Tech Gets $30,200 Research Grant

Engineering Show Set For April 17-18

THE DATE has been set and plans are going forward toward the fourteenth annual engineering show. The engineer's show will be held April 17 and 18 in connection with the annual home economics open house. Departmental managers have been elected and will work under the engineering show manager, Watson Carlock.

First Aid Class Meets Monday On Defense Work

Cards are being mailed to 662 Tech men students, who indicated on the defense work cards at the time of registration that first aid was one of their free defense work projects, asking them to meet in the engineering auditorium, Monday at 5 p.m.

In addition to those who checked the defense cards, students who are interested in a practical course in first aid may sign up for classes. A number of different class periods will be offered so that the students may fit their own schedule and plan of activities.

The students with previous training in the show are taking the refresher-training course under Dr. J. D. Donaldson, college physician, during the past few weeks will be student instructors in the course.

Tech Journalists Plan To Attend Meeting

Plans are being formulated by Tech journalism students to attend the fifteenth annual Southwestern Journalism congress to be held at S.M.U. in Dallas April 9-11.

Experts Praise Tech Professors' Synthetic Sugar

The short course on sugar substitutes for ice cream conducted in Dallas Feb. 16 and 17 by K. M. Renner and L. G. Harmon, professor and assistant professor of dairy manufacturing respectively, was a successful and approximately 300 ice cream manufacturers from Texas and surrounding states attended the meet, according to Renner.

Representatives of the various manufacturers examined the ice cream samples that Renner and Harmon took to Dallas with them. According to Renner, only an expert could tell the difference between ice cream made with the usual cane sugar and that made with most with the substitutes. Honey imparts to the cream a taste that is very distinct, however.

Rushee Convocation Meets For Preferential Bidding

All men students who are pledging social clubs this semester will meet in C101 Monday night at 8 o'clock to sign preferential bids. This meeting of the rushees will officially close the spring semester rush week. The announcements of pledges will be posted on the bulletin board of the Dean of Men's office, Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock.

Defense Program

The Red Cross office states that knitting material to be used by Tech girls for making mittens, beanies, mufflers and squares for Afghanes expected any day and will be issued at a time and place to be announced later.

Attention: Those girls who have already been issued yarn from the Red Cross office are urged to complete and turn in their garments as soon as possible.

Girls who would like to sign up for hostess work in the entertainment of Air Base pilots are asked to do so this week.

Defense committee announcements will be made through this column providing the notices are given through the A.W.S. office.

Tech Professor Completes Work On Foods Ph. D.

Mrs. Mina W. Lamb, assistant professor of foods and nutrition, has returned from New York where she has completed requirements at Columbia university for a Ph. D. degree to be conferred next June.

Mrs. Lamb took an oral examination in defense of her research and edited her dissertation for printing. The report is concerned with energy metabolism and mechanical deficiency of boys and young men. She did work for the dissertation in the respiration chamber at the nutrition department at Columbia under Dr. Grace LaLeod.

In 1932 Mrs. Lamb received a B. A. degree from Texas Tech with a major in chemistry. She changed her major to foods and nutrition and in 1937 she received an M. S. degree at Tech. A scholarship was awarded her to study at Columbia where she stayed two and one-half years.

Mrs. Lamb is the second woman graduate of Tech to receive a Ph. D. degree and she was also the first person to receive an M. A. degree from the home economics division. She is the former Miss Mina Marie Wolf.

Band Requests Waring's Permit On Fight Song

With student sentiment still flying high over the Tech fight song presented by Fred Waring and his Pennsylvanians on his broadcast Feb. 13, Harold Thompson, Student Council president, has written Pat Ballard, director of public relations for Waring's organization, for written permission for the Tech band to use the song at games, rallies, concerts and broadcasts.

At the request of D. O. Wiley, Tech band director, Thompson also asked about the possibility of obtaining an arrangement for full symphonic band for the use of the Tech band.

Engineers Meet Company Scouts

Two representatives from outstanding companies will be guests of the engineering department this week to interview and talk with senior engineering students who are interested in positions after graduation. R. W. Rossler, manager of the Dallas office of the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing company was here on Friday to interview electrical engineers, mechanical engineers and chemical engineers.

A representative of the North American Aviation incorporated of Inglewood, California, will be here to speak to electrical engineers, mechanical engineers and civil engineers.

Students who wish an interview with these men should contact Miss Dorothy Rylander, engineering secretary, in her office in the engineering library immediately.

Enrolled at Tulane university is a descendant of Paul Tulane, after whom the institution was named. He is Louis Tulane Bass, Ogden, Utah.

Voters Are Kings When—

Candidates Take To Stump From Gym To Aggie Grove

By FELICIA BOULTER
Toreador Staff Writer

CAMPAIGN posters located from the dome of the Administration building to the basement of the Engineering building in the fire hose easements and in the windows of student dorms, on bulletin boards as well as tree trunks—cries of "Gowen for editor," "Retain Bill Latson" "Vote for Leon Hughes," "Ross for La Ventura Editor," "Weddle for business manager," "Edwards for The Toreador," "Hunsucker for editor," "Vote for Ragsdale," "Simpson for Toreador business manager." —furrowed brows and smiles of confidence—campaign promises being made of tender and more emphatically-staunch platforms being built stauncher.

Thus the Tech campus has turned temporarily into a political hodge-podge, with the publications election only four days off—four days in which nine candidates seek to fulfill the highest political aspirations of the journalistic careers.

The election which is held next Thursday, Feb. 26, will employ the secret ballot system, with preferential voting. Ballot boxes will be

Dr. J. W. Davis, government instructor, and Dr. Julien Paul Blitz, music department head, riding the bicycles which were instrumental in the injuries received by several faculty members and students. The professors, mounted somewhat unsteadily upon their bicycles, were engaged in a race around the campus circle when the accident occurred. For details see story below.

Pedestrians Struck By Racing Profs

BY HELEN JOY SMITH
Toreador Staff Writer
GENERAL havoc and destruction rampaged on the campus Thursday as a result of a bicycle race between Dr. Julien Paul Blitz, head of department of music, and Dr. J. William Davis, associate professor of government.

As the two professors sped around the Tech circle on their bicycles, they collided with several pedestrians and caused a motorist to detour from his chosen path and careen wildly down the road and run into the museum knocking about a dozen bricks off one corner.

Faculty members, incapacitated by the collision, received injuries in varying degrees from shock to broken bones. Prof. Cecil Horn, head of journalism department, received several minor abrasions on the head, Dr. Benjamin Bock, instructor in government, received several minor bruises, J. W. Jackson, assistant professor in government, suffered effects of shock and was confined to his bed for several days. Prof. H. C. Pender, head of the government department, received a fracture in his left leg.

Several students were injured slightly as they were crossing the circle on their way home to lunch, but all were able to attend their afternoon classes.

Foreign Students Speak To Future Teachers
Guest speakers at a meeting of the Future Teachers of America at 7:30 Tuesday night will be Abdul Mehta, whose subject will be "Indian Education," and Ted Alexander, who will speak on "Education in Austria." The meeting will be held at the home of Dr. L. B. Cooper, sponsor, 2024 Seventeenth street.

Membership for FTA is being held open temporarily for freshmen, sophomores and juniors who desire to pledge the organization this spring, petitioning for national membership next fall. Students interested in joining the club must contact the FTA offices before Monday afternoon.

Techsans Gather Ambulance Fund

A total of $50.11 has been received by Dr. C. B. Qalia in response to an appeal for faculty and students to make donations in the American Field service ambulance drive. This collection will help inscribe Texas Tech's name on a "University Ambulance" to be sent to the Free French forces in Africa.

Further contributions should be made to Dr. Qalia or Dr. Edgar T. Ruff before noon Saturday, when the drive closes.

Lt. T. Y. Awalt To Speak To Men Students Monday

T. Y. Awalt, lieutenant commander of the United States Coast Guard, will speak to all men students interested in the coast guard Monday at 4 p.m. in the gymnasium.

Lieutenant Awalt will show pictures of the Coast Guard Academy and describe the work of the academy. He will explain some of the opportunities of higher education of that branch of the service.

According to information received by Dr. H. L. Kent, coast guard training will lead to a Bachelor of Arts degree, commission and a career. Application procedure will also be mapped by the command along with telling of the type of work that men who are admitted to the academy will do.

Lieutenant Awalt has written to Dr. Kent expressing his hope that all men students of the college will be present at the meeting Lubbock high school seniors will also be invited to the lecture.

W. A. King Goes To Austin

W. A. King, defense shop supervisor in the Division of agriculture, is in Austin this week to attend a conference with state officials.

State Extends Funds For Textile Work

BY ELIZABETH YOUNG
Toreador Staff Writer

TEXTILE RESEARCH for improvements in cotton manufacturing received a $30,200 appropriation in a grant to Texas Tech by the state legislature through the Texas Cotton Research institute last week.

The money was appropriated when the presidents of Texas A & M, the University of Texas and Texas Tech met in Austin with Director John Leahy of the research institute to allocate the funds set aside by the Texas legislature in May, 1941 and to perfect organization of working plans.

Research Staff Planned
Prof. C. M. Stanley, Jr., head of textile engineering, will be director of the research project on the Tech campus. Stanley says that the object of Tech's research will be to develop a fabric and a method for manufacturing the fabric, which substitutes chemical means for roving, spinning, warp preparation and weaving. The initial phase of the research will be an attempt to "spot weld" cotton fibers as a substitute for intermediate processes.

Plans are now being made to set up a research staff. They will employ an associate research engineer and a full time skilled mechanic. Loyd Jackson, instructor in textile engineering, will be a part time research assistant.

Stanley has also received word that John Leahy, administrator of the Texas Cotton Research Institute, a body which operates under provisions of the Moffett bill (under which the appropriations were made) has indicated that he probably will visit Tech this week along with Dr. Schoch, director of the bureau of industrial chemistry at the University of Texas; Dr. Simon Williams, assistant to Dr. Schoch; and Mr. Sidney Files, treasurer of the Texas Textile mill. During their visit, the group will go through the administration procedure with President Jones, Dean O. V. Adams and Mr. Stanley.

Equipment Modernized
Equipment in the textile engineering laboratories will be completely modernized before the project begins, Stanley said. Changes and additions will include: installation of a humidifying system in all processing laboratories; a single process machine; addition of a controlled draft drawing frame; conversion of an intermediate roving frame to long draft type; purchase of combination cone, tube, and spring winding machine; conversion of one spinning frame to long draft; installation of a cone type creel for warper; and addition of a new high speed "X" model loom. New chemical supplies, electrical equipment and testing equipment will also be added.

Tech Freshman Wins Award In Quiz Contest
Charlie Bob Hutcherson, 15 year old freshman journalism student of Sundown, was notified yesterday afternoon that he had been chosen as a Kaynes Quiz Kid.

He will be awarded his choice of a guest appearance on a regular coast-to-coast Quiz Kid broadcast, including transportation for himself and an adult, to and from the broadcast, with all expenses paid, plus a $100 U. S. Government Bond or the $100 Bond and $250 in cash.

In December Charlie Bob noticed a booklet attached to the shirt he had purchased and seeing that it was a National contest open to all boys 15 years of age or under, he decided to enter. He had to write an essay on "Why I want to be a Quiz Kid." He simply wrote that he'd like a chance to compete with the regular Quiz Kids. He had already forgotten the contest, and is still too surprised to make any decision as to which prize he will accept.

Charlie Wright, the salesman at Hemphill-Wellis Co. who sold him the shirt, will be sent a defense bond.

The contest was judged by the Quiz Kids and their master of ceremonies, Joe Kelly.

Stangel Attends Meeting Of Dairy Show Directors

W. L. Stangel, professor and head of the department of animal husbandry, attended a meeting of the directors and officers of the Panhandle Plains Dairy show in Plainview Thursday.

Editor Candidates Edit Trial TOREADOR Issues

In keeping with the custom of THE TOREADOR, the editor relinquishes his seat for one issue to each candidate in the race for THE TOREADOR editorship. This practice has been followed for the past several years so the voters may have a chance to see an example of the candidate's work before they elect him to office.

Under this arrangement Editor Bill Latson has agreed to allow his opponents to edit one issue each. This issue is edited by Arlee Gowen, and Wednesday's TOREADOR will be edited by ROY G. EDWARDS.

Tech Cagers Meet Three Arizona Quints This Week

Raiders Drop Flagstaff For Eighth Victory

WITH THE consistency of a skeet shooter the Red Raider basketballers looped goal after goal to defeat the Flagstaff Lumberjacks, Arizona State Teachers college, 48-25, in the first match of the three-game series with Arizona squads, Wednesday night in the Tech gym.

With the strategic shots of Garland Head, Tech forward, the fast ones of Byron Gibbreath and the long range bullseyes of Norman Volz, Coach Earl Huffman's charges took their eighth Border conference victory, still tenaciously holding their second-place position within easy striking power of the loop-leading Canyon Buffaloes, whom they meet Mar. 2.

Head and Gibbreath paced the Raider scoring attack when Tech opened up in the final period of play after leading 19-11, at half-time.

Borger Remains Only Tech Boxer In Slaton Meet

Roland Borger, district Golden Gloves champion of the flyweight division, will be Tech's only fighter in the finals of Slaton's post-Golden Gloves tournament Monday night.

Borger, freshman from Stinnett, won a hard-contested decision over Derwood McClintock of Tahoka Tuesday night.

The Tech flyweight won his division in the District Golden Gloves tournament here early this month. Representing this district in the State tournament in Fort Worth last week, he won his first bout and lost the next one to the champion.

After five years, rifle work for women has been revived at the University of Vermont.

The University of Michigan arts college established the first chair of the science and art teaching in the United States.

Tech Fencers Drop While Leading Loop

AFTER LEADING the Southwestern Fencing league and winning every match with Southwest conference teams, Texas Tech's fencing squad was forced to drop out of the competition, leaving the lead to the University of Texas dualists, according to George Beakley, student coach.

Due to transportation difficulties Tech's fencing squad composed of Bill Rollway, J. W. Martin, Bob Gilland, Jack Abbott and Beakley, tendered their resignation to Rois Brockman, president of the Southwestern Division of the American Fencing League.

After defeating other college teams in the Southwest, Tech fencers lacked winning only one more match to have assured championship. The Double T dualists led the league in three divisions of the fencing tournament. In foil, dueling sword and sabre, Texas Tech carried the lead up until their enforced withdrawal.

Planning to enter in the individual conference championship in March, Tech swordsmen still practice daily in their workouts in the basement of the Journalism building. It is hoped that fencing will be offered to girls next year as a part of the physical education curriculum.

Rollway, one of Tech's most promising dualists, upset the two leaders in the Southwest division in foil and dueling sword, while Beakley, sophomore engineering student from Loveland and a transfer from Baylor, where he was active in fencing competition, held a high percentage in fencing scores.

The other members of the regular team, Martin, Gilland, and

Tennis Plans Get Under Way

Preparations for tennis practice are moving rapidly, and workouts will begin Mar. 15, according to Dean James G. Allen, tennis coach.

The loss of Joe Elrod, star intramural player last year who did not enroll this semester, will hamper the effectiveness of the team greatly but such stalwarts as David Storey, school singles champion, Jack Shanks, Loyd Brunson, Max Munn, Harold Yeager, and James Stokes have already indicated that they will compete.

Dean Allen states that prospects are fine for the best seasoned group in the history of Texas Tech to carry the Red and Black this year.

None of last year's lettermen were lost through graduation, and so far, Elrod is the first loss.

Schedules are still tentative, but Tech will participate in the Border conference competition and will tour the Southwest conference in dual meets.

Dean Allen invites all interested racket-swingers to see him before Mar. 15.

Truckin' On The Square Begins Monday Afternoon

Put your little foot, put your little foot, put your little foot right on that floor and truck it on over to the gym to sign up for the country dancing classes that begin Monday. Come one, come all—everyone is invited to come on over and learn to jive the Clossin way.

That's right neighbor, Jimmie Clossin of El Paso can't be beat when it comes to swinging out on a mean schottische, and he's the fellow that's going to be doing the instructing in these country dancing classes you've been hearing about.

Tickets are just $1—cheap when you consider that that entitles each person to attend every single class. Two classes a day will be offered, so if you can't come during the day for the 2 o'clock session, drop in that evening around 5 o'clock for that class. Clossin hopes to be able to introduce a new dance each day. The square dance will be featured but couple dances will be done also.

Border Olympics Date Is Set

One of the three biggest track and field events held in Texas each year, the Border Olympics will be held this year in Martin High school stadium. Preliminaries are scheduled for the afternoon with finals that night.

Walter Webster, known as "Jumbo" on the gridiron, bids fair to be his best dash man, Nichols said. Webster who was a track sensation in Lubbock High school, can run the 100-yard dash in 10 seconds flat.

Maxey McKnight and Bill McColloch carry Tech's banners in high jump. Both have cleared the bar at the 6 feet, 1 inch level.

Byron Gibbreath teams with McKnight in doing the high hurdles. Tech has three entrants in the discus throw, placing its hopes in the slinging arms of Webster, Bill Niven, J. R. Callahan and Bill Scott.

Callahan, Nichol's triple-threat field man, is also picked for pole vault and shot put. Walter Schlink is the theme was "Home—the first line of defense."

Nursery school and the Home Management house will also be open to visitors.

Plans are under way in each department to contribute an exhibit to the show.

Spring Training Lists Forty Tech Gridders

FORTY PLAYERS are on the Red Raider varsity roll for spring practice, Dell Morgan, head coach, announced this week.

Practice is scheduled to begin Monday, March 2, last day of hardwood play, and continue for a 30-day stretch.

The 40 players expected to answer initial roll call is one shy of last week's expectations. Thayne (Red) Amnett depleted the Raider squad by an unknown amount when answered the draft call Monday, that sent him to Fort Sill, Oklahoma.

Amnett, junior from Flomot, was rated as one of the fastest and best half-backs on the Raider squad.

Broken down into positions, the number of players expected to report to Morgan and Earl Huffman for workouts stacks up like this: five ends, nine guards, five tackles, five centers and 16 backfield men.

Five on the spring roster were regular players last season. They are Will Allbright, Don Austin, Doyle Caraway, J. R. Callahan and Kenneth Robbins.

Captains for next year who will get valuable practice in the spring workouts are Will (Joe) Allbright and Kenneth (Cocky) Robbins. They were selected to lead the Raiders by almost unanimous vote at the Lions club banquet honoring varsity men late in January.

Aggie-Home Ec Jamboree Held In Double T Gym

Paul Jones, Folk And Square Dances Featured At Party

Three hundred apron and overall clad students are expected to attend the Aggie-H. E. party held at 8:00 p. m. tonight in the gymnasium. A program of dancing and games will provide entertainment with an old fashioned bar and appropriate signs as a background. Paul Jones, folk and square dances will be mixed with modern types of dancing. Apple cider and fresh doughnuts and cookies will be available at all times.

Other forms of entertainment will be impromptu speeches, a double-nothing program, a cattle judging contest with specimens from the audience and trick roping. Bob Griffin will be master of ceremonies. To encourage friendship among members of the two clubs, Maxine Landley and H. T. Cardwell, program chairmen, have arranged for the functioning of a date bureau. Girls who are going to the party will register in the Home Economics building. Boys without dates may call girls who do not have escorts.

Engineers Have Oil Official For Speaker

Charles A. Miller, manager of the southern division of the personnel department of the Texas company from Houston, will be the principal speaker at the engineering banquet which will be held March 7 in the new girls dormitory. All alumni of the club are invited.

Engineering societies all over the country will have branch banquets at the same time. Class speakers have been selected to represent each class. Telegrams from other groups will be read at the banquet.

Susquehanna university trustees are starting a campaign to raise $200,000 to provide an adequate classroom building and to increase the university's endowment past the half-million-dollar mark.

Soldiers "No" the USO But Hubettes "Oh, Boy"

By M. M. Tunnell

SOLDIERS may say "No" to the USO, but they won't to the Lubbock Hubettes. The Hubettes, a new organization composed of women's clubs in Lubbock, are enlisting the aid of Tech co-eds in providing for the community recreation of soldiers at the Lubbock air base at Hurlwood.

Working through the Chamber of Commerce, the group is headed by Mrs. J. S. Stiles, with Dean Doak as director of the Tech branch aided by AWS president, Onita Belle Hufstetter. During spring registration, 309 girls signed campus defense slips saying that they were interested in community recreation for their contribution to civilian defense, and they will be called upon to give their services in planning and carrying out plans for social affairs for the fellows at the air base. All girls interested in doing such work, however, are invited to sign cards in Dean Doak's office indicating the phase of entertaining in which they will care to participate. When the applications are filled out, a careful check on scholarship standing will be made of each girl, and she will be issued an identification button.

All Tech girls have permission to date soldiers, but only those with identification badges will be allowed to take part in the Hubette activities. Onita Belle has requested that all girls who are interested fill out blanks in the dean's office and watch THE TOREADOR for announcement of a future meeting.

The Theta Sigma Phi style show given at Lovelock Wednesday night ushered in new spring fashions with a wish and a sigh. Both of the latter co-ed reactions were sighs of astonishment at the unique and attractive clothes they will be wearing before long. The wish for a full enough pocket book to buy everything in sight.

Particularly approved by the group attending were the glazed chintz dresses with the billowy skirts and the crisp seersuckers with the novelty belts, buttons and pockets. Nettie Belle Batton proved herself a veritable Gail Northe with her fashion commenting, and little Miss Patsy Patillo stole the show with her modeling of togs for the tiny tot.

College students are happy to hear Brunette Harper's songs over KFYO again. Her rendition of popular blues songs and semi-classes are broadcast every day cepting Sunday at 12:30. Betty Jo Wagner may be leaving us one of these days—she's threatening to spread her wings by becoming an air hostess for Braniff air lines.

New Ruling For Rush Activities Is Inaugurated

In compliance with a new ruling passed recently by Men's Inter-Club council, all men's rush function this semester are smokers held at Hotel Lubbock Rush week, which opened Sunday, is being held this week, with a silence period beginning at 8 p. m. Sunday. Rushes will sign preference slips at a convocation at 7:00 Monday night in C101.

First rush affair was a smoker given Sunday night by College Club, with approximately 65 rushees attending. Bob Bandeen is president of the organization.

Seventy rushees were present at the Kemas smoker Monday night. Johnny Phillips heads the club. Silver Keys entertained approximately 75 guests Tuesday night, with Homer York, president, in charge of arrangements. Los Camaradas rushees were honored with a smoker Wednesday night. Arnold Maeker is president of the organization this semester. Wragglers club of which Cabot Dysart is president, entertained Thursday night.

The Centaur rush function was held Friday night. James Allen is president. Last social function will be the Socii smoker Sunday night. An entertainment program has been planned, according to Jack Longley, president.

FFA Boys Drop Annual Banquet To Aid Defense

"We don't want to set the world on fire; we just want to start a flame in Tokyo" is the FFA boy's response in dispensing with their annual banquet. To cut down expenses and help national defense, the boys are replacing the banquet with an FFA smoker to be held at 7:30 p. m. Friday in the Pavilion.

All members of the organization and boys eligible for membership are invited to attend. They have been instructed to bring themselves and start rationing sugar by letting "fraulein" rest up for the Aggie-H.E. party. Each attendant is to bring a deck of funny cards and dominoes, a funny joke, a big lie and sharp wits for an I. Q. program.

Prizes will be given the biggest liar and the person who tells the most appropriate joke. All members of the association are required to bring $1.50 for defense bonds.

Deford To Speak At Club Meeting

Ronald K. Deford, geologist for the Argo oil company, Midland will speak to Sigma Gamma Epsilon, geological honor society next Tuesday night, February 24 on the U.S. S.R. in 1937.

Deford is basing his talk on experiences he had in Russia while attending the International congress of geologists which met in Moscow.

An Open Letter To Students:
Due to the fact that I have a job on my hands, I haven't found time to carry on the extensive campaign for TOREADOR Business Manager I would have liked. For this reason I find myself in the position of a man running for office instead of a politician.
Perhaps this is best, because I'm going on being myself and working like the seven shades of something or other as I've always tried to do. By this means, I want to tell you that your votes and your influences will be appreciated.
Believing myself the man for the job, I am yours for a PAYING TOREADOR.
