Pathologists deny need for Koepchne autopsy

WILKES-BARRE, Pa. (AP)—A deputy medical examiner for the state of Maryland testified yesterday that an autopsy on the body of Mary Jo Koepchne "would absolutely yield no conclusive evidence."

"You may exhume the girl and still not know whether she drowned," Dr. Werner Spitz told a Common Pleas Court in the second day of a hearing on a petition by Dist. Atty. Edmund Dinis to have the woman's body exhumed.

Dinis maintained that he had sought an autopsy on July 20, one day after the young woman's body was recovered but that the body had already been flown to Pennsylvania for burial in nearby Larksville.

Dinis maintains an autopsy is vital for an inquest he has scheduled into the death. The hearing is being conducted by Judge Bernard C. Brominski.

THE TESTIMONY BY Spitz, who was called as a witness in support of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Koepchne's fight to prevent an autopsy on their daughter, disputed previous testimony by three prominent pathologists.

Dr. Joseph F. Spellman, Philadelphia Medical examiner; Dr. George Katsas of Boston, and Dr. Cyril H. Wecht of Pittsburgh testified previously that only an autopsy could reveal any internal injuries.

"You may perform an autopsy and you may find other injuries, but what would that prove," Spitz said on cross examination by Dinis.

"THE DIAGNOSIS IS difficult for the forensic pathologist and drowning so often resembles other forms of death," Spitz said.

Spitz said "She may have injuries, however, there is no question in my mind at this point that she inhaled water... and as such I would not be able to determine what the actual cause of death was. It is apparent to me that she lived for a certain time under water. Otherwise, why the froth?"

The latter was in reference to other witnesses who testified that there was a pinkish or white froth about the nose of Miss Koepchne.

EARLIER, DINIS, of New Bedford, Mass., took the witness stand himself to contradict earlier testimony by an associate medical examiner who said Dinis had told him he did not think an autopsy was necessary.

BEFORE ADJOURNING the hearing, Brominski admitted into evidence a tape recording of Sen. Edward M. Kennedy's nationally televised explanation of events surrounding the accident in which Miss Koepchne died.

The 28-year-old secretary died July 18 or 19 when Kennedy's car plunged off a

Anti-war team outlines plans

Outlining the planned moratorium for Nov. 13-14 is the purpose of a meeting of the moratorium committee tonight at 7:30.

The meeting, which will be held at the PUB, 2412 13th St., will be headed by Roger Settler, the new chairman for the committee. Assisting Settler will be vice chairmen Wayne Buechel and Robert Chapman.

Tentative topics for discussion include getting a faculty speaker for the moratorium, an around-the-clock vigil beginning noon Nov. 13 and ending midnight Nov. 14, the reading of names of the war dead, a debate between students and faculty, the problem of anti-moratorium students and trying to get some nationally known speaker such as a senator or congressman.

Entertainment will be provided by various folk rock groups with emphasis on songs concerning the war.

National moratorium groups endorse each other's plans

WASHINGTON (AP)—The two national committees planning mid-November get-out-of-Vietnam demonstrations sought yesterday to squelch reports that they are at odds over strategy by endorsing each other's plan.

And Sam Brown, leader of the Vietnam Moratorium Committee, took note of Vice President Spiro T. Agnew's denunciation of the Sept. 15 Moratorium Day by saying: "It's sad when we have a man in high office so out of touch with the people of the country."

IN RESPONSE TO Agnew's weekend speech that the demonstration only "served as an emotional purgative" in a prevailing "spirit of national masochism," Brown said. "I don't consider myself a defective masochist."

At a news conference, Brown endorsed the demonstrations planned in Washington and San Francisco Nov. 13-15 by the New Mobilization Committee and then told of his own committee's plans for grass roots antiwar activity Nov. 13 and 14.

Shortly afterward, leaders of the New Mobilization Committee held a news conference in the same room endorsing the Vietnam Moratorium Committee plans. Then they detailed plans for their own demonstrations here — a 40-hour "March Against Death" to be followed by a mass march past the White House.

STEWART MEACHAN one of half a dozen who spoke at the New Mobilization news conference and a co-chairman of the group, conceded there is a problem in having simultaneous demonstrations by two groups but he said "We have our offices together, we're working together to smooth things out."

The New Mobilization Committee's formal announcement noted that the mutual endorsement was worked out at a four-hour meeting Monday night.

But the announced goals of the two organizations differ.

Brown said his committee merely wants President Nixon to order an immediate withdrawal of all American troops from Vietnam.

Suit filed in Houston by 'Watermelon' staffers

HOUSTON (AP)—A suit has been filed with U.S. Dist. Judge Joe Ingraham by three Bellaire High School pupils seeking to remain in school and continue to publish an unauthorized student newspaper.

The pupils said they helped to edit, publish and distribute about 2,000 copies of the "Plain Brown Watermelon" last week.

THEY WERE TOLD last Friday not to return to the school grounds until they changed their attitude and agreed to terminate their association with the newspaper.

Stuart Gitlin and Harrell Graham, both 17; and Julia Duke, 16, asked Ingraham for a temporary restraining order against the school. The pupils said they were told by Harlan Andrews, Bellaire principal, they were "tools of a large organization that was tearing apart everything democratic in our society."

Chemistry professor receives $7500 grant

Dr. David W. Carlyle, assistant professor of chemistry, has received a grant for the study of reactions between sulphur dioxide and iron perchlorate.

The grant of $7500 was made by the Petroleum Research Foundation. It is to be spread over a period of three years.

The reactions between sulphur dioxide and iron compounds is still a mystery, said Carlyle. He said that this could be important to our environment because hemoglobin in the blood is an iron compound and sulphur dioxide is the nation's leading air pollutant.

THE MAIN SOURCE of sulphur dioxide is electric power generating plants which use coal. "Air pollution is only one small part of this project. These two compounds produce several reactions. We want to find out what these reactions are and how they happen," said Carlyle.

He said results of the study are expected to provide information about the chemically important processes of making and breaking chemical bonds and of electron transfer.

A mixture of sulfur dioxide and iron (III) ions in water undergoes a chemical reaction, he said, which gives a mixture of two sulfur products — sulfate ions and dithionate ions.

THE RATIO OF THE amounts of sulfate and dithionate depends on concentration of the reactants.

"This variable ratio means that more than one reaction occurs," Carlyle said. "The purpose of the research is to learn

Senators take oath

Tech Student Senate swelled its membership to a total of 37 last night, by swearing in the new Senators elected last Wednesday.

The Senate also passed a resolution which strongly chastised the "unruly" action of the egg-throwers at Wednesday night's Moratorium service in Memorial Circle.

In the opening moments of the meeting, Senate President Byron Snyder administered the oath of office to the newly-elected Senators. With the addition of the students last night, Senate membership is complete with the exception of one vacancy in the Graduate representation.

The Judiciary Committee is expected to recommend a student to fill this vacancy soon.

The Senate approved appointments to Presidential Commissions. The Campus-Business Relations Commission: Randy Brillhart, Steve Pendleton, Greg Wimmer and Bill Cornett, chairman.

The Student Service Commission: Barbee Anderson, Richard Broyles, Suzanne Sterling, Jola Edwards, and Cathey Condrey, chairman.

The Commission to Evaluate Parking, Traffic on Campus: Keith Williamson, Ronnie Enns, Brenda Drake, Dan Anthony, Vicky Swasey, Richard Ballenger, and Everett Urech.

International Week Commission: Andy Bray, chairman, Suzi Reeves, Linda Logan and Nora Jones.

The Senate also passed a resolution which encouraged the re-instatement of the National Defense Student Loan program at Tech, saying that the nine-to-one ratio of federal funds to university funds should be made available to students who wish to attend Tech under such a program.

Students will elect 10 semifinalists for Homecoming queen in balloting today. Fifty-two candidates have been nominated by various campus organizations.

QUALIFICATIONS FOR nomination are junior or senior status with a minimum grade point average of 2.0.

The polls will be open from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. today in the Union, English, C&ME, BA, and FL&M buildings.

Students will need to bring a validated ID to the polls to be eligible to vote.

Semifinalists will be announced as soon as WSO and APO complete tabulations.

Cosmonauts visit Space Center during U.S. tour

SPACE CENTER, Houston, (AP) — Two Soviet cosmonauts arrived here last night for a visit with Americans in the small fraternity of men who have flown into space and immediately got a look at the airplane astronauts use for business travel.

Soviet Maj. Gen. Georgi T. Beregovoi, 48, his wife and son and Konstantin Feoktisev, 43, a civilian arrived at Ellington Air Force Base accompanied by astronaut Frank Borman, their host while they tour America.

Beregovoi, a pilot, climbed into the cockpit and talked excitedly with Borman. Newsmen followed the party to the motel near the Manned Spacecraft Center where the cosmonauts were to stay and Beregovoi took note of the reporters.

THE COSMONAUTS WERE to be guests of the American astronaut corps at a dinner Tuesday night. They will tour the Manned Spacecraft Center and the Astro dome today and dine with American space officials tonight. They fly to California for a visit to Disneyland tomorrow.

The cosmonauts and Borman flew here from Washington where they visited with President Nixon at the White House.

UD offers help

Hoping to be of service to Tech students, The University Daily will begin a program by which it hopes to use whatever prestige it holds in order to obtain answers or solve problems which students could not easily handle on their own.

The new Sounding Board portion of the paper will be open to hear significant questions and problems that face students at Tech. Suggestions which can be deemed beneficial to students will be accepted and The University Daily will act in hopes of making the suggestion a reality.

For instance, the suggestion was made to a member of the paper staff that perhaps films of Tech's out-of-town football games could be shown in the Union sometime early in the week following the game.

As noted on the front page of yesterday's paper, The University Daily contacted the Union and the athletic department and they agreed to provide the films, a projectionist, the narrator and the facilities to show the films, beginning Monday — at no cost to students or faculty.

Such programs are not overly significant in the broad educational sense, however, they do offer more to students who wish to take advantage of the services available.

The University Daily hopes to carry on and expand upon the possibilities of being a service to students by cutting through red tape to find answers or to provide new services for students at Tech.

Any problems, questions or suggestions to which The University Daily could provide aid in finding a solution should be sent to "Sounding Board," room 102, Journalism Building.

Letters To The Editor

Moratorium leaders write open letter to Dr. Murray

We are writing this letter at the suggestion of Dr. Owen Caskey.

As members of the Channing Club which sponsored the Vietnam Moratorium and as leaders of the Vietnam Moratorium Committee of Lubbock, Tex., for the month of October, we would like to present our objections to the treatment we received on and before Oct. 15 from the campus administration and the campus police.

(1) We were purposely treated unequally and unjustly.

While the Moratorium Committee was told that a gathering of more than four silent individuals at Memorial Circle would be quickly dispersed, another group was allowed to gather there, throwing eggs, Coke bottles and rocks into the crowd of students, ministers and children.

(2) We were purposely lied to. We were promised police protection for our night program. We received NONE!

Our guests (the ministers) were hit with eggs and interrupted in their prayers. Children were almost trampled under foot, and several people were hit with flying rocks and Coke bottles.

The police, when asked for help, either turned their backs or said they were to prevent fist fights only. When asked about the egg throwing, two policemen promised that the boys had been apprehended and would be out of school within the week.

Besides these lies from the administration and Traffic Security, we personally have been told we could have an audience with Dr. Murray, and have waited several times for return of phone calls from Mrs. Baker, all to no avail.

(3) This leads to the third point. We protest the treatment of evasion and secrecy we have received from the administration.

We are not allowed to discover or talk to whoever is responsible for the decision we receive. No one will take responsibility for talking to us, and conferences are held only after "secret" meetings.

Dr. Murray has no time to speak to us, but does have time to confer with Dr. Caskey and tell HIM what to say.

People cannot be manipulated anymore.

The war in Vietnam is truly being "brought home" when the administration of a school, like the government of the U.S., tries to control people and oppress their "inalienable rights."

The Vietnam Moratorium of October was both legal and nonviolent, according to the laws of the federal government, the state government and Texas Tech University.

More important, it was a living testimony of the very principles America was founded upon: politically, as a free country, and religiously, as a Christian country.

It was also an example, a RARE example, of what a real university is about. That is, open-minded questioning, searching and hopefully discovering, not of old rhetoric, but of new and more suitable truths.

As students deeply involved in the university and the United States, we think it our right to ask and expect a statement from the administration on the Vietnam Moratorium, the counterdemonstration, and future student activism.

Men cannot hide behind their bosses' (whoever that is) skirts in the face of such a grave issue.

As loyal Americans, and servants of the state educational system, the Tech administration should feel even more obligated to take a stand. Since their actions seem to support the counterdemonstrators, their illegal procedures, and their illogical thinking, why not come out publicly and say so. Then we can face each other honestly and with some dignity.

As individuals, the members of the administration must realize that there will be no facades of respect and friendship in further dealings.

Our honesty has been met with lies and evasions, so expect our confidence no more. Our belief in the principles of justice and democracy has been crushed beneath the silent, invisible fist from the "east wing."

But our belief in the need for freedom and peace and love between all men has been increased, and in this we will persist.

We will persist as we see fit, as we think will be most beneficial, as will apply most directly to the chained and enslaved citizens of our own community, and those our community tries to oppress.

In conclusion: We protest the lack of police action on Wednesday, Oct. 15.

After repeated contacts with the administration and Traffic Security, we were led to believe that several uniformed officers would be present to enforce the law.

We protest the fact that Traffic Security failed to do their duty. We again request a meeting with you.

Answers Barger's 'analogies'

First, I want to give some answers to Mr. W. P. Barger's "analogies" in the Oct. 16 UD.

1) Suppose Gov. Wallace had succeeded the entire South from the Union and the North had retaliated. Do you actually think Russia would support the South—the South that is more conservative than the North?

If she were to intervene on either side, it probably would be on the side of the North since the North is more acceptant of communistic ideas. Probably, though, she would take the opportunity to destroy as much of the U.S. as possible.

2) There is a world of difference between choosing to be communists, and being forced to be communists. No, we will not land troops in Italy by such reasoning as it is being used in Vietnam.

Secondly, I think that it is an appalling fact that just because one's good friends get killed in war, he turns to protest against his own government to get even.

What has happened to the way Americans used to "stick" together — stand back-to-back in mutual defense? You know, the fellows overseas just might find it a little easier to fight if they knew that someone was behind them at home.

Several of my good friends have been to Vietnam or are there now. My brother has been there and is going back in January. If my brother, or any of my friends, was killed there, I would not take my spite out against my own country's government and governmental officials. That's the coward's way out.

The only thing to do is fight the war to win!

Just think, if it wasn't for our friends over there fighting, Vietnam, and soon, all of Southeast Asia, would be taken over by the Communists. Not long after, three-fourths of the world would be communist, and we would be on the verge of losing our freedoms.

Without those freedoms, all you protestors would not have the FREEDOM to protest, and everyone would become stereotypes of one another.

To end it all, some people would tote rifles all their lives, some would work on farms, some would work in salt mines, and everyone would have to salute the sickle and hammer.

Foul weather hampers Tech

Rain forced the Red Raider gridmen indoors yesterday for their first daylight workout since falling to Mississippi State last Saturday.

Offensive drills were held in the Men's Gym while the defense worked out in the Intramurals Gym.

J T King, head Raider coach, was displeased with the circumstance. "We have to get out tomorrow unless it is so boggy we just can't," he said yesterday.

THE RAIDERS were hampered by rain for nearly two weeks prior to their opening game with Kansas Sept. 20, earlier this year. King blamed bad conditioning on wet weather at that time.

King said the rains earlier in the year have forced more effort on conditioning than is usual for this time in the season. Generally, King said, a team can concentrate on preparing for that weeks game without worrying a great deal about conditioning.

King said the Raider squad is still not in "really good shape."

However, the team has been doing well in the fourth quarters," he added.

TOM SAWYER, injured Raider quarterback, said, "It is hurting us to be inside."

Sawyer, was tried out early in the workout according to King but still sported a limp. He sprained an ankle in the opening game of the season.

Sawyer said he could walk and run all right, but he could not turn sharply or cut.

Don Sparks, team trainer, said it is possible for Sawyer to see action in the Tech-SMU tilt this weekend.

SPARKS ADDED, however, Sawyer will probably not see action for another week.

Preparation for SMU this weekend will give first attention to pass defense, King said. He pointed to Chuck Hixson, Pony quarterback, as a major threat in that area.

King also commented on the SMU defense saying it has been overlooked by many because of SMU's outstanding pass offense.

The Raiders are looking better, King said. "The offense is showing improvement," he said. "They're beginning to do things respectively."

KING ADDED both offense and defense are looking good in workouts this week.

Walt Yarborough, moved Monday to a defensive position, said the defense is ready to go.

"I don't like losing," he said. "I've never been a part of losing—I'm going to do my part."

Clendenon stays with NY

NEW YORK (AP)—It was only last February that Donn Clendenon retired from baseball to become an executive with a pen company. One retirement, one trade, three champagne showers and one World Series later he accepted a new car Tuesday as the outstanding player of the 1969 World Series.

"I don't think any one man could take any great credit for the Mets' victory," he said with due pride. "It was a team effort. When I came over here from the cold country Montreal June 15, these guys already had their winning ways. They were not the Mets I knew at Pittsburgh. They didn't throw the ball in the stands and make four errors on one hit.

"They brought an old man 34 back two or three years and made me a young man again."

A bit of background may be necessary to explain fully Clendenon's mixed-up season. Pittsburgh threw him into the expansion draft last fall after he hit only .257 for the Pirates.

Montreal grabbed him and then traded him to Houston with Jesus Alou for Rusty Staub. About a month after the trade, the 6-foot-3½ inch Clendenon announced he was retiring and had been named vice president of the Scripto, Inc.

Commissioner Bowie Kuhn directed the two clubs to work out a settlement and ruled both Clendenon and Staub belonged to Montreal. Judge Roy Hofheinz, the Houston owner, blasted the commissioner but later apologized.

SWC stat leaders among Tech foes

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Tech will be taking on half the Southwest Conference's individual statistical leaders when it faces Southern Methodist this week.

It all boils down to SMU's rubber-armed quarterback Chuck Hixson and flanker Gary Hammond, who lead in live of the 10 individual categories kept by the SWC.

Hammond leads in pass receiving 30 catches for 426 yards, tandem offense 41 catches and rushes for 485 yards and kickoff returns, 14 for 317 yards.

Hixson, the defending national passing champion, leads in passing with 112 completions in 184 attempts for a 60.9 per cent accuracy and in total offense with 1,140 yards.

Arkansas also has its share of statistical leaders. Bill Burnett leads in rushing with 393 yards on 88 carries and in scoring with 42 points. Hog punter Cary Stockell leads the league with a 43.7 average and Terry Stewart leads in punt returns with 105 yards for nine returns.

Unbeaten Texas, ranked No. 2 in the nation, was idle last week but held onto its team total offense lead with a 395.8 yards per game average. Arkansas, also idle, maintained its total defense lead with a 231.5 average.

College football enjoys most offensive season

NEW YORK (AP)—Explosive offenses have sent college football off to its strongest ballmoving and scoring pace in all of its 100 years.

The use of the forward pass appears to be leveling off and there is renewed emphasis on rushing. Field goals are averaging better than one a game.

These are some of the trends noted Tuesday by the National Collegiate Sports Services in statistics based on the first half of the season.

The average game among major teams this year has produced 42.1 points for the combined teams compared with 39.3 a year ago. The 1968 season broke all offensive records.

Total offense average is up to 644.5 yards for both teams compared with 629.0 at the mid-point in 1968. Of this, rushing accounts for 342.4 yards and passing 302.0. Last year the breakdown was almost even with rushing 330.1 and passing 299.0.

Although the running game is coming in for greater attention, touchdown passes are averaging two a game, bettering the record pace of 1968 when an average of 1.77 was thrown.

The college boys are almost duplicating the pros in field goal activity, although the posts are 10 yards back of the goal line instead of on the goal line, as in the case of the pros.

The field goal average per game is 1.05 compared with one in every three games in 1959.
