Vet Co-Op Forms Charter, Starts Work On Housing

Three Committees Are Appointed, Meeting With Board Sought

A charter for the Tech Veterans Cooperative was presented at a meeting of the married veterans Monday night and is now being registered in Washington, D. C. The immediate goal of the co-op is the construction of 100 housing units to be located on Field No. 1 south of the Agriculture buildings. Co-op by-laws are complete and are now being printed.

At an earlier meeting of the Co-op, three committees were appointed. A. G. Adams is chairman of the Mediation committee which is working toward a meeting with the Texas Tech board. Raymond Reynolds is chairman of the Procurement committee which is contacting housing companies in an effort to obtain the most suitable unit. Alex Cook is chairman of the Finance committee.

The pre-fabricated housing units are to be financed and constructed by the veterans. Each owner will help construct his own house and three others.

Faculty sponsors of the Co-op, which has been named the Texas Tech Veterans Cooperative Association, are Dr. D. D. Jackson, professor of education and physiology, and T. C. Root, administrative assistant to the president.

Gifts Presented By Charles Guy

Charles Guy, editor and publisher of the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal, has presented two framed war mementoes to the Journalism Department of Texas Tech. One is a colored enlargement of Associated Press Photographer Joe Rosenthal's picture of planting of the American flag on Mt. Suribachi, Iwo Jima, the other a reproduction of streamers and headlines of more than 100 Texas newspapers announcing the end of World War II.

Dye Lab Installs Modern Equipment

With the installation of a laboratory dye bath table, the dyeing laboratory in the Textile Engineering Department at Texas Tech is one of the best equipped in any of the textile schools, according to L. E. Parsons, head of the department. All equipment is modern and of standard mill size in construction.

The drug room is very modern and contains ample quantities of dyestuffs and auxiliary chemicals used in dyeing, donated to the department by commercial dyestuff companies.

Equipment in the dyeing room includes necessary scales and balances; comparascopes, for matching colors; a small centrifuge for extracting moisture from small dyed samples; a Barnstead still for distilling water; and a stainless steel sink combination.

Testing facilities for dyed fabrics and yarns are launder-ometer for testing shrinkage and fastness to washing and fade-ometer to determine color fastness to light. The fade-ometer subjects materials to light more intense than sunlight.

CHICKEN FRY PLANNED

A Chicken Fry was planned for August 17 by Tech FFA at a regular meeting Monday night. Movies were also shown at the meeting.

Artist Course Will Present Harrod, Gamble

William Harrod, violinist and director of the Lubbock Little Symphony Orchestra, and Virginia Belle Gamble, pianist, will be presented Friday, Aug. 8 on the summer recreation program which will be held at 8:30 p. m. on the Ad Building green. Harrod will be accompanied by Beverly Vaughan.

William Harrod was stationed at LAAF while in the service and after receiving his discharge, resumed his music study in New York with Emanuel Zetlin. Harrod returned to Lubbock to teach violin and on June 10 organized the Lubbock Little Symphony Orchestra of which he is the director.

Mary Belle Gamble is a former Tech student and graduate of Texas U, where she was a student of Dales Frantz. She also studied with Marion Keighley Snowden, professor of the Matthey School in London. For the past year Miss Gamble was head of the piano department at Hardin College in Wichita Falls, Texas. She will open a private studio here in the fall.

Beverly Vaughan will accompany Mr. Harrod. Miss Vaughan did graduate study in piano at Julliard School of Music with

McCleary And Bowden Get Finance Posts

Appointment of John E. Bowden of Austin as auditor of Texas Technological College and E. W. McCleary of Lubbock to the newly created post of bursar at the school has been announced by W. T. Gaston, Tech business manager. Mr. Bowden has assumed his new duties and Mr. McCleary will become bursar September 1.

The new auditor is a native of Tennessee and came to Tech from the office of the state auditor, where he has been employed two years. Previous to that time he held accounting and auditing posts in Texas since 1927. For two years he was chief accountant for the Lone Star Steel company in major construction work in the Daingerfield area.

Mr. McCleary has been auditor of Tech since 1931 and is acting as assistant auditor until he takes over as bursar, a position in which he will be responsible for payrolls and bond accounts for Texas Tech.

Adams, Goodman Given Commissions

Lt. Col. Ludlow C. Adams, commandant of the Texas Tech ROTC unit, and Maj. John M. Goodman, assistant professor of military science and tactics, were recently granted permanent commissions in the regular Army. They were among 9600 reserve officers who successfully passed rigid tests and received confirmation of the United States Senate.

Colonel Adams, who assumed his duties as professor of military science and tactics at Texas Tech recently, was commissioned a permanent captain in ordnance and Major Goodman, a permanent first lieutenant in the signal corps. Goodman was one of 207 reserve commissioned in the signal corps of over 10,000 applicants.

Bureau Places More Techsans

Recent appointments of Tech graduates and students to positions in public schools have been announced by Dr. Doyle D. Jackson, professor of education and director of the Placement Bureau. Placements are as follows:

T. M. Cox, jr., of Muleshoe will serve as assistant football coach and head basketball coach at Dalhart. He will graduate in August of 1946.

Jo Hal Wofford of Plainview will teach in the elementary schools of Floydada. She graduated in June, 1946.

Lowell Lee Sewell of Samnorwood will teach in the grade school at Hale Center. He has completed junior work at Texas A&M.

Irene Kuykendall of Outaquet will teach English in the Brownwood high school. She graduated in 1931.

Nelson G. Patrick of Donna will be in charge of band instruction in the San Benito schools. He is a graduate of 1940.

Lawrence E. McCulloch of Burlington, Iowa, will serve as coach in the Memphis high school. He graduated in 1943.

Harry G. Martin of Spur is to coach in the Dalau schools this year. He graduated in 1941.

Douglas Adkins of Thalia is to teach social science in the high school at Phillips. He graduated in 1941.

Naval Training Begins At Tech

Texas Technological college will give college courses to a number of Navy men in connection with the Naval Aviation preparatory program beginning with this term of summer school, according to H. A. Anderson, Coordinator of Veterans Affairs. Four students have enrolled at Tech for the Navy program.

The program is a peace-time version of the joint V-12 and V-5 programs by which Naval deck officers and fliers were trained during the war. The students now, however, may choose the college in which they receive their training, Anderson says.

The Naval students will not be required to wear uniforms. They will be provided with quarters and subsistence, expenses of their schooling will be paid by the Navy. They will receive a rate of pay equal to that of apprentice seaman.

They will be independent of any organized group but are subject to reports sent by the college to the commandant of the Eighth Naval District in New Orleans, Anderson says.

Required courses are mathematics, physics and English. Most of the students are enrolling in the Engineering Division. The exact length of their college training is not yet known.

Dean Announces Working Hours

Students having a 2.1 (B) grade point average may work as many hours as they desire, it was decided by the council of academic deans, and announced by Dean M. W. Weeks, head of the home economics department. This program is an experiment. "It will be continued as long as they keep up their school work," said Dean Weeks.

Anyone having a grade point average of less than 2.1 (B) will limit their work to the number of hours as prescribed in the catalogue. It now prescribes that students working more than 3 hours a day may not carry more than 12 hours, and the dean of their division makes alterations to meet individual needs.

Serving of three meals daily every day except Sunday, doughnuts and coffee available at mid-morning and mid-afternoon, and prices as low as possible will be featured by the Texas Tech cafeteria when it opens in the fall, Dean Margaret Weeks has announced.

Miss Weeks, who will supervise the cafeteria in the building which formerly housed the Social Center, said everything will be done to make the place what the students and faculty want it to be. She said the main objective is to provide a place for students and faculty to eat and enjoy themselves.

"There is only one thing which we will seek to avoid," she commented. "That is loafing in the building."

New Equipment Purchased

Miss Weeks visited Dallas and Fort Worth recently in efforts to make adequate equipment for the new cafeteria. She said she believes everything necessary will be installed within the next month. Greatest difficulty has been purchase of kitchen and steam-table equipment.

The interior of the building will be changed but little, under present plans. The large mirrors, drapes, floors and other arrangements will not be altered. A steam table will be installed, along with stout tables in the serving rooms.

Doughnuts, Coffee Served

A doughnut machine is being purchased so that faculty and students dropping in for coffee during the morning and afternoon may have something to dunk.

Plans call for the cafeteria to open at 7:30 a. m. and remain open until 10:30. It will close for an hour or so, under the tentative program, to get ready for luncheon, opening at 11:30 a. m. and staying open a couple of hours. The cafeteria will open for about an hour during the afternoon to serve coffee and doughnuts, closing again to reopen for the dinner hours.

Opal Wood of Lamesa will be in charge of the cafeteria in her capacity as assistant professor of foods and nutrition. The eating place will serve as a laboratory for the class in institutional management.

Miss Weeks also announced that Mozelle Craddock has taken a year's leave of absence from teaching the institutional management class because of added duties in connection with construction of the new dormitories. Miss Weeks emphasized that Miss Craddock was

Theodore Roosevelt Said It

"A man who is good enough to shed his blood for his country is good enough to be given a square deal afterward. More than that no man is entitled to, and less than that no man shall have."

Half A Square Deal

The veterans, who formed the housing co-op in an attempt to better themselves and Tech by easing the critical housing shortage, are asking for only half a square deal in the form of a roof, a pre-fabricated one, under which to burn the midnight oil. The college education which these vets earned the hard way is the other half of this square deal. Without the roof, the war-won education would be only a dream for many of them.

And the Vet Co-op plan is not a dream plan. The veterans are not merely dreaming of one hundred homes on the Tech campus. They have a plan of action which will line up all the obstacles and then knock them off like so many enemy installations.

College life isn't the easiest thing for these men under the best of conditions and the absence of their families would only make it more difficult. They were too long away from them during the war. So instead of griping about the bachelors quarters offered at LAAF and wishing for a place to stay, it is characteristic of Tech's veterans that they should solve this seemingly unsolvable problem for themselves.

Anyone who doubts that the veterans will achieve their aim with the Co-op had better take one last look at the empty cow pasture south of the Aggie building. If our vets fight the housing battle like they fought the war, September 14 will see some remarkable changes on that field. Wonder what the vets will name their town?

At a large co-educational college, the dean of women severely criticized the moral laxity of the students, announcing to the student body on Wednesday that "The President and I have decided to stop necking on the campus."—Seebring (Ala.) News.

State Survey Made In Home Economics

The Home Economics Division at Texas Technological College is cooperating with the American Vocational association in a nationwide survey to determine factors affecting the supply of home economics teachers.

Miss Vivian Johnson, head of the home economics education department, is chairman of the committee for surveying the state of Texas.

Dean Goodwin Goes To Education Meet

Dr. R. C. Goodwin, dean of the division of Arts & Sciences, left July 19, for Spartanburg, N. C., where he was to attend a meeting at Converse College of Works Conference of Higher Education. Following the meeting, Dean Goodwin was to vacation the remainder of the month in Florida.

Esta Fay Deen of Fort Worth and Kenneth E. Koger of Shomrock, Tech graduate, were married July 3 in Fort Worth. The couple will live in Shreveport, La. Mrs. Fay C. Roe, former graduate student in home economics at Tech, has resigned as county home demonstration agent of Coke county.

Announcement has been made of the marriage of Marilyn Gollehon, former Techman, to Lewis Warren. Both resided in Dimmitt.

Letters to Editor

The Toreador will publish any letter that is of interest to the students or faculty of Texas Tech. According to the rules of the Publications Committee, any letter printed should be signed by the person writing and kept on file in the Toreador office for the school year.

Dear Toreador Staff:

The Coda is out of print till fall, but some of us band members are still here and we feel rather strongly about that unfair, disparaging editorial in today's Toreador. Please don't decide this is not of interest to the faculty and students and not print it. We deserve a rebuttal after today.

First I want to try again to convince you that we are not agitating for a building. We stated clearly that our place in the future sym will be OK with us. Even if we could get money for a building, we couldn't finish one by fall. What we are trying to get across is that we want to get a place for this fall and prevent a recurrence of this summer's shameful happening. As for a previous knowledge of our eviction, months is a masterpiece of understatement. When I first came in June, 1940, the eviction was hanging over us and had been for some time. So the previous knowledge was adequate to make arrangements. Well, how much did the journalism students do to get their building? Didn't the administration arrange it? And isn't that their job? Obviously they and not we are at fault because we had no place to have classes.

As to helping ourselves, we thought of it and tried to plan it. But every time we evolved a plan, there was something wrong with it. Why? Because it would give Tech a bad name if it was known that the band had to go begging for something the state was supposed to provide. In the second place, people donated to the stadium because the state doesn't provide stadia. But who would donate for a building the state is supposed to provide? To ask them would be to insult their intelligence and generosity.

I stand corrected in my statement that everyone else was adequately housed. I admit they aren't. But they have at least something. We have nothing. And you didn't have to beat yourself to death expounding the sad plight of the Athletic department. We agree on that—look at our letter.

Do you say that vets are "whining" and "making trouble" when they try to get housing? They don't have any and want some.

Well, we don't have any and we want some.

We periodically see editorials about the Toreador's readiness to present problems and help solve them. Yet here we've presented a problem and you condemn it without even investigating it. Sure, they all assure us that we'll have a place next fall, but not one will give a clue as to where. I don't believe anyone knows yet. If you all know that we're going to have a place, please tell us. Prof. Wiley would like to know in addition to us.

And finally, remember this—we didn't gripe until we were dealt to from a cold deck. We had always been assured a place would be assured before we would be moved. Yet, in complete contradiction to this, we were thrown out. Do you think we're sucker enough to take their vague word again? I hope you're not that naive and gullible. We're not whining. We're just trying to protect ourselves before we get hit below the belt again.

George L. Mayes
P. S. The Coda may be small, but it's got guts.

EDITOR'S NOTE — The Toreador is also small and has carried considerable discussion of the band and its housing. We let the Coda, band publication, and its editor hereby have the last word. This is the last discussion of the band housing for the summer. The band will be adequately housed this fall and in the future, the relatively near future, it will have a permanent home, we feel sure. The administration has not gone to sleep on this matter, and we will carry in these columns no further attack on its program for the band.

Kemas Celebrate Term's End With Picnic, Dance

By JOE MEADOR

After the meeting on the Ad building green, most veterans came away well informed about what to do in case they were not getting their checks. Mr. Fuller, director of vocational and educational training for the veterans, made the statement that he was personally interested in seeing that all the veterans and especially those attending Tech were well informed and well taken care of. After Fuller's speech, I think that all the veterans who attended Tuesday's meeting had a clearer understanding of the swell job Mr. Fuller and his force are doing to aid the veterans in the field of education.

Meet a Veteran . . .

John Wright, ex-army Master Sgt. was on his way to the Philippines seventeen days prior to the raid on Pearl Harbor. John was a pretty lucky "Top Kick," though, as his ship changed courses and landed at Australia.

Wright attended Tech from 1937 until the time that he entered the service in December 1940. Of his overseas duty, which was three years and six months, Wright spent most of his time in New Guinea and the remainder in Australia. His most exciting time was in Brisbane, Australia where he met Mrs. John Wright in the romantic month of June, 1944. John returned to the states in March, 1945 followed by Lois who came in October. John was discharged from the service after four years and nine months. He chalked up 120 points.

Wright finished high school at Cleburne, Texas. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John S. Wright who reside in Cleburne.

Since re-enrolling in Tech last spring, Wright, a senior Commerce student, has become popular on the campus and especially well known in the TWVA. John's most recent move in the association, since being elected secretary, was to lay the plans for a veterans housing co-op. Wright heads the board of directors, and has formed four committees to aid in the plan to house the married veterans of Tech.

Announcement has been made of the marriage of Bobbie Pynes of Kermitt, former teacher at Rotan, to Robert H. Hargroves, Tech agronomy major graduate and returned war veteran, now a student in the Baylor dental school.

Lettermen Accept Coaching Posts

Three Texas Tech athletic lettermen have accepted posts recently as coaches. Lawrence McCulloch will coach basketball and assist with football at Memphis, Tex., high school; T. M. Cox is to coach basketball and assist with football at Dalhart high; and Byron Gilbreath is to be head coach at Gilbert, Ariz.

McCulloch lettered in basketball in 1941-42 and 1942-43. He is in summer school. Cox lettered in football in 1944 and 1945 and is getting his degree this month. Gilbreath was a member of the conference champion basketball team in 1940-41 and played the two previous years also. He and McCulloch are returned servicemen.

Marriage of Dorothy Nichols of Dublin, Tex., to Windell Montgomery of Hugo, Okla., student at Tech prior to enlisting in the Army, has been announced.

Tech Will Have New Dressing Rooms For Fall

Work has been started on erection of new dressing rooms underneath the west stands of Tech's football field. It is expected about a month will be required to complete the project.

Upwards of 100 candidates for the Red Raider football team are expected to report this fall and the dressing rooms are necessary. Coach Dell Morgan said as work started, it had been hoped the new stadium would be available by fall and when this proved impossible plans for the quarters under construction were laid.

The new building will be used for all athletics until the stadium is completed and then will be assigned to track and baseball teams.

The dressing quarters will be housed in a 72 by 30 foot all-concrete fireproof building located about where the old dressing rooms under the west stands were situated. The structure will be divided to provide space for home and visiting teams on nights of games. Hot and cold water and showers will be available. The building also will include modern rest rooms for men and women.

The portion of the west stands which burned in the summer of 1944 has been removed, along with all buildings in the area.

Plans for the stadium are moving along slowly. Lack of government release of needed materials has handicapped speed.

Football Prospects Discussed By ABC

Prospects for the 1946 Red Raider football team were discussed at the American Business club luncheon last week by Coaches Dell Morgan and Berl Huffman.

With a number of former players returning from the armed forces, a new crop of talent coming on, and last year's returning players, plans are shaping up for a good team, the coaches said.

Extension Founder Returns To Tech For Brief Visit

J. E. McDonald, originator and former director of the division of extension, has been visitor on the campus this past week. McDonald served the educational field for 46 years; he was head of the extension department for 17 years. He organized the division of extension at Texas Tech in 1926, and served as director until his retirement in Sept., 1943. Under his direction, classes in extension and courses of correspondence were offered to residents of Lubbock and surrounding counties. In 1938, he organized the department of visual instruction that offered educational motion pictures to service schools and individuals.

Before coming to Tech he was connected with Hardin-Simmons university and Texas A & M. He was high school examiner for the state department of education and a public school teacher for many years. Mr. McDonald now resides in Naacgodoches with his family.

Priddy Named Coach In Illinois

Lawrence Priddy, one of Tech's six three-lettermen, has been named head coach of the high school at Arlington, Ill., a suburb of Chicago. Priddy, graduate of Gainesville high school, was center on the Tech football team in 1932-33-34, was guard on the basketball team the same years and a trackman in 1933. He also won a scholastic award. Prior to the war he was head coach at Sweetwater high school.

Holstein-Friesian Meeting Is Held

The Holstein-Friesian association of Texas held a regional meeting in the Aggie Memorial auditorium at Texas Technological college July 16, according to N. C. Fine, associate professor of animal husbandry. All dairymen in West Texas were invited.

Included on the program a report of the national convention by H. R. Hales, Holstein-Friesian breeder of Amarillo, a type judging school, and discussion of plans for the show at the State Fair of Texas in Dallas, Oct. 5-20. K. V. Kipp-scomb, president of the association, G. G. Gibson, secretary, and G. R. Appelman, Lynn, Kan., an officer in the national association, were among the speakers.

Extension Service Holds Food Clinic

Frozen food problems were discussed at a frozen food locker clinic meeting in the Aggie Memorial auditorium at Texas Technological College July 19. The meeting was sponsored by the extension service of Texas A. and M.

Among the topics discussed were the new federal wage and hour law and its relation to Texas locker plants, preparation of fruit and vegetables for freezing, sanitation, temperature and the handling of beef.

Life With the Exes

Announcement has been made of the marriage of Bonnie Jo Mapes and Curtis Lee, both of Littlefield and both former students of Tech. The couple will re-enroll in Tech this fall.

Announcement has been made of the recent marriage of Janice Keith of Mt. Blanco, student at Tech three years, to Ross Fewell of Crosbyton, a war veteran.

Dora Elizabeth Caldwell, former Tech student and member of Sans Souci, was married recently to William L. Fousour, Jr. Both the bride and bridegroom were raised in Slaton.

Mary McGowen of Anton, former Techsan, was married June 15 to Charles C. Partin of Abilene.

Announcement has been made of the marriage of May Ward Donaldson of Yonkers, N. Y., to Ensign Rodney McReynolds of Plainview, student at Tech when he entered the Navy.

Joan Yeager and G. A. Tomlinson, both of Amarillo, were married recently. The bride is a graduate of Tech and member of Ko Shari.

Surplus War Goods Received By Tech

Additional equipment and material of the value of $100,000 has recently been received by Texas Technological college from the stocks of surplus war goods. Such donations of equipment and materials are made to schools and colleges on a basis of pre-induction training or aeronautical industrial training, according to S. T. Cummings, college purchasing agent.

Principal items of goods are heavy machinery including an allotment of lathes, grinders, machinist cabinets, glass working machine, heat treating equipment, sheet metal working machinery and other miscellaneous items.

The recent shipment of surplus war goods was donated by the Army Air forces from various fields located in Texas and New Mexico. Previous shipments of surplus war goods to the college amounting to a value of $100,000 have been received.

William Harrod, director of The Lubbock Little Symphony Orchestra, is being presented with Mary

Belle Gamble on the Artist Course program Aug. 3. Some of Tech's music students, former and present, who are members of the or-

It also was announced that Miss Mayme Twyford would return next fall as associate professor of foods and nutrition after a year's leave to remain at her West Union, W. Va., home because of illness of a relative.

Aleva Gardner of Sierra Blanca was married July 4 to W. W. Wilson of Artesia, N. M., former Naval lieutenant who is a Tech graduate and a county agent with the New Mexico extension service.

Students Prefer Dances On Courts

All-college dances on the tennis courts seem to be here to stay as 75 per cent of the students questioned in a student poll agree that there is nothing like a West Texas breeze to insure the success of a dance. The breeze, sadly lacking the gym, won over all objections to the tennis courts.

Following are some of the decisions for and against the dancing under the stars:

ORVILLE ALDERSON: "The courts should be polished smooth in spite of the fact that it makes tennis playing dangerous for a week. It's worth it. I play golf myself."

BENOY GATTIS: "I like the tennis courts—right on the campus, right by the cars; makes for better bird dogging, otherwise known as snaking."

ALLEN NELSON: "Ah! The tennis courts! I agree with Gattis."

CARL SCHMIDT: "I like dances in the gym. I play tennis."

MARY LOUISE MURRAY: "I like dancing on the courts because it's cooler, but in the gym you can at least see your partner."

MILTON BUTLER: "I like it on the courts myself."

DAVID JOHNSON: "I like dances on the courts because they are closer to the cars."

TRAVIS SHELTON: "I like them on the courts—makes it easier to keep up with your wife with only one gate to watch." (Next week's headlines today, VETERAN'S HEAD CHOPPED OFF BY WIFE).

SADDLE SOAP

Deverle Lewis and Buddy Rambo were the only reunion casualties. They lost their shoes, but found an extra pair and shared them. People only thought they were crippled—probably.

Burl Hubbard was pretty happy about life in general one night at SPAAF. Couldn't have been the brew—he never touches the stuff.

Bob Martin was with Mary Ann Dikes at the MCCC dance Sat. He's a Lubbock boy home from the sea.

Peggy Ann and Emil de Costa are home from an extensive honeymoon in Mexico with his family. He's in for the second session. She's housekeeping until Sept.

Glenn Ivey, tennis champ—?, is still escorting Elaine Head.

Who is this tall dark and so-forth that is being seen with Betty McDonald?

Lou Deane Blair and Henry Bobo are still carrying the mutual torch.

Joe Jones is back in ye old home state after trying Colorado for a semester.

Mac Kennedy is looking for a smart, cute, rich girl who wants to go steady—and will take dictation on and type his thesis.

Garland Head has gone to Ky. The blue grass must be in bloom.

Charlie Guy, Jr. is fortunate to live on the smooth level plains of Texas. After and during dances, he's just never make it up any hill.

Mack Elston and Wes Hamilton are visualizing an escort service. They say they have lined up plenty of men, they need some customers now.

Speaking of golf, nobody was, but Jack Walker is home from the wars and there is a man who can play the game.

Alice Meading thought the worst had happened when her mamma cussed her date out for bringing her in too late. Happens to the best of us, Meady.

Rumor has it that Claude Jarrett will go to school in Tennessee this fall. Does the grass grow greener on the golf courses there?

Polly Gossitt and Oliver Ramsey seem to spend a lot of time together.
