NEW TEACHERS ATTEND IN-SERVICE TRAINING--A total of 21 persons filling open positions in the Muleshoe Independent School District have been involved in teacher in-service training during the past several days. Many of the new teachers are new to the Muleshoe Independent School District, while others have advanced to new positions. In-service training for all teachers in the system will continue through this week.

Parent vs. Children; Special Seminar Will Be Held Here

Parents vs. Children, an upcoming seminar on dealing with children is still open for reservations, says DeAnn Herring, Bailey County Juvenile Probation officer.

She said the seminar deals with difficulties that arise in the day-to-day parenting of children ages 3-18. The series is being co-sponsored by the Muleshoe Counseling Center and Bailey County Juvenile Probation.

The seminars will be given by Glen Carter, M.S. who has had extensive experience working with families and children. He is currently working as a therapist with the local counseling center, and is very familiar with the unique problems and advantages of raising children in a farming area. The curriculum is one he has used in other areas with great success, added Ms. Herring.

Carter's program was developed by staff of the University of Texas Health Science Center in Galveston and has been presented to several hundred families. Also, some school systems have contracted to have all of their teachers enroll in the course in the past and have found it to be very useful.

Carter has been working closely with Ms. Herring, to provide these seminars at a reduced cost to Muleshoe and surrounding area residents. Carter and Herring indicated that common problems of child raising ranging from how to get your child to clean up his room

Local Resident Killed Friday In Accident

Friday afternoon, around 6:40 p.m., J. C. Odom, 75, a longtime resident of Muleshoe, received fatal injuries in a tractor accident near Riehl's Car Wash on West American Blvd.

Around 2:30 p.m., an ambulance was called to the location with a report that a man had either had a heart attack or was run over.

Witnesses told MPD Patrolman Jay Livingston they had observed J. C. Odom running alongside a small tractor with a small trailer, reaching up in an apparent attempt to turn off the key.

They said Odom had been picking up trash around the car wash, when he alighted from the tractor, apparently leaving it in gear.

When the tractor started moving, he ran alongside before stumbling and falling in front of the slow moving tractor.

The witnesses said the tractor dragged Odom for approximately one quarter block, then continued on toward West American Blvd. At the edge of the highway, the tractor high centered on a dirt embankment, the only thing that kept it from moving onto West American Blvd. into traffic.

West Plains Medical Center personnel had planned to transfer Odom to Lubbock, but could not get him stabilized enough, and he succumbed to his injuries some four hours later.

Funeral services for J. C. Odom were pending at press-time with Ellis Funeral Home of Muleshoe.

New Teachers, Coaches, Aides Take Training

When the doors open at the four schools in Muleshoe this fall, students will be seeing 21 positions have been filled by varied personnel. Some of the teachers, administrators and aides will be familiar faces, while two coaches and some teachers will be new faces around the MISD.

Included are Joe Cearley, DeShazo principal; Bob Graves, Watson Junior High School principal; Britt Gregory, assistant principal at high school; Jim Stewart, high school coach and Marvin Rupe, junior high coach.

New teachers include Patricia Graham, DeShazo librarian; Dana Ramsey, junior high math; Ginger Reedy, junior high math lab; Jane Sanders, DeShazo, third grade; Lindy Schuster, junior high reading; Colleen Tollett, high school math; Freda Morgan, DeShazo, fifth grade and Dianne Skipworth, Dillman physical education teacher.

And, Mark Heidel, high school band; Robert Dinwiddie, high school science; Beth Dooley, Dillman kindergarten; Michael Summers, high school science; Connie Alanis, Dillman aide; Terri Cearley, Dillman aide; Sue Holt, Dillman aide and Rachel Lopez, DeShazo aide.

CB Triangle Club Planning For Telethon

Right around the corner is the annual Jerry Lewis Telethon, an event that provides local entertainment, while at the same time, collecting funds for 'Jerry Lewis' Kids,' and the treatment of Muscular Dystrophy, and other deadly diseases, all related to the muscular system.

Again this year, the Muleshoe portion of the Telethon will be sponsored by the Triangle CB Club, a group of dedicated local and area residents who present two evening of live entertainment at the Bailey County Civic Center and Coliseum.

Activities get underway on Saturday, August 30 with a country/western live show featuring local and area outstanding entertainment, at 7:30 p.m. Some of the well-known names scheduled to appear are Border Town Four, from Farwell; Kastner Family, Lubbock; Elliott String Band, Clovis; Anchor Brothers, Sudan; Roy Whitt, Muleshoe and possibly Chubby and the Comancheros.

Following church services on Sunday, August 31, the evening kicks off with gospel music, including Gospel Notes, Muleshoe; Barry Moynihan, First Baptist Church, Muleshoe; Maudie Speck Trio, Muleshoe; Bob Handy, New Covenant Church, Muleshoe and Patricia Blair, Levelland.

The Triangle CB Club will be manning telephones from Sunday evening, until 6 p.m. on Monday, accepting pledges from local residents. Bob Phillips and Don Prather also said the Sonic Drive In will contribute a percentage of each drink sold during the telethon.

"As I travel through West Texas and visit with the many people involved in the cotton industry, I find there is some misinformation and a lack of understanding about the price producers will receive for their cotton under the 1985 Farm Bill," said Congressman Larry Combest. "The cotton section is a complicated piece of legislation, however, it is receiving an increasing amount of support from farmers and agricultural groups in the 19th District of Texas.

"To ensure that all farmers of Bailey County know what kind of return they can expect on their crop this year, I have compiled some information with the help of the Texas A&M Extension Service about the cotton program which may be helpful," he continued.

According to the Congressman, the CCC loan rate for upland cotton was set by the 1985 Farm Bill at a base rate of $.55/lb. for 1986. The loan, which is a government non-recourse loan program for which producers may use commodities as collateral, for the county will be approximately at $.48/lb. for average quality cotton after the quality deduction is made. The producer may participate in the loan program by putting the entire amount or any portion of the production in the loan or he may forego the loan and receive anywhere from $.08 to $.11/lb. from CCC which is not subject to the payment limitation.

Every farmer participating in the farm program will also receive up to $.26/lb. as a deficiency payment, added Combest. This amount represents the difference between the target price of $.81/lb. and the loan level or national average market price, whichever is higher. Since the market price is predicted to remain below the

FmHA Supervisor, Assistant Both Promoted; Leave

Clinton Kennedy, District Director of the Farmers Home Administration office, from Plainview, was in The Journal late Thursday afternoon. He said both County Supervisor for the FmHA Henry W. Taylor and his assistant, Phil Clayton, have been promoted and have left Muleshoe.

Taylor was named Assistant District Director out of Vernon and Clayton was chosen to be County Supervisor at Stratford.

Their resignations were effective as of August 18, along with office employee, Janie Garcia.

"We hope to have a supervisor soon so people won't have to wait," said Kennedy, a former longtime resident of Muleshoe. "Melvin Hoover, assistant district Director from Plainview is coming to Muleshoe two days a week until a new supervisor is chosen. We expect to fill the position soon."

Also, Kennedy said that overall crops look good in the entire eight county area he supervises, including Bailey, Parmer, Castro, Lamb, Hale, Swisher, Floyd and Briscoe.

"It's too early to know what we will be doing next year as far as loans are concerned. The administration is emphasizing the guaranteed loan program through banks again in 1987," he added.

loan rate. Congressman Combest said he is assuming that producers will receive this entire payment for their program yield, as established by ASCS.

Should the producer decide to forfeit their cotton to the CCC instead of redeeming their loan, they will receive in cash and commodities, approximately $.74/lb. Most producers have collected 7.8 cents of the subsidy available to the through the advanced deficiency payment option provided by Congress and an additional 2.6 cents has recently been authorized. The only additional reduction could come if Congress does not meet the budget target for FY1987 and sequestration takes effect under the Gramm-Rudman-Hollings budget law.

The basic intent of the cotton section of the 1985 Farm Bill was to provide a market for the farmer, and the bill has some very attractive programs aimed at helping cotton to sell on the market, continued Combest. First, a marketing loan provision, which allows the producer to pay back CCC for his loan at 80 percent of its value results in an additional producer subsidy

WPMC Faces Big Struggle In Future

During a visit with George Florey, administrator of West Plains Medical Center on Thursday afternoon, he said canceling the 'guaranteed' salary contract of three doctors at the hospital would have no effect on hospital costs. "It will help stem a portion of the losses being sustained by the hospital at this time," he said.

According to Florey's figures, if the hospital rooms were full of patients, the income would be $341,000 per month at the current rates. However, expenses to currently operate the hospital are $360,000 for on-site expenses, he said. The on-site expenses include payroll, benefits, trade (supplies), utilities, depreciation, professional services and advertising.

Expenses could go as high as $578,000 (per month) said the hospital administrator. During the past month, the revenue was short more than $160,000, according to figures checked.

"We are having a struggle just to keep the hospital open," said Florey. "If the local people would choose to use the hospital here, we could be assured of enough income to come closer to paying our bills as they come in. We have not wanted to lay off people, but if the patients are not here, we cannot keep paying people who are here with nothing to do."

When asked how charges for a stay in the hospital are computed, Florey explained that charges are figured using Medicare's Diagnostic Related Group (DRG) method. By this method, hospital charges are established according to a doctor's diagnosis of a patient.

The business office at the hospital has a list of DRG charges and will give the charges to a prospective patient. This way, the patient knows in advance exactly how much the hospital stay will cost.

For instance, it would cost less for a patient with pneumonia or flu, than it would cost for a surgical patient, or heart attack or stroke victim.

A local physician commented to The Journal that the number of patients at West Plains Medical Center could be in direct proportion to the amount of hospital charges as well as the DRG type of billing.

However, it is also a fact that West Plains Medical Center does not have a tax base, nor is it supported by any particular church or other entity like many other hospitals where charges may be less.

Lt. Wayne Holmes of the Muleshoe Police Department has announced the next defensive Class for Muleshoe. Registration can be made through the dispatcher at the Police Department through September 16.

Classes will be held August 16 and 17 at the Muleshoe City Police Department Training room. Registration is $5.

Toni Eagle, manager of the Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture, said the Muleshoe Stamps have arrived, and there are a few extra stamps available at this time.

Mrs. Eagle said the stamps will be sold on a first come-first serve basis. The small stamp is $.65 and the large stamp only costs $10.50.

Rafael Gonzales Jr. and Evaristo Sanchez Jr., both of Lazbudic, were graduated from Texas State Technical Institute on August 15 in the Amarillo Civic Center.

Gonzales, son of Rafael and Antonio Gonzales, received an associate degree in automotive technology (AUT).

Sanchez, son of Evaristo and Juanita Sanchez also received an associate degree in AUT.

Both are 1984 graduates of Lazbudic High School.

Bailey County Commissioners Court will meet in special session in the Bailey County Courthouse at 10 a.m. on Monday, August 25.

Bailey County Judge Gordon H. Green said commissioners will conduct a budget work session and consider miscellaneous items.

The Parmer County Appraisal Review Board interviewed approximately 250 taxpayers during the recent board hearings, according to a spokesman.

He said an economic adjustment was allowed for all homeowners, rural improvements and small retail businesses.

This was said to be approximately a 20 percent decrease, or reduction, which applies countywide to all above listed properties, whether or not they met with the board.

Harvest Days will be observed at Dimmit Thursday, Sept. 11 through Sunday, Sept. 14.

It will begin on September 11 with the Castro County Fair, and continue all day on Friday.

LaShae West Wins Honors In New Mexico Pageant

LASHAE WEST

LASHAE WEST

LaShae West, three-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dennis West of Portales N.M., won two titles at the New Mexico Cinderella Pageant held in Alamogordo, N.M. She won Entertainer of the Year of the entire pageant and first place in the Tot Talent showcase and also was named Miss New Mexico State Cinderella Petite Tot.

For her talent she wore an old fashioned gown and night cap and rocked in her rocking chair as she recited all of "The Night Before Christmas." She was the only three-year old to participate in this phase of the pageant.

As the result of her winning the talent showcase, she received a formal invitation to compete in the Las Vegas Talent and Modeling Showcase to be held in September.

LaShae competed with 36 tots ages 3-6. Having won she has the opportunity to advance to the International Cinderella Pageant to be held in Miami, Florida.

In this phase of competition, LaShae modeled a party dress, sportswear and had a private interview with judges and on-stage interview before the audience and judges.

She is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Audrey West of Sudan and great-granddaughter of Mrs. E.D. West and Mr. E.A. Harris both of Sudan.

Across The Fence

By Deana Finck County Extension Agent

Americans spend over a billion dollars a year on cereals. What consumers get for their money depends, in part, on how carefully they read the nutrition labels on the cereal boxes. Nearly all breakfast cereals are grains, such as corn, wheat, rye, oats, or barley. In their natural state, grains contain vitamins, minerals, and fibers. But during the processing of grains into cereal products, many nutrients are lost.

Most cereal manufacturers restore the lost nutrients by fortification. Some ready-to-eat cereals are fortified with more vitamins and minerals than the grains contain in the natural state.

The Food and Drug Administration requires that fortified foods which provide 50% or more of the U.S. Recommended Allowance of one or more nutrients be labeled with the terms "dietary supplement", or "multivitamin and iron supplement".

If you really want to know what you're getting in a cereal, read the label. All packages have a list of ingredients in order of predominance by weight. Cereals also have nutrition labels that tell you what percent of the daily requirement for basic nutrients is provided. By comparing labels you can select a cereal which is high in a particular nutrient, such as iron. Or you can check the labels to avoid buying cereal high in sugar, sodium, or preservatives.

As you read the nutrition labels, remember that they are based on a one-ounce serving. Since cereals vary in bulk and consistency, and ounce of one kind might make 1/4 cup, while one ounce of another cereal could be 1 1/4 cups.

If your customary serving size is more or less than one ounce standard, you'll want to take that into account when figuring the cereal's nutritional value.

4-H Parents Association Conducts Meeting

On Monday, August 18th, the Bailey County 4-H Parents Association met at the Bailey County Civic Center. Dr. Martha Couch, Extension 4-H specialist from Lubbock, presented a program on parent recruitment and involvement in 4-H programs. She also explained the organizational structure of 4-H and its objectives for the young people in our community and state.

Harmon and Rose Sain will co-chair the decorating committee.

A business meeting convened following the program. Elections were held and Lyndon Huckaby was elected president, with Bill Harmon as vice-president. Gayla Toombs, secretary/treasurer, and Linda Lee named reporter. Linda Tanksley reported on the long-range Extension program she attended earlier in the year. She explained the need for 4-H youth group activities and parent involvement.

4-H parents in attendance at this meeting were Linda Huckaby, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Harmon, Mr. and Mrs. Steve Black, Gayla Toombs, Linda Tanksley, Rose-Sain, Linda Lee, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hunt, and Extension agent Deana Finck.

Members enjoyed homemade ice cream as they discussed the various projects and goals planned for the 4-H organization in Bailey County. Some of these projects will include food and nutrition, clothing, livestock, shooting sports, archery, and possibly photography. The Parents Association agreed that they would like to invite Dr. Couch back to Muleshoe in June, 1987, for a program on leadership for the youth and possibly in September for a parent program. The group discussed sponsoring various programs throughout the summer months for 4-H members.

It was noted at this meeting that Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hunt are again sponsoring a 4-H youth from Switzerland, in the International 4-H Youth Exchange program. Her name is Elizabeth Gehrig and she accompanied the Hunts to the parents meeting.

Discussion was held concerning the Bailey County West Plains Fair to be held in the Civic Center, September 11, 12, and 13. The parents group voted to sponsor a booth at the fair which will provide barbecue sandwiches, iced tea, and lemonade. Jo Harmon was selected as committee chairman for this event.

The Bailey County Extension Service and the Bailey County 4-H Parents Association extend an invitation to all interested youth and their parents to become a part of this organization. A spokesman for the group said, "Can you think of a better way to invest in our future than by helping our young people become leaders?"

Another project the parents will begin working on is the Bailey County 4-H Banquet. This year the banquet will be on Oct. 7th, and the theme is "4-H for Youth, for America". Jo

Phelps Baby 40,000th Checked In New Method

Three-month-old Christina Phelps laughing and cooing seems to be the picture of health. But on a routine visit to her pediatrician, her parents were given reason to believe differently.

"Christina's parents were told that their daughter has a heart murmur which could be a sign of heart disease known as aortic stenosis, a narrowing of the heart's aortic valve," says Dr. Dan G. McNamara, Texas Children's Hospital Chief of Cardiology in Houston.

From her Texas hometown of Muleshoe, Christina's pediatricians referred her to Texas Children's, where part of her exam entailed a test done in the hospital's Echocardiography Laboratory. Little did Khristi and Matt Phelps know that their daughter would be the 40,000th recipient of an echocardiogram at Texas Children's Hospital.

"The 40,000th exam conducted in our lab signifies a milestone in terms of our growth and establishment of the usefulness of the echocardiogram: one of the most significant advances in pediatric cardiology in the last decade, as a definitive tool in cardiac diagnosis," says Dr. James Huhta, Texas Children's Echocardiography Lab director. "Each year we see the lab's growth in numbers as a result of the accuracy the test provides in cardiac diagnosis."

An echocardiogram is a painless, non-penetrating test which scans the heart's internal structure, valves, veins and arteries while chinking velocity of blood flow in and around the heart. The procedure, an application of ultra-sound, uses the reflection of sound waves to produce a picture of the heart. It is done without radiation and has no known side effects.

The equipment and staff are tailored to the child says Dr. Dan Murphy, Texas Children's associate in Pediatric Cardiology. "The equipment is very sensitive and allows us to see defects of half a millimeter in size, which for babies is a tremendous resolution," he says.

The Texas Children's Echocardiography Laboratory was started by Dr. Howard P. Gutgesell in 1974. Through his research and efforts, as well as Dr. Huhta's, "they have attracted other outstanding echocardiography specialists to our unit," says McNamara. "What makes this department one of the most outstanding of its kind in the country is not only excellent equipment but our expertise in the interpretation of the echocardiogram."

The celebration of the 40,000th echocardiogram patient was made even more joyous by the result of Christina's test. The test showed the murmur was innocent and there is no heart disease.

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Phelps of Muleshoe are Christina's grandparents.

Card and table games, tennis, horseshoes, billiards, and volleyball will be available at all times.

Evenings will be filled with such special social events as dances, and special parties and games. Each camp is limited to the first 100 participants and the cost is only $85 per person for three days of activity.

Deana Finck, CEA-HE, says to contact the Bailey County Extension office for details at 272-4583.

to the serious problems of drug use and other illegal activities will be covered in the seminar. Ample opportunity will be given for questions and specific concerns of the participants, she explained. Structuring an individualized program for each child that stresses both a child's strengths and needs for discipline will be the main emphasis, said Carter and Herring.

Muleshoe Counseling Center and Bailey County Juvenile Probation are underwriting the cost, and other community organizations are cooperating to provide free facilities and baby-sitting. Because psychotherapy is expensive, (Counseling services run from $35 to over $75 per hour in the area), this is an attempt to make professional services available to local families at a substantially reduced cost. The seminar will meet for one and one half hours on week nights for a total of 12 hours. The cost of the 12 hour seminar is $80 and is charged on a per-family basis.

Ms. Herring said this is to encourage all adult care-takers of a child or children to attend. Carter stated that "this includes both parents, grandparents, aunts, uncles, even older adult siblings who may have a great deal of influence in parenting the child." The cost can be paid in segments.

"Since this is back to school time," added Carter, "it is an excellent opportunity to develop a better relationship with your child as the family gets back into a regular routine after the summer vacation. For many families with school-age children, the challenge of a new school year brings fresh determination and commitment. The seminar is designed to enhance and take advantage of this attitude, and to help parents in their efforts to improve their relationships with their children."

Families wishing to participate need to call 272-4433 before 5 p.m. on Wednesday, August 27. The classes will start on Thursday, August 28, at 6:30 p.m. and will meet at the First Baptist Church. Free child care will be provided. Subsequent classes will meet on Monday nights starting September 8 to provide for the Labor Day Holiday.

Cotton Prices

of 9.6 cents. In other words, a producer receiving a loan rate of $3.84/lb.

In addition, added the Congressman, the commodity first handler certificate programs encourage cotton merchants to become more competitive in the market. Under this program, cotton buyers who purchase cotton from producers are eligible for commodity certification equal to the difference between the producer loan repayment rate of $3.84/lb. and the world market price as determined by USDA formula. Currently, cotton equities are trading between $15-$20 per bale. This results in an additional $.03/lb. that the farmer will receive.

"In conclusion," said Congressman Combest, "even with the current depressed market, a cotton producer should receive a minimum of $.738/lb. for his cotton. As with most everything there are enough uncertainties to prevent any absolute guarantee, but farmers who are looking at the program are feeling better about the price they will receive."

The National Cotton Council recently stated in its report 'Arg. Current Policies Appropriate?' that "the new farm bill became fully effective just this month, yet the public media contains many assertions that it is not working and will have to be changed. In the case of cotton, such assertions are clearly premature, because early signals indicate that the program is meeting or exceeding almost everyone's expectations."

Donald A. Johnson, Executive vice president of Lubbock-based Plains Cotton Growers Inc., says that "...judging from the increased rate of domestic cotton consumption and the big jump in advance export sales, I'd say the program's working pretty well."

Nursing Home News
by Joy Stancell

Thurs. was a special day. Some of the residents went to Clovis on the Sr. Citizens bus for a picnic at the Hillcrest Park. We had a nice picnic lunch, looked at some of the animals then Mr. Shanks drove us to see the mall. Our thanks to Mr. Shanks, Eva Atwood, Nelda Crawford, L.V.N. and Margaret and Rhonda for going with us.

Among those visiting Ernest Kerr this week were, Alyson, Shawn, Melinda, Shay, Carolyn, these are all of his grandchildren. Also Ruby Lee visited, Jimmie Crawford and Cleta Williams.

Alpha Laney was visited by Lola Crim, her son Mr. & Mrs. Tommy Laney from Duncanville. Mrs. Laney celebrated her birthday Wed. Aug. 20th. She was 85 years of age. She received many cards and a phone call from her sister on her birthday.

Lewis Shafer was visited this week by Mrytle Puckett, Mr. & Mrs. Lewis Wayne Shafer, Jimmie Crawford.

Clara Weaver was visited by Mr. McCormick, Lona Embry, Cheryl Weaver and children, Eva Atwood, Glenda Jennings.

Eric visited in the home of his daughter and son-in-law in Portales, Mr. & Mrs. Chuck Thatcher over the weekend. Eric's dear friend and his name sake visited with him this week end too, Jeff and Eric Miller.

Edith Bruns was visited by her daughter-in-law Mrs. Les Bruns Tues. also her granddaughter Toni from out of town.

Lois Ethridge was visited this week by two of her nieces Peggy Buhrman and Joyce Stevens.

Emma Schuster was all smiles this week, upon the return of her daughter, Johanna Wrinkle, from her visit to Hawaii.

The Nursing Home is needing pets to come and visit. If you have one that you would like to bring to visit us please call and let us know. 272-3861.

Mr. Jay Burge went out with his sister Lucille Scheller and her grandchildren, Tues. afternoon.

Among those visiting Inez Allgood this week were Polly Tunnell, Dr. and Mrs. Homer Allgood.

D.J. Gage's sister Lena Hawkins returned to Muleshoe last week from an extended vacation and visit with her family. We all were happy to see her.

Suzie Whatley and Allie Sebring visited the Nursing Home recently.

Fri. afternoon Lona Embry and Rev. Gene Davis from The Assembly of God Church came to share a Devotional with the residents. Refreshments were served from a beautifully decorated table, of watermelon in a carved out watermelon basket and home made cookies.

Among those visiting the Nursing Home this week were J.E. Embry, Mr. & Mrs. Earl Peterson.

Dora Chancy's daughter Mr. & Mrs. J.T. Chambers of Denton and her niece Mr. & Mrs. Joe Dogge of Huston are here visiting this week.

Claudia Cannon was visited by her daughter Delores Gaddy of Duncanville this weekend.

Firefighter's Report
by Wayne Peterson

H.E. Reeder called the August business meeting to order and Bill Kinard read the minutes of the July meeting.

It was announced that the Texas Fireman and Fire Marshal Association has suggested that the Panhandle Association combine its business and annual meeting with the state convention this year, since it is being held in Amarillo. The Muleshoe Fire Department voted in favor of the state's suggestion.

The Mule Day celebration has been termed a success. The fire department again helped in preparing and serving the evening meal. We are pleased to be of help and contribute to the Whiteface Girlstown.

The 1986 Texas A&M Fire School was attended by seven Muleshoe firemen, rookie Jimmy Mills, Charles Lorange, James (Smoky) Martin, Fire Marshal Owen Jones, Scott Churchman and Training Officer J.O. Parker. They have returned to our fair city with added training and knowledge to be ready when called upon to serve our community. J.O. Parker took classes in methods of teaching to get a state certificate.

The grass set out in back of the fire station is growing quite well, and so are the weeds. It was suggested to spray herbicides. The chief wanted to have a weed pulling party, maybe a contest. H.E. Reeder wants to leave the weeds to the frost which he said will come in 60 days. Fred Clements said he was going to win the first freeze contest by Reeder's suggested date and (unprintable) if he missed. Now, is this business, or is this business?

Muleshoe firemen attended the annual Floydada Farm Safety Schooling on Saturday, August 16 and then on to more training September 10-11 at Canyon's annual training school.

An eight-hour training class in CPR was conducted at the station by instructors Donald Harrison and Larry Rasco. Firemen taking the course in CPR were Mark Tutt, Raul Torres, Chief Dunham, Charles Lorange, Billy Tosh and Harold Maxwell.

Unit FDI, the new suburban, has received a new set of chrome mag wheels, donated by Pendley Auto Parts of Lubbock.

The August Profile of a Fireman is Jack Rennels. Jack joined the department March 3, 1965. He and his wife, Magann and sons Gilbert, Payton and Greyson, live at 1011 West Third.

Jack served in the Air Force before coming to Muleshoe. He is an assistant engineer at the present with Bailey County Electric Co-op, where he has been employed for the past 21 years.

Jack has taken training classes at Texas A&M five years; Lubbock Fire School four years; Firefighting Conference two years and is a certified fireman.

With this training and background, he is a credit to the department and his community.

He also assists his wife and father-in-law at Channel 6.

Thank You
We would like to thank everyone for their phone calls, cards, flowers, prayers, visits, & gifts, while Andy was confined in the hospital. May God Bless each of you.

Bailey Co. Journal

Definitive plans have not been laid out for implementation of the "sodbuster" provisions of the current farm law, says Donald Johnson, Executive Vice President of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., Lubbock, "but the possibility for disruption of cotton production if the final rules are too stringent are really frightening."

Sodbuster and "swampbuster" sections of the law generally deny all farm program benefits (1) to producers who convert highly erodible soils or wetlands to crop production after December 23, 1985 and (2) to all producers after 1990 who continue producing commodities on previously cultivated "fragile" lands without instituting an approved conservation plan.

The effect on production after 1990 is the part that has producers most concerned, Johnson says. Abundant justification for that concern, he notes, is found in a study of the potential impact, done by the Texas A&M Extension Service at the request of the State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Services (ASCS) Committee. Primary authors of the report on the study are A&M's Extension Soil Specialist Billy Harris and Larry Lippke, Extension Economist.

Lacking anything more concrete, Harris and Lippke based projections on "likely" requirements for conservation plans derived from discussions with Soil Conservation Service personnel. The assumed requirements were based on current guidelines and calculations of the erodibility index of Texas soils.

All of Texas is included in the study, but the High Plains, especially counties lying south of highway 70 from Matador through Plainview to Muleshoe, is singled out as the area where the impact will be greatest. "Generally," the report concludes, "the coarse sandy soils will not be considered suitable for cotton production at all," and "reasonable estimates suggest that for the average of the southern High Plains, requirements for conservation plans would dictate two-thirds high residue crops."

In Fashion

Emerald green is one of the top colors for fall. An emerald green dress with black polka dots features dolman sleeves and belt accented with a large gold buckle. Topped with a long structured solid emerald green jacket completes this ensemble.

One designer is featuring 100 percent rayon as a popular fabric for women of the South. Dresses with full skirts are soft and feminine in this new rayon fabric. Check label for care-dry cleaning is usually best.
