

Fall Registration Begins

TEXAS TECH'S FLOOD

By JOHN PETTY
Toreador News Editor

Green-topped freshmen began assembling on campus Sunday and Monday, signaling the beginning of the 37th long semester of Tech's history.

The flood of entering students, estimated at well over 2500, caused some observers to forecast that enrollment for the fall semester would skyrocket past the 10,000 mark. Conservative estimates of more than 9,700 fall students could easily be pushed upward to the five-figured enrollment mark by a flood of late students.

This fall marks the first long semester in which Tech will be fully integrated. A ruling by the Board of Directors this summer opened the doors at Tech for all students.

Registration for classes began Wednesday morning and will continue until noon Saturday, Don Renner, assistant registrar, termed the first day of class scheduling as "very smooth."

"We are registering more students today (Wednesday) than we did on the first day last year," Renner continued. "I've spot checked some of the students and it seems that they are finishing in a very reasonable length of time."

Renner said that a special evening registration has been set up for those taking night classes, with Wednesday evening and this evening being set aside for this.

No registration will take place this afternoon, giving department heads and workers a "breather" in the four-day period. Too, the sectionizers will have a chance to "see where they stand" and open up new sections if they are needed.

Entering freshmen completed three days of orientation Wednesday and capped their first days on campus with a big and little sister party for the girls sponsored by AWS and a stag party for the boys given by the student council.

Tonight, Lubbock churches help to acquaint the new students with their new home by holding an array of parties and open houses at the various churches.

... an onrush of enrolling students flooded the campus Wednesday as the fall term began for an estimated record-breaking number of Techsians. Some forecasters have predicted that the enrollment for the new term will reach the 10,000 mark. One returning senior was heard to comment that he thought 10,000 were in the Ad. Building halls Wednesday.

Board Of Directors Approve Proposed $12 Million Budget

By BOB TAYLOR
Toreador Managing Editor

Three new members of Texas Tech's Board of Directors joined with five of the six old members in approving the largest budget in the history of the college at the first Board meeting for the 1961-62 school year held in August.

Other business included the election of Board officers for the coming year, a discussion of Tech's educational television station and a report by M. L. Pennington, vice president and comptroller, on bills passed by the Texas legislature which affect the college.

Starting their first year on the Tech Board are Alvin R. Allison, a lawyer from Levelland and a Tech alumnus; R. Wright Armstrong, chief executive for the Burlington Railway lines in Texas, from Fort Worth; and J. Edd McLaughlin, banker from Ralls who is past president of Rotary International.

The six returning members are Manuel DeBusk, Dallas; Harold Hinn, Plainview; Jim Lindsey, Midland; Wilmer Smith, New Home; C. I. Wall, Amarillo; and Floyd Woodriddle, Houston.

Tech's budget for 1961-62 totals $12,112,220.43, an increase of $1,574,727.81 over the budget for last year. Seven Board members voted for the budget and Woodriddle asked to be recorded as not voting.

The largest single increase came in the area of teaching salaries. Concerning this increase, DeBusk commented that salaries at Tech are reaching the point "that we can compete for excellence" with other colleges and universities.

Other substantial increases were made for departmental operating expenses, specialized scientific laboratory equipment and facilities, dormitory systems, and major repairs and rehabilitation of buildings and facilities.

The Board voted unanimously to re-elect Wall to his position as chairman and J. Roy Wells, assistant to the president, to his post as secretary. The unanimous vote also elevated Hinn to the vice chairmanship.

DeBusk brought up the subject of the educational television channel which has been granted to Tech by the Federal Communications Commission. The problem in getting the channel on the air has been a legislative rider prohibiting the use of state funds for educational television.

DeBusk reported that he had hoped that this session of the legislature would remove the prohibition, but that it had not done so. Feeling that it would be "too risky" to continue asking the FCC for six-month extensions on the channel until the legislature meets again in two years, DeBusk presented the Board with concrete plans for building up a station, and beginning broadcasting without using state funds.

The Board set up a committee, to be headed by DeBusk, which will attempt to get the channel on the air by next year so that Tech will not lose its rights to the channel. Committee members are W. D. (Dub) Rogers, Joe Bryant, D. M. McElroy and Pennington. The committee will operate on contributions until the legislature meets in 1963.

"We are heading for teaching college classes all day from eight to five and home classes from seven to nine (at night)," DeBusk said.

Hinn commented that educational television "has got to come" to Tech; "it's too broad a field to ignore." Smith added that this may be the answer to the lack of classrooms caused by the population explosion.

Pennington briefly discussed the bills and resolutions passed by the legislature this year which affect higher education. Among those important to Tech is a Senate resolution which states that the Senate, "in order to be properly informed on the status of all institutions requesting designation as universities, requests the Texas Commission on Higher Education to advise the Senate whether or not each institution has the necessary scope and level of academic programs to entitle it to designation as a 'university.'"

A House bill was passed which will allow retired teachers who are 65 or older to teach not more than six hours a semester.

Pennington feels that this will benefit Tech by permitting these experienced professors to continue teaching rather than being "lost" to the college after their retirement.

Friday's Pep Rally Cancelled

Jim Isham, head Tech cheerleader, announced this week that the pep rally scheduled for Friday has been cancelled.

The rally will be at 7:30 p.m. Sept. 21 at the Southwest Conference Circle, heralding the first Red Raider football game Sept. 23 in Jackson, Miss., against Mississippi State.

Bert Huffman, freshman grid coach, will speak at the rally, which will also feature a skit by Alpha Chi Omega pledges and freshman football players.

The varsity will leave the next day for Jackson and the season's opener.

NOW WHAT AM I SIGNING?

Forms lettered from A to Z, it seemed, were just a part of registration trials that confronted Techsians as they swarmed onto the campus in record numbers for the fall term. Here, one bewildered coed finishes her paperwork on the stair railing. Anything to get finished!

Union Presents Varied Entertainment

By MICHELE PRESTON
Toreador Staff Writer

From Broadway celebrities to the Red Raider athletes, Tech's fall entertainment schedule is packed full of events to meet any interest.

Headlining these events is the appearance of Basil Rathbone at the November Fine Arts Festival. Rathbone, widely-known dramatic actor, will bring his one-man show, "The Best from My Bookshelf," to Lubbock's Municipal Auditorium on Nov. 7.

Included in his presentation will be sketches of his personal friends in the entertainment world, dramatic interpretations from Shakespeare's more famous soliloquies and readings from Shelly's sonnets. Demonstrating his dramatic ability even further, he will tell the story of Anabelle Lee.

Remembered recently from his records, "Peter and the Wolf" and "Edgar Allen Poe Stories," Rathbone believes that poetry should be heard, not read. An actor who has played 52 roles in 23 of Shakespeare's works, he is considered by many critics to be the best of today's Shakespearean actors.

As Program Director Karen Moore states it, "Basil Rathbone owes his success to his great voice and acting ability."

Vance Packard, celebrated author, is scheduled to speak on "The Changing Character of American People." Besides his successes as a speaker, Packard has written such best-sellers as "The Status Seekers" and "The Wasteland."

Presenting another form of entertainment, the Tech Union's first weekly movie, scheduled for Sept. 22, will be "The Cruel Sea." Also featured for the fall season is "The Golden Age of Comedy" with Comedian Charlie Chaplin and the Keystone Cops.

Events in which Tech students may participate throughout the fall are numerous. Panel discussions and guest speakers are only two activities planned by the Tech Union Forum, a group which meets each first and third Thursday. On October 7 the Red Raider Olympics, consisting of humorous contests, will be open to any students wishing to participate.

GREETINGS

The BOOKSTORE, owned and operated by Texas Technological College, has one purpose and that is to serve Students and Faculty of the College. The Store carries a wide range of Merchandise and Textbooks needed and desired by students for any and all courses offered by the institution. The Bookstore also stocks a full and complete range and general school supplies, specialized equipment for the various courses, Drug Sundries, Stationery and College Novelties. It also operates a Candy Bar and cold drinks dispensed in vending machines.

In addition to offering and selling articles of merchandise, The Bookstore renders various services to the student body, without charge.

CHECKS CASHED

Personal checks will be cashed in reasonable amounts. Your Student Identification Card is the only identification required, and all checks will be accepted at the Bookstore Office during regular business hours.

WRAPPING FOR MAILING

The Bookstore realizes that many students have no method of wrapping and mailing packages and we will furnish paper, cartons, twine, labels, etc., absolutely free.

GIFT WRAPPING

Merchandise purchased from us will be gift wrapped at no charge and this service is maintained the year round.

REPAIR SERVICE

If you have an old leaky pen, defective part to a set of instrument or a slide rule, we can return to the factory for replacement or repair. The only charge is that made by the manufacturer.

SPECIAL ORDER SERVICE

We maintain a special catalog service for any kind of a book and various articles of merchandise not ordinarily stocked and can order such items as desired.

WHERE THE PROFITS GO

The College Bookstore originated the Student Union Building Fund back in 1950. A sum of $400,000.00 has been contributed from Bookstore funds to give you this beautiful building for your pleasure and recreation.

SO REMEMBER, WHEN YOU BUY YOUR BOOKS AND SUPPLIES FROM THE BOOKSTORE, YOU ARE PROVIDING RECREATION FOR YOURSELF AND SOME 9,800 OTHER TECHSANS.

Bright Colors Dominate Womens' Fall Fashions

By JEANNIE BOOKOUT
Toreador Campus Editor

Bold bright color is sweeping Tech campus this fall and fashion-wise color is big news. Coeds can choose outfits this year ranging from magentic pink and rusty ginger tones to deep golds and smart greens.

especially if she adds a touch of dark brown to her wardrobe. This tone is really making a comeback and can be seen even in after five dresses. Later light colors such as off white and beige will be popular, especially during the holiday season.

For the girl on the go this fall it's the "tailored look." Suits of plaid or tweed are fine anywhere and even dressy clothes made of elegant fabrics seek to lend a casual look with a tie belt or a two-piece cut.

The knee-tickler, still very much in style, is made for the coed who's a little more daring. The "campus dress" which also reaches above the knee is a new version of the tickler and can be worn with a sweater or blouse.

Taking a look into the cooler season, which isn't so far away, coeds clad in fur-trimmed coats will probably be seen campuswide. And speaking of coats all kinds of fresh silhouettes from big capes to semi-fitted rifiers are fashion news.

The winter classroom scene will take on the "ski slope look" with printed sweaters made very long. Sweaters cut in classic styles such as plain cardigans worn with belts and scarves are in again, too.

No-Tech coed can do without skirts and sweaters. The thing to remember this year is it's mix instead of match. And what could look better for the active girl whether dating, going to classes or cheering at football games than a bold sweater worn with a pleated skirt of plaid or tweed.

For The Button-Down Minded

'Ivy Look' Sets Pace In Men's Fall Attire

College men, that "ivy look" is here to stay. At least for campus dress, fall '61 mens'-clothing experts agree that ivy league style is tops.

Ivy styles are even taking over the more formal dress. Tuxedos are now being worn with vests instead of cummerbunds and the pants are non-pleated. The shoulder line for this year is natural.

For strictly campus wear, casual clothes run in fall colors of olive, brown and gray. Button-down collar sport shirts are printed in gay patterns with touches of burnt orange or deep gold offsetting the darker backgrounds. Dress shirts are best in light blue, fashion setters say.

Campus dressing usually calls for some warm sweaters and this year, styles run to the high V-neck pullovers and bulky knit cardigans. To go along with that sweater many men go in for the casual campus hat. This narrow-brimmed piece of headgear usually can be found in olives and grays with or without a gay colored feather.

Dance 'Kicks Off' Fall Social Season

To start the fall semester off in full swing Techsians can dance to the music of Ray Sharpe at 8 p.m. Friday. The union-sponsored event will take place in the Lubbock Municipal Coliseum and all students may attend free of charge.

Preceding the dance Sharpe and his seven-member band will appear in the snack bar area of Tech Union for a "jam session" at 4 p.m. Sharpe will play request numbers in addition to his regular tunes for dancers and listeners.

Last year a similar appearance by the rock 'n roll and jazz artist met with tremendous success, according to Jack Shisler, in charge of Union public relations.

Sharpe will arrive from Fort Worth where he holds a standing engagement at Club Araby. The musician, who usually shows up in a brightly colored sports jacket and sunglasses, has appeared on several campuses across Texas. Said Shisler, "Sharpe is the most popular entertainer among the college set in the Fort Worth area." He has had many popular recordings, including the well-known "Linda Lou."

The all-school dance is a new event on Tech's social calendar and will take place of the traditional fall Freshman Mixer.

New Policy Set

Hot Checks

(Editor's Note: In order to avoid confusion later, the Toreador is publishing the new policy on hot checks passed by college officials late last year. The policy went into effect on Sept. 1. The new policy appeared in the May 4, 1961, Toreador.)

In view of the situation, which has worsened considerably in the past few years, college officials have passed new and stringent rules to discourage students from giving bad checks to the College.

These rules are not designed to offend that majority of students who are able to keep their financial matters straight.

The new rules are for those who habitually pass bad checks, even after warnings from the College.

The procedure and rules are carefully outlined below.

Effective September 1, 1961, all hot checks given to the College, except those given to the Athletic Department and Student Organizations, will be collected by Mr. Hubert L. Burgess, Office of Room Reservations, and a Clerk-typist.

A fee of $2.00 will be charged for each hot check.

Three hot checks which are not the fault of the College or the Bank, given by a student in one fiscal year, September 1 through August 31, will be cause for the suspension of the student. Mr. Burgess will maintain a record of each hot check written. Upon receipt of the first hot check, Mr. Burgess will send the student a collection letter and notify the Dean of Men or Dean of Women so they may take any action they deem necessary. When the second hot check in one fiscal year is received by Mr. Burgess, records will be posted and a collection letter will be sent to the student and the student's parents or guardian, using certified mail. Both the student and his parents will be reminded that a third hot check will be cause for the suspension of the student. A copy of the second notice will also go to the Dean of Men or Dean of Women.

When Mr. Burgess receives a third hot check in one fiscal year, records will be posted and Mr. Burgess will carefully study the records. If they show that the third check was written after the student had received due notice after the second check, Mr. Burgess will notify Dr. Floyd Boze, Dean of Admissions and Registrar, to drop the student from the rolls of the College. Students suspended under this policy who wish to re-enroll the next semester or later, must file a request for readmission with the Dean of Admissions and Registrar.

It is understood that the present suspension policy for nonpayment of any hot check will remain in effect.

This Central Hot Check Collection operation will be budgeted for September 1, 1961, and operated with the $2.00 fee as far as possible. If the fee proves to be insufficient, the Texas Tech Bookstore and the Student Union will each be asked to provide one-half of the funds but not to exceed $700.00 each per year.

BAD CHECKS

Dollar amount of bad checks charged back and collected by the College:

FROM THE EDITOR

About The Toreador

Hello.

I'm Ralph W. Carpenter, and you're probably going to be hearing a lot from me during the months to come. I'll be heading-up the Toreador staff again this year. I'm sure some of you will take this as a bad omen while others will simply grin and bear it.

First, I would like to welcome all of the new students to Texas Tech and to those who have been here before—welcome back. It looks as if we will have another year of fun and academic endeavor. If Mr. K. and his boys don't touch off something big in Berlin, it should be a happy year for most of us. We'll keep our fingers crossed, and simply wait and see.

Oh yes, you are welcome to come over and complain or compliment at any time during the school year. We don't expect to please everybody—in fact, we won't even try. That would be a good way for a newspaper of any kind to wilt and die on the vine. We'll do the best we can and let the knocks and smiles fall where they may.

As editor, I will try to see that the paper functions just as close to a professional publication as possible. Our basic job is to report the news—and report it we will. However, we will strive to use good journalistic ethics in both reporting and commenting on the news of the day. That's about all anyone can expect from a good newspaper.

There has been one change in editorial policy that you should know about. It concerns "Letters to the Editor." Last year, we did not publish letters unless we used the full name of the writer. This policy has been altered somewhat.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR: The Toreador editorial staff reserves the right to select all letters and will edit them to fit the space available or return them to the writer for condensation. All letters MUST BE SIGNED, however, initials will be used IF the letter writer will come forward and discuss with the editor why he or she does not want the full name to appear. No open letters will be published. The editor reserves the right to select letters for publication. Any letter that attacks an individual or tends to cast a bad reflection on Texas Tech will not be published. No battles will be fought in the letters column.

That's about the only change in the editorial policy of last year. If there are any questions, we have plenty of copies of the editorial policy set forth by the publications committee on hand and you're welcome to look it over.

The Toreador staff hopes you like your stay at Texas Tech. It's a great school. You'll be glad you picked it in the years to come.

If you survive the registration lines and other enrollment difficulties, make the Toreador a regular reading habit. Good luck, and WELCOME.

Church Night Offers Variety Of Activities

Mexican suppers, variety shows and Italian dinners are just a few of the activities students can choose to attend at the traditional All-Church Night tonight.

Asbury Methodist Church, 2005 Ave. T, will sponsor an open house beginning at 7:30 and the Christian Science Organization will host an informal reception in the Anniversary Room of the Tech Union at 7:30.

For students belonging to the Christian Church, the Christian Student Center, 2318 13th St., has an open house scheduled for 7:30. A devotional, refreshments and entertainment will begin at 6:30 at the Church of Christ Bible Chair, 2406 Broadway.

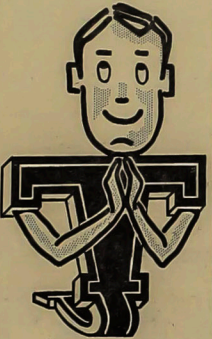

Four Baptist Churches are sponsoring fellowships with college students in mind. Activities get underway at 7:00 at the College Ave. Baptist Church, 2420 10th St. For a chuck wagon supper the place to go is the First Baptist Church, 2201 Broadway, at 6:30. Second Baptist Church, 53rd and Elgin, has planned a variety show to begin at 7:30 and Trinity Baptist, 2701 34th St., will host an Italian dinner, movie and skits at 7:00.

A reception will begin at 8:00 at the Congregation Shaareth Israel, 1706 23rd St. Students belonging to the Assembly of God Church can choose between an atmosphere of Mexico or Hawaii. First Assembly of God Church, 3111 43rd St., is giving a Mexican dinner at 7:30 and a Hawaiian outdoor dinner will begin at 7:00 at the Highland Assembly of God Church, 3707 36th St.

For Presbyterians there is an informal fellowship party starting at 7:30 at the First Cumberland Presbyterian Church, 910 Ave. O. The Presbyterian University Cen-

Mural Program Gives Opportunities For All

New athletic-minded students at Texas Tech soon discover that competition in sports is not limited to the top caliber players alone.

Headed by Edsel Buchanan, Tech's intramural athletic program has been progressing yearly. Last year it reached its greatest height ever when the total number of intramural participants squared above 4,000 students.

Organized to give informal, carefully organized and regularly scheduled opportunities for competition in a variety of sports to any male student at Tech desiring it, the program now has expanded to cover almost twenty sports.

Although competition extends throughout the entire year, the intramural season is highlighted by Noche de Conquistadores—Night of Champions—when the cream of the intramural crop goes on display via the participation route.

Play in intramural activity is divided into three groups—dormitory, fraternity and independent—with each of the classes competing in a league made up of other teams in its class.

Included in the intramural curricula are such team sports as touch football, softball, basketball, volleyball, tug-o-war and bowling, and individual competition in track and field, tennis, swimming, golf, fencing, table tennis, wrestling, badminton, weight lifting, handball, trampoline and basketball free throws.

To give the individuals and teams an extra reward for competing and an added incentive for winning, the intramural department each spring recognizes the outstanding team and individual for the previous year. The winners of these awards are determined from point totals calculated from points given entrants for entering and additional points added for finishing in the top three places of that event.

Raiders Enter 5th SWC Year

Texas Tech has been eligible for official Southwest Conference competition for four seasons in all sports except baseball and football. Football could not be included until last fall because of various schedule commitments.

During the 1960-61 school year, the Red Raiders finished fifth or better in every sport in which they participated. Highest finishes for last year were in basketball and golf, where the Red Raiders finished first and second respectively.

west Conference from the Border Conference where it won 11 football championships in 17 campaigns while compiling a conference record of 52 wins, 5 losses and 3 ties.

Assistant Registrar Appointed At Tech

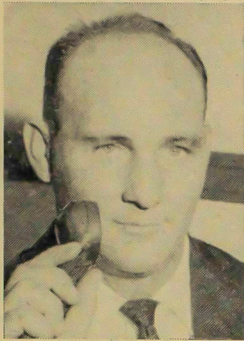

An experienced counselor, James Richard Tarter, has been appointed assistant registrar in charge of undergraduate admissions, as enrollment reaches toward an all-time high at Texas Tech this fall.

Tarter comes to Tech from Thomas Jefferson High School in Port Arthur, where he was counselor for five years. He taught for ten years previous to counseling.

Tarter has bachelor of science and master of science degrees in education from East Texas State College. He also completed a University of Houston institute in counseling.

He is a member of the Texas Personnel and Guidance Assn., Texas State Teachers Assn., and Texas Classroom Teachers Assn. He is a Presbyterian and is also a Mason and member of Kiwanis.

"We are fortunate to have a person with his experience in counseling for college work," said Dr. Floyd Boze, admissions dean. "The addition of Mr. Tarter to our staff should expedite the increase in the number of applications from high school graduates and transfers from other colleges," he added.

Techsans To Invade University

School Trip Set

Fourteen buses are expected to leave for Austin at 6 a.m. Sept. 30 enroute to the Texas Tech-Texas game at Memorial Field.

Tickets for the annual school trip will be sold in registration lines, at the Student Council office and by all members of the Council. Tickets will also be available in the foyer of the Tech Union from members of the Saddle Tramps until Sept. 29.

The tickets, selling for $14, will provide the students with round-trip transportation, a reception at the Stephen F. Austin Hotel, game seats between the 30 and 40 yard lines and a dance which will follow the game. Seats for couples and groups will be provided by the Council. All transportation in Austin will be in the buses with a police escort. All buses will be faculty sponsored.

A pep rally, sponsored by the ex-students of Tech, will be followed by a reception. Prior to the game the students will be allowed about two hours of free time.

The Red Raider Band will be present for both the pep rally and the game.

The caravan will return to Lubbock after a dance at the Texas Union after the game.

Additional information concerning the trip may be obtained from Wayne Underwood, Student Assn. vice president, at the Council office.

AIA Sets Smoker For Architects

A smoker for all Tech architects is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in the ballroom lounge of Tech Union. The American Institute of Architects is hosting the event.

Freshman architecture majors are especially requested to attend the smoker, according to several members of AIA.

The AIA Wives Club will serve refreshments at the meeting.

Tech Air Cadets Attend Conclave

Three members of the Lewis C. Ellis Jr. Squadron of the Arnold Air Society of Texas Tech will attend the 13th National Conclave of the Arnold Air Society Sept. 20-24, in Philadelphia, Penn.

Among the activities the three Techsans will participate in are: setting up the Society's budget, amending the constitution and getting acquainted with the new Air Force developments and policies.

The conclave will also feature aero-space exhibits at Convention Hall in that city. It will be climaxed by a Military Ball Saturday, Sept. 23, at the Bellevue Stratford Hotel.

Heading up the list of nationally-known figures at the conclave will be General Curtis E. Lemay, Air Force Chief-of-Staff, and the Air Force Secretary.

Dramatists' Reception Set Sunday

Programs for the coming year will be announced by the Speech Dept. at their open house Sept. 17 in the Green Room of the theater workshop. The program will be from 6 p.m. to 9 p.m.

Two new staff members, Mrs. June Bearden and Charles Buzzard, will also be introduced. Tours of the workshops and theater will be featured during the evening.

Activities of the drama honorary fraternity, Alpha Psi Omega, and the drama club, Sock and Buskin, will be explained to those present. Membership in the club is now open to anyone interested in drama.

Refreshments will be served to those attending.

Play Auditions Begin Monday

Tryouts will begin Monday for the first Speech Department production of the year, "An Italian Straw Hat."

The play, a nineteenth century French comedy with songs, will be presented Nov. 6-11 in conjunction with the Fine Arts Festival.

Auditions for the parts will start at 2 p.m. Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday with evening tryouts beginning at 7 p.m. in the auditorium of the Speech Bldg.

TESTING STARTS EARLY FOR FROSH

... two members of new "class of '65" ponder over some questions during the entrance exams given by the school. More than 2500 freshmen hit Tech Monday, one of the largest entering classes since the school began.

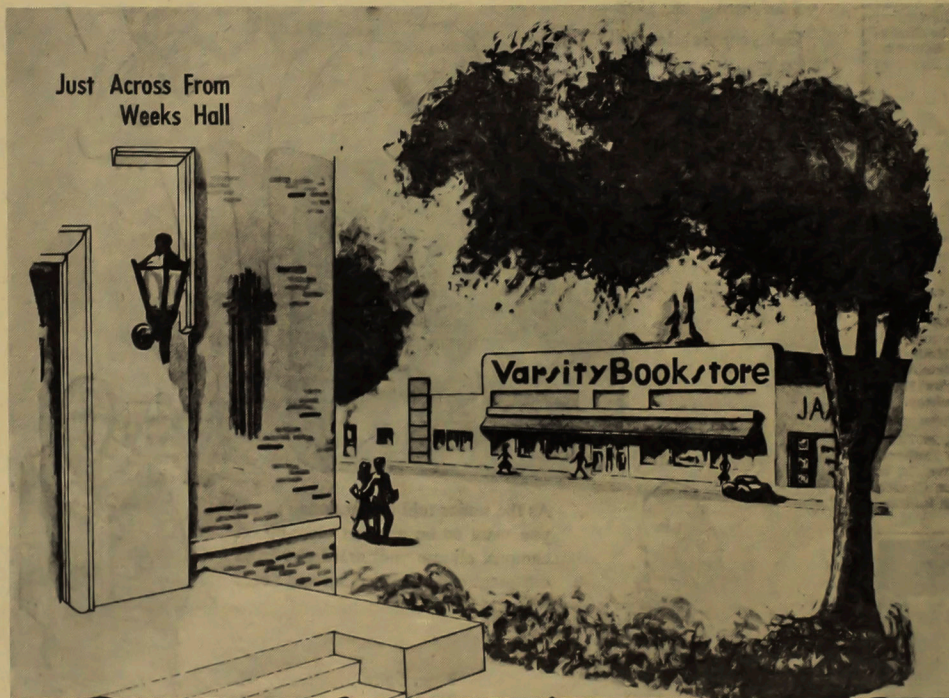

Director Sets Choir Tryouts

Tryouts for the four Tech choirs are being held in Room 103 of the Music Bldg. for the coming year.

Gene Kenney, director of the choirs, urges all interested students to try for one of the choirs. There are vacancies in Tech Choir, Tech Singers, Women's Chorus, and Men's Glee Club. Low basses are "badly needed," especially for Tech Choir, according to Kenney.

Tryouts are held from 9-12 and 1-5 five days a week in Kenney's office.

Freshman Petitions Available

Council Announces Election Changes

New regulations and election dates for coming college elections were announced this week by Peggy Maloy, Student Assn. secretary and elections' chairman.

Petitions and Expense Form IX are now available at the Council office for freshman Student Council candidates. The petitions and expense forms are due by noon on Sept. 20 at the Council office. Petitions will be available for Council vacancies and class officers on the same date.

These petitions and expense forms for Council vacancies and class officers will be due Sept. 22. Campaigning will begin Sept. 25 for freshman Council, Student Council vacancies and class officers.

Election of freshman council, dormitory and off campus representatives, Council vacancies and class officers will be Oct. 4. The ratification of the Constitution will be up for approval or disapproval by the student body on the same date.

Election of freshman council at large representatives will be held Oct. 6. If a run-off election for Council vacancies and class officers is necessary it will also be on this date.

Miss Maloy also announced that there would not be any class meetings to elect class officers.

"In the past, classes have met after college convocations to elect class officers," she said. "In these meetings classes have shown lack of interest in the attendance as only those that wish to nominate are present," she added.

Miss Maloy said that the change had been made by the Council with the approval of Dean James G. Allen, Dean of Student Life.

All class officers' elections will be handled by the Council in connection with other college elections.

Candidates must pay a 50 cent fee when petitions are taken out. Those freshmen students running for office in the Council and for class office must file a petition with 75 signatures and Expense Form IX by the deadline. They must carry a load of at least 12 hours and maintain a 1.0 grade point average.

Candidates for Council vacancies must have a 1.0 over-all grade point average for the preceding semester and during tenure of office. Candidates for Council representatives must be enrolled in the school from which he is to be elected with a minimum of 12 hours.

There are four Council vacancies, one in each of the schools of Agriculture and Business Administration and two in the school of Arts and Sciences. Those students seeking office in the Council and class offices must file a petition with 100 signatures by the deadline and submit a complete expense form.

The entire campaign expense for freshman Council candidates must not exceed $5. Candidates for Council vacancies and class offices will be allowed to spend a maximum of $20 to be divided between the election and the run-off if one is necessary.

Campaign posters used by candidates must be approved by the Council and stamped such before being posted. The Council determines where such posters may be erected on the campus.

Campaigning or electioneering within 15 feet of the voting polls will be prohibited.

Each candidate will be personally responsible in observing election regulations. Failure to comply with the rules will result in disqualification. A disqualified candidate may appeal his case to the Supreme Court within 24 hours after being disqualified by the Elections Committee.

Election results will not be posted until all results are final.

Freshmen Take Tests For Advanced Courses

Approximately 286 freshmen participated in the advanced standing tests given Tuesday and Wednesday for chemistry, English, algebra, and trigonometry.

Offered as part of Tech's increasing emphasis on special opportunities for students who have proved their academic abilities, the special exams were given along with the freshman orientation and testing program that extended through Wednesday.

Students who passed an advanced standing exam in the four subjects were given the opportunity to receive college credit for a semester-long course, putting them that much closer to a bachelor's degree.

From a total of 93 students who took the algebra test, and 45 who took the trigonometry test, Michael Vincent Bogda of Amarillo scored highest. The top 40 students will be offered a special course giving them advanced standing in trigonometry and college credit in Math 133.

In chemistry 69 students took the test, and 32 passed and were offered a special chemistry course. Included in the English exams, were taken by 79 students, was an objective test supplied by Co-operative English Test and a writing sample on a topic selected by the English department.

The following students were offered an honor class in math: Bogda, Jeanette Hassel, D. A. Redwine, Robert Peterson, Norman Werbner, Lawrence Forrest, Gerald Nelson, R. L. Smith, R. M. Kliever, A. C. Sharbutt, R. E. Jones, G. D. Essary, R. B. Lewis, S. M. Ray, I. M. Minor, G. R. Herbel, J. B. Hendrick, J. R. Zander, S. P. Magee, L. B. Knight.

Eddie Riemer, J. C. Word IV, C. R. Ezell, J. E. Langford, Gordon Pledger, J. B. Brock, Cecile K. Camp, D. A. Malone, D. R. Fanning, J. T. Hampton, Jackie Loggins, Barbara L. Thompson, David Switzer, A. P. Brown, Dale Hyatt, J. C. Tonroy, Barbara Gilbert, Ted Dement, Dwight Reck and D. E. Batchelor.

Names of those passing the chemistry and English exams were not available at press time and will be published Saturday.

Hernandez Awarded Scholarship

Selected as the Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Parks Scholar for 1961 at Texas Tech was Creencio John Hernandez, Rt. 1, Seagraves.

Hernandez, May graduate of Seagraves High School and class valedictorian, will be entitled to stipends totaling $2,000 during the next four years while attending Tech. Announcing the selection was the Tech committee on scholarships and awards.

In addition to being class valedictorian, Hernandez was also vice president of the senior class, president of the National Honor Society and editor of the yearbook. Hernandez, the eldest of six children of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hernandez, who reside on a farm near Seagraves, was the highest ranking student in junior year, class president in sophomore and junior years, recipient of a Summer Science Institute scholarship, president of Spanish club, first chair clarinet player in high school band and was named outstanding science student of his school.

Hernandez plans to become a teacher of science and Spanish in the public schools of Texas.

The Parks Scholarships, started in 1945 by Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Parks of Lubbock, are to encourage young people of Mexican descent to continue their education through college. The selection is made each year from the graduating classes of high schools in the Panhandle and South Plains area of Texas.

The recipient, who may choose any course of study he desires, is chosen on the basis of his need for financial assistance, character, promise of leadership and scholastic ability. The scholar must maintain a creditable record in order to receive $500 annually for four consecutive years.

Other students currently attending Tech on Parks Scholarships are Jose Juan Martinez, senior from White Deer; Oscar Velasco, junior from Midland, and Maria Rodriguez, sophomore from Lorenzo.

Holub-less Raiders Cut Down Drills

The Texas Tech Red Raiders, Jackson, Miss. on the 22nd, drills finding themselves without the services of All-American E. J. Holub for the first time in three years, concluded two-a-day workouts Tuesday in preparation for their season's lidlifter against Mississippi State Sept. 23. From now until the Raiders leave for former head mentor DeWitt Weaver the past three years. King, a former University of Texas grizzer under Dana X. Bible, hired an entirely new cast that included Merrill Green, formerly with the University of Arkansas; Willie Zapalac, from Texas A&M; Matt Lair, from A&M and University of Kentucky; Berl Huffman, a former Tech coach who first came here in 1935; and John Conley, former Snyder High School coach. Although the pickin's for the Tech coaches are not as strong as that in several other Southwest Conference camps, the new coaching regime has six starters and 13 of last year's top 22 to lead the team into its second season of SWC play.

Foremost of the returnees are seniors Bake Turner and Larry Mullins and junior Coolidge Hunt, all of whom are being boomed as possible all-conference picks this year. Hunt led the Southwest Conference in rushing last fall as a sophomore, and Turner finished second last year among SWC kickers, averaging 39.6 yards per kick over 52 kicks. Turner also gained acclaim in the pass-catching department last fall when his 22 receptions set a new school record.

Although Mullins' play at tackle last year was often over-shadowed by Holub's presence, he made himself known to his opponents and will probably be one of the more outstanding linemen in the Conference this year.

The presence of Hunt and Turner, whose versatility often over-shadowed the fact that he is a dangerous runner, assures the Raiders of a running attack that will be hard to stop, especially when such runners as Bill Worley, H. L. Daniels and David Rankin move up from freshman ranks to provide added depth.

The passing game promises to be a strong point for the team this year, with several outstanding receivers giving the throwing arms of Tech quarterbacks an opportunity to test their accuracy.

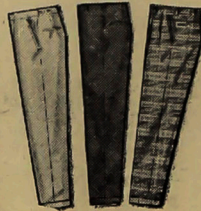

Bob Witucki is back after a stretch in the Army, giving the Raiders additional strength not planned on earlier this year, during spring training. Witucki, too, holds a Tech record, set back in the 1958 season. That record was put in the books when the Raider end caught 7 passes in a 17-22 loss to Houston.

Other able receivers are sophomore David Parks, junior Jerry Garrison, and seniors Dickie Polson and Turner.

At the throwing end will be Johnny Lovelace, 210-pound junior, with help from Doug Cannon and Dick Hayes, both sophomores, and Allen Schuler, junior.

The team cannot deny the weakness suffered by the loss of Holub, however. As a whole, the line is inexperienced, and defense will be one of the weaker points in the Red Raider's first few games.

Tech has played the Bulldogs of Mississippi State only once in previous years, that being in 1953 when the seventh-ranked Raiders nationally defeated Mississippi State 27-20.

New Names Mark Texas Grid Squad

University of Texas football fans will be learning some new names as they follow the Longhorns this fall. Names like Scott Appleton and Tommy Ford. And Ken Ferguson and Duke Carlisle. And George Bass and Tommy Wade. And David McWilliams and, very probably, some others.

They're a few of the on-the-spot sophomores who are expected to fill big shoes in the 1961 Longhorn production that debuts on the road Sept. 23 against California at Berkeley and then home Sept. 30 against Texas Tech.

"We've got to have six to eight sophomores come through to have a good football team," Texas Coach Darrell Royal figures.

Those sophomores and their cohorts could be members of such a rookie crop. They all have impressive credentials, including freshman competition here.

Appleton is a big (6-3, 229) tackle who led Brady High School to the Class AA high school finals twice in three years, and who went on from there to be an outstanding member of last year's 5-0 freshman squad. Regarded as a truly-dedicated player, Appleton was considered a top college prospect as early as his junior year in high school—and he still is.

At the other end of the scales is Ford, just 5-9 and 180, but a tremendous competitor. He had an outstanding freshman year, leading the Yearlings in rushing yards (253, average 6.5), scoring (36 points) and punt returns (5 for 66). He also was brilliant on defense. Ford hails from San Angelo.

Ferguson, a Wacoan, played freshman ball in 1959 (another unbeaten Yearling season). A top prospect, he can play almost anywhere in the middle of the line, where the need for help is most evident in the Texas picture. After a fine high school career, Ferguson probably was the outstanding freshman lineman in '59.

Carlisle hails from Athens in East Texas. After a fine high school career, he was outstanding as a freshman last fall. He ranked second in rushing yardage (221), set a Texas freshman record by running 82 yards for a touchdown against the TCU frosh, was second in scoring (24 points) and completed eight of 13 attempted passes. He also did an excellent defensive job.

Bass, from DeRidder, La., is one of the two out-of-staters on the Texas roster. A fast finisher with the '60 freshmen, he continued his excellent line play in Spring practice and in the early-September pre-season drills.

Wade, from Henderson, probably will join Carlisle in the battle for the quarterback spot. A picture passer, he is especially dangerous on the long throws. Wade, who doubled as a pitcher for Texas' frosh baseball team, also is an effective punter.

McWilliams was one of the standout players for Cleburne High School before he came to the University. Although a shade light (178 pounds), he is an outstanding competitor who was an excellent center for the '60 freshmen. He's been moved to guard this fall.

By CHARLES RICHARDS
Toreador Sports Editor

Welcome to Texas Tech everyone!

If you're a freshman student—glad to have you join our flock. Upperclassmen—welcome back to the old grind.

This little column will appear weekly, sometimes twice if the need arises. The purpose—although you may think it's heavily disguised—is to give you a close look at athletics at Texas Tech. I may even go out on the limb with a prediction every now and then, with a gripe tossed on coaches.

Sports writers galore invaded Texas Tech Wednesday to take part in Press Day at Tech. The Tech stop is just part of an annual tour by Texas sports writers and publicity directors that takes them to every school in the Southwest Conference.

Most of the writers after looking over the other conference teams seemed to relegate the Red Raiders to sixth place in the league race, ahead of TCU and SMU, but even that finish was higher than Texas Tech Head Coach J. T. King was willing to predict.

Departure of E. J. Holub from Tech athletics left a weakness in the line, both defensively and offensively, that will be hard to correct, and King rates that a major problem for the season.

End position is likely to be one of the power points for the Red Raiders this year.

In Bob Witucki, Bake Turner, David Parks, and Jerry Garrison, the Raiders have a line-up of top-notch receivers which brings hopes of a sharper air attack to counter-balance the ground game.

King's technique calls often for the short pass, which he believes to be just as important in his game tactics as moving the ball on the ground. Fans will probably see less of the long go-for-broke passes this year, however, which will probably result in noticeably fewer interceptions by opposing teams.

Something else has been added to the Amon Carter Trophy Room in the Texas Tech Athletic Building.

Recently established has been the Texas Tech Athletic Hall of Honor, into which persons who have played prominent roles in Tech athletics in past years will be honored.

First members of the select group will be honored at Dad's Day festivities during halftime of the Texas Tech-TCU football game here Oct. 14.

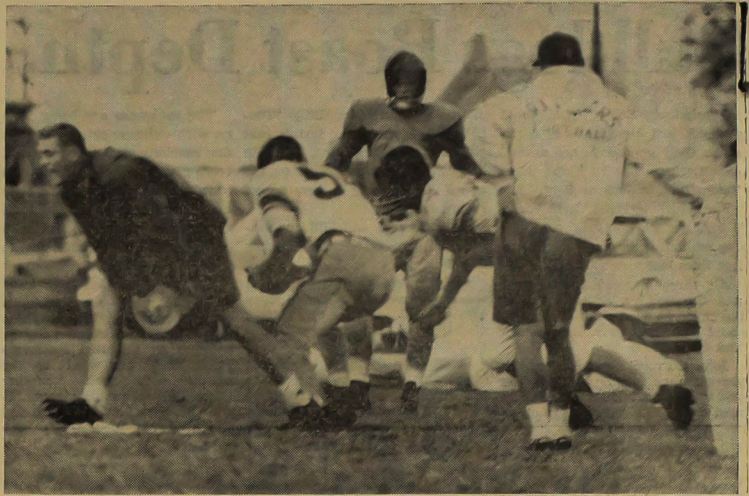

Ransom Walker (deceased), Elmer Tarbox, Pete Cawthon, Walter Schlinkman and Dean W. L. Stangel are the first honorees into the Hall. New members of the Hall of Honor will be limited to two annually in the future.

Texas Tech students will make their annual school trip earlier this year when they go to Austin Sept. 30.

The Texas Tech Red Raiders will furnish the main entertainment for the students. The Scarlet and Black Raiders of Coach King will be facing the University of Texas in the first conference clash of the season for both teams, with the Red Raiders trying to throw the conference race into an early scramble by knocking off the nationally ranked Longhorns, picked by more than a few to win the league title.

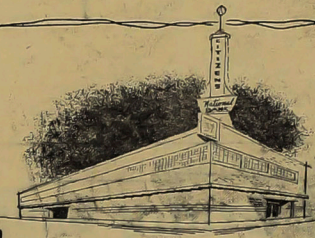

Texas Tech's Picadors will follow up last year's successful 4-0 season with an impressive five-game slate that begins Oct. 13 in Lubbock.

The initial game is with Arkansas' freshman, whom the Picadors beat 34-27 last year. The other four games will be with Hardin-Simmons "B", Abilene, Oct. 19; Rice freshmen, Houston, Nov. 14; West Texas State "B", Lubbock, Nov. 10; and North Texas State freshmen, Lubbock, Nov. 17.

Bulldogs Boast Depth, Experience

Mississippi State will boast strength and experience at a position their opponents are untested on when the Bulldogs meet Texas Tech in Jackson Sept. 23.

For returning Head Coach Wade Walker's sixth campaign as Bulldog coach are all three signal callers from last year's team.

All three lettered last season, and the decision as to which of the three quarterbacks is to start could wind up in a last-minute toss of the coin.

John Corroero has been serving the team as No. 3 man for the last two years, but he was the top man in spring practice. Another of the quarterbacks, Billy "Tootie" Hill, is rated the team's best runner, and the third, Charlie Furlow, is the best passer on the squad, establishing a new school record last year.

Both Corroero and Hill are seniors with two letters while Furlow is only a junior with one year of experience. All three however are certain to see considerable duty over the fall, with the one getting off to the best start probably getting the initial nod.

In addition to the triple-threat at quarterback, Mississippi State will have 21 other lettermen to add to the power of the Bulldogs.

The returnees are being looked on with welcome eyes by the Bulldog coaching staff this year as the team goes into one of its toughest schedules ever. The State schedule is traditionally listed as toughest of any of the teams in the Southeastern Conference, and this year is no exception.

The Bulldogs—formerly known as the Maroons—meet such non-conference foes as Houston, Memphis State, and Arkansas State in addition to the Red Raiders of Texas Tech and wind up their season with such conference teams as Alabama, Auburn, LSU and Ole Miss. Earlier in the year, the Bulldogs will meet other conference toughies Tennessee and Georgia.

Last year's results didn't look too impressive on paper, but State's 2-6-1 record was deceiving. For example, the Bulldogs lost to Houston 14-10, Georgia 20-17, Alabama 7-0, LSU 7-3, and in the 0-0 deadlock with Tennessee, State was inside the 20-yard line on three occasions.

All totaled, the Bulldogs return 7 starters from the '60 club, compared with 6 from Texas Tech. To contrast with the three strong returnees at the quarterback post for the Bulldogs, the Red Raiders only have one returning letterman there, a junior.

The Bulldogs will be strong experience and depth, probably the No. 1 problem for Coach J. King's Texas Tech gridders. Team speed will probably be a problem with Coach Wade Walker, though the Red Raiders are complaining in that department also.
