Baccalaureate Speaker Announced

Dr. W. R. White, President Of Baylor, Will Deliver Commencement Sermon

Dr. William Richardson White, president of Baylor university, will deliver the baccalaureate sermon Sunday evening May 21. Dr. D. M. Wiggins has announced.

Doctor White was pastor of the First Baptist church of Lubbock from 1928 to 1929. He has also held pastorates at Goldthwaite, Royce City, Greenville, Broadway Baptist church, Fort Worth, First Baptist church, Oklahoma City, and First Baptist church, Austin.

'Man, Civilization' End Talk Series By Homrighausen

Civilization exists for souls and not souls for civilization. Dr. E. G. Homrighausen, said in the final lecture of the Willson series Thursday morning.

"The focal point of God's great purpose is the individual, and He will judge us on what we have done to personalities and to our own lives, not according to the material successes of life," the theologian stated.

In speaking about "The Vocations of Individuals Today," Doctor Homrighausen said that the primary purpose of the individual is fulfilling his vocation of human existence.

"The biggest problem is to get a philosophy of life, of the whole world and your place in it. We are upset today because our external order is unstable. The inner being must be in perfect balance to offset the external effects, and this is indeed a rare thing."

"The true vocation of a man is spoiled by his own actions. Christianity admits something is wrong with human nature. We were created for high things and yet we have to make the same mistakes all over again," he said.

Vocation Through The Family

He closed his final lecture by stating that man's vocation must be attained through family life, as homemaking is the great vocation of the human race.

Dr. W. C. Holden, dean of the graduate division, introduced the speaker after the invocation given by the Rev. Cecil Matthews of the Wesley foundation. The Rev. David Seiberg of Shepherd King Lutheran church pronounced the benediction.

"The first task of the church is that it must become conscious of its purpose," Doctor Homrighausen said in his lecture Wednesday on "The Vocations of the Church Today."

Providing missionaries for evangelism and providing better corporate worship were named as being two of the church's main tasks. The principal task is to bring persons one by one into contact with Christ, the minister said.

"Barbershoppers" Sing Tomorrow; Special Rates Set

The "Parade of Quartets" being brought to Lubbock by the local chapter of the Society for Preservation and Encouragement of Barber Shop Quartet Singing in America, will give a special concert for students of Tech at 2:30 p.m. tomorrow in the Lubbock Senior high school auditorium.

Admission prices for students has been lowered from $1.20 each to 60 cents. The prices for the tickets were lowered to enable more students to enjoy this comparatively new type of entertainment, Joe Haddon, assistant director of the band, announced.

This two-hour show will feature the Varsity Four from Purdue, who won the title of Medalist champs in 1949; the Beau Jesters of Dallas, winners of the Southwest District competition; the Boreesome Four—some of Oklahoma City, the oldest SPEBSQSA quartet; the Flying L quartet from Tulsa, Oklahoma; three local quartets, the Plainsmen, the Ten-ables, and a Tech group called the Chord Bored Four.

Tech Men's Glee club will sing "Steal Away" and "Ride the Charriot," negro spirituals, and one Russian folk song, "Stenka Razin," announced Richard Richards, director. The SPEBSQSA chorus will sing a medley, "Daisy" and "Annie Rooney," and two "barber shop" numbers, "Spring" and "You Tell Me Your Dreams."

Weird Production "Outward Bound" Opening At High School Wednesday

By ROYCE BRITTON
Toreador Staff Writer

A strange company of shipmates, mystified by a vague feeling of unreality, suddenly discover their hitherto unknown destination. The humorous, amusing, pathetic or resigned way in which each accepts his fate is the plot of "Outward Bound," to be presented by the speech department at 8 p.m. Mar. 22-24 in the Lubbock Senior high school auditorium. John L. Upshaw, faculty director, stated today.

"This fascinating play written by Sutton Vane in 1923 is hyper-physical yet humorous, sympathetic, understanding and unique," Upshaw said. It had successful runs on Broadway and in London in 1924.

Directed Other Hits

Upshaw directed "Our Town" in 1946, "Family Portrait" in 1947, "Ghost Train" and "George Washington Slept Here" in 1948, and "R.U.R." in 1949. Jeanne Battey, junior speech major, is assistant director and has worked on "Twelfth Night," "R.U.R.," "Ghost Train," "Joan of Lorraine" and "George Washington Slept Here." Scrubby, the steward, will be played by Jake Sitters, sophomore, who was Saul Hodgkin in "Ghost Train." Rex Zachary, sophomore, is Mr. Prior, a gentleman of society who drowns his failures in drink. Billie Hutchings, senior, who will play Mrs. Civeden-Banks,

SOPHOMORES WILL MEET

A meeting of the sophomore class is to be held at 5 p.m. Wednesday in Ad-230. Bob Schmidt, president, said yesterday.

Receiving his AB from Howard-Payne in Brownwood, Doctor White then attended Southwestern Baptist Theological seminary, Fort Worth, where he received his master's. A master of theology was awarded him at the Southwestern Baptist Theological seminary and the University of Dubuque, Howard-Payne and Baylor university honored Doctor White with a doctor's degree of divinity.

Was President of HS-U

From 1923 to 1927, he was professor of missions at Southwestern Baptist Theological seminary; and from December 1929 to August 1931, he was executive secretary of Baptist General Convention of Texas. He was president of Hardin-Simmons university from 1940 until 1942.

Doctor White was born near Brownsboro. He is a Mason and a thirty-second degree Shriner; and was ordained in 1911. "The Royal Road to Life" was published in 1938 and is the only book Doctor White has written, though numerous articles written by him have appeared in publications.

Russell B. Brown, Washington, D. C. lawyer and general counsel for the Independent Petroleum Association of America, is to be the principal speaker at commencement exercises May 22.

Correspondence Finals Announced

The calendar for closing out the present semester for graduating seniors, as announced by Dr. E. N. Jones, is as follows: Monday, May 1, final examinations to be taken by all graduating seniors enrolled in correspondence courses. Monday, May 8, at 5 p.m., grades on correspondence courses completed by graduating seniors are due at the registrar's office.

Tuesday, May 9, each dean will post on his division bulletin board the list of seniors who, as approved candidates for graduation, are exempt from final examinations.

Friday, May 12, the registrar will send to members of the faculty official lists of seniors who are exempt from final examinations and IBM absence cards for same.

Saturday, May 13 to Friday, May 19, is the week of restricted social activities. Friday, May 19, all graduating seniors will attend classes through this date.

Sunday, May 21, graduation rehearsal will be held at 8:30 a.m. in the stadium. All members of this year's graduating class must be present at the rehearsal. Baccalaureate services open at 8 p.m. in the stadium. Monday, May 22, commencement exercises will be held at 8 p.m. in the stadium.

Deadline Set For Caps And Gowns

Seniors must have their reservations for caps and gowns in by Apr. 15, according to W. C. Cole, manager of the bookstore, where reservations can be made. Deadline for senior invitations is Apr. 1.

It is important, Cole said, that all seniors be aware of the fact that they must wear a cap and gown if they intend to take part in graduation exercises.

Rental on the cap and gown is $2.25, which is paid at the time of delivery, a few days before commencement. An additional $2.25 will be charged for those taking a master's degree to cover rental on the hood, he said.

Car Registration On Tech Campus Enters Last Day

Today is the final day for registration of automobiles in the booths of the Administration, Engineering, Library and Agriculture buildings. All students, faculty members, or employees who drive cars onto the campus daily should register, Lewis Jones, assistant dean of men, has announced.

Each driver is to be given a numbered sticker which must be displayed on his car. The registration will not require the payment of any fee. Visitors will not be asked to give information about their vehicles, he said.

The registration process is being made as part of a study of the general traffic problem of the campus, officials have announced. Most immediate effect of the survey will be seen in the handling of approximately 400 extra cars which are expected to be driven onto the campus by construction workers busy with Tech's multi-million dollar building program.

Persons who fail to register their cars today can come to Ad-110 and fill out an information sheet there, Jones said.

Next Year's Lectures

The 1950 Willson lectures are over and officials have expressed their satisfaction at the way in which the talks were received by student and faculty members alike this year.

The lectures were very good and the speaker was certainly well worth the time of any student or faculty member or for that matter any one at all who went to hear him. The fact remains that although the gym was fairly well filled for each of the four talks, many people didn't turn out.

Why this was we can't say for sure. But one thing which would help the situation next year is the full cooperation of all the faculty and students. Faculty members owe it to themselves not only to make sure lectures and labs are excused but also that their students are urged to attend.

Another thing which should be noted is the fact that if all the student body had suddenly decided it would turn out for anyone of the talks where would the students have been seated?

This important function which is brought to the campus each year by Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Willson of Floydada is just one more of the many arguments for the erection of an auditorium of some type large enough to comfortably seat most of the student body at one time.

Next year the speaker will probably be outstanding in the field of medicine or science since for the past two years notable religious leaders have addressed the convocation. It would be nice next year if sufficient seating could be available to allow all of the student body to be able to listen to the lectures.

Lest Ye Forget . . .

From now on in to the end of this school year things are going to happen thick and fast. So fast in fact that you may find it hard to work in that extra time needed to bring that low grade up to the mark you desire.

Don't let it get you down. Make sure you do your studying. Coming up first, there will be the annual Varsity show to tempt you. Then followed shortly will be the All-College Western week and then Recognition day and Parents day.

Most students will be involved directly in some way or another with one of these and the many other events which will take place between now and the middle of May. Regardless of what your extra curricula duties may be, it's not wise to pass up your scholastic duties.

Spring is a hard time to go to school in the first place, even if that's all you are doing. Professors as well as students become listless and there is a tendency to just "hold on" until the end of the term.

So don't let the added work cause neglect of school work. In the long run the books will prove to be much more helpful than a Varsity show dance or a second place prize ribbon in the bull riding contest.

THINKING ALLOWED

By Jerry Hall

My, such beautiful weather we've been having. It's really nice to live in a country where the sand never blows and the air is always pure and clear. This month of March sure blew in like a lion. Let's hope it goes out like the proverbial lamb it is supposed to be. Otherwise we may all be chasing a plot of ground to get our little acre. Bill Parsley swears he stepped out a window on the third floor of the Ad building one day last week and walked for three blocks before he fell to the ground. Ha!

Don't forget to go over and do-c-do in the gym next week. . . . In the column just below this one you will find a little poem (?) written by one of the more embittered members of the staff, Sports Editor San Anderson. It's pretty good, even if San doesn't seem to appreciate the better part of our West Texas climate.

Ode To A Sandstorm

The wind blew and the sands did too
The campus caught it and students fought it.
As visions blurred, remarks were heard,
Not all were vile, but in that style.
Those not profane, prayed for rain.
But the wind did moan, and the dust kept on.
Students cut classes in terrible masses.
Professors cut too, and the deans did rue,
But what could they do, but wait in lieu
Of a peaceful day, when the breezes lay.
The elements howled, and everyone growled.
It went for naught, the peace they sought.
For instead of curtailing, the wind kept wailing
And sand kept whistling, and tempers kept bristling.
Till being mad, was all the fad.
The March wind roared, and students bored.
Stayed in their rooms, wielding brooms.
The wind got worse, and some did curse
The Southern plains, devoid of rain,
And the wind-swept wreck called Texas Tech.
Some went insane, at the wind's refrain.
But the breeze continued with new strength imbued.
It hurried and scurried, till all things were buried,
Except the Ad building's towers, a tombstone grave sans flowers.
For a former place of knowledge, the Texas Technological college.
—San Anderson.

The additional red light on the campus this week is really Varsity Show Associate Director Gene Alford's face. Seems Gene called a rehearsal for part of the cast one day last week in Aggie 208. The cast gathered but Gene couldn't bring himself to hold his rehearsal in the designated spot. It happened to be the ladies' lounge.

Speaking of the Varsity show, Dance Director Billie Hutchings has worked up some clever numbers with her charges for this show. The routine which has been fitted in for the beauties this year should really prove to be crowd pleasing. Seldom before has a Varsity show been able to boast such a group of beauties on the talented side.

The call went out for applications for publications jobs last week. In case you haven't the requirements The Toreador is re-printing them this week as the student constitution requires us to do. Last year when Orlin Brewer and Clint Formby instigated this new method of choosing editors and business managers for the student publications, they hit upon an idea which should prove very beneficial in selection of future office holders. We believe that students should of necessity be allowed to elect their own representatives to the council and other offices, but as has been pointed out, it is not always the best candidate who gets elected to a publications job.

Under the new system each student seeking the positions will be interviewed and the Publications committee will be able to judge for itself the one better qualified for the job. At any rate we feel that the student body next year and in years to come will have the benefit of well chosen capable people to fill the jobs of editor and business manager of The Toreador and La Ventana respectfully.

RANDOM SHOTS — Wonder where Broadway, Tech and 29th is located. The Varsity show cast will put on a pre-opening performance in Hale Center next week. . . .

Committee Invites Applications For Publications Offices

Notice is hereby given to the Student Body of Texas Technological college that the Publications committee of the college, through its student chairman, Bill Trenfield, will accept applications for editor and business manager of The Toreador and editor and business manager of La Ventana for the 1950-51 school year.

The above announcement marks the first time which the amendment voted into the student constitution last spring will be put into action. Heretofore the publications offices have been filled by a general vote of the students in the regular spring elections.

However, the new amendment sets the following regulations concerning the offices: "The editor of The Toreador will be chosen jointly by the following student and faculty members of the Publications committee. (1) A student representative from each division (2) Student chairman of the Publications committee (3) Faculty sponsor of The Toreador (4) Faculty chairman of the Publications committee who is granted a vote if necessary to obtain a proper majority. Not less than two weeks before April 1, formal notice must be made in The Toreador inviting applications for the position of editor.

"The current editor of The Toreador shall submit three names of candidates whom he considers best qualified. The faculty sponsor of The Toreador shall submit three names of candidates whom he considers best qualified. Names of the suggested candidates and letters of application from all candidates, including the suggested candidates, who desire to be considered, shall be received not later than April 1.

"The editor shall be selected before the expiration of thirty days following April 1. Five votes shall be required to elect with a quorum of seven members present." The above was taken from Article VII, section 704 of the student constitution.

The editor of La Ventana and the business manager of both publications shall be selected in a like manner.

To be eligible for any of these offices a student must have a one point grade average and in the case of business managers must be required to elect with a quorum of seven members present. The above was taken from Article VII, section 704 of the student constitution.

For editor of The Toreador a student must have nine hours credit in the journalism department including one semester's work on The Toreador staff and must have passed 90 semester hours prior to the semester in which he is elected.

Marketing Society To Hear Dunlap's Buying Manager

Dick Thomas, buying manager of the men's and children's clothing departments at Dunlap's department store, will speak to the Tech Marketing society at 7:30 p.m. Monday in Ad-320. In the informal discussion, Thomas will point out the problems incurred in marketing the products for a large department store.

Preceding the speech will be a regular business meeting in which permanent officers and sponsors will be elected. All marketing majors interested in joining this new organization are asked to be present Monday night, acting Pres. Bill Gilentine said. Those present at this meeting will be considered as charter members of the society and all those joining later will be pledges, he said.

Other temporary officers are Dale Thut, vice president; Mary Roe, secretary-treasurer; Shirley Fields, corresponding secretary; Randy Nunneley, reporter.

Mrs. Grace Wellborn, instructor in English, is to act as critic-judge for extemporaneous speaking and one-act plays tournament in the regional meet to be held at Howard Payne college Apr. 22. She was formerly head of the speech department of that college.

Runoff Election For AWS Prexy Scheduled Tuesday

A runoff election for the presidency of the Association of Women Students will be held Tuesday. Booths will be open from 8:15 a. m. to 3:15 p. m. in the Home Economics and Administration buildings.

Fannie Beth Allen, arts and sciences student from Loop, and Charlotte Ritch, home economics student from Hereford, are to be contestants for the presidency.

Neither received a majority of votes in the Thursday election in which Guida Miller, arts and sciences student from Amarillo, was also a candidate for the presidency.

Mary Stanford, arts and sciences student from Waco, defeated Rachel Dunaway, arts and sciences student from Amarillo, for the vice presidency.

Position of secretary went to Janet Crandall, home economics student from Lubbock. She won over Ann Tidball, business administration student from Fort Worth; Billie Stacy, arts and sciences student from Anton; and Freeda Harwell, arts and sciences student from Colorado City.

Pat Findley, home economics student from Hale Center, was chosen treasurer. Her opponent was Sue Carleton, business administration student from Fort Worth.

Jerry Freeman, home economics student from Roscoe, was the only candidate for reporter.

Many Questions Still Unanswered Concerning Polgar Hypnotic Show

By TOMMIE DANIEL
Toreador Staff Writer

Dr. Franz J. Polgar has given his performance and left Tech and Lubbock, but many memories and unanswered questions are still running around in the minds of the students who saw and assisted in his hypnotic show, Tuesday.

J. O. Franklin, the man on the left of the audience said he still is not smoking cigarettes. He said they don't taste bad now, but that he has no desire to smoke. The cigarettes tasted "like quinine" until about 12:30 a. m., commented Franklin.

bit frightened near the end of the performance when Dr. Polgar left them stuck to their chairs. We commend her on her speech and agree that short skirts are all right.

Everyone enjoyed the evening, and apparently the platform assistants enjoyed the show, too. They all agreed that there were no after effects with exception of J.O.'s not smoking.

Floyd Boston, the next man to the right on the stage, said that he has no memory of what happened any of the time except during the time Gene Young was being amazed with the handkerchief act. Boston showed his finger which showed no signs of burn, which Dr. Polgar inflected, and neither can he remember any pain from the match or the needle. He commented that the program seemed amazingly short. He said it was because he was asleep so much of the time.

Twenty Techsians Are Attending FTA Meeting In Denton

Deane Richardson, senior, will be Tech's candidate for Future Teachers of America annual convention at North Texas State Teachers college in Denton, Bill Trenfield, president of Tech chapter of FTA, announced today.

Robert Maniss, sophomore, is a candidate for state vice president. Joy Williams, senior, is state finance secretary of FTA, Trenfield added.

Can't Remember

Harry Parker said he remembered quite a few things that happened during the night. You will probably remember Parker best by my mentioning that he was the man that got drunk on coke (with rum). He said he did not really get a hot seat when Polgar touched his tie, but that he felt he had to jump up, and that is what he did. He doesn't know why he said the seat felt hot when Polgar asked him about it.

Gene Young, the last man on the row, was quite fascinated by the deception trick, but he did not remember anything about it. It is too bad, but the dance which he did is a blank, too. The most amusing thing about this dance was the quiet apologies Young made when the tempo changed to waltz time. He whispered into Charlotte's ear: "I'm not very good at waltzing."

Dr. Lewis B. Cooper, associate professor of education and psychology, is sponsor for Tech FTA.

Council Sponsors Rabbi Goldenson In Speech Monday

Rabbi Samuel H. Goldenson, director of the New York Board of Ministers and the Religious Education Association, will speak at 7:15 p. m. Monday in the Recreation hall, said James G. Allen, dean of men.

Goldenson served as president of the Central Conference of American Rabbis from 1933 to 1935, and is rabbi emeritus of Temple Emanu-El, foremost Jewish congregation in the world, which is in New York City. A graduate of the University of Cincinnati and Hebrew Union college, Goldenson received his MA and Ph.D from Columbia university.

College Club Defeats Favored Kemas; Wranglers, Silver Keys Are Winners

MICC basketball play took an unusual turn Tuesday night as College Club beat the strongly-favored Kemas team 38-36. Wranglers and Silver Keys also added wins to their records and remained undefeated in MICC play.

The most unexpected game of the week was the one in which College Club proved superior to Kemas. Dennis Bingham and Walter Buice teamed up with 10 and 9 points respectively to make life miserable for their opponents. Curtis Coxon and Charlie Orren, College Club teammates, made 8 points each.

George Belcheff was high for the losers with 7 points and Bill Cooper, David Leaverton and Ronald Rushing made 5 points each.

Wranglers displayed good form as they took an easy 39-16 from the Centaurs. Carter Page scored 11. David Moorehouse collected 8 and Tom Palmer contributed 7 points to the Wrangler score. Jim Roop scored 6 for the losers and Dick Wolff scored 5.

Silver Keys defeated Los Cams 26-18 as Sam Davis and Weldon Wells led the way with 10 and 9 points respectively. Andy Behrends scored 9 for the losers.

Final scheduled games to be played this afternoon are: Socii vs. Kemas, 2 o'clock; Wranglers vs. College Club, 3 o'clock; Silver Keys vs. Centaurs, 4 o'clock.

Stanley E. Anderson, coach of the livestock judging teams, accompanied a group of students to Amarillo where they attended the Amarillo Fat Stock Show Thursday. Ray C. Mowery, head of the animal husbandry department, said yesterday.

These students were at the show for practice judging work in competition for a place on the livestock judging team which is to participate in the Oklahoma Livestock show in Oklahoma City Mar. 20, Mowery said.

Anderson is also acting as a judge for the Future Farmers of America contest being held in Amarillo.

Management Group Hears Midland Executive Here

Delbert Downing, manager of the Midland Chamber of Commerce, will speak on "Attitudes and Philosophies of Business Today" to the Tech Management association at 7 p.m. Monday in Ad-220.

Downing, who has been connected with the Midland Chamber of Commerce for more than five years, will be one of the most outstanding guest speakers the organization will have this semester," Delbert Lewis, publicity chairman, said. Louis Klker, president of the organization, urges all members to be present.

Quintessence Quintet Meets Winner of MICC Basketball Play Mar. 28

The Quintessence Quintet battled its way to the Intramural basketball crown Wednesday night as it outscored a hard-fighting team of Squirrel Shooters 40-37.

The Quintet took an early lead, and it appeared as though the game would be a runaway with the half-time score set at 24-13 in favor of the Independent champions. The Dorm champs were not to be denied as long-shot experts put on a display of accuracy to come within three points of upsetting the winners.

Free throws told the story as the Quintessence Quintet connected for 18 out of 30 gratis tosses, and the Athletic dorm made only 5 out of 19 good. Leroy Morrison scored 17 points for game honors. He was followed by Bill Solomon with 7, Weldon Viertel with 5, Jim Morgan, 5 (all free throws), Gene Verner with 4 and John Murphy with 2.

Earl Jackson led the Squirrel Shooters with 9; Rural Ramsey made 6, Red Phillips, 5, John Moughon, 5, Tim Hatch, 4, Elmer Arterburn, 3, Bobby Close made 3, and Dick Jackson scored 2 to complete the scoring column.

The Quintessence Quintet will meet the winner of the MICC league Mar. 28 for the All-College Intramural basketball title.

Louis Fights Here In Four-Rounder; Negro Boys Benefit

A packed house is expected for tonight's boxing card at Sam Rosenblatt field, which will feature former world's heavyweight champion, Joe Louis, in a four-round exhibition.

The program, which is sponsored by the Lubbock 20-30 club, is designed to raise finances for the establishment of a boys' club for the city's Negro youth.

Louis' appearance here is the third of a series of four exhibition bouts in Texas. The former titleholder, now tipping the scales at 225, will meet Ray Augustus of Topeka, Kan., in the drawing event on tonight's program. Louis' recent exhibitions are considered by many as the first step toward regaining the heavyweight crown he surrendered after 25 successful defenses. Louis' next and final bout in Texas, which will be at Odessa, will wind up his current exhibition tour.

Three more heavyweight and a single welterweight scrap are also on tonight's card. In what should be an outstanding fight, El Paso's Lathario Ramirez and Joe Musik, veteran West Texas slugger, tangle in the 10-round main event. In another heavyweight bout, Dickie Brown of Amarillo, well-known to Summing up the other purposes of the church, he said the church today must help people grow up into full-statured Christians. The nucleus of Christian brotherhood must be the church, the Princeton professor of Christian education said.

Master of ceremonies for the Wednesday program was Dr. R. C. Goodwin, dean of arts and sciences. The Rev. Vestar E. Wolber of the Baptist Bible chair gave the invocation, and the Rev. Burgin Watkins of the Forrest Heights Methodist church gave the benediction. Dean Margaret Weeks of the home economics division introduced the speaker. Dr. E. N. Jones, vice president of the college, presented Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Willson of Floydada, who have endowed the lecture series for four years.

The Tech band and Tech Mixed choir provided music for all four lectures.

"I evaluate the 1950 Willson lecture series as being highly successful," Doctor Jones said following Doctor Homrighausen's final talk Thursday morning.

Voting the general opinion of students and faculty members who heard Doctor Homrighausen's four lectures, Doctor Jones continued, "I consider the lectures to be an unusually scholarly series of discussions of fundamental principles of which we all need reminding in these days by a broad interpretation of the principles fostered by the Christian religion. The sincerity and genuine personal devotion of the speaker added to the weight of his message."

Delta Sig Hears Discussion Of Hoover Commission

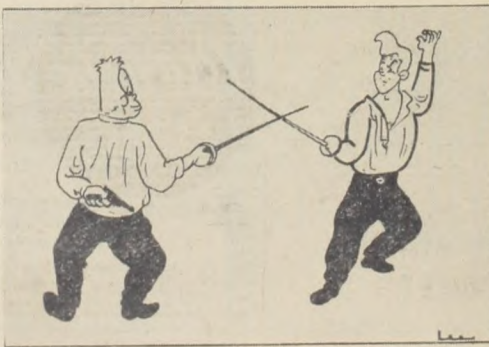

Ralph Knebb, member of the Lubbock Junior Chamber of Commerce, discussed the Hoover commission proposals for revamping the government at a meeting of Delta Sigma Pi Tuesday night. Delta Sig is an honorary and professional business fraternity.

The proposals are a project which have been studied by Junior Chambers of Commerce over the United States, Bobby Green, historian, said.

Retired Larruper To Train Boxers; City Club Gym To Be Headquarters

By SAN L. ANDERSON
Toreador Sports Editor

Bill Henderson, Texas Tech student and third-ranking lightweight boxer before his retirement Feb. 28, has gone into training.

No, he isn't going to try to make a comeback, because in the first place he hasn't been away from squared-ring long enough to have to prove himself, and secondly he is training other persons, not himself, how to box.

Henderson, whose home is in Levelland, has purchased the City Club gym from Edna Sides and will make it a training headquarters for amateur or professional fighters who need a place for a daily workout.

The Levelland larruper has professed to be particularly interested in the development of amateur boxers from the south plains region. The City Club gym will probably be a workout center for Gene James and Leonard Duncan, local fighters often featured on the same card with Henderson during the latter's fist career.

Henderson brought renown to both Lubbock and himself by winning state Golden Gloves titles in both 1946 and '47 as a featherweight. He went to Chicago as a member of the Texas Gloves team in 1946 where he lost in the semifinals. The retired lightweight did not go to Chicago in '47, but instead he journeyed to New Jersey and became a pro in the camp of Gus Lesnevich, then light-heavyweight champion.

The Tech student returned to Lubbock before a year had elapsed and began fighting here under the tutelage of Babe Ritchie, first Texas Golden Gloves champion and later a pro heavyweight.

Henderson compiled a record of 33 victories against four losses during his pro career. Two of his defeats came at the hands of Jean Mouglin, one-time lightweight champion of France and stablemate of the late Marcel Cerdan, great French middleweight.

The Levelland larruper has appeared in the ring 177 times, 80 times as an amateur and 37 times as a pro, with only seven defeats to mar his record.

Henderson said at the time of his retirement that the death of his friend Middleweight Lavern Roach, had nothing to do with his quitting the fight game.

When asked about his plans for the future, he said that after graduating from Tech this spring, he will operate a dairy farm.

Ex-Raiders Play Pro Basketball, Football With Top Teams Of The United States

By BILLY YOES
Toreador Sports Writer

Texas Tech has been and still is well-represented in the ranks of professional football and basketball.

Four former Red Raiders played for the National Football League Green Bay Packers last season. Walter Schlinkman, who lettered at Tech in football in 1942, '44 and '45 and in track in '46, has filled the fullback slot for the Packers during the last four seasons. Schlinkman, considered by many as Tech's outstanding football product, was named to the second All-National league team the last two seasons.

Ralph Earhart, left-halfback football letterman in '46 and '47, and track letterman, continued his football career with the Green Bay club by handling halfback chores for the past two seasons. At another halfback post for Green Bay was Glenn Lewis, Tech football letterman in '44, '46, '47, and '48.

Bill Kelley, one of Tech's seven men in its history who has lettered in three different sports, is still active with the Packers as an end. Kelley lettered at Tech in football in '45, '46, and '48; track in '46 and '47; and in basketball in '45 and '46.

Winkler With Rams

The Los Angeles Rams claim the only other Tech grad still active in pro football. He is Bernie Winkler, rock 'em-sock 'em letterman tackle of the '43, '45, '46, and '47 Raider squad. For the last two seasons, Winkler was with the Dons of Los Angeles, but with the merger of the two leagues he joined the Rams. While at Tech, Winkler was all Border conference two years and co-captain of the squad in '47.

Another outstanding Techman who continued his football career in pro ball is Roland (Tuffy) Nabors, '46 and '47 letterman at the pivot position for the Raiders. Nabors, line coach at Texas Western, played center position for the New York Yankees in '48. "Tuffy's" elder brother, Rafe, who lettered at center position for Tech in '39 and '40, preceded "Tuffy" in the pro game as he worked at center and tackle positions for the Detroit Lions in '41 and '42. In '45 and '46, Rafe was coach-tackle for the Montreal team, farm club of Detroit.

Hubert Bechtol, end letterman here in '43 and who later was a three-year All-American at Texas, has played end for the last three seasons for the Baltimore Colts.

Coaches Finalist

Tyrus Bain, coach of the Class A Mexia High school football team which went to state finals before losing, lettered at Tech in '39, '40, and '41 and played in '42 and '43 with the Philadelphia Eagles. Bain was a member of the Raider squad which lost to St. Mary's Gaels in '39 in the Cotton bowl.

Another former Raider who played with Green Bay was Bob Flowerters. A member of the 1940 squad, he played nine years with the Packers.

Floyd Lawhorn, letterman guard in '45, '46, '47, played with the Washington Redskins in 1948, but an injured knee ended his pro career. A teammate of Lawhorn's, Charlie Reynolds, lettered in '46, '47, and '48 at a backfield post. Reynolds was

Preliminary Trials In Track Contests Beginning Today

The 1950 issue of Tech's cinder circles gets its baptism of fire this morning when preliminaries start in the Southwestern Recreation Track and Field meet in Fort Worth.

The following men will compete: Roland Mullins, Charlie Pinnell, Ben Wilson, Earl Hutcherson, Joe Wilson, Travis Tadlock, Homer Rudd, Sonny Stanford and Charlie Williams. The squad was accompanied by Tipp Mooney, coach. Mullins will enter the preliminaries in both the 100-yard and 220-yard dashes. Joe Wilson will run the quarter-mile and a lap on the mile-relay team. Pinnell opens competition in the high hurdles and high jump while Hutcherson will top the low hurdles and will also run a lap on the mile-relay team.

Other events to be entered by Tech are: the 880-yard run and mile-relay by Ben Wilson; Stanford or Rudd will complete Tech's mile-relay team. Charlie Williams from Lubbock will enter the freshman 100-yard dash event.

The Red Raider squad will compete in the West Texas Relays next Saturday in Odessa. Coach Mooney said.

Members and pledges of Kappa Alpha Mu, honorary photography fraternity, will take a field trip to Slaton canyon tomorrow. The all-day outing is for the purpose of taking pictures to be hung in a print salon to be held the last of this month. A. J. Bishop, president of the photographers club, said. Mrs. Jane Moore, organization sponsor, will accompany the students.

Across The Dam

Lubbock, Oct. 15, 1936—Texas Tech laughed when TCU and Oklahoma City university sat down in the lime.

"Sissies," they chortled across the line of scrimmage when the Frogs and Goldbugs came here to play. "Just a nallib, that lime burn business. How come you get burned in those particular places, anyhow?"

But the laugh is on the Red Raiders now. At least nine of them were forced to watch the daily workouts from the sidelines this week—but not from the benches, or from any sitting position, and they're being treated for burns beneath their hip pockets as the result of being tossed backward by a "ready" team of Wichita university Wheatshockers last week. And its no laughing matter anymore. The field at Wichita was wet from three days of rain and marked by lime which soon blazed through uniforms and seared exterior sections.

Tech's home field is not marked by lime or any other foreign substance. The heavy carpet of grass is mowed short for sidelines and yardlines.

ROTC Is Sending Team To Tourney

Tech ROTC unit will send a team of five men to fire in an invitational tournament held Mar. 23 at Ft. Bliss, El Paso, M-Sgt. Woodrow Brooks, instructor in the military science department, said.

Members of the team are R. L. Craig, J. L. Hansen, J. J. Hansen, Charles Gilmer and Irvin Reese. The team was invited to participate in the tournament by Texas Western college, which will be in charge. The meet is being sponsored by the business men of El Paso. All schools in the Fourth Army area have been invited to take part, Sergeant Brooks stated.

He has served congregations in Lexington, Ky., Albany, N. Y., and Pittsburgh, Pa. He is a leader of the Federation for Support of Jewish Philanthropic Societies and the China Famine Relief of the United States, Dean Allen said.

He has also served as a member of the Executive Board of the Union of American Congregations, of its New York Advisory committee, of the Committee on Aims and Purposes and of the Committee on Good Will Between Jews and Christians.

In addition, he is a member of the Central Conference Committee on Cooperation with National and International Organizations.

Goldenson's appearance in the Recreation hall is sponsored by the Student Religious council. Marlon Baumgardner, president of the religious council, said. The meeting is open to the public.

Rabbi Goldenson arrived in Lubbock Sunday, and is filling a series of speaking engagements here. Among them are a dinner for members of Congregation Shaareth Israel, a meeting of Lubbock Jewish Chamber of Commerce and a Lions' club meeting. While in Texas, he will speak at a ceremony in Beaumont honoring Rabbi Samuel Rosinger of that city. Rabbi Julius Kerman of Congregation Shaareth Israel in Lubbock also will participate in the Beaumont program.

House-Hungry Students In Radio Club Keep Looking For Club Housing Facilities

35 Active Members In Tech Radio Club

By CHARLOTTE BLACKBURN
Toreador Staff Writer

If you have seen some students running around with a house-hungry look in their eyes, inspecting every available hut, it was in all probability one of the 35 active members of Tech Radio Club. It seems they have been on the lookout the last two months for a home for their organization.

The problem is this: the building in which the club had its equipment set up and from which it operated was needed by the industrial engineers for a laboratory. Thus radio club members, or "hams" as they are commonly called, were moved out overnight. The expensive equipment they own was put into storage, their radio contacts were lost, and the club has been unable to function for two months. Unable to function, perhaps, but not inactive. It has continued to meet, and has concentrated its energy on finding a place in which to install the equipment.

Financed By Members
Tech Radio Club, entirely financed by members, was started by a few interested hams last year. A building was secured, and several months and dollars were spent putting the building in repair, building a transmitter, and setting up an antenna.

"We felt the college had a definite need for such a club as most of the top-ranking colleges in the nation have such radio facilities. To name a few who are active in this type work, there are University of Southern California, Southern Methodist, Georgia Tech, Massachusetts Institute of Technology, and Texas A & M," said Gerald Edson, president of the organization.

Sponsored by C. E. Houston, associate professor of electronics, the club became an active organization on the campus last year. Classes were set up for teaching radio theory and Morse code to aspiring hams. Eight persons got their licenses through the Radio club last year, said Edson.

Old hands at the "ham" radio business had facilities for experimentation in the club, as it was set up. And the newest project undertaken by the students was the arrangement of schedules with amateur radio operators in other towns so that Tech students could contact friends and members of their families. The schedules were maintained on a weekly or monthly basis.

New Mexico Artist Given Reception By Art Institute

Peter Hurd, well-known New Mexican artist, visited Lubbock yesterday in conjunction with a showing of his work in the Museum on the campus. A reception was held in the Museum last night by the art institute for Hurd.

Hurd, who was born and reared near Roswell, N.M., and who was graduated from Yale, was the house guest of Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Kleinschmidt while he was in Lubbock. Kleinschmidt is president of the Art Institute.

Thirteen of Hurd's paintings will be on exhibit in the south gallery of the Museum until Apr. 1. The paintings are done in gouache or egg tempera.

Graves Ends Study Course On "School Age Children"

Miss Martha Graves gave the final lecture yesterday in an eight-lesson study course on the "School Age Child," sponsored by the Lubbock City Council of Parents and Teachers and held in the Home Economics building.

Miss Graves is also giving a study course each Thursday afternoon in Plainview, which is sponsored by their City Council P-T-A and one in Petersburg. She will complete a study course in Slaton Wednesday, with a talk on the "Spiritual Development of the Young Child."

Have Wide Range
"We think that one of our major services to the college was that of spreading propaganda about it," said John C. Harvey, past president. "We contact contacts all over Texas, in most of the United States and in Canada. And we play the typical Texans with those out of state, telling them all about our wonderful state, and especially about Texas Tech."

Some members of the club recently fixed the broken chimneys on the clock in the Administration building tower, and have been maintaining these chimneys since that time.

"Just before we had to move from the building we formerly occupied, we finished a new transmitter capable of making contacts over the entire world," added Calvin Finley, secretary.

Emergency Equipment Obtained
An emergency unit capable of carrying on work despite lack of electrical power, was completed this year by the club. Members obtained a portable power generator, and several members of the club have mobile transmitters in their cars to facilitate efficiency operation in case of an emergency.

"We think we could be a real help to the town in case of an emergency, if we could get our equipment set up again," added Edson.

The Radio club also plans to cooperate with the proposed campus radio station. They plan to help with the engineering side of the station, and to make experiments for it.

Officers for the club are: Edson, president; Sterling Rodgers, treasurer; Finley, secretary; John Brume, vice president. Meetings are temporarily being held in the Engineering building. As soon as another place is found for the installation of the more than $1,000 worth of equipment owned by the club, plans are to expand both the club and the work it does.

Anybody have a spare room to rent to a couple of transmitters?

Journalism Group Holds Pledge Rites

Eight women journalism students were pledged to Theta Sigma Phi, national honorary journalism fraternity yesterday at a meeting held in Women's Dorm IV.

Refreshments were served to the members, pledges, Mrs. Louise Allen, sponsor, and Mrs. Peggy Rutland, alumnae advisor.

Plant Industry Club Makes Money By Selling Grass To High Schools

By GENE BRASHEAR
Toreador Staff Writer

The Plant industry club has a rather unique method of raising funds—it sells crop and grass samples to any high school which may want them.

These samples are mounted in groups of 50 on sample boards which are sent to high schools or other interested parties upon request. The crop samples sell for $8.25 and the grass samples for $10. The success of this unusual fundraising method has not been achieved without a considerable amount of hard work. The tedious process by which these samples are made would seem to indicate the money is well earned.

This is especially true of the grass samples. Members of the club must go out and hunt until they find the particular sample for which they are looking. Once they have collected a group of samples, they must look up and classify each of these samples under its scientific name.

Trains Crop Judges
This is just the beginning. Next, the grass or crop sample must be dried and pressed out. As the final step, a group of 50 samples is mounted on an 11 and one-half by 20-inch mounting board, together with common and scientific names.

This work is done by the Plant industry club under the supervision of Judd Morrow, assistant professor of plant industry. It is connected with training for the crop judging contest which is held each year in Chicago. Cecil Ayers, associate professor of plant industry, trains the teams for this contest.

The club uses money obtained from samples for club function, such as meetings, banquets, and an annual steak fry, and also buy medals for contest winners. These include winners of the freshman sophomore and junior-senior contests at Tech and also winners of high school contests.

Plans For Scholarship
At present, the club is planning to initiate a scholarship fund which will also come from the money raised from samples, Roy Martin, president of the club, said. The work of collecting and mounting samples was originally conducted by the plant industry department but was turned over to the club several years ago.

Last Monday's initiation raised the club's membership from 39 to approximately 60, Martin said.

Las Chaparritas Plans Game Party

Members of Las Chaparritas women's social club, who are honoring alumnae and patronesses with a coffee, will in turn be honored with a game party given by the alumnae.

The coffee, honoring the alumnae and patronesses is to be from 9 to 11 a.m. Sunday in the Yucca room of the Hilton hotel. Afterwards, the club members will attend church.

Las Chap alumnae are to entertain the active club with a game party from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. Tuesday in the Green room of the Recreation hall. Mrs. Joe K. Jones, alumnae president, said. She will be in charge of the program which will consist of various games.

Alpha Chi To Have Initiation For 139 Honor Students Monday

81 Juniors, 58 Seniors Are Preparing For Aggie Auditorium Ceremony

Alpha Chi, national scholarship society for junior and senior students, will initiate 81 juniors, 58 seniors and rehonored 49 students in services to be held at 5 p.m. Monday in the aggie auditorium, Prof. R. A. Mills, faculty sponsor of the group, has announced.

Established at Southwestern university in Georgetown in 1922, Alpha Chi has since spread to some 30 college campuses in Texas, Louisiana, Arkansas, Oklahoma, Kansas and Massachusetts. Tech's chapter was established in 1925, the year the college was founded. Professor Mills has been faculty sponsor of Tech's chapter since 1927.

The organization is composed of students in the upper 10 per cent of the junior and senior classes and is made up of students from all divisions, the sponsor stated.

The grade point average required this year for Alpha Chi eligibility was 215 for juniors and a 220 for seniors. Grades are judged on the basis of freshman and sophomore years for juniors, while seniors are rated on their freshman, sophomore and junior grades. Besides scholarship, the organization stresses character leadership and personality.

Purpose Given

"The real purpose of Alpha Chi is to stimulate, develop and recognize scholarship and those elements of character that make scholarship effective for campus citizenship," Professor Mills said. "Officers of the honor fraternity are Bill Adair, president, and Floyd Reitor, vice president. Sue Anne Roberts, secretary was graduated in January and has not been replaced. Activities of the group include educational programs at the monthly meetings, formal initiation services in the spring and a banquet honoring new members."

Of the 139 students who are eligible to be members of Alpha Chi, 81 are juniors, 58 are seniors who have not previously been eligible and 49 are seniors who were eligible last year and are being honored this year, Professor Mills stated.

If any student thinks he is eligible for membership and has not been invited, he is asked to contact the dean of his division or Professor Mills.

Students Selected Listed

Students who have not paid their fees for Alpha Chi may do so from 9 a.m. to 12 noon today in the Ad building in the office immediately west of the Post office substitution.

Goodwin, Jones Named To City Rotary Club Posts

Dr. R. C. Goodwin, dean of arts and sciences, was elected president of the Lubbock Rotary club Wednesday. He will assume the duties of that office July 1.

Dr. E. N. Jones, vice president of the college, will be the new first vice president. They succeed Guy C. Victory, retiring president, and Arch G. Lamb, retiring first vice president.

Doctor Goodwin was appointed professor and head of the department of chemistry and chemical engineering in 1930, and in 1945, he was appointed dean of arts and sciences. Dean Goodwin became a member of the Rotary club in 1938.

Doctor Jones was appointed vice president of Tech in 1948. He became associated with the Rotarians in 1927.

Doctor Goodwin, Doctor Jones and Dr. W. H. Gordon, of Lubbock Memorial hospital, who was elected second vice president, in addition to Odie Hood and Fenner Tubbs, will make up the five new members of the club's board of directors elected Wednesday.

Home Ec Students Plan Open House

Plans for open house to be held Apr. 21-22 are being made by the home economics division, stated Miss Margaret W. Weeks, dean of the division. Billye Harvey, Kaufman senior, is manager and Charlotte Ritch, Hereford junior, is assistant.

Department chairmen are: Dorothy Harbaugh, Lubbock senior, applied arts; Essie Lee Denney, Amarillo senior, clothing and textiles; Barbara Baumgardner, Wellington senior, home management; Cleo Hall, Lubbock senior, home economics education; and Florence Wright, Miles senior, foods and nutrition. Other committees will be announced later.

The Red Cross drive funds have dropped during the past week showing only a total of $457.50 from the faculty and employees, and $81 from the collection boxes placed in the dorms and buildings. The drive for funds will end March 23, said Mrs. Flossie Burkholder Brown, business office cashier.

Financial Drive For Hodge-Podge Being Continued

Plans for the annual sophomore hodge-podge neared completion yesterday as the financial drive to pay expenses of the dance continued.

Each member of the class is expected to give 50 cents to help pay costs of the dance, Bob Schmidt, president, said. Success of the dance must depend largely upon the generosity and interest shown by class members, he said.

The dance, to be held Mar. 31 in the Green room, has been opened to all students. Admission price is not definite, Schmidt said. Music will be furnished by Phil Kilgman's orchestra.

Highlights of the evening will be the presentation of the two class favorites, John Shinn and Rheta McMasters.

Members of the committee which is collecting money are: Ronny Fee, chairman; Morgan Eoff, Doak hall; Ben Carter, Drane hall; Glen Berry, Sneed hall; Charles Joplin, West hall; Janet Crandall, Women's Dorm IV; Shirley Harris, Women's Dorm III; Don Hart, Men's Dorm IV; Donald Christian, Men's Dorm III; and Anne Eskin and Wanda B. Smith, collecting in town. These students have receipt books and will give each sophomore a receipt for his 50 cents, Schmidt said.

Tech Rodeo Association Will Hold Dance Tonight

The Tech Rodeo association will hold a dance tonight from 8-12 p.m. in the Green room, Bill Ware, chairman of the committee announced Thursday.

The Rodeo String Dusters will play for the event and the entire student body is invited to attend. Tickets will be $1.00 stag or drag.

First "Aggie Of The Month" Award Is Given Dairy Manufactures Student

By GENE BRASHEAR
Toreador Staff Writer

The first "Aggie of the Month" award was presented to Flake Tompkins, junior dairy manufactures student from Fort Worth, at an Aggie club meeting Tuesday night in the aggie auditorium. The presentation was followed by an address by Arthur Watkins, assistant manager of Dunlaps, and discussion of plans for the annual aggie banquet which will be held Apr. 13 at the Hilton hotel.

Tompkins was presented a certificate of award by W. H. Tinney, club sponsor and associate professor of dairy manufactures. He was selected from a group of three men by a committee of five men, composed of three members of the aggie club board of directors and two student members. The award was made on the basis of leadership, initiative, and over-all contributions and services.

Tompkins, who was born in Throckmorton, served in the Merchant marine for one year beginning in 1945, then entered the air force, where he remained until 1947. Beginning his career at Oklahoma A&M, he later changed to Tech and at the present time has a three-point grade average.

Member Of Clubs

The dairy manufactures student is a member of the Tech Chamber of Commerce, Alpha Chi, Aggie club, Dairy Manufactures club, and is a Wrangler pledge. He is a wing counselor in West hall.

Watkins, assistant manager of Dunlaps, is president of the Toastmaster club and a member of the American Business club. He contrasted fatalism and extreme optimism, and said that truth lies between two extremes. He said that some things are inherited by the individual but added that it was up to him to make the best of his capabilities.

Fort Worth Man Will Speak

"Discipline must be used to restrain our worst traits and to cultivate our best traits," he said.

W. A. King of Fort Worth will be toastmaster at the annual aggie banquet. Layne Beatty, farm news editor of WBAP in Fort Worth, will be speaker.

Members of several committees chosen in preparation for the banquet are: Cecil Gooch, Delbert Timmons and Harold Beck, invitations committee; A. J. Bishop, Duane Setliff and John Dwyer, program committee; James Cunningham, Forrest Keith and Bill Whitfield, decorations committee; and Clint House, J. B. Cooper and Dan Chisolm, foods committee.

Six clubs announced as entering teams in the Aggie softball league are: Aggie Economics club, Block and Bridle, Plant Industry club, Dairy Manufactures club and the Freshman and Sophomore

Two Tech Teams Attend Oklahoma Fat Stock Show

Two Tech judging teams will participate in the inter-collegiate judging contest at the Oklahoma Fat Stock show which is to be held Monday in Oklahoma City, Stanley E. Anderson, coach of the teams, said.

Members of the teams are: William Piper, Bobby Grey, Ray Drennan, Glen Johnson, George Barron, Joe Wilson, William McMullan, Maurice Kingsberry, Billy Collier, Alvin Davis, Raymond Houtchens and Dan Cotten.

The team will stop at Wichita Falls on the way to the stock show and go to R. L. Underwood's quarterhorse ranch near there for judging purposes. While there they will also visit heroford ranches and will judge beef cattle.

Last year the Tech team won first place at the Oklahoma contest in quarter horse judging and placed third in the entire tourney.

Cadet Capt. Robert H. Browder will be host to all members of Squadron F Air ROTC unit, at 2 p.m. tomorrow at Buffalo lakes.

clubs. Clinton Kennedy was named as the club songleader and Tom Cleveland was selected as pianist and assistant song leader.

Newman club members entertained with a Saint Patrick's day party last night in St. Elizabeth's hall. Jeanne Keehan, junior business administration student from Illinois, was in charge.

An ice cream party will be held from 3:30-5 o'clock tomorrow afternoon at Casa Linda for residents and their dates. Refreshments, games and dancing will complete the afternoon's entertainment.
