CAMPUS CHATTER
By Darlene Sneed

Preparation for many coming events has seasoned this week of studies. Students are busy getting ready for the Valentine formal to be held Friday, making plans for the student council convention which is to be held here next month and attending the assemblies, club meetings and basketball games.

The Lasso club will sponsor the Valentine dance in the college library. There will be an orchestra and everyone is invited. We would like for some of our high school students to come, too.

Lou Ann Nall, Lynn Mitchell and Venita Allison met Thursday night to work on decorations for the dance.

Betty Farrar's dancing students gave a part of the assembly program Thursday during activity period. Dancers ranging from tiny tots to grade school children performed.

A barber shop quartet composed of Elwyn Bass, Cecil Hoggard, Charles Warren and Weldon McElreath sang "While Strolling Through The Park" and "In The Moonlight." The boys were dressed in barber aprons and white shirts and bow-ties.

A trio called the "Blue Notes" composed of Lou Ann Nall, Bobbie Adams and Jonell West sang "Indian Love Call" and "I'll Get By."

Results of the play try-outs, held the past week, will be posted on the bulletin board Monday morning.

We are very proud of our basketball team's record of 18 wins and 3 losses, but the big games yet remain, so those of you who have not been coming out to back the Jayhawks, come on out! Also those of you who have not yet made your reservations for the bus to go to Amarillo Tuesday night should do so by Monday noon. Any high school students who would like to go, are asked to make reservations.

Some of those kids who went to Abilene Thursday night to back the Hawks were Jimmy Seay, Bobby Adams, Bobby Read, Shirley Riddle, Beverly Jones, Don Edwards and Darlene Sneed.

The Church on the corner or at the crossroads stands for three of the most important phases of community life—the social, intellectual and spiritual development of its people.

Within its hallowed precincts the rich and the poor, the high and the low meet on common ground and learn to share each other's joys and sorrows. It is the social center of the community, where people learn to mingle and cooperate and be friendly.

The accumulated knowledge of past ages was preserved and transmitted to us by the Church and its religious institutions. The Church pioneered in modern education, built great colleges and universities, and works in full harmony with the schools in every community.

But the Church performs its highest and holiest mission in the realm of the spirit. All its other services are contributory to this supreme end, that it may teach men to know God and love and serve Him. It opens up a vast new world of faith and hope and joy.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Mental Illness Discussed By Junior Woman's Forum

"Mental Illnesses and Mental Hospitals" was the program topic at the meeting of the Junior Woman's Forum Friday afternoon.

The group met in the home of Mrs. E. B. Compton, 310 Virginia, with Mrs. L. B. Maulden as co-hostess.

Discussing "The Alarming Increase In Mental Illness," Mrs. Omar Jones stated that mental illness was the number one health problem in the U.S. today. This is due to a great extent, she added, to the fact that families who have member affected usually try to keep it secret. She said one in every five families is affected and there is a need for greater understanding of the problem.

Mrs. H. W. Kirby spoke on "The Disgraceful Mental Hospital," describing conditions in many of our state hospitals. Most of these were seriously overcrowded, were antiquated buildings, many actually firetraps, and were understaffed. In many institutions, she said, epileptics, alcoholics and the criminally insane were confined in the same wards. There is a lack of graduate nursing care and few trained psychiatrists available because of the low pay. One hospital mentioned had only one doctor for every 400 patients.

The next meeting will be Feb. 20 in the home of Mrs. Charles Tompkins, with Mrs. Harold Talbot as co-hostess.

A Bible Thought For Today

If we would listen we might all hear the voice of the Infinite. "And I heard the voice of the Lord, saying, Whom shall I send, and who will go for us? Then said I: Here am I; send me." — Isaiah 6:8

Now Is The Time To Make Start On Your Summer Beautification

Tempus is fighting right along for beautification. This is the month when planting of most trees and shrubs should be completed. As for pruning, most of it should have been done by now.

mate and on what ultimate growth may be expected. Not long ago one nurseryman told us of hauling away two truck loads of plants from one homestead, still leaving more than the place should have. Hence, it is wise to take into account what the plants will look like three or four years hence, not just this summer or next.

Eisenhower's Goal For Europe Calls For Free Trade At Home

"If only we had your long runs." That's the prayer of nearly every business man, government official, and labor leader in Great Britain, France, and Italy. It comes up whenever the conversation gets around to America's productive "genius."

tal Kansas City would have to go 1,300 miles to reach 180,000,000, and that takes in the most populous areas of Canada and Mexico. Handicraft methods persist in Europe. In a metal fabricating plant in England a few years ago, I watched two men cutting off the corners of sheet steel one by one, using a rotary cutter.

Possible Ancient Civilization Cradle

VANCOUVER, Canada (AP)—British Columbia may have had Aztec and Mayan civilization before Mexico. Anthropologists investigating discoveries of stone carvings say there is a possibility that the civilizations that have astounded antiquarians since the Spanish conquest of Mexico might have had their start here.

As a creditor nation, the U.S. has no choice. We must lower tariffs. We must buy more goods. We must make the dollar easier to get. And if President Eisenhower can persuade the Republican Party, long the high-tariff party, that lower and lower tariffs are necessary, he will make his mark in history as an outstanding President.

Spotlighting A Week Of News

Disaster Strikes In Europe As High Winds, Floods Cover Three Nations

By FRED GREENE Another awesome display of Mother Nature's power and authority was presented to the world this week. Heavy storms and gales whipped up gigantic waves which, in turn, flooded vast areas of Western Europe.

U. S. troops in Formosa for any purpose. The chief executive does hope for it to force the Reds to increase their defenses with men and equipment thus forcing possible withdrawal of elements engaged in Korea.

U. S. troops in Formosa for any purpose. Dulles made it clear that for Europe to get our help they must also help themselves. One major aim of the Dulles Pronouncement is to get passage in Europe parliaments of the European Defense Community plan which would set up a unified army.

England, Holland and Belgium were the nations most affected, with tiny Holland recording the largest number of casualties—well over 1,000. Nearly 2,000 people lost their lives altogether and the toll is still mounting.

The two travelers also went to Europe to get our help they must also help themselves. Dulles made it clear that for Europe to get our help they must also help themselves.

President Eisenhower also made a number of other Americans happy when he ordered all wage controls and a considerable number of items under price control suspended.

Another aspect of the Korean war, the truce talks, got some attention when Red China warned the U. S. to talk turkey on their (Reds) terms. Nothing came of this, however.

President Dwight Eisenhower made many of his fellow Republicans happy this week, along with some Democrats, when he ordered the U. S. Seventh Fleet to withdraw from Formosa waters, thus denaturalizing that Chinese Nationalist island bastion.

In the spot light: A Senate group approved a re-organization powers bill for President Eisenhower, giving him similar authority as that granted to former President Truman.

The President alleviated some fears when he made it clear that this go-ahead to Chiang does not mean wild, reckless assaults across the narrow strait separating Formosa from the mainland.

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles and Mutual Security Administrator Harold Stassen were in Europe this week, visiting capitals and finding out what they can do about Europe's problems in regard to defense.

This Day In Texas

The first charter issued to a Texas fire department was on its way to Galveston on this day in 1848. The legislature imposed some specific provisions. The mayor and the city council should appoint no more than 40 firemen for each engine or hook and 20 for each hose cart. Not that no fire-fighting groups had been formed in Texas before then. As early as 1842 Austin and Houston had taken action against the hazards of fire.

Bible Words to Live by

My favorite Bible verse is PSALM 37:5: 'Commit thy way unto the Lord; trust also in him; and he shall bring it to pass.'

It once had the same effect upon me as a sign-post to a bewildered traveler who has lost his way, and it has continued to encourage and reassure me at many crises since.

The first time it came to my rescue was when I was a young man recently discharged from military service in the first world war. I took a job in Akron, Ohio, not because I had inclination for that kind of work, but because one can't sit around doing nothing.

Gen. Bradley Is Watching Nation Take Policy He Warned Against

WASHINGTON.—When he was campaigning for the Republican nomination for President, Senator Robert A. Taft a year ago made an important speech on foreign policy at Seattle, Washington.

That proposal caused something of a political uproar in Washington, Senator John J. Sparkman (D., Ala.) said it would mean all-out war on the Chinese mainland, with the United States in the war. Senator Warren G. Magnuson (D., Wash.) said such a move would mean a "Taft War" in China.

Bradley is due for retirement in August. General Hoyt Vandenberg, chief of staff of the Air Force, and General J. Lawton Collins, chief of staff of the Army, also are due to step out in a few months.

In an early stage of the preparation of the State of the Union message the Joint Chiefs were told that such a move was being considered. But President Eisenhower indicated he would reject it.

STANDISH AND PRISCILLA ... Cast Selected By Class

6th Graders Put On Play By Themselves

Valentine season around Washington Place School is being embellished with a colorful play because sixth graders got interested in a poem.

Twice last week it was presented to children of the school. Both times it was received enthusiastically. Monday at 7:30 p. m. it is to be presented at the regular meeting of the P-TA immediately following a brief address by Judge R. H. Weaver.

"The children have done this all by themselves," explained Mrs. H. L. Derrick, the teacher. "I told them at the start that it would take a lot of work and not to begin unless everyone wanted to help. All I've done is give a little guidance now and then."

Here's how it all came about: The class had completed a study on the 13 original colonies and particularly on the period literature. As a break, Mrs. Derrick read Henry W. Longfellow's "Courtship of Miles Standish" to them.

"Say, why don't we make a drama out of that?" asked one of the youngsters. There was a chorus of eyes and heads you knew it, they were at work.

The girls designed and then made all of the costumes. This, of course, sent them to their books so that it would be authentic. Similarly, the music had to conform and that necessitated a study of the period music and the effect of Puritanism on American music. (The class did a booklet on this side study, incidentally.)

Together, the class began to build the script for the play. While they eliminated a lot of the words they didn't understand and got simpler ones with their teacher's help, they insisted on sticking pretty close to Longfellow's lyrical meter.

Then came the settings. Some time was spent in making preliminary sketches. Once more they went to their research books. To this was contributed a postcard picture of Plymouth Bay by one of the children.

After school, class members scurried here and there gathering pasteboard boxes of various sizes, and scraps of lumber, too. They put their arithmetic to work in figuring and cutting the frames, and then in trimming the props. Now they have an outdoor scene with Plymouth Bay in the background, plus an interior of a log cabin.

Six boys figure in the stage preparations. Although all the class considers itself as stage hand material. Thus, while the interlude music is played, scenes are changed quickly.

Children elected June McElrath to be the stage director, and she also plays the part of Priscilla Mullens. Harold Fisher takes the part of John Alden, Horace Hamilton the part of the Elder.

Peggy Isaacks is Miles Standish. How did a girl get that part—Well, they had try-outs and everybody thought she could do it better than anyone else. That's the way they ran their show.

The United States had 4,008,900 businesses in operation in 1931 compared to 3,097,100 in 1929 and 2,894,500 in 1933.

Church Initiates Budget, Building Fund Program

A long-range general budget and building fund enlargement program is being initiated by the Wesley Memorial Methodist Church.

Machinery has been set up and leaders expect to start the financial campaign Mar. 9, date set for a "kick-off dinner."

The dual-purpose program has as more immediate goals an increased general budget and expansion of educational facilities at the church, 1206 Owens.

Elton Arnold, member of one of the campaign committees, said Saturday the church hopes to construct a new educational building, probably in about a year, costing approximately $65,000. Ultimately, Arnold reported, a new sanctuary will become a reality.

The church will pattern its financial program along lines of a plan suggested by Roy Farrow, executive director of Texas Methodist Colleges. Farrow, who devotes some of his time to assisting various churches with their financial programs, was in Big Spring Thursday evening to help with organizational work.

Tommy Lovelace was named general chairman of the group. Others selected were Raymond Hamby, associate chairman in charge of solicitation; L. C. Coleman, associate chairman in charge of mechanics; J. W. Garrison, associate chairman for education; and Mrs. Raymond Hamby, women's chairman.

The various committees will work with E. A. Fivash, chairman of the board of stewards, and Rev. M. E. Fisher, pastor, in the building fund campaign which is to get underway with the kick-off dinner March 9.

Here's something completely new in child entertainment . . . record stories illustrated by pictures to be colored. Your child can have the fun of listening to the music and coloring the corresponding pictures in his own individual style. For your own children . . . for your friends' children . . . you can choose from brand new stories and the old familiar ones such as "Alice in Wonderland," "Jack and the Beanstalk," "Cinderella" and many more. Especially for tiny hands and priced at $1.05 each, you'll find all their favorites on color book music.

SWEETS FOR THE SWEET . . . Valentine's is a gift giving occasion, and for sweetheart, friend or family a bright box of Valentine candy from CUNNINGHAM & PHILLIPS DRUGS is your best "taste" in gifts. Especially boxed in "hearts in flowers", there's a sweet treat in each tempting piece . . . whether there's a bit of "magic love potion" in these delicious morsels, I couldn't say, but I can say that such famous candy makers as King's, Whitman's, Elmer's and Saylor's give you the finest assortment of French creams, chews, fruits and nuts, generously coated with rich milk chocolate specially blended for "Cupid Magic", that goes straight to the heart.

Early History Of Los Angeles Told In Movie

The story behind the "City of Angels" will be screened at the Ritz Theatre Thursday. In a movie starring Randolph Scott, Hollywood has finally filmed an early history of its mother city—Los Angeles. The production is "The Man Behind the Gun." Patricia Wynmore co-stars with Scott in the Technicolor release by Warner Brothers. Action is laid in the 1850's, when the city was as riotous a spot as could be found in the whole country. The story is based on California's near split previous to the Civil War. Scott plays an Army officer assigned to dissolve a rebel band trying to make Southern California into a separate state. Wynmore plays a school teacher who aids Scott in his fight. Another actress, Lina Romay, is seen as an entertainer in a dance hall used as a rebel hideout. Scott joins the rebel group in order to dissolve it, but he is discovered. He escapes and finally accomplishes his end.

Jungle Jim Movie To Play At State

A Jungle Jim mystery, starring Johnny Weissmuller, will play at the State Theatre Friday and Saturday. It is "Voodoo Tiger." Native witch doctors brew up voodoo vengeance in the production, and jungle beasts and international thieves add to the interest. Jean Byron, James Seay, and Jeanne Dean are also starred. The plot begins when Weissmuller starts tracking down a Nazi war criminal who has a valuable art treasure. The criminal is sought by international art thieves as well as authorities. Five chorus girls enter the picture when their plane crashes. In the showdown scene, Weissmuller recovers the treasure, rescues the girls and captures the criminals.

Pearson Broadcast Coming From Berlin

The shape of things behind the Teutonic "iron curtain" will be analyzed and reported by Drew Pearson, ABC's dynamic radio news commentator, when he presents his brilliant news analyses and "predictions of things to come," direct from Berlin. This program will be heard over KBST at 5 o'clock this evening. Pearson visited Germany last year to launch his famed "winds of freedom" campaign—messages of freedom carried by free balloons to the people of Czechoslovakia. Changes that have occurred since then will be reported in detail by the ABC commentator who flew to Berlin this week to make his broadcast from the Allied enclave of the divided city. Pearson is making the trip at the invitation of Mayor Ernst Reuter of West Berlin. "FREEDOM SINGS" Freedom Sings, an original and inspiring program featuring outstanding musical personalities in songs of freedom, will begin a

ABBOTT, COSTELLO Funmakers Meet Up With Captain Kidd

Bud Abbott and Lou Costello hit the screen of the Ritz today and Monday to "knock the props out from under the pirating profession. They are starred in "Abbott and Costello Meet Captain Kidd." Capt. Kidd is played by Charles Laughton. Fran Warren, popular singing star, makes her movie debut in the show. Other stars include Hillary Brooke, Bill Shirley, and Leif Erickson. The story begins with Captain Kidd sailing to the island of Tortuga for a rendezvous with a blonde buccaneer competitor — Miss Brooke. At the island the captain becomes involved with two tavern waiters — Abbott and Costello. So begins the battle of wits. Notes to Captain Kidd and Costello get mixed up. Kidd gets a love note, and the map to a hidden treasure falls into the hands of the two comies. Abbott and Costello give up their life as successful waiters and go into the treasure hunting business. They are closely followed by Laughton who also wants the treasure. Costello plays a lover boy in the production, having romances with both Miss Brooke and Miss Warren. Laughton at one place in the movie renders the song, "Meet Captain Kidd." He reportedly gives a completely different type performance. Produced by Warner Brothers, the movie is filmed in Supercinemascope.

'Red Ball Express' Is Film On Wartime Transportation

The story of supply transportation to the front lines during World War II is set for screening at the Ritz Theatre Tuesday and Wednesday. "Red Ball Express" is the movie which tells the story. It stars Jeff Chandler and Alex Nicol. The story opens with the organization of the "red ball" unit to push supplies and fuel to General Patton's tanks on the front line. "Red Ball," in railroad jargon, means top priority freight. And Chandler, playing the part of a lieutenant, is assigned the duty of seeing that the freight gets top priority. Nicol plays a sergeant working under him. The two were previously enemies in the states and do not get along. Charles Drake and Jacqueline Duval furnish the little love interest that is in the movie. Most of the production, however, is devoted to troop action. The "red ball" unit is made up of newcomers to Europe and people fresh out of hospitals—both Negro and white. At first it is not respected by other outfits on the line. The movie tells the battle of the unit for self respect plus the end of the feud between the sergeant and lieutenant.

Marilyn Monroe Film Scheduled At The Jet

A pressure-cooked package of adult entertainment is due at the Jet Drive-In Theatre in Tuesday and Wednesday nights. It is "Don't Bother to Knock," with Richard Widmark and Marilyn Monroe. Miss Monroe plays a baby-sitter with grown-up ideas, and Widmark is seen as a tough-minded city boy. The two meet in a New York hotel. The entire movie action takes place inside a hotel, and the story concerns one evening. It is about a boy who telephones a girl he sees across the hotel areaway. She tells him to come over and not to bother knocking. The heart of the movie is the terror created by Miss Monroe's strangely twisted impulses. Ann Bancroft, who plays a songstress, is the chief supporting actress. She plays a flame of Widmark's who performs in the hotel night spot. The Viking raids in the 9th Century represented a national movement of Scandinavians which involved the conquest of most of Britain, great raids and acquisition of territory in Europe, great expeditions into Russia and further action to the south that took the Vikings into the Eastern empire.

SICK YOUTH'S PENNIES ARE NOW MISSING

HOUSTON (AP)—For the past year, three-year-old Willie McDougal has been watching the mound of pennies grow in a jar beside his bed. Willie, victim of a brain tumor, recently was admitted to a hospital because his condition had grown serious. Once he got well, Willie planned to buy a rocket gun with the pennies. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Homer McDougal, moved in with relatives near the hospital. They wondered today how they could explain to Willie, burglars, neighbors reported, broke into the McDougal home yesterday. The only thing missing was the jar full of pennies.

Soap Opera Star Prefers Radio To TV And Movies

By WAYNE OLIVER
 NEW YORK, Feb. 7. (AP)—Being a queen of soap opera might not seem to be so attractive in these days of television and big-night time extravaganzas, but pretty Julie Stevens finds it isn't bad at all.
 Miss Stevens, who has played Helen Trent on CBS radio the past eight years, points out that her show is heard in three million homes five days a week.
 Since scenes don't have to be acted out as in television, nor lines memorized to the letter, there's less strain in doing five shows a week on radio than one a week on video.
 And although millions of radio listeners know her voice, few know what she looks like, so she can enjoy a normal private life free from the attention and autograph seeking that TV stars encounter. "Some people," she says, "ask 'Don't you get bored to tears playing Helen Trent five days a week? But I don't. I enjoy it. It's like visiting people you know.'"

 Although soap opera is a favorite target of critics—particularly male—Miss Stevens is a staunch defender. She points out that it provides diversion for housewives as they go about their chores, under circumstances that they would be unable, no matter how intellectual, to concentrate on subtle or deep drama or scholarly discussion.
 But it isn't just housewives who listen to "Romance of Helen Trent."
 "Because of automobile radio, the program has a large male audience," she relates.
 On one occasion, for instance, she was asked to do the narration for a film because the advertising manager of a large firm had heard her in Helen Trent on his auto radio.

 In private life, Miss Stevens is Mrs. Charles Underhill. Her husband is an executive of a competing network, American Broadcasting Company. They own a country place near New York City but during the week live in a Manhattan apartment with her daughter Nancy, 1 1/2.
 Her career has included several roles on the Broadway stage, a number of parts in major nighttime radio shows and a whirl at television. She was "Lurell" for nine months on the video program "Big Town."
Luncheon Planned
 Kiwanis Queens will have their luncheon Thursday at 12 noon in the home of Mrs. W. D. McNair, 108 Dixie. Mrs. Mayron Shields will be co-hostess.
