

Pedestrians, Use Your Heads---Guard YOUR Lives

Council Initiates Safety Campaign

Tech's safety committee of the Student council has opened a campaign to promote safety on campus streets. Keith Schier, business administration representative and committee chairman, announces.

The committee was appointed by student president Horton Russell.

Five accidents, two during the summer and three this fall, have happened as the result of neglect, says Schier. "The whole problem of safety is in the hands of pedestrians."

The traffic committee, headed by Lewis Jones, has done all possible to control traffic. We need the cooperation of everyone, Schier pointed out.

He urges students to use the marked crosswalks.

Deadlines Set For Annual Pictures

Student's classification will determine the final day his picture can be made for La Ventana, Paula Fix, yearbook editor, has announced.

Deadline for freshmen is Oct. 25, for sophomores is Nov. 1, for juniors is Nov. 8 and for seniors is Nov. 15.

Those students who want their pictures included in the yearbook, but did not pay for them during registration may do so now by paying one dollar to Koen's studio when they have their pictures made.

Dairy Team Wins State Fair Contest

Tech's dairy products judging team won first place at the Dallas state fair Oct. 9 with a clean sweep in overall competition. William H. Tinney, associate professor of dairy manufactures, said.

The team, coached by Dr. J. J. Willingham, dairy manufactures head, won first in milk, ice cream and cheese judging and placing second in butter. High man in the entire contest was Emmett Koen of Canton. Glynn Becker of Paducah was first in milk and cheese. Flake Thompson of Fort Worth was high man in the ice cream division. Ralph Button of Austin is the alternate team member.

ACS TO MEET MONDAY

Tech chapter of the student affiliates of the American Chemical society will meet each Monday at 7:15 p.m. in C101. Meetings were previously held on Wednesday.

Favorites Election Set October 26

Mr. and Miss Texas Tech and men and women class favorites will be chosen at a general election from 8 a.m. until noon.

Petitions may be taken out today at 2 p.m. from the Student council office and must be returned Monday. Each petition must be signed with 100 names. Drawings for place on the ballot will be held at 5 p.m. Monday in the Student council office.

Each class will have one man and one woman favorite, and Mr. and Miss Texas Tech will be chosen from outstanding junior and senior students on the campus. All nominees must have a 1.0 grade average.

Busse Orchestra To Play For Dance

Henry Busse and his 14-piece orchestra will play for a dance at the Rec hall from 5 to 8:30 p.m. today. Admission price is $1.20 stag or drag.

Attendance at this dance will determine whether or not Tech will be able to have more name-band dances. Dean of Student Life James G. Allen said.

Betty Taylor and Phil Gray are vocalists with the band.

Busse is nicknamed "Hot Lips" from a song by that name which he wrote. He also wrote "Wang Wang Blues."

Clubs Enter 43 Floats In Parade

Nine more places in Tech's Silver anniversary Homecoming parade were drawn by campus clubs during the past week, bringing the number of clubs entered to 43, D. M. McElroy, secretary of the Ex-students association, said.

McElroy urges any club which is not represented to obtain a year in order that 50 floats, two for each year in Tech's history, will be entered.

The additional organizations and the year they are to represent in the parade are Los Camaradas, 1925; Wesley Foundation, 1927; Ko Shari, 1930; Las Vivarachas, 1932; Dairy Manufactures, 1933; Kappa Alpha Mu, 1936; Block and Bridge, 1945; Socii, 1946.

Symposium Friday Marks Opening Of Silver Anniversary Program

Six Religious Emphasis Speakers Tell Christianity's Workability Next Week

"Will Christianity Work?" is the theme for Religious Emphasis week this year, Oct. 23-26. Morning classes will be shortened to 45 minutes on these days, leaving 11-12 a.m. free for convocations.

Six speakers who were secured through the University Christian mission, are scheduled to lecture during the week. Dr. Blake Smith, pastor of the University Baptist church in Austin, will deliver the main address each day at 11 a.m. in the Gym.

Dr. Robert A. Millikan, internationally known scientist and author, will speak Monday and Tuesday at 11 a.m. in the Recreation hall. Dr. R. R. Oglesby of Oklahoma A&M will lead seminars on international law and relations in C101 at 4 p.m. Monday and Tuesday.

Harold Kuebler and Ned Linegar, both secretaries in national YMCA work, will conduct afternoon seminars on philosophy, sociology and education.

Dean W. R. Woolrich of the University of Texas will also lead seminar discussions. Dean Woolrich is author of several engineering handbooks used widely over the nation.

Noted Visitors Speak On Program

Tech's Silver anniversary celebration gets underway Friday when classes dismiss at 2 p.m. for the anniversary symposium being held in the Lubbock High School auditorium.

The program will feature three nationally known scholars and is to honor representatives of Tech's original faculty and representatives of various colleges and universities.

Symposium speakers include Dr. Henry Steele Commager, professor of American history at Columbia university; Dr. Otto Struve, astronomer at the University of California; and Mrs. Chase Going Woodhouse, member of Congress and noted home economist.

Formal Dedication of Tech Museum Scheduled Tomorrow In Art Gallery

Formal opening of the Texas Tech Museum will be held at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow in the art gallery of the Museum.

The Museum is the realization of a 21-year dream and is now valued at $500,000. It has been completed under the directorship of Dr. W. C. Holden, head of the department of history and director of the Museum.

Dr. Clifford B. Jones, president emeritus, will give the dedication, followed by Dr. Carl Coke Rister's address.

In commemoration of the Silver anniversary of Tech, the Museum has a diagram in the south gallery depicting the advancement and growth of the college. Also featured in this diagram is the outstanding event which took place during each specific year.

The basement will be open to the public after the ceremonies. In connection with the anniversary, exhibited in the basement are news papers showing the bill creating Tech, celebration of Tech's location in Lubbock, laying the cornerstone of the Administration building and opening of the college. Brochures of different towns that wanted the college are also shown.

Invitations to the formal opening have been sent to leaders of Girl Scouts, Camp Fire girls, Boy Scouts, presidents of colleges, newspaper editors on the South Plains, Texas Tech board of directors and Foundation members.

Jane Foster Receives Post As Council Representative

Jane Foster, Bowie junior, defeated Carolyn Reeves, Lubbock junior, in a runoff election Friday, for the home economics post on the Student council.

Miss Foster took the contest with 55 votes and Miss Reeves tabulated 47.

Promotion of Elizabeth Schovaj sa to Student council secretary left the vacancy.

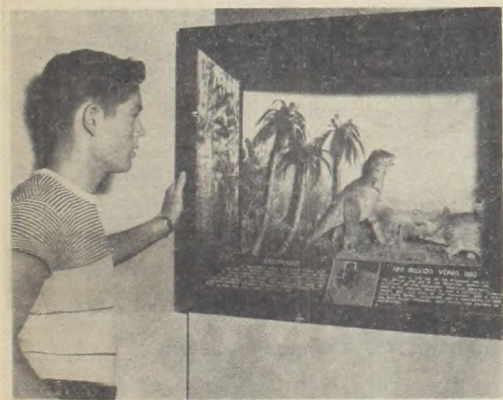

Part-7 Veterans To Meet Thursday In Aggie Building

All part-seven veteran students are requested to meet at 7 p.m. Thursday in the Aggie auditorium, Veteran Advisor L. Carroll Smyers has announced.

Every veteran in this category is urged to be present. Part seven includes all disabled veterans now enrolled in Tech.

The movie, "The Titan," scheduled for the Aggie auditorium showing Friday night has been canceled.

John E. McDermott, recent Tech graduate, is employed by Sherwin Williams Paint company in Lubbock.

Letters To The Editor

Dean Editor: childishness of some of the independent students in The Toreador of Oct. 7 there pends in imitating the childishness was an editorial bemoaning the ness of the social clubs. It was clearly written by a member of one of these social clubs. No one else would see a reason to gripe or would give a hoot'n'holer.

The issue, however, is not who wrote it, but rather, why it was published. As far as I can see, the possibilities are these:

1. The editorial staff of the paper is controlled by members of the social clubs. I have seen no articles by independents who felt it necessary to defend us, or gripe about injustics done us.

2. The paper can find nothing else to print, and so prints almost anything to use up space. If the first be the case, it leaves the mouthpiece of the entire campus in the hands of an organized minority, which is not to be desired by any thinking person.

If the second be the case, it is second-rate journalism. If we get too short of something to say, why not restore a humor column of some sort. Or is the fact that it was the most popular piece in the paper insufficient reason.

Harild Hilliard jr. P.S. "B.W." does does have some good words, though. I just don't like his arrangement.

The editorial you refer to was written by a club member. But as to your statement, "... no one else would see a reason to gripe or would give a hoot'n'holer," the editorial was prompted by grievances voiced by independents, mainly women students.

The editorial was written for two reasons, neither being ones you mention. The writer of "With No Respect" had heard independent students complain about the organization of "GDI's" and felt something should be said about it. The second reason was to prompt the "GDI" organization to use their energies on worthwhile organization—one existing now or to be formed as student needs may dictate.

We appreciate your interest in student affairs and in The Toreador and hope that we do not fall into the "second rate journalism" classification which you mention.

As to the humor column, we feel that it belongs in a humor magazine, so we're leaving it out of the editorial columns.

Let us hear from you again. The Editor.

Don Givins Passes Sneed To Victory

Don Givins passed Sneed to a victory over Drane Oct. 11 in the second week of intramural football play. Passes from Givins to Bobby Martin and Sammy Fitzhugh gave the Sneed footballers the only scores of the 12-0 fray.

In the independent league, the Dairy club was given a one point edge over the Wesley Wildcats. In case of a failure to score by either team, intramural regulations allow the ball to be placed on the 50-yard line and each team is given four downs, with the team making the most yardage being awarded one point.

Other games scheduled in dorm league play include a contest between Dorm III and Dorm IV last Monday, Doak opposing Drane today and Dorm III vs. West Monday.

The independent league continues action with the Dairy club competing against the Stoops yesterday and the Wesley Wildcats battling BSU tomorrow.

Kireilis Announces Gymkana Club Daily Meeting East of Gymnasium

"Possibilities unlimited," is Dr. Ramon Kireilis' way of expressing the future prospects of the Gymkana club.

Kireilis, head of the physical education department for men, describes the club as an active educational organization focusing its attention on tumbling, balancing and acrobatics. The group, which is temporarily performing on mats while awaiting the arrival of a trampoline and balancing bars, will perform between the halves of football and basketball games.

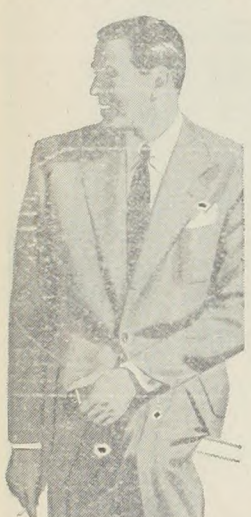

Tommy Cates was elected temporary chairman of the group at the last meeting.

Kireilis urges any girls interested in becoming active in an organization of this type to attend any of the daily meetings at 4 p.m. on the east side of the Gym.

Fall enrollment for 1945 was 2,427, 1,463 women and 964 men.

Raiders Drop Fourth, 19-6, As Frogs Spill Tech Sophs

By JIMMIE HENTLEY
Toreador Associate Editor

Texas Christian university handed Tech its fourth loss of the year Saturday night in a fast moving first half from which the Raider sophomores were unable to recover.

Some 12,000 fans saw TCU win 19-6. Approximately 1,800 Tech students attended the game. Morley Jennings, Tech athletic director, announced that 1,840 tickets were sold to students by Friday afternoon.

End Dick Cavazos' leg was fractured early in the TCU-Tech game Saturday night.

Dr. Fred P. Kallina, Tech physician, said Monday that Cavazos was doing as well as could be expected. He will be in the infirmary several weeks while recovering from the leg break and dislocated ankle.

After halftime during which the Raiders were presented a 21-foot long telegram carrying the signatures of some 3,000 Lubbock backers, Tech came out fighting to overcome the 19 point deficit which the inexperienced sophomores had allowed the Horned Frogs in the first two periods.

Tim Hatch took the third period kickoff and returned 22 yards to the Tech 30-yard line. From there Hatch, Pete Edwards and J. W. Thompson went consistently through the center and right side of the line to push the ball to the 2-yard line where Edwards went over on a quarterback sneak.

Tech immediately hit at the Frogs again, recovering a fumble at the TCU 28 on the Frogs' first play from scrimmage. After a 15-yard penalty for illegal use of hands, TCU gained the ball on their own 24.

When they were stopped with only 7 yards gained, Junior Arterburn received Wilde's kick to open the second long offense of the third period for the Raiders. This time the Raiders were halted by Edwards' fumble on the TCU 30. Tech held the Frogs and soon regained the ball on the Tech 25. A 15-yard penalty again shut off the drive on the TCU 30 in mid fourth quarter.

Toward the end of the quarter Tech again threatened the signal Ramsey returned a punt 40 yards to the TCU 26 where Don Seale's pass was intercepted on the 10.

Tech's fifth and final drive of the second half came to an end on the TCU 14-yard line as Thompson hauled in Edwards' 16 yard pass.

The Raiders' dominance of the second half was possible through the fine defensive showing of several sophomores playing their first game. Leading the group were backs Jim Turner and John Paul Jones, a junior squadman playing his first season for Tech.

Other sophomores seeing action Saturday were Alton Linne, David Brown, Hollice Davis, Don Gray, Jimmy Williams, Buddy Barton, James Clarke, Hudson Routh, Gene Doss, Sandy Welton and Denton Lambert.

Bill O'Grady, another new junior to the Tech backfield, showed up well on defense during the first periods of the game, while Gilbert Bartosh, Frog quarterback, teamed with halfback John Harville and fullback John Morton to go in the air and around the Raider line for three t.d.'s. TCU began its initial drive late in the first quarter, scoring 50 seconds before its end and twice in the second period.

Tech's only drive of the first period came on the kickoff. Bobby Close returned the kick to the 19 where Thompson ran to the TCU 16. The drive fizzled with a 15 yard penalty.

DERR CHOSEN FOR OFFICE

Walker Derr was elected vice president and Jeanette Sullivan secretary-treasurer of the Tech Management association Oct. 9.

Deal J. Veal, who graduated from Tech with a BS, received an MS from Ohio State university last summer.

Thomas M. Garland, 1950 Tech graduate, is working in Levelland for Halliburton Oil Well Cementing company.

TCU Game Draws 1,800 Techsans

More than 1,800 Tech students attended the game in Fort Worth last weekend. One bus load took advantage of the reduced rate on a special bus provided for students.

A parade and pep rally were held in downtown Fort Worth Saturday afternoon. Student council officers, cheer leaders, band president, drum major, Saddle Tramps and dates were honored by the TCU Student council officers at a reception before the game.

The Tech-Texas A&M football game was the official out-of-town trip in 1949.

Texas Tech campus covers 2,000 acres—1,700 of which are used by the agricultural department.

Bavarian Women Attend State Fair

Newspaper pictures, radio interviews, Brahma cattle, inexpensive household appliances and "South Pacific" combined to make the trip to the State Fair an exciting one for the nine Bavarian women attending Tech.

Making the trip were Annelie Scheffler, Christiane Sauermann, Ruth Bathrow, Paula Niclas, Gertrude Schulze, Anna Marie Simon, Rosemarie Whitting, Elise Mergler and Elfriede Schneidawandt. The women, accompanied by their advisor, Dr. Nina Lamb, left by car and bus last Thursday and returned Sunday. While in Dallas they stayed in a private home, accommodations being arranged for them by the Fair housing department.

Pictures of the women will appear soon in The Dallas News, and a recording made by Annelie Scheffler and Doctor Lamb will be broadcast over Mutual stations some time this month.

Particularly impressive to the women were Brahma steers weighing more than a ton and low prices of household conveniences. The distance between Lubbock and Dallas and the variety of exhibits at the Fair were also interesting to them.

This trip is the first of a series of educational jaunts to be taken by them under sponsorship of the home economics division. Thanks-giving they will attend the State Teacher's Association meeting in San Antonio.

Delta Sigs Have Smoker, Wiener Roast, Pledge Rite

Delta Sigma Pi had several activities the past week, including a wiener roast, a smoker and pledge initiation.

At a smoker in the Hilton hotel last week Dr. Howard E. Golden, faculty adviser, told prospective members of the history of the national organization. Eugene Reno spoke on the history of the local chapter. A speech on duties and obligations of the pledges was given by Kennett Hobbs. Financial obligation and benefits of membership were topics discussed by Russell Crocker and Adrian Stevens.

Informal pledge initiation in the Hilton hotel was held for fourteen pledges. They are Donald Bagwell, Tom Burnham, Bob Chambers, Phil Crumpler, James D. Hall, Jr., Charles Hudson, Charles Joplin, Jimmie Mason, Jesse Moore, Kenneth Pharris, Clyde Schneider, Allen Smith, General Whitaker and Bobby Williams.

PI CLUB INSTRUCTS PLEDGES

Instruction of the prospective pledge group was held at a meeting of the Plant Industry club Monday night.

J. B. Mahler is president of the organization.

Wool Judgers Win Trophy In Contest

Tech's wool judging team won first place and permanent possession of a challenge trophy at the fourth annual Intercollegiate Wool Judging contest held in Kansas City, Kan., last week. The trophy was presented by The Kansas City Star.

Tech also won the judging contest in 1947 and 1949 and is entitled to permanent possession of the trophy.

Total points for Tech in the contest were 4417, Michigan placed second with 4399 points and Kansas was third with 4381. Other teams competing were from Texas A&M, Colorado, Nebraska and Missouri.

Jimmy Cusenbary was high individual with a score of 1,525. Vestal Shipman ranked first in breed fleeces and sixth in the contest. R. B. Miller ranked eleventh in the contest. R. I. Collinsworth was alternate for the team and H. Ray Burkhart, assistant professor of animal husbandry, accompanied the team as coach.

Tech ranked second in judging of breed fleeces, third in judging of commercial fleeces and second in grading.

APO Initiates 14 Pledges; Brooks Is Group President

Fourteen pledges have been initiated by Alpha Phi Omega, fraternity of former Boy Scouts. Officers of the new pledge group are Dick Brooks, president; James Taylor, vice president; Jack Hon, secretary; Jerry Raun, pledge captain.

Pledges are Thomas R. Allen, Max Preston, Robert Jacobson, Coy Orr, Jr., Otto Praeger, Robert Brownell, Donald Miller, Stanley Sadgwick, James Wilde, Bill Ashburn and Jack Hightower.

The American Association of University Women was opened to Tech graduates in the 1949-50 school year.

Rush Activities End With Party Tonight

Wrangler's rush party from 7-9 p.m. tonight at the Lubbock hotel will conclude men's rush activities. Preferential bids will be signed by rushees tomorrow. A list of each club's new pledges will be posted on the bulletin board in the west wing of the Ad building Thursday night.

A Gay Nineties theme will be carried out, according to Jim Choate who is in charge of the function and members will dress in the style of that time. A short summary of the club history and activities is to be given by the sponsors Earl Camp, assistant professor of biology, and Marlin Minter, assistant professor of electrical engineering.

The program is to be presented jointly by DFD, Ko Shari and Las Chaparritas social clubs. Wanda Vowel is to tap-dance, Connie Hopping will sing and a piano selection is to be presented by Mariellen Griffin. Skits are to be given by Ko Shari and DFD pledges. Members of Las Chaparritas are presenting a novelty number.

Silver Key rush party was held from 7-9 last night in the Lubbock hotel. Jim Elliot, rush captain, was in charge of the function and Ray Simmons was master of ceremonies.

Joe Horne, Lubbock insurance agent and ex-Key, spoke to the group. A color film of the 1950 Key reunion held August in Mexico City, was shown.

A talent show included Berna Bartlett and Kennett Hobbs, dance team; Jean Ann Gilham, Connie Hopping and Billie Lollar, singers; Ann Bently, Wanda Vowel and Joan Bolinger, tap dancers.

Socli held its rush party Thursday night at the Lubbock hotel. Entertainment included an Hawaiian dance by Wanda Vowel and songs by Connie Hopping and Marcia Rogers, accompanied by Guida Miller. Piano selections were presented by Beverly Lemmon.

Master of ceremonies was Joe King, ex-Socli. Don Reeves was chairman of the rush party committee.

Ollie Joyce Batchler, 1950 Tech graduate, is employed by the Lubbock National bank.
