Camille Stevens To Rule At Carnival, Style Show In Auditorium Thursday

Girls Will Model Newest Fashions

Queen of Tech's 1948 Cotton Carnival sponsored by Phi Psi, textile fraternity, is Camille Stevens of Wimberly, who was chosen from six other candidates by the student body in a recent election.

Highlighting the carnival will be a style show featuring the latest cotton fashions in sports, evening and street wear which is to be held at 8 p. m. tomorrow in the Senior High school auditorium. Models will represent 23 stores and other Lubbock firms and organizations as part of this show.

Setting for the event will be a colonial mansion over which Miss Stevens will reign. She will wear a colonial evening gown designed in New York and given to her, along with accessories, by the Lubbock Cotton exchange. She will be escorted and crowned by Robert Hale, president of the fraternity.

Master of ceremonies and narrator will be Wayne Allen. Music will be presented by Burl Hubbard and his orchestra and the Westernaire quartet. Guest speaker will be Don Jones, superintendent of the Lubbock Experiment station.

Duties to the queen and runners-up in the election are Delight Hardin, Avis Fuchs, Dorothy Brown, Mary Hartgraves, Thalia Foster and June Stine.

Models will be Mrs. Buddy Miller, representing Loflin-Ware Ladies' apparel; Mrs. Don Zelony, Rebbs Steger Dress shop; Barbara Conkling, Margaret's; Mary Frances Funk, Anne Ford's; Martha Lively, Hanna-Pope & Co.; Juanel Taylor, Lindsey theaters; Maxine Ellison, Montgomery Ward & Co.; Alice Howell, Hackel's College avenue, Pat Mansell, Dunlap's; Jayne Thompson, Holly's; Doris Brooks, Grollman's; Brentie Sue Thompson, Sweetbriar shop; Jackie Small, J. C. Penney Co.; Patti Jo Musson, Jo Ann shop; Mrs. Bob Barron, Lions club; Model Peel, Rudy's Cinderella shop; Wanda Jean Shofner, Mart; Mrs. Clyde Godwin, Citizen's National bank; Bette Slagel, Franklin's; Joan Booth, Levine's; Barbara Surman, Hemphill-Wells Co.; Wilma Coger, Sears Roebuck & Co.; and two models sponsored by the Chicopee corporation.

Tickets may be purchased at the Textile building or at Wylie's Drug for 75c general admission and $1.20 reserved seat.

This is the first year since the war that Kappa chapter of Phi Psi has been able to resume the carnival, which was once a traditional affair with the fraternity, according to Hale.

Officers of the sponsoring fraternity are Hale; Joe Williams, vice president; and Griffith Neumeier, secretary.

Petroleum Majors Attend Exposition

Arrangements are being completed for 34 junior and senior petroleum engineering students to attend the world's largest industrial exposition in Tulsa May 15-23, states W. L. Ducker, head of the department of petroleum engineering.

Tech's delegation will leave May 20 by college bus to attend the international petroleum exposition. Deposits must be made to cover transportation and lodging costs. Free admission to the show has been granted the students. An estimated one million dollars worth of petroleum equipment will exhibit all phases of the petroleum industry to visitors.

Journalism Majors Win Scholarships

Jayne Thompson, Vernon, and Charles Stone, Lubbock, journalism majors, have been awarded the Wilbur C. Hawk and Avalanche-Journal scholarships respectively for the best reporting this school year.

Stone was awarded the Avalanche-Journal scholarship for the best reporting last semester, and Miss Thompson the Wilbur C. Hawk scholarship for the best reporting this semester. Each will receive $50 to be applied to school expenses next year.

These two awards, given annually to the student of junior standing who does the most outstanding work in reporting, are made possible through Gene Howe of the News-Globe Publishing company of Amarillo and Charles A. Guy of the Avalanche-Journal Publishing company, of Lubbock.

Curtain Falls Tonight On 1948 Varsity Show

First Night Dedicated To Whyburn; Between-Acts Numbers Steal Show

By DEE FOSTER
Toreador Staff Writer

"In the name of psychopathic science," don't miss the final performance of "The Phenomena", 1948 Varsity Show at 8:15 tonight, in Lubbock High school auditorium.

Monday night's performance was dedicated to Pres. W. M. Whyburn in recognition of and gratitude for his service at Tech. George Ater, show director, made the dedication. Edd Sides and Jack Drain wrote the script for this year's show.

Between-act numbers more than stole the show. Captivating the audience's attention was the novelty hillbilly number by Gene Roy Powers and Martha Cudd. Their pantomime of "Them Durn Fool Things" and encore of "Tim-Tashun" was brilliantly executed. Exact timing and perfect gestures marked each song. A breath-taking tumbling act presented Jimmy Carter, Fred Stubbs and Dingy Davis as versatile acrobats. Dancers Jimmy Carter and Patti Jo Musson gave a professional performance with their spectacular adagio act. Precise and graceful body movements characterized the entire act. Other commendable performers were Terry Sanders, baritone; the Quintones, composed of one girl and four boys; Cora Lee Hickman, singing "The Man I Love" and "Because"; and the four Parlorette co-eds.

James Pinson gave a convincing performance as the crackpot professor who devises a psychological method for selecting the ideal wife. The eligible Professor Corry, played by Otis Green, who is selected as the guinea pig for the method, revolts to choose his own mate. Though occasionally fair, his acting is more often lifeless and ineffective. Powers insures laughs for the audience as timid, forgetful and feminine Professor Rokenbaugh. Witty retorts from the professor amuse himself as well as the audience.

A quiet performance was given by Jackie Reese as Margaret Wright. Scatterbrained, redheaded Rockie Rhodes plausibly overcomes all obstacles to get a man. Her vivacious stage mannerisms and zest were completely effective.

Stage sets exhibited admirable choice of color and lighting effects. The use of 150 candles in the last and outstanding scene of the production was especially impressive. Also impressive was the smooth tempo and rhythm seen in the act of the presentation of Tech beauties.

Terry Sanders and Paul Green revealed their combined talents by writing four original songs. The 20-piece orchestra with musical arrangements by school talent and composed of many local band leaders was under the direction of Vic Williams.

Tech Band Presents Concert For Prexy

"The President's Concert" is to be played by the Texas Tech band at 3 p.m. Sunday at the Lubbock High school auditorium.

It was felt that this should be called the president's concert since the entire program is dedicated to Pres. and Mrs. William H. Whyburn. D. O. Wiley, band director, said: Two selections which are to be played have been requested by Pres. and Mrs. Whyburn. These are "Beautiful Blue Danube Waltzes" by Strauss-Lelden and Symphony No. 6, the "Pathetique" symphony by Tschaiikowsky.

This will be the final free program of the Tech concert and second bands of the 1947-48 series, said Wiley.

Honorary Research Society To Hold Annual Meeting

The annual meeting of Sigma Xi, honorary research society, will be held at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in the home of Dr. and Mrs. R. A. Studhalter, 2311 Eighteenth street, stated Dr. A. W. Young, head of the plant industry department.

Meeting Called For Track Team

Managers of teams entering the intramural track meet will meet at 5 o'clock this evening in George Philbrick's office. A list of team members and the events they are entering must be turned in either at this meeting or prior to it.

The purpose of the meeting will be to work out details of the program and other points that might conflict. The events are as follows and no entries will be accepted after the deadline: 100, 220, 60, 30 and 440 yard dashes, 120 high and 200 yard hurdles, 880 yard run, shot put, high jump, broad jump and 440 yard relay.

Board Considers President, Okays Budget

AAUW Requests Woman Director

At least 10 names have been added to the list of prospective applicants for the position of president of Tech, Charles C. Thompson, chairman of the Board of Directors, revealed at the director's meeting last Saturday. Unofficial news sources say that several of the applicants on the first list have been interviewed by a special committee, with the result that some have been completely removed from the list and others are still under consideration.

Thompson further stated that the board agreed to consider a list of 25 applicants at its June 7 meeting on the campus. The candidates still on the list after the June 7 meeting will be asked to come before the board at a called meeting, tentatively set for July 10.

One of the 10 new names on the list is Dr. Jim Dan Hill, president of State Teachers college, Superior, Wis., since 1931. Dr. Hill is a native Texan, born in Leon county, Feb. 4, 1897. He was one of the leading candidates for the position of president of Texas university before the appointment of Dr. T. S. Painter.

Budget Approved
A $3,500,000 budget was approved for the school by the board during its closed session Saturday afternoon. The budget includes $1,501,190 for salaries; $325,360 for maintenance including $131,000 for non-recurring expenditures; approximately $1,765,000 for the self-sustaining departments; and approximately $150,000 for summer school budget.

The board approved $30,500 for a petroleum engineering building and equipment; $27,000 for electrical engineering equipment; $20,000 for chemical engineering equipment and rearrangement of space; $7,150 for health service equipment; $3,000 for home management repairs and improvements; $2,100 for foods and nutrition equipment; $7,000 for conversion of 250 acres of pasture lands to cultivation; and $8,500 for bleachers and a public address system for the athletic department.

Other matters the board acted upon included voting to ask the Santa Fe Railroad company to make changes to include the Tech spur in the Lubbock switching limits to effect savings on freight charges.

AAUW Letter Read

A letter from the American Association of University Women was read to the board. The letter asked for a woman representative on the board, but no action was taken since directors are appointed by the governor. O. B. Ratliff was appointed as a committee of one to work with the athletic department on the setting up of standards for an electric scoreboard to be donated to the college. Several local business firms have indicated that they might donate such a board.

Possibility Of Humor Magazine Presented At Council Meeting

Tentative plans for a Tech humor magazine have been given the "proceed cautiously" sign by the Publications committee, Earl Sears, student body vice president, reported to the Student council Monday.

Ray Cook, junior journalism major from Childress, was appointed by the committee to investigate thoroughly all angles of establishment of a humor magazine, and to then report back to the committee with detailed plans of a staff, contents of the magazine, and chances for its being self-supporting, Sears said.

A possibility that La Ventana may be issued the last days of this month was reported by Sears from the Publications committee. He said the annual was up against its deadline and that no specific dates can be set; Bob Watson, La Ventana editor, is in Iowa City, Iowa, reading proof on the annual.

Aubrey Shouse, Bob Click To Head Summer Paper

Aubrey Shouse, senior journalism major from Merkel, will serve as Toreador editor this summer, and Bob Click, senior chemical engineer from Henderson, will be Toreador business manager. The men were appointed at the Publications committee meeting Monday.

Mary Louise Clayton, junior journalism major from Comanche, was approved as associate editor of the Toreador for 1948-49 at the meeting. The committee's approval came after she was nominated for the position by Orin Brewer, Toreador editor-elect. Miss Clayton, former editor of the J-Tac at John Tarleton college, was an unsuccessful candidate for editor in the spring elections.

Koen's studio will make La Ventana student pictures next year, it was announced at the meeting. Southwestern Engraving Co. and Economy Printing Co. were also awarded La Ventana contracts. All three companies are doing work on this year's annual.

Appointment of Shouse and Click to Toreador posts came after Brewer and Calvin Carpenter, officers-elect, announced they will not be in Tech this summer. Shouse said he plans to publish 10 weekly newspapers, beginning the second week of the first summer term and continuing until dead week of the second term.

Other action taken at Student council Monday, the last regular meeting of the year, included approval of a World Student Service fund drive to be conducted on the campus during the second week in October. Robert Baumgardner, senior agriculture student from Wellington, this year's chairman of the drive, made the WSSF recommendations to the council.

The Double T association was designated as sponsor of the "Howdy" dance next fall. It will be the first all-college dance of the semester.

After a meeting as committee of the whole, the council voted to give each member a key as recognition of membership on the council.

Prexy Receives Honorary Degree

An honorary Doctor of Laws degree is to be conferred upon Pres. W. M. Whyburn, Tech board of directors voted unanimously Saturday.

W. T. Gaston, board secretary, said that he, Dr. Whyburn and newspapermen were asked to leave the room during the meeting Saturday morning and when they returned to the room the board announced that as a parting gesture, it would like to confer the degree.

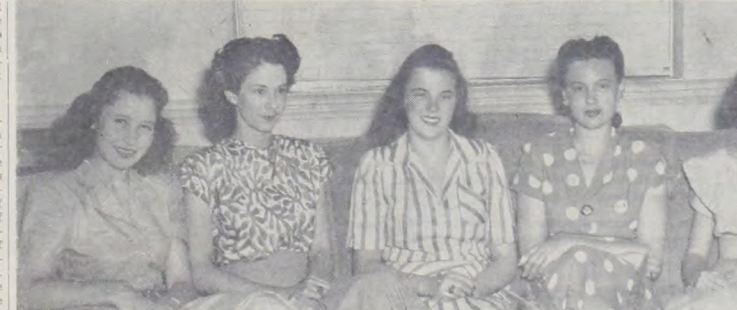

In response, Dr. Whyburn said "It is something I will always treasure down through the years. Nothing could be more pleasing to me than this expression of your confidence for the achievements made by the college during these few short years."

Dr. Whyburn will receive the degree as one of the highlights of the commencement exercises June 7. Dr. Whyburn stated some weeks ago that he and this graduating class of '48 were classmates, both of them coming to the college at the same time.

Physics Lecturer Presented Views On World Peace

Decentralization of industry and brotherhood of men are this nation's two hopes for international peace, said Paul Elliot, physics lecturer, when he spoke to members of Alpha Chi at their banquet Thursday night. Approximately 55 members attended this annual affair of the honorary scholastic fraternity.

Installed as officers for next year were Lamar Jackson, president; Bryan Lovelace, vice-president; and Mary Louise Clayton, secretary. Bill Evans, retiring president, was toastmaster. Also appearing on the program were Charlene Jordan, who sang, and June Carthel, who gave some piano selections.

Lo, it came to pass in a certain city there was a young lass. This in itself were no startling statement, for in the same hamlet there were thousands of lassies—but this babe hath something which distinguisheth her above all the rest.

For lo, where most of the women—who are called "dames"—looked similar to Dracula's daughter, this wench is fully lovely. Her hair glinteth like the sunshine of a spring morning, and verily the flush of youthful innocence is ever upon her pulchritudinous pan. Yea, as it hath been said, "This lass hath schmaltz!"

And the gal goeth with a lad who is not a slouch himself. But verily, she casteth her eyes upon those around her—and she findeth many young men who are full appealing to her. In short, there are so many who appeal to her that she hath difficulty in remaining ladylike.

And there cometh a night when she hath a date—and her phone ringeth. Lo, it ringeth to beat the devil!

And she Suzy-Q-eth down the hall and lifeth it from its hook. And lo, the voice is that of one of the young men at whom she hath looked with hopeful eyes.

And verily, he desireth a date!

And lo, her heart thumpeth with pleasure—and she forgetteth her pledge unto the other. And she telleth him yes.

She phoneth her faithful sucker, and lo, she is very ill. In sooth, she hath a hell of a headache, and desireth that he release her for the evening.

And lo, being a fool, he doeth the same. But his heart is sore troubled—for he seeth his lass upon her bed of pain, distressed and pale.

So, verily, he goeth to the corner drug store, and he buyeth a pint, for doth not the Good Book say "Let him drink and forget his poverty, and remember his misery no more." (Prov. 31-7)

And he clambereth into his chariot—which is called "T-Model" in the tongue of the natives, and goeth beyond the city to consume his brew.

Verily, he parketh on a lonely road. And he is in the bushes. But lo, he is not alone. For in some miraculous manner the lass hath recovered from her illness, and is withal spending an hour or two by the same roadside.

And verily, verily, verily, the young man is full astounded, and he believeth not his eyes—at first.

But when he doth, he returneth home, and lo, he raiseth hell over this Delilah!

And lo, for years her phone ringeth not, for she is called by those around her "snake".

And none come to see her. And few wish to see her. And verily, if this were always the case—it would be a wonderful world.

But, as the prophets of old have said: "For a thousand snakes go free, where one is found guilty."

And lo, the same is true—for many a snake is not found in the grass, but in an automobile.

Cataloging The Campuses

By JERRY STOLTZ

Tech is full of people who are too busy memorizing to learn anything.

In answering a polling reporters' question of "Why Should One Go to College?" an instructor at Villanova college said, "It is one of the obligations exacted for the privilege of being alive that a man must ask these three questions about himself: 1) What am I? 2) Why am I? 3) Where am I going? One goes to college to help himself find the answers to these questions."

Not according to Webster—A misfortune is when a physics prof, who can't swim, falls off a bridge into a deep river... A calamity is if someone pulls him out... A philosopher is one who can look at an empty glass and still smile... Income is an amount of money, no matter how much it is, you spend more than...

He: There's a certain reason why I love you.
She: My goodness.
He: Don't be absurd.

ODE TO TECH COEDS
If she's a freshman:
She blushes at dirty jokes.
She says, "Oh, please stop that."
She wants to marry a football player.
She thinks a college education leads to things social, cultural and academic.

She won't go with a boy who has ever had a drink... She thinks that things learned in college leave one intelligent.
She likes to eat.
She wears her club pin exuberantly.

The Circle speaks for many Techsians by saying it is very good to see a flag flying on the campus again. Perhaps, some day, Texas Tech will have its own college flag to run up beneath the red, white and blue national one. And when that time comes, Techsians might stand together in convocations and pay tribute to it by repeating this:

COLLEGIATE PLEDGE
I pledge allegiance to the flag of Texas Tech, my chosen college.
And to the chances for successful living which it represents.
One institution, to be respected forever.
Giving forth a combined understanding of World society, The sciences, The arts, The technical fields, And the administration of the home and business.

FAN MAIL

Dear Miss Stewart:
You recently printed a letter from Sam F. King, an engineer, who criticized your paragraphs concerning teachers who do not always answer questions asked them in class. Mr. King, the self-confessed "bored reader" of your column, writes a faintly interesting but very startling disapproval of what you said. His defense of professors is certainly to be lauded, and he is quite right in stating that they cannot be expected to know everything. That is not to be denied.
Mr. King grants that there are perhaps "some instances" in which teachers have failed to reply to questions by saying that it "would take too much time." There are such instances, Mr. King, and I have witnessed them. You can hardly know how irritating it is to find that an instructor unskillfully avoids giving an answer on the pretense that there is no time available for it, or that the answer is too detailed. May I add that the questions asked are pertinent

New Charter, Redistricting Plans Made By Alumni And Ex-Students

New Fraternity Officers Installed By Alpha Chi

New officers of Alpha Chi installed at the fraternity's annual banquet at 7:15 p.m. Thursday in the Hilton hotel were Lamar Jackson, president; Newell Reed, vice president; Mary Louise Clayton, secretary-treasurer. Bill Evans, president and toastmaster, made the installation. A program was presented by Charlene Jordan, vocalist, and June Carthel, pianist. Key permits were presented by R. A. Mills, professor of English, to members who have not received them.

Plans for redistricting, for drawing up a new charter, and for aiding the athletic department in scouting, were made by the executive board of the Alumni and Ex-students association in its recent meeting in San Antonio, according to D. M. McElroy, executive secretary of the organization. After the meeting a barbeque and picnic was held at the home of O. T. Lodal, president of the San Antonio chapter, for 50 to 55 exes of that area. Formerly a move had been started to redistrict the association so as to give the exes of Lubbock and the surrounding area more representation, said McElroy. The board decided that since the present system gives legislative contacts in each district in Texas, it would be the best plan to operate under, he continued. Guy Carter, association president, was given the power to draw up a new charter for the organization. A committee was appointed to make plans for exes to assist the athletic department in interesting students with athletic inclinations in coming to Tech, said the executive secretary. Another committee was appointed to nominate officers, who will be elected at Homecoming.

The Loyalty fund contributions have been larger than expected and the amount received pretty good for first mailing for the first year of the fund," declared McElroy in commenting on the contributions made by exes for the Loyalty foundation, the purpose of which is to aid the college, students and ex-students financially. First drive for the fund, which consisted of leaflets in the mail, went out March 1.

You are in one division, Mr. King. I am in another, arts and sciences. We may have had the same instructors in some classes, but the work of the two divisions is so different that that is unlikely. So you may never have been taught by someone guilty of those faults which The Circle discussed. But I have, and I am told by others that they have. So you see that there is room for bringing to light the errors of any teaching techniques which are not producing satisfactory results. We have come to college to learn. If that learning is not adequate because of haphazard teaching, then we are not achieving our purpose. Sincerely, James F. Smith.

Raider Trackmen Cop Third In Border Conference Meet

Reynolds Retains Century Crown

By COTTON FANNING
Toreador Sports Writer

Texas Tech's Red Raider trackmen copped third place honors in the Border conference track and field meet Saturday at Tempe behind Arizona State and Arizona university. Joe Batiste led the Tempe Sun Devils to their second consecutive conference victory, setting new records in both hurdle events.

Final point tallies were Arizona State of Tempe, 56 2-5; Arizona university, 46 1-3; Texas Tech, 22; University of New Mexico, 16 1-5; Texas Mines, 4; and Arizona State of Flagstaff, 1-5. Both West Texas State and New Mexico A&M failed to score in the meet.

Lose Mile Relay

The Techs' mile relay team was defeated in the Hewitt Allison Memorial relay by the record breaking Arizona university time of 3:20.4 seconds. Costin Burkin, nursing a sore leg injured in the El Paso meet, came in with a 20 yard disadvantage on the first lap in 50.6. In the second lap, Joe Wilson picked up a few yards with a 50.3 performance, then Ernest Hawkins, also with a bad leg, again cut the lead in 50.1. In the anchor lap of the memorial race Charley Reynolds, who pulled a muscle in the 220, running against Cecil Crouch, who set the 440 record at 49.6, ran his heart out until well in the stretch, when he resisted the hopelessness of overtaking Crouch. Reynolds' 50.5 time gave the Raiders total of 3:22, which is also under the old record of 3:23.5. Ernest Hawkins got a bad start in the 440-yard dash, but pulled up from seventh to second place in the home stretch to come in only inches behind Crouch and was gaining on him fast.

Reynolds Wins Century

Reynolds successfully defended his conference championship in the 100-yard dash with a 10 seconds flat performance, but gave up the crown in the 220 to John Smith of Arizona University, who did the event in 21.8. Seth Murphy placed fourth in the 220 behind Reynolds. Ed Clepper tied for top honors in the high jump with Merlin Thevenot of Tempe and came in third in both high and low hurdles.

Snipes Bowlers Take Loop Lead

With two weeks remaining in Tech's Independent Bowling league, the Snipes keepers took the lead in a burst of power by downing the favored Raiders three games in matches played Thursday.

The Snipes team, led by Davis' 168-48, plucked the Raider quintet into third place after it had led the league for five weeks. The score by games was 749-743, 860-792, and 797-724. Ed Moore paced the triple losers with 192-521.

Press Bulls Win

In other matches the Press Bulls retained their hold on second place by downing the Pin Men in two of three games. The Bulls took the first two games by clear margins but dropped the third to the surging Pin Men. Jerry Henderson's 201-484 was top effort for the double winners while Niver's 181-442 led the Pin Men.

The Lucky Strikes five, badly off form, dropped two games to the Turkey Trotters, but held on to a first division spot by taking the third set-to. B. Wilson's 169-473 set the pace for the double winners while Paul Knight's 161-486 topped the losers. The score by games was: 747-725, 800-711 and 697-798.

Demons Down Rollers

The Dallas Demons took a double victory from the Shamrock Rollers in the night's final match with Norris rolling 190-528, the night's top score, to pace the winners. Dub Walling led the losers with 149-434. The score by games was: 731-611, 649-596 and 684-780.

Matches tomorrow night will find the Lucky Strikes pitted against the league leading Snipes, the Raiders playing the Pin Men, the Shamrock Rollers taking on the Lucky Strikes and the Turkey Trotters meeting the Dallas Demons.

In the last issue this column stated that records would probably be broken in the Border conference track and field meet—and they were. Techs' and Raiders' that some Raider might join this select circle of record breakers, but none of the 13 Tech tracksters were able to fulfill those wishes—although all of them literally ran their hearts out for their alma mater. It would be easy indeed to slip (Continued on Page 4)

Sanity Code Gets Border Loop OK

Adherence to the National Collegiate Athletic Association's "sanity code", stricter regulations on scouting, a new method of selecting all-conference teams, standardizing uniforms, and broadening freshman football were passed by faculty representatives of the Border conference Friday in their meeting in Tempe, Ariz.

Dean of Agriculture W. L. Stangel, chairman of the athletic council, and Athletic Director Morley Jennings, represented Tech.

With the exception of Section 16, which prohibits training tables, the NCAA regulations were passed in full. Accepting the code, the Border conference will "observe its policies and administer its form of aid to athletics."

Motion pictures, formerly used in studying another team's plays, is now taboo. A school is allowed to scout a rival conference competitor in only two conference games per season. When two conference teams are playing, another loop team will be given credit for scouting only one of them.

Aiding information was voted against in a "gentlemen's agreement", during the session.

All-conference teams will hereafter be selected by a new method. Coaches submit the names of their worthy men and then give them a final nod on a master sheet containing all names submitted. Discussion of awards to all-conference team members was postponed until the winter meeting of the representatives in El Paso.

Freshman teams will be allowed to play five games per season instead of four under a new rule approved during the meeting.

The president of the faculty group was authorized to appoint a committee of athletic directors and graduate managers to draw up standard contracts for all conference competition.

An optional cross-country meet in Las Cruces, N. M., this fall was approved by the group. A definite date has not been set.

J. Knapp from Texas Mines was elected president of the group for 1949. Dean Stangel of Tech was chosen vice president, C. V. Leisher and E. L. Larson of Arizona university were re-elected secretary-treasurer and commissioner respectively.

Golf, Tennis Teams Lose In Loop Meet

Texas Tech's golfers stroked their way to third place in the Border conference meet Saturday while the Raider tennis aggregation fell behind the strong University of Arizona racket wielders.

Jake Broyles was seeded second in the tennis tourney with Herl Benham of Arizona university holding the favored spot. However, Broyles was eliminated in the second round of play by Arizona's Tom Van Fleet in straight sets. Glenn Ivy of the Raiders survived until the semifinals before losing to Benham, 6-1, 6-4. Arizona U. copped three of the four first places championships with Fleet taking top honors.

The Wildcats of the University of Arizona also tied the Loops of New Mexico university for golf honors as both teams posted scores of 859 in tournament play. The Raiders were third with 623 followed by Texas Mines 650, New Mexico Aggies 664 and Tempe 677.

Elmer McKinney led Tech linksters with his 76-73-149. E. C. Feagun turned in a 78-74-157, Jerry Stoltz a 78-79-157 and John Trout a 85-82-165 for the Tech squad's team score of 623.

Backfield Shines As Gridders End Spring Training Sessions

By BOB LILLY
Toreador Sports Writer

Red-clad football squadmen zoomed to a three touchdown session at the final scrimmage session at Jones stadium Saturday night as an estimated 1,000 fans watched the Reds and Whites display the best all-around backfield candidates seen on the Tech gridiron in recent years. The Whites rallied in the latter part of the session to lead the final score with a 38-31 win.

The forward wall of the variety of '48 appeared as strong as that of last year. Coach Dell Morgan has an able group of men from which to pick the front seven. Standout in the line was Bobby Williams, center and line backer, showing the same capable ability on the defense as last season. Bill Kelley at the right end slot was hard to take out on end around plays and went down the field fast on pass plays. Dan Pursell still exhibits the praiseworthy plunge in breaking through the line. John Anderson, at the left tackle position kept opposing backs on their side of the scrimmage line.

Backs Standout

Ball carriers were not only showing determination in moving down the field, but on defense they were getting their share of tackles. All backs exhibited good broken field running and power men in the fullback slot was five deep with J. W. Thompson, Keith Butler, Earl Jackson, Bud Conley and J. B. Mahler. The first Red backer was scored early in the game as Andrews recovered a fumble on the mid-stripe. Quarterback Shuff DeGalah took to the air and found a target in Right Hair Billy White for twenty yards; White carried for another ten. Two plays later DeGalah made his second aerial good to Walter Maloney for a TD.

Following an unsuccessful four try by the Whites and a 45-yard kick by Glenn Lewis, the Reds started on their own 18-yard line and six plays later scored the second and six points. Bud Conley spearheaded this drive with a fine exhibition of broken field running that netted 50 yards and set the Reds up for the second goal.

Williams Intercepts Pass

The Whites never seemed to get started and the third tally for the Reds came after Bobby Williams intercepted a Bill Lyman pass, and Conley carried from the fullback slot for the third score.

The Whites' comeback was made with Lyman passing off to Zae

Henderson, Harold Haynes and J. W. Thompson, who made a strong bid for starting fullback this fall. Behind a new line, the Whites marched down the field for the second tally. Haynes balanced the score board when, in the next Red series, he intercepted a DeGalah pass on his own forty-yard line and raced through Red defenders for 60 yards and another TD.

Cheshir Is Strong Punter

Garland Cheshir, in the new backfield for the Reds, set the Whites back with a 75-yard punt which George Worrel caught on his own goal line. The Whites took possession on the twenty and Thompson, Haynes and Henderson drove 60 yards from where Lyman connected with a pass to Ottmers for 20 yards and a touchdown.

The last two scores by the Whites were made by George Worrel going over from the seven yard line, and another Lyman to Ottmers aerial for a touchdown.

Stassen Wins Majority At Tech, Wallace, Eisenhower Place Second

By ALICE MEADING
Toreador Staff Writer

Harold E. Stassen, presidential candidate for Republican nomination, won an overwhelming majority of 126 votes from Tech voters in the student presidential preference poll. Votes cast by members of the Democratic party for Stassen added up to 104; 10 from the Republicans, 6 from students who claim no party preference, 2 from Socialists, and 4 from those who circled both Democratic and Republican parties.

Henry A. Wallace, running on the Progressive (Third Party) ticket, tied with Dwight D. Eisenhower in the poll. They received 20 votes each. Eisenhower received 18 votes from those claiming to be Democrats and four votes from students giving no party preference. Wallace received his 20 votes from those claiming to be members of the Third party. Eight loyal Democrats cast their votes for Harry S. Truman. Arthur H. Vandenberg received four votes from Republicans and Thomas E. Dewey received two votes. Two votes were cast by Republicans for Robert A. Taft. There was one write-in for Eleanor Roosevelt as a candidate preference for the next president.

The question might arise as to why, in this Democratic territory, a Republican nominee received 126 votes, 10 of which were cast by Republicans, while the Democratic nominee, Harry S. Truman, received only 8 votes. It can safely be said that Stassen's personal appearance on the Tech campus impressed many of the students and drew many stray votes from this territory. It is possible that many Democrats are not necessarily for Stassen but are dissatisfied with Truman and the Democratic party.

In counting these ballots it might be well to note that of the Tech students who cast ballots, a greater percentage voted for Wallace than is the percentage of communists in Russia.

DFD to Be Honored With Spring Dance

DFD, women's social club, will be honored with a spring semi-formal dance from 9 to 12 p.m. Friday night at Hotel Lubbock.

DFD patronesses, hostesses for the dance, will greet the honored guests and their escorts in a receiving line headed by Mrs. Paul Hardwick, patroness chairman, and Mrs. Joe Arrington, retiring patroness chairman.

Complementing the spring decorations, a wishing well will be featured in the center of the ballroom. Special guests are Misses Ina Bacon and Martye Poindexter.

Foreign Language Picnic Scheduled

All foreign language students and their guests are invited to the annual departmental picnic from 5:30 to 7:30 p.m. Thursday, May 21, at Mackenzie park, according to Dr. T. Earl Hamilton. Tickets are 75 cents each and the deadline is May 17. They may be bought in any foreign language class.

Students are asked to meet at the Double T bench south of the Administration building and cars will leave from there at 5:15 p.m. The meal will consist of barbeque, pinto beans, potato salad, cokes and ice cream.

Students from the three foreign language clubs served on the arrangement committee which planned baseball and active games of other countries for entertainment. James Block, John S. McKaughan, Ray D. Collier, Owen Layton and Chester Goughly were representatives from the German club. French students helping were Arlene Witt and Joe Meador. From the Spanish club were Julia Vicente, Margaret Bruce, Elaine Head, Jack Wilson, Alma Sturges and Mary Richards.

Entering Tech in the fall of last year, Bill was ineligible for the varsity squad. He has received considerable comment from both the coaching staff and spectators concerning his natural ability for ball handling, and looks at the present like a promising candidate for first-string quarterback on the 1948-49 squad, although the only comment he would offer on the subject was, "Time will tell."

Teaching Positions Are Available To Graduates; Interviews Slated

Requests for graduates to fill teaching positions have been received by the Placement service, according to Mrs. Jean Jenkins, service secretary. In addition representatives of two companies will be on the campus today and Friday to interview students for jobs, she continued.

O. M. Spurgin of the Halliburton Oil Well Cementing company will be here today to interview electrical, mechanical and petroleum engineers and physics majors. A general meeting is scheduled for 1 p.m. in the Engineering auditorium.

Dowell incorporated, will be represented by K. L. Shumake, station manager, and W. N. Estel, district manager, Friday. The two wish to interview prospective graduates in business administration.

Interviews will be conducted in Ext-104x.

In addition to requests for students to fill teaching vacancies in the primary and elementary grades, the Placement office has received requests for band directors and coaches, said the secretary. Other vacancies include the teaching of the following subjects: art, commercial subjects, English, vocational home economics, journalism and English, mathematics, public school music, men's and women's physical education, speech, various sciences, and social studies. Any student interested should make application in the Placement office, said Mrs. Jenkins.

Museum Gets Cast Of Extinct Bird; One Of Two Existing Replicas

The plaster cast of a 5-foot giant bird was recently acquired by the West Texas Museum from the Chicago Natural History Museum, where the original skeleton is now in storage. The cast, assembled by Wann Langston, instructor in geology, is one of two exact replicas according to Langston. The other mounted cast is in the Chicago museum, and is displayed instead of the original skeleton, as the bones were badly crushed and too frail to maintain their own weight. The Mesembriornis incertus was doubtless covered with coarse feathers, the color of which is unknown, and the huge beak was sheathed in horny material, according to the reading matter which accompanies the display. Other information given is that giant birds have lived on nearly all the continents at one time or another, this particular bird inhabiting Argentina during the Eocene epoch of the Tertiary period, or about one million years ago.

Specimens were sent to the Chicago natural history museum in exchange for the cast, according to Langston.

Langston said the museum also contains a plaster cast of a Moa egg, which is approximately a foot long. The Moa was a flightless bird which lived in New Zealand even into historic time and stood more than 12 feet in height. Langston said the bird was probably the source of stories of early sailors who touched New Zealand, finally growing into the stories of the roc in the Tales of Sinbad the Sailor. The ostrich and the cassowary, which is a bird inhabiting New Zealand, are the only giant flightless birds alive today.

Hi-School Seniors Vie For Award

Winners of the Dunlap Scholarship award will be determined Saturday from 9 to 5 in the Aggie auditorium when 129 high school seniors from nine surrounding counties gather at Tech to take the objective tests and interviews for the honors.

The scholarship, sponsored each year by Retha Martin, of this city, amounts to $50 per semester for one year and is awarded to 30 of the highest ranking students.

The three top-ranking students from 43 schools have been invited to Tech by Dean of Men James G. Allen. The nine counties represented are Hale, Garza, Hockley, Lamb, Lynn, Crosby, Terry, Floyd and Lubbock. Twenty scholarships were awarded in 1945, according to Dean Allen. Nineteen were awarded in 1946 and 31 in 1947.

in some alibis for the Raiders, but we know they would not appreciate this and we will only attempt to present the facts—maybe colored a little, though, as was the number one star at the meet.

The name of the only remaining Techman among the record holders was erased when Cecil Crouch of Arizona university battered the 440 mark set by Tech's Jim Foster in 1939. Crouch's 49.6-second quarter was 2 seconds under Foster's time. Even though the Raiders were unable to set any records or win the meet they should be commended for the valiant effort they exhibited in trying to overcome the huge margins which Tempe and Arizona had compiled in the field events.
