I entered, hesitantly.

I had an uncomfortable feeling as I stared at the MOIST walls, the DAMP floors, the steamy ceiling—engulfed, as they were, in a DEWEY light. Every wall was lined with shelves, each stacked thickly with volumes—all green with different MOLDS, denoting their contents. Beside each stack stood a Tender, beckoning me with one hand, while with the other they strove to cram small, toylike figures into incongruous dies. Each Tender was uniformed in the same color of their particular mold and lettered on each back was "PROPERTY OF . . ." and some signature I could not make out.

OF A SUDDEN, a great sign materialized above the DEWYEST shelves, expounding: "LEARN BY LIVING!" Then, above the other stacks, other signs appeared; blinking wierd credos: "DO AND LEARN" — "REMEMBER" — "OMNIPOTENCE REIGNS" — "SPECIALISTS" — "BORED AND MARTYRED." As I stood, gaping, unbelieving, a Voice bellowed, hollow and afar: "This one it for you!" while the Hand pointed out a whole wet wall, whose books, I assumed, were meant for me.

I hesitated. I did not want them—my eye had caught a more appealing group which were all quite clean and neat, non-corroded, with no Tender—uniformed and ugly—but nicely encased and guarded by a huge Lock. The Voice roared, the Tenders crammed harder, the Hand trembled as I approached this case. Ignoring them all, I looked closely at the Lock and found some small lettering: "As You Will."

I TOUCHED IT; the Lock fell from its hasp, and, as the arms of a friend to welcome me, the doors swung open. Here there were books of every type, philosophy, shape, size, color, binding and author. I had heard no command. I was shown no restricting POINTER, nor listed CATEGORY, nor "either-or." I could choose one, or all, I thought, and was confirmed as I noticed a tiny, gleaming gold plate, inscribed: "Seek, and ye shall find."

A chair appeared, while the case itself seemed to enlarge to accommodate me. At first, the seat was too small, but as I "enchained" with book in hand, to learn all, or some—it CONFORMED to me, not I to do it.

I AWOKE, startled. I found myself in the old familiar surroundings—no paths, no Shapes, none of those things accosted me. It was a dream! or was it? for in my hands was a book, open, with one phrase marked:

"Choice is a matter of decision. As you will."

Techsans Talk Back

 Techsan Dislikes Student Opinion

Editor,
Being just a freshman on this campus, I don't know about last year's activities, much less, the edition of the TOYLETDR. But, frankly, I was extremely disappointed in the April Fool's edition of the TOREADOR. I thought that only some of the jokes were funny; few were appropriate, and the entire paper was too suggestive and so uncomplimentary to Texas Tech.

I AM CERTAINLY a believer in freedom of speech. If freedom of speech weren't my right as a student, this letter would not have been printed. Nonetheless, I think that just a little more discretion on the part of Sigma Delta Chi will aid the popularity of next year's "funny" edition of the TOYLETDR.

I would like to ask Mr. J. N. Embree about his statement "the average student accepted the April Fool's edition as it was meant — a joke." Just what is an average student? If you know, tell me. Now I ask — what about students' opinions? Who wants them? Frankly, I respect Donnell Echols' statement considerably more than those "average" opinions. Mr. Embree, you said that as a whole, the students accepted the paper. Did you take a poll, Dr. Kinsey? If so, you didn't get my vote. Confidentially, the supervisor in my dormitory said this when I asked her about the edition, "No, I didn't care for it at all." That is an adult's opinion. If that is the case, I surely hope that only a few adults read the TOYLETDR.

IF YOU AND the SDX fraternity think that the TOYLETDR was great, fine! Just don't break your arms patting yourselves on the back. Use them to your own advantage — plan NOW to make a more successful paper next year!

Jerry Sizemore
EDITOR'S NOTE: You brought out some good points, but we must disagree with you on one of them. An "average" student's opinion is just as important as Mr. Echols' OR your dormitory supervisors', and I'm sure that Mr. Echols, as student body president, will agree with that.

 Car Stops For Sign

Editor,
I do not know to whom this letter should be addressed, so I shall send it to you in hopes that you will see that it arrives at its proper place.

I WANT TO thank and congratulate the Traffic Safety Class for their influence in placing the "Stop for Pedestrians" sign at the intersection of Main and College. I am very pleased that they did this, for now my friends and myself have something to do (reading the sign) while waiting for the endless stream of cars to pass. I am a daily pedestrian at this intersection and since the Easter holidays, I have been fortunate enough to have a large sum of one (1) cars to stop for me to cross the street.

Again I congratulate the Traffic Safety Class for their endeavors, even though the result is not deemed completely successful.

Sincerely,
Phil Summers,
a Pedestrian Student

 'Cat Talk' Hits Campus

Editor,
Man, I dig your relativity. Like you back me to the hilt, man; you allow me wildness; you hit a real quarternote. If I comprehend you, it's like I got this square rag see—it's a cool green, but Sam says its gray, man, and Clyde lips in with a purple; Hypo says its a sick yellow, and Bozo says man, you're all black, it's white. Real cool hanky-pank. Like the cloth doesn't exist, see, Man, intellectual stimulus, like I'm drugged.

SO I APPLAUD your bit man, cause it's real grown up and modern. This cloth bit works on morals too. Like I say it's right and you say it's wrong so we take a vote see, like democracy works man, and the majority celebrates the victory, and some day us cool heads will prevail. So keep bugging the deadbeats, cat. Like real crazy. And I mean absolutely!

Picadors Slam South Plains, 11-0

by BILL DEAN

Tech's freshman Picadors, led by the booming bat of shortstop Bob Fouts who wacked out a homerun, triple, double and single in four times up, dropped South Plains Junior College 11-0 yesterday in a game stopped by the 10-run rule with Tech hitting in the fifth.

Fouts, who drove in four runs in hitting for the circuit, had plenty of help at the plate from firstbaseman Bill Boyd, who hammered out a triple and a single and drove home two. All in all the Picadors racked up nine hits off the combined efforts of loser Merle Todd and Bill Robnett.

BILL KAUN, in his first start, gave up but two hits in posting the shutout win. He walked but one and struck out three.

Tech started a little late, but when they did the dam broke. In the fourth with one out Boyd tripled to deep center and scored on a perfect squeeze by Ken Wofford, who got life on an error. After Kaun walked Lawrence Savage brought Wofford home with a shot to left and moments later Fouts sent a drive into the road behind the park for a three-run homer.

TECH WENT ON to score two more times in that inning and bring in Robnett. He fared no better. In the fifth the game was halted following Mike McElrath's two-run single to make it 11-0. There was no one out at the time.

Raiders Split With Baylor

Baylor held Texas Tech to a 3-3 split Saturday in matches held on the Tech varsity tennis courts.

Despite the tie Tech remains unbeaten for the season with a 5-0-2 record. They meet Trinity in San Antonio Friday before meeting Texas in Austin Saturday.

IN SATURDAY'S action, Bob Bacy remained undefeated in SWC competition with a 6-3, 6-2 win over Tommy Goforth. In other singles action Phil Meisinger of Tech beat Don Mordecai, 9-7, 6-3, while George Chandler of Baylor beat Johnny Kniffen, 6-3, 7-5, and Bear Bob Cox handed Danny Scales his first loss in singles, 7-9, 8-6, 7-5.

In doubles action Scales and Meisinger remained unbeaten in SWC play with 7-5 and 6-3 wins over Coe and Mordecai. But Goforth and Chandler dropped Macy and Kniffen, 8-6, 6-3, to gain the tie.

The Picadors travel to Odessa Thursday to battle Odessa Junior College.

Freshmen Take Meet

Tech's freshman track team easily won the freshman division of a quadrangular meet at Abilene Saturday while the varsity, minus their three top point getters, finished last in their division.

The Picadors, with 63 points, topped Abilene Christian College, 40, North Texas State, 35 and TCU, 19.

BAKE TURNER, high point man in the fresh division, and Bob Swafford paced the frosh.

The Raiders finished with 11 points behind the meet champ, ACC with 73, Arizona Tempe, 57 1/2 and North Texas, 16 1/2.

Bub Thornton, Jim Pettit and Dick Murphy, top point producers for the Raiders were in Lawrence, Kansas for the Kansas Relays, and their absence was sorely felt.

The top Raider efforts were by Charles Draper's second in the 880-yard run and Jim Morris' third in the broad jump.

PETE DYSON finished fourth in the mile, Tommy Davis was fourth in the 220 and 440 and Ken Osborne was fourth in the 120-yard high hurdles.

Turner won first in the high jump with a leap of 5-10, was fourth in the 120-yard hurdles, and 220-yard lows, and second in the broad jump.

Swafford ran a 142 record-tying 120-yard low hurdles race and anchored the mile relay team that won in 3:19.4. He also ran on the winning 440-yard relay team that posted a 42.1.

MIKE HENDERSON won the pole vault, Pat Holmes was the shot, with Richard Stafford second. Stafford took top honors in the discus, with Holmes second and Iran King won the broad jump.

Ken Weaver was third in the mile and fourth in the 880. Mike Stell was fourth in the 100 and third in the 220. Jim Williams finished third in the 440 while Kelly Mitchell was second in the javelin with Henderson placing fourth.

The 440-yard relay team was composed of Swafford, King, Williams and Stell. The mile-relay consisted of Stell, Williams, King and Swafford.

Thornton Gets 6-6 1/4

W. L. (Dub) Thornton, bothered by a bad leg, won the high jump at the 34th annual Kansas Relays Saturday with a leap of 6 feet, 6 1/4 inches.

Thornton only last week won the North Texas Relays with a leap of 6-8 7/8. He was ranked second in the nation for that jump.

HE HAD LITTLE trouble winning. His 6-4 was actually good enough. The initial field of 15 was cut to five by the time the bar was at 6-2 and down to four at 6-4. He was the only one over at 6-4.

After 6-6 1/4 on his first try he wanted to call it off but meet officials persuaded him to try for a record. Twice he tried at 6-8 3/4 but knocked the bar off both times. He declined a third try, favoring his leg.

THORNTON WAS awarded a 3 1/2-foot trophy to keep for a year, in addition to a permanent trophy and a wrist watch.

The other Tech performers in the meet didn't fare quite as well. Jim Pettit too was bothered by an ailing leg.

Dick Murphy ran the 400-meter hurdles fifth in about the same time he posted for third at the Texas Relays. He won his 120-yard high hurdle preliminary, but was fourth in the blanket finish, all times being very close.

GEHRIG GARRISON

CURRY SLATED TO PITCH

Tech Hosts Buffs

Bill Curry, sophomore from Amarillo, will attempt to get Texas Tech's baseball fortunes past the 500 mark today when he goes against the West Texas State Buffs at 3 p.m. on the Raider diamond.

Curry is 0-1 for the year, losing a 4-3 heartbreaker to Midwestern earlier.

THE RAIDERS gained the 500 mark Saturday in Canyon with a 12-4 plastering of the Buffs behind Houston Powell. It gave Tech a 3-3 record. It was their second win over West Texas. They won an earlier game at Tech 14-3.

The rest of the line-up will probably remain the same. Dave Allen will lead-off and play rightfield, followed by Tom Prichard, ss; Jackie Miller, 3b; Bruce Boyd, 1b; Gehrig Garrison, cf; Ken Warren, lf; Joe Reeves, 2b; David Bourland, c; and Curry pitching.

SATURDAY THE Raiders jumped on Buff starter Jerry Bell for five runs before anyone was out in the first inning. He was relieved by Don Carpenter who got out of the inning, but didn't fare much better. Altogether Tech slammed out 11 hits off the two.

Garrison, with a perfect three for three and four rbi's, and Bourland with four for five and two rbi's, lead the Tech attack. Both had home runs. Allen had a double and drove in two runs and Reeves sent home two on a single.

BOYD AND MILLER picked up the other two Tech hits.

The Raiders followed up their big first inning with four in the third, two in the seventh and a single tally in the ninth.

Powell, in going the distance, scattered eight Buff hits, walked two and struck out five.

Golfers Take Rest

Texas Tech's golf team will take it easy early this week, returning to action Saturday against Texas here in Lubbock. This match with Texas and a match with Baylor, April 27, will close out the season, except for the SWC meet.

Saturday Tech stopped defending SWC champ Arkansas 4 1/2-1 1/2 to move closer to their first South-west Conference championship.

JOHN FARQUHAR led the Raiders with a two under par 68. He topped the Hog's Lewis Henderson, 3-2.

Outlook

by BILL DEAN

The following letter came in over the weekend:

"Dear Sir, I would just like to take this opportunity to protest your coverage of spring sports, especially the Red Raiders in tennis.

The Raiders are compiling an outstanding record in tennis this year, a year in which they were picked to finish last in the Southwest Conference play.

However, to my way of thinking, they are not receiving adequate publicity. You seem to be more concerned with golf, etc. You run many pictures of golfers, etc., but few of tennis players who are doing much to represent Tech in a fitting manner.

Would surely enjoy seeing better coverage of these players, especially in view of their outstanding showing.

A Tech booster, Dean Sutton"

Thank you for your letter Dean. You have made some good points. We have tried to cover all spring sports to the best of our ability. At times we have slipped. With a small staff it is impossible to cover all these events in person. Therefore we usually have to depend on second hand information. As for the pictures, we are limited in our supply. I can assure you we will try to remedy this. I do feel as though coverage has been better than ever this spring.

I certainly agree with you in your praise of the Raider tennis team. They have had an outstanding year up to date. Their present record of 5-0-2 is one we can point to with pride.

If you will just bear with us perhaps in the near future we can give Tech students the best coverage available. It does take time and manpower — two things we are a little short on at present.

Butterfield Reveals Gift Fund Totals

William H. Butterfield, director of development, announced in a meeting of Tech Foundation Board of Directors Saturday that $2,261,26 has been given through the annual gift fund program from Jan. 1 to March 31.

A total of $123,530.05 has been received from all sources in that period by the Foundation, including that donated through the athletic stadium expansion fund.

THE GIFT FUND Program was established to provide funds for the scholarships and fellowship, faculty research, special equipment, library collections, and other needs. By supplementing state funds, organized giving by ex-students often provides the margin between adequacy and excellence.

In the first report to the newly established program (it began in February), Mr. Butterfield gave a complete analysis of the Foundation's standings. He reported that $123,530.05 had been given from January 1 through March 31.

THE SIX PROJECTS of the gift program are: the Unrestricted Fun; Scholarships and Fellowships; Loyalty Fund of Ex-Students Assn.; Research and Special Equipment; Library Enrichment Fund and the President's Emergency Fund.

The President's Emergency Fund drew the largest gift, $1,520. This fund was established in case of emergencies for which budgeted funds do not cover.

THE UNRESTRICTED Fund was allotted $375.26 for gifts made without restriction and is of unique value, since they may be applied to areas in which their benefit to the College will be the greatest.

Scholarships and Fellowships Fund was given $138 for the aid of undergraduate and graduate students that attend Tech. Loyalty Fund of Ex-Students Assn. was allotted $80. The association uses the funds for expansion of its activities.

THE LIBRARY Enrichment Fund received $75 and will distribute the funds for obtaining rare books and notable private collections for the library. Research and Special Equipment Fund was given $73. This gift fund is used for providing research grants and special equipment which will expand the scope of productive research at Tech.

GIFTS ARE continuing to come in at an encouraging pace and ex-students are urged to continue their backing.

In other actions the Board re-elected George Livermore, Lubbock, chairman; Frank Kelley, Colorado City, vice chairman; Miss Ethel Foster, Sterling City, secretary; and Marshall Pennington, treasurer. Pennington is Tech vice president and comptroller.

AN OPEN LETTER TO THE STUDENTS OF TEXAS TECH ABOUT SELLING YOUR USED BOOKS

The other day a student came into the bookstore to sell a book he didn't wish to keep any more. Now it so happened, unfortunately, that this particular book was of a dying race . . . that is, one no longer used at Texas Tech, and the price we offered him for the book was considerably less than what he had paid for it.

What happened is what one might expect. The student felt he wasn't being treated fairly, so he kept the book he no longer needed, and which would soon be worth nothing, rather than accept what he thought was an unfair situation. Now all college stores have had students irritated at them for similar situations, and this time the experience set us to thinking. We know that 99% of the students in college are intelligent and fair-minded people; when a student leaves the store dissatisfied, it is because we haven't clearly explained to him why the buy-back prices on books vary greatly.

We're also concerned about what we feel must be this situation multiplied many hundreds of times during the "buy-back" season, so we have composed this bit of copy in an effort to help students understand the problems of the used book business and what determines the prices they receive. Through such understanding, we feel that both the students and the good will of the store will benefit. Since this is a college-operated facility, the interests of the student are also important to us, and hence the reason for our going into detail as to what determines the value of a used textbook before the end-of-the-term buy-back season commences:

The books you have to sell at the end of the semester will usually be of four types:

- (1) Books that will be used again the following term on this campus.
- (2) Books that will be used again the following term at this campus on which we are overstocked with present inventory.
- (3) Books that are not scheduled to be used on this campus during the following term, but might possibly be used a year or two from now.
- (4) Books which will no longer be used on this campus or which have been superseded by a new edition from the publisher.

Books in the first category are, of course, worth the most money. With the exception of a few cases where there are more books in our inventory than will be sold to later classes, these books are repurchased from students at 50% of their last selling price.

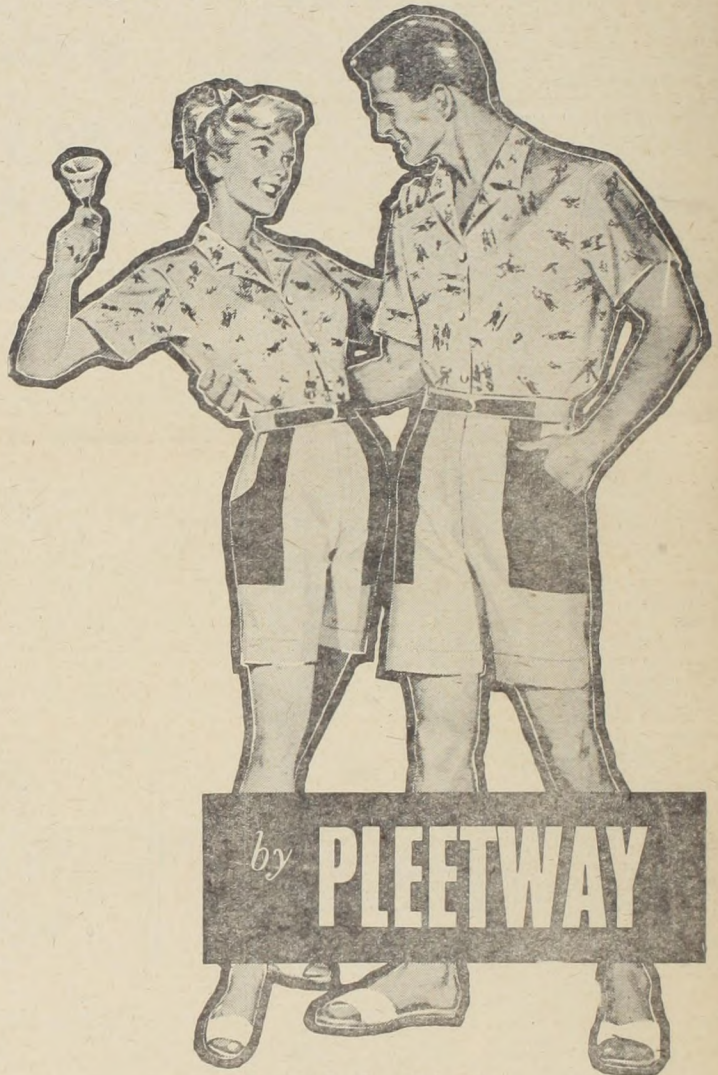

Books in the second category are purchased for varying prices somewhere between 50% and what we could expect from a national wholesale used book buyer. Since we have an overstock on books in this classification beyond which we would normally expect to sell in a course offered the following semester, and should a change occur before the course is offered again, we would be forced to dispose of them at the best offer we could receive from a national wholesale dealer in used textbooks. If they should become old edition in the meantime, we could not sell them anywhere.

Books in the third category are purchased usually at the best price we would receive from a national wholesaler, since the course is not offered again the following semester, and between the time it is offered again (which is at least two semesters away and often two or three years away), the book may be discontinued or a new edition published in the meantime.

Books in the fourth category are purchased at the best price given us by a national wholesaler and sold to him for possible use on other campuses throughout the United States, since they no longer will be used here at Texas Tech. It will be his risk to search out colleges which might be interested in purchasing these particular used books. Often before he can find another college which will buy these particular books, they have become old editions and have no value. His offer to us depends upon the age of the book, the popularity of the subject, the general supply and demand for the book throughout the country, etc. In the case where the books have been discontinued because it has become an old edition, the wholesaler offers us nothing for these books because colleges in general throughout the United States use only current, up-to-date editions. In the past, we offered anywhere from twenty-five to fifty-cents for old editions and placed them on our sale table for anyone who might want to buy them for reference books for their personal library, but we have found that an offer such as this creates so much misunderstanding, the old editions having no re-sale value to us except for the bargain table should be marked "no value" on our buying guide. Regardless in which category your textbooks may fall, you may rest assured it will be purchased for the best cash price possible, since we specialize the year around in textbooks. Remember, new books are always being published and older books changed — chances are most of the books you are now using are less than four years old, and the books you have to sell today are worth more today than they will be next term.

Sincerely,
TEXAS TECH COLLEGE BOOKSTORE
