Burroughs To Interview June Accounting Grads

June graduates who have 18 hours of accounting will be interviewed tomorrow by Dan Carr and M. H. Hall, branch managers for the Burroughs Adding Machine company. Mrs. Jean A. Jenkins, executive secretary of the Placement office, announced Monday.

June graduates in accounting and finance will be interviewed Friday by Edward C. Shaw, vice-president of the Southwestern Investment company, for employment in the credit and analysis department. Mrs. Jenkins said. Graduates who are interested may schedule individual interviews at the Placement office, Ad-205.

graduates registered in Tech, was the basis for this decision, stated Jerry Wilson, chief justice.

The question of graduate student participation in elections was brought before the Supreme Court when Floyd Camp, graduate student, contested the election rules of the April 12 primary, in which he was refused the right to vote.

The session was the first the Supreme Court has had this semester. Justices who were present were Eugene Southall, senior agriculture major, Max Osborn, junior arts and science student, Stanley Dendy, senior arts and science student, and Claude Helweg, senior business major.

Deadline Set For Division Of Student Activity Fee

Council Tables Amendment On Editor Selection, Okays Tech-A&M Tilt As Out-Of-Town Game

A proposed amendment to the Student Constitution which would change the method of electing the editors of The Toreador and La Ventana was tabled in a meeting of the Student Council Monday night in the Administration building. This action was taken to allow further study on the subject.

Council members' objections to the amendment are that faculty members have too much voice in selecting the editors and that students will lose their prerogative of selecting their publications officers.

The proposed amendment is as follows: "The editor of The Toreador (and La Ventana) will be chosen jointly by the following student and faculty members of the publications committee:

1. Student representative from each division.
2. Student chairman of the pub-

WSSF Begins 2nd Day Of Campaign

With its booths in five major buildings to remain open until 12:15 p.m. today, the World Student Service Fund drive this morning begins the second day of its campaigning at Tech.

The booths, in the Engineering, Administration, Agriculture, and Home Economics buildings, and in the Rec hall, are to be open for student donations from 9 a.m. to 12:15 p.m.

The beginning of the drive yesterday was spurred by contributions of three campus organizations of $95, Marion Baumgardner, chairman of the campaign advisory council, said.

Money collected by the WSSF during its drives on colleges and university campuses over the nation is used to buy food, books, medical supplies and clothing for needy students of foreign countries in Europe and Southeast Asia.

Nutrition Grads Accept Internships

Five graduating foods and nutrition majors have accepted dietetic internships over the United States, Dean Margaret W. Weeks said Monday.

Eka Fay Hooten at the University Hospitals, State University of Iowa in Iowa City, Faye Walker with the veterans administration at Hines, Ill.

Jessie Pierce and Gloria Spradley accept appointments at the University of Oklahoma hospitals in Oklahoma City. Jean Poteet will go into internship at the University Hospital at Ohio State university, in Columbus.

vene at Tech Friday and Saturday for the '49 convention.

Tech journalism students are to register for the congress from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. today in the press building. For a fee of $2, the students will be presented with a badge that entitles them to admission into all events including social functions. Visiting delegates register Thursday evening and from 8:30 a.m. to 9:30 a.m. Friday in the Aggie auditorium.

Malvina Stephenson, Washington radio and news correspondent, will be the first speaker to appear on the convention program. She will speak at the Theta Sigma Phi Matrix Table to be held from 6:30 p.m. to 9:30 p.m. tomorrow in the ballroom of the Hilton hotel. A buffet luncheon in Yaqui room of the Hilton hotel for visiting delegates is scheduled for 8-10 p.m. Tech press will be host and register visitors on the hotel mezzanine.

Three speakers will be on the program for the first session, to be conducted in the Aggie auditorium from 9:30 to 12:30 Friday. Bill Johnson, chief photographer of the Daily Oklahoman, Oklahoma City, will discuss "Let's Look at the News Photographer." "Capitol News" is the subject of a talk by

Today Last Day For Reservations In Men's Dorms

Residents of Men's Dorms I, II, III, and IV have until 5 p.m. today to make application for the fall semester for a room in any other male residence hall except Doak.

Students desiring rooms in other dormitories may make such applications in the offices of their own residence halls and may pay the $5 deposit in the campus dormitory office behind Drane hall. H. L. Burgess, head of the office of room reservations, has announced.

After today, students living in town who desire rooms for the fall in any men's dormitory except Doak may turn in their applications and pay their deposits in the campus dormitory office, he said.

Announcement on reservations for Doak halls is to be made after May 7, said Burgess. Women students living in the dormitories will be informed by notices on dorm bulletin boards of the time and place for making room applications for next fall, he stated.

Miss Stephenson, Ernest Kirchten chief editorial writer for St. Louis Post Dispatch, will speak on "Editorial, Its Aim, Its Duty."

Cecil Horne, head of Tech's journalism department and president of the congress, will direct this session. A welcome by Frank Junell, assistant to the president, for the college, and Homer D. Grant, president of Lubbock Chamber of Commerce, will give a welcome in behalf of the city. Invocation will be delivered by Rev. David L. Zacharias, pastor, Westminster Presbyterian church, Lubbock.

Preceding this session will be a Theta Sigma Phi Convention Rally breakfast at 7 a.m. at Hector's. Juanita Schiltz of Dallas, chairman of National Theta Sigma Phi convention will be guest speaker. Student and faculty delegates from other schools will be registered from 8:30-9:30 a.m. in Aggie auditorium.

A luncheon for faculty women, wives of men faculty members and wives of speakers will be held at 12:30 at Hector's. Dutch treat luncheon for men faculty and speakers will be in the Hilton hotel at the same time.

Dr. Paul J. Thompson, head of journalism department at Texas university, will preside over the second session of the congress which will convene 2 p.m. Friday in the Aggie auditorium.

Speakers for this session will be Don Hinga, roving editor of Houston Chronicle, to speak on "Getting It Into Print"; Dr. Ralph D. Casey, director of journalism at University of Minnesota, will discuss responsibility of the newspaper to the community. R. B. # Tech Graduate Wins Scholarship; Will Study Abroad Aratha Turner, Tech grad, of Lubbock was the winner this year of the Le Brun Scholarship, which will finance a six months' trip abroad for the purpose of travel and study of architecture.

The scholarship, awarded by the American Institute of Architects, will be presented to her in New York where she will consult officials in arranging her itinerary.

Miss Turner won the award for her architectural plans of a suburban branch of a metropolitan store. The type of plan was drawn according to specifications in the competition rules.

The store was planned with the aim of providing an inducement to women to shop comfortably and even provided a nurse for children.

She was graduated from Texas Tech in 1941, with a bachelor of architecture degree. She completed her master's degree from Cranbrook Academy of Art at Bloomfield Hills, Mich.

Approximately a month was spent on the drawings and model, after which she began working as a draftsman in the office of O. R. Walker, architect.

The award of $2,800 must be used in taking a trip outside the United States and must be used within six months prior to February 2, 1950.

Varsity Show Tour Set Tuesday

An abbreviated version of the 1949 Varsity show, "Milestones in History," will be seen by students of Seminole and Seagraves High schools on Tuesday.

At 10:30 a.m., Techsians will present acts from the show at Seagraves. At 1 p.m. in Seminole, after lunch in the high school cafeteria, the second performance is to be staged.

Transportation for the troupe will be by college bus, Frank Junell, assistant to the president, said Monday. Either Junell or Dr. D. D. Jackson, one of the show's sponsors, is to accompany the students on each of their three trips.

The second roadshow is scheduled for May 11 and the third for May 17. Cities to be visited are not yet determined, said Junell.

Bill Parsley, director of the original production, said Monday that an announcement will be made later concerning the acts to be presented on the three tours.

AGGIE BANQUET

Principal speaker at the Aggie club banquet at 7:30 p.m. Friday at the Hilton hotel will be Dr. Virgil P. Lee of the Texas Production Credit association at Houston.

Archie Leonard, sponsor of the organization said.

"The Flat Notes", a string band composed of Bobby Parkinson, Lamar Jackson, and Bill Jackson will present several musical numbers. Earl Sears, former Tech student, will preside as toastmaster.

BOOK REVIEWERS

"Point of No Return" by John P. Marquand was reviewed by Mrs. Mary W. Doak at the Book Reviewers' club tea last night at Seaman Hall, Miss Doris Smalley president said.

Members and their guests were served from a refreshment board decorated with tulips.

PRESBYTERIAN PICNIC

The Geneva class of married students of the First Presbyterian church will give a picnic Friday in Mackenzie park, W. F. Rogan, director of Westminster house, said.

Committee for the picnic includes: Bud and Peggy Woods, Sarah Norma and Cora Spivey.

FTA OFFICERS

New officers of the Paul W. Horn chapter of the Future Teachers association, will be installed Sunday at Mackenzie park, Norma Deane Richardson, reporter, said.

Officers for the fall term are: Bill Trenfield, president; Norma Deane Richardson, vice-president in charge of programs; H. M. Cook, vice-president in charge of membership; Lamonte Leddy, secretary; Brad Rowland, treasurer; Bob Hutchins, librarian; and Joy Williams, reporter.

Miss Mary Doak, Dr. Albert Barnett, Norma Deane Richardson, and a Lubbock third grade pupil presented a program with the theme of "Our Generations of Education", Miss Richardson said.

During the two days of the Home Economics Open house a total of 4,801 people visited the division. The success of the show was estimated by its out-totalling last year's Open house by approximately 1,000 people.

CLEMENT ATTENDS MEET

W. E. Clement, registrar, is attending the annual National Association of Collegiate Registrars convention in Columbus, Ohio, said Miss Evelyn Clewell, assistant registrar.

Clement is chairman of the special projects committee of the association and is a member of the executive board. The convention met Monday and will last through tomorrow.

Drane Hall Residents Plan Informal Dance April 30

A spring informal dorm dance will be given 8-11 p.m. Saturday in Drane hall, Byrdene Roberson, junior counselor, said.

A May day theme will be used in decorations for the lawn party with use of paper lanterns and flower trellises. Music will be furnished by a juke box.

Chairmen of committees for the dance are: Byrdene Roberson, decoration; Faye Walker, refreshment; Emma Morrison, music; Jean Varet, invitation; and Pat Nolan, clean-up.

The informal sport dance is open to resident couples and women and their dates.

Chaperones are Dean and Mrs. James G. Allen and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Camp, Miss Roberson said.

Little Theatre Presentation Praised By Local Audience

"Claudia" the fourth and final play presented by the Lubbock Little Theatre this season was the mixture of laughter and pathos that it takes to make a good comedy.

Miss Betty Ferguson, whose portrayal of Claudia is a fine sensitive performance of the laughable lovable child bride, was evenly matched in performance by Dr. James Reynolds, as David Naughton, her mature, often perplexed husband.

The supporting cast, headed by Mrs. C. C. Caldwell, Claudia's mother, and Bert McGinnis, as Jerry the provocative Englishman whose romancing with Claudia makes David jealous was exceptionally good.

Don Droppelman, a Tech freshman, made the role of Fritz, their servant and handyman, something to remember; while Mrs. Charles Mussen, who plays his wife, Bertha, gives the drama an added touch.

Mrs. Ruth Wilson, Tech English instructor, produced a contrast in the role of Claudia's sophisticated sister-in-law, Julia.

A former Tech student, Chareen Ketcherid, played the pompous, artistic singer whose appearance in the Naughton farm home lends complications to an already involved plot.

Other students working on the production were Bill Thurman, in charge of technical production and set make-up, costumes and lighting; and Richard Kelsky.

Mrs. Charles Cobb, English instructor, directed "Claudia", serving for the third time this year as a director in the Little theatre. She had the title role in "Jane Eyre."

Tickets for the 1949-50 season will go on sale Thursday in L-5. There will be five performances this next year instead of four. Two performances will be given for each production.

year, gave a report on a convention of the Texas Interscholastic Student Association which met last Saturday at North Texas State college in Denton. Sterling, Formby, Lamar Jackson, Marshall Gentry, and Margaret Clark attended the convention.

Sterling said the convention drew up a constitution and will meet next year at Baylor university. In order for a school to be a member, it must ratify the constitution by Jan. 1. The meeting was the first of its kind ever held in Texas.

"There was a good exchange of ideas," Formby commented. "By attending the convention I learned much concerning student problems."

VARSITY SHOW REPORT

Bill Reid, business manager of this year's Varsity show, gave a financial report on the affair. He said the net profit on the show was $1,006.62. Total expenses, including the federal amusement tax, was $1,993.60. Ticket sales amounted to $3,000.22. Reid stressed that these are not the final figures as more bills may be outstanding.

CALLED MEETING

There will be a called Student Council meeting at 7:30 p.m. Monday, in the Administration building. Purpose of the meeting is to set the budget for next year, to consider the proposed amendments to the Student Constitution, and to select disciplinary committee members for next year. Two students, a boy and a girl, will serve on the committees.

This will be one of the most important meetings of the year, Formby said.

OTHER BUSINESS

The council approved the Tech-Texas A & M football game to be played in San Antonio Sept. 24 as the official out-of-town game.

Plans were discussed for the annual Student Council banquet to be held soon.

Tickets For AWS Luncheon On Sale

Tickets for the Association of Women Student's May Day luncheon, May 7, will be on sale to graduating senior women tomorrow and Friday in the dean of women's office, said Lois Cone, president.

Price of the tickets is $1.50. Those which are not sold during the two days will be available to other women students May 2-4 from 9-11:15 a.m. in the Home Economics building and from 9-11:15 a.m. or 1-3:15 p.m. in the Administration building, Miss Cone said.

The luncheon was designed to honor graduating senior women. New members for Forum, women's service organization, will be announced at the luncheon and AWS officers for 1949-50 will be installed, she explained.

Committee chairmen appointed include: invitations, Lou Lawson; decoration, Doris Smalley; ticket sales, Alice Hix; publicity, Rosemary Stubbs; food, Billie Harvey; program, Jennine Smith; corsages, Miss Cone; hostess, Marrion Woods; and music, Guida Miller.

METHODIST FORUM

Gene Sorley, senior arts and science student, will lead forum in "Crisis Presents Opportunity" at 7:15 tonight in the Methodist Student Center, Imogene Holmes, Wesleyan fellowship member, said.

Also scheduled for the center is a Wesley Foundation picnic. Friday will meet at 5:30 p.m. Students at the center, Miss Holmes said.

DIVORCE TALKS

Gamma Delta, the Lutheran student group, is sponsoring a speech by Judge G. V. Pardue at 8 p. m. Friday, in the Engineering auditorium, Jan Clark, reporter for the club, said.

Judge Pardue will speak on "The Legal Aspects of Divorce". The public is invited.

"The Religious Aspects of Divorce" will be discussed by Rev. H. H. Heckmann at 7 p.m. Sunday at the Redeemer Lutheran church, Miss Clark said.

A SPECIAL OFFER TO THE GRADUATING CLASS... JUNE '49

You May Be Accepted for an Early U. S. Air Force Aviation Cadet Training Class

If you are a college graduate, married or single, between the ages of 20 and 26½ and physically and morally qualified, you may be accepted for assignment in the U. S. Air Force Aviation Cadet classes starting in late summer or early fall.

You get a well-planned course, valued at $35,000... this includes about 275 hours of flight training, and the finest aviation education and executive training in the world.

Win your wings and then start a career with a future...

College men are today's leaders of the U. S. Air Force. With new and complex aircraft and equipment being developed, scientific research becomes more and more important, increasing the need for college-trained men.

As a college graduate you will have an unlimited future in aviation fields of personnel management, operations, matériel, supply, research and development.

It's a year of learning, flying and time for recreation with a hand-picked top-string team of Americans.

Upon assignment to an Aviation Cadet class you will be sent to one of the U. S. Air Force bases in Texas for the world's finest aviation training.

Here you will receive about 175 hours of flying instruction in the Texan T-6 trainer plus an extensive course in aviation education and executive training. Navigation, fuels, weather, radio and radar are some of the subjects you will take.

During this training period you'll find plenty of hard, fast action to keep you fit and trim... the best athletic facilities are available. Upon completion of training, you will win your silver wings and receive a Reserve commission as second lieutenant in the U. S. Air Force. Outstanding graduates receive Regular commissions upon graduation.

OFFICER CANDIDATE SCHOOL FOR COLLEGE GRADUATES

If you can meet the high standards required of candidates for officer training, there's a real future for you in the U. S. Air Force. Capable young executives are needed for positions of responsibility in non-flying assignments... management, communications, engineering, research and other fields. That is why the Air Force is offering qualified, ambitious men and women with college training an opportunity to prepare for leadership in the air age.

Is WSSF Just Another Fund Raising Campaign?

Another relief campaign is underway on the campus—the annual World Student Service Fund drive.

"Another relief campaign?" Not quite. This one is different. This one is ours.

There are over 800,000 students—college students like ourselves—in need today in the world. "Need" means just that—need of food, of books, of clothes, of medicine. There is one relief organization in this country which concentrates on helping those students—and only one. That is the World Student Service Fund. There is one group in which WSSF campaigns—and only one: the students and faculty members of American colleges and universities.

This is a unique appeal. There are other appeals for needs just as severe—but there are other audiences to meet those needs. This appeal is our responsibility alone. If we fail, it fails.

What would that failure mean? It would mean less doctors, lawyers, engineers for countries which will not have enough trained workers for years. It would mean prejudice and ignorance in high places—because there wouldn't be enough educated men and women to go around.

It is vital that we preserve trained and educated men and women in every nation abroad who can work with us and understand us in the future. The World Student Service Fund offers the means for that protection. The effectiveness of its work has been endorsed by UNESCO, the Association of American Colleges, and the American Association of Junior Colleges.

Everything given to the WSSF should be regarded as insurance, not charity. Here is a chance for Techsians to contribute to the education of students who lack so many of our comforts and advantages. What we give to the WSSF will bring a return that cannot be measured in terms of money.

His Job Will Call For Help

The announcement by Tech Chamber of Commerce that the annual Arbor day has been cancelled for this year should not give rise to the idea that we can forget about campus beautification and clean-ups until the spring of 1950. It is true, however, that the news, coming at this time, has created disappointment.

Within the next two weeks, hundreds of visitors from all sections of the nation will gather at Tech for the Southwestern Journalism Congress and for the inauguration of Dr. D. M. Wiggins as the fifth president of the college.

Had Arbor day been held on schedule, those visitors would have seen a campus free of loose trash, a campus made more pleasing by the addition of the trees, grass, and shrubbery which are so badly needed. Those visitors would have seen a campus cleaned and improved through the efforts of those students, faculty members and personnel for whom the attractive appearance of the college grounds is a source of pride.

The reason given for the cancellation is sound: all beautification projects are to be delayed until after the arrival of the campus landscape architect on May 1. After he has studied the landscaping requirements and possibilities, work on the grounds may be started. Therefore, whatever we might have done tomorrow, much as it may be desired, might have proved useless and completely contrary to the plans which the architect will devise.

He is going to find at Tech a landscaping problem which cannot be solved without a sizeable expenditure of time, energy, and money. Numbers of trees are too small or are misshapen; grass is missing; the lack of shrubbery and flowers is, in some places, lamentable. To eliminate these deficiencies, the architect will need the cooperation of all the student body and faculty members.

That cooperation can begin now—long before next Arbor day. We can help by remembering to stay on the sidewalks and keep off the grass. We can refrain from scattering paper on the campus and breaking small branches off shrubs and flowering bushes. Such suggestions may seem trivial, but they are time and again repeated because they can produce a worthwhile result when they are followed.

OUT OF TOWN—Photographer of this picture must have left Lubbock to find this placid summer scene. Taken by a Tech student, the picture will hang with numerous other photographic entries in the Annual Kappa Alpha Mu print salon to be held Friday and Saturday in the Recreation hall. First prize in the contest will be an Ikonflex camera and case. (Many other awards have been donated by Lubbock business firms.)

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Trips Into The Wild Blue Yonder, Or Feeding Hogs In Formal Dress

Dear Editor:

Here is an open letter to all Aggies. A word to the wise, I hope, will be sufficient.

Aggies, take warning! That stunning young creature you dance with may have the personality to send you into the wild blue yonder but try to conjure up a vision of her in overalls and a straw hat.

Chances are she doesn't shine there at all. That formal gown that is the rage at the party has no place in your future, or if so a very insignificant one. It would more than likely be soiled and torn the first time she fed the hogs. Those shorts that are so becoming on the lawn are downright uncomfortable when she is sitting on the hot metal seat of a tractor.

There is an old saying that a farmer when choosing a wife should pick one large enough to pull a plow. Well, you don't have to go quite that far. That is a little out dated anyway since we have become mechanized. But try to settle on a happy madam.

Find out what her conception of a farm is and you will know whether or not she will fit on one. She probably will describe to you a broad grassy domain with a castle in the center. There is always a cow—a spotted one—grazing in the meadow. Your bride to be will picture herself lying on a haystack daintily chewing a straw. Invariably will mention the smell of freshly turned earth.

When she feeds you that line, scam brother while there is still time! You won't want to be close by when she learns that her dream castle is a shack; that instead of one cow, there are fifteen, each of which must be milked; that the wind doesn't pile that hay in a stack; and that the fresh earth doesn't turn over by itself.

When she wakes up to these facts she will be hard to get along with, and she may even go home to live with Mama. So consider these facts, Aggies, and if she still sends you out of this world it is probably the influence of the moon.

The moon will not influence either of you when you are too tired to go out and look at it.

Crumbs Of Wisdom

One of the things that your mother should have told you, but was ashamed to mention, is that everyone should have a little humility. There are a few jobs that even require a downright inferiority complex. If you are preparing yourself to become a clerk in a courthouse, a night clerk in a hotel, a college professor, or an advisor in a travel agency, then you'd better latch on to one of these complexes mighty pronto.

Inferiority complexes are one of the developments of psychology, and are therefore not quite as old as the pyramids, but even the intellectual midgets who read this column have had time to hear of them by now.

The quickest and surest way to get one is to test yourself with the self-analysis tests that appear in magazines these days. Any magazine worth reading at all is bound to have at least one and the better publications usually carry not less than three.

These tests vary from those that test your ability to repair watches to others that determine for you whether or not you are temperamentally suited to the life of a lighthouse keeper. Then there are other tests which provide you with the opportunity to solve murder mysteries, learn the Indonesian language, and practice palmistry. You can if so minded, measure your ego, your IQ, your sexual capacity, your morals, and your knowledge of the Greek alphabet. The ones that determine your likelihood of success at the plumbing trade and advise you whether or not you should marry your current girlfriend (or boyfriend), are, of course, too common to mention.

You are sure to score in the lowest possible bracket of mental activity if you take one of these tests. According to the scoring section which is usually on some unspecified page of the previous issue, you will at various times find that you are rated as being an out of tune zoon, a square from nowhere, a simple citizen, and one gifted with a brain of a jellyfish.

I imagine that this is as good a place as any to warn you that some of these scoring sections will try to delude you into believing that you are at least normal. Ratings in these will range something like this: "super duper genius of the first water, super duper genius of the second water, super duper genius, super genius, associate genius, assistant genius, part time genius, and just plain genius. If under these standards you score as being a genius, you have the finest basis for an inferiority complex that anybody could wish for. All you have to do after that is sit around and brood for a while it will come to you.

Miss Graves To Represent Tech At PTA Conference

Miss Martha Graves, director of home and family life education, will represent Tech at the district PTA conference Thursday, at O. L. Slaton Jr. High school.

The director, who will take part in a panel discussion at the district conference, completed a unit on understanding the teenager with the Lubbock City Council PTA group Tuesday.

Prof. D. O. Wiley, director of Tech band, and Joe L. Haddon, assistant professor of Music, will judge the region 2 band competition festival in San Angelo this week end.

EL TORO GRANDE

Consideration Of Student Breeds Proper Attitudes

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Bill "Moose" Jackson, senior government major from Houston, writes today's guest column.)

Perhaps it is because we are being liberated from Tech at the end of the first summer session, and will see no more of the college through the student viewpoint, but it seems that the past year has brought a close to one stage of Tech's growth and the beginning of another. It is felt by us that the new administration has brought with it new ideas, not unusual for a new administration, but along with the ideas, a determination to put them into effect. Raised requirements for admission, an attempt to obtain scholars and teachers in combination, a master building plan, a master landscape plan—maybe we will be here when the campus has grass, public relations that work, and an Ex-Students Association that is more than just a collection of names. Tech is growing up.

However, along with growth comes the growing pains. Although some circles seem to feel that moans heard from students are of no major importance, we believe that where there is smoke there is fire. In the attempt to raise the scholastics of the present student body, the noticeable burden has all been placed upon the students back. To make a blanket rule that all women students who live in the dorm and fail to maintain a C average, have to be in at 8:30, and to stop the attempted correction there, will surely provide more sack time for women dorm residents, but as to raising grades, the effect is doubtful. If an attempt were made to correct the cause and not the act, such regulation would not be needed. If the adequacy of instruction were where it should be, and if the student were made to feel that he was a part of his education instead of a backstop for whatever might be thrown at him by the instructor, such "you've been had, now go stand in the corner" tactics would be unnecessary.

That Tech has a type of spirit all of its own is not questionable, and it is felt by us that Tech is one place where democracy is not just a word. Campuses are few and far between where no distinction is made willingly or otherwise between students who drive a "cropfailure", and those who walk; those who come from a family with a name of distinction, and those whose parents think that the Mayflower is something that blooms in the springtime; those who wear a pin of membership in a social organization, and those whose only use for a pin of any type is to hold together a shirtcuff whose button is missing.

The first educational endowment in America included a gift of three milk cows.

Paul Lovett Wins Crown As Band's 'Prettiest Boy'

Paul Lovett was crowned "Prettiest Boy" of the Tech band at the spring sport dance, Friday night in the band hall.

Lovett, a drummer in the band, was elected from five nominees including "Slick" McClatchy, Paul Huntington, Joe Grizard, and Jerry Thrush. The "Prettiest Boy" was presented with a bouquet of roses; a skull cap with a bell on top; and a tie.

The dance was sponsored by Tau Beta Sigma, professional honorary band sorority.

Wiggins To Make Inaugural Address At Texas Mines

Dr. D. M. Wiggins, president, is to make the inaugural address Saturday at the installation of Dr. William Elkins as president of Texas School of Mines in El Paso.

Doctor Elkins is succeeding Doctor Wiggins as head of the southwestern school, the latter having served as Mines president for 13 years before he came to Tech in September, 1948.

Galiga-Nelson, Vaughn-Noble Wedding Vows Exchanged

Marriage vows were exchanged between Mrs. Anna Lynn Galiga of Houston and Homer Alan Nelson of Oklahoma City Saturday in Tulsa, Okla.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Lee Porter of Lofita, Texas, and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. W. W. Nelson of Lubbock.

Rev. J. R. Webb of Boston Ave. Methodist church officiated at the ceremony. The bride is a graduate of Texas College of Arts and Industries, Kingsville.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Tech where he was a member of Tau Beta Pi, and served with the Naval Air force in the Pacific area. The couple will be at home at Oklahoma City after a wedding trip.

VAUGHN-NOBLE

Miss Joyce Vaughn of Lubbock, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ira Vaughn of Tahoka, became the bride of Jerrel D. Noble, son of Mr. and Mrs. Levi Noble of Lubbock, in a ceremony read recently at Tahoka.

Rev. T. H. Holcomb officiated at the double ring service.

Mrs. Noble attended Draughan's Business college and the bridegroom attended John Tarleton Agricultural college and the University of Colorado, and is attending Tech.

The couple have returned from a wedding trip to New Mexico and Colorado and are at home at 102 Ave. U.

Student Residents Of LAAF Make Highest Grades

Men students residing at Lubbock Army Air field have a higher grade point average for the 1948 fall semester than any other males enrolled at Tech.

According to a personal survey made by Lewis Jones, assistant dean of men, the 1,564 average of the air base dwellers topped the averages made by the men living in the dormitories and in private homes.

An average of 1,392 was made by men, other than freshmen, who were living at home. For single men at home, the average was 895, while married freshmen were represented by a 966 average. The overall average for all men students not residing in dormitories was 1,241.

Among the dormitories, Men's III was highest with 1,379. Next was Men's I with 1,367. Third in order, with an average of 1,326 was Men's IV, followed by Doak with 1,267. Trailing was Men's II with a 1,259 average.

The survey was made with the grades of slightly over 3,000 men students.

Netmen Seek Wins Over New Mexico, Texas Mines

Interest Mounting In Mural Track Meet Scheduled May 7

By HILERY MATHER
Toreador Staff Writer

Interest in the second annual Texas Tech intramural track meet is mounting, and many men are working out regularly in order to be in top condition for the events, announced George Philbrick, intramural sports director.

Track meet is scheduled for May 7 in the old stadium. MCCC competition is expected to be wide open this year since Wranglers, who won the meet last year, have lost many of their top men, said Philbrick.

Stiff competition is expected from dormitory teams. Team managers must report to the athletic office with a complete list of men on their team, he said. Any persons who wished to enter the track meet but is not yet registered with a team should report to the athletic office for instructions, stated Philbrick.

Drane, Independents Meet In WRA Cage Finals Friday

The final playoff in the Women's Recreation association sponsored girls' basketball tournament will be at 8 p.m. Friday in the gym. Bobby Adams, co-chairman of the tournament, has announced. Drane and Independents, who tied in the nine week round-robin tournament, will meet to decide the tournament championship.

The library has been a depository for federal documents since 1933 and is gradually increasing its holding of documents published before that date.

coach, will be official referee and starter. Officials and judges are to be chosen from physical education majors and boys who have participated in track.

There will be no preliminary events to narrow down the competition for finals. Two or more heats may be necessary for several of the events. Each team is limited to three participants for each contest.

First, second, and third place ribbons will be awarded to winners.

The track meet is sponsored for the second consecutive year by The Toreador.

No one will be allowed to enter who has been on the Tech varsity team or on a varsity team of any college of comparable size with Tech.

PENNANT WINNERS

Maybe this year the law of averages will throw its weight around the pro baseball diamonds . . . and maybe not. But when you look at the figures you wonder why anyone has trouble picking the pennant winners early in the season. SPORTS EXTRA has discovered that for an almost infallible barometer of early October standings just watch the club who paces the loop at the end of the first week's hostilities.

For the past decade the teams in both circuits have followed a pattern: namely the team who has tasted victory in the first week of season play, or led the league a week later, has copped a league flag.

From the foreign news desk of SPORTS EXTRA comes word that girl referees are gaining recognition at sporting events in Hungary, Austria and Germany

Tech Sets Singles, Doubles Events With Both Teams Friday, Saturday

The Raider tennis team, after suffering defeat at the hands of Texas University and the University of Houston, will have a chance to start their winning streak again Friday and Saturday when they meet New Mexico university and Texas Mines here.

Both invading teams will send six-man units to enter in the singles and doubles events against Tech.

Tech will play NMU matches Friday afternoon and Saturday morning, and take on Texas Mines Saturday afternoon.

NMU will be out to avenge the licking handed them by the Raider B team during the Easter Holidays. Texas Mines defeated Tech, 5-4, last year. Coach Ivy doesn't expect them to be pushovers this year.

Sudday, Jack Prentiss and David Hester are entered in the singles events for both days. Emil Beck and Dan Barton are scheduled for the doubles events with Texas Mines.

The doubles lineup for Tech against NMU will be decided by Coaches Ivy and Broyles the day of the matches.

Raider netmen suffered a 5-1 defeat by Texas university and a 4-2 defeat at the hands of Houston university netmen during the Easter holidays.

Schmidt and Sudday teamed up to win the number two doubles match at Austin and lost all their singles matches at Houston. They won both their doubles matches at Houston.

At the River Oaks tournament Broyles and Ivy drew as their first opponents, Raiders Schmidt and Sudday.

Vet Housing Studied As Base Reopens

Tech Officials Seek Solution To Problem Facing Students

By JAMES F. SMITH
Toreador News Editor

How many students living at the air base west of Lubbock can be accommodated by the present housing facilities of this city?

How many additional units of housing might be required to furnish living quarters for some students and their families after all available residences are taken?

Seeking solutions to these and other questions raised by the announcement that the field is to be reactivated "as soon as possible," the college administration is gathering data relative to housing needs after August 1, the date when those persons living at the base must be moved out.

The college is working closely with officials of the city, the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce and the public housing authority to determine housing requirements, Frank Junell, assistant to the president, said Monday.

Primary among the information sought by Tech is the number of students, with their families, who will return to college for the fall semester, he said.

Some 274 students and their families are residing in the barracks-type quarters at the field. Of this number, an estimated 80 will be graduated in June.

Expectations are that about 200 students with their families will be back in September, and it is for those persons, plus those who must vacate by August 1, that the college is intensifying its search for answers to the housing problem.

The matter "is of deep concern to the college," said Junell.

Neither he nor H. L. Burgess, head of the office of dormitory reservations, made a statement regarding possible effect which the movement of students into the city might have on housing in the college residence halls.

Junell met with students at the air base Monday night for a discussion of the housing problem and the college's plan of aid.

Since shortly after the end of the war, the field called Vet Village, has been populated with families unable to secure lodgings in Lubbock because of the acute housing shortage. Approximately 400 families are living in the converted barracks-type quarters.

Rumors that the base would be returned to the Air Force for permanent use have been current for over a year.

When the Air Force announced Friday that the field was to become a permanent unit of peacetime aerial training, it made known certain terms about housing under which it has agreed to the reactivation.

The first of these is the stipulation that all families and agencies at Lubbock Army Air field, with the exception of Air Reserve units, must vacate the base by August 1.

Buildings which they were occupying must be restored or rehabilitated, either by the Veterans administration or by the Federal Public Housing authority.

By Nov. 15, there must be ready and available 100 units of non-commissioned officers quarters, of acceptable standards, at a maximum rental of $40 monthly.

Also by the same date 250 units of officers quarters renting for $80 to $100 per month, are to be ready and available.

The first of the permanent personnel are to arrive in Lubbock Aug. 1. According to present plans, the first students will be moved in as an advance unit by Sept. 20. Planes are to be flying by Nov. 15.

The field will be known as Lubbock Air Force Base, and will house the Air Training command advanced twin-engine pilot school which is being transferred from Barksdale Air Force Base, Shreveport, La.

Block And Bridle Judging Contest To Be Held Today

A judging contest featuring eleven different classes of livestock has been slated for all junior students enrolled in A.H. 313, Stanley E. Anderson, assistant professor of animal husbandry, said Monday.

The event, to be held at 12:45 p.m. today in the Aggie livestock pavilion, is the 15th annual Block & Bridle livestock judging contest. Officials will be Robert Cox, Clinton Ritter, Will Hooks, O. B. Freeman and C. E. Mitchell.

Judges of the contest include Doss Buntin, 1938 Texas A&M graduate, and Animal Husbandry department faculty members Prof. F. G. Harbaugh, Prof. Ray C. Mowery, Assistant professors Ray H. Burkhardt, Anderson, J. H. Baumgardner and A. H. Lecturer Koy Neeley.

A gold medal will be awarded to the high individual of the contest.

waters in Radio". John L. Mortimer, director of public relations of the Southwest district of U. S. Steel will have as his subject "The Theatre of Public Relations".

A dinner dance at 7:00 p.m. at the Lubbock Country Club will conclude the convention program for Friday. Speakers for this event are Doctor Casey and Lynn Landrum. Landrum writes "Thinking Outloud", a daily column, for the Dallas News. Charles A. Guy, managing editor of Lubbock Avalanche-Journal, will be toastmaster. Music will be provided by Ted Crager's orchestra.

Third session of the journalism congress will begin at 9 a.m. Saturday in Aggie Auditorium. Clark Schooley of Tech journalism department will preside over the program.

Featured in this session is a panel in which questions from students will be answered by a group consisting of Ken Rafferty, head of the division of Journalism at University of New Mexico, moderator; Dwight Allison, managing editor of San Antonio Light; Robert W. Whippley, managing editor of Big Spring Herald; Bill Donnell, city editor of Wichita Daily Times; and Forrest Weimheld. Hockley County Herald, Levelland.

Noland Norgaard, chief of Associated Press bureau, Oklahoma City, will speak on "Your Job on the Newspaper" and Ward C. Mayborn, publisher of Sherman Democrat and chairman of internship program for Texas newspapers will discuss "Working Together".

A barbecue will be served at noon Saturday in Aggie Grove, or in case of bad weather, in the stock judging pavilion. Tech Chamber of Commerce and Honorary Aggie club are hosts.

Two separate sections will be conducted Saturday afternoon, a student group and a faculty group. At a business meeting of students, officers for next year are to be elected. Franklin Grant of Tech, student president will be in charge. Paul White, editor of Ford News of Dallas, will discuss "Industrial Publications" and Allison will speak on what the newspaper expects of the journalism graduate. This group will meet at 1:30 p.m. in the Aggie Auditorium.

Around 250 students and 25 faculty members are expected to attend. Lecture sessions are open to all Tech students who wish to attend. Professor Horne has announced.
